new role.

not without good cause. up the ladder we are ready for," he said.

KANSAS STATE OLL F.G.IA

INSIDE BATTLE BANDS

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

Man flees after dorm incident

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a residence hall.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his airlfriend from a pay phone, when he way past the staff member, said Richard Herrman of the K-State > the terroristic threat when he was rman said.

fled the building and left the scene . Moments later, an RCPD officer n committing several traffic id RCPD Sgt. Michael Quintanar. ensuing chase, Cheatham wrecked

■ See POLICE Page 7

-State es OK'd

Board of Regents approved three sals at its meeting Thursday, ting the location for the new art

d sites in the southeast corner of be considered by an architect cision is made.

d the museum's appearance must with the rest of the K-State is planned to cover a 33,000-Currently, much of the southeast is a student and faculty parking received approval to initiate a sing campaign to construct a un-processing mill that has been will cost about $175,000 and the far north end of campus off

■ See REGENTS Page 7

"If you cut this program, you cut me."

CARLOTTE MOORE

ral net

ral

tial ial

RRENCY

ling its currency, the lira, European exchange thanism. The lira and the bund fell sharply on markets.

Fall Sports Preview

Wines & Spirits

Fine Wines for your Pleasure

Specializing in domestic and imported wines

Large selection of cordials and liquors

 Special orders welcomed for parties and weddings Case discounts

1338 Westloop Place Westloop Shopping Cener 539-9441

IF YOU'VE GOT MONEY TO BURN, DON'T BOTHER TO READ THIS

But If You Need Extra Money Donate For Dollars!

This coupon is worth $15 for new donors on your first and second donation within six days or if you have not returned within two months. Present this coupon and earn extra cash. For more information Mon.-Thurs. 9-6 call the friendliest staff in town. Sat. 9-1

Fri. 9-4::30

1130 Gardenway

Call 776-9177 today for more details! Manhattan Donor Center

Manhattan, KS 66502

WISHES ALL THE FALL SPORTS GOOD LUCK!!!

619 NORTH 12th STREET; AGGIEVILLE

gaining Big Eight respectability KANSAS The season that Kansas Jayhawk football fans have been waiting for has finally

Jayhawks slowly

Well, maybe.

"We've turned a losing program into a winner," said fifth-year Coach Glen Mason. "We got rid of the stigma, but I will not make any predictions."

Maybe not, but high expectations are rampant. After finishing with a 6-5 record a year ago, talk of a bowl-game has seized Lawrence. KU is led by one of the strongest defensive units in the league. The Jayhawks ranked last in the nation in total defense in 1989, but Mason has built a squad that returns eight starters after ranking 29th nationally last year, allowing 321.7 yards a game.

Anchoring the defense is first team all-Big Eight tackle Dana Stubblefield, who led conference linemen with 10 sacks last

A strength noted by Mason is the ability of the defensive linemen and the depth at that position. Some positions are a little more ques-

One of coach Mason's worries are the question marks in the defensive backfield. KU's secondary lost three starters to graduation, with only cornerback Robert Vaughn returning this fall.

The Jayhawks recruited six defensive backs, hoping to add depth to the inexperienced secondary.

Other worries for KU are the play of starting quarterback Chip Hilleary and the offensive line in short-yardage situations.

Mason benched Hilleary after a 155yard passing game in the 16-12 loss to K-State last year. The offense was unable to score even with six turnovers giving KU JAYHAWK Coach and Year: Gl

1991 Record: 6-5 1991 Conference Record and Finish: 3-4, fifth place

Last Meeting: KSU won 16-12 in Manhattan. This Year's Game: October 10th in Lawrence

Players to Watch: Defensive tackle Dana Stubblefield and punter/kicker Dan Eichloff are legitimate All-America candidate

The Key: If the Jayhawks can find someone to replace Tony Sands at tailback, get improved play from quarterback Chip Hilleary, and production from the offensive line in short yardage situations, KU will find itself in its first bowl game since 1981 the ball deep inside Wildcat territory.

"Chip lacked consistency last year, but he had a very good spring," said Mason. "Chip plays better against name teams than the other people. He always finished fast and he's got to start fast this year."

In a heartbreaking 30-24 loss to Colorado, the offensive line was unable to hold onto the ball for sustained drives in the second half, allowing CU to score 20 unanswered points.

The Jayhawks must find a replacement for tackle Christopher Perez and answer questions at guard to equal last year's numbers, when the Jayhawks finished 12th nationally in rushing offense.

"We still have to work on goal-line and short yardage," said Mason. "If you asked as to the reason why we were good instead of great last year, it's because of

Manhattan's Fun Place for Wildcat Fans! 99¢ Soft Serve

Shakes

(chocolate, vanilla, strawberry)

Expires Sept. 13, 1992

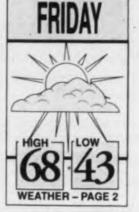

Reservations accepted 1123 Westloop 537-0089

No Memberships

Open Daily 'til 10 p.m.

KANSAS STATE FGA

INSIDE of Opus 6.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

Fall Sports Preview Q

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Injuries were Tigers' toughest battle in '91

Only seven players started every game for Missouri last season

SCOTT ABEL

Missouri finished its season 7-5 in 1983 and went on to play in the Holiday Bowl. It was MU's fifth bowl appearance in six years, and it's been downhill for Tiger football ever since.

Seven consecutive losing seasons have put a lot of pressure on third-year coach Bob Stull to produce results in '92.

If anything illustrates the shortcomings of Missouri, it's that only seven players started every game last season due to all their injuries.

"Instead of taking a young team and making it better," said Stull, "we took a young team and started taking players out of the lineup.

"During the course of the year, you can take any particular game and find three or four significant players not playing."

The cause of most of the Tiger injuries in 1991 was a daunting pre-conference schedule. Games against strong non-conference teams left Stull with so many hurt players that six true freshmen ended up starting during the Big Eight season.

Scheduling for '92 doesn't bring any relief for Missouri. The Tigers open their season at home against nationally ranked Texas A&M.

Stull has brought in a new defensive coordinator, Bob Lindsey, to make them more aggressive. Lindsey is a defensive specialist whose resume includes impressive units at Southern California, Georgia Tech and Alabama.

"We're lucky to have him," said Stull. "I think he's one of the best defensive coaches in the country.

Fortunately for Missouri, the air attack will be in good shape, with quarterback Phil Johnson returning after passing for 14 touchdowns and accounting for a schoolrecord 2,187 yards of offense.

Closed Sundays

MISSOURI TIGERS

Coach and year: Bob Stull, 4th year 1991 record: 3-7-1 1991 conference record and finish: 1-6, 7th place

Series: MU leads 54-18-5 Last Meeting: KSU won 32-0 in Manhattan. This Year's Game: Nov. 14 at Columbia.

Players to watch: Wide Receiver Victor Bailey. senior, Offensive Guard Mike Bedosky, junior; both second team all-Big 8 selections. MU may have best quarterbacking depth in league with Phil Johnson, junior, and Jeff Handy, sopho-

The key: There's talent on this team. If the Tigers can avoids injuries in pre-conference play and plug gaps in rushing defense, Missouri could challenge for a 4th-place league finish. If the defense doesn't improve, Big-Eight teams will rack up large margins.

Mizzou also returns a deep wide receiver corps (nicknamed the "Bomb Squad") that includes second-team All-Big Eight selection Victor Bailey. Bailey caught 29 passes for 508 yards, though he missed four games with injuries.

"We know we can throw the ball," said Stull. "Now we're trying to balance the offense." He said his worries center around the tight-end and replacing three starters to the offensive line.

Missouri often compensated in the Big Eight with running three- and four-receiver sets to make up for the lack of a ground game, something the Tigers can't afford to repeat in '92.

Although Stull feels pressure from Tiger boosters for more wins, he said he's trying not to let it effect the way he constructs his team. "I think you have to do what's right. Build a foundation, and build your program the way you want to have it done, and let it take care of itself.

"We've got a great group of young guys. Most of the immediate future is here on campus."

308 Vattier

ROSE MUFFLER HOUSE

"Our business is exhausting."

•GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE •MUFFLERS•TAILPIPES•DUAL SYSTEMS•AUTOS (AMERICAN & FOREIGN) *RVs*LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS*CUSTOM PIPE BENDING ·WINDSHIELD REPAIR SERVICE available by The Glass Mechaniks

FREE ESTIMATES

Open Mon.-Fri. 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sat. til Noon

1-800-439-8956

776-8955

UNION

RAMADA

1/2 MILE

BLEACHERS

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Always Food and Drink Specials Two Full Bars Mexican / American Restaurant Raoul Martinez, Chef

· lunch and dinner · • 6 ft. x 8 ft. Projection Screen TV • 10 Televisions • Satellite Dish Broadcasts · Pool Tables · Dartboards ·

· Pinball · Video Games · Group Banquets and Catering Available

Open 11 a.m. Daily

523 S. 17th 537-1484

ONLY BAR WITHIN WALKING DISTANCE

FREE FOOD

CHEAP BEER OPEN 11 A.M.-2 A.M.

CLAFLIN & DENISON (DOWN UNDER) 776-1515

Man flees after dorm incident

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a residence hall.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his airlfriend from a pay phone, when he way past the staff member, said · Richard Herrman of the K-State > the terroristic threat when he was man said.

fled the building and left the scene 2. Moments later, an RCPD officer n committing several traffic ud RCPD Sgt. Michael Quintanar. ensuing chase, Cheatham wrecked

■ See POLICE Page 7

-State es OK'd

Board of Regents approved three isals at its meeting Thursday, ting the location for the new art

d sites in the southeast corner of be considered by an architect cision is made. d the museum's appearance must with the rest of the K-State is planned to cover a 33,000-

Currently, much of the southeast is a student and faculty parking received approval to initiate a sing campaign to construct a un-processing mill that has been iiversity.

will cost about $175,000 and the far north end of campus off ■ See REGENTS Page 7

"If you cut this ght program, you cut me." CARLOTTE MOORE

ien irk ral net

ial ial ere è a tal

RRENCY

pined Britain in ling its currency, the lira, European exchange hanism. The lira and the bund fell sharply on markets.

Authentic "South of the Border Food" *Carry-out Available Mon.-Thurs. 11-2/4:30-9 Fri.-Sat. 11-2/4:30-10

OS COMPADRES

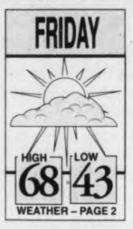

537-5107

LOS COMPADRES

<sup>5</sup>2 Off Any Dinner Item

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIA

INSIDE of Opus 6.

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

beads I incense I

stickers | crystals I t-shirts

posters !

lava lamps

blacklights I adult novelties

and more stuff!

bajas I

10 Fall Sports Preview

ON THE

WILD SIDE

1128 Moro in Aggieville • Manhattan, KS 66502

Mon.-Fri. 11-7, Sat. 11-6, Sun. Noon-5 • 913-776-BAJA

See our NEW addition have a grateful day

Buffaloes, Sooners remain at top of heap

STEVE ROCK & BRIAN ANDERSON

The Wildcats lost to the Colorado Buffaloes and the Oklahoma Sooners in successive weeks a year ago by a combined score of 38-7.

This year, things won't be much easier. The Buffaloes are coming off their third straight unbeaten season.

But Colorado won its final four games of 1991 by a combined total of just 18 points a year ago. Throw in a win in Manhattan, in which the only Colorado touchdown was scored on a Wildcat fumble at the K-State 14-yard line, and the Buffaloes were reminded of just how tough the conference has become.

The Buffalo defense continues to be its strength. A year ago, the Buffaloes ranked ninth in the nation in scoring defense.

And the offense? The Buffaloes have scrapped the I-bone in favor of a more pass-oriented offense. Coach Bill McCartney said that the change is more than just a passing fancy, and in their first game, QB Kordell Stewart threw for a school record 409 yards.

The Wildcats lost to the Oklahoma Sooners 28-7 last year, the team's most lopsided conference loss.

This year's Sooner team is young and inexperienced, coach Gary Gibbs said, but tough nonetheless. There are 37 freshmen and 26 sophomores on the squad.

Oklahoma does return starting quarterback Cale Gundy, a talented group of running backs lead by fullback Kenvon Rasheed, a Kansas City native, and outside linebacker Reggie Barnes, a legitimate all-American candidate.

Offensive coordinator Larry Coker dumped the wishbone two years ago and, like Colorado, is looking to throw more.

The Sooners aren't without their weaknesses. Oklahoma is thin on the offensive line and there are holes in the linebacker

Like Colorado, the Sooners' strength will be defense. And after going 5-2 in the conference last year, they are sure to be in the upper echelon of the Big Eight again.

COLORADO BUFFALOES

Coach and year: Bill McCartney, 11th year 1991 Record: 8-3-1 1991 conference record and finish: 6-0-1, tied for first in Big Eight

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Series: Colorado leads 35-12 Last meeting: Colorado won 10-0 in Manhattan ne: Oct. 24 in Bould

Players to watch: Quarterback Kordell Stewart, wide receiver Michael Westbrook and entire linebacking crew, including all-American candidates Chad Brown and Greg Biekert. The key: If the Buffaloes can periect the new offensive attack, which emphasizes the passing game, they will be the team to beat. The defense continues to be among the best, if not the best, in the Big Eight. If the Buffs control mighty Nebraska, they could very well stroll into the Orange Bowl with an unbeaten record.

OKLAHOMA SOONERS

Coach and year: Gar Gibbs, fourth year 1991 Record: 9-3 1991 conference record and finish: 5-2 third in Series record: 62-11-4 Last meeting: Oklahoma won 28-7 in Norman nebacker Mike Coats, defensive back Darnell Walker and fullback Kenyon Rasheed. The key: Bye bye wishbone, hello passing attack. Despite ranking seventh in the Big Eight in passing last year, the Sooners will continue to throw. Gundy is definitely talented enough to do the job - note the school record 341 yards in the Sooners' opener - but, as a sophomore he's still inexperienced. The loss of Mike Gaddis hurts the running game, but there is plenty of talent to fill the void. Only three return-

Big Eight

776-9067

This year's meeting: Oct. 31 in Norman Players to watch: Quarterback Cale Gundy, ing lettermen are on the defense that ranked 12th in the nation last year.

*Featuring*

- -Live Music & DIs
- -Now Serving Food
- (breakfast available early morning) -Pool Tables, Dart Boards and Video Machines
- -Smoke Eater
- -Enjoy the Beer Garden
- -Weekly Drink Specials

18 to enter, 21 to drink

11th & Moro

776-0077

Man flees after dorm incident

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his girlfriend from a pay phone, when he forced his way past the staff member, said Investigator Richard Herrman of the K-State

rroristic threat when he was

e building and left the scene nents later, an RCPD officer nmitting several traffic PD Sgt. Michael Quintanar. ng chase, Cheatham wrecked

■ See POLICE Page 7

itate OK'd

d of Regents approved three at its meeting Thursday, the location for the new art tes in the southeast corner of considered by an architect on is made. ae museum's appearance must ith the rest of the K-State planned to cover a 33,000irrently, much of the southeast a student and faculty parking

ceived approval to initiate a ng campaign to construct a 1-processing mill that has been

rill cost about $175,000 and he far north end of campus off ■ See REGENTS Page 7

ral

dal /ere deas ural "If you cut this program, you cut me."

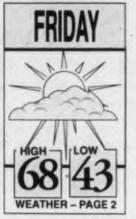

CARLOTTE MOORE

URRENCY

y joined Britain in nding its currency, the lira, ne European exchange echanism. The lira and the pound fell sharply on cy markets.

KANSAS STATE LLEGIA

INSIDE BATTLE

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Climb out of cellar begins

MIKE MAY

Kansas State's home-crowd fans may have lots to cheer about when Iowa State and Oklahoma State take to Manhattan's turf. The Wildcat's two home conference games are against ISU and OSU, the sixth and eighth ranked teams in the Big Eight last year.

Both teams look optimistic about this season, and some dramatic changes are taking place.

Oklahoma State's Cowboys are finally off probation. That is their good news. The bad news is they will need time to recover from its effects.

Following an 0-10-1 season, the first winless campaign by a Cowboy team since 1920, the Cowboys opened the 1992 season on a good note by defeating Indiana State and halting an 11-game winless streak.

OSU returns 15 starters and among them is sophomore tailback Rafael Denson who led the team with 568 yards rushing. In addition, the Cowboys return two of three receivers, including all-Conference honorable mention Bert Milliner, who caught 47 passes for 614 yards as a junior.

A big hole appears to be at quarterback where the Cowboys may find it tough to find consistency. All three letter-winners from last season are gone, leaving no returning candidates.

On defense, OSU returns seven starters, with first team all-Big Eight selection Jason Gildon. The junior recorded a conference-high 16 sacks, along with his 65 tackles last year.

OSU's best opportunities for conference wins come in the sixth and seventh weeks of the season when they play host to Missouri and Iowa State back to back. A win against the Tigers or Cyclones will be necessary to stay out of the cellar.

Among last year's cellar teams was Iowa State. The Cyclone's 3-7-1 record was enough for them to finish seventh in the conference.

Coach Jim Walden has made some changes. He has traded in Iowa State's aerial assault for a wishbone set.

Walden said he got the idea late last season when injuries at the quarterback IOWA STATE CYCLONES

Coach and Year: Jim Walden, 6th year 1991 record: 3-7-1 1991 conference record and finish: 1-5-1, sixth

Series: Iowa State leads 45-26-4 Last meeting: KSU won 37-7 in Ames. This year's game: Thursday, November 5 at KSU Stadium.

Players to watch: First team all-Big Eight free safety ark DouBrava, sophomore quarterback Bob Utter, third team sophomore all-American left tackle Doug Skartvedt.

The key: If Iowa State effectively runs the football out of the wishbone offense, the Cyclones will be able to improve on last seasons three victories. If the bone is a bust, than ISU could be in for a long season.

OSU COWBOYS

Coach and year: Pat Jones, 9th year 1991 record: 0-10-1 1991 conference record/finish: 0-6-1, 8th

Series: Oklahoma State leads 32-14 Last meeting: KSU won 36-26 in Stillwater This year's game: November 21, Homecoming, KSU Stadium.

Players to watch: Two-time all-Big Eight defensive end Jason Gildon, sophmore tailback Rafael Denson, Junior strong safety Scott Harmon who led the Big Eight in interceptions position left him with a fourth-string pass-

Iowa State's commitment to the new offense was shown in the season opener as they rushed 55 times for 284 yards in a win over Ohio.

The option will get a better test in the

With some drastic changes in offense for Iowa State and the end of probation for Oklahoma State, both teams are looking for a place out of the cellar.

For all your pre-game party needs! Call on us first!!!

12 varieties of kegs kept in stock and cold at all times,

Corner of 12th & Laramie Aggieville 539-5269

LIQUOR

Expect the Best

Pamper yourself. Bring in this coupon and save on a cut that's just your style.

$5.50 Haircut with this coupon

THE FASHION SHOP AND BEAUTY SALON 1129 WESTLOOP

DRIVE A LITTLE & SAVE!

We have the brand names YOU want:

/////LPINE

Panasonic YAMAHA

BOSE BostonAcoustics

KENWOOD

Produtord fosquile.

UDIO JUNCTION, INC

20 Minutes West!

1-762-4447 630 Grant Ave Junction City M-F 10-7 Sat. 10-5

Camcorders

· Home Stereos

· Car Stereos &

Installation

· Car Alarms

Televisions

· Radar Detectors

Video Recorders

Man flees after dorm incident

Fall Sports Preview 11

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a residence hall.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his girlfriend from a pay phone, when he forced his way past the staff member, said Investigator Richard Herrman of the K-State

"He made the terroristic threat when he was leaving," Herrman said.

ie building and left the scene nents later, an RCPD officer nmitting several traffic PD Sgt. Michael Quintanar. ng chase, Cheatham wrecked

■ See POLICE Page 7

state OK'd

rd of Regents approved three at its meeting Thursday, the location for the new art tes in the southeast corner of considered by an architect on is made.

te museum's appearance must ith the rest of the K-State planned to cover a 33,000irrently, much of the southeast a student and faculty parking

ceived approval to initiate a ng campaign to construct a -processing mill that has been ill cost about $175,000 and he far north end of campus off ■ See REGENTS Page 7

uld "If you cut this program, 1 in you cut me." uts

CARLOTTE MOORE hen ork ural ocial icial were

ite a deas ural next met

CURRENCY

aly joined Britain in pending its currency, the lira, the European exchange mechanism. The lira and the sh pound fell sharply on ncy markets.

KANSAS STATE J.F.G.A

INSIDE The winners and losers

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

Man flees after dorm incident

ERIN BURKE

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a residence hall.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his girlfriend from a pay phone, when he forced his way past the staff member, said Investigator Richard Herrman of the K-State

12 Fall Sports Preview

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

PRESSIONS DESIGN AND BODY TONING

A great cut with a personal touch.

5 Off

Haircut with Style or 1Perm Wave, w/ Haircut 20% Off Nailcare

First Time Visitor Only

YOUR PARTY STARTS HERE!

Fraternities & Sororities

Party Favors • Screen Printing KSU Apparel • Custom Embroidery Largest Selection of Sportswear in the Midwest

it 5 ( 1) = = To me

528 Pillsbury Dr.

(1/2 mile south of the Mall on Hwy. 177)

Open Mon.-Fri. 9-5; Sat. 10-3

ONE HOUR PHOTO & PORTRAIT STUDIO

Photo Processing At Its Best 40% off Processing

(35 mm, 110, 126, C-41) EXPIRES Oct. 15, 1992 Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Not valid with any other promotion

1134 Garden Way Across from Westloop

C-1-6 776-9030

ONE HOUR PHOTO & PORTRAIT STUDIO

Photo Processing At Its Best Reprint Special

29¢ each

(35 mm, 110, 126, C-41) EXPIRES Oct. 15, 1992 Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Not valid with any other promotion

1134 Garden Way

Across from Westloop

776-9030

C-1-6

Now Going On...

Suggested Dept. Store Retail Prices

Liquidation Clothing Sale!

Men's, Women's, & Children's Famous Name Brand Clothing Housewares

Anne Klein • Liz Claiborne • Guess • Ralph Lauren • Esprit

Coach • Oshkosh • Levi • Bugle Boy and more...

Truckloads of merchandise from East & West Coast Major Dept. Stores will be on sale at our special sale location:

Downtown Manhattan, 409 Poyntz Avenue.

Hours:

Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.- 9 p.m. Sat. 9:30 a.m.- 5:30 p.m. Sun. Noon-5 p.m.

lvester's

Fashion Outlet

Downtown Manhattan 409 Poyntz Avenue

the terroristic threat when he was man said.

led the building and left the scene Moments later, an RCPD officer committing several traffic d RCPD Sgt. Michael Quintanar. ensuing chase, Cheatham wrecked See POLICE Page 7

-State es OK'd

Board of Regents approved three posals at its meeting Thursday, lecting the location for the new art itial sites in the southeast corner of to be considered by an architect decision is made. I said the museum's appearance must ble with the rest of the K-State um is planned to cover a 33,000area. Currently, much of the southeast npus is a student and faculty parking also received approval to initiate a d-raising campaign to construct a a grain-processing mill that has been e University.

ing will cost about $175,000 and I on the far north end of campus off ■ See REGENTS Page 7 would might sed in cuts when work

Itural

on met

"If you cut this program, you cut me." CARLOTTE MOORE

Social Social are were write a eir ideas cultural he next

CURRENCY

Italy joined Britain in spending its currency, the lira, m the European exchange le mechanism. The lira and the itish pound fell sharply on rrency markets.

KANSAS STATE

INSIDE

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 19

Pep rally kicks off Power Play

SHANE KEYSER/Collegia

Bill Snyder, K-State football coach, takes a moment to talk to a pint-sized fan, Tyler Rush, 2, during the Purple Power Play on Poyntz Thursday.

Families biggest draw at pridefest that continues with street dance tonight

DEBORAH WHITSON

A three-day purple pridefest began Thursday night outside Manhattan Town Center.

Despite sparse attendance in the early evening, the Purple Power Play on Poyntz seemed to draw an enthusiastic

The event began Thursday with the main-event pep rally and will continue tonight with a street dance featuring Elmo and the Deadbeats. The event will conclude Saturday with the Band Day parade and a car cruise to the tailgate party before the game.

The event's focus, the pep rally, was the best-attended portion of the crowd, many of whom were simply evening's festivities.

Between 5:30 and 8:30 p.m., five groups ranging from mixed chorus to country music entertained the crowd, which was feasting on pizza, watermelon and other assorted goodies.

"I wanted to bring the kids out and have a good time," said Kurmia Monroe, sophomore in criminal justice. "My son likes to get out and do something different.'

Families made up the majority of the looking for an excuse to get out of the

"It's free entertainment for the kids," said Patty Clark, mother of three. "And Mom doesn't have to cook.

Most of the crowd said they were there to support the K-State Wildcat football team.

'We came out to support the Cats," said Cathy Simeta, Manhattan. "The

■ See RALLY Page 5

Man flees after dorm incident

ERIN BURKE

Riley County Police apprehended a man early Thursday morning after he forced his way into a residence hall.

Shortly after 1 a.m., Randall T. Cheatham, 16108 Riggs, Stillwell, was arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat following an incident at Ford Hall.

In an attempt to get inside to see his girlfriend, Cheatham was allegedly banging and kicking the lobby doors.

A staff member opened the door to tell him to call his girlfriend from a pay phone, when he forced his way past the staff member, said Investigator Richard Herrman of the K-State

"He made the terroristic threat when he was leaving," Herrman said.

Cheatham fled the building and left the scene in his vehicle. Moments later, an RCPD officer spotted him committing several traffic infractions, said RCPD Sgt. Michael Quintanar.

During the ensuing chase, Cheatham wrecked

■ See POLICE Page 7

BOARD OF REGENTS

3 K-State issues OK'd

MEGAN MULLIKIN

The Kansas Board of Regents approved three K-State proposals at its meeting Thursday, including selecting the location for the new art

Five potential sites in the southeast corner of campus are to be considered by an architect before a final decision is made.

The board said the museum's appearance must be compatible with the rest of the K-State

The museum is planned to cover a 33,000square-feet area. Currently, much of the southeast area of campus is a student and faculty parking

K-State also received approval to initiate a private fund-raising campaign to construct a building for a grain-processing mill that has been donated to the University. The building will cost about $175,000 and will be located on the far north end of campus off

■ See REGENTS Page 7

Cattle methane highest in feedlots

ROY GRABER

Editor's note: This is the second of a series on the American beef and cattle industry.

Dairy cattle aren't the only ones who cut the cheese.

A growing concern among the American public is the amount of methane gas cattle emit through belches and flatulence.

John Pickrell, associate professor of clinical sciences, said most of the information the public has about cattle and methane production is from speculation, and not much research has been done.

"I do know that a fair percentage of the methane might have been produced by cattle," Pickrell said. "The key to this statement is the word 'might.' I think that the 'might' suggests that areas mentioned are areas like feedlots, which have a high density of cattle, not an area where there might be only a few cattle, like an open pasture."

Pickrell said cattle-produced methane in areas like feedlots can be up to 20 percent.

BEEF MYTHS AND FACTS

More myths and facts about the production and consumption of beef in the MYTH: Cattle consume excessive amounts of grain, that otherwise could help feed hungry people.

FACT: An average of 4.5 pounds of grain is used in the production of 1 pound of beef (retail weight).

Source: National Cattlemen's Association

MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian

Gerry Kuhl, K-State extension beef specialist, said the biggest sources of methane are swamp wetlands and coal

Pickrell said although methane is a poisonous gas that deteriorates the ozone layer, its effects harmful overestimated.

"Unless you have up to 87

See GAS Page 10

Students speak out

JULIE LONG

An emotional group of social work students met with the dean of arts and sciences Thursday afternoon to discuss proposed cuts to their program. The proposal recommends cutting faculty from five to three and reducing students allowed into the core curriculum from 181 to about 100. "This is not going to happen ovemight," Dean Peter Nicholls said. "No student is going to be axed out of the program. This is a very, very difficult decision to make." Students met with Nicholls and associate deans of arts and sciences Bill Feyerharm and Judith Zivanovic. Zivanovic agreed with Nicholls.

"In the best of all possible worlds, we wouldn't make this decision," she said.

Nicholls said making cuts in the not important enough to spend money social work program would free on," Hays said. resources to help teach overloaded core classes such as expository writing and speech.

We felt it was possible to do this and still maintain a high quality program," Nicholls said.

Carlotte Moore, senior in social work, said she felt if the program was cut, it was also cutting the people who want to improve not only the Manhattan community but the world.

"If you cut this program, you cut me," Moore said.

Patty Hays, junior in social work, said she thought the students were being taken lightly by not being involved in the entire process. The students were upset because they just learned about the proposal Wednesday

"The message I'm getting is we're

A specific time the cuts would begin was not given.

Nicholls said the changes might take a year or two to be phased in because of contractual obligations. Many students asked why cuts were being made in the program when some of the classes in social work could also be taught as cultural diversity classes. This question met with applause. Moore said Introduction to Social Work, Human Behavior and Social Environment, and Social Welfare were listed as cultural diversity classes.

Feyerharm told students to write a proposal that clearly states their ideas for using these classes for cultural diversity and present it at the next meeting.

"If you cut this program, you cut me."

CARLOTTE MOORE

NEWS DIGEST

►ALASKAN VOLCANO BLOWS TOP

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) - The Mount Spurr volcano erupted for three hours Thursday morning, spewing gritty ash, disrupting air traffic and prompting officials to close schools and issue health alerts. The eruption was the third since June for the 11,000-foot volcano, which had been dormant for 39 years. The ash cloud rose to 50,000 feet.

▶ITALY SUSPENDS ITS CURRENCY

LONDON (AP) - The currency crisis that pitched Europe into political and monetary turmoil widened Thursday, but central banks kept order as markets swung wildly.

Italy joined Britain in suspending its currency, the lira, from the European exchange rate mechanism. The lira and the British pound fell sharply on currency markets.

COMMENTS

"It is time for the West to get serious on aid. Not blank checks, but genuine aid."

John Daly, assistant professor of history, on the economic instability in Russia.

"Guess we'll be staying awhile."

Jan Powell, tourist from Fairfax, Calif., after being stranded in Hawaii by the destruction of Hurricane Iniki.

"The stadium itself is a manifestation, an outward and visible sign of loyalty in its most superb form."

- Former K-State football coach Charles Bachman, dedication Memorial Stadium, on April 25, 1922, to Americans who died in World War I.

"I wouldn't have traded it for the world or even sold my tickets for a million dollars apiece."

 Carol Lanier, senior in psychology, after the Garth Brooks concert in Bramlage Coliseum last Saturday.

"It feels kind of weird - kind of tingly."

11-year-old Justin Dyer, first-degree black belt in tae kwon do, on splitting a board in two pieces with his foot.

"These guys can flat out fly."

- K-State quarterback Jason Smargiasso on the Wildcat receivers.

"It's like the final emotional high."

 Ken Souza, frog researcher at NASA's Ames Research Center in Mountain View, Calif., as astronauts aboard shuttle Endeavour announced hatching of the first tadpoles conceived and developed in space.

"The question is whether the other side will see that this is a real opportunity that may never return."

— Israeli Deputy Foreign Minister Yossi Beilin suggesting the Israelis and Palestinians may be able to agree on selfrule arrangements for the West Bank and Gaza.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. tions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom

Kedzie Hall 116. ncerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

arrested for battery and making a terroristic threat at Ford Hall.

At 1:19 a.m., K-State Police assisted Riley County Police in locating an individual fleeing and eluding officers and causing several accidents and damage to property before leaving vehicle. This is the

At 1:14 a.m., an individual was same person as the suspect in battery and terroristic threat at Ford

At 5:04 p.m., a Blue Dodge Omni, license No. BK0 240 was wheellocked in Lot A-13 for excessive violations. At 3:05 p.m., a battery was reported in Lot A-29.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

Amherst Ave., reported a burglary of $50 cash and $50 in damage to door.

At 9:55 a.m., Michael L. Pelsor, 1011 Sherman St., Clay Center, was arrested for failure to pay a fine and released on $148 bond.

At 11:22 a.m., Dutch Maid reported a videotape of "Cape Fear" stolen. Loss was $65.

At 4:55 p.m., a major-damage accident was reported at Fourth Street and Poyntz Avenue between

At 8:02 a.m., Gary Ward, 2711 Daniel F. Rickman, 1224 Linda Drive, Junction City, and Sharon Lynn Broadwall, 120 N. Delaware Ave.

At 6:55 p.m., Jose Silva, 329 Kansas St., Alma, was arrested for DUI on $1,000 bond.

At 7:04 p.m., Jose Silva, 329 Kansas St., Alma, was arrested for possession of a controlled substance on $500 bond.

At 9:50 p.m., Joseph M. Rosa was arrested for misdemeanor checks and released on $200 bond.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 . KEDZIE 116

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Graduation check sheets are due in the Graduate School office by Oct. 1 for those wishing to graduate this semester.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Applications for the Arts and Sciences Council are available in the dean's office in Eisenhower 113. Deadline is 4 p.m. Friday.

Speak with Christy in the dean's office for more information. ■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

■ Manhattan Parks and Recreation needs coaches for youth soccer, volleyball and football. Contact Mike Buchanan, 587-2757. ■ Student Foundation will have its retreat from 6 to 10 p.m. today and from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at the KSU Foundation Building.

■ KSU Young Democrats and the UPC Issues and Ideas group will meet at 1 p.m. in the Union Sunflower Room to hear Bill Clinton, live via satellite, speak about education and young people.

■ NTSA will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 204.

■ ASIA will meet at 6 p.m. in Union Staterooms 1 and 2.

Registration for the College of Education symposium, "Education: Building Our Future" will be from 7:15 to 8 a.m. on the second floor of the Union.

■ Intramural entry deadline for the student golf tournament is 5 p.m. in the Recreational Services office in the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

■ Intervarsity Christian Fellowship will not have a meeting this

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

■ KSU Young Democrats will meet at 12:15 p.m. in the Union parking lot to carpool to the Riley Fall Festival and march in the parade with the Clinton/Gore team.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 20

■ Business Ambassadors will sponsor Business Bash '92 from 4 to 7 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. Friday is the last day to buy tickets.

■ Society of Women Engineers will meet at 6 p.m. in Durland 127.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

30-percent chance of morning showers. Otherwise clearing, breezy and cool. High near 70. Friday night, fair. Low near 40.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny. High in the low 70s.

EXTENDED FORECAST

A chance of showers and thunderstorms statewide Sunday and in east on Monday. Dry statewide on Tuesday. Warmer Sunday and Monday, then turning cooler Tuesday. Highs Sunday and Monday 75 to 80. Lows around 50.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

MANHATTAN 92/65 GOODLAND 92/52 RUSSELL

97/63 GARDEN CITY

WICHITA 93/67

88/67 KANSAS CITY 85/68

COFFEYVILLE

87/67

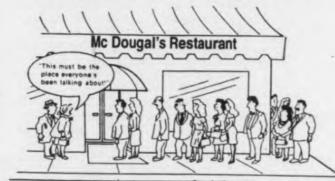

TOPEKA

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Lima	65/57	clear
Bangkok	93/79	cloudy	Oslo	59/39	clear
Dhahran	112/75	cloudy	Santiago	59/36	cloudy
Istanbul	77/59	clear	Toyko	79/72	clear

Open 24 Hours

Homemade Biscuits and Gravy Breakfast Anytime

1103 N. 3rd (Times Square) Manhattan — 776-5102

Attention, Wildcat Fans!!

Enjoy smooth, creamy Frozen Yogurt at a 25% discount when you wear purple on game day!

Cheer the cats on to victory against Montana!

Offer limited to small, medium and large cones or cups. Special applies to home football games. All toppings and waffle cones are regular price.

The Taste That's Won The World Over.

Nautilus Towers in Aggieville Phone: 537-1616 OPEN: 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Daily Noon to 11 p.m. On Sundays

1002 GREAT MEMORIES ROYAL START PURPLE HERE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

FREE DELIVERY
(Minimum Order $9) Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge 1304 Westloop, Manhattan 539-0888 539-8888

> DINING-IN COUPON 10% OFF

when your present this coupon OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

> Free Admission Free Popcorn

FRIDAY NIGHT at the Movies . . .

Prince of Tides

Tonight, Sept. 18— 9:30 p.m.

ECM Campus Center 1021 Denison

539-4281

96/61

Tonight & Tomorrow Night Submytion

Friday $1 Long Necks 50¢ Kamis

·Other drink specials to be announced ·Breakfast available from midnight on

18 to Enter 21 to Drink

·Dinner from 5-8 p.m.

11th & Moro

776-0077

Great Memories Start

Delta Delta Sept.

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Police

CAMPUS

Hemp festival teaches 'real' use of drug

Freedom Fighters, a group advocating marijuana law reform, make a stop in the free-speech zone Thursday afternoon in Union Plaza as part of the group's nationwide tour, the Hemp Festival.

Marijuana plant product contributer to items such as paper, fuel, activists say

TED KADAL

The war of the weed rages on, and Thursday another skirmish was

The battleground was the free speech zone between the K-State Union and Seaton Hall. The participants were there from noon until 4 p.m. The "Hemp Festival" in a roving band of hemp-, or marijuana-, reformers set up show in the free speech zone and proceeded to educate the masses.

"What we are really trying to do here is to teach and break through at a college level," said Jack Herer, hemp activist and author of two books on the attributes of marijuana. "Hemp is, historically, the earth's No. 1 plant for the production of paper, fiber, fuel, food, protein and its numerous other attributes."

"When I started using and rallying for hemp 20 years ago, not one person knew that it was good for anything more than smoking. But when they hear the truth from us, people tend to get upset. They feel cheated and lied to. It's hard to imagine that this plant that you've been smoking could, in essence, save the world," Herer said.

Herer has been active in the marijuana legalization movement and has been termed the "Pot Guru" by the Wall Street Journal. He has written two books on the subject. "Grass," and the cumulative work "The Emperor Wears No Clothes," which contains chapters that confront corporate, private and propaganda issues.

"In the end, I feel that it shouldn't be taught by me. It should be taught by the people in there," Herer said, as he pointed toward the Union. Also on hand at the Hemp Festival were other marijuana libertarians, one of which has taken a possibly risky stance for his beliefs.

Mark Creamer, a marijuana activist from Lawrence, was arrested in September 1989 for smoking a marijuana cigarette in front of the Douglas County Courthouse. He said he did it in protest of marijuana laws and the war on drugs.

"We are really trying to address three different issues here," Creamer said. "The first is the at a college level," said Jack Herer, hemp activist and author of two books on the attributes of "We are really trying to address three different issues here," Creamer said. "The first is the economical side of hemp. It can be used in the production of everything from fuel to paper.

"The second is the medical side. It is useful in treating cancer, AIDS, as well as many other illnesses. The third is the recreational side of the issue. The DEA, as well as President Bush, has lied to the people. They've lied about the medical uses, as well as the health and psychological risk. As a recreation, it is less dangerous than alcohol.

"We just want a fair hearing in the matter, but no one will talk about it. There is an incredible amount of peer pressure to not talk about it openly. When people are informed about the issue, they usually say 'yes,' and people need to hear it."

The festival was deemed a success by Greg Copeland, director of the Flint Hills chapter of National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws.

"We had anywhere from 250 to 300 people here during the speakers, and several hundred came by to check out the tables, and displays," Copeland said. "This blew away the Lawrence rally."

containing the laws and regulations of voting.

"I would like to have some special events to encourage students to vote," Raborn said. "I would like to encourage a door-to-door registration also."

Students seem to have many misconceptions about registering, he said, from students thinking they have to change residencies to filling crime records now open

Buckley bill helps victims' confidence to come forward

MEGANNE MOORE

Collegian

Campus police records pertaining to students are no longer protected from public disclosure.

The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act, commonly known as the Buckley Amendment, has recently been amended regarding the release of campus lawenforcement records.

"The policy before was that certain records within a university or educational institution were only released for specific purposes," said K-State Police Chief Charles Beckom.

The intent was to protect students from having their names released by the University without their knowledge. Beckom recalled incidents of universities selling mailing lists of enrolled students to marketing firms.

Beckom said the Buckley Amendment, which was administered by the U.S. Department of Education, applied to any school receiving federal funds.

"If students' names were released, the federal funds would become jeopardized," he said.

Critics of the program, especially media, said instead of protecting students, schools were using the Buckley Amendment to out long, complicated forms.

■ See RECORDS Page 12

However, he said, it is a simple,
5-minute process.

In new business, a bill to increase the number of members on Parking Citation Appeals Board from seven to 11 was read.
"The bill's goal is to get appeals through the system quicker," said Michael Porter, attorney general.

Raborn encourages students to vote

Collegian

Craig Raborn, candidate for county clerk in Riley County, spoke to Student Senate last night to encourage student participation in the election process.

"There needs to be changes in voter registration and its accessibility to campus," Raborn said during open period. "We need to encourage students to register and vote."

Raborn told Senate a number of changes could be made to enhance voter registration in Riley County. He said he believes these changes could also encourage student's to actually vote.

"The only place to vote on campus is in the student government offices," he said. "There are 64,000 people in Riley County, and among them, 18,000 are from campus, leaving us with only one post. The rest of Riley County has 23 posts."

Raborn promised if elected he will work to increase the number of places to vote on campus.

He made registration cards to be distributed on campus for students to fill out. He also made a pamphlet

PEN

SPre-game starts Friday

SFull Lunch & Dinner Menu

STry Our 1/2 lb Burger

$352" Big Screen TV

"Food, Drinks, Friends and Fun...
All at Christopher O'Bryan's Pub and Grill"

1129 Laramie(old Eegee's Building) $3 776-7050

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Football team deserves break

PINION

THE ISSUE

Big things are expected from this year's football team.

WE SUGGEST

Let the team win one game at a time, not aiready make plans for a bowl appearence.

It's football time. And K-State fans have never anticipated a season with such high hopes and expectations.

Some people have already reserved hotel rooms in Miami, or checked out the best possible beaches in Hawaii. The smell of the first bowl game since 1982 is in the air. Even more, fans now expect a bowl game for the Wildcats this year after Coach Bill Snyder's team went 7-and-4 last season.

Pressure is rising all around the team. President Jon Wefald thought hard before he said the Cats will go at least 8-3. Athletic Director Milt Richards joked around, predicting an 11-0 year. And a recent Sports Illustrated article put the program in a national spotlight.

The problem is, people see and read this and lose the realistic view. A story in the magazine about Snyder's achievements at K-State doesn't mean the team is ready for the big show. Playing in the bright spot is not necessarily followed by a bright performance.

K-State isn't a national powerhouse in football yet, and it might never become one. It's not good enough to start with a Division I team right away. The Cats need to warm up with a weak opponent to build their confidence.

Last season, K-State almost lost its opener against Division I-AA team Indiana State. For this season, the program had planned to start first with two Division I-AA teams, Boston and Montana, but it managed to get rid of the former and to play Utah State, another Division I school. It's on the schedule to preserve the theoretical chance of a bowl appearance.

Snyder is a great coach with a talented team, but K-State has also lost several key players. Fans must realize that a good program needs time to develop.

First, K-State needs to win its opening match Saturday, then take the next step, winning one game at a time.

Fans also should take it game by game and develop their expectations on performance before they make plans to be tanning on a southern beach when bowl season comes around.

READERS WRITE

FACULTY

New dean of college means more trouble

Editor,

"The Old Boys' Club Reigns in College of Agriculture!" Wouldn't this have been an appropriate title for the article that detailed the reinstatement of Charles Deyoe as interim head of the Department of Grain Science and Industry?

How convenient for him that, after being convicted - not acquitted - of sexually harassing a colleague, his old buddies in the College of Agriculture were given the opportunity to welcome him back to work.

"It's a lot simpler for everyone to have me stay, since I know the office processes," Deyoe said.

It appears to me that U.S. District Judge Frank Theis has a different opinion concerning Deyoe's office processes, which was clearly stated in his ruling.

While neither Deyoe nor Walter Woods, former dean of the College of Agriculture, would comment on the damage to the college or the University incurred by the lawsuit, perhaps President Jon Wefald or Faculty Senate has a response. I'm sure well-qualified women will apply for positions within the college, knowing full well that they are jeopardy of sexual harassment! Get up to speed, K-State. Practice what you preach.

> Wes Ray Junior/Social work

KSDB 92

Student support needed to keep show

Editor.

The doctor is in desperate need of our help. The Dr. Demento show on KSDB-FM 91.9 is in risk of being canceled in this area. The reason this is so is because the company that is to begin transmitting the show is going to charge the station $15 to air the show. The thing is that the DB92 leaders feel like there are no students who listen to the show. If you do listen, please call into the radio station, and let them know that you like it. And if you've never listened to the show, I urge you to listen to it Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. on DB92. If you like it once you have listened to it, then call the radio station at 532-3292. Thank you, and please help save the doctor.

> Steve Barnum Sophomore/Chemistry

Deferral: a postponement to a later date. POST-NON-COMBAT STRESS SYNDROME 9 Granz THE BUFFALO NEW ### England, U.S. leaders suffering

re-election campaigners couldn't boast of prosperity or argue that things were going so well voters shouldn't risk change. So political strategists decided on a negative alternative: The other guy can't be trusted.

The odds were bad. The poll between ratings that soared after the Persian Gulf War had slumped and were running against them. Standby issues like defense and the Communist threat had lapsed.

That outline sounds like President Bush's campaign situation.

Instead, it is a description by John Major's campaign director of the way things looked for the British prime minister last spring, before his Conservatives won their upset victory. Major's government now is at risk because of the European monetary crisis which led him to accept devaluation of the pound on Wednesday.

That breached a Major commitment campaign comparable to Bush's 1988 vow years later.

The political systems are different, of course: parliamentary elections instead of a WALTER direct choice AP COLUMNIST presidential candidates, a month's campaign instead of a marathon. Presidents are assured four-year terms; a prime minister can be toppled by Parliament, which reconvenes on Thursday to consider the currency crisis.

In addition, British public opinion polls before the April 9 elections were closer than those that now show Democrat Bill Clinton leading Bush by margins of 10 to 15 percentage points.

But the problem issues and the tactics of Bush's Republicans and Major's Conservatives read like campaign sequels. John Lacy, director of campaigning for the Conservatives, and Mark Beset by an economic slump, against new taxes, broken two Fullbrook, his deputy, talked about them at a forum sponsored by The Heritage Foundation.

That's the question the Bush campaign is trying to raise about Clinton, seeking to persuade voters that the Democrat would not be trustworthy as president. An example: Bush's claim to offer experience and a firm hand in contrast to what he contends is waffling and wavering by Clinton.

Clinton says that Bush is the one who can't be trusted, since he promised in 1988 there would be no new taxes, and reneged.

To that, Bush counters that Clinton would impose massive tax increases, and that while the Democrats say those would apply to the rich, middle-class taxpayers would be hit, too.

"He's going to end up taxing all working Americans for the same reason outlaw Willie Sutton robbed banks, because that's where the money is," Bush says.

In prior campaigns, the Conservatives had argued that a Labor victory would ruin a solid, improving economy - the Bush campaign primer when he ran to succeed Ronald Reagan four years

But that won't work in hard

"So we had to think of a slightly different message," Lacy said, "a negative one." And so our simple, different message was that things are bad but don't let Labor make things even worse ... you can't trust Labor.'

Substitute Clinton and the Democrats for Labor, and that has been the Bush standby in dealing with an economic situation he acknowledged has been lousy.

Another parallel: Fullbrook said the Conservatives argued that they had the economy at the point of recovery, and that with an election mandate for their policies, it would take off. That hasn't happened, prompting a quiet footnote:

"We still say it."

I have seen the best minds of my time come and go

"Howl"

"I saw the best minds of my generation/starving hysterical naked dragging themselves through the Negro streets/ at dawn looking for an angry fix/ angelheaded hipsters burning for the ancient/ heavenly connection ... " Allen Ginsberg llen Ginsberg wrote the epic poem "Howl" back in the 1950s, and I used to joke that if he were writing the same poem in the late '80s, the first line would be revised to read: "I saw minds of my generation ... apply to film school.'

If I were amending my revision Ginsberg's classic to capture the tone of the '90s, well, let's just say I wouldn't feel like making a joke. My "Howl" revision for the '90s would most likely read: "I saw the best minds of my generation lose hope. Or drop out and give up. Become defeated before they hit the legal drinking age ..

EDMUNDS

Like Ginsberg's angel-headed hipsters, I think the generation coming of age right now is hitting those streets looking for some kind of fix. Anything would beat the hand we have been dealt. When young people of the '90s talk about the future, the first thing you notice is a lack of hope. There is no promise of the Protestant work ethic paying off for this generation as it has done for the last hundred years of American history. There are no guarantees for the late-to-post baby boomers that life is going to get better. In fact, it seems that all we can really look forward to is being first-hand observers to the decline of Western

Ginsberg's generation was the first to have to carry the burden of the threat of nuclear war in their hearts, which must have been quite a heavy trip. But today's young people don't really have to lose much sleep worrying about outside forces destroying America. We're hitting a fast-forward self-destruct on our own.

And it shows. It shows most tellingly in young folks, those with great minds and passion. We're no longer focusing on the traditional American dream of a house in the suburbs, a good career or a storybook marriage. Because we have seen that those things just don't offer any guarantees any

I guess I'm one of those '90s "angel-headed hipsters," looking for answers, returning to school for direction, something to hang onto. I see it in my brother, my cousins, my friends, my students - we've lost hope, the foundation of our

My cousin Heather just finished her bachelor's degree at an eastern university then went to New Mexico and worked as a camp counselor this summer, needing the time to think, to focus, to find her center. And it's not like the job market was especially hot for new grads. Recession or not, Heather wouldn't have gone right into the working world, because she still doesn't know what she wants. So she's waiting tables, rediscovering her music and trying to figure out all those big questions that one must answer at age 22.

I wish she was the only one I see grappling with this post-modern American angst. With one case, you might say, "Well, she's evolving, maturing." But it seems to be epidemic.

New and improved, evolved and enlightened - the MTV and microwave generation is still hungry for that fix, that heavenly connection, and it seems as if we're trying to call a number that is no longer in working order. We can't even get the operator.

Yes, Mr. Ginsberg, I have seen the best minds of my generation fall overboard, and nobody seems to be sending out a lifeline.

to play in Band Day

Communications top state officials' visit Marching bands

Committees view capabilities. options of ECC

Collegian

Nearly 30 state legislators and officials toured K-State's communication systems yesterday.

The visitors were from the Legislative Educational Planning Committee and the Joint Committee Computers Telecommunications.

Sue Peterson, legislative liaison for President Jon Wefald's office, organized the tours along with Sen. Lana Oleen, R-Manhattan, and Rep. George Dean, D-Wichita.

Oleen said it was important that the legislators saw first-hand the Kansas Regents Educational Communications Center at Dole

"This is rather unusual for two different legislative groups to come to the K-State campus ... especially working together," Oleen said.

"It is very important to make a point that this is the groups had the same tours, their communications system for all of the regents schools, not just K-State," she said.

Legislators spent the morning touring fiber optics systems, control rooms, studios, an electronic classroom and the TELENET educational system.

Later, legislators saw an engineering computer classroom, two architectural computer classrooms, and the mainframe computer at Farrell Library.

Oleen said although the two missions were different.

The educational planning committee was looking at available educational opportunities, while the telecommunications committee looked into system capability, she

"Most of them were unaware of Dole Hall before, and they were impressed with the capabilities available," Peterson said. "It was a really good visit.

parade, activities

More than 2,000 high-school musicians will strike up the band Saturday for K-State's annual Band Day.

This year's event, which is expected to draw 52 bands, will kick off with a 10:30 a.m. parade down Poyntz Avenue from City Park to Manhattan Town Center.

Band members will then head to KSU Stadium for a mass band rehearsal, then break into sectional clinics. Members will also perform with the K-State Marching Band during the pregame show.

K-State band director Ben Rohrer said this year's event will offer something new.

"The clinics are a new feature this year," Rohrer said. "They give the students the chance to learn new things and to take something back to their own bands."

Band Day helps students learn, and also gives high-school seniors the chance to win one of three $150 marching band scholarships.

Rohrer said another addition is the sponsorship of the percussion clinics by Pearl, the official drum of the K-State percussion section.

Band Day gives the students the chance to work with the K-

State Department of Music.

"The main function of Band Day is to give 1A schools the chance to perform with bigger sections and a bigger band." Rohrer said. "They really get a kick out of it.'

Cheryl Hodges, senior in chemical science and premedicine, said Band Day will be

"It will be an overwhelming experience in the sense that it's our first game and we have all the different high-school bands participating together."

Rohrer said planning this year's event has taken a lot of help.

"We've really been preparing since last spring," he said. "It's been more work with the clinics, because it's hard to break down a 2,000-member band. The staff helps a lot, and the students help run the shuttles and set up barricades.'

Rohrer said his favorite aspect of Band Day is directing the mass band.

"I enjoy directing '1812 Overture' and seeing the cannons being fired," he said. "Last year when I directed it and saw the cannons, it was really a rush. It's just a lot of fun and a lot of hard

LOU DOUGLAS LECTURES Health-care needs raise concerns

Panel discusses better availability, restrictions on current medical policies

DIANE DENISON

Three Manhattan health-care professionals discussed America's need for better, more affordable care and insurance Wednesday night in the K-State Union.

The group composed the prelecture panel for the upcoming Lou Douglas Lecture.

Julie Govert Walter, executive director of the North Central-Flint Hills Area Agency on Aging, spoke on the need for health insurance to be available to everyone, not just the full-time employee and family members, without pre-existing conditions.

"In 1987, there were 26.5 million households in which both spouses were under the age of 65 and employed," Walter said. "Forty-five percent of these households had access to jobrelated coverage through only one working spouse's employer; 42 percent had both workers with coverage available, and 13 percent are not offered job-related health care coverage. My question is, What about the 13 percent of those families?" If disabled people or welfare recipients enter the job market, they receive entry-level jobs that pay minimum wage and provide no medical benefits, Walter said.

"You need to consider the person of public welfare and public assistance who would very much like to go back to work, but knows that doing so would mean there no longer would be that health-care benefit available, for example, through Medicaid," Walter said.

Clyde Jones, project manager of the Community Needs Assessment for Manhattan, said duplication of services and institutions must be kept to a minimum to keep expenses down for health care.

"What I see, through my experience working with this community and a lot of different issues in health care, is the great need of cooperative effort from providers of home care services and institutional care," Jones said.

In Sweden, long-term care is run by local authority, Jones said. One administrator can be in charge of a hospital, five nursing homes and eight or nine adult day-care centers.

Under this they achieve an integrated working system that leads to coordination of each agency or service and rehabilitation of patients.

Of the patients in the hospital, approximately 60 percent return home, 20 percent enter a rest home and 20 percent die in the hospital. The rehabilitation rate is higher

LOU DOUGLAS LECTURE ■ "Medical Care in America"

by Bill Roy, attorney, physician 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22 Union Forum Hall than that of the United States.

"I'm part of what's wrong with the health-care system because I'm a specialist and don't do family practice," said Dr. Anne Wigglesworth, Manhattan gynecologist and obstetrician.

"Out of all the young physicians coming out of medical training programs in Kansas, only 11 percent of all the physicians leaving residency programs the last couple of years have gone into primary care," she said.

It is an economic decision to become a specialist because that is where the money is, Wigglesworth

First Students and International Military with I.D. SETH CHILDS 6 WESTLOOP CINEMA 6 PG-13 Friday 7:10 & 9:45 PG-13 Friday at 7:20 & 9:55 Friday at 7:10 & 9:50 Friday at 7:20 & 9:40 on in Vegas PG-13 Friday at 7:15 & 9:50 ALL SEATES VARSITY

CLAFLIN Books & Copies

*Book Signing* Friday, Sept. 18 5-7 p.m. Jonathan Holden author of Brilliant Kids Refreshments

1814 Claflin (corner Denison & Claflin) 776-3771

Rally attracts Cats fans

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

kids are really excited about the game, and this is a lot of fun for them."

One of the big draws was the Dunk-A-Cop booth, manned by the Riley County Police Department. Proceeds from the booth went to Manhattan/Riley County Crimestoppers.

There was also a petting zoo, although the only creatures to be petted were Madagascar hissing cockroaches.

nakes, but they were shedding outnumbered by the local crowd. their skins," said Schanee Johnson, Sunset Zoo curator of education.

The longest line was to get

Have you tried

Friday Flowers?

YOUR FULL SERVICE FLORIST SINCE

630 Poyntz Ave., Downtown Manhattan

Floral

pictures taken with Willie the Wildcat for $3. Proceeds went to the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

Rodney Wright, 17, senior at Manhattan High School and Manhattan Town Center employee, said the crowd was better than the previous two years.

"We'll be swamped tomorrow," Wright said. "Friday and Saturday are always busier, and later on when the pep rally is going on." The K-State students began arriving just prior to the pep rally, "We were going to bring the although they were far

Mitch Holthus, "Voice of the K-State Wildcats," brought Coach Bill Snyder to the stage, saying, "You people need to be at the stadium for him if for no other reason on Saturday, because of what he has done for you for the past four vears."

The two men got the crowd going with praise for each other, the team and the assistant coaches. The final plea, by Holthus, was to "get out there on Saturday and support your Cats, because now it gets tough. Now we go for the ring."

ROYAL PURPLE

Acacia-Sept. 8 Alpha Chi Omega-Sept. 8-9 Alpha Delta Pi-Sept. 9-10 Alpha Gamma Rho-Sept. 10-11 Alpha Kappa Alpha-Sept. 11 Alpha Kappa Lambda-Sept. 11 Alpha Phi Alpha-Sept. 11 Alpha Tau Omega-Sept. 14 Alpha Xi Delta-Sept. 14-15 Beta Sigma Psi-Sept. 15 Beta Theta Pi-Sept. 15-16 Chi Omega-Sept. 16-17 Delta Delta Delta-Sept. 17-18 Delta Sigma Phi-Sept. 18 Delta Sigma Theta-Sept. 18 Delta Tau Delta-Sept. 21 FarmHouse-Sept. 21

Delta Upsilon-Sept. 21 Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25

Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29

Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209. Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Mancinelli's Ristorante Italiano

Manhattan

OPEN 5-10 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 5-9 p.m. Sunday

776-8801

Authentic Italian Recipes Cooked To Order

This Week's Specials

★ Steak & Pasta * Shrimp & Pasta

$5.95 $5.95

★ Sherry Chicken Alfredo $5.95 (with Fettucine Pasta) $5.95

All You Can Eat Spaghetti & Meatballs $3.95

All Dinners Served With Tossed Salad & Breadsticks

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

LET'S MAKE A WEEKEND OF IT!

TONIGHT

Psycho Acoustic Folk n' Roll 32 oz. Big Beers $2

SATURDAY PRE-GAME PARTY

* FREE Hot Dogs & Nachos * $2.50 pitchers all day *Post-Game Party with "VITREOUS HUMOR" Starting at 10 p.m.

FirstBank Center

776-1515

SPORTS

SEPTEMBER 18, 1992

Cats' kickoff countdown calling

STEVE ROCK

Collegian

The wait is almost over.

After sitting out the first two weeks of the college football season, the Wildcats kick off their 1992 campaign with a 6:30 p.m. game Saturday against the Montana Grizzlies.

"Waiting hasn't been the easiest thing in the world," Coach Bill Snyder said. "The team has been anxious to play.

Indeed, the Wildcats are eager to get back on the gridiron, senior linebacker Brooks Barta said. "We're all going to be excited," he said. "The adrenaline is definitely going to be there." Some of the players, however, said they haven't felt the anxiety that Barta feels. "I haven't really had time to get nervous," quarterback Matt Garber said. "We've got too much to concentrate on." And with both the quarterback situation and the Eric Gallon situation unchanged, all attention is focused on the 1-1 Grizzlies. Montana is a Division I-AA team that throws for, and gives up, a lot of passing yards. The Grizzlies are ranked 16th in their division after blanking Chico State 41-0 last week. Montana's offense, led by senior quarterback Brad Lebo, has completed 44 of 99 passes for 562 yards thus far in the season. The Grizzlies lost to Washington State in their first game of the season despite throwing for 366 yards.

This football team has the propensity to throw the ball and throw the ball very well," Snyder said. "In the past, we've been used to teams that run more."

But passing yardage piles up on both sides of the field for Montana. The Grizzlies have been burned for 624 passing yards in two games, including 425 against Washington State, a game in which 128 passes were thrown by the two teams.

The Cats, the second-ranked passing team in the Big Eight a year ago, will be facing the Grizzly defense with two quarterbacks. Snyder said that both junior Jason Smargiasso and Garber will play.

"Their improvement has been substantial," Snyder said. "I'm pleased with the progress they've made." Smargiasso said that, although he'd rather start, there is a more important issue at hand. "The bottom line is to get the W," he said. "It doesn't matter who gets us there."

The status of running back Eric Gallon is another question mark on the squad.

"If he is ready Saturday, we'll play him Saturday," Snyder said. "He's making excellent progress, and he's almost there."

Sophomore running back J.J. Smith is first on the depth chart and is scheduled to start.

The Cats have won seven straight games against non-ranked teams and seven straight home games against non-conference teams.

A K-State victory in the opener would give the Cats their first four-game winning streak since 1970.

Jason Smargiasso gets sacked by Kansas' Tim Hill during last year's 16-12 victory at KSU Stadium.

Both quarterbacks to play in opener

"We haven't made a decision yet other than the fact that we will play both of them."

BILL SNYDER

FRANK KLEEMANN

Perhaps other coaches would have had many sleepless nights by now.

But despite not having a No. 1 quarterback, K-State's Bill Snyder is still comfortable.

"We like to keep things competitive. It's a good sign sitting in that kind of situation," Snyder said. "But we haven't made a decision yet other than the fact that we will play both of them with equal time.

"Which one goes first we will probably decide on Saturday before the ball game."

Meanwhile, both of the starting candidates, senior Matt Garber and junior Jason Smargiasso, are preparing themselves for the starting position against Montana.

"I'd rather start," Garber said, putting the thoughts of the sit-and-wait role for Saturday things started."

Smargiasso said the same thing.

"I'd rather start," he said. "You're not really in the game if you're sitting on the bench." However, both said they are convinced either could do a good job. "I just feel that, over the full season, we need two quarterbacks to play," Garber said. "We rotate in practice. One day I go first with a certain amount of playing time, the next day Jason goes first."

And that equal playing time makes for steady competition, Smargiasso said.

"We both are pretty even. It really doesn't matter," he said. "Whoever starts - that's the coaches' decision. We'll take it from there."

From that point on, one will throw the ball while the other gives signals from the sidelines.

aside. "I would like to get out there and get Smargiasso said he wouldn't lose his concentration standing off the field, because his turn could be just a snap away.

The quarterback situation is familiar to Smargiasso from last season.

This year, however, he may have an advantage. Snyder said if the controversy continues, Smargiasso's junior status would take precedence over Garber's senior status.

"Matt and I knew that it would come down to this," Smargiasso said. "It's the same situation as last year, so you get used to it."

Last year, the quarterback position was open until the third game. Filling the void at the quarterback slot will help the team, Smargiasso

"I think if you have a concrete No. I and a concrete No. 2, it's a little more stable for the team, and there is a guy to look to," he said.

SPORTS DIGEST

METS' BONILLA HAS SURGERY

NEW YORK (AP) - New York Mets right fielder Bobby Bonilla had arthroscopic surgery Thursday on his right shoulder. His arm will be in a sling for three weeks.

*The surgery was more extensive than anticipated," Mets general manager Al Harazin said. "We look forward to having Bobby ready for next

The Mets said Bonilla would need several months of exercise to prepare for spring

MICHIGAN LOSES ROSE, WEBBER

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) - Three Michigan basketball players - including sophomore standouts Jalen Rose and Chris Webber have been declared ineligible until the NCAA decides whether they violated rules by being paid for appearances. Michigan submitted a report referring to the three players, including Eric Riley, being paid $300 each to appear at a charity basketball tournament.

Spikers look to improve

BRIAN ANDERSON

Kathy Saxton leads the Big Eight in kills. Chi Dau is top in the conference in the assist

Jill Dugan is in first with 21 aces, and Stephanie Liester is in front of the Big Eight pack with 118 digs. So what is holding back the K-State volleyball team, a 3-5 squad that took fourth place in last weekend's Loyola Invitational?

One statistic may be that the Wildcat hitting percentage is .220, seventh in the Big Eight. But Coach Patti Hagemeyer sees something else with the hitting percentage. 'That is not a bad percentage," Hagemeyer said. "It is better than last year. But I would like

The Cats will play against their toughest opponent yet tonight when they go against 14th-ranked Ohio State in the opening round of the Ohio State Invitational this weekend.

"Ohio State has seen the best competition in the Big Eight," Hagemeyer said of the 5-1 Buckeyes, who have beat Colorado 3-2 and lost to Nebraska 3-0. Ohio State made it to volleyball's Final Four last year by going 30-4. Despite the loss of five players, Buckeye coach Jim Stone signed three players that were ranked in the Top 50.

But Hagemeyer said the hard-working Wildcats can upset Ohio State.

'We've got an excellent work ethic and great team unity," she said. "Anybody can beat anyone this early in the season." Saxton, who was this season's first Big Eight player of the week, said the competition will be

"I'm excited to see them." she said. "I think

■ See SPIKERS Page 7

KANSAS at TULSA

FAST FACTS: 6 p.m., Skelly Stadium, Tulsa, Okla. RECORDS: KU (2-0) and Tulsa (1-1).

LINE: Kansas by 3.
ABOUT THE JAYHAWKS: Kansas is looking to go 3-0 for the second consecutive season. The Jayhawks have piled up 111 points in two games. tops in the nation. The KU defense has given up only 362 yards of total offense. Quarterback Chip Hilleary, who ranks sixth nationally in passing efficiency, has completed 54 percent of his passes for 483 yards and leads the team with 137 yards rushing on 14 carries.

ABOUT THE GOLDEN HURRICANES: Tulsa dropped a tough road game, losing 19-9 to nationally-ranked Texas A&M. Tulsa managed just 184 yards of total offense last week against the Aggies and have yet to score a rushing touchdown this season.

THE SKINNY: This appears to be the toughest non-conference test for Kansas. Kansas is one win away from cracking the top 25 and a mistake-free game from Chip Hilleary should keep the Hawks perfect.

► NEBRASKA at WASHINGTON

FAST FACTS: 8:45 p.m., Husky Stadium, Seattle, Wash., televised on RECORDS: No. 12 Nebraska (2-0) and No. 2 Washington (2-0) LINE: Washington by 7.

ABOUT THE HUSKERS: Derek Brown has rushed for over 100 yards in both of Nebraska's games this season. Brown leads the conference and is ninth in the country in rushing. Husker defense has uncharacteristically given up over 580 yards of offense in two games.

ABOUT THE HUSKIES: Last season, Washington defeated Nebraska in Lincoln 36-21. In that game, the Huskies rolled up 618 yards of total offense. THE SKINNY: Last season, Washington dominated the game but didn't secure the victory until the fourth quarter. Remember the Huskers' golden rule in a big game, go against Nebraska.

SOUTHERN CAL at OKLAHOMA

FAST FACTS: 11 a.m., Memorial Stadium, Norman, Okla., televised by RECORDS: Southern California (0-0-1) and No. 13 Oklahoma (2-0) LINE: Oklahoma by 11.

ABOUT THE TROJANS: Southern California leads the series 4-2-1 and has won the last three meetings. Trojan secondary coach Bob Cope was the defensive line coach at K-State from 1989 to 1990.

ABOUT THE SOONERS: Defeated Texas Tech (34-9) and Arkansas State (61-0) to open the season. Have 1,008 yards of total offense through first two games. Defense ranks fourth in the country, giving up 181 yards per game. THE SKINNY: The Sooners opened the season impressively with a win over the Red Raiders and continued to look good last week. The fact that this Southern Cal team is just above average, coupled with the game being played in Norman, should take Oklahoma to 3-0.

TEXAS A&M at MISSOURI

FAST FACTS: 1 p.m., Faurot Field, Columbia, Mo. RECORDS: Missouri (0-1) and No. 5 Texas A&M (3-0).

LINE: Texas A&M by 16. ABOUT THE AGGIES: Only two players on the Aggie roster are not from the state of Texas.

ABOUT THE TIGERS: Missouri has yet to score a point against the Aggies in two career contests. Coach Bob Stull said that junior quarterback Phil Johnson will start.

THE SKINNY: The Tigers aren't breaking any preseason predictions to be a true contender. Don't look for this game to be any different.

OTHER BIG EIGHT GAMES

- Tulane at Iowa State, 1 p.m.
- Oklahoma State at No. 6 Michigan,
- No. 11 Colorado at Minnesota, 6 p.m.

Chiefs hope to shoot the Moon

Oilers' QB burned KC backfield in 2 previous contests ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOUSTON — Few teams have put the Houston Oilers' run-andshoot offense in the experimental crucible with more success - and failure - than the Kansas City

In 1990, the Chiefs tried to play man-to-man defense with the Oilers, and Warren Moon had his greatest statistical day as a pro. passing for 527 yards, the second highest single-game total in NFL history. The Oilers won 27-10.

Kansas City took a soft zone approach last year, pounded the Oilers' inside receivers and cut Houston's production to 275 total yards, with 233 yards passing for Moon. The Oilers still won 17-7.

The Chiefs try to finally get it right Sunday in the Astrodome. The Oilers hope their new wrinkles will be enough for a third straight victory in the series.

Moon has noticed a trend in how opponents defend the run-and-shoot since last year's game with the

"A lot of what people are doing against us now is what Kansas City did against us last year," Moon said. "They saw Kansas City slow us down, and they've been doing it, too. What they want to do is rely on the pass rush to get to me and play the zone underneath and knock our receivers out when they get the Chiefs coach Marty Schottenheimer isn't strutting about his team's defensive control in last vear's game.

"I don't think anybody stops it," Schottenheimer said. "They always make their yardage. What you hope to do is keep the scoring down the best you can to give yourself a chance to be successful.

The scary part for Schottenheimer is that the 1990 loss came against a good Chiefs

"We don't have to look far back to see what happened here in 1990," Schottenheimer said. 'We're a pretty good defensive football team, and Warren had a day that, in my mind, surpassed any day any quarterback ever had."

Defensive interest in Houston's high-tech inside receivers has caused another adjustment for the

Moon is going more to his outside receivers, especially Curtis Duncan, the NFL receiving leader with 16

"They're doubling our inside guys mainly because they've been catching the majority of the balls," Duncan said. "They're playing games with us. Lately, they've given the outside players more lead

Duncan is off to a fast start despite missing training camp as a contract holdout, but he refuses to take credit for his success.

"I think you guys are making too much of it," he said. "We're just trying to take what the defense gives us. Right now, the guys I've been playing over have been

The Oilers will face the No. 3ranked defense in the NFL. The Oilers lead the AFC in total offense and rank second in the NFL behind San Francisco.

We've been able to see the trends around the league now, and we know how teams are going to play us," Moon said. "We can add our own little wrinkles when we play those teams.

"I expect Kansas City to do both (man-to-man and zone) this time. They'll try to confuse me a little

The Chiefs are 2-0, with victories over San Diego and Seattle. It's the first time Schottenheimer has started the season with two victories.

"While we're pleased with the record, we recognize to get done what we have to get done, we have to play much better," Schottenheimer said.

"I wasn't aware of that record. My feeling is that the only time it's important to be in front is at the

Men open at Falcon; women play at Iowa

KRISTEEN YOUNG

Collegian The men's golf team opens its season this weekend, and the women compete in their second tournament of the year.

The men begin with the threeday Falcon Invitational, at the Air Force Academy of Colorado Springs, Colo. Competitors include Big Eight rivals Kansas and Colorado, two teams Coach Mark Elliott said they will see again later in the season.

"This is a real important tournament for us," Elliott said.

"It is as important as the Big Eight Tournament because we will be facing teams like Kansas, Wichita State and Colorado. They will be our competition for an NCAA berth."

Last year's team just missed being selected for the regional championships in May, and Elliott said they will be disappointed if they miss again this year.

Playing for the Wildcats will be seniors Richard Laing and Jim Brenneman, sophomore Brett Waldman, junior Sean Robertson and freshman Jason Losch.

Not only is it an important tournament for the team, but there is a considerable amount of pressure on Laing, Elliott said. He ended last season as an all-Big Eight honoree and qualified for the national tournament, where he finished as the lowest scorer from the Big Eight.

"It's important for Richard because he had such a good season this past spring and earned allconference honors," Elliott said.

He wants to continue toward his goal to be an all-American and needs to play well every week to do

The women's team will also continue its season this weekend at Iowa's three-day tourney. Another golfer with high personal goals is senior Valerie Hahn. Prior to the season, she said she wanted to finish her final season as a Wildcat among the top five players in the Big Eight.

"If Valerie can eliminate some mistakes, she should be in contention to win," Elliott said.

Hahn had a tough round in last weekend's tournament but finished with a good score despite threeputting on the first hole and a quadruple bogey on the back side.

She finished 17th out of 75. Sophomore Jacque Wright, finished above her at 12th and is the Wildcats' No. 1 golfer for this weekend's play. Neither Wright nor Hahn were required to qualify among teammates for the Iowa Invitational because they finished with such low scores last weekend.

Other competitors for K-State are juniors Denise Pottle and SarahAyn Moorehead and sophomores Dallas Cox and Donita

The tournament format is unusual because each team is allowed to enter six golfers instead of the usual five. The best four scores will be added for the team's

"I feel this format favors our team and should work to our advantage because we are deeper this year," Elliott said.

Spikers to play at Ohio State tourney

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

the freshmen are more excited to play against a high-caliber team." Despite the Cats record, Hagemeyer said that she is happy with the team's progress.

"We have had pretty good performances," she said. "We have been more physically and mentally focused every time we've stepped on the court.'

Co-captain Saxton's leagueleading 182 kills averages 5.7 per game. She also has 16 aces, fourth in the Big Eight.

Liester, the other co-captain, has the most digs in the Big Eight at 118. She is second on the team in kills and total attacks.

Freshmen Dugan has one more ace than Missouri's Melinda Wyre, the conference.

tournament are Tennessee and Rice. Tennessee is bringing a twogame winning streak into the tournament. The Lady Vols are 3-3 this season after finishing 12-17 last

The other teams in the Rice is 5-2 and has won four of its last five games. Four starters and Dau's 12.5 assist average leads return from last year's 12-23 squad.

K-State has the statistics to prove it can compete, including tops in the Big Eight in both kills and assists. These figures have given Hagemeyer hope that the Cats can have a good season, she said.

"These are the best numbers we've had since I have been here," Hagemeyer said. "To be at the top of several individual categories and team categories is great."

Regents discuss Washburn proposal

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Kimball Avenue.

Thirdly the board approved an addition to the College of Technology at K-State-Salina.

K-State Provost James Coffman said the addition includes an expanded library, added laboratories and expanded office

Most of the meeting involved discussion of Washburn University and budget proposals.

Even though Washburn is not a regents university, its staff still recommends a hudget to the hoard before taking it to the Legislature.

K-State President Jon Wefald said the board distributes the money Legislature. However, the board has no authority over Washburn's 'The state's monies have been funneled through the Board of Regents to Washburn," Wefald As its second proposal,

Washburn requested a five-year process, beginning in 1995, to make Washburn the seventh regents

Wefald said Washburn has been trying to get into the regents system for the last 10 years. Even after approval from the board, it will be up to the Legislature to allow Washburn into the system.

In theory, the acceptance of Washburn gets through the Washburn into the regents system would cause a cutback for all regents schools because state money is limited, Wefald said.

"If you have another person coming to the table, you might have less to go around," he said.

Jackie McClaskey, K-State student body president, said if Washburn does get in, there will be an increase in the demand from the state in the long run, but it won't affect K-State's share.

A general statement outlining goals for all regents universities was presented at this board's undergraduate advising, campus according to skill levels.

Has any religious group ever expressed concern that they were boring

-Roy Blount, Jr.

At College Heights Baptist Church, 2221 College

Heights Road, we are trying not to bore God. Join us as we look for new and interesting ways to serve Christ and his kingdom.

You are invited to College

Bible study Sunday mornings at 9:15, and worship at

God?

THE MAGAZINE IN THE

security, improving the transfer policy within the regents schools, enhancement of faculty for student and increasing rating multiculturalism.

The board suggested using the American Collegiate Testing Program and Scholastic Aptitude Test as tools to improve advising.

The proposal called for all students entering regents schools right after high school to submit their scores from the ACT and

These scores would be used for dvising purposes only, and not as McClaskey said the five an enrollment requirement. initiatives requiring action from the Advisers could use the scores to regents include improvements in help students choose classes

IS COMING... SEPT. 24

Great · Memories Start Here.. Portraits taken for...

Delta Sigma Theta Sept. 18

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

Police chase battery suspect; man charged

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 three times, finally high-centering his car on a fence in an alley in the 900 block of Kearney Street. He then fled on foot and was apprehended at the intersection of 10th and Thurston streets, Quintanar said.

K-State Police charged Cheatham with one count each of battery and making a terroristic

RCPD charged him with one count each of DUI, fleeing and eluding an officer and resisting arrest, and three counts of leaving the scene of an accident, plus other minor traffic infractions, Quintanar

He was released on $6,000 bond.

776-5764

537-2100

18 to enter; 21 to drink

CENTER

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

1800 Claffin Rd. 776-5577 FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

Fashion Company

ENTERTAINMENT

Cat Jam to open season

The third annual Cat Jam '92 will help kick off the K-State football season and voter awareness at noon Saturday in Aggieville's Triangle Park.

Joe Montgomery, station manager at KSDB-FM 91.9, said he was originally approached with the idea for a rock concert to precede K-State's first home football game.

"Enthusiasm for football has been growing, and this was a good opportunity to promote DB92 and to get people excited about the opening of football season," Montgomery said.

Dr. Zeus will open the festivities, followed by reggae band Cry Out. The Lonesome Houndogs will also perform, and Brother Jeb Bolan will play during set changes.

Jim Johnson, DB92 music director, said last year's Cat Jam was rained out halfway through, but this year everyone is hoping for a good crowd and good weather.

"Prizes that include football tickets, T-shirts, CDs, posters and tapes will be given away at Saturday's concert, so that ought to encourage some turnout," Johnson

Charla Bailey, adviser for Union Program Council's Issues and Ideas Committee, a Cat Jam co-sponsor, said the committee will be in Triangle Park Saturday to promote voter registration.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILMS

Terry Gilliam

to futuristic society

Terry Gilliam's "Brazil" is an Gilliam, who was an animator excursion into a futuristic society similar to that of George Orwell's for the British comedy series

"Monty Python's Flying Circus," paints an uncompromising picture of a future society controlled by paperwork, fear and an unseen, takes viewers

ANDY WOODWARD

Collegian

LIVE MUSIC CALENDAR

FRIDAY, SEPT. 18

JEB BOLAN - Charlie's Neighborhood Bar Acoustic folk rock 10 p.m.

BAD ATTITUDE - Silverado Saloon

Country 9 p.m.

$2 over 21, $5 under 21

SUBMYTION - Boulevards 11th Street Bar & Grill

Director's style shines in 'Brazil'

10 p.m.

$3 over 21, $4 under 21

seemingly omnipotent police force.

Lowry's attempt to find the girl of his dreams and otherwise remain anonymous in the world of shadows and fear. Meanwhile, Lowry drifts by himself, an anonymous woman and a 20-foot robotic Aztec warrior with whom Lowry occasionally

Robert DeNiro plays fugitive airconditioner repairman Harry Tuttle.

Tuttle is on the lam because he quit

Lowry's dreams are populated off into his own dream world.

The story revolves around Sam

SATURDAY, SEPT. 19

VITREOUS HUMOR — Charlie's Neighborhood Bar Rock and alternative rock

10 p.m. $3 cover

BAD ATTITUDE — Silverado Saloon

Country 9 p.m.

$2 over 21, $5 under 21

SUBMYTION - Boulevards 11th Street Bar & Grill

10 p.m.

$3 over 21, $4 under 21

Festival to showcase variety of styles

TONYA FOSTER

Collegian

The first River Valley Music Festival was such a success that the organizers have returned for more.

Joe Comporato, production manager for the show, said the festival will be held twice a year, in the fall and spring.

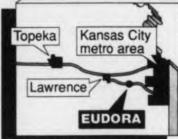

"We had absolutely no problem last spring. We have a great crew," Comporato said.

A 20-acre field outside Eudora will be the setting on Saturday for the bi-annual festival. A diverse variety of music which includes rock, R&B and gospel will be showcased.

Gates open at 1p.m., and the bands will play from 3 to 11:30

"We are preparing for five to seven thousand people, but by no means is it sold out," Comporato

The festival will showcase five bands including headliners Little Awards.

Feat and The Bodeans. The first act that will perform is R&B band

Baghdad Jones from Lawrence. The Red Devils who just completed the 1992 Los Angeles Music

1992 ATO PAINT BALL WARS Sept. 26 and 27

$75/six man team all 539-3476 or 539-17 For Further Details

Brought to you by: Rusty's Last Chance

Krazy Kris's and K Rock 101.5

College of Business Ambassadors Present:

Business Bash •92

Featuring: Hamburger Feed

Volleyball

The New Dean

Representatives from Faculty, Clubs, and Organizations

AND

THE

BARNBURNERS

Tickets $2

Available in Calvin 107 or from any Ambassador

1 Shirt and Meal Following Tournament

Another band that will appear is a Midwest tour opening for The Allman Brothers. The Red Devils were named "Best Blues Artist" at Spielberg 'Hooks' all-star cast

ANDY WOODWARD

REVIEW

Excellent performances by Robin Williams and Dustin Hoffman should be enough bait to lure you to "Hook," showing this weekend in the K-State Union.

"Hook," directed by Steven Spielberg, extends the Peter Pan fairy tale by postulating that Peter Pan, played by Robin Williams, did his government job as repairman because of his disdain for endless paperwork.

He also repairs broken climate controls along the way. "I joined this life because of the adventure and excitement, not for the paperwork," Tuttle says as he fixes Lowry's air conditioner.

The supporting cast includes another Monty Python alumnus, Michael Palin. Bob Hoskins appears as Lowry's legitimate air conditioner repairman who has an intense hatred of rogue repairmen like Tuttle.

In an age where more and more the unthinkable: He grew up, and he became a businessman on top of that. The conflict arises when

Captain Hook, played by Dustin

Hoffman, seeks revenge on Peter by

The film is well done, but kidnapping his children.

REVIEW

"Brazil" plays at midnight tonight and Saturday in the K-State Union Forum Hall. Admission is $1.75.

directors are using the dramatic, low angle camera shots, director Gilliam's style of the high-angle shot is both refreshing and becoming his trademark.

Gilliam received praise for "The Fisher King," starring Robin Williams and Jeff Bridges, and directed "The Adventures of Baron Munchausen" and "Time Bandits."

■ "Hook" plays at 7 and 9:30 p.m. tonight and Saturday and at 7 p.m. Sunday in the K-State how Spielbergian he is. He tries to outdo himself, and consequently, about twenty minutes of the movie

See HOOK Fage 9

Union Forum Hall.

9PM-1AM union station at Union Station Sat. Sept. 19 9pm - 1am

Carol Donuts Etc.

Wildcat Weekend Specials Fri., Sat., Sun. Sept. 18, 19, 20

1 doz. Donuts ......2.45

menu includes:

Call ahead-we'll have your order ready!

6 a.m.-7 p.m. 1800 Claflin 7 days a week FirstBank Center 776-8058

Donut (single) ..... $.25 ½ doz. Donuts......1.25

Our mouth-watering

Donuts . Muffins Rolls . Brownies Danish . Cookies

Fritters • Breads Strudel Sticks

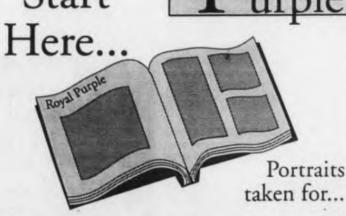

Homemade Soups Sandwiches

sometimes you just get the feeling that Spielberg is trying to prove just

All You Can Eat-$7.95 per person 1304 Westloop • 539-8888 • 539-0888

Great Memories Start

Delta Sigma Phi Sept. 18

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

THIS BUD'S TO THE FIRST WIN OF THE SEASON. GOOD LUCK!

Sunday, Sept. 20, 4-7 p.m.

THIS BUD'S FOR YOU.

Campbell Distributors is a proud sponsor of Saturday's K-State vs. Montana Game.

Old Stadium

CONCEPT OF GOD IN ISLAM Islam rejects characterizing God in any human form or depicting Him as favoring certain individuals or nations on the basis of wealth, power or race. He created the human-beings as equals. They may distinguish themselves and get

His favor through virtue and piety only.

The concept that God rested in the seventh day of creation, that God wrestled with one of His soldiers, that God is an envious plotter against mankind, or that God is incarnate in any human being are considered blasphemy from the Islamic point of view.

The unique usage of Allah as a personal name of God is a reflection of Islam's emphasis on the purity of the belief in God which is the essence of the message of all God's messengers. Because of this, Islam considers associating any deity or personality with God as a deadly sin which God will never forgive, despite the fact He may forgive all other sins.

God's Attributes

If the Creator is eternal and everlasting, then His attributes must also be eternal and everlasting. He should not lose any of His attributes nor acquire new ones. If this is so, then His attributes are absolute. Can there be more than one Creator with such absolute attributes? Can there be for example, two absolutely powerful Creators? A moment's thought shows that this is not feasible.

The Quran summarizes this argument in the following verses:
God has not taken to Himself any son, nor is there any god with Him: For then each god would have taken off that which he created and some of them would have risen up over others. And Why, were there gods in earth and heaven other than God, they (heaven and earth) would surely go to ruin.

The Oneness of God

The Oneness of God
The Quran reminds us of the falsity of all alleged gods.
To the worshippers of man-made objects it asks: Do you worship what you have carved yourself or have you taken unto you others beside Him to be your protectors, even such as have no power to protect themselves?
To the worshippers of heavenly bodies it cites the story of Abraham (PBUH): When night outspread over him he saw a star and said, "This is my Lord" But when it set he said, "I love not the selters." When he saw moon rising, he said, "This is my tord. "But when it set he said: "If my Lord does not guide me I shall surely be of the people gone astray." When he saw the sun rising, he said, "This is my Lord; this is greater. "But when it set he said, "O my people; surely I quit that you associate. I have turned my face to Him who originated the heavens and the earth; a man of pure faith, I am not of the idolators."

Muslim Community Association

Opus 6 features variety of bands

Craig Korth of No Left Stone sings while Chris Sommerich plays bass guitar during the Opus 6 Band Competition in the Union Plaza Thursday night. No Left Stone, a band from the University of Nebraska won first place.

Nebraskan band wins annual UPC event; ballots focused on originality

MATT CUNNINGHAM

Nebraska's No Left Stone - the only band not from Kansas - won the Opus 6 Band Competition Thursday night in the K-State Union Plaza.

"It's going well," said Charla Bailey, program adviser for UPC Eclectic Entertainment. "It's a little bigger than last year."

About 350 people came to hear the sixth annual competition, which is for bands playing original music. It's judged by a panel on originality of music, instrumental ability, vocal ability, stage presence and audience response. Opus is a term meaning originality in

"The ballots are weighed heavy on originality," said judge Brian Harris, member of local band the Moving Van Goghs.

The judges place more emphasis on originality, instrumental and vocal ability than stage presence and audience appeal, he said.

It took a band from Lincoln, Neb., to fit it best. No Left Stone got the crowd up with its grungy sound.

Lead singer Craig Korth, junior in psyband is influenced by jazz, blues and grunge.

Local band Truck Stop Love opened with cover songs and received second place in the competition.

Coming in third was the Kents, of Kansas City, who played songs titled "Student," "God Song" and "Got My Girlfriend and My Pistol."

The first-place winner received a cash prize of $300. Second place got $200, and third won $100.

The competition was intense,

"Twenty-six bands applied, and only seven could be chosen," Bailey said. "It was a really hard

The other four bands that performed were from throughout Appoggiatura, a speed-metal band from Hutchinson, covered a Metallica song as well as a slow rock ballad.

Hey Ruth, of Lawrence, was formed five weeks ago when classes began, said Don Chaffer, junior in music theory and journalism at the University of Kansas. Bemsha Swing, of Wichita, played original

John McLendon of bosom rocks the mike while fans stage dive and mosh in front of the stage at Opus.

Man," "Now She is Queen" and "God."

The final band to play was bosom, who got the crowd to its feet with the harmonica, accordion, dulcimer, bongos as well as chology at the University of Nebraska, said the songs such as "Sounds of Music," "Devil is a acoustic and electric guitars

'Hook' features all-star cast in latest Spielberg effort

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

could have been left on the editing room floor. The special effects in "Hook" are nothing short of incredible. Panoramic moonscapes and floating islands lend to the mythical feeling

Julia Roberts is adequate as Tinkerbell, the fairy with a heart. Watch for Phil Collins appearing

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste

treat that won't bust your wallets:

Homemade Buttermilk Biscuits

All You Can Eat

For Only $4.95

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet

omelets or skillet breakfasts

537-8440

2304 Stagg HIII Rd.

Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome

Creamed Chipped Beef

Homefried Potatoes

Bisquit Gravy

French Toast

Bacon/Sausage

Scrambled Eggs

Escalloped Apples Grilled Ham Steak

Pancakes

One of the drawbacks to the film and 12-year-old bodies flying is the typical ratio of good across the screen. For a few Spielberg material to cheesy moments, it even looks like "Peter Spielberg material. Another Pan" meets "Breakin' Two: Electric early in the film in a cameo as a drawback is the annoying group of British police officer. Lost Boys, replete with skateboards Boogaloo." Robin Williams plays the adult Pan with unemotional stoicism, saving his hilarious ramblings for his return to the mentality of Peter

Adult Effects of Childhood Abuse-a free public forum

Speaking the unspeakable truth

Speaking the unspeakable truth about childhood abuse, though painful, is essential to healing and recovery. The most common response to emotional abuse, verbal abuse, physical abuse, sexual abuse, and incest is to forget or deny it happened or minimize its effects on the survivor's life.

But to live a "normal life," childhood abuse survivors should acknowledge the truth and address how it has changed their lives. A survivor can have problems as an adult that are directly related to the childhood trauma, such as:

a eating disorders ☐ depression problems in relationships ☐ self-destructive or self-defeating behavior

With help and support, survivors of childhood abuse can put the painful memories to rest.

The Women's Program at Menninger presents Adult Effects of Childhood Abuse featuring: Presentations by Menninger clinical staff specializing in women's problems: Alice Brand Bartlett; Bonnie Buchele, PhD; Catherine Pawlicki, RN, MSN, CS;

Meredith Titus, PhD & Kathryn Zerbe, MD An opportunity for questions and answers

An opportunity, if you choose, to meet privately with a Menninger mental health professional. (This brief screening is informational and will provide free professional guidance, but it is not a substitute for a detailed, psychiatric evaluation.)

September 22, 1992 7-9 pm

Seeley Conference Center 5800 SW Sixth Topeka, KS

From any city in Missouri or Kansas, please call for further information

1 800 351 9058, ext. 555.

Menninger

To reach Menninger from westbound I-70, exit I-70 at Wanamaker Rd. and turn north onto Wanamaker. Eastbound traffic on I-70 should exit onto I-470 East and exit again onto SW Huntoon St.J. Wanamaker Rd. Turn east onto Huntoon St. and then turn north onto Wanamaker.

Wanamaker will curve right onto Sixth St. Turn left at the light, the main campus entrance.

Black Alumni Reunion program set for weekend

Event intended as pilot activity for future efforts

MEE SUN LEE

Multicultural Affairs.

The second annual Black Alumni Reunion this weekend is intended to promote greater cooperation between the Alumni Association and the Office of

"It is very important for us to have active multicultural alumni groups all over because they serve as a resource to the efforts we're making here on multicultural issues," said Mordean Taylor-Archer, vice provost for multicultural affairs. "This is an opportunity for the African-American alumni to share and to contribute to the University."

Kim Hamilton, multicultural constituent program coordinator and reunion organizer, said she

"This program is a way to reach the multicultural alumni and incorporate us in current activities and even create other activities and purpose of the Black Alumni Reunion is to serve as a pilot-type activity for other activities that we may want to do in the future."

The organizing committee is expecting at least 50 people, many of whom will be from as far away as California, for the weekend's activities at the Ramada Inn.

Events scheduled following the reception on Friday include a luncheon at the Ramada, a barbecue dinner, attending Saturday's football game against Montana and a dance that night.

Sunday morning begins with breakfast, and the reunion will end with an optional independent

"For black students, in particular, to interact with black alumni might serve as an encouragement for them and not only for black alumni but for alumni in all ethnic groups," Hamilton said. "It's important for them to know that anyone can graduate from K-State and make it.

"It's just good for people to have role models in every ethnic group," she said. "Everybody has programs," Hamilton said. "The potential."

> GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

MADNESS plus two 32 oz. soft drinks 2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

Expires 10/22/92

 4 PIZZAS
 ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND!

falid only with coupon at ipating Little Caesars. Extra

Expires 10/22/92

Missing Emporia student home

"As a mother, I hurt for my daughter. I also worry about his next victim. The judicial system has kicked him loose so many times."

JOYCE BENTON

Mother says her daughter duped by ex-convict

ASSOCIATED PRESS

EMPORIA - The mother of a young woman who showed up in the Kansas City area after a mysterious three-week trip says her daughter was duped by an exconvict authorities call a con artist.

Angela Benton, a student at Emporia State University, was home in Garnett Wednesday night to mark her 20th birthday with her parents. She had been found earlier in the day in Kansas City, Kan.

She and the ex-convict, Walter R. Johnson, 62, were detained by security officers at the University of Kansas Medical Center after they attempted to obtain medication for Benton's epilepsy.

A widespread search had been conducted since the two disappeared from Emporia Aug. 21. They were spotted Aug. 29 in Stanton County in far western Kansas, when Johnson allegedly gave a worthless $3,000 check to a farmer for a Dodge van.

Johnson, who was released from prison earlier this year, remained in custody at the Wyandotte County Jail Thursday as a parole violator.

Benton's mother, Joyce, said her daughter believed Johnson when he said he was an agent for the CIA who would train her for a highpaying agency job.

We have money worries about getting her through college. She thought she was going to take care of them," Joyce Benton said Thursday. "Everything that she has believed for the past 26 days, she didn't find out until last night was a

She said her daughter thought Johnson was in daily contact with her family, and she believed everything he had told her was true until talking to the Kansas Bureau of Investigation.

"She is just a very crushed individual," Joyce Benton said. "She is physically drained, emotionally drained. She is glad to be home, though."

Joyce Benton said her daughter would not have gone willingly on the trip unless she had been duped by Johnson, who had been living in Emporia and working part time at a church and the Christian Student Center on the Emporia State

A Topeka man said Johnson was involved in a similar escapade

Herb Katt, who works at a YMCA in Topeka, said the case involving Benton was a carbon copy of what he did with a Topeka

Topeka police and KBI Director Robert Davenport could not confirm Katt's story. A police spokesman said if charges were not filed in the case, information would not be available.

Katt said he met Johnson at a Topeka church when Johnson was on work release from prison after a felony theft conviction in Sedgwick County.

He said Johnson was working at a car agency and became acquainted with a young woman. He said Johnson took a car from the agency and convinced the woman to travel with him, eventually dropping her off with her grandmother in Michigan.

"He told her he was with the FBI in Washington and had a big job for her up there," Katt said. 'She went along voluntarily, just like this girl did. He didn't hurt her, anything like that."

When Johnson was picked up in 1986, he was charged with aggravated escape from prison and with theft in Shawnee County. He was released from prison in April and apparently arrived in Emporia a short time later.

On Aug. 21, three days after coming to Emporia State for the fall term, Benton packed a duffel bag and told her roommate she'd be gone for the weekend.

When she hadn't returned by the following Tuesday, the roommate went to police. The KBI entered the case the next day.

Davenport said he expects the Department of Corrections to revoke Johnson's parole. Charges also are pending in connection with a felony check case. But Johnson is not likely to be charged in connection with Benton's disappearance because she is an adult and went willingly, Davenport said.

Benton's mother said she was just sick about that.

"As a mother, I hurt for my daughter," she said. "Frankly, I also worry about his next victim. The judicial system has kicked him loose so many times.'

Gas has minor effects

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

percent of the atmosphere as methane, you won't have much effect on irregularities in respiration," Pickrell said. "Also, methane has a very minor effect compared to the fluorocarbons like aerosols and refrigerants. It's at least 10 times and maybe as much as 100 times less than fluorocarbons."

Kuhl said people in the beef industry are attempting to cut down on the amount of methane produced by cattle.

"There are a couple of ways they have done research for less methane produced," Kuhl said.

"Just having the types of diets so that the cattle can get into production sooner cuts down on the amount of methane, since they produce so much methane each day.

Also, there are two different feed additives which have shown to reduce cattle methane Kuhl said these additives, Rumensin and

Bovatech, allow the bacteria in the rumen to use energy normally used to emit methane for energy to Pickrell said concerns about cattle methane production actually helped the industry's concerns.

"Americans are very advanced, and the concern people have has put us there," Pickrell said.

These questions stimulate people to invent things to help solve the problems."

ESSENTIALS

Is this the 'mythological' Cassandra?

DEAR CASSANDRA

Am I correct in believing that your name, Cassandra Duveux (sic), 'is a fictional pen

If so, I would like to know how you see yourself connected to Cassandra of old, who foretold the death of Paris and the beginning of the Trojan War.

Like her, do you have powers of divination? Will you soon be warning us of our own doomsday? And, like the ancients, should we simply ignore you?

"Just Wondering," B.C.M., K-State student

DEAR JUST WONDERING,

I believe you correctly refer to Cassandra of mythology, who was the daughter of Priam, the last King of Troy, and his wife, Hecuba.

Cassandra was loved by the god Apollo, who promised to bestow on her the power of prophecy if she would comply with his desires. Cassandra accepted the gift, and then she refused his favors.

Apollo avenged himself by ordaining that her prophecies, including those regarding Paris and the Trojan War, should never be believed. In the distribution of the booty after the capture of Troy, Cassandra fell to Agamemnon and was later murdered with him.

I make no claim on history and do not believe in prophecy of any sort. I, therefore, do not claim or possess powers of divination.

The only "doom" I might warn of is the doom that will befall all college students who do not proofread their written work. You can ignore what you wish, but please do not ignore the correct spelling of my last name: It is "Duveaux," with an "a."

DEAR CASSANDRA,

Last semester, I took a form to the Office of the Registrar to be signed so that I could receive a discount on my car insurance. Instead of being able to get the form signed then, I was told to come back in two days with my student ID, and the form would be ready then.

DAVID SWEARINGEN

It wouldn't have taken more than a minute to check my records. Why can't the staff in the registrar's office do this when I'm there, instead of making me go back again?

J.S., K-State junior

What you are asking sounds reasonable enough on the surface, but you must consider the number of students who require the same or similar requests of the Office of the Registrar.

It is University policy to verify the enrollment status of each student making such requests such as yours, which includes verifying the number of hours the student is taking. This does not require a large amount of time, and initially, at some point in time long ago, it probably was possible to handle requests on a walk-in basis.

Today, the number of requests greatly exceeds the ability of the staff to handle them in the amount of time you would be willing to

Paperwork is still handled in the order in which it is received, but the backlog is such that it takes the staff about two days to get to yours and process it.

You think you have it bad being required to make a second trip. How about the poor keyboard operator who has to process all those

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

THE STRIP

JIM DIKKERS

ACROSS

1 Gallery

8 Barbershop

12 Spring-

birth-

Ding

Dong*

Grenoble

musician

structure

Floss

18 Actor

steen's place?

cry 4 Verdon of 32 Gaelic

34 Killer

Broadway 35 Apple

implement 37 Track

wailers

whale

occupant

36 Folkways

shoe

DOWN

1 Mas-

2 Simile

center

3 James

Taylor hit

42 Hang loosely

Sincere'

Whitney

('57 song)

seuse's offering

EUGENE SHEFFER

JIM'S JOURNAL

BILL WATTERSON

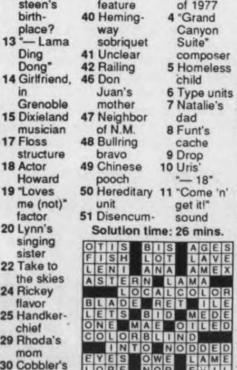

YEAH, BUT PEOPLE BELIEVE WHAT THEY SEE, AND NOW WE'VE GOT A PHOTOGRAPHIC DOCUMENT OF A FAKE CHILDHOOD READY FOR ANY FUTURE BIOGRAPHICAL NEEDS ! AVAH YAM I

16 Stage composer Styne 19 Skateboarder's protection 20 Smoothtalking 21 Verdi opera 22 1692 persecution city 23 Individuals 25 Afrikaner 26 Storyteller 27 Pleasant 28 "Oh, woe!" 30 Attempt 33 "City of Joy" star 34 "How clumsy of me! 36 Thanksgiv-For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873!99c perminute, touching veggie 37 Integrated tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. circuit CRYPTOQUIP 38 Byway 39 O.T. book 40 1957 WVCRK novel

BYR QYW CREJ CQRDW QYW · CQRVWVRRO ZVRO

PEOW Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DOWNTOWN, THE CARELESS ARCHITECT WAS FIRED FOR FALLEN ARCHES.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: V equals R

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

KEDZIE

GET THE WORD OUT

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word ALL DAYS MUST BE CONSECUTIVE

All classifieds must be paid in advance Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge We reserve the right to edit, reject or erty classify any ad.

For an extra charge, we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge.

DES

from

Call

more

cal

Jan.- June both. 537-2186.

PERATELY needed to share very nice apartment close to campus

Own room. Great roommates! $200/ month 537-0831.

three-bedroom with two others. $146 plus one-third utilities.

Washer and dryer in-cluded, 776-3399 or

Aggie and campus, own

one fourth utilities. $125/

in house

ROOMMATE TO share

ROOMMATE WANTED one

ROOMMATE WANTED to

TWO FEMALE roommates

share mobile home in Grandview Plaza. $160

month plus one-half needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facil-

ties and central air and

For

information

537-2145.

block

537-2055

1-238-8897

heat.

776-3804.

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ resume. Laser printer.

Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran

$10 AND up: professional resumes,

tees. Please call Sandy letters, term papers,

etc. Free editing,

laser printing. 25 plus years experience.

let me do the typing

more. Overnight results when necessary.

me a call. 537-9480 after

539-5998 after 5p.m.

A B C typing service. You do

Reports.

Go ahead.

5p.m. ask

A QUALITY resume is vital

Service for 537-7294.

today's petitive job market.

Contact the courteous staff at Resume

resume, cover letter and form typing

needs. Serving KSU

students and staff

for over a decade 343

Hire a profes-sional to type, edit and laser- print you resumes, papers and presentations. Fast.

evenings. Gail 539-6678.

lish/Speech for papers, editing; my ten years for resumes. $1.25 dou ble; letter quality. Call

Accurate, 823-6931.

TYPING IN my home, available days and

UTILIZE MY B.S. in Eng-

personnel manage

Janice 537-2203.

000

BULLETIN

BOARD

KSU- SALINA students/ staff:

cover

studying,

charts give

for

ROOMMATE

noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

DEADLINES

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the

You must call us before noon the day the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please notify us after the first run. Just call us

ALL ADS MUST BE PLACED BY NOON

BULLETIN BOARD

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or cal 532-6106 for an ap

ADVANCED FLIGHT Training. Multi-engine, instrument, commercial, ATP, CFI ratings. Private and instrume ground school Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 evenings.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after

DONATIONS ACCEPTED! Get rid of your junk! Cub Scout Pack 284 will be having a garage sale Sat., Sept. 26 from 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pot-torf Hall, CiCo Park Manhattan, Anyone wishing to donate any usable item to sell, please call 537-9407. We will pick up your

nations. Tax deductable NEW INTERNATIONAL Youth Hostel open ing between Wichita Junction $7.50 night, Stone Prairie Inn, Marion, KS 66861. Reservations (316)382-2746

WAGON WHEEL Antiques, 409 Lincoln, Wamego. New arrivals marbles and furni ture, phone 456-8480 or 494-2388.

tion All Stude ads & Graduates. Over $5 Billion

S Financial Aid Available S

Found ads can be placed for

FOUND- GRAY kitten: four- five months old; found on Hunter St. west of old stadium Call 776-2487 to claim or interested.

FOUND: CAMERA with initials in Haymaker, Mon. Call 532-2462 to identi

FOUND: MALE cat. North east Manhattan. 776-0703. FOUND: TWO sets of keys were turned in to the Math Department. To claim call Campus Police 532-6412. FOUND: WOMEN'S trifocal glasses. Found in Card well Hall, 532-6750. LOST KEYS in Last Chance or Brothers Fri. night. Call 539-3787.

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a

BETA SIG Roach- You can be my cowboy and I can be your cowgirl. Grreat! You would like that wouldn't ya? Yip Yip YIPPEE! J.P.

DORKFACE, STREAKER, Mr. Huge and Boo, from 300 we've chosen you. Scott T.'s rude side he did show, Bill was just a little slow. Kenton loated above the rest, but Scott W. was the structions, the rest is up to you, we're ready to party, Beack Jam '92. Your Kappa dates.

JARED G-S, this Friday won't be an ordinary day, because someone ing birthday.

JER- BEAR: Here's hoping your day is bright and funky- more fun than > barrel of monkeys- as happy as a lark from the crack of dawn til birthday wishes are no bull-hope your day is wild and full. Love-

KAPPA DELTA New Initiates-congratulations! We are proud of you and excited to share our secrets with you! Get excited for tonight and you will finally stand what it means to be in the circle of friend-ship! AOT, The Mem-

KD GINA- To an awesome little Sis. I am excited to get to know you better Love and AOT Carrie.

KD KAMI and Jana- Today is your day. We are so proud of you. Make KD as special to you as it is to us. Love and AOT, Jodi, Susan, Tara. KD KATE. So pleased to have you as my lil' sis. Get ready for the fun times ahead. Remember I'm always there you. Big Sis. Susan. KD KRISSY- What a great mom- dot pair we'll make, welcome to the family. KD Love, Jana.

KD TASHA- Welcome to the family! I can't wait for all the fun times ahead. I'll be there for you always. Your big THETA J.B.- The secret is out, you killed him! Norman was not dead et. Good luck tonight.

TO- JIM, AARON, Reese, Boot, Scoot, and Boogie: We will be two steppin', just you and me, the river may run we'll buy! Out in the barn, kickin' up the hay, can't wait, just one

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

05 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very one, two nice. bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices 537-2919, 537-1666.

NEWLY REMODELED three bedroom, two bath, one-half block rom campus. No pets. 776-1340.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

BASEMENT STUDIO apartment 1865 College Heights. Central air/ neat, washing facilities $195 a month available Jan. 1. 537-1986.

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment complexes and houses with great prices, 537-2919, 537-1666.

EADLINES

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Central air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, 537-8800.

ONE-BEDROOM APARTMENT located

1960 Hunting. Close to campus coin operated laundry facilities and fire-place. $410 includes water and trash For appointment call

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central central facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed-room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087

utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or TWO-BEDROOM

THREE-BEDROOM MOST

BASEMENT apartment $300. bills paid

bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

TWO-BEDROOM HOUSE two and one-half miles from Town Center on Highway 24. 776-1340.

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close to city park and campus. Good orhood. $62,900. 1-800-593-0519.

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. pus one mile. Nine No pets. 539-4087.

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

COUNTRYSIDE BROKER AGE 12x50 through 14x70 prices startin $3000, payments start ing at $149.75, 10 per cent down, payment with approved credit.

EMERGENCY! NEED two male roommates as soon as possible. One half block from cam-pus. $155/ month. Call after 5:30. 776-7794

FEMALE NEEDED for Oct 1 or earlier. Own room with two other girls in apartment, Near cam ous and Aggieville.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share a three-bed room apartment with one and a half bath, ly- equipped kitchen in a brick complex. Call 537-7087.

NON-SMOKING FEMALE townhouse close to campus, $135 plus sublease Nov. and Dec.

SEWING AND alterations Taireza Eleventh St. 537-2128

235<sup>Child Care</sup>

PRESCHOOL CHILD care local church ladies group, Thursdays 9:30a.m.- 11:15a.m. Ref erences required. For more information cal 776-4967

GUITAR LESSONS- ex styles, 776-0685.

LOOKING FOR a male Gold en Retriever, AKC Register to mate, Call Glo ria at 776-9890 leave

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years experience. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049. 5p.m. Monday through

255 Other Services

HEALTH AND nsurance. Call us be fore buying the University Health Plan Multi-line Agency. 555 Poyntz 215. Tim Engle 537-4661.

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

310

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, ka, KS 66607-1190 (913)232-0454.

BARTENDERS WANTED Experience required Flexible hours. Call 537-8063 after 5p.m. CACTUS JACKS Mexican Cafe and Cantina, a fun

200

SERVICE

DIRECT-

ORY

100

HOUSING/

REAL

ESTATE

new restaurant featuring southwestern food

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

304

EMPLOY-

CAREERS

MENT/

801-379-2900

Kedzie Hall 103 532-7309 Manhattan, Kan 66506 $252.50Sell 50 funny co lege T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obilgation. A risk-free

OR WRITE

K-State Collegian

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

ation call free (800) NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now. No willpower needed. Brand new just patented 100 percent natural, 100 percent guaranteed.

program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours.

Choose from 12 designs. For more in-

Live-in one commitments. $150 and Doctor recommended Call (303)782-1081. up per week. Immediate placements. terviews applications (800)858-2429 call 10 (316)682-1735.

PHONE

532-6556

EVENING AND weekend help. Cleaning stalls, feeding horses, minor maintenance. 494-2882 after 6p.m.

family atmosphere is

za. We are looking for bright energetic outgoing team players for all positions in kitchen and dining room. Apply in person M- F, 3- 6p.m.

at 3003 Anderson Suite

929 next to Valentino's.

coast nannies. NY, Conn., Long Island, areas

CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east

NJ

ing in Village Pla-

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking motivated individuals to fill full and part-time posi tions as delivery driv ers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay starts at $4.25 an hou plus 25 cents for each delivery you make. Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year. No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other shifts. Apply in person at Hardees in Aggieville. NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. openings. Evening shifts other hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Co. 3003 Anderson Avenue, Suite 913 (Vil lage Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability. PART-TIME ENERGETIC student employee need ed. 15 hours per week Apply at Institute for Environmental Research, Seaton 64. PEACE CORPS-Needed: A degree or work experi ence in health/ nutri tion, education, agri culture or skilled trades for two- year interna tional assignments Many benefits. Re cruiter on your campus Sept. 23. Call 1-800-255-4121 for more infor mation on activities or an application. WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Per form around state evenings and weekends. Good pay. 776-4999, 537-1741.

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap-proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. $500 weekly

Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling. You're paid di-rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. Copyright #KS13KDH

400

TRANS-

PORTATION

OPEN

MARKET

FOR SALE: Full size bed mattress. spring and frame, $45. Cal 539-1140

FUTON WITH black lacque frame. $150 776-3431

430

TUTTLE'S ANTIQUE Mar ket has super antiques and collectables, 2010 uttle Creek Blvd. 537

MARKET or offer, 539-3461

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens over-alls, 776-7472.

OPEN

Items for Sale

APPLE IIE, color monitor software and books $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar $120. 776-0872.

COMPUTER WORK station, mens 26-inch Schwinn four wagon wheel rims 14-inch and 15-inch computer printer 776-8701

DESK 30-INCH by 40-inch two-drawers, golf club-new bag, Minolta 35mm camera, zoom, flash, filters, excellent condition. Make offer FORD MOTORSPORT Vehicle Security System made by "Code Alarm Co." made for newer Ford vehicles with many options. Must sell, and has never been used. $100 price negotiable. Ask for Shawn at 776-4950.

GOLF CLUBS Three-sand wich (SW), 2 years old, $125, 537-0599.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets overcoats, new G. boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT workwear. Monday Saturday, 9- 5. St Marys Surplus Sales St. Marys, KS 1-437-2734.

MAGNAVOX 19-INCH color TV, remote, on screen, three-months. $200. TEAC four-head VCR remote, cable ready, excellent cond-tion. $150. 486 IBM compatible, 33 MHZ, 130 MB, four-MB ram 1.44 drives, DOS 5.0, Windows 3.1, mouse modem, monitor SVGA, MoreSoftware $1500. 539-1590 Nassin

PRINTER AND typewriter ribbons; computer paper, copy paper. Hull Business Supply 715 N. 12th Aggieville. 539-1413.

VERY LARGE drafting table for sale. Good condi-tion. Four by six feet. 539-1753 after 5p.m.

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

286 IBM compatible, HD with 80meg software, color VGA, high densit floppy, ask to see, $700

FOR SALE: New Washburn guitar with case and stand. Peavey amplifier, heavy metal petal. Make call 776-1498. SAMICK SIX string Acoustic guitar like new. 537-1867. Ask for Dan.

20-L TANK salt fish, back side. UG, vita-lite, stand. Great for begin ners and lots more . Make offer

776-7388. CHINCHILLA: ONE female baby left-$100 includes veterinary exam, food, two-story cage and ac cessories 1-494-2873 leave mes-

HANDFED LOVEBIRD with large new cage. 29, 30, 58 gallon aquariums all in excel nt condition, 537-1117 for details.

460 Stereo Equipment

sage.

CLARION SIX disk car CD player $500, Clarion AM/ FM/ cassette car stereo $100, Magnavox "diskman" (never used) $100. 539-6202- Ask for Robert.

KENWOOD 10-DISC CD changer with remote Works with factory ster eo $275. Two 10-inch Kicker subs in box with x-over $150. Both less than one year old. Must sell! 776-7848 leave message.

KENWOOD CAR audio equipment: 921 amp 821 amp, three-way electric crossover, 12-inch subs, five and one fourth inch mids, sell ing individually or complete, make offer, Jason, 532-5227.

TRANS-PORTATION

1973 BUICK station wagon Low mileage, excel condition, $500. 776-

1979 CAMARO, T-tops, rebuilt V-8, new paint, exhaust, brakes, carpet 980 VOLKSWAGON Rabbit. Good transmission for parts-call 537-4355.

PARKING

UNION

OFFICE HOURS

MONDAY-FRIDAY

8 A.M.-5 P.M.

(Except holidays)

SOUTH OF THE

1986 MAZDA RX-7. Runs, drives and looks excel-lent. Other deal fell through, must sell fast $3800 or best offer 537-

1988 CUTLASS Calais, blue two-door, au-tomatic, air, low mileage excellent condition. 539-2053. 1990 DODGE Caravan, seven passenger, blue with silver accents, auto, cruise. Best offer

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copyright number KS13KJC.

520 Bicycles

1989 CAVALETTO Centurion 10-speed road bike $160. Call Brian at

1992 HIS and hers mountain bikes like new $125 each. Call after 5p.m. 776-1529

537-3324

530 Motorcycles 1981 HONDA CB400 excel lent shape! Only $500.

537-0474 ask for Gene. 1981 KAWASAKI 750 LTD, new brakes, etc. Good shape $550 776-7355.

Mint condition, 8,500 miles. Always sheltered and pampered. Call 776-5538 or 537-1283. 1983 YAMAHA 650 Heritage Special, 12,400 miles good tires windshield. full travel bar, runs and

great,

537-1191. 1990 HONDA CBR 600F white and gray, 2500 miles, two new hel-$3900 firm looks

610 Travel and Tour Packages

TRIPS

CHRISTMAS BREAK ECHINER 19-8 - 1 & CM 7 MIGHTS MART 3-6 - 5 6 08 7 MORTS -SESSION N-21 - 5 & OR 7 HIGHTS |-BRECKENRIPGE MINIT 24 - 5 FOR 7 MORE P 202 COLLEGUATE WHITER SEE 1-800-321-5911

round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call Kansas State Travel. 537-2491.

620 Airpland SAN JUAN Students

House responds to cable bill complaints

WASHINGTON — The House responded Thursday to consumer complaints about escalating cable television rates and indifferent service by voting to put the industry under government control.

Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass., sponsor of the bill that passed 280-128, called it the most important consumer legislation Congress would face this year.

But President Bush said he would veto it because it "will hurt Americans by imposing a wide array of costly, burdensome and unnecessary requirements on the cable industry."

The measure now goes to the Senate, which was expected to act on it next week.

The cable industry has aggressively opposed the bill supported by such groups as the Consumer Federation of America, the AFL-CIO and the American Association of Retired Persons.

Key to the measure is Federal Communications Commission regulation of basic cable service competition the most effective way communications industry is based which would consist of cabledelivered local broadcast affiliates of ABC, CBS, NBC, Fox and PBS, and public, educational and government cable channels, but not C-SPAN.

The FCC would determine "reasonable" rates that customers should pay for those channels and ensure that equipment such as converter boxes and remote control devices also be priced reasonably.

The commission also would set service standards to protect against chronic outages, guarantee that customers get quick telephone response to questions about billing, refunds and service problems, streamline its system for handling consumer complaints and step in if cable charges for additional programming became exorbitant.

Rep. Sonny Callahan, R-Ala., said some people wonder "why is it we have a problem with a cable industry. The problem is that basically they are all a monopoly."

Lawmakers said they consider to keep costs down.

The cable industry has fought the bill with full-page newspaper ads excerpting quotes against it from major metropolitan papers.

It has used inserts in monthly cable bills and cable channel spots to contend the bill would create added costs that would be passed on to consumers.

The industry is most opposed to a requirement that they negotiate for local broadcast signals.

Under existing law, cable operators take broadcast signals for free to retransmit on any channel they choose as part of cable service. In other words, Channel 4 could be Channel 27 on cable.

The broadcast industry lobbied hard for the provision that allows them to negotiate terms with cable companies that would include placement on the dial and could require financial compensation.

Bush called the bill "heavy-

"My vision for the future of the

on the principles of greater competition, entrepreneurship and less economic regulation," the president said in a letter to House and Senate leaders.

In response, Consumer Federation of America spokesman Gene Kimmelman said now it is quite clear the president sides with the cable industry.

"If this is his economic policy ongoing rip-offs by monopolies I don't think it is a policy the public can support," he said.

The bill approved Thursday came from a House-Senate conference committee which created it by compromising a cable regulation measure approved 73-18 earlier this year by the Senate and one approved 340-73 by the House.

If this version is passed by the Senate and vetoed by the president, to become law, both chambers would have to vote again and approve it by a two-thirds majority of those voting.

Senate discusses increasing size of appeals board

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

"There were more than enough applicants to fill the needed

"The reason we stuck to 11 positions is because there is not enough interest to increase it more, " he said. "There are between 100 to 200 appeals backlogged now, and people may have to wait anywhere from three to seven months to hear about their appeal. So, I feel these extra positions are

The bill will be held until next

In other new business, five students were approved as at-large members to the Student Senate Finance Committee.

Also, 18 students were approved as 1992-93 Student Senate interns, and five students were approved as Student Senate standing committee

Seventeen student senators were approved as appointees to various University committees, and 10 people were confirmed as delegates to the Associated Students of Kansas Legislative Assembly.

Watch for the Cat Coupon Clipper Every Monday in the COLLEGIAN

Records laws loosen on campus

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

protect their images, Beckom said. In January 1990, Traci Bauer, editor of the student newspaper at Southwest Missouri State University, filed a suit against the university police department over their refusal to release names. In March of 1991, the district court ruled in favor of Bauer, which prompted other universities to contact the education department on how the ruling would affect them. The department said the ruling would only apply within that judge's jurisdiction.

Following the department's decision, Congress passed a law declaring the Buckley Amendment no longer applied to each state and that each state had to abide by its own open records act.

The amended bill still ensures that such things as academic records cannot be released without the student's permission.

"Hopefully, the question of 'Are we hiding something?' is going to be eliminated," Beckom said.

Associate University Attorney Dorothy Thompson agreed.

"There was always a feeling among the students that the University was trying to hide something. This was not the motive at K-State," she said.

"I think there has been an ongoing movement in this issue to the degree of which the student is informed and to make them aware of crime on campus," Thompson

Thompson is responsible for the University's latest interpretation of the new law.

Susan Scott, assistant dean of student life, is also convinced that the new laws are a positive.

amendment. It will only help in

"I'm not troubled about the respect to the University's image," she said. "It will play a role in terms of possible controversy in sexualassault cases. The victim will have more confidence in coming forward."

The new laws will mean a lot of work for Beckom and his officers.

"Everything we've done right now we've got to change totally. We are working on printing new forms, and we won't have them done any time soon," he said.

Officers and staff will also have to be trained about what can and can't be released under Kansas law. Beckom said he hopes to have training done by the end of next week and plans to start releasing names at that time, or before.

The eventual policies to be used on campus will be similar to those used at the Riley County Police Department.

Scott added a word of caution about naming crime victims.

"I think a clearly stated policy from the Collegian on what they will and will not print will help the student have more confidence," she

The idea, Scott said, is not to hide anything but to make sure everyone is safe.

'Students' safety is more important than what the University's image is concerning campus safety situations," she said.

Boiled Shrimp Buffet starts at 5:00

$4.00 All you can eat with beverage purchase

18 to enter; 21 to drink

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

Country Swing Dance Lessons Every Monday

Saloon & Grill Register from 7-9 Begins at 8p.m. Dance Instructor: Mary Howe

539-KICK 2315 Tuttle Creek

Church Directory

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship Service & Sunday School 10:45 a.m. nation call 539-9369 or 537-9816. 481 Zeandale Rd. (Hwv. 18)

ond left off Hwy. 177 S. of viaduct Everyone Welcome GRACE BAPTIST CHURCH

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45 Collegiate Bible Study & International Bible Study Sun. 9:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Fellowship or Caring Cells 6 p.m. Family Night Wed. 7 p.m.

Students Welcome!

2901 Dickens 776-0424 Evangelical

Free Church of Manhattan

MCC Chapel S.W. corner 14th & Anderson Steve Ratliff, Pastor Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 11 a.m. 776-2086 Nursery Provided

Church of Christ

Campus Ministry Bible Study 9:30 a.m. Sunday Worship 10:30 a.m. Evening Service 6 p.m. 2510 Dickens Ave. 539-658

Worship 10:45 a.m. Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m. 1st, 3rd, & 5th Sundays CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m. 2nd & 4th Sundays 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

Manhattan Mennonite e Fellowship

Church School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. 539-4079

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center Masses: Sat. 5 p.m. Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m. Confessions; Sat. 3:30 p.m.

539-7496

First Congregational Church Poyntz and Juliette 537-7006 Sunday School: 9:30

Rev. Donald Longbottom

ST. LUKE LUTHERAN CHURCH

(LSF) Campus Pastor, Rev. Robert Schaedel

Sun. 8 and 10:45 a.m. Sat. Worship 6 p.m. 330 N. Sunset Ave.....539-2604

Manhattan

Seventh-day Adventist Church Sabbath School

> 10 Sat. Worship Service 11:30 Sat.

600 Laramie 776-5533 (at 6th St.) UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN

2800 Claflin 8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship

9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Sun. Eve. Service

Handicapped Accessible 776-5440

CRESTVIEW CHURCH

English Worship 10:30 a.m./6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 1 p.m. 4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

CHRISTIAN

776-3798

Visitors welcome Silent Worship 10 a.m. Discussion 11 a.m.

1801 Anderson Ave. (Baptist Christian Center) For more information call 539-2978 or 539-2636.

MEETING

(LCMS) Lutheran Student Fellowship

Bible Class Sunday 9:30 a.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

801 Leavenworth 537-0518 Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Church School 9:30 a.m. Weekday Programs for Youth

 Nursery Available Rev. Warren Rutledge

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School 9:40 a.m. (for all ages) 0th & Poyntz

LIVING WORD CHURCH Services Sunday 10 a.m. Wednesday 7 p.m.

located in the ECM building

Craig Sommer, Campus Pastor 539-4451 SUNDAY WORSHIP

11 a.m. Danforth Chapel (on campus behind McCain Aud.) STUDENT SUPPER & FELLOWSHIP Wednesdays 6 p.m. at ECM

Volunteers needed to complete Collegian survey

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian? three times or more once a week twice a week

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

000 Bulletin Board 010 Announcements

020 Lost and found 030 Personals

040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More 100 Housing/Real Estate 105 For Rent-Apt. Furnished

120 For Rent-Houses 125 For Sale-Houses

140 For Rent-Garage

130 For Rent-Mobile Homes 135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

If so, what categories?

NAME

110 For Rent-Apt. Unturnished

160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale 200 Service Directory 205 Tutor

235 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJ's

245 Pet Services

215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care

145 Roommate Wanted

150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture

300 Employment/Caree 310 Help Wanted Volunteers Needed 330 Business Opportunity 400 Open Market

250 Automotive Repair

255 Other Services

410 Items for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Sel 420 Garage/Yard Sales 425 Auction 430 Antiques

435 Computers

440 Food Special

445 Music Instrument 450 Pets and Supplies 455 Snorting Equipment 460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell 500 Transportation

510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool 600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets

630 Train Tickets

640 Bus Tickets

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER

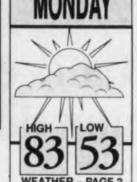

SIGNATURE

CANSAS STATE

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad. Thank you!

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN

SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 20

Rape charge dropped

LAJEAN RAU

Charges were dropped Friday against the student accused of raping another student during basketball ticket campout.

Mark Mazour, junior in architectural engineering, was set to be arraigned Friday

"Our office decided not to prosecute," said Barry Wilkerson, assistant Riley County attorney. "At the present time, there is not sufficient evidence to successfully prosecute the Wilkerson said the three county attorneys made the decision together.

He would not say if the woman who was allegedly raped had decided not to testify.

Wilkerson said no other information would be available until Monday when Riley County Attorney Bill Kennedy would be the office. Wilkerson said Kennedy planned to have a news conference to release specifics.

Mazour was charged with one count each of rape and sodomy Sept. 10. He was released from his bond Friday about noon.

Mazour would not comment on the decision to drop the charges.

Student Governing Association and University administration decided to end the campout early following the arrest.

Derek Nelson, chairman of the ticket sales committee, said he didn't know about the prosecution's decision. But he said he stood

■ See CHARGES Page 3

CAMPAIGN '92

Dole snubs fair forum

Collegian

HUTCHINSON - A small but vocal group of members of United We Stand America applauded pledges to cut fiscal spending and reduce the budget deficit during a forum of U.S. Senate hopefuls Saturday.

Members of the group, made up of former supporters of Ross Perot, also questioned the commitment of Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., to his constituents because he did not take part in the forum, which was at the Kansas State Fair.

Democrat Gloria O'Dell, of Silver Lake, Independent Christine Cambell-Cline, of Wichita, and Libertarian Mark Kirk participated in the forum. The three-hour discussion drew nearly 200 delegates from across the state - a significantly smaller number than what organizers had anticipated.

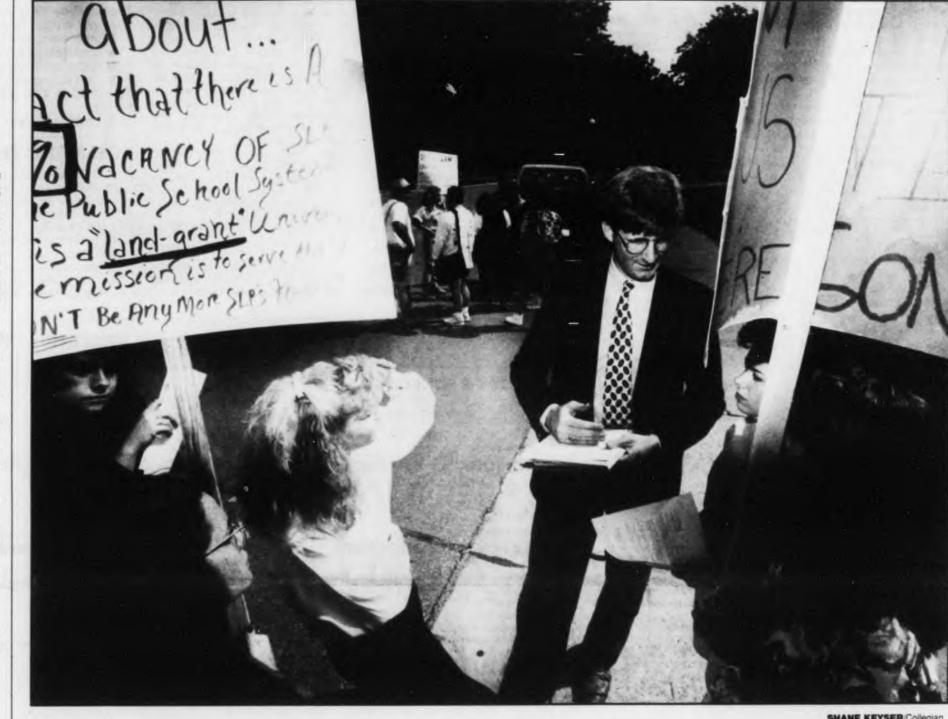

Questions during the forum came from Perot's book, "United We Stand," and focused on fiscal responsibility. O'Dell expressed her belief and desire to help Americans in "taking back their country."

O'Dell said she would promote economic growth by expanding the job base. Scaling down the military would be necessary to cut the defense expense budget by $125 billion, she

Kirk followed the Libertarian philosophy of a

■ See CANDIDATES Page 12

Fighting for their program

Scott Scrogin, assistant to the dean of the College of Engineering, speaks with speech pathology students during their protest in Union Plaza Friday.

"It doesn't make any sense when you look at the demand. It has just exploded. We can't graduate fast enough."

HALEY MINTON

Students defend quality

Collegian

Students who gathered in the free-speech zone Friday were holding signs and passing out flyers to protest the proposed elimination of the speech pathology and audiology program.

The program may be eliminated as part of a general restructuring in the College of Arts and

"The dean has indicated that there are no options as he sees it," said Ann Smit, program director for the Program in Speech Pathology and

A committee has been meeting to evaluate which programs in the college should be emphasized and which should be de-emphasized.

"We have been providing information to the Core Committee, which has been supposedly advising the dean," Smit said.

According to a memo signed by Arts and Sciences Dean Peter Nicholls, there were several criteria for de-emphasizing a program. Considerations included whether the program had centrality to the college, if it was integrated into the college, and what its future demand would be. The quality of the program and cost effectiveness were also considered.

Smit said if the program isn't central to the mission of the college, it is certainly central to the University.

"We think we are the prototype of a land grant University," Smit said.

The students said they wondered how the committee defined a quality program.

'They are trying to make us believe we are not a quality program. That's absolutely false," said Haley Minton, senior in speech pathology. "I feel this is a very quality program."

Minton said they have a working lab and get a lot of practical experience at K-State.

"I can't believe they will cut a program in such a high demand," said Amy Augustin, senior in speech pathology.

According to a flyer handed out by the students, enrollment in the program has doubled in the past two years at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

"It doesn't make any sense when you look at the demand," Minton said. "It has just exploded. ■ See STUDENTS Page 9

Protesters premature

ERIN BURKE Collegian

About 20 protesters marched across campus at noon Thursday to an empty dean's office in Eisenhower Hall.

The protest was organized Wednesday evening after students learned about the recommended cuts in the social work program and the elimination of the speech pathology and audiology program made by Peter Nicholls, dean of College of Arts and Sciences, said Lanette Thirkell, junior in social work and president of Social Work Organization.

"We expect some answers," Thirkell

If no action is taken by the dean to reverse the recommendation, the

■ See PROTESTERS Page 12

French narrowly approve treaty

ASSOCIATED PRESS

PARIS - French voters Sunday narrowly approved a treaty aimed at turning Western Europe into a political and economic superpower, but the close vote tempered the elation of its

The outcome of the contested referendum failed to dispel fears of further chaos on international financial markets. It also reflected deep political divisions in France, where unpopular President Francois Mitterrand had staked his prestige on approval. The treaty is designed to unite the 12-nation European Community in economic, foreign and defense policies, and a single currency by 1999. The debate over the treaty's provisions caused French voters to worry whether they would lose their sovereignty and threw European financial markets into turmoil last week.

Capitals and financial markets had anxiously watched the referendum, whose effects will likely be felt when trading floors reopen Monday.

The referendum on the Maastricht treaty, reached in December in the Dutch town by that name, was widely viewed as having more international ramifications than any election in French history, although it did not threaten the EC itself.

The EC continues to function and will eliminate barriers to trade and movement of people among the 12 nations January 1. With more than 80 percent of the ballots counted, supporters of the treaty led by about 50,000 votes.

The European Community is a group of 12 European countries that are trying to unite and form a loose commonwealth. Here are the goals of the EC:

Open borders between member countries.

■ Common military defense policies.

A single currency.

NEWS DIGEST

STORM RIPS THROUGH KANSAS CITY AREA

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - A strong storm, possibly a tornado, ripped through the Kansas City area Sunday night, uprooting trees, felling power lines and destroying one barn, authorities said.

Only one minor injury was reported, said Ted Nelson, deputy chief of the Kansas City Fire Department. The person was hurt by flying debris and taken to a

Ken Smith, a meteorologist with WeatherData Inc., said that as of 9 p.m., the storm had not been designated as a Nine homes were damaged by the storm, but the damage was mostly confined to windows and roofs.

DRAWBRIDGE FLIES UP; 6 PEOPLE INJURED

CHICAGO (AP) - Part of a downtown drawbridge closed for repairs shot open Sunday, raining debris on cars waiting to cross and toppling a construction crane.

A wrecking ball smashed a car window and six people were hurt in their rush to flee a damaged bus on the edge of the Michigan Avenue Bridge, which spans the Chicago River.

There was no traffic on the bridge at the time. Vehicles had halted while the other end of the bridge was raised for a sailboat.

"It appears that the bridge lost balance, and the reasons for that are still undetermined," said Jeff Boyle, city transportation commissioner.

FOLLOW UP

Radio enthusiasts hunt down the fox

MIKE BUNCH

Collegian

"W0QQQ, this is N0QIO. The fox has been found."

After nine and a half minutes of searching, David Thomas, junior in environmental design, called in and won the first K-State Amateur Radio Foxhunt.

Thomas said he was searching with his radio antenna when the fox transmitted, and he found a slight null.

"It was about 15 feet away, I had to look a little in the brush to find it," Thomas said.

About 15 amateur radio enthusiasts took part in the search for the fox.

"I was pleased with the turnout since this was the first one," said Tracy Tipping, radio club member and the fox for the hunt.

The fox was a small handheld unit placed in a green ammo box and hidden in Quinlan Natural Area. It was not as easy for the remaining hunters to find as it was for Thomas.

Tipping was monitoring the activities in Quinlan from a fourth-floor window in the Chemistry/Biochemistry Building next to King Hall.

"It was fun watching everyone running around looking for it, going right by it," he said.

Each of the participants used a similar style to search for the transmitter. When the fox transmitted, the hunters would turn in circles to find the direction in which the signal was the strongest.

When they were close to the transmitter, they would remove the antenna from the receiver and turn in circles again, shielding the unit with their body to block out the signal from the unit.

gnal from the unit. campus club has George Losonszky, call sign Tuesday nights.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

NOTSM, finished second with a time of 27 minutes. Losonszky said he just got his license in August, and this was his first foxhunt.

"When the fox transmitted, I turned in circles, then walked into the strongest signal. I had walked right by it about five times," Losonszky said.

Third place went to Norm Dillman, faculty adviser and call sign NOJCC, with an overall time of 34 and one half minutes. In his search for the fox, he used an unusual homemade antenna.

The antenna was made of an aluminum central shaft with four aluminum arrow shafts projecting from each side. Coaxial cable ran from the antenna to Dillman's hand bald unit

"It worked well until I got close, then the signal was too strong, and I went without an antenna," Dillman

Thomas, Losonszky and Dillman each received a certificate that can be personalized for their efforts in locating the fox.

Dillman said there are several women involved in fox hunts:

"We have a few women in the campus club. In the town club, we have about a dozen couples involved in radio," Dillman said.

Amateur radio is not just a game. Enthusiasts get together for "nets," short for networks, on a regular basis. A net is basically a meeting on the air. Tipping said that nets can be informal gatherings or they can be formal, structured meetings, such as updates on emergency help techniques for amateurs.

At an informal meeting, people call in to trade stories and visit with each other on a regular basis. The campus club has informal nets on Tuesday pights

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18

At 3:10 p.m., a supplement report was filed on a burglary/theft of a student parking permit that occurred Sept. 15 in Lot A-14. The permit was recovered, and a suspect was identified.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19
At 12:37 a.m., a battery was reported at Moore Hall.

At 3:53 p.m., a white Chevy truck, license No. CHN 777, was towed from license No. CHN 777, was towed from Lot A-26 to Manhattan Wrecker. At 4:12 p.m., a burglary/theft was reported. A wallet was taken from an

At 6 p.m., an information report was filed on an unauthorized person selling food in the east parking lot of Bramlage Coliseum.

unlocked locker at Ahearn Field

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19

At 2:07 a.m., Patrick M. Bonnefil, 12862 W. Eighth Court, Lenexa, and Michael P. Bonnefil, 1745 Anderson Ave., were arrested for aggravated battery. Both men were confined in lieu of $4,000 each.

At 2:29 a.m., Michael D. Smith, 1120 East St., No. 10, Emporia, was arrested for DUI and released on $500 bond.

At 3:16 a.m., Craig A. McCollar.

1739 Amarado Court, Wichita, was arrested for DUI and released on $500 bond.

At 4:45 p.m., a burglary was reported at 1825 College Heights reported at 1825 College Heights Road. Taken was a brown leather purse containing $10, a set of keys, a Kansas driver's license and a personal checkbook. Loss was $410.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 20

At 1:21 a.m., Glenn E. Levier, 330 Eveningside Road, Topeka, was arrested for criminal trespass and released on $300 bond. At 9:15 p.m., Kenton J. Hamilton, 508 Sunset Ave., was arrested at KSU Stadium for criminal trespass.

At 9:56 p.m., David L. Riley, 2087 College View Road, was arrested for DUI and released on $500 bond.

At 11:25 p.m., Colin M. Greene, 80 Red Bud Estates, was arrested for DUI. He was also issued a notice to appear for minor in possession of alcoholic liquor in public and transporting an open container of alcoholic liquor.

At 11:36 p.m., Kenneth W. Jackson, 175 Blue Valley Trailer Court, was arrested for DUI and driving on a suspended driver's license. He was confined in lieu of $2,000 bond.

At 3:24 a.m., Chad C. Carlisle, 408 Poplar Place, was arrested for DUI and released on $1,000 bond.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Graduation check sheets are due in the Graduate School office by Oct. 1 for those wishing to graduate this semester.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Graduation check sheets are due Oct. 1 in the graduate school office for those wishing to graduate this semester.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-6448.

Manhattan Parks and Recreation needs coaches for youth soccer, volleyball and football. Contact Mike Buchanan, 587-2757.

■ Chimes will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 213. ■ Golden Key National Honor Society will sponsor Campus Awareness Week and will have an information table in the Union from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Arts and Sciences ambassadors will meet at 8:30 p.m. in

Union 206.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have a new-member meeting at 5:50 p.m. in Calvin 211.

■ Phi Upsilon Omicron will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Justin 150.

Yearbook photos will be at 8:20 p.m.

■ The Graduate School has announced the final oral defense of

■ The Graduate School has announced the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Donna Sears for 1 p.m. in Bluemont 257. Topic will be "The Effects of Genre and Topic on Fourth Grade Students' Written Response to Literature."

■ Business Council will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Union 206.

Advertising Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 207.
 Water Ski Team will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 204.

Computing and Networking Services will sponsor a lecture from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m. in Cardwell 101 on using the public Unix ■ Youth for Change will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 205.

CORRECTIONS

In Friday's Collegian, it was incorrectly reported on Page 9 that Truck Stop Love played covers at the Opus 6 band competition. And Jason McLendon was misidentified as John McLendon. Also, the captions for the two photos were accidentally switched.

On Page 3, Craig Raborn, candidate for Riley County clerk, was misquoted as saying, "The only place to vote on campus is in the student government offices."

The quote should have said, "The only place to register to vote is in the student government offices."

The Collegian regrets the errors.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Partly cloudy. Warmer. High in the mid-80s. Tonight mostly clear and cooler. Low tonight 50 to 55.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Mostly clear and cooler. High in the mid-70s.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Wednesday through Friday: Little or no rain expected. Highs in 70s Wednesday, 75 to 80 Thursday. Highs in the 80s Friday. Lows in 50s for the period.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Lima	66/59	cloudy
Bangkok	90/75	clear	Oslo	63/42	cloudy
Dhahran	106/73	cloudy	Santiago	73/45	clear
Istanbul	75/57	cloudy	Tokyo	77/66	clear

ALPHA COMPUTERS

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 68506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103.

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116. Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

NOTE BOOK SALE!

386SX—2 MEG RAM—65 MEG Hard Drive—1.44 Floppy FAX—Modem—DOS 5.0—Leather Carrying Case $1795

286 16MHZ—640 K RAM—42 MEG Hard Drive 1.44 Floppy—Alarm System—VGA Graphics

$1195

Bring this ad and get a $50 discount.

Limited Supply—Offer expires 9-30-92

ALPHA COMPUTERS

1321 Anderson

537-2419

Interested in Business?

come to

PI SIGMA EPSILON'S

New Member Meeting Monday, Sept. 21 at 5:30 p.m. Calvin 211

•All Majors Welcome

•Questions? Call 537-6125 or 537-1066

DO YOU WANT YOUR LIFE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE seeks qualified Christians who are committed to a lifestyle of caring, non-violence and peacemaking. 2-3 year positions are available in the US or overseas in many fields, including agriculture, medicine, education, social work and home economics.

A representative will be at the Agriculture Careers Fair in the Student Union Tues., Sept. 22

Mennonite Central Committee

e For more information call Cia Versche¶den 776-5589

Is Agribusiness in the 1990s an option for you?

Attend the

AGRIBUSINESS CAREERS FAIR

Tuesday, September 22 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. K-State UNion Ballrooms

Participating Firms to Date Include

ARCHER DANIELS MIDLAND CO.
ASGROW FEED COMPANY
BARTLETT AND COMPANY
CARGILL-GRAIN DIVISION
CARGILL-NUTRENA FEED
CENEX LAND O'LAKES
CIBA-GEIGY CORP.
CIBA-GEIGY SEEDS
CROP QUEST
DEKALB SWINE BREEDERS
DOW ELANCO
EXCEL CORPORATION
FARM CREDIT SERVICES
FARMLAND INDUSTRIES
GOLDEN HARVEST SEEDS

IBP, INC.
KANSAS AG BANKERS
KANSAS AG STATISTICS
KSU COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE
MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE
MURPHY FARMS
PEACE CORPS
PFIZER, INC.
SYNTEX ANIMAL HEALTH
TEXAS TECH UNIVERSITY
USDA FARMERS HOME ADMIN.
USDA SOIL CONSERVATION
US OFFICE OF PERSONNEL MANAGEMENT
VAN DEN BERGH FOODS
VISKASE CORP.

from agribusiness firms and agencies about career opportunities and internships in marketing, communications, and services.

And the bands played on

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Danielle Hayes (front) and Christy Church, Douglass High School flag team members, practice a flag routine during Band Day festivities Saturday afternoon on KSU Stadium's Wagner Field. There were 52 bands from Kansas that participated in Band Day.

High-school students strut their stuff during parade, halftime on Band Day

JENNIFER BEALS

Fifty-two high-school bands from across the state converged at Manhattan Saturday for K-State

Band Day. The annual event, which spotlights more than 2,000 musicians, twirlers and drill team dancers, opened with the traditional 10:30 a.m. parade on Poyntz Avenue from City Park to Manhattan Town Center.

Band members then headed to KSU Stadium for a mass band rehearsal with the K-State Marching Band, followed by sectional clinics in preparation for the pregame and halftime performances. Ben Rohrer, K-State band director, said this year's mass band halftime show exceeded previous years' performances.

"It might have been as good as the music has ever gone," he said. "Everything ran well."

The sectional clinics were a new feature.

Band members, separated according to their instruments, worked on different musical selections.

Jim Sharp, assistant band director, said the clinics were welcomed by other directors.

"One director told me he enjoyed the idea of having the clinics," he said. "The students really enjoyed themselves also."

Scheduling problems caused some dead clinic time, but Rohrer said that would be taken care of in preparation for next year's festivities.

Rohrer said the cool weather was one of many highlights of the

"The weather for the parade was wonderful," he said. "The halftime performance was also

During the halftime performance, an artillery unit from Fort Riley fired howitzers during "1812 Overture."

Sharp said that was his favorite feature of the day. "The cannons were my favorite," he said. "It was the most rounds I've ever heard fired at a Band Day performance."

Bryan Klostermeyer, clarinet player and junior in chemical engineering, said Band Day was important to him for another

"I think it's a good thing because it shows kids what marching band is like at the college level. I hope it inspires them to stay in."

Breadbasket full: Fans donate food in hopes of tickets

STEPHEN MCKEE

Collegian The shelves are full at the Flint Hills Breadbasket, thanks to the community and the Garth Brooks

The Garth Brooks concert Sept. 12 benefited not only his fans, but many needy families.

"In conjunction with Garth Brooks' 'Feed the Children,' S Bar J held a food drive," said Shirley Bramhall, executive director of the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

individual who "Each contributed food was given a chance to win tickets to the concert. That's why the shelves are so full. We collected 2,043 pounds of food. It's wonderful.'

In addition, the organization is also involved in constructing a new

The Flint Hills Breadbasket, 905 Yuma, is a community food network that serves the Manhattan area. It functions through 41 recipient agencies, which include Manhattan Emergency Center, Crisis Center and the Teen Outreach Center. These centers then distribute the food to the needy families.

The breadbasket's defined mission is "to minimize hunger and poverty at the local level through the distribution of available food, and to nurture projects that will help alleviate hunger and poverty."

The Breadbasket, which is in its 10th year of service, is also making an addition to its building. The new building will contain a new walk-in freezer and a walk-in cooler, according to Bramhall. As well as the new building, the organization will also be starting an education center that will serve

This center will be used to inform recipients on such things as stretching food dollars, nutritional value of foods and how to make due with what they have.

"We weren't all taught to help ourselves and make due with what we have. Usually, all the recipients want to help themselves," Bramhall She said this year is showing signs of more needy families. For all of 1991, the organization served 6,119 recipients. As of June 1992, it had already served more than

Although the shelves are currently full due to the food drive. the organization is in constant need of donations.

"This year we are holding our own, thanks to the community," Bramhall said.

"The Breadbasket is based solely on the community, and we wouldn't be here without them. The city of Manhattan is great. Whenever we need something, they come

Charges of rape, sodomy dropped

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 behind the decision to call off the campout. "It would have been nice not to have to end it early," he said, "but the situation arose, and I think we handled it appropriately.

The incident made the campus aware that acquaintance rape happens, he said.

'All we can do is look to the future and hopefully prevent it," he

"At the time, it was a very real situation, and I think we did the

Direct/Reflecting speaker system Get more stereo.

With Bose Direct/Reflecting speaker design, you hear a natural balance of sound that conventional speakers cannot match. Plus, Stereo Everywhere speaker performance gives you the freedom to hear full stereo almost anywhere in the room.

2.2 II

Reg. $300 per pair Now $198 per pair 4.2 II

Reg. $440 per pair Now $318 per pair

Portraits

taken for...

1-762-4447

UDIO JUNCTION, INC. 20 Minutes West!

630 Grant Ave Junction City

AIR FORCE ROTC UNITS FILLED TO CAPACITY

Don't believe everything you hear. The Air Force continues to seek outstanding students to fill future officer requirements. See yourself becoming a leader, graduating from college as an Air Force officer with fully developed qualities of character and managerial ability. Notice, too, the opportunities. Like eligibility for scholarship programs that can pay tuition, textbooks, fees...even $100 in tax-free income each academic month.

Visualize a crisp uniform that reflects pride in yourself and your ability to accept challenge. Get the picture? Now make a call!

> Capt. Boyer Capt. Barham 532-6600 Aim High—Air Force

Great Memories Start Here...

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m. Royal Purple Yearbook

!!!!!! REORGANIZATION MEETING !!!!!! TUES. SEPT.22 6:00 P.M. ROOM 18 CALUIN HALL

New member orientation & officer elections. Refreshments!!!

SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Jared Savage

Accusations growing tedious

THE ISSUE

Vice President Dan Quayle has accused Bill Clinton of draft evasion, despite charges he did the same.

WE SUGGEST

Politicians stick to concrete issues, not sling charges back and forth.

Quickly adding more tarnish to the whole fiasco, another controversy is slinking underneath the issue of family values in this year's presidential election: draft evasion.

This past week has seen further questions raised over whether Vice President Dan Quayle managed to avoid the draft in 1969 - and a ticket to the war in Vietnam - by using an oldboy network in the Indiana National Guard.

With his father's connections, it's alleged Quayle joined the National Guard despite a long waiting list that technically should have prevented him from getting in. Also, he garnered a position at the headquarters, a position whose availability was concealed from other "undesirables" the Guard's top brass wished to Further, despite adamantly disavowing each charge in light of the evidence and testimony, Quayle continues to charge Democratic presidential nominee Bill Clinton with doing the same thing.

While Quayle spent six years in the National Guard, Clinton failed to spend any time defending his nation, by Quayle's estimation.

Now, America sits and watches as the two continue to sling charges of cowardice, adding more fodder to a political season already replete with charges of lying, infidelity and underlying

So when does the country get to witness the real issues at hand? Has the time passed when concrete issues such as economics and education were at the forefront of debate, while the trash was left to the tabloids?

Do the politicians now perceive our country as unable to comprehend relevant topics, fit only to swallow the day-to-day refuse they dish out by the bucketfuls?

What Clinton and Quayle did to avoid Vietnam happened 20 years ago, when they were all but children. It is doubtful whether anyone now can see this as pertinent, without trying very hard to do so.

Enough of the charges. Enough of the schoolyard bickering. America has long grown sick of it, and the candidates have long grown deaf of our complaints.

Either stick to what America really cares about, or shut the hell up.

Safe Again This Election The Deficit WHY DOESN'T SOME CANDIDATE HAVE THE COURAGE UNIVERSAL PRESS SYND. TO TELL ME THE TRUTH THAT WILL COST HIM MY VOTE? AKA 9 90 1992 THE BUFFALO NEW!

Individual morals never neutral

"It's no secret that the stars are falling from the sky. It's no secret that our world is in darkness tonight. It's no secret at all." U2's Bono - "The Fly"

It's no secret that values in America have changed dramatically in recent years. The problem with morality in America today is that people have rejected the idea of an absolute standard. The individual now has the right to decide what truth is for him or herself. Anyone who has the audacity to question the prevailing wisdom that morality is relative to the individual is "imposing their values on society."

If morality is relative, then your values are right, the next person's values are right and so on; even if the values each individual espouses are in conflict with one another. If you believe racism is right, and I believe it's wrong, our values are equally correct. How can racism be both right and wrong? It can't. Yet moral relativism teaches us that racism can only be wrong in relation to an individual's feelings about the issue, not society.

Our world revolves around absolutes. In math, 1+1 can only equal 2, not 3 or 4. In nations, laws or absolute codes of conduct govern behavior. Wouldn't it be convenient if I could dispute a parking ticket by saying, "My personal values tell me it's OK to park without a Parking Services."

Moral relativism claims to establish a neutral environment between conflicting moral factions. However, this thinking assures victory for one side. If I oppose abortion, and you favor choice, it is no compromise when government — in an apparent act of neutrality leaves the decision to individuals. I lose. While exalting themselves as civilized and tolerant, relativists display nothing but intolerance when someone questions their shallow thinking by discussing an absolute distinction between right and wrong.

HART

Another popular concept of morality is whatever the majority believes is true. If the majority of Americans believe each person has their own legitimate form of truth, then that must be true. Or if 71 percent of Republicans are prochoice, they can't be wrong. In the 1940s, the majority of Germans were behind Hitler's sticker. You can't impose your values on me, slaughtering of the Jews. In the 1800s, the majority of southerners thought blacks were lesser people. Allowing the majority to determine your values is dangerous and foolish. I'm tired of the relativist majority imposing its "correct" view of morality on society. Modern concepts of morality are derived from the pervading philosophies of modern American or western culture. Liberal philosophers have stretched the line of moral judgment to an unnatural point where right and wrong have diffused into one another, forming a murky middle. Our society no longer allows us to make rational decisions between right and wrong because moral values have been reduced to mere feelings or preferences. In a nation that takes its moral lessons from Oprah Winfrey and MTV, this comes as no surprise.

We can't rely on American culture to provide us with acceptable answers to moral questions. Society is a temporary institution. Therefore, it is arrogant for anyone to regard any society as the grand interpreter of eternal moral truths. The only reliable source of a moral standard is a higher law that both transcends culture and eclipses contemporary wisdom. People who reject absolutes and base their values on what they "feel" or what's popular have both feet firmly planted in midair.

READERS WRITE

▶ FACULTY

Majority of profs almost always busy

Editor,

Your front page story concerning my colleague's John Daly's return to research, although welcome in itself, was misleading. Contrary to the "throw off" opening line of the story, the overwhelming majority of faculty conduct extensive research in the summer - and, indeed, at every other reasonable opportunity, too. Typically, they use their own savings to pay for all or most of the expenses entailed while conducting this important University work, which brings favorable recognition to K-State and enriches their classroom teaching at graduate and undergraduate levels. Perhaps you should talk with Vice Provost Donoghue, who can give you the total picture of research at K-State, or with Dean Nichols of the College of Arts and Sciences, which is the leading research unit in the University by such measures as total amount of extramural funding received.

Donald Mrozek

Professor and head/Department

▶ BEEF

Question arises about consistency

I think it is important to point out that the beef "facts" presented in the Sept. 17 Collegian were supplied by the Cattleman's National Association. Could our iournalistic fare have been, in this case, somewhat underdone?

Geoff Wyss

Graduate student/English

Articles' sources are too biased to be used

Your "Beef Myth and Facts" table purports to tell readers the truth about beef production and consumption. The source of this information, however, is the National Cattleman's Association. This is hardly an impartial source. Consequently, one should take its claims concerning the benefits of beef consumption and production with a good deal of skepticism. Remember, to this day the tobacco industry continues to claim that there is no valid scientific evidence linking tobacco use to cancer. I think we should be equally dubious about the beef industry's claim that beef - and especially beef cattle raised on antibiotics and growth hormones - is not harmful to humans and is indeed good for us. What is needed if we are to arrive at the truth in this highly controversial area are impartial studies fromimpartial sources; that is, sources who do not have a vested interest in the outcome of the studies.

surprised and I am disappointed that Roy Graber the reporter of this series has relied so heavily on such a partial source for his information. One expects the contributors to a University paper who are claiming to state facts and dispel myths to at least attempt to be objective and exercise a measurable degree of critical reasoning skills in the

Doran Smolkin Associate professor/Philosophy

▶ CLASSES

Reducing programs only hurts students

Regarding the proposed "enhancements" of the Women's Studies and American Ethnic Studies programs mentioned in last Thursday's Collegian, I would like to clarify an issue not discussed in the

The dean's statement that these two programs are a "high priority" might lead readers to assume that they are receiving major funding increases. But actually, their gains are very minor: one-half a position in Women's Studies, and one-half a position in American Ethnic Studies. Why, then, all the hoopla?

It's hard to avoid the conclusion that, in throwing a few well-publicized crumbs to departments devoted to studying the roles of women and minorities, the dean is putting up a smoke screen designed to hide a real disregard for those groups. The program in social work, which he intends to reduce by half under the current proposal, now has about 180 majors, 92% of them female. The speech pathology program will be totally eliminated under the dean's proposal despite a very positive evaluation by the faculty review board appointed to examine its merit. In that program, 98% of the majors and graduate students are women. Of the nine faculty members who will lose their positions in the proposed changes, six of them are women.

Dean Nichols is obviously aware that an apparent concern for the welfare of both women and minorities is important politically. If he is sincere, however, he should enhance the Women's Studies and American Ethnic Studies programs while leaving these other programs important to women and minorities alone. As his proposal stands right now, though, women and minorities at K-State lose far more than they

> Barbara Meyers Graduate student/Speech pathology

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY

We would like to hear what you think. Send your comments, criticisms and complaints to us.

Please include a phone number so we can get in touch with you in case there are questions concerning your

Before letters are printed in the Collegian, we need to see a picture ID. Letters submitted may be edited for grammar and length.

We cannot guarantee that your letter will run, but we will try to make sure a sampling of both sides of an issue get into

COME BY KEDZIE 116 OR SEND THEM TO: Letters to the Editor

c/o Jared Savage Kansas State Collegian Kedzie Hall 116 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE

epartment wins 2 of 4 categories

KSU dominates

international contest in furniture design

LANE ALLISON

Collegian

Glory hogs.

That's what other schools may think of the students in K-State's Department of Interior Architecture.

K-Staters stole the show at the Student Furniture Design Competition at the International Woodworking Fair in Atlanta in

The competition, which takes place every two years, showcases work from the students and the University to more than 35,000 furniture-design professionals from around the world. In addition to the exposure, each winner receives a trophy and a monetary award.

Out of four categories, K-State students had two first-place entries and a third-place entry.

Brian Cahoone, 1991 graduate in interior design, won the Design Creativity category. Rhett Hastings, fifth-year senior in interior architecture, won the Ready to Assemble (RTA) category. Louise McAdams, 1992 graduate in interior architecture, won third place in the RTA category.

Prizes of $1,250, $500, and $250 were given for first, second and third place, respectively.

Steve Murphy, head of the interior architecture department, said he was pleased with the results.

"Any time one school can win two out of four awards, that is domination," Murphy said. "It's good recognition for K-State and I got back from Dallas and found the students."

Murphy said this is the kind of performance that has become tradition for the interior architecture department.

"We first entered this competition in 1970, and in every one since then we have won, and won big," Murphy said. "Over the last 20 years we've won about 60 awards at this competition," he said. "This year we had 15 of the 90 entries they accepted, so we were happy with that also."

Hastings was interning in Dallas when his project was entered in the competition over the summer. His table won because of its simple, functional design and its ease of "It was kind of funny. I didn't know they had taken my table until out I'd won," he said.

"It's one of those things you always hope will happen, but you never really expect it when it does," Hastings said. "The money is great, but the recognition will help me get a job. It will look good on my

Murphy said he is an advocate of student competitions, especially for furniture design. He said it gives the students something tangible to be proud of.

"For students, most of architecture is on paper and can't be built," he said. "But the furniture can actually be built. Students have proof of their designs, and when they leave the class they have something to take with them. I think they learn a great deal."

KANSAS STATE

Quayle's motivation questioned in joining National Guard

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON-President Dan Quayle said Sunday that joining the National Guard in 1969 sharply reduced his risk of being sent to Vietnam. But Quayle said strings were not pulled on his behalf and renewed his attack on did." Bill Clinton's explanation of how he avoided the military.

Quayle, on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press," said many factors went into his decision to join the Guard upon graduating from DePauw University in May 1969 and losing his student deferment.

Questioned on whether his motivation was to avoid being sent to Vietnam, Quayle said, "When I looked at all the options, I wanted to join the reserves."

Quayle added, "Of course you have much, much less of a chance to go to Vietnam" in the Guard.

"I never asked for any special treatment," he said. "No rules were broken, no regulations broken. There were openings. Thousands of people joined the Indiana National Guard in the year 1969, just like I

Quayle has said since his military record became an issue in the 1988 campaign that he chose the Guard as one of the options available then and said in February on the same program that it wasn't to avoid going to Vietnam.

The New York Times, in an article reexamining how Quayle got into the Guard, reported Sunday there was a striking pattern of favoritism on how Quayle and others got into an elite headquarters

Monday Night Football

BIG SCREEN 6 ft x 8ft

New York vs. Chicago

23 oz.

RIG BEER on<sub>1,</sub> $150

SUN., MON., TUE.

"HUGE" Macho Nacho Platter

523 S. 17th 537-1484

Great Memories Start Here...

Gamma Phi Beta Sept. 21-22

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Second Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM:

PART II: Articles of Faith.

Presented by Hisham Hidmi President of MCA.

Tuesday, September 22, 7:30-8:30 p.m.; at Kansas State Union, Room 212.

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

Volunteers needed to complete Collegian survey

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian? once a week twice a week three times or more

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

000 Bulletin Board 010 Announcements 020 Lost and found 030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More 100 Housing/Real Estate

105 For Rent-Apt. Furnished 110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished 115 Rooms Available 120 For Rent-Houses 125 For Sale-Houses

130 For Rent-Mobile Homes

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

140 For Rent-Garage

145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture 160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale 200 Service Directory 205 Tutor

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJ's 245 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services 300 Employment/Caree 310 Help Wanted Volunteers Needed 330 Business Opportunity

400 Open Market 410 Items for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Sell 420 Garage/Yard Sales 425 Auction 430 Antiques 435 Computers 440 Food Specials

445 Music Instruments 450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipment 460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell 500 Transportation 510 Automob 520 Bicycles

530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool 600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Packages 630 Train Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no If so, what categories?

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

NAME

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER

SIGNATURE

KANSAS STATE

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad. Thank you!

Acacia-Sept. 8 Alpha Chi Omega-Sept. 8-9 Alpha Delta Pi-Sept. 9-10 Alpha Gamma Rho-Sept. 10-11 Alpha Kappa Alpha-Sept. 11 Alpha Kappa Lambda-Sept. 11 Alpha Phi Alpha-Sept. 11 Alpha Tau Omega-Sept. 14 Alpha Xi Delta-Sept. 14-15 Beta Sigma Psi-Sept. 15 Beta Theta Pi-Sept. 15-16 Chi Omega-Sept. 16-17 Delta Delta Delta-Sept. 17-18 Delta Sigma Phi-Sept. 18 Delta Sigma Theta-Sept. 18 Delta Tau Delta-Sept. 21 Delta Upsilon-Sept. 21 FarmHouse-Sept. 21 Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28

Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209. Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29

Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

SPORTS

SEPTEMBER 21, 1992

NFL WEEK 3

49ers Jets	31 14	Vikings Buccaneers	26 20	Redskins Lions	13	Steelers Chargers	23
Saints Falcons	10 7	Seahawks Patriots	10	Cowboys Cardinals	31 20	Buffalo Colts	?
Packers Bengals	24 23	Browns Raiders	28 16	Dolphins Rams	26 10	Oilers Cheifs	23 20 OT

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

K-STATE FOOTBALL

Chris Patterson, K-State linebacker, wraps up Montana wide receiver Matt Wells Saturday night as the Wildcats stomped the Grizzlies 27-12. Patterson had six tackles.

Wildcats declaw Grizzlies, 27-12

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Eric Gallon, K-State running back, sneaks through the Montana line Saturday night. Gallon ran for 87 yards in 22 attempts during the Cats' victory against Montana.

Gallon overcomes knee injury

"I took a lot of shots that I never really thought about, and the knee feels perfectly fine right now."

ERIC GALLON

STEVE ROCK

Any worries about the health of Wildcat running back Eric Gallon were alleviated early in Saturday's victory over Montana.

Gallon strolled onto the field on K-State's third play from scrimmage. He took his first snap just five minutes into the game.

"At no time during the week did I think Eric would take as many snaps as he did," Coach Bill Snyder said. "But the trainers and doctors cleared him, and Eric wanted to

And go he did.

Gallon scampered for nine yards on his first carry. He gained 11 and eight yards on his next two rushes and finished the game with 87 yards

The numbers are not awesome he averaged less than four yards per carry after gaining 4.9 yards per rush last year - but more than the Cats had expected, Snyder said.

"I didn't at all anticipate that he would have as much playing time as he did," he said.

Gallon finished the 1991 season with 1,102 yards, the second-best total in Wildcat history. He was 22nd in the nation with an average of just more than 100 yards per game. He also hauled in 247 receiving yards, giving him 1,349 all-purpose yards, fourth best in K-State history.

He entered the 1992 campaign 928 yards short of Isaac Jackson's

■ See GALLON Page 9

Big plays propel Cats to victory

Offensive attack needs a lot of work. coach Snyder says

STEVE ROCK

The Wildcats, backed by 87 rushing yards from senior Eric Gallon, opened the 1992 season with a 27-12 victory over Montana in front of an opening-day record crowd of 32,712.

And although K-State ran its string of home-opening victories to three, Coach Bill Snyder said the team has plenty of room for improvement.

"I honestly believe that our players did not overlook Montana," he said. "We just did not play well.

"We have the potential, but right now, that's all it is - potential."

One Wildcat whose performance pleased Snyder was running back Gallon. Speculation was that Gallon, who injured his right knee during spring drills and had reconstructive surgery in April. would play sometime in October.

He stepped onto the field in the first quarter of play and took five snaps during K-State's second

"I didn't think I was going to play that much," said Gallon, who finished the game with 22 rushes.

Jason Smargiasso was the starting quarterback for the Cats and finished the game with a careerhigh 203 passing yards, dwarfing the 38 yards he racked up twice last year. He played the entire first half and the final 13 minutes of the second half.

Senior Matt Garber played the third quarter and started the fourth. He completed just one pass, good for 16 yards, in 10 attempts.

"I was very disappointed with the way I played," Garber said. "I didn't feel flustered. I didn't feel pressured. I just didn't throw the ball very well."

But Smargiasso's superior performance didn't solidify the quarterback situation, Snyder said.

"On the surface, it always looks one particular way," he said. But the final decision won't be made until the tapes are reviewed, he said.

The Wildcat offense, which accumulated 347 yards, needs to get better, Snyder said.

'We certainly need to make ■ See K-STATE Page 9

SCORE BOX

K-State 15 Rushing yards 128 Passing yards 219 366 Comp.-att.-int. 7-25-0 35-58-2 Return Yards 71 38 418 403 Total yards Fumbles-lost 0-0 1-0 7-70 6-37 Montana 0 | 6 | 6 | 0 - 12

K-State 10 10 0 7 - 27

Passing — K-State, Smargiasso 6-15-0-203, Garber 1-10-0-16. Montana Receiving — K-State, Benton 3-103, Running 1-73, Rees 1-21, Coleman 1-17, Gallon 1-5, Montana, Wells 12-123, Baker 6-53, Cockhill 3-46, DeBourg 3-42, McElroy 3-32, Burton 3-31, Swenson 3-27, Guevara 1-6.

Punting - K-State, Snyder 8-352, Montana, Gurnsey 8-270, DeBourg

Blackwell 4, Rawlings 4, Mendiez 4, G. Patterson 4, Randolph 4, Montana, Encson 11, Schilling 8, Lembke 7, Davidson 6, Downs 6, Domis 6.

CONFERENCE

KANSAS 40 TULSA 7

TULSA, Okla. - Maurice Douglas rushed for 74 yards and three touchdowns as Kansas defeated Tulsa 40-7. The Jayhawks went to 3-0 on the season and entered the Top 25 at No.

Dan Eichloff added four field goals of 46, 26, 25 and 40. The senior place kicker is now six for six in field goal attempts this season, including four makes over 40 yards and two field goals over 50 yards.

Kansas remained the nation's top scoring offense as the Jayhawks have tallied 151 points in three games this season, averaging 50.3 points per game. The Jayhawk defense ranks second in the nation in yards given up, yielding just 187 yards per game.

►WASHINGTON 29 NEBRASKA 14

SEATTLE, Wash. - Washington scored on two touchdowns 42 seconds before halftime and capitalized on three Nebraska turnovers as the secondranked Huskies won their 17th consecutive game, a 29-14 decision over the Huskers.

The loss was Nebraska's 10th consecutive defeat to top five teams and eighth straight to top 10 teams.

Billy Joe Holbert completed 10 of 19 passes for 155 yards, including a 29yard touchdown pass to Joe Kralik to give Washington a comfortable 23-7

In the game, Nebraska junior Derek Brown became the 14th Husker to rush for more than 2,000 yards.

TEXAS A&M 26 MISSOURI 13

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Missouri raced out to a 10-0 lead against No. 5 Texas A&M before the Aggies rallied for 16 consecutive second-half points to defeat the Tigers 26-13.

Jeff Granger completed only eight passes, but two of them were for touchdowns as the Aggies came from behind to win their fourth game of the Missouri used two quarterbacks for the second straight game. Phil Johnson and Jeff Handy combined for 16 of 30, 152 yards and two interceptions.

Johnson started the game and led the Tigers to their only score of the day, but he was forced to the sidelines when he injured his right index finger.

The loss was the seventh straight for

SOUTHERN CAL 20 OKLAHOMA 10

NORMAN, Okla. - Southern California exploded for 20 fourth-guarter points as the Trojans overcame a 10point deficit to defeat Oklahoma 20-10.

USC held the Sooners to 56 yards rushing, the lowest output by an Oklahoma team in 10 years. Coming into the game, the Sooners were averaging 504 yards total offense and 47 1/2 points through the first two games. Saturday, the Trojans limited Oklahoma to just Down 10-0, Southern Cal's Curtis Conway hauled in a 51-yard touchdown reception to pull the Trojans to within three points. Stephon Pace took advantage of one of Oklahoma's three turnovers of the day, returning a fumble 19 yards for the go-ahead touchdown.

OTHER BIG EIGHT GAMES

- lowa State 38, Tulane 14
- No. 11 Colorado 21, Minnesota 20
- No. 6 Michigan 35, Oklahoma State 3

BIG EIGHT STANDINGS

	W	L	PCT.
Colorado	3	0	1.000
Kansas	3	0	1.000
Kansas State	1	0	1.000
Iowa State	2	1	.667
Nebraska	2	1	.667
Oklahoma	2	1	.667
Oklahoma St.	1	1	.500
Missouri	0	2	.000
The Big Eight posted a	combine	17-1-0	opening record.

Men's ruggers grab 1 weekend victory

"We played hard, despite the loss. The rookies have a lot of potential."

DOW RICHARDS

BRIAN ANDERSON

Ohio State Friday night.

Invitational.

The K-State volleyball team got by Outside hitter Kathy Saxton made the

Saxton, the team's lone senior, had 26

Rice Saturday and claimed third place in a field of four teams in the Ohio State all-tournament team for the third time this kills and 57 attacks in the five-game performance, helping the Cats go 1-1 after

"This was just another typical Saxton losing to eventual tournament winner performance," Coach Patti Hagemeyer

Squad suffers 1st loss of season after early victory

TONDO WALDRON

When the K-State men's rugby club took the field Saturday at Tuttle Creek State Park, the sun was shining.

But by the end of the third match, the sky was filled with buzzards.

In the first match, K-State took on the Omaha, Neb., city club and won 19-6. "It was perfect weather with no wind," K-Stater Eric Saathoff said. "It was a great day to play a little smash face." The scoring began with a five-point try by Ty Gray and a two-point conversion also by Gray. That marked the end of the first-half

In the second half, Shawn Waufle and Danny Blea contributed goals while Gray made another conversion.

"We had some rookies at key locations that gave them some club-level experience," Dan Stoltz said.

"We won easily," Saathoff said. "I just hope this momentum will carry into our third match." The second match put K-State against the B team from the Greater Omaha Area Touring

The Goats from Omaha won 22-0.

"We played hard, despite the loss," Wildcat Dow Richards said. "The rookies have a lot of potential that will help out in the upcoming

The club tries to schedule as many B-team games as possible to give all members playing time, Dow said.

"If we would have gotten the ball out more, we would have had more tries, considering how well we moved the ball," said Brian Martin.

"K-State rugby is a lot faster paced and harder hitting than the team I played for in high school," he said. "It's not a match if someone doesn't get bruised." K-State squad's final game was against the Goats' A team, the defending champions of the Great Plains League.

The match remained scoreless until just before the end of the first half, when the Goats scored a try with a successful conversion. The half closed with a three-point penalty kick.

SPORTS

Gregg Robke looks for an open man to pass to as Shawn Waufle (right) reaches to help.

"The Goats had fresh legs coming into the match, while most of the K-State team had already played earlier in the day," Saathoff said.

The second half seemed to be an uphill battle for the K-State team, as each time they neared the goal line, it was nullified by a penalty or a big play by the Goats.

"The penalties were a factor, but that's not what hurt us the most," Saathoff said.

"One of our key players, starting hooker Tim champions.

15 and 10-15.

K-State couldn't handle the 14th-

The Buckeyes dominated in every ranked Ohio State squad, as the Cats lost in three-game match by scores of 6-15, 8-statistical category. Ohio State had more kills (49-21) and digs (47-30) and a better percentage (.330-.114) than the Cats.

Saxton and Liester each had 10 kills, and Saxton led K-State in attacks with 27.

Once again, Dau lead the team with 24

Cats today. K-State won both games against Drake last season, and each of those meetings went to the fifth game.

The Drake Bulldogs go up against the Dougan, is in Indonesia on a business trip," Stoltz said. "We really could have used him."

The Goats went on to score 21 more points to give K-State's A team its first loss of the season, 31-0.

The Wildcats, who beat the defending Heart of America champions 16-12 last week in Lawrence, travel to Kansas City next Saturday to take on the Blues, the defending club-side

"They're a very competitive team,"

The Bulldogs are coming off a 13-16

K-State leads the series with the

During the match in Manhattan on Oct.

The match will start at 7:30 p.m. in 14, Saxton recorded 30 kills, then a career high, and earned the Big Eight Player of record last year. They are an experienced team with eight returning letter-winners,

Bulldogs, having won 15 of the 22

Hagemeyer said. "I'm not expecting a blowout by either team."

four of whom are starters.

Wildcats football memories

K-State opened its 1992 football season. which will, if everything goes as planned, end with a bowl experience.

It was a typical first game of the season. There was a big anxious crowd, some technical errors — like a misspelling of "Manhattan" on the scoreboard - and a third quarter in which the fans' attention switched from the game to the rain and the student section's effort to get "pukers" out of the stands.

The game against Montana was the first indication of what the team is capable of - in the future. Otherwise, the game kinda built up memories of last year's opener against Indiana State when the Wildcats escaped with a 26-25 win.

This time, the Cats kept a distance throughout the game. And thanks to Thomas Randolph, who intercepted a pass in the end zone at the end of the third quarter with the Cats leading 20-12, the victory was never in question.

The team has to play better against Temple Saturday. It will be the wrong time to give away

Richard's old school. But the team knows that. Saturday was Montana, Division I-AA. The first game of the season. This weekend will be different, and with the likes of Colorado on the schedule, the Cats will be ready for them, Jaime Mendez said after the game.

presents, even if it is Athletic Director Milt

Well, K-State had better be ready. The players have to be if they want to play a bowl game. But there were already bright spots among the Cats, and not everyone had a typical first game.

Eric Gallon is back. Everyone was surprised, because nobody told anyone about it.

I remember sitting in my philosophy class when Eric came into the classroom with a leglong brace. Head down, frustrated, depressed. I thought, and was told by everyone, that he would be out of the game for a while. At least up to mid-October, if not forever.

Hard work and a good trainer brought him back, ready to take snaps. Gallon survived several hits in the direction of his right knee, giving the team another strong backbone on the way to improvement.

Gerald "speedy" Benton returned punts for a total of 70 yards in four attempts, including a 47yard return. On the other side of the field, he ran away twice from the defense and caught a 69yard pass.

The pass came from Jason Smargiasso, who put second-half starter Matt Garber into a big shadow. Having a specific No. 1 quarterback will also help the team against Temple. Coach Bill Snyder saw plenty of things for the team to work on, with a week to build up the stuff that was flat against the Grizzlies.

There's also a whole week to put the second "T" in the word Manhattan.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Spikers split games at Ohio State tourney

"Kathy has been solid for us all season 5-4.

Saxton earned all-tournament honors

K-State fell early to Rice by losing the

K-State beat the Lady Owls with scores

Other contributors for the Cats were Chi Dau, who recorded 41 assists;

Stephanie Liester, with 15 digs; and Angie

McKee, who had eight blocks, as the Cats took their record to 4-6. Rice dropped to for the third consecutive weekend. She was an all-tourney selection for the K-first two games by equal scores of 6-15.

But the Cats came back to take the next

State and DePaul invitationals.

three games and beat Rice.

of 15-10, 15-8 and 15-9.

Oilers deal Chiefs 1st loss of season

the Week award.

Ahearn Field House.

Houston's Del Greco overcomes late KC drive with 36-yard field goal in overtime win

ASSOCIATED PRESS

HOUSTON - Al Del Greco ignored Kansas City's mocking of his size and made the big kicks for the Houston Oilers Sunday.

The 5-foot-10 Del Greco kicked three field goals, including a 39-yarder in overtime that gave the Oilers a 23-20 victory over the Chiefs.

Kansas City defensive tackle Neil Smith taunted Del Greco prior to his 54-yarder, but the Chiefs, now 2-1, fell silent in overtime. "Neil Smith was jawing at me and started calling me 'Pee Wee,' " Del Greco said. "After I made it, I kind of mouthed something to him. As big as he is, it probably wasn't very smart."

yards against the Chiefs two years ago, was intercepted twice but completed 19 of 28 passes for 279 yardS.

Moon hit an 8-yard touchdown pass to Leonard Harris to tie the score at 13 and a 21-yarder to Ernest Givins for a 20-13 lead with 3:15 left in the game.

The Chiefs forced the overtime on Todd McNair's 4-yard run with 23 seconds left in the game. McNair ran four times for 29 yards and caught three passes for 24 yards in the drive.

Kansas City had another chance in overtime, winning the coin toss, but on third down, wide receiver J.J. Birden caught a pass from Krieg and fumbled after being hit by cornerback Cris Dishman. Defensive tackle Doug Smith

Warren Moon, who passed for 527 recovered at the Chief 23, setting up

Del Greco's game-winner.

Kansas City showed the Oilers its fearsome ground game in the first half, but it was Krieg who fired the Chiefs to the 13-6 halftime lead with his dissection of Houston's pass defense.

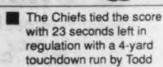

The Oilers continued to struggle in the third quarter, but finally fought back to tie the game at 13-13 on Moon's 8-yard touchdown pass to Harris 2:21 into the fourth quarter.

Houston got its chance to rally after the Oilers stopped the Chiefs at the Oilers 2 and Nick Lowery missed a 20yard field goal midway through the third quarter.

Lowery did, however, kick a 52yarder that made him the first NFL kicker to boot 19 field goals of 50 yards or more.

The field goal surpassed the mark he previously shared with New Orleans' Morten Anderson.

McNair.

- Wide receiver J.J. Birden fumbled a Dave Kreig pass in overtime at his own 23, setting up the winning kick.
  - Kicker Nick Lowery, who missed a 20-yard field goal in the third quarter, connected from 52 yards to become the first NFL kicker with 19 field goals of 50 yards or longer.

SPORTS DIGEST

JAYHAWKS CRACK RANKINGS AT NO. 24

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -When Nebraska and Oklahoma both lose on a day that Kansas and K-State both win, any sober football fan has to wonder what's going on.

Is this the new world order? Kansas, unbeaten in three games and averaging more points than anybody, burst into the national poll at No. 24 this week. This marks the first time they've been ranked since Oct. 11, 1976. *For the first time in five years. we're having some fun here," said fifth-year Coach Glen Mason. Mason's Jayhawks ran their record to 3-0 with a 40-7 trouncing of a Tulsa team that had been good enough to beat Houston and throw a scare into Texas A&M.

In three games, Kansas is beating its opponents by an average margin of 38 points.

The Jayhawks lead the nation in scoring, averaging just over 50 points per game. "We haven't been beaten like that for a long time," Tulsa coach Dave Rader said. Kansas will test its ranking

Thursday night against California on a nationally-televised game.

YANKEES TOPPLE ROYALS, SNAP SKID KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Don his 23rd home run for the Yankees.

Mattingly and Roberto Kelly doubled during a late surge, and the New York Yankees stopped their sixgame losing streak, beating Kansas City 10-4 Sunday.

Former Royal Danny Tartabull hit

George Brett had two hits in five at-bats for the Royals. He needs 11 more to reach 3,000. The Royals scored three times in the first with singles by Miller, Brett and Joyner and a Jefferies triple.

MORANDINI TURNS SOLO TRIPLE PLAY

PITTSBURGH (AP) - One of the rarest feats in baseball happened for only the ninth time in more than 125 years when Philadelphia Phillies secondbaseman Mickey Morandini turned an unassisted triple play Sunday.

Morandini leaped to spear a line drive by Jeff King of the Pittsburgh Pirates, forced out a runner by stepping on second base and tagged another runner near the bag.

The last time a major-leaguer did this was in 1968.

Sarah Weigel, junior at Manhattan High School, takes shelter Saturday night at the K-State football game.

Rain Refuge

Fighting continues in Soviet republics

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW - Azerbaijan stepped up its offensive to regain control over Nagorno-Karabakh and demanded Armenian forces withdraw from the disputed enclave within days, officials and news reports said Sunday.

The press office of the enclave's Armenian-controlled parliament reported heavy fighting inside and outside of the territory, located in Azerbaijan.

It claimed that up to 375 Azerbaijanis and 26 Armenians have been killed since Saturday.

The figures could not be independently confirmed, and Azerbaijani officials could not be reached for comment.

The conflict in the former Soviet republic is one of several since the Soviet Union collapsed last year.

Each side has widely exaggerated the casualty figures in the 4-year-old struggle over Nagorno-Karabakh, a mostly Christian Armenian region that is fighting for independence from Muslim Azerbaijan with help from neighboring Armenia.

A string of victories by Armenia this year forced a change in government in Azerbaijan. The new leader, President Abulfaz Elcibey, had promised to turn the war around by Sept. 10.

Azerbaijan's military command issued a statement on Azerbaijani television Sunday demanding that all Armenian forces leave Nagorno-Karabakh within two days, the ITAR-Tass news agency reported.

Reunion turnout larger than expected

Black alumni offer advice to current students

MEE SUN LEE Collegian

Turnout and participation at the second annual Black Alumni Reunion was bigger and better than the organizers had hoped for.

"We're very impressed with the turnout," said Veryl Switzer, associate director of athletics for academic affairs. He spoke at the dance for the alumni after the football game against Montana.

Kim Hamilton, reunion

organizer and multicultural constituent program coordinator, said, "We ended up with more people than I'd expected. One thing I really enjoyed was the fact that we had a lot of students attend the event, because I feel it was important for the students to see the alumni as role models, and to do some networking."

Students who showed up had a chance to talk to alumni in areas such as law, engineering and business.

William Johnson, a 1988 K-State graduate and mechanical engineer, traveled from Nebraska for the

IS COMING... SEPT. 24

"I found it very enjoyable," Johnson said. "I didn't get to meet very many old friends, but I made plenty of new ones." Felicia McKoy, freshman in psychology, helped with the reception.

"Even though I was sitting on the outside most of the time, I felt like I knew everybody, and everybody was really happy," McKoy said.

The nostalgic air pervaded the Ramada Inn ballroom throughout the dance, complemented by music from the early '80s to music of

Bartender Todd Galliart said,

Great

"They're extremely friendly, and they spent most of their time showing each other old pictures and comparing the fashions from different decades."

Hamilton said the camaraderie in the crowd stood out.

"The Ethiopian proverb 'Anticipate the good so that you may enjoy it' was printed at the bottom of our schedule of events and served as the reunion's theme.

"By the positive reactions of the alumni and others who attended the reunion, I believe the theme was fulfilled," Hamilton said.

Cat Coupon CLIPPER

Westloop Shopping Center Near Hunam's Restaurant 776-6864

$1.00 Off

any Typewriter/ Printer Ribbon in stock*

Makin'it great!

CALL THE LOCATION NEAREST YOU.

 AGGIEVILLE 539-7666 •WESTLOOP 539-7447 •3RD & MORO 776-4334

Any Delivery Order

·Not valid with any other special offer 1/20 cent cash edemption value. Good only on delivery orders in Manhattan, KS @1992 Pizza

$5.50 Haircut with this coupon

> THE FASHION SHOP! & BEAUTY SALON 1129 WESTLOOP 539-2921 ON THE WEST SIDE

ONE HOUR PHOTO & PORTRAIT STUDIO

Photo Processing At Its Best 40% off Processing

(35 mm, 110, 126, C-41) EXPIRES Oct. 15, 1992 Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Not valid with any other promotion

1134 Garden Way Across from Westloop

C-1-6 776-9030

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

We're Not Lion!

Get out of the jungle. Come to a great Hair Salon.

Perms from $30-43 Joyce's Hair Tamers

2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd

FREE DELIVERY (Minimum Order $9) Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge

> 1304 Westloop, Manhattan 539-0888 539-8888 DINING-IN COUPON 10% OFF

when your present this coupon OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

Little Caesars

Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Little Caesars Pizza! Pizza!

Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always!

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MADNESS 2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

ONE OF EACH! PIZZAIPIZZA!

only with coupon at participating Little Consus stable at additional cost. "Excludes extra charge Expires 10/22/92

PARTY PACK! large pizzas with cheese and 1 topping* plus two 32 oz. soft drinks ANY COMBINATION

PAN OR ROUND! Expires 10/22/92

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

WEIGHT MANAGEMENT CLASS

Instructed by Registered Dietician

Fall Classes Begin Monday, Sept. 14,

1:30 or 2:30 p.m. If you have a need for weight reduction come join us. Room 1

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER Kansas State University 532-6544

If you need money for a college education, we can help

Our government student loan program offers a complete range of options including the Stafford loan, SLS, or PLUS student loan. Whichever loan you choose, you may get up to ten years to pay and an interest rate lower than most conventional loans. In addition, with our electronic transmittal service.

Equal Opportunity Lender - Member FDIC Specify Lender Code #804581

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

We can't graduate fast enough." There is the same demand at other Kansas schools, Smit said. Other programs are beginning to put caps on both the graduate and undergraduate enrollment. Smit said things will become critical if students can't get into another

The flyer also stated there is a 6-percent vacancy rate in funded-butunfilled positions for speechlanguage pathologists.

"There is a national shortage, and it's pretty severe," Smit said.

The students will meet with the dean, who will answer questions at 5 p.m. today in Leasure 013.

Where the money will go is a big question among the students. "I don't think you should eliminate a program to teach more entry-level classes," Minton said. "I just feel we haven't been given logical reasons.'

Minton said the community would suffer if the program were eliminated.

"The need of the community is great," she said. "We are helping people be better functioning members of society."

Students to meet with dean Gallon leads offense

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

K-State career rushing mark of 2,182. After revitalizing the Wildcat running game, he was ready to solidify his status as a legitimate all-America candidate. That's when it happened.

Gallon went down in spring drills with an injury to his right knee. He had reconstructive surgery April 14. Preliminary reports had him missing the entire season.

But he continued to work hard, and the prognosis continued to improve. Snyder said he had hoped Gallon would be ready to play sometime during the conference schedule or mid-October.

Hansen

Nutrition Center "YOUR HEALTH FOOD SUPER MARKET"

3112 ANDERSON AVE. ACROSS FROM VILLAGE PLAZA 537-4571

"DIET CURES WHAT DIET CAUSES" But an injury to running back J.J. Smith, who limped off the field after a five-yard gain, and a clean bill of health before the Montana game brought Gallon onto the field earlier than expected.

"Eric has worked extremely hard to put himself in the position that he's in," Snyder said. Gallon carried the ball on five successive plays during the Cats' second possession of the game, gaining 27 yards.

Country Swing Dance Lessons

Every Monday

Saloon & Grill

Register from 7-9

Begins at 8p.m.

Dance Instructor: Mary Howe

"Coach kept giving me the ball," Gallon said, "and I thought 'What, is he trying to kill me?' But I took a lot of shots that I never really thought about, and the knee feels perfectly fine right now.

"I was kind of nervous about playing," he said. "But I had to get out there and get the job done."

2315 Tuttle Creek

K-State gets victory in season opener

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

some improvements in the offense," he said. "We need to be a better offensive football team, both throwing and running."

Despite the need for improvement, the Cats made some big plays that resulted in touchdowns. Smargiasso hooked up with redshirt freshman Mitch Running for a 73-yard completion in the first quarter. It was the longest Wildcat reception since 1988, and it put the Cats at the Montana 3. It also set up the first Cats touchdown of 1992.

Smargiasso and senior Gerald Benton teamed up in the second quarter with a 69-yard touchdown strike, giving the Cats a 16-6 lead. Benton finished the game with three receptions for 103 yards.

But Benton's highlight may well have been the first K-State punt

Mancinelli's
Ristorante
Italiano

OPEN 5-10 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 5-9 p.m. Sunday

Authentic Italian Recipes Cooked To Order

This Week's Specials

- $5.95 ★ Steak & Pasta * Shrimp & Pasta $5.95
- ★ Sherry Chicken Alfredo $5.95 (with Fettucine Pasta) $5.95

All You Can Eat Spaghetti & Meatballs $3.95

All Dinners Served With Tossed Salad & Breadsticks

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

return of the season. After catching the ball at his own 9-yard line, Benton reversed directions and ran 47 yards to the Montana 44.

Something was telling me to turn around," Benton said. "I just made a U-turn, something that coach tells us never to do, and did what I do best - dodge people."

Montana quarterback Brad Lebo completed 35 passes in 58 attempts, the most ever thrown against K-State. He also racked up 366 passing yards, 274 of which came in the second half.

"Defensively, we played reasonably well in the first half," Snyder said. "The same was not

Great Tasting

Early Bird Specials!!

Sun.-Thurs. 4-7 p.m.

Grilled Tuna Steak ......$4.95

Chicken Cordon Bleu ..... $5.45 Sauteed Liver & Onions...$4.45

6oz. Sirloin Steak ......$5.45

Above specials served with your choice of potato or rice,

salad bar & rolls.

Try These Fabulous

"All-You-Can-Eat"

Buffets

Friday Night-Seafood $13.95

Remember!-Every Sunday 9:30-1:30 $4.95

Clyde's Sunday Breakfast Buffet

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

Located across from the

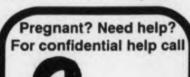

Holiday Inn-Holidome

true in the second half. It is very obvious that we need to do a better job defending the pass.'

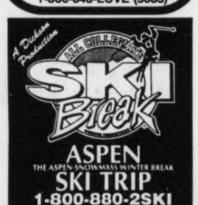

The Wildcat defense, however, did intercept a pair of Montana

Both Thomas Randolph and Greg Patterson ended Grizzly drives with interceptions at the end of a quarter.

Smargiasso ran for a pair of touchdowns, and Tate Wright kicked two field goals for the Cats. Wright, who had missed a 23yarder in the previous drive, ended the first half with a 48-yard boot, tying the longest field goal of his career. He also kicked a 34-yarder.

irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st. 1-800-848-LOVE (5683)

DR. YOLANDA HUET-VAUGHN will speak on

"Conscience, Non-Violence, & Military Service"

Tonight, September 21, 7:30 p.m. Forum Hall, K-State Union

Dr. Huet-Vaughn, while serving as a U.S. army physician, refused to participate in the Persian Gulf war. She was sentenced to 21/2 years imprisonment and served nine months at Leavenworth Penitentiary until May

539-KICK

The Kansas Board of Healing Arts has begun proceedings that may lead to the revocation of her license to practice medicine in Kansas. Dr. Huet-Vaughn currently served low-income clients at a clinic in Kansas City, Kansas. Her case has become the focus of national controversy and international attention and was the subject of a Sept. 5 front page story in the Los Angeles Times.

Sponsored by the Ecumenical Campus Ministries and the Manhattan Alliance on Central America

YOU WILL SAVE MONEY EVERY TIME YOU USE

"WELCOME TO MANHATTAN" COUPON BOOK.

Adult Effects of Childhood Abuse-a free public forum

Speaking the unspeakable truth

Speaking the unspeakable truth about childhood abuse, though painful, is essential to healing and recovery. The most common response to emotional abuse, verbal abuse, physical abuse, sexual abuse, and incest is to forget or deny it happened or minimize its effects on the survivor's life.

But to live a "normal life," childhood abuse survivors should acknowledge the truth and address how it has changed their lives. A survivor can have problems as an adult that are directly related to the childhood trauma, such as:

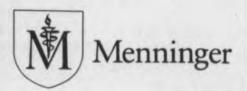

- eating disorders ☐ depression
- problems in relationships
- ☐ self-destructive or self-defeating behavior

With help and support, survivors of childhood abuse can put the painful memories to rest.

- The Women's Program at Menninger presents Adult Effects of Childhood Abuse featuring: ■ Presentations by Menninger clinical staff specializing in women's problems: Alice Brand Bartlett; Bonnie Buchele, PhD; Catherine Pawlicki, RN, MSN, CS; Meredith Titus, PhD & Kathryn Zerbe, MD
- An opportunity for questions and answers
- An opportunity, if you choose, to meet privately with a Menninger mental health professional. (This brief screening is informational and will provide free professional guidance, but it is not a substitute for a detailed, psychiatric evaluation.)

September 22, 1992 7-9 pm

Seeley Conference Center 5800 SW Sixth Topeka, KS

From any city in Missouri or Kansas, please call for further information

1 800 351 9058, ext. 555.

Directions

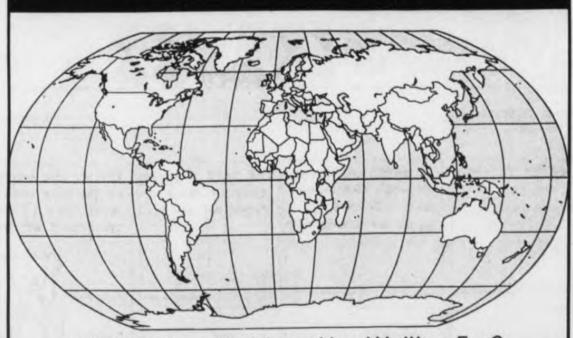

To reach Menninger from westbound 1-70, exit 1-70 at Wanamaker Rd. and turn north onto Wanamaker. Eastbound traffic on I-70 should exit onto I-470 East and exit again onto SW Huntoon St./ Wanamaker Rd. Turn east onto Huntoon St. and then turn north onto Wanamaker.

Wanamaker will curve right onto Sixth St. Turn left at the light, the main campus entrance.

Peace Corps

A World of Opportunity Awaits

What in the World are You Waiting For?

RECRUITERS ON CAMPUS Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1992

Info Table --

10 a.m. - 3 p.m.

K-State Union - First Floor

Film Seminar -- 7 p.m. in Room 213

K-State Union

For more information, call 1-800-255-4121.

Peers lend new students support

"Any contact we make is successful. It is only unsuccessful when we don't make contact."

PAM BARNES

K-State Cares puts incoming students in touch with help

BILL SPIEGEL

K-State cares about its new students.

The Dean of Student Life's office operates K-State Cares, a program designed to help ease the transition to college life at K-State for students from high schools, community colleges or different countries.

Pam Barnes, staff assistant in the Dean of Student Life's office, has organized K-State Cares for the last two

"We try to contact every new student by phone or letter to see how they are adjusting to school," she said,

New students are asked about housing arrangements, financial aid, academic problems and any difficulty they had adjusting to K-State.

The dean's office of each college is responsible for finding callers. College ambassadors are often recruited for the four nights of calling.

This is a really important service that colleges give their students, because peers are calling," Barnes said.

The program is designed to reach students as they are taking the first round

"We call around first test time to bolster esteem and make sure they realize there are people that care and have been through it before," said Nancy Fleming, junior in industrial engineering.

Larry Erpelding, associate director of resident instruction for the College of Agriculture, said students were making a good adjustment this year.

"In general, we find that things are going well," Erpelding said.

Each college has a different method of helping students get comfortable with

The College of Agriculture puts new students in contact with other students in the same major, which Erpelding said is more helpful.

Christine Wilson, junior in agribusiness, said the response to her calls has been good.

"People have been really positive." Wilson said. "They really enjoy talking. We offer a little friendly advice, or refer the student to someone who can help."

"The majority of the people we contact are very surprised that somebody the size of Kansas State University takes the time to call," Barnes said. 'Any contact we make is successful.

It is only unsuccessful when we don't make contact." Barnes said the program tries to identify student problems.

"The ultimate purpose is to find out what the student's needs are," she said.

"If they are not met, the dean's offices of the different colleges will try to make changes to suit students in the future."

Student-written drama to play in Purple Masque

BY THE COLLEGIAN STAFF

Abortion, drugs, Nixon. Controversy in the early 1970s is the focus of a new play, "The Ladies of Sharp End," written by a

K-State student. "Ladies" runs Sept. 24-26 at the Purple Masque Theatre. Meg. Amy, Jo and Beth, the play's central characters, are modern interpretations of the same characters in Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women."

Several scenes in the play tackle controversy.

At one point, for instance, Amy must deal with an unplanned pregnancy and the choices she has during a time when abortion is illegal.

"Our rehearsals have been really intense, since we only have a month to prepare for the performance." said Caisha Williams, freshman in music and theater, who plays Meg.

The play was written by J.E. McIntosh during her senior year as part of an independent study in playwriting. She said "Ladies" is the first of her plays to be produced.

William's said, "It's sort of an added pressure to perform a play in front of the person who wrote it. Sometimes I wonder if I'm performing the way she expects it

Another of McIntosh's plays will be performed for Playwright's Stage this fall and may be produced later, McIntosh said.

"It's a very exciting thing to produce a play for the first time," said Deidre Ensz, senior in theater, the show's director.

Tickets are on sale at the McCain Auditorium box office. Cost is $1 for students and $2 for the public. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Music reviews and more KANSAS STATE

Relief flights possibility

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SARAJEVO. Bosnia-Herzegovina - U.N. military officers flew here Sunday and left with Bosnia's president in what one U.N. official called a successful test for resuming relief flights to Sarajevo.

The airlift was suspended Sept. 3 after an Italian cargo plane was shot down and its four crewmen

Relief flights were expected to resume by mid-week after the three warring parties signed pledges in Geneva to protect airlifts and overland relief

Aboard Sunday's flight were French Gen. Philippe Morillon and other officers preparing for the arrival of an expanded U.N. force

The U.N. plane left hours later carrying President Alija Izetbegovic and other officials.

Also, two people were reported injured in a mortar attack on a funeral ceremony for a dozen Bosnian soldiers at Sarajevo's Lions cemetery.

During the final prayer at the Muslim service, a mortar shell landed within 100 yards of the

ESSENTIALS

Counting sheep and still can't sleep

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I am having difficulty sleeping at night. My days are full and productive with classes, work, sports and studying. At the end of the day I feel that I am ready to sleep. But once I climb in bed, all I do is toss and turn. I am averaging four hours of sleep each night for the past two weeks. What can I do to improve my sleep? S.O., K-State senior

There are about as many different reasons for insomnia as there are insomniacs. Some are rather trivial and others more serious. You say your days are full and productive, so I would not worry too much about it at this point. The important thing is not so much the quantity of sleep you are getting but the quality. If this should change, then you need to see a physician.

There are a few measures you might try to help you sleep: First, don't be afraid of staying awake. It is frustrating, but it is not going to hurt you.

Make the two hours before you go to bed peaceful ones. Go to bed 30 minutes to an hour sooner than you expect to go to sleep, and read something soothing.

Relax physically. Make your muscles "let go," as though you were sinking down into the mattress.

Relax mentally. Try not to think of anything other than peaceful settings such as a quiet meadow or the cool, still waters of a secluded mountain pond.

Sleep in a cool room, and avoid taking afternoon naps. Exercise daily, but not before bedtime.

Finally, don't go to bed on a full stomach, and avoid all stimulants (sex not included).

I thought the nature of your column in the Collegian was for advice. If this is so, then why have you allowed it to turn into a male/female battleground? Surely there are people out there who need advice instead of allowing people to vent their frustrations. Send them to the opinion page. And finally, what sort of credentials do you have? I'm very interested.

M.H., K-State senior

I am certain that issues involving relations between men and women, especially those pertaining to sex, are going to cause a few sparks to fly. It is the nature of the beast. Sex would not be as much fun if it didn't involve and demand passion. I must admit that I do not mind speaking out on topics I think deserve it, even though it may be unpopular to do so. I would like to see more questions requiring personal advice, rather than the large number of "how do the urinals work" type of questions. However, at this point, I will take what I can get.

As to my qualifications, I have the same credentials as Ann Landers or Abigail Van Buren, but a much smaller readership and considerably less experience.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan., 66506

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence.

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

THE STRIP

ARE EXPENSIVE YOU KNOW

DAVID SWEARINGEN

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

I JUST WANT TO SAY THAT EDUCATION IS OUR MOST IMPORTANT INVESTMENT IN THE FUTURE, AND IT'S SCANDALOUS HOW LITTLE OUR EDUCATORS ARE PAID!

with 20 Low. 50 Trifle 11 Tear's marshy Solution time: 27 mins area 23 Spanish movie 24 "- Fire" (Nabokov 25 Food and game fish 28 Cool cucumber 29 Bands on shields 30 Had a Yesterday's answer 9-19

Slaughter

International News with a local flavor

KANSAS STATE

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

ACROSS 32 Greasy 51 Basks in 1 Charles 13 Central 34 Disthe sun DOWN part or Lady mounted 19 Hill-Caroline 35 Forearm 1 Baby's builders 5 Mortar perch bone 36 Lewis 2 Biblical 20 Health trough 8 - the Carroll resort 3 Sorority-21 Stinger scenery heroine 22 Jai -(ham it up) 37 Scottish house 12 Telephone 23 Eyelashes seaport topic 40 Suburban 4 Confound 25 Fruit stone number 26 Spanish 5 Word starter street before surrealist 4 "Honeyname Week or 27 Of the ear suckle -41 Designer Writ 29 Give the ('29 song) Cassini 42 Cash for 6 Ecceniric once-over 15 Places for stray incidentals 7 Intended 31 Dijon 8 Russian 47 Metalseason animals 16 Jot peninsula 33 Pokes laced 9 Old skirt 17 It follows fabric gently accessory 34 Not quite small 48 Broker's or fish 10 Italian 36 Singing client 18 Meddle 49 Baseball's > house 37 Kansas senator 46 Many

38 - Bator 39 Verne's captain 40 Begrudge 43 Daughter of Cadmus 44 Acid once H K I 45 Geologist's time period STOLEALLTHE SOAP FROM THE STOREROOM SOON mos

possibly

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call and dancing girl tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

BHKCU, BAHUIKX OKYZDI

IHCYJD IMS detergents X H J Z S Y E G I X. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE PERSON WHO > CAME CLEAN. Today's Cryptoquip clue: B equals P

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

KEDZIE

GET THE WORD OUT

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 — $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word ALL DAYS MUST BE CONSECUTIVE

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an established account Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are ted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks We reserve the right to edit, reject or

EADLINES

For an extra charge, we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

FREE FOUND ADS

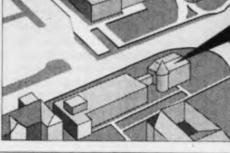

CANCELLATIONS

If you self your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the maining days. You must call us before noon the day the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS If you find an error in your ad, please notify us after the first run. Just call us

ALL ADS MUST BE PLACED BY NOON

PHONE

FAX

532-6556

532-7309

shifts. Apply in person openings. Evening shifts hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L.

8

3003 Anderson Avenue

Suite 913 (Vil-lage Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race religion, color, sex.

age, national origin or Engineering studen employee needed. 15 hours per week. Apply at Institute for Env

ronmental Research

degree or work experi-

tion, education, agri culture or skilled trades

for two- year interna-tional assignments.

Many benefits. Re-

Sept. 23. Call 1-800-255-

4121 for more infor mation on activities or

(doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor vith high falsetto. Pe form around state

evenings and weekends. Good pay an application.

PART-TIME ENERGETIC

disability.

Seaton 64

NOW HIRING: Telephone

interviewers.

OR WRITE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS K-State Collegian Kedzie Hall 103 Manhattan, Kan 66506

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 A.M.-5 P.M. (Except holidays)

UNION

PARKING

SOUTH OF THE

driver's license or other) when placing a

ADPI AMY G .- Greetings from a not-so-secret admirer. Give him a call because he loves you.

CHRISTOPHER LEE- It's two years going on for-ever. I love you. Forev-er Yours, Me.

JEN- I am humbly apolo-gizing for my cockiness. It was inexcusable and > do not deserve your forgiveness. But I hope you can find it in your heart to grant it to me anyway. - Steve.

KIM B.- How does it feel to be so old? Happy 20th my friend. Love Andi. PETT MY Weenie- Happy Birthday! Now you're twenty-one. It's time to get out the ky and have some fun. The day is nally here, to drink lots and lots of beer. Here's a toast to the abc, too bad Virgil isn't here to drink with thee. Today is the day your room mates have been wait ing for, because we couldn't take your whin ing anymore. Love, Arnold, Sheri, and J. J. P.S. Grab your Alka-Seltzer, but stay away from Chinese food.

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

105 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very

nice, one, two

bedrooms, Apartment

plexes and houses with

great prices 537-2919, 537-1666.

bath, one-half block from campus. No pets. 776-1340.

MENT. Partially fur

nished. $300 per month

includes utilities, cable

and washer/ dryer use

Leave message at

MENT available Park Place. Spacious and nice, pool, laundry facil ities. Water paid. $325

plus deposit. 539-1167.

BASEMENT STUDIO apart-

Jan. 1. 537-1986.

CLOSE TO campus very

nice, one, two

bedrooms. Apartment

plexes and houses with

great prices 537-2919, 537-1666.

ment 1865 College

Heights. Central air, heat, washing facilities. $195 a month available

NEWLY REMODELED three

ONE-BEDROOM APART

bedroom,

by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-ADVANCED Training. Multi-engine, instrument commercial, ATP, CFI ratings. ground

BULLETIN

BOARD

010

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private

Scholarships and finest. Since 1981.

You're guaranteed min imum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-

1881. 1-800-879-7485.

up today in Kedzie 103.

Royal Purple portrait

studio is open, stop

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget?

Also.

Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 evenings. COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club five airplanes. For best prices Knipp, 539-6193 after

DONATIONS ACCEPTED! Get rid of your junk! Cub Scout Pack 284 will be having a garage sale Sat., Sept. 26 from 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pot-torf Hall, CiCo Park, Manhattan, Anyone wishing to donate any usable item to sell please call 537-9407.

We will pick up your nations. Tax deductable. NEW INTERNATIONAL Youth Hostel open ing between Wichita Junction $7.50 night, Stone Prairie Inn, Marion, KS 66861. Reservations required (316)382-2746 UFM SCUBA Class. Learn from the best. Classes starting soon. Contact UFM 539-8763 for registration. WAGON WHEEL Antiques 409 Lincoln, Wa ONE-BEDROOM APART mego. New arrivals, marbles and furni ture, phone 456-8480

$ Financial Aid Available $ Attention All Students Undergrads & Craduales. Over B Billion grants & scholarshups are now available in private sector & government sources
Colleg Students nationwide. All etholense, stlighted Let us hely you locate the more that you are eligible to receive. Applicable are now being accepted. To receive yo financial aid program call:

Found ads can be placed free for

FOUND- GRAY kitten;

four- five months old; FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN found on Hunter St. homes located in Britwest of old stadium. Call 776-2487 to claim tnay Ridge Estates. Central air, heat, washer/ or interested. dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will tials in Haymaker, Mon. match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804. FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, east Manhattan. 776-

each 537-8800.

ONE BEDROOM basement, $240. bills paid, 539-8401.

APARTMENT located

1960 Hunting. Close to campus coin operated laundry facilities and fire-place. $410 includes For appointment call

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, centra air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No 776-3804 Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bed room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath, 539-4087

TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment, bills paid

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer, dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672. TWO-BEDROOM HOUSE, two and one-half miles from Town Center on Highway 776-1340.

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close to city park and campus neigh borhood. $62,900. 1

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine

No pets. 539-4087. 35 For Sale-Mobile Homes

COUNTRYSIDE BROKER AGE 12x50 through 14x70 prices starting $3000, payments start ing at $149.75, 10 per cent down, payment vith approved credit.

145 Roomma

EMERGENCY! NEED two male roommates as half block from cam after 5:30, 776-7794.

FEMALE NEEDED for Oct. 1 or earlier. Own room with two other girls in apartment. Near campus and Aggieville. 537-9249.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share a three-bed room apartment with one and a half bath, ly-equipped kitchen in a brick complex. Call 537-7087.

PERATELY needed to share very nice apartment close to campus. Own room. Great roommates! $200/ month 537-0831.

ROOMMATE TO share three-bedroom with two others, $146 plus one-third utilities. Washer and dryer in-cluded, 776-3399 or 537-2145.

BULLETIN

BOARD

HOUSING

REAL

ESTATE

ROOMMATE WANTED to Grandview Plaza. $160/ month plus one-half

1-238-8897. ROOMMATES WANTED; two available rooms in Brittnay Ridge, All rooms furnished except males. 776-0589. TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and For more information

SERVICE DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer Also specializing in ta bles, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran tees. Please call Sandy 539-3229.

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing, 25 plus years experience

539-5998 after 5p.m. A B C typing service. You do e studying, me do the typing. Reports. charts more. Overnight re Go ahead, me a call. 537-9480 after 5p.m. ask

A QUALITY resume is vital in today's com petitive job market Contact the cour teous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSL students and staff for over a decade 343

KSU-SALINA students/ staff Hire a profes-sional to type, edit and resumes, papers and presentations. Fast.

Accurate. 823-6931. TYPING IN my home available days and evenings. Gail 539-6678. UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/Speech for papers editing; my ten years for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

200

SERVICE

DIRECT-

ORY

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

306

EMPLOY-

CAREERS

MENT/

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Free pregnancy

 Totally confidential Same day results

 Call for appointment campus in Anderson Village

> Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

235 Child Care

PRESCHOOL CHILD care providers needed for local church ladies group, Thursdays 9:30a.m.- 11:15a.m. Ref erences required. For more information call 776-4967

GUITAR LESSONS- ex

45 Pet Services

LOOKING FOR a male Golden Retriever, AKC Register to mate. Call Glo ria at 776-9890 leave messge on machine.

250 Automo

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service, 20 years nce. Auto Craft 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m. 5p.m. Monday through

255 Other Services

HEALTH AND Auto Insurance. Call us before buying the University Health Plan. Multi-line Agency, 555 Poyntz Suite 215. Tim Engle 537-4661.

Tattoo Fine Line Tattoo Quality work, reasonably priced hospital sterilization 1028 W. 6th 29th Massachus

Junction City Ever wanted to have one of those really big parties where every K-State student shows up and making you the toast of the campus?

532-6555

OPEN

MARKET

TRANS-

PORTATION

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements PEACE CORPS-Needed: A in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

WANTED: ALTERNATE for APPLICATIONS ARE being accepted for coordi nator of FONE Crisis Center. Duties include publicity, volunteer recruitment and training overseeing day- today operations, finances and representing agency to various groups Applications are avail able in the SGS office and are due by 5p.m. on Sept. 30. BARTENDERS WANTED Experience required placements.

537-8063 after 5p.m. CACTUS JACKS Mexican are advised to ap proach any sucl Cafe and Cantina, a fun new restaurant featuremployment opportunity with reasonable caution. ing southwestern food and drinks in a festive Collegian family atmosphere is read ning in Village Pla contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE za. We are looking for bright energetic outgo Jefferson, ing team players for all ka, KS 66607-1190 positions in kitchen and (913)232-0454. dining room. Apply in person M- F, 3- 6p.m.

$200- $500 weekly 3003 Anderson Suite Assemble products at 929 next to Valentino's. home. Easy! No selling You're paid di CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east rect. Fully guaranteed coast nannies informa-Free NY, Conn., Long Island, and NJ areas. tion—24 hour hotline 801-379-2900. Live-in one year commitments. $150 and Copyright #KS13KDH up per week. Immediate $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial terviews applications (800)858-2429 call obilgation. A risk-free program. Average sales (316)682-1735. time equals 4-6 hours. Choose from 12 designs. For more in COMPUTER PROGRAM MER: The KSU Soil formation call free (800) Testing Laboratory is looking for a student 733-3265. with programming ex-EXPANDING BUSINESS in perience to help up-Poland, Looking for grade our current da people with contacts. Prefer Bilingual, but not tabase system and per form other computer related services. 10 to 337-2613 evenings. 20 hours per week, NEEDED 100 people to lose flexible hours. $4.50 to weight now. No will $5.50 per hour. Contact Bryon Hopkins, 532-5776, M- F, 8power needed. Brand new just patented 100 percent natural, 100 percent guaranteed

EVENING AND weekend help. Cleaning stalls, Call (303)782-1081. feeding horses, minor after 6p.m.

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti vated individuals to fill full and part-time positions as delivery driv ers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay starts at $4.25 an hour plus 25 cents for each delivery you make Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year. No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other

600

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

COMPUTER WORK station. mens 26-inch Schwinn. four wagon wheel rims 14-inch and 15-inch

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage ing, field jackets Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734 ready, excellent cond compatible, 33 MHZ 130 MB, four-MB ram, 1.44 drives, DOS 5.0.

$1500. 539-1590 Nassir. PRINTER AND typewriter ribbons; computer paper, copy paper. Hull Business Sup-ply 715 N. 12th,

VERY LARGE drafting table for sale. Good condition. Four by six feet. $60, 539-1753 after

776-4999, 537-1741

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers such

435 Computers

floppy, ask to see, $700 or offer, 539-3461.

GUITAR LESSONS: Pat Walleck, the blues brother you didn't see n the movie. Rick's Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900.

baby left-$100 includes veterinary exam, food, two-story cage and ac-1-494-2873 leave mes-

460 Stereo

KENWOOD 10-DISC CD changer with remote Works with factory ster eo $275. Two 10-inch Kicker subs in box with x-over $150. Both less sell! 776-7848 leave

405 Wanted to Buy

OPEN

MARKET

FOR SALE

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans,

APPLE IIE, color monitor $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar $120.776-0872

GOLF CLUBS Three-sandwedge (SW), two years old, $125, 537-0599.

overcoats, new G. boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St.

MAGNAVOX 19-INCH color TV, remote, on $200. TEAC four-head tion. $150. 486 IBM Windows 3.1, mouse, modem, monitor. SVGA, MoreSoftware

Aggieville. 539-1413.

MINI BASEBALL Card Show, 10-4 on Sept. 27 at 1846 1/2 Hunting. 537-2616, 539-7611.

TUTTLE'S ANTIQUE Mar-ket has super antiques and collectables, 2010 futtle Creek Blvd. 537

286 IBM compatible, HD with 80meg software, color VGA, high density

45 Music Instruments

TRANS-PORTATION

1973 BUICK station wagon. Low mileage, excellent condition, $500. 776-

1979 CAMARO, T-tops, re-built V-8, new paint, exhaust, brakes, carpet $1500 firm, 776-8701.

1980 VOLKSWAGON Rabbit. Good transmission, for parts- call 537-4355. 1988 CUTLASS Calais, blue two-door, au-tomatic, air, low ileage excellent condition, 539-2053. 1990 DODGE Caravan seven passenger, blue with silver accents, auto, cruise. Best offer right number KS13KJC.

776-8701. CHEAPI FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50 Mercedes 1987 $100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-379-2929.

537-3324.

1989 CAVALETTO Centurion 10-speed road bike $160. Call Brian at

1992 HIS and hers moun tain bikes like new $125 each. Call after 5p.m. 776-1529 Motorcycles

1981 YAMAHA Virago 750 Mint condition, 8,500 miles. Always sheltered and pampered. Call 776-

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Travel and Tour Packages

620 Airpland

SAN JUAN Students **Xmas Break** Airfare round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call Kansas State Travel.

COLLEGAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

FOUND: CAMERA with ini Call 532-2462 to identi-

FOUND: MALE cat. North FOUND: TWO sets of keys were turned in to the Math Department. To claim call Campus Police 532-6412.

picture ID (KSU or

Candidates debate at fair

continued from PAGE 1 small, tightly controlled government.

"We need to look at the agencies which are not effective and work to eliminate them," Kirk said. "We can't spend ourselves rich or tax ourselves wealthy."

Cambell-Cline said she wants to use her past experience as a certified public accountant to reduce government spending. She supports across-the-board cuts of 20 percent each in taxes and spending.

Delegates during the forum — many of whom wore Perot T-Shirts, buttons and paraphernalia — expressed their dissatisfaction with government on all levels and called for change.

The question that drew the most response from the crowd was on raising taxes to solve deficit problems.

O'Dell said she would favor tax

ALCOVE

BOOK SALE

September 21-25

Big savings on a variety of

from the

K-State

increases on the top 2 percent of society, whom she said have substantially loose taxes because of loopholes, which need to be closed.

She said she favored tax breaks

She said she favored tax breaks for those who provide new employment by starting new businesses or retraining employees.

Cambell-Cline said she also favors no new taxes because the middle class pays too much already.

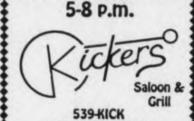

Kirk was vague in his answer on this point. When questioned further about tax fairness, he said: "Tax fairness is only in the eye of the beholder."

Dole sent no prepared statement, which angered many of the delegates.

O'Dell was the winner of the straw poll conducted at the end of the forum. Kirk was second, followed by Cambell-Cline. Dole came in fourth.

8 oz. Ribeye $2<sup>99</sup>

Every Tues. & Wed.

2315 Tuttle Creek

Protesters pledge to continue their efforts

CONTIN 'ED FROM PAGE 1
protests will continue because these are worthwhile programs, she said.

The social work program is a land-grant institution that has a land-grant institution that has a mission to serve the state, and in turn, educate people so they may serve the state, Thirkell said.

Small classes and one-on-one

Small classes and one-on-one attention are two aspects of K-State's accredited social work program, said Steve Shields, senior in social work. It helps train students to be able to make the right choices when dealing with real-life situations, he said.

The department is threadbare now, and if the sizes of classes are increased and two of the five faculty released, the result will be a loss of necessary training, Shields

Speech pathology and audiology are the two programs that were recommended to be completely cut.

There is a huge demand for speech pathologists in Kansas right now, said Melany Martinek, graduate student in speech pathology.

"I feel that K-State has an obligation to fill those positions," she said.

The state is required to provide services to kids who need help, and with the speech pathology program gone there will be even fewer qualified people to meet that demand, said Karen Poindexter, graduate student in speech pathology.

thology. The Kansas Legislature has mandated more social workers are needed, Thirkell said. Kansas Board of Regents is also in favor of social work programs, because the regents just approved a graduate social work program for Washburn.

"This University says it promotes diversity, so it is ironic that the programs getting cut are the ones that serve predominantly minority women," Thirkell said.

"The first code of ethics in social work is to appreciate diversity," she said.

Making cuts to the social work program isn't going to happen immediately, but a degree from K- State isn't going to be very credible if the program is cut after students graduate, said Paula Barrows-Hunt, senior in social work.

The University is putting such emphasis on research right now that it is difficult for teachers to provide quality education because of the insufficient staffing, Shields said.

"I've been real disappointed with my K-State experience," he said.

my K-State experience," he said.

Other students have been very supportive. They smile and give a thumbs up, Thirkell said.

"People support us, because they realize it could happen to them,"

MARINE CORPS OFFICER PROGRAMS

MAKE YOUR YEARS COUNT PLAN YOUR FUTURE NOW AS AN OFFICER OF MARINES WHO'S ELIGIBLE?

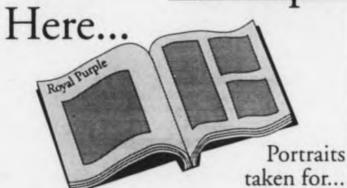

FRESHMEN, SOPHOMORES, JUNIORS AND SENIORS WITH A PROJECTED GRADUATION DATE BENEFITS TO THE STUDENT:

EXPERIENCE TRAINING WITH NO OBLIGATION BECOME ELIGIBLE FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE SECURE ACTIVE DUTY COMMISSION
GUARANTEED PILOT OR LAWYER IF QUALIFIED EARN COLLEGE CREDIT DURING TRAINING FOR MORE INFORMATION:
SEE LT EVERETT & SSGT FOSTER

Great D

Memories Start

Royal Purple

Delta Upsilon Sept. 21

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Collegian Collegian Collegian

CAREERS IN SPECIALTY RETAILING

Payless ShoeSource is committed to excellence in retailing. We're the nation's largest self-service footwear retailer, selling over 15% of all footwear sold in the United States, and operating over 3400 Payless ShoeSource Stores nationwide. Our high standards of excellence have resulted in profit performance and growth unequaled in the industry. Continuing the unparalleled growth, over 300 new stores will be opened in the next year.

This growth has created outstanding opportunities at our corporate headquarters for high potential Business, Computer Science and Industrial Engineering majors (Bachelor's and Master's). We offer the fast-track Corporate Management Associate program and a compensation package competitive with any industry.

Investigate a career in retailing. Talk to an industry leader see if the shoe fits!

We will be interviewing at the Placement Office on Thursday, October 15. For further information about career opportunities at Payless ShoeSource, visit the Placement Office on campus. Resumés must be submitted to the Career Placement Center by September 24.

Payless SheeSource

3231 East 6th, Topeka, KS 66607 AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F A division of The May Department Stores Company

SHUTTLE SERVICE

for temporarily or permanently

physically limited students on campus,

building to building

Inquire by calling 532-6441

FULBRIGHT SCHOLARSHIPS

for the 1993-1994 academic year

More than 600 awards providing round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year abroad.

In addition to graduate students, seniors are also eligible. Selection is based upon grades, recommendations, and a plan of study that underscores the need to study abroad. In all cases an applicant must have a particular country in mine, as well as suggest a particular school, institute, or research center where he or she would like to study. While the competition for these awards is rigorous, 22 K-Staters became Fulbrighters during the past decade. For further details and application forms, contact Walter Kolonosky, Chairperson, Fulbright Scholarship Committee,

Office of Study Abroad, Eisenhower Hall 23. Office Hours MWF 1:30-3:30, or call

PROGRAM IN SPEECH PATHOLOGY / AUDIOLOGY

All students in the program in Speech Pathology / Audiology and other interested people are invited to attend a meeting with

Peter Nicholls,

Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, to hear why he is recommending that the program be eliminated

MONDAY, SEPT. 21, 1992, AT 5 p.m. IN LEASURE 013

Is Agribusiness in the 1990s an option for you?

Attend The

AGRIBUSINESS CAREERS FAIR

Tuesday, September 22

8:30 am - 3:30 pm

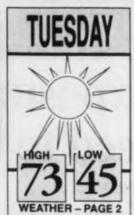

K-State Union Ballrooms

All students and faculty are invited to visit with representatives from agribusiness tirms and agencies about career opportunities and internships in marketing, communications, and services.

SEPTEMBER 22, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 21

Rape case not strong enough

LAJEAN RAU

Charges were dropped against a student accused of raping another student on campus because the case did not look prosecutable, Riley County Attorney Bill Kennedy said.

"What it comes down to is, I didn't think I could make a jury believe beyond a reasonable doubt that the person who was arrested was guilty of rape, based on the evidence presented," Kennedy said.

The charges were not dropped because the alleged victim decided not to testify. Kennedy said she was ready to go ahead with the case had he decided to do so.

'My heart goes out to that young lady. I admire her courage," Kennedy said. "I have had many other, better cases where the victim decided not to go ahead with it."

Mark Mazour, junior in architectural engineering, was charged with one count each of rape and sodomy Sept. 10. The arrest ended the basketball ticket campout ahead of schedule.

■ See ATTORNEY Page 12

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Search for dean begins

ROY GRABER

Candidates for the position of interim dean of the College of Agriculture will share their views at a forum Wednesday.

Marc Johnson, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, and Jack Riley, head of the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry, will speak at 10 a.m. in the K-State Union Little Theatre.

Johnson is now acting dean of the college. Walter Woods resigned Sept. 11 as dean of agriculture, director of the Cooperative Extension Service and director of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Curtis Kastner, co-chairman of the search committee and professor of animal sciences, said Johnson and Riley were the only two applicants

"There was a total of four nominations for the interim position, but two candidates for whatever reason did not decide to submit an application,"

■ See CANDIDATES Page 12

Dean, speech pathology meet

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

certainly sciences without a pathology program."

college speech

and possible to have an arts

Peter Nicholls, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, addresses about 80 students and faculty in Waters Hall Monday night.

n not cost effective

STEPHANIE FUQUA KARREY BRITT

Although the College of Arts and Sciences needs to reorganize, students and faculty say speech pathology and audiology should not be one of the programs cut.

About 80 students and faculty attended a question-and-answer session Monday evening with Dean Peter Nicholls.

"Higher education in the United States is under a great deal of financial pressure," Nicholls said. "We had to look very closely and very carefully at what we do.'

An Arts and Sciences College Core Group drew up guidelines for the emphasis and de-emphasis of programs, Nicholls said.

The criteria used were the It is one of the most expensive programs' centrality to the mission things we do in the college," of the college, cost effectiveness, student demand and quality.

Nicholls said he had personal concerns about the program before the committee made its recommendations.

'No. 1, you have to look at the centrality into the college issue," Nicholls said. "We have to look at how students and faculty are integrated into the college and what other programs are required to have speech and pathology

"It certainly is possible to have an arts and sciences college without a speech pathology program," Nicholls said. Another issue is cost efficiency,

Nicholls said.

"Speech pathology is expensive.

Nicholls said.

Nicholls said the program costs about $270 per credit hour. He compared this with other programs that cost $50 to $60 per credit hour. Although he cited modern languages as an example, he was not sure of the exact cost.

"It is my firm conviction that the College of Arts and Sciences has to do some reallocation," Nicholls said. "We are stretched in every conceivable way.

We have not taken this decision lightly. It has been an incredibly hard decision to make," Nicholls said. "Fiscal budgets mean we have to stop doing some things. There is no decision we can make that would not involve a large number of students.

Ann Smit, director of the speech pathology and audiology program and associate professor of speech, said the undergraduate major is a preparation for a master's degree.

"If you are going to work in the field, you have to have a master's degree and graduate from an accredited program, Smit said.

Graduate school was a big concern for most of the students. Students said an undergraduate degree is useless by itself, and getting into another university's master's program would be difficult because admission caps are being set.

Nicholls would not guarantee a master's program, although he would guarantee an undergraduate degree for students enrolled now.

"There are other master's programs to go to," Nicholls said. "Is it the case that all students stay ■ See STUDENTS Page 12 PETER NICHOLLS

EC pushes for treaty

■ The European Unity treaty would establish a framework for unified European economic, political and defense policies.

Some citizens fear 'Big Brother in Brussels'

ASSOCIATED PRESS

UNITED NATIONS - Rattled by Denmark's rejection of the European Unity treaty and France's ultra-slim approval, European foreign ministers pledged Monday to soothe their citizens' fears of a "Big Brother in Brussels."

But the European Community nations will push ahead for ratification of the Maastricht treaty without reopening the present text for renegotiations, the ministers said in a communique

The treaty would establish a framework for unified European economic, political and defense policies, and a common bank and currency by 1999.

British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd said EC leaders will have a summit Oct. 16 in London to discuss the turbulence that hit Europe's financial markets last week, and the "preoccupations" of Europeans that affected the Danish and French votes.

Hurd said the preoccupations cited obliquely in the communique refer to "the worry, the anxiety that

FRANCE APPROVAL

France only approved the Maastricht treaty by a narrow margin.

FARMERS AND LABORERS 60 percent of this group voted no. PARIS AND

BIG CITIES Paris voted 62-percent yes. Most large cities followed. CITY OF Economically stricken right now, 55 percent of the city voted no.

WEALTHLY SUBURBS Wealthy areas voted 'yes.'

Source: Associated Press

has developed to some extent that the European Community is out of touch with the citizens that it is meant to serve. Dutch Foreign Minister Hans van den Broek calls it a "fear of Big Brother in Brussels," EC headquarters city in Belgium. The communique also stressed that the governments will remain committed to the European Monetary System.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Clerk's office sponsors drive

TAD MUSSELWHITE Collegian

The Riley County Clerk's Office is sponsoring a voter-registration drive at K-State this week.

County Clerk Ilene Colbert announced students can register to vote Wednesday and Thursday at the K-State

The drive will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days in the free-speech zone in Union Plaza. In case of bad weather, registration will be just outside the Union Stateroom.

Several students have volunteered to help with the drive and have been deputized by Colbert to help register

Colbert's staff will be present to answer questions on registration in other counties and absentee voting. Colbert said she believes it is very important for everyone not only to register but also to vote for county, state and federal government. Another drive may be conducted next week, Colbert said.

The last day to register for the November elections is Oct. 19. The county clerk's office will be open until 9 p.m. Oct. 15, 16 and 19 for voter registration, she said.

Additional registration outposts in Manhattan include grocery stores, banks, and public and governmental offices.

Colbert said her office can answer any questions about registration or the election process. Call 537-6300 or 537-0700 for more information.

REGISTER HERE

Here is a list of some of the places you can register to vote for the November elections. Last day to register is Oct. 19.

Citizens Bank West

First National Bank West ■ Kansas State Bank West

■ Union National Bank West Manhattan Public Library

■ Blue Hills Dutch Maid Grocery ■ Dillon's Grocery West

■ Manhattan High School KSU Student Government Service Office ■ Kansas SRS

NEWS DIGEST

► COLBY BOY SHOT

COLBY (AP) - Police are investigating the shooting death of a Colby 17-year-old, authorities said Monday

Troy L. Rosentrater, killed Saturday when a gun discharged while being handled by an 18-yearold man, a spokeswoman for the Colby Police Department said.

The shooting appeared to be accidental, but is being

▶ PRIEST POLICY

CHICAGO (AP) - The nation's second-largest archdiocese announced Monday an independent board will investigate priests accused of molesting children.

The Archidiocese of Chicago's policy may be the most comprehensive ever developed in the United States, Cardinal Joseph Bernardin said at a news conference.

KILLER GETS LIFE

NEW YORK (AP) - A man convicted of killing two girls and a woman was sentenced Monday to 75 years to life in prison, and victims' relatives cheered.

State Supreme Court Judge Daniel Sullivan rejected Alejandro Henriquez's plea for leniency and ordered the three maximum 25-year sentences. They virtually guarantee life in jail for Henriquez. He will not be eligible for parole until 2067.

Exposure crimes need to be reported

Collegian

Indecent exposure is not a chargeable crime.

Investigator Richard Herrman of the K-State Police Department made the distinction between the act by which a person exposes his or her sexual organs to an unwilling observer and lewd and lascivious behavior. "Lewd and lascivious behavior is engag-"If we do not ing in sexual have an interofficial report, course or sodomy we do not with any have a victim, person or and if we do animal with not have a knowvictim, we do ledge or not have a reasonable crime." antic-RICHARD HERRMAN

ipation

that the participants are being viewed by others," Herrman said, reading the official definition from the Book of Statutes, which is used by the police.

"It's the exposure of any sex organ in a public place or in the presence of a person who is not the spouse of the offender or who has not consented to watch, with the intention to arouse sexual desire in the other," Herrman said.

According to official records, there have been only three police reports of women having seen a "flasher" between August 1991 and July 1992. All three victims were students, and the cases are unsolved. The police could not estimate the number of unreported incidents.

Herrman emphasized it is important to make an official written report of the incident.

"Every American has a duty to do all he can to bring a criminal to justice," he said. "If we do not have an official report, we do not have a victim, and if we do not have a victim, we do not have a crime."

And getting perpetrators of the crime the help they need is important.

Terry Pfannenstiel, project manager for adult services at Pawnee Mental Health Services on Claflin Road, said he was concerned that people who derived satisfaction from such activities would only receive counseling help upon apprehension for or conviction of the crime.

Pfannenstiel said, although individuals who commit this compulsive act during an increased state of mental anxiety are generally considered harmless, they tend to suffer relapses even after rehabilitation and counseling.

Often, convicted rapists and voyeurs have some kind of history of such behavior, he said.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. ons will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

At 9:10 a.m., a lost or stolen temporary parking permit, No. 31257, was reported. At 9:15 a.m., a lost or stolen student parking permit, No. 31490, was reported. At 9:24 a.m., a blue Isuzu Amigo was wheellocked in Lot D-4 for excessive violations. At 9:30 a.m., a burglary-theft report was filed for student parking permit No. 3330.

At 2:05 p.m., criminal damage to property on a bicycle cable, and a theft were reported. Taken was a 21speed, 26-inch bicycle from the racks on the south side of Moore Hall. Loss was $300.

At 3:11 p.m., a blue Dodge Colt, Okla. license No. YJH 716, was wheellocked in Lot A-12 for excessive violations.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

At 12:19 a.m., Bruce K. Smith, and Donald J. Byrd, both of 724 Fremont St., were arrested for rape. Both were released on $5,000 bonds.

At 7:22 a.m., a major-damage, noninjury accident occurred at the intersection of Anderson and Denison avenues between Bryan Ring, 511 Kearney St., and Rebecca Wahlmeier, 2000 Denison Ave.

At 7:55 a.m., a major-damage, noninjury accident occurred on Fort Riley Boulevard about 100 yards west of Richards Drive. Involved were Nicky Cantrell, 5960-1 Beaugard Place, Fort Riley; Kevin Harrison, 939 Windwood Drive, No. 4, Junction City; and Alycia Linbocker, 111 S. Drake Drive.

At 8:58 a.m., Venita Spickelmier, 712 N. Eighth St., reported loss of $100. It was wrapped inside an M&M wrapper she had in her pocket.

At 10:21 a.m., Karen Whitmore, 3017 Sand Stone Drive, No. 1, reported a break-in on her vehicle. Taken was a Whistler radar detector and damage was reported to the roof and sunroof. Loss was $500.

At 12:47 p.m., a resident on Elling Drive reported to police that two males sitting in a car were acting suspicious. Police approached the two and discovered they were eating

At 12:59 p.m., a Manhattan Town Center employee reported to police that a male and a female were sitting in a car and acting suspicious. Police approached the two and discovered they were eating their lunch.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Graduation check sheets are due in the Graduate School office by Oct. 1 for those wishing to graduate this semester. University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

■ Manhattan Parks and Recreation needs coaches for youth soccer, volleyball and football. Contact Mike Buchanan, 587-2757.

■ KSU Young Democrats will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 207. ■ All University Homecoming Committee members will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Union 202.

■ Lou Douglas Lecture will be at 6:30 p.m. in Forum Hall. Dr. Bill Roy will speak on "Medical Care in America: Reason, Rhetoric and Reality.'

Circle K International will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 204

■ Gay, lesbian and bisexual support groups will meet from 3:30 to 5 p.m. at Lafene. Women in Lafene 236 and men in Lafene 238. ■ Hispanic American Leadership Organization (HALO) will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the Multicultural Student Center (ECM).

Society for the Advancement of Management will meet at 7 p.m. in Denison 113. Marcia Schuley will speak on interviewing.

■ Department of Geology will sponsor a lecture by Tim Carr, Kansas Geological Survey, Lawrence, at 4 p.m. in Thompson 213. Topic will be "The Ternary Model: Sequence Stratigraphy in Siliciclastics and Carbonates.

■ "Preparing for the Law School Admission Test" will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in Union 204.

Association for Women in Science will meet for a reception and poster session from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Union Bluemont Room. Undergrads will meet mentors.

■ Computing and Networking Services will sponsor a lecture from 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in Cardwell 103 on using the vi editor on the public Unix system.

Association of Collegiate Entrepreneurs will meet at 6 p.m. in Calvin 18 for reorganization and officer elections.

Social Work Organization will have its organizational meeting at 7 p.m. in Denison 220.

■ SPURS sophomore honorary will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 212. Wear uniforms and pay dues. Yearbook pictures at 8:30 p.m. in McCain 324.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Mostly clear. High 70 to 75. North wind 5 to 15 mph. Tonight, mostly clear. Low in the mid-40s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST Mostly sunny. High 75 to 80.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Thursday through Saturday: Fair. Highs in upper 70s to 80s. Lows mainly in 50s.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Lima	63/57	cloudy
Bangkok	91/77	cloudy	Oslo	57/54	cloudy
Dhahran	104/70	cloudy	Santiago	73/45	clear
stanbul	77/57	clear	Tokyo	73/64	clear

HELP US BEFORE WE BECOME SPEECHLESS!!

The College of Arts & Sciences of KSU has decided that the Program in Speech Pathology/Audiology in the Department of Speech will be eliminated as part of a general restructuring.

WHY SHOULD THIS CONCERN YOU?

Communication disorders are one of the most prevalent disabling conditions in the U.S. Speech Pathology and Audiology provide much needed services to individuals with communicative disabilities of all kinds (i.e., stuttering, language delay, stroke rehabilitation, aural rehabilitation, and hearing evaluations, just to name a few).

CONSIDER THESE FACTS:

There is a shortage of speech pathologists in Kansas and nation-wide. In May 1992 there was a vacancy rate of 6% in funded but unfilled positions in the Kansas schools.

Demand for this program from students is strong. At both the undergraduate and graduate levels, enrollment in this has doubled in the past two years.

The program is said to be far more costly than others in the College. This determination is based on faulty analysis, inappropriate comparison, and data that are just plain wrong.

It is more cost-efficient for the state of Kansas to fund this program now than to pay the consequences later. Every person whose communication skills are enhanced by a speech-language pathologist or audiologist has a better chance of succeeding in society and becoming a tax-paying citizen.

This is a strong program that prepares professional speech-language pathologists and audiologists at the Master's level. It is the second oldest program in Kansas. Graduates compete very favorably for jobs with graduates from much larger and better supported programs.

Without your active support, KSU will eliminate our program. PLEASE voice your concerns to:

Peter J. Nicholls, Dean College of Arts & Sciences Eisenhower Hall KSU Manhattan, KS 66506

913-532-6900

Jon Wefald, President Anderson Hall KSU Manhattan, KS 66506 913-532-6221

Speech Pathology/Audiology today. It could be your program tomorrow. Sponsored by KSSSLHA

Huet-Vaughn tells her side of story

MARGARET CLARKIN/Collegian

Dr. Yolanda Huet-Vaughn answers questions from an audience member after she spoke about being a conscientious objector to the Gulf War Monday night in the K-State Union Forum Hall. She served 9 months in Leavenworth Penitentiary for desertion.

Persian Gulf War objector hears from supporters, critics

DAVID FRESE

Army Reserve.

Maybe it was just poor timing. Six days before Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait, Dr. Yolanda Huet-Vaughn re-enlisted for what she thought was the remainder of her seven-year stint in the National Guard and the

She had been given an honorable discharge from the Reserve years before to work in public service. She said she thought she was supposed to make up the two years she missed.

And with the Berlin Wall turned to mementos and driveway gravel, 1990 seemed the perfect, enemy-free time to make up those missed years.

Then came the "Mother of All Wars."

Huet-Vaughn spoke Monday night in the K-State Union Forum Hall.

"I served in the Reserves because I loved my country," she said. "I joined as a non-combatant, not as a pacifist."

Huet-Vaughn said she did not become a non-combatant because she was afraid to go to war. She was simply against it.

"When Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait, I was very vocal about it," she said. "I was also opposed to aid this government sent to Saddam Hussein prior to Aug. 2."

Huet-Vaughn said the United States pulled some weird strings in the United Nations. Those countries that voted for the resolution to use force if necessary, she said, were bribed. Those who crossed the United States were punished.

"We promised Turkey they could export $1 million in textiles to the U.S. if they voted our way," she said. "Yemen voted against the resolution and got cut off from the World Bank."

Huet-Vaughn said Iraq's gross national product had dropped 40 percent before the Allies went into the country. This, she said, was a sure sign that sanctions against Hussein were working.

She said President Bush had no

See DOCTOR Page 12-

WORL

Gorbachev says he will not testify at Yeltsin's trial

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW — Russia's Constitutional Court ordered Mikhail Gorbachev Monday to testify to determine whether Boris Yeltsin broke the law in banning the Communist Party.

The court can only fine Gorbachev 100 rubles if he refuses to testify, said Boris Strashun, an aide to the chairman of the court. These 100 rubles, which used to be worth more than $200, are now worth less than 50 cents.

Gorbachev, Soviet president and former Communist Party generalsecretary, was on a private visit to Germany and was unavailable for comment. He previously said he would not testify.

"I would not say anything even if I am led there in handcuffs," he said in August, calling the case a show trial.

The panel of 13 judges also summoned Yegor Ligachev, a longtime Politburo member and Nikolai Ryzhkov, former Soviet prime minister, among other leading former officials.

"I'm ready to respond to all questions, and to defend my party the party of Communists,"

Ligachev told Russian television.

The trial, which began July 7, resumed last week after a six-week adjournment.

It stems from a lawsuit by pro-Communist parliament members. The members contend Russian President Yeltsin exceeded his constitutional authority when he suspended the Communist Party's activities and confiscated its property after the failed hard-line

Yeltsin's attorneys maintain that the party usurped all power in the country, including control over state assets.

If the court rules against Yeltsin, it could hurt his public image and encourage former Communists to try to roll back his reforms. A decision in the president's favor would block a revival of the Communist Party and reduce hardliners' chances of regaining its immense wealth and power.

TELEVISION

'Murphy Brown' fires back in season opener

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK— The sitcom that churned political waters set sail on its new season Monday night, with "Murphy Brown" fans joined by single mothers and millions of the merely curious.

Among them was the series' No. 1 critic, Vice President Dan Quayle.

Focusing on the misadventures of a Washington, D.C.-based television reporter and her coworkers, "Murphy Brown" had been a CBS hit almost four years before becoming a prominent part of the national political debate.

Quayle began that May 19 when, during an address to a group in San Francisco, he blasted the Murphy Brown character for "mocking the importance of fathers by bearing a child alone, and calling it just another lifestyle choice."

Monday's hour-long special, which was kept under wraps until airtime, picked up with Murphy's life after the birth of her son. It included a long-anticipated comeback to Quayle's complaint.

Halfway through the episode, the frazzled, unwashed new mother

■ See MURPHY Page 5

REAL COLLEGE CREDIT

Starts With A Wildcat Visa Or MasterCard Of Your Choice.

Apply Today!

Call First Bank Card Center at 1-800-582-2731, and we'll take your application over the phone, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Be sure to ask for the Wildcat card when you call.

(Please be sure to have your Social Security Number ready when you call. And if your monthly income is below $300, please have guarantor information available.)

Great Benefits For K-State Students!

Apply for the card of your choice now, and you may soon be enjoying:

- No annual fee for six months, and just $18 each year thereafter;
- A competitive 17.88% Annual Percentage Rate;
- No finance charges with our 25-day grace period on retail purchases. Simply pay your balance in full by the due date, and you won't pay any finance charges;
- 24-hour instant cash access at over 60,000 CIRRUS® ATMs across the country and all over the world;
- $150,000 automatic travel insurance whenever you use your Wildcat card to purchase a passenger ticket on any plane, train, ship or bus;
- No transaction fees.

Apply Today! Call First Bank Card Center Toll-Free At 1-800-582-2731, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

differing viewpoint.

IN OUR OPINION

SEPTEMBER 22, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

POW issue coming back to life

THE ISSUE

Testimony has raised new questions regarding the failure to bring POWs back from Vietnam and Laos.

WE SUGGEST

It's time to bring the truth forward, let the families know what happened, and finally put the issue to

Former national security adviser Henry Kissinger will appear today before a congressional panel to testify on new issues concerning American prisoners of war who may have been left behind in Vietnam and Laos.

This comes on the heels of an extraordinary development. Two of former President Richard Nixon's Pentagon chiefs have come forward to say they believe American soldiers were indeed left behind, despite vows by Nixon that every POW had been released.

The question of whether POWs were retained by the Pathet Lao in Laos or the North Vietnamese has remained for nearly two decades. It has been the object of endless debate, intense personal suffering for families of the POWs, and easy money for Hollywood filmmakers.

And now, a watershed for this issue may have arrived. Melvin Laird and James Schlesinger, the two Pentagon chiefs, admitted that doubts remained throughout the administration on whether the Laotians had given a true account of POWs.

The original list given to the administration only had 10 names, but documents released by Sen. Bob Smith, R-N.H., show that perhaps as many as 350 U.S. personnel were missing or captured.

Schlesinger and Laird also speculated that many downed airmen were either executed, killed in combat or died of exposure in the jungles.

Through the testimony of these once highly ranked men, it is becoming clear that a much deeper story to the entire POW issue remains hidden. Many documents being released are only solidifying that conclusion.

The time has arrived to put this painful issue to rest. It's time for Nixon and his associates to come forward and tell the whole truth. The country has suffered long enough under their stallings, lies and black politics.

It's been 18 years since the last American fired his gun in Vietnam. Perhaps telling the truth won't bring back the dead, but at least their families, and maybe they, will rest a little easier.

READERS WRITE

▶ BEEF

Collegian series uses supported facts

Editor.

In response to letters in Monday's Collegian regarding the source for Roy Graber's beef facts and myths, I would like to point out the National Cattleman's Association published those FACTS based on data and information from numerous and reliable sources.

I respect the concern voiced by both individuals, so I would like to point out a few of the sources that the NCA used to put out the fact sheet.

For example, the fact that lean beef is regarded by health organizations as a valuable part of the American diet is based on recommendations for the American Heart Association, U.S. Surgeon General, American Cancer Society, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and other health organizations.

In addition, beef producers have responded to consumer demands by producing a leaner product, and the amount of external fat on a cut of meat has been reduced a great deal.

The fact that no residues from feeding antibiotics are found in beef, and there is no valid scientific evidence that antibiotic use in cattle causes illness resulting from the development of antibioticresistant bacteria, is sustained by various reports from the Food Safety and Inspection Service, Council Agricultural Science and Food and Technology, Agricultural Organization/World Health Organization, and the Food and Drug Administration.

The fact that an average 4.5 pounds of grain is used in the production of one pound of beef, and the world hunger problem is a result of poverty, lack of buying power, and food distribution problem, is supported by the reports "World Hunger: Grain Versus Meat Production" (Texas A&M University), "The Changing Nature of World Agriculture" (National Food Review, USDA) and "Grain Consuming Animal Habits" (USDA).

It isn't difficult to find out truthful information if you look for it. Sadly, it is the individuals who cry the loudest that are heard, and often they know the

I urge everyone to make an effort to find out the facts in everything before you believe only what you hear. Once again, I appreciate the concern of those individuals who wrote the letters, but I hope those individuals show as much concern when reading opinions of the summer Collegian staff and those of Mr. Bishop of the Manhattan Mercury.

> Sandra Utter Graduate student/Animal science

POLITICS

Out with old Bush, in with new Clinton

America faces a choice this November, and it is crucial to the future of our nation. Do we elect another four years of rule to a divided government, or do we elect a government that can work to solve the problems that face the country?

Should we re-elect a president so out of touch with America that he didn't know there was a recession until February, or should we elect a president who promises to put people first?

For the past 12 years, middleclass Americans have watched their earnings fall, health-care costs soar and taxes rise. At the same time, wealthy Americans' incomes rise and taxes drop. Reagan and Bush have been very good to the top of the economic ladder, and they have cheerfully watched as this elite crowd kicked everyone else down a few rungs.

The United States has gone from being the highest wageearning nation in the world to 13th in just 12 years. Corporate earnings are reaching record highs, but salaries are falling fast. CEOs engineer milliondollar bonuses for themselves while laying off workers by the thousands.

The rich have Reagan-Bush golden parachutes while kicking the middle class out of the plane with nothing but pink slips to break their falls.

Bill Clinton has a plan for America, and it's a plan that will work. America can create new jobs and good health care, and rebuild the American dream. But before any of this can happen, we must decide if we stay on the failed cause of a visionless George Bush, or move forward with a government whose branches can work together.

The choice is clear, and it's Clinton-Gore.

> Rex Hackler Senior/Political science

Childbearing safer than abortion

SCOTT SPRADLIN

Barbaralee Davis Lunderwent what could be called a routine suction abortion at the Hope Clinic for Women in Granite City,

Following the procedure, she waited through the typical post-abortion observation period in this clinic's recovery room. Her only complaint was that of weakness. She was given instructions to go home and get some rest.

In the solitude of her bedroom, Davis slept as she silently bled to death.

abortion, her body was discovered. By the time the local media caught wind of the story and reported it, Michael Grobsmith, chief of the Illinois Department of t was June 14, 1977. quoted as saying: "It's that the public is unaware unfortunate, but it's happening everyday in Chicago, and you're just not hearing about it."

Now I'm sure there will be those who say that Barbaralee was an exception to the rule. Abortion is safe. In fact, it's more safe than carrying a pregnancy to full term! Is that so?

One year following Davis' tragic death, the Chicago-Sun Times, in an investigation of four Chicago abortion clinics, managed to expose 12 abortion-related deaths. Twelve deaths may not seem Within 12 hours of the to be all that many, but consider 12 abortion-related deaths previously not reported as such in only four abortion clinics. Chicago has 20 abortion clinics in all. How many Public Health's Division of more abortion-related deaths Hospitals and Clinics was are linked to these clinics

Admittedly, there is no accurate method for gathering statistics regarding abortion-related complications or deaths. How can there be, after the Supreme Court lifted the burden of accountability from the shoulders of abortionists by striking down any requirements for reporting abortion-related complications or deaths on the grounds that such reporting may discourage women from seeking abortions? The truth can be

To further frustrate the matter, Federal Court rulings have sheltered abortion clinics beneath the shield of "zone of privacy." Therefore, any attempt to require an abortionist to record, or even report, the number of deaths and complications resulting from abortion would be an unconstitutional action. So, we may never have the facts

In light of the more than 100 potential complications associated with abortion, it would be untruthful to say abortion is safer than childbearing. Actually, it is the other way around. This is especially true for longterm risks affecting future childbearing and a woman's overall health.

Truth is, the majority of women undergoing legal abortion will survive the procedure, just as the majority of women carrying their pregnancy to full term will survive childbearing. The question for women considering abortion is not 'Will I survive?" Rather, it should be "How well will I

TOLES

IF YOU TAX SOMETHING, YOU GET LESS OF IT. IF YOU CUT TAXES, YOU GET MORE!

Politically correct slogans clash

people will go to heaven where they will have environmental extremists suggest, human life on situation than the fact that these two fates sound sort of similar. The great irony in these polarized political issues is that neither one should have become a polarized political issue to begin with America itself: How, in a democracy set up to preserve "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," did two fundamentally non-political issues such as the individual's right to freely adopt a personal spirituality, and to enjoy a livable physical environment, become so

How that happened is an interesting question,

The question is as simple, yet complex, as

There is more irony to this disturbing this planet will cease to exist.

in this free society.

politically divisive?

Though they aren't billing it as such, the you so!" Democrats possess the "politically correct" counter-punch to the Republicans' family values theme with their "Save the Planet."

The two as concepts are undeniably positive for society as a whole. Who can argue that a strong and loving family is not more beneficial for a child than growing up in a broken home?

Likewise, it would be foolish to suggest the world might be a better to place to live if fewer pollutants were spewed into the environment?

They're both good ideas - unattainable pipe dreams at this time, good ideas nonetheless.

As real-life opposing political platforms, however, Judeo-Christian "family values" and doom-happy ultra-environmentalism start to take on the definite feel of a nightmare. The way it stands now, the only real satisfaction either side will get is from participating in adamant "No, you're wrong!" skirmishes. That is, until such time when it becomes which point one lucky group of winners gets to scream out a triumphant, self-indulgent "I told

MARK ENGLER

but it would take a few hundred opinionated pages to answer. However, much blame for the nature of the divisiveness today can certainly be placed quickly and neatly at the feet of leaders on both sides. Their rhetoric is often self-serving and usually offensive to the average intellect, thus only intensifying a silly conflict.

Consider, for example, the Rev. Pat Robertson's comment at the Republican National Convention that the ozone hole is an "atheist lie." Add to that his earlier observation that the Environmental Movement is satanic, and you start to get a sense of his own deranged makeup.

Immediately following that proclamation, Anyone who takes separation of church and both arguments will become moot. Either, as the state seriously is probably growing quite weary right-wing moralists point out, all the good of the likes of Robertson and his religious-right cohorts. But then, such is democracy. Room for nothing to worry about, or, as the left-wing everybody, right, Pat?

And what about Al Gore? In 1989, he remarked to Time magazine that "We face an ecological crisis without any precedent in historical terms, (and that conclusion) is no longer a matter of any dispute worthy of recognition."

Gore's claim that other views are not "worthy of recognition" illustrates a certain closemindedness we don't need from a person in the business of political compromise. Even though Bush should get the blame for this country's current state of affairs, comments like Gore's make you wonder if Republicans don't have a point in whining about Congress.

Most reasonable people understand the need to reduce environmental waste. Americans can't indiscriminately pollute water, pump toxins into the air and deplete forests, while continually expecting the standard of living to increase.

But tough economic times make seriously moving toward a greener country a big step one that should be carefully considered before it is implemented. Right now, the only solutions lie in compromise and imagination.

As for the ultra-environmentalists and religious zealots who can't live with that: Lighten up; the end will be here soon enough. And don't worry, you won't miss it.

Vet med draws variety of applicants

Admissions based on background. career interests, communication skills

JANET SATTERLEE

If Fluffy needs to be declawed, a K-State veterinary medicine student can do it.

Michael Lorenz, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, said of the four years students spend in the veterinary medicine program, the final year is completely clinical.

Although students cannot specialize, Lorenz said, they can get an emphasis in exotic wildlife. equine, small animal or animal agriculture.

"Students are encouraged to get a general vet-med education so that they can get a background in mixed animal practices," Lorenz said.

Application to veterinary school must meet three qualifications. Lorenz said the admissions committee looks at academic preparation, areas of involvement in veterinary medicine, career-related activities and the student's background.

He said in the past year 500 applications were submitted, and 245 students who met the 2.8 minimum grade point average requirement and all prerequisites were selected for interviews.

The m admission "The faculty committee t h e n in the admitted clinical about 90 students sciences based on department their career are young, interests and communi- dedicated cation skills. and Prerequisites motivated." the program are RICHARD DE BOWES 70 hours of r e professional courses, including an emphasis in sciences and oral and written communication.

"About 50-60 percent of vet students complete a major part of their prerequisites at K-State, and the other students are transfer students," Lorenz said.

Of the 90 students in each class, Lorenz said, about 50 are Kansas residents, 25 are from Nebraska, and 15 are from the including North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming and Utah.

He said one to two students are chosen from areas such as Alaska and Puerto Rico. This leaves five to eight spaces available for students from any state.

One of the areas in which students get experience is clinical sciences.

Richard De Bowes, associate professor of clinical sciences, said students receive organized, supervised experience in clinical sciences during the fourth year of the program. During this, they rotate in eight six-week blocks.

At the end of that time, a student may repeat one block or go outside the clinical block to places such as Sea World or a zoo to receive additional training.

De Bowes said students have the opportunity to work with client-owned animals, which make up 95 percent of clients at the Veterinary Medicine Hospital.

He said students work in nursing care, decision-making and communication. Students assist in surgery and are supervised by a veterinarian, De Bowes said. Students discuss procedures before doing surgery, but they north central United States, don't always have lab experience," De Bowes said.

Declawing cats and having pets spayed or neutered are procedures students learn in lab and perform most often. De Bowes said.

K-State has a unique program that attracts many students, he

"The faculty in the clinical sciences department are young, dedicated and motivated," De Bowes said.

Compared to 10 years ago, now many faculty in the department are certified in specialized areas. Students can be trained in such specialized areas ophthalmology and equine surgery, De Bowes said.

Lorenz said students from other states who have schools with veterinary programs are paying out-of-state tuition to come to K-

Other benefits of K-State's program are seminars on additional educational opportunities and veterinary clubs to join.

"There are clubs that bring in speakers to help students learn things you're not going to learn from a book," said Sally Meyer, first-year student in veterinary medicine.

Volunteers get more than lions, tigers and bears

Sunset Zoo docent program educates public

DAN GRAFEL

Maxine likes to give hugs. "She likes to wrap around you, but you have to be careful about that," said Kevin Swan of Sunset

Swan, junior in veterinary medicine technology, is a zoo docent.

Zoo's 9-foot, 25-pound snake.

The volunteer program was established in 1981 to help the zoo teach the public about zoos and animals, said Schanee Johnson, zoo curator of education.

Johnson said many of the volunteers are K-State students.

"Many of our volunteers are prevet or wildlife management majors who feel like they are interested in exotics and come out to get a feel for it," Johnson said. After a 10-week training course, docents guide tours, teach children's classes and care for some animals.

"You won't come in and feed the tigers," Johnson said. "It's mostly about teaching."

Johnson said the volunteers also help with the Animal Ambassador program in which animals make public appearances during community events.

Zoo life isn't the only thing volunteers learn.

"Not only does it teach you specifics about zoos and animals, but also about animal behavior in general," Swan said.

He has been in the program since January.

Kris Owen, junior in geography, said she started feeding birds of prey after her training, and now she cares for other small animals.

"It's a really good way to meet people in the community," Owen said. "I'm really glad I got involved."

Classes will be offered Tuesday. Wednesday and Thursday nights starting Sept. 29, Johnson said.

Murphy Brown blasts back at Dan Quayle

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

heard news footage of Quayle's speech, and said in exasperation,
"I'm glamorizing single glamorizing single motherhood? What planet is he on? Look at me, Frank. Am I glamorous? ...

"And what was that crack about 'just another lifestyle choice?' ... I didn't just wake up one morning and say, 'Oh, gee, I can't get in for a facial so I might as well have a

Frank, her co-worker (Joe Regalbuto), tries to calm her. "Murph! It's Dan QUAYLE! Just forget about it!" But then the phones began to ring from newspapers around the country. "What is this, a slow news day?" Murphy asks. "Just tell them to go find another story! No such luck, Murphy

Quayle, who said Monday's would be the first "Murphy Brown" he's watched, contends his original remarks were intended as "a wakeup call to the deadbeat dads of America" but were distorted by Hollywood "as criticizing single women and single mothers.

The war of words flared again this month at the Emmy Awards presentation, when "Murphy Brown" picked up three Emmies.

"I would like to thank the vice president," said Bergen, who won as best comedy actress, "and I would like to thank the television academy and the members of the cultural elite.'

"Murphy Brown" creator Diane English, accepting the best series award, thanked "all the single parents out there who, either by choice or necessity, are raising their kids alone. Don't let anybody tell you you're not a family.'

Quayle responded the next day: "They said I attacked single mothers. That is a lie. They said that I believe single mothers and their children were not families. That is a lie.'

While chances are slim that Quayle will become a "Murphy Brown" regular, and slimmer yet that he will bury the hatchet with Hollywood — something he has insisted he will never do - Quayle tuned in Monday night with several single mothers at the apartment of a woman who raised her sister's children alone.

weekend, Last Quayle announced that "in the spirit of lightheartedness and joining in the fun," he had sent Murphy's "baby" a gift - a stuffed toy elephant and a note.

Get A Little Personal with a KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN Personal Classified Kedzie Hall 103

8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday FAT Tuesdays Every Tuesday at ...

and

New Cassette

New

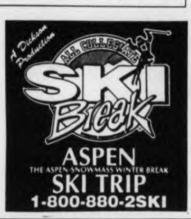

New & Used CD's. Tapes, LP's. We Buy, Sell & Trade

1131 Moro Aggieville 539-3160

11-8 Mon-Sat 12-5 Sun

Hansen HN Nutrition Center "YOUR HEALTH FOOD SUPER MARKET" 3112 ANDERSON AVE. ACROSS FROM VILLAGE

PLAZA 537-4571 "DIET CURES WHAT DIET CAUSES"

The Muslim Cummunity Association Invites You to Attend the Second Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM: Part II: ARTICLES OF FAITH. Presented by Hisham Hidmi

President of MCA. Tuesday, September 22, 7:30-8:30 pm; at Kansas Sate Union, Room 212. (Refreshments will be served) For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

Godfather's V 1118 Laramie • 539-5303

BIG VALUE PIZZA LARGE

Original Crust Pizza. Not valid with Sunday FREE Dinks. Limited ery area and times. Add $1 for delivery. Expires 10-11-92.

LUNCH BUFFET

ALL YOU CAN EAT

Pizza • Breadsticks • Pasta • Dessert

dfather's | ADD A SALAD ONLY 60¢ EACH Valid Manday thru Friday: 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. Dine-in only

ROYAL PURPLE

Mancinelli's Ristorante Italiano

OPEN 5-10 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 5-9 p.m. Sunday

Authentic Italian Recipes Cooked To Order

This Week's Specials

★ Steak & Pasta $5.95 $5.95 * Shrimp & Pasta

★ Sherry Chicken Alfredo $5.95 (with Fettucine Pasta) $5.95

All You Can Eat Spaghetti & Meatballs $3.95

All Dinners Served With Tossed Salad & Breadsticks

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

CAREERS IN

Payless ShoeSource is committed to excellence in retailing. We're the nation's largest self-service footwear retailer, selling over 15% of all footwear sold in the United States, and operating over 3400 Payless ShoeSource Stores nationwide. Our high standards of excellence have resulted in profit performance and growth unequaled in the industry. Continuing the unparalleled growth, over 300 new stores will be opened in the next year.

This growth has created outstanding opportunities at our corporate headquarters for high potential Business, Computer Science and Industrial Engineering majors (Bachelor's and Master's). We offer the fast-track Corporate Management Associate program and a compensation package competitive with any industry.

Investigate a career in retailing. Talk to an industry leader see if the shoe fits!

We will be interviewing at the Placement Office on Thursday, October 15. For further information about career opportunities at Payless ShoeSource, visit the Placement Office on campus. Resumés must be submitted to the Career Placement Center by September 24.

Payless ShoeSource

3231 East 6th, Topeka, KS 66607 AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER M/F A division of The May Department Stores Company

Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30

Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1

Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

UCLA

Ohio St.

Florida

Virginia

Nebraska

11

12

13

14

Clemson

Syracuse

Georgia

Stanford

Oklahoma

16

17

18 19

Spikers sweep Drake

Cats victorious in 2nd straight match; Dau, Saxton lead way

BRIAN ANDERSON

K-State's non-conference schedule is up to 5-6 after winning its second consecutive volleyball match, this time against the slumping Drake Bulldogs

The Cats won three games at Ahearn Field House 15-12, 15-3 and 15-12.

"The non-conference schedule was successful," Coach Patti Hagemeyer said. "It has been very challenging."

The Cats will spend the next two weeks against four Big Eight teams. K-State battles Kansas, Iowa State. Missouri and Oklahoma.

The top performer for the Cats was setter Chi Dau. She had 42 assists, one short of the record set in 1990. Day has come close to breaking records in assists this season.

"I would like to be at this level consistently," Dau said. "I would like to break a record and then keep on breaking it."

Kathy Saxton led the offense with 11 kills. Stephanie Liester and Jill Dugan connected with nine kills, and Heather Zoemer had six kills.

Other than the third game, when the Bulldogs jumped out to a 3-0 lead, the K-State defense didn't allow Drake to have a lead of more than three points.

The two teams were knotted in the first game at 2, 4, 6 and 8 points. Drake went up 11-8 on two Wildcat errors. K-State tied them at 11 with kills from Suzanne Hagge and Zoerner and eventually won the game.

The Cats rolled in the second game in a 15-3 romp. The closest the Bulldogs got was 1-1. From there, the Cats outscored Drake 14-2.

With Dau serving at 7-3, the Cats scored their last eight points.

Once K-State was able to tie game three at 3, neither squad had more than a two-point advantage over the opposing side. The Cats were down 10-12 when Liester recorded a kill to pull the Cats within one. Kathy Wylie came off the bench to even the score.

The Bulldogs didn't get the ball again. A solo block from Dugan gave K-State the lead, and a kill from Saxton and an illegal hit by Drake finished the game, giving K-State the match with a 15-12 win.

"It was the easiest and most fun match of the season," Hagemeyer said. "The girls had control of the court from beginning to end. They didn't feel

K-State relaxes for a week as it prepares for Kansas Sept. 30 at home.

Stephanie Liester, K-State outside hitter, makes a dig during the final game of the Wildcats' threegame sweep of Drake University last night in Ahearn Field House.

COLUMN

Washington 2

Florida St.

Texas A&M

Michigan

COLLEGE TOP 20

Alabama

Penn St.

Colorado

Tennessee

Winning is not the only thing

A strange thing happened salary. What a deterrent. during the weekend of Sept. 5, the opening weekend of the National Football League - humanity took precedence over a game in

The American culture loves the world of sports. Sometimes, entirely too much.

The vicious hurricane that raged through southern Florida at the end of August left thousands homeless. Even more were without food and water.

The season opener for the Miami Dolphins was scheduled for Sept. 6 at Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami. The stadium, however, was being used as a base for relief organizations that aided the shackled citizens of Florida.

The game was postponed. Many Dolphin players, including quarterback Dan Marino, spent their Sunday afternoon distributing food and beverages to storm victims rather than throwing around a piece of leather in front of 65,000 screaming fans.

In fact, Dolphin linebacker John Offerdahl, who owns three bagel stores in Miami, worked through the night of Aug. 25 baking bagels for the victims.

But don't be deceived -Marino and Offerdahl are two roses in a batch of thorns.

"Winning isn't everything it's the only thing."

Unfortunately, the sporting world is taking Bart Staar's immortal words to heart.

Multimillionaire Raghib "Rocket" Ismail of the Canadian Football League's Toronto Argonauts was recently disciplined by the CFL. After having a tough day statistically, of course - he repeatedly kicked a member of the Calgary Stampeders.

in two catches and lost five yards in his only carry. His team, the defending CFL champs, was on its way to its seventh loss in 10 games, and the Rocket was releasing some heated frustration.

He kicked a guy in the head.

Repeatedly. The Rocket was ordered to donate $10,000 to the charity of his choice or sit out a game and pay $1,000.

No kidding. With a guaranteed salary of more than $18 million, that 10 grand is less than 1 percent of his

"He should be in the top five at scored the way he should have,"

Don't try to tell me the world of athletics isn't taken too seriously.

Last Thursday night, the Cincinnati Reds won a tight baseball game against the Atlanta Braves. Cincinnati manager Lou Piniella chose not to bring in his ace closer, Rob Dibble, to pitch the ninth, but used lesserknown Steve Foster instead.

Following the contest. Piniella was asked why he chose to keep Dibble on the bench.

ROCK Piniella s a i d

Dibble was nursing a sore shoulder. When asked about the injury, however, Dibble said he was fine.

Eventually, the two had a confrontation, and a clubhouse ruckus began.

Piniella charged Dibble and repeatedly called him a liar. Dibble told Piniella he was full of it. The two wrestled feverishly before order was restored. And all because of a game.

From Cal Ripken's recent fiveyear, $32.5-million contract, to Kansas City Chief Neil Smith's taunting of Houston Oiler Al Del Greco - "Hey, Pee Wee" - it is all too obvious that, for too many folks, winning is indeed the only

I participated in a 5K run this summer back home in Kansas He had racked up just 18 yards City. A 2K run followed, and I chose to jog in that as well.

I passed a pair of pint-sized runners - two little girls, probably no more than 10 years old - and I couldn't help but overhear their breathless conversation.

"Please don't beat me," the first girl said between huffs and

"Mom said it doesn't matter who wins," her friend gasped. "As long as we do our best." It was so simple back then.

Why does it have to be any

SPORTS DIGEST

▶ BO KNOWS HOW TO HELP

RESERVE, La. (AP) -When Hurricane Andrew ripped through Corey Ruffin's house last month, one of the things he was saddest about losing was his Bo Jackson baseball card.

That sadness turned to delight and disbelief, however, when a Federal Express package arrived at East St. John High School.

Ruffin, a sophomore noseguard, was in a team meeting Thursday when the principal interrupted to give him the package. Inside was a letter from Jackson, an autographed baseball, a photograph, a Jackson rookie card and an autographed Louisville Slugger bat.

The bat reads: "Hold your head up, everything is gonna be alright."

In the letter, Jackson urged Ruffin to keep his grades up and hang in there. Jackson also included his address so Ruffin could write to him. "I'm just shocked," Ruffin said.

▶ ROYALS THROW 4-HIT SHUTOUT

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Luis Aquino, Bill Sampen and Jeff Montgomery combined on a four-hitter to give Kansas City a 3-0 victory over Seattle Monday night for the Mariners' 16th loss

Kansas City's George Brett, needing 11 hits to reach 3,000 for his career, went 0 for 4 against Dave Fleming (15-10), who lost his sixth straight decision despite pitching an eight-hitter for his sixth complete game.

GIANTS BEAT BEARS FOR 1ST WIN

CHICAGO (AP) - The New York Giants finally found a remedy for a leaky defense that gave up the most points in the NFL in the season's first two weeks.

touchdowns, and Stephen Baker catching seven passes for 109 yards, the Giants reverted to the ball control formula that won them a Super Bowl two seasons ago.

Keep it off the field. New York beat the Chicago Bears 27-14 Monday night for With Phil Simms throwing their first win of the season. for 220 yards and two

Men take 4th in weekend tourney

Young women's squad battles weather, inexperience, takes 13th in field of 15

KRISTEEN YOUNG

The men's golf team finished seventh in a 24-team field, and the women's squad placed 13th out of 15 teams in weekend tournaments.

The men opened their season in Colorado Springs, Colo., at the three-day Falcon Invitational. They were in the top third of the schools.

"It was a big tournament as far as ramifications for playing in the NCAA tournament," Coach Mark Elliott said of postseason play. "We were happy to beat Wichita State and UTEP (University of Texas-El

The Wildcats met some tough conference competition. In fact, the University of Colorado and KU finished in the top two positions.

But Elliott said K-State's team was satisfied with its solid play. 'We've made a lot of strides.

Last year, when we shot an 84 or 85, that was bad," he said. "Now a 77 or 78 is considered bad. That shows improvement."

Richard Laing, who tied for 12th in the 120-golfer competition. And Elliott said he expects more Elliott said. He isn't the only one who expects a lot of Laing. The senior has also been recognized nationally. Monday, Elliott learned that Laing received honorable mention all-American in a preseason poll by Golf Week magazine.

The women's team was up against an all-American golfer this weekend also. However, Renee Heiken of Illinois wasn't the toughest competition for the team. K-State's top finisher was senior

The Wildcats struggled against both the weather and their own inexperience, but Assistant Coach Len Johnsen said they just need every tournament. I don't think he "The team we have right now is very young, and each tournament is a learning experience," Johnsen "Their scores are very good > when they are playing qualifying rounds against each other, but that is in a relaxed atmosphere. Tournaments are so much pressure for young players," he said. The other factor the Wildcats > faced didn't help any of the other teams either. Sunday's final round was delayed, and eventually canceled, by rain. K-State had a disappointing first > round but had come back in the second to place seventh for the round on Saturday, Johnsen said.

Labrador heads to clay court nationals

FRANK KLEEMANN

Newcomer Susana Labrador is the first player of K-State's tennis team to take the court this fall.

The Barcelona, Spain, native is the lone Cat to play at the ITA National Clay Championships at Richmond, Va. She enters the tournament today in the qualification rounds.

At the time of departure Sunday,

Coach Steve Bietau said Labrador's opponent was unknown since the pre-qualifications were played up until Monday.

Bietau said Labrador, a 1990 NJCAA all-American at Tyler Junior College, improved during the last two-and-a-half weeks of practice, but she is still not playing at her best. As a result of the lack of extensive playing time, not playing in the pre-qualifications might turn out as a disadvantage.

"Starting playing in the qualification round has the good side of being there," Bietau said. "But the bad side is that she doesn't get to warm up. It would be nice for her to get a game or two to get used to the surface."

However, the surface switch from hard court in Manhattan to clay in Richmond will have little influence on Labrador's play. "Susana is an aggressive player suited to hard court play," Bietau said, "But she is a strong player who knows what to do on clay."

Labrador, who transferred from Brigham Young this year to play her senior campaign at K-State, said the clay surface will not be the decisive factor for her in order to advance to the main draw.

"It's the first time I've played at the nationals on clay, but I grew up on clay courts," she said. "I know the playing level will be high. I'll concentrate on my game and try to win one game at a time."

Bietau said he is also confident that Labrador can reach the next round, starting Thursday.

"Matches on the national level are competitive. The more she plays, the better she'll be," he said. 'If she plays well, she can play in the main draw."

CAMPUS

Judging teams get practical experience

DIANE DENISON

decisions.

Collegian Members of K-State's judging teams have had to overcome the fear of making unpopular skills, Communication leadership development, making decisions after careful analysis and justifying those decisions are some of the benefits of being on one of the six College of Agriculture livestock judging teams.

Judging dates back to 1896, when Kansas State Agricultural College's Board of Regents approved livestock judging. The teams judge beef cattle, sheep, hogs and sometimes horses.

Other teams formed include dairy, 1910; poultry, 1921; meats, 1927; dairy products, 1928; wool, 1950; and the horse team in 1980.

"The hidden values of livestockjudging training are extremely valuable to the students after graduation from KSU," said Don Good, judging coach from 1948 to 1965 and professor emeritus of animal sciences and industry.

"The track record of the students is exceptional. Former team members range from heads of multinational corporations to leaders in political areas throughout the country.'

Scott Schaake, assistant professor of animal sciences and industry, now coaches the livestock team. Team members begin during practicing winter intersession and practice 18 hours a week during school.

Members must take Principles of Livestock Selection, but they don't have to be in the College of Agriculture.

'We have an open-door policy. Any student interested in judging, we'd love to have them," Schaake said. "We don't cut anyone from the team. We encourage everybody

At contests, five people make up

Wednesday Nite Out

Every lady shoots free with one playing partner! Great date idea!

1315 Laramie 539-4323 Banana Ba

Great Tasting Early Bird Specials!! Sun.-Thurs. 4-7 p.m. Grilled Tuna Steak ......$4.95 Chicken Cordon Bleu ..... $5.45 Sauteed Liver & Onions...$4.45 6oz. Sirloin Steak ......$5.45

Above specials served with your choice of potato or rice, salad bar & rolls.

Try These Fabulous "All-You-Can-Eat" Buffets

Friday Night-Seafood $13.95 Saturday Night-Prime Rib $13.95

Remember!-Every Sunday 9:30-1:30 $4.95 Clyde's Sunday Breakfast Buffet

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome

U.S. questions servicemen's whereabouts

No evidence of U.S. soldiers still being held in Russia, POW commission says

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW - The American cochairman of a joint POW commission urged Russia on Monday to flatly declare that it is no longer holding American servicemen Malcolm Toon said he had no evidence that American POWs were alive in the Soviet Union. He acknowledged that an aide to his Russian co-chairman, reformist historian Gen. Dmitri Volkogonov, said that Russia had no live American POWs. But that statement, he said, "wasn't sufficiently specific."

"Above all I want a clearer statement from the Russian government that there is no live American POW held in detention in Russian facilities," Toon, a former U.S. ambassador to Moscow, told Toon issued the demand at the start of a weeklong meeting in Moscow of the Russian-American Bilateral Commission on POWs.

Both sides have praised the panel, formed in March by President Bush and Russian President Boris Yeltsin, for fostering cooperation among the former Cold War adversaries. But so far it has produced little, other than a list of several dozen U.S. civilians trapped in the Soviet Union after World War II.

The commission "must start producing results, because the American public is getting awfully impatient," Toon said. Members of POW organizations and the American Legion complained last summer about the lack of progress,

"The feeling back home is that this exercise is not doing very much," he said.

Investigators are studying KGB and Communist Party files and pursuing tips from Russians who claim to have seen or known Americans in Soviet prison camps,

Toon said he doubted any Americans who fought in World War II are still in the former Soviet Union, but that the commission might find information about Americans caught spying during the

He said he had seen no evidence of any living American POWs in the former Soviet Union, but that he could not say definitively there weren't any. He declined to estimate how many Americans might have been held by the Pentagon says Homecoming left some behind

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - Two of Richard Nixon's Pentagon chiefs told a congressional panel Monday that the government believed American airmen were left alive in Laos, and not returned at the end of the Vietnam War. Separate testimony by Melvin Laird and James Schlesinger, both of whom served as President Nixon's secretary of defense two decades ago, supported conclusions by leaders of the Senate investigating committee that not all Americans came home at the war's

"I think it's quite extraordinary when two former secretaries of defense both give evidence documenting that they had information, or they believed personally, that people were alive and not accounted for in Operation Homecoming, " said Sen. John Kerry, D-Mass., chairman of the Select Committee on POW-MIA

"They have acknowledged publicly that there was evidence people did not come back who should have, that they were held prisoner to the best of our knowledge, " Kerry said.

Laird and Schlesinger appeared as the panel began its first underoath, public questioning of the highest ranking officials of the Nixon administration about their efforts to win release of American

Henry Kissinger, Nixon's national security adviser and secretary of state who conducted the negotiations with the North Vietnamese, was scheduled to

Kansas receives 30 percent of lottery's millions

When someone wins the lottery, the state wins, too.

The Kansas Lottery has given $107 million to Kansas since its start in 1987.

Of the total lottery funds, 30 percent go to the state. This amount is then divided, giving 90 percent to economic development and 10 percent to prison construction.

Hundreds of businesses received lottery money from the economic Johnson, informational writer for the Lottery.

Johnson said Dispensing Technologies Inc., based in Manhattan, received more than $13,000 for a pharmaceutical dispensing machine.

Prisons in El Dorado and Ellsworth were also recently built with state money from the Lottery, Johnson said.

The actual prize fund for players receives just more than 50 percent development fund, said Bertie of the money generated. The Television Show." remaining amount is for administrative expenses.

Kansas legislators decide the percentages and distribution of the Kansas Lottery fund.

"All break-up is by statute," Johnson said.

In honor of its fifth year, the Lottery will have a second "$100,000 Birthday Game

Tonneau Covers

Boat Covers

Window Tinting

Convertible Tops

Complete Auto, Truck

& Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane

(between Wal-Mart and K-Mart)

Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Phone 776-7679 Res. 776-7614

Johnson said the birthday game show gives contestants more chances to win, Johnson said. In order to enter the drawing to become one of six contestants, three "ENTRY" words must appear on a ticket. Tickets can be purchased at usual local lottery ticket dealers.

The birthday show will air at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 7, from the Kansas names will be chosen to win at Coliseum in Wichita.

The winning "ENTRY" tickets can be sent to any Kansas Lottery office and must be received by Oct. 30. Six names will be drawn on Oct. 31 for the contestant spots.

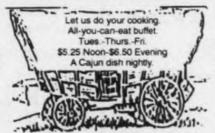

In addition to the birthday show, Kansas Lottery has incorporated a Watch & Win" segment. Of the "ENTRY" tickets sent in, 125

GOODSON AUTO TRIM CORKY'S SMOKEHOUSE AND CATERING

Sun. 11 a.m.-7 p.m. CLOSED MONDAY Tues.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-8 p.m.

Fri.-Sat.

11 a.m.-9 p.m.

3515 Hofman Ln. East of Manhattan on Hwy 24 beside Dick Edwards Ford

Slab of Ribs with Student ID

Buffet

EXPIRES 10-15-92 EXPIRES 10-15-92

Ellis Marsalis and Marcus Roberts Solo and Duo Presentations

Friday, September 25, 8 p.m.7

Danza Azteca de Anahuac

Two jazz stars take center stage for an evening of improvisation inspired by greats like Ellington, Monk, and Jelly Roll Morton. Tickets: $7.50-$15.

A "Music of the Americas" production of the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival Sunday, September 27, 3 p.m.* Witness a fire dance performed on glowing coals and the fascinating ceremonial dances of the Aztecs, Mayas, and Toltecs. Tickets: $7-$14.

Lend Me a Tenor Friday, October 23, 8 p.m.

Sneak behind the scenes of a gala opera for an evening of Marx Brothers-style shenanigans. The laughter is nonstop in this outrageous Tony Award-winning farce.

Tickets: $7-$18.

The Waverly Consort The Year 1492: Spanish Music in the Age of Columbus Saturday, October 31, 8 p.m. †

Ten brilliant singers and players trace the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim threads that form the fascinating fabric of Spanish culture. An illustrated pre-concert lecture at 6:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, K-State Union, is free and open to the public. Tickets: $7.50-$15.

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office on the Kansas State University campus, Manhattan. Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays; from 1 p.m. before weekend matinees; from 3 p.m. before weekend evenings. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, and ITR (Fort Riley). Persons with disabilities call 532-6428. Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Indowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

Supported by the Jeanne Wells Durkee Memorial Fund.

A Mid-America Arts Alliance program.

All performances are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

 $M \cdot C \cdot C \cdot A \cdot I \cdot N$

Intramural Wrestling Tournament Headlining

Entry: Rec Services Office at the Rec Complex.

Deadline: Thursday, September 24, 1992.

Don't Miss Out!

Enter at the Rec Services Office. 532-6980

SCHNAPPS

Sale items not included

12th & Laramie • Aggieville 539-5269

Promise of job, CIA connections lured ESU student

ASSOCIATED PRESS

GARNETT - The father of a young woman who disappeared in the company of an ex-convict last month said the 62-year-old man had conned her into believing almost anything he said.

Angela Benton, 20, returned home to Garnett after she and Walter Johnson were found last week at the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City, Kan. They had stopped there to seek medication for Benton's

They had met at the Christian Student Center on the Emporia State campus, where Johnson had obtained a part-time job after being paroled from prison in April.

The pair disappeared Aug. 21, triggering a nationwide search. Before being stopped by security guards at the medical center, they had been spotted just once, on Aug. 29, at a Stanton County farm in western Kansas. There, Johnson bought a van for $3,000, later admitting he used a bad check to pay for it.

After their return, officials found out that Johnson had told Benton he he pulled off.

was an agent from the Central Intelligence Agency, and had promised he could get her a CIA job to help her pay for college.

"He had her conned enough that she would believe almost anything," said Angela Benton's father, John Benton. "I think he promised her a lot of money in salary and things like this.'

He said his daughter was dumbfounded when she got back to Kansas and found out the truth about her 26-day odyssey. He said she even thought her parents had been informed of what was happening.

She was under the impression that we knew about this," he said. "She thought we had given our blessing to the whole thing.

Johnson remains at the Wyandotte County Jail in Kansas City, Kan., where he is being held for violating his Kansas parole stemming from an auto theft conviction in 1984.

In a telephone interview with The Kansas City Star, Johnson insisted that Benton went with him willingly, but also admitted the ruse

DARREN WHITLEY/Collegian

Elementary level

Lee Feaster, junior in landscape architecture, practices with a surveyor's level while classmate Dwight Schinstock, junior in architectural engineering and architecture, waits during their elementary surveying class Monday afternoon.

Mexico, Vatican re-establish diplomatic relations

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MEXICO CITY - The overwhelmingly Roman Catholic nation of Mexico on Monday restored diplomatic relations with the Vatican that were severed 125 years ago during a crackdown against the church.

The announcement late Sunday night crowned years of gradual

Birkenstock

Colors, sizes & styles for everyone

Repair service available

Olson Shoe Service

K- State Union

Aggieville

539-8571

improvement in relations. It was a state that has no armies, no milestone for a country whose revolutions in the 19th and 20th centuries targeted church power and made repression of the clergy official policy.

"We are now at peace," said Roman Catholic Bishop Genaro

He said Mexico would benefit from relations with the Vatican, "a eptember 14 - 27

20% Off selected stadium items

☐ Help create a Sea of Purple with the new KATS T-shirt available now for $7

t-shirts, sweatshirts and caps

□ 20% Off any regularly priced solid purple

K-State Union

☐ $5 for selected caps

Bookstore

economic power, but the moral power to speak out and say what is the part of Mexico.'

Historian Enrique Krauze called it "an act of political maturity on

FREE DELIVERY (Minimum Order $9) Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge 1304 Westloop, Manhattan 539-0888 539-8888 DINING-IN COUPON 10% OFF when you present this coupon

DO YOU WANT YOUR LIFE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

MENNONITE CENTRAL COMMITTEE sceks qualified Christians who are committed to a lifestyle of caring, non-violence and peacemaking. 2-3 year positions are available in the US or overseas in many fields, including agriculture, medicine, education, social work and home economics.

A representative will be at the Agriculture Careers Fair in the Student Union Tues., Sept. 22

Mennonite Central Committee

For more information call Cia Verschelden 776-5589

Is Agribusiness in the 1990s an option for you?

Attend The

AGRIBUSINESS CAREERS FAIR

Tuesday, September 22

8:30 am - 3:30 pm

K-State Union Ballrooms

All students and faculty are invited to visit with representative from agribusiness firms and agencies about career opportunities and internships in marketing, communications, and services.

ROYAL KSU ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ENTREPRENEURS PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

GREAT

START

HERE

MEMORIES

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

!!!!!! REORGANIZATION MEETING !!!!!! TUES. SEPT.22 6:00 P.M. ROOM 18 CALUIN HALL

New member orientation & officer elections. Refreshments!!!

Miracle Legion ready to drench

Connecticut band survives changes, comes back for more

TED KADAU

A little folk and a little of the alternative, Miracle Legion will come to Aggieville in support of its new album "Drenched."

Together since 1984, the New Haven, Conn., band has fought to make a name for itself after springing from a city best known for Yale University, and musically known for little more than pop icon Michael Bolton.

The band itself has gone through rather vast changes over the years. These include evolving from a four-man lineup in 1984, then in 1989 surviving on the musical talents of only the two founding members, Ray Neal and Mark Mulcahy.

Three years ago, the band made another radical change - a rhythm section. "This is totally why 'Drenched' is such a complete album. It added so much and really makes the album strong. It was kind of strange. We had a huge audition, and they were the last two guys who walked in the door," said guitarist Ray Neal.

The band also experienced a test by fire with a recent change of record labels. When the original label Rough Trade went defunct, band members found themselves in the arms of major label Morgan

"In actuality, we left Rough Trade, before they went under. We decided that there wasn't much more they could do for us, or that we could do for them. We were all very open about it. We shopped around and ended up at Morgan Creek," Neal said.

"It really was unfortunate for other bands that were on the Rough Trade label, though. It was a big blow to the independent world," he said.

"Drenched" has been critically acclaimed by Spin magazine, the Chicago Tribune and the Alternative Press.

"We're very proud of the album in general. We finally got to do a lot of things artistically that we have wanted to do for a long time," Neal said.

IN CONCERT

■ Miracle Legion will play at 10 p.m. Thursday at Brothers

5 tough questions for a lonely truck-stop band

"It would be able to fly to

TED KADAU

Recently, I got the chance to talk to

Q: I realize that most bands hate to put a label on their style of music. However, if a gun were placed to your Ray: To tell you the truth, I don't really know. To me, most of the terms that are used really don't make that much sense.

attitude, and so on? Ray: We've moved in very different younger and first starting out, I had no plans to make this a career. It twists and turns, and just sort of took on a life of its own. There are times when we are playing when I look out at all the

Q: Miracle Legion has gained quite a bit of success over the years. If it were to suddenly break hard, mass fame and all that fine stuff, how do you feel it would affect the band and its us at all. It would be nice to be able to fly to a show rather than riding there in a van. Success would be great, but in a positive light. I have no real desire for fame. It can be a bad thing. I've seen

Q: The inside cover of your new album "Drenched" is rather unique - poems and photos of the type that lend themselves to the darker side of life. How did these works come about?

riots in Los Angeles began.

Q: Being from New Haven, have you had the chance to play any of those own walls. I'm more a townie person. I just never felt like a Yale type.

VIDEO REVIEW

BY CHRISTINA CARBAJAL

▶ PRINCE OF TIDES

The movie "Prince of Tides" offers excellent performances from Nick Nolte and Barbara Streisand, not to mention the supporting Nolte plays Tom Wingo, who has to leave his South Carolina home and travel to New York City so he can help his sister, Savannah, recover from her latest suicide attempt.

Wingo meets Savannah's psychiatrist, Dr. Lowenstein, played by Streisand, and he becomes the key to helping his sister remember their past and why it is so disturbing.

As Wingo sifts through their childhood, he discovers why their family is trying so hard to forget the past and how this denial is affecting his adult life and his relationship with his family.

In addition to his remembering his past, he also falls in love with Lowenstein, which helps him take a look at himself and see why he is so

Streisand expertly directs the actors and draws an outstanding performance from Nolte is a perfect mixture of boyish charm and the sadness of a man who has not resolved the conflicts that are bubbling inside of him. As for the supporting cast, Kate Nelligan shines as Lila Wingo Newbury, Wingo's Nelligan shows her versatility when she portrays a beautiful and smart younger mother, who deals with their violent father and tries to keep the family together.

Then, she continues her portrayal as she tries to get along with the adult Wingo, despite all the conflicts raging in the family.

Overall, the movie is excellent, though for some viewers it may run a little long at 131 minutes.

The performances, however, make up for it.

Portraits

taken for...

nice to be a show rather than ride in a van."

RAY NEAL

Ray Neal, Miracle Legion guitarist. Neal called me from a pay phone "in a truckstop somewhere between Chicago and Minneapolis."

head, how would you describe yours?

Q: What can you tell me about the evolution of the band, musically, directions over the years. When I was people and am still totally amazed.

Ray: I would hope it wouldn't affect Ray: All from Mark (Mulcahy, lead singer). This is probably our darkest album to date. We just wanted to tell everyone that history is not going to end. Bad things could still happen. It was strange also that the first day of our tour last spring was the same day the Ivy League schools?

Ray: We've never played at Harvard, however, we have played at Yale a few times. It was odd. It's not like other college towns where there's a thriving music scene. Yale is behind its

Church finally rights witchhunt wrongs

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SALEM, Mass. Three hundred years after they were excommunicated and executed, two victims of the Salem witchcraft hysteria were readmitted to their church.

"It's supposed to be the start of a healing process," said Edward Gwin, a member of the First Church in Salem.

He helped organize a vote among the Unitarian church's members Sunday that unanimously favored readmitting Rebecca Nurse and Giles Corey.

"We're trying to make more out of Salem than just that this is where the witches are tried. We're trying to make something positive out of t," Gwin said.

The gesture drew to a close commemorations of the 300th anniversary of trials in which 19 people were hanged. The last executions were Sept. 22, 1692.

Nurse, described as a devout, longtime member of the church, was hanged July 19, 1692. Corey died Sept. 19, 1692, when stones were piled on his chest to force him to confess he was a witch.

> Both were excommunicated from the church, which was "Being a deeply religious person, the excommunication might have been worse than hanging," said one of Nurse's descendants, Helen Bridges of Spring Hill, Fla.

Educational Opportunity Fund Applications Due September 25, 1992 by 5 p.m. in SGS Office.

Funds are allocated to University Departments & Units for: -Academic scholarships and fellowships for graduate and undergraduate students.

-Need-based grants including students with special expenses or students historically underrepresented in higher education. -Salaries for students participating in public service programs. Salaries for students employed in campus student services

Applications available in SGS office Union Courtyard 532-6541

Music reviews and more OLLEGIAN

Kappa Alpha Psi Sept. 22

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

pointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

1116 Moro

537-0886 11 a.m.-1 a.m.

This coupon good for Moo Goo Gai Pan $3.75

Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

Dine-in & carryout

(Minimum order $9)

FREE DELIVERY MENU

Mini-Rappelling

September 26-27

Experience the thrill of rappelling! Trip Includes: Demonstration, use of rappelling equipment,

& refreshments Sign-Up Now in the UPC Office, Union 3rd floor

Riley. The lake provides swimming, fishing, & good times.

Sign-up Begins: Friday, Sept. 25 - UPC Office, 3rd floor Union

Info Meeting: Thursday, Sept. 24, Union 206, 7 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY, 7 & 9:30 p.m., Forum Hall & FRIDAY, 7 p.m., Little Theatre

THE KANSAS CITY Renaissance Festival

> September 26, 1992 10 a.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Price: $16 Trip Includes: Round trip transportation & admission to the festival

Sign-up today! UPC Offece, 3rd Floor Union

TALENT SHOW

Now is your chance to show off your talent & win some great prizes!

Sept. 24 & 25, Noon Union Station

> Sign-up Now! UPC Office 3rd floor Union

Bush says Clinton not telling the 'whole truth'

"Let him level with the American people. It's not going to go away."

GEORGE BUSH

President says opponent's draft issue not going away

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK - Trying to exploit questions about Bill Clinton's draft history, President Bush said Monday his Democratic rival "has not told the truth, the whole truth, nothing but the truth" about how he avoided military service during the Vietnam War.

'Let's let him level with the American people," Bush said. "It's not going to go away."

Bush's comments, in a radio interview, were his most pointed remarks yet on Clinton and the draft.

Bush strategists see the draft issue as a good way to raise doubts about character Clinton's trustworthiness, shifting attention from the Democrat's focus on the poor state of the economy under Bush.

But a new ABC News-Washington Post poll released Monday suggested record is not an important consideration for most voters.

Only 16 percent of 637 likely voters surveyed Sunday said that it would be an important factor in how they voted.

The president acknowledged that Americans have "a let-down feeling about me" because of the economy.

He said the entire world is experiencing economic problems and blamed Americans' anxiety about the economy on news coverage focusing on a gloom and doom message.

As new polls showed Bush trailing Clinton even in traditionally Republican strongholds, the president stepped up the pace of his campaign, planning to sweep through six states for airport rallies Tuesday.

He'll visit Oklahoma, Texas,

Missouri, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana. On Wednesday, Bush will campaign in North Carolina and Pennsylvania.

Bush also attended a fundraiser Monday evening at a private residence on Park Avenue. White House spokeswoman Judy Smith said the that Clinton's handling of his draft event raised $1 million for the Bush-Quayle campaign.

Throughout the campaign, Clinton has given different accounts about how he avoided the military 23 years ago.

He obtained a draft deferment by agreeing to sign up for ROTC, but never actually joined the program. He later gave up the deferment and drew a high lottery number that never was called for the draft.

"I have a very different concept of public service ... a different concept of military service" than Clinton, Bush said in an interview with conservative commentator Rush Limbaugh.

"I'm sure I would never call the military immoral," Bush said.

He said there had been a total failure by Clinton to come clean with the American people on this very difficult question.

"I'm not trying to make a big deal out of it," Bush insisted.

Yet, he said, "There are still wolves in the woods and some day the commander in chief might have to make a very difficult decision.

Bush suggested that if presidential debates were held he would raise the subject of service to country.

Clinton dismissed Bush's remarks, noting that over the weekend he had picked up the backing of retired Adm. William Crowe, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff under Bush.

"Adm. Crowe has more credibility on truth-telling than President Bush," Clinton said.

He also said that back in February, when Bush was ahead in the polls, the president said Vietnam should not be an issue in this year's race.

Bush said that Clinton "ought to level with what happened on this and then elaborate on the letter that he wrote where he condemned the whole military as immoral and said that the only danger, only time he could see fighting would be if there was immediate danger, I think it was, I've got to paraphrase here, immediate danger to the shores of the United Clinton's campaign called on Bush to explain what he was talking about, saying Clinton had never said the things Bush quoted.

"Basically I think he ought to retract it," Clinton strategist James Carville said of Bush. The White House said it was trying to determine the source of the president's remark. Bush apparently was referring to a 1969 letter Clinton wrote to Col. Eugene Holmes, who was head of the University of Arkansas ROTC program in 1969 when Clinton sought to enroll as it appeared he might otherwise be drafted.

In that letter, Clinton called the draft system illegitimate and said that no government really rooted in limited, parliamentary democracy should have the power to make its citizens fight and kill and die in a war they may oppose, a war which even possibly may be wrong.

Asked about the endorsement of Clinton by Crowe, Bush said, "He and I differed on the war. ... He opposed me and he got up and testified while I was trying to mobilize the country behind the action I eventually had to take in Desert Storm."

Senate to decide fate of cable bill

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - A frequent ad on cable television channels shows a man holding an umbrella with rain pouring from the inside.

The message: If the government regulates cable television rates, you'll get soaked.

A competing ad, on broadcast stations, shows Americans at work and play as an announcer says:

"Congress just voted for a bill to control cable rates and guess what?

The cable companies don't like it. But consumer groups do, and so do senior citizens, blue-collar workers and thousands of Americans just like you and me.

"So if you see a commercial or receive mail attacking the cable bill, consider the source. Don't let the cable companies win by confusing the issue.

So far, cable's campaign to stop the bill to re-regulate the industry hasn't worked, but a vote scheduled Tuesday in the Senate could show otherwise.

supporters of the bill to show their That's when the Senate decides on the compromise legislation worked out by a House-Senate conference committee and approved 280-128 by the House last Thursday. The Senate is expected to approve the compromise, but President Bush has said he'd veto it for being heavy-handed with burdensome and unnecessary requirements on the cable industry. That puts added pressure on strength by getting a veto-proof margin on the Tuesday vote. A two-thirds majority of those voting is needed to override. That would be 67 if all 100 members vote.

Since the veto is assured. Democratic congressional leaders have agreed to hold Congress in session until noon Oct. 5 to provide time for an override attempt.

If successful, the override would be the first of a Bush veto. Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass.

and the bill's sponsor, said last week he had enough votes to do so, but Senate sponsors weren't so

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., rebuked cable's campaign against the bill, saying Monday, "They'll do anything they can to preserve their monopoly status.'

But, in a possible hint of override chances, he said, "If we run out of time in this Congress, we'll be back from day one next Congress."

ESSENTIALS

'Horny and Single' still a hot topic

Apparently, a sensitive issue was touched upon in my first column. People continue to write. Here are a few more.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

You have gotten so many negative comments about this Horny and Single guy that I decided to give you a positive one.

I agree with you totally.

Not only have I met men like this one, but tons of my friends have too, and they all end up with broken hearts. It seems to me that this type of man only cares for himself and his pleasure only - nothing else.

The girl he had been with may have totally fallen in love, but he'll just blow it off like it

As for the girls who disagree and are used to one-night stands, watch out. You may get the same reputation that Cassandra talked about Sept. 14: "If a guy goes out and beds a number of women in one night, he is considered a 'stud,' but if a woman does the same thing, she is considered a 'whore.'

P.S.: I really enjoy your column and the advice you give. Keep it up.

R.S., K-State freshman

DEAR CASSANDRA.

One of the curious beliefs that still exists, in spite of the women's movement, is the funny belief that if a guy spends money on a girl, on a date, she "owes him something" and that "something" usually means sexual favors. It has actually gotten worse in the last two to three decades, because the "favors" used to be as quaint as a goodnight kiss that lingered a bit longer or a nice hug to go with it. Now, it's horizontal and what all.

DAVID SWEARINGEN

Rather than go on a soapbox dervish of how this belief puts every woman into the category of "prostitute," I will simply offer to women the best way to totally eliminate the problem. Go

Always go dutch, or if its less clumsy, you Thanks for your comments. I feel better can "treat" as often as he "treats" you. If you pay your own way, he can't put that "feeling"

In my experience, I only had one guy object to this (the one I eventually married).

He said it made him feel funny.

I asked him, "Does it help to think that this way we can date more often?"

It did. The money strings can be braided and tied many ways. Think about it.

C.S., K-State student

I don't think I could have said it better myself. Thanks for some good advice.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

THE STRIP

THOSE ARE MUTTONCHOPS FEEL LIKE SUCH A HAM.

JIM DIKKERS

BILL WATTERSON

26 Sense Solution time: 24 mins. organ 30 Case in gram. 31 Saw socially 32 Corrida 33 They're off limits to dieters 35 Petty quarrel 36 Ann, to Abby

Something's going to knock your socks off Thursday.

KANSAS STATE Watch for it in the

CROSSWORD

prices

nobis

- pro

burdens

lobbying

Austen heroine

ACROSS 1 London slammer 5 Liver

40 Rise, as delicacy 9 Bridle part 12 Site of the Taj Mahal 13 Cuckoos 43 Hikers' 14 Commo-48 D.C.

15 Slanders an absent person 17 Camp 18 Thousands of years 19 Calf's 52 Jane neighbor? 21 Old-time cupboard 24 Some 25 Narrow officer mountain 4 Los Angeles team 5 Bread, in Brittany 6 Picnic pests

White

16 Hood or

49 Unreliable and Tails" 8 Made an witness 50 Jack and attempt Jill's tote 9 Supports 51 Lodge 10 Recording star Billy member 11 Capa-

53 Whirlpool DOWN lead-in 1 Run up 20 Katman du's land: the phone abbr.

EUGENE SHEFFER

2 Turkish 37 Intermedi-21 Bedouin ate, in law 22 Isinglass 38 Biblical 3 Grampus 23 Return by the same route

basketball Top combat pilots Coat or bow lead-27 French 7 "Top Hat, 28 Pearl Buck heroine 29 Plexus 31 Maneuver the basketball 34 Cote cious bag season

35 Mexican blanket 37 Chart 38 Actress

dweller

Lange 39 Evangelist Roberts 40 Confidence game 41 Gumbo

44 Intention 45 Worthless bounder 46 Nap or skin lead-in

47 Stallone's

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP DGGABLE FJFY JBJ HFC CEHYLHATHL

GD EGQLH FKJ EGYH? Yesterday's Cryptoquip: AT OUR PARTY, ALL THE BRIDGE PLAYERS ARE NOW EATING CLUB

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ perminute, touch-

Today's Cryptoquip clue: E equals H

CALVIN AND HOBBES

THIS IS JUST YOUR CLUMSY

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

KEDZIE

GET THE WORD OUT

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less — $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an established account with Student Publications. Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

HEADLINES For an extra charge, we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

FREE FOUND ADS

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day

the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only

As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge. for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

(consecutive day rate)

BULLETIN BOARD

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S Bond. College Scholar ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

ADVANCED FLIGHT Training. Multi-engine, ent. commercial ATP, CFI ratings. Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 evenings.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after

NEW INTERNATIONAL Youth Hostel opening between Wichita/ City. Junction $7.50 night, Stone Prairie Inn, Marion, KS 66861. Reservations (316)382-2746

UFM SCUBA Class Learn from the best Classes starting soon. Contact UFM 539-8763

Attention All Students
Undergrade & Graduates Over 58 Billiogrants & scholarships are now available for private sector & government sources is College Students rationwide. All students a stigibled Lat us help you locate the money hat you are eligible in cerview. Applications we now being accepted. To movive your uncied add program call:

Student Financial Service

(200 632-9900 F.

020 Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

FOUND: CAMERA with initials in Haymaker, Mon. Call 532-2462 to identi-

FOUND: MALE cat. North east Manhattan, 776-

FOUND: SMALL gray cat (short hair) corner of Plymouth and Concord

LOST: LARGE set of keys, Aggieville, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11:30p.m. 539-2017 leave mes-

Circle, 539-5132.

COLLEGAN CLASSIFIEDS

532-6556

030

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, three one, two, bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

NEWLY REMODELED threebedroom, two bath, one-half block from campus. No pets. 776-1340.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two two. bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Central air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, 537-8800

ONE BEDROOM basemen $240, bills paid, 539-8401

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT available Park Place. Spacious and nice, pool, laundry facilplus deposit. 539-1167

ONE-BEDROOM

APARTMENT located at 1960 Hunting. Close to campus with coin operated laundry facilities and fire-place. $410 includes water and trash. For appointment call

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1. SPACIOUS ONE-two-bed 776-3804.

room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with shower bath, 539-4087. TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment

$300, bills paid. 539-8401. 120 For Rent-

AVAILABLE NOW four-

bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672. TWO-BEDROOM HOUSE, two and one-half miles from Town Center on Highway 24. 776-1340.

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close

FURNISHED OR unfur-Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine No pets. 539-4087.

EMERGENCY! NEED two male roommates as soon as possible. One half block from cam pus. $155/ month. Cal after 5:30. 776-7794,

MALE ROOMMATE want one and a half bath ly-equipped kitchen in

ROOMMATE

ROOMMATE WANTED to share mobile home in Grandview Plaza. $160/

ROOMMATES WANTED two available rooms in Brittnay Ridge. All

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

000

BULLETIN

BOARD

100

HOUSING/

REAL

TIPS FOR WRITING A

Always put what item or service you Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for.

CLASSIFIED AD

are confused by abbreviations.

to city park and campus. Good neigh borhood. $62,900. 1

month plus one-half rooms furnished except

information

COUNTRYSIDE BROKER AGE 12x50 through 14x70 prices starting $3000, payments starting at $149.75, 10 per cent down, payment ed to share a three-bedroom apartment with brick complex. Call

537-7087 DES PERATELY needed to share very nice apartment close to campus Own room. Great room-mates! $200/ month

1-238-8897.

bedrooms. Males or fe males, 776-0589 TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facil ities and central air and heat. For more 776-3804. TWO FEMALES seek third roommate (male or fe-male) for house. $150/ month, one third of utilities, own room, Close to campus. 776-4247.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran tees. Please call Sandy 539–3229.

$10 AND up: professional cover resumes, letters, term papers, etc. Free editing. laser printing. 25 plus years experience. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

A B C typing service. You do studying let me do the typing. Reports, charts, graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary ahead, Go me a call. 537-9480 after 5p.m. ask

Jackie. A QUALITY resume is vital today's com petitive job market. Contact the coureous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving students and staff for over a decade 343 Colorado 537-7294. KSU-SALINA students/ staff. Hire a profes-sional to type, edit and laser- print you resumes, papers and presentations, Fast, Accurate. 823-6931. TYPING IN my home. Very reasonable rates. Call 539-7843. UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years for resumes, $1,25 dou

Janice 537-2203.

200

SERVICE

DIRECT-

ORY

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

300

EMPLOY-

CAREERS

CATEGORIES

looking for, the classified ads

have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

To help you find what you are

MENT/

Pregnancy

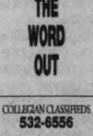

Same day results Call for appointment

GUITAR LESSONS- ex styles, 776-0685.

LOOKING FOR a male Gold en Retriever, AKC Reg-ister to mate. Call Gloria at 776-9890 leave

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years experience. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane Manhattan, Kansas 537-5049.

Friday

400

MARKET

TRANS-

PORTATION

OPEN

·Free pregnancy

Mon.-Fri.

HEALTH AND Insurance. Call us be fore buying the University Health Plan. Multi-line Agency. 555 Poyntz Suite 537-4661.

Testing Center 539-3338

9 a.m.-5 p.m.

5p.m. Monday through

Tim Engle

EMPLOYMENT

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution.

Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190 (913)232-0454 APPLICATIONS ARE being accepted for coordinator of FONE Crisis Center. Duties include publicity, volunteer recruitment and training, overseeing day- today operators, finances and are due by 5p.m. on Sept. 30.

and representing agen cy to various groups

Experience required. Flexible hours. Call 537-8063 after 5p.m. CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east coast nannies. NY, Conn., Long Island, NJ areas and Live-in one year commitments. $150 and up per week. Immediate placements.

terviews home. Easy! No sellin applications call (800)858-2429 You're (316)682-1735. rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. COMPUTER PROGRAM MER: The KSU Soil 801-379-2900. Testing Laboratory is looking for a student with programming experience to help grade our current daform other computer related services. 10 to 20 hours per week

EVENING AND weekend help. Cleaning stalls, feeding horses, minor maintenance, in exchange for housing. 494-2882 after 6p.m. HARDEES IN Aggieville is flexible hours. $4.50 to $5.50 per hour. Contact

Bryon Hopkins, 532-5776, M- F, 8-currently seeking moti vated individuals to fill full and part-time positions as delivery driv-ers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay starts at $4.25 an hour plus 25 cents for each delivery you make. Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year.

600

TRAVEL/

WE DO NOT

USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN

SONALS.

TRIPS

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. openings. Evening shifts hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 Anderson Avenue

PHONE

532-6555

532-7309

Suite

No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other shifts. Apply in person at Hardees in Aggieville.

lage Plaza). We are an equal opportunity

employer and we do

not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex age, national origin or disability.

(doo- wop) vocal

PEACE CORPS- Needed: A

CAREERS

degree or work experi-ence in health/ nutrition, education, agri culture or skilled trades for two- year international assignments Many benefits. Recruiter on your campus Sept. 23. Call 1-800-255-4121 for more information on activities or an application. Collegian urges our readers to WANTED: ALTERNATE for > group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Perform around state evenings and weekends. Good pay. 776-4999, 537-1741.

Applications are avail verify the financial po-tential of advertisements able in the SGS office in the Employment classification. Readers BARTENDERS WANTED:

are advised to ap-proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454 $200- $500 weekly Assemble products at

The Collegian cannot

Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financia obilgation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from designs. For more in-formation call free (800) 733-3265. EXPANDING BUSINESS in Poland. Looking for paid

337-2613 evenings. NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now. No willpower needed. Brand new just patented 100 percent natural, 100 percent guaranteed.

people with contacts. Prefer Bilingual, but not Doctor recommended.

Call (303)782-1081.

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL

$1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

FOR SALE OPEN

405 Wanted to Buy

MARKET

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always (Except holidays) Manhattan, Kan. 66506 buying Levi 501 jeans.

OR WRITE

Kedzie Hall 103

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

APPLE IIE, color monitor, software and books $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar $120.776-0872 COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business

Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville, 539-1413. GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets overcoats, new G. boots, sleeping bags Also CARHART workwear, Monday Saturday, 9- 5. Marys Surplus Sales St. Marys, KS

1-437-2734. MAGNAVOX 19-INCH color TV, remote, on screen, three-months. $200. TEAC four-head VCR remote, cable ready, excellent cond tion, $150, 486 IBM compatible, 33 MHZ, 130 MB, four-MB ram, .44 drives, DOS 5.0 Windows 3.1, mouse

modem, monitor SVGA, MoreSoftware $1500. 539-1590 Nassir STAIR- STEPPER for sale. One and one-half years old. Great Condition.

Ask for Judi, 776-8147

VERY LARGE drafting table for sale. Good condition. Four by six feet. $60, 539-1753 after

MINI BASEBALL Show, 10-4 on Sept. 27 at 1846 1/2 Hunting. 537-2616 539-7611.

TUTTLE'S ANTIQUE Mar ket has super antiques Tuttle Creek Blvd. 537 435 Computers for Macintosh comput ers. $175 or best offer Call anytime 539-9463 leave message. 45 Music Instruments

IMAGEWRITER II printer

GUITAR LESSONS: Pat Walleck, the blues brother you didn't see in the movie. Rick's Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900.

CHINCHILLA: ONE female baby left-$100 includes veterinary exam, food, two-story cage and accessories 1-494-2873 leave mes-

HOME NEEDED for two in-

sage.

SAMMY HAMSTER brand cages for hamsters, ger-bils, mice. One large or two small sets. Call Diane at 776-8021.

door cats. Can be sepa-rated. Free! Call

460 Steree

KENWOOD 10-DISC CD

changer with remote. Works with factory ster-eo $275. Two 10-inch Kicker subs in box with x-over $150. Both less than one year old. Must sell! 776-7848 leave

PARKING

OFFICE HOURS

8 a.m.-5 p.m.

SOUTH OF THE

TRANS-PORTATION

1980 VOLKSWAGON Rab bit. Good transm for parts- call 537-4355. 1981 HONDA Accord four door, beige, good con-dition. Lots of character. $950 539-2387 Ext.

1988 CUTLASS Calais, blue two-door, air, low tomatic, air, low mileage excellent condition, 539-2053. CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized Mercedes 1989 $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes

$100, 1965 Mustang

$50. Choose from thousands starting $25.

Free information

24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC 379-2929.

Mint condition, 8,500 miles. Always sheltered and pampered. Call 776-5538 or 537-1283.

1981 YAMAHA Virago 750

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Travel and Tour Packages

CHRISTMAS BREAK STEAMBOAT ECEMBER 12-18 - 5 & OR 7 HIGHTS MEAN 24-14 (87 MORS P VAIL/BEAVER CREEK BRECKENRIPG HARMY SALES ( OR 7 MORE )* 202 11th Ammual Colleguate WHYTER SALE 1-800-321-5911

620 Airplane

SAN JUAN Students

537-2491.

**Xmas Break** Airfare round trip from Kansas

City $457.20 call

Kansas State Travel

Ever wanted to have one of the really big parties where every K-State student shows up and has a good time making you the toast of the campus? 532-6555

Head shot

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Harold Kraus, chemistry department staff member, takes a blow to the head from Todd Searls, senior in English, during a swordfighting demonstration Monday afternoon in the K-State Union Plaza. The two are members of the Society for Creative Anachronism.

Students plead case with dean

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

here for their masters?"

At this, students shouted "yes" and claimed other programs were

A hearing-impaired student spoke in defense of the program.

"This program has provided me with a hearing aid," said Lindy Young, sophomore undecided. "It helped me tremendously with my speech. It is incredible that you would consider cutting this program, when it has a responsibility of helping people jobs," Nicholls said. such as myself."

Paul Patnode, who said he was considering entering the speech pathology program, asked Nicholls why a college would cut a degree in which plenty of jobs are available.

"Our highest priority is to educate students. It is not our highest priority to train students for

"I enjoy being a student, but I can't afford not to get a job," Patnode said, causing students to Pauline de Vaudreuil, who You can do it now.'

graduated with a degree in social work last May, said this situation reminded her of budget cuts six years ago.

"You are not being fair to these students," de Vaudreuil said. "There have got to be other ways to cut back. You did it during the other budget crunch six years ago.

Attorney says evidence not sufficient

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

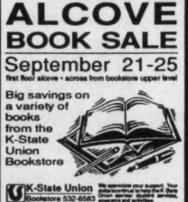

Mazour was to be arraigned Friday afternoon. But the charges were just before proceedings, and he was released from his bond about noon Friday.

Contradictory evidence and the fact that both parties had been drinking contributed to the decision, Kennedy said, and the case looked difficult to successfully prosecute from the beginning.

"After I reviewed the first papers that came to me, I felt it was fairly lightweight," he said. Kennedy said that after he had reviewed additional information from the K-State Police investigation, he was still unsure about whether to proceed. He gave all the information he had to the statute of limitations on rape in department's investigation. two assistant county attorneys.

"They both came back to me with a very strong 'no,' " he said.

Kennedy then met with his staff, the alleged victim, campus police and Judy Davis, director of the K-State Women's Resource Center.

"I re-read everything and did a lot of walking the floor," Kennedy said. "The point is someone had to make a decision, and I made it."

Kansas is two years.

If additional evidence was presented, Kennedy's office could proceed before the time limit ran

The alleged victim could also bring a civil suit against the alleged rapist within those two years. Kennedy said he did not know if she planned to do so.

Though Kennedy said he had no Beckom said the county attorney's intentions to prosecute the case, the decision signaled the close of his

"It pretty well brings a halt to anything we can do," Beckom said. Student Attorney Dianne Urban said rape cases are often difficult to prosecute.

"The really hard thing is you have two testimonies that present two different accounts," she said. "It's easy to prove intercourse occurred, but it's more difficult to K-State Police Chief Charles prove consent was or wasn't there."

FULBRIGHT SCHOLARSHIPS

for the 1993-1994 academic year

More than 600 awards providing round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year abroad.

In addition to graduate students, seniors are also eligible. Selection is based upon grades, recommendations, and a plan of study that underscores the need to study abroad. In all cases an applicant must have a particular country in mind, as well as suggest a particular school, institute, or research center where he or she would like to study. While the competition for these awards is rigorous, 22 K-Staters became Fulbrighters during the past decade. For further details and application forms, contact Walter Kolonosky, Chairperson, Fulbright Scholarship Committee, Office of Study Abroad, Eisenhower Hall 23. Office Hours MWF 1:30-3:30, or call 532-6760. The deadline for accepting applications is October 21, 1992.

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103. to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available

Doctor defends her opposition to war

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

inclination toward solving the problem in any matter other than militarily. He told the American people he was going to "kick ass" in the Middle East, she said. Following that, Bush said he didn't care what the American people, Congress or the media said; come Jan. 15, he was going to solve the problem militarily.

Huet-Vaughn said she made her decision then not to support Operation Desert Shield or Storm.

"I spoke publicly as often as I could," she said.

Those people who watched the war at home on the tube got a sanitized version of what happened in Iraq, she said.

"Ninety-eight percent of what was shown came from the Bush administration's point of view," she said. "This sanitized version left us with the impression that the Iraqi people were unfazed."

She said 19 of Iraq's 20 power plants were not only destroyed but bombed again and again. A number of those plants were in Kurdistan, and Huet-Vaughn said although the United States blamed Hussein for mistreating the Kurds, it was the Allies who destroyed any of the Kurds' chances of recovering.

Aside from what happened overseas, Huet-Vaughn said the United States is living in a society where violence is legitimized by the government. The American people, she said, live in an America where the No. 1-selling children's toy is more than likely a war toy.

Huet-Vaughn received applause after her speech, but so did her critics during the question-andanswer period.

About five people, at least three of whom were soldiers from Fort Riley, stood and criticized Huet-Vaughn for her stance.

One said she should have served her years and then spoke out against

Candidates for dean to speak

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 Kastner said.

John Hickman, extension specialist and coordinator of environmental quality, said selection will be based on leadership and administrative abilities and skills.

Hickman said Wednesday's forum will also have an effect on the decision.

Each candidate will speak for about 25 minutes on issues in the College of Agriculture, the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment

Lavon Wells, administrative assistant to Provost James Coffman, said the selection should come late Thursday afternoon.

Hickman said the interim term should be a good time to evaluate what is happening within the college and what should be done.

"The provost indicated to various faculty during the interim period that there would be an advisory task force," Hickman said.

"This will be done by looking at the administrative structure of the college, the Ag Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension Service," he said.

Hickman said the task-force study should last six to nine months, and then a permanent dean will be sought.

Kappa Alpha Theta Sept. 22-23

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

Show your spirit with embroidered sweatshirts from Ballard's! We've now added embroidery to our long line of sweatshirt decorating possibilities:

Screen Printing

Appliqués

and now-

EMBROIDERY

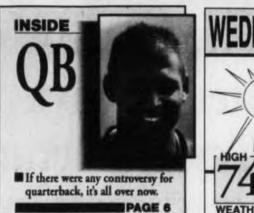

Get your Homecoming orders in early for our special group rate!

Delivering high quality, affordable Homecoming Sweatshirts, Jerseys & Jackets for over 15 years!

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN

SEPTEMBER 23, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 22

Streetside acoustics

Jim Hurlburt, Riley, serenades Aggieville passersby with international folk songs Tuesday afternoon near the Campus Theater. Hurlburt said he has been playing violin for 12 years and hopes to influence more acoustic musicians to play on Aggieville sidewalks.

Accident kills KSU student Collegian

A K-State student was killed in a car accident over the weekend.

Tonja S. White, senior in psychology, died Sunday after the vehicle she was driving collided with a truck on a gravel road. The accident occurred near Council Grove, where White worked at Baker's Market. White, a native of Allen, was returning to Manhattan from a visit with her boyfriend, said her mother Sheila White was hit on the driver's side at an intersection. Council Grove resident Steven Sisson, 32, was driving the truck and remains in stable condition at the Morris County Hospital.

White was also transported to Morris County Hospital but later transferred to Stormont-Vail Medical Center in Topeka, where she died from head injuries at 5:45 p.m.

Sheila White described her daughter as a sweet and caring person who was admired and loved by everyone.

"She was very well-liked, and people thought a lot of her," White said.

White also said Tonja was a wonderful

"She was always telling us how much she appreciated everything we do for her. In fact she just told me on Thursday that she would never be able to repay all the things we've done for her,"

Tonja's roommate, Leslie Jones, senior in psychology, said Tonja was reserved at first, but

■ See STUDENT Page 10

"We're still

JUDY SMITH

going to veto it."

NEWS DIGEST

LAW STRUCK DOWN

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana's anti-abortion law was ruled unconstitutional Tuesday by a federal appeals court.

It would have banned all abortions except to save the mother's life and in certain cases of rape or incest. Doctors performing illegal ones would face up to 10 years in prison and $100,000 in fines.

▶TEEN PLEA-BARGAINS

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) - A teen-ager charged with attempted murder in the shooting of her alleged lover's wife agreed Tuesday to plead guilty to a reduced charge, her lawyer said.

Amy Fisher, 18, will plead guilty to assault in exchange for a five-to-15-year sentence, said Eric Naiburg.

LOU DOUGLAS LECTURE

Doctor-lawyer

DIANE DENISON

Douglas Lecture.

Union Forum Hall.

health insurance.

advocates universal

Universal health insurance is the

Roy, chairman of the Kansas

"just and moral thing to do," said Dr.

Bill Roy at the semester's first Lou

Commission on the Future of Health Care and adjunct professor of law at

Washburn University, spoke Tuesday night to about 200 people in K-State

U.S.: Reason, Rhetoric and Reaction,' was the first of the 14th series of the Lou Douglas Lectures on Public Issues.

Roy said there are three reasons why the United States must have universal

About 3.7 million Americans have no means of insurance, he said, and one-third are employed. Second, universal health care would modify or stop unsustainable increases in medical care and health insurance by eliminating unnecessary tests and procedures, expensive marketing and advertising,

Finally, both public and private insurance systems are failing to meet the needs of the American people and are and overspecialization of practices.

His speech, "Medical Care in the insurance program

boots Yugoslavia

ASSOCIATED PRESS

UNITED NATIONS Delegates voted overwhelmingly Tuesday to expel Yugoslavia from the General Assembly in a new attempt to pressure the Belgrade government to make peace with its neighbors in the shattered Balkan federation.

The assembly voted 127-6 to ban Yugoslavia, now consisting only of Serbia and Montenegro, from voting and speaking in the General Assembly and its committees.

The action was unprecedented in its severity, going beyond the revocation of South Africa's voting

Health care needs help, Roy says rights in the General Assembly in

The no votes were Tanzania, Yugoslavia, Zambia, Zimbabwe, Swaziland and Kenya. There were 26 abstentions. The 20 other members did not vote.

The 15-nation Security Council already has passed tough economic sanctions against Yugoslavia after determining the Serbs were mostly to blame for the bloody, 15-monthold conflict in Croatia and Bosnia that has left more than 20,000 dead.

The assembly rejected a lastminute appeal from Premier Milan

See U.N. Page 10

General Assembly Senate approves cable regulation

Bush threatens veto, but override may be possible

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The Senate voted 74-25 on Tuesday to regulate cable television, sending a bill to the White House that responds to consumer complaints about rapid price increases by cable operators.

President Bush has threatened to veto the measure, saying it would impose burdensome regulations on the industry that would be harmful to consumers. Both the Senate vote and a 280-128 tally in the House last week, however, suggested supporters might have enough strength to override a veto.

"We're still going to veto it," said White House spokeswoman Judy Smith.

President Bush was on the campaign trail in Texas.

The measure requires the Federal Communications Commission to determine reasonable rates for minimal cable service and restrict costs on the equipment consumers need to operate cable television, like remote control devices.

It also contains provisions designed to enhance competition in local communities between existing cable companies and others that could provide a similar kind of expanded television programming.

Bush has vetoed 31 bills to date, and all of them have been sustained, despite Democratic majorities in both houses.

The strength of the vote, seven more than needed to override a veto, shows the Senate can do its part to make the bill law despite the president.

Voting for the legislation were 50 Democrats and 24 Republicans. Seven Democrats and 18 Republicans voted against it.

Sen. John Danforth, R-Mo., one of the bill's sponsors, said he hoped Bush would not veto the

"There are a number of Republican senators who would, like to support the president but have a record supporting this. It's very hard to ask them to go back and change positions," Danforth

He said some change in circumstances would be necessary to justify sustaining a veto.

The House approved the bill last Thursday, and supporters there were confident they also could muster the necessary votes to A two-thirds majority of those

■ See CABLE Page 10

THE CABLE BILL CONTROVERSY The cable television bill has spawned more action by special interest groups than most other bills during this session. Here's why. * MOVIE CABLE

FOR The bill was originally written to stop runaway cable bills caused by lack of competition in most cable markets.

AGAINST The bill will limit price hikes in for basic cable service. essentially making it a utility like electricity and gas.

MPANIES NETWORKS Networks, like

NBC, CBS and ABC, will be able to charge cable companies for

AGAINST Want a provision in the bill similar to the network provision for Hollywood running network stations productions. GREGORY A. BRANSON/Collegian

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

Dr. Bill Roy delivers a Lou Douglas Lecture Tuesday night in the K-State Union Forum Hall. He advocated universal health insurance for Americans. failing to contain medical care costs, he medical expenses are left unpaid by the

The highest costs are falling on the ill and disabled people who are unable to pay, while wealthy, insured Americans health-insurance plan financed through have little expense, Roy said.

Eventually the wealthy do pay when poor and everyone is taxed.

Roy said the government claims Americans do not want a national

■ See DOCTOR Page 10

ON THE AGENDA

Architect to give first Bryant lecture

Darden to speak about exhibit, ideas

BILL SPIEGEL

Architect Douglas Darden will give the first lecture of the 1992-1993 Bryant Memorial Lecture Series at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the Union Forum Hall.

Darden has an exhibit of three projects on display in the Chang Gallery in Seaton Hall.

The lecture, "Condemned Building," will include insight into these projects, said Eugene Kremer, professor of architecture.

He will also participate in design studios and seminars with students and faculty Friday.

Darden, a graduate of the American Academy in Rome, has taught architecture at Harvard and Columbia universities. He now teaches at the University of Colorado.

He is a frequent contributor to professional and academic journals of art and architecture, and he has been supported by academic, professional and government agencies, including the Graham Foundation, the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture and the National Endowment for "The fact that his book has been published by the Princeton Architectural Press speaks highly of him," Kremer said. "His work is very highly regarded.'

The Bryant Lecture Series began in 1986 and honors the memory of architect Lee A. Bryant, a Pratt native and 1979 graduate of K-State's College of Architecture. He

The series has brought renowned teachers, critics and artists to campus for lectures and workshops on drawing and its relationship to the architectural professions.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

It's Flaming Hot!

And it's coming Thursday!

Watch for it in the

KANSAS STATE

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22 At 1 p.m., a theft report was filed on a 10-speed bicycle taken from the Marlatt Hall bike rack. Loss was $95. At 1:17 p.m., three bicycle theft reports were filed from Smurthwaite. Taken were a Mt. Shasta, $282; a Giant Iguana, $400; and a Huffy, $125. At 1:17 p.m., a burglary theft report was filed. A cow/calf unit, a microwave oven and two saddles were taken. Loss was $1,150.

At 4:05 p.m., criminal damage to a bike cable was reported at 1500 N. Manhattan Ave.

At 7:09 p.m., an injury accident was reported in lots A-29 and A-30. At 7:45 p.m., a report of phone harassment at Boyd Hall was filed.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 21

At 3:08 p.m., Darin Ashworth, 919 Denison Ave., No. 4, reported a theft. Taken was a gas grill with a 5-gallon tank. Loss was $50.

At 3:22 p.m., Rhonda Kelty reported a past theft from Food-4-Less, 401 E. Poyntz Ave. Taken was $500-600 in a white envelope. At 3:20 p.m., Ken Bergner reported a theft at 610 Pierre St. Taken were two Holley four-barrel carburetors. Loss was $1,100.

At 4:54 p.m., Bradford C. Brown was arrested on two counts of forgery. Bond was set at $5,000.

At 5:17 p.m., Dean Lutz reported criminal damage to the hood of his blue 1981 Cutlass. Loss was $350.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22

At 12:25 a.m., Alicia R. McConnell was issued a notice to appear for possession of open container on public sidewalk at 1227 Moro St.

At 1:01 p.m., Jerry Brown was arrested at 1011 Seth Child's Road on a Geary County warrant for terroristic threats. A $5,000 bond was set, and he was released to Geary County

At 2 p.m., Nancy J. Woodyard reported a theft at 400 Pierre St. Taken was a woman's bracelet. Loss was $2,254.

At 3:15 p.m., Kathy Coffee reported a major-damage, non-injury, hit-and-run accident. Clarissa J. Jones was arrested for DUI and released on $1,000 bond. Coffee's parked car was hit at 324 Osage St.

At 4:35 p.m., Wendy M. Pelsburg was arrested for probation violation. Bond was set at $103.78.

At 5:09 p.m., Stacy L. Jackson was arrested in for probation violation and released on $1,000 bond.

At 3:35 p.m., Joseph Oliveria was issued a notice to appear for resisting arrest at 601 N. Third St.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Graduation check sheets are due in the Graduate School office by Oct. 1 for those wishing to graduate this semester.

University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

■ A voter-registration drive will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Union

■ General faculty and students are invited to the State of the University Address at 3 p.m. in Forum Hall. President Jon Wefald will deliver the address, and Provost James Coffman will speak on the University's mission, role and proposed program cuts.

■ Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity will meet at 9 p.m. in Union

■ KSU Chapter of American Horticultural Therapy Association will meet at 6 p.m. in Waters 18. Speakers will be Georgia Abbott, HTR, and Tracey Blevins, HT intern.

■ Universities Activities Board will meet at 4 p.m. in Union 202. ■ Honors Student Organization will have an organizational/get acquainted meeting at 8 p.m. in Union 204. Linguistic Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Bluemont 217. Topic will be "Foreign Language: Self-teaching." Career Planning and Placement will sponsor a resume-building workshop from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Union 206. ■ Computing and Networking Services will sponsor a lecture on using elm electronic mail on the public Unix system.

■ Manhattan Songahm Tae Kwon Do Club will meet from 4:45 to 6:15 p.m. in Nichols 7

■ U.N. Council will have an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon will meet at 7 p.m. in Durland 166.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

p.m. in the Recreational Services Office in the Rec Complex.

■ Intramural Entry Deadline for the wrestling meet will be at 5

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIE 116

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Sunny. High in the upper 70s. Southwest wind 5-15 mph. Wednesday night, clear. Low 45 to 50.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Sunny. High around 80.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Friday through Sunday: a chance of thunderstorms Friday and Saturday. Dry Sunday. Highs in the 80s Friday and 70s during the weekend. Lows in the mid-50s to low 60s Friday and upper 40s and 50s during the weekend.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

TOPEKA 69/48 72/51 GOODLAND KANSAS 77/41 RUSSELL 76/44 71/63 GARDEN CITY WICHITA 79/43 77/56 COFFEYVILLE 74/62

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Lima	65/57	clear
Bangkok	91/77	clear	Oslo	50/46	cloudy
Dhahran	99/81	cloudy	Santiago	68/41	clear
Istanbul	77/59	clear	Tokyo	75/63	clear

REAL COLLEGE CREDIT

Starts With A Wildcat Visa Or MasterCard Of Your Choice.

Apply Today!

Call First Bank Card Center at 1-800-582-2731, and we'll take your application over the phone, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Be sure to ask for the Wildcat card when you call.

(Please be sure to have your Social Security Number ready when you call. And if your monthly income is below $300, please have guarantor information available.)

Great Benefits For K-State Students!

Apply for the card of your choice now, and you may soon be enjoying:

- No annual fee for six months, and just $18 each year thereafter;
- A competitive 17.88% Annual Percentage Rate;
- No finance charges with our 25-day grace period on retail purchases. Simply pay your balance in full by the due date, and you won't pay any finance charges;
- 24-hour instant cash access at over 60,000 CIRRUS® ATMs across the country. and all over the world:
- $150,000 automatic travel insurance whenever you use your Wildcat card to purchase a passenger ticket on any plane, train, ship or bus;
- No transaction fees.

Apply Today! Call First Bank Card Center Toll-Free At 1-800-582-2731, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Academic Olympics test brain cells

Floyd Imig, senior at Pine Ridge High School in Chadron, Neb., waits for a decision from the judges as Pat Conderman, moderator of the Academic Olympics, points out the kind of answer the judges are looking for.

Competitors from 10 states: winner to compete in Washington, D.C.

ANDY WOODWARD

The preliminary round of the Regional Job Corps Academic Olympics finals was Tuesday morning in the K-State Union.

Delegations from 10 states competed, including Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Iowa from this job corps region.

"This is really a great opportunity for each center," said Bob Ganley, manager of education for the Flint Hills Job

"Each team is selected at their own job corps center. There is an academic offering to complement each vocational training center," Ganley said.

Seventy people participated in the quiz-off, with K-State staff members and instructors serving round will advance to the final as judges and timekeepers.

The team members were ages 16 to 21, with each one specializing in social studies. literature, science, math or current

The event is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Questions included defining the functions of federal government branches, naming the boiling point of water and explaining monogamy.

The winner of today's final rounds in Washington, D.C.

The participants finished the day with a pizza party, a campus tour and a dance in the Union. "It's really fun being around all of these people," said Sara Murwin, from Denison, Iowa. "It's really stressful, but it's fun. After the party tonight, we'll probably quiz some more and get ready," Murwin said.

The final round will be played this morning at the Flint Hills Job Corps Center.

ORGANIZATIONS

Flint Hills group supports women in science fields

Local chapter recently chartered by national group

LISA COLE

A campus organization provides career support for women in traditionally male-dominated fields.

The Flint Hills Chapter of the Association for Women in Science was established in the summer of 1991 to guide women in the science, mathematics and engineering fields. It has recently been chartered by the national organization.

Those disciplines historically have women poorly represented," said Beth Montelone, assistant professor of biology and chapter president.

"There have been impediments to women going into those fields in terms of a lack of colleagues, and at upper levels."

Montelone said the group's goal is to conduct mentoring activities for women in those fields. Members, for instance, take groups of undergraduates to lunch to discuss science careers, problems and any other student concerns. The group has also discussed a joint meeting with the Society for Women Engineers at which members could explain the possibilities for careers in science and engineering to Girl Scout

Members may also speak to students in public schools.

The association is open to anyone, male or female, who supports the goals of the organization, said Dale Kennedy, instructor of biology and chapter treasurer.

Kennedy formed the Flint Hills chapter. Prior to that, there "Those was a chapter on campus, disciplines but it was not historically officially affiliated with have women the national poorly rep-chapter.

Kennedy resented." said the Flint BETH MONTELONE Hills chapter

ormed because of the national organization's efforts to fund mentoring activities at the under-graduate and graduate levels.

The money was awarded to the national group by the Sloan Foundation.

The national organization was founded in 1971. Its headquarters are in Washington, D.C. There are 40 chapters nationwide.

The Flint Hills chapter, which has 32 members, is the only chapter in the Kansas.

Other activities planned include a potluck dinner with female scientists as speakers, a networking lunch and a pizza party.

NATION

Bush's 31 vetoes gives him record

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - President Bush established a record for successful vetoes Tuesday when the Senate failed to override his objections to registering voters when they apply for drivers' licenses or government benefits.

Despite the defection of six Republicans to their side, Democratic sponsors of the motor-voter bill fell five votes short of garnering the needed two-thirds majority to overcome Bush's veto.

The 62-38 vote gave Bush his 31st straight veto victory against Congress, surpassing Lyndon B. Johnson's unbroken string of 30 successful vetoes from late 1963 to

Bush vetoed the bill in July. calling it "an open invitation to fraud and corruption ... without any reason to believe that it would increase electoral participation to any degree.

Democrats, who passed the bill when the popularity of billionaire Ross Perot's independent bid for the presidency was surging, vowed to bring it back next year.

"President Bush vetoed this measure out of fear - fear of changing the status quo and fear of the American people," said Sen.

Wendell Ford, D-Ky. "Of all those vetoes, this one reveals his shallow commitment to expanding democracy right here at home.

The bill's provisions would not have taken effect until the 1994 election season. It would have required states to register people to vote when they apply for drivers' or marriage licenses, hunting and fishing permits or unemployment, disability and welfare benefits.

States also would have had to register voters by mail, and officials would have been forbidden from removing people's names from the registration rolls because they had not voted in recent elections.

Supporters claimed the bill would have enfranchised 90 percent of the estimated 65 million Americans who are eligible to vote but can't cast ballots because they didn't register in advance.

Stay in shape without getting bored!

For over 1,000 years, the martial arts have been helping people stay in shape through a unique blend of stretching, cardiovascular conditioning and fun. The martial arts are the best way to help you stay in shape.

Our programs include:

- F Great stretches to maintain and increase flexibility.
- Fun cardiovascular workouts to improve your fitness and stamina.
- ☑ Relaxation techniques to reduce you of stress.
- Prills to improve your balance, coordination and self control.
- Self defense skills.

Come in today and find out how good a martial arts program can make you feel!

✓ TaeKwonDo

Hapkido

Judo

776-4040

Today

The Korean Martial Arts & Fitness Center 1118 Moro

Volunteers needed to complete Collegian survey

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian? once a week twice a week three times or more

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

000 Bulletin Board 010 Announcements 020 Lost and found

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More

100 Housing/Real Estate 105 For Rent-Apt. Furnished 110 For Rent-Apt. Uniumished

120 For Rent-Houses 125 For Sale-Houses

140 For Rent-Garage

135 For Sale-Mobile Homes

130 For Rent-Mobile Homes

145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture 160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale 200 Service Directory 205 Tutor 210 Resume/Typing

215 Desktop Publishing

220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

255 Other Services 300 Employment/Car 310 Help Wanted 20 Volunteers Needed

400 Open Market 405 Wanted to Buy 415 Furniture to Buy/Sell 420 Garage/Yard Sales 425 Auction

430 Antiques 440 Food Special 450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipment 460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell 500 Transportation 520 Bicycles

530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool 600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no If so, what categories?

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

NAME

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER SIGNATURE

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad. Thank you!

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

SEPTEMBER 23, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Rape statute ready for change

THE ISSUE

The current law defining rape falls short of protecting self-intoxicated victims.

WE SUGGEST

The law be rewritten to protect these victims, as County Attorney Bill Kennedy said he intends to help do.

In Kansas, if a woman becomes intoxicated by her own free will, she gives consent to be

This law, statute KSA 21-3502, states that rape occurs when the victim is incapable of giving consent because of the effect of any alcoholic liquor, narcotic or drug, "unless the victim voluntarily consumes or allows the administration of the substance with knowledge of its nature."

In other words, if she gets drunk, she's asking for it.

Bill Kennedy, Riley County attorney, said this statute definitely had a bearing on the campus rape case that was recently dropped.

The outcome of the case is sad.

On one hand, the alleged offender was the subject of many news stories and mentioned by name. Many who meet him in the future will remember him because of this incident and associate his name with rape, although he was never even brought to trial.

On the other hand, if rape occurred, the alleged victim never saw justice.

We will never know what happened. The case will never go to court.

And all because of an unfair and archaic law.

Kennedy said he agrees the statute is ridiculous.

In fact, following Friday's decision to drop the case, Kennedy met with the Kansas County and District Attorney Association to begin rewriting the law.

The group wants to throw out the part of the statute that begins with "unless."

Good for them.

We hope once the bill is introduced to the Legislature, it will be readily passed.

Animals also should be respected

Granted, it is hard to relate to the life of chickens and cows, both on a mental and emotional level.

"The greatness of a nation can be judged by the way its animals are treated." - Gandhi

Then I decided to become a vegetarian, it was because of health reasons. My decision to remain a vegetarian is a protest against the symbolism of meat in our society.

The benefits of a meat-based diet are oftentimes disputed, depending on whom you talk to. While the benefits of a vegetarian diet are important, it is the treatment and herding of animals that is truly disturbing.

A cow grazing in a green pasture is no longer as common. Today, some cows spend the majority of their lives inside steel stalls, exposed to a constant onslaught of artificial light. They exist on a diet of hormones, antibiotics and chemicals in the hopes of creating a leaner and more marketable product.

The life of a chicken is not much

Chickens are crammed into pens, literally one on top of another and fattened to a point when their own skeletons can't even support their body

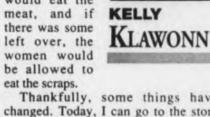

Granted, it is hard to relate to the life of chickens and cows, both on a mental and emotional level.

The fundamental question is not what it would be like to be a chicken or a cow, but what level of control humans should be capable of exercising over other living creatures.

To associate the life of a woman to that of an animal is not a fair comparison. The connection to be made is how life is treated and what the dynamics behind the types of treatment history, meat has been a symbol of male power. Men would hunt and kill animals. Women would clean and cook the animals. When serving time came around, men would eat the there was some left over, the women would be allowed to

Throughout

Thankfully, some things have changed. Today, I can go to the store and buy meat anytime I want. However, economic and social advancements have not eliminated the political symbolism of meat in our society.

For example, on Mother's Day, restaurants are more likely to offer brunch specials with eggs and salads than meat dishes.

However, once Father's Day rolls around, patrons are enticed with a 24ounce prime rib or a medium-rare London broil.

While the associations are much more subtle today, there still exists a gender-based connection with meat, from our language to our standards of physical beauty.

Take television and magazines. From cover to cover, we are bombarded with images of 5-foot-10-inch, 120-pound women draped in skimpy dresses and stiletto heels selling anything from cars to computers to animal products. Millions of women are implanted with silicon breast implants (a male invention), all to attain some physical standard dictated by society.

All of these images are dictated by a male-dominated power structure in an attempt to produce a perfect model of what a woman is.

Just as the cows and the chickens are manipulated to become more marketable, so, too, are the bodies of

The colloquialisms of our language are yet another example of how women are treated like animals.

Our language includes such words as 'pig" and "cow" to refer to women who don't fit a prescribed code of what is physically acceptable. When a woman does fit standard definitions, she is called a "chick."

We live in a society based on control, manipulation and domination. The relationships are oftentimes subtle, but nonetheless real.

For a woman to eat meat, she is only acting to uphold the system of power from which she is excluded.

READERS WRITE

▶ MORALS

Professor defends columnist's position

I want to rush to defend John Hart from the attacks on his column, "Individual values are never neutral," that I know are coming from the ranks of the Secular Humanists.

Mr. Hart's closely reasoned column is so persuasive, that I can't imagine how anyone could argue with him. He has proved once and for all that there is no such thing as "relative values," and that there is no place in this world for people who believe in Ethical values are either right or they are wrong, just as it is either night or day (or sometimes dusk).

There is only one small point I would like to apprise Mr. Hart of before it is too late for the salvation of his soul.

Since the values that I believe in are absolutely right (I know this because God told me so Herself), and since they in all cases differ from his, I herewith inform him that it is time for him to change his values.

Michael Ossar Professor/Modern languages

VOTER REGISTRATION Students should take advantage of drive

In light of the negative news on voter registration that has literally flooded the Collegian, I am pleased to inform students that they can register to vote from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. today and Thursday at tables in Union Plaza.

Riley County Clerk Ilene Colbert will sponsor a voter registration drive with the Student Governing Association Legislative Affairs Committee. Students can register in Riley County or their home county. Information on changing registration and obtaining absentee ballots will also be available.

Considering that less than half of the 18- to 24-year-old U.S. population is registered to vote, and that only 409 K-State students who live on campus are currently registered in Riley County, this event deserves to be taken seriously.

Registration is the only way to empower ourselves as a student body to influence the county, state and national leaders who determine our University's financial fate. Choosing not to register means choosing to stand mute.

As one small but striking example, just think back to last year when the Manhattan City Commission proposed a noise ordinance limiting sound in Aggieville after 11 pm. Hundreds, maybe even thousands of students signed petitions in opposition. But with only a handful of students registered as Riley County voters, our leverage with the City Commission was virtually

We are asking that each student register, regardless of in what county. Colbert has offered us the chance to prove her assumption, the national stereotype and past statistics wrong, that we are worthy of the "privilege" to vote.

If we choose to ignore the opportunity, we have no business whining about noise ordinances, tuition fees, crowded classes or restrictive registration policies that defy or ignore student voices. After all, we will have chosen to silence ourselves. Let's register.

> Michelle Munson Engineering senator/Legislative Affairs Committee member

POLITICS

Clinton's plan only spells doom for U.S.

Editor,

The Democrats just don't get it. Like most of the issues, they completely miss the point when it comes to taxes, investment and the American economy.

Bill Clinton's economic plan for the future isn't going to promote growth but destruction instead. Clinton wants to build walls around America and isolate it from the rest of the world. That kind of mentality just doesn't work. We can't regress to the past, but we must push forward to a prosperous future. The last time we engaged in a practice of closed trade under Jimmy Carter's administration, all of America

Clinton also wants to tax the rich. He wants them to carry their "tax share" of the burden. But his tax hikes won't only hurt

They will also affect 95 percent of all small businesses. These businesses are the biggest employers and are the driving force of our economy. If they are hurt, all Americans, rich or poor, will suffer. Bill Clinton also doesn't understand that if you tax investments, the economy doesn't grow. The capital gains tax is one of the most damaging taxes ever imposed on the American people. Taxes don't promote growth, they stifle it. The American people have never been better off as the result of tax increases.

Clinton's economic plans just don't make sense, and the Democrats don't get it. The rich aren't the enemy in America. Taxes and regulations are.

A rising tide lifts all boats, if I may quote a Republican friend of mine. If the rich suffer, we all suffer. If we stifle investment and tax businesses to their knees, the American economy will fall.

> Brian Sweatland Senior/Political science and economics

Being pro-choice does not mean view is infallible

'm confused. I'm increasingly ambivalent about this abortion Lthing, and events this past summer haven't helped.

A mixed reaction from the prolife and pro-choice movements to the Supreme Court's reaffirmation of Roe v. Wade, the upholding of states' rights in restricting abortions, the declaration of a Kansas judge that life starts at conception, and more violent protesting in Wichita, Buffalo, N.Y., and other targeted cities only added another aggravating chapter to this never ending story. The battle continues. A pro-life commercial declares that all the beautiful little children we see on the screen were once unplanned pregnancies, but, thank God, their parents toughed it out.

Yes, the kids are adorable, but I shake my head whenever I see that commercial. In reality, many unplanned pregnancies don't have the luxury of parents or even their support, but rather become financial burdens on single young women. I don't see any ghettos or struggling young girls in this commercial. Only middle-upperclass moms and dads and a white picket fence.

"Life. What a beautiful choice.

But this is not another column meant to bash pro-lifers. Some pro-life assumptions are simplistic, yes, but I write this to contend that the pro-choice movement is guilty of the same.

I am pro-choice and have been for 10 years now. I've put myself in that camp because I do not believe our government can or should make such personal and complex decisions for women. I believe that many abortions are carried u wrongfully n needlessly. But I also think that in some cases there are worse things than abortion, and it is the lesser of the evils.

Okay, you've heard it before. Now, what troubles me about the pro-choice agenda is that it simply falls short, proclaiming that the decision should be left to the individuals and dropping the issue at that. The decision to abort a fetus, a being with every potential for human life, if not a human life already, is an incredibly formidable one to make. Is there not some responsibility on the part of society to address this issue as one of public health and morality? And not in the form of legislation, but as conscientious people concerned with a situation so fraught with issues of life and death, both for the fetus and the mother? Should we not show urgency to demonstrate public concern, to offer options to women who are struggling with this decision?

Here I think the pro-choice movement has failed to speak. The pro-choice platform has neglected to go a step further by calling for a collective conscience to, dare I say, intervene through active, effective, supportive concern. This concern is the kind that will truly help women in the

No law will ever prevent unnecessary abortions from taking place, but the aggressive attention and care of churches, counseling centers, support groups and individuals could make a significant difference.

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY

We would like to hear, what you think. Send your comments, criticisms and complaints to us.

Please include a phone number so we can get in touch with you in case there are questions concerning your

Before letters are printed in the Collegian, we need to see a picture ID. Letters submitted may be edited for grammar and length.

We cannot guarantee that your letter will run, but we will try to make sure a sampling of both sides of an issue get into

COME BY KEDZIE 116 OR SEND Letters to the Editor c/o Jared Savage Kansas State Collegian Kedzie Hall 116 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

Execution this week ties previous record year

Attention KSU Students & Community:

ROLE AND ASPIRATION SCHEDULE - FALL 1992

Provost provides comments to Deans and

CCGs and engages in discussions with Deans

University community OPEN FORUM - 3 p.m.

PC via Provost's office - comments due by this

Sept. 25 Deans and CCGs provide first drafts to PC

Oct. 16 Deans and CCGs provide comments to

Oct. 50 Deans and CCGs provide revised draft to

Nov. 13 University community provides comments to

Nov. 19 Provost provides revised draft to President

Nov. 20 Final report sent to the Board of Regents

* PC = Provosts Committee on Role & Aspiration

Nov. 17 PC provides final draft to Provost

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON More prisoners likely will be put to death in the United States this year than in any year since states were allowed to resume capital punishment in 1976.

The execution of a Texas murderer Tuesday raised this year's total to 25, tying the previous high set in 1987. It was the 10th execution in Texas this year.

There have been three executions in Virginia this year. No other state has had more than two.

More than 2,600 men and women are on death row. Dozens of and Provost

and CCGs

Forum Hall

and COCAO

* CCG = College Core Group

776-5577

date

Provost and PC

Oct. 9

them have executions scheduled in 1992. But many will win postponements.

Leigh Dingerson of the National Coalition to Abolish the Death Penalty predicted a growing number of executions because appeals are being exhausted and the courts are less tolerant of appeals.

The Supreme Court in 1972 ruled that capital punishment as then practiced was unconstitutional. States passed new laws, and in 1976 the court ruled the death penalty could be constitutional.

The record year for U.S. executions this century was 1935, REC COMPLEX

Trainers offer free athletic services

LANA SCHRATER

The Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex now has athletic trainers available to care for any new or old injury, free of charge.

Anyone using the Rec Complex has access to the athletic trainers on duty, said Jeff Rudy, supervisor of recreation athletic training.

This program is sponsored by Lafene Health Center's Eriksen Sportsmedicine Clinic and the Rec

Rudy is a full-time professional, and Jeff Kreuser and Barb Wilson are graduate assistants.

Kreuser and Wilson have passed their National Athletic Trainers

Great

Association Test and are certified athletic trainers. Each is pursuing a master's of science in kinesiology, and they said working at the Rec Complex is a bonus to their education.

"It's good experience, as far as athletic training. Plus we're furthering our education," Wilson

The services are free, which is an incentive because tape for wrapping ankles is expensive, said Steve Martini, associate director of recreational services intramurals director.

The program is funded through Lafene student fees.

The trainers work during high

Portraits

taken for...

intramurals, Martini said. Depending on which sport is in season, specific trainers are on duty.

The training program, still in its first year, is designed to take care of injuries when they occur.

"Basically I've seen many injuries over the years that have been neglected," said Dr. Guy of the Eriksen Sportsmedicine Clinic. 'Appropriate intervention was no injury time, which is usually during longer an effective result. So, if students had access to someone aware of the diagnosis and the management of athletic injuries, the students would be much better off."

Grain Science Club Flour Sales

Every Wednesday Noon-4 p.m.

Shellenberger 220 We will be selling (while supplies last).

50 lbs. and 5 lbs. whole wheat flour

50 lbs. and 5 lbs. white flour 5 lbs. stone ground rye flour

2 lbs. pancake mix Farina

Germ

Bran

Memories Start Here..

Kappa Delta Sept. 23-24

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

ppointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

KSU Bakery Science Club Bake Sale

Today! First Floor Hallway Shellenberger 3 to 5 p.m.

Wednesday Night SHAKER BEERS

Old Milwaukee Coors, Miller Lite Bud on Draft

1800 Claffin Rd.

776-5577 FirstBank Center

PIZZA SHUTTLE "NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Prime Time Special 3 - 10 in. Pizzas 1 - Topping 4 - Cokes 10.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

The Loft in Aggieville Presents 1992-93 Fashion Advisors

Julie Sturdevant ΓΦB, Tara Livingston ΑΧΩ, Becca Sherer KKΓ, Beth Ann Sehorn ΣΣΣ, Kim Thompson ΔΔΔ, Tammy Ruliffson ΑΔΠ, Jennifer Butner ΑΞΔ, Stacy Smith ΠΒΦ, Kerry Keever KAΘ, Shannon Humes KΔ.

539-1319 The look is casual, the feel sophisticated. 1207 Moro

ROYAL PURPLE

Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993

ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Squad wins despite rough times

Collegian

Though a winning season in many sports draws large crowds, such is not the case with K-State's women's rugby team.

'We were 10-2 last spring and 14-0 last fall, but not that many people follow the rugby team during the season," said LaDonna Grenz, rugby squad president and coach.

Grenz said the people on the sidelines are usually fellow rugby players and a few other spectators.

"There are good-size crowds at the tournaments," Grenz said. "When we play at Fort Riley, we have several GIs watch us play.'

The team has had to play its games at Fort Riley because there isn't a place to play in Manhattan, Grenz said. "We want to play at the Rec

Complex," she said. "I think more people would watch us if we played There are 20 members on the squad, but a few of the women are gone since they are in the military. "A couple of them went to Florida to help in the hurricane relief effort,"

Grenz said. In all, seven members of last year's team are not playing now. Four members are from Fort Riley, and all are K-State students.

This year's squad has won its only two matches. The Wildcats defeated Oklahoma in Wichita last weekend

But despite the 22-point victory, the team didn't play to its potential, Grenz said.

"We didn't play as good as the score indicated," she said. "We played really good defense, but our offense still needs a lot of work.

"We're still not clicking as a team. It's coming together, but we still have a lot of holes to fill. We need more time and experience."

The team will travel as far as Little Rock, Ark., this season.

'We have been to Arkansas, St. Louis, Iowa, Missouri and Dallas," Grenz said.

'We can't travel too far, since we have a small budget," she said. "The University does give us money, but

MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian

Stacey Stringfield, K-State research assistant, sets up a ruck as members of the opposing team try to drive over her and gain possesion of the ball Tuesday afternoon during the women's team practice at Memorial Stadium.

Smargiasso No. 1

"As we go into this ballgame, Jason will be our No. 1 guy."

BILL SNYDER

STEVE ROCK

The decision has been made.

Junior Jason Smargiasso will step onto the field Saturday night against the Temple Owls as the Wildcats' No. 1 quarterback, K-State coach Bill Snyder said Tuesday at his weekly news conference.

Smargiasso had been battling with senior Matt Garber for the position. And although both quarterbacks will play against the Owls, Smargiasso will be considered the first-stringer, Snyder said.

"As we go into this ballgame, Jason will be our No. 1 guy,' Snyder said. "We will start him, but our intention will be to play

"Jason, although his completion percentage was low, had a better overall performance," he said. "He provided us with bigplay opportunities."

Smargiasso, who completed six of his 15 passes against the Grizzlies, good for a career-high 203 yards, connected on a pair of deep bombs - 73 yards to freshman Mitch Running and 69 yards to senior Gerald Benton.

Smargiasso, who was beat out a year ago in a similar situation by Paul Watson, said he wasn't preoccupied with the situation.

"I didn't worry myself," he said. "The decision is up to coach. I didn't get caught up in the hoopla this year."

Benton said Smargiasso's strong arm is an advantage over Garber's, and the Cats will have a constant deep threat.

"I have confidence with either quarterback," Benton said. "But with Jason in there, I know that we could go deep anytime in any

"Jason loves to go deep." Benton had 103 yards receiving in the Montana contest

■ See SMARGIASSO Page 8

HOW THE QBs STACK UP

Sind Places Contra
Games	1	1
Att	15	10
Cmp.	6	1
Cmp. Pct.	.400	.100
Int.	0	0
Int. Pct.	.000	.000
Yds.	203	16
Yds./Game	203	16
TOs	1	0
Eff. Atrig.	175.7	23.4
Long Pass	73	16

SPORTS DIGEST

CHIEFS' JONES BEHIND BARS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -Kansas City Chief Bill Jones is spending his nights in jail and his days practicing.

Jones, 26, pleaded guilty Sept. 24, 1991, to leaving the scene of an accident on I-70 near Kansas City.

He was ordered to perform 50 hours of community service. In a hearing last week, though, Municipal Judge James Karl said Jones had performed only three hours of service. He days, beginning last Friday. Karl allowed Jones to leave the jail each day on a workrelease program to practice. He left the jail Saturday to fly to Houston, and he played in the Chiefs' 23-20 overtime loss to the Oilers.

ordered Jones to the Municipal Correctional institution for six

He returned to jail Sunday night but is back on the field as the Chiefs get ready for the Los Angeles Raiders Monday night.

SAINTS SIGN LIPPS FOR 2 YEARS

NEW ORLEANS (AP) -The New Orleans Saints moved toward filling two troublesome voids Tuesday with the announcement that Louis Lipps, a veteran receiver who has also returned kicks, agreed to a two-year contract. Lipps, who was cut by the Pittsburgh Steelers last week following a contract dispute, talked with New Orleans Saints officials and worked out for them on Monday.

The Saints didn't practice Tuesday, but team spokesman Neal Gulkis said Lipps would be at practice Wednesday.

We're here, we're deer; deal with it, elk hunters

Elk hunting began in dead earnest at Fort Riley last weekend, though military training exercises (KA-BOOM) punctuate the hunting

Yup. Elk at Fort Riley. No one has ever mentioned seeing them, nor have I ever seen a member of the Fort Riley herd. And this is the sort of thing people tell me about.

I have it on good authority they're there, though, roaming the wilds, stepping gingerly around bomb craters.

It was the Manitoban subspecies of elk that roamed Kansas until this century. Letters written in 1982 by J.R. Mead of Wichita document elk occupation of Kansas between 1859 and 1864.

His letters tell:

"I have killed elk on the Solomon, Saline, Smoky Hill, Arkansas and Grasshopper Rivers and their tributaries. Have killed them in Butler County on the Walnut River. And in Smith, Phillips and Rooks counties.

"Elk followed the timbered creeks, probably for the brouse (sic) they seemed to prefer. For instance, a herd would cross the Solomon River coming from the North.

SKOOG

"I have seen 1,000 more or less in one drove, and they crossed the Saline river at the ford right where the town of Lincoln now stands.

"I only saw them in summer or fall. But old bulls were found in the broken hills between Saline and Solomon rivers all winter.

Those few elk still in Kansas are probably not descendants of that group. The Fort Riley unit, and the Cimmarron unit in Morton County, are most likely members of the Nelsoni subspecies, found on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains.

It's a similar survival story to that of the bison. Most of the bison you see in America or in zoos has more in common with the smaller, more solitary mountain bison than with the huge prairie Notice there's no buffalo season anymore. Or passenger pigeon season (which would have been competitive with the modern Mourning Dove Elk are a relic of lost days. All Indian groups except the Mono tribe of the Great Basin pursued or otherwise attempted to kill elk when they had the chance.

Indian-controlled fires, which changed the prairies almost as much as housing developments and land-grant universities, were commonly set to drive big game such as elk in certain directions.

Elk are even a relic of not-so-much lost as forgettable days, such as the fraternal principles of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks (BPOE). Membership is way down. To the Kansan, elk seem as foreign as musk oxen or

But they're here. And hunted. "We're here, we're deer - deal with it," as elk activists might

Nine days worth of archery and muzzleloading hunting is offered but only for a very few permits, which none of us have a chance in hell of getting. Say you're Joan Finney and are old hunting pals with the Secretary of Wildlife and Parks, you say? Then you might get a permit. Expensive, too. In addition to the $10.50 annual hunting license, there's the $75.50 elk hunting tax, plus a $38 landowner/tenant fee. Plus, paying some old hand to point out the elk. Plus, I don't know, special elk hats.

The season closes Oct. 12, only to re-open for firearms Oct. 31 until Dec. 31.

Deadline for permit applications was Aug. 1. Better luck next year.

Royals finish off Mariners

Buhner converged on.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - After pitching a two-hitter Tuesday night for his first American League shutout, Chris Haney had one simple

"I just want to stop shaking," he said. "When I stop shaking, I'll call home." Haney (2-1) had six strikeouts and one walk while hurling Kansas City past the road-weary Seattle Mariners and causing Randy Johnson to waste one more quality start. The 23-year-old left-hander had a 4.22 ERA in his first four starts for the Royals that dipped to 2.97.

Dave Valle led off the third with a single for the Mariners. Haney retired 19 straight until Henry Cotto singled with one out in the ninth.

Haney ended the game by striking out Ken

"Finishing Griffey off in the end was nice. One of the greatest hitters in the game," Haney said. "I threw my best curveball on the last pitch of the game, and he missed it."

The Mariners lost their 12th straight on the road and squandered a five-hit, 12-strikeout effort by Johnson (11-14).

Johnson struck out every Royal at least once while recording his eighth 10-strikeout game of the year. It was Johnson's sixth complete game and boosted his strikeout total to 215. The Royals recorded their first consecutive shutouts since Aug. 6-7, 1991. Bob Melvin led off the Kansas City second with a single, and Jim Eisenreich grounded into a force play. Brian McRae followed with a line drive into right-center that Griffey and Jay

11 HITS SHY of 3,000.

MCCAIN AUDITORIUM

Marsalis, Roberts to jazz up K-State

Duo teams up to perform piano solos, duets Friday

KIRSTEN NELSON

The sounds of Jelly Roll Morton, Thelonious Monk and Duke Ellington soon will live again in Manhattan.

Ellis Marsalis and Marcus Roberts will bring the sounds of a jazz generation to campusat 8 p.m. Friday at McCain Auditorium.

The concert will be a combination of piano solos and duets, said Vernon Hammond, Marsalis' manager.

Marsalis has been called the patriarch of jazz, being the father of the famed trumpeter Wynton Marsalis, and jazz saxophonist Branford Marsalis.

He is no stranger to universities. Along with touring and recording, Marsalis heads the Jazz Studies Program at the University of New Orleans and is a professor of jazz improvisation, Hammond said.

Marsalis is currently working on a recording that will be produced from Los Angeles in December, Hammond said. Other artists featured on it will be Branford Marsalis, leader of the Tonight Show band.

Roberts has been called one of the "major players in the new age of jazz.'

His latest recording, "Alone With Three Giants", explores the works of Jelly Roll Morton, Thelonious Monk and Duke

Roberts has been blind since the age of four, when he developed cataracts.

"Jazz is something you hear in your head. You make the music with your fingers. A first rate jazz man certainly does not need to read music," said McCain director Richard Martin.

"It's improvisatory," Martin said of the dual performance. "It's engaging. I think there's something there for the novice and the expert. It's not so complicated to scare people away.

"It's not so simple that it wouldn't interest those that know

MARSALIS & ROBERTS

Tickets, on sale through Friday at the McCain Box Office, are $7.50 for students and children, $15 for the public and faculty, and $13 for senior citizens.

The concert begins at 8 pm. Friday in McCain Auditorium.

MUSIC .

Kansas City airwaves filled with bad vibes

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Over the airwaves comes Leonard Nimoy of "Star Trek" fame moaning a languid version of "Proud Mary" from the album "Mr. Spock's Music From Outer Space."

William Shatner, also known as Capt. Kirk, lets out a primal scream at the end of his rendition of "Mr. Tambourine Man."

Scottie, beam us up, please.

However, some people don't want to get beamed up. Listeners of Kansas City public radio station KCUR-FM eagerly await this aural assault on alternating Mondays.

It's aptly named "The Bad Music Hour.

"Most of it is brilliantly awful," program hostess Michelle Boule acknowledged. "If I wasn't dismayed by it, I wouldn't like it."

Indeed, Boule plays songs that never got close to the pop charts and languished unplayed - and unmissed - for years.

The Brady Bunch comes back to life on two albums. Richard Chamberlain croons. Cher gives her "vintage worst." And Burt Reynolds sings about how much he likes having you around.

"It's a honker," Boule said, chuckling as she picked through a collection of other bad albums.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILMS

'Slacker' a '90s version of 'Easy Rider'

ANDY WOODWARD

If you've ever wondered what life would be like as a loser in Austin, Texas, then by all means, go see "Slacker."

Written, produced and directed by newcomer Richard Linklater, "Slacker" is about nothing concrete. Plot, snappy one-liners and a killer soundtrack are sacrificed for statements, dialogues and an antiestablishment mentality.

The first scene of the film establishes its motif.

A young man, played by Linklater, philosophizes with a cab driver about the reality of thought. The man compares his idea with the scene in "The Wizard of Oz," after Dorothy saves the scarecrow. He says Dorothy decided to go straight ahead but suggests that the other three roads not taken are all different movies.

Mooden Letters & Citek

Ben Franklin Crafts

1101 Westloop

776-4910

On Stage

This Weekend

Eagle Ridge

Weekly Specials

Mon. 1150 wells

Tues. 1/2 Price Bull Rides

1150 wells

Wed. Free Dance lessons 7:30 p.m.

50¢ Draws

50¢ Tacos

Thurs. 2 Bottles 2 Bucks

Silverado Saloon 531 N. Manhattan

539-0230

from character to character, and the viewer sees how one person interacts with so many others. The trails weave in and around downtown Austin and the University of Texas. The cast of the film is huge.

One interesting character is an elderly man who idolizes President McKinley's assassin and Charles Whitman, the man who shot

Fri-Sat 11 a.m - Midnight

DEA

tower at UT in the 1970s. However, most of the characters are just people you might see walking along the street, and they all have their

"Slacker," which could be compared to the 1960s cult classic "Easy Rider," is also a stream-ofconsciousness experience which, like "Easy Rider," just drifts along in no particular hurry to arrive at a

Where good friends get togeth

2809 Claffin - 539-2091

Overlooking Westloop

This Week's Specials

Tacos 3 for $1.25 reg. 88¢ each

Chili Burrito $1.88reg. $2.58

Exp. 9-26-82

LACO HU

From then on, the film jumps students from the administrative definite destination. However, movie, as it does temper how you while "Easy Rider" has a dismal conclusion, "Slacker" leaves you to make your own judgments.

The normal disclaimer which appears at the end of every film does not appear in "Slacker." The credits read as follows: "This story is based on fact. Any similarity with fictional events or characters is coincidental." This fact should be kept in mind while watching the see the film.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILM

Slacker" will show at 7 and 9:30 p.m. today and Thursday in the K-State Union Forum Hall, and at 7 p.m. Friday in the Union Little Theatre.

when you present this coupon

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK DRINKS TONIGHT and every Wednesday. 18 to enter; 21 to drink

619 North 12th Street; Aggieville, 537-2100

Carnes Comes Comes Comes Comes Comes Comes

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

Great Tasting Early Bird Specials!! Sun.-Thurs. 4-7 p.m. Grilled Tuna Steak ...... $4.95 Chicken Cordon Bleu ..... $5.45 Sauteed Liver & Onions...$4.45 6oz. Sirloin Steak ......$5.45

Above specials served with your choice of potato or rice, . salad bar & rolls.

Try These Fabulous "All-You-Can-Eat" Buffets Friday Night-Seafood $13.95

Saturday Night-Prime Rib $13.95

Rememberl-Every Sunday

9:30-1:30 $4.95 Clyde's Sunday Breakfast Buffet

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Holiday Inn-Holidome

ONE SWEET DEAL 50¢ Off

any "TCBY" Frozen Yogurt item on your next visit (Excluding Cookie Dough Shiver, Cake Cone, Small Smoothie or Kiddie Cup.)

722 N. Manhattan Ave.—Aggieville

Leaders agree to second chance for ending apartheid

ASSOCIATED PRESS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa - President F.W. de Klerk and African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela are expected to meet this weekend to try to restart talks on ending apartheid, the South African Press Association reported Tuesday.

The independent news agency cited sources on both sides as saying the way had been cleared for the meeting, seen as vital to pulling South Africa out of political crisis.

Disagreements between the government and the ANC on a new constitution have stalemated efforts to end apartheid and share power with the black majority. Both sides are under pressure to resolve the deadlock, find ways to end mounting violence and rescue the floundering economy.

De Klerk asked Mandela to attend a summit after 28 ANC protesters were killed Sept. 7 when security forces in the Ciskei black homeland fired on a protest march.

The killings further weakened government-ANC relations. The ANC pulled out of constitutional negotiations in June to protest violence in black townships.

De Klerk has said black-white negotiations are the only way to establish a transitional government that includes blacks. The ANC has made three specific demands before Mandela will agree to a meeting.

It wants a ban on carrying weapons in public; moves to prevent violence that frequently breaks out near migrant workers' hostels; and wants a release of activists convicted of politically motivated crimes.

Perot reconsiders running

ASSOCIATED PRESS

"In retrospect, I think I made a mistake, because they (Clinton and Bush) really didn't face the issues."

ROSS PEROT

DALLAS - Ross Perot said Tuesday he "made a mistake" in dropping his independent presidential challenge, delivering yet another broad hint that he may actively campaign in the final weeks of the race.

The Texas businessman, who is on the ballot in all 50 states, complained that neither President Bush nor Democratic nominee Bill Clinton had offered serious proposals to deal with the nation's budget deficit.

Former media adviser Jim Squires said Perot had no illusions of winning such a race, but he might begin running ads and making speeches in states like Texas and Florida, where he could affect the outcome.

"This is an invitation to Bill Clinton to put a serious economic proposal on the table," Squires said.

He suggested Perot might begin campaign-related activity around Oct. 1 if neither Clinton nor Bush takes him up on his request that they pay more attention to economic issues.

Interviewed on "CBS This Morning," Perot said he thought when he abandoned the race in July that the main parties would more directly address economic issues that worry him and his supporters.

"In retrospect, I think I made a mistake, because they really didn't face the issues," Perot said.

The Dallas billionaire repeated earlier statements that he would let volunteer organizers of ballot-petition drives decide whether he should become an active campaigner.

"They're looking at the situation now, evaluating it and deciding what the situation should be," Perot said.

Both the Clinton and Bush camps

"I don't know what he's doing, but he's obviously up to something," said Bush senior campaign adviser Charles

Black said while an active Perot candidacy could hurt Bush in Texas, it might put some other states in play that aren't in play now.

George Stephanopoulos, communications director of the Clinton campaign, said Clinton considers his own economic plan a serious proposal that promotes growth and reduces the

"We'll continue to focus on the economy in everything we do," Stephanopoulos said.

But Perot said neither Clinton's nor Bush's plan adds up in terms of trimming the nation's deficit, expected to be $335 billion this year.

Perot has proposed strict budget cuts and some tax increases, including higher taxes on gasoline.

Orson Swindle, national volunteer coordinator for Perot's petition drive, said he expected a report from state coordinators by Thursday on local sentiments. They will decide later in the week whether to meet with Perot.

"If he responds to what I expect the volunteers will say and says, 'I will do what I said,' then I think you'll see a full-blown campaign that will not be a conventional campaign," Swindle said.

Smargiasso to lead the first quarte his open arms. Wildcats Saturday

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

and could have had more. He missed a long Smargiasso pass in the first quarter that passed through

"I just took my eye off the ball," Benton said. "I did a lot of things wrong Saturday.

Benton's 69-yard reception, however, was good for the longest Wildcat touchdown catch since

Smargiasso's junior status, along with that big-play potential, was a 13.53 yards per attempt, just short factor in the final decision, Snyder

"We have two guys - one's an upperclassman and one's an underclassman," he said. "Our policy is that if it's on an even keel, we go with the younger guy.

"The circumstances are leaning Jason's way.'

Although Smargiasso completed just 40 percent of his passes, he still ranks first in the Big Eight in passing efficiency. He averaged of the Big Eight record of 15.0, and didn't throw an interception.

Running caught a 73-yarder from Smargiasso, good for the longest reception in college football last weekend. It was Running's only reception of the game.

And what does the new quarterback decision mean to him?

"It really doesn't affect me that much," Running said. "But it is true that, with Jason, there are more possibilities for a big play.

"Jason's more athletic, and I'm happy to see Jason in there," he said. "It's nice to have it over with, and know that we have a No. 1

Despite making Smargiasso the top quarterback, Snyder said he plans to play Garber against

"The fact that we were not productive in the second half against Montana wasn't Matt's fault," he said. "We dropped some balls that we shouldn't have.

"We will continue to utilize both

Snyder said that he doesn't know how much playing time Garber will

At any rate, Smargiasso said it is better for the team to have a No. 1 quarterback, and he's happy to be

"It feels good," he said. "I want to go with it, and I hope that we

ESSENTIALS

'Horny and Single,' part II

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I am a female junior and slept with this hunk of a guy. I think he is hoping for something more than what the experience was. I DO NOT want a serious relationship. I just wanted to be with him. What should I tell him?

L.F., K-State student asked. What took you so long? Tell him the truth, which is what you should have done before you decided you wanted to 'be" with him. I am curiou s though. Do you have a problem with using the term "sexual intercourse?" Why beat around the bush using phrases like

"I just wanted to be with him?" I think this reflects upon how you got into this situation in the first place. You were not being completely up front and honest with your feelings toward this person right from the beginning. Try it sometime. It works.

DEAR CASSANDRA.

I'm new to K-State and don't know my way around here yet.

I noticed that the basement of Lafene Health I knew this question would eventually be Center has been designated as a "women's

My question is, "On which floor is the corresponding 'men's clinic?"

K.M., K-State

Many of the services offered at the clinic are based upon need and demand.

Sally Sowell, administrative director, routine annual exams that women need, such as screening for cervical cancer and breast cancer. They have expressed this need, and the clinic indicated that there are considerably more

If you take the time to look around the basement area, you will notice there are other services contained there as well: health education, dietary lab and PT.

Dr. Larry Moeller, medical director, with a lack of similar services for men. Lafene can provide men with some very important exams relating to prostate infections, prostate cancer, sperm duct infections and testicular cancer - just to name a few. These types of tests do not require the large and numerous pieces of equipment needed in the needed for these exams.

Relax, guys. You are just as important as the

So, take it to heart and go get that check-up.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for pressed concern that you do not confuse this the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

> The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

CALVIN AND HOBBES

I HATE SCHOOL! I'M NOT GOING TO SCHOOL

BILL WATTERSON

I THINK MOM LETTERED IN SHOT PUT HER JUNIOR YEAR.

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 39 Early 1 TV's "-Na Na" house 4 Motorcycle. 41 Allude for short

8 Horn or lace lead-in 12 Actor Johnson of horror

13 Maple genus 14 Resound 15 Brazilian macaw 16 Employees of 50

18 Noted Greek physician 20 Small amount 21 Declare for score 24 "The

Across

Balcony* playwright 28 Heart of 50 Across 32 Rail bird 33 Highest note of the gamut 34 Capital of Yemen 36 Ascot

showing 43 Catch sight of 44 Inferior horse 46 Uncanny 50 The Times or the Herald 55 Say further

56 French verb 57 Thomp son and Salonga 58 Square of turf

60 Pay to play 61 Wield with

37 Condition

of the Collegian or K-State.

Watch for it in the

KANSAS STATE

26 It's

27 Asian unit

child

bread

Festive

weight

DOWN 1 For men only 2 Lively dance 3 Inland sea 4 Streamers

for 50

suit, in

Across 5 Cold dessert 6 Suburb of London 7 Formerly 8 Highest bridge 9 Chop 10 Tree of the beech family 11 They loop the Loop 59 Howls at 17 Witch 42 Urban 19 Print units 22 Banker's transaction 45 occasion 47 Coarse 48 Pagan god 49 Baritone 50 Lincoln is its cap. 51 Airport 52 Distorted 53 Bill-signing

female exams. Therefore, a "special" area is not Something's going to flip your lid Thursday.

EUGENE SHEFFER

23 One receiving a gift 25 Observe

For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99c per minute, touch-tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP

FERTF WEDZX

NTZ ZEEQ YDXXMXD NSGW TMMFXM Yesterday's Cryptoquip: DID FOOLISH ADAM AND EVE EAT THEMSELVES OUT OF HOUSE AND

HOME? Today's Cryptoquip clue: Y equals B

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less — $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50

each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY All classifleds must be paid in advance unless you have an established account Cash, check, MasterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad. For an extra charge, we'll put a days prior to the date you want your ad FREE FOUND ADS

DEADLINES

CANCELLATIONS

Classified ads must be placed by If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads ning days. must be placed by 4 p.m. two working You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only

As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge. for the first wrong insertion.

532-6555

PHONE

OR WRITE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS K-State Collegian Kedzie Hall 103

GET THE WORD

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

OFFICE HOURS

8 a.m.-5 p.m.

(Except holidays)

PARKING

SOUTH OF THE

K-STATE UNION

HALL ROOM 103

KEDZIE

BULLETIN BOARD

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from source es provided, or we'l send you $250 U.S.

Bond, College Scholar ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-

1881, 1-800-879-7485 1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait 1993 studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap

ADVANCED FLIGHT Training, Multi-engine instrument, commercial ATP, CFI ratings Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128

evenings. COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after

CRIBBAGE PLAYERS-Manhattan Cribbage Club is looking for more players for our Call 537-2260 for in-

NEW INTERNATIONAL Youth Hostel open ng between Wichita Junction City $7.50 night, Stone Prairie Inn, Marion, KS 66861. Reservations

(316)382-2746 SEEKING INFORMATION on Lance Daniels at ending a University in Kansas, Please call Angel Palavsch at (314)329-3056

UFM SCUBA Class. Learn from the best Classes starting soon. Contact UFM 539–8763

S Financial Aid Available S Attention All Stude Undergrada & Craduates. Over 58 Billion is grants & scholarships are now available from private sector. & government sources. fo College Students nations vide. All students as eligibled. Let us help you locate the more that you are sligible to receive. Application are now being accepted. To receive you financial aid program call: Student Financial Service.

free for three

FOUND: SMALL gray cat

(short hair) corner of Plymouth and Concord Circle, 539-5132.

LOST: LARGE set of keys, Aggieville, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11:30p.m.

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

A. S .- You wanted it, so here it is. Happy B-Dayl J. P. G-PHI COACHES Leanne DeDe, Rochel, Kathy and Jill, thanks for a the inspiration, dedica in the Spiketacular TO THE women of Alpha Xi Delta- Your pledge

you the best of luck.

Competition take note: our women are out for blood and nothing will get in our way to vicdone. Alpha Xi will be number 1. Love- your pledge games coaches O and B. TRI- SIGMA Deedi, So young and restless with that Mouse Mickey. Felize Veinte Cumple

Loving you, Cin, Lisa, V. A .- The last five days have been great- or it been a month?

When's the next storm? P. S. thanks for the

2p.m. M-F

HAVING A party? Send in a clown! Call 776-3036 between 8a.m. and

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and fourbedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with 537-2919, 537-1666. COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid landlady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494-8201 or 889-4495.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

CLOSE TO campus very one, two, and fourbedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices 537-2919, 537-1666. FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cendryer and dishwasher match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804. FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus,

537-8800 ONE BEDROOM basement, $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT available Park Place. Spacious and nice, pool, laundry facilplus deposit, 539-1167. ONE-BEDROOM APARTMENT located

1960 Hunting. Close to campus coin operated laundry facilities and fire place. $410 includes water and trash For appointment call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804.

Available Oct. 1. SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

heedline above your ad to catch the reader's attention. THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 1-494-2449. THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $375/ month. 776-8628. TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT available or roommate wanted! Central air/ heat, pools, tennis court, and wash-er/ dryer facilities. 537-TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment, $300, bills paid. 539-8401.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath Located fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom with studio apartment income close to city park and campus. borhood, $62,900. 1

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Cam. pus one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539-4087.

For Sale-

COUNTRYSIDE BROKER AGE 12x50 through 14x70 prices starting $3000, payments start ing at $149.75, 10 per cent down, payment vith approved credit.

145 Roommate

FEMALE NEEDED to share room in two-bedroom partment, $180 depos it and rent. All bills and cable paid. Fun and trustworthy roommates. Availability ne-gotiable. 537-2334.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share a three-bedroom apartment with one and a half bath, ly-equipped kitchen in brick complex. Call

ROOMMATE PERATELY needed to share very nice apart-ment close to campus. Own room. Great room mates! $200/ month

ROOMMATE WANTED to share mobile home Grandview Plaza. $160/ month plus one-half utilities Call

ROOMMATES WANTED: Brittnay Ridge. All rooms furnished except bedrooms. Males or females. 776-0589. needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and information TWO FEMALES seek third roommate (male or fe-male) for house. $150/ month one-third of utilities, own room. Close

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ resume. Laser printer. Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experience. 539-5998 after 5p.m.

539-3229.

A B C typing service. You do studying, let me do the typing. Reports, charts graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary. Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after for 5p.m. ask

A QUALITY resume is vital in today's com-petitive job market. Contact the cour teous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing students and staff for over a decade 343 Colorado

KSU- SALINA students/ staff: Hire a professional to type, edit and laser- print your resumes, papers and

TYPING IN my home. Very reasonable rates. Call 539-7843.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years personnel manag for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call

Janice 537-2203

RILEY COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT 2030 Tecumseh 776-4779

FREE PREGNANCY TESTS FREE COUNSELING ALL OPTIONS DISCUSSED

Early Detection is Important

CONFIDENTIAL

(Ad by Friends of Women)

Pregnancy Testing Center

539-3338 Free pregnancy

 Totally confidential ·Same day results

 Call for appointment Located across from campus in Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri.

9 a.m.-5 p.m. 235<sup>child Care</sup>

OAK GROVE School, a nontraditional, secular, nonprofit school for children aged 10, has openings for the fall semester. We offer creative hands-on curriculum low student- teacher ratio; individualized attention to learning needs. State li-needs. State li-censed. Teachers with degrees, cation and experience Open from 7:30-5:30 with several programs and flexible scheduling. We don't discriminate on the basis of race, sex. religion, color, ethn or national origin. Call 537-2349 for information or tour.

GUITAR LESSONS- ex perienced teacher. All styles. 776-0685. WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Per form around state evenings and wee kends. Good pay 776-4999, 537-1741.

245 Pet Services

LOOKING FOR a male Gold en Retriever, AKC Req ister to mate. Call Glo ria at 776-9890 leave messge on machine.

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years experience in Mazdas, Hondas, and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Manhattan, Kansas. 8a.m. 537-5049. 5p.m. Monday through

255 Other Services

HEALTH AND Auto Insurance. Call us be fore buying the University Health Plan. Multi-line Agency. 555 Poyntz Suite

> GET THE WORD OUT. 532-6555

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

EMPLOYMENT

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

weight and make mon-ey. 539-1252.

APPLICATIONS ARE being accepted for Assistant Director of U-Learn. Du ties include volunteer recruitment and train ing, assisting day- to ing director in assign nent of specific tasks Applications are avail by 6p.m. on September

APPLICATIONS ARE being accepted for coordinator of FONE Crisis publicity, volunteer recruitment and training overseeing day- to day operators, finances and representing agen cy to various group Applications are avail able in the SGS office

CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east coast nannies NY, Conn., Long Island, NJ areas Live-in one commitments, $150 and placements. terviews applications

(316)682-1735. HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill full and part-time positions as delivery driv ers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay starts at $4.25 an hour plus 25 cents for each delivery you make Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other at Hardees in Aggieville. NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open ings. Evening shifts and other hours available No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, origin or disability. PEACE CORPS- Needed: A degree or work experi ence in health/ nutri

215. Ti 537-4661. Tim Engle

CAREERS

40 PEOPLE needed to lose day operations, assistable in Holton Hall, room 16 and are due > (800) 733-3265. appointment. 537-0346. and are due by 5p.m.

up per week. Immediate call 800)858-2429

shifts. Apply in person

culture or skilled trades

532-7309 Manhattan, Kan. 66506 tional assignments. Many benefits. Recruiter on your campus Sept. 23. Call 1-800-255-

mation on activities or

FACULTY AND Graduate students needed to volunteer for a study of diet and physical activity. For more informa tion contact Jennifer

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

$200- $500 weekly. home. Easy! No selling You're paid di-rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900. Copyright #KS13KDH

$252.50Sell 50 funny col lege T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales ime equals 4-6 hours. Choose from designs. Smaller/lar quantities available. For

COMPANY EXPANDING in area, part-time posi tions available. Could expand to manage ment career. No experience needed; busi ness or education back ground helpful. Call for EXPANDING BUSINESS in Poland, Looking for people with contacts. Prefer Bilingual, but not 337-2613 evenings.

OPEN MARKET

NEED CASH? Sell your

denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans,

Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776–7472.

APPLE IIE, color monitor $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100 Hondo II bass guitar $120. 776-0872.

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-

Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville, 539-1413. GOVERNMENT SURPLUS Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets, overcoats, new G. boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St.

color TV, remote, on

Saturday, 9- 5

Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734. GUITARS-STRATO CASTOR, case/ amp $275 Sigma Acoustic case- $275, 587-0096.

$200. TEAC four-head VCR remote, cable ready, excellent cond-tion. $150. 486 IBM compatible, 33 MHZ, 130 MB, four-MB ram, 1.44 drives, DOS 5.0 Windows 3.1, mouse modem, monitor SVGA, MoreSoftware $1500. 539-1590 Nassir

NO COLD toes. Good, used carpet. Green sculpture. Call 537-4667leave message for appointment to see.

STAIR- STEPPER for sale. One and one-half years old. Great Condition. Ask for Judi. 776-8147.

FURNITURE CLEARANCE

ture. Oak finish five

PORTATION $129 only $88, sofa and chair regular $199 only $95, TV and stereo entertainment unit regu lar $249 only $125, dou ble dresser regular $299 only $145, king size mattress, box springs and frame only $150, twin set only $60. la-z-boy recliner regular $439 only $195. Faith Furniture, East High-

WATERBED- KING size with a headboard-bookshelf. Call evenings after 8p.m. 776-9845.

way 24, next to Sirlon

MINI BASEBALL Card Show, 10-4 on Sept. 27 at 1846 1/2 Hunting. 537-2616, 539-7611.

TUTTLE'S ANTIQUE Man

ket has super antiques and collectables, 2010

Tuttle Creek Blvd. 537

IMAGEWRITER II printer for Macintosh computers. $175 or best offer leave message.

GUITAR LESSONS: Pat Walleck, the blues brother you didn't see in the movie. Rick's Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900.

450 Pets and Supplies CHINCHILLA: ONE female baby left-$100 includes veterinary exam, food, two-story cage and accessories

HOME NEEDED for two indoor cats. Can be sepa-rated. Free! Call 539-0859. SAMMY HAMSTER brand bils, mice. One large or two small sets. Call

1-494-2873 leave mes-

FERS N. STOLFF M-F 9-8 p.m. Sat. 9-5:30 p.m. Sun. 12-5 p.m. 1105 Waters 539-9494

KENWOOD 10-DISC CD changer with remote Works with factory stereo $275. Two 10-inch Kicker subs in box with x-over $150. Both less

TRANS-

1981 HONDA Accord four door, beige, good condition. Lots of charac $950 539-2387 Ext.

CHEAPI FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

1991 IMPACT Pro moun tain bike. Lots of extras. custom cosmic paint job. Great bike, great buy. Call 539-0816 in

TRIPS

TRAVEL/

1-800-321-5911

SAN JUAN Students **Xmas Break** Airfare round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call sas State Travel.

> GET THE WORD OUT.

532-6555

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

600

in accident

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

became outgoing once people got to know her.

"She would have done anything for anyone. She was very friendly, Jones said.

Tonja was a member of Psi Chi, a psychology honorary, and a volunteer with mentally disabled patients. She was also interning at the Capital City Treatment Center in Topeka with alcohol- and drugdependent patients.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. today at Roberts Blue Barnett Funeral Home in Emporia.

Meganne Moore contributed to

Doctor calls for reform

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"But surveys have shown 60-72 percent of Americans do want universal health insurance financed through taxes," he said.

Roy said people are told they cannot have universal health insurance, because Americans are different from people in nations that have the system, and it would be incompatible with Americans'

The government also claims that America can not afford universal health insurance, Roy said.

"But the reverse is true," he

The United States spends 30 percent more than any other nation on medical expenses, he said.

"Twenty percent is spent for tests and procedures done for no need or reason," he said.

An example, he said, is fetal monitoring during childbirth that shows no improvement compared to births without the monitoring.

Roy proposed a solution: The federal government needs to mandate that each state fund all necessary medical care for its "Public insurance will go with the resident wherever he or she goes and works, as long as the individual is a resident of the state," he said.

There are, however, drawbacks,

Higher tuition with fewer educational programs, lower salaries for faculty and administration and possibly a poorer education could be the result of a universal health-insurance

"More state money for medical care means less for education." Roy

A copy of the text and a video of Roy's speech are available on reserve at Farrell Library.

former Yugoslavia

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Panic, a Serbian-born U.S. citizen.

Panic pleaded for his government to be permitted to remain in the family of nations to strengthen his hand against his hard-line Serb nationalist Yugoslavia, until last year a sixrepublic federation, was a founding member of the United Nations in 1945. Four of the republics have declared independence - Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Slovenia and Macedonia.

European diplomats, seeking to keep channels open for peace negotiations and to aid Panic, whom they see as a moderate, did permit him to address the 179nation General Assembly before the

"We have cooperated with the United Nations in every way we could," Panic said. "We will continue to do so, regardless of the action you take here today.'

Then, moving to quickly restore his country to the family of nations, Panic formally requested U.N. membership on behalf of the new

Any readmission would have to be approved by the Security Council, and members such as the United States and Britain will insist that Belgrade comply with peace accords before offering their

The draft resolution says Yugoslavia "cannot continue automatically the membership of the former" Yugoslav state "and that it shall not participate in the work of the General Assembly."

It requires Yugoslavia to apply for U.N. membership as a new nation, and resolves to reconsider the issue by year's end.

In introducing the resolution, Britain's ambassador, Sir David Hannay, said it was not a punitive measure, nor one designed to undermine the peace process. It was designed, he said, to deny Yugoslavia's right to inherit the seat the federation held before its breakup.

Yugoslavia's principal ally in the United Nations, Russia, has sought to put a positive spin on the Coming Off Their 1st Album:

"Midwest Man"

Riverrock

September 25 & 26

Live Popular Country Bands

from four-state region every weekend

Alibi Country Club

1322 Grant Ave.

Junction City

Laser Karaoke All Night Wednesday

Student dies U.N. votes to oust Cable bill passes Senate

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

voting is needed in each chamber to enact a law against a president's wishes. That's 289 votes in the House if all 433 representatives vote and 67 in the 100-member

Bush has vetoed 31 bills, none overridden by Congress.

Democratic vice-presidential candidate Sen. Al Gore of Tennessee, one of the bill's original co-sponsors, came off the campaign trail to cast his vote in favor of the

"Consumers are sick and tired of getting soaked by big cable companies," Gore said. "This legislation will force cable companies to do what they so far have refused - answer to their customers and compete in a market that for too long has been a monopoly."

Gore campaign spokeswoman Marla Romash said, "George Bush vetoes this bill at his own peril. "For both Bill Clinton and Al Gore, the choice is clear: You stand with the consumer. It's not so clear with George Bush," she said.

Bush promised a veto in a letter to congressional leaders last week.

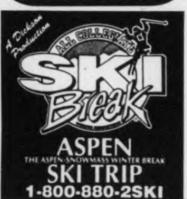

You've got to spend money to make it.

CLLEGIAN Display Advertising

532-6560

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st. -800-848-LOVE (5683)

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

1118 Laramie • 539-5303

BIG VALUE PIZZA

LARGE

LUNCH BUFFET

ALL YOU CAN EAT

Pizza • Breadsticks • Pasta • Dessert

Godfather's | ADD A SALAD ONLY 604 EACH Godfather's Valid Monday the Fiday, 11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. Dine-in only.

area and times. Add $1 for delivery. Expires 10-11-92.

SUPER PEPPER

Has Arrived on Campus

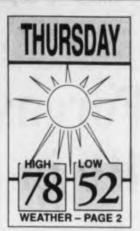

For Information on becoming a Founding Father, call Scott Leigh at (913) 539-7531

KANSAS STATE HEG

INSIDE ■ The first issue of the Collegian's monthly entertainment magazine

SEPTEMBER 24, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99. NUMBER 23

REDEFINING K-STATE ACADEMICS

Crafting the University's future

REDEFINING K-STATE ACADEMICS

The face of academics at K-State is undergoing a number of changes. Several recent events could change the course of programs for both current and future students.

Today's front page is dedicated to stories about this new direction and its effects on students and faculty, as well as their responses.

Many stories that would normally warrent Page 1 attention have been moved to Page 3.

INSIDE

- 20th-day enrollment figures show a slight decrease in K-State's enrollment compared to last fall.
- A flood in the south of France has killed at least 32 people.
- President Bush has vetoed a family leave bill, adding fire to the family values debate.

MORE ACADEMIC COVERAGE

Program

Collegian

Wednesday.

student in speech pathology.

who need social workers.

- Changes in the College of Education could lead to the demise of the school library certification program.
- Computing and Information Sciences is moving from the College of Arts and Sciences to the College of Engineering.

helps many,

students say

Protesters from the speech pathology and audiology and social work programs stood in the lobby of Forum Hall before President Jon

Wefald's State of the University address in demand," said Karen Poindexter, graduate work and speech pathology programs, everyone will suffer, she said. This includes people who have been in accidents, children and people the rest of the state, but they should be a statewide and even a nationwide concern, she

The cuts haven't been projected as affecting

"We want people to know our services are

If the proposed cuts are made in the social

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Wefald: KSU in 'good condition'

TAD MUSSELWHITE Collegian

The state of the University address by President Jon Wefald left some questions about the future of some K-

The Arts and Sciences College Core Committee has recommended deemphasizing the speech pathology and audiology program.

Despite some tense, heated discussion of those proposed cuts during the question-and-answer period that followed, Wefald's address was positive.

"I am very pleased to be able to tell you that Kansas State University is in very good condition," Wefald said.

This does not mean that the University is adequately funded," he said. "In fact, we are funded at 85 percent of our peers."

It also does not mean faculty salaries or numbers of classes for students are adequate, he said. "What it does mean is that, within the limitations of the funding we received, the faculty, the students and the administration by working together have created an atmosphere of learning, a solid record of success and a sense of community," he

Faculty Senate President Brad Fenwick, introduced Wefald

KANSAS STAT

President Jon Wefald delivers the State of the University address Wednesday afternoon.

and Coffman as speakers and gave closing statements.

Fenwick said K-State is a strong school, but it is on the edge. The message must get out to parents, alumni and legislators about the financial problems of the University, he said.

Fenwick said if the lack of funding continues, cuts may continue. Ann Smit, director of speech pathology and audiology and member of the college core committee, had no comment on the speech. She said, however, that she was not satisfied with the answers given to her by Wefald and Provost Jim Coffman during the question-answer period after the address.

Smit asked why the University is "out to get" the speech pathology program. Coffman and Wefald said it is not.

"Last year, the Board of Regents said universities should look at all their programs and decide which programs to enhance, keep up and cut budgets or eliminate," Wefald said.

Wefald said K-State has a "bottoms-ups" policy, where all the programs are evaluated and the strongest programs will be enhanced. He said the University must make cuts.

Wefald cited data as the basis for the decision to cut the

See SMIT Page 12

"This does not mean that the University is adequately funded. In fact, we are funded at 85 percent of our peers."

JON WEFALD

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Role, aspiration statement tabled

Faculty members want more information before moving ahead on program cuts

JULIE LONG Collegian

Arts and sciences faculty members met with Dean Peter Nicholls Tuesday afternoon to discuss the proposals for programs in the college.

The faculty decided to table the portion of the college's proposed role and aspiration statement, which included provisions for the proposed de-emphasis of the social work program and the elimination of the speech pathology and audiology

Nicholls said the recommendations to emphasize and de-emphasize programs stemmed from a Kansas Board of Regents mandate requiring new role and aspiration statements from all six regent institutions.

The statement requires them to review programs to prevent duplication.

George Keiser, chairman of the core committee reviewing the proposals and professor of English, described how the committee members developed the report.

According to the meeting minutes, Keiser said: "They began with the departmental role and aspiration statements, proposals from the dean's office and statistical materials.

"As the report progressed, they met with affected department and program heads together with the dean, and later without the dean and staff. They then wrote the report and proposals.'

Aruna Michie, president-elect of Faculty Senate and associate professor of political science, said the faculty met with the dean to clear up some questions

It's not clear how particular criteria were applied, she said

"Part of what the debate was about was the criteria and how were they evaluated and applied," Michie said. "We needed a clarification of standards."

Jim Armagost, associate professor of speech, made a motion to remove the recommendations for program for

Included in the motion was a request that the dean's office provide analysis describing how the core committee reached its decision based on the criteria.

It also asked that another meeting be called and that faculty possibly be permitted to vote on the proposals.

Linda Richter, professor of political science, suggested an amendment to Armagost's motion that the programs to be emphasized also be removed from the proposal until details of how the decisions to emphasize those programs are laid out.

The motion was approved by a

■ See FACULTY Page 12

said. "We are concerned about this issue," said Katie Strong, graduate student in speech pathology. "We have good questions that haven't been answered.' The recommended cuts won't be passed by the arts and sciences faculty until centrality and cost effectiveness, which are the specified reasons for the program cuts, are clearly defined, Strong said.

about what is happening to these programs, she Protests over the proposals won't stop this time like they did two years ago when

The protests are intended to inform people administration attempted to reorganize the colleges of Architecture and Design and Human Ecology, Poindexter said. Students should realize that no program is safe from cuts, she said, and cutting classes isn't going to help monetary problems. There needs to be legislative support.

There have been supportive letters from social workers and parents whose children have been helped by audiologists and speech pathologists, she said.

PEOPLE

Forensics ranks 4th in nation

Collegian

The K-State forensics program fell behind one place but still emerged among the top five forensics programs in the nation, according to the Intercollegiate Speech Tournament Results. These results, compiled by Seth Hawkins of Southern Connecticut State University, are a record of every intercollegiate debate and individual-events tournament during the 1992 season. It indicates in points how well a school has performed in the last season.

According to the 1992 National Sweepstakes top 100, K-State ranked fourth with 171.99 points -110.04 points behind Bradley University, which took first. This year, the team managed to beat a favorite rival, the University of Texas-Austin, by 34.7 points.

Craig Brown, director of individual events, attributed the placing to a combination of excellent teaming, a lot of hard work, and both financial and spiritual support from President Jon Wefald and Dean Peter Nicholls of the College of Arts and Sciences.

"Our students tend to do a lot of events well, and that helps," Brown said. "Right now, we've got two really strong upperclass teams and some really nice underclass teams as well."

Susan Stanfield, director of debate, agreed with Brown that interest in forensics has increased.

"We've had the largest freshman class that we've ever had," Stanfield said.

Also, Wefald made the decision to try to attract brighter debate and forensics students to K-State last year, Brown said.

"He started putting more money into and supporting the debating program, and this year, he's doing that with the individual events as well," he said. "Basically, he's been supporting the forensics program."

Todd Trautman, assistant coach and graduate student in speech, said 60 percent of the winning came from being mentally prepared. "The other 40 percent comes from developing the arguments," he said.

To develop the arguments, forensic team members carry around at least six magazines and four daily newspapers, said Mark Esfeld, senior in milling science and management.

Tim Schultz, junior in Radio and TV, and last year's national champion, won with his 9 1/2 minute delivery on the movie "JFK." This year, he said he will analyze Rush Limbaugh, the radio talk-show host, for communication

"I think that last year we learned that we could compete," he said. "We had been 26th in the nation the year before, and last year we were fourth ... and we realized that if we all worked together, we could compete."

Brown said, "What makes the KSU program so special is that we are one of the few programs that does both debate and individual events, and both seriously. We are one of the Notre Dames of forensics."

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

was filed.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

At 7:49 a.m., a burglary of truck, license No. CUJ 422, was Cardwell computer components was

At 9:47 a.m., a black Cavaller, license No. FHB 371, was wheellocked in Lot A-29 for excessive violations. At 2 p.m., a lost/stolen ID report

At 10:17 a.m., a black Nissan

wheellocked in Lot A-29 for excessive

At 11:53 a.m., a white Plymouth Sundance, license No. BKE 582, was towed from Lot A-26

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

At 10:31 a.m., Lance Lunsway, 629 Moro St., No. 7, was the victim of a hit-and-run accident.

At 12:53 p.m., Carolyn L. Flippin, 502 Lincoln St., St. George, was detained and served with a notice to appear for shoplifting. Taken was miscellaneous clothing. Loss was

At 3:15 p.m., Winifred Schand, Travelers Motel, Pottawatomie County, and Jeremy Fitzgerald, 2522 Candle Crest, were involved in a noninjury accident at 500 Sunset Ave.

At 3:23 p.m., Shop Quik, 473 E. Poyntz Ave., reported the theft of gasoline. Loss was $16.

CORRECTIONS

In Tuesday's story on speech pathology and audiology, Dean Peter Nicholls was reported as saying the program costs $270 per credit hour, compared with $50-60 per credit hour for other programs. The $270 figure refers to the graduate program, not the undergraduate program.

In today's SILO magazine, the headline for the story on Kansas City's Renaissance Festival should read "Just west of Kansas City you can find ...

The Collegian regrets the errors.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

Graduation check sheets are due in the Graduate School office by Oct. 1 for those wishing to graduate this semester.

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

Intramural entry deadline for the wrestling meet will be at 5 p.m. in the Recreational Services Office in the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

■ Alpha Kappa Psi will have a pledge meeting at 6 p.m. in Union 212.

■ Pre-Vet Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Trotter 201.

■ BSU Salt Company will meet at 7 p.m. in the campus Baptist Center.

■ Table Tennis Club will meet from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the Ecumenical Building.

■ Students Acting to Save a Vulnerable Environment will meet at 7 p.m. at UFM.

■ Wildlife Society will meet at 7 p.m. in Ackert 120.

■ KSU Speech, Language and Hearing Association will meet for officer elections and yearbook photos at 8 p.m. in Leasure 013. ■ Sigma Delta Pi will meet at 7 p.m. in Eisenhower 016. Free Spanish tutoring. ■ Rotaract will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 204.

Parachute Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 204.

■ The Graduate School has scheduled the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Mostafa Bouljihad for 3 p.m. in Trotter 406. Topic will be "Sheep Pneumonia in Morocco with Particular Emphasis on Maedi and Pulmonary Adenomatosis.

Southwind will meet at 8:30 p.m. in the Ecumenical Building. 1021 Denison Ave.

■ Campus Crusade for Christ will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin 109. ■ Al-a-non will meet from 12:05 to 1 p.m. in Lafene 231.

■ Department of Psychology will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Bluemont 5102. John Uhlarik will present a colloquium, "Human computer Interaction: Visual Display Formatting in the Glass Cockpit."

Finance Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 207. Student Foundation will meet at 8 p.m. in the KSU Foundation Building, fifth floor.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Sunny, high in the upper 70s. South wind 10 to 15 mph. Tonight, clear, low in the lower 50s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny. High in the lower 80s.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Saturday through Monday: A chance for thunderstorms Saturday and Sunday, dry Monday. Highs in the 70s. Lows in the 50s Monday.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

TOPEKA 72/44 MANHATTAN 73/41 GOODLAND KANSAS 82/52 RUSSELL CITY 81/50 69/48 GARDEN CITY WICHITA 82/45 78/49 COFFEYVILLE 71/48

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Lima	65/57	clear
Bangkok	91/73	cloudy	Oslo	59/54	cloudy
Dhahran	106/77	clear	Santiago	73/36	cloudy
Istanbul	73/61	clear	Tokyo	79/63	clear

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502 POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. News contributions will be accepted by telephone. (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

Mr. Saturday Night

CASTLE ROCK ENTERTAINMENT IN ASSOCIATION BOTH NEW LINE CINEMA PRESENTS FACE PRODUCTION BILLY CRYSTAL "MR. SATURDAY NIGHT" DAVID PAYMER JULIE WARNER HELEN HUNT AND RON SILVER PETER SCHINDLER MARC SHAIMAN KENT BEYDA, A.C.E. ALBERT BRENNER LOWELL GANZ TO BABALOO MANDEL BILLY CRYSTAL TO LOWELL GANZ BABALOO MANDEL OPENS SEPTEMBER BILLY CRYSTAL

Volunteers needed to complete Collegian survey

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian? twice a week three times or more

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

000 Bulletin Board 145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture

010 Announceme 020 Lost and found

030 Personals

040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More

100 Housing/Real Estate

105 For Rent-Apt. Furnished

110 For Rent-Apt. Unlumished 115 Rooms Available

125 For Sale-Houses

130 For Rent-Mobile Home 135 For Sale-Mobile Home 140 For Rent-Garage

120 For Rent-Houses

205 Tutor

230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJ's 245 Pet Services

160 Office Space

165 Land for Sale

200 Service Director

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing

410 Items for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Self 420 Garage/Yard Sales 425 Auction 430 Antiques

435 Computers

440 Food Specials

250 Automotive Repair

300 Employment/Careers

310 Help Wanted 460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell 20 Volunteers Needel 500 Transportation 400 Open Market 405 Wanted to Buy

510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets 630 Train Tickets

640 Bus Tickets

445 Music Instruments

450 Pets and Supplies

455 Sporting Equipment

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no If so, what categories?

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

NAME

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER

SIGNATURE

KANSAS STATE

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad.

Thank you!

Enrollment down from last year

Total figure at 21,222

K-State and K-State-Salina's combined fall enrollment of 21,222 students is a decrease of 1 percent from last fall.

The official word was released Wednesday. Monday marked the 20th day of classes at K-State.

Last fall's enrollment figures, from both campuses, totaled 21,507 students, while 21,811 enrolled in fall 1990.

This year, the main campus recorded 20,449 students, while the Salina campus has 773 students enrolled. K-State President Jon Wefald said one reason for the stabilization effort is to benefit students.

"We don't want to be in a position where there is not enough faculty or overloading classrooms," he said. "We want to stay around the magic number of 21,000, because we don't want an irreversible decline or an overload."

Pat Bosco, associate vice president for institutional advancement, said the steady figures include the enrollment of 1992 college transfer students, which began to stabilize during 1987-88.

"Our goal is to maintain a market share or percentage, which enabled us to stabilize for the last three falls," he said.

Bosco said the number of high-school graduates enrolling will increase by 20 percent in the future, which could result in skyrocketing figures.

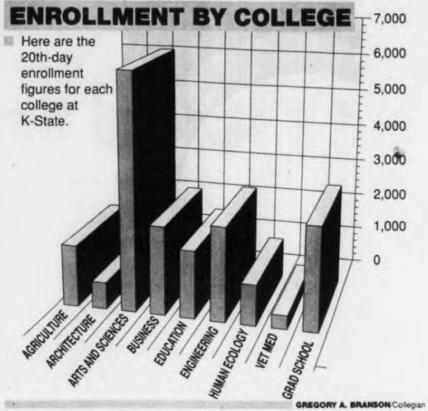

"This is not only a challenge to Kansas State University, but a concern for all Kansans," he said.

Also Wednesday, Pittsburg State University reported fall semester enrollment at 6,516, which is an all-time high for the school. Pittsburg State recorded an increase of 350 students more than a year ago.

Wichita State University fall enrollment totaled 15,120, which was a decrease of 659 students from last year.

The University of Kansas has not yet released its fall enrollment.

The Associated Press contributed to

Freshmen, dorm numbers decline

"I think we are at the bottom of the decline."

BARB ROBEL

Residence hall numbers are down this year, as are the overall number of freshmen at K-State.

According to Bob Burgess, assistant director for business operations, housing and dining services, the residence hall numbers are down by 175 people.

"The residence halls have not been 100 percent full since the fall of 1989," Burgess said.

Burgess said there are less people graduating from Kansas high schools. In the last three to four years, the number of seniors graduating in the state has dropped, Lower overall freshmen numbers are forcing University numbers down also, Burgess said.

According to the 20-day enrollment figures, overall enrollment is down about 1 percent at K-State compared to a year ago.

A total of 20,449 students are enrolled in classes at the Manhattan campus, down 263

Burgess did not think increasing residence hall prices were a factor have been made up of 55 percent freshmen and 45 percent

sophomores and upperclassmen,

This year's ratio is the same,

Burgess said.

in the decline of students living

"Although the price of the up next year."

In the past, the residence halls residence halls has gone up, so have the prices of off-campus living, such as apartments, sororities and fraternities," Burgess

Barb Robel, greek affairs meaning the number of adviser, said the number of women sophomores and upperclassmen going through sorority rush has choosing a residence hall has also decreased. Last year, 544 women went through rush as opposed to 472 this year.

"I think we are at the bottom of the decline," Robel said. "The numbers are expected to go back

Democrats say values betrayed

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - Democrats rushed Wednesday to accuse President Bush of betraying "family values" by vetoing a family

Meanwhile, congressional Republicans pressed an alternative plan and defended the president's veto pen.

Some Republican sponsors acknowledged there was little chance that Congress, in its waning weeks, would embrace Bush's alternative to the family leave bill — a $500-million tax credit to employers who let workers have unpaid time off in family emergencies.

Still, they used it as a political defense following Bush's veto Tuesday night of the bill that would have required many employers to give workers up to 12 weeks off in such cases.

"I'm not too optimistic about this," Rep. Fred Grandy, R-Iowa, said at a news conference where Republicans touted their alternative. "I do believe, however, in the next Congress we will have a spirited debate."

Bush's veto, while expected, gave Democrats a chance to accuse Republicans of empty rhetoric on family values.

"After talking interminably about family values, he vetoed the family and medical leave bill. That is not leadership," Democratic vice presidential nominee Al Gore said.

"Seventy-two countries have a family and medical leave act," presidential challenger Bill Clinton said, with Gore on a campaign bus tour. 'We're being told by this president we can't. I was taught to believe that America was the we-can country." It was the second time in three years that Bush has vetoed a family and medical leave bill. Democrats scheduled an override vote in the Senate on Thursday, but the odds were against them in the House, where the veto will not be

"With one swipe of the veto pen, the president isolated himself," said Sen. Christopher Dodd, taken up unless the Senate votes to override.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Interim dean nominees face off

Two candidates faced off at a forum for the position of interim dean of the College of Agriculture Wednesday in the Union Little

Marc Johnson, Department of Agricultural Economics head, and Jack Riley, head of the Department of Animal Sciences, were asked to address five main topics during the forum. T h e

College of Agriculture academic programming, International Agriculture and AES functions?

resignation of Walter Woods Johnson: "The watchword in downsizing is balance - teaching, opened the position of dean, as well as his positions as director of the research and functional work are all Cooperative Extension Service and important. We need to identify various areas where we need to the Agricultural Experiment encourage output, and work with Four nominations were made to Riley: "We should establish priorities consistent with our

Following are questions about topics raised by the selection committee and part of the Assum-ing that downsizing will be a trend in next decade.

what do you see as the approach to programing.

CES

candidates' responses during the

■ See DECISION Page 12

Storm leaves France hurting

ASSOCIATED PRESS

VAISON-LA-ROMAINE, France - France's deadliest storm in 34 years killed at least 32 people, including 21 in an ancient town devastated by a flash flood, officials said Wednesday.

Provost Jim Coffman, but only two candidates accepted the nomination.

A decision is expected later this

Hundreds of rescue workers searched for nearly 50 missing

Torrential rains and violent winds swept through southern France Tuesday, ruining crops and damaging roads and buildings in scenic Vaucluse, a popular destination for French and foreign vacationers.

"It's an indescribable tragedy," said Claude Haut, mayor of Vaisonla-Romaine, one of the towns hardest hit.

Weather forecasters said the same storm system struck England Wednesday, swelling rivers in the south and central regions. No deaths were reported, but highways and rail lines were flooded, stranding thousands of commuters.

Italian authorities reported two people missing when flash floods swept the Savona area on the north coast near the French border.

200 students register to vote

Julie Oswalt, sophomore in early childhood education, helps Scott Uhlrich, junior in milling sciences, register to vote Wednesday.

Deputized students a big help with registration drive, county clerk says

STEPHANIE FUQUA

John Scott, non-degree graduate student, squinted in the bright sunlight Wednesday afternoon as he told his reason for registering to vote. "I'm pissed off," Scott said. "It's angering. Our foreign policy, the drug war, is a farce. Our foreign policy is dictated by resources, like in the Persian Gulf."

Wednesday's voter registration drive in K-State Union Plaza.

Ilene Colbert, Riley County clerk, said she was happy with the turnout - more than 200 students in four hours.

She said students deputized to help register voters were a big help. There was some controversy last week when Colbert refused to deputize members of the Young Democrats.

She said she finally decided to participated in deputize students because the time was right. "I'd have several requests.

Normally, before each general election, we like to do this sort of thing," Colbert said.

Amy Smith, junior in secondary education, was one of the deputized students.

"I have been involved in campus and student government," Smith said.

"I like to make it easier for other students to vote. The registration drive makes it easy, and I like to help in any way I

Scott said he had planned to vote for Democrat Bill Clinton in the presidential election.

"I was going to vote for Clinton just because I hate Bush," Scott said. "Now I'm not sure. I might vote for Perot or a Libertarian. That might be a waste of my vote, though."

Brent Emch, junior in agribusiness, said he plans to vote for President Bush.

"I was raised Republican and just followed their ways," Emch said. "I registered, because it is my right, and I feel one vote might have an impact for the presidential election.

NEWS DIGEST

COLLOR MAY BE OUSTED

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) - The Supreme Court on Wednesday dealt a sharp blow to President Fernando Collor de Mello's hopes of avoiding impeachment, rejecting his appeals for a secret vote in Congress and a delay in the proceedings.

The decision means Congress likely will vote next week to impeach Collor, Brazil's first freely elected leader in 30 years.

▶U.N. PLANS RESOLUTION

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - Security Council diplomats were planning Wednesday for a war crimes resolution to punish "ethnic cleansing" and attacks on civilians in former Yugoslav republics.

The pole that bore Yugoslavia's flag for decades was bare Wednesday after the U.N. General Assembly voted 127-6 the night before to expel it from the assembly.

FRIDAY POW-MIA DAY

TOPEKA (AP) - Gov. Joan Finney today reaffirmed her belief that American prisoners of war still might be held overseas, signing a proclamation of support for a group involved in the issue.

The proclamation declares Friday "POW-MIA Recognition Day" in Kansas, just as Congress has made the same designation nationally.

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Bush backs out a second time

THE ISSUE

President Bush has now cancelled two scheduled debates with Bill Clinton.

WE SUGGEST

The debate over debates should end. Bush should stand on his record, no matter the debate format.

To debate or to not debate. That is the question for the 1992 presidential campaign.

A presidential debate scheduled for Tuesday in East Lansing, Mich., didn't happen. The debate was scrapped after President Bush objected to the ground rules proposed by the bipartisan Commission on Presidential Debates.

The commission favors a single moderator, a format it says will encourage more open debate between candidates.

Bush didn't like the single-moderator format. He said he wants a panel of journalists to question the candidates, as in past campaigns.

Advisers for Democratic nominee Bill Clinton said he would not accept debate plans developed outside the commission.

The commission then offered to turn next week's proposed vice-presidential debate in Louisville, Ky., into a Bush-Clinton faceoff.

Wrong.

Ol' George turned it down a second time. The commission announced Wednesday that Bush's aides had refused to come to a meeting to discuss plans for the debate.

The president said, "I want a debate. ... I will stand on my record, and I won't let that Arkahsas governor run away from his record, either."

If the president is willing to stand on his record, then why does the format of a debate make a difference?

The debate over debates has gone on long enough.

American voters deserve a discourse.

We deserve to hear the candidates argue the real issues, not whether to debate.

And we don't want any more excuses.

Quit looking like a chicken, George. Give us the debate we want.

TOLES

Secession may soon be a reality

HAWKS

Counties in Kansas have many reasons to form 51st state

ne of my neighbors is from papers, talk of secession is rampant. Rolla, a small town in southwest Kansas. In case you hadn't heard, his county, along with eight others, voted to secede from Kansas in April because of state legislation that strips the counties of tax revenues.

Under the new school finance plan passed by Gov. Joan Finney and the Legislature, the amount these counties may spend on education has decreased, while the taxes they pay have increased to as much as six times that of districts further east.

In other words, they are getting the shaft.

Few people around here are taking the secession effort seriously. In the western reaches of the state, however, people are dead serious.

Being from Western Kansas myself, I can tell you there is a real gap between the concerns of the west and the east.

While Mike Hayden reigned in Topeka, the western expanses were kept happy by his "Highways as Promised" criticized as only good for relieving taxpayers of their money.

Reading my friend's newspaper, the Hugoton Hermes, only reaffirmed my views. In the pages of southwest Kansas

On Page 1, the Legislature is referred to as "Marvin Barkis and his gang of eastern Kansas bandits." Unfair tax' measures under consideration are explained in detail rarely found in newspapers, with explanations of urban tax abatements and precise figures on proposed tax increases.

The most interesting talk, though, is on Page 2. Here, an editorial by Sherry Goering speculates on the nature of government in the soon-to-be 51st state. In a state with a small population base living in small towns, the government may become completely localized.

While the state capitol may be in one town, the state bureaucracy would be spread throughout the state. State offices in each town would be completely computerized, allowing rapid access to information, state records or assistance. The offices' small staffs would be able to work with the citizens to solve any problems.

The economy, driven by the naturalgas reserves that give the area such a program. Now, Finney's tax relief is large tax base, would spread as the establishment of grasslands and Santa Fe Trail sites created more tourism. Automobiles would be run on compressed natural gas or ethanol, the use of which would make No. 51 the Clean Air State.

Such a state might only be possible in a relatively wealthy rural area, but the concept sounds promising. The state's small size will encourage personal responsibility, and technology will allow better living. This is perhaps our first glimpse of a more personal government born in the 21st century.

This movement is not something to be suppressed. Instead, it should encouraged. It sounds much more capable of meeting our daily needs than the sluggish leviathan based in Topeka.

It sounds to me like a great place to live, and I half-wish my county was seceding with them. I don't, however, envy my friend having to pay out-ofstate tuition to come here. He doesn't seem to mind, though, taking it all with a pioneer-like spirit. I guess after 130 years or so of living somewhere, people get a little tired of paying high taxes.

After all, it's not like this is the first time.

READERS WRITE

ABORTION

Column lacks facts needed for support

I am writing in response to Scott Spradlin's article claiming that having an abortion is more dangerous than carrying a child to term. Although this particular columnist has irked me in the past, I am writing now only because I fear that unwitting readers may mistake his column for truth.

I have been doing research on responses to abortion for the past five years, and, as far as I know, there is no evidence to support Spradlin's claim.

In addition, the "evidence" adduced by Spradlin is weak and unsubstantiated. A woman died of abortion in 1977? Is this the best he can do?

Selective reporting of case studies that back up one's argument has always been a method relied upon by people lacking concrete facts to support their views.

In fact, in testimony to the Surgeon General, U.S. Psychological American Association members reported that the early medical literature on abortion favorably quoted weak case studies of questionable scientific value in order to uphold the prevailing belief that having an abortion must be harmful.

Potential complications after abortion numbering 100? Where does this number come from? many potential complications are there after bearing a child? I could say there are 526; does that make it

Finally, I believe Spradlin should read what he himself writes. Specifically, he says there is no accurate way to estimate the number of abortion-related complications or deaths. If we accept this argument, it renders the rest of his column moot. Clearly, if we have no idea how many women experience adverse side effects after abortions, we don't know that childbearing is a safer option.

> Catherine Cozzarelli Assistant professor/Psychology

▶ OBJECTOR

Soldier main part of historical irony

Editor,

I read the article in the Sept. 22 Collegian about Yolanda Huet-Vaughn's appearance at K-State with great interest. I would like to offer the following observation in response to the criticism of her behavior during the Gulf War. After World War II ended in 1945, the victorious Allies convened courts to judge the responsibility of the German and Japanese leaders for atrocities committed during the war. Several high-ranking members of the German military were indicted for mistreatment of the prisoners of war and civilians of the nations they conquered.

In defense, these officers claimed they were not directly responsible for the crimes they had been accused of because they were following orders given to them by their superiors. They insisted they would have suffered dire retribution for not carrying these orders out, and thus did so even when they found the personally instructions disagreeable.

The Allied Tribunal judging the cases rejected these arguments and asserted that "following orders" in no way excused them from personal responsibility in the crimes they committed. Obeying orders did not excuse them from the responsibility for exercising moral judgment. Several of the officers were then sentenced to death or long prison terms.

In the fall of 1990 and spring of 1991, Huet-Vaughn declined to fulfill her obligation to serve in the U.S. Army and participate in the American intervention in the Persian Gulf on the grounds that she found this particular action immoral. For this, she was convicted and jailed, and served 9 months of a 5-year term before being granted clemency by the Army. Apparently, she was punished for displaying moral judgment and disobeying orders, albeit at an inopportune time.

Did Huet-Vaughn serve a jail sentence and endure continuing persecution for doing what the U.S. government condemned German generals to death for not doing? Shouldn't the U.S. Army be encouraging the practice of moral judgment and the courage to act on it, rather than discouraging and penalizing it?

> Shawn Robert Woodford Graduate student/History

THANKS

Fraternity ensures test-taker's safety

Editor.

I am writing to publicly express my thanks to the Sigma Chi fraternity for providing escorts for my students.

As a graduate teaching assistant with two large classes, I found it necessary to give a night exam. During one of my class sessions, I verbally articulated my concerns about the safety of my female students. One of my students, a member of Sigma Chi, told me that in accordance with the fraternity's rape awareness program, members would be willing to provide escorts for the female students.

The gentlemen did an excellent job, and only complimentary feedback has been brought to my attention. Until the night can finally be taken back, it is good to see a fraternity providing some students and a GTA some peace of mind.

> Anthony Barilla Graduate teaching assistant/Economics

VALUES

Professor unfairly attacks columnist

All I can say about Professor Michael Ossar's letter to the editor critiquing John Hart's column titled "Individual Values are Never Neutral" is devastating.

I especially like the way he jokingly belittles a student's point of view. He boldly deems that point of view beneath the need for a real counterargument. I must say, his letter no doubt did what it was intended to do: to, at least momentarily, discourage Hart from further airing his views on the subject.

But should professors get into the habit of joking about and belittling students' earnest expression of opinion, even if those expressions seem distasteful to us? I thought encouraging (and acting as models for) reasoned debate was one of our goals. Perhaps we should have at least one nonrelative value, so long as K-State students and parents are paying tuition: decorum.

Laurie Johnson Assistant professor/Political

ROTC Cadets prepare for field training exercises

ABOVE: Tim Bullington, senior in animal sciences and industry, orders his group to do their 10 pushups after they had completed the obstacle course.

LEFT: Members of the ROTC Third Platoon jump over ropes that were used to simulate trenches. The three groups with the best times do not have to do their physical training at

ABOVE: One of the ROTC Platoons stands at attention before the ROTC Individual Tactical Training Assault Course. They were preparing for the Oct. 16 Fall Field Training Exercises. About 90 ROTC cadets ran the course Tuesday afternoon behind the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

Photographs by Cary Conover

REAL COLLEGE CREDIT

Starts With A Wildcat Visa Or MasterCard Of Your Choice.

Apply Today!

6 a.m. Friday.

Call First Bank Card Center at 1-800-582-2731, and we'll take your application over the phone, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Be sure to ask for the Wildcat card when you call.

(Please be sure to have your Social Security Number ready when you call. And if your monthly income is below $300, please have guarantor information available.)

Great Benefits For K-State Students!

Apply for the card of your choice now, and you may soon be enjoying:

- No annual fee for six months, and just $18 each year thereafter;
- A competitive 17.88% Annual Percentage Rate;
- No finance charges with our 25-day grace period on retail purchases. Simply pay your balance in full by the due date, and you won't pay any finance charges;
- 24-hour instant cash access at over 60,000 CIRRUS® ATMs across the country and all over the world;
- $150,000 automatic travel insurance whenever you use your Wildcat card to purchase a passenger ticket on any plane, train, ship or bus;
- No transaction fees.

Apply Today! Call First Bank Card Center Toll-Free At 1-800-582-2731, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:45 p.m.

Hockey team looks to finish near top

FRANK KLEEMANN

The K-State hockey team is prepared for a big check when the skaters take the ice for the first time Oct. 25.

The team's season opener against the Kansas Jayhawks at the King Louis Arena in Overland Park should be the first step in a successful second-year Division II season.

"This will be a great year for us," said Jake Kisel, defensive line captain. "We'll surprise some teams in the league. I think we should definitely take third place, if not second, in the league.

K-State joins the Central States Collegiate Hockey League and plays in its southern conference. Four teams from St. Louis, and KU are the skaters' opponents. The northern conference includes teams from Iowa and South

Kisel said the team's goal is to place in the top three at the league tournament, which is played by the six best CSCHL schools. That would qualify the Wildcats for the Division II national championships next spring in Flagstaff,

"I don't see any reason why we shouldn't do it," Kisel said. "All the teams we play, we beat at least once last year."

Optimism is based on a preseason ranking of the CSCHL. K-State was ranked third.

The Cats may also recruit several experienced players from Canada and return all except one player from last year. The skaters have 13 field players and three goalies, but they are still looking for more.

The team will practice twice a week in St. Joseph, Mo., to eliminate the weaker parts of its

"We need to work on our team play," Kisel said. "We don't have a stand-out superstar. We all are somewhat on one level. That will help in our team play.

"We also have to improve our penalty killing and to try to get down our stupid penalties

Another advantage will be the experience some of the squad gained while competing in the Kansas City Metro Hockey League this summer.

"Playing in the summer helped a lot to get experience," Kisel said. "In the league, we played with current professionals of the National Hockey League and the International Hockey League.'

At the season opener against KU, which is the first of 24 regular-season games, the hockey players are hoping to play in front of more fans than they did all last year, Kisel said.

"We want to organize a bus tour to the KU game through the UPC office," he said. "We're trying to advertise the sport more. Hockey is moving its way south, and hopefully we can help with popularizing it."

Cat netter ousted in 1st round

Labrador gains confidence heading into Nebraska tourney

FRANK KLEEMANN

Wildcat netter Susana Labrador's playing time at the National Clay Court Championships at Richmond, Va., was a short one.

Losing her first-round match Tuesday to a player from the Virginia Commonwealth College 5-7, 6-1 and 6-3, Labrador's K-State debut ended abruptly. But it gave her confidence to play in Lincoln, Neb., this

"I really think my match experience at the nationals will help my game in Nebraska," Labrador said.

Coach Steve Bietau, who still is in Richmond, said Labrador made a quick, but not devastating, exit from the championships.

"It's kind of disappointing to be out of the tournament this early," he said in a press release. "But I feel we have a good sense of what Susana gets to do. She gets another

Labrador will lead the netters in Lincoln as the No. 1 singles player and with sophomore Martine Shrubsole in doubles during the Nebraska Invitational Friday and Saturday.

The Barcelona, Spain, native said there was a good chance she could have advanced to the second round at the championships, but several things led to her loss.

"It was very humid, and I thought the clay was not as slow as I was used to from Europe," she said. "We went to Richmond one day before my game, but I didn't get used to it. I felt out of rhythm; I felt my feet wouldn't

Assistant coach Neili Wilcox said Bietau told her the match was very close with Labrador winning the first

But in the second set, her opponent got stronger while Labrador maintained the same level, and allowed Labrador only one winning game.

In the decisive third set, Labrador tried to lift her playing level, but her opponent was able to match her and take the entire match in three sets.

Labrador said she thought the match could have ended in favor of either of them.

"It was a tough match and very long," she said. "I felt like I was being consistent, and I took some more risks when she got stronger. All the games were really consistent. It went back and forth."

Labrador said the match was decided by the better physical condition of her opponent.

Plus, she was able to hit the tough shots at the critical

Turning her focus to the weekend, Labrador said she and her teammates are ready to take the courts as a team.

Besides Labrador, who transferred this summer from Brigham Young to K-State, Maria Uson at No. 2, Suzanne Sim at third and Martine Shrubsole are heading to Lincoln. Sim and Uson will suit up for the No. 2

Senior Angie Gover will not compete because she is still recovering from a shoulder injury.

The tournament will be the first test for the netters to transfer their training efforts into competitive matches.

"We're trying to finish things that we've worked on the last three weeks," Wilcox said about the team's first appearance this season.

"We were working to get the doubles teams together, and it will show how mentally tough we are."

players have to play three matches a day.

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

One of the main factors in practice was conditioning. Susana Labrador was the only Wildcat netter to plat at the National Clay Court Championships in That, Wilcox said, should play a big part when the Richmond, Va., earlier this week. Though she lost in three sets, she said she has gained confidence.

COLUMN III

The sporting world dictates: winning is bottom line

WALTERS

Steve Rock's Tuesday column has provided me with the perfect source of inspiration. With "Winning is not the only thing," Steve may have made a mistake.

Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing. How true is that simple statement? You'd be amazed. This is where the inspiration comes into play. I must present you with a true-life scenario. The object - you make the call. And remember, for both teams, it's the difference between winning Here we go.

Manhattan High School has the football at its own 46-yard line with 3 seconds left. Garden City leads 21-15. The Indians complete a "Hail Mary" pass to Garden City's 20-yard line, but time has expired. And, oh yeah, the back judge has thrown a flag. The call is pass interference. What do you do? Where does Manhattan get the ball? Or is the game over?

The officials give Manhattan the ball at the 10 and a chance for one more play.

Garden City's coaches are going bonkers. They disagree with the call. But Manhattan gets one more play with no time remaining. The Indians score, kick the PAT and win the game.

Both sides go crazy. So much for Garden City's 3-0 record and No. 2 state ranking. And instead of being 1-2, Manhattan is now 2-1. Put plainly and simply, Garden City got hosed.

Here's what got fouled up. The officials gave Manhattan the play and the penalty when it should have received one or the other. Manhattan had to take the penalty, or the game would be over.

A game can't end on a defensive penalty, and to decline it would end the game. Instead of having the ball at the 10, the Indians should have had one last crack from the 39. Do you see where I'm heading?

In all likelihood, Manhattan should not have won the game. Now the complexion of two seasons has totally changed. All because the officials

Much closer to home was the 1985 World Series. Don Denkinger gave the Royals a great gift. Do you remember? Game six, bottom of the ninth, with Jorge Orta at the plate. Orta hit a routine grounder and was thrown out by at least two steps. The Royals win game six and clobber St. Louis in

And one more example. Last season's Chiefs-Broncos tilt at Arrowhead Stadium.

John Elway had Denver driving late in the game and completed a crucial fourth-down pass. But Elway was past the line of scrimmage. It was obvious on instant replay, but it didn't get overturned. The Chiefs lost a game that was rightfully theirs. So much for home field advantage in the playoffs.

Getting hosed messes up everything. It helps one team and hurts the other. To lose in such a manner is indescribable.

That's why winning is the only thing. K-State took it in the shorts at Nebraska last year. Tate Wright's field goal was ruled no good. Another

The Wildcats were lucky against KU. If the Jayhawks had completed that final pass, after time had expired, Kansas would have won. Cats fans would still be screaming today.

It's one thing to lose and one thing to get the shaft. Think if a Colorado fifth-down fiasco happened every year. Scary thought.

We've all been ripped off at some point. Remember how you felt.

Each time it happens, whether to you or someone else, just hearken the adage: "Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing."

SPORTS DIGEST

COACHES NAME TOP PLAYERS BRETT GETS 2 HITS IN LOSS

The K-State coaching staff recently recognized the players of the week. Quarterback Jason Smargiasso, who threw for 203 yards and beat out Matt Garber for the starting job, was the offensive player of the week.

The defensive player of the week was tackle Ekwensi Griffith. He had two sacks and five tackles.

Punter Sean Snyder was chosen the special teams player of the week. He punted eight times with a 44-yard average.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Lance Parrish had three hits, and Brian Fisher allowed five hits in eight innings, as the Seattle Mariners ended a 12-game road losing streak with a 6-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals Wednesday

George Brett was 2 for 4 and needs nine hits in the Royals' 11 remaining games for 3,000.

The Mariners, shut out in the first two games of the series, won for just the second time in 19 games.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Woman starts as goaltender

ASSOCIATED PRESS

TAMPA, Fla. - The most important thing to Manon Rheaume is that she'll never have to look back and wonder what might have been. The 20-year-old goaltender became the first woman to play in one of the four pro sports leagues Wednesday night when she started for the NHL expansion Tampa Bay Lightning against the St. Louis Blues in an exhibition game.

Rheaume led the team onto the ice to a standing ovation from the crowd in the less than full Florida State Fairgrounds Expo Hall, which seats just more than 10,000.

The opportunity, not the historical significance, was what made it so special for Rheaume, who began playing hockey with her brothers as a 5year-old and often dreamed of playing in the NHL.

Lightning general manager Phil Esposito said publicity was one of the factors in the decision to invite the 5-foot-6, 130-pound goalie to training camp.

Rituals to be celebrated in dance

Danza Azteca represents Native American tradition DAN GRAFEL

Prepare to help honor Mother Earth, Father Sun and the Plumed

Danza Azteca de Anahuac, a New Mexico-based group will perform pre-Columbian music and dance at 3 p.m. Sunday at McCain Auditorium. Another performance at 1:15 p.m. Monday will be for Manhattan schools' students.

"People will be seeing a ceremonial performance, where all the dances and music are old rituals that give thanks to all the different forces of the world," group percussionist Larry Sargent said.

He said the performance

Trying to shed an unwanted copy-cat comparison to R.E.M., the latest release from Miracle Legion,

"Drenched," is a miracle for the four-man band from New Haven, resembles Van Morrison and the Waterboys, lead singer Marc

Mulcahy and band members Ray

Neal, Dave McCaffrey and Spot

have put together an articulate

Smiths, Bryan Ferry), "Drenched" is definitely something to be taken seriously. The music and lyrics, which were done almost entirely by $149

Taco Burger

& Mexican Fries

One Coupon

Per Customer Per Visit

Expires -

migos 10-16-92

Produced by John Porter (The

REVIEW

album that grooves.

Although the band somewhat

Miracle Legion something to be taken seriously

involves music incorporated with dance, as well as independent musical pieces on ancient instruments like the clay flute and McCain Director Richard Martin said the group represents the Native American culture that comes from a Central American tradition.

He said it is nothing like any McCain performance in the past 10

"We don't know anything about this," he said. "It's completely different from what the typical American kid thinks of Indians.'

Sargent, who plays grandfather drums, was quick to point out the diversity within the group.

One of the things about artists of traditional cultures is that they do a little of everything - paint, play music, dance, make jewelry and weave," he said.

■ Miracle Legion will play

Tavern. Cover is $2 for 21 tonight at 11 p.m. at Brothers and over and $5 for under 21.

Mulcahy and Neal, are a form of rock poetry. Their variations in style - from hard driving rock, melodic romance and stringent irony - come out in clear, moving the album, is a graceful piece with a rowdy refrain and is followed by "Snacks and Candy," a danceable elegy to Yusef Hawkins, a black youth killed by a New York mob.

"Everything Rosy," a full-on aggressive rock number follows the striking "So Good," a delicate song

Town

Center

'Sea Hag," the second cut from intelligence and soul.

perfect for vegging.

used within the group to make costumes and even some of their own instruments, Sargent said.

"We'll see elements of the amazing, the spectacular and the thrilling," Martin said. "One dance is performed on live coals."

Martin said the 500th anniversary of Columbus' voyage was one of the reasons for bringing this kind of group to campus.

In recognizing this anniversary, it is important to look for our roots. And these cultures were already here, he said.

Harriet Ottenheimer, director of the American Ethnic Studies Program and professor of anthropology, said, "It's important that we explore the impact of that arrival and the legacy of that "As far as these dancers go, it's

Many of the members' skills are important to understand the richness and vitality of those cultures that were already here before Columbus arrived," she said.

Danza Azteca group members will be visiting her Creativity and Culture class Monday.

"It's a real opportunity to have actual performing artists meet with the students. The students can learn from them firsthand," she said.

Sargent said he has been with the group for about five years, but he said it has existed for about 10.

Danza Azteca recently performed at the Lincoln Center for Performing Arts in New York.

Sargent also said that a local public television station has completed a documentary about his

The program, called Danzante, will air nationally in early October.

MUSIC REVIEW

BY KRISTEEN YOUNG

ONE' - Me Phi Me

Me Phi Me is thought provoking and hard to describe. And, as the album title "ONE" suggests, it is one-of-a-kind.

Trying to pinpoint the solo artist's type of music, as if it had to be categorized into a specific section for a record store, is difficult, because the album is so diverse.

He begins by chanting with a drum beat, suggesting listeners be their own people - be "ONE," be singular; don't be like everybody else.

Me Phi Me lifts spirits with his acoustic guitars and harmonica solos with groovy of Manhattan

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday

BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste

treat that won't bust your wallets:

Homemade Buttermilk Biscuits

Creamed Chipped Beef

Bisquit Gravy Homefried Potatoes French Toast

Pancakes Bacon/Sausage Scrambled Eggs Escalloped Apples

Grilled Ham Steak

All You Can Eat For Only $4.95 Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m.

Or order one of our famous gourmet omelets or skillet breakfasts

537-8440

2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

Located across from the

Holiday Inn-Holidome

street beats. Some songs sound like a combination of George Clinton, Paul Simon and the group DNA.

Don't waste time trying to figure out what type of music he is playing. Instead, listen to what he is saying.

From his somber single "Sad New Day," where he talks about hope after depression, to the dance beats of "Pu' Sho hands 2Getha," Me Phi Me encourages listeners to think and dance.

The album is more than entertaining - it's inspirational.

776-5577

DB92

- 1 In the Meantime Helmet (Interscope)
- 2 Stull EP Urge Overkill (Touch And Go)
- 3 Angel Dust Faith No More (Reprise)
- Sweet Oblivion Screaming Trees (Epic)
- 5 Hey Babe Juliana Hatfield (Mammoth)
- 6 Dirty Sonic Youth (DGC)
- 7 Hit to Death in the Future Head The Flaming Lips (Warner Bros.)
- 8 UFO Tofu Bela Fleck & the Flecktones (Warner Bros.)
- Waiting for Everything the Barracudas (Shake)
- 10 Topeka Oratorio the Leatherwoods (Restless)

MEMORIES START HERE

GREAT 99 ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings 2 - Cokes

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

ROYAL PURPLE

Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22

Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6

Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6

Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

VION PARKET REGISTRATION

Soft Taco

Chips 'n Salsa

Med. Drink

One Coupon

Per Customer Per Visit
Expire

Anigos Expires 10-16-92

A voter registration drive will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday at the K-State Union Pedestrian Island between the Student Union and Seaton Hall.

In case of bad weather, it will be moved inside, on the first floor concourse of the Union just outside the State Room.

Proposal may make 2 new agencies Environment, health department may be divided

ASSOCIATED PRESS TOPEKA - A legislative panel Wednesday began studying the possibility of reorganizing the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, dividing the agency

The interim Committee on Government Organizations will examine the proposal, which was made by Gov. Joan Finney during the last session.

'My goal today is to begin the discussion," Gary Reser, the governor's legislative affairs assistant, told the committee. He said creating two departments one for the environment and another for health - would place a greater focus on issues within each of the two areas.

He cited health care as an

'National health care concerns are becoming a reality in Kansas," Reser said, adding that the state agency will be a major player in whatever health care reforms come

Finney signed an executive reorganization order last session to divide the agency, but the Senate rejected the order. Some lawmakers were concerned that creating another agency would simply increase costs without improving

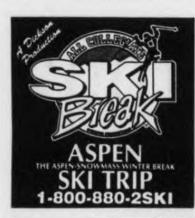

Finney administration officials did not push for passage of the executive reorganization order when opposition to the measure surfaced. However, Reser said the governor is still interested in the idea, adding that she would like the committee to develop a concrete proposal.

Reser said he believed the proposal would save the state money, rather than cost it more. He also said Kansas was just one of eight states that administers both health and environmental programs within the same agency.

Supporters of the proposal also say that dividing the agency would create stronger ties between the home offices in Topeka and district offices elsewhere in the state.

Sen. Don Montgomery, Sabetha, said all the mail he received about the proposed reorganization has been in opposition to it. He was also skeptical about cost savings.

"Can you operate two agencies cheaper than one?" he said.

Mancinelli's Ristorante Italiano

OPEN 5-10 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 5-9 p.m. Sunday

Authentic Italian Recipes Cooked To Order

This Week's Specials

- ★ Chicken Parmigiana $5.45
- ★ Baked Ziti Alforno $4.95
- ★ Sherry Chicken Alfredo $5.95 (with Fettucine Pasta)

All You Can Eat Spaghetti & Meatballs $3.95

All Dinners Served With

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

ACADEMICS

Secondary majors provide broad education

Obtaining a secondary major is more than a resumé builder.

For some students, it's a chance to learn more about people.

With the choice of American ethnic studies, women's studies, gerontology, or industrial and labor relations, there are plenty of classes to take in obtaining a secondary major.

Jenine Reimer, sophomore in social work, is working toward graduating with a secondary major in both American Ethnic Studies and Gerontology.

Although she said having background courses in these areas of study might help her get the job she wants, that isn't why she's taking the

"I've always been interested in the elderly. When I was little, I spent more time at elderly homes rather than at my friends' houses," Reimer said.

She chose American ethnic studies to learn more about people and develop a better background for social work.

"I came from a small town with no minorities, and I am taking classes to be able to understand their cultures," Reimer said.

"How can you help someone if you don't understand? You would be doing it on what you think is best," she said. Senior Sherry Sperman said she agreed that it is important to learn about people. Sperman not only has two secondary majors, American ethnic studies and women's studies, but she is also working toward a double major in sociology and anthropology.

Sociology has always been my main major, and I added the others along the way," Sperman said. "I felt that to get an equitable basis, you need background. I think it is needed to deal with people.

Sperman's career goal is to work with equity in the schools. She wants to deal with the representation of people

"I think your opinion is biased if you don't have an even background. Not enough people look at secondary majors - maybe because they don't know about them," she said.

One drawback many students may imagine when first thinking about a secondary major is that it will take more time to graduate.

SALES OPPORTUNITY

with the nation's leader in college marketing and media services.

EXCELLENT FINANCIAL REWARDS

MARKETABLE BUSINESS EXPERIENCE

Develop strong skills in sales by selling local advertising in the Kansas State schedule of classes. Flexible hours. Great beginning for a career in the business world. Start with a position with American Passage Media Corp. during the 1992-93 school year.

Call Linda for more info. 800-473-6474

$1.25 MARGARITAS

$1.75 FROZEN MARGARITAS

Every Thursday

"All my secondary major classes overlap with my major. Most of my credits that qualified for ethnic studies were required by my other majors," Sperman said.

It isn't going to take Reimer any onger to graduate, either.

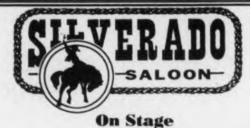

"I always bring my social work schedule with me to choose classes. and a lot of them will count for all three of my majors," Reimer said. "I'm working them into my electives so it won't take any extra time."

Secondary majors are set up to require a few mandatory classes, and then they allow mostly for approved electives.

■ See EXTRA Page 12

"I think your opinion is blased if you don't have an background."

SHERRY SPERMAN

This Weekend

Eagle Ridge

Weekly Specials

Mon. 1150 wells Tues. 1/2 Price Bull Rides 1150 wells

Wed. Free Dance lessons 7:30 p.m.

50¢ Draws 50¢ Tacos

Thurs. 2 Bottles 2 Bucks

Silverado Saloon 531 N. Manhattan 539-0230

ISAVE 50% ON FILM DEVELOPING WHILE YOU SHOP!

One-Hour Service • In The Mall

Each Picture Is The Best It Can Be Or We Reprint It Free...Now!

Offer applies to regular one-hour dicounted with this coupon. 4x6 color prints (print length varies with film size). Offer applies to first set of prints only. C41 in lab process Cannot be combined with other film developing offers. Coupon good through Dec. 5, 1992.

CPI photo finish

One Hour Services film developing

· enlargements reprints • double prints Also Available vallet photos • film instant color passport photos video transfer copies from prints albums, frames and accessories

Manhattan Town Center

main entrance by food court

- Student airfares.
- International studentairfares Railpasses issued here.
- Internat'l Identity cards.
- Worldwide adventure tours. Travel gear and guidebooks.
- Expert travel advice.

Council Travel

GREAT MEMORIES START

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

HERE

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

Manhattan's Oldest Menswear Store

Pre-Season Wardrobe

- Save $50.00 on any 1 suit or Sportcoat & Slack combinations (navy blazer excluded)
- Save $125.00 on any 2 suits or Sportcoat & Slack combination
- Choose from our large selection of New Fall Clothing
- Regular, Short, Big & Tall sizes
- Featuring Perry Ellis & Borck Brothers clothing (In stock merchandise only) Not good with any other offer

Sale Ends Oct. 3rd

Fine Menswear 1100 Westloop Place (913) 537-8636 Westloop Shopping Center 9:30-5:30 Mon.-Sat. til 8:30 Thurs

KU chancellor seeks to increase faculty salaries

Tuition could raise $14 million needed

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LAWRENCE - The University of Kansas needs to raise faculty pay about $14 million to keep top teachers, Chancellor Gene Budig

The money would raise salaries to levels that faculty members could command at comparable universities, Budig said in an interview Wednesday.

Several methods of raising the money are being considered, including a special increase in

"No plan has been finalized," he said. "At this point, we are seeking ideas on ways to bring about effective solutions."

He said he would present a faculty salary proposal to the Kansas Board of Regents' tuition and fees committee within six months. It is unlikely a special assessment would be imposed before 1994 if it is approved by the regents, he said.

Budig said he has considered imposing a 5-percent tuition increase for five years and applying that money to faculty salaries.

The special assessment would be in addition to normal tuition increases adopted by the regents.

"Students would have to be assured that any special increase in tuition would be earmarked for faculty salaries," Budig said.

The Kansas Legislature has an obligation to support improvements in faculty salaries, Budlg said.

"It will require a partnership," he said. "It is a matter of being able to attract and retain quality people. It is a matter of offering true quality in the classroom and laboratory.'

ACADEMICS

Training gives food for thought

Dietetics students learn trade through various settings

JANET SATTERLEE

From planning meals at Fort Riley's Irwin Army Hospital to consulting with professional sports teams on nutrition and exercise, student dietitians at K-State are getting the training necessary to become registered.

"Dietetics is so diverse," said Deborah Canter, director of the coordinated program in dietetics. "It is a very flexible type of career."

Canter said the program is predominately female, but men are becoming more interested in it because of the nutrition, exercise and sports aspects.

In the early 1920s, the dietetics program was under the Department of Institution Management. Students were trained to become dietitians; but they did their internships after graduation, Canter

In 1970, the department introduced a coordinated program, they worked on their degrees.

We try to coordinate what the student learns in class with handson experience," Canter said.

For example, students first take a class in quantity food production. Canter said students work at the K-State Union Stateroom or Derby Food Center in management, employee supervision, taking inventory, working with food orders and training.

A second class is Food Service Systems. Students work at Kramer Food Center or Van Zile Food Service, as well as with Irwin Army Hospital, the Manhattan Emergency Shelter or the Manhattan schools' food service.

Canter said this gives the students the chance to work with food service in different settings.

During their senior year, students take Canter's Management in Dietetics course, in which they are responsible for planning menus and buying food.

They can work at the Clovia 4-H House, Smith and Smurthwaite scholarship houses, Kramer, Van Zile or the school district.

Canter said students can give would like to work in, but they den't always receive their first

Jackie Chisholm, graduate student in dietetics, is the student dietitian at Clovia 4-H House for the first eight weeks this semester.

Chisholm said she likes the K-State program, because it provides more practical experience than most dietetics programs.

'You get to apply what you're learning from a book," Chisholm

Chisholm said faculty members are a big contribution to the

'The most important thing about the program is how much the faculty care," Chisholm said. Next semester, Chisholm said, she will get clinical experience working in a hospital. This semester, 16 students are involved in clinical nutrition, working at hospitals in Topeka, Salina, Fort Riley, Kansas City and Leavenworth. Canter said they and have classes on Fridays. By the time they graduate, these students will have more than 1,000

Sherry Ahlgrim

LaRae Brown

Janelle Coe

Julia Dixon

Melanie Ebert

Janet Griesel

Lisa Henry

Hidi Hodges

Mary Jesch

Angie Korte

Jennifer Glanzer

Christie Korthanke

Jennifer Kummer

Marissa Bickford

work Monday through Thursday hours in hands-on experience. Canter said.

"A majority of work is in health care; - hospitals and long-term care," Canter said.

Canter said some dietitians choose to specialize in medical problems such as diabetes, kidney dysfunction, pediatrics or oncology. Some choose to take more intensive training in nutrition support to learn intravenous feeding for comatose

Although health care is a popular area for dietitians, Canter said others prefer to work with wellness and fitness programs at health clubs and spas. They also may work with large food companies to determine the nutritional content of products.

Others work in management and business, running food production in places such as hospitals and

Although students receive hands-on experience and complete degree requirements, Canter said they must get registered before they Becoming registered requires a national exam, Canter said. Many states, including Kansas, also require dietitians to be licensed.

Cynthia Lake

Heidi Niehuis

Sheri St. Clair

Tricia Stamm

Jamie Stark

Ann Wilhelm

Sara Zeller

Monica Wilson

Liz Wells

Deanene Sarver

Katherine Thompson

The Actives

Kate Nelson

Lisa Nelson

Alpha of Clovia

Welcomes

the 1992 Fall Pledges

Decision about interim dean expected today

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

mission and resources, and realize that even though tradition is important, it's not adequate justification to carry some things."

How should the College of Agriculture academic programs. International Agriculture, AES and CES be structured for administrative purposes? Johnson: "We need to provide the jobs for the people and give them high expectations for the level and quality of output. We should also exercise quality and quantity controls."

Riley: "It should be consistent with the University and department structure. There should be one final

Claflin & Denison (Down Under)

Karoake Night

75¢ Draws

GOOD LUCK

 $\Delta\Delta\Delta$ ,  $\Sigma N/X\Omega$  &  $AT\Omega$

ON YOUR PHILANTHROPIES!

PHONE #, 537-2887 / (800)886-9966 || ustrated

FREE DELIVERY (Minimum Order $9)

Hunam Chinese Restaurant

and Lounge

1304 Westloop, Manhattan

539-0888 539-8888

DINING-IN COUPON

10% OFF

when you present this coupon

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

FROM SHIRTS ILLUSTRATED

authority and an obvious place where the buck stops. We need accountability.'

What do you think are the most important objectives to achieve in the next nine to 12 months?

"To Johnson: communication linkage and trust between faculty and administration. To listen. We need to promote the College on and off campus to show we are a dynamic institution, that the AES and CES are doing modern Riley: "We should communicate that the college is alive, well and strong. Dispel, divide and conquer rumors and immediately delegate responsibility to associate deans. They are good people, and we need to give them a chance to function."

776-1515

The provost has indicated that a task force will be reviewing the administrative procedures of the College of Agriculture academic programs, CES, AES and build International Programs. How would you accomplish this review? Johnson: "There should be many ideas thrown out on the table before making conclusions. ...

Riley: "I would survey the faculty and staff and have an open hearing for them. ...

Intramural Wrestling Tournament

Entry: Rec Services Office at the Rec Complex.

Deadline: Thursday, September 24, 1992.

> Don't Miss Out!

Copy Co's September Sale!

Enter at the Rec Services Office. 532-6980

3¢ Self-serve Copies

(8<sub>1/2</sub>x11)

All Oversize Copies

$1.29

99¢ Color Copies

SEND SOME GREEN. SAVE SOME GREEN.

With Love,

Green plant sale! Cash & Carry

Large selection of 6" green plants.

Downtown

Hrs: 8-6

Steves flora

1204 Moro Aggieville Hrs: 10-6 776-5900

While supplies last. Certain restrictions apply. 302 Poyntz 539-6227

Great Memories Start

Kappa Kappa Gamma Sept. 24-25

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

(81/2X11)

1227 Moro, Aggieville Manhattan • 537-9009

1401, W. 23rd Lawrence • 832-2679

EUGENE SHEFFER

ESSENTIALS

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1 Football

by 32

8 Grocery store

supply

12 Prop for man

ment

short the hill

science series

Heidi

21 Gorilla's

24 Tramcar

load

telecast?

19 Friday

kin

17 PBS

result, for

Markham's

contents

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

GOSH I

NEVER REALIZED

KILLING WAS

SO GROUNDED

LIBERAL ARTS

IN THE

CALVIN AND HOBBES

I HATE GOING TO

SCHOOL, I WISH

I WAS A TIGER

TO KNOW ANYTHING

TIGERS DON'T NEED

fridge to see if I had the makings of a sandwich.

25 Valdez spilth 26 Corn serving 28 Two-masted vessel 32 1920s BILL WATTERSON middleweight champ MY DISSERTATION Harry ON ETHICS WAS 34 "...tangled VERY WELL RECEIVED densation 16 Shade DOWN 1 "Caught 20 Original yal* 2 Charged 3 Merchant,

61 Early con-

movie 41 Chess often piece 42 Aries order 44 Macabre 5 Tennis cartoonist 46 Show off 6 Commenon a tators' surfboard e.g. 15 He's over 50 Ruin the veneer 51 Satan's specialty 52 Heavenly fudge? 18 Height for 56 Ms. Barrett

36 FDR's

39 1988

4 Qt. divided 37 Antitoxin

mom

Quaid/

Ryan

57 Touched down 58 Born 59 Debtor can 60 Sediment 11 PDQ, in

ANTE Yesterday's answer 9-24 the O.R. source love boat? 21 Gear features 22 Take on 23 Spotted 4 Soda-shop 27 Embarrassed 29 Tropical hindrance 30 Pull an allnighter 31 Fritz's page 7 Marks brother

33 He may man? 8 You can take your jump for picture joy with 35 Fluffy accessory 9 Any day 38 Hulk

Hogan's 10 Word on surface a slotted 40 Confesses 43 Decoration 45 "Night Court*

Solution time: 23 mins.

53 Compete 54 Links gadget 55 Archerybow wood sure

49 Cleo's

flower

TUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 99c per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP prosecutor 46 43 Down recipient 47 State for TWIZ CDIVT 48 Side of a DSM NRVF ZRDS diamond? NRBBMCD NRGG Yesterday's Cryptoquip: NICE LOCAL HORSE BREEDER WAS SOON SADDLED WITH DEBT.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: N equals B

WE TAKE TIPS! 532-6556

MUSIC REVIEWS AND MORE

Date rape, drinking a difficult situation

If a male and female engage in sexual relations while BOTH are totally drunk does this constitute date rape if the woman claims a rape occurred? What if the woman recalls the act but cannot recall if any consent was given? Are men to be held (responsible) for their actions while inebriated, while women are absolved of all responsibility?

B.S., K-State student

ATTACKING RUNNING ANIMALS INVOLVES

A LOT OF PHYSICS. THERE'S VELOCITY,

GRAVITY AND LAWS OF MOTION, NOT TO MENTION ALL THE BIOLOGY WE HAVE

EXPRESSION OF IT

ALL AND A LOT

MORE !

TO KNOW. THEN THERE'S THE ARTISTIC

ASKING

by

Cassandra

Duveaux

First of all, in situations such as you describe, being drunk is not going to help anyone's defense, male or female.

I think I can describe the consequences here by looking at a similar situation. If you are driving a car under the influence of alcohol and you run someone down, killing them, do you think a jury is going to accept your defense that you were drunk and couldn't control your actions? Of course not. Each individual is responsible for his or her actions. Period.

Get one thing clear, however. Rape is a crime, whether there are witnesses or not, and whether the woman "remembers" it or not.

Dianne Urban, student's attorney, adds that under Kansas law, "intercourse with anyone unconscious, or physically powerless would be considered rape.

The situation you describe is a difficult one because even if both were completely sober, and despite the physical evidence, unless there were witnesses, it boils down to his word against hers as to whether or not she gave DEAR C.S., consent to the sex act.

The best thing is to avoid overindulging in alcohol. Just like with a car, "Don't drink while you 'do it."

DEAR CASSANDRA,

Have you ever had that maternal feeling? I am a junior here a K-State and I'm not really enjoying myself. My biggest problem is that I want to have a baby. I want to get pregnant and move back home and raise a wonderful child. I have a boyfriend who always says that I can have a baby whenever I want. I want one now. I don't want to wait until I have a career and it is too late. All I have to do is stop taking my birth control pills. No one would have to know. I could just claim that I was on antibiotics and it canceled out the birth control. I wouldn't mind even staying here and going to school while pregnant. I don't expect my boyfriend to pay for anything, it would be all of my responsibility. What should I do?

C.S., K-State

Is your boyfriend going to take ponsibility for raising and parenting the child? It sounds as though from your final statement that he is not.

I think you need to seriously reconsider your willingness to jump into parenthood without first making sure your child is going to have the most loving and stable environment that you can possibly provide. That is not to say single parents do not make good parents. Yet, to deny your child the added benefit of another human being to round out and fulfill needs that you may not be able to meet (and you can't possibly do it all) is to do preventable harm. If you really want a "wonderful child," you will put your desires aside and place the welfare and wellbeing of your baby first.

As to your choice of methods for starting a family, deceit is never a good basis for beginning anything, especially something as important as conceiving another human life.

Please take a second look at your "family plan" and evaluate it again. You may find it is not such a hot idea after all. Let me know what you decide to do.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence. The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

JLASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

unless you have an established account the Student Publications Cash, check, Inc. ident Publications, check, MasterCard or Visa are ed. There is a $10 service charge

We reserve the right to edit, reject or

EADLIN For an extra charge, we'll put a seedline above your ad to catch the eader's attention. DEADLINES

ed ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

REE FOUND ADS

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad-has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

HE WORD OUT PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

532-7309

OR WRITE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS Kedzie Hall 103 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

BOARD

$COLLEGE MONEY, Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from source es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881, 1-800-879-7485.

1992 ROYAL Purplet Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an appointment.

FLIGHT ADVANCED Training. Multi-engine,

ATP, CFI ratings.

Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

NEW INTERNATIONAL Youth Hostel opening between Wichita/ Junction City. $7.50 night, Stone Prairie Inn, Marion, KS 66861. Reservations (316)382-2746

SEEKING INFORMATION on Lance Daniels attending a University in Kansas. Please call Angel Palavsch at (314)329-3056.

UFM SCUBA Class. Learn from the best. Classes starting soon. Contact UFM 539-8763 for registration.

S Financial Aid Available S S FINGICIAL PAID AVAILED INS
Attention All Students
Undergrads & Graduates. Over $5 Billion i grates & scholarships are now available for private sector & government courses for College Students nationwide. All students as eligible. Let us bely you locate the store that you are eligible to receive. Application are now being accepted. To receive you financial and program call:
Student Financial Service
(200 352-900 Ext. FITMS

Lost and Found

nd ads can be pla free for three days.

CALCULATOR WITH ini-tials GCF in Durland study lounge on Sept. 22. Claim in Durland dog with black collar near campus call 537-FOUND, A pet ferret on the corner of Tenth and Bertrand. Call 539-4513.

FOUND SMALL tan female

FOUND: SMALL gray cat (short hair) corner of Plymouth and Concord Circle. 539-5132.

LOST: LARGE set of keys, Aggieville, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11:30p.m. 539-2017 leave mes-

SYBERIAN HUSKY, white/ red, seven months, blue eyes. Child can't stop crying! Please re-turn if found. 776-3030 TEXTBOOKS FOUND in

Fairchild 212 on Sept. 21. Claim in Durland

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

"Cust!" Only one more year until you're finally legal. We love you! Sherry and Jean.

HMM, SMELLS like some body opened a can of... Leah, Chad, Mark, Craig, Nancy and Rachel, let's stomp on the terra in lowal Good luck from the JCCC

OH MY god Beckyl Our butts are sooooo big! We should join Women's Rugby. Tuesday-Wednesday-Thursday, 5:30p.m., Old Stadium.

HAVING A party? Send in a clown! Call 776-3036

GET COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

between 8a.m. and

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and fourbedrooms. Apartment complexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid landlady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie

494-8201 or 889-4495

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment complexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen tral air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher $230 per person will appointments

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, $180

ONE BEDROOM basement $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT available Park Place. Spacious and nice, pool, laundry facil ities Water paid $325 plus deposit. 539-1167.

ONE-BEDROOM

1960 Hunting. Close to campus operated laundry facilities and fire place. $410 includes water and trash For appointment call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

SPACIOUS ONE bedroom apartment. Basement with own entrance near campus. $290/ month including utilities. Must rent immediately 539

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 Or 494-2449.

THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $375/ month. 776-8628.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT available or roommate wanted! Central air/ heat, pools tennis court, and wash er/ dryer facilities. 537-9272.

TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment $300, bills paid.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

SAVE WITH hot water solar. Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close city park and campus. borhood, $62,900. 1-800-593-0519.

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539-4087.

1992 14X70 three-bedroom, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

NEW, LOW price, #162 Co-lonial Gardens, 1988 Skyline 14x70, was $17,750, now $15,725 fantastic financing Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

FEMALE NEEDED to share room in two-bedroom spartment, $180 depos it and rent. All bills and cable paid. Fun and trustworthy room mates. Availability ne-gotiable. 537-2334.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room. One block from campus/ Aggieville. Great roommates. Very nice apartment. Call 539-4316.

FEMALE, OWN room, $150 house, 539-7553 ask for Huk or Angie.

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share a three-bed-room apartment with one and a half bath, fully- equipped kitchen in brick complex. Call

NON-SMOKER TO share a month plus one-half

ROOMMATES WANTED: two available rooms in Brittnay Ridge. All rooms furnished except bedrooms. Males or fe males. 776-0589.

TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom, Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and For more information

TWO FEMALES seek third roommate (male or female) for house. $150/ month, one-third of utilities, own room, Close to campus. 776-4247.

150

SUBLEASE- TWO-BED-ROOM apartment at Park Place, pool, shuttle bus to campus, laundry facilities, water paid, $425 plus deposit. 537-

> GET THE WORD OUT. 532-6555

SERVICE DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ resume. Laser printer Also specializing in ta bles, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy 539-3229.

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experience

ABC typing service. You do studying. let me do the typing Reports, charts, graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary. Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after 5p.m. ask for

A QUALITY resume is vital today's petitive job market. Contact the cour-teous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a decade 343 Colorado 537-7294.

ALL TYPING needs done expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537

KSU- SALINA students staff: Hire a professional to type, edit and resumes, papers and curate, 823-6931.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers/ editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537–2203.

> GE THE

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

 Free pregnancy Totally confidential service

·Same day results ·Call for appointmen

> Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

campus in Anderson Village

Musicians/DJs

GUITAR LESSONS- ex styles, 776-0685.

WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first teno with high falsetto. Perevenings and weekends. Good pay kends. Good par 776-4999, 537-1741.

OOKING FOR a male Golden Retriever, AKC Regria at 776-9890 leave

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhat tan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

HEALTH AND Auto Insurance. Call us before buying the University Health Plan. Multi-line Agency. 555 Poyntz Suite Poyntz Sulle 537-4661.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

310 Help Wanted

The Cellegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

40 PEOPLE needed to lose weight and make mon-ey. 539-1252.

APPLICATIONS ARE being accepted for Assistant Director of U-Learn. Du ties include volunteer ing assisting day- to ing director in assign ment of specific tasks Applications are avail able in Holton Hall room 16 and are due by Sp.m. on September

CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east nannies NY, Conn., Long Island, areas Live-in one year commitments. $150 and up per week. Immediate terviews cal 8001858-2429

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill full and part-time posi-tions as delivery drivers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay starts at $4.25 an hour plus 25 cents for each delivery you make Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year. No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other shifts. Apply in person

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (ASCP) or equivalent needed to fill full-time position and clinical ref erence laboratory. Mi crobiology experience required. Excellent benefits, competitive salar and no call back. Call Carol at 539-5363 or send resume to Box 128. Manhattan, KS 66502 Equal Opportunity Employer

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 openings. Evening shifts and other hours available. ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 Anderson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion. color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

OUTDOOR RENTAL/ Main tenance person want-ed. Applications avail-able at Recreational Services office from 8a.m. - 5p.m. Monday through Friday. Appli cation deadline is Fri day, October 2.

320 Needed

FACULTY AND Graduate students needed to vol-unteer for a study of diet and physical activ-ity. For more information contact Jennifer Click. 532-5508.

in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap Collegian The urges our readers to Contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

> $200-$500 weekly. Assemble You're paid di rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-

lege T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation, A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4– 6 hours. Choose from designs. Smaller/ larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265.

ATTENTION FUNDRAISER for your organization. Sell 16 month Kansas State University sports calendar/ desk plotters on consignment, Cal 800-967-4430 ask fo Terry or Nancy week days 8:30a.m.- 4:30p.m

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL $1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK! No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE

NEED CASH? Sell your deniml We're always buying Levi 501 jeans Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776-7472.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution.

products at home. Easy! No selling. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. Copyright #KS13KDH

$252,50 Sell 50 funny col-

EXPANDING BUSINESS in Poland. Looking for people with contacts. Prefer Bilingual, but not necessary. Contact 337-2613 evenings.

PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! HEADPHONE RADIO just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

software and books $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100.

cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount Panasonic KXP; Broth er AX. Hull Business gieville, 539-1413. FOR SALE one pair 5 1/2 D (equal to 7 1/2 B- 8 B womens) kids black Justin Lace- up Ropers. $50. For sale one rada detector has the X, K and KA bands two op-tional attachments. Al-> call 532-2209 anytime. GOOD USED carpet, blue 18'x11'- $30, used Montgomery Ward washer and dryer-$100 must sell! Call 537-2116

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets overcoats, new G.I boots, sleeping bags Also CARHARTT Also workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St. Marys Surplus Sales St. Marys, KS 1-437-2734.

Hondo II bass guitar

most brand new $100

$120.776-0872

COMPUTER PAPER: one

GUITARS- STRATO CASTOR, case/ amp $275 Sigma Acoustic case- $275, 587-0096

MAGNAVOX 19-INCH color TV, remote, on screen, three-months $200. TEAC four-head VCR remote, cable ready, excellent cond-tion. $150. 486 IBM compatible, 33 MHZ 130 MB, four-MB ram .44 drives, DOS 5.0 Windows 3.1, mouse modem, monitor SVGA, MoreSoftware $1500. 539-1590 Nassir

NINTENDO- SIX games, power pad, gun and oysticks. Barely used, $90 or best offer. Call 539-3236 after 5p.m. or leave message.

NO COLD toes. Good, used carpet. Green sculp-ture. Call 537-4667pointment to see. STAIR- STEPPER for sale

One and one-half years old. Great Condition

Ask for Judi, 776-8147.

15 Furniture to Buy/Sell

FURNITURE CLEARANCE center at Faith Furni ture. Oak finish fivedrawer chest regular $129 only $88, sofa and chair regular $199 only $95, TV and stereo entertainment unit regular $249 only $125, double dresser regular $299 only $145, king size mattress, box springs and frame only $150, twin set only $60, la-z-boy recliner regular $439 only $195. Faith Furniture, East Highway 24, next to Sirlon

WATERBED- KING size with a headboard-bookshelf. Call evenings after 8p.m. 776-9845.

GARAGE SALE Saturday only- 8a.m.- 2p.m. 3706 Plymouth Circle, Manhattan. Furniture toys, clothes (mostly boys ages 8- 12), lots miscellaneous.

HUGE GARAGE Sale! Over 60 families, plus citywide donations. Cub hold a garage sale Sat-urday, Sept. 26, 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pottorf Hall, CiCo Park, Manhattan. Clothes, furniture, baked goods, and other miscellaneous items Scout Pack activities at Pottorf Hall, Park, > proceeds fund Cub Scout Pack activities, camp fees, activity badges.

MINI BASEBALL Card Show, 10-4 on Sept. 27 at 1846 1/2 Hunting. 537-2616, 539-7611

BLES Tuttle's Antique Market 2010 Tuttle Creek Boulevard 537 4884 daily 10a.m. 6p.m., Sunday 1p.m. 5p.m. closed Wednesday. Have fun!

TUTTLE'S ANTIQUE Mar ket has super antiques and collectables, 2010 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 537-

IMAGEWRITER II printer for Macintosh computers. $175 or best offer Call anytime 539-9463 leave message.

GUITAR LESSONS: Pat Walleck, the blues brother you didn't see Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900

450 Pets and Supplies

OME NEEDED for two indoor cats. Can be sepa-rated. Free! Call 539-0859 SAMMY HAMSTER brand cages for harmsters, ger bils, mice. One large Diane at 776-8021.

460 Stereo

KENWOOD 10-DISC CD changer with remote Works with factory ster-eo $275. Two 10-inch Kicker subs in box with x-over $150. Both less than one year old. Must sell! 776-7848 leave

SAN JUAN Students
**Xmas Break** Airfare round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call 537-2491

TRANS-PORTATION

510

1981 HONDA Accord four door, beige, good con-dition. Lots of character. $950 539-2387 Ext.

1988 CUTLASS Calais blue auto air, cruise quad four engine low mile-age excellent condition 539-2053. 1990 HONDA CRX, teal, new tires, 35K, 40 mile for Scott.

per gallon, $9000 or best offer. 776-5054 ask

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

What do you do if you see a fire? 1. Call 911 2. Then call us

News Tips 532-6556

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

210 Resume/Typing

230 Lawn Care

235 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJs

245 Pet Services

010 Announcements

020 Lost and Found 030 Personals

040 Meetings/Events

050 Parties-n-More

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE 105 For Rent -

Apt. Furnished 110 For Rent — Apt. Unfurnished 115 Rooms Available 120 For Rent - Houses

125 For Sale - Houses 130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

Mobile Homes 140 For Rent - Garage

145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease

155 Stable/Pasture 160 Office Space

205 Tutor

250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS 310 Help Wanted

330 Business

320 Volunteers Needed

Opportunities

215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing OPEN MARKET

> 405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

415 Furniture to Buy/Sell

420 Garage/Yard Sales 425 Auction 430 Antiques

435 Computers

440 Food Specials 445 Music Instruments 450 .Pets and Supplies

455 Sporting Equipment 460 Stereo Equipment

465 Tickets to Buly/Sell

500 TRANS-PORTATION 510 Automobiles

520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles

540 Car Pool

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets

630 Train Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

TIPS FOR

WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for.

buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

Don't use abbreviations. Many

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

Scout Pack 284 will All proceeds fund Cub camp fees, activity badges.

HUGE GARAGE sale! Over 60 families, plus citywide donations. Cub Scout Pack 284 will hold a garage sale Sat. Sept. 26, 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pottorf Hall, CiCo Manhattan. Clothes, furniture, baked goods and other miscellanous items.

Murray ten speeds. Cheap! Call Jon 776-

530 Motorcycles

evenings.

1984 HONDA Magna V30. Black, 21,000 miles Looks and runs great. New front tire. Make offer, Must sell. 537-

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized

$200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes

$100, 1965 Mustang

$50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information

24 hour hotline. (801)

379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC

1991 IMPACT Pro moun-

TWO BIKES: Huffy and

tain bike. Lots of extras, custom cosmic paint job. Great bike, great buy. Call 539-0816 in 610 Travel Oand Tour Packages

TRIPS

620 Airpland Tickets

Kansas State Travel.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

REDEFINING K-STATE ACADEMICS

COMPUTING AND INFORMATION SCIENCES

CIS to move to engineering

"If the faculty wants the move, I certainly do."

WALLENTINE

Collegian

The Department of Computing and Information Sciences will move from the College of Arts and Sciences to the College of Engineering, effective Jan. 1, 1993.

The CIS Hearing Panel met Wednesday to hear comments from the administration and faculty on the proposed move, which the panel approved unanimously.

Provost James Coffman said the proposed plan will be taken to President Jon Wefald for approval, which will likely be approved.

"There were two reasons for the move," he said. "The first was facultyrelated. They unanimously voted to move the department to engineering." The move was also programatically based, Coffman said. "There was a substantial move toward engineering orientation, especially in the design of large software programs," he said. Although the move would be effective Jan. 1, Coffman said it wouldn't be reflected in the budget until July 1, 1993, which is the beginning of the fiscal year.

According to the draft proposal, $1.265 million and 16 faculty will

The arts and sciences base budget will receive $125,000 because the college has disproportionately increased funding in recent years and proposed to reduce the department's budget as part of the role and aspiration statement developement.

Also proposed is partitioning the CIS budget for five years. This means CIS funds would not be reallocated to engineering units nor vice versa. The college and the University could seek new funds for CIS, including the application of the engineering equipment fee.

Coffman said it has not yet been decided whether CIS students would have to pay the equipment fee.

The draft proposal also states that students enrolled in the program will have a choice of receiving their degrees in Engineering or Arts and Sciences.

Jim Hamilton, associate professor of philosophy, said attending the panel hearing reassured him that the engineering college is committed to continuing teaching service courses through CIS.

'At the lower-level courses, I believe they'll stay the same," accompany the program when it Hamilton said. "I think they'll teach basic quantitative reasoning courses in sufficient quantities."

Arlin Feyerherm, professor of statistics, said he was at K-State when the computer science department began in the 1960s, and he hopes he isn't seeing it come to an end.

"We need to keep it centralized," Feyerherm said. "There's not enough resources to spread it all over the Engineering Dean Don Rathbone said the department will be treated like any other department in the "One half of the money will go to the department, and the other half will go to major projects," Rathbone said.

The panel voted unanimously to support the move.

"If the faculty wants the move, I certainly do," said Virgil Wallentine, head of CIS.

"It's a reasonable accommodation for resources to move the CIS," said Peter Nicholls, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Mahesh Bommareddy, graduate teaching assistant in computer science, said there may be long-term effects, but he can't forsee them at this time.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

Library program could be phased out at K-State

Reallocation efforts within the College of Education could result in the loss of its school library certification program.

The program is the largest of its kind in the state, said Jackson Byars, head of the Department of Educational Technology.

In addition, Byars said the program has accounted for 75 percent of certified library technicians in the last four

"There is now, and there is coming to be, a shortage of library media specialists," Byars said.

The possible phasing out of the program is one of several changes proposed for the College of Education, Dean Michael Holen said.

Professors in the department will be reassigned to other positions within the Department of Secondary Education, he Holen also said programs within the Department of Curriculum Instruction and Policy Studies will be assimilated into the Department of Secondary Education. A few courses may be handled through the College of Human Ecology, he said.

"We've looked at our priorities and seen how they fit in with the strategic plan of the department," Holen said.

The strategic plan involves cutting costs, he said. Reorganization six years ago expanded the number of departments within the College of Education from three to eight, Holen said.

Floyd Price, head of the Department of Curriculum Instruction and Policy Studies, said the reallocation of his department's professors and classes shouldn't be a problem.

"The students will not actually know the difference," he said. "Our teaching courses will offer the same courses as before, just in different departments."

However, despite the plans to relocate the library media certification program to Emporia State University, Byars said plans reallocation within his department will leave holes.

He said the library media profession is old, and many of those certified in the area are Byars said several school districts in the area have voiced their concerns about the loss of the program at K-State, including Junction City, Salina, Manhattan and Wichita.

Moving the program to Emporia would result in inconvenience for teachers wishing to finish their master's degrees in the area, Byars said.

Although news of attempted reorganization in several departments two years ago was announced by University administration, this time deans of individual colleges made the announcements.

However, Holen said that doesn't warrant suspicion.

"People like me make a lot of money," he said. "I make a lot of money because I know my department. I'd rather have someone within a department make the decision than someone distanced from it."

Smit grills Wefald at speech Faculty put CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 She said every department in the university should be concerned with facing cuts. Smit asked Wefald if he knew the data was "No department should feel confident,"

administrator in the audience for assistance,

Smit said the decision is based upon differently modeled data, providing an unfair

Wefald, after looking at another Smit also said the core committee does not

IN TOMORROW'S COLLEGIAN K-State isn't the only Kansas Board of Regents school being affected by academic changes. The board has mandated reviews of all programs at all regents school.

It has been almost two years since the word "reorganization" was on the lips of K-State students and faculty. We will take a look back at the proposal that is still affecting the University.

believe it was a coincidence that K-State is considering cutting speech pathology while other state schools are expanding theirs.

off decision on proposal

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Michie said although some people thought the process was closed, there has been extensive input from faculty and students.

"It has been a very open process," Michie

Nicholls also said at the meeting that the college has been in a state of crisis for several years and will deteriorate to mediocrity if needs cannot be met.

Extra majors useful

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

"Depending on their interests, I would advise students to take a secondary major rather than just taking electives at random," said Anne Butler, director of the women's studies program.

The women's studies program requires 24 hours of classes.

American ethnic studies requires 9 hours in three mandatory classes and 15 hours of approved electives.

Gerontology requires two classes, three hours each, and 18 hours in electives. Industrial/labor relations requires 28 hours with mixed required classes and

Butler said the classes will not only enrich students personally, they will look good to employers as .

"Anything a student has done that shows a concentration of knowledge in a particular area is an asset. It says they have done more than meet the requirements," Butler

18 to enter; 21 to drink

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

537-2100

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

This Friday Night All-You-Can-Eat Shrimp. In addition to delicious golden fried shrimp, our All-You-Can-I Shrimp Dinner also includes our fabulous all-you-can-ea Freshtastiks® Food Bar with Soft Serve dessert. All for one low price. It's an unlimited deal guarantee won't leave you hungry Offer good only on Fridays here The Extras Don't Cost Extra 622 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Manhattan, KS

ENGINEERING & COMPUTER SCIENCE CAREER FAIR

and

INDUSTRY RECOGNITION BANQUET

9th Annual Industry Recognition Banquet Monday, September 28 at the Manhattan Holidome Reception: 6:30 p.m. Dinner: 7:30 p.m.

> Sign up in Durland 144 Student Cost: $7.00 For more information, call 532 5949.

DEADLINE: NOON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25. CORPORATE CAREER FAIR TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

K-STATE UNION BALLROOM

9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Step into a Western classic in Acme's Roper boot! Long known as the urban cowboy boot, made with genuine leather foot, color-matching shaft and Softflex soles for a fit as comfortable as athletic shoes. Low Wellington heel and semi-round toe. 1st Quality. Made in LACER ROPERS AT $69.99 9-8 Mon-Sat

INSIDE

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the as Board of Regents system.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

CITO. 9

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," LOS ANGELES - Mayor he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former man and city council er, defeated incumbent Sam Yorty. For much of ture, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in ngeles.

d, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery version to public squabbles, y has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-3-hour days that start with a n an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles 1 international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital ts strong ties to Pacific Rim ig. The skyline literally ged as towering office ngs sprang up downtown. sirport and port became ing successes.

red

nt faulted the three admirals rd for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more on at a Las Vegas aviators' n 1991.

said Howard had been given ale task and had become a a botched investigation. formed as well as possible llure was not his, but the d officers reporting to him,

ued. d - and potentially more teport - by the inspector ling with possible criminal mming from the incident is rt said lurid sexual behavior lace at the annual convention far back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. etary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

tare roduct

any more medication until aned, usually at six to eight

mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar , diarrhea and worms.

immunization given to his time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves fertility.

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain

nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance, s head down and its ears will ake said. "The first thing you take its temperature, and if it erature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the as Board of Regents system

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

2 · SILO

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

SEPTEMBER

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former -man and city council defeated incumbent am Yorty. For much of e, Bradley's savvy and is energy made him olitically invincible in athletic and consistently th his monotone delivery sion to public squabbles, has been consumed with e of mayor, working 16our days that start with a in exercise bike.

r his watch, Los Angeles nternational prominence, ng San Francisco as the oast's financial capital strong ties to Pacific Rim The skyline literally d as towering office 3s sprang up downtown. rport and port became g successes.

RUSTY FEATURES EW 3 SOUVENIR CUPS! Buy a 32 oz. Big Beer and keep the cup!

•Indoor/Outdoor Eating & Drinking Areas

 Over 90 Imported Beers •Big Screen TV

•Lunch & Dinner Menus Serving

the BEST BBQ in the Midwest

red

faulted the three admirals for failing to fully alleged abuse of more n at a Las Vegas aviators'

id Howard had been given e task and had become a botched investigation. ormed as well as possible ure was not his, but the officers reporting to him,

- and potentially more port - by the inspector ing with possible criminal ming from the incident is said lurid sexual behavior ice at the annual convention ar back as 1985, and naval d done nothing to stop it. tary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

are roduct

any more medication until aned, usually at six to eight

mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar diarrhea and worms.

immunization given to his time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance. head down and its ears will ke said. "The first thing you take its temperature, and if it erature, you would give it he vet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the Board of Regents system

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

SEPTEMBER

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

SILO • 3

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former aman and city council er, defeated incumbent r Sam Yorty. For much of nure, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in ingeles. Il, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery version to public squabbles, ey has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-8-hour days that start with a n an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles 1 international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital ts strong ties to Pacific Rim ag. The skyline literally ged as towering office ings sprang up downtown. airport and port became ing successes.

The Walnut Valley Festival: away a weekend

ave Wurtz came to the 21st annual Walnut Valley Festival in Winfield to camp and listen to the music. Oh yeah, he also got hitched. got married down by the railroad tracks on Friday," he said with a rin. "Then we consumated the marriage in the trailer.

Not exactly a standard wedding. But then the Topeka resident had good reasons for reciting his vows in the midst of the self-proclaimed Best Festival in the United States.

"There's good karma, good friends down here," he said. "You see people down here you only see once a year."

Still, when it came time to pick his best man, Wurtz wanted one of his best friends in the world to stand beside him. So he brought Ed Hinely of Carbondale to the festival with him, even though Hinely was a little bit shorter then he was a week before...

'Ed had major back surgery five days ago, they took a disc out," Wurtz said. "I called him up and said 'Get your butt out of bed and get on down here to Winfield."

Of course, Hinely didn't need a whole lot of arm twisting. Not even the rain which fell off and on all week-end could dampen his spirits.

"I love it down here," he said. "It's the only place I know of to Wurtz and Hinely were among thousands of festival goers who converged upon the Cowley County fairgrounds for their yearly dose of 'pickin and grinnin.

The annual festival is sponsored by the Walnut Valley Association. Next year's festival is scheduled for Sept. 17 thru 20.

Attenders this year were treated to performances on five stages by some of the biggest stars of bluegrass and folk music, among them, folk-singers Tom Chapin, Mike Cross, and John McCutcheon.

Also performing was Linda Tilton who, instead of playing, interpreted in sign language at selected shows for the benefit of the hearing impaired.

The festival is also the sight of the National Flat-Picking championships. This year's contest winner was 21-year-old John Shaw, Omaha, Nebraska.

The music didn't stop, however, with the featured performers or contests. A nightly impromtu jam session took place on the campgrounds surrounding the festival, contining until the wee hours of morning. Songs played covered the spectrum from Nanci Griffith to Bill Monroe and Johnny Cash.

Wurtz, who claims to "pick guitar a little," said his playing improves every year after the festival. "There's so much talent down here," Wurtz said. "I don't care who you are. You can't come down here and not learn something. It's 24 hours of music for four days straight." The late nights take a toll on the body. Wurtz and Hinely said they hadn't slept in two days. "You're afraid if you fall asleep that you're going to miss something," Hinely said.

"Hell, you've got the rest of your life to sleep," Wurtz said. "Down here, you've got to set priorities."

The No. 1 priority for both was to put off a return to the real world as long as possible. "I'm in no hurry to go back to Topeka and deal with kids and such,"

Wurtz chuckled. Hinely was even less enthusiastic about returning home.

"I get to start physical therapy when I get back," he grimaced. In fact, both were so glum about the festival ending that the only thing to cheer them was making plans to return next year.

"Next year will be our first wedding anniversary, so we'll have another reason to come down," Wurtz said. "We'll all just kind of wander down."

Hinely doesn't even need a reason for a return trip. "Once you come, you're hooked," he said. "You don't mess with tradition."

STORY BY SHAWN BRUCE . PHOTOS BY DAVID MAYES

Mike Cross (TOP) entertains a crowd at the grandstand stage Saturday night.

An impromptu late night jam session (ABOVE) picks up one of the roads running through the Pecan Grove camping

A couple watches a show on Stage 2 (LEFT). The weekend gray skies, but no shows were cancelled because of the weath-

rt faulted the three admirals ard for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more nen at a Las Vegas aviators' n 1991.

said Howard had been given ble task and had become a a botched investigation. rformed as well as possible ilure was not his, but the d officers reporting to him, ;ued.

d - and potentially more report - by the inspector ding with possible criminal mming from the incident is mber.

ort said lurid sexual behavior lace at the annual convention far back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. etary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

care roduct

any more medication until eaned, usually at six to eight mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar t, diarrhea and worms.

r immunization given to this time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves ' fertility.

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain

nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance, s head down and its ears will ake said. "The first thing you s take its temperature, and if it berature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the sas Board of Regents system.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election

4 · SILO

SEPTEMBER

Wines & Spirits

- Fine Wines for your Pleasure Specializing in domestic and imported wines
- · Large selection of cordials and liquors
- Special orders welcomed for parties and weddings
- Case discounts

1338 Westloop Place Westloop Shopping Cener 539-9441

MARIE'S COSTUMES & FORMAL WEAR

Wedding Boutique ... Costume Shop · Costumes & Masks

- Wedding Gowns
- Attendants Dresses
- Slips & Undergarments Prom & Formal Dresses

- · Holiday, Animais & Clowns Tuxedos & Business Suits
- Gloves, Hats & Canes
- Business Promotions · Parties, Parades, Schools

· Wigs & Props

Theatrical Makeup

· Fun Accessories invitations & Accessories (Under New Ownership)

SALES & RENTAL

2011 Ft. Riley Blvd. • Manhattan, KS • 539-5200

Mon.-Sat. 10 a.m.-6 p.m.

776-5577

1800 Claflin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Topping 2 - Cokes $8.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

Club members make tracks with model trains

Don Clagett sits in the model train shop he operates out of his basement in Manhattan. Clagett does business via telephone and mail with enthusiasts around the state and world.

CHRISTINA CARBAJAL

When most people think of trains, they might think of the frustration that comes as long line of them travel slowly in front of their car, causing them to be late for work or school. However, members of the Manhattan Area Rail Joiners Model Club see trains in a more positive and creative light. "I think it's good therapy, and in making model trains, you can build your own world," said Jim Thomas, 70, MARJ club treasurer. The Manhattan club, which began about 18 years ago, brings model train enthusiasts together to share their projects and work on their model train hobby. Don Clagett, owner of a Manhattan model train shop, said that the model train hobby offers different aspects.

HOBBIES

Take the finest cut diamond you can and hang some facet of model railroading on each and every facet of the gem," Clagett said. "The hobby can include geology, civil engineering, electrical engineering, photography and carpentry.

Not only are the club's opportunities diverse, so are the members. Thomas said the members' ages range from a 14-year-old boy to 20- and 40-year-olds and retirees, such as himself.

The club meets monthly at a member's home to see what the host is doing with his model train layout, or modules, and Thomas said club members might watch videos about model trains.

They also discuss how to raise money, so they can ship their displays to different towns. It can cost up to $450 to haul all their model train equipment and set up shows, so they appreciate the donations they receive during their shows, he said.

"This is not a money-making thing, but we do appreciate the donations we receive during the shows," Thomas said.

The club will be traveling to cities such as Abilene and Emporia. There will be a model train show in November at K-State's Farrell Library.

In addition to the shows, MARJ's members get information and ideas through occasional swap meets. About 300 members from Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma gather to sell and buy model train pieces and sets.

The Manhattan club is part of the Mid-Continent region, and MARJ members attend regional meetings.

"During the meetings, there are clinics and 'how-to' classes that are a combination See TRAINS Page 11

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former sman and city council er, defeated incumbent r Sam Yorty. For much of nure, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in ngeles.

II, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery version to public squabbles, ey has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-8-hour days that start with a n an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles 1 international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital ts strong ties to Pacific Rim ag. The skyline literally ged as towering office ings sprang up downtown. airport and port became ing successes.

red

rt faulted the three admirals ard for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more nen at a Las Vegas aviators' n 1991.

said Howard had been given ble task and had become a a botched investigation. rformed as well as possible ilure was not his, but the d officers reporting to him,

d - and potentially more report - by the inspector iling with possible criminal mming from the incident is ert said lurid sexual behavior lace at the annual convention far back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. etary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

care roduct

any more medication until eaned, usually at six to eight mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar

i, diarrhea and worms. r immunization given to this time is vaccination against is, which Drake said improves

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain

nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance, s head down and its ears will ake said. "The first thing you s take its temperature, and if it erature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election

"The time for change has

SILO • 5

302 Poyntz

Downtown

539-6227

FREE DELIVERY
(Minimum Order $9)

Hrs: 8-6

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods,' he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect. justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former sman and city council er, defeated incumbent r Sam Yorty. For much of nure, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in

Il, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery version to public squabbles, ey has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-8-hour days that start with a n an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles I international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital ts strong ties to Pacific Rim ag. The skyline literally ged as towering office ings sprang up downtown. airport and port became ing successes.

SEPTEMBER Mykonos is a place ## to savor beauty and discover yourself

Mee Sun Lee

Most people think of Athens when they consider a visit to Greece. But the island of Mykonos, in the Aegean Sea, is also a part of Greece.

From afar, Mykonos is a tea coaster filled with piles of white sugar cubes, floating on a blue, blue sea, glistening against a prismatic sky.

The hard rocky outline of the island, so typical of Greek scenery, is softened by the equally distinctive green of cacti and wild grain. On a clear day, the sun's rays glow from within the happy island, as well as from without, warming the fine sandy beaches that form the coastline of the par-

TRAVEL

EUROP

Echo and the Bunnymen

That Statue Moved

Tues. Sept. 29, Showtime: 9:30

"Sugar cube' houses, typical of Cycladic architecture, are rented out to visitors. Most are concentrated around the beaches and the Hora (town center), but some are scattered up the mountainous rocks at Agias Stefanos. More than occasionally, the roar of Jeeps and Harley Davidsons echo through the moans of the winds. The Hora is the island's capital, originally designed and built to confuse attacking pirates. Now, the Hora is a maze of shops and restaurants in the daytime and a maze of clubs and taverns at night.

The Skandinavian Bar is popular with American backpackers, but every other doorway along the streets opens to a discotheque or bar at nights, just as every other doorway opens to an antique, clothes or jewelry shop in the daytime. With Greek music floating a melodic trail along the cobbled streets, Mykonos sparkles like light in a glass of wine.

The white Cycladian windmills proudly standing on the hill, the old houses at the Alefkandra quarter and the Pangia

Tickets:

$12 advance

Available at:

$15 day of show

The Shadow or Ticket master

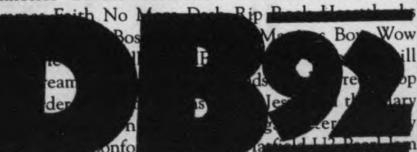

Must be 21 with I.D. to enter

Paraportiani are all within walking distance of each other, but this paradise has much more to offer.

The hedonistic haven is blessed with historic monasteries and churches, as well as some of the most beautiful beaches in Europe. Some of these beaches offer golf, as well as various water sports. And, again, taverns and bars are as plentiful as the sea gulls along the coast.

Mykonos, with its teeming harbor, varied restaurants, fascinating shops, pulsating night life and reverent churches, successfully tips its balance between fun and seriousness in favor of serious fun without sacrificing its sincerity. It is a place you could disRamones Social Distortion Lemonheads Violent

Social Distortion Helmet Pavement Kalpula The Cure Mudhoney The Cult Jesus Jones Ride Jane's Addiction Uncle Green 10,000 Maniacs Walt Mink Ramones Curve The Charlatans UK Lush Levellers Beastie Boys INXS Red Hot Chili Peppers Nirvana Sugar Lemonheads Violent Femmes Urge Overkill Ed Hall Drop Nineteens XTC Morrissey Faith No More Suicidal Tendencies Sinead O'Connor The Smiths Dread Zeppelin Screaming Trees Tori Amos The Cure Nine

THE SWEETEST GIFT OF ALL.

Expires 11/1/92

Certain restrictions apply.

Hunam Chinese Restaurant

and Lounge

1304 Westloop, Manhattan

539-0888 539-8888

DINING-IN COUPON

10% OFF

when your present this coupon

Not valid with buffet or any other promotion or special.

Perfect for a budding friendship or a full-bloom

A dozen red roses in a vase (40 cm.)

only $25.95 with this coupon while supplies last.

1204 Moro

Aggieville

Hrs: 10-6

776-5900

Inch Nails Sonic Youth Alice In Chains Pearl Jam Cher

rt faulted the three admirals ard for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more nen at a Las Vegas aviators' n 1991.

said Howard had been given ble task and had become a a botched investigation. rformed as well as possible ilure was not his, but the d officers reporting to him, ued.

d - and potentially more report - by the inspector ding with possible criminal mming from the incident is mber.

irt said lurid sexual behavior lace at the annual convention far back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. etary announced Rear Adm.

See SCANDAL Page 14

care

any more medication until eaned, usually at six to eight mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar i, diarrhea and worms.

r immunization given to this time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain

nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance, s head down and its ears will ake said. "The first thing you s take its temperature, and if it erature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

INSIDE

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the Kansas Board of Regents system.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

SEPTEMBER

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former man and city council er, defeated incumbent Sam Yorty. For much of ure, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him politically invincible in ngeles.

> l, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery ersion to public squabbles, y has been consumed with ice of mayor, working 16l-hour days that start with a lan exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital s strong ties to Pacific Rim ig. The skyline literally ted as towering office the sprang up downtown. Irport and port became the successes.

6 · SILO

Just east of Kansas City you can find

A Land of Knights, Ladies, Bishops and Kings

s he walks along the shady dirt paths through 3 Lions Grove, past the monks hawking cloth bags of peanuts and the tethered camels, the Archbishop of Canterbury clutches a silver box.

Within the box, he tells the questioning children who gather 'round his robes, is "The Holy Soul of St. Eusebius of Halicarnussus."

When they clamor to see, he opens the box and shows them the dilapidated shoe sole the box contains. Then he gives out candy.

Only at the 16th Annual Kansas City Renaissance

Festival can modern-day children walk with one of history's most powerful religious figures.

The festival, a benefit for the Kansas City Art Institute, employs more than 300 costumed performers and 150 craftspeople and vendors as they turn a 20-acre forested spread near Bonner Springs into a mystical realm reminiscent of Camelot.

"Oy, Bishop!" calls a scamp who runs a nearby ride. "A blessing! A blessing!"

The archbishop, played by literature professor

Eric Johansson, rattles off an incomprehensible Ole

English incantation and walks off.

"I enjoy the noise, the recreation of the 16th century," says Johansson, explaining why he's been involved in the Festival for 13 years.

"I used to dress in full armor, but as I get older, I find the bishop's character is easier," he says, silently blessing passersby.

All around the realm, performers mill and walk about. They are the magicians who turn ideas into reality. They greet you when you enter, see you off when you leave, and, in between, they do their best to playfully draw you into their world. Once there, they do their best to embarrass you to death.

they do their best to embarrass you to death.

"Shticking" they call it, and it's more their pleasure than their obligation.

Near the front gate, Elizabeth Jamison, wife of a cloth merchant, tries to evaluate her job as crowd control by surveying passing patrons.

control by surveying passing patrons.
"Do you feel like you're being controlled?" asks Jamison, actually played by University of Kansas sophomore Kelley Emmett.

A man approaches asking for directions to the nearest restroom — a move he soon regrets.

After several passes on the jousting field (LEFT), a knight takes a refreshing drink the only way he can — through his visor.

ABOVE: With seemingly supreme concentration, juggler Giovanni Gibertini maneuvers into position to catch a cup he tossed several feet into the air.

t faulted the three admirals rd for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more ien at a Las Vegas aviators' 1 1991.

said Howard had been given ile task and had become a a botched investigation. formed as well as possible lure was not his, but the d officers reporting to him, and potentially more eport — by the inspector ling with possible criminal nming from the incident is rt said lurid sexual behavior ace at the annual convention ar back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. etary announced Rear Adm.

See SCANDAL Page 14

care roduct

any more medication until

mmunizations include the cines against diseases similar , diarrhea and worms.

t immunization given to his time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves fertility.

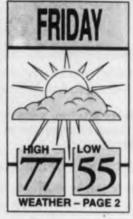

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain irst.

nimal gets sick, and you've the preventative maintenance, s head down and its ears will ike said. "The first thing you take its temperature, and if it berature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has come," Bradley told a packed

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former man and city council er, defeated incumbent Sam Yorty. For much of ure, Bradley's savvy and ess energy made him politically invincible in

> l, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery ersion to public squabbles, y has been consumed with ice of mayor, working 16i-hour days that start with a an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital s strong ties to Pacific Rim g. The skyline literally ed as towering office ags sprang up downtown. irport and port became ng successes.

faulted the three admirals d for failing to fully the alleged abuse of more en at a Las Vegas aviators' 1 1991.

aid Howard had been given ile task and had become a a botched investigation. formed as well as possible lure was not his, but the I officers reporting to him,

1 - and potentially more eport - by the inspector ling with possible criminal nming from the incident is rt said lurid sexual behavior ace at the annual convention ar back as 1985, and naval ad done nothing to stop it. :tary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

are roduct

any more medication until aned, usually at six to eight mmunizations include the zines against diseases similar

, diarrhea and worms. immunization given to ais time is vaccination against s, which Drake said improves fertility.

aid additional medication is ed in cases of illness, and should look for certain timal gets sick, and you've he preventative maintenance, head down and its ears will ke said. "The first thing you take its temperature, and if it erature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

See CARE Page 14

SEPTEMBER

"That gentleman needs to use the privies!" Emmett calls, as the man slinks away. "Someone help him find the privies!"

At the Pied Merlin Pub, it is Bryan Atkins' job as Pub Keeper to make sure shticking duties do not go neglected. "Get out there and schtick!" he commands a few nearby performers. "I haven't seen anyone shticking all day," says the nine-year festival veteran with almost genuine concern.

Lisa Hockenberry, marketing assistant for the festival, doesn't apologize for the

"It's probably the most fun thing about being able to walk up to people and say things and make them laugh," says Hockenberry, adding that while most of the performers are local, many make a living by touring the growing Renaissance festival cir-

Mary Stringfield, a vendor and performer, has been traveling the circuit for the last eight years, ever since she ran off with a bullwhip artist.

"It's a traveling commune," says cos-turned Stringfield. "I see a lot of the same people I just saw in Ohio.'

As she strolls through the realm, Hockenberry notes that while a few performers earn their living this way, usually those in theatrical acts, the majority of the performing cast is made up of people like Johansson, Emmett and Atkins, regular people with a desire to escape from the 20th century for while.

"That guy," Hockenberry says, pointing out a man clad in a kilt and highlander attire, "he's a firefighter, and he comes out here, and he's a Scot.

Once they enter the realm, performers are required to stay in character, and all performers are responsible for coming up with their own costumes. While some make do with jeans and baggy shirts, others pour heart, soul, and usually a great deal of time and money into their attire.

Tony Baker says he spent "four months of constant work" on his costume of britches, boots, the laced swashbuckler's shirt and authentic-looking vest. His garb captures his character, Scully the great Irish archer, to near perfection. The 4-foot-long bow he wields doesn't hurt his image either.

This is Baker's first Kansas City festival, and he strides around intent on backing his claim of being "far better than that English pig-dog, Robin Hood."

Perhaps what energizes the festival is the loyalty for authenticity.

"Nothing can be seen of the 20th century," says Hockenberry, quoting a cardinal rule. Vendors must make some effort in costumes and are forbidden to openly display such demon-possessed contraptions as cash registers.

Even the rides that dot the realm are strictly man-powered. The Barrel Of Bedlam is little more than a large open wine cask attached by ropes to sturdy crossbeams. It is Chase Adams' job to push the barrel, containing up to five children, back and forth.

"Now I know how a sock feels when it comes out of the dryer," announces one small rider.

Adams has been pushing the Barrel of Bedlam around for 12 years as a member of Flying Dragon Attractions, a company that specializes in Renaissance festival and fair attractions.

Bob and Kim Roberts, of Merriam, Kan., patiently bend wire rings into bracelets, coifs and mail armour in the SCA Dell.

"I plan on doing this until I retire," says Adams, 24, "or until I get hurt extremely badly.

His concern is well founded. The barrel, when empty, weighs 700 pounds, and one unattentive moment could end his vagabond days. But for now, Adams said, he enjoys himself while out on the road nine months out of the year.

"It's a great experience for anyone just out of school," he says between barrel shoves, "just to jump on the road."

Since the first Kansas City Renaissance Festival in 1977, the seven-weekend fall event has welcomed nearly 2 million visitors. And planning takes up the entire year.

You would be amazed at what goes into putting this on," says Hockenberry, adding that winters are spent renovating the realm's buildings.

While the festival continues to grow yearly, the organizers have not lost their focus on what attracts patrons.

"The quaintness of it are the lanes and walking through them," says Hockenberry "You don't want to lose that."

Another danger put at risk by exponen-tial growth would be the camaraderie shared by the performers, who make the festival come alive.

"God, it's like an addiction, actually," says Atkins, the Pub Keeper, describing why he keeps coming back to participate. This is a common ground, like knowing the same songs at a concert.

Emmet agrees, drawing the line a bit

"Festival is an addiction," she says, slipping out of her character for a moment. It's like a family."

Medieval Time is Running Out The last four weekends of the seven-week

festival are

■ Sept. 26-27, Children's Weekend

Oct. 3-4, Harvest Faire

Oct. 10-11, Music & Dance Weekend

Oct. 17-18, Legendary Romance

The Renaissance Festival is located on the grounds of the Agriculture Hall of Fame in Bonner Springs, right next to Sandstone

Story by Richard Andrade Photos by J. Kyle Wyatt

Majesty the Queen (Verna Atkins of Kansas City) swings into the arms of a festival visitor during a medieval line dance performed by the Royal Court with audience participation.

Her Royal

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

INSIDE

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the as Board of Regents system

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election "The time for change has

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

1973, Bradley, a former man and city council er, defeated incumbent Sam Yorty. For much of ture, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in ngeles.

I, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery ersion to public squabbles, y has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-1-hour days that start with a an exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital s strong ties to Pacific Rim g. The skyline literally ed as towering office ags sprang up downtown. irport and port became ng successes.

faulted the three admirals d for failing to fully he alleged abuse of more en at a Las Vegas aviators' 1991.

aid Howard had been given le task and had become a a botched investigation. formed as well as possible ture was not his, but the officers reporting to him, i - and potentially more eport - by the inspector ing with possible criminal aming from the incident is t said lurid sexual behavior ace at the annual convention ar back as 1985, and naval d done nothing to stop it.

tary announced Rear Adm. ■ See SCANDAL Page 14

any more medication until ined, usually at six to eight munizations include the ines against diseases similar diarrhea and worms.

immunization given to is time is vaccination against which Drake said improves

id additional medication is d in cases of illness, and hould look for certain

imal gets sick, and you've e preventative maintenance. head down and its ears will e said. "The first thing you ake its temperature, and if it rature, you would give it e vet prescribes as the See CARE Page 14

8 · SILO

SEPTEMBER

Not your typical home cooking

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Mike Stewart holds an empty beer bottle while Brett Taylor fills it with home brew. This was their first attempt at making homemade beer. Taylor said he tried homemade beer at a party once and got the recipe to try it for himself.

Buddies brew beer at home

Beer to Americans is Budweiser and Coors. Beer to home brewers is Guinness, Groelsch and St. Pauley Girl the German beers, the English bitters and stouts.

Brett Traylor is taking strides toward multi-

Along with roommates Michael Stewart and Frank Rinaldi, sophomores in architectural engineering, Traylor is seeking diversity in beer through a home brewery kit.

"I thought it'd be pretty cool to make our own beer," said Traylor, sophomore in construction science.

It's no surprise. Self-described by Rinaldi as "party animals," the threesome has made its collection of beer paraphernalia complete.

Now, in addition to their beer bong and the line of mugs cresting their mantle, the three have a bucket of dark beer fermenting in their apartment. Dean Taylor, owner of the Palace, said the three are not alone. As owner of the Palace, Taylor's been selling home brewery kits since he bought his store 12 years ago.

Although Traylor said he bought his kit because of the novelty of the idea, Taylor said most of his customers buy the kits because of the

"Beer to Americans is Budweiser and Coors," Taylor said. "Beer to home brewers is Guinness, Groelsch and St. Pauley Girl- the German beers, the English bitters and stouts."

As a result, Taylor said, most of his customers who purchase the kits are Fort Riley soldiers returning from Germany and those who've been to England. He said other customers include anyone from students to doctors and lawyers.

"Except the clergy," he said. "I don't have any clergy in here."

In addition to the taste home brew offers, the low costs of the beer may attract potential brewers. Dean said after buying the kit and bottles, the cost of a case of beer boils down to $6.72.

He said the essentials for his kit cost $50, and the deluxe kit goes for $80.

Traylor, who bought his kit in Wichita, said he's invested about a total $60 in his kit and ingredients. Rinaldi said a case of beer usually goes for $12, but they'll be able to make two and onehalf cases for the same price.

The brewing process is relatively simple, Taylor said. In fact, he said, the hardest part is cleaning the bottles.

However, UFM does offer a class for home brewers that Taylor instructs. He said there will be two sessions of the class, starting Sept. 30.

Taylor said a variety of people, mostly Manhattan residents, take the course. Other than an $8 fee, he said, the only other requirement is that the participants be 21 years of age.
"But I don't check ID's at the door," he said.

Jim Conant, chief administrative officer for the Kansas Alcohol Beverage Control, said Taylor won't need to. "I'm not aware of any law that addresses home kits," Conant said. Because none of the initial ingredients that go into a kit are alcoholic, the state has no authority to regulate the sale of the kits or the ingredients,

For Traylor, Stewart and Rinaldi, this is good news. Although the three are all under the legal drinking age, they can still brew beer in their home legally.

"The kits don't fall under any of the liquor laws," he said. "While it's an accurate observation,

The only problem that arises, Conant said, is if the three try to distribute or drink the beer outside their home. And if they plan to sell any of it, he said, they'll need to get a license as a micro-brew-

"Anybody who can read can go to the library and look up how to make beer and wine," he said. "They can make a nuclear bomb if they want to."

Anybody who can read can library and look make beer and wine. They can nuclear bomb

if they want go to the up how to make a

KANSAS STATE OCCUPANTAL COLLEGIAN

REDEFINING

KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the Kansas Board of Regents system.

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

SILO . 9

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

1973, Bradley, a former

1973, Bradley, a former man and city council er, defeated incumbent Sam Yorty. For much of ture, Bradley's savvy and less energy made him r politically invincible in ngeles.

I, athletic and consistently with his monotone delivery ersion to public squabbles, by has been consumed with fice of mayor, working 16-thour days that start with a lan exercise bike.

der his watch, Los Angeles international prominence, king San Francisco as the Coast's financial capital s strong ties to Pacific Rim g. The skyline literally ded as towering office the sprang up downtown. It is successed in the skyline literally ded as towering office the sprang up downtown. It is successed in the skyline literally ded as towering office the skyline literally d

IF YOU'VE GOT MONEY TO BURN, DON'T BOTHER TO READ THIS

But If You Need Extra Money Donate For Dollars!

SEPTEMBER

This coupon is worth $15 for new donors on your first and second donation within six days or if you have not returned within two months.

Present this coupon and earn extra cash.

For more information call the friendliest staff in town.

Mon.-Thurs. 9-6 Fri. 9-4::30 Sat. 9-1

Call 776-9177 today for more details!

Manhattan Donor Center

1130 Gardenway Manhattan, KS 66502

FULL SERVICE SALON
Haircuts:
Women $14
Men $10

Perms (includes haircut) $45 Spirals Extra

Coloring, waxing

Nails $45 full set, $10 manicure

- ■Professional Products for hair, skin & nails at affordable prices.
- ■Paul Mitchel Redken Sebastian Tigi •
  Nexxus Matrix Aveda Framesi Biolage &
  many other lines.

7181/2 N. Manhattan

539-5512

red

t faulted the three admirals d for failing to fully he alleged abuse of more en at a Las Vegas aviators' 1991.

aid Howard had been given le task and had become a a botched investigation. formed as well as possible ture was not his, but the officers reporting to him,

1 — and potentially more eport — by the inspector ing with possible criminal aming from the incident is aber.

t said lurid sexual behavior ace at the annual convention ar back as 1985, and naval d done nothing to stop it. tary announced Rear Adm.

See SCANDAL Page 14

roduct

any more medication until aned, usually at six to eight nmunizations include the ines against diseases similar diarrhea and worms.

immunization given to is time is vaccination against which Drake said improves

id additional medication is d in cases of illness, and hould look for certain

imal gets sick, and you've be preventative maintenance, head down and its ears will be said. "The first thing you take its temperature, and if it rature, you would give it are yet prescribes as the

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on

ACADEMICS

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

10 · SILO

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has

SEPTEMBER

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said. In 1973, Bradley, a former oliceman and city council ember, defeated incumbent layor Sam Yorty. For much of s tenure, Bradley's savvy and aseless energy made him pear politically invincible in os Angeles.

Tall, athletic and consistently and with his monotone delivery id aversion to public squabbles, radley has been consumed with e office of mayor, working 16id 18-hour days that start with a de on an exercise bike.

Under his watch, Los Angeles fined international prominence, ertaking San Francisco as the 'est Coast's financial capital ith its strong ties to Pacific Rim ading. The skyline literally langed as towering office tildings sprang up downtown. he airport and port became oming successes.

There's no substitute for experience... Experience Our Authentic "South of the Border Food"

$2 off any Dinner item.

Expires Oct. 15, 1992 LOS COMPADRES

308 Vattier • Dine-in/Carry Out M-Th 11-2/4:30-9 • F-Sat 11-2/4:30-10

Closed Sundays ^^^^

"Our Business Is Exhausting"

Rose Muffler House

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. Manhattan, Kansas 66502

913-776-8955

AUVA Desktops

1.2 & 1.44mb Floppies

• 106mb Hard Drive

MS-DOS 5.0

101 Keyboard

· 2 Serial, 1 Parallel & 1 Game

Super VGA (1024x768) Monitor

1 Year Parts & Labor Warranty

386DX-40 $1588

386SX-33 $1299

Call us

for a Quote before you buy anywhere else!

Super VGA Card w/ 512K

Mouse & Windows 3.1

Sale Ends October 31, 1992

wnen you wake up, you have to get up and room.

4mb RAM

486DX-50 $2189

1-800-439-8956

We've moved

Notebook Power to GO!!

to Candlewood -

Come see our new location!

4mb RAM

• 2 Serial & 1 Parallel

VGA Supertwist LCD w/

15 Pin Ext. Video Port

11"(w) x 8.6"(d) x 2"(h)

. 7 lbs (without battery)

Year Parts & Labor Warranty

486DX-33 $2689

Mastercard • Visa • Discover

Financing Options Available

Many Other Features...

• 120mb Hard Drive

1.44mb Floppy

32 Gray Scale

ALSO -

Rose House of Tint

Division of Rose Muffler House "If It's Glass, We Can Tint It!"

GRAND OPENING SALE!

Cures for hangovers not completely extinct

Uuuugh. My head. I can't believe I drank sooo much last night. That Night Train sure is a mean wine. Where's the Alka-Seltzer?

Collegian

Plop, plop. Fizz, fizz. O,h what a relief it

Even though the commercial suggests that living to tell about a night of overindulgence is just seconds away, college students know that overcoming a hangover is not so easily accomplished. But by following a doctor's advice, the price paid for a night of fun might not have to be so high.

HEALTH

According to Dr. Larry Moeller, chief of staff and physician at Lafene Health Center, a hangover is the body's natural reaction to an excess of alcohol in the body.

"A hangover is really the result of ethylene, the active ingredient in alcohol, acting on the body," Moeller said. "It affects every part of the body and every tissue. We see a lot of joint and muscle aches that go along with hang-

"Alcohol is a neurotoxic substance. It's toxic to brain and nerve cells, and often the headache that goes along with a hangover is due to a swelling of the brain," Moeller Moeller said his advice to people who are going to go out and drink is to eat before and during the time the are out.

"Foods containing protein are the best. They help the alcohol be absorbed less quickly," he said. "I would encourage everyone to pace themselves, be a sipper instead of a gulper."

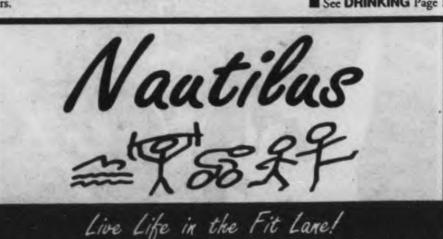

There is no good rule of thumb, according to Moeller, as to how much someone should drink in order to avoid a hangover, because people vary in size and what they have eaten prior to drinking.

"There are a lot of myths out there about alcohol," he said. "The liver is the only thing that metabolizes alcohol.

Even though you might be drinking more, the liver doesn't work any faster. It takes some time to sober up," said Moeller, adding that it takes the liver about an hour to metabolize one drink.

Moeller saiddrinkers should remember that there is no substance to the idea that drinking coffee will sober a person up.

■ See DRINKING Page 11

1100 MORO-AGGIEVILLE • 776-1654 Check on Student Semester Specials & Group Discounts First visit Always FREE!

Connecting Point Open Mon. - Sat. 10am to 5:30pm COMPUTER CENTERS

3208 Kimball Avenue in Candlewood Call us today! • 539-0801 an even of a financiar in the fe clipping. In home we do not think help the new sport faulted the three admirals ward for failing to fully ite the alleged abuse of more vomen at a Las Vegas aviators' n in 1991.

fe said Howard had been given ssible task and had become a in a botched investigation. performed as well as possible failure was not his, but the and officers reporting to him, argued.

ond - and potentially more e report - by the inspector lealing with possible criminal temming from the incident is port said lurid sexual behavior place at the annual convention far back as 1985, and naval had done nothing to stop it. cretary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

care product

ve any more medication until weaned, usually at six to eight immunizations include the accines against diseases similar za, diarrhea and worms.

er immunization given to this time is vaccination against sis, which Drake said improves es' fertility.

said additional medication is eded in cases of illness, and should look for certain animal gets sick, and you've of the preventative maintenance, its head down and its ears will rake said. "The first thing you is take its temperature, and if it nperature, you would give it the vet prescribes as the

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

INSIDE

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Campus crusade

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has come," Bradley told a packed news conference. "I am prepared to pass the torch to new

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods,' he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former policeman and city council member, defeated incumbent layor Sam Yorty. For much of is tenure, Bradley's savvy and easeless energy made him ppear politically invincible in os Angeles.

Tall, athletic and consistently land with his monotone delivery nd aversion to public squabbles, tradley has been consumed with ne office of mayor, working 16nd 18-hour days that start with a ide on an exercise bike.

Under his watch, Los Angeles ained international prominence, vertaking San Francisco as the Vest Coast's financial capital vith its strong ties to Pacific Rim rading. The skyline literally hanged as towering office uildings sprang up downtown. 'he airport and port became ooming successes.

LIVE MUSIC CALENDAR

▶ SEPTEMBER

SEPTEMBER

24 Miracle Legion — Brothers Tavern 25, 26 Salty Iguanas — Boulevards 11th Street Bar

26, 30 Plowbabys - Boulevards

▶ OCTOBER

Smokin' Joe Kubek — Brothers

Elmo & The Deadbeats - Hibachi Hut 2, 3 Hired Hands - Silverado Saloon-

The Vibes - Boulevards Moving Van Goghs — Charlie's Neighborhood Bar

B.B. King — Bramlage Coliseum Elmo & The Deadbeats — Boulevards

Eddie Burks — Brothers

Truck Stop Love — Boulevards Cry Out - Brothers

DeLisa Jones & the Route 66 - Silverado Saloon 9.10 9, 10

Razor Cage — Boulevards 14, 15 Peace - Boulevards

15 Nic Cosmos- —K-State Union Station 16, 17 Sundown — Silverado Saloon

16, 17 Caribe — Boulevards

Tom Boy —Charlie's Cry Out - Brothers

Soulshaker - Boulevards 23, 24 Good Ol' Boys - Silverado Saloon

23, 24 No One - Boulevards Joe Don't Care - Charlie's

Dr. Zeus — Boulevards 28, 29

30, 31 Rio — Silverado Saloon

30, 31 Submytion — Boulevards

Trains hobby for rail lovers of all ages

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 4

of lecture and hands-on activities," Thomas

The club is not only regional, but international as well, Clagett said. "I've shipped items from my shop overseas to customers who used to live around here and are still in the model train hobby," he said.

Clagett said someone starting the train model hobby can spend any amount of time or money. "I've spent 200 to 300 hours on my model trains, " Clagett said.

The Manhattan club's president, Richard Napper, said he also spends a great amount of time on his projects, and is currently working toward a Master Model Railroader title.

"You have to obtain seven certificates in different areas in order to qualify," Napper

As part of the qualifications, Napper has collected and meticulously designed copies of every Santa Fe model diesel locomotive.

The cost of collecting and making model trains varies, and a basic plastic power locomotive costs around $3, Clagett said. But as the person adds to the model and to the layout, the cost can increase to Thomas said the club will be offering four UFM classes in October, so anyone interested in the hobby can get an idea of what it is all about. He said he'd also like to get more younger members in the club.

Drinking has its side effects

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 10

Some students have a number of selfhelp remedies they say help them minimize or eliminate hangovers all together.

"The best way to keep from getting drunk or from getting a hangover is to never mix beer and liquor," said Dennis, sophomore undecided. "I don't pray to the porcelain god, unless I mix."

"Prevention is the best medicine," said Joe, junior in radio-television. "Before you go to sleep, you should eat a big sandwich, drink a big glass of water, take some aspirin and take a shower.'

Joe said eating and drinking before going to sleep helps diminish the possibility of getting a hangover, because there is something in one's stomach besides alcohol.

"You shouldn't drink for at least an hour before you go to bed," said David, senior in milling science. "That way, you'll have the chance to sober up a little.

David said a heavy drinker should get up and take a shower as soon as possible the morning after a night of partying. "Sleeping in is one of the worst things you can do," David said. "In the morning when you wake up, you have to get up and start moving around or you'll be out again." "If you can stomach it, drink a beer, preferably a red beer, when you get up," Joe

Joe also said some people believe drinking a Bloody Mary when they feel a hangover coming on can also do the trick.

Moeller said drinking is a right of passage for young adults, but it can have some serious health problems as side effects.

"An alcohol abuser is someone who goes out every weekend and gets blitzed," he

According to Moeller, doctors at Lafene see a number of patients who complain of flu-like symptoms, but who are really suffering from alcohol abuse.

He said anyone suffering from a severe hangover, which includes blood coming up with vomiting or blood in the stool, should seek medical attention immediately.

Alcohol decreases the ability of the immune system to fight infections, he said. And he said a bar is a good place to pick up germs, as glasses are passed around, and people shout at one another across the

AT MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER

Thu.-Sat. Purple Power Play on Poyntz. Sept. 17-19 Weds., Sept. 23 Terry Davolt, Clown, 7p.m., Picnic Place. Sat., Sept. 26 Washington County Days, Mall hours. Weds., Sept. 30 JCPenney Fashion Show, 7 & 8p.m., Picnic Place Sat., Oct. 3 Konza Prairie Quilters Guild Quilt Display. Sun., Oct. 4 4-H Extravaganza Weds., Oct. 7 Tri Star Entertainment, to be announced, 7p.m., Picnic Place. Regis Cut-A-Thon for Breast Cancer Research Sat., Oct. 10 KSU Theatre skit performances from Best Little Whorehouse in Texas Weds., Oct. 14 K-Rock Cafe at Runza, 11:30 to 1:30p.m., Picnic Place Tri Star Entertainment, to be announced, 7p.m., Picnic Place. Sat., Oct. 17 United Nations Display, Mallwide.

Tues., Oct. 20 Manhattan High School Marching

Band Performance, Plaza, 6:30p.m.

Weds., Oct. 21 Sidekicks, 7p.m., Picnic Place Sat., Oct. 24 5 Star Manhattan Town Center Anniversary Activities.

Sun., Oct. 25 5 Star Manhattan Town Center Anniversary Activities.

7 & 8p.m., Picnic Place Thurs., Oct. 29 Crafty Seniors Plus Craft Sale, Mall hours, Picnic Place.

Weds., Oct. 26

in the heart of it all.

Fashion Bug Fashion Show,

DILLARDS JCPENNEY SEARS SPECIALTY SHOPS PICNIC PLACE MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY 10-9, SUNDAY 12-6

3RD AND POYNTZ

report faulted the three admirals oward for failing to fully tate the alleged abuse of more women at a Las Vegas aviators' ion in 1991.

efe said Howard had been given ossible task and had become a in a botched investigation. performed as well as possible : failure was not his, but the and officers reporting to him, argued.

cond - and potentially more ve report - by the inspector dealing with possible criminal stemming from the incident is report said lurid sexual behavior n place at the annual convention as far back as 1985, and naval ip had done nothing to stop it. ecretary announced Rear Adm.

See SCANDAL Page 14

care

eive any more medication until weaned, usually at six to eight

e immunizations include the vaccines against diseases similar enza, diarrhea and worms.

ther immunization given to at this time is vaccination against rosis, which Drake said improves ales' fertility.

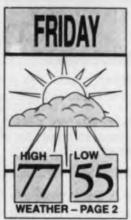

e said additional medication is eded in cases of illness, and rs should look for certain ns first.

n animal gets sick, and you've of the preventative maintenance, t its head down and its ears will Drake said. "The first thing you o is take its temperature, and if it imperature, you would give it er the vet prescribes as the

KANSAS STATE I.F.(FIA)

INSIDE REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

12 · SILO

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has nme " Rradley told a nacked day forward." Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods,' he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former oliceman and city council nember, defeated incumbent layor Sam Yorty. For much of is tenure, Bradley's savvy and easeless energy made him ppear politically invincible in os Angeles.

Tall, athletic and consistently land with his monotone delivery nd aversion to public squabbles, 'radley has been consumed with e office of mayor, working 16nd 18-hour days that start with a de on an exercise bike.

Under his watch, Los Angeles ained international prominence, vertaking San Francisco as the lest Coast's financial capital ith its strong ties to Pacific Rim ading. The skyline literally hanged as towering office uildings sprang up downtown. he airport and port became coming successes.

SEPTEMBER

fired

eport faulted the three admirals sward for failing to fully ate the alleged abuse of more women at a Las Vegas aviators' on in 1991.

efe said Howard had been given issible task and had become a in a botched investigation. performed as well as possible failure was not his, but the and officers reporting to him, argued.

cond - and potentially more ve report - by the inspector dealing with possible criminal stemming from the incident is ecember.

report said lurid sexual behavior n place at the annual convention as far back as 1985, and naval ip had done nothing to stop it. ecretary announced Rear Adm.

■ See SCANDAL Page 14

care product

tive any more medication until weaned, usually at six to eight

e immunizations include the vaccines against diseases similar nza, diarrhea and worms.

ther immunization given to at this time is vaccination against rosis, which Drake said improves

e said additional medication is teded in cases of illness, and rs should look for certain ns first.

n animal gets sick, and you've of the preventative maintenance, it its head down and its ears will Drake said. "The first thing you lo is take its temperature, and if it imperature, you would give it er the vet prescribes as the See CARE Page 14

At some pizza places, this is the only way you'll see 2 pan pizzas for 1 low price.

Westloop Shopping Center • 539-3333

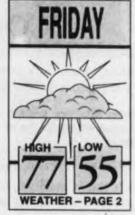

Riffe Caesaus.

Two great pizzas! One low price? Always! Always!

INSIDE

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

K-State isn't the only state school experiencing change. Today, the Collegian begins a series on program reviews throughout the

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 24

SHANE KEYSER/Collegian

Campus crusade

A group of three concerned Christians appeared on campus and drew a consistent crowd of about 60 people while preaching in the K-State Union Plaza Thursday. Topics of their oratory included education and the decline in the morality of the youth of America. Despite a constant bombardment of questions and challenges to prove their accusations, the speakers stayed on campus most of the afternoon. ABOVE: One of the speakers clutches a Bible while making a point. RIGHT: Jeff Rountree, junior in electrical engineering, comes forth to cite a passage from the Old Testament in an attempt to dissuade the speaker.

L.A. mayor to retire

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES - Mayor Tom Bradley, who saw the city through its brightest moments and three of its darkest days, said Thursday he will retire next year after 20 years in office.

The announcement by the 74year-old Bradley, the first black mayor of the nation's secondlargest city, capped months of speculation over his political future. The primary election is in April 1993, the general election in June.

"The time for change has come," Bradley told a packed news conference. "I am prepared to pass the torch to new leadership.

The five-term mayor said the decision to step down was the most difficult of his life.

"I hope I am doing what is right for Los Angeles, and, my friends, what is right for Los Angeles is right for me," Bradley said.

accomplishments revitalizing downtown, improving Los Angeles International Airport, helping clean the environment and initiating a major rapid transit project.

He said he will use the remaining nine months of his term to help rebuild the city from "The April unrest tore at my heart, and I will not be at peace until we have healed our wounds and rebuilt our neighborhoods," he said. "Let us all, every one of us, pledge to make Los Angeles a beacon of mutual respect, justice and tolerance from this day forward."

Peter Ueberroth, co-chairman of the Rebuild L.A. riot-recovery effort, said he would continue to work closely with Bradley.

"Tom Bradley has been the linchpin that has held this city together. He has been a tireless advocate for all that is good about Los Angeles, even in the worst of times," Ueberroth said.

In 1973, Bradley, a former policeman and city council member, defeated incumbent Mayor Sam Yorty. For much of his tenure, Bradley's savvy and ceaseless energy made him appear politically invincible in Los Angeles.

Tall, athletic and consistently bland with his monotone delivery and aversion to public squabbles, Bradley has been consumed with Bradley cited as his the office of mayor, working 16and 18-hour days that start with a ride on an exercise bike.

Under his watch, Los Angeles gained international prominence, overtaking San Francisco as the West Coast's financial capital with its strong ties to Pacific Rim trading. The skyline literally changed as towering office buildings sprang up downtown. The airport and port became booming successes.

Racial/ Ethnic banner expenses defrayed as well speaker funded

■ Senate allocated $1,700 to help bring in keynote speaker Manning Marable of the University of Colorado.

Voter drive

Student Senate allocated $1,700 Thursday night to Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week to defray the cost of the keynote speaker.

Manning Marable of the University of Colorado will come to K-State through the joint efforts of the Lou Douglas Lecture Series and Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, which is Oct. 4-12. Marable is also a syndicated newspaper columnist.

Faculty representative Phil Anderson, chairman of the week's planning committee, said Marable is an outstanding

"We are very excited to have him visit our campus," he

Anderson said Marable will spend two days at K-State. He will attend classes and a luncheon, give a workshop and deliver the Lou Douglas Lecture at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 5 in K-State Union Forum Hall.

> Senate also passed a bill allocating $170 to the Student Government Association to defray the costs of two banners to be used during voter registration on campus.

Arts and Sciences Sen. Mary Farmer, chairman of the legislative committee, said the signs were reusable. One sign will advertise registration at the SGA office. The other will promote voting in general. The signs will go up the first week in October, she said, and will be moved around campus.

The bills calling for the funding of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week and SGA were both originally heard as first readings in Thursday meeting. Arts and Sciences Sens. Ed Skoog and David Frese, respectively, moved the bills to special order so they could be voted on this week.

In other business, Senate passed a bill increasing the number of people on the Parking Citation Appeals Board from seven to 11. The purpose of the increase is to get ticket appeals through the system more efficiently, said Sally Routson, coordinator of student activities.

During the open period, Ruth Ann Wefald asked Senate for help collecting food for K-State's "30 Days of Thanksgiving" food drive. Thirty-nine Senators signed up to work at six gates during the Nov. 5 football game. A minimum of six volunteers were needed.

Wefald said the Nov. 5 game was chosen because it will be broadcast on ESPN and a high turnout is expected. Fans are being asked to bring non-perishable food items to be deposited when they enter KSU Stadium.

The athletic department is advertising the food drive, she

"Because of the upcoming elections, not a whole lot of attention is being paid to hungry people in our society," Wefald said. "The number of kids eligible for the free-lunch program is growing. We need

3 admirals fired

Tailhook scandal poorly handled, acting Navy secretary says

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - Acting Navy Secretary Sean O'Keefe stripped three admirals of their jobs Thursday for their failure to aggressively investigate the Tailhook sex-abuse scandal, and said those who harass women would be cleared from the ranks.

In a sometimes emotional appearance, O'Keefe vowed to get to the bottom of the affair, which has haunted the Navy for more than a year.

"Sexual harassment will not be tolerated," he said. "And those who don't get the message will be driven from our ranks."

But O'Keefe defended his top aide, Undersecretary Dan Howard, against criticism contained in a report issued Thursday by the Pentagon's inspector

The report faulted the three admirals and Howard for failing to fully investigate the alleged abuse of more than 24 women at a Las Vegas aviators' convention in 1991.

O'Keefe said Howard had been given an impossible task and had become a referee in a botched investigation. Howard performed as well as possible and the failure was not his, but the officials and officers reporting to him, O'Keefe argued.

A second - and potentially more explosive report - by the inspector general dealing with possible criminal charges stemming from the incident is due in December.

The report said lurid sexual behavior had taken place at the annual convention at least as far back as 1985, and naval leadership had done nothing to stop it.

The secretary announced Rear Adm.

See SCANDAL Page 14

NEWS DIGEST

STATE APPROVES AID TO SMALL SCHOOLS

TOPEKA (AP) - The state will spend $37.83 million on special aid to small school districts during the next school years, and that statistic is expected to help generate discussion about consolidation.

The figure was disclosed Thursday by the state's auditing agency, the Legislative Division of Post Audit, to the 10-member committee that oversees its operations. The money would go to 55 districts, each with fewer than 255 students, under a new school finance formula approved this year.

The figures could spark interest in proposals to encourage or force school consolidation.

Secord: Bush knew

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - President Bush was briefed several times about the Reagan White House's arms sales to Iran and knew far more about the deals than he has acknowledged, two figures involved in the initiative said.

Comments from retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard Secord and former National Security Council staffer Howard Teicher are the latest pieces of information undermining Bush's assertion that he was out of the loop on the secret arms-forhostages deals with Iran.

In interviews over the past week, Secord told the Associated Press that Bush hasn't come clean about his was in connection with former national knowledge of the Iran arms sales. Secord also said Bush was involved in

"There's simply no question about that; for him to suggest otherwise is simply not the case," Secord said.

Teicher told ABC News' "Nightline" that he briefed the then-vice president several times about the Iran initiative. Teicher and Secord were on the show that aired Thursday night.

Neither man had previously linked Bush publicly to the Iran-Contra scandal.

White House spokeswoman Judy Smith labeled suggestions absolutely false that Bush knew more than he had publicly acknowledged about the Iran

One of Teicher's briefings of Bush

■ See BUSH Page 14

AGRICULTURE

Proper animal care enhances beef product

Collegian

Editors's note: This is the third in a series on the American beef and cattle

To get the maximum profit from beef cattle, ranchers are following guidelines of animal care.

Calvin Drake, professor of animal sciences and industry, said the first procedure is usually done while a calf is about three months old. An immunization is done to prevent the calf from getting blackleg, a deadly disease during the course of which a gas forms under the skin turning the calf's leg black.

"This immunization is really the same thing as an immunization for a human child," Drake said. "All immunizations have been proven not to harm the animal

Drake said in most cases calves will not receive any more medication until they are weaned, usually at six to eight

These immunizations include the needed vaccines against diseases similar to influenza, diarrhea and worms.

Another immunization given to females at this time is vaccination against leptospirosis, which Drake said improves the females' fertility.

Drake said additional medication is only needed in cases of illness, and ranchers should look for certain symptoms first.

"If an animal gets sick, and you've done all of the preventative maintenance, it will let its head down and its ears will droop," Drake said. "The first thing you should do is take its temperature, and if it has a temperature, you would give it whatever the vet prescribes as the

COMMENTS

"It doesn't make any sense when you look at the demand. It has just exploded. We can't graduate fast enough."

— Haley Minton, senior in speech pathology, on the proposed elimination of the speech pathology and audiology program.

"Our highest priority is to educate students. It is not our highest priority to train students for jobs."

- Arts and Sciences Dean Peter Nicholls, on the same proposal.

"Perhaps it's time for the vice president to expand his definition and recognize that whether by choice or circumstance, families come in all shapes and sizes. And ultimately, what really defines a family is commitment, caring and love.'

— "Murphy Brown" in the series's season premiere, responding to Vice President Dan Quayle's jabs at the show

"I'm honored that Holloywood would donate an hour of prime-time television to answer one sentence of a speech that I made a number of months ago."

Quayle, after watching Monday's premiere.

"I served in the Reserves because I loved my country. I joined as a non-combatant, not as a pacifist."

Dr. Yolanda Huet-Vaughn, Gulf War resister, during a speech at K-State Monday.

"I'm pissed off. It's angering. Our foreign policy, the drug war, is a farce."

John Scott, non-degree graduate student, on why he registered to vote during the drive on campus this week.

"We are one of the Notre Dames of forensics."

 Craig Brown, director of individual events for K-State's forensics program.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Halfi 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. tributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom, Kedzie Hall 116.

ncerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24 At 2:43 p.m., a blue Dodge truck from the Seaton Court bike rack was reported. Loss was $450. A criminal was wheellocked in Lot B-3 for At 5:56 p.m., the theft of a bike damage to property was reported to the bike cable. Loss was $15.

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

At 12:30 a.m., Anna H. Kehde, 1829 College Heights Road, No. 6, was issued a notice to appear for a minor in possession of alcoholic liquor.

At 12:46 a.m., Bryan E. Key, 500 Sunset Ave., reported damage to his 1986 Ford F150 Truck. Loss was $600. At 1:09 a.m., Shop Quik, 1127 Bluemont Ave., reported the theft of $10 worth of unleaded gasoline. At 1:24 a.m., Nicholas J. Tomasic, 2015 Denison Ave., was Issued notice to appear for theft. Taken was a parking sign from Expert Design.

At 1:47 a.m., Dayle R. Jones, 909 Kearney St., was arrested for DUI and confined in lieu of $500 ball.

At 1:54 a.m., Blake E. Fithen, 1012 Ratone St., reported a red mountain bike was stolen. Loss was $550.

At 2:30 a.m., Jill M. Kiggins, 115

CORRECTIONS

The Collegian regrets the error.

Library, not Farrell Library.

Elm St., Ogden, reported her purse lost or stolen. Loss was $35.

At 2:47 a.m., Christopher D. Torline, 1616 N. Manhattan Ave., was arrested for a DUI and released on $500 bond.

At 6:06 a.m., Dale E. Wolgram, Fort Riley, struck a "Do not enter" sign on Kansas Highway 18.

At 9:01 a.m., David Pape, 2800 Claffin Road, reported $38, postage stamps and 10 keys taken from University Christian Church, as well as damage to a door. Loss was $108.

At 9:20 a.m., Susan Turner reported the loss of a 10-speed bike. Loss was $94.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Graduation check sheets are due Oct. 1 in the graduate school office for those wishing to graduate this semester.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

■ Manhattan Parks and Recreation office needs coaches for youth soccer, volleyball and football. Contact Mike Buchanan, 587-

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25

■ Botany and microbiology department will sponsor a lecture by Linda L. Wallace at 4 p.m. in Ackert 221. Topic will be "Grazing and competition in grasslands: a short- and long-term view."

■ Career Planning and Placement will sponsor a workshop on "Winning Interviews" from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Union 206.

■ K-State Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie, next to the Mini Mart.

■ InterVarsity Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 212. Topic will be "Building Bridges with Those Around Us."

■ Provost Committee on Role and Aspiration will meet from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Waters 137.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

German Club will meet at 4 p.m. at Goodnow Park.

■ Collegiate 4-H will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 208.

■ Apparel Design Collective will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Justin 252. Graduate Julie Durbin will speak on her career with the Lee Corp.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 . KEDZIE 116

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

WEATHER

In the story on model trains in Thursday's SILO magazine, the November show mentioned will be at the Manhattan Public

TODAY'S FORECAST

Partly Cloudy. High in the upper 70s. Friday night, mostly cloudy with a chance of showers and thunderstorms. Lows in the mid-50s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

20-percent chance of showers and thunderstorms in the early morning, then clearing. High in the mid-70s.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Sunday through Tuesday: a chance for showers and thunderstorms early Monday. Lows in mid-40s. Highs around 70.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

dy Oslo 59/	54 cloudy
r Santiago 68/	37 cloudy
dy Tokyo 79/	63 clear
a	ar Santiago 68/

776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

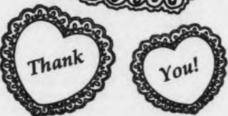

Special - 10 in. Pizzas 1 - Topping 4 - Cokes 10.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

Mom

Parent's Day is Oct. 3. Don't forget to take an opportunity to thank them for all they've done for you over the years.

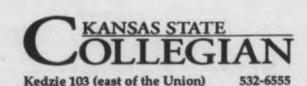

The Collegian Classifieds will feature a special section for Mom and Dad personals on Friday, Oct. 2. Place your ad today in Kedzie 103 (east of the Union).

Remember, they've given you a lifetime of happiness. Now it's your turn to make their day.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Mom and/or Dad a special day at Kansas State University. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Your I.D. number
Telephone number

ECM SUNDAY FORUM THIS WEEK—SEPTEMBER 27 6:30 p.m.

THE PANAMA DECEPTION is the untold story of the 1989 U.S. invasion of Panama. It explores the U.S. relationship with Panama from 1903 to the present and exposes Noriega's longstanding relationship with the CIA, DEA & George Bush. THE PANAMA DECEPTION reveals how and why nainstream media collaborated with the U.S. government to censor information and deceive the American public, and how they distorted reports about the actual devastation and human rights violations, which continue today.

THE PANAMA DECEPTION shows that the invasion was not intended to achieve the officially stated goals of: arresting Noriega; protecting American lives; protecting the Canal; and restoring democracy to Panama . . . but rather, created a structure permitting the U.S. to abrogate the Carter/Torrijos treaty, allowing the U.S. military to maintain bases there after the year 2000; helping Bush get over the embarrassment caused by Noriega's actions; neutralizing the recent resurgence of Panamanian nationalism; and using the invasion as an excuse and opportunity to test out new weapons

SUNDAY SUPPER-5:30 p.m.-all are welcome

ECM Campus Center

1021 Denison

We have to do some far-about where want to go in

JERRY MCDOUGALL

the future."

reaching thinking

we might

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

WSU focuses on undergrad education

ABOVE: White T squares, dotting the lawn of Anderson serve as headstones for the possible death of the College of Architecture and Design under the reorganization proposal of October 1990.

RIGHT: K-State President Jon Wefald waits for quiet before continuing speaking during a rally in late October 1990 in the K-State Union Plaza. Wefald was explaining the administration's proposed reorganization.

File photos by J. Matthew Rhea and David Mayes.

Gerontology, political science degrees cut; doctoral programs enhanced

STEPHANIE FUQUA

Editor's note: This is the first in a series about program changes occurring throughout the Kansas Board of Regents system. Today's installment focuses on Wichita State University. Monday: Fort Hays State University.

Wichita State University will emphasize undergraduate education as a part of its new role and aspiration statement requested by the Kansas Board of Regents.

Masters degrees in Political Science and Sociology. MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian As a result, bachelor's and master's degrees in gerontology, the Gerontology Center and master's degrees in political science and sociology will be phased

WICHITA STATE

Degrees that are being cut due to the "Mission,

degrees in Gerontology.

Role and Aspiration".

Bachelor and Masters

CUTBACKS

out at Wichita State. However, Wichita State will enhance Ph.D. programs, by starting doctoral programs in business, communicative disorders and sciences, educational administration, educational psychology, musical arts, nursing, chemistry, biology and history.

Jerry McDougall, associate vice president for academic affairs, said there is no conflict between de-emphasizing master's programs and emphasizing doctorates.

"We have a doctoral mission mandated by the regents," McDougall said. "We have to do at least some far-reaching thinking about where we might want to go in the future.

Trends throughout the United States and comments from the Wichita community are the reason for the emphasis on undergraduates.

"We have been going through a multi-year evaluation of general-education requirements," McDougall said. "We've heard a significant number of comments about the need for more

"It is a program trend that needs to be addressed through undergraduates across the United States. There has been criticism about the lack of emphasis on undergraduates,' McDougall said.

Although the regents requested all six state universities review their programs for ways to avoid duplication among schools, the proposed chemistry Ph.D. would be the third program in the state, along with KU and K-State.

New emphasis will be placed on elementary and secondary education, raising questions about competition with Emporia State University, long recognized as a teacher's

"Teaching preparation is an important and vital function of Wichita State because of our metropolitan location," McDougall said. "There are local needs for preparation of new teachers and recertification of present

■ See WSU Page 14

Program phaseouts conjure up

Reorganization of 1990 brought similar response from students

KARREY BRITT

The protest against the proposed elimination of the speech pathology and audiology, and social work programs has stirred memories of the 1990 reorganization and the ensuing protest.

Two years ago, protests arose when the administration's plan for University reorganization called for closing the and buttons, wearing black clothes or Tcolleges of Human Ecology, and Architecture and Design.

The initial draft, which was proposed appropriation losses and was to save the University a projected $3 million. A fivepoint evaluation for the decision came under intense scrutiny by students, faculty and alumni.

Students marched from Justin Hall, where human ecology is based, to Anderson Hall with white T-squares symbolizing headstones, expressive signs that draft proposal in favor of more shirts with slogans, and defending their rights to be heard.

Provost James Coffman and President in late October 1990, offset state Jon Wefald were accosted and questioned by students as they left Anderson Hall during the rally.

Two days later, another protest in front of Seaton Hall, where architecture and design is based, reiterated students' unrest. Students also wrote graffiti in front of and on the building.

The administration decided to drop student and faculty input. But though the rallies had quieted, the issue of reorganization remained.

Student Senate continued to lobby state legislators for more money but kept reorganization low-key.

In the aftermath, the University and community were forced to take a second look at what K-State offered and plan a wider spectrum of input for proposals in

In the process, the College of

■ See PROTESTS Page 14

FREE DELIVERY (Minimum Order $9)

Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge 1304 Westloop, Manhattan

539-0888 539-8888 DINING-IN COUPON 10% OFF

when you present this coupon OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK Dible • Merriman • Sedlock • Burns

SENIOR FIJI'S CHICAGO BOUND

bloody's and a tonic. Shu-bee won't be there so head on to sonic

By the time you see The windy city is great, this, we've had two and in our drunken state. We'll be staying on rush street, stumbling right over our feet.

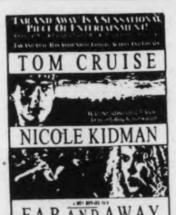

Lopez • Vanderbilt • Grimes • Cordill

ON YOUR PHILANTHROPIES

FROM SHIRTS ILLUSTRATED PHONE *, 537-2887 / (800)886-9966 || ustrated

TIL THE COWS COME HOME

Friday & Saturday , 7 & 9 p.m. Sunday 7 p.m. FORUM HALL $1.75 With KSU ID

K-State Union
UPC Feature Films

STUDENT ART SHOW Entries accepted Monday, Sept. 28 to Friday, Oct. 16 8 a.m. - 4p.m. UPC office

K-State Union

RENAISSANCE FESTIVAL THIS WEEKEND! Sign-up in the UPC Office today

Price: $16 Trip includes: Round-trip transportation and admission to the festival in Kansas City

> Sign up today! At the UPC Office 8am-4pm

Wednesday & Thursday 7 & 9:30 p.m., Forum Hall Friday at 7 p.m. Little Theatre $1.75 with KSU ID

K-State Union

IN UNION STATION

COUNTRY DANCE LESSONS Sign up fee is $10 per couple Classes for beginners and advanced Line dancing will also be offered for an additional $5

Classes taught from Sunday, October 11 through November 17 Sign-up starts: Wednesday, Sept. 30 UPC Office 8am-4pm

HAVE SOME FUN AND UP A DATE!

FIIMS ALWAYS $1.75! Film passes available:

Six films for six bucks! Available at the UPC Office and at Union Theatre Box Offices

Flint Hills Biking

October 10-11 Enjoy beautiful Milford Lake, while biking through historic Fort Riley. Information Meeting: Thursday, Sept. 24 Union Room 206, 7 p.m.

IN OUR OPINION

SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Free speech not always clear

THE ISSUE

Rules concerning the free-speech zone in Union Plaza are unclear and unknown to many students.

WE SUGGEST

The Union and University Attorney should decide what exactly is allowed in the free-speech zone and make it public knowledge.

Students were treated to a healthy helping of religious rhetoric Thursday afternoon in the free-speech zone in the K-State Union Plaza.

Doing a bit of tag-team Bible-thumping, several people invited open debate and questions with anyone willing to listen or argue.

But were they within their rights to be there? Union Associate Director Jack Connaughton says there are specific policies for literature distribution, but not for speech alone. People aren't generally restricted to just the island in Union Plaza.

As long as speakers there are not blocking traffic, students or disturbing classes, they can say what they want. If they don't follow the rules, the Kansas State Police Department and University attorney are contacted.

Connaughton said he could not comment for certain on whether the speakers were violating any rules. That would be up to the University attorney to decide.

University Attorney Richard Seaton said generally the Union determines whether there is a problem.

Out of curiosity, the Collegian contacted the police with a complaint about noise in Union Plaza. An investigator showed up, but nothing was done to quiet the speakers.

Does this incident clear the way for anyone with a cause and a loud voice to have their say in Union Plaza?

Are students really free to belt out refrains espousing the virtues of midget-tossing without fear of recrimination, as has happened in the past?

Does anyone on campus have any idea what's allowed, and who's in charge?

And since when did it become OK to walk on the chained-off grass only when loud individuals were present?

The free-speech zone has always been an ambiguous area at best. The University needs once and for all to define the rules, if there are any, and make clear what can and can't be done.

Someone needs to take charge.

Failure to do so will only keep Union Plaza a kinda-sorta-free-speech zone.

Carving brings hate to memory

was wandering through Aggieville with a to destroy this offensive piece of garbage, as if They wouldn't even have the big ugly swastika friend one Saturday afternoon, out enjoying Lthe sunshine and window shopping, when we decided to stop at Last Chance to cool off and rest for a while.

We took a booth inside and were engrossed in one of those "meaning of life" conversations, when suddenly my friend's eyes clouded, and her expression turned dark.

"What?" I asked, looking around to see what ad captured her attention.

"No, look here," she replied, pointing at the graffiti on our table top.

And then I saw it. There, right alongside the more conventional graffiti spouting eternal love and devotion or goofy epithets, was one of the most ugly things I have ever seen: a huge, elaborate swastika carved deep into the wood.

We both stared at it a moment, too stunned to speak. What I saw was the remnant of a deeply disturbed and hateful drunk.

What my friend saw was a lifetime made up of a long tradition of hate and intolerance and horror, for she is Jewish.

What was I supposed to say, "I'm sorry?" I said it, but it seemed just as stupid then as it does

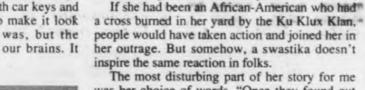

Near tears, my friend's first instinct was to try erasing the evidence would make the hate go away. We dug at it desperately with car keys and anything else available, trying to make it look like anything except what it was, but the offensive image was burned in our brains. It would never go away.

While we whittled away at the 4-inch chunk of hate, she told me about other incidents when this hideous emblem of hate had crossed through her Dark and New York and Jewish, she stood out locker,"

As if the idea of

was her choice of words. "Once they found out she said, and it enraged me to think people had been so cruel that she felt it necessary to cover up and hide her heritage and religion.

at the damn thing, the angrier I got. "Who would do such a thing? Who could be so filled with hate?" I asked, even though I knew the answers.

You forget sometimes just how crazy and vicious and brutal this world really is. We fall into a pattern of complacency when we feel safe, when there isn't someone burning crosses in our yard or painting swastikas on our locker doors.

our doors, we feel safe. We try to put it out of our minds. We try to pretend it doesn't happen, but it does, every day, all around the world.

I think it will be a long time before I can put this incident out of my mind. Frankly, I hope I someone doing that to you isn't horrifying enough, the rest of the story was worse. When she complained to the school administrators,

Richard Andrade Amy Cox Jodell Lamer
Shawn Bruce David Mayes
Frank Kleemann Derek Thoman Jared Savage Opinion Page Editor

READERS WRITE

LETTER RESPONSE

Prof has every right to express opinion

Michael Ossar's letter to the editor expressed an opinion. Then Laurie Johnson wrote that professors should not get into 'the habit of belittling students' earnest expression of opinion." Why not?

Ossar is a thinking person and is therefore entitled to an opinion. He is an individual outside the classroom and has the right to express his opinion. While in class, I am sure Ossar encourages the expression of opinions. While out of class, I am positive he enjoys the same privilege.

Charles Haahr Senior/Electrical engineering trees. But hey, if they don't make a pitiful sound, or have cute eyes and fur, it doesn't count, right? I'll leave it to her to decide whether her morals will overcome her hunger. But I doubt it.

All I can say is, if you

Scott Huggins Student/Political science and

JOB TRAINING

Students need jobs to justify diploma

Editor.

I can't believe that Arts and Sciences Dean Peter Nicholls admitted what most people probably knew, but hated to admit - that colleges are not interested in training students for jobs.

This is attested to by the fact that so many students graduate and are unable to find jobs in their chosen field. The fact that students are not being trained in fields that will enable them to find a job becomes even more apparent in difficult economic times such as the United States is experiencing

It is indeed ironic that the University would cut out a program that offers a strong possibility for future employment but will probably keep programs where there is little chance of students finding employment in their trained fields.

While it is great that people are educated, it is imperative that they be educated and trained in viable fields so that they can contribute to society, not be a drain on it. The assumed reason that people go to college is to prepare themselves for employment after graduation. It is sad that isn't a priority for institutions of higher learning to have the same goal.

Donna Rogers Staff/Extension agricultural economics

MEAT AND SEXISM Column completely lacks use of logic

This is in response to Kelly Klawonn's fascinating little column, "Animals also should be respected," that appeared in the Sept. 23 Collegian.

It is amazing. Rarely have I seen a column this devoid of logic.

At the beginning of the column, we see that it deals with ill treatment of livestock. We are, apparently, torturing millions of animals to obtain food we can get from plants. Oh, really? When was the last time a cow told someone it was unhappy?

Besides, how does the author, a vegetarian, know that her plants aren't unhappy? After all, they're sprayed with chemicals and yanked traumatically out of the ground to fi!l her plate. You say plants can't react.

Scientists have detected chemical releases from trees under attack that "warn" other Now after this, she really goes into a non sequitur. Somewhere she draws a line from animal rights to women's rights. It is not clear as to whether she thinks women are animals - I certainly don't think so. But she does say that meat is a "symbol of male power." Really? I suppose if most societies were matriarchal, we'd never have seen meat on the plate. No. Men are evidently inferior beings who like to torture, kill and eat lesser beings because they are scum.

believe that, please come look me up. I've got a great bridge to sell you. And the view of Brooklyn is excellent.

modern languages

POLITICS

Conservatives out of touch with reality

I would like to respond to the inaccurate assertions made in the recent letter to the editor, "Clinton's plan only spells doom for U.S.

First, the author asserts that Clinton wants to "build walls around America" regarding the issue of trade. To the contrary, Clinton's plan calls for investment in America and its workers so that we can compete and win in world markets. In fact, the Reagan-Bush administration is the only one guilty of "building walls" as evidenced by the voluntary export restraints placed on Japan in 1982. This measure, along with others, put our country in one of the most protectionist eras in recent memory.

Second, like many conservatives, the author tries to blame the economic woes of our country on the "tax-and-spend Democrats." This flies in the face of the fact that Bush has yet to submit a budget to Congress that has less than a $100 billion deficit. While supposedly supporting the balanced budget amendment, Bush has shown the lack of fiscal responsibility required to implement such a proposal. Third, the author asserts Clinton's "tax hikes" will harm 95 percent of our nation's small businesses. Actually, Clinton proposes permanent research and development tax credits and targeted investment tax credits to small business that will create jobs. In addition, Clinton has earned the endorsement of Business Leaders for Change, an organization of business executives. American businesses have good reason to be optimistic about a Clinton administration.

Fourth, the author states regulations are the enemy in America." He must have an extremely short memory. The Savings and Loan, airline and trucking industries are all in a terrible shape due to deregulation. America will be paying for these deregulatory mistakes long after we are gone.

In conclusion, ask yourself the one question so often repeated in presidential campaigns, but ironically missing from George Bush's speeches these days: Am I better off than I was four years ago? For most Americans, the answer is a resounding NO, and this will be evident come Nov. 3.

> Richard Baler Junior/Economics and political science at her white-breadwestern-Kansas high school and paid a heavy price. "Once they found out I was Jewish, they painted one of these on explained.

they took no action and offered no sympathy.

EDMUNDS

removed or painted over. It stayed

I was hopping mad. The longer we dug away

Just because the hate squad hasn't stopped at

Even in Manhattan.

Men's groups not helping situation

Then you hear "men's movement" mentioned, your mind? Middle-aged men banging on bongo drums? Intense man-to-man chats about the decline in the virtue of masculinity?

images, you'd be in the ballpark. The men's movement is alive and well with a diverse ritualistic foundation. Although there is usually a wide array of different branches and contradictory perspectives within any social movement, one theme in particular seems prevalent in this one - the need to exclude women from participating.

Indeed, this tendency to separate and isolate men from women is one of the more frightening aspects of the movement, a problem more localized than you might think. K-State has its own version of the men's movement. Encouraged and endorsed by Assistant Dean of Student Life Bernard Franklin, "Just Guys" attempts to help young men find themselves as true men and not just one of the guys. Building relations and establishing networks among men seem to be the focal points for this group.

Moreover, it was reported a little more than a week ago that the group "Just Guys" voted to exclude women from its meetings.

The rationale given by Taylor Mali, graduate student in English and the founder of the group, was that men in attendance were unable to express themselves and their feelings honestly when women present. Feeling uncomfortable and even possibly threatened, the only conceivable option, other than trashing the precedent established is dangerous for several reasons. To begin with, if feeling uncomfortable around women warrants banishment, the logical extension is for whites to proclaim that they feel uncomfortable around minorities, risk to a group made up of those already in control. In the case of the men's movement, the focus is not on a small, oppressed segment of society in need of a voice. Men already have the power in our patriarchy - to empower men and oppress women. In our society, men run the government. Men get paid more for doing the same work as women. Men rape women. Men control relationships,

What is it, then, that the members of the men's movement need to be liberated from? What is it that requires mobilization for men to conquer?

It is in this light that separatism and the exclusion of women from discussion groups become all the more dangerous. Feelings of superiority, dominance and the need to male-bond encourage group-think tendencies of regression. Instead of establishing a dialogue across gender lines, isolationism encourages a monologue which prevents women from taking part in the discussion of male-bonding and male-female relationships. Although many in the men's movement will be the first to proclaim that they are not opposed to the women's movement, and instead, view themselves as running parallel with women's issues, I disagree. The very need to establish and redefine male identity and personal self-worth independent of feminine input and perspective runs counter to the notion of breaking down male

If men are having a tough time expressing themselves in the presence of women, then maybe that's part of the problem that needs to be addressed. The veil of secrecy and the exclusion of women from discussion groups only exacerbate the situation. Keeping women involved offers what do you picture in If you conjured up any of these organization altogether, was to categorically deny women the privilege of attending. being then bar non-white participants from their discussion groups. It makes sense that batteredwomen counseling and rape services should ignore the co-op attempts made by the male establishment, but there is no such culture. That's the function of and for the most part, men run our

FILIPPI

Senate votes to override Bush veto Architect relates

WASHINGTON - The Senate voted Thursday to override President Bush's veto of the family leave bill, shining a campaignseason spotlight on an issue Democrats think will wound him on Election Day.

Supporters of the legislation conceded that even with the Senate's 68-31 vote, a House override effort will probably fail. But Democrats relished the highprofile chance to contrast Bush's opposition to the bill with his rhetoric championing family values.

"Those Republicans who voted

Al Gore, Democratic vice presidential candidate, said. "Those who voted with the Bush-Quayle position chose to say, 'Read our lipservice to family values."

The measure would require businesses with 50 or more employees to grant workers up to 12 weeks of unpaid leave each year to care for newborn babies or sick family members.

Majority Leader Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., said the House will vote next Wednesday on the override attempt. But supporters and opponents alike said they upheld. The House approved the bill by 253-177 last November well short of the 289 votes or a twothirds margin, that would be needed if all 433 members vote.

Behind the scenes, the effort to line up votes was gearing up quickly. Gore said he had spoken to House Democrats who were considering switching to support the bill. Forty-eight of them opposed it in last year's vote.

Bush vetoed the measure Tuesday, an act the White House did not announce until the evening network news broadcasts were over.

He has vetoed 32 bills Thursday's vote by the Senate was the first time that chamber had voted to overturn a Bush veto.

The president and other opponents say the measure would drive up business' costs, eliminate jobs and shove yet another federal mandate at companies.

However, supporters said it is less expensive for businesses to grant unpaid leaves than to fire employees who need time off and to train replacements. They also said the bill would do little more than institute a policy common in other industrialized countries.

LECTURE ..... art to discipline

Bryant speaker encourages creativity in design

BILL SPIEGEL

Collegian

Architect Douglas Darden delivered the year's first Bryant Lecture Thursday afternoon in K-State Union Forum Hall.

The lecture, "Condemned Building," featured Darden's views on architecture's reliance on art to portray its message.

Darden said art and architecture are intertwined. "The creative work of architecture is to put a slant on life - how we envision it," Darden

He said architecture should be a statement of the individual whose work it represents.

"Take a stand, and make it stand for something. Architecture is a verb," he said.

To design a "church," he said, is to design an image people have. Howard Davidson, director of But to design a "place of worship" lets minds explore.

Darden said his work is a set of examples of his own ideas.

"I am not a reasonable man," he said. "A reasonable man adjusts to the way the world exists. An unreasonable man envisions the world. An unreasonable person can express his ideas in a more uninhibited manner than a reasonable person can.' Three images, Darden said, have been important to him in his career. One, the human face, Darden called interesting because of its asymmetry. We have a desire for something to be ideal and a relief that it isn't,' he said.

Darden said ballet is also an important factor. 'The most basic movement in ballet is the bending of the knees," he said. "But ballet aspires to leap. The ground is a threshold of living space. To go up, one must first go

"Architecture is similar, in that we have to delve into things to get them accomplished."

The third relationship Darden talked about was a skyscraper under

When a tall building goes up, there is first a hole in the ground," he said. "There is a relationship between construction and destruction. We cannot have one without the other."

Explaining his projects on display at the Chang Gallery in Seaton Hall, Darden said he tried to inhabit the idea before working.

12-year-old seeks to divorce parents

Mother denies abuse, neglect as proceedings begin ASSOCIATED PRESS

ORLANDO, Fla. - Squirming and chewing a gum drop, a 12-yearold boy went to court Thursday seeking a divorce from his parents in a case that could help give children more protection against parental abuse.

Gregory Kingsley, brown-haired and pale, sat in the back of the courtroom with members of the

Mancinelli's
Ristorante
Italiano

OPEN 5-10 p.m. Mon.-Sat. 5-9 p.m. Sunday

This Week's Specials

★ Sherry Chicken Alfredo $5.95

All You Can Eat Spaghetti & Meatballs $3.95

All Dinners Served With Tossed Salad & Breadsticks

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

(with Fettucine Pasta)

★ Chicken Parmigiana

★ Baked Ziti Alforno

Authentic Italian Recipes

Cooked

To Order

$5.45

$4.95

foster family he hopes to live with permanently.

His mother, Rachel Kingsley, cried as she denied allegations that she abused, neglected and abandoned him for most of his life. In the past eight years, Gregory has lived with her only seven months.

Kingsley also denied that her fiance, Steve Hack, had recently beaten her in the presence of her two younger sons, who live with her in St. Louis.

A former sister-in-law, Jeanette Glenn, detailed instances of abuse and neglect, accusing Kingsley, 30, of being an alcoholic, a drug abuser

Sobbing, Glenn said she hoped the two younger boys also could be taken from Kingsley because nothing's going to change. ... That's the pattern for her.

Gregory said he felt unloved and unwanted most of his life. He smiled occasionally in court, chewed on a gum drop and whispered to those around him.

The trial was shown live on CNN and Court TV.

Child welfare advocates and legal scholars said the case could establish a significant legal precedent, but some said it was the American Bar Association Center on Children and the Law, said it was unlikely that many unlikely to have much practical

You're looking at a fundamental shift at the way we view children,"Charmaine Crouse Yoest, policy analyst with the Family

Research Council, said.

"The ramifications are huge. ...

children would be hiring lawyers to terminate parental custody in the future. He said the case was mainly significant because it had attracted so much attention, not vice versa.

Educate people without religious faith and you make but clever fools.

At College Heights Baptist Church, 2221 College Heights Road, our goal is a faith seeking understanding. This Sunday evening at 7:00, Dr. Bob Linder, history professor at K-State, will speak on "The Christian's Responsibility in the Electoral Process." You are invited to join us.

Free Admission Free Popcorn

FRIDAY NIGHT at the Movies . . .

Father of the Bride Tonight, Sept. 25-8 p.m.

ECM Campus Center 1021 Denison

539-4281

With purchase of Wrangler Shirts
 & Jeans get a gift.

Travelute

WRANGLER MONTH

 Also, with purchase of Rocky Mountain Jeans & Tops get a bonus T-shirt of mug for $2.98.

See Us For Your Complete Line Of Western Wear

Mon.-Sat. 9-12, 1-5 Sun. 1-5

located near Waterville 785-2136

9:30pm - 12:30am union station

ROYAL PURPLE

Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Take a minute-

to have a prostate exam. It could be worth your life.

This year 132,000 American men will learn that they have prostate cancer. About 34,000 will die of it this year.

Every man age 40 and over is at risk. One out of every 11 will get prostate cancer; one in nine for black Americans. Many men don't know they have prostate cancer because it can occur and spread without any symptoms. A simple one-minute exam can lead to early diagnosis and effective treatment.

The Good News

Prostate cancer can be cured if diagnosed early. More than 80 percent of all patients whose tumors are diagnosed at an early stage are alive five years later. And now, even in advanced cases, the disease can often be effectively treated.

The American Urological Association and the Prostate Cancer Education Council recommend annual prostate exams for all men age 50 and over, and those over 40 who have a family history of prostate cancer.

Prostate Cancer Awareness Week September 27-October 11, 1992 is Prostate Cancer Awareness Week. Medical centers around the country are offering free exams to men age 40 and over. The test is simple and could be worth your life.

A free prostate exam is available at Memorial Hospital Thursday, October 1 and Thursday, October 8 with Fred Freeman, M.D. and John Devine, M.D., Manhattan urologists.

The free prostate exam is available by appointment only to the first 150 men to call.

Call Memorial Hospital's Education Department during the week of September 21-25 between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon, to schedule your appointment.

Take a minute to get an exam and ask your doctor about prostate cancer, because timing is the key to successful treatment.

Yesterday's values, Tomorrow's technology 1105 Sunset P.O. Box 1208 . Manhattan, KS 66502 . 913-776-3300

The Kansas City Royals beat the Seattle Mariners 2-0 Thursday night.

George Brett was 2 for 4 and needs only seven hits in the last 10 games to become the 18th player to reach 3,000.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

►IOWA at COLORADO

FAST FACTS: 2:30 p.m., Folsom Field, Boulder, Colo. RECORDS: lowa (1-2) and No. 10

Colorado (3-0). LINE: Colorado by 9.

ABOUT THE HAWKEYES: lowa was idle last week after defeating lowa State two weeks ago. lowa opened the season with consecutive losses to No. 23 North Carolina State and No. 1 Miami. Iowa has given up more than 400 yards of total offense so far this

ABOUT THE BUFFALOES: Colorado struggled last week, winning at Minnesota 21-20. Colorado leads the conference in passing, averaging more than 330 yards per game. It is led by Kordell Stewart, who has started two of the three games at quarterback. Michael Westbrook already has 451 yards receiving this season, good enough to rank him first in the country in receiving yards per game.

THE SKINNY: The Big 10 is one of two conferences with a winning record against the Big Eight this season. lowa has had difficulty defending the pass all season long, and Colorado should be able to exploit its pass defense. Iowa will try to get on track against the worstranked defense in the Big Eight. Colorado looks to enter its idle week 4-0 and should be able to with a tough victory over lowa.

MISSOURI at INDIANA

FAST FACTS: 11:30 a.m., Memorial Stadium, Bloomington, Ind. RECORDS: Missouri (0-2) and Indiana

LINE: Indiana by 9 1/2.

ABOUT THE TIGERS: Missouri opened the season with a tough loss to Big 10 member Illinois 24-17, before battling No. 5 Texas A&M. The Tigers came up short to the Aggies 26-13. The Tigers quarterbacking duo of Phil Johnson and Jeff Handy continues to split game time. Missouri ranks seventh in the conference in both total offense and total defense.

ABOUT THE HOOSIERS: Defeated Miami (Ohio) 16-0 in the opener and lost to Kentucky 37-25 last week. Last season's game ended in a 27-27 tie in Columbia, Mo. THE SKINNY: Last year, the two teams combined for 794 yards of total offense and 54 points. In Columbia, word is that Tiger coach Bob Stull is feeling the heat, having won only nine of 35 games. The Tigers are playing well and could win. But they probably won't - go with the Hoosiers.

NORTHERN IOWA at IOWA STATE

FAST FACTS: 1 p.m., Cyclone Stadium, Ames, Iowa. RECORDS: Northern lowa (2-0) and Iowa State (2-1). LINE: None

ABOUT THE PANTHERS: Northern lowa is currently ranked No. 4 in Division I-AA poll and defeated Idaho State 49-11 last weekend. UNI opened the season with a 21-18 victory over McNeese State. The teams last met in 1990 with the Cyclones winning 35-6. Coach Terry Allen is in his fifth year with the Panthers and has a 29-9 overall

ABOUT THE CYCLONES: lowa State is 2-0 at home this season after defeating Tulane 38-14 last Saturday. ISU coach Jim Walden is 3-0 against Northern Iowa in his tenure, which includes a 39-38 victory in 1987. Cyclone James McMillion had 137 yards on five punt returns against Tulane, including an 89-yard touchdown

THE SKINNY: Northern lowa takes this game personally and will come out flying. The Cyclones lead the all-time series 13-1-3 with the lone Panther win in the series coming in 1900. The Cyclones can't look ahead to opening Big Eight play in Norman next week and must take care of business here. Look for Iowa State to wear the Panthers down in the second half.

OTHER BIG EIGHT GAMES

Arizona State (1-1) at No. 15 Nebraska (2-1), 1 p.m. ■ Tulsa (1-2) at Oklahoma State (1-1),

- Mike May

Team swings clubs at ISU

Wildcat Denise Pottle sinks a putt on one of the greens at Stagg Hill Course during the women's golf team practice Tuesday afternoon. Pottle and four other members of the team will be competing in the Cyclone Golf Classic at lowa State in Ames Saturday and Sunday.

KRISTEEN YOUNG

Assistant coach Len Johnsen and five members of the women's golf team are traveling to Iowa for the second consecutive weekend, but they aren't hoping for a repeat performance.

They will be competing in the Cyclone Golf Classic at Iowa State in Ames, and a week ago they were in Iowa City where they finished 13th out of 15 teams. Coach Mark Elliott said they have put it all in the past.

"They are hard workers and were disappointed after last weekend," Elliott said. "They are all good players, and now they just have to prove it.

"Proving it" means playing hard enough to place above the team playing host to the tournament. Iowa State placed fourth last weekend in Iowa City, above K-State, and Elliott said the Wildcats are feeling a little vengeful.

we beat Iowa State at their own tournament, and we hope to do it again," he said.

"For the team, it is good to get rid of the bad experience last week in Iowa and get on to Iowa

Traveling to Iowa State will be Valerie Hahn, Jacque Wright, Denise Pottle, Dallas Cox and Stacy Bush.

The Cyclone Classic will be Bush's first collegiate tournament, and Elliott said he isexcited to see how she handles the pressure over

It will be the third tourney for Pottle, Hahn and Wright, and the second for Cox. All of their tournaments are only a week apart, and the Wildcats will only have two tournaments left after the Cyclone Classic.

Throughout the two-day tournament, the Wildcats will be challenged by conference foes

"This is an important tournament. Last year, Nebraska and Iowa State. It will be their first look at Nebraska this season.

Other competitors in the eight-team tourney are Southwest Missouri State, Northern Illinois and Georgia State. Although there will be good competition, Elliott said there aren't any teams of which he is especially wary.

"We have a chance to win it. There are a lot of teams that can play solid, and we can do the same," he said.

Elliott said solid team play begins with senior Valerie Hahn. He expects her to finish in the top 10 at each tournament. The closest she has come is 17th in the season opener at Las Cruces, N.M.

Elliott said, however, that playing solid is a matter of consistency, something he said Hahn is capable of, as well as the other four traveling to

"We have a chance to win it. There are a lot of teams that can play solid, and we can do the same."

MARK ELLIOTT

Smargiasso here in the end

MAY

If you were to tell Jason Smargiasso four years ago that he would be playing in the K-State-Temple game Saturday night, he probably would have believed you.

Had you told him it would be as a Wildcat, you probably would have gotten a blank know they had a program," Smargiasso said of K-State.

Despite receiving scholarship offers from Syracuse and Penn State, Temple was the odds-on favorite to sign the 6-. foot-3, 220-pounder.

"Everyone in the East really got on me hard and offered me a linebacker, Smargiasso said, "I like linebacker, but I always wanted to play quarterback."

Enter Temple. Enter Owl offensive coordinator John Latina and the lone big East Coast offer the New for Wilmington, native.

The following year, Coach Bruce Arians and his staff were cleared out as current Temple coach Jerry "I didn't even Berndt took over. Latina then hooked up with Bill Snyder after he had been named coach at K-State.

"I was fairly close (to signing with Temple)," Smargiasso said. "When I was being recruited, Coach Latina was there. Then he left and was at K-State.

"He told me I should come out and visit. K-State was the only throwing school that was going to take me as a quarterback."

With Smargiasso bound for Manhattan, many thought the junior would see immediate playing time. In 1989, Smargiasso redshirted and threw only seven attempts in his first collegiate season. Last season, he battled all-Big Eight second-team quarterback Paul Watson for the

See QB Page 14

SPORTS DIGEST

NO. 24 JAYHAWKS FALL 27-23 TO CALIFORNIA

LAWRENCE (AP) -Dave Barr accounted for two touchdowns, and Russell White smashed Chuck Muncie's school all-purpose running record Thursday night, lifting California past No. 24 Kansas 27-23. The Bears (2-1)

dominated KU along the line of scrimmage and never trailed while holding their hosts 27 points below their season average. Kansas (3-1) closed to within 20-17 on Maurice Douglas' 31-yard touchdown run with 4:22 left in the third period, following Charley Bowen's 21-yard interception return. Moments later, Dan Eichloff tried a 47yard field goal that could have tied it.

But Brad Bowers blocked the kick. Six plays later, Barr's 11-yard touchdown pass to Sean Dawkins restored the Bears' 10-point

FOOTBALL

Owls next challenge

Snyder expects physically strong Temple team

STEVE ROCK Collegia

The Wildcat football team is looking to post its first fivegame winning streak since

With Saturday night's game against the Temple Owls, the Cats will put their current fourgame streak, the longest in 22 years, on the line.

And although the two schools have never met on the gridiron, Cat coach Bill Snyder said he knows that Saturday's game will be tougher than the against an all-pass type of 27-12 victory in the season

"Temple is a better team than Montana," Snyder said. "They have the ability to do more than Montana.' Montana, who beat the Wildcat secondary for 366 yards passing last weekend, didn't have the running capability that Temple has, Snyder said.

"Temple keeps it balanced. They move the ball and have more of a complete package," he said. "The key to the game will probably be how well we can transfer our attention defensively from playing football team to predominantly run-oriented style of football.' And the Wildcats need solid performances from the defense to accomplish the transition, Snyder said. Facing a different type of ballclub isn't the only change from last week's game to this week's - this time, the Cats know who the starting quarterback is.

'As we go into this game, Jason (Smargiasso) will go in as our No. 1 guy," Snyder said.

Smargiasso teamed up with wide receiver Gerald Benton on

■ See CATS Page 14

"We get people in here, try to keep them and make them feel special."

RUSTY WILSON

entertained

Local restaurateur strives to please his customers

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

Rusty Wilson, co-owner of Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon and Rusty's Outback, sits in the patio located in front of the Aggleville bar. Wilson, 29, has worked in bars since age 19.

Business is tough, but people make the difference

KIP BEASLEY

Fun. Entrepreneur. Good guy.

This is Rusty Wilson, co-owner of Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon and Rusty's

A trip to Last Chance alone suggests he's fun. A Santa Claus and reindeer streaming with garland sit atop the roof overlooking the front patio facing Moro Street. Two huge wooden doors open into the bar. An empty milk can connected to each door via a pulley rise and fall

Strings of beer pennants hang down, outlining the ceiling and rafters. Wooden booths, vandalized with creative carvings, line the walls, while dim lamps with beer logos hang down and illuminate the popular hangout.

Wearing a baseball cap, baggy jeans, a purple sweatshirt turned inside out that he wore the night before and bright red tennis shoes, he enters the room. He's short and stocky, reddishblond hair about shoulder length and stubble on

At age 29, he looks like an average college

"These are my bar shoes," Wilson said. "I got these after Marvin got a pair, and I teased him about it. I got a pair, and now we call them our bar shoes. Nobody makes red tennis shoes anymore. These are worn out and smell bad, but I won't make you smell them," he jokes.

His employees and patrons think highly of

"He's a good guy. He likes to be in people's lives and help them out. He likes to take care of you whether it be money, friends or whatever," said Jennifer Colbert, senior in human development and family studies and former waitress at Last Chance.

In the past, he's loaned employees money and a car to go to Kansas City. He even let three of them move into his house for nine months when they were having financial difficulty.

"I believe if you take care of someone, they'll take care of you," Wilson said.

His belief runs deeper than just to his

Terry Shoe, better known as Terry the Candleman, said Wilson looks out for him.

"He's taught me how to get used to the ways people joke and horseplay, if you're going to get to know them better and to trust them," Shoe said. "He was the first to give me the OK to sell candles in the bar when there was a lot of controversy over the matter.

"He's a nice guy by his actions, humor and self-esteem," Shoe said.

Wilson said he hopes patrons view him as a nice person who helps them have fun.

"We get people in here, try to keep them entertained and make them feel special," Wilson said. "I hope when they leave, they leave with a good taste in their mouth and will return again."

Part of this includes giving away prizes and T-shirts, he said, but unfortunately he can't give them to everybody.

"Bars don't make money by giving their product away. We may give away an item like a 25-cent hamburger and hope to make a return with a soda or a beer. But you can't make money giving away both," he said.

Wilson said he is responsible for the promotion of both bars. He comes up with most of the ideas and gets help from his partner and

"My motto is, 'There's no such thing as a dumb idea," "Wilson said.

His employees not only help with promotional ideas but also help create the fun atmosphere. Wilson said he wants his employees to have fun, or he doesn't want them there.

On the surface, it appears his gimmicks work. He's given away thousands of Last Chance Tshirts, fed thousands his 25-cent hamburgers and sold a whole lot of beer. On any given weekend, Last Chance may be crammed wall to wall with

But people get the wrong impression of what it's like to be in this business, Wilson said.

"It's one of the toughest businesses. People see that you are crowded and think you're having a good business. They don't see the problems with recent alcohol regulations, health codes, fire codes, etc.," Wilson said. "People don't realize what goes on behind the scenes and what it takes to keep these places running and successful."

Wilson said he must work 80-100 hours a week to keep Last Chance and the Outback going strong. He said it's important to his customers that he is there that many hours.

"People want to see the man in charge there.

■ See RUSTY Page 14

QB ends up at right place

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6 starting job before settling for the backup role.

Last week, the long wait was over for Smargiasso as he received his first chance to start. Playing a majority of the game, Smargiasso went 6-for-15 through the air for 203 yards and one touchdown. The converted linebacker showed his ability to run the ball. He gained 36 yards on the ground and found the end zone twice.

"I wasn't real happy with the offense as a whole or with the way that I played," Smargiasso said.

On Monday of this week, the

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

coaching staff informed Smargiasso he would get an opportunity to start against his home-state team.

"It felt good to hear you're the guy," he said.

Now, armed with the knowledge that he is the starter for Saturday, Smargiasso would like to show his home state that his time has come.

'All my friends call me from back home and say, 'You have the East Coast guys this week. You've got to do something for us back Smargiasso said he hopes to introduce the rest of Pennsylvania to K-State football.

537-2100

GREAT MEMORIES START

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION

HERE

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

On Stage

This Weekend

Eagle Ridge

Weekly Specials

Mon. 1150 wells Tues. 1/2 Price Bull Rides 130 wells

Wed. Free Dance lessons 7:30 p.m. 50e Draws 50¢ Tacos

> Silverado Saloon 531 N. Manhattan 539-0230

Thurs. 2 Bottles 2 Bucks

Boiled Shrimp Buffet starts at 5:00

$4.00 All you can eat with beverage purchase

18 to enter; 21 to drink

PRE-GAME PARTY FREE HOT DOGS AND NACHOS

> SAT. AFTER THE GAME DR. ZEUS

CLAFLIN & DENISON (DOWN UNDER) 776-1515

CELEBRATE THE

2ND KSU VICTORY

WITH AMERICA'S

FINEST

Draft Balls and 12 packs

ON SALE NOW

at participating retail stores

Budweiser // Bud Dry

Campbell Distributors

is a proud sponsor of Saturday's K-State

vs. Temple Game. *

Restaurant MAMBE er Lounge

GAME DAY BUFFET

Saturday, Sept. 26 and Oct. 3 11 a.m.-10 p.m. All You Can Eat—$6.95 per person

 Eggdrop Soup ·Egg Rolls

· Garlic Shrimp

Crispy Wontons

 Crab Rangoon Vegetable Delight  Sweet & Sour Shrimp, Chicken and Pork

 House Egg Food Yung Garlic Shrimp

·Curry Chicken

1304 Westloop

 Hot Braised Chicken Wings 539-0888

539-8888

Great Memories Start Here.

Kappa Sigma Sept. 25

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Portraits taken for...

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always!

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MENDAY MADNESS 2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

YOUR CHOICE:
ONE OF EACH!
PAN!PAN!" · PIZZAIPIZZAI*

ays only with coupon of participating Little Concern a evaluate of additional cost. "Excludes eving class Expires 10/25/92

YOUR CHOICE: ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND!

id only with coupon at ating Little Caesars. Extra available at additional cost xcludes extra cheese.

Chille Charma

ENTERTAINMENT

PURPLE MASQUE THEATRE

adies' not entirely sharp

TONYA FOSTER Collegian

The atmosphere was probably the brightest spot in "The Ladies of Sharp End."

The play features modern renditions of the characters in "Little Women," by Louis May Alcott. The setting has been shifted to the early 1970s, and the plot REVIEW :

covers drugs, abortion, suicide and Vietnam.

The sisters, Meg, Beth, Jo and Amy, are roommates in this story.

In the last three scenes, the audience is bombarded with all of the problems — a pressure cooker just explodes.

Carrie Gilhousen did a fine job as Jo, the diplomat and future lawyer. Her communication skills break down when she is torn between the loyalty of her roommates and the law, which shows that she is only human. The character Amy (Crystal Goering) serves well as the catalyst. continues through Saturday at 8 She speeds up the changing process in the lives of her roommates. "The Ladies of Sharp End" p.m. in the Purple Masque Theatre.

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

Jo (center front) argues with Meg (left) that it is illegal and wrong for Amy (right) to get an abortion in "The Ladies of Sharp End."

LIVE MUSIC CALENDAR

FRIDAY, SEPT. 25

THE SIZE- Brothers Tavern 10 p.m.

$1 cover

EAGLE RIDGE- Silverado Saloon 9:30 p.m. $2 over 21, $5 under 21

SALTY IGUANAS- Boulevards 11th St. Bar & Grill

SATURDAY, SEPT. 26

DR. ZEUS W/ PUKE WEASEL-Charlie's Neighborhood Bar 9:30 p.m.

$3 cover EAGLE RIDGE-Silverado Saloon 9:30 p.m.

$2 over 21, $5 under 21

SALTY IGUANAS- Boulevards 11th St. Bar & Grill

'Far and Away' has Irish flair

ANDY WOODWARD

Collegian

Many people with barely a drop of Irish blood in their veins still claim to be Irish. So says Ron Howard, director of "Far and Away."

That's why Howard calls this a movie about Americans rather than Irish immigrants. "Far and Away" is the story of Irish peasant Joseph Connely (Tom Cruise) seeking to avenge the death of his father, who died accidentally at the hands of rich landowner Daniel Christie.

Christie's daughter, Shannon (Nicole Kidman), wants to go to America. The two are platonically paired in an odd set of circumstances.

"Far and Away" is a sweeping vision of Irish immigrant life in the

See FILM Page 14

Demand to hear musical variety

MIKE LANE television where you can actually participate in an onslaught of your perceptive organs instead of sitting on the couch and banging your head.

A good band in close quarters is the most intense rush you can find. It picks you up, gets you high and carries you away. It's highly addictive, but if you're a music junkie in Manhattan, it can be difficult to get your fix.

In the past few years, the music scene here has developed from nothing to some occasional, yet uncommonly good, shows at Bramlage and local establishments are keeping our fledgling music scene alive, but unless things change, it could die as quickly as it emerged.

It would be great to see more local and big label bands more often. Recently groups like Public Enemy, the Samples, and Pearl Jam played in Live music is the real music Lawrence and Lincoln, Neb. If music groups are willing to play at other universities in our immediate proximity, why not at K-State? Personally, I enjoy a good road trip, but it gets tedious after a while. I would much prefer going to one of my favorite bars to groove with the band of my choice.

Until now, K-State has been a progressive University in every aspect except for musical entertainment. Aside from McCain, which hosts an impressive program of performers in the classical and more conservative circles, local talent. Events like OPUS, live there has been virtually no contemporary showings.

Now musical shows are springing up with dedicated small groups of fans attending the all too few performances by local bands such as Roach Factory, Truck Stop Love, as well as groups from Lawrence and Kansas City. But the Manhattan music scene remains stunted, because audiences are small. There isn't enough concert attendance at live shows to stimulate growth or even maintain the unsteady foothold that has been gained in recent years.

To enjoy an enhanced music scene, we have to first attend the concerts we are dealt and second, demand more. Not everyone has the same tastes. If musical styles being played don't appeal to you, speak out and let concert promoters know what you want.

It will be a fine day in Manhattan when rock, rap, country, and jazz bands play on a regular basis, but you - the consumer — have to act. Club owners will not keep hiring bands if they cannot at least break even, because like everything else, the music industry is a business. Low attendance will not encourage the people who bring us live shows to continue.

The demand is there, we just have to

DANZA AZTECA DE ANAHUAC

A "Music of the Americas" production of the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival

Sunday, September 27, 3 p.m.

Witness a fire dance performed on glowing coals and the fascinating ceremonial dances of the Azteca, Mayas, and Toltecs. Danza Azteca reveals the heritage of these remarkable cultures in dances honoring Mother Earth, Father Sun, and the Plumed Serpent. Drums, rattles, rasps, and whistles provide authentic accompaniment.

Tickets now on sale at the McCain box office. Call (913) 532-6428 between noon and 5 p.m. week-

Public/faculty: $14 Senior citizen: $12 Student/child: $7 days and charge your tickets to MasterCard or VISA. Box office opens at 1 p.m. day of performance. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, and ITR (Fort Riley).

McCain Auditorium

Transportation available for senior citizens through Kansas State Bank. For information and reservations, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency. Additional support by the Friends of McCain and the K-State Fine Arts fee.

ENGINEERING & COMPUTER SCIENCE

INDUSTRY RECOGNITION BANQUET

9th Annual Industry Recognition Banquet Monday, Sept. 28 at the Manhattan Holidome Dinner: 7:30 p.m. Reception: 6:30 p.m.

Sign up in Durland 144. Student cost: $7 For more information, call 532-5949.

DEADLINE: NOON, FRIDAY, SEPT. 25.

CORPORATE CAREER FAIR TUESDAY, SEPT. 29

K-STATE UNION BALLROOM

9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

GREAT

PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

MEMORIES START HERE

Attention, Wildcat Fans!!

Enjoy smooth, creamy Frozen Yogurt at a 25% discount when you wear purple on game day!

Cheer the cats on to victory against Temple!

Offer limited to small, medium and large cones or cups. Special applies to home football games. All toppings and waffle cones are regular price.

The Taste That's Won The World Over.

Nautilus Towers in Aggleville Phone: 537-1616 Noon to 11 p.m. On Sundays

OPEN: 11 a.m.-11 p.m. Daily

WAREHAM OPERA HOUSE • 410 POYNTZ

HARRY'S UPTOWN SUPPER CLUB

Sunday Matinees are "Clean Air" performances

Students exchange ideas in Atlanta

Seminar topics include diversity, student recruitment

JULIE WHITE

Collegian

K-State was represented by 17 students and three advisers at the Student Alumni Association/Student Foundation

National Network Convention, Sept. 10-13 at Georgia Tech

University in Atlanta.

Ten members of the Student Alumni Board and seven members of the Student Foundation attended seminars and workshops to help increase their effectiveness as campus leaders, said Brad Beets, director of alumni clubs and Student Alumni Board adviser.

There was a wide range of seminar topics, from organization membership selection, to diversity, to student recruitment, Beets said.

The seminars were presented by students from universities across the nation and were an exchange of ideas, he said.

About 1,000 college students representing U.S. universities attended, Beets said.

"I think the group left feeling better about their organization and the way they're representing K-State," Beets said.

Student Alumni Board came away from the convention wanting to start promoting the Alumni Association to students, so they will be educated about it when they leave school, Beets said. As a result, they will be more willing to participate in alumni programs.

The students paid their own way to attend the convention. The Student Foundation members also received some financial aid from the KSU Foundation.

Jon Hixson, Student Alumni Board president, said the convention offered information on a student-to-student basis. He said K-State's group left the convention feeling good about what it does.

"I'd say we're a really strong group, because we're selective and have members who are really interested in what they're doing, Hixson said. "We got a lot of new ideas on what we can do as far as our programs dealing with alumni

Student Alumni Board is made up of 28 student leaders. They recruit students by presenting eight college nights across Kansas. The group also helps organize alumni events and the senior send-off.

Student Foundation is made up of appointed students who help with campus and communityservice projects.

8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday

539-KICK 2315 Tuttle Creek

desks · chairs · computer furniture • portfolios • brief cases • organizers • desk

Bill won't channel costs to viewers right away

Collegian

Local cable rates will not immediately decrease as a result of Congress passing a cable regulation

President Bush has promised to veto the bill that has passed both the House and Senate.

Randy Bang, vice president of operations for TCI of Kansas, said the price regulation does not differ much from regulations already in Manhattan.

"We are rate-regulated now through the Cable Act of 1984. We are allowed to take a 5-percent increase in basic rates every year without permission from local franchisers," Bang said.

He said the original intent of the bill was to regulate price and curb

"I don't feel we have poor service in any TCI-served area, " Bang said. "We have little problem with that aspect of the new bill."

He said the cable industry had problems with some other aspects of the bill that may actually increase the cost of cable service.

Bang said the bill contains a "must-carry" provision that states a cable company must broadcast local stations or pay them a rebroadcast fee.

Jim McLean, press secretary for U.S. Rep. Jim Slattery, D-Kan., said most local stations would not wish to negotiate for a fee because a breakdown in negotiations could result in the company dropping the "Most will be satisfied with must-carry," McLean said.

"Things should remain essentially the same, and local consumers will be ensured of access to local information.'

Bang was also concerned about a "buy-through" provision in the bill which would allow consumers to subscribe only to the channels they wanted.

The problem the cable industry has with that is having to purchase new equipment and have it be obsolete in just a short time," Bang

"The bill, in the long run, will cost our customers," he said.

Since deregulation in 1987 cable rates have gone up 50 percent, or at a rate three times faster than inflation, McLean said.

"For the last couple of years, members of Congress have received literally thousands of complaints from across the country about the rapid increase," he said. "Those complaints are what generated interest in regulatory legislation."

Bang said on a cost-per-channel basis cable rates have actually gone up very little.

Slattery, who worked on the committee in which the bill originated, amended the bill to help small cable companies. The amendment called for less rigorous requirements for companies of 1,000 subscribers or fewer.

That means more than 400 Kansas cable systems will be spared much of the government paperwork.

Though Bush has promised a veto, McLean said Slattery was on the House floor Thursday morning to urge the president to reconsider.

"He plans to veto it because the cable industry wants him to. He's locked in with them philosophically for some reason," McLean

He said he was critical of an anti-bill advertising campaign supported by the cable companies that said the bill would increase "The cable companies are guilty of scare tactics," McLean said. "This is a consumer-protection bill that's needed to slow the increase in cable rates. That's the bottom line, as far as Congressman Slattery is concerned."

CAMPUS

Women learn how to prevent attacks

KRISTI STEPHENSON

Women need to protect themselves.

This is what drives David Portnoy, president of Women's Rights Group, which conducts selfdefense seminars for college

The group began five years ago when Portnoy's sister was raped on the campus of the University of Missouri, Columbia.

"Our goal is to talk to 5,000 college women before her rapisf gets out (of jail) in 1995," Portnoy

The seminar includes rape statistics in the United States and on college campuses. It teaches women how to protect themselves with holds, pressure-point body techniques and weapons. Portnoy, a black belt in karate, also teaches a one-day self-defense class.

Women have a one-in-three chance they will be victims of violent assault on a college campus, he said. There is a one-in-two chance of a woman being raped by an acquaintance or sexually assaulted on campus.

"After I'm done talking, I feel

First

International

good, and my sister feels good, because we know we've helped people," he said.

Cindy Carpenter, senior in elementary education, attended Portnoy's seminar when he spoke to the Pi Beta Phi sorority Sept. 9.

'It made me really aware of what I need to do to protect myself. I wanted to practice the techniques I learned with my friends," she said.

Students and

Military with I.D.

$4.50

ELLIS MARSALIS AND MARCUS ROBERTS

Duo and Solo Presentations

Friday, September 25, 8 p.m.

Two jazz stars take center stage for an evening of improvisation inspired by greats like Ellington, Monk, and Jelly Roll Morton. Following a six-year stint with Wynton Marsalis, Marcus Roberts struck out on his own to win rave reviews and record three charttopping albums. Ellis Marsalis, New Orleans' patriarch of jazz, has nurtured an entire generation of jazz players - including Harry Connick, Jr., and sons Wynton and Branford -- and is recognized as a master whose music cuts straight to the heart.

Public/faculty: $15

Senior citizen: $13

McCain Auditorium Tickets are now on sale at the McCain box office. Call (913) 532-6428 between noon and 5 p.m. weekdays and charge your tickets to MasterCard or VISA. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, Bramlage Coliseum, and ITR (Fort Riley).

Transportation for senior citizens is available through Kansas State Bank. For information and reservations, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency. This performance is supported by the Jeanne Wells Durkee fund Additional support has been provided by the Friends of McCain and the K-State Fine Arts fee.

Carol

Donuts

Now Under New Ownership

Lee

6 a.m.-7 p.m. 7 Days A Week

Wildcat Weekend Special

FRI., SAT., & SUN. SEPT. 25, 26, 27

Wildcat Specials

2 Dozen Donuts for $4.99 (reg. $5.98)

1/2 Sandwich & Soup for $2.99 (reg. $3.35) Sandwich includes choice of meat, cheese, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles, mayonnaise, honey mustard on white or wheat roll, baked fresh daily.

Donuts & Rolls 1/2 Price After 4 p.m.

800 Claffin in FirstBank Center

of Manhattan

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste treat that won't bust your wallets:

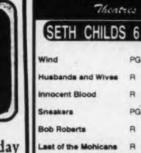

- Homefried Potatoes
- Pancakes
- Escalloped Apples Grilled Ham Steak

All You Can Eat For Only $4.95

omelets or skillet breakfasts

2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

- Homemade Buttermilk Biscuits Creamed Chipped Beef
- Bisquit Gravy
- French Toast
- Bacon/Sausage
- Scrambled Eggs

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet

537-8440

Holiday Inn-Holidome

Lambda Chi Alpha Sept. 25

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

TRI-DELTA JAIL-N-BAIL

September 25, 1992 Last Chance 4 p.m.

WANNED

Paige Weiman, AXΩ Danielle Alexander, AEA Mary Stuart, ΓΦΒ Jaque Smith, KA Becky Delhotal, ΠΒΦ Chris Atancil, Acacia Mark Epp, AFP Darren Siebert, AKA

Jason Goertzen, ATΩ Jeff Leiteig, BΘΠ Joe Cottam, ΔΣΦ Todd Chyba, AY Chris Kalberg, ΦΓΔ Brian Larson, KΣ Lee Handke, AXA Jeff Bahr, ΦΔΘ

Brent Cooke, ФКТ David Riley, ΦΚΘ Jeff Jensen, ΠΚΑ Trent Wanamaker, ΣΑΕ Kurt Olson, ΣX Jaime Brown, ΣΦΕ Chad Benoit, TKE

Positions on abortion defended

Presidential candidates move from family values to stances on abortion bans

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - George Bush and Dan Quayle support an abortion ban — but now, it seems, with some loopholes. Bill Clinton and Al Gore stress abortion rights, but maybe with restrictions.

Republicans and the Democrats, coming from very different basic positions, are aiming their appeals at similar voters -- those who have mixed feelings.

"For us, it is suburban, welleducated, prosperous women who are not happy with the pro-life portion of the Republican Party," said a top GOP official. "For the Democrats, it is the Catholic or Southern conservatives who ... disagree with the party's absolute pro-choice position."

The Republican convention party platform called for a ban on abortion in the form of an amendment to the Constitution. The Democrats supported a national law guaranteeing a woman's right to Those documents made the choice very clear. Perhaps too stark for many people's tastes.

Bush, Quayle and Barbara Bush all made television appearances distancing themselves from the platform's hard line, pro-life

In an interview on NBC television last month, President Bush was asked what he would do if his granddaughter came to him, said she was pregnant and wanted

"I'd stand by her," the president

So, he was asked, the choice would be hers? "Well, who else's could it be?"

he responded. Some of the president's campaign literature now says he favors reasonable restrictions on Quayle said Wednesday that abortion isn't an issue with Americans.

A day later, Marilyn Quayle, the wife of the vice president and a vehement opponent to abortion, said she didn't believe in a universal ban. Pregnancy from incest was one case where abortion might be acceptable, she said.

David Beckwith, the vice president's spokesman, said the Quayles' position has always been to make exceptions for cases of rape, incest and danger to the life of the mother.

"The media is trying to make an inconsistency inconsistency where no inconsistency has occurred," he where said. "The platform is a human rights amendment, and that could be the mere repeal of Roe vs. Wade, which would put it back in the states and put it back in the political system." Clinton has embraced the position of pro-choice elements of his party, including codification of Roe vs. Wade, the Supreme Court decision that legalized abortion.

"We can be pro-family and prochoice," he said.

But Clinton's record suggests he is far from militant in his support for abortion rights, and the campaign seems happy to live with that duality.

New course boosts women in science

Students pursuing careers in traditionally male-dominated science fields can now take a new course in the College of Arts and

Topics in Women's Studies: Women in Science is a two-hour course that meets at 12:30 p.m. Wednesdays in Weber 121.

Sandra Coyner, associate professor of women's studies, started organizing the class last February with the help of faculty members from other colleges, biology instructor Dale Kennedy said. The course is taught by a staff of seven instructors.

Coyner is on leave from her position as director of women's

Every two weeks, from February through the summer, organizers met to coordinate topics and readings, Covner said.

The class addresses obstacles women face in science and technical fields, as well as strategies to overcome those problems. Other topics include women's experiences as scientists and science as a gendered profession.

"Women scientists go into the field because they want to, not because they have to," Dee Takemoto, associate professor in biochemistry, said during one class discussion.

Suzette Burckhard, graduate

■ See COURSE Page 14

The foundation of rape prevention is vigorous enforcement of the criminal law on rape.

That enforcement always waits upon the courage of a woman.

We are grateful to the K-State woman who most recently demonstrated that courage.

Sue Zechoche

Kristy Parker Judy Davis Ian B. Bautista Nancy Blaine Mathea Waldman Lou Williams Alina Fox Kristin Bayer Jamie Maes Jenny Daubert Julie Arnold Jennifer Bromert Jane M. Saxer Vanessa Punnett Katherine Norwood LaShawna L. Thomas Therese Schroer Kathy Ryan Melissa Divine Jeff Phillips Matt Wooton Rodney Baxter Angi Kimminau Phillip Henning Cary Stevens Wes Reveley Richard T. Sehl Michelle Ernzen Thurman Williams Kelly Schwarz Vincent Pruitt Kail Kaftan Doran Smolkin Ramona Vreeland Lauri Manlove Mordean Taylor-Archer Phyllis Wisneski Bill Dorsett Tonya Baker Carol S. Kilian Phil Anderson Jeff Kaufman Lynne A. Ross Jeff Bremson Susan Stone Susan Stanfield Tamara J. Hawk Linda Arthington Jill HOh Ginger Laughman Tamra Beck Corey Tuttle Gretchen Holden Andrew O'Neil Artyce Hedrick Phoebe Samelson Allison Wheatley Kenneth Conrow Enid Cocke Kim Pentico Melane A. Burger Wendy Dellinger Cayle Bennett Pam Beihl Stacy LaMaster

Kim O'Neill

Caroline Peine

Donna Duryee

Jonita L. Woodson

Leslie Smith Rebecca Carney Harriet Ottenheimer Kelly Stubblebine Nancy Twiss Nupur Chaudhuri Moriko Maeba Kimbre Morton Stephanie Scheibler Jennifer Robinson Sarah Feldman Caryn Coffee Camilla Forshay Tara L. Wolfe Rebecca Kaiser Melanie Brockington Sandy Barnett Angela McClure Judy Jones Susan Butterfield Daniel Ulitchny Ryan Carroll Brennan Kailani Kaneshiro Holly Pomeroy Jason Wollum Mickey Boudreaux Kate Kiernat Mike Lynch Rhonda K. Bathurst Debbie R. Williams Maria Martinez Michelle Ghiselli Jason R. Hamilton David Kromm, Jr. Anne Butler Teresa Kate Pennington Marlene Howell Penny Cullers Laura Callahan Karen Kats Callie Anderson Kate Anderson Nancy Goulden Audra Snow Dirk Shrimplin Norene Smith Janice Denning Kay Hommer Carrie O'Hara Kathleen Boland Kristina Eunbok Kim Mark Innes Barbara Meyers Michael O'Neil Angela E. Hubler John Exdell Florence E. Snyder Pat Kolonosky Lew Cocke Lu Ann Pearce Jana Adams Kim Blubaugh Melissa Arthur Jody Hall David Carlson

Scott Robertson

Thissa Duerksen

Sherry Sperman

Lisa Emigh

Elsa M. Diaz Julie Schneider Cassandra C. Nicholson Marion (Buddy) Gray Dee Takemoto Amy Tibbitts Gretchen Morgan Hilary Drews Lesley Wells Jeanette Johnson Mary Rock Carrick Williams Karen Ringle Evelyn West Doni Raggio Paige Johnson Max Divine Eunice Dorst Rachel Smit Amy Heffern Julie Schmid Jason Murray Bettina Gaitros Greg Odom Brian Franke Paul Bridges Judy Lynch Robert A. Raedeke Marcia A. Bertsch Vesse Given Brandi Berns James R. Hamilton Julia Eussen Douglas K. Benson Charlotte Olsen Elizabeth Vost Kathy Richstatter Melinda D.M. Young Lynda O'Hara Ruth Ball Chandra Ruthstrom Mau Schindler Bryndon Meinhardt Teryl Goeckel Brian Howard Cherri Harper Jamie Hill Jenine Reimer Carina Wardlaw Diana Caldwell Paula Davis Shirlyn Henry Brown Molly O'Neil Cia Verschelden Judy Exdell Lillian Kremer Eugene Kremer Ann Carter Amy Nowatzke Jeffrey Hunt Kim Jones Jim Coleman Marie Fatemi Lee Grimes Charlotte Doyle Michelle L. Shoff

Suzanne Miles

Brenda Hanger

Kay Garrett Carol Jauguet Susan Allen Diane McGrath Richard M. Brede Mary P. Gross Erin Hensley Sally Tarvestad Michelle Greene Tony Luckett Dawn Spivey Katey Schmidt Judy Deaton-Qualls Jacque E. Gibbons Karren Baird-Olson Tammy BeMent Cheryl R. Wilson Linda Dunaway hShawn M. Gordon Dawn Michelle McMullen Ashli Guild Stace Marshall Lonndon Seely Erik Jueneman Maurice Henry Anthony Williams Marcus D. Wright Noel Kane Cameron L. Prior David Linenberger Stan Cox Anne Cowan Susan Koelliker Donna Pruner Cyndy Trent Paul Weidhaas Paula Barrows-Hunt Linda K. Fleming-Allen Ame Reves Marible Landau Luke Kahlich Brooke Graber Jennyfer Alfonso Marci Maullar Melanie Staderman Susan Eich Nicki Sandate Julie Smith Christine Farr Diana Cobb Kris Neuhaus Sandy O'Neil Don Hedrick Dean Denner Bonnie Nelson Margaret Conrow Deborah Fedder David Margolies Holly A. Smith Annie Neil Rachael Wilkerson Marvin Colbert Katie Carnahan Cyd Mendenhall Ruth Robertson Angela Smith Mary Bocox

Dorinda J. Lambert

Heidy Reed Amani Skalacki Jennifer Postlethwait Katy Stevenson Shari Tomlin Jaime Jacobs Kerri Gitchell Julie Rasmussen Carrie Seetin Cara Bass Todd Rasmussen Janet Nicely Nicole Custer Amye Smith Jodie Story Danelle Schmidt Jenny Bocox Jenni Watson Heather D. Schlingen Ercilia A. Hernandez Kirk Hoeffner Jennifer R. Deluca Kevin C. Morton Ciudy Doperalski Jenny Farney Laura Howard Annie Dinkel Melissa Moessner Christie Johnson Kristen Johnson Katie Buyle Joanie Nass Melissa Hall Heather Scanlon Ashley Reynolds Julie Kerschen Becky Washington Beth Karczluski Jill Rensing Julie Hillman Ashley Fallin Christy Dudley Missy Brown ChrissyChangho Stephanie Sim Christy Suttle Jill Hayden Kelly Levi Melissa McGraw Jill DuBois Julie Kleysteuber Judy Thompson Darci Liston Kristin Sosna Renee Martin Janice Swickard Mindi Young Tamme Buckner Michele Burgett Whitney Myers Amy Urban Lesa M. Juenemann Jean Kacherle Kathy Rosenbaum Jennifer L. McGee Kathy Zarka Julie Kuhlman Meredith Davenport

COLLEGIAN NOCUS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1992

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

The Manhattan Scene

Some Manhattan skaters sit around and relax during an afternoon outside Kedzie Hall by sharing their thoughts on skateboarding.

Footwear is an essential; these boots have nails w sticking through them.

Skating against the system

kater punks. Punks. In Manhattan, it is a crime to ride a skateboard. It's illegal on campus, in Aggieville, downtown and on private property, unless someone gives permission to do so in a driveway.

Why?

Local participants in the sport and whenever they want anyway - think they know.

"People here are afraid of things they're not used to that's just the way Manhattan is," said Charlie Curran, a student at Manhattan High School.

Curran looks as if he should know, From his black boots garnished with nails to his mostly-shaven head, save a ring of spiked hair, he looks the part of a frightening, stereotypical skater punk.

The kind of guy who would spray paint "Skate or Die" on the Seth Childs Road overpass. The kind of guy who causes mothers to pull their young children closer as they pass him on the street. But looks are deceiving.

Curran, along with his five friends who have come to explain their cause, is surprisingly quiet. Quiet nearly to the point of being shy.

He talks about how people assume he is violent and disruptive, but he quickly adds: "I'm more passive than anyone I know. I mean, if someone killed my family, I wouldn't even touch him.'

The others are much the same. However, don't be too quick to nominate anyone in the group for Young Man of the Year.

There is, inevitably, a strong sense of rebellion, as would be who, by the way, skate wherever hoped for by guys who sport

Beeker, 18, of Manhattan, lights his cigarette while hanging out with other area skaters.

mohawks and tattoos in a year of "family values."

A question of whether skating would be as fun if it were legal brought a mixed response, but mainly a consensus of "no."

Kevin Kirchner, junior in sociology, said, "Probably not, but it would be easier."

He explained how it's hard to improve when police arrive after five minutes.

"If I wanted to run from cops, I could sell drugs," he said.

Matt Deberry, Manhattan High graduate, followed this comment with a story of recent pursuit. He was skating on campus when campus police officers spotted him.

As he fled campus, backups arrived. · "I had three campus cops, one security guard and two Riley County cops chasing me. I guess I was committing a big crime to have six cop cars chasing me," he said. "It seems to me like they don't have anything else better to do."

On the stairs by McCain Auditorium, the skaters strutted their stuff. Taking turns, they gained speed down a hill than ended in at least 10 steps.

Some made the jump. Most didn't. Everybody got hurt.

Another group of skaters was practicing later in the day behind K

> These guys didn't look much like skaters, except for long, baggy shorts and an occasional flannel shirt. They looked more like some guys from Seattle.

They also had partially shaved heads, but upon striking up conversation, it became clear that for three of them, their hairstyles were the result of orders. Direct orders, of the Fort Riley nature.

Sean Beaver, Mike Meyers and Buddy Forsyth are soldiers. Along with three of their friends from K-State, they took turns jumping over milk crates and cement parking stops.

They said they skate behind K mart because no one has bothered them — yet.

"We don't want to cause trouble. We just want to have an organized place to go skate," Beaver said. "Skateboarding is the ninth-largest participatory sport in the country. People underestimate how many skaters there are.

"It's not 1972 anymore - not everyone wants to go out and play tennis."

PHOTOS BY CARY CONOVER HEATHER ANDERSON

Kevin Kirchner, junior in sociology, inspects the damage to his hand after aborting an ollie.

Matt Moore, junior in anthropology, gets hung up on some crates behind K mart.

ESSENTIALS

THE STRIP

JIM'S JOURNAL

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CROSSWORD

39 Greek penultimate

41 Smaller skirts

47 On the

vive 48 Aconcagua is there vessel

53 Aplomb

54 One of 52 Coffee

men Prefer

Blondes"

ment, with author

18 Supple

"out"

19 Updike's

court

Writer

Greene

29 Rhodo-

31 Hotel

34 Race-

ment

tracks

"Rabbit

JIM DIKKERS

man walked in front of me and said, "Excuse me," and I stepped story magazine or something.

THAT IS REALLY HOT, GRINGO.

I looked at the section with hot red and wrestling magazines, too, just for fun.

aside so he could

35 Keglers' milieu BILL WATTERSON 37 Foot-high

20 Croquet head 22 D.C. VIP 58 Impresario 17 Albacore, Solution time: 25 mins. 27 Sanctions dendron's arrange-

Grade

for one baller's trouble

46 Prudent 48 Calendar

abbr.

call

49 Couronne

wearer

DOWN 21 Sets down 1 Boardwalk in writing enhancer 23 Wapner 2 Slezak of wields one "One Life 24 In the

to Live" manner of 25 Wet 3 Get more issues wiggler 4 Parapher- 26 Vegas nalia opener? 28 Crucial

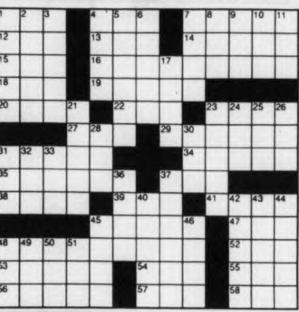

5 "Gunsmoke' 30 Menagerie 31 Opinion star 6 Some find 32 End for it hard to form or spat swallow 33 Sort 7 Cajole

Louisa's 8 Needing 36 Skewer girls 55 Ripen 37 Minibus medicine 9 Carnival 40 "Ghost-56 Finish the busters* 10 Bill's shampoo glop 42 Uniform in 57 Pinkerton partner 11 Chowder-Agency effect

43 Sudden rush 44 Brute force 45 Foot-

Yesterday's answer 9-25

EUGENE SHEFFER

ED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

TSPNHXKQXU'G

CRYPTOQUIP

PATSWA

WTTQ IDPIA 50 Card-table

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: NEW MOMS AND DADS KNOW THAT THE STORK IS THE BIRD WITH THE 51 Feminizing BIGGEST BILL.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: I equals C

DIMINO

by

Cassandra

Duveaux

International News with a local flavor

She isn't 'Cindy' and he isn't 'Mel'

I am very interested in a particular guy on my floor. We have lots in common: music, friends and hobbies. However, I'm not very attractive, and so he's not interested, even though I know he likes my personality and likes to spend time with me. Is there anything I can do to convince him he doesn't need a "Cindy Crawford" to be interested or happy'

L.N., K-State sophomore.

DEAR L.N.,

It sounds to me like you are already doing it. Now, tell him what you just told me. If he doesn't see the good thing he has in you and your relationship, then consider yourself lucky to have found out early. Chances are, if he has anything going for him, he will realize he probably isn't a "Mel Gibson" and will return your "interest" with roses.

I have a long-time friend of the same sex whom I have known since grade school. We are now roommates, sharing everything from towels to closet space.

Recently, I find myself becoming increasingly attracted to her physically. Often times while joking around, she touches me. nen she or I leave for a weekend, she kisses me on the cheek and hugs me.

I wonder if she feels the same. Does this mean I am lesbian? Should I tell my boyfriend? Sexually Confused

DEAR CONFUSED,

Many people, like you, go through a period in their life where they feel insecure or unsure about their sexuality and sexual orientation. This does not mean you are now different from what has felt "normal" or "natural" to you up to now. Most people realize their sexual orientation at or about puberty. If you were truly sexually orientated toward members of your own sex, I think you would already know it. In time, I think your attraction for her will subside. Some studies suggest that perhaps 25 percent of men and 15 percent of women have had some kind of homosexual experience, and most people have had occasional homosexual

However, I would not place the incidences you describe into either of these categories. It is much more natural for women to openly express feelings and emotions verbally and through physical contact such as touching, hugging and kissing. At this point, I believe you mistake deep affection between friends for sexual attraction. Do not tell your boyfriend yet. Nor should you ask your roommate about her feelings. You can't begin to handle their response if you are confused about your own feelings.

Should your physical attraction for her continue, I would advise seeking professional help. You are going to need it to help you adjust to your new sexual orientation, as well as to a world out there that has failed to come to grips with homosexuality.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence.

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word

(consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY

iffieds must be paid in advance u have an established account and Dublications ed. There is a $10 service charge eturned chacks.

We reserve the right to edit, reject or PROPERTY CLASSING AND HEADLINES

For en extra charge, we'll put a medime above your ad to catch the eader's attention.

DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

REE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge. CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published. CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

GET THE WORD OUT PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

K-STATE UNION

532-6555 532-7309 OR WRITE . Kedzie Hall 103 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

BULLETIN

BOARD

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

ADVANCED FLIGHT raining. Multi-engine, instrument, commercial, ATP, CFI ratings. Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after on Lance Daniels attending a University in Kansas. Please call Angel Palavsch at (314)329-3056.

SEEKING INFORMATION

UFM SCUBA Class. Learn from the best. Classes starting soon. Contact UFM 539-8763 for registration.

rads & Graduates. Over $5 Billion

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

CALCULATOR WITH initials GCF in Durland study lounge on Sept. 22. Claim in Durland

FOUND ON corner of Deni-son and Fairchild, small grey cat. Call 537-4362 FOUND SET of keys with Citibank tag in Durland 152. September 23. Identify in Durland 261.

FOUND SMALL tan female near campus call 537-

FOUND, A pet ferret on the corner of Tenth and Bertrand. Call 539-4513. FOUND: A Watch between

Kedzie and Fairchild, Thurs. (Sept. 24) morning about 9:30a.m. Identify and pick-up in Ked-

LOST GOLD chain with charm very sentimen-tal. Reward if found call 537-4417.

LOST: LARGE set of keys, Aggieville, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11:30p.m. 539-2017 leave mes-LOST: TWO pair earrings on card between park-ing lot across from stadium and Ahearn. Please call if found - 776-5626, leave mes-sage if not home. Thanks!

TEXTBOOKS FOUND in Fairchild 212 on Sept

21. Claim in Durland 261.

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

CONGRATULATIONS AND good luck to the new ADPi members from the FIJI Pledge Class.

ED, ED, how are you feeling after celebrat-ing so hard, was that you who was picked up from the front yard? But your birthday isn't until tomorrow. Have a happy one.

HAPPY BELATED Birthday BRIAN A., how could we forget someone as nice as you? Boo Hoo, Boo Hoo. Hope it was happy.

JRL I can't wait to see you.
I'll be there soon!
Happy 21st! Love always, Your Pookey! LOOK OUT JCCCI It's the attack of the killer Fo-rensics New- Bees. Speak good and don't choke. Da Doug

PENETRATORS-WITH the KATS as your coaches, we are going to KICKI

Good luck as we roll over our competition. PI PHI Dates: Hey all you groovy guys, are you ready for Sat. night?

It's Pi Phi flower power, we'll do it up right. We'll wear peace signs, tie dye, and bell bottom pants. We're hippies in love, we're ready to dance. Woodstock was rockin, and we will be too. We're ready for a good time, how about you? Love, the Pi Phi's. you? Love, the Pi Phi's.

SIGEP PLEDGES- Chi Omega/ Sigma Nu Pledge Games are almost here. Your Chi- O coaches are ready to cheer. Get your cute buns ready to run cause everyone

TRAVEL/

17

CHRISTMAS BREAK

STEAMBOAT

MESSAGES 2-0 - 1 & OR 7 MONTS - 4166

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

181 - 181 ESECUTION ST. 154 ESECUTION ST.

BRECKENRIPCE

DECEMBER 12-18 - 5 & OR 7 MONTS

JAMMAY 24 - 5 6 DR 7 MIGHTS 1-

JAMAN 14 - 1 5 08 7 80075 P

TIS AMBITUTE COLLEGUATE WINTER SEL STREAMS

1-800-321-5911

SAN JUAN Students
**Xmas Break** Airfare

round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call

TRIPS

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

knows SigEps will be Love your Chi Omega coaches, Susan, Amy, Heidi, Lori.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666. COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare

plexes and houses with evening and weekend meals for invalid landlady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie

494-8201 or 889-4495

FURNISHED ONE-BED ROOM apartment, lo-cated at 1024 Sunset #12. Available immediately. Close to cam-pus, with coin operated laundry facilities, central air/ heat $320 inpest control. Call for an appointment, 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially fur nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable Leave message at

1 1 OFF Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great price 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ $230 per person will for appointments 776–3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air. each 537-8800.

ONE BEDROOM basement, $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT available Park Place. Spacious and nice, pool, laundry facil-ities. Water paid. $325 plus deposit. 539-1167.

ONE-BEDROOM APARTMENT located at 1960 Hunting. Close to campus with coin operated laundry facilities and fireplace. $410 includes water and trash. For appointment call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities., $340. No

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bed room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surrent basement with

SPACIOUS ONE bedroom with own entrance near campus. $290/ month including utilities. Must rent immediately 539-

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. or

THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $375/ month. 776-8628.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT available of roommate wanted! tennis court, and wash er/ dryer facilities. 537

TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment, $300, bills paid. 539-8401.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539–3672.

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom for income close to city park and campus. Good neighborhood. $62,900. 800-593-0519.

FURNISHED OR unfur-nished mobile homes. Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539-4087.

1992 14X70 three-bedsell. 537-0678.

NEW, LOW price, #162 Co-lonial Gardens, 1988 Skyline 14x70, was $17,750, now $15,725 fantastic financing Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

FEMALE NEEDED to share room in two-bedroom apartment, $180 deposcable paid. Fun and trustworthy room-mates. Availability negotiable. 537-2334.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room. One block from campus/ Aggieville. Great roommates. Very nice apartment. Call apartment. 539-4316.

Pets. 776–3804. FEMALE, OWN room, $150 Available Oct. 1. Female, OWN room, $150 house, 539-7553 ask for Huk or Angie.

NON-SMOKER TO share two room house. $100 a month plus one-half

ROOMMATES WANTED; two available rooms in Brittnay Ridge. Al rooms furnished except bedrooms. Males or fe-males. 776–0589.

TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and information 776-3804.

TWO FEMALES seek third roommate (male or fe-male) for house. $150/ month, one-third of util-ities, own room. Close to campus. 776-4247.

150

SUBLEASE- TWO-BED-ROOM apartment at Park Place, pool, shuttle bus to campus, laundry facilities, water paid, $425 plus deposit. 537-

SERVICE DIRECTORY

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy

A B C typing service. You do studying et me do the typing. Reports. charts graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary. Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after 5p.m. ask

A QUALITY resume is vital in today's com-petitive job market. Contact the courteous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a decade 343 Colorado

ALL TYPING needs done expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537-0599.

KSU— SALINA students/ staff: Hire a profes-sional to type, edit and laser- print your resumes, papers and presentations. Fast. Accurate. 823-6931.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers/ editing; my ten years personnel manage for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537–2203.

GUITAR LESSONS- ex perienced teacher. All

WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Per form around state, evenings and wee kends. Good pay 776-4999, 537-1741

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

40 PEOPLE needed to lose weight and make mon-ey. 539-1252.

CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east nannies coast NY, Conn., Long Island, and NJ areas. Live-in one year commitments. $150 and up per week. Immediate placements. terviews

COLLEGAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

(800)858-2429 or (316)682-1735.

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill ull and part-time posi tions as delivery driv ers. Hardees supplies the vehicle to use. Pay plus 25 cents for each delivery you make. Only those 18 years and up need apply. No more than two moving violations in one year. No DUI's. Hardees is also hiring for all other shifts. Apply in person at Hardees in Aggieville.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (ASCP) or equivalent needed to fill full-time position and clinical ref erence laboratory. Microbiology experience required. Excellent benefits, competitive salary and no call back. Call Carol at 539-5363 or send resume to Box 128, Manhattan, KS 66502 Equal Opportunity Employer.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-(Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do basis of race, religion color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

OUTDOOR RENTAL/ Main tenance person want ed. Applications avail-able at Recreational Services office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday. Appli-cation deadline is Frication deadline day, October 2.

FACULTY AND Graduate unteer for a study of diet and physical activ ity. For more informa tion contact Jennifer

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454

$200- $500 weekly. Assemble products home. Easyl No selling. You're paid direct. Fully guaranteed. Free information—24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900. Copyright #KS13KDH

$252.50 Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4– 6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/ larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265.

ATTENTION FUNDRAISER for your organization. Sell 16 month Kansas State University sports calendar/ desk plotters on consignment. Call 800-967-4430 ask for Terry or Nancy week-days 8:30a.m.- 4:30p.m.

EXPANDING BUSINESS in Poland. Looking for people with contacts. Prefer Bilingual, but not necessary. Contact

MARKET 405 Wanted to Buy

OPEN

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans,

APPLE IIE, color monitor $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar $120. 776–0872.

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP: Broth Supplies, 715 N. 12, Ag-gieville, 539-1413.

FOR SALE one pair 5 1/2 D legual to 7 1/2 B- 8 B womens) kids black Justin Lace- up Ropers, $50. For sale one radar and KA bands two op-tional attachments. Al-most brand new $100 call 532-2209 anytime

GOOD USED carpet, blue 18'x11'- $30, used Montgomery Ward washer and dryer-$100 must sell! Call 537-2116

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets overcoats, new G. workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

GUITARS- STRATO-CASTOR, case/ amp.

NINTENDO- SIX games, power pad, gun and joysticks. Barely used, $90 or best offer. Call 539-3236 after 5p.m. or eave message.

NO COLD toes on the dorm-room floor. Used carpet. In great shape. Call 537-4667- leave message for appoint-

FURNITURE CLEARANCE center at Faith Furni-ture. Oak finish fivedrawer chest regular $129 only $88, sofa and chair regular $199 only $95, TV and stereo en tertainment unit requ lar $249 only $125, double dresser regular $299 only $145, king size mattress, box springs and frame only $150, twin set only $60 la-z-boy recliner regular $439 only $195. Faith Furniture, East High

WATERBED- KING size with a headboard-bookshelf. Call evenings after 8p.m. 776-9845.

way 24, next to Sirlon

20 Garage/Yard

GARAGE SALE Saturday only- 8a.m.- 2p.m. 3706 Plymouth Circle toys, clothes (mostly boys ages 8- 12), lots

HUGE GARAGE Sale! Over 60 families, plus citywide donations. Cub Scout Pack 284 will hold a garage sale Sat-urday, Sept. 26, 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pottorf Hall, CiCo Park, Manhattan. Clothes, furniture baked goods, and other miscellaneous items. All proceeds fund Cub Scout Pack activities camp fees, activity

HUGE GARAGE sale! Over 60 families, plus citywide donations. Cub Scout Pack 284 will hold a garage sale Sat. Sept. 26, 8a.m. to 2p.m. at Pottorf Hall, CiCo Park, Manhattan. Clothes, furniture, baked goods and other miscellanous items.

proceeds fund Cub Scout Pack activities, camp fees, activity

MINI BASEBALL Card Show, 10-4 on Sept. 27 at 1846 1/2 Hunting. 537-2616, 539-7611.

ANTIQUES- COLLECTI BLES Tuttle's Antique Market 2010 Tuttle Creek Boulevard 537 4884 daily 10a.m. 6p.m., Sunday 1p.m., 5p.m. closed Wednes day. Have fun!

POWERMATE 386SX with VGA color, 40 MEG HD RAM with six month warranty $800 or best offer. Portable Power! MicroTelesis (Lunchboxstyle) 386 with CGA gas plasma screen, one Meg HD, full size keyboard slots, $800 or best offer 537-3359 tar repair/ band instrument repair, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 539-5900.

IMAGEWRITER II printer for Macintosh computers. $175 or best offer. Call anytime 539-9463 leave message.

SAMMY HAMSTER brand

bils, mice. One large or two small sets. Call Diane at 776-8021.

TRANS-PORTATION

1980 HONDA Accord five speed, air conditioning, cassette stereo, sun roof. Runs great. 537-3917 or 1-492-8293.

1986 MAZDA RX-7 silver/ gray 93K miles, excel-lent condition, five-speed, AM/FM cassette, good tires, $3800 or best offer, 537-4272.

1988 CUTLASS Calais blue auto air, cruise quad four engine low mile-age excellent condition 539-2053.

1990 HONDA CRX, teal, new tires, 35K, 40 mile per gallon, $9000 or best offer. 776–5054 ask for Scott.

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

520 Bicycles

1991 IMPACT Pro mountain bike. Lots of extras, custom cosmic paint job. Great bike, great buy. Call 539-0816 in evenings.

TWO BIKES: Huffy and

Murray ten speeds. Cheap! Call Jon 776-

Black, 21,000 miles. Looks and runs great. New front tire. Make 4976

Kansas State Travel.

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

What do you do if you see a fire?

1. Call 911 2. Then call us offer. Must sell. 537-

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

How to become the ideal employee

Go all out. Use every resource. Give it your all. Whether your goals are in Business, Engineering, Accounting, Economics, Safety, Production, Human Resources or Food Science, you'll have every opportunity to become the "Ideal Employee" in your career with Ralston Purina's Grocery Products Group. As the fastest growing segment within our organization, we push ahead with new energy and enthusiasm to rise an already ou;tstanding level of performance evern higher.

We're coming to campus and would like to meet with students who share our commitment to unparalleled career satisfaction. Join us for the Ralston Purina Grocery Products Group:

> CAREER FAIR September 29 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Kansas State Union Ballroom

As part of a multi-national Furtune 100 company, we have the major league resources necessary to provide all the options and support you'll need to succeed. And, as an aggressive industry leader in consumer packages goods, we also have the innovative spirit and penchant for action and results that can move you up

If you would like to learn more about the opportunities at Ralston Purina, join us for our Career Fair.

Raiston Purina Company

Equal Opportunity Employer

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

010 Announcements

020 Lost and Found 030 Personals

040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More

110 For Rent — Apt. Unfurnished

REAL ESTATE 105 For Rent -Apt. Furnished

115 Rooms Available 120 For Rent - Houses

125 For Sale - Houses 130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

135 For Sale --Mobile Homes 140 For Rent - Garage

145 Roommate Wanted 150 Sublease

155 Stable/Pasture

160 Office Space

165 Land for Gale 20

DIRECTORY 205 Tutor

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing

220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care

240 Musicians/DJs 245 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair

235 Child Care

265 Other Services 300

310 Help Wanted 320 Volunteers Neede

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

405 Wanted to Buy 410. Items for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Sell

420 Garage/Yard Sales

425 Auction 430 Antiques 435 Computers

450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipmen

440 Food Specials

445 Music Instruments

460 Stereo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

500 TRANS-PORTATION 510 Automobiles

> 520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles

540 Car Pool

TRAVEL TRIPS

610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets

530 Train Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

range. WE DO NOT USE PHONE

Consider including the price.

looking at something in their price

This tells buyers if they are

NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

WSU puts emphasis on undergrads in new role

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

The music department will combine the seven degrees of music into a bachelor of arts, bachelor of music and master of music. McDougall said this was the department's decision.

They feel they can improve in quality by making degree paths simpler to students," McDougall said. "After their evaluations, the faculty and dean decided we don't need those degree options. It is confusing and fragmentive to students.

The WSU program review process was similar to K-State's in that faculty members were consulted first about changes. Their ideas were sent to the deans of their colleges and finally to the provost.

One program to be cut completely is gerontology, and the Gerontology Center, a research facility, will be closed. The faculty was not pleased, but neither were they surprised, Gerontology Department Chairman Stephen Gladhart said.

"When the program went through regents review five years ago, it was pointed out at the time we were borderline," Gladhart said. "We needed improvements and to graduate more students. The department was giving a warning to graduate more students.

"We increased the number of credit hours and the number of students taking classes, but not enough graduates.

The increased credit hours needed to graduate and increased student participation were good for the university, Gladhart said.

"We're not pleased at all it's happening. We feel gerontology is a good match with the other programs," Gladhart said.

The Gerontology Center is not much of a loss, Gladhart said.

"It has not been active in two or three years," he said. "By phasing out, we're not losing it immediately, and we don't have any grants coming through right now and no special projects at this

Fort Hays State University is considering adding a bachelor's program in gerontology.

Protests stir memories of past try at reoganization

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

Architecture and Design dealt with lost confidence and a 30-percent drop in enrollment resulting from students transferring out or changing majors.

Again, a restructuring of programs has been proposed, as the Kansas Board of Regents has mandated all six state institutions review programs to reduce duplication within and among universities.

This time at K-State, the Arts and Sciences College Core Committee recommendations pathology and audiology, and social work programs. It also has recommended emphasizing several programs, including women's studies and American ethnic

Once again, students have shown their concern by holding signs and handing out pamphlets in front of Seaton Hall. They have also raised questions and their voices in meetings with Wefald and Peter Nicholls, dean of the college of arts and sciences.

Cats to play improved team

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

a 69-yard touchdown strike against Montana and gained 36 yards rushing on 13 carries, two of them good for touchdowns.

"He made good decisions as to when to put the ball down and get out of there with it," Snyder said.

The resurgence of running back Eric Gallon keyed the offense a week ago. Gallon gained 87 yards, and Snyder said that Gallon will play again this weekend.

"I was as pleased with Eric's performance on Sunday as I was on Saturday," Snyder said, referring to Gallon's health the day after his return to the field. "Eric took some real shots to the knee and came out absolutely fine.'

And Gallon, who ran the ball 22 times against the Grizzlies, said he knows his knee will take some blows against Temple.

"They're a good team, and they're physical," he said. "They will come at you. They come off the ball hard."

Film has Irish flair CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

will take an unexpected turn, keeping you healthy and alert.

While in Boston, Connely must depend on boxing to earn money for his trip to the Great Plains. All of the boxing scenes are expertly choreographed. Since all of the fighting was bare-fisted, many of the punches had to land for the sake of realism.

The shots of turn-of-the-century America and the green, plush Irish seaside are worth seeing, and the performances and the authenticity make this an enjoyable movie.

Westloop Shopping Center Near Hunam's Restaurant 776-6864

$1.00 Off

any Typewriter/ Printer Ribbon include de-emphasizing the speech

The Owls, 1-2, are coming off of a 26-7 loss to Virginia Tech. The team's only win was a season-

opening victory over Boston University. The Owls have also been shut out by Penn State, 49-0. But Snyder said that, despite the scores, the Temple squad is a tough

"Temple is a hard-nosed, very aggressive, eastern-style football team, he said. They strap it on, line up, play hard and play physical. They've got some talent and are a very sound football team."

A K-State victory would do more than extend the Cats' winning streak. It would also give them an 11-game home winning streak against non-ranked teams and give them their third straight 2-0 start.

That victory, Snyder said, won't necessarily come easily.

"They're a straightforward physical team," he said. "There is going to be bodies flying around."

Kickoff is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at KSU Stadium.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7 People want to see you there enjoying the atmosphere with Outback. them," Wilson said.

Rusty calls himself lucky

Wilson said he's been in the business long enough to get a feel for what the customer wants.

He got into the business at age 19 when he went to work at a Manhattan bar known as Mr. K's as a fry cook. He was eventually promoted to manager. Later, he was manager of Kites's Bar and Grille for five years.

He purchased Last Chance in May 1989 from Terry Ray and changed the name to Rusty's Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon.

"I saw a lot of potential over here when it came up for sale," he said.

The idea of Rusty's Outback came one day when he was wandering around the two vacant buildings behind Last Chance and had a vision. His vision was to give Last Chance patrons an alternative that was a little nicer and quieter. So, in September 1989, he and his partner purchased the two buildings and converted them into Rusty's

"He's impressive," said A.J. Ahlstedt, co-owner of Kite's. "I think anybody who owns a business at that age is an entrepreneur. He understands how to present a service so people want to come back. He relates well with people and wants people to come back and see him.'

Wilson attributes his success to luck.

"I'm probably just lucky. I don't consider myself a genius. I just consider myself as a hard worker and a smart worker," Wilson said.

Besides being a night person and not liking to get up early, Wilson likes the people best.

"I like the people that work here and the customers, because they are like me. Here, you don't have to wear a tie or suit. You can come in here wearing jeans, a baseball cap and red tennis shoes and fit in fine. Wilson said.

the previous week's topic and the assigned readings," Kennedy said.

the class leader for the topic."

to engineering, Kennedy said.

welcome, he said.

They are graded by the mentor and

The age of the class members

No men are enrolled in the

WE TAKE TIPS!

532-6556

OLLEGIAN

ranges from 19 to 48, and majors range from biology to horticulture course, but they are always

Course boosts women in science

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 10 student in chemical engineering, explained during class how she uses Property of Engineering Materials

non-gendered examples in the Lab she teaches instead of the typical male-oriented examples, such as engine parts.

"Each student is assigned a mentor, and they must turn in a journal entry each week discussing adviser McFarlane's May 1986 trip to Tehran. During the trip, hostage negotiations with Iran temporarily collapsed over McFarlane's insistence that all U.S. hostages held in Lebanon be released at once rather than one at a time.

Bush relayed Israeli proposal, Secord says CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Israeli officials working on the hostage problem with the Reagan White House favored so-called sequential trades - an arms delivery for each hostage release.

Secord made the comments in connection with his new book, 'Honored and Betrayed," which asserts that after Bush relayed the Israeli proposal to President Reagan, the all-or-nothing policy was dumped in favor of sequential

Reg. $17.99 DRIVING CAP or Women's Leather

Reg. $16.99

FLAP PURSES MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR

Three doors up the alley from Downtown Burger King 776-1193

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Second Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM

PART III: Pillars of Islam

Presented by Hisham Hidmi President of MCA

Tuesday, September 29, 7:30-8:30 p.m. K-State Union, Big 8 Room

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"You can't send them to market, then, until the medication has worn off, and the disease is cured."

Janice Swanson, assistant professor of animal sciences and industry, said dehorning cattle is another process that helps ensure the animals' health and safety.

"Cattle are a socially oriented group of living animals," Swanson said. "Because they're in groups, they have hierarchies of power.

'Horns are very effective weapons, so it is at their best interest that everything is equal, especially since some cattle are naturally polled, or don't have any horns.

Drake said the pain involved in dehorning has been nearly eliminated by technology. He said one process includes applying a cream to kill the horn cells, which is done at an early age, before the homs can grow. The other process, Drake said, is to clip the sharp point off instead of removing the entire horn.

Betty Townsend, chairwoman of Welfare and Cruelty Investigation of the Riley County Humane Society, said she is confident that Kansas cattle are well-cared for.

"Not much is reported about cattle," Townsend said. "Mostly what we hear is just a matter of neglect, like not treating pinkeye or Care helps maximize beef return not having salt blocks available. We have had only one case involved with general nutrition." Townsend said farmers are more likely to help each other with their problems than to report problems on each other. This mutual concern has cut down on the number of Drake said he agreed with Townsend that care is good, but the traditional technique of branding will soon be obsolete.

"The only permanent and legal means of identification that is being used is branding," he said. "You can use ear tags, but if it falls off, you have no way of saying, 'That animal is mine.

Drake said the industry is working electronic identification.

He said ownership will soon be determined by putting a small, machine-readable pellet under the cattle's skin.

Not only will this process reduce pain to the animals, Drake said, but will allow the animal's hide to be sold for leather.

"We know, as an industry, that the hide of a branded animal can't be used for leather," Drake said. We have been trying to get away from branding, but until now couldn't get a better way. I would say that this system will be commonly used within two years."

Scandal leads to dismissal of 3 admirals CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Duvall M. Williams, the one-star commander of the Naval Investigative Service, which handles criminal inquiries, will be replaced with a senior civilian. Rear Adm. John Gordon, the Navy's two-star judge advocate general and its chief legal officer, will also be replaced. Rear Adm. George Washington Davis, the navy's inspector general, will be reassigned after the Senate confirms his replacement.

ST. LUKE

LUTHERAN CHURCH

(LCMS)

Lutheran Student Fellowship

(LSF)

Campus Pastor.

Rev. Robert Schaedel

Sun. 8 and 10:45 a.m.

Sat. Worship 6 p.m.

Bible Class Sunday 9:30 a.m.

330 N. Sunset Ave.....539-2604

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

CHURCH

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m.

Church School 9:30 a.m.

Pastor

Rev. Warren Rutledge

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m.

Sunday School 9:40 a.m. (for all ages)

FIRST LUTHERAN

CHURCH

LIVING WORD

CHURCH

·Weekday Programs for Youth

801 Leavenworth

Nursery Available

10th & Poyntz

537-0518

537-853

Church Directory

Service & Sunday School 10:45 a.m.

mindedness about religious belief. For more information call 539-9369 or 537-9816.
481 Zeandale Rd. (Hwy. 18)
Second left off Hwy. 177 S. of viaduct.
Everyone Welcome

GRACE BAPTIST CHURCH

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45 Collegiate Bible Study & International Bible Study Sun. 9:30 a.m. Sunday Evening Fellowship or Caring Cells 6 p.m. Family Night Wed. 7 p.m. Students Welcome!

2901 Dickens

776-0424 Evangelical Free Church of Manhattan

MCC Chapel S.W. corner 14th & Anderson Steve Ratliff, Pastor Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 11 a.m. 776-2086

Nursery Provided Church of Christ Canpus Ministry. Bible Study 9:30 a.m.

Sunday Worship 10:30 a.m. Evening Service 6 p.m. 2510 Dickens Ave. 539-6581

Worship 10 a.m. Sunday School 9 a.m.

Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m. 1st, 3rd, & 5th Sundays CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m. 2nd & 4th Sundays 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173

Manhattan Mennonite Fellowship

539-4079 Harris H. Waltner, Pastor Church School 8:30 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m.

St. Isidore's

Catholic Student Center Masses: Sat. 5 p.m. Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m. Chaplain: Father Keith Weber

Craig Sommer, Campus Pastor 539-4451 SUNDAY WORSHIP

11 a.m. Danforth Chapel

(on campus behind McCain Aud.)

STUDENT SUPPER & FELLOWSHIP Wednesdays 6 p.m. at ECM

First Congregational Church Poyntz and Juliette 537-7006

Sunday School: 9:30 Worship: 10:45

Rev. Donald Longbottom

Manhattan Seventh-day Adventist Church

Sabbath School 9:30 a.m. Sat. Worship Service

11 a.m. Sat. 600 Laramie 776-5533 (at 6th St.)

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN 2800 Claflin

9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Sun. Eve. Service Handicapped Accessible

8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship

776-5440

CRESTVIEW CHRISTIAN CHURCH

English Worship 10:30 a.m./6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 1 p.m. 4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

776-3798

MEETING

Visitors welcome Silent Worship 10 a.m. Discussion 11 a.m. 1801 Anderson Ave. (Baptist Christian Center) For more information

call 539-2978 or 539-2636

1 mile south on Hwy. 177 776-0940 Christian Science Church

Services Sunday 10 a.m.

Wednesday 7 p.m.

511 Westview Drive 10 a.m. Morning Service 10 a.m. Sunday School Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Testimony Meeting Reading Room-105 N. 4th EVERYONE W$LCOME Mon. Noon-2; Tues., Thurs. 11-1;

Wed., Fri. 1-3 776-9146

The Episcopal Church Welcomes You. Saint Paul's Episcopal Church and Saint Francis Episcopal Fellowship at KSU (Worldwide Anglican Communion) Sixth & Poyntz

776-9427 - Sunday Services -8 a.m. Holy Eucharist Rite I 9:30 a.m. Christian Education Classes

(for all ages) 10:30 a.m. Choral Eucharist Rite II (Nursery available at 10:30 service) Tuesday Services -10 p.m. Informal Holy Eucharist KSU Danforth Chapel

- Wednesday Services -12:15 p.m. Holy Eucharist

SECOND TIME'S A CHARM

SEPTEMBER 28, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 25

Kansas likes Bill Clinton

poll of Kansas voters shows Democratic nominee Bill Clinton ahead of President Bush by 1 percentage point. The margin of error is plus or minus

4.4 points.

30

0

5 1

2=

00

Poll shows Democrat in slim lead over Bush

ASSOCIATED PRESS

TOPEKA - The first Kansas poll of the fall presidential campaign showed that Democrat Bill Clinton has a one-point lead over President

At the same time, Republican Sen. Bob Dole and four other congressional incumbents enjoy comfortable leads over their challengers.

The poll, sponsored by the Topeka Capital-Journal and conducted by Central Research Corp. of Topeka, showed 38 percent of those surveyed favored Clinton, and 37 percent favored Bush.

The company, which has conducted the Kansas poll for two decades, said the poll has a margin of error of plus or minus 4.4 points.

The company conducted the poll by calling 500 randomly and scientifically selected eligible voters - 125 in each of the four congressional districts - Sept. 20-23.

Another Kansas poll will be taken in late

Still-undeclared independent candidate Ross Perot, who will be on the Kansas ballot in the Nov. 3 general election, drew 13-percent support. Eleven percent of those polled were

Fifteen percent of those who identified themselves as Republicans said they supported Perot, while just 5 percent of those who said they are Democrats gave Perot their Eighteen percent of those who said they are independents supported Perot.

In crossover support, Clinton attracted 14 percent of those who said they are Republicans, and Bush got 10 percent of the Democrats. Clinton led 38-28 among independents

In the congressional race, Dole had the support of 58 percent of those polled, while 33 percent went for Democrat Gloria O'Dell, and 9 percent were undecided.

The poll did not sample support for independent Senate candidate Christina Campbell-Cline or Libertarian Mark Kirk. Campbell-Cline got 9 percent of the vote in the 1990 Kansas governor's race.

KANSAS POLITICAL POLL

Here are some of the results of a poll taken of Kansas voters. The poll was sponsored by the Topeka Capital-Journal and conducted by Central Research Corp. of Topeka. The poll has a margin of error of +/- 4.4 points.

PRESIDENT

▶ Bill Clinton (D) 38% George Bush (R) 37 Ross Perot (I) Undecided

U.S. SENATE ▶ Bob Dole (R)

58% 33 Gloria O'Dell (D) Undecided

U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

1st DISTRICT Pat Roberts (R) 50% Duane West (D) 28

22 Undecided 3rd DISTRICT

Jan Meyers (R) 70% Tom Love (D) 21 Undecided

2nd DISTRICT Jim Slattery (D) 66% Jim Van Slyke (R) 22 12 Undecided

4th DISTRICT Dan Glickman (D) 52% 38 Eric Yost (R) 10 Undecided

OTHER SUBJECTS

KANSAS PROBLEMS

> Jobs and the economy Taxes Quality of education Abortion

60% 25 14

HOW WELL OFF?

▶ Worse off than 4 years ago 42% Better off than 4 years ago 30 No change

GREGORY A. BRANSON Colleges

Republicans polled, 30 percent of the Democrats and 54 percent of the independents. O'Dell attracted 16 percent GOP, 60 percent Democrats and 34 percent independents.

The Kansas poll also took a grade-card report on Gov. Joan Finney, who is nearing the middle of her first term. It showed she received a grade of 1.72 on a 4-point scale or a C minus. Only 5 percent of the respondents gave Finney an A, while 18 percent gave her a B, 35 percent gave her a C and 18 percent each gave her a D or F. Six percent didn't know which grade to assign her.

Other questions were also asked in the poll. Of those surveyed, 60 percent said jobs and the economy are the biggest problems facing Kansas, 25 percent said taxes, and 14 percent said quality of education.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE

Interim selected

Marc Johnson has been selected as interim dean of the College of Agriculture, effective

Johnson, who is the head of the agricultural economics department, was appointed acting dean of agriculture Sept. 11, when former Dean Walter Woods' resignation went into effect. Johnson said he did not expect to be appointed interim dean. "I knew that there was a possibility that I would get the interim position, but there was no guarantee," Johnson said. "The whole thing was quite a surprise with Walt Woods' quick resignation." Marc Johnson Johnson and Jack Riley. head of the department of animal sciences and industry, were the only two candidates for the position. Each turned in an application and discussed issues within the college at a forum Wednesday in the K-State Union Little Theatre. They were judged by a search committee of 14 agriculture faculty members and a student representative from the College of Agriculture Council.

Curtis Kastner, search committee cochairman and professor of animal sciences and industry, said the decision was a difficult one.

"I had the opportunity to work with Marc Johnson, and of course, I've worked with Jack Riley in animal science," Kastner said. "Anytime you have two people that are this qualified, a decision will be tough. I would say the process was fair as we looked at it.'

Pat Murphy, acting assistant director of agricultural extension and natural resources programs, was the other committee co-chairman. He said Johnson's ability to communicate

■ See JOHNSON Page 12

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

Provost hears from students

"The goal is to improve the level of excellence by sharpening distribution of resources and fine-tuning the quality of the programs."

JAMES COFFMAN

Role, aspiration meeting draws program defenders

ERIN BURKE

Students gathered at the Provost's Role and Aspiration Committee meeting Friday to speak against the proposed cuts.

Students in speech pathology and audiology and social work were present to argue for the importance of their programs.

'The speech pathology and audiology program provides services to many groups which will be immensely underserved if our program were to be cut," said Barbara Rinker, graduate student in speech pathology.

The Provost's Committee reviewed the proposed cuts to produce a final document that will be presented to the Kansas Board of Regents, according to a memo sent to the administration, deans and department heads. If the changes are approved, the new policies will be implemented.

"The goal is to improve the level of excellence by sharpening distribution of resources and fine-tuning the quality of the programs," Provost Jim Coffman said.

■ See PROVOST Page 12

Fort Hays also to emphasize undergraduates

FHSU

CUTBACKS

Degrees being cut due to Kansas Board of Regents guidelines.

Master's in art

A degree in

■ Master's in music

physical science

STEPHANIE FUQUA

Editor's note: This is the second installment in a series focusing on program occurring changes throughout the Kansas

Board of Regents system.
Fort Hays State University is following Wichita State University's example. Its primary focus for the next 10 years also will be on undergraduate education. Fort Hays State

President Edward Hammond defended the decision on the basis of lack of resources.

"That was the recommendation of a number of committees who looked at the mission role." Hammond said. "We don't have the resources to do the job of a full-fledged research institution. Our mission is to provide the best undergraduate program in the Master's programs in art, music and a degree in physical science are proposed to be eliminated.

■ See FORT HAYS Page 12

Giddyup

Natasha Kim, 5, gets a ride from Lydia, Saturday in City Park. Lydia came to a 45-year-old Asian elephant, during the Little Apple Folklife Festival circus elephant.

the United States in the 1940s as a

CARY CONOVER/Collegia

NEWS DIGEST

CRASH KILLS 163

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) - A military transport plane crashed into a swamp shortly after takeoff from Lagos, and all 163 passangers died, the government said in a statement.

The crash occurred Saturday night but was not discovered until Sunday morning, sources said.

Most of the passengers were highranking officers of a military college in Jaji Town near Kaduna.

▶GAS PRICE DROPS

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The price of a gallon of gas at the pump dropped onefourth of a cent over the last two weeks, according to a nationwide survey.

As of Friday, the average price, including all grades at full-and self-serve stations and taxes, was $1.1973, industry analyst Trilby Lundberg said

That was a drop of 0.28 cent over the

DETROIT STRIKE ENDS

DETROIT (AP) - City school teachers voted to return to work Monday after a four-week strike that idled 168,000 students.

The school board and the union representing 10,500 teachers reached a tentative agreement Saturday to end the Teachers voted Sunday to go back to work Monday, with classes to begin on

FOLLOW UP

Campus Fest gifts finding way home

Event distributes prizes donated

KIRSTEN NELSON

Collegian Students are still reaping benefits almost a month after Campus Fest.

Thirteen students received prizes Friday that they registered for at Campus Fest Aug. 27 and 28. The prizes were donated by participating companies and were handed out at a short reception at the K-State Union Bookstore.

The prizes ranged from a $25 FTD gift certificate from Neet, to a five-pound chocolate bar from Hershey and a jacket from Egoiste.

Ryan Kapple, senior in psychology, won the black jacket with "EGOISTE" printed on the

"Not bad. Of course, I can't pronounce what's on the back," he

The Bookstore gave away a portable television, a GE Answerphone, two Kodak 35-mm camera sets, Ray Ban sunglasses, a Topaq backpack, two Wilson volleyballs, Cadaco Boom Balls, and a Pro Nerf basketball, football and Master Blaster.

Khalid Al-Mubarak, graduate student in sociology, won the portable television.

"I'll give it to my kids," he said, "6- and 4-years-old."

The event was sponsored by the Bookstore and featured 22 vendors from local and national vendors.

Kay Farley, Bookstore manager, said more than 5,000 people attended the event.

"They ran out of samples the first day, and by 4 p.m. Friday they had very few samples left at all, Farley said.

Next year's Campus Fest depends on the vendors that are participating, Farley said.

"We like to keep it collegeoriented, but yes, I'd say it probably will be back next year," she said.

CORRECTION

In Friday's Collegian, it was incorrectly reported that Student Senate allocated $1,700 to help defray the cost of the keynote speaker for Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week. The allocation was $1,500.

The Collegian regrets the error.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIÉ 116

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian ne

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

21-speed mountain bike.

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25 Sunset Ave., reported the theft of his At 11:50 a.m., Lee J. Handke, 505 Denison Ave., reported the theft of a

At 12 p.m., Khanh Hoang, 816 Sunset Ave., reported the loss of a student ID. At 1:30 p.m., Michael Voegtle, 513

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26 At 6:15 p.m., Brenda Dahl, Overbrook, reported the theft of her purse at KSU Stadium during the football game.

At 9:50 p.m., Lesli Johnston, 1220 SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

At 4:21 p.m., Marjorie L. Henton, 524 Rocky Ford, reported criminal damage to the lock cover plate on her car's trunk. Loss was $75.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

backpack and contents from the Union bookstore. Loss was $105.

At 7:47 p.m., Ericka More struck a parked vehicle in Lot B-3. Damage as less than $500.

Centennial Drive, reported criminal damage to property. The Kappa Delta letters were torn from the concrete foundation and left on the grass.

At 5:43 p.m., Tamara Zimmerman, 331 Putnam Hall, reported the theft of a 14-inch turbine wheel and tire from her car. Loss was $150.

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

At 2:30 a.m., Eric Ward Teagarden, 1919 Platt St., was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500. At 3:20 a.m., Sean G. Dalley, 3705

Aple Road, Warnego, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500. At 3:31 a.m., Sean G. Dailey, 3705 Aple Road, Warnego, was arrested for failure to appear. Bond was set at At 4:05 a.m., Julie E. Hix, Prairie Field Place, was arrested for DUI.

Bond was set at $500. At 8:52 a.m., Monte Brent, 1224 Fremont St., reported the theft of a mountain bike. Loss was $800.

At 11:19 a.m., Darein Lee, 1920 Glendale Road, Salina, reported damage to the left front and rear tires of his car. Loss was $240.

At 11:22 a.m., Shelly Schneider, 804 Fremont St., reported damage to her windshield. Loss was $400. At 12:51 p.m., Cornell Corbin, 413

Yuma St., was arrested for battery and confined in lieu of $300 bail. At 2:08 p.m., Leo Elskamp, 2824 Illinois St., Topeka, reported the theft of a 16 1/2-inch chrome wheel cover. Loss was $80.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Graduation check sheets are due Oct. 1 in the graduate school office for those wishing to graduate this semester.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

■ Apparel Design Collective will not meet as noted in Friday's Collegian. The bulletin was erroneously printed. The Collegian regrets the error.

■ Chimes will meet at 8:30 p.m. in the Telephone Room of the KSU Foundation Building, third floor.

■ K-State Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108

■ Circle K will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 206. Speaker will be Gary

■ Beta Alpha Psi will meet at 7 p.m. in the Union Big 8 Room. ■ American Indian Science and Engineering Society will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 204. ■ Human Ecology Council will meet at 6 p.m. in Justin 115.

■ "Just Guys" will meet at 7:05 p.m. in Union 212. Topic will be "The Necessity of Meeting Without Women Sometimes."

■ College Republicans will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 213.

■ Youth For Change will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 203. ■ Career Planning and Placement will conduct a résumé-building workshop from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Union 212. ■ Public Relations Student Society of America will meet at 7 p.m. in Kedzie 106. Speaker will be John Reinhart, spokesman for

Secretary of State Bill Graves. ■ Water Ski Team will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 206. Everyone going to regionals must attend. ■ Intramural wrestling weigh-ins will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the men's locker room of the Rec Complex. Mandatory meeting will be at 6:50 in the small gym, and matches will be at 7 p.m.

■ Marketing Club will sponsor Hallmark Cards at 7 p.m. in Union Little Theatre.

■ Accounting Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 208. Topic will be the accounting program.

■ Computing and Network Services will sponsor a lecture from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m. in Cardwell 101 on using the Xedit editor on the University mainframe.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny, breezy and cooler. High in the upper 60s. Monday night, clear and cold. Low 35 to 40.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Sunny. High near 70.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Wednesday through Friday: continued dry with mild, warm days and cool nights. Highs Wednesday in the lower to mid-70s, warming to the mid-80s by Friday. Lows in 40s to 50s Wednesday, then upper 40s and 50s Thursday and Friday.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

TOPEKA MANHATTAN 78/43 GOODLAND KANSAS 61/60 RUSSELL CITY 77/55 84/53 GARDEN CITY WICHITA 76/46 79/51 77/50

WORLD TEMPERATURES

ITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	82/50	clear
Sermuda	86/79	clear	Rome	84/66	cloudy
lelsinki	57/52	cloudy	Stockholm	63/46	clear
ondon	72/59	clear	Vancouver	63/50	clear

Mom

Parent's Day is Oct. 3. Don't forget to take an opportunity to thank them for all they've done for you over the years.

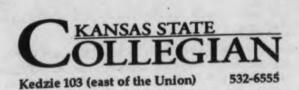

The Collegian Classifieds will feature a special section for Mom and Dad personals on Friday, Oct. 2. Place your ad today in Kedzie 103 (east of the Union).

Remember, they've given you a lifetime of happiness. Now it's your turn to make their day.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Mom and/or Dad a special day at Kansas State University. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Your I.D. number Your name_ Telephone number_ Address Message_

ENGINEERING CAREER FAIR

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

K-STATE UNION BALLROOM 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

FREE TO ALL ENGINEERING STUDENTS AND COMPUTING AND INFORMATION SCIENCE STUDENTS

Bring copies of your resumes to give to the recruiters.

AT&T and Sandia National Laboratories ARCO Pipe Line Company

Andersen Consutling B&V Waste Science & Tech. BASF Corporation

Cargill, Inc. Central Intelligence Agency

Citgo Petroleum Corporation City of Wichita, Engg. Div. Conoco, Inc.

Corps of Engineers,

Kansas City District Dept. of Aerospace Studies-KSU The Dow Chemical Company DST Systems, Inc.

Exxon

HBE Corporation

Eveready Battery Co., Inc. Factory Mutual Engineering Association

Federal Aviation Administration Federal Highway Administration Florida Power & Light-Nuclear

Hallmark Cards, Inc. Kansas City Power & Light Kansas Dept. of Transportation KSU Military Science Dept. Koch Industries The Marley Cooling Tower Co. Midwest Research Institute Missouri Highway & Trans.Dept. NCR National Starch & Chemical Company Ralston Purina Company St. Joseph Light & Power Company Texaco Refining & Marketing, Inc. U.S. Air Force Recruiting Service U.S. Environ. Protection Agency U.S. Navy Engineering Programs Valassis Inserts Vulcan Chemicals Western Resources (formerly KPL) Williams Natural Gas Company

Wilson & Company Wolf Creek Nuclear Operating Corp.

The Ultimate Frisbee will fly

Bruce Broce (right), junior in anthropology, tries to snag the disc from Eric Nold (left), graduate student in geology, during an Ultimate Frisbee scrimmage Saturday afternoon near Memorial Stadium.

Purple Haze looking for funds, more tournaments

JILL SCHRAG Collegian

Ultimate Frisbee will become an official club sport this semester after 10 years of unofficial club

The K-State Ultimate Frisbee club, known as Purple Haze, has been at K-State longer than other club sports like the men's and women's soccer clubs, Lacrosse Club and Rugby Club, said Bruce Broce, junior in anthropology.

We want to get club status now, so we can get allocations from K-State," Broce said. "We need more funding, so we can play in more out-of-town tournaments."

Because of the Frisbee trademark, the Ultimate Players' Association refers to the game most people recognize as Ultimate Frisbee as "Ultimate."

I THE PLAYERS: Each member pays his own transportation to away games, the mandatory Ultimate Players' Association membership fee of

ŠB&W Photography, Art Reproductions, Contemporary European Images, Gallery Prints ≥

$15 and the $50-$95 team tournament fee, Broce said.

The first tournament of the fall will be this weekend in Columbia, Mo. This tournament is the sectionals competition, and if Purple Haze does well, the team could compete at regionals and go on to national competition.

■ THE PRACTICE: "There are about 18 core players who come out for every practice," Broce said. "We get lots of visitors who play once or twice, or people walking by who join in, and sometimes there are up to 35

Huge

Practices are from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. every Monday and Wednesday, and from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. every Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

Broce said there are no drills. Instead, practices consist of dividing players into two teams for scrimmages.

"It's just really good exercise," said Gary Ringle, senior in nutrition and exercise.

Ringle said he began playing Ultimate early this summer when he met Broce while jogging back

■ See ULTIMATE Page 12

Clovia collecting toys for young hurricane victims

A little girl has lost her doll, and a young boy won't ever be able to find his new truck.

To most kids, childhood isn't much fun without toys.

Toys are being collected for the young victims of Hurricane Andrew in Florida by Clovia 4-H House, a women's scholarship

"People think that the hurricane is over because we don't hear about it anymore, but the damage remains. Homes can't be replaced instantly. Victims still need help," said Gaylette Corley, sophomore in horticulture and Clovia community service chairwoman.

Hurricane Andrew ripped through Florida and Louisiana a few weeks ago, leaving 250,000 people homeless. Since then, many of those people have been living in tent cities run by the military where they have only the barest toys to be sent to young victims of Hurricane Andrew. Here are the drop box locations.

TOY DROP

■ Wal-Mart Alco

Clovia House Make sure the donated toys are in good condition.

If you have any questions, call the Clovia House at 539-3575.

"We were told that an excess of clothes and canned foods was being sent. But in the tent camps, there isn't anything for the children to do and no money to replace anything," Corley said.

"They are already getting other things. Toys are something that

■ See CLOVIA Page 10

Dorms sponsor series for Awareness Week

DIANE DENISON

A massage.

That's what Peter Clark, junior in agricultural engineering, got Thursday night in the Haymaker Hall television lounge.

It was all part of Academic Awareness Week program sponsored by the Kansas State University Association of Residence Halls and presented by hall staff and resident assistants.

"Massage and Relaxation" was the topic of the second of a three-part series. The first program, "Getting Ready for Midterms," was Wednesday night. It dealt with getting prepared by using preexam training and conditioning.

Clark volunteered for the free massage. "It felt good," he said afterward. "I feel like I could now actually go read a book." The programs are targeted at new students and people who think their study skills are inadequate.

■ The program "Dressing for Success: Making That Professional Statement" will be at 8 Wednesday in the Putnam Hall lounge.

Personalities Animal Music, Posters, Nature, Great Many New Items! Prices! LIIO Monday - Friday Van Gogh, Rockwell

October 5 - 9, 1992 K-State Union -First Floor Concourse 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

Terrific

Selection!

CAPA-LA TOUR LITTEL

Raymond American oral

mbrandt,

tate union

Adams, Sports, MC Escher,

Ansel

Humor,

Great

Selection!

K B Georgia O'Keeffe, Art Deco, Art Nouveau, Renoir, Travel Posters, Fantasy, Dance

Volunteers needed to complete Collegian survey

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian? twice a week three times or more

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

000 Bulletin Board 020 Lost and found

030 Personal

050 Parties-n-More 100 Housing/Real Estal 105 For Rent-Apt. Furnishe 110 For Rent-Apt. Unturnish

120 For Rent-Houses 125 For Sale-Houses 130 For Rent-Mobile

140 For Rent-Garage

160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale

200 Service Dire 205 Tutor

230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

400 Open Market

415 Furniture to Buy/Se 430 Antiques

300 Employment/C 310 Help Wanted

450 Pets and Suppl 500 Transporta 510 Autom 520 Bicycles

540 Car Pool 600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Package 620 Airplane Ticke 630 Train Tickets

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no If so, what categories?

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

NAME

SIGNATURE

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER

KANSAS STATE

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad.

Thank you!

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Budget dictates programs cut

THE ISSUE

De-emphasis and lack of funding have made it necessary to phase-out certain departments.

WE SUGGEST

Students should realize that this is occurring out of efficiency, not personal motives, and that other alternatives do exist.

It certainly can't feel good to hear that your university has decided to do away with the entire reason for your attending it.

Speech pathology and audiology students are understandably upset and frustrated over the proposal to de-emphasize their program. But what they and all students in the Kansas Board of Regents system are being forced to realize is that some cuts are necessary to preserve the good of the whole.

The state can't give all the funding we need or want, so administrators must look inward for ways to stretch spare dollars.

No personal vendettas should dictate which programs may get the ax. The cuts are motivated, rather, by reducing program duplication throughout the system.

K-State is strong in many areas agriculture, architecture, engineering, to name a very few - but we can't be a universal powerhouse.

Other state schools have their areas of emphasis. For example, the University of Kansas excels at medicine and law, as Emporia State does in educating teachers. Just as K-State is trimming programs that are strong at other schools, these schools will likely de-emphasize areas in which we excel.

If done with care and efficiency, reducing duplication can only strengthen programs where they are already good.

Regents and administrators should not completely eliminate any programs from the state system. Somewhere within the state, all college-bound Kansans should be able to find their niche, not be forced out of their state and out of their budgets.

Similarly, no program should be eliminated before the students already enrolled have completed their degrees.

Students should still speak out to those in charge of the cuts to ensure they are made properly and fairly. Some people are inevitably going to be hurt and angry, or feel personally targeted. But in the end, this system overhaul should be done in the best interests of everyone.

READERS WRITE

FREE SPEECH

Union Plaza zone not unbiased in selection

It never ceases to amaze me how hypocritical the institution of higher learning can be.

In the three years that I've been here. I've seen many people denied their right of free speech in what the University calls the freespeech zone, such as speakers for the legalization of marijuana, changes in University policy and the importance of the student vote.

While many of these advocates are turned away, the University allows the closed-minded Puritan wrath of God to be preached for hours on end. I thought that we had moved beyond Jonathan Edwards and certain damnation. But I guess this campus has not yet reached the Age of Enlightenment, which would seem to be the basis of a liberal arts education.

If the student and faculty population must be subjected to this kind of "free speech," then at least do us the courtesy of honoring free speech for all even if it is not consistent with the beliefs of those in power.

> Kim Kirk Senior/English

But we never talk about our problems with each other. We're so afraid that to admit fear is to admit weakness. Or we're afraid that people will think we're gay if we meet without the common lure of sports or beer.

I have trouble expressing my feelings whether I'm in the presence of women or not. When women are there, it's even harder for me; I just start flirting.

How does Filippi propose I get better at expressing my feelings? By continuing to put myself in situations where I make the same mistake? Should I simply try really really hard next time?

The men in "Just Guys" want to change the way men act toward women. But to do that, we need to change the way men act among themselves.

The war between the sexes will never end, unless both sides work for peace. I urge David Filippi to come to a meeting of "Just Guys." If he thinks we're still part of the problem, I urge him to start his own group. I'll be the first one to show up.

These are confusing times in which to be a man. I was once called a chauvinist pig because I held a door open for a woman. Then I was called a chauvinist pig because I didn't hold a door open for a woman. I hold doors open for everybody. But all the men say is, "Thanks."

> Taylor Mali Graduate student/English

JUST GUYS

Columnist misses

point of organization

I want to thank David Filippi for his eloquent and uninformed column Friday. In claiming that there is no need for a group like "Just Guys" to exist, a group where men can meet by Filippi has themselves, inadvertently demonstrated the kind of prejudice that makes such a group an urgent necessity.

I would never claim that men were a disenfranchised segment of society. To do so would make me guilty of all the things Filippi argues so logically against. But just because men have more power and money than women doesn't mean men don't have their own problems. Men have lots of problems.

SPEECH PATHOLOGY Therapist helps

overcome handicap

Editor,

It hath come to my attenthion that Kanthath Thtate Univerthity ith conthidering phathing out the Department of Thpeech Pathology. With thith in mind, I thend to you an urgent plea to not take thuch a drathtic meathure.

While in grade thehool, I wath fortunate to have a thpeech therapitht come and help me overcome a horrible lithp. Had it not been for the tediouth work of the paraprofethional at Unified Thehool Dithtrict 333, I would thtill be thpeaking with a lithp today, if I wath threaking to anyone at all.

Fortunately, after three years of work for three and a half hours each week, I eventually overcame this obstacle. I could have never done this without help.

My junior year in high school, 1985, I became a Kansas Class 4A debate champion. I repeated that achievement my senior year.

I do not say this to impress you but to impress upon you the effect of a good speech pathology program. If I was still suffering from ridicule of my peers because of my lisp, I would never have joined the debate squad. I would have never recruited key people into the squad. And I would never talk to anyone. Ever.

I wish I could afford to give $10 billion to K-State. I want to support the things that are important to me, but I can never repay K-State. Please do not destroy all the good things that

> Paul McDonald Former K-State student/Manhattan resident

BEEF AND SEXISM

Women proud of the way they turned out

We are writing in response to Kelly Klawonn's column in the Sept. 23 Collegian.

We do not believe there is any connection between the consumption of meat and the sexual submissiveness of women. Was she venting her underlying insecurities of her physical appearance?

We are both over 5 feet 10 inches tall and weigh about 120 pounds. We did not succumb to a prescribed code of what is physically acceptable to men. It was DNA.

an uneducated misconception on Kelly's part that women are submissive to male domination due to their body types, or whether they eat meat.

These are not prehistoric times. Get off your soapbox. Women have fought hard for the rights they have in the 1990s.

Both of us are proud to be tall, thin women who are receiving a college education to further our knowledge and to better ourselves. We do not welcome prejudices by envious women of Kelly's stature.

We are proud to be able to wear clothes that fit and accentuate our figures, instead of wearing oversized clothes to camouflage it. This does not mean we are "chicks," "babes" or "bimbos."

Kelly's direct insults to us are simply degrading to women in general. We hope the men of K-State will voice their opinions toward Kelly's outrageous accusations and assumptions toward them as well.

> Cindy Jones Sophomore/Psychology Mary Schoning Junior/Finance

Not all females threatened by men

Editor,

When I read Kelly Klawonn's Sept. 23 Collegian column, I had to marvel at her ability to perform rhetorical gymnastics. Going from meat-eating to breast implants is quite a leap of logic.

I am a female. I eat meat, and — horror of all horrors — I enjoy it! Why? Because meat tastes good. Period. As for hunting being symbol of male power, I'm a good shot, and am, therefore, perfectly capable of procuring my own game without help from a man or a supermarket chain.

I suppose this makes me a "penis with a dress on" in the most radical of femi-Nazi circles. Fine. Think what you please. Just don't be stupid enough to say it to my face.

Klawonn has a perfect right to say what she pleases. However, I have a right to say I think she's a wacked-out weirdo with a peasized brain. If common sense were gunpowder, she wouldn't have enough to bring down a mosquito.

> Margaret Schmidt Senior/Graphic design

Evangelist misses point of God's message

ome of you probably heard the evangelist Brother Jed tell you in K-State Union Plaza Thursday that you're going to hell. In light of his testimony, I believe it's my obligation to set record straight on Christianity.

Christianity does not preach a message of condemnation, but of love, forgiveness and salvation.

A story about Jesus in the book of John illustrates this.

A group of Jewish priests and lawyers brought a woman caught in the act of adultery before They said to him, "The law of Moses commands us to stone such a woman. Now, what do you say?" Jesus said, "If any of you is without sin, or is perfect. let him be the first to throw a stone at her. One by one, the men left. Jesus asked the woman, "Where are they?

Has no o n e condemned you?" "No one, sir," she said. Then neither do I condemn you," Jesus said. "Go now, and leave your life of sin." Jesus easily could have said the law says to stone such a woman. So, go ahead. Instead, he showed compassion for her by saving her from imminent death. That is the type of Lord Christians serve

JOHN

HART

I doubt anyone heard that story Thursday. What they did hear was not an accurate interpretation of Christ's teachings.

Christianity teaches that God deeply loves each person he created. The Bible says nothing can separate man from the love of God. No matter how bad a person is in the world's eyes, God will still love that person with a strength that surpasses all human understanding.

However, mankind has failed to know God because he is imperfect or has sinned. God is a loving God, but he is also a just God. Someday, man will be held accountable before God for his mistakes. This is precisely the reason why Jesus came.

All people have made mistakes, and there is no good reason why we shouldn't have to pay the penalty for those mistakes.

Yet, because God loves all of us, he sent his son, Jesus Christ, to pay that penalty. By dying on the cross, Jesus paid the penalty for all of our mistakes. So, mankind doesn't have to be separated from the Creator for eternity. All man must do is accept that as true, and he'll be forgiven his mistakes.

That is what Christianity teaches, in a nutshell.

You may be wondering why people are so hostile toward Christianity, when what it offers is forgiveness for mistakes and eternal life in heaven.

In order to accept that forgiveness, one first has to admit much of what he does is wrong. People don't like to admit they are wrong about how they live their lives. Most people are stubborn, prideful and intellectually arrogant.

If Jesus had been on campus Thursday, he wouldn't have made fun of people or called homosexuals dirty little queers. Instead, he would have healed the sick and spent time with social outcasts, just as he did 2,000 years ago.

But he also would have warned people they will be judged by God for their mistakes if they don't accept his forgiveness.

Had Jesus heard anyone playing God by condemning people to hell for their sins, he would have said to them, "Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you."

Above all, Jesus would have shown people a love they have never experienced. For he did not come to condemn the world, but to save it.

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY

We would like to hear what you think. Send your comments, criticisms and complaints to us. Please include a phone number so we can get in touch with you in case there are questions concerning your Before letters are printed in the Collegian, we need to see a picture ID. Letters submitted may be edited for grammar and length. We cannot guarantee that your letter will run, but we will the Collegian.

COME BY KEDZIE 116 OR SEND Letters to the Editor c/o Jared Savage Kansas State Collegian try to make sure a sampling of Kedzie Hall 116 Manhattan, Kan. 66506 both sides of an issue get into

KEDZIE HALL 116

K-STATE

UNION

QUOTE OF THE DAY

It is the necessary nature of a political party in this country to avoid, as long as it can be avoided, the consideration of any question which involves a great change ... The best carriage horses are those which can most steadily hold back against the coach as it trundles down the hill.

G.M. Trevelyan

Physicists from around the world to meet at K-State

K-State will be the site for the International Conference on the Physics of Highly Charged Ions this week, for the first time.

Physicists discuss the physics of highly charged ions and ways to better produce them Sept. 28 to Oct. 2 in the K-State Union.

K-State was chosen because of its unique atomic physics facilities and research, said Martin Stockli, conference co-chairman, and assistant in the James R. Macdonald lab. It has the only university-based accelerator lab for atomic physics.

More than 150 people from the United States and about 15 other countries will discuss their research and experiments.

"The whole goal of the meeting

Pat Richard, conference cochairman and distinguished professor of physics.

"That's an important aspect of exchanging ideas - you don't exchange them just through the published papers," he said.

In addition to the accelerator lab,

K-State also has one of the two Electron Beam Ion Source devices in the nation. Its inventor, E.D. Donets of Dubna, Russia, will give a presentation on EBIS devices.

The mornings of the conference will be for speeches by 39 invited speakers and discussion. In the afternoons, during "poster sessions," researchers will stand by large posters of information about their work to discuss it with anyone interested, Richard said.

UFM expands, updates to meet needs

Meeting outlines variety of services, people, involvement

MIKE BUNCH

UFM had a "whirlwind" of success and accomplishments this year, Director Linda Teener told the board of directors at the annual meeting Sept. 25.

Teener said the number of classes offered have increased, and total participation statewide was up 238 percent from last year.

K-State students and faculty accounted for 52 percent of the participation in local programs. Across the state, 13,459 people took part in UFM activities.

The number of courses each semester has increased from an average of 93 classes to about 190.

"We do our best to offer what is requested by the public, like the new self-defense class for women and girls," Teener said.

Also at the meeting. Tresa Weaver, UFM board member and education coordinator, gave a presentation on campus and community involvement.

"I've been real impressed with the way the people and the programs work together," she said.

UFM employed 49 K-State students as teachers, and 15 others were interns. It also offered K-State credit courses for 90 people.

Five speakers have been invited to K-State for the Lou Douglas Lectures on Public Issues. Coordinator Karen McCulloh said

> A great cut with a personal > > touch.

$5.00 Off

Haircut with Style or Perm Wave, w/ Haircut

$10 OFF Sculptured Nails

Must bring this ad.

IMPRESSIONS

"Choices for Change."

"I think we have been successful in broadening the attendance for the series," McCulloh said. Patrice Murphy, coordinator of the Community Garden, said 69 families were working 147 plots.

We have done well with collecting rent and managing the budget this year," Murphy said.

The Community Resource Act Outreach Program added five

the theme for this year's series is funded community programs this year, for a total of 63 in Kansas, coordinator Anita Madison said. About 6,300 people participated across the state, she said. Rep. Sheila Hochhauser, D-Manhattan, presented the 1992 Grassroots Community Education Award to Dr. Richard Mattson for his participation in UFM horticultural programs. Mattson developed K-State's horticultural therapy program.

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

We're Not Lion!

Perms from $30-43 Joyce's Hair Tamers

2026 Tuttle Creek Blvd

539-TAME

First Time Visitor Only

Not valid with any other offer.

537-1332

= / 1/-/=

Direct/Reflecting speaker system Get more stereo.

With Bose Direct/Reflecting speaker design, you hear a natural balance of sound that conventional speakers cannot match. Plus, Stereo Everywhere speaker performance gives you the freedom to hear full stereo almost anywhere in the room.

Reg. $300 per pair Now $198 per pair | Now $318 per pair

Reg. $440 per pair

Junction City

UDIO JUNCTION, INC. 1-762-4447

ROYAL PURPLE

Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

SALES OPPORTUNITY

with the nation's leader in college marketing and media services.

EXCELLENT FINANCIAL REWARDS MARKETABLE BUSINESS EXPERIENCE-

Develop strong skills in sales by selling local advertising in the Kansas State schedule of classes. Flexible hours. Great beginning for a career in the business world. Start with a position with American Passage Media Corp. during the 1992-93 school year. Call Linda for more info. 800-473-6474. Class of '94, '95, '96 welcome to apply.

Take a minute-

to have a prostate exam. It could be worth your life.

This year 132,000 American men will learn that they have prostate cancer. About 34,000 will die

Every man age 40 and over is at risk. One out of every 11 will get prostate cancer; one in nine for black Americans. Many men don't know they have prostate cancer because it can occur and spread without any symptoms. A simple one-minute exam can lead to early diagnosis and effective treatment.

The Good News

Prostate cancer can be cured if diagnosed early. More than 80 percent of all patients whose tumors are diagnosed at an early stage are alive five years later. And now, even in advanced cases, the disease can often be effectively treated.

The American Urological Association and the Prostate Cancer Education Council recommend annual prostate exams for all men age 50 and over, and those over 40 who have a family history of prostate cancer.

Prostate Cancer Awareness Week September 27-October 11, 1992 is Prostate Cancer Awareness Week. Medical centers around the country are offering free exams to men age 40 and over. The test is simple and could be worth your life.

A free prostate exam is available at Memorial Hospital Thursday, October 1 and Thursday, October 8 with Fred Freeman, M.D. and John Devine, M.D., Manhattan urologists.

The free prostate exam is available by appointment only to the first 150 men to call.

Call Memorial Hospital's Education Department during the week of September 21-25 between the hours of 8 a.m. and noon, to schedule your appointment.

Take a minute to get an exam and ask your doctor about prostate cancer, because timing is the key to successful treatment.

Yesterday's values, Tomorrow's technology 1105 Sunset P.O. Box 1208 • Manhattan, KS 66502 • 913-776-3300 SEPTEMBER 28, 1992

Tampa Bay Detroit

Los Angeles Rams New York Jets

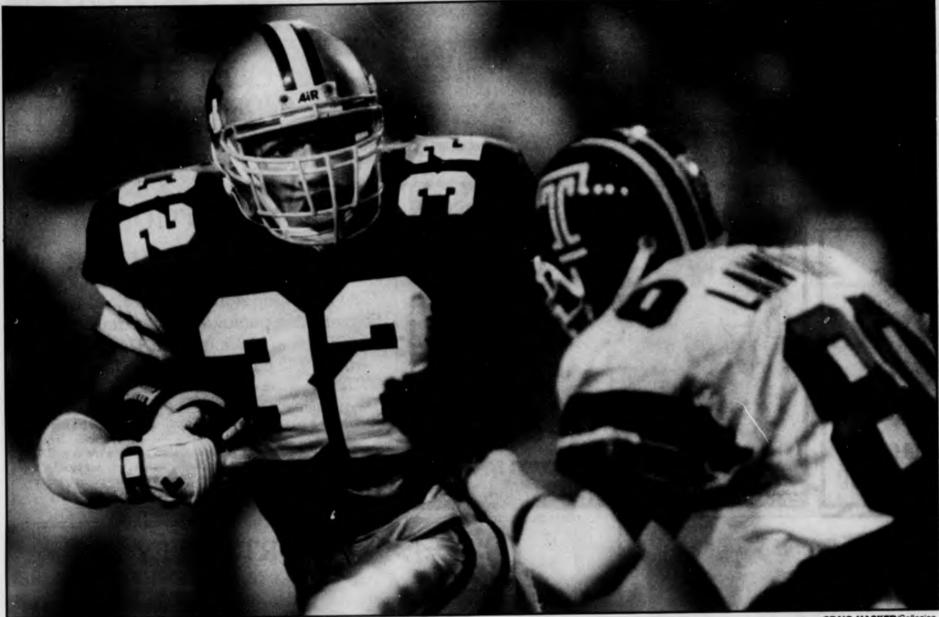

Kansas City

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Denver

Cleveland

K-STATE FOOTBALL

"My major concern is being able to together. You have to play

60 minutes."

BILL SNYDER

put two halves

Jaime Mendez, K-State free safety, looks for a way around Temple's Lew Lawhorn while returning one of his four interceptions Saturday during K-State's victory.

Wildcats topple Temple, 35-14

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Deandre McClurkin, Temple defensive tackle, wraps up K-State running back Eric Gallon Saturday night at KSU Stadium.

Squad defeats Owls despite late letdown

BRIAN ANDERSON

If only the Wildcat football games lasted 30 minutes.

K-State picked up its second victory of the season over the Temple Owls 35-14 Saturday night, the fifth consecutive win for the Cats for the first time since 1934. But for the second week in a row, K-State let the opposing team sneak back into the game in the second half, a problem coach Bill Snyder said needs to be corrected.

'As far as concerns, my major concern is being able to put two halves together," he said. "You've got to play 60 minutes.

"We're not playing with the same emotion. We don't play with the same intensity, and we don't play with the same focus."

K-State lead 28-0 at the beginning of the second half when Temple started at its own 32.

Eight plays and 68 yards later, Sam Jenkins' 1-yard run narrowed the margin to 28-7.

Temple had the ball for 9 minutes of the third quarter and held the K-State offense, which racked up 282 yards in the first half, to just 23 yards.

After Tate Wright missed a 37yard field goal, the Owls scored their second touchdown on another Jenkins 1-yard run to bring Temple back into the game at 28-14.

"We came out of the locker room and gave them an opportunity to score," Snyder said.

The Cats allowed Montana back into last week's game in the third quarter before K-State scored in the fourth to seal the 27-12 final.

For the second week in a row, however, the Cats closed the door on their opponent.

Snyder called it "a critical time" when Temple had the ball on their 35-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Temple quarterback Marc Baxter's deep pass was intercepted by Jamie Mendez at the Cats' 25yard line. It was his fourth ■ See K-STATE Page 7

SCORE BOX

	K-State	Temple
First downs	23	16
Rushing yards	282	193
Passing yards	147	108
Compattint.	10-19-1	10-21-4
Return Yards	94	13
Total yards	405	280
Fumbles-lost	1-1	1-0
Penalties	9-92	6-64
Temple 01	01717	- 14
K-State 14	14 0 7	- 35

INDIVIDUAL STATS

Rushing - K-State, Gallon 29-134, Schiller 10-61, Ed o 10-25, Salmans 1-1, Colon 1-15 Garber 1-6 Brooks 2-1 Benton 1-1. Temple, Jenkins 21-86, Baxter 6-39, Morse 8-33, Passing — K-State, Smargiasso 10-19-1-147, Temple, Baxter 10-21-4-108.

Receiving — K-State, Benton 3-57, Rees 3-35, Coleman 2-48,
Gallon 1-2, Schiller 1-5, Temple, Jenkins 3-25, Richards 2-43,
Washington 2-25, Morse 2-10, Lawhrorn 1-5.
Puntling — K-State, Snyder 3-136, Temple, Shea 4-106.
Tackles — K-State, Venables 13, Simoneau 7, Griffin 4, C. Patterson 5, Rawlings 6, Mendez 6, G. Patterson 5, Randolph 5,

Green Bay Pittsburgh

NEBRASKA 45 ARIZONA ST. 24

LINCOLN, Neb. - No. 15 Nebraska utilized five turnovers and 319 yards rushing to defeat Arizona State 45-24 Saturday afternoon.

Ed Stewart intercepted a Sun Devil pass on the game's first play from scrimmage and returned it to the Arizona State 38-yard line. Six plays later, quarterback Mike Grant's five-yard run gave Nebraska a 7-0 lead.

Calvin Jones rushed for 111 yards on 17 carries, including a 24-yard touchdown run in the third quarter to give the Huskers a 31-10 lead.

COLORADO 28 IOWA 12

BOULDER, Colo. - Freshman Koy Detmer came off the bench, for the second week in a row, to spark No. 10 Colorado to a 28-12 victory over lowa.

Detmer connected on seven of 11 passes for 155 yards and three touchdowns, as the Buffaloes went to 4-0 for the season.

Leading 7-6 at intermission, Detmer hit tight end Christian Fauria from 10 yards out to give Colorado a 14-6 lead.

The Hawkeyes pulled within 14-12 early in the fourth before Detmer connected with Michael Westbrook for a 31-yard touchdown strike midway through the fourth quarter to clinch the victory for the Buffaloes.

NORTHERN IOWA 27 IOWA STATE 10

AMES, Iowa -- Division I-AA Northern Iowa defeated Iowa State 27-10 Saturday for its first win in the series in 92 years.

Cyclone quarterback Bob Utter was sacked seven times as lowa State quarterbacks threw four interceptions.

Freshman Scott Obermeier kicked four field goals - three of which were less than 25 yards - and got a 61-yard interception return for a touchdown from Jason McCleary, as Northern Iowa took a 14-0 halftime lead.

The Iowa State offense could manage only two first-quarter yards and 59 yards for the game. The Cyclones carried the ball 37 times for 59 yards.

INDIANA 20 MISSOURI 10

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - Sophomore tailback Brett Law rushed for 240 yards, the third-highest total in Indiana history, as the Hoosiers defeated Missouri 20-10 Saturday. Law, who made his first career start, carried for two first-half touchdowns, as Indiana scored the first 14 points of the game. The Tigers gave up 528 yards, including 317 yards on the ground, as Indiana went to 2-1 on the season.

Jeff Handy relieved Phil Johnson at quarterback for Missouri and threw for 219 yards on 13 of 23 passing.

DOKLAHOMA ST. 24 TULSA 19

STILLWATER, Okla. - Oklahoma State got two touchdowns off interception returns, as the Cowboys defeated Tulsa 24-19 Saturday night.

Scott Harmon and Richie Ansley returned interceptions 21 and 25 yards, respectively, and Oklahoma State's Marc Spatz recovered a blocked punt in the end zone as the Cowboys received three touchdown directly off-turnovers.

Despite outgaining Oklahoma State 417-172 yards, the Golden Hurricanes lost for the third consecutive time. Tulsa did have an opportunity to win on the game's final play when back-up quarterback Mark Matheson's pass glanced off the hands of a leaping Gary Brown in the back corner of the end

BIG EIGHT STANDINGS

W	L	PCT.
4	0	1.000
3	1	.750
2	0	1.000
2	2	.500
3	11	.750
2	1	.667
2	2	.500
0	3	.000
	2 2 3 2 2	3 1 2 0 2 2 3 1 2 1 2 2

Mendez steals show with 4 interceptions

Free safety breaks Wildcat records for picks in single game, career interception-return yards SCOTT ABEL

Free safety Jaime Mendez turned in a record-breaking performance Saturday night at KSU Stadium.

Mendez intercepted four Temple passes that set up three Wildcat touchdowns, as K-State went on to beat the Owls 35-14.

"I'm very proud of Jaime," Coach Bill Snyder said. "Gosh, we don't have receivers catching four balls." Mendez broke the K-State record with his fourth interception. He missed the Big Eight record by one. "I'm still in shock," Mendez said. "I can't wait to call my parents. Pro players talk about getting in a zone, but this was Mendez's first interception came late in the first quarter. He picked the ball off Temple quarterback Marc Baxter, returning it 36 yards to the 6-yard line.

"After the first, I was just really excited that I finally got one," he said.

Mendez tied K-State's single-season record for interceptions as a freshmen with six, but he had only one in 1991.
"I had some success my freshman year, but nothing like this game," he said.

Mendez picked off two passes in the second quarter. One gave the ball to the Wildcats at the Temple 29 and set up a 9yard touchdown run by Rod Schiller that put K-State up 28-0. The second halted a Temple drive just before halftime. "Jaime's an excellent player, and he did great job of reading the quarterback," secondary coach Bob Stoops said.

Mendez got his final interception halfway through the fourth quarter, after Temple had forced the Wildcats to punt. He picked off the Owls' first play to set up the Cats' final touchdown.

Mendez credited the defensive line with helping him break the record.

"We were blitzing their quarterback and putting a lot of pressure on him, Mendez said. "All I did was beat his receivers to the spots. I just thank the Lord and our front seven.

Mendez also got 74 return yards off his four interceptions and now has 229 career return yards, another K-State record.

"I've expected that kind of play out of him, because he has that kind of ability,"

"He's been billed as an all-Big Eight player, and he showed it."

AND J. KYLE WYATT

MUD ME

ABOVE: A competitor in the Mariatt Hall Mud Volleyball Tournament makes a big splash while keeping the ball in play Saturday. The proceeds from the tournament go to the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

RIGHT: Earl Hix, Topeka, sprays the mud off after his team, the Kamikazes, took third place in the Marlatt Mud Volleyball Tournament Saturday.

Men's squad ready to play at KU Invitational

Jayhawk tourney gives Cats chance to prove themselves

KRISTEEN YOUNG

Collegian

The men's golf team traveled I-70 Sunday to practice before competition Monday's Lawrence.

The Jayhawks play host to 13 teams in the two-day Kansas Invitational. For the Cats, it's a big tournament, Coach Mark Elliott

"It is big, as far as the NCAA tournament goes," he said. "As far as the team goes, it is important for us to be against KU."

In their second tournament of the season, the men already have set their sights high on getting into the national tournament at the end of the season. That means winning, or at least placing high, in tournaments throughout the season, Fillion said

In the Kansas Invitational, the golfers will meet Big Eight opponents and teams from the Big Ten. Other than KU, they will meet Iowa State and Nebraska.

Wichita State and Emporia State. Big Ten schools Indiana State, Illinois and Iowa will also compete in the tournament.

Last weekend at the Falcon Invitational in Colorado Springs, Colo., the Cats saw some of what they would be up against. KU. Illinois and Wichita State also competed.

KU and Illinois scored lower, and placed higher, than the Cats. KU placed second, and Illinois finished fourth.

Competing for K-State will be Richard Laing, Sean Robertson, Brett Waldman, Jason Losche and Chris Weddle.

Elliott said it is a big tournament for Laing.

"It is big because last week he finished 12th, and he has a good shot at winning this week. It's time he went out and did what he is capable of," Elliott said. Among those representing K-State, Elliott said, most of the experience lies in Laing.

'We have a deeper team than in the past, but at the same time, we are looking at only one person who has played a lot," Elliott said.

SPORTS DIGEST

CHIEFS TO HOST RAIDERS TONIGHT

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)- It was special teams for the Chiefs. For the Raiders, it was turnovers, turnovers, turnovers.

Each coach had little trouble figuring out what the other would be concentrating on for tonight's matchup.

The Chiefs are 2-1 instead of 3-0 because the special teams failed in Houston a week ago, turning a likely victory into a 23-20 overtime loss.

The reason the Raiders are 0-3 and facing their worst start in 28 years is even simpler, but may be tougher to fix. They simply can't hold the ball.

The Raiders have a minus 10 turnover ratio.

The AFC West rivals face off tonight at Arrowhead Stadium.

SMILEY STIFLES ROYALS, BRETT

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - John Smiley gave up five hits, none of them to George Brett, as the Twins stayed barely alive in the American League West with a 4-0 win Sunday over the Kansas City Royals.

The game started with one, meaning a Minnesota loss or an Oakland win would give the A's their fourth AL West title in five years.

Brett began and ended the day with 2,996 hits and has seven games to join Robin Yount as this year's additions to the 3,000-hit club.

K-State runs record to 2-0

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

interception of the game, a K-State record. The offense came back and drove 75 yards in 10 plays. Rod Schiller's 22-yard run down the ended Temple's comeback. Unlike in the first game, the offensive line left sideline, his second touchdown of the game, had a good performance, Snyder said. "The offensive line came off the ball," he said. "They were aggressive and determined. All of them improved."

The offense finished with 405 total yards and 23 first downs.

Eric Gallon led K-State rushers with 134 yards on 29 carries and one touchdown. It was his sixth 100-plus game in his career and moves him to fifth in career rushing at 1,476 yards.

Linebacker Brent Venables led the team with 13 tackles, including 14-yard sack.

"Definitely, it was the best game I've played," Venables said.

"I was hungry," he said. "I was ready for a smash-mouth game. That's what I like."

Sim takes 2nd place in Husker tourney

FRANK KLEEMANN Collegian

The K-State tennis team returned from this weekend's Husker Invitational in Lincoln, Neb., with different experiences.

Senior Suzanne Sim finished second in the No. 2 singles round, while senior Susana Labrador got off track because of atypical rules.

Sim defeated Iowa State's Connie McGough straight with 6-1, 6-1, in her first match, and she carried her good performance over in the second match to upset Renee Marshall of Colorado.

"Suzanne did an excellent job," Coach Bietau said. "Her win against Marshall was probably her best win in her career."

The Colorado player dominated the first set, winning 6-0. But Sim was able to fight back to win the second set 7-6 and jumped ahead in the third set to take an early lead. In the end, Sim won the set 6-3 to advance to Saturday's final.

"It was one of my best wins," she said. "I was playing aggressive and was more relaxed.' Sim lost the final to Melisa Castro of Baylor 6-2, 6-2, but she said she was satisfied with the tournament overall. "Playing at No. 2 singles was pretty hard, but it turned out extremely well," she said. Teammate Labrador left the tournament with a different experience. This tournament was not like a normal tournament," Labrador said after she had to play a tiebreaker Friday instead of a third, decisive set in her first-round match against Jo Ellen Walker of Wichita State. "It was totally weird." Labrador, the netters' No. 1, overcame a 7-5 first set loss to turn the game around, clearly winning the second set 6-1. Ready to go into the third set, Labrador was surprised by the tournament's rules that said to decide the match more quickly they had to play a tiebreaker. "I was kind of upset, and it did break my momentum," she said. Labrador lost this match in the tiebreaker but went on to win her second match of the day. Nathalie Dickson of Colorado took the first set with 7-5, but Labrador found herself again in the better position on the court to win the next two

After losing her third match against a player from Baylor in two sets Saturday, Labrador summed up her first trip to Lincoln.

"It was a good experience and preparation for our tournament next weekend in Manhattan," she said. "I know I have to improve mentally and increase my confidence."

Bietau said he was pleased with Labrador's performance in the end.

"Susana played poorly in the beginning and then turned things around," he said. "The first match was a disappointing loss, but she came back and played better in the second game and the doubles.

Besides the two seniors, freshman Maria Uson played her first matches in a tournament. Uson lost her two matches on Friday. However, Bietau said she showed promise.

"It was the first collegiate matches for her. She made a lot of progress in the doubles then, and I was happy with that," Bietau said.

Sophomore Martine Shrubsole played in the No. 4 singles for the Cats. Despite playing at a higher level compared to last year, Shrubsole fell short in her two matches on Friday.

Overall, the tournament was a good place to learn for the team, Bietau said.

We got a lot of experience out of this tournament and a very clear direction of what each player has to do to improve," he said.

"Suzanne did an excellent job. Her win against Marshall was probably her best win in her career."

STEVE BIETAU

Wildcats need 4 solid quarters to compete in Big Eight

Two quarters isn't enough. When the Cats enter Big Eight play with their Oct. 10 meeting with the Jayhawks, they will have to play the entire contest. Not just the first half.

For the second time in as many weeks, the Wildcats entered the locker room at halftime with a comfortable lead over their opponent.

And for the second time in as many weeks, the Cats stepped back onto the gridiron only to be outplayed in the third and fourth quarters by overmatched foes. "Whatever I did, I screwed them up in the second half," Coach Bill Snyder said, referring to the halftime pep talk. "I think the team came out with every intention of playing hard in the second half. It just didn't happen."

Nor did it happen last week.

In the season opener, the Wildcats held the Division I-AA Montana Grizzlies to just 92 yards in the first half. Montana's air show ate up the Cats in the second half, however, and the Grizzlies finished with 365 total Montana pulled within eight points of K-State in the third quarter. The Grizzlies drove to the Wildcat 10vard line before their potentially tying drive stalled on fourth down.

Saturday night against the 1-2 Temple Owls, it just didn't happen

With the Cats perched atop a 28-0 lead, the Owls put together some momentum and gave the undefeated Wildcats a scare, albeit a mild one.

K-State mustered just six first downs in the second half - none in the third quarter. The Owls, on the other hand, put together drives of 68 and 80 yards that pulled them to within two touchdowns.

In both games, K-State scored late touchdowns that put the game out of reach. But when the Wildcats start entertaining the likes of Colorado, Nebraska and Oklahoma, they may not have that chance.

For the season, the Cats have been outgained 466-187 in yardage during the game's third and fourth quarters against teams whose records are a combined 2-6. K-State has been outscored 20-14 in the second half of the two contests.

Why the letdown? "Anytime you go up 28-0, you have a tendency to get complacent," linebacker Brent Venables said.

But the senior said correcting the problem is not a big concern for the

"We're not worried about it at all. It's not even in the back of our minds '

Perhaps it should be. True, the Cats proved that last year's season-opening thriller, a 26-

25 win against Division I-AA Indiana

State, was a fluke. Had the same two it's safe to assume K-State would have dominated. And true, the bottom line is the W. The Wildcats are 2-0, period.

But with conference play just two weeks away, the Wildcats need to turn the dial up a notch in the second teams met at the end of the season, half, rather than down. K-State can't count on two- and three-touchdown leads heading into

Instead, the Cats need to take the confidence that Snyder has instilled into the program and turn it into four quarters of solid football. The Cats have proven that it can be done. They just haven't proven it this

ROCK

Sneakers' full of suspense, big names

"Field of Dreams" director Phil Alden Robinson has scored another likable, big money-maker with "Sneakers."

The action-comedy has just about everything you need to rake in the bucks - some big names, laughs galore and lots of action scenes

Aside from the absolutely silly ending and shallow characterization, it's witty, subtle and generally fun to watch.

Martin, played by Robert Redford, is an ex-computer hacker who runs a company that breaks college. Martin has since created himself a new identity and has been living happily ever after, making money doing what he does best.

The rest of Redford's wonderfully cast team also have fishy banks, to show them how to keep wanted by the feds for some serious hacking he and a buddy did in

The hitch is, he happens to be just that from happening.

backgrounds for one reason or The dangerously brilliant team is blackmailed by what they think is the National Security Agency into stealing a little black box from an even more brilliant guy, who has managed to crack all of the world's into high-security businesses, like last, most uncrackable codes and stored them in the box.

The brilliant scientist gets killed, Redford gets kidnapped, and that's just the beginning.

Unfortunately, the great cast has little with which to work. Redford's counterparts, played by Dan Aykroyd, Mary McDonnell, River Phoenix, Sidney Poitier and David Strathairn, can only do so much with a script full of likable but flat characters.

The movie's real appeal is in the suspense scenes that will put you on the edge of your seat, if you manage not to climb right out of it.

The entire cast is upstaged early on by the blind, brilliant computer wizard, Whistler, played by McDonnell ("Dances with Wolves") is smart and funny as Martin's ex, Liz.

But even those two performances fall short, because Whistler soon proves to be one of the most unbelievably superhuman characters ever to hit the big screen, and Liz evolves from smart and sassy to

Ben Kingsley ("Ghandi") makes an appearance as the villainous leader of the group posing as the

The film is rated PG-13 and features the music of the Tonight Show's hipper-than-hip Branford favorites of jazz

Prominent pianists perform originals,

MCCAIN AUDITORIUM

Ellis Marsalis and Marcus

Roberts, pianists who have made their marks on jazz, performed solo and together for more than 90 minutes of jazz favorites,

Marsalis, the highly credited jazz educator who has influenced many new-generation jazz musicians, on jazz "promising." Roberts' on Billboard's Jazz Chart.

When Marsalis introduced his

Roberts' solo performance

Travelute

WRANGLER MONTH

 With purchase of Wrangler Shirts & Jeans get a gift.

Also, with purchase of Rocky Mountain Jeans

& Tops get a bonus T-shirt of mug for $2.98.

See Us For Your Complete Line Of Western Wear

Mon.-Sat. 9-12, 1-5

Sun. 1-5

One Heart One Way V One Heart One Way V One Herat

Sigma Kappa would like to welcome its new members...

Tonia Manhart

Colette Mlynek

Erica Morren

Kelli Murray

Cheri O'Brian

Kipley Parish

Sarah Poe Trina Rice

Katherine Markway

Ashley Rothenberger

Jennifer Walawender

Leigh Anne Wenger

Deanna Roween

Mary Scherrer

Joanna Shoup Heather Sickman

Jennifer Smith

Amy Stuckey

Ali Swisher

located near Waterville 785-2136

Anne Blackman

Jennifer Buehler

Elizabeth Cadman

Rebecca Covarrubias

Jennifer Gottshamer

Tanya Bohacz

Joan Burgess

Jenny Caldwell Leslie Calkins

Amanda Faurot

Jennifer Harrison

Rae Lyn Hartley

Michelle Herren

Kristine Jantz

Carey Knoepp Tarra Maes

Lori King

Lori Cain

Lori Evans

Heidi Evert

featured works by Jelly Roll

Morton and John Coltrane, as well

Branford and Delfayo Marsalis.

including some originals.

Friday night.

REVIEW

His final song before Marsalis joined him was a Morton piece Two prominent jazz musicians played McCain Auditorium including Morton's famous stride piano sound.

Roberts described the sound as part of the origin of jazz.

The whole purpose of jazz is to dance and socialize," Roberts said. "Created for the people, by

The left hand plays rhythm, so people will dance. And the right The program began with hand goes crazy," he said.

The duet performance was well-balanced. Marsalis played perfectly, while Roberts added an energetic youthful feeling.

including his children, Wynton, They began with the fast-paced "Broadway," then slowed things down with "I Can't Get Started partner, he called Roberts' effect With You" and "Limehouse Blues," dedicated to "abodes in three works have all reached No. 1 rural areas."

They thanked the audience for its standing ovation with a Ray Charles encore.

MCCAIN AUDITORIUM ance group keeps custom alive

Aztec ritual relived during

'Music of Americas'

TED KADAU JR.

What indeed is more noble than to keep the flame? To hold alive a custom, a ritual, a dance.

REVIEW ***

Invoking this spirit and more is what the Danza Azteca de Anahuac is all about. Performing Sunday in McCain Auditorium, this New Mexico-based group brought a bit of oneness to a crowded house.

Performing 18 selections, the dancers placed an astounding amount of love and care into their art. The Aztec Indian dances, centuries old, are relived to honor the spectrum of nature, the Aztec gods and the Aztec people.

In costumes that were a rainbow of exuberant colors, blending and flaring, all five performers were fantastic, dancing in unison throughout the performance to, at

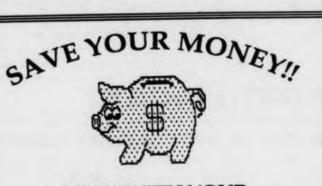

The group was self-produced, using Aztec flutes, drums, conch shells and a constant rhythm of hand-held and ankle rattles.

Usually starting out slowly, then working to a feverish pace that resembled a religious revival uprising, the music varied from the constant beat of a large upright drum to the whistles and groans that paid tribute to the sounds of nature.

The high point, however, was the costumes. Fashioned from colorful cloth and jewelry, the tunics were a kaleidoscope. Capped off with headdresses of colorful feathers and jeweled helmets, the dancers seemed to reach toward the sky, twisting and spinning across the McCain stage.

Presented as part of a "Music of the Americas" production of the Sante Fe Music Festival, the Danza Azteca de Anahuac brought an ethnic invocation to a crowd who probably sees little of this art. Beautiful and dreamlike, the Aztec dance was beauty incarnate.

SHOP WITH YOUR "WELCOME TO MANHATTAN" COUPON BOOK!!!

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Third Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM

PART III: Pillars of Islam

Presented by Hisham Hidmi President of MCA

Tuesday, September 29, 7:30-8:30 p.m. K-State Union, Big 8 Room

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

Great Start

Omega Psi Phi Sept. 28

This Week's Specials Sancho or Burrito $1.19 reg. $1.60 each Taco Dinner $1.88 rog. $2.55 Good through 10-3-92 2809 Claflin

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Memories Here...

AUCTION

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 30 - 5 p.m. 701 North 17th - KSU Police Department MANHATTAN, KANSAS

54 Bicycles from single speed to 18 speed, brand names including: Racer, AlPro, Columbia, Schwinn, Western Flyer, Free Spirit, Gitane, Murray, Huffy, Road Master, AMF, K-Mart, Andria, KHS, Sears, Fuji, Alfira, Gambles, etc.

Also a number of calculators, watches & umbrellas.

Note: Some items subject to claim prior to auction.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS.

KSU POLICE DEPARTMENT

VERN GANNON AUCTIONS MANHATTAN, KS 913-539-2316

One Heart One Way V One Heart One Way V One Hera SAVELLE STATES SEED

... and wish them the best of luck

at Pledge Games on Sunday!

BEAUTY SUPPLY Liters On Sale

Sept. 28 thru Oct. 3 (One week only)

REG. SALE BIOLAGE LITERS $ 998 $ 1300 Normal Shampoo 32 oz. 1500 1098 Hydrating Shampoo 32 oz. 1300 998 Leave in Conditioner 32 oz. 1600 1198 Conditioning Balm 16 oz.

718½ N. Manhattan Aggieville

539-5512

Below the knees, please, at BYU

PROVO, Utah - It all started with a seemingly harmless concession to modern fashion two years ago, when straight-laced Brigham Young University decided to allow knee-length shorts.

Now it's possible to catch a glimpse of thigh on the Mormon campus, and students are being warned the rising hemlines on shorts and skirts must subside.

SHOWING SOME SKIN: "You can find some girls whose shorts are much too short," President Rex Lee said. He later asked that his remark be amended to include male students as well. Lee said violators aren't expelled, nor is their tuition raised, if their hemlines aren't lowered. But they may lose other privileges:

Students are encouraged to confront violators and, if necessary, turn them in to the Honor Code Council for counseling.

All but about 5 percent of BYU's 27,000 students are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and all must sign the honor code promising to uphold the basic tenets of the Mormon faith and abstain from tobacco, alcohol, drugs, premarital sex, tea and coffee.

A pamphlet for new students says revealing clothing is prohibited and that shorts and skirts should be "knee-length or lower." Men may

> "YOUR HEALTH FOOD SUPER MARKET"

3112 ANDERSON AVE.

ACROSS FROM VILLAGE PLAZA

537-4571

"DIET CURES

WHAT DIET CAUSES"

HOME

MONDAY NIGHT

FOOTBALL

776-7714

Hansen

Nutrition Center

not sport long hair or beards.

WHAT'S ALLOWED: The 1990 change in the dress code allowed both women and men to knee-length shorts.

Previously, women could wear slacks or skirts, and men were required to wear trousers. The school's pioneer namesake has even had tonsorial treatment on campus. While most photographs of Brigham Young show him with long hair and a grand beard, his statue by the administration building depicts him as cleanshaven and neatly trimmed.

On a recent afternoon, perhaps a dozen students among hundreds commons wore shorts or skirts that ranged from just above the knee to midthigh - modest by most standards, but not BYU's

WHAT STUDENTS THINK: Christy Rawls, 18, hiding her bare legs under a stack of books and folded sweater, giggled and blushed when asked about the midthigh hemline of her shorts.

"I just knew I shouldn't have worn these shorts," Rawls said.

She said exposing too much thigh can lead to awkward encounters.

"It's kind of embarrassing to have a guy walk up to you and tell bustling around the campus you your shorts are too short," she

While most students seem to support and comply with the dress code, some say the school might be indulging in a double standard. Recent letters to the editor in the student newspaper questioned the propriety of the short skirts worn by BYU cheerleaders.

Three female students sitting outside the campus center - all in pants - said the chaste climate is the reason they attended BYU.

"Nobody's trying to cut into your freedoms," said Gina Clark, an 18-year-old freshman. "They're teaching us a lifestyle."

Cat Coupon CI IPPFR

0 Gallon Aquarium 0.99 with Coupon

1105 Waters

539-9494

FREE DELIVERY Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge

1304 Westloop, Manhattan

539-0888 539-8888 DINING-IN COUPON

10% OFF when you present this coupon

OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

$5.50 Haircut with this coupon

> THE FASHION SHOP 1129 WESTLOOP 539-2921

ON THE WEST SIDE

Get 10% off of the next ad you place in the Cat Coupon Clipper!

KANSAS STATE Display Advertising

532-6560

2.50 OFF with coupon expires 10-3-92 Men's Black Leather

Reg. $17.99 DRIVING CAP or Women's Leather

FLAP PURSES

MANHATTAN SHOE REPAIR

Three doors up the alley from Downtown Burger King 776-1193

Little Caesars

LOADED EXTRA CHEESE AND 3 TOPPINGS

Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Pizza! Pizza! Little Caesars

Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always! Offer valid for a limited time only at participating stores. No coupon necessary, free Crazy Bread after is a four piece order

(C) 1992 Little Coesar Enterprises, Inc.

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MENDA MADNESS

2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

ely with coupon at participating Little Consors diale at additional costs. "Excludes exits chose Expires 10/25/92

Te) Little (Chestles

YOUR CHOICE: 4 PIZZAS ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND! Expires 10/25/92 and 1 topping* plus two 32 oz. soft drinks

Lavile Charles

GRADUATE STUDENTS:

The Graduate Student Council is accepting applications for the following areas:

- Faculty/Staff Parking Appeals Board (2 positions)
- Campus Development Committee (1 position)
- Graduate Student Senate Alternates (3 6 positions)

Interested Graduate students for these volunteer positions may pick up an information sheet and application in the SGS Office, Ground Floor of the K-State Union.

Application deadline is October 6, 1992 at 5:00pm

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st. 800-848-LOVE (5683)

VISITOR

TITA MICHO

Great Memories Start

orchard Run

Jonathan Apples

$1.99 5 pound bag

stock up!!!

Tonathans make the BEST pie.

Houseplants

25%-50% OFF

Selected varieties

Westside Markets

$10.99 bushel

Phi Beta Sigma Sept. 28

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

CIDER!

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Fall Decorating? Manhattan's largest display

Corn Snocks, Bittersweet, & More!

Mix 'n Match

New Crop Apples

Red Delicious

Golden Delicious

MeIntosh

nds love McIntosh

Jonathan or

Try our fresh unpesturized

of Rumpkins, Indian Corn,

Great Memories Start Here. Royal Purple Portraits taken for...

SCOREBUAR

75¢ DRAWS

Phi Delta Theta Sept. 28

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER Introducing

Sandals that offer the minimum amount

East Huy 24 by Super-8 or West K-18 by Holidome, Manhatlan of coverage with the maximum security.

Men's and Women's

Burke's and You... Following Nobody's

Footsteps!

Zulu leader breaks talks

"My view is that negot:ation for the future constitution for South Africa cannot go ahead."

> MANGOSUTHU BUTHELEZI

Mandela, de Klerk agree to release imprisoned activists

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KWAMASHU, South Africa -The country's second-most powerful black leader broke off talks with the government Sunday, dampening hopes that South Africa's political crisis can be resolved soon.

Mangosuthu Buthelezi, head of the Zulu-dominated Inkatha Freedom Party, made the announcement a day after his rival, African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela, met with President F.W. de Klerk.

In what was seen as the most positive development in three months, Mandela and de Klerk met Saturday and said they made substantial progress toward restarting black-white negotiations the ANC broke off in June over mounting political violence.

They announced one agreement to free 150 imprisoned activists Monday. They include Barend Strydom, a white supremacist who gunned down eight people, and Robert McBride, an ANC member who planted a car bomb that killed three people. About 300 more are to be freed by mid-November.

They also called for restrictions on carrying weapons and for fences to be placed around migrant workers' hostels. The measures were seen as ANC victories over Inkatha, because Inkatha supporters control many hostels and insist on carrying traditional weapons.

The ANC-Inkatha feud is considered the main cause of township warfare that has claimed 8,000 black lives in the past three years.

Buthelezi, in a speech at a Zulu rally, said he and his Zulu followers had not been consulted and therefore would not abide by agreements reached between de Klerk and

"My view is that negotiation for the future constitution for South Africa cannot go ahead," Buthelezi told 10,000 supporters in KwaMashu, a black township outside the eastern port city of Durban.

"I will withdraw ... from further discussions with the government until I have had the opportunity to consult widely on the way forward," he said.

Inkatha "will reject any attempt by de Klerk and Mandela to prohibit Zulus from carrying cultural weapons," Buthelezi said, adding his followers "will tear down any fences put around (hostels) - and do so with their bare hands if need be."

Police and Zulus had several confrontations outside the stadium. One death was reported by the staterun South African Broadcasting Corp.

The conservative Buthelezi has had good relations with de Klerk, and there has been talk of a government-Inkatha alliance to oppose the left-leaning ANC. But recently Buthelezi has felt left out as de Klerk concentrated on meetings with Mandela.

De Klerk and Mandela both said Buthelezi misinterpreted the nature of their meeting and would be welcome at negotiations.

Agronomy collects school supplies for local children

DEBORAH WHITSON

Remember when going back to school was still fun?

Kids went with mom to K mart to get all the supplies: new pencils, Big Chief tablets, paint sets and big pink erasers. Kids with those supplies were the coolest.

This year, as well as back then, some parents could not afford to buy their children the latest Barbie notebook or GI Joe lunchbox, let alone the generic stuff.

With those children in mind, Department of Agronomy staff members organized a drive for school supplies and funds to be given to the Manhattan/Ogden school system.

K-STATE IN TOUCH WITH THE COMMUNITY: Lindsay Woodside, accountant for the agronomy department, said the idea came up at a summer meeting.

We decided we should do something for the community," Woodside said. "We brainstormed about it and came up with this

The staff distributed memos to K-State faculty and staff about the drive, welcoming any donations outside the department. Woodside said in addition to supplies, many people contributed money. Nancy Thompson, director of educational programs for USD 383, said the donation was wellreceived.

"It was very nice, because some kids do show up without even the basic supplies," she said. "Their parents simply can't afford to buy them."

IN THE FUTURE: "This is an ongoing thing," Woodside said. "We plan to continue such drives, and we're going to adopt one or two families at Christmas.

The cash donations were used to open an account that will be available to replenish supplies throughout the school year.

"The whole thing was very timely," Thompson said. "We received everything right about the time school started.'

A program through the Salvation Army is similar to the one started by the agronomy department, Thompson said. Children whose parents qualify for the free lunch program are also eligible for that "Those who ask for them are given vouchers," Thompson said. These are good for about $10 to $15 and can be taken to Wal-Mart or K mart to buy supplies."

Thompson said both programs are good, because they hit two levels of parents in need. Some parents aren't in a low enough income bracket to qualify for the free-lunch program. The agronomy department's donations are helpful to those who fall just above that line, she said.

Food For Your Brain.

Ultimate finds home at K-State

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

from Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. Broce, Ringle said, invited him to join in, and he's been playing Ultimate three times a week

"You get a lot of benefit from running up and down the field," he

■ THE GAME Ultimate is played on a field about the size of a football field with seven players on each team, Broce said.

"The objective is to catch the disc in the end zone," he said.

The game closely resembles football, except a player cannot move from his pivot foot after he catches the disc, Broce said.

The players pass the disc down the field until they reach the end zone to score. Usually, Broce said, a team is divided into three "handlers," two "middles" and two Broce said the season will end when the weather gets too cold, and it will begin in the spring when it gets warm again.

Clovia helps children

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

they wouldn't necessarily have to have, but it's nice for the kids," said Janet Griesel, freshman in agriculture and business and Clovia

The toys will be shipped to the First Baptist Church of Ojus in West Miami Beach. The congregation there will distribute the toys. Clovia will also accept cash donations to help pay shipping

"Alpha of Clovia has a community service project each year. It can be in the local area or be done on a larger scale," Corley said. "We talked about what it would be like to be a kid and lose all your toys, then decided to do this project.

"Almost everyone loves little kids. It gives them a sense of giving and sharing to be able to help

ESSENTIALS

Reader's letter illustrates common characteristics

Cassandra Duveaux

I have received applause and criticism from all sides on the more controversial issues that have appeared thus far in this column.

This, of course, is natural, and it would be naive of me not to expect varying degrees of emotional outbursts in response to hard-hitting

It is not my policy nor that of the Collegian to sensationalize or give added effect to those comments that are obviously juvenile and

However, I feel that the following comment, which was received last week, is so highly indicative of the type of harassment women face on a daily basis that I felt compelled to print it.

I do not mean that this attitude characterizes men in general, but rather a small (but growing) group of men.

But, it is the responsibility of all men to eradicate this kind of thinking from their ranks.

I would appreciate hearing from those of you, men especially, who agree.

Here is the letter.

DEAR CASSANDRA

The more I read your column, the more I realize that you're just a woman in need of a good f-!

J.H., K-State junior DEAR C.S.,

DEAR J.H.,

No comment.

DEAR CASSANDRA.

In case you get criticism, I want to say thanks for the straight-punching letter to Mr. Single and Horny. It's got to be said - the whole thing from "you are a heel," to the STDs warning, to the "I don't believe I ever led her on" is pure bunk comment.

I also think it was key you added "and men" to your statement, "To many women (and men), the sex act is an indication of something serious

It's good you gave those few nice guys out there some credit. Way to go, and it was even said with humor.

C.S., K-State student

Thanks for the pat on the back.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

Why aren't there any tables provided with the chairs/benches on the grounds within campus? Some days, it's more fun to write in the outdoors when it is sunny, rather than to freeze in air-conditioned rooms.

M.S.L., K-State student

21 Home of

22 Word

23 ln a

27 Blood

the Mets

snap or shoulder

reckless relatives

It Be -

(Beach

30 Kind of gun 32 Source

Boys hit)

29 "Wouldn't

DEAR M.S.L.,

That sounds to me like a great idea, and one fellow

Girl"

3 Mauna

(extinct

4 Eloquent public

5 Brings to

6 Scrooge's

7 That is, to Caesar

canopy

8 Bed

comment

mind volcano)

speaker

Golden

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer

that should be proposed to your student senator. Give him/her a call.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

CROSSWORD

EUGENE SHEFFER

THE STRIP

around.

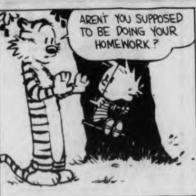

DAVID SWEARINGEN

QUESTION YOU NEVER WANT TO HEAR IN A DOGTOR'S

CALVIN AND HOBBES

coin 1 "Raiders 41 Score or of the square Lost lead-in 43 "...but few 45 "Purple

Rain'

chariot

ACROSS 4 Go-round for Yuri 12 She's sweet, in

47 Gamble song 48 Cana 13 Noted English 49 Coiffure novelist 14 Yale grad 15 Common complaints 55 Ancien 17 Swiss river 18 Airport 56 Hang sched. item

19 Artist's domain 21 "- Days" (1907 song) 24 Legendary 59 Farm pen Swiss hero DOWN 25 Farm

33 Pitcher 35 Fit of pique 36 Poisonous snake 38 Egyptian god of

40 Old French Yesterday's answer of bright down loosel 34 Deter-57 Carson of the Wild mined 37 Lace West flutings 58 Shabby or 39 Poorly rundown (God is 1 Hardwood 20 Rubber Solution time: 23 mins. Guest (song) 45 Quick furtive look 46 Rajah's enzyme 51 Overhead 52 Habitua

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873! 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP VCAG MQ HBANPENEF

FCWGLCWG LMLDRCI ADYYBI BQMIB

AXMDRHBIA. Saturday's Cryptoquip: DEVOID OF CASH, BAR-TENDER PUT HIS VACATION PLANS TO BUFFALO ON ICE.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals D

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5

each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less — $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less — $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate) must be paid in advance e an established account sterCard or Visa are d. There is a $10 service charge

We reserve the right to edit, reject or

For an extra charge, we'll put a mediine above your ad to catch the meder's attention.

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you we your ad to run. Classified display admust be placed by 4 p.m. two working the placed by 4 p.m. t

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run fou for three days free of charge. CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day
the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, ple

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

BULLETIN BOARD

010"

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholarship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-

1881. 1-800-879-7485. you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

ADVANCED FLIGHT Training. Multi-engine instrument, commercial CFI Private and instrument Hugh Irvin at 539-3128

ANGRY? FED up? Tend to blow up when you're mad? Learn a new way... Try our workshop, "Handling Anger Assertively." Call now for information

532-6927 COME FLY with us, K-State five airplanes. For best prices

Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m. SEEKING INFORMATION on Lance Daniels attending a University in Kansas, Please call Palavsch at

(314)329-3056. SUMMERTIME ONE Day Diet. Anyone can stick to a diet for a day when they know they can ea what they want the formation contact Clifton Beth (913)537-0850

020 Lost and Found

free for three

CALCULATOR WITH initials GCF in Durland study lounge on Sept 22. Claim in Durland

FOUND ON corner of Denigrey cat. Call 537-4362 FOUND SET of keys with

152. September 23 Identify in Durland 261 FOUND SMALL tan female dog with black colla near campus call 537-

FOUND, A pet ferret on the corner of Tenth and Bertrand. Call 539-4513.

FOUND: A Watch between Kedzie and Fairchild, Thurs. (Sept. 24) morning about 9:30a.m. Idea

LOST GOLD chain with charm very sentimen-tal. Reward if found call

LOST: LARGE set of keys, Aggieville, Wednesday, Sept. 16, at 11:30p.m. 539–2017 leave mes-LOST: TWO pair earrings on card between park-ing lot across from Please call if found 776-5626, lea sage if not home

TEXTBOOKS FOUND in Fairchild 212 on Sept. 21. Claim in Durland

401 Thurston on Tues.

evening (Sept.22), 776-6018.

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or when placing a

BBCHKN, YEA! (not Raaa) Today's our Happy Day. I think we're Jedis

C. B. Happy 367 days! We made it one year. Let's make it many more. I love you. P. P.

TO KMK- Thanks for the best year of my life. I love you. MAL.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

nice, one, two, three and four-bedrooms. Apartment com-plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare meals for invalid land lady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494-8201 or 889-4495.

FURNISHED ONE-BED-ROOM apartment, lo-cated at 1024 Sunset diately. Close to cam-pus, with coin operated laundry facilities, central air/ heat $320 includes water, trash and pest control. Call for an appointment, 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT furnished wall wall, utilities paid, clean, call 537-5176 or 537-5144. Saleh or Joe.

110 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very one, two, bedrooms. Apartment com-plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen tral air, heat, washer dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will

for appointments 776-3804. FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus,

537-8800. ONE BEDROOM basement, $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT near city park. Off-street parking, air, microwave included $295 plus water. Availimmediately

539-5518 evenings. ONE-BEDROOM

APARTMENT located at 1960 Hunting. Close to campus with facilities and fire place. $410 includes water and trash.

For appointment call 776-3804. ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities. $340. No Pets. 776-3804.

Pets. 776-3 Available Oct. 1. SPACIOUS ONE-two-bed room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539–4087.

SPACIOUS ONE bedroom apartment. Basement with own entrance near campus. $290/ month including utilities. Must

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058

THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $375/ month. 776-8628.

TWO-BEDROOM

BASEMENT apartment $300, bills paid. 539-8401.

120 For Rent-

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close to city park and campus Good neigh borhood. $62,900. 1 800-593-0519.

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Camous one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539–4087.

4X70 TWO-BEDROOM secellent condition. $6500, 537-8741.

1992 14X70 three-bedroom, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

NEW, LOW price, #162 Co-lonial Gardens, 1988 Skyline 14x70, was $17,750, now $15,725 fantastic financing

45 Roomma

Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Own room. One block from campus/ Aggieville. Great roommates. Very nice apartment. Call

FEMALE, OWN room, $150 Huk or Angie.

NON-SMOKER TO share two room house. $100 a month plus one-half utilities, leave message. 776-3464

TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more information call 776-3804. TWO FEMALES seek third roommate (male or fe-male) for house. $150/ month, one-third of utilities, own room. Close to campus. 776-4247.

150 Sublease

SUBLEASE- TWO-BED ROOM apartment at Park Place, pool, shuttle

> GET THE WORD OUT.

bus to campus, laundry facilities, water paid, $425 plus deposit. 537-

SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Resum

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing 25 plus years experi-ence. 539-5998 after

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer Also specializing in ta bles, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy

A B C typing service. You do the studying, let me do the typing. Reports, charts, Reports, charts, graphs, resumes and more. Overnight re sults when necessary Go ahead, me a call. 537-9480 after for 5p.m. ask

A QUALITY resume is vital today's com petitive job market. Contact the courteous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a decade 343 Colorado

53/-/294 ALL TYPING needs done expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

KSU- SALINA students/ staff: Hire a professional to type, edit and resumes, papers and presentations. Fast. Accurate. 823-6931.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in Engediting; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

000

BULLETIN

BOARD

235<sup>child Care</sup>

PROFESSIONAL COUPLE needs babysitter for several evenings each month. Two children ages three and four salary negotiable. 776-0325. References required.

240

WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Perform around state evenings and wee kends. Good pay 776-4999, 537-1741.

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhat tan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

255 Tattoos

Tattoo

Fine Line Tattoo Quality work, reasonably priced hospital sterilization 1028 W 6th 29th M

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

310 Help Wanted

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment are advised to approach any employment opp with reasonable Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE

Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. 40 PEOPLE needed to lose weight and make mon-ey. 539-1252.

CHILDCARE/ NANNIES east coast nannies. NY, Conn., Long Island, and NJ areas. Live-in one year commitments. $150 and placements. applications call (800)858-2429 or (316)682-1735.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (ASCP) or equivalent needed to fill full-time position and clinical re erence laboratory. Mi-crobiology experience required. Excellent benefits, competitive salary and no call back. Call 200

SERVICE

DIRECT-

ORY

TOO

HOUSING

REAL

ESTATE

Carol at 539-5363 or send resume to Box 128, Manhattan, KS 66502 Equal Opportunity Employer.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

OUTDOOR RENTAL/ Maintenance person want ed. Applications avail able at Recreational cation deadline is Fri day, October 2.

320 Needed

FACULTY AND Graduate students needed to volunteer for a study of diet and physical activ ity. For more informa-tion contact Jennifer

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED for research study on ex-ercise. Males or females 18 to 35 years old. Call 776-4719 for

The Collegian cannot in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap proach any such Also Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

$500 weekly home. Easy! No selling You're paid di rect. Fully guaranteed Free informa

Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk- free program. Average sales ime equals 4- 6 hours

> GET HORD

532-6556

400

OPEN

MARKET

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

300

EMPLOY

MENT/

CAREERS

Terry or Nancy week-days 8:30a.m.- 4:30p.m.

532-7309

Services office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday. Appli-

RN AND LPN wanted for weekends. 7-3 shift at Valley Vista Care Center, a mental health facility in Junction City. Please stop by 1115 W.

$120. 776-0872.

Click. 532-5508.

GOOD KITCHEN size GE reworkwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

tion— 24 hour hotline 801-379-2900.

Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265. ATTENTION FUNDRAISER for your organization Sell 16 month Kansas State University sports on consignment. Cal

TRANS-

PORTATION

800-967-4430 ask for

FOR SALE

OPEN MARKET

Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776–7472.

denim! We're always

buying Levi 501 jeans

APPLE IIE, color monitor software and books $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100. Hondo II bass guitar

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville. 539-1413. FOR SALE one pair 5 1/2 D lequal to 7 1/2 B- 8 B womens) kids black Justin Lace- up Ropers, $50. For sale one radar detector has the X, K and KA hands two on tional attachments. Almost brand new $100 call 532-2209 anytime 1979 CHEVY Love 4x4. Sixfrigerator, $125, call 776-2267. GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets, overcoats, new G.I boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT

GUITARS-STRATO CASTOR, case/ amp. $275 Sigma Acoustic, case-$275, 587-0096.

WATERBED- KING size with a headboard-bookshelf. Call evenings after 8p.m. 776-9845.

430 Antiques ANTIQUES- COLLECTI-Market 2010 Tuttle Creek Boulevard 537-4884 daily 10a.m.-6p.m., Sunday 1p.m.-5p.m. closed Wednesday. Have fun!

DESKTOP DANDY! NEC Powermate 386SX with VGA color, 40 Meg HD, two Meg RAM with six month warranty $800 or best offer. Portable ower! MicroTelesis (Lunchbox-style) 386 vith CGA gas plasma

600

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

OR WRITE 532-6555 COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS K-State Collegia Kedzie Hall 103

8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays) screen, one Meg RAM, 40 Meg RAM (17 ms) HD, full-size keyboard plus four expansion slots, $800 or best offer. IMAGEWRITER II printer for Macintosh comput-ers. $175 or best offer. Call anytime 539-9463 RICK'S MUSIC Shop, gui tar repair/ band in strument repair, 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 539-

FOR SALE, one dwarf rab bit, eight weeks, started litter training. Very friendly, black and white, with supplies. Roommate leaving must sell. 532-3326.

TRANS-

PORTATION

inch body lift, always truck for $970 587-0126 1986 CHRYSLER Lazer red with black leather interior, t-tops, power everything five-speed Turbo. Go fast! Turbo. Go fast! 539-2387 extension 40. 1986 MAZDA RX-7 silver/ gray 93K miles, excel-lent condition, fivespeed, AMFM cas

1988 CUTLASS Calais blue

good tires, $3800 or st offer, 537-4272.

auto air, cruise quad four engine low mile-age excellent condition 539-2053. 1989 CHEVROLET Celeb rity. Four door. 70K, $4800. 1986 Pontiac Grand Prix, V-8, power everything, 133K high-way mileage, $2950. Both excellent cars, will negotiate, 776-8881. 1990 HONDA CRX, teal, new tires, 35K, 40 mile per gallon, $9000 or best offer. 776-5054 ask for Scott. CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

RED 1984 Mazda RX-7 AM/FM cassette, four leave message

speed, 1 year paint job, new brakes. Great con-dition $3500 negotiable, Call 539-7735.

520 Bicycles

OFFICE HOURS

MONDAY-FRIDAY

1990 CANNONDALE moun tain bike, SM 400, lots of extras, good com-ponents. Ready to ride. Call 539–5480.

530

1984 HONDA Magna V30. Black, 21,000 miles. Looks and runs great. New front tire. Make offer. Must sell. 537 1986 KAWASAKI Ninja

600. Only 6K miles! New tires, great shape, cluded $2200, 539-5099. 540 Car Pool

WANTED: SHARE ride from Manhattan to Topeka for Drill 410th Evac. Call Jen 776-7546

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

CHRISTMAS BREAK STEAMBOAT MANUAL 18 - 7 - 100 1 MOLE - - 1400 VAIL/BEAVER CREEK 1814 - 1 2001 100 3 2 - 154 THINKS BRECKENRIDGE MUNT 24 - 5 6 08 7 80 75 COLLEGIATE SEI STEAKS

1-800-321-5911 ROYALS TRIP OCT, 4 520.00

 RT Bus Trans. Game Ticket Come See George Hit 3000! 537-7546

Classic 620 Airplant

537-2451.

K.S.U FOOTBALL

GAME PACKAGES

SAN JUAN Students
**Xmas Break** Airfare round trip from Kansas City $457.20 call Kansas State Travel.

October 10 October 31

November 14 K.S.U. vs. M.U.

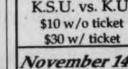

All packages include Round trip bus Game ticket

K.S.U. vs. O.U.

$40.00

assic (913) 537-7546

meal

$45.00

Tailgate party and

Natch For Tokyo Bowl Details! 1212 Moro

Fort Hays to keep fine arts master's

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 Hammond said those programs had a low number of graduates.

"It has to do with resource allocation," Hammond said. "We have limited resources, and there is more demand for undergraduate education. Those programs had not many people enrolled and not many graduates.

The master's degree in fine arts will continue to be offered, but that is inadequate, art department chairman Gary Coulter said.

"We have the only master's of arts program west of Highway 81," Coulter said.

"It is a large area, and we have a large responsibility. We are eliminating a very vital program. It doesn't matter if there are two or 20 graduates. We are providing a

Coulter said it is because of the

BUY-HIRE-SELL-RENT

COLLEGIAN

ClassADS

*******************

8 oz. Ribeye

Every Tues. & Wed.

5-8 p.m.

2315 Tuttle Creek

Student

regents that the program is to be said.
"We can't argue with the

"The regents set down that if a program does not graduate five a year, it is not viable. That's ridiculous," Coulter said.

"The faculty are not paid extra to teach graduates. The cost to the state is nothing. They are eliminating a program on the basis of graduates only.

Coulter said the biggest loss would be to the teachers in western Kansas who would be unable to get their master's degrees. The master's in art is the only degree in art that teachers can complete in the

"If you take a public school teacher in Scott City, and they can no longer come to Fort Hays to get an master's in art education, they won't go to Lawrence or to K-State. They'll go to Colorado," Coulter

Make music

Want to learn to play the guitar? Check the Collegian

classifieds to find someone to give you lessons. Only $5 for up to 20 words. You'll make

COLLEGIAN

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

music in no time.

numbers. We've graduated six in five years," Coulter said. "It appears we're losing the program for the wrong reasons.

Hammond said the cutbacks and additions are a result of streamlining on the part of the Fort Hays is going to offer undergraduate degrees in speechlanguage pathology and social work as an addition.

Look, all of these changes are going to occur in groups," Hammond said.

"K-State is going to reduce speech pathology, and we're going to add it. We're going to cut back on home ec, and K-State is going to keep it. Instead of a lot of schools doing the same thing, there's an effort to have one or two schools."

532-6555

Johnson interim dean CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 impressed him.

'He has the ability to greet a group or an individual and make them feel at ease and listen to what he has to say," Murphy said.

Johnson said he will serve for nine months, in which it will be decided whether to continue to have the dean direct the Cooperative Extension Service and the Agricultural Experiment

After the decision is made, Johnson said, a search for a permanent dean will be conducted, which will keep Johnson in the interim position for another six to

Johnson said he hasn't decided whether he will be a candidate for permanent dean.

Provost talks with students

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Students should have access to the decision-making process, said John Keller, professor of Regional and Community Planning.

Rinker said the "Strategic Themes for the Regents System" is possibly the most important document being used in the process.

It states that "each campus should strive to maintain a barrierfree environment for persons with disabilities and should make possible the inclusion of persons with disabilities in the life of the university community.

"How are the students to be accepted, make friends and be part of the University community, when they cannot communicate effectively?" Rinker said, about the proposed speech pathologycuts.

The program serves several University students, such as those with head trauma or those taking English as a Second Language.

School-age kids from kindergarten to high school, and people who have had strokes are other clientele the program serves, said Trisha Hughes, graduate student in speech pathology.

"The services offered in the speech pathology and audiology program at K-State are an integral part of making this University the type of place we want it to be," Rinker said.

Alaska!

Views of the Wilderness Thursday, Oct 1 7-8 p.m.

by Don Graber

(formerly on our staff, now living in Alaska) Free slide show and seminar at

304 POYNTZ

Monday Night Football Raiders vs. Chiefs BIG SCREEN 6 ft. x 8 ft.

> 23 oz. BIG BEER "1 $150 Sun., Mon., Tues.

> Macho Nachos Hot Wings "1 , $349

Enter our Monday Night Football Contest!

523 S. 17th 537-1484

776-5577

STOP

fooling yourself about your eating disorder! GET HELP NOW.

EATING DISORDER SUPPORT GROUP

Organization Meeting Tuesday, Sept. 29 4 p.m. Lafene Health Center Room 1 Lower Level ***Everyone Welcome***

GREAT MEMORIES START

HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

Travel Experts

- Student airfares.
- International studentairfares. Railpasses issued here.
- Internat'l Identity cards.
- Worldwide adventure tours. Travel gear and guidebooks. Expert travel advice.

Council Travel

1634 Orington Ave

Evanston, II 60201 1-800-475-5070

MARKETING CLUB presents

Hallmark

Stacy Bishop, speaker Tonight, September 28 at 7 p.m. Union Little Theater

ERIKSEN SPORTS MEDICINE ·····CLINIC·····

·Evaluation, Diagnosis, Treatment

·Rehabilitation of sports related injuries and problems

Determine Body Fat Percentages

·Heat Stress Information

·Information and advice on Fitness, Injury Prevention, Health Effects of Exercise

> For Appointments 532-7880

776-5577

1800 Claflin Rd. FirstBank Center

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Prime Time Special 3 - 10 in. Pizzas 1 - Topping 4 - Cokes

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings 2 - Cokes

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

AIR FORCE ROTC UNITS FILLED TO CAPACITY

NOT!

Don't believe everything you hear. The Air Force continues to seek outstanding students to fill future officer requirements. See yourself becoming a leader, graduating from college as an Air Force officer with fully developed qualities of character and managerial ability. Notice, too, the opportunities. Like eligibility for scholarship programs that can pay tuition, textbooks, fees...even $100 in tax-free income each academic month.

Visualize a crisp uniform that reflects pride in yourself and your ability to accept challenge. Get the picture? Now make a call!

> Capt. Boyer Capt. Barham 532-6600 Aim High-Air Force

Old sins in a new world

25% Off a Special Selection of Banned Books

BANNED BOOKS WEEK '92 September 28 - October 2, 1992

K-State Union Bookstore

We appreciate your support. Your dollars continue to help the K-State Union sponso K-State Union Bookstore 532-6583

SEPTEMBER 29, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99. NUMBER 26

RILEY COUNTY

Gun laws relatively relaxed

Whether a person supports the Brady Bill or the National Rifle Association, firearms regulation has been hotly debated for years.

Ambiguous is the word gun store owners used to describe Kansas laws regulating possession of guns. And as for registration, the only people responsible are gun retailers.

"There is no requirement in Kansas that you register a gun," said period on purchasing places. In can carry a handgun on them period. Anyone over 21

LOCAL

GUN LAWS

There is no waiting

handguns in many

Manhattan, there is a two-day waiting

as long as it is not concealed.

Sgt. Bill Reece, Riley County Police Department. "If you purchase a gun from any retailer, there are federal and state forms to be filled out, but not by the consumer.' In Manhattan, a person can walk down any street carrying a gun, as long at it is in plain view, Reece said. The only restriction on handguns is that a person be 21 years old to buy one. The other main restriction is that a person cannot have a concealed weapon, but there are many exceptions to that rule.

"One of the clauses to that one is that if a person is engaged in fishing or hunting, they can have a weapon that isn't in plain view," Reece said. "Then you get into the area of when is a person actually engaged in that activity during the ride out to the lake, or when he gets

"When you get into different municipalities, there are so many different interpretations of the Kansas law," he said. "For instance, I could walk into a pawn and gun shop in Ogden, look at a gun, give the guy my money and walk out the door."

Reece said that the laws in Junction City are different than Manhattan's. Junction City doesn't

■ See GUN Page 10

COLLEGE OF VETERINARY MEDICINE

Racing leftovers help fund research

The future's bright for these two greyhounds because of $700,000 K-State is receiving from the Kansas Racing Commission for research on the racing dogs.

becoming greyhound study center

When it comes to studying greyhounds, K-State is a champ.

"K-State's College Veterinary Medicine has received the lion's share of research monies," said Dana Nelson, executive director of the Kansas Racing Commission.

The KRC approved $700,000, to be paid over three years, to the college. The money will finance 21 greyhound research projects.

Each year, 35 percent of the unclaimed winning tickets fund is allocated to promote the well-being Lorenz, dean of the College of of greyhound research in Kansas, said Harish Minocha, associate dean of research.

Minocha said this year nearly $242,000 went to research projects. "K-State has been receiving a good chunk of the money," Nelson said. "Kansas has more money than all other states combined dedicated to greyhound research. This is a very positive thing. This program could put K-State on the map as one of the major research centers in the area.

Three years ago, Michael

Veterinary Medicine, organized a greyhound research focus group, anticipating research monies from the KRC.

'Our investigators rose to the occasion," Minocha said.

'We're hoping K-State will become a center for greyhound research. We are already at the forefront in the country," he said. "We are very lucky to have financial support from the Kansas Racing Commission.'

Projects approved this year will get underway this semester, said Doug Elcock, fiscal adviser at the College of Veterinary Medicine. In four of the projects, researchers will try to determine why some dogs' immune systems don't respond to some vaccinations. The data could act as model system for treating humans in the future.

"The immune system of greyhounds hasn't been studied extensively. Their response to vaccines has not been fully evaluated," Minocha said.

"We're also trying to determine

■ See GREYHOUNDS Page 7

"Kansas has more money than all other states combined dedicated to greyhound research."

DANA NELSON

Parks may be mined

Source: Associated Press, World Book

Interior department policy change worries environmentalists

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — The U.S. Department of the Interior is close to approving rules that could open national forests and some national parks to strip mining, unless the government buys the mineral rights.

Interior spokesman Steven Goldstein said Monday there are no plans to allow strip mining in national parks, because in each of those cases the government would buy up mineral rights or arrange for a land exchange.

Goldstein said the policy change involves compensation of those holding mineral rights. "The rule change makes it very clear there will be no mining in the parks," he said. Interior's proposed regulatory change was reported in Monday's editions of the New York Times.

Nevertheless, any hint of the government allowing strip mining in national parks or forests that are adjacent to parks has caused ripples of concern among conservationists.

This could be the most disastrous action taken by any administration in the 76-year history of the National Park Service," said Paul Pritchard, president of the National Parks and Conservation Association, a private advocacy group on park issues.

Association spokeswoman Kathy Westra said the issue of compensation should not be dealt with by the administration but left to the

She said the proposed interior policy change could strain the fund used for compensatory claims.

Strip mining has been prohibited on federally protected lands for 15 years, since Congress enacted broad-reaching strip mine legislation in 1977.

That law, however, exempted those mining interests that held "valid existing rights" to

See MINING Page 5

GREGORY A. BRANSON/Collegian

Perot eyes race again

ASSOCIATED PRESS

DALLAS - Ross Perot said Monday there was a great deal of overlap between his economic views and those of President Bush and Bill Clinton.

Perot kept to himself on whether he would enter the presidential race.

"There is no messianic drive here to have a candidate or to have me as a candidate," Perot said after emissaries of Bush and Clinton made unprecedented overtures to win the support of the Texàs billionaire and his followers.

After meeting with delegations from both camps, Perot remained noncommittal, insisting the answer rested with the supporters who placed his name on the ballot in all 50 states.

"If the volunteers ... feel that it's appropriate that I run, certainly I am going to honor their request. Then, I will give it everything I have night and day," he said.

Earlier, he suggested a decision by Thursday.

■ See ECONOMIC Page 3

■ What could happen if Perot decides to enter the presidential race?

SEE STORY

PAGE 3.

NEWS DIGEST

PAKISTANI JET CRASH KILLS 167

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) -A Pakistani jet full of Europeans plowed into a hillside Monday. Rescuers reported no survivors among the 167 aboard.

Officials said one American was aboard the Pakistani International Airlines Airbus A-300 when it crashed on a landing approach.

This is the second air disaster near the capital in as many months.

STING NETS ALLEGED KINGPINS

ROME — Two alleged drug kingpins were arrested in the heart of Rome Monday. They were among the first nabbed in a dragnet that dealt a heavy blow to a Mafia-Colombian connection, authorities said. "Operation Green Ice" used a sting to catch about 200 people over the weekend in the United States, Italy and at least five other countries.

KSU food drive to remind students of local hunger

An informational meeting for groups interested in participating in the food drive will be at 8:30 tonight in Union 212.

Some K-State students are trying to increase campus awareness of and combat local hunger

"K-State's 30 days of Thanksgiving," a campus-wide food drive, will be Oct. 15 through Non-perishable food items will be collected by the Flint Hills Breadbasket for needy families in the Manhattan area. Many of these items will be distributed in food baskets for Thanksgiving.

Donated items will also be used to replenish food pantries run by local churches.

The objective of the food drive is to make K-State students aware that there is a hunger problem in Manhattan, said Jill Dirksen, junior in architectural engineering and chairwoman of the drive's campus committee.

The donated cans of food will be used to build a visible reminder of hunger in this society, said Scott Anderson, senior in architectural Engineering students will design and build the structure. It will be displayed in the K-State

"People will see the progress we're making, and maybe they'll toss in a can to help complete the project," Anderson said.

The structure will be modeled on an already existing building, such as Anderson Hall or the White House, Anderson said.

CLARIFICATION

On Page 1 of Friday's Collegian, a photo package about three men preaching in K-State Union Plaza carried the photo caption "Campus crusade." The men were not affiliated with the K-State group Campus Crusade for Christ, nor did the Collegian intend to imply that they were.

The Collegian regrets any misunderstanding.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, ons will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroo

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

At 6:20 a.m., Richard Howerton, 412 N. Third St., reported an individual at the northwest doors of Van Zile trying to get inside. The person reportedly saw Howerton. threw items in a red car and left.

At 9:19 a.m., a Geo Storm, license plate No. FVC474, was wheellocked in

At 11:20 a.m., KSU Child Care advised that a child at Jardine Child Care had taken III. Police contacted the mother in class. At 1:16 p.m., a purse theft was

At 3 p.m., Rusnani Abdul-Kadir, A12 Jardine, reported four Nissan Sentra wheel covers stoler At 3 p.m., Jeff P. Besel reported his blue Raleigh Sportiff 10-speed bicycle stolen from the southwest corner of Marlatt Hall.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28

At 8:29 a.m., Richard Gardner of Manhattan Christian College, 1415 Anderson Ave., reported damage to five college doors and theft of 15 keys. Burglary loss was $500.

At 10:01 a.m., Debble, an employee at the offices of Michael D. Wangsgaard, D.D.S., 1400 Beechwood Terrace, reported a break-in and theft of two boxes of rubber gloves and 50 vials of anesthesia. Loss was $35.

At 11:20 a.m., Vince Kalbach, 2140 Westchester Apartments, No. 2, reported damage to the hood, windshield and hatchback of his Nissan 300ZX, Loss was $900.

At 11:31 a.m., a child abuse report was filed.

At 2:03 p.m., David Welte, 2021 College View Road, reported the theft of a gold chain and three shirts from his apartment. Loss was $540.

CORRECTION

In the Academic Awareness Week story in Monday's Collegian, it was incorrectly reported that "Dressing for Success: Making That Professional Statement" would be Wednesday. The program will be at 8 p.m. tonight in Putnam Hall lounge.

The Collegian regrets the error.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week kick-off luncheon will be Oct. 5. Call 532-6541 for reservations by Thursday at 12 p.m. Cost is

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

- K-State's 30 Days of Thanksgiving will meet at 8:30 p.m. in
- International Club will meet at 4:30 p.m. in the International Student Center.
- New Currents music club will meet at 7 p.m. at 1408 Beechwood Terrace, No. 3.
- Amateur Radio Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 203. ■ Circle K will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 206. Speaker will be Gary
- Phi Eta Sigma/Alpha Lambda Delta service project committee will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 202.
- Food and Nutrition Interest Groups will meet at 4 p.m. in Justin
- Golden Key National Honor Society will have an informational
- meeting at 7 p.m. in Union Little Theatre. ■ Intramural wrestling meet will have a mandatory meeting at 6:45 p.m. in the small gym at the Rec Complex. Matches start at 7
- Young Democrats will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 207.
- Engineering and Computer Science Career Fair will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. ■ K-Staters for Clinton-Gore will meet at 8 p.m. in Union
- Stateroom 3. ■ National Agri-Marketing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in
- Union 213. Yearbook pictures will be taken. ■ Bakery Science Club will meet at 5 p.m. in Shellenberger Hall,
- Wheat State Agronomy Club will meet at 7 p.m. in
- Throckmorton 313.
  - Sailing Club will meet at 6:15 p.m. in Union 205.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

- Pi Sigma Epsilon will meet at 5 p.m. in Calvin 211.
- Hospitality Management Society will meet at 8 p.m. in the Justin Hall lobby
- Friends of Big Brothers and Big Sisters will meet at 7 p.m. in
- Career Planning and Placement will sponsor a résumé-building workshop from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Union 207.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny and mild. High in the lower 70s. Tonight, clear and cool. Low in the lower to mid-40s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Sunny and warmer. High in the upper 70s.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Thursday through Saturday: No rain expected. Mild with highs in the mid-70s to mid-80s. Lows in the 50s.

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	82/50	clear
Bermuda	86/73	cloudy	Rome	81/61	cloudy
Helsinki	54/50	rain	Stockholm	75/50	cloudy
London	63/59	cloudy	Vancouver	59/43	clear

DAY

ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE CAREER FAIR

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

K-STATE UNION BALLROOM

9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

FREE TO ALL ENGINEERING STUDENTS AND COMPUTING AND INFORMATION SCIENCE STUDENTS

AT&T and Sandia National Laboratories ARCO Pipe Line Company Andersen Consulting B&V Waste Science & Tech. BASF Corporation Cargill, Inc. Central Intelligence Agency Citgo Petroleum Corporation City of Wichita, Engg. Div. Conoco, Inc.

Corps of Engineers, Kansas City District Dept. of Aerospace Studies-KSU The Dow Chemical Company DST Systems, Inc.

Exxon

Eveready Battery Co., Inc. Factory Mutual Engineering Association

Federal Aviation Administration Federal Highway Administration Florida Power & Light-Nuclear HBE Corporation

Hallmark Cards, Inc.

Kansas City Power & Light Kansas Dept. of Transportation

KSU Military Science Dept. Koch Industries

The Marley Cooling Tower Co. Midwest Research Institute

Missouri Highway & Trans.Dept. NCR

National Starch & Chemical Company Payless Shoe Source The Proctor & Gamble Mfg. Company

Ralston Purina Company St. Joseph Light & Power Company

Texaco Refining & Marketing, Inc.

U.S. Air Force Recruiting Service U.S. Environ. Protection Agency

U.S. Navy Engineering Programs Valassis Inserts

Vulcan Chemicals

Western Resources (formerly KPL)

Williams Natural Gas Company

Wilson & Company Wolf Creek Nuclear Operating Corp.

Perot: possible help or harm

WASHINGTON - Ross Perot's flirtation with a renewed presidential bid could provide the break in Democrat Bill Clinton's momentum that Republicans have been seeking.

That's the best-case analysis from the Bush camp on the latest developments in

The worst case, from the GOP view, is that Perot will either endorse Clinton or praise his economic policies as closest to

But Perot gave no clear sign of what he was up to Monday, as he and supporters heard presentations from the Bush and Clinton camps.

Democrats are claiming a Perot candidacy would make it harder for Bush to carry two of his must-win states: Texas and Florida, which together have 57 of the 270 electoral votes needed for victory.

But no one seems able to say for certain how Perot's re-entry might play in toss-up states and those where much of Clinton's support reflects an anti-Bush protest vote.

Down in the polls with just five weeks to go to Election Day, Bush needs something dramatic to get him out of a rut.

adviser Charles Black said a formal Perot candidacy would cause some changes.

"It would reshuffle the deck and cause everyone to take a new look," Black said.

Black and other GOP operatives argue that since more Perot supporters went to Clinton than to the president when Perot withdrew last July, Clinton now has more to lose than Bush if Perot returns.

'There are only two things that can turn it around for Bush: Perot's re-entry or the debates. The foundation has settled, and voters have basically made their choices. For Bush to win, he's got to shake that up,' said GOP pollster Frank Luntz, who has polled for Perot.

If Perot becomes a candidate, it also could change the dynamics of debates.

With the Bush campaign so far resisting the one-moderator debate format favored by Clinton, there is the possibility of a debate between Perot and Clinton.

A three-way debate among Bush, Clinton and Perot would inject yet another wild card. And with Bush so far back in the polls, any uncertainty can be seized on as an opportunity by his operatives.

Economic policies shared

Ross Perot said he found commonality with his ideas in both the Bush and Clinton plans.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

State leaders of the Perot movement assembled Monday in Dallas to hear the campaign presentations. Afterward, they planned to poll Perot supporters on whether he should run, throw his support to Bush or Clinton, or stay out of the race and remain neutral.

Perot met in closed-door sessions with the Democrats for 2 1/2 hours in the morning. He then had a similar meeting with Republicans.

Perot praised the Clinton delegation. Participants said Clinton's economic growth and deficit-reduction programs dominated the discussion.

"There is a lot of commonality," Perot said after meeting with the Democrats. "Where there are differences of opinion, they are honest differences of opinion, with both sides looking for answers, and neither side frozen in its Perot had similarly kind words for the Republicans and said he found commonality with the Bush campaign, too.

He refused to say which plan he preferred. But Bush campaign chairman Robert Teeter said he saw a lot of differences between the plans.

Perot's legions were divided over whether he should run, regardless of what they heard Monday.

Perot said retired Vice Admiral James Stockdale, a former Vietnam prisoner of war whom he had designated as his interim running mate, would be his vice presidential candidate if he decides to run.

As Perot inched closer to an 11th-hour candidacy, some associates said he did not want to run and was looking for a rationale not to run.

Theater as a learning tool

SHEDERA BAUSCH

It doesn't need water, food or sunlight. Yet, it is

It is the new Growing Theatre Company, and as it grows, it will enlighten young children and draw them into entertainment and learning. The company is an educational outreach project that stresses drama as a learning tool. In cooperation with the Manhattan Arts Council, Opening Night Theatre and K-State, the company will present plays that provide an education, as well as entertainment, to fifth- and sixth-grade students.

Jennifer Catney, company director and graduate student in theater, said she started the company as part of her master's degree work.

"I've had experience working with educational outreach programs before in Tennessee and Ohio," Catney said.

She created the group because of the lack of exposure fine arts get in school. Schools cannot afford the time or the money to stress the arts,

"The future of theater is young kids. If they don't get theater when they are young, it will die," Catney said.

Even with experience, she said, she had to overcome obstacles to get the company started.

First, Catney had to gain University approval, then establish funds, find support material and people to turn her idea into reality.

If a success, the company will become a studentdirected program with auditions each semester.

Catney said the Growing Theatre Company hopes to become self-sufficient, relying on ticket sales and donations.

The Growing Theatre Company will combine theater and social studies in its performances. Catney said she hopes this will appeal to gradeschool teachers as an alternative learning tool.

"The production serves a dual purpose - as an exposure to theater and to multicultural issues."

She chose a play by Steven C. Anderson, "Mama Said Never," a series of stories from around the world, for the company's first production. Each scene presents a problem, such as racism and censorship, and a solution.

Laura Camien, member of the company and junior in theater, said the members support each

"We've just begun to realize the potential of drama in educating children," Camien said.

Another member, LaFern Watkins, junior in theater, said the company reaches beyond that as "We are bringing different types of culture to the students, and we're showing them that they're the same no matter where they come from," Watkins

Growing Theatre Company's first performance will be Oct. 1 at the Purple Masque Theatre.

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

D.C. Junior, senior in theater, rehearses for "Mama Said Never" as director Jennifer Catney, graduate student in theater, takes notes.

Thank you to Parents' Weekend Sponsors

Woody's Ladies St First National Bank and Trus A Sunflower Bank oyce's Hair Tamers

Subway Sandwiches Aggie Bike Station
Tuttle's Artique Market
Varney's Book Store
Hardee's
Ramada Inn The Loft

Hibachi Hut

Last Chance Rest odson Auto Trim KG Men's Store Ice Cream Social

Hayne's Beauty Supply Delta Delta Delta Stickel Cleaners and Shirt Advanced Business Systems Borck Brothers Men's Wear

Dillard's Ben Franklin Crafts Kansas State Bank Waters True Value Hardwar

oreme Elegance mething Different Uniform and Monogram Shop

uto Accessories Cary Company Pop's Collectab Sowell Tailors and Cleans Import Car Parts Drake Realty Radio Shack

Taco Hut Patricia's Undercover Lowman's Men's Store Payless Optical Outlet Hair Shapers Burger King Manhattan Federal Savings and Loan Association Capitol Federal Savings and Loan Asso Conde Music and Electric Inc.

Barry's Drug Center G. Thomas Jewelry Danenberg's Holiday

Parents' Weekend 1992 Schedule of Events

Friday, October 2

Pig Roast Dinner, Union Stateroom, 6 to 7:30 p,m. Advance reservations re-

8 p.m. Entertainment, McCain Auditorium, Paul Kelleher and Scott Novotny.

Saturday, October 3

College of Engineering Tours, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Taste of K-State. Dairy Bar, Call Hall, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Meat Sales Laboratory, 111 Weber Hall, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Bakery, Shellenberger Hall, 9 a.m.

Guided tours of K-State's main campus. Tours leave from the ground floor of the Union at 9, 9:30 and 10 a.m.

Rappelling Demonstrations, Weapons Demonstrations, Army Displays and Tactics Demonstrations, Military Science Building, 9 a.m. to noon.

Family Portraits with Willie the Wildcat, Union Courtyard, 9 a.m.

Center for Basic Cancer Research, Ackert Hall Lobby, 9 and 10:30 a.m.

Air Force ROTC Drill Competition and Parade Ceremonies, Ahearn

College of Business Administration reception and tour, Calvin Hall. Meet the new dean, visit with faculty members and tour Calvin Hall.

Guided tours of K- 11 a.m. State's main campus. Tours leave from the ground floor of the Union

Macdonald Laboratory Tour, Cardwell 119, 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

at 9, 9:30 and 10 a.m.

Pre-game Burger Buffet, K-State Union Bluemont Room. No advance reservations necessary.

Guided tours of K-State's main campus. Tours leave from the ground floor of the Union at 9, 9:30 and 10 a.m.

Rose Garden and Conservatory Tour, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Myths and Facts about Nukes, Durland Hall Paslay Lecture Hall, 10 to 10:30 a.m.

Insects and People 4:30 p.m. Through History exhibit, Waters 133, 10 a.m.

College of Agriculture Reception, Waters Hall 137, 10 to 11 a.m.

K-State Historic Costume and Textiles Collection Tour, 338 Justin Hall, 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. College of Architecture and Design Parents' Open House and Tailgate Luncheon, Seaton Court, 10:30 a.m. Reservations are required for the luncheon and are lim-

Center for Basic Cancer Research, Ackert Hall Lobby, 9 and 10:30 a.m.

ited to families of architecture and design stu-

College of Human Ecology pre-game tailgate party at KSU Stadium. $1 charge at the event.

K-State Historic Costume and Textiles Collection Tour, 338 Justin Hall, 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and

Macdonald Laboratory Tour, Cardwell 119,9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

12:30 p.m. Football Game, KSU Sta-

Macdonald Laboratory Tour, Cardwell 119,9:30 a.m., 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

K-State Historic Costume and Textiles Collection Tour, 338 Justin Hall, 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and Parents' Day Buffet, K-State Union Ballroom. Advance reservations required.

Sunday, October 4

Wildcat Scramble Golf Tournament, 9:30 a.m. at Custer Hill Golf Course. Advance reservations required

11 a.m.

Family worship on campus, Danforth Chapel (Protestant) and St. Isidore's Catholic Campus Center.

KSU Gospel Service on campus, All Faiths Chapel (interdenominational, interracial, international).

For a more detailed schedule contact the Alumni Association, 532-6260.

Parent's Day is Oct. 3. Don't forget to take an opportunity to thank them for all they've done for you over the years.

The Collegian Classifieds will feature a special section for Mom and Dad personals on Friday, Oct. 2. Place your ad today in Kedzie 103 (east of the Union).

Remember, they've given you a lifetime of happiness. Now it's your turn to make their day.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Mom and/or Dad a special day at Kansas State University. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Your name	Your I.D. number
Address	Telephone number Message
	5, 5933
	11025

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

SEPTEMBER 29, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Mining may give parks a shaft

THE ISSUE

New legislation may allow strip mining to take ace on derally protected park and buffer

WE SUGGEST

Mining Interests should be justly compensated as dictated by the Fifth not allowed to start operations in rare areas.

One percent of the nation's park land doesn't sound like all that much.

But when the threat of having it swept away in the interest of strip mining arises, it takes on all-new proportions.

This is exactly what may happen if the U.S. Department of the Interior approves rules allowing companies who own mineral rights on protected lands to go in and mine them.

Until now, this had been prevented by smart legislation that prohibited strip mining on federally protected lands. Only mining interests with "valid existing rights" were allowed to

Now, unless these interests are given just compensation by the Department of the Interior, as specified by the Fifth Amendment and eminent domain, they will be allowed to go in and reap the riches that lay in parks in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, West Virginia and Alabama.

This cannot be allowed to happen. Our nation's park lands are already severely limited, and just 1 percent equals tens of thousands of acres of protected area.

This is not radical conservationism; this is common sense.

Yes, mining is an important industry for the United States, providing thousands of jobs. But the government should find every way to compensate these interests without putting our national wildlife areas and buffer lands at further danger.

President Bush once claimed he was going to be the "environmental president," but he has done little since his inauguration to prove it. Now he has an opportunity to put pressure on the interior department to keep this strip mining from happening.

For once, it may be possible for big business and conservation to find a detent area. It's up to the federal government to help this happen.

Strip mining should be canned before we end up scratching our heads, wondering where all our national parks have disappeared to.

READERS WRITE

JUST GUYS

Group correct in excluding females

As a former member of Just Guys, I felt that I had to respond to David Filippi's column "Men's groups not helping situation.

While I agree that in most cases exclusion is wrong, I feel it is justified in this case. These meetings are not about malebonding and women-bashing. Instead, the members are exploring what it means to be a man. They are attempting to liberate themselves from the oppressive stereotypes of men uncommunicative, unemotional moneymakers.

While I think it is very important that the sexes eventually come together to discuss common issues in the "battle of the sexes," little will be accomplished until both men and women have a clear understanding of their own separate identities.

I encourage Filippi to attend the next meeting of Just Guys. See for yourself what it's all about and then make an informed decision about its that she didn't have to go if she didn't want to.

> Sarah Cunningham Graduate student/English

As for judgment, you are the one who lacks any by saying the Army does not promote moral judgment. I think you need to do some research before you start passing judgment on the Army.

The military encourages moral judgment as much as any other employer. That is one reason why people are promoted. And like in any job, you can be transferred to a new location if your skills are needed. That is why she was called upon to go to the Persian also her Hippocratic Oath because there were more than just soldiers needing her help.

history, you ought to know that States during the gulf war. It's like comparing apples to My advice to you is that before you go shooting your mouth off again, get copies of the oaths Huet-Vaughn took upon induction into the military and when she became a doctor. Once you have read them, then you can decide if she showed good "moral judgment."

> Steven Coleman Senior/Mechanical

▶ RELIGION

Subject of religion growing old, tedious

Editor.

Why must we be bombarded every week by the holy rollings of Scott Spradlin and John Hart? If I really wanted to read about religion, I would call a Kingdom Hall and have someone send a batch of pamphlets and interpreter right over.

I respect the rights of these two men to subscribe to their religious beliefs, just as I would hope that they would respect my right not to practice a religion. I should think it would be possible for one of these two to write a column without pushing religion down the throats of readers of a nonreligious newspaper on a campus that is not funded by a church.

Maybe the Collegian should have a religion insert that can be easily removed and thrown away.

> Jason Brown Freshman/Agronomy

POLITICS

Letter doesn't justify soldier's actions

Editor.

I am writing in response to Shawn Woodford's editorial on Huet-Vaughn's Yolanda decision not to participate in the Persian Gulf War.

For one, the Army today is completely voluntary. Meaning that each soldier who enlists is obligated to protect and defend the United States in time of

I am appalled at anyone who enlists in the Army and then uses the lame excuse of being a "conscientious objector" when it comes time to go to war.

The oath they take clearly state that they will support and defend the Constitution and that they take upon this obligation without purpose of evasion. The oath obligates them to fight and die, if necessary, whenever called upon to do so.

I am a member of the Kansas Army National Guard and I clearly knew what was expected of me upon enlisting. I am proud to serve and willing to abide by my contract without hesitation. Huet-Vaughn decided what she had signed was not a legal document and

Gulf. Huet-Vaughn not only went against her military oath but There were civilians. Being a graduate student in you can't even begin to compare Germany during World War II to the United engineering

POLITICS

Editorial misses draft issue's point

The liberal bias of the Collegian is well known, so it wasn't surprising the Sept. 21 editorial, "Accusations growing Tedious," tried to defend Clinton's draft evasion. However, I was amazed at your excuse for his actions. You said, "What Clinton and Quayle did to avoid Vietnam happened 20 years ago, when they were all but children.' If Clinton's and Quayle's actions shouldn't be taken seriously, because they were "all but children" 20 years ago during their college years, how seriously should your opinions be taken?

> Steven Gregersen Manhattan resident

DOUGLAS LECTURE Story's errors are

corrected by speaker

In the reporting of my Lou Douglas Lecture on Sept. 22, 1992, your story stated: "Higher tuition with fewer educational programs, lower salaries for faculty and administration and poorer education could be the result of a universal healthinsurance program.'

In fact, I stated these dire consequences are resulting from failure to control PRESENTLY increasing medical-care costs, particularly out of control Medicaid costs paid by the state Kansas.

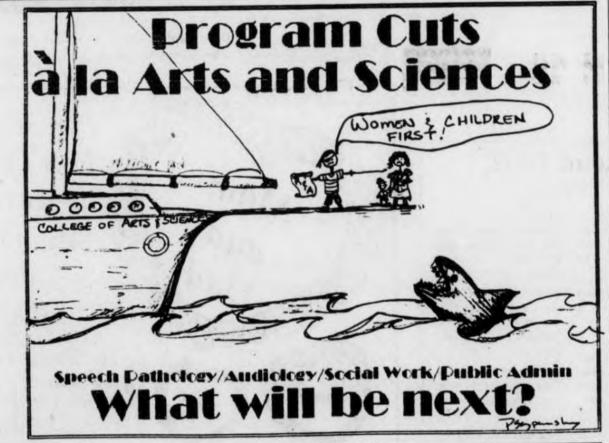

Universal health insurance would control total expenditures for medical care, and permit adequate funding for education and other state obligations.

The reporter also said, "3.7 million Americans ... have no insurance." The correct number as given in the Lecture is 37 million.

Thank you for correcting the one statement which carries a message 180 degrees different than I delivered.

Dr. William Roy Chairman/Kansas Commission on the Future of Health Care

GUEST CARTOON

Preachers should sit and judge only themselves

ast Thursday afternoon, K-State students were assaulted by the forceful preachings of three unknown men. As these moral vigilantes fired off judgment after judgment, our cherished free-speech zone became a clatter of oral condemnation for all who were

Although I personally escaped the scathing speech of these mealy-mouthed doomsayers, I received reports from individuals who had witnessed the incident. Once the account had been transmitted to me, I couldn't help but cringe.

In as much as I understand the goings-on of last Thursday, it would seem that these proclaimers of bad news bashed college students with indignation and hell-fire. While one of the preachers claimed to have not sinned in three years, he reminded all who were present of what hopeless and pathetic sinners they

While the public address roused the anger and interest of the audience, the message was void of hope and spiritually bleak. These Bible thumping marauders pressed an indelible sense of disgust upon the hearts and minds of their listeners.

SPRADLIN

Images Bakker, that other Jim with the last name Swaggart, and current scourge of TV evangelism, Robert Tilton, all came to mind. I struggled with a surge of embarrassment, sadness and

The implications of what these three mystery preachers said to the people of K-State haunts me even now.

How presumptuous and egoistic to claim to be without sin. If these men had been familiar with God's word, they would know 1 John 1:8-10 says to claim to be without sin is to call God a liar and stands out as evidence that the truth is not in such a person. I do not understand the point in their preaching. They brought to attention humanity's sinfulness, but they forgot to mention the possibility for repentance and change through the love of Christ and the power of his grace. The messengers' decorum was reprehensible and odious, and I seriously question the motives involved. The Christian faith has been plagued with the likes of these men and fraudulent Jim Bakker types from its very beginning.

Writing to the church in Corinth, the apostle Paul directed attention to the matter by speaking of himself and other faithful Christians by saying: "Unlike so many, we do not peddle the word of God for profit. On the contrary, we speak before God with sincerity as men sent from God." (2 Cor. 2:17)

Phillipians 1:15 also draws out the idea that there were individuals preaching Christ out of rivalry and envy, but there were others preaching out of goodwill.

What were the motives of Thursday's surprise preachers? From the lack of care for favoritism and rapport, my guess is not money. From their lack of love and failure to offer hope through repentance, my guess is not to win new souls to the kingdom. My closest estimation is self-righteousness.

Whereas these Bible-wielding bad boys preach for their own sake, others are preaching the gospel in sincerity, out of love for God and love for their fellow humans. The word "preach" does not mean "to shove one's ideology down the throat of another." It simply means "to make known" or "to announce."

Jesus Christ himself 'preached" as he declared God's kingdom had come to earth. Jesus did not leave people in a no-win circumstance by simply telling them what they already knew about themselves. He offered them a new life on earth and eternal life by giving his own.

The truth of that matter is just as valid for all of us today as it was for the people of Palestine 2,000 years ago.

Ex-prisoners tell of Muslim slaughter

25% Off a Special Selection of Banned Books

BANNED BOOKS WEEK '92

We appreciate your support. Your dollars continue to help the K-State Union sponso student services, programs and activities.

September 28 - October 2, 1992

K-State Union Bookstore

K-State Union Bookstore 532-6583

WASHINGTON — Two former prisoners from Serb-run detention camps have told U.S. officials of the slaughter of about 3,000 Muslims last spring.

Monday, the State Department described the accounts as the worst massacre of the six-month war Department spokesman Richard Boucher said the witnesses were former prisoners in a brick factory

Old

SINS

in a new world

Censorship:

who independently estimated that reaffirmed the administration's 3,000 men, women and children were killed in Brcko in May and

"They claim to have witnessed the spontaneous murders of up to 50 prisoners at a time," Boucher

He said the administration is giving the information to U.N.

Boucher made the disclosure, as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Gen. Colin Powell, longstanding policy against the use of force to end Serbian attacks on

The administration has been working with European countries to bring peace through economic and diplomatic pressure.

Powell and other administration officials are concerned the use of force in the former Yugoslavia could produce a Vietnam-like quagmire for the United States.

One military step under of a "no-fly zone" over Bosnia use of military planes to prevent Serbian aircraft from penetrating Bosnian air space.

Boucher said Monday no decision has been made on the

Hansen

Nutrition Center

"YOUR HEALTH FOOD

SUPER MARKET"

3112 ANDERSON AVE.

ACROSS FROM VILLAGE

PLAZA

537-4571

"DIET CURES

Mining may be allowed

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

coal deposits prior to its enactment. How to deal with those who hold rights has been the subject of controversy between environ-mentalists and miners for years. It has led to debate within the Department of the Interior.

The department has defined those with valid existing rights as anyone who had made "good faith efforts" to mine the coal prior to

Aug. 3, 1977, when the stripmining law went into effect.

But several court decisions said the prohibition is an unconstitutional taking of property, unless the government compensates.

"This is fundamentally a constitutional issue. Can the government take someone's right to develop their private property without compensation?" Goldstein

Sigma Kappa is Proud to Present The 1st Annual 1993

MEN of K-STATE

Calendar

If you or anyone you know would be interested in being one of the 12 men featured please contact

Traci Klein at 587-0337 or sign up in the Union Oct. 1 & 2

Sigma Nu-Oct. 6

WHAT DIET CAUSES" ROYAL PURPLE

Gamma Phi Beta-Sept. 21-22 Kappa Alpha Psi-Sept. 22 Kappa Alpha Theta-Sept. 22-23 Kappa Delta-Sept. 23-24 Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sept. 24-25 Kappa Sigma-Sept. 25 Lambda Chi Alpha-Sept. 25 Omega Psi Phi-Sept. 28 Phi Beta Sigma-Sept. 28 Phi Delta Theta-Sept. 28 Phi Gamma Delta-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Tau-Sept. 29 Phi Kappa Theta-Sept. 29 Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1

Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2

Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

ACADEMY AWARD WINNER Best Foreign Language Film 1979

In German with English subtitles--rated R

Wednesday, Sept. 30

Thursday, Oct. 1

Forum Hall

Friday, Oct. 2

Little Theatre

McCAIN AUDITORIUM, 8 p.m. FRIDAY, OCT. 2

PAUL KELLEHER and SCOTT NOVOTNY headline this night performing their hilarious stand-up routines full of laughs and fun. This is one show you won't want to miss!

ADMISSION $4

SUNDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

TRIP INCLUDES: TRANSPORTATION AND RESERVED TICKETS

SURVIVAL GAME OCT. 24 INFO. MEETING: Thursday, Oct. 8 Union Room 206 7 p.m. SIGN-UP BEGINS: Friday, Oct 9

Flint Hills Biking Oct 10-11 Enjoy beautiful Medford Lake and Fort Riley while camping and biking Info. meeting: Oct. 1 at 7pm, Union 207---Sign up now in the UPC Office!

K.C. CHIEFS VS. PITTSBURGH STEELERS SUNDAY, OCT.25 NFO. MEETING: MONDAY, OCT. 5 K-STATE UNION ROOM 213 7 P.M. SIGN-UP BEGINS: TUESDAY, OCT. 6 UPC OFFICE 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Washington	1	Notre Dame	6	UCLA	11	Georgia	16
Miami	2	Tennessee	7	Ohio State	12	Syracuse	17
Florida State	3	Penn State	8	Florida	13	Stanford	18
Michigan	4	Alabama	9	Virginia	14	Oklahoma	19
Texas A&M	5	Colorado	10	Nebraska	15	Southern Cal	20

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

■ The Raiders are

0-4 for the since 1964.

first time

Chiefs beat Raiders for 6th straight time

Word anchors KC in 27-7 win; Chiefs in 1st with 3-1 record

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - The biggest crowd in Kansas City in 20 years watched the Los Angeles Raiders plunge to their worst record in 28 years while the Chiefs ran their record to 3-1.

Quarterback Dave Krieg scored two touchdowns and Barry Word muscled up the middle for 125 yards as the Chiefs beat the Raiders 27-7, leaving the Silver and Black with an 0-4 record for the first time since 1964 and putting any hope of saving their season in serious doubt.

The raucous crowd of 77,486, the Chiefs' largest since Nov. 11, 1972, was warned several times by officials to quiet down while the Raiders had the Word, a 245-pounder working mostly up the middle, went over 100 yards for the third straight game as the Chiefs won their sixth in a row over their old AFL rivals and maintained a first-place tie with Denver in the AFC West.

Krieg, who spent 12 years with Seattle before signing with Kansas City this year as a Plan B free agent, used Fred Jones' block on Ronnie Lott to dash 7 yards into the end zone on the first play of the fourth period for a 17-7

Krieg also scored on a 3-yard scramble in the second quarter, becoming the first Chiefs quarterback to score two touchdowns in a game since Bill Kenney in 1983.

Nick Lowery's 41-yard field goal midway through the final period made it 20-7 and Charles Mincy returned his first career interception, Todd Marinovich's second of the game, 25 yards for a clinching touchdown with 1:52 left.

After a scoreless first period, the Raiders seized a 7-0 lead 4:36 into the second quarter when Eric Dickerson ran through a hole over right tackle and sped 40 yards to the endzone untouched, outrunning Charles Mincy the final 20

After punting on their first four possessions, the Chiefs finally got moving after Jeff Jaeger missed a 48yard field goal.

Starting from their own 30, Kansas City needed just 9 plays to forge a 7-7 tie. Krieg hit Tim Barnett for 26 yards on third-and-13 before Word began pounding the middle, picking up 12 yards on second-and-10, then lumbering 16 yards to the 3.

On the next play, Krieg curled around to his right looking to pass, but got a good block from tight end Jonathan Hayes and darted into the end zone for his first touchdown since 1987.

The Raiders, who badly outgained their first three opponents but committed a suicidal 13 turnovers, gave up the ball on Marinovich's ill-advised pass in the second period, setting up Lowery's goahead field goal.

Marinovich threw a wobbly floater as Bill Maas was bringing him down and rookie safety Doug Terry, a free agent from Kansas, intercepted and ran 9 vards to the Raiders 41. Again, the Chiefs aimed Word up the middle. On consecutive carries, he picked up 8, 8, 12 and 5 yards to the 4.

Lowery, who missed a 20-yarder in an overtime loss to Houston the week before, drilled a 22-yarder with 1:03 left

The Raiders self-destructed with a series of penalties that left them with third-and-43 from their own 14 late in the third quarter.

Jeff Gossett's 31-yard punt gave the Chiefs the ball on the Raider 48, and 260-pound Christian Okoye took over for the tiring Word. Okoye picked up 27 yards on five carries to the 7. Krieg then went around the left end for the touchdown.

Rookie Dale Carter's 39-yard punt return a few minutes later put the Chiefs in good field position, setting up Lowery's 41-yarder.

The Chiefs gained 180 yards on the ground and 88 through the air.

The Raiders finished the game with 90 rushing yards on 23 carries. for 161 yards.

■ The largest crowd in 20 years (77,486) packed Arrowhead Stadium.

The Chiefs have won the last six meetings between the two squads.

Quarterback Dave Krieg, who had not scored a rushing touchdown since 1987, scrambled for two scores.

Running back Barry Word gained 125

■ Defensive back Doug Terry, a free agent from the University of Kansas, made one of two Kansas City interceptions.

SPORTS DIGEST

Delta Sigma Phi wrestler Jeff Stock grimaces while being rolled onto his back by Mike Springs of Pi Kappa

Phi. The two were competing in the first round of the K-State Intramural Wrestling Tournament Monday

►GALLON EARNS HONOR

Tangled up

Wildcat running back Eric Gallon was named the Big Eight's Offensive Player of the Week after rushing for 134 yards and one touchdown on 29 carries in K-State's 35-14 win over Temple.

Gallon moved up to fifth place on K-State's career rushing list with 1,476 yards. He leads the Big Eight with an average of 110.5 yards per game.

The Defensive Player of the Week was Colorado linebacker Ron Woolfork. Woolfork tied a school record with five sacks for a loss of 47 yards. He had 13 tackles, a forced fumble and a broken-up pass.

▶INJURY HINDERS BRETT

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — George Brett's quest for his 3,000th career hit was put on hold Monday night when he did not start for the Kansas City Royals against California.

Brett, with 2,996 hits, felt pain in his shoulder during batting practice, the Royals trainer said. The Royals have six games left after Monday, and it is uncertain when Brett will play again.

Brett's status will be day-to-day. He is scheduled to be examined by the Angels team physician, Dr. Lewis Yokum, before Tuesday's game.

GOLF #

Women's Krist team takes 2nd place

Placing second at Iowa State's Cyclone Classic didn't satisfy the players of the women's golf team.

Despite their best finish this fall, Assistant Coach Len Johnsen said they are capable of winning a tournament. But this time, the host-team Cyclones finished above them.

"We didn't play up to our potential, which is better than this," Johnsen said.

"Our goal is to try and win tournaments.

Once again, the Cats played in rainy weather, much like the previous weekend at Iowa. But this time, it didn't keep them from staying in the competition for the lead position.

"They hung in there and gutted it out and had a lot of patience," Johnsen said.

Patience was something senior Valerie Hahn needed to finish second in the individual rankings.

Hahn was pleased to finish second after a bad first nine holes in the second round. She tied with Kansas' Holly Reynolds with 80 strokes in the first round, the second best score for the day. But Hahn fell behind at the beginning of day two, leaving Reynolds with the medal. "I didn't give myself a chance to win after the first nine holes," Hahn said.

■ See GOLFERS Page 10

Individual places for members of the K-State women's golf team.

Tie for second

14th place, Dallas Cox between Jacque 19th place, Staci Busch

29th place, Denise Pottle IKE WELCHHANS/Collegi

The baseball world suffered a major slump in '92

ANDERSON

baseball coach, though I can't remember his name. "It used to be that baseball was an institution," he said. "Now, it belongs It has been a bad year for baseball at all levels this year - from little league to the college level to the professional ranks. Yes, there were bright spots, but sandwiched among the hoards of controversy, they didn't receive the attention they should have.

I present to you my baseball highlights and lowlights of the last

· Most Valuable Player - Barry Bonds of the Pirates. He edges out Gary Sheffield of the San Diego

I found a quote awhile back from a Padres because Bonds is on a championship team and doesn't have four guys in front of him with a .300

· Great images — Robin Yount getting his 3,000th hit, watching a Kansas City Royals victory in person for the first time, watching former K-Stater Craig Wilson in the Olympics and viewing the unassisted triple-play turned this month by Mickey Morandini of the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League. Best traveling team — Houston Astros. Easy choice here. The Republican Party took over the Astrodome for its convention in August. The Astros hit the road for 28 days and came close to winning half of the games on the trip.

 Worst driver — the California Angels bus driver. The driver fell asleep and went off the road, injuring several players and taking out manager Buck Rodgers for a large portion of Worst manager — the manager of the Phillipine team who allowed older players, ringers who had been brought in from as far as 700 miles away, to compete as they won the Little League World Series. What was he thinking? He thought he won it fair by having 14- and 15-year-olds play. How was he going to win when the team had facial hair? How many 11- and 12year-olds do you know who are shaving?

· Worst field — it's a tie between K-State's Frank Myers Field and the Coach Mike Clark threatened to move all Cat home games somewhere other than Frank Myers because of the humps and bumps that were in the infield. Fortunately, the infield was replaced this summer.

Recently, there was a concert on the field of the Oakland Coliseum, where the Oakland Athletics play. The entire field was in shambles as 25,000 fans trampled the field watching Guns n' Roses, Ice Cube and Metallica rock the house.

· Person most like Saddam Hussein former Major League Baseball commissioner Fay Vincent. As long as there is baseball, it will be controlled by the owners. Vincent felt otherwise and fought to restore order to the game. He made it worse by wanting to move teams to different divisions while making the players, owners, fans and critics happy.

I wish I had more room to write about Steve Howe's suspensions, the overpaid players, the Japanese owning the Seattle Mariners and the Giants leaving San Francisco.

I hope and pray for a postseason like last year — four teams struggling to get into the World Series, and, finally, a World Series that keeps people on the edge of their seats in wild anticipation. And if the Series is anything like this season has been, it will indeed be a memorable one. It won't, however, be one worth watching.

Recycled napkins help wipe out waste

The next time you wipe your face at the K-State Union, it may be with your old test paper, your moving boxes or your candy bar wrapper from last month.

The Union is switching to a new, recycled napkin that will be used in the Stateroom cafeteria, Union Station and the recreation area.

The napkins are not yet in the Stateroom cafeteria or the recreation area, but they have been used in Union Station.

"The students like the idea," Union Station manager Teto Henderson said. "They don't have any problem at all. Some say it's a great idea. It's just another way to help the environment.

"I've received zero percent negative feedback.'

The brown napkin is made from 100-percent recycled paper and manufactured with post-consumermaterial content, said Union Food Service Director Malley Sisson. The post-consumer-material contents are things such as discarded cardboard and paper

Sisson said the Union decided to switch to the recycled napkins, because it was no longer able to get the white napkins used in the past. Wisconsin Tissue, Union supplier, said it had a recycled napkin instead.

"We said, 'Well, yeah! That's how it should be done.' Proactively, recycling seems to be the way to go," Sisson said.

She said recycled napkins cost less, and using them creates a demand for recycled products. It also conserves resources by reducing pollution, helping to save trees and reducing consumption from processing.

Sisson said for every ton of recycled paper used, 17 trees, 7,000 gallons of water and 3.3 cubic yards of landfill space are saved.

for it to work, people have to be willing to try it and use the products," Sisson said. "Provided customers are willing to use them, it's a win-win situation.

The recycled napkins are only one in a series of things the Union has already done to cut down on the waste of paper and Styrofoam products.

The one thing we really try to do is promote the use of our refillable mugs. Even though we're not using recycled products, each time we fill a mug, we're saving a Styrofoam cup," Sisson said.

Glass plates are now used at the

"Recycling is good, but in order Stateroom dessert station, and china is used in the Mexican and pizza areas, Stateroom manager Becky Lind said.

> In a "wrap and pack" station, paper is available instead of Styrofoam containers to wrap things such as muffins, biscuits and cinnamon rolls, Lind said.

She said recycled bags will soon be available at the cashier station instead of the white ones.

This seems to be the way the world is moving. Industries are trying to promote recycled products, and one of the big issues is just customer acceptability," Sisson said.

Greyhounds studied at K-State

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

the effects of ultrasound as a therapeutic device on the healing of tendons," he said.

Minocha said other projects will research the effectiveness of rebuilding the broken tendon surgically and search for a vaccine for the prevention of salmonella.

"Salmonella is a big problem in the food for humans," Minocha

"There is also a big problem of salmonella in greyhound food," he said. "The owners feed the dogs raw meat, because they think the nutrients are good for the dog. What they don't consider is that without cooking the meat, the dogs are also being fed all the bacteria."

Minocha said the project aims to determine whether a vaccine can be developed to boost the immune system by immunal modulation.

He said Interferon is one such

"It's questionable whether raw meat is needed or not." Minocha said. "What we have to do is come up with the data to determine whether or not raw meat is beneficial to improving greyhound performances."

Other projects deal with treatment of medical conditions.

"One project involves babesiosis, which is an intestinal parasite. Very little is known about what medicine should be given," Minocha said.

1116 Moro 537-0886

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

days a week

This coupon good for Pepper Steak $3.75

Dine-in & carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY MENU (Minimum order $9) Expires 10/6/92

18 to enter; 21 to drink.

619 North 12th street, Aggieville,537-2100

PIZZA AND A PITCHER

FOR ONLY $7.00

FIRST BANK CENTER

776-1515

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Third

Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM

PART III: Pillars of Islam

Presented by Hisham Hidmi

President of MCA

Tuesday, September 29, 7:30-8:30 p.m.

K-State Union, Big 8 Room

(Refreshments will be served)

4 p.m. Lafene Health Center Room 1

***Everyone Welcome***

STOP

fooling yourself about your eating disorder! GET HELP NOW.

EATING DISORDER SUPPORT GROUP

Organization Meeting Tuesday, Sept. 29 Lower Level

Great Memories Start

Phi Gamma Delta Sept. 29

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Your 4" Pictures Developed

- Eliminates loose prints Fits into pocket or purse
- Totally flexible take-a-part design
- A great way to display and store your photos

3007 ANDERSON AVE

START HERE

OPEN DAILY 9-9 SUN. 11-6

GREAT MEMORIES

$299 12 EXP.

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available

AUCTION For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 30 - 5 p.m. 701 North 17th - KSU Police Department MANHATTAN, KANSAS

54 Bicycles from single speed to 18 speed, brand names including Racer, AlPro, Columbia, Schwinn, Western Flyer, Free Spirit, Gitane, Murray, Huffy, Road Master, AMF, K-Mart, Andria, KHS, Sears, Fuji, Alfira, Gambles, etc.

Also a number of calculators, watches & umbrellas.

Note: Some items subject to claim prior to auction.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR ACCIDENTS.

KSU POLICE DEPARTMENT

VERN GANNON AUCTIONS MANHATTAN, KS 913-539-2316

Great Memories Start Here. Portraits taken for...

Pi Beta Phi Sept. 29-30

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.
Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

ESSENTIALS

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

EUGENE SHEFFER

THE STRIP

Mr. Peterson was

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

CROSSWORD

38 Worthless

trifles

41 Spanish

gold

43 Chests of drawers

Regards

Broadway

50 Actor

42 Barren

on legs 48 "— My

2 Letter

3 Dress

4 Star or planet

month

6 Actress

7 En-

Dawber

croaches

8 Automa-

tons

9 Oil-rich country 10 French clerical

or stream

title

11 Coaster

20 Stadium

shouts 21 Former rule of 9

Down

16 Word before set

5 Jewish

after phi

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer ACROSS 1 Vaudeville units 5 Lamp ornament 8 Tears 12 "The -Around the Corner*

> 13 Escape 14 City on the Oka 15 Track-andfield event 49 Food fish 17 Unadorned

Jack 18 It might 51 lowa be electric college 19 Pressed town 21 Not long 52 "Eureka" enough author 24 Annoying 53 Hindu 25 Golf course DOWN division 1 Silent 26 Prebutler deposit arranged signal Solution time: 24 mins. 30 Simian 31 Goddess of agriculture 32 Caesar's 151 33 Treats snobbishly 35 Painful disorder Hebrew letter 37 Sharpens

Yesterday's answer 9-29

Pyle's cousin 37 Royal 38 Scandina- A X Z 39 Adorn

SKI SULKUL LAND

22 Pueblo

23 Cassini,

24 Circum-

26 Authority

puter-screen

image

28 Sticky

pick? 31 Thick dog 34 The stuff 29 What

sticklers

coated

35 Gomer

daughters of Ailas

27 Com-

ference

of a chie

Indian

of fashion

40 Split 41 S-shaped molding 44 Altar promise 45 Palm leaf

46 Sweet potato Wee, in

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

RBZTVZG DEUUZL

RMAAZLF YMUAZVA

E M D XTG

YBTF MC

Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE TASK OF DESIGN-ING A POPULAR BACKPACK BEFORE SUMMER IS ON HIS SHOULDERS.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: D equals W

Your source for news, entertainment, weather, features, and more.

"No" means "no" — or does it?

Duveaux

I am very confused about this "no"/"yes" sex thing. I was brought up to believe that "no" meant "negative," "not," or "I don't want to do

However, if I am on a date, dressed in a halftop, mini-skirt, bathing suit, or have been drinking alcoholic beverages, then "no" means 'Yes, I do want to have sex!"

Please help me understand this. H.N.R., K-State junior

DEAR H.N.R.,

You have just discovered one of the many differences between men and women communication.

It has been well established that all men are visually orientated when it comes to sex. Women, on the other hand, are aroused verbally and through physical contact. With men, sex is pretty much all in the head.

When you dress in a revealing way, you send a visual message to men that says "yes," even though you have no intention of saying "yes."

This is not your fault, of course. Since we live in a civilized society, and men are not "Pavlovian" dogs with regard to controlling their sexual desires, it is up to men to respect a woman's word. "No" means "no," guys. And "yes" means "maybe."

DEAR CASSANDRA.

Here is a question I have about this town. Do all girls around here care about money, sports cars and guys that look as phony as $3 bills? I have lived here for two years and still find the actions of the college students very interesting.

For instance, most of the girls travel in small groups waiting for the prep patrols to attack. They never try to socialize with men until the men speak with them.

Back where I come from, the girls would ask the men out if they found them interesting. I miss this in Manhattan, because I like to see a woman who has a strong will and is not afraid to express it.

I have found I enjoy the relationship more if the woman is my equal or better than me.

I also do not try to impress people by being something I am not. I dress the way I want and drive the truck I have because it is practical for

My way of life and the code of honor I was raised with is very important to me. This I will not change just to get a date.

So, if I must remain alone in this town, I will. Could you please explain this town to a stranger to whom honor stills means something? Liconus, K-State senior

DEAR LICONUS,

Hang in there, cowboy. They aren't all of the Collegian or K-State.

is a lady out there wondering the same thing Enjoy the search. It will be worth it when interested in money and cars. I guarantee there you find her.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for rnose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY

All classifieds must be paid in advance

All classifieds must be paid in advance unless you have an established account with Student Publications.

Cash, check, MesterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks.

We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

HEADLINES

For an extra charge, we'll put a meditine above your ad to catch the lader's attention.

DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by coon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

REE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge. CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days. You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published. CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

THE WORD OUT PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

532-6555 532-7309 Kedzie Hall 103

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

com-

BULLETIN BOARD

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. finest. Since 1981.
You're guaranteed minimum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S.
Bond. College Scholarship Locators, Box
1881, Joplin, MO 648021881. 1-800-879-7485.

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

FLIGHT ADVANCED raining. Multi-engine, instrument, commercial, ATP, CFI ratings. Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 evenings.

ANGRY? FED up? Tend to blow up when you're mad? Learn a new way... Try our work-shop, "Handling Anger Assertively." Call now for information 532-6927.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

SEEKING INFORMATION on Lance Daniels at-tending a University in Kansas, Please call Angel Palavsch at (314)329-3056.

SUMMERTIME ONE Day Diet. Anyone can stick to a diet for a day when they know they can eat what they want the next day. For more information contact Clif-ton Beth (913)537-0850 days.

020 Lost and Found

free for

FOUND ON corner of Deni-son and Fairchild, small grey cat. Call 537-4362

FOUND SET of keys with Citibank tag in Durland 152. September 23. Identify in Durland 261. FOUND: A Watch between Kedzie and Fairchild, Thurs. (Sept. 24) morn-ing about 9:30a.m. Iden-tify and pick-up in Ked-zie 103. LOST- GOLD bracelet watch, lost in Ag-gieville, Sentimental value, reward offered found. Please call 539

LOST GOLD chain with charm very sentimental. Reward if found call 537-4417.

LOST: TWO pair earrings on card between parking lot across from stadium and Ahearn. Please call if found - 776-5626, leave message if not home. Thanksl.

TEXTBOOK FOUND Sept. 25 in Paslay Lecture Hall. Claim in Durland

WHITE KITTEN found at 401 Thurston on Tues. evening (Sept.22), 776-6018.

030

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

KELLEE F.- Happy Birth-day. You are now an "old maid" at 23. Try and live long enough see Las Vegas next month!! Hope your sat-isfied you finally got a personal. Love Teresa.

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

FURNISHED ONE-BED-RNISHED ONE-BEU-ROOM apartment, lo-cated at 1024 Sunset #12. Available imme-diately. Close to cam-pus, with coin operated laundry facilities, cen-tral air/ heat $320 in-

CLOSE TO campus very

nice, one, two

bedrooms. Apartment

plexes and houses with

great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid land-lady. No house work or personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494–8201 or 889–4495.

COUNTRY LIVING rent

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

cludes water, trash and pest control. Call for an appointment, 776-3804.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT 1022 Moro Street #5. $300/ month water and trash paid. Call Xigang at 532-6430 (days) or 776-7596

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT furnished wal wall, utilities paid, clean, call 537-5176 or 537-5144. Saleh or Joe

110 For Rent-Unfurnished

AVAILABLE NOV. 1, twobedroom, unfurnished, $350 plus utilities, no pets. 539-7336.

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666. FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus,

ONE BEDROOM basement $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT near city park Off-street parking, air microwave included. $295 plus water. Avail-539-5518 evenings.

ONE-BEDROOM

APARTMENT located 1960 Hunting. Close to campus coin operated laundry facilities and fire place. $410 includes water and trash For appointment call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM.CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed room. Beautiful hard roundings. Option to laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

SPACIOUS ONE bedroom apartment. Basement including utilities. Must rent immediately 539-

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 1-494-2449. THREE-BEDROOM, 800

block Moro, landlord pays heat. $375/ month. 776-8628.

TWO-BEDROOM BASEMENT apartment, $300, bills 539-8401.

AVAILABLE NOW fourbedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539–3672.

SAVE WITH hot water solar. Three-bedroom with studio apartment income close to city park and campus Good neigh-Good neigh borhood. $62,900. 1 800-593-0519.

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine month lease available No pets. 539-4087.

You'll never know unless you try...advertising. COLLEGIAN Kedzie 103 532-6555

14X70 TWO-BEDROOM excellent condition.

room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

NEW, LOW price, #162 Co-lonial Gardens, 1988 Skyline 14x70, was $17,750, now $15,725 fantastic financing Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

FEMALE ROOMMATE Wanted. Own room. One block from campus/ Aggieville. $150/ month. Call 776-7983

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share three-bedroom, close to campus, washer/ dryer, trash provided. $200 plus one-third utilities. 539-0858.

FEMALE, OWN room, $150 house, 539-7553 ask for two room house. $100 a month plus one-half utilities, leave message

ONE FUN-LOVING female to share three-bed room apartment. room, washer/ dryer first semester only $170 plus one-third utilities.

TWO FEMALE roommates needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facil ities and central air and information

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

$10 AND up: professional

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-

resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experience. 539-5998 after sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in ta-bles, equations, and

SUBLEASE- TWO-BED-ROOM apartment at Park Place, pool, shuttle bus to campus, laundry facilities, water paid, $425 plus deposit. 537-

PROFESSIONAL COUPLE needs babysitter to several evenings each month. Two children ages three and four,

Mon.-Fri.

9 a.m.-5 p.m. ary negotiable. 776-0325. References

240 Musicians/DJs

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex perienced teacher. All styles 776-0685.

WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Per-form around state, evenings and weekends. Good pay. 776-4999, 537-1741.

overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy let me do the typing. Reports, charts

graphs, resumes and

sults when necessary.

Go ahead, give me a call 537-9480 after

QUALITY resume is vital in today's com-petitive job market.

Contact the cour-

teous staff at Resume

ALL TYPING needs done

expensively and quick

with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

J— SALINA students/ staff: Hire a professional to type, edit and laser- print your resumes, papers and presentations. Fast. Accurate. 823–6931.

editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 dou-

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers

Pregnancy

Testing Center

539-3338

ask

studying,

A B C typing service. You do

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday

Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a decade 343

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to apemployment opportuni with reasonable caution Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

40 PEOPLE needed to lose weight and make mon-ey. $39-1252.

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill in-store positions Shift scheduling ex amples are: 5a.m. 1p.m.; 9a.m.- 5p.m. have many positions available for following type schedules: 5p.m-9p.m.; 9p.m.- 3a.m.; 9p.m.- 5a.m. Apply in person. Ask for Chris

MAINTENANCE: KNOWL EDGABLE about elec-trical plumbing and ap-pliance repair for apart-

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (ASCP) or equivalent needed to fill full-time position and clinical ref erence laboratory. Mi crobiology experience required. Excellent ben-efits, competitive salary Carol at 539-5363 or send resume to Box 66502 Equal Oppor

NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experience, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers, 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available No experience, no sell ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

OUTDOOR RENTAL/ Maintenance person want ed. Applications avail able at Recreational Services office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday. Appli-

PART-TIME ASSISTANT Manager is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weeing work required. Call 456-2949 evenings for

PART-TIME DJ is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weekends and some evening work required. Call 456-2949 evenings

RN AND LPN wanted for weekends. 7-3 shift at Valley Vista Care Center, a mental health facility in Junction City. Please stop by 1115 W.

320 Needed

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454 $200-$500 weekly. Assemble products home. Easy! No selling.

rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-Free into ine 801-379-2900 Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For ore information call ATTENTION FUNDRAISER

GREEKS & CLUBS

just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

FACULTY AND Graduate unteer for a study of diet and physical activity. For more informaon contact Jennifer

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED for research study on ex-cercise. Males or females 18 to 35 years more information.

paid di

State University sports

on consignment. Call 800-967-4430 ask for Terry or Nancy week-days 8:30a.m.-4:30p.m.

RAISE A COOL *1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK! PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO

OPEN MARKET

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans Levi jackets, mens overalls. 776-7472.

software and books $160. Admiral 25-inch color console TV $100. Hondo II bass guitar $120. 776-0872.

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business

FOR SALE one pair 5 1/2 D (equal to 7 1/2 B- 8 B womens) kids black Justin Lace- up Ropers, $50. For sale one radar detector has the X, K and KA bands two op-tional attachments. Almost brand new $100 call 532-2209 anytime. GOOD KITCHEN size GE re-

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS:

Peddle your bike

Need to sell your old bike to want? Put your ad in the new bike home in no time.

KANSAS STATE

make room for that new one you

Collegian classifieds. Only $5 for up to 20 words. You'll pedal that

OLLEGIAN

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

Camoflage cloth-

overcoats, new G.I boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. 1-437-2734.

GUITARS-TARS- STRATO CASTOR, case/ amp

WATERBED- KING size with a headboard-bookshelf. Call evenings after 8p.m. 776-9845.

ANTIQUES- COLLECTI RLFS Tuttle's Antique Market 2010 Tuttle Creek Boulevard 537 4884 daily 10a.m. 6p.m., Sunday 1p.m. 5p.m. closed Wednes

DESKTOP DANDY! NEC VGA color, 40 Meg HD, two Meg RAM with six month warranty $800 or best offer. Portable Power! MicroTelesis (Lunchbox-style) 386 with CGA gas plasma screen, one Meg RAM, 40 Meg RAM (17 ms) HD, full-size keyboard plus four expansion

TOSHIBA T2200SX, note book computer, 386 SX, 20 MHZ, 2 MB Ram, 80 slots, $800 or best offer. 537-3359.

RICK'S MUSIC Shop, gui-

532-6555

for Scott CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

RED 1984 Mazda RX-7, AM/FM cassette, four-speed, lyr paint job, new brakes. Great condition $3500 negoti-able. Call 539-7735,

520 Bicycles

1990 CANNONDALE moun-tain bike, SM 400, lots

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing

230 Lawn Care

010 Announcements 020 Lost and Found

030 Personals

050 Parties-n-More

Ol

REAL ESTATE

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

140 For Rent - Garage

150 Sublease

155 Stable/Pasture

201 SERVICE

400

OPEN MARKET

235 Child Care 240 Musicians/DJs 245 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services

310 Help Wanted 320 Volunteers Neede FOR SALE

405 Wanted to Buy

415 Furniture to Buy/Sell 420 Garage/Yard Sales

425 Auction

445 Music Instruments

450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting Equipmen 460 Stereo Equipment

DUC PORTATION

and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large 510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles

> WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

Consider including the price.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

Tuttle Creek Blvd. 539

Tank with stand, Ag

FOR SALE, one dwarf rab bit, eight weeks, started litter training. Very friendly, black and white, with supplies. Roommate leaving

TRANS-

PORTATION

inch body lift, always starts, great little mud truck for $970 587-0126

roof, air conditioning, two-door, 84,000 miles, automatic. Runs very well. $1800. Call with black leather in-terior, t-tops, power everything five-speed Turbo. Go fast

Turbo. Go fast! 539-2387 extension 40.

gray 93K miles, excel-lent condition, five-

good tires, $3800 or shortwheel base, black, v8, automatic, nice

in. 537-9459, 539-4757

auto air, cruise quad

four engine low mile-age excellent condition

Grand Prix, V-8, power everything. 133K high way mileage, $2950. Both excellent cars, will negotiate, 776-8881.

1990 HONDA CRX, teal

1988 CUTLASS Calais blue

1989 CHEVROLET Celeb

1986 MAZDA RX-7 silver

speed, AM/FM car

1988 CHEVY Sllverado 4x4

or 776-1807.

1981 FORD Mustang. Sun-

1986 CHRYSLER Lazer red

cluded $220, 539-5099

of extras, good com-ponets. Ready to ride. CAll 539-5480.

1984 HONDA Magna V30. Black, 21,000 miles.

Looks and runs great. New front tire. Make offer. Must sell. 537-

600. Only 6K miles!

New tires, great shape,

1986 KAWASAKI Ninja

530

peka for Drill 410th Evac. Call Jen 776-7546

after 7p.m.

Tour Package

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

JUAN Students **Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

K.S.U FOOTBALL GAME PACKAGES

October 10 October 31 K.S.U. vs. K.U $10 w/o ticket $30 w/ ticket

November 14

$45.00

a materials and substitute

K.S.U. vs. O.U. $40.00 All packages include

Round trip bus K.S.U. vs. M.U Game ticket Tailgate party and 1212 assic (913) 537-7546 Moro

Watch For Tokyo Bowl Details

What do you do if you see a fire? 1. Call 911 2. Then call us

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

115 Rooms Available 210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing

040 Meetings/Events

110 For Rent — Apt. Unfurnished

120 For Rent - Houses 125 For Sale --- Houses

135 For Sale — Mobile Homes

145 Roommate Wanted

160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale

DIRECTORY

300 EMPLOYMENT/

CAREERS

410 Items for Sale

430 Antiques 435 Computers 440 Food Specials

465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets

630 Train Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

TIPS FOR

CATEGORIES

looking for, the classified ads

have been arranged by category

To help you find what you are service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for.

This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price

Better late than never

'Late for Dinner' alternates between serious and funny

LAJEAN RAU

Best friends frozen for three decades get thawed out by a freak accident and journey to recover their lives and loves in "Late for Dinner."

Directed by W.D. Richter ("Adventures of Buckaroo Banzai"), the film's marginally believable plot follows Frank Lovgren (Peter Berg) and Willie Husband (Brian Wimmer) as they flee from the scene of a shooting in 1962 in Santa Fe, N.M.

VIDEO REVIEW

Peter Gallagher ("sex, lies and videotape") is great as Willie's briefly seen, evil landlord who tries to foreclose on his home and frame him for kidnapping.

Willie shoots the bad landlord in self-defense and takes a bullet in the shoulder. Fearing they will go to jail, the two friends decide to run away - leaving Joy, who is Willie's wife and Frank's sister, and Joy and Willie's daughter, Jessica without so much as a goodbye.

They slow down in California, where they are taken in by a friendly doctor who fools the naive, mentally ill Frank and freezes him and his unconscious buddy in a weird scientific experiment.

Twenty-nine years go by. It's

As one would guess, Frank and Willie are unfrozen by accident. They bumble their way through the cities and highways of 1991 to try to find Joy and

The performances, especially by Berg and Marcia Gay Harden ("Millers Crossing") as Joy, are touching and funny.

The first half of the film drags its way through seriousness, humor and pathos. It seems Richter couldn't decide whether the film should be funny or

But the reunion between the friends and their loved ones is worth the wait. "Late For Dinner" tells a story about how love crosses the boundaries of time and change.

Professor's community garden work rewarded

Richard Mattson received the 1992 Grassroots Community Education Award last Friday at the UFM annual meeting.

Mattson, developer of the KSU Horticulture Therapy program, was recognized for his ongoing association with the Community Garden and the Children's Garden, both UFM programs.

"This is an incredible award. It means a lot to me," Mattson said.

"Dr. Mattson has been the driving force behind the Children's Garden, providing patience and encouragement to efforts that provide practical application and learning to horticultural activities," UFM Director Linda Teener said.

Teener said each year, the UFM staff and board nominate several individuals who have made contributions to the development of grassroots community education.

After reviewing the candidates, one is selected to receive the award, which is a windmill plaque with the winner's name engraved on it.

Mattson has been involved with UFM since the early 1970s.

FAT Tuesdays

Every Tuesday at ...

below

New & Used CD's, Tapes, LP's.

We Buy, Sell & Trade

1131 Moro Aggieville

539-3160

11-8 Mon-Sat 12-5 Sun

000 Bulletin Board

010 Announcemen

020 Lost and found

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events 050 Parties-n-More

New

CD

New

Cassette

"I began by teaching horticulture classes that covered simple maintenance and care," Mattson

The community garden and children's garden have been the main focus of Mattson's work. Mattson said he also has been involved with the farmer's market and the solar greenhouse.

"There are few farmer's markets in the state. This one has been a factor in improving and expanding them all over," Mattson said.

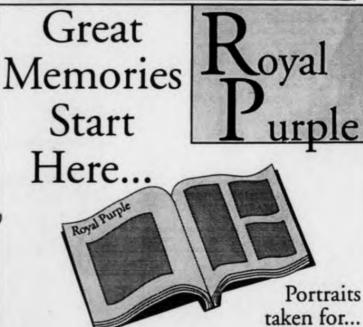

Teener said Mattson has helped UFM by providing students to teach various classes and serve internships.

Birkenstock

Colors, sizes & styles for everyone

Repair service available

Olson Shoe Service Aggieville 539-8571

Phi Kappa Theta Sept. 29

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

to complete Collegian survey

Gun laws vary in region

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

allow a rifle on a gun rack, and even a baseball bat in the back seat of a car could be considered an unlawful weapon.

Manhattan has a 48-hour waiting period from the time a person commits to buying a gun before he or she can actually leave the store

Charlie Clack, manager of Cash Pawn and Gun in Manhattan, said that commitment to buy could be verbal, or with cash in hand.

"We've always preferred getting money," he said. "That way there's no question of when the person actually committed to the purchase.

Clack, previously in a law profession, said one of the store's biggest lines is guns. He said the people buying guns vary, but more of them are men.

The women who come in are usually with a man who wants to buy them a gun, Clack said.

"If a man comes in by himself and wants to buy his girlfriend a gun, I will always steer him toward a revolver," Clack said.

He said the reason for this is if a person is under stress, he or she needs to be able to get a gun to fire. With a revolver, all a person needs to do is pull the trigger.

Golfers place 2nd

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6 "After that, I was happy to end in second. Both Johnsen and Hahn commented on the difficulty of Iowa State's course. "Most of them got off to bad starts, and that hurts us. It was also a tough course, and it takes a lot of patience," Johnsen said.

"If you don't hit it perfectly straight, you're in trouble," she said.

Hahn tied for second with teammate Jacque Wright and two others from Iowa State. The only golfer scoring lower was Reynolds of KU.

K-State finished six strokes below its state rival.

"We pulled together as a team on the last day and beat KU," Hahn said, "We had something to prove after last weekend in Iowa. We shouldn't have been 13th. Everyone was thinking they didn't want to do that again.

Johnsen said it was the first time K-State has placed higher than KU. The Cats also placed above conference competitor Nebraska.

With patience and the goal of proving to themselves and other teams that they are better than 13th, the Wildcats finished second.

Hahn said she is looking to win one. Including spring tournaments, the senior has only seven more chances to do it.

off," Clack said. Handguns are not, of course, the only guns around, but laws about long guns (shotguns or rifles) are right off-hand where a person floor trying to get the gun to go

"I know of two combat stories even less strict than hand-gun laws. "There is no waiting period to buy a long gun," Clack said. dropped the ammunition on the

> Reece said there is not an age restriction for those guns either, because they are considered hunting

FREE DELIVERY Hunam Chinese Restaurant and Lounge 1304 Westloop, Manhattan

"Kim"—the top designer at Studio 32 with seven years experience is now offering an introductory special . . .

50% off

Cut with style through Oct. 6

776-8830 Candlewood

Great Memories Start

Phi Kappa Tau Sept. 29

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

205 Tutor 210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publish 220 Sewing/Alterations 225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care

150 Sublease 155 Stable/Pasture

165 Land for Sale

Volunteers needed

Do you know where the Collegian classified office is located? yes no

How often do you read the classified section of the Collegian?

Have you ever placed a classified ad? yes no

once a week twice a week three times or more

If so, in what category or categories? (Circle those that apply below)

Classified Categories...

100 Housing/Real Estate
105 For Rent-Apt. Furnished
110 For Rent-Apt. Unfurnished
115 Rooms Available
120 For Rent-Houses 125 For Sale-Houses 130 For Rent-Mobile Homes 235 Child Care 135 For Sale-Mobile Ho 140 For Rent-Garage 240 Musicians/DJ's

300 Employment/Ca 310 Help Wanted Volunteers Needed 200 Service Directory

400 Open Market 405 Wanted to Buy 410 items for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/S

420 Garage/Yard Sales 430 Antiques 435 Computers

450 Pets and Supplie 460 Stereo Equipmer 465 Tickets to Buy/Se 500 Transportat 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool 600 Travel/Trips 610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets 630 Train Tickets

640 Bus Tickets

Would you like to see new categories added? yes no If so, what categories?

Was your ad successful? (Please be specific - i.e., sold your car, rented your apartment, found a job, etc.)

Were the people in the classified department courteous and helpful?

What is your opinion of the new classified section format?

Would you advertise in the Collegian again? Why or why not?

If you received positive results, would you be willing to submit a testimonial? If yes, please provide a brief description of your results and fill out the information below.

PHONE NUMBER

NAME

SIGNATURE

ADDRESS

Please return this completed survey to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) by Sept. 30 and receive a 50% off coupon for your next classified ad. Thank you!

KANSAS STATE OLLEGI

INSIDE MAGIC

 Magic Johnson announces his return to basketball.

SEPTEMBER 30, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 27

MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

Harmony in diversity is week's objective

Increasing understanding of other cultures and races at K-State is the objective of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, Oct. 4-9.

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said he thinks the key word for the week is harmony

SUNDAY

RACIAL/ETHNIC

HARMONY WEEK

These events will kick off Racial/Ethnic Harmony

Gospel Service at

All Faiths Chapel

discussion (Location to be announced.)

■ 8 p.m. — B.B. King at

Bramlage Coliseum

■ 6 p.m. — Manning Marble reception and

■ 11 a.m. — KSU

"I have this burning passion that people can together harmoniously," Franklin said. "We're all human, and we just need this time to put our differences aside."

Phil Anderson, faculty cochairman of the planning committee, said the week of events originated four years ago because of a racist incident in Aggieville. The University responded by starting a week for students to become aware of racial, ethnic, religious and sexual differences, he said.

Besides a general awareness of other cultures, Anderson said the world needs to understand differences to continue to be productive.

"The world is getting smaller," Anderson said. "For example, Kansas is selling wheat worldwide, and we need to have an understanding of these different cultures."

For students to gain awareness and understanding, they first must be willing to listen. Franklin said every year organizers combat lopsided participation in the week's activities - those who usually attend aren't the people who need the messages most.

"Normally what happens is that our own choir comes and ends up singing to the choir people who are already supportive," Franklin said. "The people who are insensitive bigots

See WEEK Page 12

DAVID MAYES AND J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

Tents situation

After the pachyderm was packed up and all the people had gone home, the only evidence left that the Flint Hills Folk Arts and Crafts Festival had been in City Park were seven large

The tents were set up last Wednesday by employees of All Seasons Party Rental, Grandview, Mo.

The structures, which consisted of a 20-square-foot tent, a 40-square-foot one and five that were 40 by 80 feet, took seven workers about nine hours to set up, said Dave Streich of All Seasons.

Streich and two co-workers were in City Park Tuesday to tear the tents down. They started working at 1:30 p.m. and were still on the job when the sun went down.

ABOVE: Donald Verhaalen and Dave Streich of All Seasons Party Rental fold a section of the main canopy of one of the tents Tuesday night in City Park.

LEFT: Eddie Doval of All Seasons removes portions of a tent before dropping the main canopy.

REDEFINING KANSAS ACADEMICS

Faculty pass resolution

"The Core Group members and I gave the faculty reasons for each of our recommendations."

PETER NICHOLLS

Dean commended for openness

JULIE LONG

Faculty members met with Arts and Sciences Dean Peter Nicholls Monday afternoon to discuss the college's input on the University role and aspirations statement.

At a faculty meeting Sept. 22, faculty members asked for more information about how the criteria for program emphasis and de-emphasis were met.

The Core Group members and I gave the faculty reasons for each of our recommendations. These recommendations were based upon the criteria developed by the Board of Regents and contained in our strategic planning charge," Nicholls said, according to a press

In Monday's meeting, arts and sciences faculty members adopted a resolution commending Nicholls and the College Core Group for working openly with them in developing the role and aspirations report.

The resolution also asked the central administration to devise a plan to make arts and sciences program and salary resources more competitive with the other It also reaffirmed the right of the faculty to submit dissenting reports to Provost James Coffman, and encouraged him to consider them carefully A dissenting report was prepared both by faculty members affected and unaffected by the changes. It will be sent with the Arts and Sciences Role and Aspirations Report to the provost's committee today, said Aruna Michie, president-elect of Faculty Senate and associate professor of political science.

"I think the dissenting report covers most of the objections," she said. The reports from the college will go to the provost's committee for input and approval. The committee will then combine each college's report to formulate the University's role and aspirations

The draft statement will then go to each college with comments and any changes that need to be made.

It will then be presented to the Kansas Board of Regents Nov. 20.

POSSIBLE CHANGES

Here are some suggested changes in the College of Arts and Sciences as presented in the first draft of the Role and Aspiration Report.

NEW DEGREES

- A new Ph.D program in the Department of Geography.
- A new Ph.D program in the Department of English.
- The Department of Statistics should plan to establish a master's program in the Kansas City area within the next few years.

NEW FACULTY POSITIONS

- A new faculty position should be added to the Department of Psychology
- The Department of Modern Languages should add a faculty position to enhance the study of Japanese and
- Increase resources to add another part-time faculty member to the women's studies program.
- A new faculty position to the American ethnic studies
- An additional position to the advising staff of the dean's

DISCONTINUED AND DE-EMPHASIZED PROGRAMS

- Discontinue the master's program in public administration program.
- Reduce the faculty and limit admissions to the social
- work program. Discontinue the undergraduate and graduate programs
- in speech pathology and audiology program. Discontinue the programs and in international studies
- and South Asian studies Diminish the commitment to the general education of students in lifetime exercise and sport in the Department of Kinesiology. Also, discontinue the athletic training emphasis and reduce its number of faculty.

GREGORY A. BRANSON/Collegian

Corn farmers to idle more land

WASHINGTON The nation's corn farmers will cut production next year under a government decision announced

It that could stop the current slide in corn prices and boost growers' revenues in 1993.

Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan said corn farmers who receive federal subsidies will be required to idle 10 percent of their acreage in 1993, compared with a 5 percent set aside this year.

■ See FARMERS Page 12

REDUCING CORN PRODUCTION

The nation's corn farmers will cut production next year under a government decision announced Tuesday.

- The reduction will stop the current slide in corn prices and boost growers' revenues in 1993.
- Corn farmers receiving federal subsidies will be required to idle 10 percent of their acerage in 1993.
- Corn is at $2 a bushel, but growers say they need $2.50 to break even. The reduction will help raise prices.

MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian

NEWS DIGEST

▶BRAZIL'S PRESIDENT IMPEACHED

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) -Lawmakers on Tuesday impeached Fernando Collor de Mello, Brazil's first freely elected president in 29 years.

Collor is accused of receiving at least $6.5 million from a slush fund run by his former campaign treasurer. Impeachment was certain after the 336th vote in favor, meaning two-thirds of the 503seat Chamber of Deputies had voted to impeach.

The vote suspends Collor for up to six months. He will be replaced by Vice President Itamar Franco while the Senate decides whether to remove Collor permanently.

SIGHTSEEING CHOPPER CRASHES

NIAGARA FALLS, Ontario (AP) - Two helicopters carrying sightseers over Niagara Falls collided Tuesday, and one crashed near the Niagara River gorge, killing all four people aboard, authorities

The other helicopter landed safely at a theme park nearby. Witnesses said no one on the ground was hurt. The collision happened shortly after noon about 300 yards from the falls, which straddle the U.S.-Canadian border.

ON THE AGENDA

K-State gears up for annual visit from parents

Pig roast, tours, football game to highlight weekend

COLLEGIAN STAFF

It's almost time to put away those beer bongs, get rid of the fastfood wrappers and hide the nude volleyball poster.

Parents' Weekend is Friday through Sunday, and students, along with the rest of the University community, are gearing up to honor moms and dads.

The activities will begin Friday night with a pig roast in the K-State Union Stateroom and a stand-up comedy show in McCain Auditorium.

Carol Bredesen, spokeswoman for the KSU Alumni Association, said the weekend's events are beginning to fill up.

"The pig roast is sold out," she said. "But there are still plenty of tickets available for the entertainment at McCain.

Saturday begins with an ROTC drill competition and parade at Ahearn Field House, followed by a pre-game hamburger buffet in the Union Bluemont Room. The rest of the day is filled with tours and demonstrations, as well as family portraits with Willie the Wildcat in the Union Courtyard.

Tours available include the College of Engineering and the Center for Basic Cancer Research in Ackert Hall. There will be several guided tours of the main campus, at times that will accommodate most families' schedules,

Bredesen said. Rappelling, weapons and tactics will be demonstrated at the Military Science Building. Other displays, including textiles collections, insects and student work from each college, will be shown throughout the weekend. The College of Human Ecology is having a pre-game tailgate party Saturday in the east parking lot of KSU Stadium, and the College of Architecture and Design will have a similar luncheon at Seaton Court.

Saturday's main event is the football game, when K-State takes on New Mexico State at 12:10 p.m.

Chimes Junior Honorary will announce the honorary parents during halftime. Students submitted essays to Chimes to nominate their parents for the award.

The final all-University event Saturday is a buffet in the Union Ballroom.

Sunday's schedule is less full. The main event, the Wildcat Scramble Golf Tournament, will be at the Custer Hill Golf Course at Fort Riley.

An information booth for parents will be set up Friday afternoon through Saturday morning in the Union Courtyard. There will be parents' packets available with name tags, activity schedules and other information.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class

postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

At 11:20 p.m., a man was reported to be on a third floor window ledge of Seaton Hall. An officer arrived to see a white male going back inside the building. The officer questioned students, but no one claimed to know who was on the ledge.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

At 1:31 a.m., Sandra Rabeneck at the Strong Complex reported hearing a loud screaming noise coming from Quinlan Natural Area. Officers checked and found everything OK.

At 11:17 a.m., a theft was reported. A phone was taken from an office in Nichols Hall. Loss was $260.

At 1:41 p.m., Terry Aton reported finding a wallet and its contents at the Chester E. Peters Recreation

At 3:47 p.m., Paula Meinhart reported the theft of a sweatshirt from ton Hall. Loss was $19.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

At 4:50 p.m., Rakesh Bhakta, 817 Vattier St., was arrested for forgery and theft. He was confined in lieu of $3,000 ball.

At 10:12 p.m., an employee at Shop Quik, 1816 Claflin Road, reported a theft of gasoline. Loss was

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

At 3:02 a.m., Josh Rozs, 226 1/2 Perry St., Lawrence, was arrested for possession of a controlled substance and concealed weapon. He was confined in lieu of $500 bail.

At 7:21 a.m., Kimberly Myers, Route 1, Box 195, Westmoreland, was arrested for failure to appear and speeding. She was released on $79

At 7:44 a.m., Robin Shaffer, 2028 Shirley Lane, reported a vehicle burglary. Taken was a radar detector, 10 cassette tapes and a 14K gold bracelet. Loss was $290.

At 8:58 a.m., Robert Disberger, 2926 Nevada St., reported an attempted vehicle burglary. Taken were two sets of keys. Loss was $9.

At 9:04 a.m., David Sharp reported a lost, branded, 1,200-pound black Angus bull.

At 11:40 a.m., Dillons Westloop reported a stolen video cassette player and carrying case. Loss was $187.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week kick-off luncheon will be Oct. 5. Call 532-6541 for reservations by Thursday at 12 p.m. Cost is

■ Deadline for applications for teacher education will be Oct.1 in Bluemont 013.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

■ University Activities Board will meet at 4 p.m. in Union 204. Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie.

■ Youth For Change will meet at 6 p.m. in Union Little Theatre to rally for Gloria O'Dell.

■ Students Ending Hunger will meet at 1:30 p.m. in Union Station. Everyone welcome.

■ BaGals will meet at 7:30 p.m. in UFM conference room.

■ University Counseling Services will have an informal discussion on managing anger at 12 p.m. in Union 205. Bring a

■ Students for the Right to Life will meet and have yearbook pictures taken at 9 p.m. in Union 207.

■ Sognahm Tae Kwon Do Club will meet from 4:45 to 6:15 p.m.

in Nichols 007. ■ United Black Voices will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the ECM building for choir rehearsal. It is mandatory for upcoming events. ■ International Club will meet at 11:30 a.m. in Union 203. Topic will be "International Table." ■ Intramural wrestling weigh-ins will be from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the men's locker room at the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. Mandatory meeting will be at 6:45 p.m. in the small gym, and matches will start at 7 p.m.

■ Computing and Network Services will sponsor a lecture from 3:30 to 4:20 p.m. in Cardwell 101 on using Bitmail on the University

CORRECTION

In Monday's Collegian, it was incorrectly reported in the Ultimate Frisbee story that the 10-year-old club Purple Haze has been at K-State longer than the men's soccer club. The soccer club has been at K-State since 1961.

The Collegian regrets the error.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Sunny

Sunny and mild. High 75 to 80. Wednesday night, clear. Low in the mid- to upper 40s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Friday through Sunday: no rain expected across Kansas. Mild with highs from the mid-70s to the mid-80s. Lows in

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

77/41 GARDEN CITY

WICHITA 73/45

CITY 69/42 COFFEYVILLE

KANSAS

TOPEKA 71/37

WORLD TEMPERATURES

86/42

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	79/48	cloudy
Bermuda	86/78	clear	Rome	77/64	cloudy
Helsinki	52/50	rain	Stockholm	55/48	cloudy
London	68/55	clear	Vancouver	66/46	cloudy

GOODSON AUTO TRIM

Headlining Tonneau Covers Boat Covers Window Tinting Convertible Tops Complete Auto, Truck & Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane (between Wal-Mart and K-Mart) Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Phone 776-7679 Res. 776-7614

OCTOBER SPECIAL

10 off Perms • 18 off Colors • 15 off Haircuts with Brenda or Erika

10% off any professional products Must present or mention this ad Expires Oct. 17, 1992

ROYAL PURPLE

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

PRINCIPLES of SOUND RETIREMENT INVESTING

IF YOU THOUGHT COLLEGE WAS EXPENSIVE, TRY PUTTING YOURSELF THROUGH RETIREMENT.

Think about supporting yourself for twenty-five, thirty years or longer in retirement. It might be the greatest financial test you'll ever face. Fortunately, you have one valuable asset in your

Time to take advantage of tax-deferral. Time for your money to grow.

But starting early is key. Consider this: if you begin saving just $100 a month at age thirty, you can accumulate $192.539* by the time you reach age sixty-five. Wait ten years and you'd need to set aside $227 a month to reach the same goal.

At TIAA-CREF, we not only understand the value of starting early, we can help make it possible-with flexible retirement and tax-deferred annuity plans, a diverse portfolio of investment choices, and a record of personal service that spans 75 years.

Over a million people in education and research are already enrolled in America's largest retirement system. Find out how easy it is to join them. Call today and learn how simple it is to put yourself through retirement when you have time and TIAA-CREF on your side.

Start planning your future. Call our Enrollment Hotline 1 800 842-2888.

Ensuring the future for those who shape it."

of 2.5% credited to TIAA Retirement Annuation. This rate is used solely to show the power and effect of comproduce very different results. CREF certificates are distributed by TIAA-CREF Individual and Institutions

Close up

Elizabeth Jones, junior in fine arts, puts the finishing touches on a bowl Tuesday night in one of the ceramics studios in West Stadium. The bowl is part of a project for Jones' Ceramics 2 class.

Well, are they gonna debate, or what?

ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Bush proposed Tuesday an unprecedented string of Sunday night debates with Democrat Bill Clinton, as he worked to develop a come-frombehind strategy in his race for re-

Bush called for an initial debate Oct. 11, but Clinton said he was ready to go this weekend.

Bush said he would be pleased to see possible independent candidate Ross Perot included in the debates. These debates would stretch through the final weekend of the campaign, if he decides to make a formal entry into the race in the Clinton said Bush should show up for previously scheduled debates Oct. 4 and 15, which the president has shunned because he dislikes the single-moderator format.

The Democrat proposed letting a bipartisan debate commission decide the merits of the president's suggestion for weekly encounters.

"Let's start Sunday. I'm ready," said Clinton, noting that Bush's proposals would conflict with televised baseball playoffs and World Series.

Bush said, "Let's get it on." But he was not ready to get started until Oct. 11.

Clinton has repeatedly criticized Bush for rejecting the commission's debate plans, and Clinton supporters have turned up at Bush's rallies in chicken costumes to taunt him for not debating.

The president's proposal, couched as a challenge to Clinton, seemed a straightforward attempt to entice Clinton into a series of debates that would allow plenty of opportunity for missteps. Such debates likely would overshadow events on the campaign trail.

With an audience measured in the tens of millions, nationally televised debates dwarf the effects of personal campaigning.

Book sale on the agenda

KATIE WALKER

Friends of the Library will conduct a book sale from Sunday to Oct. 8 in Farrell Library.

"The hours of the sale are pretty much the hours that Farrell is open, since we really can't block off the lobby," said Karen McCulloh, assistant to the dean of the library.

McCulloh and David Margolies, associate professor of entomology and Friends of the Library president, said they estimated there will be anywhere from 5,000 to 10,000 books on sale.

'We sell a few of the library's old books, but usually the library doesn't have that many. Most of them come from donations," McCulloh said.

BUY-HIRE-SELL-RENT

COLLEGIAN ClassADS

Grain Science Club Flour Sales Every Wednesday

Noon-4 p.m. Shellenberger 220 We will be selling (while supplies last).

Why You Should Give Contact Lenses...

...One More Try Introducing the Guaranteed Refit Program

If you're one of the people who don't think you can wear contact lenses, think again. Recent advances in contact lens technology and design now enable us to offer new soft contact lenses that provide the comfort and crisp, sharp vision you've always longed for. An example of these lenses is DuraSoft "OptiFit", which cornect actionnation.

And now's your chance to try a pair of these advanced lenses for 1 month with no risk. If, after wearing you lenses for 30 days, you are not completely satisfied, you do not pay for the lenses (modest examination fee charged to all patients).

Our office specializes in fitting former contact lens wearers, and we offer all of the newest and most advanced lens types, including soft lenses for people with astigmatism. Call our Refit Program Coordinato today for more information.

Drs. Price, Young, Odle, Horsch, P.A. And Associates - Optometrists

> 537-1118 3012 Anderson

Textbooks, cookbooks, romances and children's books are among the selections, she said.

Margolies said they hope to make at least $6,000 from the sale.

"Friends of the Library is trying to build up a fund so that with the interest generated we can continue to get things the library might not normally get," Margolies said.

Book sales from 1991 were spent on a microform reader and a Hardbacks will sell for $2, and paperbacks for $1.

Everything will be half price Oct. 7, and the price will drop to $1 for all you can carry Thursday, McCulloh said.

Congratulations 2

Pledge Games champs and Spirit Award winners. We knew you could do it!

♥Love, Your Proud G-Phi Sisters ार्गित का का अपने का

LIBRARY HOURS

The Friends of the Library book sale will begin Sunday and continue through Oct. 8. Farrell Library hours for those days are as follows.

SUNDAY

noon-midnight

MONDAY-THURSDAY ■ 7:30 a.m.-midnight

Southwind sponsors forum

Education to be focus of discussion

JODY LYNN

Students can hear state and national candidate's views on education and question them during tonight's forum sponsored by Southwind.

The forum will begin at 8 p.m. in the Union Little Theatre.

Participants will be Democrat Gloria O'Dell, candidate for U.S. Senate; a representative of Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan. and Chris Cokinos, instructor of English, who will present the views of Bill

Clinton and Al Gore, the Democratic presidential ticket.

Southwind member Amy Sislo, freshman in social work, said Senatorial candidates Christina Campbell-Cline, independent, and Libertarian Mark Kirk were not invited to the forum.

Group members said they did not think anyone from the Republican presidential ticket had been invited to participate.

candidate Each representative will have the floor to present his or her views on educational issues. Then members of Southwind will question them. A question-and-answer period has also been set aside for members of the audience to ask questions. Paul Davidson, president of Southwind and junior in geography, said the group is not aligned with any political party and is not taking the side of any candidate or party. He said it addresses educational, not political, issues.

"We're hoping to gain a better understanding of what people in Senate and the president can and can't do to affect education," Davidson said.

Sislo said the group will look at education as a whole.

True Style. True to Life. Fashion Event. Wednesday, September 30, 1992, 6-8 p.m.

Register for 1 of 2 $10 gift certificates. Refreshments will be served.

Peddle your bike

Need to sell your old bike to make room for that new one you want? Put your ad in the Collegian classifieds. Only $5 for up to 20 words. You'll pedal that new bike home in no time.

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

532-6555

Great Oyal Memories Start Here. Portraits taken for...

Pi Kappa Phi Sept. 30

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

WE LOVE OUR PLEDGES

LOVE, THE KAMEMBERS minimum minimu

776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Dole needs to face election

THE ISSUE

Sen. Bob Dole has failed to take Gloria O'Dell's bid for the U.S. Senate seriously.

WE SUGGEST

Dole needs to return to Kansas and state why he deserves to keep his seat, openly inviting O'Dell to debate relevent issues.

Bob Dole, where are you?

Despite the hoopla and intensity surrounding the Bush-Clinton-Perot showdown, there is another political race heading for the finish line that deserves just as much attention from Kansas voters.

The U.S. Senate contest between incumbent Sen. Bob Dole and challenger Gloria O'Dell is important to the future of our state.

But with just a little over a month left before the residents of Kansas step into the election booth, there has been little, if any, excitement in the senatorial campaign.

This is not to place blame upon O'Dell. With one-third of the populace backing her, she has appeared frequently throughout the state during the past several months. Whether or not voters agree with her political views, she is making herself available to welcome new ideas and listen to the electorate.

O'Dell has even taken time out to speak on matters of statewide concern with K-State classes.

Dole, on the other hand, has allowed the national political scene to overshadow his race for U.S. Senate. With his good-old-boy network in place, it seems that Dole expects to win his campaign without ever having to confront his opponent or the issues for which she stands.

True. Dole has well-established connections in Washington, D.C., an untarnished war record, and a long list of corporate and private supporters. But this shouldn't mean that he can ignore the present-day needs of his constituents.

Dole has a stranglehold over Kansas politics. With enough campaign money to finance his own army, O'Dell is doing surprisingly well against him and rightfully so.

If Dole does not stop ignoring the Gloria vs. Goliath showdown, as it has been labeled, it may be just the thing to toss him from his throne.

We are hearing O'Dell, so what about Bob?

READERS WRITE

▶ RELIGION

1st amendment will keep God in columns

Editor,

Upon reading Tuesday's Collegian, I came across a letter in the "Readers Write" section from Jason Brown, freshman in agronomy, concerning the columns of John Hart and Scott Spradlin. It appeared to me that he was bashing the Collegian for printing their columns concerning religion. Maybe these columns are somewhat on the dull side for him. I will admit that they don't always seem to keep my attention, but just because a few people don't like them is no reason to give them their own section. This is a ludicrous idea.

The First Amendment guarantees these authors the freedom to write whatever they want. A word to Jason Brown: Don't ask the Collegian to spend money from their already tight budget printing something that you will throw away. If you aren't interested, don't read it.

> Eric Steinlage Sophomore/ Pre-veterinary medicine

STATISTICS

Statistically, Bush and Clinton equal

On the front page of the Sept. 28 Collegian, the headline read "Kansas likes Bill Clinton." The Associated Press article below this banner reported the results of a poll of 500 eligible Kansas voters in which Bill Clinton received 38 percent and President Bush received 37 percent of the "votes." The margin of error for the poll was reported as plus or minus 4.4 points.

From these results, it is impossible to distinguish any significant statistically difference in voter approval in Kansas between these two candidates. A more accurate headline would have been "Kansas has no preference."

Joel Gruenke Majorie Bond Graduate students/Statistics and nine others

ATHLETICS

Rowers deserve equal attention

As a new school year begins at K-State, the press has been full of good news of how academic accreditation has been extended for 10 more years and how the football team is on a voyage to success; even to the most pessimistic observer.

K-State is one of those rare institutions where the priorities have nearly always run hand-inhand with fairness and common sense. Up to now.

We believe the education of a student should take into account the mind and body, bringing out the best in each student to their maximum capability.

It would appear that the academic side is under control, but the physical side leaves something to be desired.

We question the true priorities of the K-State sports program. Are we sacrificing our mission of encouraging all sports activities for the sake of the almighty dollar?

If I were a sports administrator, it would be difficult for me to justify the allotment of millions of dollars for 100 football players and give nothing at all to 100 enthusiastic and talented and body should be a priority, and financial support should be provided for all legitimate sports. Especially those Olympic sports that will be contested on American soil in

It would be a good idea for the K-State administration, the student body and the people of Kansas to review the priorities of their various academic institutions to make sure that the pathway to success includes as many possible instead of just

Who knows, with a little support, a K-State rower could make the U.S. Olympic team. This would be a much higher achievement than a successful season of football.

> Arthur Shaffer Senior/Physics

POLITICS

Realistically, Bush and Clinton are liars

Editor,

I have watched this year's presidential campaign with growing unease. The issues -Clinton's draft record and Bush's Iran/Contra evasions have forced me toward a shocking conclusion. These men are liars.

I would not have expected this out of politicians. The word "politician" is synonymous with honesty and forthrightfulness in our national consciousness. Where would America be if citizens could no longer trust the politicians who run their government?

It is disturbing to contemplate what might happen if a man dedicated to personal gain rather than public service were to claim our nation's highest office. Unfortunately, that seems inevitable this year, and I fear that future historians will mark this election as the end of political honesty in

> David Rowland Senior/History and English

AGGIEVILLE

Loud crowd makes visitor wary of area

During my last three weekend visits to Manhattan, I parked at City Park and walked to the various eating and drinking establishments in Aggieville. On each occasion I encountered numerous young teenagers walking in the streets or in cars who were roudy and rude. While inside Kites's, two uniformed policemen walked through several times and were courteous and appeared to be doing their

I would encourage the police and security officers to continue monitering the situation inside the bars and drastically increase their presence on the streets.

The K-State couples I was with are in their 40s, and Aggieville camaraderie has always been an Aggieville tradition. To continue that tradition, the streets will have to be more secure and the police will have to walk and patrol the streets on a more timely basis.

On numerous occasions, I go to Bourbon Street in New Orleans, and the police are an integral part of the fun and control of the crowd.

During our next visit to Manhattan for a football game, we will either return to Topeka or eat and drink outside the Aggieville area.

What a terrible way to kill a great tradition.

Friday, Sept. 4, 1992. I'll over the United States, and I fury, as I tried to protect my Growing up in Paris, I never forget that date or the fact wonder what goes on in the head from the senseless beating. thought I knew everything minds of those warped that I was senselessly beaten up individuals when they think of Aggieville makes big cities look safe about violence.

Hitchhiking across the United States without any problem or incident, I felt this country was not as scary and hazardous as portrayed by Hollywood. Hanging out in that city of crime, New York, convinced me that the 42nd

Street crime scene and the Central Park paranoia

EMMANUEL CHAPPUY were largely byproducts of the media. However, the following story will prove to you that danger is not determined by the size of the apple. Around midnight on Thursday, Sept. 17, Manhattan, Kan., unveiled itself as the rotten apple.

While I was walking from Last Chance Restaurant & Saloon to my car, I was violently assaulted by three men: one Hispanic, one African-American and one European-American.

Let's work together! Maybe there is hope after all. One tackled me from behind in a cowardly fashion, throwing me defenseless on my back. Then the real fun began. They punched and kicked me with a

Finally they left, with no explanation or justification for their dastardly behavior. In spite of the pain, I managed to walk to my car and follow them unnoticed. I quickly came to realize I was not going to be able to do anything by myself.

So, I drove toward 12th Street, hoping to find a police car cruising the area. I was lucky to find an officer who agreed to follow me in pursuit of my assailants. The officer was by himself and was only able to arrest one of them. But the suspect was released, because beating up someone for no reason whatsoever is not a serious offense. It is just a misdemeanor, just a battery, just a few blows on an innocent person. No big deal.

Later, I learned that my assailants were military personnel. Are they the pride of the country? I hope they are just a few. These people are supposed to learn how to protect others, aren't they? I thought that the very purpose of the military was to serve and

Maybe I'm just naive. These guys are a disgrace to the military and a disgrace to the country. Where are our heroes? The wounds will heal, but the humiliation and the fear will stay with me forever.

that night.

Around 2:15 a.m., while I was returning home, a group of four males got out of their car next to City Park and started walking behind me. It was pretty dark on Fairchild street, and without any warning, the people following me attacked me, punching me with their

was so REHUL taken aback that I had no time to resist or

PATHARE

run for safety. The beating had me bleeding all over, left my face swollen for a few days, and caused a lot of dizziness and vomiting. Although the physical scars are slowly healing and I feel less dizzy now, the mental image will stay with me forever.

The fact that I didn't know any one of them has made me wary of groups of people traveling together at night. What's even worse, I might see them on or off campus again without even recognizing them. It's equally sad to know that they are free to commit more crimes on unsuspecting strangers, be they Asian, Hispanic, white or black people.

incident to occur in Manhattan. Before arriving at K-State and the United States, I was warned about crime and violence in general. But the rarity of violent crimes in this University town had made me ignore the issue altogether. But I'm not sure anymore. Should I and the rest of us be afraid to walk alone at nights during the attacking people. What's surprising is that I traveled a lot of crime-ridden cities like Los Angeles this summer, going by bus and car at day and night, and never went through such a humiliating experience. The last thing I expected was for such an weekend, or even during the week? Should we never venture out to Aggieville without any "protection?" Will I ever forgive them for the assault? I don't know, but I know this for sure: that it is high time the streets are better lighted and better patrolled.

I hope these guys are apprehended before they cause any further harm and make the Little Apple a reflection of the big one. We don't have the skyscrapers of New York, but it won't be long before we have similar incidents of violent crime. I wonder if the founders had this in mind when they named this town "Manhattan."

Women real victims of reorganization

The last few weeks have been a test for many students and faculty. The authoritarian approach the administration has taken in the latest reorganizing effort has only served to accentuate the general lack of concern of those in power.

The role of a university should first and foremost be to serve the students and secondly to serve

K-State must be devoted to meeting the needs and demands of students and also be an active leader in promoting change and progress.

Veiled under the effort to reorganize is an even larger struggle. The actions of the administration are a stark reminder of how far women have left to go in their fight for equality.

The administration has said its goal is to emphasize programs of importance and de-emphasize others. Programs facing elimination or cutbacks are speech pathology and audiology and social work. Both of these programs are predominantly made up of women.

While I am in total support of added funding for the women's studies department, it cannot be at the expense of a program that employs, educates and serves mostly women.

By placing emphasis on a program that generally enrolls a specific type of student, the administration is only paying lipservice to the role of sexism within the University.

Students who take a course in women's studies are taking it due to an already existing interest and desire. The expansion of the women's studies department will do nothing to educate the students of K-State who originally never intended to enroll in a class devoted to roles and issues of women and gender. If the administration is really

Hate crime is increasing all trying to educate students and diversify the University, they would recognize the need to have women and minorities in all departments, not just specific areas. Regardless of what the material is, the person teaching the class going to interpret the material differently based on individual experience and Even beyond the influence of personal experience, a student can learn a lot from just seeing a woman teaching in a college classroom. For the administration to say it is devoted to diversifying the University is just not the case. For instance, 80 percent of the faculty in the social work department are women. However, in the 20-year history of the department, not a single woman has been tenured. The lack of tenure is not isolated to any particular department. According to October 1991 figures compiled by the University Office of Affirmative Action, there are only 90 women tenured in the entire University. The equates to only 12.7 percent of all tenured faculty. This figure represents an increase of only 0.4 percent from the previous

KLAWONN

The time has come for the administration to bridge the gap between theory and practice. It must be held accountable for its actions in the past, present and in the future.

Education of the the mind

Keith Olson Topeka resident

3 dead on Florida campus

Stabbing victims may have been students, officer says

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI - Three people were found fatally stabbed in a car at the Florida International University campus Tuesday.

Officials dismissed similarities to the 1990 Gainesville student slavings

A yellow cord tied in what appeared to be a 6-inch hangman's noose was dangling from the rearview mirror, but police could not say who placed it there, Sgt. Pat Rickman said.

"The victims apparently were stabbed," said university spokesman Dan Kalmanson, "The car was a rental. We do not know if they were FIU students."

Police at FIU immediately tightened security around campus, the spokesman said.

"Our students are naturally concerned and worried. We feel it's an isolated incident and not similar to the serial killings that took place in Gainesville," Kalmanson said.

The bodies of two unidentified men and a woman were discovered next to a lake by a campus police officer, authorities said.

Unlike some of the victims in the Gainesville slayings, the bodies did not appear to have been mutilated, Kalmanson said.

Metro-Dade Detective George Reyes would not confirm the victims were stabbed to death.

"We can't really tell how they died," he said. "We also don't have any information as to who they are as of yet. We don't know if they're students, if they're faculty members or just people that happened to be here.

Just after noon, a flatbed truck carried the car, with the bodies inside, to the medical examiner's office, where autopsies will be performed. "You don't expect something like this on campus. You expect it downtown, just not on campus," said FIU student Kerrin Bressant. "It's a sanctuary here. It's a place of learning."

> This Thursday LIVE

Eagle Ridge

$1 Bottles

Mon. & Tues.

5750 Wells

Wed.

50¢ Draws 50¢ Tacos

Free Dance Lessons

7:30 p.m.

On Stage

Fri.-Sat.

Hired Hands

Police find New Tuttle Creek marina to open in '93

Big Dawg Marina to provide services from Spillway Cove

LISA COLE

Tuttle Creek Reservoir will have a new marina in Spillway Cove by April 1993.

The reservoir has been without marina service for seven years.

Big Dawg Marina, to be located on the lake's east side, will provide gas, tackle and convenience foods.

It will also provide services such as boat storage, jet ski and boat rental, and a fishing guide to lake users, said co-owner Tony Staten. State park permits and licenses also will be sold there.

"We're kind of excited about getting it in," said Paul Miller, Tuttle Creek State Park manager. "There's been such a demand by the public for a marina.'

Four Manhattan businessmen -Vernon Dolezal, Tony Staten, Keith Eyestone and Ken Snook - will own the marina.

Dolezal said the partners became interested in opening a marina while boating on Tuttle Creek. They needed gas and had to pull the boat out of the water and go to Manhattan to buy some.

"We thought it was pretty stupid that the second largest lake in Kansas didn't have (a marina)," Dolezal said.

There have been two marinas on Tuttle Creek in the past. One was located in the Fancy Creek area, on the northwest side of the lake. It closed in the early 1980s when silt became a problem in the cove. Big Dawg will be built in the same cove as the former Spillway marina.

Spillway closed in 1986, because the building had deteriorated after 25 years of exposure to the elements and was beyond repair, Miller said.

Members of a group called the Marina Task Force have been trying since 1986 to bring a marina to Tuttle Creek, task force member Bob Muto said.

The group put out year-long nationwide bids for the project in 1986 through the Army Corps of Engineers but had not gotten a response. A Wichita resident was interested in investing in the project in 1988 but backed out, Muto said. "It stayed pretty much stagnant from then on," he said. The task force began looking at the marina idea again six months ago, Muto said. They met with Big Dawg owners, and the project was given the go-ahead.

In addition to its regular services, the marina will be beneficial in the case of an emergency at the lake, Miller said. Law enforcement officials will have access to phones and gas right

■ See MARINA Page 12

'The Tin Drum' offers intellect, humor

MATT CUNNINGHAM

Oskar, a Polish boy, is so scared of the adult world that on his third birthday, he decides to stop growing.

"The Tin Drum," based on the novel by German author Gunter Grass, takes an unique look at growing up during the rise and fall of Nazi Germany. The movie, in German with English subtitles, adds well-placed bits of humor to an otherwise serious theme.

This movie shows the Nazis through a child's eyes.

YOUR PARTY STARTS HERE!

Fraternities & Sororities

Special Parent Weekend Hours Sat. 9-5

KSU Apparel • Custom Embroidery

Largest Selection of Sportswear

in the Midwest

537-8822

Pi Kappa Theta Sept. 30 -

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or ament should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Iments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Great

Memories

Start

Here.

The audience may have a problem realizing Oskar's mind has developed, although his body hasn't.

The maturation of the boy's feelings and emotions adds humor, especially when his feelings are those of a boy noticing the opposite sex for the first time.

The movie intensifies the sex and violence of adulthood through Oskar's eyes - and focuses on his questioning of relationships and war.

The cinematography is excellent,

Tome.

Portraits

taken for...

SHOW TIMES

The Tin Drum" will play at 7 and 9:30 tonight and Thursday night in Forum Hall, and at 7 p.m. Friday in the Little Theatre.

and some scenes show the beauty of pre-World War II Germany, as well as the destruction of war.

The film strategically places scenes showing the Nazi party's incompetence while displaying the attitudes of new German filmmakers toward Naziism.

You've got to spend money to make money. It pays to advertise in the COLLEGIAN 99

TO THE EDITOR

may be brought to Kedzie 116.

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st.

-800-848-LOVE (5683)

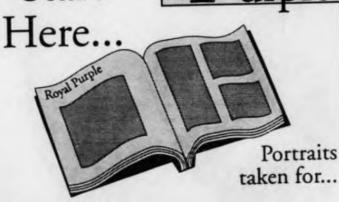

Sigma Kappa is Proud to Present The 1st Annual 1993

MEN of K-STATE

If you or anyone you know would be interested in being one of the 12 men featured please contact Traci Klein at 587-0337 or sign up in the Union Oct. 1 & 2

Great Memories Start

Pi Kappa Alpha Sept. 30

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Open Mon.-Fri. 9-5; Sat. 10-3 528 Pillsbury Dr. (1/2 mile south of the Mall on Hwy. 177) urple

Parent's Day is Oct. 3. Don't forget to take an opportunity to thank them for all they've done for you over the years.

The Collegian Classifieds will feature a special section for Mom and Dad personals on Friday, Oct. 2. Place your ad today in Kedzie 103 (east of the Union).

Remember, they've given you a lifetime of happiness. Now it's your turn to make their day.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Mom and/or Dad a special day at Kansas State University. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Your I.D. number Your name Telephone number Address Message.

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

FOOD LESS

These Prices Good Sept. 30 thru Oct. 6, 1992. Quantity Rights Reserved. OPEN 24 HOURS -everyday!

- •401 E.Poyntz Ave.
  - •222 N. 6th St.
- •3011 Anderson in Manhattan

ANOTHER BIG WEEK OF THESE SPECIAL SAVINGS!

F THESE CIAL NGS!

Sold in 10-lb. Bags

Fresh Chicken

We're celebrating the opening of our newest store in Junction City, Kansas for Junction City, Kansas for another big week with extra special buys throughout our special buys throughout our stores. And every day at stores. And every day at food 4 Less, you'll find over 600 of our Green Tag Specials to save you even more!

Leg Quarters

Wonder Bread 24-Ounce Loaf

24-Ounce Loaf
TREE

FRESH DAILY BAKE

Cakes 17.8 oz.

18

Cottitio

corn King Meat Franks 12-oz. Pkg.

Thorn Smoked Sausage S

Fairmont-Zarda, Steffen's or Farm Fresh

Fruit

Drink

Assorted Flavors

Callo

Quarter Sliced
Pork
Loins
48

Perch Fillets 198

FRESH FROM THE SEA

Always

24-Pack/

2-Liter Pop

SA

for

In addition to our everyday low prices...

HAVE OVER 600

These are manufacturers special discounts because of our volume buying. We pass the savings on to you!

5-QUART ICE CREAM

PAIL

Blue Bunny

5-Quart Pail

5-QUART ICE CREAM PAIL

Honey

32-oz.-Box

amous Tortilla Chips 14.5-oz. Bag

12-oz. Cans

Flavors

We only advertise on special occasions, and pass the savings on to you in lower food prices. But the specials are always here, just pick up an in-store flyer loaded with our volume buys.

> also Corn or Canola 48-oz. Btl.

PIZZA

12-Inch Size

fo

18-oz. Jar

Creamy or Crunchy

Purina Hi-Pro Pre-Priced $7.99 20-lb. Bag

Extra Strength

Wessol

Tylenoi GelCaps 50-Count Btl.

CULTURED SOUR CREAM

Fairmont-Zarda or Steffen's

Sour Cream 8-Ounce Bowl

Food 4 Less always gives you the lowest total food bill, and we always will

-WE PROMISE

Pre-Priced $1.49 Light 6.5-oz. Bag

30 oz. Btl.

Ruffles

Lite Mrs. Butterworth's Syrup 24-oz. Btl. WITH COUPON

Regular or

24 oz Regular or Lite WHEN YOU BUY ON 2007 SIZE OR EXHOLE VECTIFY KOLE. cap to a maximum of $2.70 grade

octuber o 1992

The Magic is back for L.A. Lakers

"I'm playing again. Yeaaaa."

MAGIC JOHNSON

Johnson comes out of retirement to play despite having AIDS virus

ASSOCIATED PRESS

INGLEWOOD, Calif. - Magic Johnson said Tuesday he is returning to the Los Angeles Lakers as a player on a-limited schedule.

Johnson retired last season after learning he has the virus that causes

"I'm playing again. Yeaaaa," said Johnson, who will play 50-60 games, avoiding back-to-back games to better preserve his health. Johnson announced Nov. 7 that he was retiring because he had tested

Since then, there has been a steady stream of speculation and controversy about his future, mixed in with his triumphant appearances in the NBA All-Star game in February and the Olympics this summer. It was that success and the lack of additional medical problems that convinced Johnson to return. "The true test was practicing with the players on the Olympic team

The atmosphere Tuesday at the Forum sharply contrasted the one nearly a year ago in the same room where Johnson calmed a shocked world by saying he would fight the virus that was sidelining him.

This time, Johnson frequently laughed and joked with his wife and reporters, flashing his famous wide grin. "This is a lot more relaxed," he said. "It was much tougher then, because I was having to say goodbye."

At the news conference Tuesday, Johnson said his limited schedule would not stop him from playing in cities like New York, where former Lakers coach Pat Riley now coaches, and Boston, where he and Larry Bird forged a classic rivalry.

'I'm not going to miss the good ones," Johnson said. Johnson's doctor, Michael Melman, said it is difficult for doctors to advise an HIV-positive patient how much it's safe to play. Johnson's retirement last year seemingly ended a 12-year NBA career that included five championships with the Lakers.

President Bush named him to the Presidential Commission on AIDS eight days after that announcement. Johnson resigned from the commission last Friday because of what he called a lack of support from the Bush administration, but he vowed to continue his fight against AIDS.

Johnson, the NBA's career leader in assists with 9,921 and Most Valuable Player in 1987, 1989 and 1990, was the MVP in the NBA All-Star Game on Feb. 9 in Orlando, Fla.

Johnson's number, 32, was retired Feb. 16 at halftime of the Lakers' game against Boston, but he told cheering fans at that time he may return.

PHOTOS BY CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

ABOVE: K-State's Jason Losch chips onto the No. 2 green Tuesday at the Kansas Invitational in Lawrence. RIGHT: With his view of the No. 11 green obstructed, senior Richard Laing asks Coach Mark Elliott for advice on which club to use.

Men 2nd in Kansas tourney

KRISTEEN YOUNG

The K-State men's golf team placed second in the Kansas Invitational, just three strokes behind the Jayhawks, who were playing on their home course.

Thirteen teams competed in the threeround tourney Monday and Tuesday. After the first round, Coach Mark Elliott said he was pleased.

"We had a real good first round. It could have been better," he said. "But to still be placed where we are shows just how much

Where they were was ahead of Iowa State. 'We're pleased to be 10 strokes ahead of Iowa State, who finished third in the Big Eight last season. And they feel like they are better this year," Elliott said at the end of round two, also Monday. By then, the Wildcats were 15 strokes behind KU and 10 ahead of Iowa State.

On day two, the Cats narrowed the gap between themselves and first place from 15 strokes to just three. And Iowa State fell even further behind, 18 shots from K-State's score.

It was the first time K-State had defeated

Iowa State, which placed eighth.

It was also a first for placing better than three Big Eight schools at the same tournament. Besides Iowa State, K-State also left Nebraska and Missouri behind.

Elliott said this was an important task to accomplish, one that may have implications on future tournaments.

People can't just look past us this year. We're a factor now," he said. "It's a lot more fun to be expected to do something than expected to do nothing."

He said the tournament was also important when it comes to getting into the national

This was an incredibly huge tournament for us. Last year we were 13th out of 15 teams and playing horrible," Elliott said. "We felt like this was the one tournament that kept us out of getting an NCAA berth last year."

Senior Richard Laing held the top position for the Cats at No. 5. Just one stroke behind him in sixth place was teammate Brett

Other Wildcats placing were Jason Losch at 11th and Sean Robertson at 23rd. Two others competing for K-State were Chris Weddle and Scott Hovis, who didn't place in the top 30.

Elliott said it wasn't an outstanding performance.

"We found that we don't have to play exceptional to have a great tournament. The players handled the pressure well, and this team's only going to get better," he said.

Mendez isn't player of week

Sports Information was told safety would get honor

SPORTS DIGEST

took four swings off the batting tee Tuesday night, felt a familiar pain shoot through his left shoulder and decided he had better delay for

The Kansas City Royals' designated hitter, leaguer to reach 3,000, was out of the lineup for the second straight night when the Royals

Brett, bothered by strained muscles in his shoulder, will have five games remaining to another day his pursuit of career hit No.

four hits shy of becoming the 18th major faced the California Angels

▶BRETT SITS AGAIN, NURSES SORE SHOULDER

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — George Brett try to reach the plateau.

STEVE ROCK Collegian

A representative from Sports Illustrated called K-State Sports Information Sunday night asking about junior free safety Jaime Mendez, said Ben Boyle, sports information director.

The weekly magazine wanted to verify the statistics for their newly named National Defensive Player of the Week. Mendez, who had broken the Wildcat record and come within one of the Big Eight record Saturday with four interceptions, said he knew nothing about the phone call.

He also said he's glad he didn't.

Monday morning, the folks from SI called back to say that Memphis State's Ken Irvin would get the honor instead.

"As far as what they told me Sunday night, it was a done deal," Boyle said. "It was signed,

"You would think that when a nationally ranked magazine tells you something official, you could take it to the bank," he said. Obviously, someone was way out of line when they told me that."

"If I'm 80 percent and pain-free, I'll play

He got good news earlier in the day when test results revealed no torn muscles in his

He sat out Monday's game, a 6-5 extra

"I don't want it to come down to my last at-inning loss, when tightness in the shoulder bat, not come down to needing four hits in three games. I want to get it done," Brett said.

tomorrow," Brett said Tuesday night after scratching himself from the lineup.

developed during batting practice.

Irvin, a sophomore cornerback, broke a 50year-old NCAA record against the Arkansas Razorbacks with four blocked punts. The record was held by Indiana's Tom Moorhead, who blocked three punts against K-State in 1942 in a 54-0 Wildcat loss.

"If I would have heard about it Sunday night," Mendez said, "I probably would have been kind of mad Monday.

Instead, Mendez said he heard the whole story, both the initial announcement and the ensuing reversal, at the same time. "I heard it all in one big swoop," he said. "I just kind of snickered." Mendez was also beat out for Defensive Player of the Week in the Big Eight conference.

Colorado's Ron Woolfork earned the honor. "I just had a feeling I wouldn't get it," he said. "And I didn't get it. I think it's an award

I'm not meant to have.

But it really doesn't bother me. Honestly, 'm not that upset.

We try not to worry about that stuff, because if you start to worry about awards, you start to lose games. You become an individual instead of Indeed, being a team, and a successful one, is what matters, Mendez said.

"I try not to set too many goals," he said. "I just want us to have a successful season and hopefully go to a bowl game.' But did the SI incident rattle his cage at all? It is in the back of my mind. But honestly, it really doesn't matter. Even Coach Bill Snyder said the incident could have been handled better.

"I thought maybe Jaime deserved some more recognition from one of the more prominent magazines that called and indicated he was going to be selected as the national player of the

The magazine indicated to Boyle that Mendez would be mentioned in the notes section.

sealed and delivered.

Club publicist Janelle Esau said the team was

We had very good workouts and a really good turnout at the race," she said. "We rowed very

The men's open eight took third with a time of 18:07. The men's open four rowed to a ninth-place finish out of 16 boats, and the women's open four

"We thought we performed real well for the first time in the season," he said. "We all pretty well

Jayhawks are spikers' 1st conference foe

SCOTT ABEL

The K-State volleyball team will open its Big Eight schedule at 7:30 p.m. tonight against the Kansas Jayhawks at Ahearn Field House

The Wildcats have come out of non-conference play with a 5-6 record. Coach Patti Hagemeyer said K-State is now looking forward to testing the newly acquired game experience of seven underclassmen.

'Our first 11 non-conference games gave them experience," junior Stephanie Liester said. 'But now we're 0-0, and now the team is going for it.

Hagemeyer said a hard nonconference schedule should help

"It's been a hard challenge," she said, "but a positive, good experience.

"I think the team is much more prepared for Big Eight play than it was a year ago. This will be K-State's first match since a three-set home win over Drake a week ago, a layoff that will help the team. "The players have had the weekend off and time to physically and emotionally regroup," Hagemeyer said. "I think they're ready to play." KU comes to Manhattan with an 11-5 record but has lost its two last games. The Hawks have had to replace three seniors who helped them reach last year's National Invitational Volleyball Championships. "When you try to replace seniors that touch a lot of balls, it takes some adjustment," KU coach Frankie Albitz said. Liester, who leads the Wildcats in digs, said K-State wants to improve on its play against KU. 'We took them to the edge in Lawrence last year, and this year we want to beat them," she said. When I was a freshman, I didn't understand the rivalry between the two schools. I do now. It's big.'

Hagemeyer said playing KU may not be as big emotionally as just playing their first conference

"Even though KU lost their first conference match, they will be ready to play. So will we."

CLUB SPORTS

team off to strong

FRANK KLEEMANN

The K-State Rowing Association started its season well, as the women's novice eight placed first with a time of 20:59 Saturday at the ninth annual Head of the Des Moines Regatta.

The regatta is a three-mile head race on the Des Moines river in which the single boats start 15

The women's novice eight crew was the only K-State team to win, but it was a prestigious victory, Myron Friesen, club president, said.

"This race is typically filled with as strong competition as crews from Harvard, Radeliffe or KU," he said. "We were pretty confident that our women's novice eight had a good shot at the win."

exited to win its first race this fall.

Besides the one victory, K-State showed strong performances in the four remaining events.

finished seventh out of 14 boats. In the mixed-eight race, K-State A was fifth, just six seconds ahead of K-State B in sixth.

performed up to our expectations."

Auxiliary unit controls traffic, assists Riley police

Chris Munoz left Saturday's football game with a sore arm.

But Munoz, junior in criminal justice, didn't play in the game. He, and several other members of the Riley County Police Department auxiliary unit, directed traffic out of the parking lot at KSU Stadium after the Wildcats' victory.

"The auxiliary provides most of the traffic control at parades, highschool functions and K-State games," said Capt. Buddy Mays, department liaison officer for the police auxiliary.

Auxiliary members also help with park patrol and ride along with on-duty officers, Mays said.

One of the reasons Munoz joined the auxiliary was to take part in the ride-along program, he said.

"Once I got into it, I found it was very interesting, and now I look at it as a chance to get some experience," Munoz said. Mays said the auxiliary was created in 1987 to replace the reserve officer program. "We were undergoing accreditation at the time and had to make some changes," Mays said.

reorganized it as the auxiliary."

There are a few differences between the reserves and the auxiliary, Mays said.

Reserve officers could carry weapons and help make arrests. But the auxiliary officers, all volunteers, aren't allowed to carry weapons, and they assist officers only if ordered.

"Liabilities and expenses were part of the reasons for changing the program around," Mays said.

To be an auxiliary officer, an applicant must be 21, a resident of Riley County, a U.S. citizen and have no misdemeanors or felonies on record.

After filling out an application, applicants are contacted for an interview with a panel of auxiliary members, and then they meet with the director of the program.

Applicants who pass the interviews attend 12 hours of training classes in the evenings or on the weekend and then take a written exam over that material. Mays said there are training sessions as needed.

Training must be repeated once a year for members of the unit.

Citizens support Crime Stoppers

Mass media employed to help catch criminals

JILL SCHRAG

Riley County Crime Stoppers has solved 260 major crimes and given $14,410 in reward money since it began 10 years ago.

A group of citizens working with the Riley County Police Department started Crime Stoppers in 1982 to prevent crime.

The Crime Stoppers organization began in 1977 in Albuquerque, N.M. There are now 400 chapters in the United States and chapters in England, Australia, Guam, Mexico and Canada.

"It will continue to grow. I can program guarantee you," Stanley coordinator Sgt. Conkwright said. "It's just too good of a program.'

The police department provides facts about crimes and re-enacts the Crime of the Week on television. The Manhattan/Riley County Crime Stoppers Board of 17 citizens raises and awards money to witnesses.

Two TV stations, four newspapers and six radio stations in Riley County, Junction City and Topeka disseminate information about a Crime of the Week twice weekly to encourage witnesses to call in, Conkwright said.

"I get outstanding support from TV stations and radio stations," Conkwright said. "They're the ones without publicity, we couldn't get it out to the public.

Capt. Allen Raynor, commander of the investigations division, chooses the Crime of the Week based on how likely it will be to produce witnesses, he said.

"Generally speaking, it will be the most serious crime. We pick the hottest thing we've got going - the one that has the greatest likelihood of someone having seen it," Raynor Conkwright said crimes of violence against people are chosen for publication before crimes against property.

"The purpose of Crime Stoppers is to light a fire under people who wouldn't normally call in," Raynor Callers are guaranteed anonymiy, Conkwright said. The police and the citizens' board can identify callers only by a random number.

Each witness picks up a tax-free reward in cash at a different place in Manhattan.

"It's done for the safety of everyone involved," Conkright said. Rewards of up to $1,000 are given by the citizens' board. The reward amount depends on the seriousness of the crime and if property is recovered, Conkwright

Since September 1992, $144,684 of property has been recovered and $45,950 of drugs has been confiscated because of Crime

GTHOMAS JEWELERS

"For The Gift Of Pride Let Us Be Your Guide" Same Day Repair Service

419 Poyntz Ave. Downtown, Manhattan

KITES EXITES KITES DRINKS TONIGHT and every Wednesday. 18 to enter; 21 to drink 619 North 12th Street; Aggieville, 537-2100 tenes tenes tenes tenes tenes tenes tenes

ATTENTION KSU RODEO CLUB

This week's meeting is tonight, Sept. 30 7 p.m. in Weber 111

BEAUTY SUPPLY Liters On Sale

Sept. 28 thru Oct. 3 (One week only)

BIOLAGE LITERS	REG.	SALE
Normal Shampoo 32 oz.	$ 1300	$ 998
Hydrating Shampoo 32 oz.	1500	1098
Leave in Conditioner 32 oz.	1300	998
Conditioning Balm 16 oz.	1600	1198

539-5512 7181/2 N. Manhattan

CANDIDATE FORUM ON EDUCATION

Featuring:

Gloria O'dell and representatives of the Robert Dole & Clinton/Gore campaigns

UNION LITTLE THEATRE 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 30

sponsored by Southwind

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available

Saturday, October 10th, 1992

Packet pickup begins at 7:30 a.m. in The Saint Mary Hospital parking lot. The two-mile run kicks off at 8:30. The three-mile walk kicks in at 9:00. The entry fee is only $10 ($5 for kids under 12) if received by October 5th and $12 ($7 for kids under 12) thereafter. Your donation will help support R.C.P.D. and the D.A.R.E. program.

Please mail form below to: Bob Nordby, The Saint Mary Hospital, P.O. Box 1047, Manhattan, KS 66502-1047

Address					_ Phone
City				State		Zip
Age (as of 10/1	10/9	92) _			Entry Fee			_
Event					Sex
Scrub Shirt:			-		Kid's T-Shirt		M	1
Please read waiv	er b	elow,	sign	and rel	turn with coupon hereby, for myself, m			itare

ing of stereo headphones is prohibited

(Parent's if under 18) Signature

> We're here when you need us. the saint many hospital

For more into or a race brechure, call 776-2840 or 776-3322.

1823 College Ave. • Manhattan, KS • (913) 776-3322

JIM'S JOURNAL

IIM DIKKERS

CROSSWORD

1 "...she'll do me no

Jane

Taylor poem) 5 Choose

8 Close

down

38 Rorschach

39 Billy — Williams

43 Thick,

41 Bark cloth

heavy test feature

59 Cud-

DOWN

chewe

1 Santa's

2 Woe is

3 Italian

comment

ACROSS

EUGENE SHEFFER

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

12 Butter substitute ized vo-4 Unassum-13 Cebine cabulary 5 Explorer monkey 50 Wild ox 14 Remove 51 Small Johnson 6 Youth org. the rind suitcases 7 Medieval 15 Court sport Unruly contest 17 "Picnic tumult 8 Paper 55 Actress author 18 An Sue cone Langdon American 9 Small printed dogwood 19 "Big Bill 56 First name in scat notice 10 Advocate of tennis singing 57 Miss 21 "Esme" strongly author Sommer 11 H.S. 58 Disease of student 24 Linen vestment Solution time: 21 mins. 25 Coin of Thailand 28 The same Latin 30 Bank acct. 33 The gums 34 Ascend gradually 35 Back talk 36 Strong 37 "A - With a View

(novel)

20 Metrical foot 22 Gram or meter lead-in 23 Word before board or box 25 Broker's order 26 Pub pint 27 Instruction manual Austen novel 31 Spanish 32 Likely 34 Algonquian Indian UMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873!99¢ per minute, touch-38 Stinging or cutting tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. 40 Gladden CRYPTOQUIP 42 Tablet 43 Relief org.

44 Blue dye XBFV BQQ 45 Rug or dance ZJGHM, 47 Strong wind 48 Eye boldly Z G P H V UV UBF 49 Peter or UGZ UBPFZ Yesterday's Cryptoquip: THE PLEASED WINNER OF POTTERY CONTEST IN IOWA HAD FEAT OF 52 Black bird Buntline CLAY.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: H equals C

FOLLOW THE CATS COLLEGIAN SPORTS

AIDS isn't the only sexually transmitted disease

by Cassandra

Duveaux

Everyone is talking about AIDS and seems to have forgotten lesser diseases. There is a sexually transmitted disease that could pose potential danger to college students who are not sexually active, but who have friends who are.

Trichimonisis can be transmitted outside clothing from sharing towels. I'm sure trying on other people's clothes could transmit it as well. Sometimes, there are not even any symptoms.

This happened to me last year, and because I could not believe I could get something like that, I ignored the symptoms. But I knew my roommate had it. The only problem with that is that if you don't know you have it, you can't cure it. And if you are pregnant or get pregnant while you have it, it may cause problems.

I can not blame my miscarriage last year on this, but I am an otherwise healthy woman in childbearing years. So, I am encouraging any K-State student who has even heard of a friend of a friend having it to get checked.

I've had it almost a year and found out two days ago. What it cost me was a lot more than the cost of the STD check, and you can find out right then if you have it. The Riley County Health Department gives you medicine for your

DEAR STUDENT.

I think what you refer to as "trichimonisis" is more commonly known as "leukorrhea," which is used to describe any nonbloody, vaginal discharge. Leukorrhea is a symptom rather than a disease, and it can be caused by any number of factors, one of which is a one-celled microorganism known as Trichomonas vaginalis. The organism causes a yellowish narge, often accompanied by itching of the external genitals. It sometimes leads to a chronic inflammation of the cervix.

It is not known where this protozoan comes from, although there are indications it exists in the rectum, where it does no damage. It is possible that it can be transmitted as you suggest, and it is therefore wise to follow your advice about avoiding wearing other people's clothes or using their towels.

There are several drugs on the market that can effectively treat this problem, so it is wise for all women and sexually active men to get regular checkups. Thanks for sharing your story.

A K-State student DEAR CASSANDRA,

I know this may sound stupid, and I am not trying to make light of the recent rape incident on campus, but it can go both ways.

Yesterday's answer 9-30

Last Saturday, I went to an Aggieville bar and met up with a nice-looking girl. She invited me over to her house after the bars closed, and one thing led to another. Anyway, I said "no," but she kept on going. I actually pulled away from her on two occasions, but the next thing I knew, she was on top of me. I know she didn't force me, but I also know that alcohol played a big part in the whole situation.

To make a long story short, I am now worried that I may have got more than a bad memory out of the whole situation. I feel very angry, stupid and, in a way, violated. My question is, is there any course of action that I can take against this girl?

G.S.A., K-State student

I am not sure what you mean by "may have got more than a bad memory out of the whole situation."

If you mean you think you may have of the Collegian or K-State.

contracted a sexually transmitted disease and have subsequently suffered some mental or physical damage as a result, then you may have some basis for legal action. But you are going to have to prove that your partner had knowledge of the disease she was transmitting with intent to do harm - a difficult problem, to say the

If you are saying you think she may be regnant and she can prove you are the father (which usually only requires a simple blood test), then it matters not how you may have been tricked or manipulated into fathering a

About all you can do now is pass out the cigars, "Dad." Next time, avoid the oats - the kind you drink and the kind you sow.

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion

JLASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 — $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less -- $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less — $7.25 each word ove: 20 — $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word

(consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY

is must be paid in advance es you have an est Student Publications sh, check, MasterCard or Visa are

ed. There is a $10 service charge We reserve the right to edit, reject or reperty classify any sd.

For an extra charge, we'll put a headline above your ad to calch the

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be pleced by 5 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

FREE FOUND ADS
As a service to you, we run found ads
for three days free of charge.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day

the ad is to be put

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please cell us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

532-6555

532-7309

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

OR WRITE

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of imum of $250 worth or financial aid from sourc-es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did 2 ROYAL Purplet Did you forget? Pick It up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

ADVANCED - FLIGHT Training. Multi-engine,

instrument, commercial, ATP, CFI ratings. Private and instrument ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 evenings.

ANGRY? FED up? Tend to GRY? FED up? fend to blow up when you're mad? Learn a new way... Try our work-shop, "Handling Anger Assertively." Call now for information 532-6927.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after

EATING DISORDERS Therapy Group: Discuss the thoughts, feelings and behaviors associated with this problem. Common concerns in-clude difficulties with depression, self-es teem, body image, family and relationships Call University Coun-seling Services, 532-

SUMMERTIME ONE Day Diet. Anyone can stick to a diet for a day when they know they can eat what they want the next day. For more in-formation contact Clifton Beth (913)537-0850.

You'll never know unless you try...advertising. COLLEGIAN

Found ads can be placed free for three days.

FOUND: WOMANS silver bracelet by Denison given to English Department Secretary. HELPI LOSTI small wirebound, blue, notebook. Says "8:30/9:30" in upper corner. Contains teaching notes (in pen-cil) PLEASE call 532-5987, Deb.

LOST GOLD chain with charm very sentimen-tal. Reward if found call 537-4417.

LOST: TWO pair earrings on card between park-ing lot across from stadium and Ahearn. Please call if found - 776-5626, leave message if not home. Thanksl.

TEXTBOOK FOUND Sept 25 in Paslay Lecture Hall. Claim in Durland

WHITE KITTEN found at 401 Thurston on Tues. evening (Sept. 22), 776-6018.

030

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a ADPI ERIN and Kym. Congratulations on your in-itiation! You're the best. Love you Pride: Tanya, Rhonda, Traci, Marci, Jenni.

HEY BIG A! You finally made it! I guess we can have someone legal buy the beer now, huh! Happy 21st! Miche. SHE LIKES to get down and dirty and she just turned almost 301 Call Mary Jo at 539-2881 and wish her a Happy Birthday.

TORD COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and fourbedrooms. Apartment complexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666. COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid landlady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494-8201 or 889-4495.

ROOMMATE WANTED $200/ month, includes utilities, washer and dryer, must love pets. Call 537-0635.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT 1022 Moro Street #5. $300/ month water and trash pa Call Xigang at 532-6430 (days) or 776-7596 (evenings).

TWO-BEDROOM APARTwall, utilities paid, clean, $375, call 537-5176 or 537-5144.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue Apartments, one block from campus. Call 539-4447.

AVAILABLE NOV. 1, two bedroom, unfurnished, $350 plus utilities, no pets. 539–7336.

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and fourcomplexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen tral air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call appointments

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, 537-8800.

776-3804.

ONE BEDROOM basement, $240, bills paid, 539-8401.

ONE-REDROOM APART MENT near city park Off-street parking, air, $295 plus water. Avail im mediately 539-5518 evenings

APARTMENT located

1960 Hunting, Close to campus coin operated laundry water and trash For appointment call 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, centra air and heat, laundry facilities. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bedroom. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

SPACIOUS ONE bedroom apartment Basement with own entrance near campus. $290/ month induding utilities. Must rent immediately 539-

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 1-539-6058 494-2449.

THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $340/ month. 776-8628.

120 For Rent-Houses

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer, dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

SAVE WITH hot water solar Three-bedroom with studio apartment for income close to city park and campus Good neigh borhood. $62,900. 1-800-593-0519.

30 For Rent-Mobile Homes

FURNISHED OR unfur-

GET THE WORD OUT.

Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine No pets, 539-4087

14X70 TWO-BEDROOM excellent condition. $6500, 537-8741.

1992 14X70 three-bedroom, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

NEW, LOW price, #162 Co-Ionial Gardens, 1988 Skyline 14x70, was $17,750, now $15,725 fantastic financing Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

wanted to share threepus, washer/ dryer trash provided. $200 plus one-third utilities. 539-0858

NON-SMOKER TO share two room house, $100 a month plus one-half utilities, leave message. 776-3464

ONE FUN-LOVING female to share three-bedroom, washer/ dryer first semester only $170 plus one-third utilities

ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large two bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more information 776-3804.

150

SUBLEASE- TWO-BED ROOM apartment at Park Place, pool, shuttl bus to campus, laundry facilities, water paid, $425 plus deposit. 537-

SERVICE DIRECTORY

Not enough time on your hands to get everything done? Check the

Classifieds service directory OLLEGIAN

Kedzie 103 532-655

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539-5998 after

25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy let me do the typing Reports, charts graphs, resumes and more. Overnight re sults when necessary Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after ask for

A QUALITY resume is vital in today's com-petitive job market Contac the courteous staff at Resume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a decade 343 sional to type, edit and laser- print your resumes, papers and presentations. Fast. Accurate. 823–6931.

Pregnancy 539-3338

9 a.m.-5 p.m

RILEY COUNTY 2030 Tecumseh 776-4779

FREE COUNSELING ALL OPTIONS DISCUSSED Early Detection is Important

CONFIDENTIAL (Ad by Friends of Women)

235<sup>child Care</sup>

the fall semester. We offer creative, low student- teacher ratio; individualized attention to learning needs. State lineeds censed. Teachers with degrees, certifi-cation and experience Open from 7:30-5:30 with several hands-on curriculum;

programs and flexible scheduling. We don't discriminate on the basis of race, sex religion, color, ethnic A B C typing service. You do or national origin. Call 537-2349 for instudying, PROFESSIONAL COUPLE needs babysitter for several evenings each month. Two children ages three and four, ary negotiable. 776-0325. References required.

WANTED: ALTERNATE for

(doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Per-form around state, evenings and weekends. Good pay. 776-4999, 537-1741.

245 Pet Services

FOUR LOVING and playfu

kittens seek respo

250 Autom

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair

Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas,

Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612

Dipper Lane, Manhat

tan, Kansas, 537-5049.

8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday

EMPLOYMENT

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to appropriet proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

HARDEES IN Aggleville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill in- store positions. Shift scheduling ex-amples are: 5a.m.-

1p.m.; 9a.m.- 5p.m.; 11a.m.- 5p.m. Also have many positions available for following type schedules: 5p.m-

9p.m.; 9p.m.- 3a.m.;

CAREERS

ble, caring owners. Lit ter box trained, de

240 your GUITAR LESSONS. Ex-

ALL TYPING needs done expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

KSU— SALINA students/ staff: Hire a profes-

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers editing; my ten'years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

l'esting Center

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

FREE PREGNANCY TESTS

OAK GROVE School, a nontraditional, secular, nonprofit school for children aged 3-10, has openings for

140 For Rent - Garage

145 Roommate Wanted

150 Sublease

155 Stable/Pasture

160 Office Space

165 Land for Sale

person. Ask for Chris

LEASING CONSULTANT Part-time leasing con-sultant needed for a tment community. A successful candidate would be enthusiastic, for excellence. Previous retail experience helpful and upperclassman are preferred. 15- 25 hours per week (including Saturdays) and full time during the sum mer. Please call 776-8080 to schedule an in terview.

MAINTENANCE: KNOWL EDGABLE about electrical plumbing and appliance repair for apartment, 537-0428.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGIST (ASCP) or equivalent needed to fill full-time position and clinical ref erence laboratory. Microbiology experience required. Excellent benefits, competitive salary and no call back. Call Carol at 539-5363 or send resume to Box 128, Manhattan, KS 66502 Equal Oppor tunity Employer

NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experience. SSS, and more 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 openings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sel ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 Anderson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

OUTDOOR RENTAL Main tenance person want ed. Applications available at Recreational Services office from 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday. Appl cation deadline is Fr day, October 2.

PART-TIME ACCOUNTING payroll clerk for hattan Catholic Schools. Flexible hours. Excellent opportunity for senior or graduate student in Business or Accounting. Gain ex-perience for future resumes, IBM, Peach edge a plus. Send resume, cover letter and three references to Manhattan Catholic chools 306 S. Julie Manhattan, KS 66502

PART-TIME ASSISTANT Manager is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weekends and some even-ing work required. Call more information.

PART-TIME DJ is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weekends and some evening work required. Call 456-2949 evenings

RN AND LPN wanted for weekends. 7–3 shift at Valley Vista Care Center, a mental health facility in Junction City. Please stop by 1115 W.

CAN YOU MANAGE ON AN EXTRA

14 Street, Junction City or call 238-2128.

$2,500? Practical experience fo Business/Marketing Majors: Manage credit card promotions on campus for a National Marketing Firm. Hours flexible. Earn up to

CALL 1-800-950-8472

Ext. 17.

$2,500/term.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED for research study on ex-ercise. Males or females 18 to 35 years old. Call 776-4719 for

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope ka, KS 66607-1190 (913)232-0454

$200-$500 weekly. Assemble products home. Easy! No selling. You're paid direct. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-Free informa-tion— 24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900 Copyright #KS13KDH

$252.50 Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265.

ATTENTION FUNDRAISER for your organization. Sell 16 month Kansas State University sports calendar/ desk plotters on consignment. Call 800-967-4430 ask for Terry or Nancy week days 8:30a.m.-4:30p.m.

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens over-alls, 776-7472.

ADMIRAL 25-INCH color console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar

CANNONDALE RACING bike, 21-speed, stand, $300 776-2343.

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP: Broth er AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville, 539-1413.

plus stand. One, fifty-five and one thirty gal-ion. Best offer. 539-6707.

GOOD KITCHEN size GE re frigerator, $125, call 776-2267.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets, overcoats, new G.I boots, sleeping bags Also CARHARTI workwear. Monday Saturday, 9- 5. St Marys Surpius Sales St. Marys, KS 1-437-2734.

FOR SALE computer table and printer stand. Asking $85. Call Alex 539-8411.

ANTIQUES- COLLECTI BLES Tuttle's Antique Market 2010 Tuttle Creek Boulevard 537-4884 daily 10a.m. 5p.m. closed Wednes-

DESKTOP DANDYI NEC Powermate 386SX with VGA color, 40 Meg HD, two Meg RAM with six month warranty $800 or best offer. Portable Power! MicroTelesis (Lunchbox-style) 386 with CGA gas plasma screen, one Meg RAM, 40 Meg RAM (17 ms) HD. full-size keyboard plus four expansion slots, $800 or best offer 537-3359

MAC CLASSIC, four m ram, 40 meg hard drive. Stylewriter print-er. $1200, 537-8990.

TOSHIBA T2200SX, note book computer, 386 SX, 20 MHZ, 2 MB Ram, 80 MB HD. Only 5.5 pounds 537-0468.

FOR SALE: Ovation Ultra Acoustic and Peavy Vortex Electric Guitars Must sell now!! Excel ably priced, and nego tiable, 776-4948

RICK'S MUSIC Shop Guild, Randall, Gibson Epiphone, Fender Squire. 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900.

450 Pets and Supplies

30 GALLON Oceanic Hex gressive fish and all ad sories. Call 537-2830

FOR SALE, one dwarf rab bit, eight weeks, started litter training. Very friendly, black and white, with supplies Roommate leaving must sell, 532-3326

PETS N'STUFF

Sat. 9-5:30 p.m. Sun. 12-5 p.m. 1105 Waters

TRANS-

PORTATION

new brakes, have pa

perwork, custom paint. 587-0618.

miles, reliable trans-portation $700 call stereo, tinted windows

navy blue, power ster

ring/ brakes, sharp

537-2896, ask for Mitch roof, air conditioning

two-door, 84,000 miles

automatic. Runs very well. $1800. Cal

Condition, air condi-tioning, and sunroof.

$800, or best offer, 537

steering, air condition, AM/FM cassette, camp-er shell, toolbox. Asking $2200. Runs great, lots of fun!776-7081.

good condition, new engine and transmis-

1981 MUSTANG, Good

1981 TOYOTA 4x4. Power

1983 BUICK Regal, very

1978 CHEVETTE, 87,000

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8

1981 FORD Mustang. Sun

532-3041

well. $ 776-1119.

WANTED: SHARE ride from Manhattan to Topeka for Drill 410th Evac. Call Jen 776-7546

thousands starting $25

Free information 24 hour hotline. (801)

right number KS13KJC

AM/FM cassette, four speed, one yr paint job, new brakes. Great condition $3500 negoti-able. Call 539-7735

RED 1984 Mazda RX-7,

379-2929.

520 Bicycles

1991 TREK 830 mountain

CHEAP MOUNTAIN bike

530 Motorcycles

1984 HONDA Magna V30. Black, 21,000 miles.

1986 KAWASAKI Ninja 600. Only 6K miles!

Looks and runs great. New front tire. Make offer. Must sell. 537-

New tires, great shape,

runs like new, cover in-cluded $2200, 539-5099.

bike. DX levers, DX top mount shifters. Hardly ridden. Beautiful blue. Mr. Tuffy flat protec-tors. 539-0816.

Murray, good shape. 776-0994.

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Tour Package

SAN JUAN Students
"*Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

PADRE ISLAND

$259 for transportation

715 N. 12th St.

776-2217

8.....

and one week of fun and sun. $50 deposit due by Oct. 30. Cruises and Travel

sion. Loaded with op-tions, $2250 or make offer, Call 539-6809. 1986 CHRYSLER Lazer red with black leather in terior, t-tops, power everything five-speed Turbo. Go fast Turbo. Go fast! 539-2387 extension 40. 1986 MAZDA RX-7 silver/ gray 93K miles, excel-lent condition, fivespeed, AM/FM cass good tires, $3800 or best offer, 537-4272.

1988 CHEVY Silverado 4x4

shortwheel base, black, v8, automatic, nice shape, $10,000 or best offer. Consider trade in. 537-9459, 539-4757 1988 CUTLASS Calais blue, auto air, cruise quad four engine low mile-age excellent condition

1990 HONDA CRX, teal new tires, 35K, 40 mile per gallon, $9000 or best offer. 776-5054 ask for Scott.

CHEAPI FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang Choose from

2. Then call us

GET

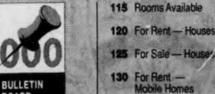

532-6556

What do you do if you see a fire? Call 911

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY 115 Rooms Available 210 Resume/Typing

BOARD 010 Announcements

BULLETIN

020 Lost and Found

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events

050 Parties-n-More

Apt. Furnished 110 For Rent

Apt. Unfurnished

100 SERVICE DIRECTORY 205 Tutor

215 Desktop Publishing 220 Sewing/Alterations

225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJs 245 Pet Services

250 Automotive Repair

255 Other Services 300 EMPLOYMENT

CAREERS 310 Help Wanted 320 Volunteers Needs

Opportunities

O OPEN MARKET

410 Herns for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Self 420 Garage/Yard Sales

436 Antiques -35 Computers 440 Food Specials

445 Music Instruments

450 Pets and Supplies 455 Sporting "quipment 460 Stéreo Eq. pment

465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

PORTATION

540 Car Pool

TRIPS 610 Tour Packages

530 Motorcycles

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads

CATEGORIES

have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are TIPS FOR

WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price

NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

DE FOR SALE 500

510 Automobiles 405 Wanted to Buy 520 Bicycles

620 Airplane Tickets 830 Train Tickets

640 Bus Tickets

preceded by a number designation.

what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

WE DO NOT USE PHONE

Week opportunity for students to learn about other cultures

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 don't come. We might get a few. but not in the large droves like we

One solution may be to incorporate the activities into class syllabi. But Franklin said this kind of forced participation sometimes

"When you force people to come, and they come with attitudes, the learning is impeded," he said. "Spending time with another race without having to do it for a grade creates a non-threatening atmosphere.

Franklin suggested a dual program in which racial and ethnic activities would be included in the syllabus, but attendance would still be voluntary.

Franklin described the atmosphere at K-State as racial anxiety, as opposed to racial tension, which he considers more serious. Most of the anxiety can be attributed to lack of exposure or awareness.

Student planning co-chairwoman Elsa Diaz, senior in industrial engineering and physical science, said she thinks the anxiety can be

"When people grow up in a protective environment and are not used to a diverse environment, they may feel uncomfortable," Diaz said. "When they come to K-State and begin to attend classes where there are all kinds of people, that's when the anxiety begins.

"Anxiety is OK. It's a normal feeling, but it can be overcome,"

Diaz said she is sometimes asked why a week like this is necessary when people should be living in

Farmers to reduce corn production

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Farmers are expected to harvest 8.77 billion bushels of corn this fall, which would be the secondlargest crop on record.

The bumper crop will refill the nation's bins after four years of drought emptied them, but the harvest is also depressing prices toward $2 a bushel. Corn growers say they need at least $2.50 a bushel to break even.

The 10-percent acreage reduction program (ARP) was exactly what growers had requested. Grain traders, on the other hand, had sought a zero acreage reduction, or full production.

Marina to benefit Tuttle

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5 on the lake. This will speed up assistance, as will keeping a patrol boat in a boat slip instead of on a trailer on land, Miller said The marina also will benefit Tuttle Creek State Park, Miller said. He said he expects camping to increase in the park as the marina attracts more people.

Muto said he expects success. He said the two marinas on nearby Milford Reservoir have long waiting lists of people wanting to rent their boat slips.

"I don't think there's any doubt this marina will fill to its capacity,"

The marina operation will be supervised by Tuttle Creek State Park. The marina will be located in an area owned by the state park, and the owners will lease concession rights from the state. Concession rights give the owners exclusive rights to use the area for a marina, Miller said. Big Dawg will also be subject to yearly inspection by the Army Corps of Engineers, since it is located on a Corps of Engineers

The electrical outlets, circuit breakers, gasoline facilities and docks will be checked yearly by Corps of Engineers inspectors, said Greg Wurst, park manager for the Corps of Engineers at Tuttle Creek.

harmony all the time. She said in a world without racism there would be no need for it. But until things are improved, these activities are

"It gives a chance for students to take a second to understand the importance of acknowledging different cultures or different races. and learning to respect the differences," Diaz said.

Franklin said the week should be a catalyst for people's actions yearround.

"Students should try and make a commitment to themselves to meet people in different cultures, read a book about a different culture or do a project directed toward a different culture," Franklin said.

"This week should start people thinking about racial and ethnic harmony, and then it should be an

Diaz compared the week to the significance of lighting the Olympic

"When the torch is lit, at least for myself, I sit down and realize that the world belongs to all of us," Diaz said. "During the Olympics, we are coming together for something united - the love of sports and competition. Here, we're different, but we have in common that we're getting an education and want success in life."

Franklin said the week's overall message relates to young Americans and to last spring's Los Angles riots.

"Unless Americans, young Americans in particular, learn to respect and treat each other as humans, we'll have a lot of L.A.s," Franklin said.

The women of Kansas State University are invited to participate in and begin a lifetime of friendships and memories.

For more information, visit the Greek Affairs table in the Union on September 29, 30 and October 1 from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., or call 532-5546.

Sponsored by Panhellenic Council &

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

Latest CD debuted at 53rd on radio charts.

Laser Karaoke All Night Wednesday

Riding High

It has been said that once you are moving in the direction of your goals, nothing, absolutely nothing can stop you!

Regardless of the obstacles that may arise, the momentum. the will to go on, will bring you to your destination.

It won't be easy. Nothing worth fighting for ever is.

But, persistence and commitment to a goal, yields results. Excellent ones. at that.

AKA and KSU have been partners in excellence for over 60 years.

A partnership this old, this strong, will not just one day cease to exist.

This partnership WILL continue, long into the future because

The Fraternity of

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA

Iota Chapter • Kansas State University 1919 Hunting Manhattan, KS 66502

■ U.S. Senate candidate Democrat Gloria O vell and individuals representating Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., and Clinton talk about education

OCTOBER 1, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 28

K-State student commits suicide

ROY GRABER

A 22 year-old K-State student was found dead of an apparent suicide near a motorcycle path at the east side of Tuttle Creek Dam Monday

Kent B. Leslie, senior in computer science, was first seen at about 2 p.m. Monday, by a group of two K-State students who just assumed Leslie was sleeping, said Gerald Schmidt, Pottawatomie County Sheriff's Office investigator.

Schmidt said Leslie's body was later found by park rangers. Leslie's car was found about 30

"We did an investigation to see that it was in fact a suicide," Schmidt said. "The coroner did an autopsy and found out that the autopsy was consistent with a suicide."

Leslie died from ingestion of cyanide, Schmidt said. Although the jar was found with him, he said, the quantity of cyanide consumed was unknown.

Schmidt said the suicide seemed to have been planned.

■ See STUDENTS Page 12 ADMINISTRATION

Associate dean resigns to take another post

Windley to be college dean in home state of Idaho

ROY GRABER

Paul Windley has resigned as associate dean of the College of Architecture and Design, effective Tuesday.

He is leaving to become dean of the College of Art and Architecture at the University of Idaho.

Windley said University of Idaho attracted him because of the diversity and creativity within the college. Idaho is also his home state.

"The college has programs in art, architecture, landscape architecture and interior architecture," he said. "The unique thing is having the art program within the same college.

"Having the art department there really helps get the creative juices flowing.'

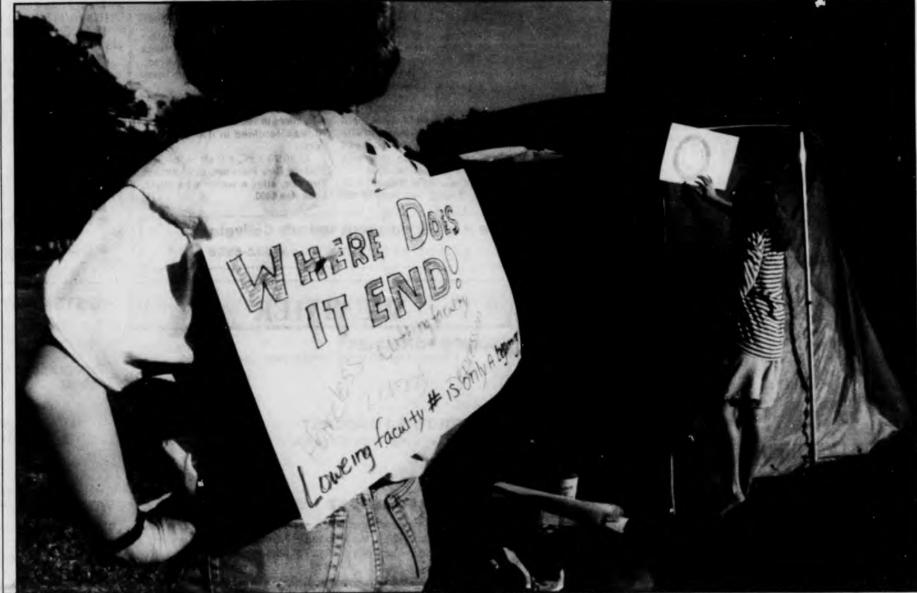

Windley said another attraction is that the University of Idaho is environmentally oriented.

See WINDLEY Page 12

Paul Windley

REDEFINING K-STATE ACADEMICS

Standing up for their programs

Pam Jackson, sophomore in social work and human development and family studies, wears a protest sign on her back while a group of students set up camp Wednesday afternoon outside the K-State Union. The group will camp and have a vigil to protest the proposed cuts within the College of Arts and Sciences.

"Our main to show them that we're not giving up."

VICKI TRAIN

Students set up camp, protest reorganization

Two green tents and a half-dozen cardboard boxes were scattered over the K-State Union's lawn Wednesday

The tents and boxes were for social work and speech pathology and audiology students to sleep in. They were there to show their concern about the reorganization of the College of Arts and Sciences and its effect on their programs.

Tents were set up at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday and won't come down until 5 p.m. Friday. "This is to create awareness on campus and in the community about what is going on in our program," said Vicki Train, senior in social work. "I am sleeping in a box to show what it would be like to be homeless."

Campers are staying in shifts, four or five at night and during the day. And there are as many 30 students who hold signs.

"I'm sure it is a little overpowering for people to walk up to the Union and see 30 people holding signs," Train said. "But I hope it will help in the long run." In addition to camping out and holding signs, the students are asking passers-by to sign a petition in favor of keeping the social work, and speech pathology and audiology programs

Train said Wednesday they gathered 1,200

Shelly Auld, senior in social work, rests Wednesday afternoon in her temporary home, a cardboard box. Auld said she hopes her actions will help people understand the need for trained social workers.

"I had no idea we would have that many," Train said. "We're doing it to take to the dean's office. Our main concern is to show them that we're not giving up."

Steve Shields, senior in social work, said that before they even began protesting, they gathered information on why there were changes being made.

"We wanted to get the other perspective," Shields said. "We didn't want to just mindlessly protest it.

"But, we just have differing opinions, and it's not a personal issue," he said. "I respect the administration's need to put the interest of the arts and sciences college forefront, but I think they have a social responsibility to provide quality education to the social workers of tomorrow.'

See SOCIAL Page 12

Bikes a 'hot item'

Number of bike thefts at all-time high

JENNIFER BEALS

The number of bikes stolen on campus has reached an alltime high.

Richard Herrman, investigator with the K-State Police, said 23 bicycles have been reported stolen since Aug. 18. He also said the recovery rate is not a high one.

"This has been an exceptionally high year for stealing bikes," Herrman said. "I've worked here for 19 years, and this year it's really prevalent."

Herrman said a majority of the bicycles stolen are the higher-priced, specialized models, but 10-speed street bikes also are hot items.

"The prices of the bicycles stolen range anywhere from $100 to $1,100," he said. "But most of the bikes stolen are in the $200-$400 range."

The high rate of stolen bikes has sparked rumors across campus that members of theft rings are stealing bikes and selling them in the Topeka area. Herrman said there is no proof of such a ring.

■ See BICYCLE Page 12

PROTECTING YOUR BIKE

The number of bike thefts has reached an all-time high. Here are some preventive measures.

- Use bicycle racks that are in well-lit areas.
- Use a high-grade U-lock.
- Lock the wheels and frame to the bike rack.
- Use a large cable made of tempered steel to lock your bike.

WORLD

Tokyo comes close to a meltdown

ASSOCIATED PRESS

TOKYO - A mistaken flip of a switch by a nuclear power plant worker caused a reactor's cooling pumps to fail, but an emergency system took over and prevented a nuclear meltdown, a government official said Wednesday.

The automatic activation of the emergency cooling system prevented radiation from being released by the plant in Fukushima prefecture, 70 miles northeast of Tokyo.

Local officials sharply criticized the Tokyo Electric Power Co., the plant's owner, for not notifying residents for hours about the emergency shutdown of the 18-year-old reactor.

It was the first shutdown using the emergency system since Japan's worst nuclear accident, in February 1991 at Mihama in western Japan, when a small amount of radioactivity was released into the atmosphere.

Tuesday's accident at the Fukushima Nuclear Plant No. 2 involved a 784megawatt lightwater reactor, the most widely used reactor design in the world.

NEWS DIGEST

FERTILITY DOCTOR FINED

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) A doctor was reprimanded Wednesday for treating a woman who asked to be artificially inseminated with sperm from her HIV-infected husband.

Fertility specialist Dr. Robert J. Fierro was fined $5,000 by the state Board

GIRL SEEKS SEPARATION FROM MOM

DETROIT (AP) - A teen-ager seeking legal separation from her mother will remain a ward of the state until her stepfather is tried on charges of sexual abuse, a judge ruled Wednesday.

The 13-year-old girl alleges she has been abused, neglected and sexually molested.

PEOPLE

Vet Med college gets new director

Brozo to work in development. alumni affairs

KIRSTEN NELSON

James Brozo is the new director of development and alumni affairs for the College of Veterinary Medicine. He replaces Jack Mosier, director of college development and alumni affairs.

Brozo is the college's first fulltime constituent development officer. His role is to increase annual giving and develop resources to support the veterinary medicine programs. He brings with him more than ten years of fund-raising experience. Before coming to K-State, he was the associate director of development at the College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences at Colorado State University.

BROZO

"Jim Brozo brings to the Foundation and the College of Veterinary Medicine a diverse background in planning, conducting and evaluating development programs," said Mark Moore, director of the Essential Edge Campaign and the KSU Foundation vice president for capital campaigns and planned giving. "His fund raising experience will help the college expand alumni and corporate support during and after our Essential Edge Campaign."

Brozo said his goal is to bring focus and direction to the development of alumni and activities of the college.

"The program has had a lot of significant success in the past. But as the first full-time constituent development officer, I hope to bring those to an even brighter luture."

Currently, he is working on a development plan for the college that he will lead to strategic directions in the next three to five years and complete the Essential Edge Campaign's goal in the next few months.

The College of Veterinary Medicine currently has $7.5 million towards its Essential Edge Campaign goal of $9 million.

'It's an exciting challenge. The level of support within the college for development is extraordinary. The college alumni have a strong sense of loyalty to the college and K-State," Brozo said.

According to Brozo, 49 percent of the alumni are dues-paying members of the K-State Alumni Association, and 36 percent contribute to the college on an annual basis.

Brozo said the college has an exceptional program with outstanding strengths in training veterinary practitioners.

"It graduates more veterinary medicine students who pursue careers in large animal and food animal medicine than any other veterinary college in North America. Recently, its success at winning extramural research funding has grown dramatically,"

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103.

tan, Kan., 66506-7167. ws contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian ne ng local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

At 9:33 p.m., a skunk was reported in front of Fairchild Hall. The skunk was found eating bugs.

At 10:26 p.m., Pat Clifford,

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30 At 10:04 a.m., Jim lvy reported the theft of an audio-visual fire alarm

from Ahearn Field House. Loss was $47. Also damaged was a battery box. Damage was $40.

At 2:40 p.m., Christopher Martin, Mariatt 522, reported the theft of a radar detector from a vehicle parked Haymaker $25, reported neighbors were harassing him in person and on the telephone.

At 3:47 p.m., Patricia Emmerich, 1216 Thurston St., reported a lost ID.

At 6:07 p.m., a green Chevy Impala license plate No. FIA 283 was wheellocked in Lot C-6 for altered permit.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29

At 2:14 p.m., Julie Dickey, 601 Fairchild Terrace, and Stephen R. Austin, 2480 Pilisbury Drive, were involved in a major damage, injury

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

At 1:21 a.m., an injury accident report was filed when David M. Seltz, 1316 Wreath Ave., struck a house at 307 Pierre. Seltz, who suffered head injuries and a broken leg, was transported to Memorial Hospital.

At 2:12 a.m., David Maines, P.O. Box 24, St. George, was arrested for accident. Dickey declined treatment. At 2:21 p.m., the Blue Hills Dutch Maid, 2309 Tuttle Creek Blvd., reported the theft of four video tapes.

possession of a controlled substance with intent to sell and no drug stamp. He was confined in lieu of $5,000

At 10:20 a.m., a theft report was filed by Sara Freeman, 601 Fairchild Terrace, after a watch was taken.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Loss was $400.

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week kick-off luncheon will be Oct. 5. Call 532-6541 for reservations by noon today. Cost is $6.50.

■ Deadline for applications for teacher education is today in Bluemont 013.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

■ ICTHUS will meet at 8 p.m. in Union Little Theatre.

Rock Climbing Club will meet at 6 p.m. by the west wall of Memorial Stadium.

■ Phi Eta Sigma/Alpha Lambda Delta will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 213.

■ Horseman's Association will meet at 6 p.m. in Weber 146. Topic will be team roping and team penning. ■ African-American Students for Intercultural Awareness will meet at 6 p.m. in Union 203. ■ Latin American Student Organization will meet at 7 p.m. in Union Staterooms 1 and 2. ■ Table Tennis Club will meet from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the Ecumenical Building. ■ BSU Salt Company will meet at 7 p.m. in the campus Baptist

■ Students Acting to Save a Vulnerable Environment will meet at 7 p.m. in the UFM building. I/O Psych Club will meet for a Royal Purple picture at 6:45 p.m. in McCain 324 and a graduate student/faculty panel discussion at 7:15 p.m. in Bluemont 5102. ■ Ag Ed Club will meet at 7:20 p.m. in Bluemont 343. Wear nice

■ Alpha Kappa Psi will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 212.

■ ROTARACT will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 204.

■ Sigma Delta Pi will meet at 7 p.m. in Eisenhower 124 for the movie "Mecanica Nacional."

■ The Graduate School has scheduled the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Junping Li at 3:30 p.m. in Seaton 133. Topic will be "PC-Based Design Program for Variable-Speed Ventilation Fans.

■ Department of Geology will sponsor a seminar by Dr. Stan Grant at 4 p.m. in Thompson 213 on "Geologists at Work in the World Today."

■ Eta Kappa Nu will meet at 7 p.m. in Durland 173.

■ Forestry and Park Resource Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Call 205

■ Bakery Science Club will meet at 4 p.m. in Shellenberger, first

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Sunny. High 80 to 85. Tonight, clear. Low around 50.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Sunny. High in the middle 80s.

EXTENDED FORECAST Saturday and Sunday, dry and mild. Highs in the upper 70s and low 80s. Lows around 50. Monday, continued dry and a little cooler. High around 70. Low around 50.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	73/57	cloudy
Bermuda	84/75	clear	Rome	81/63	clear
Helsinki	52/50	cloudy	Stockholm	52/48	cloudy
London	64/57	cloudy	Vancouver	67/45	cloudy

He's the biggest thing to hit Japan since Godzilla.

UNIVERSAL PICTURES PRISERIS AN OUTLAW PRODUCTION IN ASSOCIATION WITH PACIFIC ARTISTS "MR. BASEBALL" DENNIS HAYSBERT KEN TAKAKURA "" JERRY GOLDSANTH IOHN KAO JEFFREY SILVER "THEO PELLETIER & JOHN JUNKERMAN """ GARY ROSS AND KEVIN WADE AND MONTE MERRICK "" FRED SCHEPISI DOUG CLAYBOURNE AND ROBERT NEWMYER "" FRED SCHEPISI A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

COMING SOON TO A THEATRE NEAR

Racial/Ethnic

Harmony Week

"Building Unity Through Diversity" October 4-12, 1992

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4

10:30 a.m.

3:30 p.m.

Theater.

Chapel.

GOSPEL SERVICE: "Building Community" (Ecumenical, Interracial, International), All Faiths Chapel. B.B. KING CONCERT: Bramlage Coliseum.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5 CLASS: Manning Marable will conduct U.S. Politics class, "A Domestic Marshall 9:30-10:20 a.m. Plan: Finding New Urban Policies of the '90s," Umberger Hall 105.

KICKOFF LUNCHEON: ($6.50 Baked Chicken Breast or Vegetable Lasagna with NOON salad, potato, vegetable, dessert), K-State Union Flint Hills Room. Remarks - President Wefald & Manning Marable (Will Roscoe will also attend).

SEMINAR: Will Roscoe, "The 3rd Gender: Sexual Liberation and Cultural Survival in Native America," Anthropology 522B, Fourth World Class; non-class

1:30-2:30 p.m. members should contact instructor in advance for optional reading materials, LECTURE WITH SLIDES: Will Roscoe, "Art, Religion and Gender Alternatives: The Life and Times of a Navajo Berdache," Union Little Theater.

FORUM: Manning Marable, "Malcolm X, Black Intellectuals and Academic 3 p.m. 4 p.m. Activism," Union 212.

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: Manning Marable, Union Forum Hall. (Also sponsored 7:30 p.m. by Lou Douglas Lecture Series.) "The Breakdown of American Politics: L.A., the 1992 Election and Beyond." TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

WORKSHOP: Manning Marable, "Unlearning Prejudice," Union Big Eight Room.

OPEN FORUM: Bernard Franklin will lead a discussion on what has happened at 1:30 p.m. KSU since the Rodney King case in the Simi Valley verdict. What further needs to happen to make our KSU environment more comfortable? Union 212.

OPEN FORUM: Will Roscoe and the KSU Task Force on Gay, Lesbian, and 3:30 p.m. Bisexual Concerns, Union Little Theater. LECTURE WITH SLIDES: Will Roscoe, "The Zuñi Man-Woman," Union Little 7:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7 WORKSHOP/DISCUSSION: Tom Murray, "Linguistic Harmony and its 2 p.m. Relationship to Racial Harmony," Union Big 8 Room.

LECTURE/WORKSHOP: Veryl Switzer, "Changes in Diversity at KSU Over the Years," Union Little Theatre. SLIDE PRESENTATION/DISCUSSION: Don Fallon will present "South 7 p.m. Africa/Namibia and Liberation Theology," Union 212.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILM: DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST, Union Forum Hall. 7/9:30 p.m. KALEII THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8

LECTURE/WORKSHOP: Don Stull, "Observations on a More Diverse Nation," based on the pictorial display in the Union Gallery, I Born Again in America, Union Little Theater. 2:30 p.m.

LECTURE/WORKSHOP: The above will be repeated in Union 212.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILM: DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST, Union Forum Hall 8 p.m. LEG 7/9 p.m. KA FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9

CONVOCATION ADDRESS: H.J. DeBlij, "The Break-Down of the Nation 10:30 a.m. State," McCain Auditorium. HARMONY WALK, Begins and ends at Vietnam Memorial, near All Faiths 6 p.m.

KALEIDOSCOPE FILM: DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST, Union Little Theater. 7 p.m. KALEI MONDAY, OCTOBER 12 PANEL DISCUSSION: "The Legacy of Christopher Columbus," Union 212. 3:30 p.m.

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY MANHATTAN SURROUNDING COMMUNITIES

(Sponsored by Hispanic American Leadership Organization, American Ethnic Studies, Black Student Union, and Native American Student Body.)

EACH T

Hunt receives annual state teaching award

Animal sciences professor K-State's 3rd winner in a row

AMY WRIGHT

Student Senate will hear the first reading of a bill Thursday to commend Melvin Hunt for being named Kansas Professor of the Year.

Of the 439 professors nominated, 44 received awards.

Hunt, professor of animal sciences and chairman of the undergraduate food science program, is the third consecutive K-State professor to receive the

The others are Deborah Canter, day's meeting.

professor of dietetics, and Miles McKee, professor of animal

Hunt, a K-State graduate, joined the faculty in 1975.

"Dr. Hunt is truly an outstanding professional," University President Jon Wefald said.

"The excellence and personal attention he brings to teaching and advising and the assistance he provides to students and colleagues provide evidence of his dedication to the teaching profession."

In other Senate business, Neil Neaderhiser, senior in engineering technology and president of College Republicans, will speak during the open period in Thursday's meeting.

Soldier confesses to stabbing deaths

3 killed because of an argument, Florida police say

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI — A National Guardsman who operated a forklift at a depot for hurricane relief supplies was charged Wednesday

w i t h
stabbing to death a teen-age girl and two young men he met at a bar.

"It's a nightmare, a nightmare.
There's got to be a motive.
Why? Why?"

Police RICARDO FERNADEZ said Steven

Scott Coleman, 24, of Tampa confessed early Wednesday under questioning by detec-tives who picked him up at the guard camp next to Florida International University, where the bodies were found.

"He cried," said homicide Cmdr. Wayne McCarthy. "We don't think any more people are involved."

Coleman was held without bond at the Dade County Jail on three counts of first-degree murder and two counts of sexually assaulting two of the victims after the attack.

Autopsies on Ronny Quisbert and Andrew McGinnis, both 21, and Regina Rodriguez, 15, were being performed Wednesday, authorities said.

"It's a nightmare, a nightmare," said Quisbert's stepfather, Ricardo Fernandez. "There's got to be a motive. Why? Why?"

The victims met Coleman at a bar near the camp early Tuesday, McCarthy said. They agreed to go with him to another bar across town and drive him back to the camp.

They got into a fight, Coleman stabbed them with a knife and then sexually assaulted Rodriguez and McGinnis, police said.

Gigi Vales said she had gone along for the ride, but she had her friends drop her off first because Coleman flirted with her.

"He was bothering me, trying to hit on me. But basically, I kept hugging Gina and making her talk to me so he would leave me alone," she said. "I just decided to go home."

Hours later, the four apparently began arguing and pulled onto a grassy area on the FIU campus, McCarthy said. Coleman killed all three inside the car with a large folding knife, he said. EL ECTIONS

Candidate speaks at Southwind forum

John Kuckelman, a representative of the Bob Dole campaign, and Gloria O'Dell, candidate for the U.S. Senate, listen to Chris Cokinos, co-chairman of the local Clinton-Gore campaign. Cokinos talked about Democratic presidential nominee Bill Clinton's education views.

A poll commissioned by the Topeka Capitol-Journal indicated this indicated this week that Dole has a large lead over O'Dell. Of the 500 eligible voters, 58 percent named Dole as their choice, compared to 33 percent for O'Dell.

O'Dell, Dole representative talk about improving education for Kansans

TAD MUSSELWHITE Chair of Kansas College

U.S. Senate candidate Gloria

O'Dell and representatives for Sen.
Bob Dole, R-Kan., and Democratic presidential candidate Bill Clinton talked about their stances on education in a campus forum
Wednesday night.

Southwind International Inc. sponsored the forum.

Chris Cokinos, co-chairman of the local Clinton-Gore campaign, said Clinton's reforms of Arkansas' economic and educational programs should serve as a model for what he can do for the country as president.

"Governor Clinton has lead successful reforms in education in Arkansas. He has pushed reform throughout all levels of education," Cokinos said. All of this was done while Arkansas maintained the secondlowest tax burden in the nation, Cokinos said.

Dole was unable to attend the forum, because he was in Washington. John Kuckelman, state

Free Delivery

Restaurant & Lounge

539-0888 539-8888

chair of Kansas College Republicans, read a letter from Dole, telling of Dole's commitment to fight for the people of Kansas.

Kuckelman quoted expresidential candidate Paul Tsongas' statement of Dole's commitment to solving economic hardships.

"There would be no federal deficit if Dole would have been elected president in 1988," Tsongas was quoted as saying.

O'Dell was the last to address he crowd.

"Every eight seconds a student drops out of school. One out of every four students never graduate high school," O'Dell said.

She said the economic crisis the United States faces shows that more investment must be made in education.

It is time for change, she said.

"Dole has had 18 years to address this problem. And it is shameful that President Bush calls himself the education president," she said.

O'Dell campaign manager resigns due to strategy disagreements ASSOCIATED PRESS

TOPEKA — The manager of Democratic nominee Gloria O'Dell's campaign against Republican U.S. Sen. Bob Dole has resigned in the could have been a disagreement over Wednesday O'Dell said that Tess Banion left her campaign Sunday. Erwin Seba, her campaign press secretary, confirmed the departure after WIBW-TV, Topeka's CBS affiliate reported it Tuesday night.

O'Dell declined to say specifically why Banion left.

Several attempts to reach Banion at her home and the offices of the Kansas Association of Public Employees were unsuccessful. Banion worked as a KAPE field representative before joining O'Dell's campaign.

"I think that's between Tess and I," O'Dell said in a telephone interview. "I applaud her and appreciate her commitment and effort that she has made, because we share the same goal, and that's to send a new senator to Washington."

O'Dell said she does not believe Banion's departure will affect her campaign.

Demonstration Interview

Old Textbook Sale

UP TO 80% OFF!

BOOKS AS LOW AS 49¢

- Hundreds of new & used textbooks
- Various fields of study
- Some previously used at K-State
- Old editions
- Wholesaler overstock

Don't pass up this great opportunity to add to your persnal library at a fraction of the regular cost!

"We Give You Our Best"

9-9 Monday-Saturday 12-5 Sunday

OCTOBER 1, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Children's shows still lacking

PINION

THE ISSUE

Saturday morning children's programming falls short by cartoons that are deemed educational by programmers.

WE SUGGEST

Strict following Children's Television Act would make the quality of shows much more worthy.

GI Joe is no longer a soldier meeting out death and destruction. He is a hero in the fight for "social consciousness and responsibility."

Or so say TV stations that air the popular Saturday morning cartoon.

And "James Bond Jr." features information on geography. And some story lines even include science information like how explosives

These stations are in a rush, attempting to comply with the Children's Television Act, which was intended to boost the number of educational programs on television for children, especially on Saturday mornings.

Unfortunately, these lame excuses to drape programs with little inherent value only precipitate the notion that Saturday morning television is still a black hole for real educational

Even worse, a report prepared by the Center for Media Education says that news and magazine-type shows have often been pushed back before 7 a.m. This to make room for the socalled "educational" cartoons.

The FCC has done little to enforce the act. It was intentionally written in a vague fashion, and regulators are careful not to tread on the allimportant area of business.

What took five years of debate and a presidential veto is now turning into a floor mat.

What was once a promise for intelligence on Saturday mornings is in dire danger of being swallowed into the abyss of ineffectiveness.

The law needs to be pushed — pushed hard. The token effort of local stations to educate America's youth needs to be kicked hard, putting education ahead of profits and business sales.

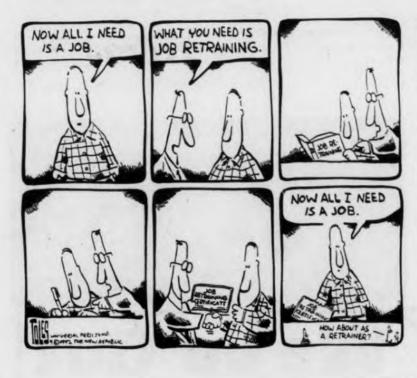

There are six and a half days in the rest of the week to make money.

Saturday morning belongs to children, and we have an obligation to offer quality programming that will realistically teach them.

"Super Mario Brothers" and "Thundercats" are not education. They're dribble. It's time to make that distinction.

When we do, perhaps our children will attain what we expect - knowledge.

TOLES

Perot's presence still effective

HAWKS

"Surely some revelation is at Surely the Second Coming is at hand." - W. B. Yeats

ardly are those words out when I realize my readers may read them and think that Thursday, too, has become a day of prayer on the opinion page. Fear not, faithful faithless, for this is the season of politics, and a vast image out of Spiritus Mundi troubles my sight.

Ross Perot.

Thinking I would start the semester off right, I decided to take a break from my summer regimen of Crossfire and C-Span. But now the election is only a month away, and it is time for me to start thinking about it.

Turns out I'm not the only one who thinks so. I flipped on CNN Monday night, and there he was, chatting with Larry King.

Monday, after Perot hinted he would re-enter the race if his supporters were not satisfied with the economic proposals of the other candidates, representatives of the Clinton and Bush campaigns made a pilgrimage to Dallas in search of Perot's support. While they cited "broad similarities" between their plans and that of Perot, their claims rang hollow in the ears of the Perot to support Perot in the first place, consider his effect on the presidential race so far.

1) Both candidates, in response to Perot, have pledged to support legislation that would make it illegal for appointed and elected government officials to receive money from foreign officials.

2) Perot's appearance on talk shows and his concept of the "electronic town hall" have prompted the candidates to widen the forum through which traditional campaigns have been run. 3) Perot's presence forces the other candidates to focus on the issues. If you don't believe this, simply compare the rhetoric before and after he left the race. The Republican convention may have been much nastier than the Democrats' because liberals are nicer by nature, but it is more likely that campaign arithmetic prompted the sleaze. With three people in the race, insulting another candidate may only help your other opponent. Bush's cronies saw that when they hit Perot hard in June. A remarkable thing happened Monday. Perot's pocketbook and the votes of his supporters added up to enough to make the other candidates put forth their agenda. I

If you think one must have watch politics a lot, and I have yet something hollow between the ears to see figures from either candidate on issues like health care and unemployment. In Dallas, they gave the Perot people all the figures, complete with graphs and slides. Perot says he wishes all of America could have been there. So

As I write this, the Perot state coordinators are going back to their states to decide whether to throw their support to one of the two parties or to ask Perot to run. By late today, they should announce their decision. I suspect that by Friday evening we will be seeing Perot ads on all the networks, and that at Sunday night's debate, Clinton and Perot will be asking, 'Where is George?"

Perhaps in the last month of the campaign, we will at last hear the answers we have been waiting for. After Perot left the race, the ceremony of innocence was drowned. Now, the best lack all conviction, while the worst are full of passionate intensity. The darkness has dropped again, and the Second Coming is at hand. The Second Coming of Ross Perot. He won't win the White House, perhaps, but his re-entrance will make it better for us to decide Nov. 3 what rough beast will slouch toward Washington to be

READERS WRITE

POLITICS

Truthful political times were long ago

Editor.

In response to David Rowland's letter about liars in politics, where on earth have you been?

You may think "politician" is synonymous with "honesty," but many others do not. The dictionary even disagrees with you. Politician is defined as "a politic person, esp. a shrewd and crafty schemer.

Most discussions about politicians I've heard are about how corrupt and power-hungry they are. The media is uncovering constantly information and incidents about politicians that are not only distasteful, but sometimes even repulsive. These include the Iran-Contra affair, the S&L fiasco, the overdrawn accounts of many of our representatives and Watergate - to name a

I do not believe the people of America trust politicians. Rather, we have turned a blind eye to them and their activities, not willing to believe our elected officials could be so unscrupulous and deceptive. To most politicians, that's just as good as giving them the green light.

This election will not mark the end of political honesty in America. We passed that milestone many decades ago.

> Lisa Houdek Junior/Management

▶ RELIGION

Letter was remedy for columns on God

Editor,

Jason Brown's Sept. 29 letter asking for a respite from Mr. Spradlin was right on the

This is the "Opinion" page of the Collegian, and Spradlin and Hart have already made their opinions known. Those opinions are that God is great and all the answers to life's problems can be found in the Bible. Fine. It's been said. Now, move on!

In response to Eric Seinlage's letter, nobody is questioning these two men's right to free speech. What is in question is the Collegian's wisdom in printing the same opinions of the same people every week.

> Anthony Bush Freshman/Education

Worshipping God may be wrong idea

This is in response to John Hart's column in the Sept. 28 Collegian.

It is also in response to the numerous letters and columns supporting and opposing religion.

Maybe we are all missing the point. Let's assume, for the sake of argument, that everything in the Bible is correct.

Hart says, "God deeply loves each person he created.' Look around at all the suffering and death, which an omnipresent God must know about and have a large degree of control over. God allows the painful death of babies, allows people to be born disfigured, allows mass murders, allows

What if man were able to help a dying infant and just looked the other way, believing this to be in the best interest of the infant? Wouldn't most people regard this person as contemptible? Why can't we apply to our God the low standards to which we hold ourselves?

I think anyone with the power to help another person in legitimate need of help should do just that. (Especially if rendering that help would just take a simple blink of an eye.)

I like to think I have the moral conviction that if someone proved the existence of God, I would not worship someone/something that allows what the Christian God allows. Maybe God doesn't deserve the worship of any compassionate, caring and humane person.

> Clint Westhoff Sophomore/Pre-law

▶ RACIAL/ETHNIC WEEK Student Senate helps make week a success

I'd like to publicly thank Student Senate for its special allocation of $1,500 for Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week.

This is the fourth year for this celebration of diversity, and Student Senate has been consistently encouraging, concerned and supportive.

The schedule of events for the week appears elsewhere in today's Collegian and will appear again on Monday, Oct.

The Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week Committee invites everyone to sample from this year's selection of stimulating and challenging lectures, forums, discussions and films. What the hell, it's what a college education is all about. And it's free!

Thanks again to Senate for its generosity and its vision.

Phil Anderson Co-Chair, Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week Committee

SHELTERS

Cats and dogs have it better than people

I watched a TV show called "Home" a few weeks ago, and there was a fact that hit me hard.

Did you know there are more shelters for abused cats and dogs than there are for abused women and children?

K-State students, how does this make YOU feel?

> Sandra Hunter Freshman/Dietetics

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK LETTERS TO THE EDITOR POLICY

think. Send your comments, criticisms and complaints to us Upon submission, a student I.D. and phone number will be required. Letters may be edited for grammar and length. We cannot guarantee that your letter will run, but we will try to make sure a sampling of both sides of an issue get into the

We would like to hear what you

Letters to the Editorc/o Jared Savage Kansas State Collegian Kedzie Hall 116 Manhattan, Kan.

Bunnymen hopping along without Ian

New and improved, band focuses on future

DEANNA ADAMS

Echo & the Bunnymen may have lost Ian McCulloch, but the band has certainly gained an edge.

The last time I saw them was about four years ago at Memorial Hall in Kansas City, Mo. Back then, I thought McCulloch made the band. After he left the group to pursue a solo career, I decided the band would never be as talented.

Well, after Tuesday night, I realized I shouldn't have been so hasty in my decision. The band has obviously improved, both in vocal and musical quality.

Echo & the Bunnymen played at the Shadow in Kansas City, Mo., in front of a limited but dedicated crowd who appeared to be familiar with most of the songs. I seemed to be one of the few who was hearing this "reformed" band for the first

REVIEW :

I was surprised at the rougher edge the band has acquired since it lost McCulloch. Songs such as "Freaks Dwell" and "Senseless," both from the "Reverberation" album, disregard the former "la, la, la" style of music and replace it with something stronger and more demanding.

That's not to say the Bunnymen orchestral sound. Songs like "Sasperilla" and "Inside Me, Inside You," both of which are on a new compact disc not yet available in the United States, prove that this new arrangement is capable of producing quality music in the post-McCulloch era.

Noel Burke, who has taken on the role of lead vocalist, is just as intriguing and talented as McCulloch, if not more so.

Despite the focus the Bunnymen placed on new music, they did revert to the past with "Silver," from the album "Songs to Learn and Sing,"and "Bedbugs and Ballyhoo," from the "Echo and the Bunnymen" album.

However, the band is obviously have lost their psychedelic setting its sights on the future. It is no longer under the Sire label and has begun its own label, Euphoric.

> The opening band, That Statue Moved, hasn't been seen in Manhattan for awhile, although three of the four members attended K-State. They abandoned their usual cover set and played stuff solely from their tape and forthcoming CD to be released Oct. 15 on Sress Records.

> As far as the future of Echo & the Bunnymen is concerned, I would expect fans, including myself, will all but forget Ian McCulloch and look forward to a spunkier sound from a new and improved band.

DB92

1 Luna Park — Luna<sup>2</sup> (Electra)

2 In The Meantime —Helmet (Interscope)

Dirt - Alice In Chains (Columbia)

Sweet Oblivion - Screaming Trees (Epic)

5 Hey Babe — Juliana Hatfield (Mammoth) 6 Stull EP — Urge Overkill (Touch And Go)

7 UFO Tofu - Bela Fleck & the Flecktones (Warner Bros.)

8 Dirty - Sonic Youth (DGC)

9 Topeka Oratorio — the Leatherwoods (Restless)

10 Dry - P.J. Harvey (Island)

Joshua's 12 sound is original, appealing

Joshua's 12. The name seems intriguing, and the style of music is as well. The local duo, composed of Justin Stahlman and Wade Van Eaton, put forth its latest effort, the eight-song EP "Pleasantly Depressed."

The sound is almost indescribable. The lyrics are original but sometimes lost in the keyboard's mechanical sound. There is also a blast from the past a drum machine.

In "Love/Hate Surprise," Van Eaton's guitars take Stahlman's vocals to a bold breakthrough sound which may be more appealing to today's audience.

'All We Need" is a slower song, unlike most others on this EP. It stands out because Stahlman's strong vocals surpass the psychedelic guitar background.

■ See JOSHUA'S 12 Page 10

MUSIC REVIEW

BY MEGANNE MOORE

RIVERSIDE

The debut compact disc, "One" from the Philadelphia band Riverside is an enlightened image of happiness, nature and love. No, they aren't hippies, just a refreshing difference in today's violent, issue-conscious, lyric-filled world.

Riverside may be at fault in its sound originality - almost a remake of The Ocean Blue, which isn't a bad sound, rather a lack of grasping a different audience.

In many ways, Riverside seems to symbolize its concern and interest in nature and the environment. As its name illustrates this, so does a majority of its lyrics.

In "Mansfield Park," the lyrics tell a story of scenic views and seasons. "We'll follow river road/across a covered bridge I know/and you'll love the view there/Mansfield park ... in the fall."

Its current release, "Waterfall" is the beginning of what seems the perfect relationship that doesn't work out, and the singer dissolves like a waterfall.

Most of their songs follow the same precedent of mellow acoustics and soft vocals. Lyrics take you on trips to view other worlds, something enjoyed alone or with friends.

Riverside is a nice alternative in that it takes you away from the problems and hassles of everyday life - something we all need once in a

FOR ENTERTAINMENT

Picture your ad here. (only bigger) Then call us.

COLLEGIAN Display Advertising 3 2 - 6 5 6 0

GREAT START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

Parents'

Weekend

Family Feud

Union Station K-State Union

Multicultural Student

Scholarship Banquet

GUEST SPEAKER-Bernard

Asst. Dean of Student Life

Union Station

Union Station

Mr. and Ms. BSU Pageant

Live music and lip synch contest

MEMORIES

To the Men of DELTA CHI

Good Luck to your new pledge class.

> The Women of KAPPA DELTA

CAMPUS CANCER SUPPORT GROUP

A support group for individuals affected by cancer will meet

MONDAY, OCT. 5, 1992 4:30 P.M. LAFENE HEALTH CENTER FOOM 1 - LOWER LEVEL

For more information contact Health Education & Promotion Lafene Health Center

532-6595

Great Memories Start

Sigma Gamma Rho Oct. 1-2

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Karoake Night 75¢ Draws

Claflin & Denison (Down Under)

776-1515

537-0886

11 a.m.-1 a.m.

7 days a week

1116 Moro

Dine-in & carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

This coupon good for

Beef with Snow Peas $3.75

FREE DELIVERY MENU (Minimum order $9) Expires 10/8/92

1214-C Moro in Aggieville on Cobbler's Lane

OCTOBER' SPECIAL 10 TANS $27.50

776-7874

BIG SAVINGS ON MENS LEVI'S JEANS!

Large selection! 100% Prewashed Cotton denim! Tapers to the ankle for a casual and relaxed fit. Available in Indigo or Black. 1st Quality. Made in USA.

Lightweight. Comfortable. Durable. Get out and stay out in Timberlands's 1st quality hikers! Rugged Suede/Nylon uppers provide the comfort and versatility for on-campus or off-the-trail hiking. Rubber mudguards, double density EVA innersole. 1st Quality.

COMPARE ANYWHERE

12-5 Sunday 456-9100 510 Lincoln - HWY 99 - Downtown Warnego

7:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Saturday to

5:00 pm - 7:00 pm

7:00 pm - 9:00 pm

10:00 pm - 1:10 am

Sunday 11:00 am - 12:30 pm

KSU Gospel Service All Faiths Chapel

played the first game

like I know

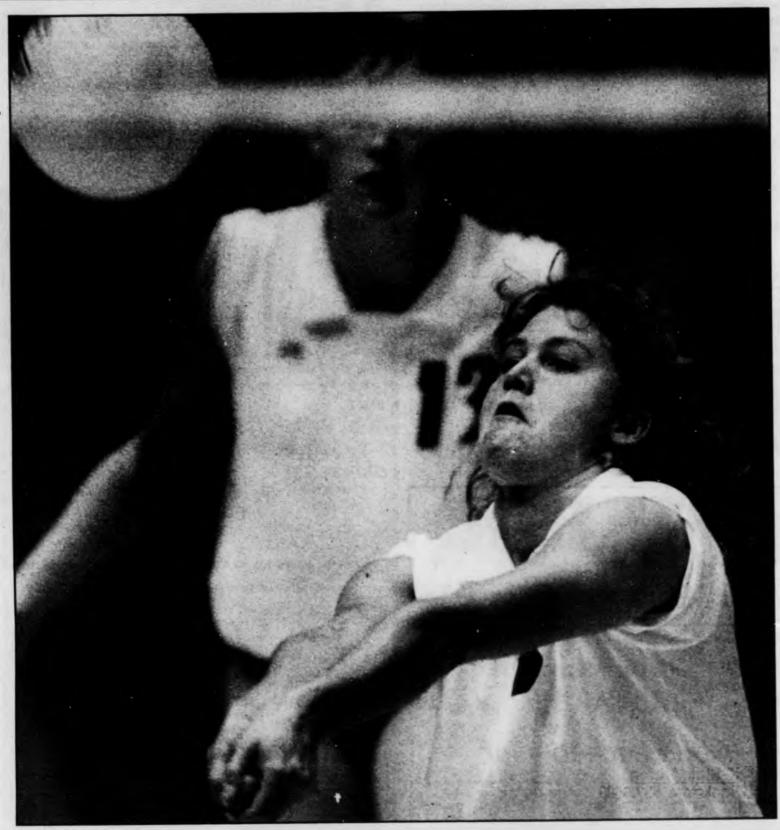

capable of."

PATTI HAGEMEYER

they are

SPORTS

OCTOBER 1, 1992

PHOTOS BY J. KYLE WYATT AND CRAIG

ABOVE: K-State volleyball player Stephanie Liester digs a ball out of the net during the K-State - KU match Wednesday night in Ahearn Field House. K-State lost the match three games to one. RIGHT: K-State coach Patti Hagemeyer takes stock of her team during the second game of the match. K-State's next match will be Oct. 3, when the team travels to lowa State to face the Cyclones.

Spikers lose to Hawks in 4-set match

BRIAN ANDERSON

The largest crowd for a game this season saw the volleyball team come out fighting, only to fall to the Kansas Lady Jayhawks in the Cats' first conference match of the season.

'We were focused in game one," said coach Patti Hagemeyer, whose squad Wednesday won its first game 15-7. "This is the best we've ever opened a game. They played the first game like I know they are capable. I couldn't have been happier than in game one."

The Cats' fight didn't go unnoticed.

"K-State is always tough," Kansas coach Frankie Albitz said. "They will have a good team in a couple of years."

The Cats jumped out to a 9-2 lead on a Suzanne Hagge kill in game one. K-State extended its lead to to 14-5 before the Jayhawks tallied two final

The slide for K-State began in game two. Kansas reeled off seven points to start the game. The closest margin of the game was five. The Cats lost

Hitting went down a level for the Cats, as they dropped from 21 kills in game one to eight in game two. Kansas, meanwhile, recorded 14 kills in 34

"Their youth and our serving helped us get game two," Albitz said. "We settled down and played our Game three had K-State drop to its lowest output since the Wichita State game in the KSU Invitational. The Hawks won 15-3.

A hit into the net by Kansas gave the Cats a 1-2 deficit. From there, the Hawks put six straight points on the board to take an 8-1 lead. Three Kansas aces put the game away for the Hawks. Barb Bella's ace gave Kansas a 2-1 match

Neither team hit well in game three, as the two squads combined for nine kills and nine errors in 44

"K-State has some talent, but youth caught up to them." Albitz said.

In game four, the Cats' offense came alive and produced a 10-1 lead with the help of Dugan's three

The Hawks gradually climbed back into the game, aided by seven K-State hitting errors, to tie the game at 12-12. Kansas took its first lead when K-State illegally hit the ball four times. Kathy Saxton tied the score at 13-13 with one of her team-

Saxton got the lead for the Cats on another kill to give the Cats a 14-13 advantage, only for Cyndee Kanabel to tie the game again with a kill. Two K-State hitting errors helped Kansas win the match with a 16-14 victory.

'We relaxed in the second game, and we fought back in game four," Hagemeyer said. "They surprised us on their short serve. I don't know if we learned from it."

The match was watched by an estimated 630 fans inside Ahearn Field House, the largest crowd of the season for the Cats, as K-State fell to 5-7 and Kansas moved to 12-5.

Kansas has won the last eight meetings and holds a 33-31 edge. In those last eight matches, six have gone to at least four games.

Brett bags 3,000!

Royal strokes 4 hits in KC win to reach milestone ASSOCIATED PRESS

ANAHEIM, Calif. - George Brett, who fought through an injury-filled career to become one of the most prolific hitters ever, singled off Tim Fortugno in the seventh inning Wednesday night to follow Robin Yount of Milwaukee into the 3,000-hit club.

The Kansas City Royals star became the 18th player to get 3,000 hits in the major Brett hit the first pitch he faced in the seventh inning of a 4-0 victory past second base for his fourth hit of the night. Royals players rushed onto the field to hug him, and took first base back to the dugout.

"It's a relief," Brett said. "I am the happiest man in the world right now."

Brett burst forward into baseball history three weeks to the day after Yount reached 3,000 and 20 years to the day after Clemente achieved that figure.

The 39-year-old Brett thus added one of the final jewels in a 19-year career that includes the distinction of being the only player to win batting titles in three decades: 1976, 1980,

Brett remained in the game after an ovation that lasted about five minutes. He then reached on an error in the ninth and came out of the game for a pinch runner.

Brett had a slicing double in the first inning off Julio Valera, a drive to left that rookie Rob Ducey misplayed. In the second, Brett followed Wally Joyner's leadoff single with a ground single through the right side of the infield. After reaching on 1-1 pitches his first two times up, Brett swung at a 1-0 pitch leading off the fifth and singled to center. The crowd was already cheering when

Brett came up in the seventh. Brett has said he is undecided about playing next season. The Royals have a $2.5 million option for next season with a $1 million buyout, but haven't indicated their

Brett, who married this year and has his first child due in the spring, says he will consult with family, friends and the Royals before making a decision.

Brett needs two home runs and six stolen bases to join Hank Aaron and Willie Mays as the only players to steal 200 bases, hit 300 homers and get 3,000 hits.

The 'chop' is not offensive

What is everybody getting worked up about? As I sat and watched my favorite baseball team clinch the National League West Tuesday night, I thought how cool it would be to be in Fulton County Stadium with all those crazies.

In fact, I wish I could have been at Arrowhead Stadium three nights ago to see the Chiefs pound the L.A. Raiders.

In both instances, the crowd took part in a cheer/shenanigan that I find quite unique - and definitely not offensive. It's called "the Chop." Why has something so harmless been so Maybe it's because I'm unable to grasp the concept. Some say it's offensive because it demeans a native American culture. I ask how.

Same topic, different verse. This is comparable to the uproar about team nicknames such as Redskins, Braves, Chiefs and Indians. Why should franchises replace their mascots, and why are people waiting 'till now to make a stink over nothing?

From my perspective, in no way does bending the elbow to a 45-degree angle, then extending it outward, constitute moral turpitude.

Do farmers consider the Sooner wagon offensive? How about the animal activists? Are they justified to gripe at the University of Colorado for having Ralphie, the Buffs' huge mascot, lead CU on the field?

The one mascot that comes closest to the thin line is Florida State's. But how can one be bothered by a mascot that fires up a crowd?

If you have never seen what the Seminoles' mascot does prior to kickoff, watch before the next FSU televised home game. Then, decide for yourself whether it gets under your skin. Do you see the chop as fun? I do.

I disagree with those who are offended by it, because the meaning is harmless.

If some yahoo wants to put on a headdress and paint his face, I think that is closer to paying homage than making fun of that culture.

Another question comes to mind. Why is it considered "going too far"? One solution could be to eliminate nicknames and mascots from every single athletic team in America - until there are none. It will be Manhattan vs. Lawrence, Kansas City vs. Denver, Florida State vs. Miami. Maybe the University of Miami ought to consider altering its nickname - the Hurricanes. Doesn't the destruction a hurricane can cause, as Hurricane Andrew did, seem a trifle more bothersome than any nickname I've mentioned? You don't notice a single soul complaining about Miami's choice of mascots, do you? No. Nobody can make me believe that Braves, Indians, Chiefs, Seminoles or any other nickname is offensive. They're not. But I ask for a response. Let me know how it offends you. I, most likely, will not agree with what you say, but I want your opinion. I say no.

WALTERS

Franklin chosen as chair of task force

Commission's goal is information

on men's issues

LANE ALLISON

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, was selected to chair a task force on men's issues at a national convention in San Francisco.

Franklin was chosen by the American College Personnel Association to speak at Commission IV - Students, Their Activities and Their Communities. The convention is part of a twoyear task force on issues of college men's development.

The commission provides information and services to student affairs professionals involved in student activities, leadership development and other related student experiences on campus.

"The goal of this task force is to encourage the promotion, development and research of young men's development," Franklin said.

He said they will focus on masculine development; men and leadership; men and violence; traditional sex roles; multicultural aspects of male development; and men and new paradigms for an emerging global community.

There has been discussion, and there has been a task force on women," Franklin said. "But what this will do is help create a momentum and a feel that we need to look at men.

"We look at every group out students. We talk about multicultural students. And we talk about women," Franklin said. "But nobody talks about men. That is what we want to look at. We want to see if there are needs that aren't being met." Recent Commission IV efforts have been aimed at understanding students' characteristics, attitudes and behaviors as a basis for effective planning of student programs and services, said Kathy Shellogg, chair of Commission IV and assistant director of student development in the College of Business Administration at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"One of the more recent issues to emerge on our campuses is men's issues," Shellogg said.

"Bernard Franklin's interest and scholarship in the area of concerns related to young men's lives has given us an opportunity to define and initiate new attention to the challenges of young men on our campuses today," she said.

Franklin said he wants K-State to be a starting point for men's issues to be addressed. He said he wants to use K-State as a place where we can begin to understand Franklin is preparing a proposal to several colleges at K-State to create a National Center for Men's Issues and Development.

Franklin will address the ACPA at its next conference in March, where he will report on the accomplishments of the task force in its first year.

SUPREME COURT

Tulsa historian speaks about landmark case

Kermit Hall, dean of the University of Tulsa's arts and sciences college, was the first "University Lectures in the Humanities" speaker Wednesday.

Hall spoke to a group of K-State faculty and students in the K-State Union and discussed the driving forces behind the landmark court case New York Times v. Sullivan.

Lou Williams, assistant professor of history, said Hall is one of the best known constitutional historians in the United States, having written publications several constitutional law.

"He just finished writing a book about this subject, called 'Heed Their Rising Voices' and is going to pull a lot from his research, Williams said.

The 1964 court case created a a public official must prove a news item was written with the knowledge that it was false and with reckless disregard for the truth.

Hall said the case represents the nature and the attitude of the area and the court system, giving insight into the nature of the Supreme Court and the views of the 1960s.

The controversy began with the Feb. 12, 1960, sit-in by black students in the Montgomery, Ala., city hall. The police reserves were called in, and instead of dispersing the protesters, they began to beat "The police reserve unit was created by L.B. Sullivan, the director of public safety, and filled with a lot of Ku Klux Klan members," Hall said.

He said the incident was just an

■ See HALL Page 10

House fails to overturn family leave bill veto

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — The House on Wednesday easily sustained President Bush's veto of a bill requiring many businesses to give their workers time off in family emergencies.

Democrats pledged to redouble efforts to make family leave a major issue in the campaign for the White House.

The vote on the politically charged bill was 258-169, well short of the two-thirds majority needed to override Bush.

It was the 33rd consecutive time Bush has made his veto stick. The vote came as lawmakers rushed to wrap up their business for the year and return home to tend to their own political concerns.

From legislation fixing education policy to a bill providing Israeli loan guarantees to a measure to move a federal air and space museum annex to Denver, nothing was too large or too small to attract

This Thursday LIVE Eagle Ridge

$1 Bottles

Mon. & Tues. 3750 Wells

50¢ Draws 50¢ Tacos Free Dance Lessons 7:30 p.m.

On Stage Fri.-Sat.

Hired Hands

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste treat that won't bust your wallets:

- Homemade Buttermilk Biscuits
- Creamed Chipped Beef
- Bisquit Gravy Homefried Potatoes
- French Toast
- Pancakes
- · Bacon/Sausage Scrambled Eggs
- Escalloped Apples
- Grilled Ham Steak

All You Can Eat For Only $4.95

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet omelets or skillet breakfasts

> 537-8440 2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome

the attention of lawmakers.

In defeat of the family leave bill, supporters said the veto would reverberate in next month's presidential election. Democrat Bill Clinton supports the measure, and Bush has promoted family values as "This issue frames this campaign," said Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo. "Yes, it really is about who is for families."

Despite the partisan split, 42 Democrats deserted their party and voted to sustain Bush's veto. Thirty-eight Republicans voted to override their president.

The measure was strongly opposed by lobbyists for small

Parents Weekend Specials from the K-State Union Bookstore

Buy any one garment at regular price, get the second of equal or lesser value for 50 % OFF

> Key chains Jewelry Glassware

20% OFF 20% OFF 20% OFF

Parents Weekend Hours

Friday, October 2 Saturday, October 3 Sunday, October 4

7:45 am - 8:00 pm 8:00 am - 8:00 pm Noon - 5:00 pm

CATS T-SHIRTS not included

K-State Union Bookstore 532-6583 We appreciate your support. Your dollars continue to help the K-State Union sponsor student services, programs and activities.

Great Memories Start Here..

Sigma Chi Oct. 1

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

Travel Experts

- Student airfares.
- •International studentairfares. · Railpasses issued here.
- Internat'l Identity cards.
- Worldwide adventure tours.
- Travel gear and guidebooks. Expert travel advice.

Council Travel

1634 Orington Ave Evanston, II 60201

1-800-475-5070

Save 15%

Saturday & Sunday October 3 & 4

539-5639

Pre Season Ski Coat Sale!

3 days free ski rental when you buy an insulated ski coat

October 1-10 Our ski fever is up and we want to raise yours!

$25 to $75 off

regular prices on Columbia and Patagonia ski coats

Includes good supply of women's models.

Downtown, Manhattan 304 Poyntz Hrs: Mon-Fri 9-6, Thur 9-8, Sat 9-5

Manhattan's Oldest Menswear Store

Pre-Season Wardrobe

Save $50.00 on any 1 suit or Sportcoat & Slack combinations (navy blazer excluded)

Save $125.00 on any 2 suits or Sportcoat & Slack combination

Choose from our large selection of New Fall Clothing

Regular, Short, Big & Tall sizes

Featuring Perry Ellis & Borck Brothers clothing

(In stock merchandise only) Not good with any other offer Sale Ends Oct. 3rd

Fine Menswear 1100 Westloop Place (913) 537-8636

Westloop Shopping Center 9:30-5:30 Mon.-Sat. til 8:30 Thurs

Pull start

Joe Derousse, Geisler Roofing Co. employee, labors in the warm September breeze, trying to pull start a piece of equipment on the roof of Denison Hall Wednesday afternoon.

You've got to COLLEGIAN Display Advertising 532-6560

ag'in BAR & DELI

OTHER THURSDAY Margaritas 99¢ draws 50¢ (available in bar only)

FRIDAY SHRIMP & BEER+

tcher of beer & two dozen hrimp, less 6 OR two well trinks & one dozen shrimp $5.99 have your pre-game meal OR carry-out & celebrate afterwards

+SATURDAY+

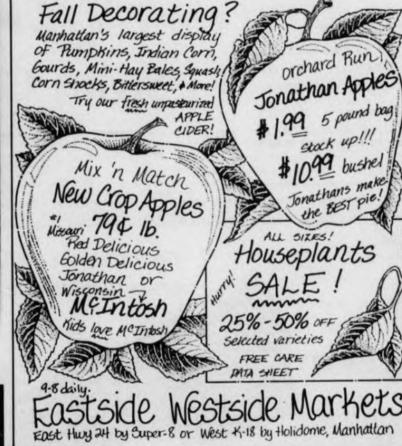

+SUNDAY+

HALF PRICE NIGHT buy any sandwich and get another 1/2 price (6-9 p.m.)

Open at noon Sundays 11a.m.-2 a.m. Dally

537-8383 3240 Kimball Ave. Candlewood

MANHATTAN

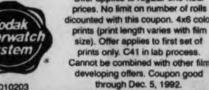

ON FILM DEVELOPING WHILE YOU SHOP!

One-Hour Service • In The Mall Each Picture Is The Best .

It Can Be Or We Reprint It Free...Now!

unted with this coupon, 4x6 cold Manhattan

Town Center main entrance by food court

One Hour Services

film developing enlargements reprints • double

allet photos • film

prints

Also Available

instant color

passport photos

video transfer

copies from prints

albums, frames and accessories

Seeds of Change' on display

Exhibit honors anniversary of Columbus' voyage

JILL SCHRAG

Farrell Library's Minority Resource and Research Center will have a copy of the Smithsonian Institution's "Seeds of Change" exhibit until Friday.

The exhibit then will be at the Union Art Gallery from Oct. 5 to

"Seeds of Change" uses photographs, texts, a video and first-person accounts of Native Americans, Spanish explorers and African slaves to show the changes brought about after Christopher Columbus arrived in North America.

The exhibit commemorates the 500th anniversary of Columbus' voyage by focusing on the exchange of plants, animals and peoples that resulted from his

The five "seeds" are corn, sugar, disease, the potato and the horse.

'The exhibit focuses on Native Americans' contribution to our society today in agriculture, pharmaceuticals, names of cities, plants, trees and animals," said Deliliah Hamilton, director of Farrell's minority center.

The exhibit shows how North American foods affected European culture. It also shows how Europeans affected North America by introducing disease and the horse.

Kansas Interpretive Traveling Exhibit Service provides exhibits like this to universities, historical museums, libraries and high schools. The only cost incurred is the cost of shipping, which is usually between $5 and $10, Hamilton said.

Hamilton said her goal is to have a different exhibit each month in the minority center's display room.

A series of grants is needed to buy equipment, sponsor exhibits and pay cultural speakers, Hamilton said. She said she has applied to Friends of the Library, the Kansas Arts Commission and the Commission for Arts and Humanities for these grants since she took her position in April.

Hispanic, Native American and African American peoples are emphasized at the minority center, Hamilton said, but she would like to add Asian Americans.

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

much to our culture as any of the other groups," she said.

A group of 130 new faculty and staff members and members of Friends of the Library viewed the exhibit during an open house

"We want to publicize what we have up here, so people will know that this is not just a place for black people," she said.

Appearing at Clydes

"Almost Live" Entertainment Duo

Friday, Oct. 2 and Saturday, Oct. 3 9 p.m. to Midnight No Cover Charge

Featuring a fresh blend of contemporary entertainment, from 50s Be-Bop ... Classic and Modern Country, to today's contemporary hits!

> 537-8440 2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

On Ft. Riley Blvd. Across from the Holidome

We're Celebrating...

the arrival of our new hair care professional, Shauna. She invites all old and new customers to call her for an appointment.

Candlewood Shopping Center ■ 776-5632 Tues.-Sat 3266 Kimball Avenue ■ Evenings by appointment

ROYAL PURPLE

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Scuba diving members discover underworlds

"I just read a report saying that diving is safer than bowling."

ALLEN SHELTON

This year marks the 50th anniversary of a sport that is safer than bowling.

Scuba diving is that sport, said Allen Shelton, owner of Aggie Dive Shop.

"All those movies, like 'Jaws' or the James Bond ones where divers get their tethers cut, aren't real," Shelton said. "I just read a report saying that diving is safer than bowling. Interest in diving increased so much last year that Shelton and Brent Vopat, junior in electrical engineering, formed the Kaw Valley Dive Club.

"We formed it to get divers in touch with divers and to let people know there are places around here to go diving," Vopat

The club of about 25 members has taken trips to Missouri and Arkansas. Shelton said club members have been considering a trip to Panama City, Fla.

"A lot of members just call up another member and say, 'I'm going diving, anybody want to go?'" Vopat said. "Sometimes, it's hard to get the whole

He said the club might go to St. Louis to dive in underground caves.

'It's a real safe dive," he said. "You're kind of led on a tour. There's 150-foot visibility under water.

'At Tuttle, you can only see about 2 feet in front of you. It's not a good lake to dive in, unless you have to.

All scuba divers must wear a tank that contains pure, filtered compressed air. On land, the tank weighs about 40 pounds. But in water, it is weightless.

Divers also need a regulator, which forces air into the diver's lungs a little harder than normal breathing, Shelton said.

Another piece of required equipment is the wet suit. It traps water against the skin to act as insulation. With a wet suit, you need lead weights to sink. Air is injected into the rubber of the wet suit to make it buoyant," Shelton said.

Since talking under water is not possible, divers communicate with underwater slates The thumbs-up sign means "go up," chest-pounding means "low on air," and head-patting means "OK," Shelton said. Shelton took his first dive July 13, 1986.

Now he is a diving instructor. "A lot of divers keep log books to keep track of where they've been and how many dives they've gone on," he said.

Yugoslav army to leave Croatia

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina - Serbia-dominated Yugoslavia agreed Wednesday to pull its army from a strategic peninsula in Croatia by Oct. 20 and said it would enter talks on recognizing Croatia, a former Yugoslav republic.

Britain's Lord Owen said the could resume by the weekend.

agreement reached in Geneva between presidents Dobrica Cosic of Yugoslavia and Franjo Tudjman of Croatia represented a significant step along the hard road to peace.

Diplomats trying to end ethnic fighting in former Yugoslav republics said earlier that relief flights to Sarajevo, the besieged capital of Bosnia-Herzegovina, Serb gunners ringing Sarajevo held back artillery barrages early Wednesday in one of the quietest nights of the 6-month-old siege.

But Bosnian officials reported 24 people killed and 165 wounded in Bosnia in the 24-hour period ending at 1 p.m. Wednesday, including seven dead and 54 wounded in

All in a day's work

Kim Herman, an employee of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, walks along the bleachers picking up litter at Wagner Field Wednesday afternoon. He had been working on the project all morning.

Kansas amendment expected to pass

Constitutional addition to protect victims' rights ASSOCIATED PRESS

TOPEKA - The worst thing apparently being said about a proposed victims' rights amendment to the state constitution is that its adoption won't cause any

Parnell, a 12-year-old Boicourt resident, was raped three years ago. right to be present at court hearings

She has made her identity public and worked for the amendment in hopes of helping other victims.

The amendment is expected to win adoption easily on Nov. 3. It has been a special project of Attorney General Bob Stephan and has the support of at least five organizations

"Personally, it means a lot," Parnell said. "The perpetrator has more rights than the victims do."

The proposed amendment would Some Kansans, such as Winter add a new section to the last article Joy Parnell, consider it vital to of the constitution, declaring that improving the treatment of victims. victims of crime are entitled to "certain basic rights," including the

and to be heard before a criminal is constitutional protection the sentenced.

The 1989 Legislature approved a series of victims' rights laws, but critics contend that many prosecutors ignore their responsibilities under those statutes.

Stephan argues that passage of the amendment will make it more likely that victims will be able to force compliance through lawsuits.

"Courts take more cognizance of a violation of constitutional rights," Stephan said. "There's still a failure on the part of many county and district attorneys to recognize the rights of the victims to participate."

Parnell said victims need the to nearby Pleasanton.

amendment would offer, and she cites her case as an example. A 14year-old neighbor raped her in her back yard in 1989.

Months after her family contacted law enforcement officials, the state Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services removed the boy from his home and placed him in foster care. He is now a resident of the state's Youth Center at

Parnell said she did not know how state and local officials were handling her case or where the boy was until she saw him during a visit We Take Tips TONIGHT, LIVE!

Texas Blues with The Smokin Joe Kubek Band featuring B'Nois King Special guests Blue featuring Wayne O'Neal

9:30, Thursday, Oct. 1 at

Brothers Tickets $4 in advance $5 at the door

Tickets available at 1131 Moro

KSU GOSPEL SERVICE

featuring Rev. Wayne Ellis

ALL FAITHS CHAPEL KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY MANHATTAN, KS

Oct. 14, 1992 11 a.m.

Special Parents' Weekend Hours

Sat. 9-5

Fraternities & Sororities

KSU Apparel • Custom Embroidery

Largest Selection of Sportswear

in the Midwest

537-8822 Open Mon.-Fri. 9-5; Sat. 10-3

528 Pillsbury, Dr. (1/2 mile south of the Mall on Hwy. 177) Fine Dining in The Little Apple

Manhattan's Finest!

Steaks, Seafood and More

•Friday Night Seafood Buffet-$13.95

Saturday Night Prime Rib Buffet-$13.95

• Try Our Famous Buffalo Steaks Cocktail Lounge and TV Bar

Nobody does it like Clyde's

(913)537-8440

Across from Holidome on Ft. Riley Blvd.

Great Memories Start

oyal

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Oct. 1

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Parents' Weekend

Oct. 2-4, 1992

We have a variety of activities planned for the weekend, so bring your parents and show them life at K-State.

For a compete schedule of events call the K-State Alumni Association, 532-6260, or stop by the Parents' Information Booth in the Union Courtyard on Friday from 3:30 to 8 p.m. or on Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Thank you to these Parents' Weekend sponsors.

Delta Sigma Phi Delta Delta Delta Sigma Kappa Sigma Sigma Sigma Chi Omega Interfraternity Council Panhellenic Council Lambda Chi Alpha

Brooks named entertainer of the year Hall discusses

"One thing I have learned from this past year is music and artists are going to come and go. But it's family -

GARTH BROOKS

that's what it's all about."

Chapin-Carpenter, Gill name top vocalists

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - Garth Brooks was voted entertainer of the year, and Vince Gill won two honors Wednesday night at the 26th annual Country Music Association Awards Show.

Brooks' 9 million selling "Ropin' the Wind," which has been No. 1 on both the pop and country charts, also won best album to give him two major awards during the nationally televised presentations at the Grand Ole Opry

"One thing I have learned from this past year is music and artists are going to come and go. But it's family - that's what it's all about," said Brooks, entertainer for the second straight year.

Brooks' wife, Sandy, gave birth to their first child, a daughter, during the Gill, who decided to pursue a singing career instead of playing pro golf, was voted top male vocalist for the second straight year. He also won a songwriter's award for co-writing his hit "Look at Us" with Max D. Barnes.

"Now I know how Michael Jordan feels to repeat," Gill said in accepting the award as best male vocalist, referring to the Chicago Bulls' basketball star who led his team to two straight NBA titles.

Mary Chapin-Carpenter won female vocalist of the year, her first CMA award, but said her voice has never impressed her.

"I've never been that fond of my singing. It's the others that inspired me," said Carpenter, who won a Grammy Award earlier this year. Billy Ray Cyrus' bouncy "Achy Breaky Heart," which inspired a new dance and launched Cyrus from an

"I believed in the song the first time I heard it," Cyrus said backstage after receiving a bullet-shaped trophy. "It hit me like a hit record should."

unknown to star status, won single of the

The new honky-tonk duet Brooks & Dunn were voted duo of the year, breaking a four-year hold on the award by the mother-daughter act the Judds, who are no longer performing together. Fiddler Mark O'Connor won best musician, and Diamond Rio was chosen best group.

Alan Jackson's "Midnight in Montgomery" was chosen No. 1 music video over Cyrus' "Achy Breaky Heart" and three others.

Travis Tritt and Marty Stuart won vocal event of the year for their rollicking "No Hats" concert tour, and Suzy Bogguss was voted the Horizon Award for most promise.

George Jones capped off a 40-year career when he was chosen for the Country Music Hall of Fame.

"The only thing I can say is that country music has been awful good to me throughout a whole bunch of years," he said after receiving a prolonged standing ovation.

Frances Preston, a music publishing executive, was voted into the Country Music Hall of Fame as a non-performer.

Reba McEntire and Gill were co-hosts of the show - traditionally one of the most-watched awards programs on television.

Winners were chosen by the 6,000 members of the CMA, mostly singers, musicians, songwriters and others who make their living in country music.

historical case

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7

excuse for the reserves to become violent against the protesters.

A full-page advertisement, placed by the Committee to Defend Martin Luther King Jr., that ran in the March 23, 1960, issue of the New York Times mentioned the incident in Montgomery.

The title for Hall's book was inspired by the 1960 ad. The ad was titled "Heed Their Rising Voices," and under this headline ran 10 paragraphs about civil unrest and needing help for King.

The last seven paragraphs mentioned some of the incidents that occurred in Montgomery," Hall said.

When the paper finally reached Montgomery in the mail, a local attorney found the article and saw a legal opportunity.

The ad did not mention the names of any officials, but it made enough references that the reader could figure out the target was public officials.

"The attorney took the article to Sullivan and told him of the possibilities for a law suit," Hall

According to Hall, the two were joined by the local editor of both Montgomery newspapers, Grover Hall Jr., and filed suit against the Times for libel.

Initially, the Times lost the case and was fined $500,000. The case was appealed all the way to the Supreme Court, where the decision was reversed, and the Times won.

The decision was the first time in history the U.S. had a national libel law on the books.

Hall called it the greatest free press libel case in history.

"Before this case, all libel suits were based on state laws," he said. "Each state had its own libel laws."

Watch for the Cat Coupon Clipper Every Monday in the

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIÉ 116

Joshua's 12 groovy, worth it

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5 Touching on

socialconsciousness is "Losing Sleep."

It includes lyrics such as, Tonight is just another night/they don't care if she laughs or cries/they don't care if she's dumb or clever/they just hope her body's Joshua's 12 seems to be looking for a different audience straying from the mediocrity of Seattle's or England's scene.

And its timing may be perfect. One can tell the duo is looking to make a change.

With this diverse EP, the duo gives listeners just a small sampling of its true achievement of an alternative sound.

These musicians discover an interesting sound approach for their audience with this EP, which is a needed change for the Manhattan

It's groovy, so check it out.

ESSENTIALS

Sex-starved love goddess is not an enjoyable teacher

As my college undergraduate life nears an end, I look back on all the "good" professors I have interacted with. However, this semester has not been the same enjoyable classroom encounter!

Currently, I am being tormented by an uncaring, unprofessional teacher. She talks about subjects not pertaining to class (especially sex), gives tests over bogus information, plays favorites with the male students, and parades around the room like some sex-starved love goddess.

Because I want to help my fellow students and myself, I must ask your advice. Who can we turn to for help? Will our concerns be kept confidential? Can any legal action be taken in order that quality ainst this "woman" education will be regained? Thanks for your

The students of -

DEAR STUDENTS.,

I am sorry, but I can not divulge the class you are referring to since this would obviously reveal the instructor you are talking about, placing myself and your allegations in jeopardy. Please read a similar letter below.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I can't believe I'm writing to you. I'm just really confused about what I should do. I am taking a class from a GTA, who I met up with at a party last weekend. He approached me and started talking, which was OK. However, his tone became very sexual and started making me uneasy. I told him I wasn't interested in the things he was suggesting. He got really mad and told me I would regret it. I gave a speech last week, and he gave me a D on it.

Cassandra, I placed in the top five in state in oration in high school. I worked hard on my speech and deserved a B at the worst. Now, I am afraid he is going to flunk me. And he just looks so smug! What, aside from just dropping the class, can I do?

J.R., K-State student

What you touch upon here is not only timely, but a very serious allegation. The potential for harm to the instructor's career, as well as your credibility, is enormous. You must be absolutely sure there was no misunderstanding.

IIM DIKKERS

With that as a given, there are several ways to deal with this problem. The most effective, I believe, is to confront the instructor with your accusation, and then go straight to the head of the department and explain the situation. If you know of someone who can corroborate your story, then by all means have them go with you.

If you have no witnesses, your charges will still be investigated, but it will probably boil down to your word against his. At least there will be a record of the allegation for future reference. If "smooth-talking Joe" values his career, that should, in most cases, stop the

Now, as to the poor grade and the potential backlash, you can request that another instructor, who is qualified, evaluate your previous work as well as any future assignments. Make sure the instructor in question is aware of this. If the same conclusion is reached regarding how well you completed the assigned task by an independent instructor, then I would say you deserved the bad grade. If not, then you have additional evidence to nail

This advice applies to any other antics in the classroom that are against University policy or would be deemed inappropriate to a classroom

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

JIM'S JOURNAL

Hal put me to work with some. one reorganizing boxes of paper.

We started stack-

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

d for your brai KANSAS STATE

prov. 21 Lyric poem 24 DiMaggio or Namath

25 Get ready to fight newsman David

28 Lob's path

29 "Shampoo"

actress

LeShan

30 Author

26 TV

CROSSWORD

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer 19 Canadian

58 "Desire ACROSS 38 Tailor's pride 39 Without Under 1 "Dracula" author Stoker further ado DOWN 5 She'll be 40 Cumber-1 Die, as land, e.g. out in a 42 Short sock "Arrive minute 45 Ardently 8 Striker's derci enthusia 12 "Damn 49 Fabric flaw 4 Crazes Yankees* 50 Spring-steen's 5 Spy vamp 13 Ostrich's birthplace? cousin 52 "I could

6 Type units 14 Via, briefly 15 Bad sign - horse! 53 Mars 16 Doctrine 17 Doggy-bag fill 18 Car counterpart 54 Crib "Hot" 55 Laugh-a 9 Poirot's owner's minute 20 18 Across 56 Serenades need the moon 11 Quayle 22 It gets flicked 23 - Moines 24 Blows from Holyfield 27 Qualified for "Star 32 Nebraska nor Kay 33 Raw rocks 34 Bachelor's last words

31 Comic DeLuise 36 Minimally 37 Ram's ma'am 38 Orb 41 Rough 42 Obsessed sea 43 Asta's mistress 44 Sousaphone's kin 46 Racetrack boundary 47 Tiny bit 48 Bella

Abzug's collection 51 Sample Sauterne

EUGENE SHEFFER

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873199e per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP FXTBNS

UKAXRXWXOT, OQSOXY

SNWKSY RVN Yesterday's Cryptoquip: CHEF MADE ALL THE FOOD TOO SPICY, SINCE HE HAD THYME ON HIS

HANDS. Today's Cryptoquip clue: B equals G

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 1 DAY each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50

BULLETIN

BOARD

010

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private

Grants. America's finest. Since 1981.

You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from source nnancial and from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scho'ar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103.

Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call

532-6106 for an ap-

Training. Multi-engine, instrument, commercial, ATP, CFI ratings.

ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128 blow up when you're mad? Learn a new

ANGRY? FED up? Tend to evenings.

and

Scholarships

each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

Apartments, one block from campus. Call 539-

LOST: GREY cat- recently spayed. Lived near corner of Denison and Laramie. We miss Alex. Call 537-9421/ 539-3770.

LOST: TWO pair earrings on card between park-ing lot across from stadium and Ahearn Please call if found - 776-5626, leave message if not home. Thanks!.

TEXTBOOK FOUND Sept. 25 in Paslay Lecture Hall. Claim in Durland

030

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a

CONGRATULATIONS
KARLA M.- Winner of

$100 book scholarship from Art Carved and the K-State Union

ETY618- HII I saw your smile and wave on Tuesday, and am inter-ested in meeting the person behind them. I know you were just being "neighborly" - so even meeting a new friend would be great (I'm new to the area). I enjoy most kinds of sic: nature; animals the beauty to be found in even simple things; and laughing at/ with life. Sound differentbut worth a try? Re spond to "Dreaming" via the Collegian, or Apartment 19. TO THE Smithie I love: smile look on the bright side, the semesters almost one-third of the way through, things will get better, also thanks for the last six

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

105 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very

nice, one, two

bedrooms, Apartment

com-plexes and houses with

great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid landlady. No house work

personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494–8201 or 889–4495.

MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable

and washer/ dryer use

$200/ month, include:

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT furnished wall

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX

available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue vall, utilities paid clean, $375, call 537-5176 or 537-5144.

ONE-BEDROOM APART

way... Try our work-shop, "Handling Anger Assertively." Call now for information COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best months you made them the greatest. LA. prices Knipp, 539-6193 after EATING DISORDERS Ther apy Group: Discuss the thoughts, feelings and with this problem Common concerns in-clude difficulties with depression, self-esteem, body image, fam ily and relationship's seling Services, 532-

SUMMERTIME ONE Day Diet. Anyone can stick to a diet for a day when they know they can ea what they want the next day. For more formation contact Clif ton Beth (913)537-0850

020<sup>Lost and Found</sup>

free for three free for

COUNTRY LIVING rent $100 REWARD. Lost cat white, male, front de-clawed. Lost Sept. 27 Candlewood Dr. and Kimball Ave. Call days

537-0537, evenings 539-3644. FOUND: GRAY striped, fe male, cat in the North view School vicinity

Appears to be litter trained. 776-1124. FOUND: WOMANS silver bracelet by Denison given to English De-

Leave message at 539-4674. ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month HELPI LOSTI small wire bound, blue, noteboo includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Says *8:30/9:30* in upper corner. Contain Leave message at 539-4674.

teaching notes (in pen cil) PLEASE cal 532-5987, Deb. ROOMMATE WANTED LOST GOLD chain with tal. Reward if found cal TWO-BEDROOM APART LOST- GOLD bracelet watch lost in Aggieville, sentimental value.

please call 539-5002

LOST IN Aggieville, Fri. Sept. 25: Black, Olym-pus IS-1 camera in soft case. PLEASE call if you have knowledge of it, believe it or not, but it has strong sentimenta value. Large rewardwithout questions. Please call 539-4247, and leave a message ish, check, litesterCard or Visa are spied. There is a $10 service charge ra charge, we'll put a eve your ad to catch the AVAILABLE NOV. 1, two

CLOSE TO campus very

$350 plus utilities, no pets. 539-7336.

nice, one, two, three and four-

bedrooms. Apartment

plexes and houses with

great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher.

$230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

bath, central air, laundry, near campus,

$240, bills paid, 539-8401.

MENT near city park.
Off-street parking, air,
microwave included.
$295 plus water. Avail-

539-5518 evenings.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bed

campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets.

block Moro, landlord pays heat. $340/ month 776-8628.

plex, east of Westloop Oct. 17. Stove, refrig erator, water, trash. Married or single preferred. No pets or smoking. 539-3524.

120 For Rent-

AVAILABLE NOW four

130 For Rent-

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes. Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus

THREE-BEDROOM MOST

539-6058 or 494-2449.

THREE-BEDROOM, 800

TWO-BEDROOM BRICK du-immediately

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO

$180

537-8800.

ONE BEDROOM baseme

ONE-BEDROOM APART

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN

DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by moon the day before the date you wan your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your a

FREE FOUND ADS

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad as expired, we will refund you for the emaining days. You must call us before noon the day

the ad is to be published

CORRECTIONS
If you find an error in your ad, pie call us. We accept responsibility or for the first wrong bisortion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

ble, caring owners. Lit-ter box trained. de-

250 Autom

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 tan, Kansas, 537-5049 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

EMPLOYMENT. CAREERS

310

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such proach any such employment opposite control of the Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

ON AN EXTRA

$2,500?

Practical experience for

Majors: Manage credi

card promotions on campus for a National Marketing Firm. Hours

flexible. Earn up to

CALL 1-800-950-8472,

Ext. 17.

HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill

Shift scheduling ex-

1p.m.; 9a.m.- 5p.m. 1a.m.- 5p.m. Also have many positions available for following type schedules: 5p.m-9p.m.; 9p.m.- 3a.m.; 9p.m.- 5a.m. Apply in person. Ask for Chris

Part-time leasing con-sultant needed for a tment community. A successful candidate would be enthusiastic, strongly people orient-ed and have a desire for excellence. Previous retail experience helpful and upperclassman are preferred. 15- 25 hours per week (includ-ing Saturdays) and full time during the summer. Please call 776-

MAINTENANCE: KNOWL

NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer

2. Then call us

EDGABLE about el

trical plumbing and ap-pliance repair for apart-ment, 537-0428.

LEASING CONSULTANT

store positions.

$2,500/term.

Business/Marketing

CAN YOU MANAGE

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-

539-3229.

ALL TYPING needs done

expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

resumes, papers and presentations. Fast. Ac-curate. 823–6931.

personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

235 Child Care

month lease available No pets. 539-4087.

14X70 TWO-BEDROOM

$6500, 537-8741.

1992 14X70 three-bed room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678. WHY RENT? Purchase mobile home with Countryside's fantastic financing. Example #368 Redbud. 12x64 newly remodeled, very spacious, more to choose from. Call Mike at Countryside utilities, washer and dryer, must love pets. Call 537-0635. MENT 1022 Moro Street #5. $300/ month water and trash paid. Call Xigang at 532-6430 (days) or 776-7596

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share three bedroom, close to cam-pus, washer/ dryer, trash provided. $200 plus one-third utilities. 539-0858.

ONE FUN-LOVING female to share three-bedroom apartment. Own room, washer/ dryer first semester only $170 plus one-third utilities. 537–4340. ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large twobedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights Close to campus, laun air and heat. For more information

SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Typing

$10 AND up: professional term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539–5998 after

Not enough time on your hands to get everything done?

Check the Classifieds service directory

OLLEGIAN Kedzie 103 532-655

sume. Laser printer Also specializing in ta-bles, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy

A B C typing service. You do studying, let me do the typing. Reports, charts, graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after ask

U— SALINA students/ staff: Hire a profes-sional to type, edit and laser- print your

UTILIZE MY B.S. in Eng-lish/ Speech for papers/ editing; my ten years

PROFESSIONAL COUPLE needs babysitter for several evenings each month. Two children ages three and four. ary negotiable. 776-0325. References required.

240 Musicians/DJs

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex-perienced teacher. All styles 776-0685.

WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Perform around state evenings and weekends. Good pay. 776-4999, 537-1741.

245 Pet Services

Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime. wormed. One and one-half months. 776-7836.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 openings. Evening shifts and other hours available ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national color, sex, age, nation origin or disability.

PART-TIME ACCOUNTING payroll clerk for Man-hattan Catholic Catholic Schools. Flexible hours. Excellent opportunity for senior or graduate student in Business or Accounting. Gain ex-perience for future resumes. IBM, Peachtree software knowl edge a pius. Send resume, cover letter and three references to Manhattan Catholic Schools 306 S. Juliette Manhattan, KS 66502 Closing date Oct. 7.

GREEKS & CLUBS

RAISE A COOL $1000 IN JUST ONE WEEK! PLUS $1000 FOR THE

MEMBER WHO CALLS No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO just for cal 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

PART-TIME ASSISTANT Manager is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weekends and some ev ing work required. Call 456-2949 evenings for more information. PART-TIME DJ is needed for small business 15 miles from Manhattan. Weekends and some

Call 456-2949 evenings for more information RN AND LPN wanted for weekends. 7-3 shift at Valley Vista Care Center, a mental health

Please stop by 1115 W. 14 Street, Junctio or call 238-2128. 320 Volunteers

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED for research study on ex ercise. Males or fe-males 18 to 35 years old. Call 776-4719 for urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian

$200- $500 weekly. Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling. You're paid direct. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-

Free informa-tion-24 hour hotline great families, experi-ence, $$$, and more. What do you do if you see a fire? Call 911

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

ETTHE WORD OU PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

532-6555

532-7309

801-379-2900

Copyright #KS13KDH

lege T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours.

Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265.

denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans,

NEED CASH? Sell your

alls. 776-7472.

OPEN

MARKET

$252.50Sell 50 funny col-

OR WRITE

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY

TOSHIBA T2200SX, note

FOR SALE: Ovation Ultra

Acoustic and Peavy

book computer, 386 SX, 20 MHZ, 2 MB Ram, 80 MB HD. Only 5.5 pounds 537-0468.

8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

tors. 539-0816

Vortex Electric Guitars Must sell now!! Excellent condition, reason tiable, 776-4948 RICK'S MUSIC Shop miles $700 or best offer 776-3057 Guild, Randall, Gibson Epiphone, Fender Squire. 314 Tuttle Creek Blvd., 539-5900.

450 Pets and Supplies

30 GALLON Oceanic Hex Tank with stand. Ag-gressive fish and all acssories, Call 537-2830.

FOR SALE, one dwarf rab bit, eight weeks, started litter training. Very friendly, black and white, with supplies. Roommate leaving must sell. 532-3326.

ROTTWEILER MIX, female spayed $25. Yellow lab puppy, male $35. Tabby kitten, male free call 456-2614.

TRANS-

510

PORTATION

1971 VW Bus. New engine

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8,

1981 FORD Mustang. Sun-

1981 MUSTANG. Good

1981 TOYOTA 4x4. Power

stereo, tinted windows navy blue, power ster ring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch.

roof, air conditioning, two-door, 84,000 miles, automatic. Runs very well. $1800. Call 776-1119.

Condition, air conditioning, and sunroof. $800, or best offer. 537-steering, air condition, AM/FM cassette, camp-er shell, toolbox. Asking $2200. Runs great, lots of fun! 776-7081.

good condition, new engine and transmis-sion. Loaded with op-tions, $2250 or make offer. Call 539–6809.

1983 BUICK Regal, very

1985 TOYOTA Corolla

GTS, red/ gray. Looks runs/ drives great! High mileage. Retail $3650, $2150 firm! 776-4018 anytime (keep trying).

1986 CHRYSLER Lazer red

new brakes, have pa

perwork, custom paint. 587-0618.

ADMIRAL 25-INCH colo console TV $100, Hondo II bass guitar $120, 776-0872. CANNONDALE RACING

bike, 21-speed, stand, $300 776-2343. COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Ag

12X15 BEIGE carpet piece

$100. 456-2614.

only used two months

gieville. 539-1413. EMERSON 19-INCH color TV with remote plus in ternal VCR, on screen programming. Excel-lent condition $250

Call Julian 539-4891. FOR SALE: Queen size waterbed with heater. Good condition. Asking $100. Please cal 537-4868.

FOR SALE: two aquariums plus stand. One, fiftyfive and one thirty ga Best offer.

539-6707. GOOD KITCHEN size GE refrigerator, $125, call 776-2267.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS: Camoflage cloth-ing, field jackets boots, sleeping bags. Also CARHARTT workwear. Monday-Saturday, 9- 5. St. Marys Surplus Sales, St. Marys, KS. -437-2734.

LOSE WEIGHT. Gain en-ergy. 100 percent moneyback guaranmoneyback gu tee. 539-1252.

415 Furniture to

FOR SALE computer table and printer stand. Asking $85. Call Alex 539-8411. 420 Garage/Yard

UNITED BLACK Voices

DESKTOP DANDY! NEC Powermate 386SX with VGA color, 40 Meg HD, two Meg RAM with six month warranty $800 or best offer. Portable Power! MicroTelesis

(Lunchbox-style) 386 with CGA gas plasma screen, one Meg RAM, 40 Meg RAM (17 ms) HD, full-size keyboard plus four expansion slots, $800 or best offer. 537-3359.

ram, 40 meg hard drive. Stylewriter print-er. $1200, 537-8990.

MAC CLASSIC, four meg

terior, t-tops, power everything five-speed Turbo. Go fastl Turbo. Go fast! 539-2387 extension 40. Gospel Choir. Yard sale lots of clothes and 1988 CHEVY Silverado 4x4, shortwheel base, black, 1026 Fremont, Fri. 12:30, Sat. 8:30. v8, automatic, nice shape, $10,000 or best offer. Consider trade-in. 537-9459, 539-4757. 435 Computers

1988 CUTLASS Calais blue, auto air, cruise quad four engine low mile-age excellent condition

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

RED 1984 Mazda RX-7, AM/FM cassette, fourspeed, lyr paint job, new brakes. Great con-dition $3500 negotiable. Call 539-7735,

520 Bicycles

1991 TREK 830 mountain bike. DX levers, DX top mount shifters. Hardly ridden. Beautiful blue. Mr. Tuffy flat protec-

1992 CANNONDALE R600 road/ racing, 56 cm alu-minum frame, 105 Groupo, Avocet computer and seatbag, low

CHEAP MOUNTAIN bike: Murray, good shape, 776-0994.

530

1990 HONDA CBR 600F white and gray, 2600 miles, two new hel-mets, $3400. 537-8892.

1991 KAWASAKI Ninja ZX-7, 5000 miles on well cared for bike, $5800 make offer. Call 539-

540 WANTED: SHARE ride from Manhattan to To-peka for Drill 410th

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

610 Tour Package K-STATE BRITAIN Intersession, fifteen days, $1174. The Pound is sale await. Information: (913)532-6716. SAN JUAN Students

**Xmas Break** San
Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to falling. The theater

SPRING BREAK PADRE ISLAND $259 for transportation and one week of fun and sun. $50 deposit due by Oct. 30. Cruises and Travel 715 N. 12th St.

776-2217

GH

Students to set up memorial

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"He wrote a note that said he had been really depressed, and he explained that no one helped him with this, that it was all his decision," Schmidt said.

"He explained that he had gotten all of the substances legally and had everything there. There was a packing slip that proved he ordered the cyanide through the mail."

Schmidt said he had dealt with a lot of suicides, and Leslie's letter was an unusual one.

"It was a typed letter that was addressed to law enforcement," Schmidt said.

"He told us he sent letters in the mail to his parents to tell them, and he ended the letter saying, 'Thank you for your cooperation, and good luck on your investigation."

Schmidt said a gun also was found at the scene.

Leslie indicated in his letter that he had the gun there as a backup, in case the cyanide didn't kill him, Schmidt said.

K-State Police Chief Charles Beckom said they were trying to locate Leslie's acquaintances to find out when and where he was last seen.

Beckom said the last sighting reported was Sunday night, but Schmidt said he heard of a sighting Monday morning.

Schmidt said a flashlight was found with Leslie, which could have meant he had been there all night.

Leslie was a resident of Van Zile Hall. Diana Robertson, director of Van Zile Hall, said Leslie was not very well-known because of his quiet and reserved nature.

"I'd like to say we're all sad by the situation," Robertson said. "The rest of Van Zile Hall has met and plans to take a van load to the

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said due to the fact that Leslie had a small network of friends, there was not enough interest in having a formal memorial service on campus.

Franklin and Robertson both said a fund was started by Van Zile residents to establish a plaque or other type of memorial for Leslie to place in the residence hall.

Robertson said Van Zile residents also were planning a series of open discussions about dealing with death and suicide. The discussions, Robertson said, were to be organized along with various campus clergy and staff.

Leslie is survived by a brother, Brian: his mother, Joleen Leslie; and his father, Ronald Leslie, who is a Hutchinson city commissioner and south Hutchinson municipal

The funeral will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Hutchinson.

Memorials can be sent to the Hutchinson Public Library, in care of Johnson and Sons Funeral Home, 300 E. 30th, Hutchinson,

Bicycle theft on campus preventable

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"Nothing leads me to that, but it's always possible," he said. "We have no information on it." A spokesman from the Topeka Police Department said there was no knowledge of such activity.

However, Herrman said rumors could have been started by two separate incidents.

'We had a person who had his bike stolen and found it at the bike rack," he said. "He came and told us, and after we identified it, we cut it and brought it into the station.

"Then, we had someone report that the same bike was stolen, and we had two people claiming the same bike. One of the individuals brought in a canceled check and said he bought the bike in Topeka."

Herrman said another incident involved someone who had bought a bike from an unknown individual

"Officers are aware and are watching for suspicious people around the bike racks," Herrman said. "We watch for people who don't fit the bikes they're riding, such as a short person riding a bike with the seat jacked up."

Herrman said officers have probable cause to stop and inquire about a vehicle carrying a number of bikes in the middle of the night.

Students should use a highquality lock, Herrman said.

"The better the lock, the more time it takes to unlock it and to have someone see them," he said.

Even if a high-grade lock, such as a kryptonite or U-lock, is used, Herrman said, it is smart to use a tempered-steel cable that average wire cutters cannot cut.

Using a U-lock with lock enhancement tools takes up extra space and deters a thief. The lock enhancers also reinforce the lock.

Lock enhancement tools are available in Manhattan and are recommended by campus police. Brett Steelman, junior in prenursing, said he takes proper precautions when locking his bike.

"Make sure to lock the rear wheel to the frame, because the rear wheel and the frame are the most expensive parts of the bike," Steelman said. "Never lock it up at night, or it will get stripped. It's just not worth it."

Herrman also said students are encouraged to use an engraver and to register their bicycles.

Campus police chief Charles Beckom said the KSU Police Department will offer a lock demonstration within the next two weeks to help students take precautions against theft.

Social workers needed, student says Windley on his way to Idaho

the century

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 think that Paul has some very

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"It's a university that's very conscience of environmental problems," he said. "They were looking for someone who would lead the college in environmental issues, and being an environmental designer, I can work with other with their agendas." Lynn Ewanow, assistant dean of architecture and design, said throughout Windley's 20 years at K-State, he is perhaps best known environmentalists and help them for the quality of his leadership. "I've worked with Paul, and I strong organizational skills, Ewanow said. "He's very thorough and very careful in his decisions. We're very excited for him, but we're also sad to see him go."

Windley, who taught in the architecture department, said he would miss K-State.

"I really hadn't been looking for a new job, but sometimes you have to take advantage of opportunities," Windley said. "My wife and I decided that whenever something opened up in Idaho, we'd look into it. When I heard of this, I thought, 'Why not? Let's try it."

Shields said social work is the fastest growing profession at present and will be until the end of

With increases in homelessness and poverty, Train said, there is a need for more social workers. And there is a need for the social work students at K-State to inform the college of that need, she said.

Other activities will begin after the campout has ended. Train said they have talked about having sitins, contacting state social-work agencies and getting in contact with the Kansas Legislature.

We started out as a small group of concerned students, and it has really branched out," Train said. "We'll go on until there's a resolution.

"It's of no self-interest to me, because I am a senior and about to graduate. But I am doing it for the undergraduates to keep the Train was among five other seniors beginning the campout Wednesday night.

HEALTH CARE DIRECTORY

DERMATOLOGY Robert H. Cathey M.D.P.A.

Party starts at 8:30

18 to enter; 21 to drink

Class Projects • Decor • Gifts

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

BEADS

BELLS

Ben Franklin

Better quality for less

537-2100

BALSA

BALLS

$1.50 Wells Diplomate Am. Board Dermatology

For Apt. call 537-4990 1133 College Ave. Bldg. B.

Dr. Jeanne Klopfenstein

> Optometrist Family Eye Care 3202 Kimball Candlewood Shopping Center

776-2255

Accident and Back Pain Center Dr. Larry Dall D.C. 1410 Poyntz 539-9113

Personalized Care

"we spend time with our patients"

Chiropractic Treatment • Nutritional Therapy Sports Injuries

Consigli Chiropractic Clinic 776-1850 Linda D. Consigli, D.C. • 1325 Anderson Ave., Man. ACROSS FROM KSU CAMPUS

> CHIROPRACTIC FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

DR. MARK 1 HATESOHL

Board Member, Kansas State Board of Healing Arts

3252 Kimball Avenue Manhattan, Kansas 66502

913-537-8305

Drs. Price, Young, Odle, Horsch & Associates Commitment to Manhattan

Our 25 years of service says we will be here when you need us. Whether it is an eye exam, contacts or frames we can help.

Most importantly we promise good values, fair prices and quality service...for you...and your family.

DRS PRICE YOUNG ODLE HORSCH

And Associates . Optometrists

Observance of Religious Holidays

Mon-Fri 9-9 Sat 9-7 Sun 1-6

Westloop Shopping Center • Manhattan • 776-4910

At the recommendation of the Academic Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate and the KSU Committee on Religion these dates of the major faith religious observances are being listed for your awareness and the coordination of faculty and students:

October 7

Yom Kippur, Jewish Day of Atonement

October 25

Diwali Hindu Observance Baha'u 'Llah Birthday

November 12 December 8

Baha'i Observance Bodhi Day Buddhist Enlightenment of Gautam Buddha

December 20

Hannukah Jewish Festival of Light Christmas

December 25

Christian Observance of the Birth of Jesus

It is customary for many faith communities to attend religious services both evening and daily during these days. Many students will refrain from class and work activities. Faculty and staff are requested to give consideration to these dates in planning exams, deadlines and class requirements. Students are requested to coordinate their plans with instructors in preparation Assistance in coordination or clarification may be received at the Office of the Coordinator of Religious Activities, Holton 102, Don Fallon, 532-6432.

HIBAIR

FOR

What services are available at Lafene?

*Outpatient Medical Cinic

*Allergy/Immunization Clinic

*Health Education and Promotion

*Laboratory Services

*Nutritional/Dietary Services

*Pharmacy Services

Physical Therapy Services

Radiology Services

*Sports Medicine Clinic

*University Counseling Service

*Urgent Care After Hours *Women's Clinic *Evaluation and Referral

For Appointment Call 532-6544

Lafene Health Center

Kansas State University

3012 ANDERSON, MANHATTAN . 537-1118

and Responding to Sexualized Children Junction City October 9

Child Sexual Abuse: Evaluating Allegations of Abuse

Professional Ethics 3 CEU's Manhattan October 14

Dual Diagnosis: Substance Abuse and Mental Illness 3 CEU's October 28 Junction City Manhattan 3 CEU's November 11 November 18 3 CEU's Concordia

3 CEU's

3 CEU's

Manhattan February 10 Junction City February 17

Suicide: The Unthinkable Tragedy

BASELINE: Community Action for Drug-Free Kids March 12-13 Manhattan

Becoming a More Effective Manager: Skills for the 90's 3 CEU's

April 14 Manhattan Alzheimer's and Other Dementias June 16 Manhattan

June 30

Call for brochure 913-587-4326

Concordia

KANSAS STATE ON COLLEGIAN

Student Senate

> Student Governing Association adviser Sally Routson announces her resignation.

OCTOBER 2, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 29

CAMPAIGN '92

His 10-gallon hat is in the ring now

Fashionably late, Perot hits the political runway

DALLAS — Ross Perot plunged belatedly into the presidential race Thursday.

His entry sets the stage for a three-way struggle with President Bush and Bill Clinton over the final month of the campaign.

"Government is a mess," Perot said, vowing to repair it.

The Texas billionaire said he was joining the

The Texas billionaire said he was joining the race because neither political party has effectively addressed economic and other concerns on voters' minds.

"We gave them a chance — they didn't do it," he said of his rivals.

He made his remarks at a news conference 11 weeks to the day after he announced he would not run. He said at that time he believed he could not win and did not want to be a disruptive influence on the campaign.

He didn't address the likelihood of victory in his announcement speech before family, friends and supporters in his home state of Texas. Instead, he looked beyond the election, pledging to dedicate himself to solving the nation's problems and rallying the public to the cause.

"Looking forward, working together, we can fix anything," he said.

Perot once had support rivaling that of Bush and Clinton in the public opinion polls. But his backing dwindled through a series of spring

PEROT POLL

The Collegian conducted an informal poll Thursday afternoon and questioned 51 students and faculty on campus.

►Do you think Ross Perot should re-enter the presidential race?

> Yes 22% No 65% Undecided 13%

▶ Do you think he has planned to re-enter the race all along?

> Yes 47% No 33% Undecided 20%

> > MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian

controversies, and he now runs a distant third in polls.

Even so, his entry, coupled with the prospect of a series of October debates, injected uncertainty to a race that Clinton has led consistently since July.

Perot cast his announcement as a deferential bow to the volunteers he said had urged him to

See PEROT Page 13

EDUCATION III

Kansas salaries moderate

"It's especially important to keep pupil-teacher ratio down for the lower grades."

DALE DENNIS

Pay influenced by state funds, pupil-teacher ratio

MEGAN MULLIKIN Collegian

Kansas is ranked 36th nationally in teacher salaries.

Dale Dennis, assistant commissioner of Kansas State Education, said Kansas has a comparatively lower student-teacher ratio, smaller school districts and a lower cost of living.

He also said the salaries coincide with the amount of money made available by the boards.

Teacher salaries in the United States reached an all-time high of $34,213 in 1991-92, according to the American Federation of Teachers.

The AFT said the average publicschool teachers' wage increased 3.6 percent last year. However, because of the imposed "trickle-down teacher tax," some social programs are being slashed, which will force states to cut into education aid.

Two ways to increase teachers salaries, Dennis said, are to increase appropriations from the state and increase pupil-teacher ratio.

"You lose a little bit of the effectiveness of students identifying with their teachers when pupil-teacher ratio is increased. That ratio should never get too high," he said. "And it's especially important to keep pupil-teacher ratio down for the

■ See TEACHER Page 13

TEACHERS' SALARIES Teachers' salaries in the United States reached an all-time high in 1991-92. Kansas ranks 36th in the nation due in part to the lower student-teacher ratio. Lowest Salary Increase Shawnee Mission School District $22,379 $46,426 Topeka Public Schools $22,300 $47,375 8% Wichita Public Schools $22,563 $35,569 Turner School District K.C., Kan. $24,224 $41,751 8% Manhattan-Ogden $22,800 10.2% Source: American Federation of Teachers

DAVID MAYES/Collegian

Get up, get on up

Silhouetted against the late afternoon sky, a resident of the Royal Towers apartment complex climbs the last steps to the top level Thursday

NEWS DIGEST

TURKISH SHIP BLASTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. aircraft carrier accidentally blasted a Turkish destroyer with missiles Thursday during a NATO exercise in the Aegean Sea, killing at least nine people, U.S. military officials said. There were no reports of U.S. Navy casualties.

TUITION HIKES SLOWING

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students are paying more to attend state colleges and universities, but the rate of tuition increases is slowing, officials said Thursday.

At land-grant and large public research universities, average tuition increased from $2,271 in 1991 to $2,512 this year.

Athletic training curriculum dropped

But athletic department may pick it back up in joint effort with kinesiology

BILL SPIEGEL
Collegian

Students may still be able to study athletic training although arts and sciences faculty members have recommended dropping the athletic training program in the Department of Kinesiology.

Larry Noble, head of the kinesiology department, said a proposed joint effort between kinesiology and the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics would keep the athletic training curriculum alive.

By phasing athletic training into another department, students will still be able to come to K-State and major in kinesiology, receiving a degree in athletic training, Noble said.

Currently, athletic training students take a series of courses in training and then complete 800 hours in an internship. Finally, they must complete the National Athletic Training Association exam, after which they receive their degree.

Or, students can take two basic courses in athletic training after completing the kinesiology curriculum, complete 1,600 hours of internship and then take the NATA exam.

Many students intern with K-State's athletic trainers.

However, cuts in the College of Arts and Sciences made the kinesiology department cut the curriculum position, and it will phase out the program, eliminating one faculty position.

eliminating one faculty position.

Noble said with the proposed change, students will see little difference in the curriculum.

The trainers for the athletic department teach the students as they intern. Todd Toriscelli, athletic department trainer, said K-State's is the only such program in the state.

"There is not even a similar program in the Big Eight Conference," he said.

Although the athletic training curriculum is not a required service to the College of Arts and Sciences, Noble said the program was good enough to keep going.

"We have as many students as we can handle. Our graduates have a good record, and there is a demand for them," he said.

Toriscelli said he agreed. "The quality has been improving every year," Toriscelli said.

COMMENTS

"Anxiety is OK. It's a normal feeling, but it can be overcome."

— Elsa Diaz, student planning co-chairwoman of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week and senior in industrial engineering and physical science, on K-State's atmosphere of racial anxiety.

"Let's get it on."

— President Bush, proposing a string of unprecedented Sunday-night debates with Democrat Bill Clinton.

"Our main concern is to show them that we're not giving up."

Vicki Train, senior in social work, during Wednesday's student campout protest against the reorganization of the College of Arts and Sciences.

"The perpetrator has more rights than the victims do."

— Winter Parnell, a 12-year-old rape victim, on a proposed victims' rights amendment to the Kansas Constituion.

"We said, 'Well, yeah! That's how it should be done." Proactively, recycling seems to be the way to go.'

K-State Union Food Service Director Malley Sisson on the Union's switch to recycled napkins.

"I am the happiest man in the world right now."

— Kansas City Royal George Brett, after his four-hit performance Wednesday night made him the 18th player to reach the 3,000-hit plateau.

"The issue is free speech, not abortion."

— Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., on voting to override the administration's so-called "gag rule," which forbids most workers in federally funded family-planning clinics from counseling women on the option of abortion.

"I've never been that fond of my singing. It's the others that inspired me.

— Mary Chapin-Carpenter after winning the Country Music Association's Female Vocalist of the Year.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167. tributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian new

Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6559

At 12:37 a.m., Tricia A. Marsee, 1834 Laramie St., was issued a notice to appear for minor in possession of alcoholic liquor in a drinking establishment and illegal use of a Kansas driver's license at Kite's Bar and Grille.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

K-STATE POLICE

crimes are listed here.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1

At 12:59 a.m., David Howard, 1010

Thurston St., No. 3, reported a red men's 21-speed bicycle taken from the racks on the north side of Durland reported burglary of her vehicle and damage to her inside mirror in Lot A-

17. Taken was a student fall permit.

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

in the log are published.

At 8:11 a.m., Julie Monarez

At 2:11 a.m., Robert A. Fladung, 913 Humboldt St., No. 2, was issued a notice to appear for possession of suspended Kansas driver's license.

At 8:40 a.m., Blue Hills Dutch Maid, 2309 Tuttle Creek Blvd., reported the theft of two video tapes. At 11:45 a.m., Jeffrey Mays, 1321

Laramie St., reported a vehicle was scratched with a key. Loss was $400. At 2 p.m., a window peeping was reported.

At 9:45 a.m., Angela Love, 938

Ford Hall, reported theft of money from the hall's front desk. Loss was

At 2:46 p.m., a blue Ford Tempo, license No. EKS 548, was wheellocked in Lot A-29 for excessive

At 2:44 p.m., Darin D. Ames, 502 Fifth St., No. 3, Chapman, was issued a notice to appear for driving on a suspended driver's license.

At 5:02 p.m., Louise A. Johnson, Box 28, Westmoreland, was arrested on four warrants for theft. She was confined in lieu of $1,900 bail.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Applications for community service program international summer teams are available in Eisenhower 014A. Spanish skills

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15. ■ Manhattan Parks and Recreation needs coaches for youth soccer, volleyball and football. Contact Mike Buchanan, 532-2757.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie St.

■ Campus Safety Task Force will meet at 8 a.m. in Union 208. ■ NTSA will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 204.

■ Intramural wrestling meet for all University matches will be at 6 p.m. in the small gym at the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

■ Provost's Role and Aspiration Committee will meet from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Union 206.

■ International Club will meet from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the International Student Center.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have an executive meeting at 9 p.m. in Union 202.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

■ Chimes will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 213. ■ Alpha Zeta will meet at 6 p.m. in Weber 146. Shirt and tie required for pictures afterward. ■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have a new-member meeting at 5:30 p.m. in Calvin 211. ■ Teachers of Tomorrow will meet at 7 p.m. in Denison 124.

■ Gymnastics Club will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Manhattan

Gymnastics Center ■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie St.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

GOODLAND

84/41

■ Student Speech and Language Hearing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in Cardwell 120.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have a general meeting at 5 p.m. in ■ Society for Creative Anachronism will meet at 7 p.m. at Ahearn Field House

MANHATTAN

WEATHER

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

we can make a correction. 532-6556 . KEDZIE 116

POLICE REPORTS

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County

Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing violations.

TODAY'S FORECAST

Sunny. High 80 to 85. Tonight, clear. Low in the 50s.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Sunny and warm. High 80 to 85.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Sunday through Tuesday: Sunday and Monday, fair. Highs in the upper 70s and 80s. Lows around 50. Tuesday, continued dry and a little cooler. High in the 70s. Low in the

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

RUSSELL 82/49

KANSAS CITY 82/49

TOPEKA

80/48

WICHITA 81/51 COFFEYVILLE 75/47

WORLD TEMPERATURES

GARDEN CITY

88/42

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	73/57	cloudy
Bermuda	86/75	rain	Rome	82/61	clear
Helsinki	01110	cloudy	Stockholm	50/46	cloudy
Landon		cloudy	Vancouver	75/55	clear

DIRT CHEAP PRESENTS

POSTER SALE

Miles Davis, Beastie Boys, Jane's Addiction, Bob Marley, U2, Malcolm X, Garth Brooks, Hendrix, Madonna, Iron Maiden, L7, Chili Peppers, Misfits, John Lee Hooker, Pixies, Costello, Zeppelin, Doors, Ice Cube, KD Lang, Billie Holiday, Prince, Einstein, Metallica, Michael Jackson, Bowie, Public Enemy, Pink Floyd, Robert Johnson, Amy Grant, Curve,

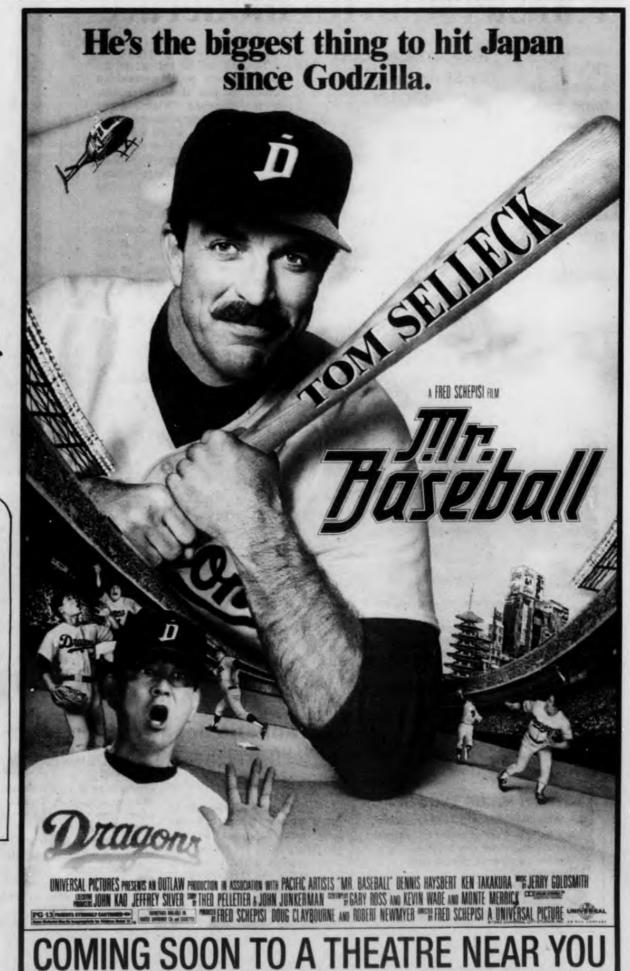

1000+ TITLES PERSONALITY ROCK RAP BLUES JAZZ COUNTRY

FOR A LIMITED TIME DIALLA

STATE UNION FIRST FLOOR CONCOURSE

LAST DAY 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Routson resigns from SGA

Sally Routson, Student GoverningAssociation adviser, tries to get the attention of the Student Senate chairman before announcing her resignation at the Senate meeting Thursday night in the K-State Union Big 8 Room.

After 10 1/2 years, adviser moves to admissions

AMY WRIGHT

Sally Routson announced her resignation as Student Governing Association adviser during informal discussion at Thursday's Senate meeting. Routson, who was also coordinator of student activities, is accepting a position with the admissions office after serving as SGA adviser for 10 1/2 years. "I've only missed a couple meetings in the past 10 years," she said. "Thursday nights have been a tradition."

Senators showed their appreciation for Routson with a standing ovation.

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said the position was created in 1973. Routson, he said, occupied the position for the longest amount of time.

Sally has been steadfast, hardworking and has dedicated long, tireless hours to making student government what it is today," Franklin said. "She has given of herself in ways hard to replace."

Franklin said the search to replace Routson will be on a national level. Until then, SGA is looking for someone on campus to fill the vacancy for five to six months, he said.

"We are going to have to pull together, learn together and struggle together," Franklin said.

In other business, during the open period representatives from the social work program asked Senate for support to get increased representation on the Roles and Aspirations Committee.

Thuy Dao, senior in social work, said K-State's program is known for its quality, and accreditation of graduates could be in jeopardy if the department is hit with severe cutbacks.

Wendy Droge, junior in social work, said the needs met by those in social services are important, and if cuts are made there will be more demand for social workers than there are certified graduates.

Engineering Sen. Michelle Munson said, "We need to find balance between representing student interest on the one hand, while at the same time put faith in the people who have developed the program."

■ See ROUTSON Page 12

New access system at Rec

Vali-Dine system checks valid IDs for ease, statistics

KIRSTEN NELSON

Collegian The Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex can now better monitor who is using its facilities. The Rec Complex switched to the Vali-Dine system Monday, said Michael Hatch, K-State Union computer and electronics coordinator.

The system reads the magnetic strip on the back of student ID cards to determine whether the card holder can enter freely, can enter but is on probation, is banned from entry or has no privileges at all, Hatch said.

"It certainly provides more security," said Joyce Halverson, Rec Complex free-time recreation

Hatch said in the past, there was no way to know if people who had dropped out were still using the Rec Complex or if stolen cards were being used. "That won't happen anymore," he said. "The system will be up-to-date from the registrar's office.' The cards belonging to people who have dropped out or those that have been replaced will be labeled inactive, Hatch said.

"The fees going to support the Rec Complex will be completely utilized for the people paying the fee," Hatch said.

The Vali-Dine system also provides more demographic and statistical information for the Rec Complex, Halverson said. For example, it can track students based on classification.

"If we find not many freshmen are using the Rec Complex in the first two weeks of school, we need to do a better job of letting them

See ID Page 11

Bush's bushels

Farmers fare well with subsidies for ethanol, exports ASSOCIATED PRESS

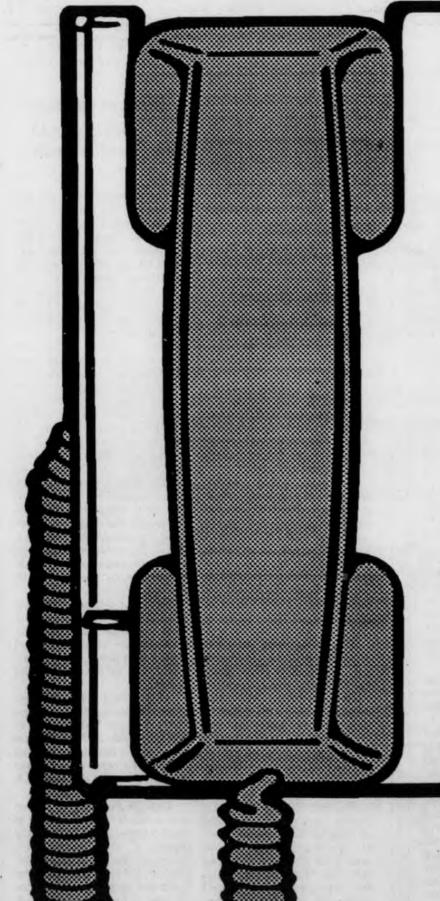

WASHINGTON - President Bush showered the Farm Belt with presents Thursday: concessions to growers to expand the use of cornbased ethanol and credit guarantees to help foreign countries buy $3.6 billion in U.S. farm products.

The White House has been under election-year pressure from corn growers to waive proposed Clean Air Act restrictions on the use of ethanol, but the oil industry has been adamantly opposed.

The president, in announcing plans that could nearly double ethanol use by 1997, said the decision was good for farmers, rural America, cities' environments and American consumers and motorists.

However, Charles DiBona, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said the decision was politically motivated. He also claimed it further rewards the highly subsidized ethanol industry and hurts oil industry workers, whose numbers have declined by 450,000 over the last 10 years.

Earlier in the day, Agriculture Secretary Edward Madigan said the government would help 18 countries buy U.S. grain and other farm products with $3.6 billion in credit guarantees. The credits represent two-thirds of the $5.7 billion the USDA expects to guarantee this fiscal year, up from $5 billion last year.

Just a phone call away!

Friends	Ads	Faculty
Advisers	GTA's	Offices
Clubs	Tutors	Coupons
*	Housing	#

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

OCTOBER 2, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Bush, Clinton will now debate

THE ISSUE

Aides of President Bush and Bill Clinton have decided the two candidates will finally debate after a long format dispute.

WE SUGGEST

This decision should have been made long ago. Too much time has passed for the debates to begin.

In what was more like a discussion concerning the reduction of nuclear arms, top aides from both Bill Clinton and President Bush's camps met in a Washington law office to discuss the debate issue Wednesday.

Looks like there might be candidate debates after all.

Clinton has been chasing Bush for months to get him to the podium. Bush has said he's ready but then failed to show under the advice of his aides.

These aides didn't want their man unfairly questioned in a non-bipartisan atmosphere.

Fine. Enough with the formats, Enough about who will be throwing out the questions. If these candidates are for real, with honest integrity, then let the games begin.

Perhaps Bush is fearful of a repeat of the 1960 televised debate, when a healthy-looking John F. Kennedy beat a bedraggled-looking Richard Nixon. Perhaps Bush just needs to tell his aides to "sit down and shut up."

Or is Bush just plain scared Clinton will take the past four years and run it down his throat?

Bush has said, "Let's get it on." The country has been saying that since last year. Only now, a mere two months before the big show, is the United States getting to see its choices go head to Bring back the time when candidates went around the country at will, debating anyone, anytime, with little worry about proper debate

Let's get in the ring instead of shouting insults across the room at each other. Everyone is dead-tired of listening to the rhetoric. By now, these two should have debated at least two or

We can only hope the quality of the debates makes up for the lack of quantity.

Question of what true masculinity is remains moot

seem stuck on addressing the question, "What does it mean to be a man?"

Do real men cloak their more traditional stereotypes of excessive machismo? Although there are a number of strategies in which men may seek identity with their manhood, all of the strategies have one unifying theme - the perpetuation of the myth of masculinity.

Constantly redefining and reshaping masculinity so that it fits nicely into what is socially acceptable at any given point in time is only another way for men to buttress their role of dominance. The whole notion that men need and deserve a separate and distinct character, whatever that character may be, prolongs their self-

There are those among us who acclaimed uniqueness in the status

Thus, as men attempt to "liberate" themselves from the "oppressive" stereotype of being masculinity in a disguise of uncommunicative, unemotional sensitivity, expressiveness and moneymakers, new conceptions of tenderness? Or do real men play out masculinity extend empowerment. Men become more communicative, more emotional and only more successful at making money.

> Why is it necessary for men to find self-worth in the mirage of masculinity? Why is "being a man" the starting point for men to establish their own individualized identity? It shouldn't be that way.

Instead, the best approach to the question, "What does it mean to be a man?" is not to ask the question in the first place. Rather, the question should be "What does it mean to be human?" or "What does it mean to be an individual?"

If this were the case, maybe men would realize that masculinity is an artificial, socially created construct designed to mask gender inequality. Discussing and discovering the qualities intrinsic to personhood would, of course, necessitate men giving up their celebrated status as dialectic directors. Both men and women would, by necessity, be involved.

I can already hear the critics raging at such a radical reorientation of male priorities. The sirens will be sounded, and the attack be something like, "If men can't come together to discuss what it means to be a man, others in society will do it for us."

Well, to be frank, it's going to happen anyway.

Even if a group of men comes together to have man-to-man chats about the virtues of masculinity, its analyses will not and should not prevent others from speaking out.

DAVID

FILIPPI

Rather, it seems that the best way to break free of what some perceive to be the negative stereotyping of masculinity is not to get caught up in the debate at all.

To shift the focus of discussion to individuality, the debate surrounding masculinity may be transcended. Men will lose control over the agenda, power structures will be eroded, and women might even find room for a voice.

Men do have problems, lots of them. But that doesn't mean that men have problems because they

Perpetuating the existence of a distinct and separate identity only furthers the myth that men have problems because they are men. The need for separation based on the commonality of men's experiences does not parallel the experiential commonality of

It was recently written that "These are confusing times in which to be a man." Maybe the reason we're so confused is that we are still trying to be men, searching hopelessly to fulfill some perfect compromise on the meaning of masculinity. Instead, the focus of our quest should be on what it means to be human. Once this foundational approach to an even playing field has been built, only then will meaningful dialogue be

READERS WRITE

POLITICS

Sarcasm about politicians missed

I read with delight Lisa Houdek's informed criticism of my Sept. 30 letter. I am indebted to her for steering me straight about the true nature of politicians. And though I hesitate to ask for any greater gifts from her, I wonder if she might delve into her dictionary one more time to check the definition of "sarcasm."

> David Rowland Senior History, English

JARDINE

Tenant furious over certain few's actions

University life is supposed to be fun in addition to all the hard work one puts into getting good grades. Here at K-State, we have a lot of activities such as concerts and football games. Unfortunately, some students have acted very rudely on their way to the football stadium and Bramlage Coliseum.

As a resident of the Jardine Complex, my neighbors and I have noticed many times students acting like idiots as they pass through here. The vast majority of people who do pass through here act responsibly and friendly. Thank

However, some engage in activities, that have included kicking the toys away from small children as they play, urinating in plain view, throwing beer bottles, staring at people's apartments, hotrodding cars and generally acting like jerks.

While Jardine is no luxury apartment complex, we do take pride in where we live, and we try to make it a safe place for our children to live and play. So, please think about your actions as you pass through someone else's neighborhood.

> Christopher Dunn Senior/Geography

▶ SPORTS COLUMN

Columnist off mark with conclusions

Editor.

On the eve of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, it is especially appalling that Matt Walters would choose to criticize Native Americans who oppose use of Indian names for mascots and the tomahawk chop. He asks, "Why should franchises replace their mascots?" Then he asks if animal rights activists would protest use of the University of Colorado buffalo. In my mind, he's answered his own question. The buffalo is an animal. Native Americans are human beings. Using Indians as mascots dehumanizes an entire

The old argument about this issue is that if you substituted any other racial or ethnic group for "Indians" there would be riots in the streets. Yet teams continue to have Native American mascots, and the continues. stereotype Stereotyping an entire race is neither an honor to Native Americans, nor is it the white man's privilege to do so. Walters wants to know why Native Americans have waited so long to "make a stink about it." In fact, some Native Americans have been protesting this issue from the beginning, but because we are a small proportion of the population, only recently has anyone started

These stereotypes hurt all of society. Native Americans are not warriors or savages as the team nicknames, as the tomahawk chopping implies. They are doctors, teachers, lawyers, and our chiefs are leaders of the governments.

Native Americans - and thoughtful people of all racial and ethnic groups - will continue to find the tomahawk chop and the use of Indian names as mascots offensive. The intent may be harmless as you say, but the resulting stereotypes are far from

Cheryl May/News Services Karren Baird-Olson/Professor of sociology Carl Soap/Professor of aerospace studies Mordean Taylor-Archer/Associate provost of multicultural affairs

▶ POLICE REPORTS Skunk report leaves smelly humor in class

We have decided that reading the police reports is much like a humorous read of "Jim's Journal." This connection was inspired by Thursday's report of a Sept. 29 citing: "At 9:33 p.m., a skunk was reported in front of Fairchild Hall. The skunk was found eating bugs."

Thanks to the K-State police reports, we readers of the Collegian now have two places to turn when needing a quick fix of senseless humor.

Jana Leep/Graduate student in English and her 11:05 a.m. Expository I writing class

▶ GREGORY KINGSLEY Kid's rights should

concern all parents

Yes, it happened. I did not believe it. I did not even know that there was a legal provision for this. A 12-year-old child got divorced from his biological parents so he could be adopted by his foster parents.

In a precedent-setting case in Florida just days ago, Gregory Kingsley got legally divorced from his parents.

Two issues featured prominently in the case were affluence and abandonment. Gregory was abandoned by his mother at age 4. In addition, his parents could not afford to adequately provide him with the basic necessities of life.

The outcome of this case sends a powerful message to parents. Giving birth to a child does not guarantee ownership of that child. Responsibility goes far beyond that. Biological birth must be complemented with social, psychological, economic and all the other possible kinds of support a child needs to function effectively in society.

Now that this precedent has been set, I hope parents will wake up to the reality that their "ownership" of children can legally be forfeited, provided the child can access the legal

This should dissuade them from abandoning their children. Reggae singer Bob Marley, in his song "Johnny Was a Good Boy," asked this question: "Can a woman's tender love cease towards the child she bears?" It is pathetic that it does at times.

I salute Gregory as a hero and a victim of circumstance at such a tender age. On the other hand, I have very little sympathy for the parents who will probably suffer from the guilt and emotional trauma for the rest of their lives as a result of this case's outcome.

Sylvester Christie Senior/Agricultural journalism

Cyclists face unhealthy plight

LISA EDMUNDS

"The first time they hit me, I was must have become bored, because riding in the street;

The second time they hit me, I was on the sidewalk;

The third time they got me, I was on the porch, standing next to my bicycle."

Cyclists Lament Authorunknown

anhattan is a tough town for bicyclists: It takes only a few encounters with wildeyed drivers who deliberately try to run you off the road or race you through an intersection before you are sure that everybody is out to get

I haven't felt safe on the roads of this town since an incident one morning a few weeks ago.

Trying to cross busy Manhattan Avenue at the Vattier intersection is tough enough at any time of day, but at 7:45 a.m., it is nearly impossible for cars, let alone bikes. As I sat and sat at the intersection, waiting for a break in traffic, a late model pickup truck pulled up behind me.

Most definitely a victim of testosterone poisoning, this driver was more obnoxious than most, gunning his engine and inching forward ever so slowly. We waited a long time for a clean break, and he

the driver started to play mind games with me. He moved in closer and closer to my bike, and then simply plowed into my rear fender, laughing ike a mad man.

If it had never happened before, I would have thought it was an accident, even with the maniacal laugh. Tucked away in his ton of metal and machine, he felt safe and superior, and apparently had an urge to assert that superiority by running over a complete stranger while on his way to work.

I got the number on his tags and a good description of the vehicle as he zoomed away, honking and

I knew enough not to bother the police with my complaint, as I have called them before about crazed drivers. Unless there is an injury or substantial damage, the police are not much help. Hell, I've even had cops refuse to give me the right of way and blow me off the road. So I don't know why I expect sympathy from them.

This fight for road space and right of way is a classic power struggle. Of course, we all know that the fundamental base of power is economic, and I think that money must also come into play here. Rich people drive cars; us poor folks ride bikes. By pushing us around, forcing us off the road, denying that we have any rights, these rich folks get to daily reassert that self-appointed superiority they thrive on.

Also, I hate to sound as if I have completely gone over the edge here, but it is a phallic thing, too. Let's just say that I have never been run over by a woman driver. I have never been forced off the road by a woman. The voices that yell vicious, hateful things at bicyclists like myself are always male.

Experience has made me cautious enough that maybe it borders on paranoia, but I'm not going to give up without a fight. Revenge is hateful and un-Christian and counter-productive, I know, but sometimes it just seems so

The truck driver from the other morning, well, I was able to track down his address. Luckily, he lived in my neighborhood and was easy to find. He'll be receiving mail from the Jehovah's Witnesses, Amnesty International, Frederick's of Hollywood and a lot of other folks for some time to come. I signed him up for one of those mailing lists from hell advertised in the back of a magazine.

She who laughs last ...

ENTERTAINMENT

B.B. and Lucille are coming to town

B.B. KING

■ The King of the Blues will play at 6 p.m. Sunday at Bramlage Coliseum. Tickets for the show are available at Bramlage, the Manhattan Town Center, the K-State Union and McCain Auditorium. Ranging from $13 to $20, they will also be sold at the door.

The man who has been called the King of the Blues for the last 40 years is coming to Manhattan.

Riley B. King - or as most know him, B.B. King - will perform Sunday night at Bramlage Coliseum.

Born Sept. 16; 1925, in Mississippi, King had his first break into the music business in 1948 and has been performing ever since.

"Three O' Clock Blues," King's

Their music, which Michael

Leggs calls "songs with a vocal hook. So you could walk away humming the tunes," is inspired by the Beatles and the Replacements,

All former K-Staters, the band members are celebrating the release of their first independently produced CD Saturday night at

The last song on the disc, "Air-Conditioned Infinite Dream," has certain potential to make it big for state of consciousness and having a different perspective on reality," he

'The song is about an altered

the group, Michael Leggs said.

Charlie's Neighborhood Bar.

him on his way. He began touring nationally and now plays about 275 concerts a year, working more than 300 days a year, said King's road manager, Sherman Darby.

Alfred Cochran, associate professor of music, is a fan of King and has seen him live.

"He is a great blues player. In my youth, I revered B.B. as a most quintessential blues player, and I admire him. I've never seen him perform when he hasn't given 100

MOVING VAN GOGHS

■ In celebration of their latest release, 'Octaphenia,' the Van

"But making it big instantly is

"We want to have hits, but more

With the music of the Van

537-2100

not what we're all about," Mitchell than that, we want to have longevity," he said. "We want to be

Goghs playing as far as Hiroshima, Japan, and Moscow, it's little Goghs will play at 10 p.m.

Saturday at Charlie's

Neighborhood Bar.

added.

consistent.

first hit, released in 1951, started · percent," Cochran said. "He has such an expressive style. The way he speaks through his instrument really appeals to me.

During the many years King has been performing, nationally and internationally, he has won numerous awards including three Lifetime Achievement Awards, a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

King headlines the five-week, 29-show Blues Music Festival '92.

Presents Friday, November 6 • 8 pm Bramlage Coliseum—At Kansas State University Tickets are $17.50 (plus service charge)

Tickets are available in Manhattan: at Bramlage Coliseum Box Office, Manhattan Town Center Info. Booth, K-State Union Bookstore, McCain Auditorium; Ft. Riley; at I.T.R.; Junction City; at Uptown CD's and Tapes; Topeka; at Uptown Entertain ment: Salina: at House of Sight & Sound

To Charge by phone: 532-7606

Miller Lite. It's everything you want a beer to be.

Special Parents' Weekend Hours

Sat. 9-5

Fraternities & Sororities

Largest Selection of Sportswear

in the Midwest

its G! = = Stome.

KSU Apparel • Custom Embroidery

wonder that Charlie's owner Kim

"I was really flattered that they wanted to release their album locally," Riley said, "and am very glad they were able to do it here."

Riley said he feels particularly lucky about having them play at the

The Van Goghs' show will start at 10 p.m. Saturday. Free T-shirts and CDs will be given away.

We Take Tips 532-6556

Makin'itgreat!

CALL THE LOCATION NEAREST YOU.

 AGGIEVILLE 539-7666 WESTLOOP 539-7447

•3RD & MORO 776-4334

537-8822 Open Mon.-Fri. 9-5; Sat. 10-3

528 Pillsbury Dr. (1/2 mile south of the Mall on Hwy. 177)

Van Goghs celebrate new CD

'Octaphenia' copies to be given away at Charlie's

MEE SUN LEE

"Octaphenia," the new CD from the Moving Van Goghs, is named for the cosmic principle on the closure of the universe with respect to the number eight.

So says lead guitarist Mitchell

The Van Goghs are Leggs and his brother, Michael, who plays bass, guitarist Brian Harris and drummer Richard Suderman.

They have been making "loud rock 'n' roll music with an emphasis on melody" and "meeting girls" since their first public

EE'S WESTERN WEAD

OPEN SUNDAY 1-5 p.m. For Your Shopping Convenience

8426 E. Hwy 24

Mon.-Sat. 9-5:30

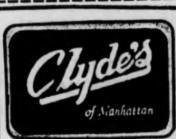

Westloop Shopping Center Near Hunam's Restaurant 776-6864

$1.00 Off

any Typewriter/ Printer Ribbon in stock*

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste treat that won't bust your wallets:

- Homemade Buttermilk Biscuits Creamed Chipped Beef
- Bisquit Gravy Homefried Potatoes
- French Toast
- Pancakes
- Bacon/Sausage
- Scrambled Eggs Escalloped Apples
- Grilled Ham Steak

All You Can Eat For Only $4.95

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1:00 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet omelets or skillet breakfasts

> 537-8440 2304 Stagg HIII Rd.

Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome

HARRISON FORD.

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

THE DIRECTOR'S CUT

THE ORIGINAL CUT

OF THE FUTURISTIC ADVENTURE

SETH CHILDS 6
Seth Childs at Farm Burero Rd. 776-9111
Starts Friday, October 9th

Little Caesars

LOADED EXTRA CHEESE AND 3 TOPPINGS Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always! for a limited time only at participating stores. No coupon necessary. Free Crazy Bread' offer is a four piece order © 1992 Little Caesar Enterprises, Inc.

Westloop Center • 539-3333

2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

ONE OF EACH! PIZZA!PIZZA!"

only with coupon at participating Light Cassars plable at additional cost "Excludes extra change Expires 10/25/92 F) Livile (Charles

VALUABLE COUPON

PAN OR ROUND! id only with coupon at sting Little Caesars. Extra ires 10/15/92 Thille Changs

PATUUUK Sale

UP TO 80% OFF!

BOOKS AS LOW AS 49¢

- Hundreds of new & used textbooks
- Various fields of study
- Some previously used at K-State
- Old editions
- Wholesaler overstock

Don't pass up this great opportunity to add to your persnal library at a fraction of the regular cost!

"We Give You Our Best"

9-9 Monday-Saturday

12-5 Sunday

Harriers head to Oklahoma

"The competition for the men will be really good, probably the best of the whole year."

JOHN CAPRIOTTI

Cross country men and women to compete in meet

FRANK KLEEMANN

After a two-week break, the K-State men's and women's cross country teams head to Stillwater, Okla., to compete Saturday at the Oklahoma State Jamboree.

The men's squad will face Arkansas, the defending national champions, Blinn Junior College, which has several strong international runners and the Sooners from Oklahoma.

"The competition for the men will be really good, probably the best of the whole year," Coach John Capriotti said. "We want to see how we can stack up against

With the practice of the past two weeks, the team should be able to contribute to a close match, Capriotti said.

We had two killer weeks of workouts, no question about it," he said. "We had to work hard this time of the season to get in shape, so that when we're cutting back,

we will be ready to go."

Capriotti said all the runners had good practices. This means, he said, that the question of who will lead the pack in the future is still uncertain.

"For me, it's still up in the air. The team is still pretty wide open,"

Cari Warden, freshman, leads her teammates through drills during practice Wednesday afternoon at ■ See HARRIERS page 11 R.V. Christian Track. Both cross country teams will travel to Oklahoma State Saturday.

K-STATE FOOTBALL

'No. 107' Aggies to test undefeated Cats

For the New Mexico State Aggies, a number has served as a reminder of what people around the country have labeled as the worst football program.

The number 107, representative of the ranking given the team by Sports Illustrated as the worst of the 107 Division I-A teams in college football, has been worn like a brand across the back of the Aggie helmets since the season opener.

Inspired by the tainted image, New Mexico State opened the season with three wins prior to a 48-21 setback at the hands of Utah State last week. Still, the Aggies carries a 3-1 record, its best start since 1980, into Saturday afternoon's contest against K-State.

The two programs are linked, three years apart, by Sports Illustrated articles labeling them as the worst college football programs in America.

'We didn't belabor the point, and I don't know if that's good or bad," K-State coach Bill Snyder said. "We certainly weren't happy about it. I don't know if our situation was any different than Jim (Hess, NMSU Coach) and New Mexico State."

One difference is that the Aggies elected to wear the number as inspiration. "Jim and his group have used that as a motivational device and obviously very effectively to open the season 3-0," Snyder said. "Certainly, it had an impact on the players."

Indeed, the Aggies have averaged 32.5 points per game through the first four contests. Senior quarterback Charles Puleri has already surpassed 1,000 yards passing while completing over 52 percent

A favorite target of Puleri is senior wide receiver Fred Montgomery. The senior has averaged almost 19 yards on 14 receptions this season. Montgomery, who led the nation a year ago in kiokoff return average, is second in the nation this season, averaging 34 yards per return.

The Aggies have shown the ability to run the football as well, posting 12 rushing touchdowns this season after recording just 16 all of last season.

"They can run it or throw it with equal aplomb," Snyder said. "It's hard to play against a balanced offense, and it's doubly difficult if they're doing it with good talent. And they're doing it with very fine

As much success as New Mexico State has had on offense, the Aggies are still searching for help defensively.

The Aggies need answers to problems which have seen them yield an average of 33 points and 416 yards per game.

New Mexico State will also be looking for answers to road problems. The Aggies have won just two of their previous 23

One thing that will change for the Aggies this weekend is the number worn on the helmet.

The NCAA ruled earlier this week the Aggies had to remove the numbers from the back of their helmets. The NCAA allows only a player's number to be worn on the helmet.

"This is a team that has to fight and scrap for everything it gets," Coach Hess said. "We had a nice three-week run. Now we'll see how we respond to adversity."

K-State enters the 12:30 p.m. kickoff Saturday undefeated through two games for the third consecutive year.

NOWA STATE at OKLAHOMA

FAST FACTS: 1 p.m., Memorial Stadium, Norman, Okla. RECORDS: Iowa State (2-2) and No. 19 Oklahoma (2-1). LINE: Oklahoma by 25.

ABOUT THE CYCLONES: It is the first conference game of the season for both teams. Iowa State is coming off a 27-10 home loss to Division I-AA Northern lowa. The Cyclones were held to 59 yards rushing in 37 attempts last week as Northern Iowa claimed its first series win in 92 years. Cyclone quarterback Bob Utter was sacked eight times by the Panthers and was forced out of the game with a concussion in the fourth

ABOUT THE SOONERS: Oklahoma was idle last week after its first loss of the season, a 20-10 setback against Southern California. Last year against the Cyclones, quarterback Cale Gundy completed 12-of-20 passes for 206 yards and three touchdowns. Oklahoma leads the all-time series 57-5-2, and the Sooners are 28-1-1 in the last 30 meetings with lowa State.

THE SKINNY: lowa State coach Jim Walden is feeling the heat after a 17point home loss to a Division I-AA team. The Cyclone wishbone attack was held to 1.6 yards per rush a week ago by a smaller Panther defensive unit. Look for Oklahoma to take out the frustration of losing to Southern Cal in what is likely to be a flat Iowa State squad. The 25point spread may be more suitable for the first half than the game.

MARSHALL at MISSOURI

FAST FACTS: 1 p.m., Memorial Stadium, Columbia, Mo. RECORDS: No. 1 (Division I-AA) Marshall (3-0) and Missouri (0-3). LINE: No line

ABOUT THE THUNDERING HERD: Marshall has won seven consecutive regular season games. Last season, it was the NCAA Division I-AA runner-up, losing in the championship game to Youngstown State 25-17. Marshall has outscored its opponents 146-51 through three games. Head coach Jim Donnan was quarterback and wide receiver coach at Missouri from 1981-84.

ABOUT THE TIGERS: Missouri lost to Indiana last week, 20-10. The loss ran the Tiger losing streak to eight. This marks the first time Missouri has faced a Division I-AA team since the NCAA added the division in 1978. The three Tiger losses have come by a combined 30 points. Missouri ranks 99th out of 107 teams in total defense.

THE SKINNY: This game is Missouri's season. A Tiger loss will all but clinch the end for fourth-year coach Bob Stull, who is 9-26-1 with the Tigers. The talk around Columbia is that Donnan is high on the replacement list. A win over Missouri would raise his stock while diminishing Stull's chances to return. This is Marshall's chance to gain fame by beating a Big Eight team.

NOKLAHOMA ST. at TEXAS CHRISTIAN

FAST FACTS: 7:05 p.m., Amon G. Carter, Ft. Worth, Texas. RECORDS: Oklahoma State (2-1) and Texas Christian (0-2-1). LINE: Texas Christian by 2. ABOUT THE HORNED FROGS: Last week, TCU lost to Southern Methodist 31-9. The Horned Frogs are coached by former Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan. Texas Christian defeated Oklahoma State last season 24-21 in

ABOUT THE COWBOYS: Oklahoma State defeated Tulsa 24-19 last week to break above .500 for the first time since 1990. Despite being outgained by the Golden Hurricanes 416-172, the Cowboys got three touchdowns directly off of turnovers - two interception returns and a blocked punt. THE SKINNY: A Cowboy victory would give OSU its best start since opening 4-0 in 1988. The Cowboys could win three of their next four games, as they play host to Missouri and Iowa State after playing at Nebraska next week. This play on a positive note.

▶IDLE BIG EIGHT TEAMS

■ No. 10 Colorado (4-0) next week at should be a close game with both schools hoping to end non-conference

Missouri. ■ No. 15 Nebraska (3-1) next week vs.

Oklahoma. ■ Kansas (3-1) next week vs . K-State.

Coaching dilemmas unfold Saturday

MAY

Eight teams play with one finger on the panic button. But more on that later. Closer to home, K-State hopes to show there is more separating the Wildcats from New Mexico State than five pages in the Aug. 31 Sports Illustrated article.

To hear Aggies Coach Jim Hess talk, he is already convinced of the accuracy of the article. (WARNING: These comments may lead to overconfidence. Members of the football team should consult with a coach before being exposed to the third-year coach's comments.)

'We can't play with this group," Hess said. "If we play as good as we possibly can, and they play as poorly as they possibly can, then we might be close. Just read Sports Illustrated they're in the same issue we are."

Jim, relax, you're not playing Oklahoma or Nebraska Saturday — just K-State.

"Kansas State has done a great job of building their program," Hess said. "They've gotten a lot of tough people off their schedule, but we can't get off their schedule. They're a powerful Big Eight football team."

But Coach, K-State is millions of dollars in debt and simplytrying to stabilize the program.

"They're drawing 29,000 people per game no matter who they play. They're making money, and they're winning," Hess said, "I resent having Tomorrow, the world will see how two Big to play the game - I don't resent them." Still, you must think you have a chance?

"It happens every week where someone beats someone they're not supposed to, but there's a far, far difference between the two programs," Hess said. "This is not a match made in heaven."

Any closing comments, Coach? "Maybe playing Kansas State now is good," Hess said. "Maybe it's a tonic we need, to go play a team that is awfully good. For our guys with pro aspirations, now they can see if they can hang in with these people."

Any chance that you are just trying to get the Wildcats to overlook your team's 3-1 record and impressive road win earlier this season? Probably not.

Any chance you're trying to get K-State to look ahead a week to in-state rival Kansas? Probably not.

This is not the same New Mexico State program the Wildcats handled 52-7 two years ago in Manhattan. Keep that in mind - the Aggies likely will.

Missouri would take a win of any kind right about now. Tomorrow, Missouri has a pivotal game with Marshall, the No. 1-ranked Division-I AA football team in the land.

And as if fourth-year coach Bob Stull didn't have enough to worry about, Marshall coach Jim Donnan is rumored to want the coaching position in Columbia. A head-to-head win wouldn't hurt his bargaining power.

Tiger fans were pleased with Stull when he took over in 1989. He had just completed a three-year stint at Texas-El Paso, which culminated in an Independence Bowl appearance ·However, Stull has never won more than three games in any season as coach of the Tigers. And it will be tough to change that this season. Meanwhile, Iowa State coach Jim Walden must be somewhat happy to leave the Ames area following last week's loss to Division I-AA Northern Iowa. Radio shows all week have been full of Cyclone fans wanting Walden to resign. Walden is in his sixth year as the Cyclone coach. After posting improvement the first three seasons, the 1990 season, which Walden marketed as a bowl year, proved to be a bust at 4-6-1. Last season, the Cyclones dropped to 3-7-

This season, Walden elected to buck the trend of other Big Eight coaches, abandoning the passing game for the wishbone attack. Last week's performance of 59 yards on 37 carries against the Panthers didn't win over any fans.

Don't look for Walden to get fired - his contract runs through 1997. That's a lot of money for a school with an enrollment of Senior Susana Labrador returns a serve while practicing on the newly resurfaced courts Thursday at the L.P. Washburn Recreational Area. The netters will be the host of the KSU Invitational this weekend.

Netters to play on new courts

Hawks, Sooners to be favorites at Wildcat Invitational

Playing on new tennis courts at the L.P. Washburn Complex, the K-State tennis team will be host of the Wildcat/Traveler's Express Invitational Saturday and

The Cats will compete with Kansas, Oklahoma State, Wichita State and Drake on the new, slower surface.

Though the team has been practicing on the courts since Wednesday, it will be no advantage for the Cats, Coach Steve Bietau said.

The players, who start playing at 8:30 a.m. both days, compete in four brackets, separated by playing Bietau said Kansas and Oklahoma State are the favorites in each bracket.

The Cats have one player in each flight. Senior Susana Labrador will compete in the highest level, which is for the No. 1 and No. 2 players of each team.

Despite her injury, Bietau said he hopes Labrador can use this tournament to find her form again, "Susana has been struggling, and this is just another opportunity for her to get on track of playing the kind of tennis she's capable of," he said.

In the second bracket, senior Suzanne Sim will try to carry over her performance from last week's tournament in Lincoln, Neb., where she placed second

'The way she's playing, she's going to have a chance to be pretty competitive in there," Bietau said. Bietau said Sim might not win her bracket, but because of her performance last week, the expectations of her potential achievements are increasing.

"Suzanne played awfully well, and I think she had very good week of practice," Bietau said. Freshman Maria Uson will play in the third bracket, while sophomore Martine Shrubsole plays in the fourth

Brett, 39, continues to shine

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ANAHEIM, Calif. - George Brett always had a flair for the dramatic.

Nursing a sore shoulder, with the season dwindling down to the last five games, the Kansas City Royals star got the four hits he needed in spectacular fashion. He hit safely his first four times up Wednesday night to become the 18th major leaguer to reach 3,000 career hits.

He doubled in the first inning against the California Angels, singled in the third and singled again in the fifth, all against Julio Valera.

Then, with most of the fans in Anaheim Stadium already on their feet, he hit rookie reliever Tim Fortugno's first pitch to him in the seventh on a hard liner to the right side of the infield for a hit.

Brett added his name to the 3,000-hit club with the 59th four-hit game of his career.

"I was a little misty-eyed," said Brett, who received a five-minute standing ovation and was presented the ball he hit and the first-base bag.

Brett had missed the last two games because of his sore shoulder, and he hadn't had a hit since Saturday. He was 0 for 4 in Minneapolis Sunday, when his shoulder first started bothering

In addition to being one of baseball's finest hitters in recent years, Brett also has been one of the game's most popular players.

His drive to hit .400 in 1980 captivated baseball for the second half of the season. Brett, always a stronger hitter in the second half of the season, batted .420 after the All-Star break before finishing at .390 — the highest average this half-century. Ted Williams hit .406 in 1941.

A career .307 hitter, Brett had struggled this year to raise his average from the .220s to the .280s. His 3,000th hit raised his average to .282.

He batted over .300 in each of his first three full seasons, winning his first batting title in 1976 at .333 by getting three hits on the last day of the season to edge teammate and current manager Hal McRae. Brett did not play in Thursday night's 5-2 loss to the California Angels.

The loss dropped the Royals to 71-88.

SPORTS DIGEST

Chiefs, Broncos to pass Rhonda Hughes' 767 kills for fourth The K-State volleyball squad travels to

to battle for 1st ASSOCIATED PRESS

Broncos might be the worst 3-1

we are or not. We're 3-1."

team in the NFL. "Would you rather be a great 0-4 team?" Elway counters. "The Raiders are a great 0-4 team. That's nothing. It doesn't matter how good

DENVER - John Elway

bristles at the suggestion his Denver

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Obviously, the Broncos quarterback does care what people think. What they think is that the Broncos, possessing an offense that ranks next-to-last in the league and after being outclassed in a 30-0 loss to Philadelphia two weeks ago, are not worthy of their record.

Kansas City, on the other hand, appears to be a legitimate 3-1 team. The Chiefs, who play at Mile High Stadium on Sunday, lead the league in turnover differential, rank second in defense and boast a robust running attack. Their only loss was an overtime setback in Houston, and they brutalized the Los Angeles Raiders 27-7 last week.

But wait. There is evidence that neither team deserves its record. They've feasted on weak teams.

The three teams beaten by both Kansas City and Denver have combined records of 1-11. The Chiefs and Broncos have both defeated the winless Raiders and San Diego Chargers, with Kansas City's other win coming over Seattle (1-3) and Denver's over Cleveland (1-3).

At the very least, those records are a sad commentary on the state of the AFC West, once one of the league's most competitive divisions

Offensive ineptitude aside, Denver has history on its side Sunday, having beaten Kansas City nine straight times at Mile High Stadium. The Chiefs haven't won in Denver since 1982, and that string of futility represents the AFC's longest without a division victory at a visiting site.

The Chiefs have been victorious in just one of the last seven games against the Broncos, winning 31-20 in 1990 in Kansas City.

Marty Schottenheimer, Chiefs coach, would like for his team to get off to a quicker start against Denver. KC has not led the Broncos at halftime in the last 17 meetings.

Schottenheimer said the Chiefs, who traditionally have been on the plus side of the turnover ratio, went the other way in two meetings against Denver last season.

"They took the ball away eight times in two games, and we got it none," he said. "What you have to realize is that Denver has consistently been a quality football team over the last 10 or 12 years." The Chiefs rushed for 180 yards, including 125 by Barry Word, in beating the Raiders last week. The Broncos rebounded from the wipeout in Philadelphia by blanking Cleveland 12-0 on David Treadwell's four field goals.

Denver's running attack, almost nonexistent in its first three games, generated 188 yards.

VOLLEYBALL TEAM TO PLAY AT IOWA STATE

Ames, lowa, this weekend to face the 9-3 Iowa State Lady Cyclones.

"We're going to try to compete like the first game against Kansas," said Coach Patti Hagemeyer, whose team defeated the Lady Jayhawks 15-7 in the first game of a errors in the contest. Senior Kathy Saxton is approaching two

► KU CLOSES PRACTICE

LAWRENCE (AP) - The discovery of detailed notes about University of Kansas football practices has prompted the closing of the practice sessions to the media and public.

Coach Glen Mason said he made the decision after someone found notes in KU's Memorial Stadium parking lot and gave them to him before the California game last week.

attacks to reach fifth place on the all-time One problem in the Kansas match was on the career chart. She also needs 14 the amount of hitting errors, Hagemeyer said. The Cats had 36 errors to 21 KU

"Our hitting was the worst," she said.

▶ ROBBINS IN WRECK

Wildcat basketball player Sean Robbins underwent surgery Wednesday afternoon to repair a cheekbone that was fractured in a car accident last Saturday.

Robbins, a junior guard who transferred from Emporia State, had several small plates inserted into his cheek and could miss some of K-State's early season practices, said Dr. John Barlow, who performed the surgery.

THE 3,000 CLUB Career averages of the 18 major league players with 3,000 or more hits:

Ty Cobb .344 Tris Speaker .339 Cap Anson .338 Nap Lajoie 333 .333 Paul Waner .331 Stan Musial .328 Rod Carew .327 Honus Wagner .317 Roberto Clemente .307 George Brett .305 Hank Aaron .303 Pete Rose

.302

.297

.293

.287

CLUB SPORTS

Men's spikers sweep Jayhawks

TONDO WALDRON

The Wildcat men's volleyball team avenged the women's hard-fought loss Wednesday night with a straight-set victory over the Jayhawks.

"I was not exactly convinced we could beat KU going into the game because of our lack of experience," team coach Patrick Groothuis said. "But after our first points, I never lost confidence in the team."

K-State took an early lead and held it the entire first game to seal the 15-11 victory. In game two, the Wildcats trailed until KU was two points away from victory.

That's when a seesaw battle erupted, and the ball changed sides six times at 16 before K-State rallied to win 19-17.

"We were in control the entire night," opposite/back row hitter Brent Demmitt said. Even when we were behind, we kept our cool and played well enough to come back.

Under the assumption that the contest was a three-set match, K-State was walking off the court when KU protested, asking for a three-outof-five match.

KU's last chance at redemption soon turned into rejection when K-State jumped to a 5-0 lead. "KU didn't intend to lose, but we seemed to convince them otherwise," setter Robert Segarra

K-State never trailed in that final game and won 16-14.

"We are a group of individual players with some great talent," Segarra said. "Tonight, we

Willie Mays

Al Kaline

Lou Brock

Robin Yount

Carl Yastrzemski

"I'm sure we will be capable of beating the other Big Eight schools.

Outside hitter Harvey Sanders recently joined the team but didn't waste time making his presence known. "Sanders proved his ability on the court with some great outside hitting," Groothuis said. The Wildcat attitude is what enabled the victory over the Hawks, said team president and middle blocker Kenny Martin. "This was KU's top team we faced tonight," he said. "And I feel we had a better attitude, better depth and better all-around players." "This was a big win for K-State to start off the season with," Groothuis said.

GOLF

Teams hoping for 1st victory

Men's squad to play at ISU, women's at Northern Illinois

KRISTEEN YOUNG

After each squad placed second in tournaments last weekend, the K-State's men's and women's golf teams take to the road again with high aspirations, Coach Mark Elliott

It's possible for both teams to win a tournament this weekend, he said.

The women travel to Northern Illinois to compete against 10 teams in a two-day tourney. Competitors are Northern Illinois, Illinois State, Northern Iowa and Big Eight foe

It is the third time this season the Cats will face off with the Cyclones. Iowa State has placed higher during the first two meetings.

"Iowa State has beaten us both times this fall, but I can't believe that we can't compete with them," Elliott said about the women's team. "I think this is a tournament that we can win. We've been playing good, but not near where we can. We need to play better than we are.

Iowa State placed higher than the No. 2 Wildcats last weekend, but it had the advantage of familiarity by playing at home. However, none of the ISU golfers placed higher than a Wildcat in the individual placings. Two Cats finishing second last weekend were senior Valerie Hahn and sophomore Jacque Wright.

lead the team once again. Other golfers representing K-State will be Denise Pottle, Debbie Chrystal, Staci Busch and SarahAyn

The men's team will also be out of town, traveling to Iowa State for a one-day, two-round tournament featuring eight to 10 teams. The other competing teams are not yet known.

The Wildcats finished second last weekend at the Kansas Invitational, just three strokes behind the Jayhawks, and they placed above Iowa State for the first time.

"This will be a big tournament for us," Elliott said. "I'm sure Iowa State will be looking for revenge on their home course.'

Last year at Iowa State, the Cats finished in second behind the Elliott said he is looking to the two to Cyclones, even though five K-State golfers finished in the top 11 individual placings.

Another familiar opponent at Iowa State will be Wichita State. K-State has beaten the Shockers twice already this season.

Competing for the Wildcats will be Richard Laing, Brett Waldman, Jason Losch and Sean Robertson. Laing, Waldman and Losch each placed within the top 11 at KU last week, and although Robertson finished at No. 23, he was just four strokes higher than teammate Losch

"Iowa State has beaten us both times this fall, but I can't believe that we can't compete with them."

MARK ELLIOTT

ENTERTAINMENT

Plotless sequel has chase, chemistry

"Lethal Weapon 3" is full of shoot-'em-up car chases, with lots of karate thrown in.

However, if you're looking for plot, try checking out the first "Lethal Weapon," or a Smurfs cartoon. Both are sure to have more plot than "Lethal Weapon 3."

Danny Glover and Mel Gibson return as Sgts. Roger Murtaugh and Martin Riggs, respectively. The banter between these two mismatched souls is just as witty as it was in the first two films.

Joe Pesci also returns as moneylaunderer-turned-realtor Leo Getz.

The familiarity of the characters from the first two movies overshadows the lack of a plot. The bad guys steal some guns and bullets, and the good guys chase them.

Throw in some one-liners for

LETHAL WEAPON 3' p.m. today and Saturday, and 7 p.m. Sunday in the K-State Union Forum Hall. Admission

Gibson and Pesci, have Glover play the straight man, and the movie practically solves itself as the vaunted Glover-Gibson screen

One factor that really establishes the mood is the music. David Sandborn and Eric Clapton provide a two-hour jazz excursion that perfectly complements the film's sometimes sour notes.

What "Lethal Weapon 3" lacks in brains, it makes up for in wellshot action footage and screen chemistry. Pesci is a bright spot, even if he is a bit underused.

LIVE MUSIC CALENDAR

FRIDAY, OCT. 2

ELMO & THE DEADBEATS 10:30 p.m. at the Hibachi Hut

HIRED HANDS 9:30 p.m. at Silverado Saloon

THE VIBES 10:30 p.m. at Boulevards

SATURDAY, OCT. 3

MOVING VAN GOGHS 10:30 p.m. at Charlie's Neighborhood Bar

HIRED HANDS 9:30 p.m. at Silverado Saloon

THE VIBES 10:30 p.m. at Boulevards

KALEIDOSCOPE FILMS lick captures drug decade aura

Fonda, Hopper hit the long road

TED KADAU JR.

It's been said the counter culture is dead. That the living, breathing entity of the late 1960s is now a rotting corpse.

Maybe that's true, but films about it remain, and few paint such a vivid and accurate picture than does the film "Easy Rider."

Made in 1969, a year that is quintessentially connected with the culture of the underground, the film stars Peter Fonda, Dennis Hopper and Jack Nicholson.

Fonda produced the film, and Hopper directed.

First

International

SETH CHILDS 6

This culmination shines through

PG-13 Friday at 7 & 9:30

Friday at 7:30 & 9:50

Friday at 7:10 & 9:40

in what is one of the best statements toxic philosophy. of the spirit of the '60s - tune in, drop out and, above all, fight the power that holds you to the grind.

Heading from L.A. to New Orleans, Fonda's and Hopper's characters are mot-ivated by little more than disillusionment and a desire to see Mardi Gras.

They meet up with every element from a hippie commune to sloppy good ol' boys who spew long hair jokes and chew tobacco. Somewhere else along the way, the two are thrown into the pokey for nothing less than parading without a license. It is here they meet up with a rather hungover Nicholson.

Small-town lawyer and local lush, Nicholson's character is an incredible mixture of naiveté and is $1.75.

WESTLOOP CINEMA 6

The film starts out as the classic road-trip flick and quickly progresses to themes that are opium black and cut quick to the bone. The ending by itself, sudden and pessimistic, will stick in your head

The movie shines through the use of realistic visual images, a roughed-over look and a soundtrack that sports icons from the '60s such as Steppenwolf and the Jimmy EASY RIDER

Showtimes are midnight today and Saturday in the K-State Union Forum Hall. Admission is $1.75.

Hendrix Experience.

For a truly great film that personifies the spirit of the drug decade, you will not find one better than "Easy Rider."

Parents'

..... Parents Weekend 1992!

Welcome!

Go Cats Parents' Weekend Special

Come into Woody's, say "Go Cats" and receive a 20% Storewide Discount Now through Sunday, October 4th

1225 Moro (C Aggieville

Weekend Veekend Agenda Friday to 7:00 pm - 9:00 pm Family Feud Union Station K-State Union Saturday to 5:00 pm - 7:00 pm Multicultural Student Scholarship Banquet Presentation of Scholarship Certificates GUEST SPEAKER-Bernard Franklir Asst. Dean of Student Life Mr. and Ms. BSU Pageant 7:00 pm - 9:00 pm Union Station Parent's

10:00 pm - 1:10 am

Sunday

11:00 am - 12:30 pm

KSU Gospel Service All Faiths Chapel

Union Station

Live music and lip synch contest

Friday! Saturday!

Pizza & Pitchers

Pre-game Party

 Free Munchies Claffin & Denison (Down Under) •$2.50 Pitchers 776-1515

Applebee's Welcomes K-State Parents with a

Pre-game Lunch Kickoff

This Saturday Only--Open at 10a.m.

BUFFALO CHICKEN WINGS $3 per dozen from 10am - 7pm

October's "Beer of the Month"

KILLIAN'S RED $275 Includes Free "Killian's Red" Glass

Neighborhood Grill & Bar

MANHATTAN TOWN CENTER . 3RD & POYNTZ SAT 10 A.M.-2 A.M. SUN 10 A.M.-MIDNIGHT • 537-0408

Applebee's

Bakery Science Club

JC Penney

KG Men's Store

The Multi-Cultural Organization

Ramada Inn

Woody's Ladies Shop

Wishing Mom & Dad Wonderful Weekend at Kansas State University!

*************

Open Mon.-Sat. 10 a.m.-9 p.m.

Sunday Noon-6 p.m. 776-4867

Take an additional previously marked down merchandise

WELCOME KSU PARENTS

Friday, Oct. 2 and Saturday, Oct. 3 SAVE 40-50%

on original prices when you take an additional 25% off the already reduced prices of apparel for the entire family and clearance merchandise throughout the store.

Parents' Weekend offers something for everyone

Honorary parents teach love, service are cherished life lessons, daughter says

JANET SATTERLEE

The love they showed and valuable lessons they taught their children were what made Larry and Margaret Goering K-State's 1992 Honorary Parents.

The Goerings, of rural Newton, were nominated by their daughter, Sandy, senior in agricultural economics, who entered them in the annual honorary parents essaywriting contest, sponsored by Chimes Junior Honorary.

"Many parents dream of giving their children the best. Mine never gave me designer clothes, a fancy car or a long, exotic vacation," Sandy wrote in her winning essay. "Instead, they taught me about respecting nature, serving others, being open to diversity and working hard.

"They gave me the best when they gave me the security of unconditional love and the challenge of visionary faith," she wrote.

Sandy said she knew that entering the contest and having her parents receive the essay would be an honor in itself.

"It was very difficult to write down what they meant to me in 1,000 words. I thought about what

He appeared on MTV's "Half Hour Comedy Hour," "Comedy Gallery: The TV Show" and

"April Fool's Live." He performed in various clubs, including Comedy Gallery, Funny outlook of day-to-day college life of students and their parents,"

McCain. Tickets can still be purchased at McCain-Box Office

"We're hopeful that the comedy will offer a humorous

The show starts at 8 tonight in

Comedy act allows parents, students a chance to laugh at college life, activities

Cities Laff-Off.

Bones and Punchline.

Bailey said.

Students may joke about parents, but they can laugh with Eclectic Entertainment Committee will sponsor two stand-up comedians, Paul Kelleher and Scott Novotny. The act will start after the sold-out pig roast in front said Charla Bailey, program adviser. "So far, we have only sold 500 tickets."

Paul Kelleher appeared in "Star Search" and "Comedy Gallery: entered)," Margaret Goering said. "It still is a little unbelievable.

Paul and Judith Jones, of Lyons, parents of Meredith Jones, senior in journalism and mass communications, were selected as the runner-up couple.

they really mean to me," Sandy

"We had no idea (that Sandy had

The Goering and Jones families will be guests of K-State on Parents' Day, Oct. 3. They will attend a reception, luncheon and evening banquet, as well as sit in President Jon Wefald's box at the K-State vs. New Mexico State football game. During halftime, they will receive a plaque.

The Goerings, who are K-State alumni, have three children: Sandy; Kevin, sophomore in agricultural engineering; and Suzie, eighthgrader at Hesston Middle School.

Larry Goering earned bachelor's and master's degrees in agriculture education in 1968 and 1981, respectively.

Larry is a vocational agriculture teacher at Moundridge High School, where he has taught for 19

Margaret Goering received a bachelor's degree in home economics education in 1968. She has been a substitute teacher for the Hesston and Moundridge school districts in all grade levels - from kindergarten to 12th grade.

"My parents have always believed that we kids could do whatever we dreamed of," Sandy said in her essay. "I often sit in amazement at two people so willing to care, taking every chance they can to open their hearts and share."

also acted in commercials. TONYA FOSTER Scott Novotny was a writer for "Saturday Night Live" and was first runner-up in the 1989 Twin them today at the Parents Weekend comedy act in McCain Auditorium. The Union Program Council's of the K-State Union. "We're expecting 700 people,"

The TV Show Laugh Tracks." He

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS

arassment trial continues

Law professors' control intimidating, former dean says ASSOCIATED PRESS

LAWRENCE — Law professors have so much control over students' grades and job prospects that students may have difficulty rejecting their advances, said a former University of Kansas law school dean.

"He or she is going to think twice before saying no," said Martin Dickinson, dean from 1971 to 1980 and member of the faculty since 1967.

Dickinson testified before a faculty committee considering the dismissal of Emil Tonkovich, a tenured law professor charged by Chancellor Gene Budig with violations of the faculty code of conduct.

Two current and two former law students filed sexual-harassment complaints against Tonkovich with university officials in August 1991.

Budig decided last March to fire Tonkovich. He alleged Tonkovich was guilty of moral turpitude and behavior that violated professional ethics. ruling and triggered the public alienating a law professor.

hearing before the Committee on Tenure and Related Problems. This is the sixth week of hearings.

Dickinson said he told three female law students who spoke to him about sexual harassment in the law school to consider the damage their complaints might do to their legal careers before proceeding.

Under questioning by Rose Marino, university associate general counsel, Dickinson said law students would be vulnerable to a faculty member's request for a date, Tonkovich challenged Budig's because students don't want to risk

Tying one on

Randy Dalinghaus, junior in animal sciences and industry, ties off a section of reserved parking stalls west of the KSU Stadium Thursday afternoon in preparation for Saturday's football gam

POLITICS |

Gag rule in effect but still debated

Miller Suitcases $11.49 LITE/Genuine Draft/MGD Ligh

Michelob Six Packs

Gordon Citrus Ltr.

Reg. 4.39 ON SALE 3.79

Reg. 9.09 ON SALE 6.99

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The Bush administration's so-called gag rule, forbidding most workers in federally funded family-planning clinics from counseling women on abortion options, took effect Thursday.

Yet it was unclear how long it

The Senate voted to override a presidential veto on the issue, and a federal judge was considering ordering the government to halt enforcement.

Under the rules, abortion could be discussed only with a doctor, who could advise seeking an abortion only if it were considered medically necessary.

The administration said the purpose of the rule is to make sure medical advice on abortion is given only by people with proper training.

U.S. District Judge Charles Richey had said he planned to decide Thursday whether to issue an injunction against the government. In May, Richey had issued a similar order that was lifted in July by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Watch for the Cat Coupon Clipper Every Monday in the COLLEGIAN

KSU GOSPEL SERVICE

featuring Rev. Wayne Ellis

ALL FAITHS CHAPEL KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY MANHATTAN, KS

Oct. 4, 1992 11 a.m.

ECM SUNDAY FORUM THIS WEEK—SEPTEMBER 27 6:30 p.m. Roger and Me

SUNDAY SUPPER-5:30 p.m.-all are welcome

ECM Campus Center 1021 Denison

Fine Dining in The Little Apple

Manhattan's Finest!

- Steaks, Seafood and More
- Friday Night Seafood Buffet-$13.95
- •Saturday Night Prime Rib Buffet-$13.95 •Try Our Famous Buffalo Steaks

Cocktail Lounge and TV Bar

Nobody does it like Clyde's

Across from Holidome on Ft. Riley Blvd.

(913)537-8440

Free Admission Free Popcorn FRIDAY NIGHT at the Movies . . . Medicine Man Tonight, Oct. 2 — 8 p.m.

ECM Campus Center 1021 Dentson

539-4281

NATION

Banker indicted in arms scandal

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ATLANTA — A judge threw out a plea agreement Thursday and cleared the way for a trial for a former bank manager. The manager is being tried on charges of masterminding a scheme to loan Iraq $5.5 billion during its pre-Gulf War military buildup.

A lengthy trial is now expected in the case, which has raised questions about whether the Bush administration covered up its role in arming Saddam Hussein before the war

Christopher Drogoul, former Atlanta branch manager for Italy's government-owned Banca Nazionale del Lavoro (BNL), will be tried on 347 counts of bank fraud. He pleaded guilty in June to 60 counts, but later tried to withdraw the plea, saying he was made a scapegoat by top BNL officials.

Drogoul, 43, could have been sentenced to life in prison, fined $17.5 million and ordered to pay $1.8 billion in restitution for the 60

At a sentencing hearing Thursday, prosecutors reversed themselves and asked U.S. District Judge Marvin Shoob to throw out the plea bargain. Shoob agreed.

"Drogoul cannot have it both ways," acting U.S. Attorney Gerrilyn Brill said. "He can't plead guilty, ask the court for leniency and project a public image of innocence. There is no middle ground."

The case's change in direction came a day after Drogoul's attorney, Bobby Lee Cook, presented a mysterious document countering the prosecution's contention that Drogoul alone masterminded the loan scheme.

Cook presented a document purportedly showing BNL officials had sought assurances through an intermediary from then-U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh that the bank would not be implicated.

Picture your ad here.
(only bigger)
Then call us.
COLLEGIAN Display Advertising

Tribes file suit to allow casinos

Kickapoos try to force Legislature to complete compact

ASSOCIATED PRESS

TOPEKA — The debate over Indian casinos shifted to the courtroom Thursday when the Kickapoo Tribe filed a lawsuit against the state to force completion of a gambling compact.

The suit, filed in U.S. District

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court, alleges that the Legislature failed to enact a measure that would have allowed completion of a compact signed by Gov. Joan Finney in January.

Topeka attorney Matt Works said the Potawatomi Tribe will file a lawsuit against the state in federal court on Friday.

Steve Cadue, the Kickapoo tribal chairman, called the suit a "sad and ugly chapter" in the relationship between the state and Kansas tribes.

Cadue used strong words to describe the Legislature, which, during the last session, passed a bill to prohibit casino gambling across the state. The measure was regarded by many as an effort to prevent any of the four tribes in northeast Kansas from opening casinos.

Finney, a strong supporter of Indian gaming, vetoed it.

"Discrimination is alive and well in the Kansas Legislature," Cadue said during a news conference on the Statehouse steps. "It is discussed as majority democracy."

disguised as majority democracy."

Under the federal Indian Gaming Regulatory Act, states that in some way regulate gambling, such as lotteries, must negotiate a compact with tribes that want to offer casino-style gambling on reservations.

All compacts must be approved by Interior Secretary Manuel Lujan. Tribes in other states, including Minnesota and California, presently are operating casinos under the 1988 federal law.

The law, passed to create economic opportunities for Indian tribes, has created considerable controversy in several states and has been the subject of conflicting federal court rulings in Oklahoma, Florida, Georgia and Washington state.

"The Kickapoo Nation is prepared to develop a minimum of 1,000 jobs in the Kickapoo casino operation and generate millions of dollars in revenue for the entire northeast Kansas area," Cadue said.

Latest CD debuted at 53rd on radio charts.

SPIKE BLAKE

October 2 & 3

Live Popular Country Bands from four-state region every weekend

Alibi Country Club 1322 Grant Ave. Junction City

Laser Karaoke All Night Wednesday

ROYAL PURPLE

1993

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30
Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30
Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30
Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1
Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1
Sigma Chi-Oct. 1
Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2
Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6
Sigma Nu-Oct. 6
Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6
Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8
Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8
Theta Xi-Oct. 8
Triangle-Oct. 9
Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9
Clovia-Oct. 12
Edwards-Oct. 12
Ford-Oct. 12
Goodnow-Oct. 13
Haymaker-Oct. 13
Marlatt-Oct. 13
Moore-Oct. 14
Putnam-Oct. 14
Smith-Oct. 15
Smurthwaite-Oct. 15
Van Zile-Oct. 15
Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

AKA

Riding High

It has been said that once you are moving in the direction of your goals, nothing, absolutely nothing can stop you!

Regardless of the obstacles that may arise, the momentum, the will to go on, will bring you to your destination.

It won't be easy. Nothing worth fighting for ever is.

But, persistence and commitment to a goal, yields results. Excellent ones, at that.

AKA and KSU have been partners in excellence for over 60 years.

A partnership this old, this strong, will not just one day cease to exist.

This partnership WILL continue, long into the future because Alpha Kappa Lambda is RIDING HIGH!

The Fraternity of

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA

Iota Chapter • Kansas State University 1919 Hunting • Manhattan, KS 66502

You've got to make It. KANSAS STATE Display Advertising

Harriers to face tough competition at Stillwater

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6 Capriotti said. "It's everyone's

guess. For the women's team, there will be less competition than the men's, Capriotti said.

"Their training has gone excellent as well," he said. "It will be a good meet for them. Not hard, but good. I expect to win the meet with the women very handily."

However, Capriotti said, there will be a couple of individual runners who will make the race more interesting for the Cats.

But the toughest competition rises up within the team. It's getting harder to say who will run up front like (Paulette) Staats, (Jennifer) of those girls are ready to step up.

anyone of them could step up and we're trying to get better now.

in the team, Capriotti said. "I'd say right now it's looking

Hillier and (Jeanene) Rugan are the leading runners," he said. "But, you know, (Martha) Pinto, (Janet) Magner, (Amy) Marx and the rest

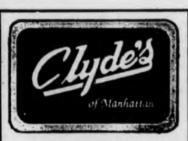

"Lesley Wells and Cari Warden and do a good job. The team is deep

Sigma Kappa is Proud to Present The 1st Annual 1993

MEN of K-STATE

If you or anyone you know would be interested in being one of the 12 men featured please contact

Traci Klein at 587-0337 or sign up in the Union Oct. 1 & 2

532-6560

Appearing at Clydes

"Almost Live"

Entertainment Duo

Friday, Oct. 2 and

Saturday, Oct. 3 9 p.m. to Midnight No Cover Charge

Featuring a fresh blend of contemporary entertainment, from 50s Be-Bop ... Classic and Modern Country, to today's contemporary hits!

> 537-8440 2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

On Ft. Riley Blvd. Across from the Holidome

FIRST WOMEN'S

 $\Delta\Delta\Delta$

SECOND: ВӨП

SPORTSMANSHIP:

B&B Orange Crush

ROTC

Iron Horses ΣΦΕ

Goodnow 6

Acacia

ПВФ

ΚΔ

ΑΔΠ Death by Parcheesi

Fiji Mad Scientists Just Short of Obscene

Haymaker 5

Parents Weekend Specials

from the K-State Union Bookstore

Buy any one garment at regular price, get the second of equal or lesser value for 50 % OFF

> Key chains Jewelry Glassware

20% OFF 20% OFF

20% OFF

Parents Weekend Hours

Friday, October 2 Saturday, October 3 Sunday, October 4

7:45 am - 8:00 pm 8:00 am - 8:00 pm Noon - 5:00 pm

KATS T-SHIRTS not included

K-State Union Bookstore 532-6583

We appreciate your support. Your dollars continue to help the K-State Union sponso

Memorial Hospital Auxiliary presents PUMPKIN PATCH 19 Arts & Crafts Fair—Cico Park—Manhattan Saturday, October 3 Friday, October 2 10 a.m.-4 p.m. 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Seniors Shopping Hour 9-10 a.m. Both Days Admission is Free!

ID system to ease access at rec center

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

know about us," Halverson said. "Then we can reinforce more of our marketing and public-relations

"It will help us become more aware of demographic and statistical trends that will help us plan for the future," she said.

There have been only a few minor problems in the system's first week of use, Hatch said.

"We've had a few glitches with people needing to use cards that didn't before, and they are worn or mutilated," he said. "Also, some of the encoding on the cards hasn't matched what we built on the system.

If a card doesn't go through, the holder may still be admitted by the old method of checking the picture and validation on the back, Halverson said.

We are reasonably pleased with the system," he said. "Over 90 percent of our participants are getting through with no problems."

Hatch said the Vali-Dine system has been used at K-State for four

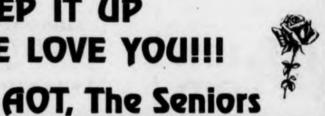

In its first year, the system was used only in the Union for Wildcat Cards, he said. A year later, it was added to the residence halls and dining centers to manage meal plans and provide security.

By adding the Rec Complex and getting all of the student body defined on Vali-Dine, Hatch said he hopes this will open doors to others joining the system.

He said some schools use a similar system for buying athletic tickets and buying parking permits.

KAPPA DELTA

Members and Pledges WE APPRECIATE ALL OF YOUR HARD WORK! KEEP IT UP AND WE LOVE YOU!!!

First Congregational Church

Sunday School: 9:30

Worship: 10:45

Longbottom

Poyntz and Juliette

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

481 Zeandale Rd. (Hwy. 18)

"An old church with a liberal and open-minded tradition." Sunday School and Regular Services at 10:45 a.m. FOR INFORMATION

CALL 539-9369 or 537-9816

GRACE BAPTIST CHURCH

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45 Collegiate Bible Study & International Bible Study Sun. 9:30 a.m.

Sunday Evening Fellowship or Caring Cells 6 p.m. Family Night Wed. 7 p.m.

Students Welcome! 2901 Dickens

> Evangelical Free Church of Manhattan

MCC Chapel S.W. corner 14th & Anderson Steve Ratliff, Pastor Sunday School 9:30 a.m. Worship 11 a.m. 776-2086

Nursery Provided

Church of Christ

Campus Ministry Bible Study 9:30 a.m. Sunday Worship 10:30 a.m. Evening Service 6 p.m. 2510 Dickens Ave. 539-6581

Welcome Back, Students Worship 10 a.m. Sunday School 9 a.m.

Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m. 1st, 3rd, & 5th Sundays CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m. 2nd & 4th Sundays 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd.

Manhattan Mennonite Fellowship

10th & Fremont 5 Harris H. Waltner, Pastor Church School 8:30 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m.

St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center
Masses: Sat. 5 p.m.
Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m.

LUTHERAN

ocated in the ECM building Craig Sommer, Campus Pastor 539-4451

SUNDAY WORSHIP 11 a.m. Danforth Chapel STUDENT SUPPER & FELLOWSHIP

Wednesdays 6 p.m. at ECM

Rev. Donald

Manhattan Seventh-day

Sabbath School 9:30 a.m. Sat. Worship Service

Adventist Church

600 Laramie 776-5533 (at 6th St.)

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN 2800 Claffin

8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship 9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Sun. Eve. Service

Handicapped Accessible 776-5440

□ CRESTVIEW CHRISTIAN

CHURCH English Worship 10:30 a.m./6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m.

Chinese Worship 1 p.m. 4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd. (3 miles north of Kimball Ave.) 776-3798

CRIEND MEETING

> Visitors welcome Silent Worship 10 a.m. Discussion 11 a.m. 1801 Anderson Ave. (Baptist Christian Center)

For more information call 539-2978 or 539-2636. FIRST LUTHERAN

Sunday School 9:40 a.m. (for all ages) 10th & Poyntz

ST. LUKE LUTHERAN CHURCH (LCMS)

Lutheran Student Fellowship (LSF) Campus Pastor, Rev. Robert Schaedel Sun. 8 and 10:45 a.m. Sat. Worship 6 p.m. Bible Class Sunday 9:30 a.m.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

330 N. Sunset Ave.....539-2604

801 Leavenworth 537-0518 Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Church School 9:30 a.m. ·Weekday Programs for Youth Nursery Available

> Pastor Rev. Warren Rutledge

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:45 a.m. Communion (first Sunday of the month) 9:45 a.m. Church School 8:45 & 11 a.m. Worship Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor 776-882

First Bap ist Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m.

Church School 9:45 a.m. 2121 Blue Hills Rd.

539-8691

612 Povntz

The Episcopal Church Welcomes You. Saint Paul's Episcopal Church and Saint Francis Episcopal Fellowship at KSU (Worldwide Anglican Communion)

Sixth & Poyntz 776-9427

- Sunday Services -8 A.M. Holy Eucharist Rite I 9:30 A.M. Christian Education Classes (for all ages) 10:30 A.M. Choral Eucharist Rite II (Nursery available at 10:30 service)

- Tuesday Services -10:00 P.M. Informal Holy Eucharist KSU Danforth Chapel

- Wednesday Services -12:15 P.M. Holy Eucharist

LIVING WORD

CHURCH Services Sunday 10 a.m. Wednesday 7 p.m.

1 mile south on Hwy. 177 776-0940

Routson resigns post as SGA adviser

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

Melinda Eubanks, senior in social work, said, "I don't think we can blindly accept the decisions of those who develop these programs."

Eubanks said the Roles and Aspirations Committee was established to meet the needs of students who come to K-State by educating them and preparing them for jobs.

"Does roles and aspirations inhibit this?" Eubanks asked.

This process needs to be questioned, she said, and she asked whether cutting or eliminating departments is an issue of funding or one of values.

Senate was also addressed during open period by Athletic Director Milt Richards, who complimented its student leadership and cooperation with the athletic department.

"Athletics is a rallying point for the whole University," Richards Among the changes that have been made to benefit students, he said, is the combination of football and basketball ticket sales and their decreased price.

This year's ticket distribution was a "zoo," he said, but the athletic ticket sales committee is working on a way to mail tickets to students after they purchase them.

Richards said nothing is more exciting than student support at the games, and he is looking forward to the support growing more.

Another change the committee brought about was reinstating the campout, which was designed this year to determine ticket holders'

Richards said the campout was originally established because there was an overwhelming demand for tickets.

"The whole focus of campout has changed. The focus now is so students can have a good time," Richards said.

One area not being changed is alcohol guidelines. Richards said K-State is not planning to follow the lead of University of Kansas officials by cracking down on alcohol at the games.

Settlement reached in lawsuit

Footage of King beating can now be used in 'Malcolm X' ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES — The amateur cameraman who shot the Rodney King beating videotape reached an out-of-court settlement Thursday with filmmaker Spike Lee, allowing use of the footage in the upcoming movie "Malcolm X."

George Holliday claimed in a lawsuit that Lee didn't have permission to use the video in his movie about the assassinated Black

776-5577

The 45 seconds of tape, shot from Holliday's apartment balcony on March 3, 1991, show white Los Angeles police officers beating King, who is black.

Holliday's attorney, Ronald Grigg, refused to say how much money the plumbing store manager would receive under the settlement. Holliday had sought about $120,000 in damages. Grigg said Holliday agreed to settle after Lee's attorneys agreed to a one-time use

"Our interest has always been in protecting Mr. Holliday's right to decide when and where the tape is licensed," Grigg said. "This settlement gives him that right."

New York attorney Martin Garbus, who represents Lee, could not be reached after business hours

Thursday. Garbus said a week ago that Thursday was the deadline to either resolve the issue or remove the footage so as not to interfere with the Nov. 20 release of the $35 million picture.

Rob Friedman, a spokesman for Warner Bros., which was also named in the lawsuit, would not release details of the settlement.

office/1

1310 Westloop • 776-6864 Specializing in Office Supplies and Furniture desks · chairs · computer furniture • portfolios • brief cases · organizers · desk accessories · paper products

BLEACHERS PRE-GAME

Saturday, Oct. 3, 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

"ALL YOU CAN EAT"

'S WITHOUT TICKET

523 S. 17th

BRING YOUR PARENTS TAILGATE PARTY

BBQ/TEX-MEX BUFFET

4 WITH K-STATE vs. N. MEXICO ST. TICKET

537-1484

Saloon & Grill

539-KICK

SATURDAY NIGHT

HOG ROAST ALL-YOU-CAN-EAT

$ 50

Celebrate at Kickers,

after the Ball game.

Dance to Midnite Run

Fri. & Sat.

2315 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

Manhattan

REAL ESTATE AUCTION

Wednesday, October 14, 1992, 6 p.m. To be held at Days Inn

1501 Tuttle Creek Blvd., Manhattan, Kansas

Tract 1: SW 1/4 NW 1/4 Section 25, Township 9, Range 7, Riley County Kansas and E 1/2 of NE 1/4 Section 26, Township 9, Range containing approximately 117 acres. Tract II: E 1/2 NW 1/4 Section 25, Township 9, Range 7, approximately 80 acres This is a unique opportunity to purchase land this well located to Manhattan, Kansas and Tuttle Creek Dam on Highway 177 and US 24. For viewing of these unique properties Contact Vern Gannon Associate Broker/Auctioneer 913-539-2316 of Anderson

Terms: $5,000.00 down on each Tract Day of Auction. Balance due on or before December 15, 1992. This property is selling Auctioneers and Realtors representing Sellers. STATEMENTS MADE DAY OF AUCTION TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER ANY OTHER INFORMATION.

William A. and Charlotte A. Patzell, Robert B. Irvine, Jr., Marilyn Ewing Owners

1800 Claflin Rd.

FirstBank Center

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

Not responsible for accidents.

Vern Gannon Auctions 913-539-2316

Prime Time

Special

3 - 10 in. Pizzas

1 - Topping

4 - Cokes

$10.50

Anderson Realty Manhattan, Kansas

776-5577

NTSA Non-Traditional Student Association

Friday, October 9 Union Station • 6 p.m.-10 p.m.

Dance • Socialize • Have Fun Bring Spouse • Bring Kids

No Liquor Allowed

October Special

Collectibles 20 % Off

Lowell Davis: nationally acclaimed rural life artist

Give a gift that's as American as apple pie

776-9067

MANGE

5th & Poyntz

CORKY'S SMOKEHOUSE AND CATERING

Sun. 11 a.m.-7 p.m. CLOSED MONDAY Tues.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-8 p.m. Fri.-Sat.

11 a.m.-9 p.m.

3515 Hofman Ln. East of Manhattan on Hwy 24 beside Dick Edwards Ford 776-9367

50° O

Slab of Ribs with Student ID

Evening Buffet

EXPIRES 10-5-92

EXPIRES 10-5-92

GAME DAY BUFFET Saturday, Sept. 26 and Oct. 3 11 a.m.-10 p.m. All You Can Eat-$6.95 per person ·Sweet & Sour Shrimp, Eggdrop Soup Chicken and Pork

•Egg Rolls Crispy Wontons Crab Rangoon

·Vegetable Delight ·Garlic Shrimp

 House Egg Food Yung ·Garlic Shrimp Hot Braised Chicken Wings Curry Chicken

1304 Westloop

539-0888 539-8888

Restaurant

Wildcat Weekend Special

FRI., SAT., & SUN. OCT. 2, 3, 4

Carol Lee Etc.

Wildcat Specials

2 Dozen Donuts for $4.99 (reg. $5.98)

1/2 Sandwich & Soup for $2.99 (reg. $3.35) Sandwich includes choice of meat, cheese, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles, mayonnaise, honey mustard on white or wheat roll, baked fresh daily. Donuts & Rolls 1/2 Price After 4 p.m.

800 Claffin in FirstBank Center

6 a.m.-7 p.m. 7 Days A Week

Now Going On...

60%

Everyday

Two-Fers

2 - 10 in. Pizzas

2 - Toppings

2 - Cokes

Gigantic Liquidation Clothing Sale!

Men's, Women's, & Children's Famous Name Brand Clothing Housewares

Anne Klein • Liz Claiborne • Guess • Ralph Lauren • Esprit Coach • Oshkosh • Levi • Bugle Boy and more...

Truckloads of merchandise from East & West Coast Major Dept. Stores will be on sale at our special sale location: Downtown Manhattan, 109 Poyntz Avenue

Hours:

M-F 9:30 a.m.-9 p.m. Sat. 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sun. Noon-5 p.m.

vester's

Fashion Outlet

Downtown Manhattan 409 Poyntz Avenue

Teachers drawn by quality

"I can't understand parents who will pay $80 for a pair of designer jeans for their kid to wear to school, and then they complain about teachers'

DEAN STRAMEL

salaries."

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

lower grades."

Dennis said the local boards of education negotiate agreements, and then salary distribution is left up to the

For example, he said, some schools emphasize the beginning salaries, and others focus more on the upper end of the salary schedule.

Dean Stramel, negotiator for the National Education Association, said increasing salaries takes an effort from the public.

He said the public needs to be more generous with their tax dollars and understand the importance of teachers.

"I can't understand parents who will pay $80 for a pair of designer jeans for their kid to wear to school, and then they complain about teachers' salaries, Stramel said. "Where are people's priorities?"

The quality of teachers has not been sacrificed because of lower salaries, Dennis said.

Kansas needs to continue to improve to be competitive in society, he said.

"I think our quality is getting better," Dennis said. "Society is changing so fast that staff training and re-training takes more money and more work on the teachers' part.

the needs of students. Information is doubling every 18 months - look what that does to teachers involved with technology - and that's almost all of them," Dennis said.

Manhattan High School teacher Cheryl Riley said she does not see a decrease in local teacher quality because of salaries. Riley said one attraction for her was the MHS work environment.

"Another thing that attracts quality teachers is the working conditions. It's not just the salary," Riley said.

Stramel said it is not just Kansas that is losing quality teachers because of salaries.

"It's the whole nation in general. The best and the brightest kids don't choose to be teachers because they know they can make more money somewhere else," Stramel said.

In Manhattan, the beginning salary for someone with a bachelor's degree in education with no previous experience is

The highest-paid person with a doctorate and at least 20 years experience is $39,800.

According to the AFT, Connecticut had the highest average teachers' salary: $47,510.

Second is Alaska, $43,800 followed by New York, $43,335. For the second "Teachers need to improve to meet consecutive year, South Dakota was at the bottom of the list, with an average salary of $23,291, which is only 68 percent of the national average.

Dennis said many aspects of salaries are not always considered, like health

He said health insurance has become a crucial matter when salaries are considered.

"You must be careful when you look at salary schedules, because health benefits are very important," Dennis This year, the percent increase of salary for Manhattan teachers is higher than most other Kansas schools, because they are including a new healthinsurance policy. Riley is in her first year of teaching at

MHS. She said salary was not an issue when looking for a job because she was limited to finding a job in this area.

Competition was stiff for the few positions that were available, she said.

"I had a hard time finding a position, given that I had to stay in this area. This community is filled with highly educated people," Riley said.

Riley said she thinks the salary for beginning teachers is OK, but teachers who have been with the district for many years are not as happy with their salary MILITARY

Poll: Women not fully welcome in combat

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ARLINGTON, Va. - Most members of the armed forces say they support the military policy barring women from direct combat roles, a presidential commission was told Thursday.

A poll conducted by the Roper Organization for the commission also showed that four of every 10 service people think assigning women to combat would harm national security.

This included 63 percent of Marines and 53 percent of those in the Army, but only 43 percent of Navy and Air Force personnel.

However, in response to more specific questions, only 49 percent said women should not be assigned to ground combat, 30 percent said they should be barred from combat aircraft and 29 percent said they should not be on fighting ships.

The results were presented to the Presidential Commission on the Assignment of Women in the Armed Forces, an organization examining laws and policies that ban women from direct combat.

"The findings suggest majority support for assignment of women to combat aircraft and combat ships but not to ground combat," said Carolyn Setlow of the polling organization.

The strongest resistance to the assignment of women was found among those with combat specialties, 72 percent of whom favored the current policy.

Congress created commission at the same time it repealed a prohibition on women in combat aircraft.

Women now make up about 11 percent of the armed forces:

Paul Jones, director of defense force management for the congressional General Accounting Office, which is studying the performance of women in the Persian Gulf War, said their performance appraisals were "highly positive although expectations had been generally

Perot jumps back in campaign

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

reconsider his earlier refusal to run. However, spending reports filed with the government indicate he has spent millions since his nominal withdrawal to maintain a political infrastructure and make sure his name was placed on all 50 state ballots.

He reportedly has 20 or more TV commercials ready to go and said with a smile as he left his news conference: "Got to make a living, got to pay for ads."

Bush declined to answer questions about Perot as he arrived at the White House from Camp David in advance of the Texan's comments.

Clinton, campaigning in Wisconsin, said he is going to run his race regardless of Perot. "I think my fight is with George Bush

"I believed we couldn't afford four more years of George Bush and trickle-down economics," Clinton said of his decision to enter the race. "I still believe I have the best economic plan."

Perot, trying to capitalize on widespread voter dissatisfaction, said his fight was with both parties and a political system that has allowed the economy to deteriorate.

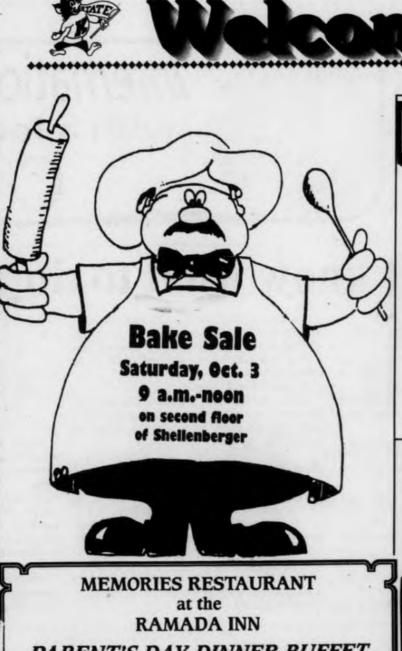

"We've got to put our people back to work," he said.

To rejuvenate the economy, Perot prepared a detailed plan to cut the deficit, including a mixture of higher taxes and spending cuts.

"Our people are good," he said. "The American people are good, but their government is a mess.

PARENT'S DAY DINNER BUFFET

Saturday, Oct. 3, 1992 5-9:30 p.m.

*Featuring* Salad Bar Prime Rib of Beef Breast of Chicken Marsala Broccoli Au Gratin Shrimp & Scallops Stir Fry Baked Potatoes Rice Baked Cod Meat Balls

Egg Rolls Fettucini Alfredo Fettucini Primavera Fried Shrimp

$12.95 per person Reservations Suggested

MEMORIES RESTAURANT at the RAMADA INN

539-7531

$1 OFF! $1 OFF!

$1 OFF!

$1 OFF

MEMORIES RESTAURANT at the RAMADA INN

Present this coupon and receive $1 OFF OF OUR FABULOUS LUNCH BUFFET!! SOUP, SALAD & DELI BUFFET Reg. $4.75.

FOR ONLY $3.75 Hot buffet includes all the above plus delicious hot entrees reg. $5.75-Now $4.75. MONDAY-FRIDAY

OUR BUFFET CHANGES DAILY—SO COME IN OFTEN

Parents' Weekend Sale! SUIT & SPORTCOAT

Choose from our entire stock including: ·Botany Gladiator · Johnny Carson · Evan-Picone · Raffinati Preferred Stock • Haggar • Farah & Other Famous Brands!

Suits Orig. $225 Sale 159.99 Ea.

Suits Orig. $250 Sale 189.99 Ea.

Suits Orig. $275 Sale 199.99 Ea.

Suits Orig. $350-$375 Sale 259.99 Ea.

Sportcoats Orig. $125-$150 Sale 99.99 Ea.

Farah Tri-Blend Dress Slacks Reg. $35 Sale 29.99 Ea.

MEN'S STORE

Botany 500° - Manhattanº Dress Shirts Reg. 17.99-22.00 Sale 14.99 Ea.

2 For $28

ESSENTIALS

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

CROSSWORD

1 Actor

land:

Carol

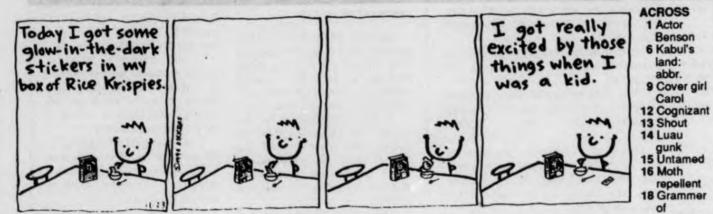

repellent

pian's

37 Al Hirsch-

Benson

EUGENE SHEFFER

THE STRIP

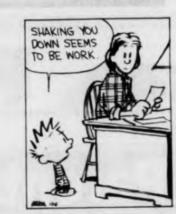

HAVE FIVE

DOLLARS?

CALVIN AND HOBBES

DAVID SWEARINGEN

BILL WATTERSON

daughter 38 Rubber of a sort

43 Pinch

44 Pizzeria

45 Slugger

from

Okla.

org. 49 U.S.

47 Agent 86's

Grant's real first

Spavinaw

fixture

41 San Diego

attraction

game item 19 Out of 57 Take ten dange

DOWN

O.H.M.S.

2 Use credit

veep 4 Highland hillside

5 Screams

6 Give in

7 Wear at 8 Weight-

lifters'

the end

cards 3 Truman's dange

abbr

24 Wish

28 Hose

undone

material

Beneke 32 "20

33 Puzzle-

34 Part of

36 Bee's

38 Hair 39 Shun

Baby's favorite flower

40 Bivouac array 42 Different > player's option

bread?

45 Chess

46 Italian

48 Urban

music

style

center

51 S. of the border

50 Simile

dom's

26 Instigate

21 Passbook 22 Personal question? 30 Ritter or Questions' category blackbird schedule

> PED? For answers to today's crossword, call tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

OANLYKICYIIF WAQXWUCAWW'W AWUNXQUA

UYA CNLYU

KRUUIO. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OUR PAL, THE SINGER TURNED POLITICIAN, ISN'T AFRAID TO GO ON THE RECORD.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: L equals G

Hopelessly in love, but don't know what to do about it

Cassandra Duveaux

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I'm a freshman, and my problem involves the woman I love, the woman I left at home. I enrolled here before I realized there was something between us.

She is a year behind me, and even if I did stay, that would have given us only a year together.

ver able to start anything because I had to leave for college, so we remained good friends even though we both know we are perfect for each other. I'm far away, and there is no way to see her on weekends. I'm hopelessly in love with her, and I feel she wants and needs me too, even though I have never asked her.

She has been through a lot of problems, including many bad romances and family problems.

She has tried several times to escape her problems (suicide). It hurts me to hear about all of this, especially since I am one of the few guys in her life who ever treated her right.

This is the woman I someday hope to marry, and she knows that. I asked her to wait for me, but five years is a long time to wait, and she declined the offer. She told me she would always love me.

After recent soul searching, I realized I cannot ever give up on her. I am calling every week and writing just as often. Am I doing the right thing? What else can I do? Thanks for your help.

C.K., K-State student

DEAR C.K.,

It is obvious you really care about your girlfriend, and it is just as obvious that she is not yet ready to make the kind of commitment you

The best thing you can do at this point is to back off the marriage idea and simply be her good, close friend.

Your girlfriend sounds to me like a very troubled young lady, and therefore she needs all the support you and her family can give her without all the entanglements of marriage and trying to decide where you both can go to school together. Urge her to seek counseling.

Once she has built a good foundation of confidence and self-esteem, then, and only then, will she be able to make the kind of commitment you seek

DEAR CASSANDRA,

In Tuesday's article ("No" means "no," Sept. 29) you said "yes" means "maybe." I've seen this trashy idea used before.

'Yes" means "maybe," so that later when your friends find out what you did and you get embarrassed, you cry date rape and sodomy to save your reputation.

Then, the guy's name is tarnished forever, while the girl, even if she drops the charges, remains unknown.

It's easy to be cruel if no one knows who you are.

B.C., K-State senior

DEAR B.C., Maybe.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be sul person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State..

JLASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word

3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY

fleds must be paid in advanwith Student Publications.

Cash, check, MesterCard or Visa are accepted. There is a $10 service charge on all returned checks.

We reserve the right to edit, reject or roperly classify any ad.

EADLINES

DEADLINES

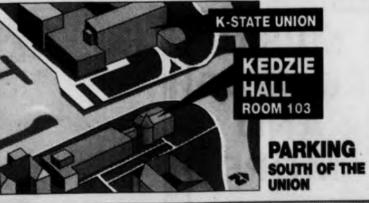

CANCELLATIONS

If you sail your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

ED AD IN KEDZIE 103 K-STATE UNION

FAX 532-7309

OFFICE HOURS 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private DLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed minimum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholarship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485. 1992 ROYAL Purple! Did you forget? Pick it up today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open stop studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an ap-

ADVANCED FLIGHT
Training. Multi-engine, instrument, commercial,
ATP, CFI ratings.
Private and instrument
acound school. ground school. Hugh Irvin at 539-3128

ANGRY? FED up? Tend to blow up when you're mad? Learn a new way... Try our work-shop, "Handling Anger Assertively." Call now for information 532-6927.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

EATING DISORDERS Therapy Group: Discuss the thoughts, feelings and behaviors associated with this problem. Common concerns include difficulties with depression, self-esteem, body image, family and relationships. Call University Counseling Services, 532-6927.

FOR A good time call Miss Mona and the girls at 532-6428.* Things are happening at the Chicken Korean Food Festival. All you can eat (Bolgo-gi Dinner). Rice, Kimchi, Beef, egg roll, vegetable noodle. $4.50 ($3 for children). Oct.3, 1992. 4:30–7:30p.m. At the International Stud-ent Center. Sposored by Korean Church of Manhattan. Everyone's Welcome!!!

SUMMERTIME ONE Day
Diet. Anyone can stick to a diet for a day when they know they can eat what they want the next day. For more information contact Clifton Beth (913)537-0850

free for three

$100 REWARD. Lost cat white, male, front de-clawed. Lost Sept. 27 Candlewood Dr. and Kimball Ave. Call days 537-0537, evenings FOUND: GRAY striped, fe-male, cat in the North-view School vicinity. Appears to be litter box trained. 776–1124.

FOUND: WOMANS silver bracelet by Denison given to English Department Secretary.

LOST- GOLD bracelet watch, lost in Ag-gieville, Sentimental value, reward offered

LOST IN Aggieville, Fri. Sept. 25: Black, Olym-pus IS-1 camera in soft case. PLEASE call if you have knowledge of it; nave knowledge of it believe it or not, but i has strong sentimental value. Large reward-without questions. Please call 539–4247, and leave a message.

BULLETIN BOARD

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other

ATTENTION ALL Kappa Deltas- come join us, say 5ish, for friends, we think you are the greatest and we want to see you there! AOT,

DERB MAN, Two years down and a lifetime of love to go! Happy An-niversary! SS

ETY618- HI! I saw your smile and wave on Tuesday, and am interested in meeting the person behind them. I know you were just being "neighborly" - so even meeting a new friend would be great enjoy most kinds of munature; animals the beauty to be found and laughing at/ with life. Sound differentbut worth a try? Re spond to *Dreaming via the Collegian, or

G-PHI HOUSEBOY NORM congratulations on your engagement. She's a lucky girl! Love,

SHOOTER- B-DAY blues are sad and true, but I'm the one that's there for you. I'll take you out > of the bash. We'll dance all day and dance all night by electric candelight. But don't you worry and don't you fret cause your 21st is going to be the best yet. -T.

THANKS TO you all who called and wished me Happy Birthday. The older you get, the long-er you celebrate!! Yee-

TO ROULETTER Dates; On Oct. 2 you'll be glad that your here, 'cause Rouletter's back for the party- it's our heart and our soul, so back to the country the wagons will roll. Our hats are all shaped and our jeans are all pressed. Ladies this party is not to be missed. Drinking and dancing 'neath wide open spaces, raising some hell with our friends in low places. And at the end of the just a drip, if you're lucky you'll learn the AGR grip. So get ready to go, 'cause Rouletter will show, no one parties like Alpha Gamma

"NERD" AND Mom- Hope we don't have to "carry" tomorrow night- Love. H.Y.B.E.

402 AND 404, Welcome to Manhattan- again! It's fun to have you visit so here's to another nice weekend! Love

DENNIS AND Carolyn-I'm almost grown up and I'm still a pain in you butt! As long as I have a car you'll still hear from me. TDH.

IN ANSWER to your question: Yes, I'm staying here! Thanks for all you love and support! I love vou, Kristen. KIM, KIERSTEN and Ashley- Enjoy your wee-kend and be safe! Stay warm; I'll try, but you know me, I'm NIP!

MA & Pa Wallentine How's it feel to only have one chick left in the koop? Thanks for your support.

MOM AND Dad Eb: Thanks for everything! I appreciate your understanding!! Lots of love, Kristy. MOM AND Dad Winslow, Thank you for all the love and support you have always given me. I love you, Cathy.

MOM AND Dad, "Thanks" for being you. Words cannot express how much you are appre-ciated and loved. Forever yours, Kelly.

MOM AND Dad, Thanks for always being there to talk to. I appreciate it more than you know. Love, Staci.

done? Check the Classifieds

MOM AND Dad- Thank you for all your support over the years. Once the RP is done I will teach you to golf. Love, MOM DUDE- Up for the game, we'll pray against rain, then go to Kite's and stay up all night. I've missed you.

MOM, DAD, and Grandma: Thank you for all of l love you! Jenni.

MOM-- THANKS for all the cookies! They're a good substitute for yogurt. You're saving me from

RAY AND Rita. What can say but you are the greatest. Thanks for ROBB- THANKS for coming and making my weekend special. You mean the world to me! Hove you. Kim.

SHERYL A .- Life is strange, but I'm glad we're to-gether. How about sion! Hang in there! Love you, CMC.

SUMNER FAMILY: I've missed you! Thanks the suppoet and for being so cool about the phone bill! Let's have

TO A precious, wonderful lady for whom I have the honor of being you son. I want you to know I love you dearly. Your TODD- YOU soccer stud! You'll always have at least one college woman cheering you on! Good luck Saturthank you for every-thing you have given me. I love you very me! Thank you for everything! You're the best! I love you! Love,

050

$2 Big Beers All Day; All Night

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very one, two bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid land lady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494–8201 or 889–4495.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable Leave message at

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use.

ROOMMATE WANTED utilities, washer and dryer, must love pets. Call 537-0635.

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT 1022 Moro Street #5. $300/ month water and trash paid. Call Xigang at 532-6430 (days) or 776-7596

TWO-BEDROOM APART MENT furnished wal wall, utilities paid, clean, $375, call 537-5176 or 537-5144. Saleh or Joe.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue Apartments, one block from campus. Call 539

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, plexes and houses with 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer, dryer and dishwasher $230 per person will match roommates. Call

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, $180

ONE BEDROOM basement, $240, bi 539-8401. bills paid, ONE-BEDROOM APART

Off-street parking, air microwave included $295 plus water. Avail immediately 539-5518 evenings.

campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

QUALITY TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Quiet neigh-borhood. Large yard. Refrigerator/ range fur-nished. Paid utilities except electric. $350/ month. Available Nov. Pets negotiable.
 539-7185 M-Th after

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bedroom. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 1-494-2449.

THREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $340/ month. 776-8628.

TWO-BEDROOM BRICK du plex, east of Westloop. Oct. 17. Stove, refrigerator, water, trash. Married or single pre-ferred. No pets or

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539–3672.

FURNISHPD OR unfur Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine 14X70 TWO-REDROOM excellent condition. $6500, 537-8741.

1992 14X70 three-bed room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

WHY RENT? Purchase : mobile home with Countryside's fantastic financing. Example #368 Redbud, 12x64 Skyline central air newly remodeled, very spacious, more to choose from. Call Mike at Countryside Broker age 539-2325.

old apartment next to campus and Aggieville. Everything is brand new. Off-street parking. 776-7240.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted to share three bedroom, close to cam pus, washer/ dryer, trash provided. $200 us one-third utilities ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large two 1825 College Heights Close to campus, Jaun dry facilities and central and heat. For more information 776-3804.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Typing

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539–5998 after $1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-Also specializing in ta bles, equations, and overheads. Profes sional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy

A B C typing service. You do studying. the let me do the typing. Reports, charts graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after ask

ALL TYPING needs done expensively and quick with laser printing

DOES WRITING papers make you sweat? Eng-lish grad student will

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/Speech for papers/ editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 dou-ble; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex

styles 776-0685. WANTED: ALTERNATE for (doo- wop) vocal group. Need first tenor with high falsetto. Perform around state evenings and wee kends. Good pay 776-4999, 537-1741

FOUR LOVING and playful kittens seek responsi ble, caring owners. Lit-ter box trained. dewormed. One and one

250 Automotive Repair

Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas Hondas and Toyotas Dipper Lane, Manhat tan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m. 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

EMPLOYMENT/ CAREERS

310 Help Wanted

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill in- store positions. Shift scheduling examples are: 5a.m. 1p.m.; 9a.m.- 5p.m.; 11a.m.- 5p.m. Also have many positions available for following type schedules: 5p.m-9p.m.; 9p.m.- 3a.m.; 9p.m.- 5a.m. Apply in person. Ask for Chris LEASING CONSULTANT

Part-time leasing con-sultant needed for a would be enthusiastic for excellence. Previous retail experience help ful and upperclassman are preferred. 15- 25 hours per week (includ ng Saturdays) and full time during the sum mer. Please call 776

tment community. A

NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experi Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open other hours available No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 Anderson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

PART-TIME ACCOUNTING payroll clerk for Man hattan Catholic Schools, Flexible hours. Excellent opportunity for senior or graduate student in Business or Accounting. Gain ex-perience for future resumes. IBM, Peachtree software knowl edge a plus. Send re sume, cover letter and three references Manhattan Catholic Schools 306 S. Juliette, Manhattan, KS 66502 Closing date Oct. 7.

RN AND LPN wanted for weekends. 7-3 shift at Valley Vista Care Center, a mental health facility in Junction City. Please stop by 1115 W

WANTED GIRLS Junior High basketball coach Teaching certificate preferred but not neces research study on exercise. Males or females 18 to 35 years more information.

GET

532-6556

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any employment opp with reasonable Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

(913)232-0454 products home. Easy! No selling. $200-$500 weekly. Assemble rect. Fully guaranteed. Free information—24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900. Copyright #KS13KDH

$252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4-6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For nore information call (800) 733-3265.

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens overalls. 776-7472.

OPEN MARKET

12X15 BEIGE carpet piece, $100.456-2614.

ADMIRAL 25-INCH color console TV $100. Hondo II bass guitar CANNONDALE RACING

bike, 21-speed, stand, $300 776-2343. COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Broth-er AX. Hull Business

gieville, 539-1413. EMERSON 19-INCH color ternal VCR, on screen, programming. Excel-lent condition $250. Call Julian 539-4891.

FOR SALE: Queen size wa terbed with heater. Good condition. Asking $100. P 537-4868. Please call

FOR SALE: two aquariums plus stand. One, fifty-five and one thirty gal-lon. Best offer. 539-6707. LOSE WEIGHT. Gain energy. 100 percent moneyback guaran-tee. 539-1252.

NIKES/ BASKETBALL; new, Ohio State colors; size 14; way awesome! $80, negotiable; 776-8402.

Gospel Choir. Yard sale lots of clothes and other household items cash For Apple note 537-2335.

MAC CLASSIC, four meg ram, 40 meg hard drive. Stylewriter print-er, software, 537-8990.

book computer, 386 SX, 20 MHZ, 2 MB Ram, 80 MB HD. Only pounds 537-0468.

Acoustic and Peavy Vortex Electric Guitars Must sell now!! Excel lent condition, reason ably priced, and negotiable. 776-4948

RICK'S MUSIC Shop. Guild, Randall, Gibson Epiphone, Fender Squire. 314 Tuttle Creek

450 Pets and Supplies

ssories. Call 537-2830. FOR SALE, one dwarf rabbit, eight weeks, started litter training. Very friendly, black and white, with supplies.

must sell. 532-3326. white chest, small, six months. Golden female coats. 1-494-8415. ROTTWEILER MIX, female spayed $25. Yellow lab puppy, male $35. Tabby kitten, male free call 456-2614.

boa constrictor, two years old, tame, with cage. $125. Call cage, $125. Call 539-4571 extension 29

TRANS-PORTATION

1971 VW Bus. New engine, new brakes, have pa perwork, custom paint. 587-0618.

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8, stereo, tinted windows, navy blue, power sterring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch.

1981 MUSTANG. Good

Condition, air condi-tioning, and sunroof. $800, or best offer. 537-1981 TOYOTA 4x4. Power steering, air condition, AM/FM cassette, camp-er shell, toolbox. Asking $2200. Runs great lots of fun! 776-7081. 1983 BUICK Regal, very engine and transmis sion. Loaded with op-tions, $2250 or make offer, Call 539-6809. 1985 TOYOTA Corolla GTS, red/ gray. Looks/anytime (keep trying). 1986 CHRYSLER Lazer red terior, t-tops, power

1. Call 911

runs/ drives great! High mileage. Retail $3650, $2150 firm! 776-4018

What do you do if you see a fire?

532-6556

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

010 Announcements

030 Personals

040 Meetings/Events

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE 120 For Rent - Houses

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes

145 Roommale Wanted

160 Office Space

200

30 EMPLOYMENT CAREERS 310 Help Wanted

DE FOR SALE U OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy 410 Items for Sale

425 Auction 430 Antiques

445 Music Instruments 450 Pets and Supplies

456 Sporting Equipment

460 Stereo Equipment

465 Tickets to Buy/Seli

Dog TRANS-PORTATION 510 Automobiles 520 Bicycles

530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

> TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Tour Packages 620 Airplane Tickets

630 Train Tickets 640 Bus Tickets

CATEGORIES To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads

have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first.

abbreviations. Consider including the price This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price

WE DO NOT USE PHONE PERSONALS

1026 Fremont, Fri. 12:30, Sat. 8:30.

book- Mac plus like software,

TOSHIBA T2200SX, note

FOR SALE: Ovation Ultra

30 GALLON Oceanic Hex Tank with stand. Ag-gressive fish and all ac

LAB MIX male, black with

THREE AND one-half foot

ing. The theater season and Harrod's sale await. Information: (913)532-6716.

> GET THE WORD OUT. 532-6555

2. Then call us News Tips

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

service directory OLLEGIAN Kedzie 103 532-6555 125 For Sale - Houses

020 Lost and Found

050 Parties-n-More

105 For Rent-

110 For Rent -

Apt. Furnished

Apt. Unfurnished

115 Rooms Available

160 Sublease

165 Land for Sale

SERVICE DIRECTORY 205 Tutor

140 For Rent - Garage

155 Stable/Pasture

210 Resume/Typing 215 Desktop Publishing

220 Sewing/Alterations

235 Child Care

240 Musicians/DJs

225 Pregnancy Testing 230 Lawn Care

245 Pet Services 250 Automotive Repair 255 Other Services

320 Volunteers Needed

Opportunities

415 Furniture to Buy/Seli 420 Garage/Yard Sales

435 Computers 440 Food Specials

TIPS FOR

This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang Choose thousands starting $25 Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929

right number KS13KJC RED 1984 Mazda RX-7 AM/FM cassette, four speed, lyr paint job new brakes. Great con dition $3500 negoti-able. Call 539-7735

everything five-speed Turbo. Go fast

520 Bicycles

1991 TREK 830 mountain bike. DX levers, DX top mount shifters. Hardly ridden. Beautiful blue. Mr. Tuffy flat protec-

1992 CANNONDALE R600

road/racing, 56 cm aluminum frame, 105 Groupo, Avocet computer and seatbag, low miles $700 or best offer 776-3057 CHEAP MOUNTAIN bike

Murray, good shape, 776-0994.

530 Motorcycles

white and gray, 2600 miles, two new helmets. $3400. 537-8892 1991 KAWASAKI Ninja ZX 7, 5000 miles on we cared for bike, $5800

make offer. Call 539-

YAMAHA MAXIM- 650 1982, 18K, very good

WANTED: SHARE ride

from Manhattan to Topeka for Drill 410th

Evac. Call Jen 776-7546

1990 HONDA CBR 600F

K-STATE BRITAIN intersession, fifteen days, $1174. The Pound is

SAN JUAN Students
**Xmas Break** San
Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kansas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

Royal Purple

In 10 years,
will you remember
the athletic victories,
all-night study sessions
and terrific friendships you swore would last a lifetime?
The Royal Purple will.

Order your 1992-93 Royal Purple from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union or come to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union). Total price is $21 - which includes yearbook and sitting fee.

KANSAS STATE HIT

OCTOBER 5, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 30

"I didn't

kind of a

Does this expect this turnout here.

mean you are

SEN. AL GORE

ready for a change?"

United against abortion

STEPHANIE FUQUA

Her blond pigtail danced in the hot Kansas wind. Anna Rundle, 4, pushed the hair out of her face and looked up at her father, Lynn.

Carefully watching his actions, she turned her sign around, so the words "Abortion Kills Children" faced the street, instead of her stomach.

"We usually do things as a family," Lynn Rundle said, explaining why he had brought his child to an abortion demonstration.

The Rundles were a part of the Life Chain, lining Bluemont Avenue Sunday from Tuttle Creek Boulevard to Juliette Avenue.

About 200 people attended the Manhattan demonstration, and there were similar demonstrations around the nation. Most of the protesters were members of Manhattan Kansans for Life and K-State Students for the Right to

"It is held the first Sunday in October," media spokeswoman Kim Schumm said. "It is an event that is going on in over 400 cities nationwide. There are also protests in Topeka, Olathe and Clay Center.'

Greg Tadtman, junior in

NEWS DIGEST

MARGARET CLARKIN/Collegian

Two children link together Sunday afternoon to form their block of the Life Chain. The anti-abortion demonstration stretched down Bluemont Avenue from Tuttle Creek Boulevard to Juliette Avenue.

political science, was also a media spokesman for the protest.

"Abortion kills children, and we've come to witness this to the community," Tadtman said.

Members of the media were

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A burning oil well

spewing thousands of gallons every hour raged

A 1 1/2-mile-long slick pushed past East

Timbalier Island off Louisiana's southeastern coast, and another slick half a mile long slid out

WELL out of control Sunday, officials said.

SLICKS into the Gulf of Mexico, the Coast Guard said.

only supposed to speak with media representatives.

'We're not supposed to talk. We're supposed to pray," one woman said when questioned. A block supervisor then intervened.

"We ask that you speak to the people with the blue armbands, the media representatives. They speak for all of us," she said.

* WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (RP) - A man was found innocent Saturday of coercing a co-worker

Frank Merlino testified that Williams forced him

NOT into raping his estranged wife. David Williams, 30,

RAPE admitted to it and is serving 4 1/2 years in prison.

GUILTY OF was acquitted of sexual battery with deadly force.

COERCING to rape his wife while Williams watched. Merlino

■ See PRO-LIFERS Page 14

Al Gore makes stop in Wichita

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WICHITA - Kansas can play a crucial role in the presidential election, Sen. Al Gore told a cheering, enthusiastic crowd of about 4,000 people Sunday night.

Your state - Kansas - has an opportunity to be decisive. Your state could make the critical difference," the Democratic vice presidential candidate said during a rally at Mid-Continent

Gore arrived at Mid-Continent about one hour behind schedule and spoke about 30 minutes, standing before a 25-foot-wide American flag outside a hangar belonging to a private aviation

The Tennessee senator, running mate of Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton, predicted the Nov. 3 election would be close.

He noted that Marilyn Quayle, wife of Vice President Dan Quayle, had said during a recent Kansas visit that Gore has proposed eliminating the use of all agricultural chemicals.

Gore said he has never proposed such a

"It just goes to show you they will say anything, do anything to hang on to power," he said of the Republican effort to re-elect Quayle and President Bush.

Gore emerged from his campaign plane as sound technicians played "We Shall Be Free," a new song by popular country singer Garth Brooks.

When he reached the platform after shaking hands along the front of the crowd, Gore said, "What a crowd this is. I didn't expect this kind of a turnout here. Does this mean you are ready for

The crowd responded by waving "Clinton-Gore" signs and cheering loudly.

Gore shouted over them, "Does this mean

Kansas is going to go for Clinton-Gore?"

The crowd got even louder. Gore appealed to his audience to re-elect Rep. Dan Glickman, a Wichita Democrat who has served in the Congress for 16 years.

Gov. Joan Finney, also a Democrat, introduced Gore.

MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

CREATES

Stereotypes pervasive in society

KATIE WALKER

Blaming Murphy Brown and single mothers like her for America's deteriorating family

Blaming Ice-T and other minority musicians for gang violence.

Stereotypes such as these may be inevitable, given an estimated world population of 5 billion, according to people who deal with stereotypes in their profession.

THNIC

Daily calendar - Page 2

Also see story - Page 3

WEEK

"The world is such a complex place. Stereotyping is a very normal part of our everyday lives," said George Peters, professor of sociology anthropology and social work.

"We all do it every day in all kinds of ways," said Newton, Fred director University Counseling Services. "We would be much better off if we get to know people for who they are. A lot of times, people don't want to make that investment. So, they take the easy way out." Stereotypes are not limited to race, religion or sex, Newton said.

"You get stereotyping occuring in all different directions. For example, being labeled a greek could be positive in one situation and negative in another. It depends on who is doing the labeling," Newton said.

Rhonda Herdt, sophomore in community health and nutrition, said she often gets teased about being a blonde.

"I'm hyper all the time, so they always think, 'Oh, dumb blonde'," Herdt said. "But it doesn't bother me because they're my friends. So, I know they're just joking.

Professionals who deal with stereotypes say it may be impossible to get rid of them.

■ See STEREOTYPES Page 14

singing the blues for 42 years.

Squeal, Lucille

Accompanied by his eight-piece band, bluesman B.B. King walls on his guitar, Lucille, for an enthusiastic audience Sunday night in Bramlage Collseum. The

Larry McCray Band opened the show for King, who has been playing and

SEE STORY PAGE 10

SPECIAL EVENTS

Objective of week to increase awareness

MEGAN MULLIKIN

Editor's Note: This is a partial reprint of a story from last week's Collegian. It is being reprinted here to inform readers of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, what it is and what activities are happening today. Increasing awareness and understanding of other cultures and races at K-State is the objective this week.

This week is Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, which began Sunday and will continue through

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, said he thinks the key word for the week is harmony.

"I have this burning passion that people can live together harmoniously," Franklin said. "We're all human, and we just need this time to put our differences aside."

Phil Anderson, faculty cochairman of the planning committee, said the week of events originated four years ago because of a racist incident in Aggieville.

The University responded by starting a week for students to become aware of racial, ethnic, religious and sexual differences, he said.

Franklin described the atmosphere at K-State as racial anxiety, as opposed to racial tension, which he considers more serious. Most of the anxiety can be attributed to lack of exposure or awareness, he said.

Student planning co-chairwoman Elsa Diaz, senior in industrial engineering and physical science, said she thinks the anxiety can be changed.

"When people grow up in a protective environment and are not used to a diverse environment, they may feel uncomfortable," Diaz said. "When they come to K-State and begin to attend classes where there are all kinds of people, that's when the anxiety begins.

"Anxiety is OK. It's a normal feeling, but it can be overcome,"

MONDAY HARMON WEEK

CLASS: 9:30 - 10:20	Manning Marable will conduct Race and Ethnic Relations in the U.S. class, "Ethnic identity and Interracial Relations in the U.S.," Waters 350.
CLASS: 10:30 - 11:20	Manning Marable will conduct U.S. Politics class, "A Domestic Marsha Plan: Finding New Urban Policies of the 90s," Umberger 105.
LUNCH:	Manning Marable and University President Jon Wefald speak, K-State Union Flint Hills Room.
SEMINAR: 1:30 — 2:30	Will Roscoe, "The 3rd Gender: Sexual Liberations and Cultural Survival in Native America," Union 212. (Anthropölogy 522B)
SEMINAR: 1:30 — 2:30	Will Roscoe, "The 3rd Gender: Sexual Liberations and Cultural Survival in Native America," Union 212. (Anthropology 5228)
LECTURE:	Will Roscoe, "Art, Religion, and Gender Alternatives: The Life and Times of a Navajo Berdache," Union Little Theatre.

KEYNOTE: Manning Marable, 'The Breakdown of American Politics: L.A., The Manning Marable, "Malcolm X, Black Intellectuals and Academic

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class

Activism," Union 212.

7:30 RM. 1992 Election and Beyond," Union Forum Hall.

postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167.

ws contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913) 532-6555.

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4

At 3 p.m., Kirk Hoeffner, 114 Goodnow Hall, reported theft of two rack locks and criminal damage to the er arms of his 1985 Mazda 626.

At 5:27 p.m., Jeff Sawarnski, 105 Goodnow Hall, reported a theft of eight compact discs from his residence hall room. Loss was $120. At 7:27 p.m., Robert Higgins, 8141 Widmer Road, Lenexa, had his red 1986 Honda Civic unlocked.

At 7:44 p.m., Angle Smith, 506 West Hall, had her vehicle jump-

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 4

At 12:03 a.m., James E. Walker, No. 22 Green Valley Trailer Court, was given a notice to appear for ossession of an open container.

At 12:45 a.m., the thefts of one book of parking tickets, three completed notices to appear and one Kansas driver license were reported. Victims were the Riley County Police Department, 600 Colorado St., and Derrick Jenkins, 708 Haymaker Hall. The tickets were recovered.

At 1:58 a.m., Eva M. Wiesner, 2508 Candlecrest, was issued a notice to appear for urinating in public.

At 2 a.m., Daniel L. Jackson, 14 Pick Avenue, Fort Leavenworth, was issued notice to appear for a minor in possession of alcoholic liquor and unlawful use of a driver's license.

At 2:10 a.m., Jenny Burke, 1700 N. Manhattan Ave., reported criminal damage to the driver's side door of a vehicle. Loss was $100.

At 2:15 a.m., Edward M. Wells, 6015 W. 91st St., Overland Park; Jeffery S. Tamasi, 8261 W. 115th St., Overland Park; and Davis A. South, 10718 W. 99th St., Overland Park, were given notices to appear for criminal damage to property.

At 3 a.m., criminal damage to property was reported by Kristina L. Scott and Lyndee M. Scott, 5528 Elsenhower St., Great Bend. Damaged were miscellaneous makeup, a blow dryer, a curling iron and a wall. Loss was $174.

At 5:26 a.m., Richard Lewis, 717 Goodrich, was involved in a vehicle fire in the 3000 block of Claffin Road. A major non-injury accident report was filed.

At 11:04 a.m., Baber Mins, 827 Ratone St., reported the theft of an equalizer/amplifier, two three-inch door speakers and a set of keys. Loss was $310.

At 11:28 a.m., Dennis E. Hostetler, Route 1, Box 210, Wakefield, reported criminal damage to property. Loss was $374.

At 2:08 p.m., a non-injury accident at 11th Street and Bluemont Avenue was reported involving Terrance Head, 606 S. 15th Street, and Mischelle Dering, Lot No. 6, Leisure

CAMPUS BULLETIN

Applications for community service program international summer teams are available in Eisenhower 014A. Spanish skills required.

■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Student Ambassador applications are available at the KSU Alumni Association office, 2323 Anderson Ave., Fourth floor. They are due Oct. 23.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

■ Apparel Design Collective will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Justin 252. Graduate Julie Durbin will speak on her career with the Lee Corp.

■ Chimes will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 213. ■ Alpha Zeta will meet at 6 p.m. in Weber 146. Shirt and tie required for pictures afterward.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have meeting for new members at 5:30 p.m. in Calvin 211. ■ German Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union Station.

■ New Currents music club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union Station.

■ Teachers of Tomorrow will meet at 7 p.m. in Denison 124. ■ Gymnastics Club will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Manhattan Gymnastics Center.

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie St. ■ Advertising Club will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 207. Stacy Bishop of Hallmark Cards will speak.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

■ Student Speech, Language and Hearing Association will meet at 7 p.m. in Cardwell 120.

■ SPURS will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 208. ■ College Republicans will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Throckmorton

132. Jim Van Slyke will speak. ■ Kappa Omicron Nu will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin 254.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have a meeting at 5 p.m. in Calvin 211. ■ Society for Creative Anachronism will meet at 7 p.m. at Ahearn Field House

■ Young Democrats will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 207.

■ American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet at 7 p.m.

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie. ■ Phi Beta Lambda will have an informational meeting at 7 p.m.

in Union 205 ■ Hispanic American Leadership Organization will meet at 6:30 p.m. in the ECM building.

■ Gay, lesbian and bisexual support groups will meet from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in Lafene Health Center. Women in Lafene 236. Men in Lafene 238.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny. High 80 to 85. Tonight, becoming partly cloudy. Low around 50.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST Mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance for showers.

High 70 to 75.

EXTENDED FORECAST Wednesday, cool with a chance for light rain. High in the 60s. Thursday, dry but continued cool. High in the 60s. Low in the mid-30s to low 40s. Friday, dry and warmer. High in the upper 60s to low 70s. Low in the upper 30s to low 40s

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

MANHATTAN 85/47 82/44 GOODLAND KANSAS 85/42 RUSSELL CITY 87/55 82/49 GARDEN CITY WICHITA 91/47 83/48 COFFEYVILLE 80/48

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	72/57	cloudy
Bermuda	80/75	cloudy	Rome	80/66	rain
Helsinki	55/41 59/54		Stockholm	57/41	clear
-			Vancouver	66/55	cloudy
London					_

AIR FORCE ROTC UNITS FILLED TO CAPACITY

NOT!

Don't believe everything you hear. The Air Force continues to seek outstanding students to fill future officer requirements. See yourself becoming a leader, graduating from college as an Air Force officer with fully developed qualities of character and managerial ability. Notice, too, the opportunities. Like eligibility for scholarship programs that can pay tuition, textbooks, fees...even $100 in tax-free income each academic month.

Visualize a crisp uniform that reflects pride in yourself and your ability to accept challenge. Get the picture? Now make a call!

> Capt. Royer Capt. Barham 532-6600 Aim High—Air Force

Lots of Features, Low Price!

1-Mo/4-Prog. Calendar/Timer

Speed Playback/Frame-

· Skip-Search/Search Lock

Panasonic PV-M1321 Combination VCR/13" diag. Color TV

- Quick Play
- OSD Programming
- Full-CH Dig. Quartz Tuning Frame-Still/Variable Slow/Double-
- 30/60/90 min. Sleep Timer Dig. Auto Tracking
- Auto Repeat
- · Book Mark Search

- Time Search
- Real Time Counter

- 53-Function Remote
  - Auto Op. Functions
  - Stand-by OTR

Advance in SLP

TV Mute

 Monitor/Channel Search Perfect for Dorm or Apartment!

20 Minutes West Through Ft. Riley

1-762-4447 630 Grant Ave. Junction City M-F 10-7 Sat. 10-5

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

Let us help YOU prepare for the journey

Next

Meeting:

Join the BAPP Club NOW

> Beginning Promising Profession

Increase your awareness of the College of Business and Career Opportunities

Thursday, October 8 4:30 P.M. Calvin Room 18 Speaker: Jay Laughlin

Democrats open local headquarters

SCOTT ABEL

Democratic candidates and their supporters opened the Riley County Democratic Party headquarters in downtown Manhattan Friday night.

The headquarters, at 426 Houston St., was filled with Democratic nominees and volunteers, many of whom are K-State students and faculty.

Mary Nichols, instructor of speech and candidate for the state school board, said University involvement in local government shouldn't be a surprise.

"Involvement is a natural outcome of a higher education, and the voters have got to make some big choices in this election," Nichols said.

Richard Nelson, professor of journalism and Democratic public relations consultant, said K-State faculty and students are volunteering because they want to improve society.

"University people live and work in Riley County," Nelson

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS

■ The headquarters at 426 Houston St. will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. weekdays.

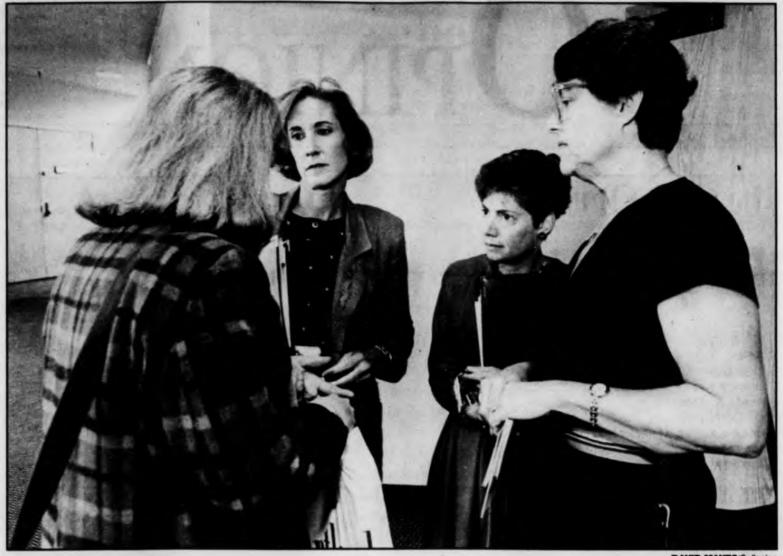

said. "They want to construct a community. headquarters will give them a place to hang their hats and coordinate Michelle Smith, sophomore in political science, is running against Senate incumbent Lana Oleen, R-Manhattan, for the 22nd District. She said the headquarters will help her campaign themes be heard.

The republican message this year is almost one of family slavery," Smith said. "They don't want women to be part of society. They just want them to stay home.

'We need everybody to stop sitting back and take control of

■ See DEMOCRATS Page 14

DAVID MAYES/Collegian

Hallway huddle

Tamara Hawk (far left), a social worker in private practice and parttime professor at K-State, talks with (left to right) Reps. Kathleen Sebelius, D-Topeka; Sheila Hochhauser, D-Manhattan; and Joan Wagnon, D-Topeka, Friday in the Manhattan Holidome. They had just attended a forum sponsored by the National Association of

Committee working to change college's faculty

"Yes, it is an issue. Yes, it is important, and we really are working on it."

Ansel Adams,

Talbot,

JUDITH ZIVANOVIC

Minority opportunities, faculty diversity main goals

COLLEGIAN STAFF

There are no black faculty in permanent fulltime positions in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Some people want to change that.

The Arts and Sciences Cultural Diversity Committee studies problems and concerns of minority students in the college.

The committee then serves in an advisory position to the dean by making recommendations for improvements.

departments and one person from the advising department.

The committee was formed by Tom Isenhour while he was serving as the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences and was then made permanent by Dean Peter Nicholls.

The colleges of Education, Human Ecology, Engineering and Agriculture have programs similar to the arts and sciences committee

The lack of equal opportunities for minority faculty is an issue the committee is working on now, said Melvin Center, committee chairman and professor of

"We are working together with the

SHOW AND SAL

Committee members are faculty from different tenured tract position in the arts and sciences college," Center said.

'We are trying to determine why this problem exists here and how this University can go about reversing this."

Judith Zivanovic, assistant dean of arts and sciences, said the college is aware of the

This is something that the college has been working on all along," Zivanovic said.

"Yes, it is an issue. Yes, it is important, and we really are working on it."

She said minorities are under-represented on the campus as a whole.

Several things have been done to improve the situation, she said.

For instance, the college is recruiting more minority graduate students into the college. The art department has brought visiting minority artists to K-State to do residencies.

The five-member committee has two ex- dean to try to understand why there is officio members and meets twice a month. not a single African-American in a B&W Photography, Art Reproductions, Contemporary European Images, Gallery Prints ≥ Sale! > Monet, Nature, Music, Personalities, Mo Animal Posters, Of The Rings Great Many New Items! Prices! Lilo Raymond Monday - Friday Van Gogh, Rockwell, October 5 - 9, 1992 K-State Union -First Floor Concourse 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. CAPS-LA TOUR LITTEL Rembrandt, Terrific Great Selection! Selection! Sports, MC Modern

Georgia O'Keeffe, Art Deco, Art Nouveau, Renoir, Travel Posters, Fantasy, Dance

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

OCTOBER 5, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Registrations reflect dissent

THE ISSUE

registration results have made it clear that this will not be a year for voter apathy.

WE SUGGEST

The enthusiasm needs to be carried to the actual election day, where voter turnout will really make the difference.

The word is out: Vote the bums out of office.

With a national fervor not seen in many years, the American public is coming out in droves to register to vote in the presidential election coming this November.

With women running for congressional positions at an unprecedented rate, a dilapidated economy and a general sense of dissatisfaction with the country's world position, people are taking the opportunity to make their voices

And it seems to be easier this election season. Registration tables and booths can be found all over. They thrive in malls, grocery stores, universities - anywhere where people over 18 number from a handful on up.

The figures practically shout renewed vigor toward the democratic process: 300,000 new voters in Missouri, 100,000 in Arkansas, 160,000 in Chicago, and 70,000 in Washington, D.C.

New Mexico, Utah and New York are also seeing dramatic percentage increases. But for all of this, one roadblock remains the election itself, when all these registered voters actually get out and hit the booths. In 1984, for instance, despite large numbers of people being registered, actual turnout didn't even jump a percentage point.

The key now is to sustain this intensity until November. To actually get out and vote for the person you think should be sitting in the Oval Office.

A chorus of voices can only be diminished when someone chooses to not sing along. The chorus increases dramatically with every voice added.

This country is very much a chorus of voices. The more that turn out to be heard, the more our illustrious leaders will have to listen.

We've done well so far.

Here's to a big turnout in November.

READERS WRITE

BICYCLING

Options do exist for victims of rudeness

In response to Lisa Edmund's column in Friday's Collegian, "Cyclists face unhealthy plight," I would like to encourage cyclists to report all incidents of harassment on the road to the police. While sending junk mail and other pranks for revenge may make us feel better in the short run, legal channels must be pursued if we want to protect our rights on the road.

The common belief that the police will not do anything when a cyclist's rights are violated is not necessarily true. Two weeks ago an egg was thrown at me while I was riding. I reported the incident to the Riley County Police Department. A young man now faces third-degree battery

You can't win if you don't play.

> Philip Cook Research assistant/Horticulture, forestry, recreation resources

STUDENT SUICIDE Dean's statements

The suicide death of K-State student Kent Leslie is indeed tragic. His passing - at such a young age, no less - must have flung great pain on his family and friends. It most certainly has given pause to some of us who did not know him at all.

belittle tragedy

Though Van Zile residents have established a memorial fund for Kent, the University's "response" to his death disappointed me. Roy Graber, who reported the incident in the Oct. 1 Collegian, noted: "Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of Student Life, said due to the fact that Leslie had a small network of friends, there was not enough interest in having a formal memorial service on campus."

Once again, K-State's trademark bean-counting mentality has reared its cold and ugly head. How large must a "network of friends" be to qualify for "enough interest?" Ten, 20, 100? Someone on this campus is grieving over the loss of Kent. Isn't that "enough?"

What about the rest of us? We have lost a member of our community. Doesn't that mean anything?

> Assistant professor/Architecture and

Robert Burns

▶ BEEF AND SEXISM Man-hater's column getting more tiring

In the past week, I have read Kelly Klawonn's columns, Sept. 23 and Sept. 30, and marveled at her stupidity and hatred of men. I think she should stop beating around the bush and write the column she really wants to write, "Why Kelly Hates Men."

Not all females are threatened by men. In fact, some of us like them. Several of my closest friends and some of the most talented professors I have been exposed to are men. It is insulting to judge people on the basis of sex alone. The real problem I have with Klawonn's columns is the fact that she acts as if women are incapable of controlling their own destinies and are constantly being manipulated, dominated and controlled. I beg to differ.

I hate to break Kelly's bubble, but just maybe the programs of speech pathology and social work are not being cut because the majority of faculty are women, but for more logical reasons. I doubt whether the fact that most of the professors in the department have ovaries or testicles really factors into the decision.

I admit that I am female. I also love to eat meat. In fact, beef is my favorite food because it is delicious and nutritious. And it pays my way through college. Contrary to Kelly's belief, the cattle my family raises exist on at least 15 acres per cow/calf pair. They aren't subsisting on hormones and chemicals, but Sandhill grassland and appropriate mineral supplements. Also some of the strongest, most independent women I know raise cattle.

Margaret Schmidt was generous enough to say Kelly has a pea-sized brain. I think that she had better ask for a neuron for Christmas so she can have two, i.e. a synapse.

Susan Stam Third-year student/Veterinary medicine

▶ BATTLE OF SEXES

Columnist provides hope for tolerance

We want to commend David Filippi for yet another fine column. When we read his arguments, we are encouraged and have hope that it is possible for us all to be tolerant, reasonable and understanding human beings, rather than selfish individuals who are more interested in attaining and maintaining power over others.

Amy Sage Webb Walter Squire Graduate students/English

Androgyny offers no solution to problems

David Filippi's column in the Oct. 2 Collegian proving the worthlessness of the men's movement has, once again, missed the mark.

I was pleased to find out that men and women's movements are unnecessary and we are closer to harmony than I had expected. After all, imagine how peaceful we would be if we changed "sexes" to "sex."

Perhaps David has missed it, but men and women do have differences. Filippi and others like him are taking the easy way out. Androgyny is not the answer. Peace will not come from denying our differences. Instead, we need to learn to accept each other. We need to learn to accept the masculinity and femininity in all of us. Denying this acceptance in the guise of androgyny will get us nowhere.

> Matt Schindler Sophomore/English

SPORTS NICKNAMES

Not all names cause for taking to streets

Editor,

I would like to correct one claim contained in the letter about sports nicknames written by Cheryl May et al. that appeared in the Collegian Oct. 2. The letter states: "The old argument about this issue is that if you substituted any other racial or ethnic group for 'Indians,' there would be riots in the streets." In fact, the Boston Celtics are named after the Irish, the New Knickerbockers are named after the Dutch. And there are no riots in the streets.

> Roger Trenary Instructor/Economics

TOLES

Liberal's actions mock beliefs

To even suggest that an opinion be thrown away betrays everything for which liberals supposedly stand.

Those on the left suffer from not seeing both sides

In our society, I've noticed that an individual's capacity for Ltolerance has little to do with his or her political, religious, racial or ethnic label. As a columnist, I've tried to play my part in establishing a truly diverse environment by expressing conservative ideas that are scarce on a liberal college campus.

Ironically, the source of the fiercest intolerance I've faced has come the from same group that has passionately preached tolerance liberals.

religious or even

When someone voices an JOHN opinion HART from conservative perspective, liberals cringe and occasionally bring up their bogus separation of church and state clause as an excuse to censor the offender. A letter to the editor in the Sept. 29 Collegian epitomizes the intolerance of many liberals.

Part of the letter read, "Maybe the Collegian should have a religion insert that can be easily removed and thrown away.'

I'm sure many readers applauded that statement, but it actually reveals the level of intolerance liberals possess. Since I express ideas you don't agree with, then isn't it best to just throw my columns away because I might encourage you to broaden your correct liberal politically perspective? To even suggest that an opinion should be thrown away betrays everything for which liberals supposedly stand. What happened to diversity? What happened to tolerance? Readers tolerated asphyxiating amount of liberal, anti-religion columns in recent years. Yet, when only a few conservative, pro-religion columns are printed, liberal readers recoil in horror. It seems when steps are taken toward a true diversity of ideas, liberals panic at the thought of forfeiting their ideological monopoly. Why is it when someone from the right takes a stand on an issue, he is "preaching." Yet, when someone from the left takes a stand he is "exercising his First Amendment right to freedom of speech?"

Liberals interpret a conservative who vigorously expresses his views as a person who is trying to impose his values on society. If he is conservative and religious, then he is trying to shove religion down everyone's throat. I fail to understand where liberals come up with this response. How can someone construe the mere presentation of ideas as an ideological imposition? It's easy to do if you're a liberal whose perspective on diversity and tolerance encompasses only those opinions and beliefs with which you agree.

To borrow this liberal argument, I could have a field day accusing liberals of imposing their values on

Every day, I'm bombarded with liberalism from television to the classroom. Yet I don't interpret that as liberals shoving their ideas down my throat but as a presentation of ideas. In fact, one of the main reasons I came to K-State was to broaden my perspective and to expose myself to ideas that would challenge my values. If I thought I was "politically correct," then I too would fearfully avoid absorbing any ideas that might reveal flaws in my belief system.

If liberals truly can't stomach being exposed to opinions that come from a conservative or, God forbid, religious perspective, then maybe they should move to the totalitarian country of their choice. If that won't suffice, then perhaps liberals should transport their lives to the pages of Orwell's "1984" and ally themselves with the thought police.

Airline prepared if workers do strike

USAir employees asked to give benefit, wage concessions

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — Negotiators for USAir and the International Association of Machinists participated in talks Sunday night in an effort to head off a threatened strike by thousands of ground personnel this morning.

The airline said it had a contingency plan to operate a substantial amount of normal flight schedules in case union members strike as threatened with the start of the shifts this morning.

"USAir will do everything possible to accommodate passengers on USAir or other carriers' flights," spokeswoman Susan Young said late Sunday. "All reservations offices are staffed to capacity in anticipation of very high levels of calls from passengers."

She suggested ticketholders call USAir offices after 3 a.m. today by which time the airline will know which flights it will operate in the event of a strike.

"USAir Express and the USAir Shuttle will operate as normal," she

The spokeswoman said she had no information about how the talks were going Sunday night and no idea how long they would last. However, she said the union had formally notified the company of its intention to strike barring a latenight settlement.

Union officials could not be reached immediately.

A strike would affect approximately 8,300 machinists, union members who perform a number of ground support roles in addition to maintenance.

USAir is asking all employees for wage, benefit and work-rule concessions.

The Arlington, Va.-based airline has lost more than $700 million during the last two years and wants approval for a partnership with British Air that would strengthen its financial standing.

The pilots' union already has to concessions, and nonunion employees have made concessions. But the machinists have argued that USAir wants them to carry an unfair burden.

Bob Byrum, president of the machinists local in Charlotte, N.C., has said that work-rule changes have been one of the main sticking points in the talks.

USAir wants to use lower-paid workers to push jets to and from gates, in addition to machinists, he said. The union fears that those workers eventually could replace the machinists. Industry analysts have said USAir probably would not have much trouble finding mechanics or flight attendants if the company decides to replace striking workers.

Fire department to have open house for schools

Prevention week to emphasize maintenance of smoke detectors

DEBORAH WHITSON

The roommates are sitting around watching reruns of "Leave it to Beaver," and someone notices a chirping sound. After looking under every couch cushion and pizza box in the house, unearthing everything but a cricket, it dawns on them. The smoke detector's battery has worn out. The solution seems to be taking out the battery.

Not if Scott Clark has anything to say about it.

"The problem with that is it never gets put back in," said Clark, inspector for the Manhattan Fire Department. "Two months later, someone goes, 'Why is this sitting here?' and tosses it in the trash."

One of Clark's goals for Fire Prevention Week, which began Sunday, is to educate as many people as possible about the importance of working smoke detectors, especially in apartments.

The week is observed in remembrance of the Great Chicago Fire of Sept. 9, 1876.

The Fire Prevention Bureau, a division of the Manhattan Fire Department, will be working with elementary schools during the open house at the department's training facility including demonstrations and tours.

One of the unique things about Manhattan is that one fire inspector checks all the city's apartment complexes. Clark has completed 70 percent of his inspections for the

"I hope after this week, the other 30 percent will be much easier," he said. "What I see that can be done for fire prevention is mostly in students' apartments."

"Test your detector; it's SOUND advice" is the theme for the week. According to statistics, 20 percent of home smoke detectors are not in working order, Clark said. He said he has encountered one highway.

JANET SATTERLEE

If you drive on Kansas Highway

For the 19th annual Fiji Run for

Leukemia, the Phi Gamma Deltas of K-State and the University of Kansas carry the K-State-KU

football game ball from the K-State

Fiji house to KU's Memorial

Devin Hall, K-State philanthropy

co-chairman, said members will take turns running 30-40 yards at a Stadium Oct. 9 and 10.

24 Friday, you might see fraternity members running down the week. Saturday, there will be an serious problem when advising people about smoke detectors. People believe if there is smoke in the house, that alone will awaken

"It actually has the opposite affect," Clark said. "The smoke will put them into a deeper sleep and keep them from getting out alive."

Nearly one-third of all home fires occur between midnight and 4 a.m. The need for a smoke detector is not as serious during the day, Clark said. If people are awake, they will be aware of the smoke

If a person lives in an apartment where the smoke detector is in a poor location or going off all the time, the landlord should be told,

HOME FIRE FACTS

- Smoke will not wake you up. It will put you in a deeper sleep.
- Almost one-third of all home fires occur between midnight and 4 a.m.
- Kitchens and showers can cause smoke detectors to go off unnecessarily.
- In Manhattan, all apartment complexes are checked by the fire department once a year.

Perot takes voter percentage from Clinton's support

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - The latest national polls released during the weekend showed Ross Perot's renewed campaign attracting the support of one in 10 voters, Bill Clinton slipping slightly and President Bush's percentage frozen in the 30s.

Cable News Network reported Sunday that Bill Clinton lost 5 points in a tracking poll that began Sept. 28 — going from 52 percent in the first three-day average to 49 percent and finally to 47 percent.

The candidates' average standing over the weekend in the CNN-USA Today-Gallup Poll was 47 percent for Clinton, 35 percent for Bush and 10 percent for Perot. Clinton's 12-point lead over Bush in the latest tally compared to a 17-point spread registered in the first three-day average when Clinton had a 52-35 advantage over Bush, and Perot stood at 7 percent.

Fiji run to benefit leukemia fund between runs. Hall said the game

K-State, KU ball will be dedicated at halftime. chapters expect The event is in honor of Rod Morgan, Fiji fraternity member, to raise $24,000 who died of leukemia in 1974. Members have been collecting donations for leukemia research.

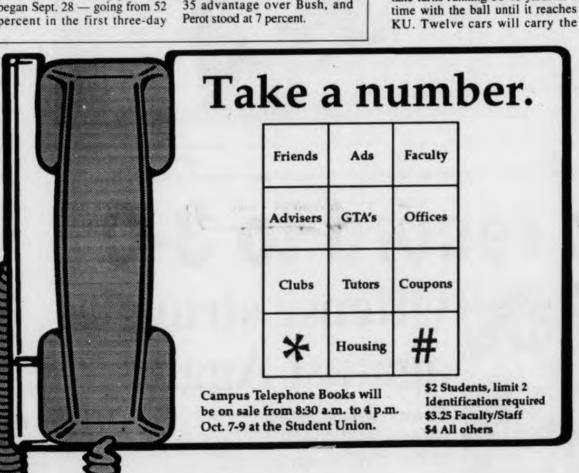

> Hall said donations from organizations and individuals are accepted and are not based on a dollar amount per mile completed.

"We've predicted to collect around $24,000 this year," Hall

In the past 18 years, more than $196,000 has been raised because of the run

Tammy Hale, spokeswoman for the Leukemia Society of America, said the K-State and KU Fijis are recognized by the society as outstanding contributors.

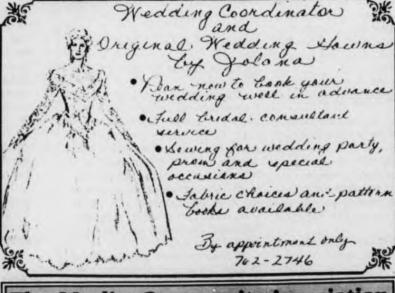

Donations are tax-deductible and may be sent to the Fiji house, 1614 Fairchild Avenue.

OCTOBER 15, 16, 17 8 PM

McCAIN AUDITORIUM TICKETS: McCAIN BOX OFFICE 532-6428

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Fourth Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM:

PART IV: Pillars of Islam (2)

Presented by Hisham Hidmi President of MCA.

Tuesday, October 6, 7:30-8:30 p.m.; at Kansas State Union, Big 8 Room.

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

ROYAL PURPLE

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209. Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

K-STATE FOOTBALL

MARGARET CLARKIN/Collegian

Brooks Barta pulls on New Mexico State's Troy Dublin as K-State's C.J. Masters heads him off during the Wildcats' 19-0 win Saturday afternoon in KSU Stadium.

Wildcats run record to 3-0

said. "I thought I left it out right, but it came back right into the Claassen lined up to attempt his

Claassen hit the left goal post,

"I still can't believe that I missed

Missing the extra point and a 39-

"I was pleased with some things yard field goal attempt in the last quarter left coach Bill Snyder with he did, but we still missed a couple of kicks off the ground and that's the reason of concern," Snyder said.

"We're still struggling when we are missing extra points and field

he was looking for and what led to a have to go on," he said. "That doesn't mean that Tate (Wright) is opportunity to see whether he can chance to get out there," Claassen said. "I've been improving the past few weeks, and I thought I could do

Consistency is what Snyder said

"The time has come. You just

"We wanted to give Warren an

"I was really happy to get the first extra point at K-State.

and the ball sailed wide.

that extra point," he said.

some mixed feelings.

change of kicker.

out of the picture.

perform any better."

it. But I can do better.

Warren Claassen watches his third-quarter, 30-yard field goal attempt take off Saturday at KSU Stadium. Claassen made two of three attempts, including a kick from 46 yards.

aassen kicks for Ca

"I was shaken. I couldn't stop shaking. So, I laid down and relaxed, and when I came out, everything was fine."

WARREN CLAASSEN

Warren Claassen waited a long time for the day he got his chance.

That chance came when the Wildcats played the New Mexico State Aggies Saturday.

Claassen, known as K-State's kick off specialist for the last two seasons, walked on the field to kick a field goal.

Looking forward to his first field goal attempt since his high-school days, Claassen said, he was nervous before the game.

"I found out Friday from coach Nick Quartaro," he said of learning that he would be the No. 1 guy in Saturday's game. "I could hardly sleep. I was real nervous out there at the start, because we kick extra points at the end of the warm up, and I missed one.

"I was shaken. I couldn't stop shaking. So, I laid down and relaxed, and when I came out, everything was fine."

Claassen's first chance to improve his longest ever field goal 36 yards at Frederic Remington High School - came with 9:28 minutes to go in the second quarter with the game scoreless.

Claassen kicked from 46 yards away - and made it. "I was so happy to make it," he Offense struggles against Aggies held the ball longer than you would Team not playing like.

as well as it needs to be, Snyder says

MIKE MAY Collegian

In a game not likely to be remembered for its entertainment value, K-State quietly went about its business for its third win.

But despite the fact that the Wildcats shut out New Mexico State 19-0 Saturday afternoon at KSU Stadium, Coach Bill Snyder said he wasn't happy with the team's performance.

"I learned we're not nearly as good as we need to be," Snyder

One area Snyder singled out as a continued concern is place-kicking. Junior Warren Claassen took over from Tate Wright and hit on two of three field goal attempts. Based on his performance, in all likelihood, he will go into the next ball game as the kicker," About three minutes later, Snyder said.

The Wildcats defense continued to make life difficult for the

The defense has yielded 26 points in three games. K-State ranks fourth in the country in points allowed, giving up an average of 8.7 per game.

'It was evident that any time you shut somebody out, you played pretty well on defense," Snyder

"A lot of guys played pretty well. There was only a couple of drives where they had any considerable amount of yardage or

After netting 27 yards of total offense on its first three drives, K-State scored the game's first points in the second quarter.

After the Wildcat defense forced New Mexico State to punt inside its own 10-yard line, the offense took over at the Aggies' 48.

Seven plays and 19 yards later. Claassen kicked his first career field goal, a 46-yarder, to put K-State on

Following the kickoff, on the first play from scrimmage, Kenny McEntyre picked off the first pass of his career. The Wildcats then went on the longest drive of the day. The eightplay, 72-yard drive included a 37yard Jason Smargiasso pass to Andre Coleman to convert on third down and 7, and it culminated in a Rod Schiller 1-yard touchdown run.

For sophomore Schiller, it was his third touchdown of the season after entering the season with one. Following the missed point, K-State led 9-0 at the half.

K-State had been outscored 13-0 in the third quarter of the first two games. The Wildcats changed that pattern against the Aggies.

The Wildcats took the secondhalf kickoff and drove from their own 24 to the New Mexico State 13-yard line, before settling for Claassen's second field goal of the

The 30-yarder gave K-State its first third-quarter points of the year and a 12-0 lead.

■ See K-STATE Page 12

SCORE BOX

	K-State	NMSU
First downs	19	16
Rushing yards	165	62
Passing yards	190	168
Compattint.	14-27-0	14-31-2
Return Yards	76	11
Total yards	355	230
Fumbles-lost	0-0	2-0
Penalties	6-55	6-57
NMSU 01	01010	- 0
K-State 0	9 10 0	- 19

INDIVIDUAL STATS

Rushing — K-State, Galton 19-94, Schiller 7-28, Edwards 3-11, Smargiasso 12-13, Smith 2-11, Colon 1-15 Garber 4-5. NMSU, Trushill 10-53, Dublin 13-34, Davis 2-19, Washington 2-3, Varne 2-0, Vessley 1-(-3), Pulen 7-(-20), Puteri 14-31-2-168.

Receiving — K-State, Benton 3-40, Coleman 4-88, Gallon 2-29, Schiller 3-14, Schreiger 1-14, Running 1-5. NMSU, Cutler 5-33, Varrie 2-47, Washington 1-11, Laing 1-15, Reagor 1-9, Dublin 1-9, Montgomery 1-7. Punting — K-State, Snyder 5-257, Wright 1-31. NMSU, Zecha 8-307. Tacktee — K-State, Venables 12, Griffith 5, C. Patterson 10, Williams 5, Barta 6, Randolph 5, Masters 6.

Secks/Yards Lost — K-State, Debney 1-14, C. Patterson 1-19, Kilian 1-7, Grifth 1-4, NMSU, Wall 3-20, Griffin 1-13.

OKLAHOMA 17 IOWA STATE 3

NORMAN, Okla. - The Cyclones held the Sooners to just 3 first-half points in the conference opener for both squads. But despite being tied up with the Sooners at the half, lowa State eventually lost to Oklahoma for the 29th time in the last 31 meetings.

Cale Gundy completed 21 of 28 passes to lead the 19th-ranked Sooners. He compiled 333 yards. including two touchdowns, in moving into second place on Oklahoma's career passing list with 3,056 career

The Sooners had numerous opportunities wasted by mistakes - six penalties, three lost fumbles and many dropped passes.

lowa State did a good job of stifling the Sooner running game, yielding just 27 rushing yards in the first half. Oklahoma finished with 104 total yards on the ground. The Iowa State defense also recovered three fumbles and picked off an Oklahoma pass.

The Cyclone offense, however, did little more after driving 46 yards in the first quarter for a field goal, never gaining more than 24 yards on any of their remaining possessions.

MISSOURI 44 MARSHALL 21

COLUMBIA, Mo. - The Tigers halted a dismal 9-game losing streak with a victory over the No. 1-ranked team in Division I-AA.

The victory over the Marshall Thundering Herd, now 3-1 and in jeopardy of losing its top ranking, gave Missouri its first win since the sixth game of the 1991 season.

Tiger quarterback Phil Johnson connected on 20 of 28 passes, good for 260 yards. Victor Bailey caught eight passes for 134 yards, moving him to the No. 10 spot on the all-time Missouri list.

The 44 points for Missouri were the second-most in the era of Coach Bob Stull and surpassed the 40 points that Missouri scored in its first three games combined. The Tigers also racked up more than 600 yards of offense for the first time since 1984, finishing with 641.

The 267 yards given up by the Missouri defense was the secondlowest total of the last three seasons.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN 13 OKLAHOMA ST. 11

STILLWATER, Okla. - The Homed Frogs from TCU won their first game of the season after freshman Max Knake connected with Stephen Shipley for a 6yard touchdown strike in the fourth quarter. The touchdown gave the Horned Frogs a 13-3 lead.

The Cowboys put together a drive in the fourth quarter after falling behind by ten. But the drive stalled at the 4-yard line, and the kicking unit came onto the field. After lining up, holder Scott Tyner grabbed the snap and tossed a 4-yard touchdown pass to Steve Keith, who made a diving catch in the end zone. A 2-point conversion narrowed the margin to 13-11.

The Cowboys, however, couldn't move the ball on their next drive, and the Frogs were able to run out most of the clock.

Knake finished the game with 155 yards passing. He connected on 16 of his 25 passes. He entered the game midway through the second quarter after senior Leon Clay was benched.

IDLE BIG EIGHT TEAMS

■ Colorado at Missouri, Thursday, 8

■ Nebraska vs. Oklahoma State, Saturday, 1 p.m.

■ Kansas vs. K-State, Saturday, 1 p.m.

BIG EIGHT STANDINGS

	W	L	PCT.
Colorado	4	0	1.000
Kansas State	3	0	1.000
Kansas	3	1	.750
Oklahoma	3	1	.750
Nebraska	3	1	.750
Oklahoma State	2	2	.500
Iowa State	2	3	.400
Missouri	1	3	.250

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

K-State's Martine Shrubsole fires a shot back to her Drake opponent Sunday afternoon during the KSU Invitational. Shrubsole won her match in three sets.

Tennis squad gains experience

"I'm really happy. I'm really proud of the last game. It's giving me a lot of confidence."

SUSANA LABRADOR

Match experience was what K-State's netters got out of the Wildcat/Traveler's Express Invitational Saturday and Sunday at the L.P. Washburn Complex.

The best match and winning experience went to freshman Maria Uson. Playing in the fourthlevel bracket of the tournament, Uson won all of her three matches straight in two sets.

Coach Steve Bietau said he was pleased with Uson's efforts.

"Maria got a lot of match experience, in particular against KU's (Casey) Cooley," he said of the Cats' 6-2, 7-6 win in Uson's second match Saturday. "She's getting what she needs. It gives her a chance to build her confidence."

No. 1 Susana Labrador opened the tournament with a tough win against Wichita State's Jo Ellen Walker, 7-6, 7-5. After losing to KU's Nora Koves 6-1, 6-1, Labrador regrouped herself to beat one of the best players in the Big Eight, Oklahoma State's Cristina Sirianni with

"I'm really happy. I'm really proud of the last game," Labrador said. "It's giving me a lot of confidence."

Winning against Walker also satisfied Labrador, because she lost to the Shocker player last week in the first round of the tournament in Lincoln, Neb.

"It was a close match," Labrador said. "I was tense and felt nervous. I was behind in both sets, but when I needed to, I came back.

Bietau also saw the positive side of Labrador's wins, but said the senior is still is away from what he called top form.

'Susana's play improved, but with all respect of Susana's performance, it was not the best Sirianni I've seen," he said. "Susana is capable of playing very well, but I'm still not satisfied with how she plays now."

Teammate Suzanne Sim, who played in the second pool, went winless in the tournament. Sim said she just didn't play up to what she's

"I'm a little bit disappointed, but at least the ast match was better," she said.

"I should have won in two sets against the Drake player," she said, referring to her 4-6, 7-6, 6-3 loss to Edwards Saturday. "But I know now what to work on.'

Bietau said Sim is a player who makes the other players work hard, and so did she in this tournament.

The fourth player K-State sent into the Invitational was sophomore Martine Shrubsole, who played in the third-level bracket.

Shrubsole, who won a challenge match against Uson Friday to get the spot in the third pool, lost her first two matches but came back Sunday to win against Drake's Larson in three

"This tournament was another step forward for Martine," Bietau said. "This weekend she played pretty hard. She's just beginning to learn how to compete."

Shrubsole, in her second year, is starting to have an appropriate attitude toward the game, Rietau said.

"She's starting to play the right way," he

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

They ain't gonna beat KU like this

With nearly one-third of the football schedule completed, the Wildcats find themselves in unfamiliar territory - disappointed despite a 3-0

True, the Cats are one of just two undefeated teams in the Big Eight. Indeed, K-State is riding a 6-game winning streak, the longest in the conference. And K-State is undefeated - the Cats are playing good enough to win

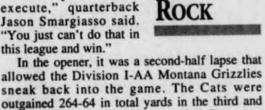

But heading into a crucial game against the suddenly dangerous Jayhawks, who will be playing on 16 days rest about its nationally televised loss, good may not be enough. Saturday's victory over New Mexico State provided further concerns for Coach Bill Snyder and his and plenty of time to think staff. Not only do the Cats have to worry about second-half letdowns, they have to worry about firsthalf ones as well. "We just didn't execute," quarterback

Jason Smargiasso said. "You just can't do that in this league and win."

held to just 16 yards passing. But the Cats did play good enough to win. Against the 1-4 Temple Owls, it was the same situation. K-State was outscored 14-7 in the second half of the 35-12 victory. The Cats gained fourth quarters of that game, and K-State was just 123 yards in the second half of that game. Once again, they played good enough to win. Against the Aggies, a game that the NMSU coach wanted no part of, claiming his squad was no competition for the more powerful Cats, it was the first half that provided the letdown. K-State was held to just 44 rushing yards on 20 attempts in that opening half. The Wildcat offense struggled all afternoon, scoring 19 points on a team that had been giving up an average of 33 points a game against the likes of Weber State and Texas-El Paso.

But for the third straight week, the Cats, despite a lackadaisical effort, played good enough to win.

"I wasn't at all happy with our offense,"

Snyder said. Indeed, the Cats have to iron out the offensive woes to be a true competitor in the Big Eight. Without improved play, the conference season will be a long one.

And the Cats will soon find out that good just

Men's team wins tournament

KRISTEEN YOUNG

The K-State golf teams returned from the weekend's tournaments with varying attitudes. The men's team won its first tournament of the season at the Iowa State Invitational while the women placed fourth at Northern Illinois.

The men competed in a one-day, two-round tourney on Sunday in Ames, Iowa, and finished with a medal and renewed confidence.

"It's great for the team to beat Iowa State and Wichita State. For them to win a tournament, they have to gain a ton of confidence," Coach Mark Elliott said. "And to beat the No. 2 team, Wynona State, by 21 shots is impressive." It was their third meeting with the Shockers, and the third time K-State placed higher. They also finished with an outstanding round two of 291 strokes, the second best team round in K-State's history. The team's total of 587 shots is also a new school record. In the individual standings, the Wildcats dominated the field of golfers. Three K-Staters were among the top Sophomore Brett Waldman won his first collegiate tourney, and junior Sean Robertson was only two strokes behind him in second.

Senior Richard Laing placed fourth. "It's great that for the first time since he's been at K-State, Richard is being pushed by his teammates," Elliott said. "It can only make him even better."

The women didn't return from Illinois with the confidence that their fellow golfers did, Elliott said.

"I don't think they were real happy with fourth in that tournament. That was as bad as they could have placed. We

IOWA STATE INVITATIONAL

Individual places for members of the K-State

men's golf team.	No. of Concession,
Player	Totals
■ 1st place, Brett Walderma	an 71-72
2nd place, Sean Robertso	n 74-71
4th place, Richard Laing	76-72
11th place, Jason Losch	75-76
no place, Chad Judd	80-90

were looking at least at second." K-State finished behind tournament winner Iowa State, Illinois State and Northern Illinois in the ten-team tournament

MIKE WELCHHANS/Collegian

Senior Valerie Hahn finished in third.

the only Cat placing among the top 10.

Elway magic buries Chiefs in 4th ... again

ASSOCIATED PRESS

DENVER - John Elway continued to torment Kansas City and Marty Schottenheimer, throwing two touchdown passes in the final two minutes, including a 12-yarder to Vance Johnson with 38 seconds left, and Denver beat the Chiefs 20-19 Sunday.

Trailing 19-6 after Nick Lowery's fourth field goal of the game with five minutes left, the Broncos drove 80 yards in 14 plays, capped by Elway's 25-yard pass to Mark Jackson in the right corner of the end zone with 1:55 left. That ended a string of 12 quarters in which the Broncos had failed to score a touchdown.

Kansas City rookie Dale Carter returned the ensuing kickoff only to the 5-yard line. After the Chiefs punted, Denver rookie Arthur Marshall returned it 28 yards to the Kansas City 27. Elway hit Marshall on passes of 11 and 4 yards, then found the recently activated Johnson in the end zone to cap the dramatic comeback. David Treadwell's extra point skimmed the upright but went through, providing the deciding points and sending the Chiefs to their 10th straight loss at Mile High Stadium. It also was the ninth loss in 10 games for Schottenheimer as a coach against the Broncos.

The victory lifted the Broncos into sole possession of first place in the AFC West at 4-1, while the Chiefs fell to 3-2.

Krieg finished the game with 301 yards passing. He connected on 22 of 31 passes, including 10 in a row in one stretch. Elway was 23-for 38, good for 311 yards. Neither quarterback threw an interception. For the Chiefs, wide receiver Willie Davis hauled in 5 passes for 127 yards, including the first touchdown of his career, a 50yarder in the second quarter. Kansas City's Barry Word rushed for 84 yards on 24 carries.

For Denver, Shannon Sharpe caught nine passes for 118 yards.

had a 19-6 lead when Denver drove 80 yards for a TD with 1:55 left. Then, the Broncos forced KC to punt, before putting the game away.

CROSS COUNTRY

Wildcats run strong meet

Women's team captures 1st, men's harriers place 3rd FRANK KLEEMANN

The K-State cross country teams were in top form Saturday at the Oklahoma State Jamboree in Stillwater.

The Wildcat women's team placed first in the team race, and the men took third in their division.

"I'm real happy how the teams did this weekend," Coach John Capriotti said. "It showed that we're headed in the right direction right now." The women's team repeated its season opening win from two weeks ago, with the seven runners staying together through the race to finish individually between third and ninth, all in a stretch of 40 seconds. Pittsburg State finished second, and New Mexico came in third, respectively.

Like the Wichita meet, Paulette

Staats and Jennifer Hillier led the pack. Staats finished third. Hillier, four seconds behind Staats, was followed by teammates Martha Pinto, Cari Warden, Lesley Wells, Jeanene Rugan and Janet

"We were competing really well," Capriotti said. "We were well-packed together and stepped up from the performance at Wichita.

"Having between the first and seventh runner 40 seconds, that's really good," he said of K-State's seven

K-State men's harriers, with a thirdplace finish, had an improved meet, .

"I thought the men really looked better," he said. "However, we were not with full strength. We still have a long way to go."

Placing behind national champion Arkansas and HCA-Wesley Club of Wichita, but in front of Blinn Junior College and nationally ranked New Mexico, Capriotti said he was satisfied.

Capriotti was particularly pleased with the individual performances, he

Francis O'Neill, running his first race for the Cats, led the team with a ninthplace finish. Yared Berhane came in 17th and Mike Becker finished 20th. The trio was followed by Ryan Clive-Smith (25th), Anthony Williams (33rd), Billy Wuggazer (34th) and Richard Mick (39th).

"Francis ran really tough, and I was very happy with that," Capriotti said. Becker ran a lot better this time, and Ryan and Yared had good races. And Williams, as fifth runner, can run as well as the first.'

Running against tough competition, Capriotti found out what the team is capable of in the next races, he said.

"I'm happy, but I expect them to do better in the future," he said. "We had a split of about one minute (among the seven runners), but we'll get it down to 40 seconds. After a while, I expect them to be a lot faster."

SPORTS DIGEST

VOLLEYBALL SQUAD LOSES AT IOWA STATE

The K-State volleyball team suffered its second consecutive loss Saturday, when the Cats fell short to lowa State at Ames in three games, 17-15, 15-7 and 15-11.

The loss moves the Cats to 5-8 for the season and 0-2 in the Big Eight league. lowa State went to 10-3 overall and 1-1 in the conference.

Kathy Saxton led the Cats with 25 kills and 51 attempts, surpassing the seasonhigh records for a three-game match.

TWINS BLANK ROYALS IN SEASON FINALE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - Two of the game's biggest names ended 1992 Sunday with 1993 very much in doubt.

George Brett singled and doubled in two at-bats, and Kirby Puckett got his majorleague leading 210th hit as the Twins shut out the Royals 6-0. Brett, having achieved 3,000 hits in 19 years, will ponder retirement. Puckett is likely to be one of the most sought after free agents.

CIVII WAR

Kansas to give remains of Quantrill to Missouri

"I am willing to put him in Northern soil. Some may not be so openminded."

EARL OLMSTEAD

SSOCIATED PRES

JOPLIN, Mo. — Long after notorious Civil War raider William Clarke Quantrill made it the site of his bloodiest attack, the state of Kansas is surrendering his remains to be buried in Missouri.

Except for his skull, which is in a museum in his hometown of Dover, Ohio, Quantrill's remains have spent the last 88 years out of sight in a storage box at the Kansas State Historical Society in Topeka.

They will be buried Oct. 24 at the Confederate Memorial Historical Site near Higginsville, Mo., said Robert Hawkins III, national commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

Hawkins, a Jefferson City lawyer, told the Joplin Globe that Quantrill should be afforded the dignity of Christian burial.

"At Higginsville, the site of the former Confederate Veterans Home, he will be among 800 veterans and dependents," he said.

Quantrill's notoriety stems from an Aug. 21, 1863, raid on Lawrence, where his men killed more than 150 Kansas men. They missed the man they wanted to hang, U.S. Sen. Jim Lane, who had led raids on Missouri civilians.

Quantrill, who was commissioned as a Confederate partisan ranger, fought throughout the war and was feared by Union commanders. Sometimes riding with Frank and Jesse James, Quantrill roamed through several states.

He was finally wounded and captured, and died in a Union military hospital in Louisville, Ky., June 6, 1865. He was 27.

The historical society in Dover voted Thursday to give up the skull, but only if it and the bones were buried in Dover without public ceremony.

"I am willing to put him in Northern soil," trustee Earl Olmstead said. "Some may not be so openminded."

That was not acceptable to Hawkins, who said a Catholic priest and a color guard of Civil War reenactors will be at the Higginsville gravesite, about 50 miles east of Kansas City, Mo.

"The war on the border was more brutal than elsewhere," he said. "We are recognizing not just Capt. Quantrill, but the partisan rangers who rode into the brush with him, forced there by occupation authorities."

WORLD

Bloodshed continues in Georgia

Russia warns that agreement violation could lead to war

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW — Russian Defense Minister Pavel Grachev warned Sunday that Georgia's plan to take control of Russian military equipment on Georgian soil would violate agreements between the two countries and could spark a war.

Meanwhile, Georgian officials said that on Saturday, an unidentified military helicopter tried unsuccessfully to attack a helicopter carrying leader Eduard Shevardnadze and other leaders to Sukhumi.

Muslim separatists in tiny Abkhazia, on Georgia's western Black Sea coast, have fought Georgian government forces for six weeks in what has become one of the former Soviet Union's bloodiest ethnic battles.

On Saturday, Georgian warplanes bombed the coastal resort city of Gagra, a day after rebels forced government troops from the city in fighting that left at least seven Georgians dead and 74 wounded.

Shevardnadze, the former Soviet foreign minister who heads Georgia's ruling State Council, said the seizure of Gagra was timed to disrupt parliamentary elections planned for next Sunday. But he vowed there would be elections, Russia's ITAR-Tass news agency reported.

Shevardnadze, taking an increasingly militant stance toward the Abkhazians, ordered his forces to take up positions near Gagra and said he would call up as many as 40,000 reservists to quell the rebellion Saturday.

After meeting with Russian officials Sunday, Shevardnadze said the State Council had decided to transfer all military equipment belonging to the former Soviet army to Georgian jurisdiction.

In letters Sunday to NATO and the Council on Security and Cooperation in Europe, the Council accused hard-liners in the Russian parliament of provoking violence in Abkhazia, the Interfax news agency reported.

"There is an open conspiracy by Abkhazian separatists and reactionary forces of Russia," the

Royal Purple

When you've obtained a master's degree from Yale, own three sports cars, have a vacation home in Hawaii, earn $2 million annually and have three adorable children — will you still remember being a Wildcat? The Royal Purple will.

Order your 1992-93 Royal
Purple from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 in the Student
Union or come to Kedzie 103
(east of the Union). Total price is $21 - which includes yearbook and sitting fee.

Old Textbook Sale UP TO 80% OFF! BOOKS AS LOW AS 49¢

- Hundreds of new & used textbooks
- Various fields of study
- Some previously used at K-State
- Old editions
- Wholesaler overstock

Don't pass up this great opportunity to add to your persnal library at a fraction of the regular cost!

"We Give You Our Best"

Monday-Saturday

12-5 Sunday

KSU to build gardens for education, functions

Idea finally to be implemented by horticulture department

Collegian The KSU Gardens is an old idea that is becoming a reality.

The idea for the KSU Gardens first surfaced in the horticulture department in

However, Tom Warner, head of the Department of Horticulture, Forestry and Recreation Resources, said the idea wasn't acted on until about four years ago.

A garden advisory committee was formed to provide support and funding for the KSU Gardens.

Warner said the process of building the gardens began last year with the creation of a design team. The team includes landscape architecture faculty and experts in plant material and design.

"The reason for the gardens is first and foremost education," Warner said

He said the KSU Gardens will provide an educational experience for students and visitors to K-State.

Rock, woodland, water, sculpture and formal gardens will be included in the

The area will also have a sensory garden designed for people who have difficulty viewing a normal garden. Fragrant plants and raised plant beds will allow visitors to touch plants.

Warner said a commons area will be set up in another area of the gardens. This section, which will have flower beds and sturdy turf grass, can be used for University functions, weddings and other events.

Warner said the gardens are being planned so that some plants will be in flower from early spring until the first frost. Diversity of plant life is the key, he said.

A garden team in the horticulture department will choose plant materials for

The KSU Gardens will be located in the area bounded by McCain Lane, the Veterinary Medical Sciences Building, Denison Avenue and Mid-Campus Drive. Also included will be the area east of Denison from the north side of the greenhouses to the corner of Denison and

A conservatory and a rose garden are already located north of the greenhouses. But the area is currently used to store construction equipment for the Throckmorton Hall addition, and the new garden cannot be built until the expansion project is completed.

Warner said the ponds for the garden might be built next year. Phase one of the KSU Gardens, the area south of the Veterinary Medical Sciences Building, will be completed in five years at the earliest, he Mark Taussig, landscape architect with the Division of Facilities, said final design specifications for the gardens are being drawn up in his office.

The preliminary plans were created by landscape architecture students last spring, Taussig said.

Edward Rice, assistant vice president of administration and finance for physical facilities, said the gardens will be funded through private donations to the KSU Foundation.

Warner said the foundation will establish an endowment for maintenance and for hiring a director.

Meet your match

Want to meet that cute guy in your anatomy class? Advertise in the Collegian personals. Only $5 for up to 20 words. You'll meet your match in no time.

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

532-6555

Cat Coupon Clipper

Advertisers:

10%OFF 10%OFF 10%

10% Discount

Nu-Design

Decorating Center

Complete Line of Decorating Products

See us for all your decorating needs

Expires Oct. 12, 1992

your next cat coupon purchase. Present coupon with purchase Exp. 10-8-92

1116 Moro 537-0886

11 a.m.-1 a.m. 7 days a week

This coupon good for Kung Pao Chicken $3.75

Dine-in & carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY MENU (Minimum order $9)

Expires 10/12/92

This Week's Specials Taco Burgers 2 for $1.45 reg. $1.15 each Burrito Dinner $2.77 reg. $3.70 Good through 10-10-92 Sun Thurs 11 am 10 pm Sat 11 a.m. Midnight 2809 Claflin 539-2091

Great Memories Start

Sigma Kappa Oct. 5-6

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

NATIONAL

MEDICAL RECORDS

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER

532-6544

Week 1992

1-800-377-9309 Junction City

Remnants

Remnants

Remnants Remnants

Remnants

Remnants

Remnants

Remnants

117 W. 8th St.

Guinea Pigs only $10.99 with coupon

Regularly $14.99 (while supplies last) 539-9494

Vertical Blinds

(913) 762-2634 (913) 762-6643

Ceramic Tile

Mini-Blinds

Cabinets

Drapes |

Viny

Carpet

Little Caesars

2 MEDIUM PIZZAS LOADED EXTRA CHEESE AND 3 TOPPINGS

Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Pizza! Pizza!

Little Caesars Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always!

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MENDAY MADNESS!

2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

YOUR CHOICE: • ONE OF EACH! PANIPANI" es only with coupon at participating Little Coupins available at additional cost "Exclusive every classes Expires 10/25/92

P Livile Cherria

PARTY PACK! 4 large pizzas with cheese

> YOUR CHOICE: ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND!

Excludes extra cheese Expires 10/15/92

Livile Chanas

Makin'it great!

CALL THE LOCATION NEAREST YOU.

 AGGIEVILLE 539-7666 WESTLOOP 539-7447

•3RD & MORO 776-4334 $200

Any Delivery Order

Not valid with any other special offer 1/20 cent cash redemption value. Good only on delivery orders in Manhattan, KS @1992 Pizza or any other promotic Open 7 days a week Advertise with coupons?

(Min. Order 89)

BUNDE Chinese

Restaurant & Lounge

539-0888 539-8888

Dining-in Coupon

10% Off

When you present eoupon Not valid with Buffet

YOU BET!

OLLEGIAN Advertising 532-6560

ONE HOUR PHOTO & PORTRAIT STUDIO

Quality Processing Fast | Quality Processing Fast I Reprint Special 40% off

Processing (35 mm, 110, 126, C-41)

EXPIRES 10/15/92 Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m. | Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m. Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Not valid with any other promotion

(35 mm, 110, 126) EXPIRES 10/15/92 Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

29¢ each

Not valid with any other promotion

134 Gardenway 776-9030 1134 Gardenway 776-9030 across from Westloop across from Westloop

CORKY'S SMOKEHOUSE AND CATERING

Sun. 11 a.m.-7 p.m. $5.25 Noon-$6.50 Evening CLOSED MONDAY Tues.-Thurs. 11 a.m.-8 p.m. Fri.-Sat.

Let us do your cooking All-you-can-eat buffet.

3515 Hofman Ln. East of Manhattan on Hwy 24 beside Dick Edwards Ford

11 a.m.-9 p.m.

Slab of Ribs with

Student ID EXPIRES 10-15-92  Evening Buffet

EXPIRES 10-15-92

B.B.'s blues can still excite, energize

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegian

B.B. King and his blues band await response from the audience during their two-hour performance Sunday night.

Bluesman and band joke, jam to audience delight

The thrill is anything but gone for B.B. King and his fans.

The King of the Blues lit up Bramlage Coliseum Sunday night with more energy than some bands whose collective ages would equal his. Singing and playing the blues for the last 42 years has only strengthened his performances.

The Larry McCray Band, a four-piece set, opened the show with an hour of rollicking, strong playing. McCray draws on the Albert King's, no relation to B.B., style of guitar - searing and electric.

Then King's eight-piece band decked out in muted-purplejacketed tuxedos - rolled out the carpet for him with a couple of instrumental pieces featuring solos from each member. In King's place sat Lucille, the black Gibson guitar that is his longtime talisman

"Let the Good Times Roll" kicked off King's performance, and roll the band did for two solid hours of heartwrenching wails, shaking strolls and soft shuffles.

King let loose on Lucille, perched high on his considerable belly, and alternately grinned and scowled at her cries. Thumping his hand with his fist to time, he moaned over bad women and praised good ones. He mocksulked over his lying neighbors and pleaded with God for forgiveness.

The band was stocked with accomplished musicians who still sound fresh and energetic. They and King traded gags along with solos, teasing each other and the

REVIEW

At times, the strong horn section threatened to steal the show, choreographed like a 1960s girl group. Most flamboyant was the trumpet player, a 14-year veteran and senior member of the group, whipping his head side to side and snapping his arm out.

King played to and with the members of the audience like they were all old friends. When he called out to his fans, they answered back heartily to sympathize or to celebrate with

"I'm just having fun with ya. You don't mind having a little fun, do ya?" he said.

It's was more like he was just across the room than up on a

The coliseum was reduced to half size for the show, bringing capacity down around 2,600. Though only 1447 tickets were sold, the crowd was wound up enough to make it feel packed to the gills.

Songs like "Ain't Nobody's Business What I Do" and "The Thrill is Gone" are standard favorites King and company could have walked through like a thousand nights before, but they were solid and exciting.

New material had the King flavor without seeming repetitious, including a tribute to some friends who have passed on.

Independence voted in; autonomy out

Kurds, Shiites join forces in attempt to oust Hussein

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NICOSIA, Cyprus - The parliament of Iraqi Kurdistan voted Sunday in favor of an independent state in northern Iraq, leaving the longstanding goal of autonomy under the Baghdad government, a Kurdish spokesman said. The 105-member parliament, elected last spring to represent the guerrilla-controlled region, approved a declaration that the area should be a democratic federal state, said Barham Saleh, a Washington, D.C.-based spokesman for the Patriotic Union of a significant "This is development, because until recently, the Kurdish leadership has opted for autonomy as a solution," Saleh said.

The Kurdish leadership, which includes the Patriotic Union, has joined with Shiite Muslim and other groups in trying to overthrow Iraqi President Saddam Hussein.

Three Iraqi provinces - Irbil, Sulaymaniyah and Dohok - are included in a Kurdish Autonomous Region set up by Baghdad.

But the Kurds have long complained that officials of the region were controlled by Saddam's ruling Arab Baath Socialist Party and did not represent Iraq's estimated 4 million Kurds.

The Kurds rebelled in March 1991 after Saddam's defeat in the Persian Gulf War, but they were pounded by the Iraqi army until the U.S.-led allies set up a 170,000square-mile protection zone for

Non-Traditional Student Association

Friday, October 9 Union Station • 6 p.m.-10 p.m.

Dance • Socialize • Have Fun Bring Spouse • Bring Kids

No Liquor Allowed

Golden Key National Honor Society

Attention Current Golden Key Members Applications for the local chapter scholarship are now available in 013 Bluemont Hall Completed forms are due Oct. 9 in 013 Bluemont. Only current members are eligible to apply.

> GREAT START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

CAMPUS CANCER SUPPORT GROUP

A support group for individuals affected by cancer will meet

MONDAY, OCT. 5, 1992 4:30 P.M. LAFENE HEALTH CENTER FOOM 1 - LOWER LEVEL

For more information contact Health Education & Promotion Lafene Health Center 532-6595

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Memorial Hospital's low-dose, film-screen mammography unit is designed and used exclusively for mammograms. Our service is professionally staffed by experienced radiologic technologists and it is fully accredited by the American College of Radiology.

What can you do to help protect yourself from breast cancer?

■ Practice breast self-examination (BSE) monthly. ■ Have a breast exam by your physician annually.

■ When you reach the age of 35, ask your physician to schedule you for a baseline mammogram, and follow the American Cancer Society guidelines thereafter. Between the ages of 40 and 49, a mammogram should be done every one to two years, with a physical breast exam by your physician every year. After age 50, a mammogram and physical breast exam should be done

To receive a free BSE shower card from Memorial Hospital, call the public relations department at 587-4228.

1105 Sunset PO Box 1208 • Manhattan, KS 66502 • 913-776-3300

Carol Lee Donuts Etc.

Donuts & Rolls 1/2 Price After 4 p.m 1800 Claflin 6 a.m.-7 p.m. Daily 776-8058 FirstBank Center

Student Travel Experts

- Student airfares.
- •International studentairfares.
- Railpasses issued here. Internat'l Identity cards.
- Worldwide adventure tours. Travel gear and guidebooks.
- Expert travel advice.

Council Travel

800-475-5070

SHAPE A COMMUNITY, SHARE A VISION...

VISTA Volunteers share the vision of a better tomorrow by making a contribution in the community today. Brighter futures take shape when VISTA Volunteers mobilize and develop community resources to address the many faces of poverty.

After your college career is completed, VISTA offers you the opportunity to put your education to work in realistic settings. VISTA Volunteers learn life skills - skills only a year of unique VISTA experience can VISTA Volunteers are assigned to project sponsors which may be private or public nonprofit organizations. Volunteer activities may include, but are not limited to, organizing food distribution efforts, creating networks to support literacy projects, or designing programs to combat substance abuse.

In addition to acquiring valuable and rewarding experience, VISTA Volunteers may receive deferment or partial cancellation of certain student loans. VISTA Volunteers receive a living allowance based on the economic level of the communities

As you look toward graduation, consider becoming a VISTA Volunteer. VISTA offers you the opportunity to shape a community and share a vision of a better tomorrow.

To find out more, talk with VISTA representative Katy Dooley, October 7th in the K-State Union between 9am-3pm. Katy will be holding interviews on October 8th in the Career Planning and Placement Center between 9am-3pm. Or, call 1-800-424-8867 (TDD 1-202-606-5256).

Florida tornadoes hit mobile homes, kill 3

Weather service to conduct inquiry on lack of warning

ASSOCIATED PRESS

PINELLAS PARK, Fla. -Tampa Bay area mobile home park residents got no warning before tornados ripped through their lightweight trailers, killing three

The National Weather Service said Sunday it would convene an

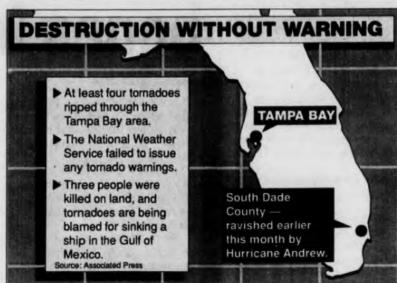

As the same storm system brought more tornados to the Jacksonville area on Sunday, Gov. Lawton Chiles toured the damaged areas where more than 100 homes were destroyed in the storms

Fifty-three people were injured, and six were hospitalized.

Heavy rains were blamed for a non-injury train derailment near Jacksonville.

Tornados tore roofs off businesses and damaged nearby mobile homes and an apartment house, fire department spokesman John Peavy said.

About 300 trailer park residents evacuated when an earthen dam broke, but there were no injuries Sunday, Peavy said.

Senior meteorologists in Miami determined Friday that the stormy weather bearing down on Florida in the Gulf of Mexico was likely to generate tornados, Paul Hebert, the state's top weather official said.

But tight rules restrict tornado warnings to confirmed touchdowns and lesser tornado watches to conditions that precede Midwest tornados, Hebert said. Criteria include cold, dry air mixing rapidly with warm, moist air.

"But when's the last time you had cold, dry air in Florida in the middle of the summer?" Hebert said. "There isn't any but we still have tornados here."

No date was set for the inquiry planned to determine why no warning was issued from the local weather office in Ruskin, located across Tampa Bay from two communities north of St. Petersburg, where the tornados did their worst damage.

Jet crashes into apartments

12 bodies found; up to 200 may have died in Amsterdam

ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands -An Israeli cargo jet crashed into an apartment complex Sunday night shortly after takeoff and triggered a firestorm through a crowded

At least 12 bodies were recovered, but Dutch television said police feared up to 200 people may have died. The El Al Boeing 747 carried a three-man crew and one woman passenger.

The pilot was trying to wrestle the jet back to Schiphol Airport when it slammed into the nine-story apartment building, spewing flames and burning wreckage.

Residents searched frantically for family members in the hellish landscape of fire, smoke and chaos.

windows of their apartments to escape the inferno, radio reported. The fire was under control but still burning five hours after the

Some people jumped out of the building. I saw the wings and all crashed," Cherbin said.

ignited. It exploded into one huge sea of fire," resident Mark van der Linden said.

Two nine-story apartment complexes were set ablaze. Mayor Ed van Thijn of Duivendrecht said at least 50 apartments were gutted.

Helicopters fitted with searchlights illuminated the scene for hundreds of rescue workers. Police reported looting in a nearby shopping mall.

The Amsterdam Medical Center Hospital said it treated at least 27 burn victims.

Airline officials dismissed an early suspicion of a terrorist strike, which could have jeopardized sensitive Middle East peace talks.

Yisrael Cherbin, cargo manager for El Al in Amsterdam, said the plane's captain reported problems with two engines after takeoff and asked to return to the airport, about 10 miles south of Amsterdam.

"He's returning to land. "It crashed right into the when he said he was landing, it

In Step

J. MATTHEW RHEA/Collegis

A student descends a set of stairs leading to Farrell Library in the late afternoon Sunday sunlight. The Friends of the Library are conducting a book sale in the lobby during regular hours through Oct. 8.

ood for your brain KANSAS STATE

Introducing

'Kim"—the top designer at Studio 32 with seven years experience is now offering an introductory special . . .

50% off

Cut with style through Oct. 12

776-8830 Candlewood

Our Pumpkin Farm Is OPEN 9 a.m.-7 p.m. EVERY DAY None priced over $5 each

INDIAN CORN · GOURDS · CORN STALKS AVAILABLE

539-1004 • 1224 S. Manhattan Ave. ENJOY K-ROCK LIVE FROM 1-3 p.m. ON SATURDAY, OCT. 17

THERE'RE ALWAYS GREAT BARGAINS IN YOUR

"WELCOME TO MANHATTAN COUPON BOOK!!

SUNDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL TRIP

CHIEFS VS. PITTSBURGH STEELERS Sunday, Oct. 25 $35 Info meeting: Mon., Oct. 5 K-State Union Room 213 7pm Sign up begins Tues, Oct 6 UPC Office 8am-4pm Trip includes: Transportation and Rerserved Tickets

Country Dance Lessons

Sign up fee is $10 per couple Classes for beginners and advanced

Classes taught from Sunday, Oct. 11 through November 17 Sign up now in the UPC Office 8am-4pm

College Republicans Young Democrats Oct. 5 12 noon, Union Courtyard

K-State Union

FLINT HILLS BIKING

Oct. 10-11

Enjoy beautiful Medford Lake and Fort Riley while camping and biking

Sign up now in the UPC office 8am-4pm

Bush knew of sales, report says

Bush has said he didn't know the details of the Iran operation until mid-December 1986, more than a month after the deals were publicly exposed.

President denies knowing U.S. role in Iran-Contra affair

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — George Bush was told clearly at a 1986 briefing that arms sales to Iran were a joint U.S.-Israeli operation, according to a topsecret report disclosed by an Israeli President Bush, on the other hand, has said the briefing he got as vice president while on a visit to Jerusalem only described Israel's role and not the American one.

The classified report from March 11, 1987, detailing Israel's delivery of U.S. weapons to Iran, was prepared by the Israeli government and given to the Reagan administration several months after the arms-for-hostages affair was exposed in November 1986.

A copy was obtained by an Israeli journalist writing a book on the Iran-Contra affair, Ran Edelist, who made brief excerpts available to the Associated Press.

The report included an account by Amiram Nir, an aide to Israel's prime minister who briefed Bush about the operation on July 29, 1986.

So far, the only other detailed account of the briefing was provided in 1987 by the third participant - Bush aide Craig Fuller.

Nir's account was prepared following the publication several weeks earlier of Fuller's memo. 'The word 'we' that appears in Craig's report throughout refers to the joint Israeli-American team," Nir's account said. Nir also "made clear at the outset of the joint team and at the request of Oliver North," the report said. North was the White House aide that he was briefing Bush in the name who ran the arms-for-hostages

Yet Bush, in a verbal altercation with CBS anchorman Dan Rather in 1988, presented a different recollection.

Asked by Rather how he could have not known details of the arms-forhostages affair after being briefed thoroughly by Nir, Bush responded:

"I was told what they (the Israelis) were doing and not what we were doing, and that's the big difference."

Bush saidcontrol of the operation was in the hands of a foreign power.

But Nir said in his account that it is clear to anyone reading Fuller's report that the briefing concerned both countries' roles, according to the Nir died in a November 1988 plane crash in Mexico.

The discrepancy between Nir's recollection about the U.S. role and Bush's is another in a recent spate of accounts by former aides suggesting Bush knew more about the Iran-Contra scandal than he has admitted.

FBI INVESTIGATION

KU student finds human bones in home

ASSOCIATED PRESS

LAWRENCE - The FBI has been called in to help with an investigation into several human bones found in the basement of a home, police said.

The FBI will be asked to help identify the bones, perhaps through tests on tissue still present, Lawrence Police Chief Ron Olin said Saturday.

The bones were found nearly two weeks ago by a University of Kansas student living in the rented

Police learned of the discovery Friday, when a university anthropology professor identified the bones as human and advised the student to inform authorities.

A team of 11 investigators turned up more bones over the weekend and filled bags with dirt to sift for other evidence, police said.

No more bones are believed to be at the site, Olin said.

Olin said police believe drugs were sold from the house a couple of years ago, before the five current tenants moved in.

The owner, Paul Horvath, said the home was vacant from the summer of 1990 until August.

Ron Worley, the student who found the bones, said Saturday that authorities told him a total of five or six bones were found, including those from an arm, a leg and two Worley said investigators told him the bones were probably those of a man less than 6 feet tall.

There were no marks on the bones, and they were unbroken, Worley said.

Worley said the first bone he found, the arm bone, was on the

He found other bones an inch or two beneath the soil, under a bathtub that had been placed against the east wall.

K-State beats New Mexico State

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

Later in the quarter, K-State sealed the victory. The Aggies drove 61 yards and had first and goal on the Wildcat three.

Following a rush for no gain, a 9-yard sack by linebacker Chris Patterson and an incomplete pass, NMSU was forced to settle for a 28-yard field goal attempt.

The snap went through the open hands of Aggie holder Chad Zecha, and C.J. Masters recovered at the K-State 36.

The Wildcats then marched 64 yards in 10 plays. Smargiasso converted two third downs on the drive, including a 9-yard scramble on third and five to give K-State a first down on the Aggie 27.

One play later, Smargiasso hit Andre Coleman on a 26-yard touchdown strike to put K-State up

In the fourth quarter, junior free safety Jaime Mendez picked off his fifth pass of the season and tied the K-State record for career interceptions with 12.

The stage is now set for Saturday when K-State travels to Lawrence to battle 3-1 Kansas.

The Jayhawks are in a streak of 16 days without a game prior to the interstate showdown.

"As the week unfolds, the momentum will certainly pick up," Snyder said.

"There will be that sensitivity and feeling to the emotion of this ball game - and the overall broadface picture there are some things that a victory in this ball game bring out that maybe victories in other ball games might not."

MUSIC REVIEWS AND MORE

ESSENTIALS

Readers compliment and worry about old myths

I think you are doing a superb job as an advice columnist.

There's no doubt in my mind the Collegian would have had great difficulty finding anyone more qualified than you at dispensing your style of advice about male-female relationships.

Indeed, your particular approach to unbiased journalism and intellectual balance is a trait that, hopefully, only you possess.

You are doing a great job. I just don't understand how your qualifications as an advice DEAR TIM,

K.B., K-State graduate student

They aren't an issue.

But, I will be more than happy to let you have this job whenever you like.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I have always had a small penis. I have been near intimacy with several women, but I always back off, because I am afraid she won't be satisfied.

I am too embarrassed to talk to my doctor or anyone else about this. Please tell me what I can do to get over this.

Tiny Tim, K-State student

You correctly define the problem as being a mental one.

The issue of genital size and its being related in some way to sexual satisfaction for women is a myth, and it has been the source of a considerable amount of unnecessary worry and insecurity among men.

Sex is most gratifying when two people truly love and care about each other. Under those I have a serious physical and possibly mental conditions, one rarely has to worry about such

JIM DIKKERS

The saying, "Love is blind," is true. Love can make up for all the physical inadequacies, real or imagined, between two people. So, put the tape measure away and forget about "quantity." Start thinking "quality."

Women really aren't concerned about how much you bring to the party, but rather, what you do with it when you get there.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

am discouraged and frustrated by the continuing increase in tuition. Can you give an explanation for the increase in tuition?

S.M., K-State senior

Have they quit teaching about supply and demand in economics?

You ask a good question, and a complex one

I must defer you to the only person at K-State who is paid to know the answer to such a

How about it, President Wefald?

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion

JIM'S JOURNAL

THE STRIP

Last night I

next day in school.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

A QUANdaRY

MOM ONCE Said SHE LOVED ME Just HE Way I am,

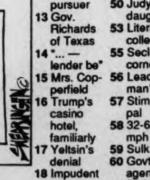

IF I DECAME & CLAM.

IF HER SON WAS GRAY AN GRIMY SLIPPERY and SLIMY, I WOHLER WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IN OVERSIZED HORS D'OEUVRE would mam still have the neme?

DAVID SWEARINGEN

BILL WATTERSON

ACROSS

1 Teeter

totter

ending 7 Wading

bird 11 Moby's

22 Comic-28 Spheric 32 Light on 33 Cruising 34 Sir Bee pile-on partner

CROSSWORD

43 Doggy doc quorum 4 Chemical stupidly 6 Congrega tion separation 50 Judy's daughter strength Mixed up

53 Literary collection 55 Secluded corner 56 Leading man? 57 Stimpy's pal 58 32-63 mph wind

60 Govt Fudge lian desert on the 25 It's expense account Solution time: 28 mins.

KELSEY RISE L SAD RIDES 37 Great en-

event 19 Verily 21 Fluffy 42 Bashful or wrap 23 J-N link in ft., yds., NIP

CROSSWORD By Eugene Sheffer DOWN mi., etc. 39 Not full-

1 Small

Relish

amounts

2 Giddyap's the bookantithesis mobile 28 Mideast-3 Crew's em strip 29 Second hand 30 Anthropologist Margaret

27 Patronize

inition of 12 Down 35 A Louis of 8 Babe in France 38 Cou-9 Wrath steau's 10 Perched 12 Sporting 40 Thompson of "Back to

7 Punny def- 31 Terhune

45 Place for a patch 47 Daytime TV entry 48 Gwen Verdon role

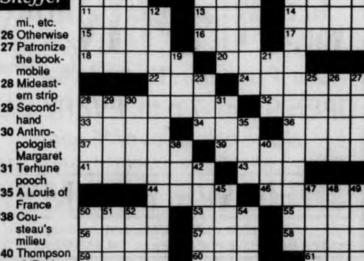

49 Supplemented with "out" 50 Felon's choose to

the Future

52 Use a ray

of the Collegian or K-State..

EUGENE SHEFFER

tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC

CRYPTOQUIP OMVA CTOMKV

TLZ GEVRBTFZG RTEUAZLV Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OUR NEIGHBORHOOD SEAMSTRESS'S ESTIMATE IS RIGHT ON THE BUT-

Today's Cryptoquip clue: R equals P

K-STATE UNION

HALL

KEDZIE

ROOM 103

PARKING

SOUTH OF THE

OFFICE HOURS

8 a.m.-5 p.m.

(Except holidays)

ET THE WORD OU

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

OR WRITE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

K-State Collegian

Kedzie Hall 103

JLASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

HOW TO PAY is must be paid in advance ess you have an est

ed. There is a $10 service charge We reserve the right to edit, reject or properly classify any ad.

ck. MesterCerd or Visa are

IEADLINES For an extra charge, we'll put a headline above your ad to catch the reader's attention.

nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at 539-4674.

DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

FREE FOUND ADS As a service to you, we run found ads for three days free of charge.

CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

DOES WRITING papers make you sweat? Eng-lish grad student will AWESOME TWO-YEAR edit your papers- any subject. Call 776-8707. old apartment next to campus and Aggieville.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for paper editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 dou ble: letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

225 Testing Centers

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Free pregnancy

testing Totally confidentia

service ·Same day results Call for appointment

Located across from campus in Anderson Village

> Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

240 Musicians/DJs

FOR SALE Washburn Flattop six-string, Ovation 12, 532-5145.

GUITAR LESSONS, Ex-

245 Pet Services

FOUR LOVING and playful kittens seek responsi ter box trained, dewormed. One and one half months. 776-7836

250 Automotive Repair

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

255 Other Services

Tattoo

Fine Line Tattoo Quality work, reasonably priced, hospital sterilization 1028 W. 6th 29th Massachusetts Junction City Topeka

THE WORD OUT.

532-6555

even meeting a new friend would be great (I'm new to the area). enjoy most kinds of sic; nature; animals ONE-BEDROOM APART

BULLETIN BOARD

010

*TEXAS HAS a whore house in it, oh my lord what can we do? Order tickets today at

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min imum of $250 worth of es provided, or we'l send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881, 1-800-879-7485.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after

EATING DISORDERS Ther apy Group: Discuss the thoughts, feelings and behaviors associated with this problem. common concerns in clude difficulties with depression, self-esteem, body image, fam ily and relationships Call University Counseling Services, 532-6927.

WE SENT a reminder card what, more can we do? Did you forget? Pick ir 1992 Royal Purple!today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by 6106 for an appoint

020 Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

FOUND LADIES watch by Continuing Education building, Call Connie 532-6308.

FOUND: GRAY striped, fe male, cat in the North view School vicinity. Appears to be litter box trained, 776-1124. LOST- GOLD bracelet watch, lost in Aggieville. Sentimental found. Please call 539

LOST IN Aggieville, Fri. Sept. 25: Black, Olympus IS-1 camera in soft case. PLEASE call if you have knowledge of it; believe it or not, but it has strong sentimental value. Large reward-Please call 539-4247, and leave a message

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a

*DREAMING"- HII I read

your personal and if I am the one you're talk-ing about. I'd like to meet you. My name CLOSE TO campus very bedrooms. Apartment David. I too like to liscom-plexes and houses with ten to most kinds of music. I also like sports. 537-2919, 537-1666.

If you would still like COUNTRY LIVING rent meet the person be hind the smile. Meet me at 1:00 in the Union free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid landby the Union Station. lady. No house work personal care. Singles smile and wave on preferred, Call Frankie 494-8201 or 889-4495. ONE-BEDROOM APART-

ETY618- HI! I saw your Tuesday, and am inter-ested in meeting the person behind them. I know you were just being *neighborly*-so the beauty to be found in even simple things and laughing at/ with life. Sound differentbut worth a try? Respond to "Dreaming" via the Collegian, or KKG BECKY M .- tonight the tradition continues as pledge mom/ dot unite. Just wanted to let you know that I cherish the friendship we've developed over the last two years. You are my joy. Love, Mom.

060 Legal Notice

Published in the Kansas State Collegian) Oct. 2, 1992. STATEMENT OF OW NERSHIP MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION OF LEGIAN. (Required by 39 U.S.C. 3685) Date of Filing: Oct. 2, 1992. Title of Publication: Kansas State Collegian. Frequency of Issue: Daily except Sat. and Sun. during school year. Weekly during summer session. Location of Headquarters of General Business Offices of the Publishers: Room 103, Kedzie Hall, Kansas State University, Manhat-tan, Kansas 66506. Publisher: Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall, Kansas State University, Man-hattan, Kansas, Director,

Ronald E. Johnson, Kedzie Hall, K.S.U., Manhattan Kansas 66506. Editor: Sa Kansas 66506. Editor: Sa-mantha Branson, Kedzie Hall, K.S.U., Manhattan, Kansas 66506. Managing Editor: Erin Perry, Kedzie Hall, K.S.U., Manhattan, Kansas 66506. Owner Student Publications Inc. Kedzie Hall, K.S.U., Man-hattan, Kansas 66506. Extent and nature of circula-tion: Average No. copies each issue during preced-ing 12 months, total

12,676: paid circulation

sales through dealers and carriers, street vendors and counter sales, 12,153 mail subscriptions, 459; total paid circulation,

12.612: free distribution by mail, carriers or other means, 24; copies distrib uted to news agents but not sold, none; total distribution, 12,636; office use left-over, unaccounted, spoiled after printing, 40 number of copies of single issue published nearest to filing date: total number copies printed, 14,000; paid circulation, sales through dealers and carriers, street vendors and counter sales, 13,538; mail subscriptions, 413; total paid circulation, 13,951; free distri bution by mail, carrier or other means, 19; copies distributed to news agents

but not sold, none; total distribution 13,970; office use, left-over, unaccount-ed, spoiled after printing,

Ronald E. Johnson

30: total 14,000.

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

105 For Rent-

MENT. Partially fur

12,676. Actual mber copies printed, facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804.

Available Oct. 1. 1. Pets negotiable. 539-7185 M-Th after 6p.m.

THREE-BEDROOM, 800

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539–3672.

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes

1992 14X70 three-bed room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

WHY RENT? Purchase mobile home with Countryside's fantastic financing. Example #368 Redbud. 12x64 Skyline central air, newly remodeled, very spacious, more to choose from. Call Mike at Countryside Broker-age 539-2325.

FEMALE ROOMMATE

wanted to share three-bedroom, close to campus, washer/ dryer, trash provided. $200

plus one-third utilities.

bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights.

Close to campus, laun dry facilities and central air and heat. For more female share two-bedroom, spacious, newly remodeled house. Two and one-half blocks from campus. $150 per month, one-half utili-ties 776-7636.

call

information

WANTED NON-SMOKING

776-3804.

SERVICE

DIRECTORY

210 Resume

$10 AND up: professional

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in ta-

539-3229.

5p.m. Jackie.

resumes, cover letters,

term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing.

25 plus years experi

nce. 539-5998 after

bles, equations, and

overheads. Professional results guaran-tees. Please call Sandy studying.

A B C typing service. You do

let me do the typing Reports, charts

graphs, resumes and more. Overnight re

sults when necessary

Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after

A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double

ALL TYPING needs done

spaced. Please call Melia 776-1534.

expensively and quick

ask

for

ONE FEMALE roommate

MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable Everything is brand new. Off-street parking. and washer/ dryer use.

Leave message at 539-4674. 776-7240. FEMALE ROOMMATE ROOMMATE WANTED $200/ month, includes utilities, washer and share trailer house. Completely furnished. Private. Own room. dryer, must love pets. Call 537-0635. Washer/ dryer. Pets allowed. 537-4279.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue from campus. Call 539

CLOSE TO campus very one, two nice, three bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices 537-2919, 537-1666. FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN tnay Ridge Estates. Central air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, $180 each,

537-8800. ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395. includes water, trash for appointment 776-3804. and pest control. Call

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO air and heat, laundry

QUALITY TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Quiet neigh borhood. Large yard. Refrigerator/ range furnished. Paid utilities ex cept electric. $350/ month. Available Nov.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed-room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur-roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 494-2449.

block Moro, landlord pays heat. $340/ month. 776-8628.

Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539–4087.

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

310 Help Wanted

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

(913)232-0454 HARDEES IN Aggieville is currently seeking moti-vated individuals to fill in- store positions Shift scheduling examples are: 5a.m. 1p.m.; 9a.m.- 5p.m.; 11a.m.- 5p.m. Also have many positions available for following type schedules: 5p.m. 9p.m.; 9p.m.- 3a.m.; 9p.m.- 5a.m. Apply in person. Ask for Chris

LEASING CONSULTANT. sultant needed for a

> ury west side apartment community. A successful candidate would be enthusiastic strongly people orient-ed and have a desire for excellence. Previous ful and upperclassmar are preferred. 15- 25 hours per week lind ing Saturdays) and full time during the sum-mer. Please call 776-8080 to schedule an in terview. NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experince, SSS, and more Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 openings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion color, sex, age, national

GET

origin or disability

532-6555

532-7309

Apply at 306 S. Juliette.

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertise-ments in the Employment classification approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Busi ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190 (913)232-0454

> $200- $500 weekly. Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling. You're paid di-rect. Fully guaranteed Free Into-Copyright #KS13KDH $252.509ell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265.

FORS

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776–7472.

Items for Sale 410

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Broth er AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville. 539-1413.

FOR SALE: Queen size waterbed with heater

moneyback guaran-tee. 539-1252. NIKES/ BASKETBALL new, Ohio State colors, 776-8402.

Good condition. Asking $100. Please call 537-4868.

FOR SALE: two aquariums plus stand. One, fifty-five and one thirty gal-

LOSE WEIGHT. Gain energy. 100 percent

lon. Best 539-6707.

FOR SALE or trade with cash For Apple note-book- Mac plus like software, 537-2335.

435 Computers

MAC CLASSIC, four meg ram, 40 meg hard drive. Stylewriter print-er, software, 537-8990. TOSHIBA T2200SX, notebook computer, 386 SX, 20 MHZ, 2 MB Ram, 80 MB HD. Only 5.5 pounds 537-0468.

FOR SALE: Ovation Ultra Acoustic and Peavy Vortex Electric Guitars. Must sell now!! Excel-lent condition, reasonably priced, and negotiable, 776-4948 GUITAR LESSONS: Metal, Rock, Blues, Contem-porary, Rick's Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek,

30 GALLON Oceanic Hex Tank with stand. Aggressive fish and all cessories. Call 537-2830. BOA CONSTRICTOR for sale, three feet long, $110. Includes: Aquar um, rocks for bottom lid and hot rock. Call 532-2830 ask for Aaron.

TRANS-PORTATION

510

1971 VW Bus. New engine, new brakes, have pa-perwork, custom paint. 587-0618.

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8 stereo, tinted window navy blue, power sterring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch.

1981 MUSTANG. Good Condition, air condi-tioning, and sunroof. $800, or best offer, 537

1985 TOYOTA Corolla GTS, red/ gray. Looks, $2150 firm! 776-4018 anytime (keep trying)

1. Call 911

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25 Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

1991 TREK 830 mountain bike. DX levers, DX top mount shifters. Hardly ridden. Beautiful blue. Mr. Tuffy flat protec tors, 539-0816. 1992 CANNONDALE R600 road/ racing, 56 cm aluminum frame, 105 Groupo, Avocet computer and seatbag, low miles $700 or best offer 776-3057

530 Motorcycles

1988 RED/ Honda CBR 600 Hurricane, 6800 miles condition

1-273-3313. YAMAHA MAXIM- 650 1982, 18K, very good any extras

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

A A Tour Package

1-800-321-5911 K-STATE BRITAIN intersession, fifteen days, $1174. The Pound is ing. The theater season and Harrod's sale await. Information G.W. Clift (913)532-6716. Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5. Room for a few more.

Contact Diane Dollar 532-6605 or 539-8401 SAN JUAN Students
**Xmas Break** San
Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kansas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

What do you do if you see a fire?

2. Then call us News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

400 300 000 200 SERVICE EMPLOY-OPEN BULLETIN HOUSING/ DIRECT-MENT/ MARKET REAL BOARD ORY CAREERS ESTATE

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range

looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category

To help you find what you are and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY TRAVEL/ TRANS-TRIPS PORTATION

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

CATEGORIES

PERSONALS.

pool our resources to help the "Only 14 percent of 18- to 24year-olds vote, and that's just

"That means that their lives are being decided by Grey Panthers.

This is a great opportunity for students to be part of something

Robert Littrell, local party chairman, said the new headquarters is financed by private donations and will serve a variety of functions during the remainder

As well as being the base for the Democratic candidates, it will be used for voter registration, polling, literature distribution and

Monday Night

Football

Dallas vs. Philadelphia

BIG SCREEN

6 ft. x 8 ft.

23 oz.

BIG BEER

$ 75

Sun., Mon., Tues.

Macho Nachos

Hot Wings

$349

Enter our

Monday Night

Football Contest!

523 S. 17th

coordination between campaigns.

Maid in the shade

Mellissa Stanek, junior in English, lies in the shade of a tree Sunday afternoon on the north side of the K-State Union. Stanek was reading material for her Women in European History class.

Stereotypes destructive

Pro-lifers demonstrate,

share their beliefs

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"We would almost be changing around the basis of society. It would involve more than just proving that we don't fit that stereotype," Newton said. "Our laws and attitudes would have to be congruent. I don't know where we would start."

Focusing on the more destructive stereotypes may be the next best thing to getting rid of all of them, Peters said.

"We have to be concerned with the harmful ones, the ones that can really ruin people's lives," Peters said. "I know of a powerful way of

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Some people, however, were

David Kaplan, 12, said he came

"I am against abortion," Kaplan said. "I think everybody should willing to stop and share their because his parents brought him, but also because he believes have a chance to live. People are people when they are conceived, abortion is wrong.

not when they're born."

dealing with it. It's called education."

Destructive stereotypes are the ones that can prevent people from getting jobs and can be associated with racism and sexism.

"No matter how thick you try to make your skin, it's a hurtful thing," said Donna Davis, director of the International Student Center.

Peters said, "In my mind, we live in a racist and sexist society. Evidence of prejudice is in the Rodney King beating, Anita Hill's hearings, differentials in income."

There are a number of ideas on stereotype origins.

Lynn Rundle said he came to

"She was born at 25 weeks gestation," Rundle said, indicating Anna Rundle. "With the current legalization of abortion, she could

He glanced down at Anna, who

"No, she probably doesn't understand abortion, but she will show his support for life.

have easily been aborted.

waved her sign at him.

someday."

ATTENTION:

Students enrolled in the previous

1991-92 Kansas State Student Health Program have until October 20, 1992 to remit application and appropriate premium to continue coverage on an uninterrupted basis for the 1992-93 policy year.

For further information, please contract the administrator of the program, G-M Underwriters Agency, Inc., 1-800-521-2623.

"They come from all the socializing forces - family, media, schools," Newton said.

Leon Rappoport, professor of psychology, said, "In show business, a traditional role for a blonde woman was to be played as stupid. Fear can also generate stereotypes. You stereotype a group you're in conflict with because it's easier to think of them as an Newton said, "The more our society can learn to live with variety and diversity, the better it

Get A Little Personal

with a

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN

Kedzie Hall 103 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday

Personal Classified

Hansen Nutrition Center "YOUR HEALTH FOOD SUPER MARKET" 3112 ANDERSON AVE. ACROSS FROM VILLAGE PLAZA 537-4571

"DIET CURES

WHAT DIET CAUSES"

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st. 800-848-LOVE (5683

Picture your ad here. (only bigger) Then call us. COLLEGIAN Display Advertising 5 3 2 - 6 5 6 0 campaigns. their lives. The headquarters will be Karen McCulloh, candidate for a nice, quiet place to help get out the 3rd District County that message. Commission and assistant dean of Kansas Senate minority leader Farrell Library, said this is an election college students need to be Democrats set up shop in Manhattan involved in.

pitiful," McCulloh said.

bigger than themselves."

of the campaign.

Gerald Karr, D- Eureka, said the Democrats' success nationally is having a positive impact on the

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

"People are disappointed in the economy and with Bush's inability to come to grips with it," Karr said.

The strength of the national ticket has raised awareness for local With retirements and primary losses, we're going to see at least 16 new faces in Senate," Karr said. "If we get the votes from Riley County, we have a good shot at a Democratic Senate majority."

The KSU Young Democrats are helping staff the headquarters with volunteers.

"For the first time in a long time, we have a chance in the presidential race," said Ray Kowalczewski, senior in pre-law and president of the Young Democrats.

"The national ticket helps the local candidates, and that will help us on the local level," he said.

'We are going to staff the headquarters during the day and

Class Projects • Decor • Gifts

BEADS BALSA BELLS

BALLS

Ben Franklin
Better quality for less

Mon-Fri 9-9 Sat 9-7 Sun 1-6 Westloop Shopping Center • Manhattan • 776-4910

776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

537-1484

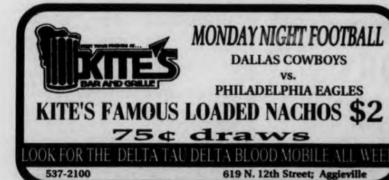

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

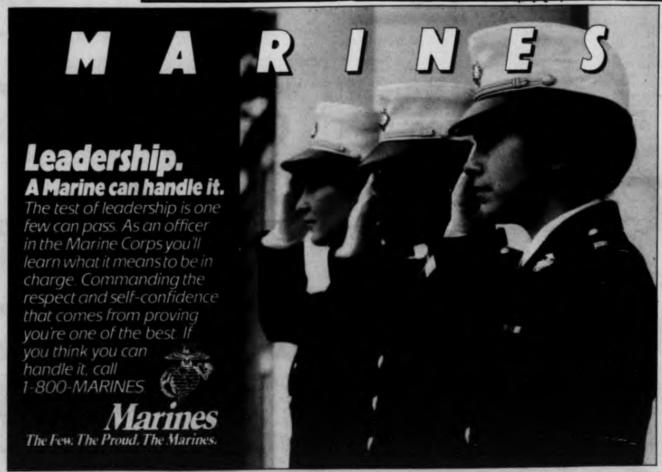

Prime Time Special 3 - 10 in. Pizzas 1 - Topping 4 - Cokes $10.50

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings 2 - Cokes $8.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

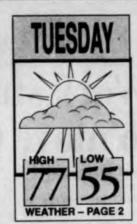

CALL LT EVERETT OR SSGT FOSTER AT 1-800-748-7274.

KANSAS STATE J.F.G

OCTOBER 6, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 31

Congress just says no to veto

Cable bill 1st to bypass Bush's pen on Capitol Hill

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - Congress voted to override President Bush's veto Monday and enacted legislation designed to regulate the cable TV industry and curb rising rates.

It was the first time the House and Senate had thwarted a Bush veto during his presidency. Bush had successfully vetoed 35 previous bills.

The House voted 308-114; the Senate 74-25. Both were comfortably past the necessary twothirds majority.

Clapping, cheers and hand-slapping erupted on the Democratic side of the House floor as the vote total neared the magic number of 289, assuring the veto would be overridden. Democrats began chanting, "Go, go, go," as the vote total crossed that number.

The override came despite an intensive lastminute lobbying campaign by the White House eager to preserve Bush's perfect record and avoid a highly publicized defeat one month before the election.

Opponents of the bill blamed election-year politics for the override, but proponents said consumer anger over soaring rates led to wide bipartisan support for the measure in both

"This is not a partisan piece of legislation," said Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass., co-author of the bill that reimposes government regulation on the cable TV industry. "It is an issue between the cable industry and the consumers of our

But earlier in the Senate, Republican leader Bob Dole said: "This is an attempt to embarrass the president 30 days before the election. That's what this is all about."

The Senate vote was seen as the crucial test of the president's veto strength on the issue.

White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater said earlier Bush was telephoning lawmakers. Bush had breakfast Sunday with eight senators he hoped to sway.

But the Senate vote was identical to its original roll call on the cable TV bill last month.

Dole said he'd gathered 32 votes against overriding the bill. But he couldn't muster the two others needed to sustain the president's veto, thereby freeing senators to go back to their original votes.

"This is a tremendous victory for consumers,"

■ See CABLE Page 9

Calling for a change

Manning Marable, University of Colorado professor, speaks about the breakdown of U.S. politics during the Lou Douglas Lecture Monday night.

Race/class rift needs healing, Marable says

KRISTEEN YOUNG

Manning Marable spoke to listeners in Forum Hall about their choice in improving race relations in America.

"It is our choice. The time for society's decision is short," Marable said at Monday night's keynote speech for Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week. "The next race/class eruption awaits."

Marable, a professor of political science and sociology at the University of Colorado, has written eight books and numerous scholarly articles. Among his writings is a syndicated newspaper column titled "Along the Color Line," which appears in more than 150 newspapers nationwide.

In his speech, L.A., the 1992 Election and Beyond," he elaborated on the connection between race, politics and social unrest in society. It was also the second Lou Douglas Lecture of the semester.

Marable said the American people have the choice to either make a change - a change in government and a change in relations between the races and classes — or simply not be part of that change.

But without alterations. Marable described the country's future as "volcanic" with an eruption not too far off.

He compared the San Andreas fault in California to the fault lines marking the boundaries future," Marable said. "The between races and classes.

The periodic eruptions along the San Andreas fault line have Breakdown of American Politics been responsible for massive destructiveness and hundreds of deaths over the centuries," Marable said. "Yet far more devastating is America's race and class fault line, with a jagged division of color and income, education and privilege, which is slashed across the soul of this nation."

He talked about the riots following the Rodney King verdict in Los Angeles and how they are indicative of times to

"The Los Angeles race insurrection reveals the basic conditions along the boundaries of race and class which threaten to tear apart our country in the violence unleashed by the verdict was just a tremor in the race/class

Marable said although the majority of blacks in Los Angeles didn't take to the streets after the verdict, that did not mean they were any less outraged than those who did.

The actions in the streets were a word of caution to America's political system that they want to be heard.

If we listen carefully to young African-Americans in the streets, this generation is telling us more than just dissatisfaction with the King verdict," he said.

"What the young people painfully realize is that the entire political system - the

■ See SYSTEM Page 9

Former KSU student dies

MEGANNE MOORE Collegian

Former K-State student Michael Wayne Meier, 27, died Friday from complications of acute non-lymphonic leukemia at the University of Kansas Medical Center.

Meier graduated from Riley County High School and what is now K-State-Salina with a degree in surveying and civil engineering technology. He was a land surveyor with Sloan & Meier Surveyors of Manhattan.

Meier and his family were in the process of finding a compatible bone marrow donor because his bone marrow no longer functioned.

He had first been diagnosed with Hodgkin's disease, cancer of the lymph nodes, at age 19. For three years, he received chemotherapy and radiation

Meier's doctors told him if he remained cancer-free for five years, he could be pronounced cured.

We led a normal life with Mike. We attended concerts, football games and picnics. He was just very sick. We were always positive toward Mike," said Mike's father, Sid Meier.

At the age of 27, just two days before his family would celebrate his defeat of the cancer, doctors informed him the cancer had returned. The disease had struck the bone marrow, and he was diagnosed with acute non-lymphonic leukemia.

Heart of America, which had been looking for a bone marrow donor for Meier, will continue to sponsor a drive

Mike Meier was diagnosed with acute non-lymphonic leukemia two years ago and died Friday at the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City, Mo.

"We'd like to see tremendous support for this drive. It's too late for our son, but maybe not for someone else's," Sid Meier said. "There's nothing greater than saving a life by a simple blood

Oct. 24 in the K-State Union.

In a recent interview, Mike said, "By increasing the national registry, this isn't just for me. This is for everyone to

Their goal was to obtain $25,000 for bone marrow matches, equaling 50 tests ranging from $400-600 per test. To help defer these costs, many benefits, auctions, garage sales and fundraisers gave the community a chance to donate to Meier's cause. "The community has many strong oints, and we want to thank everyone for their generosity, feelings and prayers," Sid Meier said.

Mike was a member of the Sedalia Community Church, Manhattan Jaycees, National Rifle Association and National

■ See MEIER Page 9

Power plant explodes

ASSOCIATED PRESS

MEROM, Ind. - An explosion touched off a fire at an electrical power plant Monday, leaving three people missing and 20 injured, authorities said.

Helicopters rescued 10 to 12 workers trapped atop the burning building.

The fire erupted in late morning when an explosion rocked the Hoosier Energyowned power plant and was brought under control by midafternoon, said Wally King of the Sullivan County Civil Defense department.

Emergency workers were searching the Merom Generating Station for three workers who unaccounted for, state police

Six people suffering from smoke inhalation were taken to a hospital in nearby Sullivan, and 14 others were treated at the scene.

Helicopters were used to rescue the workers trapped on the roof of the 200-foottall building in Merom, a small town on the Wabash River 75 miles north of Evansville. The 8-year-old plant is coal-fired.

USAir Machinists strike

ASSOCIATED PRESS

IMPERIAL, Pa. Ground crews for USAir, the nation's sixth-largest airline, walked off the job Monday in a dispute over job security, canceling flights for thousands of people.

Flight attendants also voted to honor the strike, but U.S. District Judge Timothy Lewis issued a ruling in Pittsburgh Monday night ordering them back to work. A union spokesman said they would return to work pending another hearing before Lewis Thursday.

The airline's pilots said they would continue to work. After talks broke off early Monday, picket lines sprouted at airports around the country, including USAir hubs in Charlotte, N.C., and Pittsburgh, where 28 strikers were arrested.

USAir said three-quarters of its 2,600 daily departures were taking off, and other carriers were accepting stranded passengers. But some forced to find other ways home didn't have much sympathy for the strikers.
"Look at that. Canceled, canceled, canceled. Every 15 minutes it changes," Philadelphia-bound Sherry

Parisi said, who was stuck in Charlotte.

The striking union, the International Association of Machinists, represents about 8,300 employees, and many of them said the main issue was job security - not wages or benefits.

At the newly opened Pittsburgh International Airport, 25 people were arrested Monday afternoon for trespassing, and three for allegedly carrying brass knuckles.

The Association of Flight Attendants, which represents

See USAIR Page 9

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Student Speech, Language and Hearing Association will meet

■ College Republicans will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Throckmorton

■ Hispanic American Leadership Organization will meet at 6:30

Pi Sigma Epsilon will meet at 5 p.m. in Calvin 211. Three

American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet at 7 p.m.

Phi Beta Lambda will have an informational meeting at 7 p.m.

■ Gay, lesbian and bisexual support groups will meet from 3:30

■ Sailing Club will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Union parking lot to sail

American Society of Mechanical Engineers will meet at 7 p.m.

■ Agricultural Communicators of Tomorrow will meet at 5:30

■ Thirty Days of Thanksgiving committee will meet at 8:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Lafene Health Center. Women in Lafene 236. Men in p.m. in McCain 324 for Royal Purple pictures. A brief meeting will representatives from Northwestern Mutual Life will speak about

■ Society for Creative Anachronism will meet at 7 p.m. at Kappa Omicron Nu will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin 254.

■ Circle K International will meet at 9 p.m. in Union 213.

Young Democrats will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 207.

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie.

hiring K-State graduates. Non-members are welcome.

SPURS will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 208.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

at 7 p.m. in Cardwell 120.

Ahearn Field House.

Lafene 238.

at Tuttle Creek

in Bluemont 112.

follow.

132. Jim Van Slyke will speak.

Work study program to move to Holtz Hall

JANET SATTERLEE

Students seeking employment through the work study program will find it changing.

In an effort to provide more opportunities, the program is moving to the Career Planning and Placement Center.

"Effective Nov. 1, the responsibility for part-time employment will rest with our office and shift over from Student Financial Assistance," said Jim Akin, director of Career Planning and Placement.

The center was chosen because its services offer more employment and job service assistance than the financial aid office does, Akin said.

"We're going to work at increasing the number of jobs," Akin said.

Director of Student Financial Assistance Larry Moeder said there were not enough resources within the financial aid office to enhance student employment opportunities.

Students will not only have the opportunity to find part-time work during the school year, Akin said, but they will also have the opportunity to find summer employment, internships and participate in the cooperativeeducation program.

HARMONY

WEEK

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

He said some students who are awarded work study don't take advantage of it.

The center is going to increase publicity about the availability of work study to create more interest and awareness, Akin said.

The center submitted an Educational Opportunity Fund proposal. It was chosen because it could provide students with job opportunities as well as allow them to take advantage of the center's

"It's an opportunity we've been looking at for a long time," Moeder

When students are granted work study, the financial aid office will continue to notify students. It will then give Career Planning and Placement access to those names, Moeder said.

In addition to jobs on campus, the center will talk to employers within the community to develop off-campus jobs. Moeder said the center will create work-study and non-work-study jobs.

Moeder said job opportunities will continue to be posted on the job board in the K-State Union.

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

At 12:02 a.m., a Haymaker Hall staff in the arrest of Guamell O. Maxwell on a member reported several doors to the Derby Food Center were left unlocked and lights inside had not been turned off.

At 12:13 a.m., police made contact with a loud group of students in Lot A-11 who were keeping students awake. The group was advised to disperse.

At 8:43 a.m., Sheryl Hunter of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority reported seeing an Oldsmobile, possibly maroon, hit four parked cars in the Jardine parking lot. Police made contact with the driver, Jac Yoon Cha, who was waiting for the police to arrive. The owners of the three damaged vehicles were Jie Yang, Jing Zeng and Bei Shen Sywe.

At 10:22 a.m., Scott Hull reported he lost his wallet and its contents at Chester

E. Peters Recreation Complex. At 10:25 a.m., Riley County District Court requested K-State Police assistance

Riley County felony warrant. Maxwell was arrested for distribution of cocaine and held in lieu of $5,000 bail. At 10:45 a.m., a student parking permit was reported stolen. At 11:23 a.m., a student reported an outside Chemistry/Biochemistry Building asking if students had any textbooks to sell. Officer did not make contact with the At 11:55 a.m., a black Toyota, license plate No. FHY 271, was wheellocked in Lot A-29. At 2:59 p.m., a student parking permit was reported stolen. At 4:02 p.m., a student reported two books and a bookbag were stolen from outside King 103. Loss for the books was

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

At 9:09 a.m., a white 1989 Chevrolet Beretta coupe was reported stolen from Manhattan Motors on Tuttle Creek Boulevard. Loss was $8,500.

At 11 a.m., Guamell O. Maxwell, 1020 Leavenworth St., No. 2, was arrested for distribution of cocaine and held in lieu of

At 11:29 a.m., a woman reported she had heard someone attempting to enter her front door. She requested extra patrols in the area.

At 12:52 p.m., Mark Mingeldorff, 430 Allen Road, reported a burglary at his residence. A gold chain, a watch and $8 were stolen. Loss was $450.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

p.m. in Waters 137. Royal Purple pictures will be taken.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIE 116

Watch for the Cat Coupon Clipper Every Monday in the COLLEGIAN

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Partly cloudy. High 75 to 80. Tonight, mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance for showers and thunderstorms. Low in the mid-50s

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

EXTENDED FORECAST

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

MANHATTAN TOPEKA 83/49 80/42 GOODLAND KANSAS 69/44 RUSSELL 86/57 84/50 GARDEN CITY WICHITA 85/50 85/51

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CILI				-
Bermuda	80/75	cloudy	Rome	80/66	rain
Helsinki	55/41	cloudy	Stockholm	57/41	clear
London	59/54	cloudy	Vancouver	66/55	cloudy
		-

SENIOR

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, nhattan, Kan., 66506-7167.

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian new perning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

TUESDAY

CONCENSOR: Manning Marable, "Unlearning Prejudice," Union Big 8 Room.

Bisexual concerns, Union Little Theater.

LECTURE: Will Roscoe, "The Zufi Man Woman," Union Little Theater

Bernard Franklin will lead a discussion on what has happened at KSU since the Rodney King case in the Simi Valley verdict and what needs

Will Roscoe and the KSU Task Force will speak on Gay, Lesbian, and to happen to make our KSU environment more comfortable.

ORDER YOUR COLLEGE RING NOW TO RECEIVE IT PRIOR TO GRADUATION

Take advantage of one low price* any style

Ladies' Men's $290.00 $330.00 10k Gold $340.00 $430.00 14k Gold Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6 & 7

10 a.m. to 4 p.m. K-State Union Courtyard Graduation Faire

See representative for savings available on 18k gold or white ultrium styles. Offer expires October 7,1992. *Prices do not include tax, genuine gemstones or special settings.

K-State Union
Bookstore 532-6583

We appreciate your support. Your dollars continue to help the K-State Union sponsor student services, programs and activiti

HERFFJONES

Sponsored by

Circle K

REMINDER!

FOR YOUR ALLERGY & IMMUNIZATION INFORMATION

CONTACT LAFENE HEALTH CENTER 532-6544

Something To Believe In...

United Way of Riley County

Last Year... 30,739

People Were Served By United Way Agencies

Locally Supported Agencies And Programs:

American Red Cross

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

Coronado Council of Boy Scouts

Crisis Center, Inc.

Flint Hills Breadbasket · Homecare Inc.

Kay Valley Girl Scout Council

 Manhattan Day Care Center · Manhattan Emergency Shelter

· Kansas Children's Service League

COFFEYVILLE

 Manhattan Youth Center · Milk Voucher Program

Retired Senior Volunteer Program

Salvation Army

"It Works"

United Way of Riley County

Please make yor pledge today. Ask your employer for a pledge card or call the United Way office at 776-3779.

Candidate for 2nd Congressional District

Jim Van Slyke

Throckmorton 132 October 6 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by College Republicans

Storm's effects hurt local crafts

Andrew's wrath leads to high costs for Kansas artisans

LISA RIESINGER

Collegian

Hurricane Andrew's damage was not felt by Florida and Louisiana residents only.

Wood crafters in Kansas have to fork over more money to continue their trade because of the increase in demand for lumber to rebuild homes in the southeastern states.

At the Pumpkin Patch Arts and Crafts Fair Friday and Saturday at CiCo Park, crafters in various trades gathered to sell their wares. Robbie Corcoran and Loyd

Boger, owners of Oz Creations in Hoisington, said they have experienced a dramatic increase in the price of wood because of hurricane damage.

"We've experienced a 25-percent increase in the price of wood in the last three months," Corcoran said.

They have been making wooden Oz rockers for more than a year. Corcoran said Hurricane Andrew need for lumber to get people back into housing.

However, other lumber losses, such as the wildfires in the western resulted in a vital and immediate

United States, have not affected their lumber costs, they said.

Crafters brought their items to the fair from throughout Kansas.

Betty and Bob Phillips of Oakley set up their Kid's Korner toy display, including doll clothes and play tents.

"We're in the business to sell and keep kids happy. We want to keep prices down to where people can buy our items," Phillips said.

Sheri Cothran brought chrysanthemums from her flower farm in Westmoreland. Cothran said per season she has been growing an average of 1,000 we've experienced a 25-percent increase in the price of frost.

B u t
Cothran said one-third of her crop was threatened by pest-icides spread by crop dusters this summer.

Jane Turner, owner of Foxhill Pottery, displayed plates, pots, soap dispensers and toothbrush holders. Turner said she has traveled to Minnesota and Chicago for shows, but the majority of her sales come from Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska.

"The Midwest is a great area for selling crafts," Turner said.

Hand-painted mailboxes, jewelry from Asia, wreaths made from bark and charcoal drawings were among the other crafts at the fair.

Landon Lecture: Education

Concrete cogitation

TODD FERTIG

Collegian

U.S. Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander is leading the charge of America 2000. His goal is to re-invent American education by setting standards, contributing funds and holding schools account-

Alexander is the proponent of the Bush administration's nineyear America 2000 program introduced in April 1991. The program is designed to prepare students for responsible citizenship and also hopes to encourage further learning and productive employment in the future economy.

Stefan Schumacher and Andrew Gibson, both juniors in English, take a seat Wednesday afternoon near Eisenhower Hall for a study session. The mild October temperatures made outdoor activities popular both on campus and in the Manhattan area.

Alexander will discuss the program at the opening of the 1992-93 Landon Lecture Series at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in McCain Auditorium.

Appointed by President Bush in 1991, Alexander has been a leader in establishing national goals for the educational system.

These goals include preparing children for learning before they enter school, raising the highschool graduation rate to at least 90 percent, making American students the best in the world in science and mathematics, increasing literacy to better compete in a global economy, and ridding schools of drugs and violence.

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Alexander emphasizes the importance of all facets of society in achieving the goals of America 2000.

He wrote in the June 1991 Outlook newsletter of the education department: "Even with accountability embedded in every aspect of education, achieving these goals requires a renaissance of sound American values — proven values such as strength of family, parental responsibility, neighborly commitment, the community-wide caring of churches, civic organizations, businesses, labor and the media."

The strategy is built upon allowing parents to choose which schools their children attend while calling on parents to be more responsible for their children's One component of the America 2000 strategy is the Parents as Teachers program. The program helps families create an atmosphere that encourages learning by educating parents through home visits and group meetings and providing financial support.

Prior to becoming Secretary of Education, Alexander led nation-wide education initiatives as governor of Tennessee 1979-87.

He was president of the University of Tennessee from 1988 until his nomination for secretary.

KSU Ambassador Applications

are available at the Alumni Association Office,
2323 Anderson Ave., 4th Floor
(Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.)
Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23, 1992

ATTENTION

All Education Majors

KSNEA MEETING

Tuesday Oct. 6, 4:30 p.m. Bluemont Media Center - 016

Cheryl Yunk
Donna Erpelding
on QPA/OBE

COME EARLY

REFRESMENTS SERVED

Great Memories Start Purple Here... Portraits taken for...

Sigma Phi Epsilon Oct. 6

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

是 IMPRESSIONS HAIR DESIGN AND BODY TONING

A great cut with a personal touch.

$5.00 Off

Haircut with Style or Perm Wave, w/ Haircut

537-1332

$10 OFF Sculptured Nails

Must bring this ad.

First Time Visitor Only
1129 Moro Not valid with any other offer.

GET ALCO Advantage

FREE

SECOND SET OF PRINTS

EVERY TUESDAY!

Receive a second set of 3" prints FREE with any exposure roll of 35mm, disc, 110 or 126 color print film left for developing and printing at our everyday prices! C-41 process only. Excludes larger 4" size prints, and photo galaxy.

3007 Anderson

537-2433

AT $\Omega$ Fall Pledges 1992

Jason Cansler
Rich Cherra
Brian Cyre
Dan Dow
Brett Fincham
Matt Fraas
Doug Geyer
Chris Glenn
Doug La Munyon
Kevin Minor
Sheldon Murphy
Ryan Newth

Chris Palmer Kirk Pellow Mike Pfeiffer John Rhoades Scott Rueger Svai Sanford Dan Stack Kelly Taylor Chris Troppito Bill Young Mark Zorn

UPC

FRIDAY &
SATURDAY
7 & 9:30 P.M.
SUNDAY
7 P.M.
FORUM HALL

K-State Union
UPC Feature Films

SATURDAY & SUNDAY 2:00 P.M. FORUM HALL

K-State Union UPC Feeture Films

WEDNESDAY &
THURSDAY
7 & 9:30 P.M.
FORUM HALL
FRIDAY
7 P.M.
LITTLE THEATRE

DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST
A FILM BY JULIE DASH
A KING INTERNATIONAL RELEASE

W-State UPC Kales

ALL MOVIES $1.75 WITH I.D.

TIL THE COWS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

OCTOBER 6, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Amendment opens up records

THE ISSUE

Campus crime records have until now been sealed under interpretation Congressional

For the first time in nearly 20 years, information about campus crime will be available to those who deserve access to it.

Congress recently excluded campus crime records from protection under the Buckley Amendment.

The amendment was intended to keep universities from releasing stduent's names and personal information without their knowledge.

The federal government threatened to take funding away from schools that violated the amendment. Of course, most - including K-State — complied.

Like other schools, K-State also conveniently interpreted the amendment to include protection of campus crime records.

Universities were happy to comply for several reasons - primarily because releasing the records tarnished their images.

Schools and police also feared the public and media might misinterpret or misuse the information.

That amendment's intent was good. But it never should have applied to police records.

With Congress' decision, what universities do with campus crime records falls back on state law. And the Kansas Open Records Act mandates disclosure of the information that was previously protected.

So, instead of an annual report with anonymous numbers in columns under items like "rape" and "assault," information about serious crimes now will be available that same day on what are known as the "green sheets."

And reports will also include names of people involved, even if they are students. There are a few exceptions under the law, including for instance victims of rape.

Students have the right to know if someone they sit by in class has assaulted someone. They need to know rape does happen on their campus.

The openness will also give victims more courage to come forward. Violent crimes like rape will no longer be so hush-hush.

It also requires journalists to use their heads when reporting thecrimes.

Finally, someone realized that students' safety is more important than university public relations, and that disclosure of crime information can only make campuses more safe.

Right women can handle warfare

s usual, conservative notables like Rush Limbaugh and William F. Buckley are chirping about the hidden feminist agenda to undermine this democracy.

Lately, their rhetoric suggests that, besides maybe a woman choosing to get an abortion, a woman serving an active combat role in the military would be the most insane result of the feminist drive for gender equality.

Conservatives are trying to link Bill Clinton with what they regard as radical left-wing groups, hoping they can cast a shadow of fear in the heart of the mainstream American who might be thinking of voting for him. And, what with Hillary and all, they feel feminist issues are a good place to hammer away.

But.in fact, Clinton could possibly use the issue of women in combat to shore up support with many liberated males, as well as females.

Whether as voters or politicians, women are rightly seizing an increased role in shaping the government and its policies. So, in the event that the leaders of this country feel it necessary to reimplement the draft, it is only fair that women be just as eligible as men.

Combat issues aside, there are plenty of eliminate many women from pursuing a role in positions in the military that would not put women in direct confrontation with an enemy wearing a different uniform (which should not be confused with the current danger military women face in enemies wearing the same uniform). And women would serve in those roles, as they do now, as adequately as men.

Granted, faced with the prospect of being drafted, many women would be less than eager to serve. But that could by no means be correlated to their sex - the same has always been true for men as well. Without a doubt, women would serve, or refuse to serve, exactly as would men. Women and men should have equal opportunity and responsibility to prove their loyalties in time of war - whatever those loyalties may be.

Men, especially military men, often harbor a view that combat is no place for a woman. Men who believe that correctly point out that, in combat situations, the speed, strength, endurance, and psyche of the soldier directly affects not only his own chances of survival, but the survival chances of soldiers around him. That being the case, if a man does not meet those physical and mental requirements established to ensure his fighting capability, he is not assigned to combat. If a woman cannot meet those requirements, she has no more business in combat than the incapable male.

But what if a woman does meet the basic requirements? Obviously, physical differences in the sexes direct combat. However, it would be completely false to say no women possess the physical attributes to assume a combat role, without first leveling the training standards to accommodate

There is no doubt that there are some very athletic women equally or more capable of fighting than the average male soldier. Olympic athletes and those women on American Gladiators immediately spring to mind.

As for whether a woman is mentally fit for battle - take that up with a Feminist if you

True, most American women are not Olympic athletes, and most are not regulars on a futuristic. Stephen King-like game show.

But it is also true that the average American male soldier is not a bloodthirsty, cannon-toting clone of Arnold Schwarzenegger. He is more often a run-of-the-mill post-adolescent who passed certain physical and mental requirements that enable him to participate and possibly die in the art of mass destruction.

If she has proven herself capable, why shouldn't a woman be allowed to join in as well? But the thought of daughters and wives returning to the States in body bags, which incidentally happens in every war to some degree, is more than most men care to stomach. Maybe if confronted with that possibility on a more horrifying scale, leaders would think twice before involving this country in a war that might best be avoided.

READERS WRITE

PROGRAM CUTS

KU prof sees errors in cutting colleges

I am extremely concerned about the plans at K-State to substantially reduce the size of its social work program.

It seems remarkable to me that a university would elect to cut a program almost in half that already has a waiting list of students seeking to enter the program.

It becomes even more noteworthy when you consider that the state of Kansas Social and Rehabilitation Services are unable to fill present staff vacancies due to a lack of professionally educated and prepared applicants.

As a professional social worker and educator, I have had the opportunity to work with and supervise social-work students from seven different colleges and universities. It has been my experience that K-State students have generally appeared more mature and better prepared for entry into the field than many graduatelevel students from other institutions. This is particularly so of students who have taken the dual degree in social work and human development/family

As a faculty member at a state university, I do have some appreciation for the difficult financial situation presently faced at K-State, and I do recognize the need for program evaluation and restructuring throughout the system. I am extremely concerned, however, that this current plan is shortsighted and does not accurately reflect the larger needs of our community, let alone the needs of our students to find employment upon graduation.

Be assured that these are matters that will influence my decision to renew membership in the Alumni Association, or to use my purple credit card, or to speak with high-school students about the opportunities to be had at

Gary Bachman Clinical instructor/University of Kansas Medical Center

MASCOT NICKNAMES Mascots being seen in wrong perspective

Editor,

On the eve of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week, it is patently absurd that members of the intellectual community should spend so much time fighting for the removal of Native American mascots in organized

Friday's letter to the editor has reduced this issue to new lows. I, for one, do not believe that "if you substituted any other racial or ethnic group for 'Indians,' there would be rioting in the streets." Furthermore, I do not feel that the use of Native American mascots dehumanizes Indians.

These mascots were not chosen to dehumanize, degrade, or oppress, but rather were chosen because they exemplify men and women of courage, valor and fighting ability. The pioneers who crossed the plains may not have liked the Indians, but I doubt that there was one person who did not respect their abilities and courage. The choice of Native American mascots reflects respect, not contempt, for the heritage of the Indian.

I suppose the whole point is that some people really need to relax a little. Everyone is taking offense at everything in today's litigious society. Stop being so uptight and easily offended by things that are not said with contempt. Neither I nor anybody else desires to deprive you and/or Native Americans of anything, including your civil rights.

Re-evaluate your priorities, and start spending some time on making our society a better place to live by helping the people who have real needs and legitimate complaints. And if stereotypes do hurt all of society, then I want to be the first to complain, because as a white male, I've been getting more abuse in the past few years than all the other groups combined.

Perhaps the faculty who wrote Friday's letter could spend more time improving their classroom performance instead of making mountains out of molehills.

> Alan Grant Graduate student/Economics

CARTOONS

Ed board needs to lighten up on kids

Editor,

The Editorial Board's Oct. 1 statement on educational components of Saturdaymorning cartoons seemed off the mark

While I agree in principle with the Children's Television Act, I failed to see why shows considered "dribble" are unworthy somehow in the eyes of the board.

True, we have 6-1/2 days to make money. Likewise, children have that much time to bury themselves in education. While the occasional craft or health tip is nice, I don't see "education" as a major component to a cartoon's job description. I'm not saying that cartoons don't have a teaching influence. Extensive research about proving this link to be true. I have no qualm about limiting explicitly violent acts from children's programming.

It's just that, as adults, we have need for relaxation and the occasional mindless activity. In these days of increased pressure on youth, do we not owe them the same opportunity? What is the unforgivable crime in mentally arousing fun, but relatively mindless. programming?

We should allow our kids a break and focus our efforts on protecting them in other ways.

Steve Hoekstra Graduate student/Psychology

▶ FOOTBALL

Cats don't have a hope against Hawks

K-State got lucky last year and won the KU-K-State football game. Actually, KU lost, K-State did not win. There is no way you wheat-growing farm boys from Silo Tech can get that lucky two years in a row. You might as well stay back on the farm and follow your sheep around the barnyard.

> Dana Altman Fan Club KU Chapter

LEFT AND RIGHT

Columnist needs to reevaluate his feet

Editor.

Poor John Hart has had his toes stepped on. Here's some advice, John: If you can't take the heat, get out of the fire.

> Steve Adams Senior/Math

Abortion protest is voice against ignorance, anger

ENGLER

America in several cities and towns participated in what was known as "Life Chain." The Life Chain was a collective of varied personalities uniting in silent, prayerful and peaceful demonstration against abortion.

Even in Manhattan, roughly 200 individuals (if not more) lined several blocks of Bluemont Avenue that Sunday in silent, but visible, testimony on behalf of the unborn. Each person present held a placard stating one simple "Abortion Kills message: Children. I had the great pleasure of participating in this proclamation for life and must say it was quite interesting to watch the reactions and facial expressions of the

For the most part, those who did make gestures toward the demonstrators were encouraging and friendly. There were many thumbs up, waves and cheers of agreement as motorists cruised

Of course, not all was positive. I glimpsed a number of faces grimacing and heads shaking, as though we should know better than to be wasting our time with such controversial frivolities. To my joy, I was only flipped off once. And whoever that was, I hope they get a hair cut. They give long hair a bad image, and it's a shame.

The pro-life movement showed itself last Sunday in a way many people are not familiar with. Sorry if you were disappointed by the lack of noise and arrests, but the pro-life movement is much broader in scope than picketing abortion clinics.

The scope of the pro-life movement even reaches beyond the silence of the Life Chain. The movement consortium of faithful prayer, resource pooling, education programs, powerful speakers, ministers, medical doctors, nurses. scientists, attorneys and family-i f e educators joining together to ignorance and combat complacency on the issue of abortion.

The pro-life movement is arduous, to say the least, but its strength does not lie in stirring media coverage at a radical protest. Much of the pro-life strength lies within the hearts of the individual men and women composing this juggernaut. These individuals cut across all age, race, educational and economic strata. They are people willing to speak out publicly, act politically and communicate personally. Contrary to what the "prochoice" camp espouses, many of the members of the pro-life movement are women. In fact, many of the women involved in the life cause have experienced abortion or single motherhood. Other members were once "unwanted" or "undesirable" babies coming from the worst of circumstances The pro-life movement is not a participatory participatory of "morally constipated clods" with no sensitivity to the needs of women. They prioritize caring and compassion as they endeavor to meet the needs of pregnant women and their unborn children, both of whom are the principal sources of strength for the pro-life

Week's plans discussed at lunch

Diverse attendance encourages organizers about upcoming events

COLLEGIAN STAFF

About 100 people attended the kickoff luncheon for the fourth annual Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week Monday.

"The luncheon is a type of rally to get the troops fired up and involved," said Phillip Anderson, co-chairman of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week and professor of speech.

K-State President Jon Wefald gave a brief introduction after the luncheon in the K-State Union Flint Hills Room.

"I feel it is very important for K-State to continue having a Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week," Wefald said. "I would love to see other universities around the United States implement something similar to what K-State offers.

"It is important for us to have a link,"

there are existing cultural and economic problems. However, if they think this isn't going on, they do not read the paper, because it is going on right now."

Wefald said he believes K-State has a good number of faculty and students who recognize the history of this culture, but he hopes it will be recognized on a much larger scale.

"If we are to be a successful country in the 21st century, we must learn together in peace and harmony, " he said. "We must do this to achieve the American dream.'

Manning Marable, professor of political science and sociology at the University of Colorado, briefly spoke about why he believes people are concerned about the potential misunderstanding of racial issues, and what we have to gain by overcoming stereotypes. "There are many stereotypes," he

he said. "Many people do not believe said. "You can be stereotyped as a liberal or radical. Everyone is stereotyped in some way.

Marable said we need to have a grip on the history of everyone's culture to overcome these stereotypes. He said it is imperative for all Americans to experience, appreciate and learn about all cultures.

"We need to try and overcome stereotypes by learning from the differences in our cultures," he said. "This is an opportunity for us to understand the true human experience."

Student planning co-chairwoman Elsa Diaz, senior in industrial engineering and physical science, said she was pleased with the turnout.

"The luncheon was well-represented by a lot of diverse people," she said. "It was a great way to start off the week and has gotten me and others really excited about the week ahead."

Kansas Perot backers refused deputization

ASSOCIATED PRESS

CAMPAIGN '92

OVERLAND PARK Encouraged by their success in getting Ross Perot on the presidential election ballot in Kansas, Perot's supporters in Johnson County turned their efforts last summer to voter registration.

But, according to Joyce Hower of Gardner, a Perot volunteer who spearheaded the registration effort, she and other Perot volunteers who asked to be deputized in order to register voters were turned down by the election commissioner.

Instead, they had new registrants sign cards asking for voter registration information and mailed 8,000 to 9,000 of the cards to the elections office during September.

Elgia Stevenson, the election commissioner, was furious and asked the Perot volunteers to stop, because her office overwhelmed by the requests.

Stevenson, a Republican who has been election commissioner in Kansas' second most-populous county since 1984, defended her actions, saying that Johnson County had 71 voter registration sites and that it was her prerogative whether to deputize others to register voters.

"I had that choice. I just made the decision" not to deputize the Perot volunteers, she said.

"They have been telling people they are a voting site, and they are not," she said of the Perot volunteers. "They're the only ones that have gone around the community advertising themselves as a registration site.

"I asked them not to do it, but they go right ahead."

Hower, a retired businesswoman who had no previous political experience, denied that the volunteers had misrepresented what they were doing.

'All we were doing was

■ See PEROT Page 11

Study to define Underground Railroad

Officials discuss preservation of national historical sites

"We want this to be as reflective of the diversity of the thing we call the Underground' Railroad as possible."

> VINCENT DEFOREST

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - A federal study of the Underground Railroad the network by which slaves in the pre-Civil War South were ferried to freedom - must include a broadened definition of that phenomenon, experts and activists say.

At the first public meeting of a National Parks Service effort to study the Underground Railroad, 27 scholars, government officials and interested people spent most of Monday trying to specify exactly what should be studied.

Some participants pushed for any study of the Underground Railroad to include the historical roots of slavery in Europe and Africa. Others pushed for a more focused study on the years 1830 to 1865, when slaves escaping the South used the railroad the most. Still others argued for the use of an "empowering" language in the study to emphasize the contributions of African-Americans to running the railroad and freeing

"The natural course of study will be to try to define the problem in a greater depth than how it's written," said Vincent deForest, a Washington, D.C., program coordinator for the National Park Service who helped run the study session. "That happens with any legislation, especially legislation related

In November of 1990, Congress authorized the parks service to conduct a study of the Underground Railroad, its routes and operations to preserve and interpret it as an aspect of U.S. history.

The "railroad" was actually a network of waterways, back roads, caves and sympathetic homes and churches used by slaves to escape to the North. Abolitionists, Quakers and other black leaders provided support.

Several sites, including the home of Underground Railroad activist Harriet Tubman in New York and the Mother Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Philadelphia, have been recognized as national historic landmarks for their roles in connection with the Underground Railroad.

But several other locations nationwide with historic significance have not been preserved, officials say.

One such site — the Quindaro Ruins in Kansas City, Kan. - is located only a few miles away from the downtown hotel hosting the conference. It served as a station on the Underground Railroad but was abandoned after the Civil War when its economy died.

A trash company had planned to build a landfill atop the ruins until opponents pushed the city to reverse itself late last year and paid the company a settlement.

But the parks service decision to meet in Kansas City indicates no intention to try to preserve that site, deForest said. Rather, the conference was intended to coincide with the meeting of the Association for the Study of African-American Life and History, deForest said. That group is the oldest organization in the United States devoted to the study of African-Americans, he said.

"We're just at the stage of gathering as much information as possible, deForest said. "We want this to be as reflective of the diversity of the thing we call the Underground Railroad as possible.

The Department of the Interior was given three years to compile a study of the Underground Railroad and report back to Congress. Possible action includes the designation of historical sites and perhaps the establishment of a new unit of the national parks system, the legislation said.

Vandals damage plane in attempt to fly

Police have no leads on who vandalized $100,000 worth of property at the Manhattan Municipal Airport Friday night.

Unknown suspects started some airplanes, damaged equipment and stole headsets from private planes

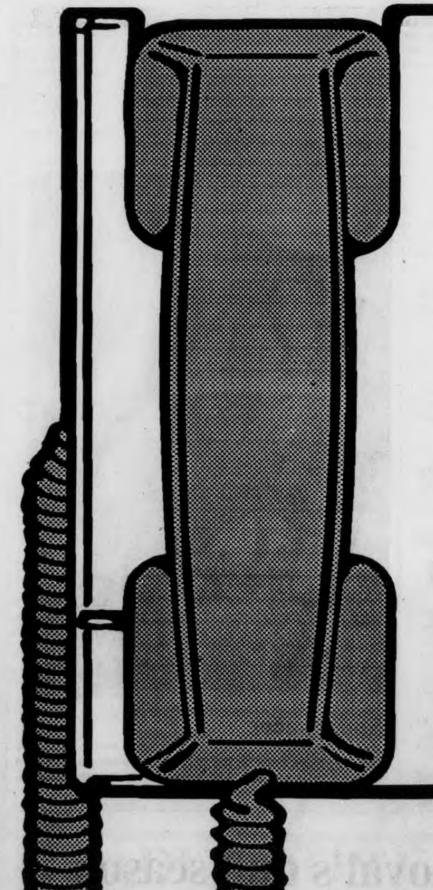

The suspects attempted to start at least two planes at the airport. One was a Cessna 414 owned by Ronnie Hill, 3509 Dickens Ave.

The vandals attempted to taxi the plane out of the hangar, but the door to the hangar was not completely open. The suspects crashed into the door, damaging the props, fuselage and tail.

Airport officials said the plane is not flyable.

Crimestoppers of Manhattan is offering a $1,000 reward for any information about the crime.

Some individual owners of the planes are also offering awards of unknown amounts.

Just a phone call away!

Friends	Ads	Faculty
Advisers	GTA's	Offices
Clubs	Tutors	Coupons
*	Housing	#

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

5. Texas A&M 10. Virginia

15. Syracuse

OCTOBER 6, 1992

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

Cats lose game to KU,

Defender Brent Carpani prepares to head the ball away from a Kansas player during the Cats' 1-0 loss Sunday.

The K-State men's soccer team opened its regular season Saturday with a 1-0 loss to the Kansas Jayhawks at Frank Anneberg Park.

The single tally that the Jayhawks produced in the second half was enough to beat the punchless Wildcat offense. That one goal, team president Frank Weeks said, ended the game for the Cats.

"We just kind of went into a defensive mode," he said. "The offense couldn't do much after that goal.

The young Wildcat offense was unable to produce a goal because the players haven't had time to gel, Coach Viktur Atughonu said.

"The offense hasn't been playing together much," he said. "The defense was good, but the offense just wasn't there. "They played an individual game instead of a

The Wildcat defense, Weeks said, controlled the pace of the game. He estimated that KU got no more than four shots on goal. But he also said the team was depending on that tough defense to keep the Jayhawks

"We have one of the best defenses in the Big Eight," Weeks said. "All of our players relied on "But now that we know our defense isn't invincible. It will make the offense work more." Indeed, the team focused on the defensive efforts, Atughonu said.

"We depended too much on the defense. We had opportunities to beat KU, but the offense went down after that first goal. They just went

"Everybody has the ability," he said. "But there's definitely room for improvement." For that improvement to take place, Weeks said, the squad needs to get more games under

"We're still trying to move our players around, and that hurt us. We're not sure yet who needs to play where," Weeks said. "We started getting confused and getting frustrated with each other. We started breaking down.

"We're still trying to get a regular lineup. In a couple more games, we'll know." The Wildcats will have another chance to test that offense next weekend. K-State travels to Emporia State to play Sunday.

Wildcats place 4th in tourney

If only "Dad" would have scored a few more

The Wildcat lacrosse team traveled to St. Louis over the weekend and won just one of its three games in the Gateway Lacrosse Classic tournament. The squad took fourth in the sixteam tourney

The leading scorer for the Wildcats was attacker Chris Irrig, the oldest player on the team. Irrig, who is jokingly called "Dad" by his teammates, paced K-State with seven goals.

"I think I did a heck of a job for a 32-year-old man," said Irrig, an Army captain who lives in Fort Riley.

K-State won its first game of the tournament, beating Big Eight rival Missouri 10-4 on Saturday. Midfielder Jay Sweet led the team with three goals in the victory, and Irrig added Attacker Brandon Aslin and midfielder Jed Dunham also scored two goals each.

The Wildcats' first loss came Sunday against the St. Louis-Gateway team, 8-5. First-half woes led to the Cats' demise, Coach Curt Thurman said, and the team couldn't pick up the slack in the second half.

We just totally outplayed them in the second half," Thurman said. "But penalties killed us in the first half.

"We actually beat them, but the score doesn't indicate that."

Irrig and attacker Tondo Waldron led the squad with two goals apiece.

In the closest match of the tournament, the Cats lost to Memphis 14-13 Sunday afternoon. For the second straight game, K-State tried to climb out of a first-half deficit. Memphis led 9-5 at the half, but the Cats were able to claw back In fact, K-State outscored Memphis 5-1 in the third quarter, tying the game at 10 heading into

But the more experienced Memphis team staved off the Cats, who had tied the game at 10 and again at 12, for the victory.

Irrig, Sweet and Aslin led the squad with three goals apiece, and midfielder Erik Olson

■ See LACROSSE Page 11

SPORTS DIGEST

▶ PHILADELPHIA BEATS DALLAS, 31-7

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Herschel Walker artfully dodged the Dallas Cowboys, scoring touchdowns on runs of 9 and 16 yards and rushing for 86 yards on 19 carries as he and the Philadelphia defense beat Dallas 31-7.

The Eagles broke away with three touchdowns in the final 20 minutes.

Dallas quarterback Troy Aikman was flushed from the pocket by Reggie White on the first play of the game and forced to ground the ball, setting a pattern that continued throughout.

The Eagles now lead the NFC East at 4-0, while the Cowboys fell to 3-1.

▶ CREW TEAM ROWED TO 1ST PLACE IN KC

The K-State's Crew team competed in the Head of the Kaw Rowing Regatta Saturday in Kansas City, Mo.

K-State brought seven boats to the three-mile head race to row against teams from Wichita State, KU, Drake and the Topeka Rowing Association. The mixed-four boat was K-State's most successful crew, winning the

The women's eight and the men's pair placed third in their event.

head race with a time of 20:45

▶K-STATE DOMINATES HAWKS IN SAILING

The K-State sailing club opened its competition Saturday with a four-race regatta against Kansas.

Each school sailed three 14-foot Lazer boats. After four races, K-State won the regatta with 28-1/4 points to KU's 54 3/4.

In the four races K-State took three times first place, twice second and four times third, to dominate the Kansas boats in all races. KU took first in the second race for its best race result.

WATER SKI

Team misses Nationals

FRANK KLEEMANN

When the K-State Water Ski Club went to the regional championships at Warsaw, Ind., Saturday and Sunday, the goal was to qualify for the nationals and to use the meet as warm-up.

But Sunday, after the slalom, the last team event of the day, the season ended abruptly. K-State finished fifth and missed one of the two berths for the national championships.

"We missed our goal, and we are disappointed," senior Michelle Haupt said.

"We had a pretty good chance until we didn't do well in the one event - the slalom," senior Casey Koehler said. "In slalom, we didn't perform up to our potential. The whole team had a bad day."

K-State entered the last event in third, one spot behind the qualification position. But the competition among the top five teams was so high, Haupt said, that K-State's low in the slalom left the team out of the medal places.

Michigan State took first place and will be accompanied to the nationals by Western Michigan, the second-place team. Michigan and Purdue, as well as K-State, did not qualify.

"It was close," Haupt said. We tried the hardest we could."

One skier who had a successful individual meet was Koehler. Koehler placed fourth in the trick event and fifth in jumping with 106 feet.

Capturing one of the top five positions in both of the events, Koehler qualified as a member of the all-Midwest water ski team. The Midwest team will ski against other region teams next spring.

For Koehler, it's the first time to be on the all-star team.

"It was a big goal," he said. "I didn't do my best, but I did it. I was happy to qualify."

Hawks next after easy win

COLLEGIAN STAFF

The K-State rugby team got a quality victory over a conference opponent last Saturday - a 31-14 win over the Columbia Outlaws in the Heart of America division.

The Wildcats are now 2-1 in the conference and 4-2 overall.

"We played real well Saturday," said Gregg Robke, a senior lock (2nd row), of the victory at Swope Park in Kansas City. "Next week, we'll be playing a lot better team."

Kansas Jayhawks at 1 p.m. Saturday at Tuttle Creek State

"Playing KU will be a tough game," Robke said. "They usually have a good team, and we're not going to be able to . walk all over them. We're going to have to fight hard to win this one."

Senior Scott Kram said the Wildcats are showing good -defensive strength so far this

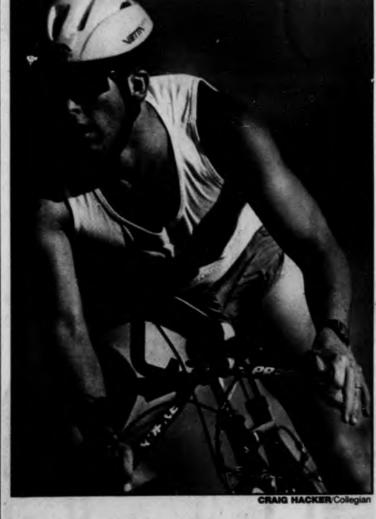

"Our back line is probably

The Wildcats take on the the strength of our team right now," he said. "We lost a few key front-line players from last year, which has made us play a lot of new people."

The K-State squad lost several players from last year's squad.

"We're playing a lot of rookies," Robke said, "and they don't have quite yet a good grasp of the game.

"We may be a little faster than last year, but we're not as strong. That's something that will have to come with time."

Speed racer

Jason Price, Manhattan, heads down the home stretch on his way to a first-place finish in the Dutch Mill Biathlon Saturday in Wamego. Price won the 10-kilometer run/20-mile ride in a racerecord time of 1:26:49 hours.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Brett only highlight in Royal's dull season

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Kansas City's 72-90 record this season isn't bad when you consider the Royals began the season 1-16.

"I told the pitchers they did a good job," Manager Hal McRae said. "I told everybody else they This team simply can't score. stunk.

Kansas City played three or four games above .500 for much of the remainder of the season until swooning at the end. A 6-0 loss to Minnesota on the last day epitomized the Royals' season.

Throw away the 1-16 start, and the Royals were still two games below .500 at 71-73. They finished 16-24 in the last 40 games, and the final record shows 10 fewer wins than 1991. Kansas City had its worst record since losing 97 games in 1970, as well as their third straight fifth-place finish. Kansas City was weak at both middle infield positions. The outfield is anybody's guess. The bullpen is solid. Then there's the matter of George Brett, who finished his 19th season by getting his 3,000th hit in the final week.

Even if Brett does come back, the team will be faced at some point with the retirement of the player who, more than anyone else, represents the Royals.

KSU playwrights seek critiques

Open forum allows students to see work performed, gain audience insight

Look out, Broadway. K-State students are presenting original plays through the Playwrights' Stage, in which local and campus playwrights can see their work performed.

"I think what makes this the most fun is that it's a different experience than other theater projects on campus. It gives more people an opportunity to show what they can do," said Judy Mills, graduate student in speech and Playwrights' Stage organizer.

The program was founded three

Mr. Rogers, President Bush and

They have all been the subjects

Owner Max Conde and manager

'We come up with the ideas,"

Wayne's World have one thing in of commercial spoofs by Conde

Aaron Nickell create, write, research and star in their own

Conde said. "We try to pick concepts that everyone will recognize."

idea, they research it, and that is probably the only creativity they because we try to be as accurate as commercials, "Conde's World," Conde said he and Nickell bought several "Best of Saturday Night

Live" videos to study, because the movie "Wayne's World" was not commercials are reasonable but the more props they put into it, the Conde said the costs of the

The family-owned business has

He said after they arrive at an

"We do research extensively

For one of their most recent

Wayne and Garth

look-a-likes star in Conde's commercials

LOCAL BUSINESS

TONYA FOSTER

Music and Electronics.

television commercials.

possible," Conde said.

yet out on video.

more expensive it gets.

common.

years ago by Norman Fedder, professor of speech, because so many plays were coming out of playwriting classes. The plays needed more critiquing than just reading in class. So Fedder, with the help of graduate students. started the forum.

Playwrights' Stage is organized so that anyone can submit work to be performed.

The performances are staged readings in which the actors read from a script. No costumes or props are used, and stage movement is minimal.

existed since the late 1940s, when it specialized in musical instruments and appliances. Now the store

"If you can make people laugh, they'll remember you," Nickell said. "We aren't saying buy, buy,

buy. We just want you to remember to see "Wayne and Garth."

Thursday," Conde said.

One mother brought her child in

Perhaps part of the appeal,

Nickell said, is the fact that they don't wait for a commercial to get old before planning the next

Their latest parody will be out

"We're hoping it will be out primarily deals with electronics.

"The readings are really spontaneous. No one really knows what will happen next," Mills said. Each performance has a director and actors who have worked together to do the reading.

After each performance, an informal discussion with the audience takes place. This offers insight on how the author can revise the script to improve it.

Mills said efforts are being made to let people know about the performances in hopes that many will attend and offer feedback.

'Sometimes the most valid comments come from people who don't know anything about theater,"

The forum also provides an opportunity for local playwrights' Performances are at 2 p.m. each Sunday in the Purple Masque Theatre.

works to advance.

"Any Day Wednesday," by Stephanie Cox, a former K-State graduate student in English, debuted in Playwrights' Stage last

The play was then presented in Nichols Theatre and was submitted to the American College Theater Festival Original Play Competition.

From the regional level, plays can advance to national competition and have the chance to be performed at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

Double lives, but a single soul ASSOCIATED PRESS

"The Double Life of Veronique" stars the beautiful Irene Jacob in the dual role for which she was awarded the best actress prize at last year's Cannes Film Festival.

Directed by Polish filmmaker Krzysztof Kieslowski, it is a lyrical portrait of two women - one

REVIEW ***

TONIGHT AND EVERY TUESDAY!!!

18 to enter; 21 to drink.

OOK FOR THE DELTA TAU DELTA BLOOD MOBILE ALL WEEK

619 North 12th street, Aggieville,537-2100

Polish, one French - who live in separate cities, have separate lives but a deep link to each other's soul.

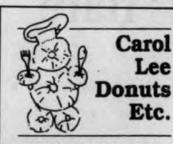

The story opens in a small village in Poland, where Veronika lives a simple life singing in a chorus. Her voice is a magnificent instrument, a reedy but sweet contralto that seems to draw from

She constantly has the feeling that she is not alone, that someone else is with her - Veronique. She also is given small warnings of a weak heart.

During a visit to her aunt in Krakow, she auditions for a prestigious music group and wins the position. But during her solo performance, she collapses and dies of a heart attack.

While in Krakow, Veronika sees that her other self is on a tour bus snapping photos. Veronique

See VIDEO Page 11

Donuts & Rolls 1/2 Price After 4 p.m. 6 a.m.-7 p.m. Daily 1800 Claflin FirstBank Center

Tuesdays Every Tuesday at... New

New & Used CD's, Tapes, LP's, We Buy, Sell & Trade

1131 Moro Aggieville 539-3160 11-8 Mon-Sat 12-5 Sun

Bugs can tickle your taste buds

Entomology offers nutritious, delicious insects LIANA RIESINGER

The pests people usually try to exterminate can now be a tasty

Sauteed mealworms and fried grasshoppers were among the delicacies at the entomology department's open house for Parents' Weekend.

Mike Smith, head of the entomology department, gave students and parents samples of various insects he prepared.

"My favorite are caterpillars in tempura sauce," Smith said. Smith said he collects the caterpillars from his backyard and prepares them with spices and sauces like onion powder, soy sauce and garlic.

Fried spicy grasshoppers dipped in picante sauce and mealworms seasoned with soy or steak sauce were among the favorites.

Although insects can be eaten raw. Smith said he does not recommend it.

"You have to cook the insects to get rid of the microbes," he said.

It is best to thoroughly wash the insects and cut off the heads, wings and legs before cooking them, Smith said.

Although bug consumption is not popular in the Western world, insects are a large part of the diet in Third World countries.

"In Africa, the people eat locusts and grasshoppers, and in Australia, the aborigines eat honey ants and beetle larva," Smith said.

The nutritional value of insects provides a good amount of protein, mith said.

Besides the insect-tasting table, John Reese, associate professor of entomology, presented an experiment designed to save farmers millions of dollars.

Through the Host Plant Resistance program at K-State, professors are analyzing ways to develop pest-resistant plants, Reese

Green bugs are the biggest concern with wheat and sorghum, or milo, damage.

Reese said pesticides are used as the last resort in eliminating these kind of pests.

These insects attack the phloem, which is the protein part of the plant, killing the crop.

Golden Key National Honor Society

Attention Current Golden Key Members Applications for the local chapter scholarship are now available in 013 Bluemont Hall Completed forms are due Oct. 9 in 013 Bluemont. Only current members are eligible to apply.

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

ROYAL PURPLE

Cassette

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

WORLD

MIDDLE EAST

Women protest for role in Kuwait elections

1 1/2 years after Gulf War, country attempts to climb back into democracy

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KUWAIT — Kuwait's male elite jammed polling stations for the country's first elections in seven years Monday.

Many citizens hoping the results will speed Kuwait's democratic reform and reconstruction in the wake of the Persian Gulf War.

However many women are especially frustrated — their resistance work against the Iraqi occupation did not earn them the right to vote. About 50 modern-day suffragists scuffled with police when they tried to enter polling stations.

The 1991 Gulf War did not change the strict voting rules in the oil-rich emirate. Only males over 21 who can trace their ancestry back 72 years are allowed to vote, limiting the voting pool to about 81,500 men from a population of 650,000 Kuwaitis.

Voters generally said they leaned toward younger, highly educated candidates who would reinforce mocracy.

The 278 candidates running for 50 seats from 25 districts said most voters want Kuwait secured from another invasion and see a strong Parliament as the first step.

There were no exit polls or immediate projections when voting ended at 8 p.m., and ballot boxes were sealed with wax to be transported to the central counting area in each district. Final results were expected by Tuesday

"We lived through the war and we noticed what is good, what is bad. We are applying what the younger generation has learned. That is the difference in this election," said Ra'id al-Essa, 33, a businessman.

Schools used as polling stations were almost buried in campaign posters, bright banners and tents serving beverages or food. Candidates jockeyed for position at the doorways of the polls, hoping to convince last-minute voters.

The ruling emir, Sheik Jabir al-Ahmed al-Sabah, suspended parliament in 1986 for its criticism of royal ministers. Many expect this parliament to define the balance of power between the ruling family

Candidate Ali Ahmed al-Baghli said he had stopped looking at the U.S. Army Patriot missile battery on constant vigil against possible attack by Iraq since the start of the elections.

"I feel safe and secure in the presence of democracy... There is no better protection," he said.

Political parties are banned, and candidates are fearful of taking firm positions that might alienate even one voter when it only takes about 700 to win a seat.

Seven political groups ranging from Western-educated technocrats to businessmen to Muslim fundamentalists fielded candidates. Most ran as independents.

But after security the central concerns were rebuilding Kuwait's $80 billion overseas nest egg that shrunk by half during the war; ending the classification of citizens into a host of different categories; and helping the private sector recover.

Kuwaitis also want their constitution protected, but not at the cost of provoking a fight between the ruling al-Sabah family and the

SOUTH AMERICA

Voting problems plague Guyana; looting, riots flare

"In order to bring the situation under control, I have instructed the army chief of staff and commissioner of police to use all force necessary."

DESMOND HOYTE

As former President
Carter observes, army called to stop mobs
ASSOCIATED PRESS

GEORGETOWN, Guyana — President Desmond Hoyte called out the army to restore order Monday night after mobs shouting charges of fraud stoned election offices. The mobs continued rioting and looting during the first national election in Guyana since 1985.

One man was shot and killed as he carried a mattress from a wrecked store. Others were wounded.

Hoyte reported disturbances in Georgetown, Berbice in the east and Linden to the south. He told the nation over radio and TV he was aware that thousands of eligible voters were disenfranchised after turning out to vote and not finding their name listed. Voting was for president and the legislature.

Police made dozens of arrests and appeared to be gaining control at nightfall.

Polls closed at 6 p.m.

Balloting in this South American nation was being monitored by more than 100 foreign observers, including former President Jimmy Carter. No immediate comment came from the observers, many of whom were in the countryside.

Guyana, the size of Kansas, has about 750,000 mostly poor inhabitants.

The president, considered an underdog

The president, considered an underdog candidate for re-election, represents the socialist People's National Congress. His major rival was Marxist Cheddi Jagan of the People's Progressive Party.

"In order to bring the situation under control, I have instructed the army chief of staff and commissioner of police to use all force ... necessary," Hoyte said.

"The disturbance arose from the frustration and anger which many voters around the country experienced as they sought to exercise their right to vote," he said.

Hoyte blamed voter frustration also on polls opening late, voters being misled as to where to vote, and slow processing at some of the 988 polling stations.

"I saw the problems for myself," Hoyte

Rioting broke out after thousands of Guyanese, most of them black backers of Hoyte's party, massed outside national elections headquarters.

"We want to vote," they chanted, pressing against a 5-foot-high steel fence ringing the building in downtown Georgetown. Youths showered the three-story building with rocks, shattering every window.

The elections commission had to turn the headquarters into a special voting center. But hundreds of protesters swarmed down the street, smashing store windows and looting shops.

To calm the crowds, Elections Commissioner Rudy Collins said officials at the polls were being instructed to give ballots to anyone with a slip proving they had registered.

Reporters saw a woman, apparently of East Indian descent, pulled from her bicycle and beaten by at least three black youths.

Local radio reports said blacks also protested in the eastern city of New Amsterdam Political support in this former British colony, on South America's northeastern shoulder, is divided largely along racial lines. The descendants of East Indian indentured servants backed Jagan's party and descendants of black African slaves supported Hoyte's party.

SOUTH AMERICA

Prison violence leaves 111 dead after siege

Witnesses claim police responsible for 'massacre'

SAO PAULO, Brazil —
Relatives began claiming bodies of loved ones killed in a riot in Latin America's largest prison, and human rights activists on Monday demanded a full inquiry into what they said was a massacre by police.

Sao Paulo state security director Pedro Franco de Campo said the final death toll at Carandiru Prison was 111 following a fight between gangs Friday that turned into a bloody siege.

But an American prison chaplain and others disagreed, saying the number of dead was much higher.

Paulo Sergio Pinheiro, head of the University of Sao Paulo's Center for the Study of Violence, told the Associated Press: "Massacre is the most adequate term for what happened at the Pinheiro said he talked with more than 100 survivors and, 'I walked past blood-stained walls and had to sidestep several pools of blood."

"According to what the inmates told me, police deliberately executed prisoners who turned themselves in. Many more were killed when the police raided the facilities, shooting indiscriminately," Pinheiro said.

"The official death toll is a very conservative one. I would say that at least 180 prisoners were killed," he added.

Said the Rev. William Sheehan, a prison chaplain who spent the weekend in the prison: "There is no doubt that it was a massacre."

An unsigned letter on a napkin, said to have been written by two inmates and smuggled out by relatives, alleged police lined prisoners up against walls or forced them to lie on the floor and then killed them. The letter said at least 200 prisoners were slain.

Said Franco: "I cannot accept the word massacre or the idea that police used excessive violence because that would amount to a prejudgment."

He said an investigation would be made and that if "police abuse was committed, those guilty will be punished."

But Pinheiro said rights organizations and the Sao Paulo Bar Association would conduct their own inquiries "because official investigations into police abuse always end up in nothing."

According to Pinheiro, the Sao Paulo police force is one of the country's most violent, "killing four people a day."

More than 300 armed troops

More than 300 armed troops were used to quell the uprising in the five-story cell block No. 9 in the prison. Located in working-class district, the facility was built to house 4,000 inmates but currently holds close to 8,000.

holds close to 8,000.

Authorities claim most of the prisoners killed each other during the riot. But Sheehan said, "The prisoners definitely did not kill each other. All those that died were killed by police."

Royal Purple

When you've obtained a master's degree from Yale, own three sports cars, have a vacation home in Hawaii, earn $2 million annually and have three adorable children — will you still remember being a Wildcat? The Royal Purple will.

Order your 1992-93 Royal
Purple from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 in the Student
Union or come to Kedzie 103
(east of the Union). Total price is $21 - which includes
yearbook and sitting fee.

Cable bill survives Bush veto

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 said Gene Kimmelman of the Consumer Federation of America, which supported the bill.

"This shows that the Congress has rejected election-year politicking and chosen to stand by consumers to protect them from the excesses of cable monopolies."

The bill would require the Federal Communications Commission to set rates for basic cable service in communities where cable companies operate as monopolies.

It also is designed to enhance competition from other companies that can provide expanded programming similar to cable.

And in a concession to the broadcast industry, it requires cable companies to negotiate with local broadcasters before carrying their

"The president says competition will not increase with this bill," said Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii. "He is wrong. If we do not pass this bill, there will never be competition to cable."

After the Senate vote, Fitzwater said, "We stood for lower cable bills for the consumer through increased competition. This is an important principle. We genuinely believe that our approach would be a better way to increase the variety of services available to the consumer at lower prices."

Twenty-four Senate Republicans had originally voted for the bill, and Bush had failed to persuade enough of them to switch.

The cable industry and Bush argued that costs to consumers could go up because of a provision of the bill mandating service standards and a requirement that cable companies negotiate with broadcasting stations before carrying their signals.

They contended cable has grown into a popular provider of quality programming that would improve and expand faster if unregulated.

USAir attendants ordered to work

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

9,000 USAir employees, said the leaders of its USAir group had voted to honor the strike, but Lewis ordered them to keep working.

About 95 percent of flight attendants reported for work Monday, said Susan Young, a USAir spokeswoman.

David Melancon, a union spokesman, said he could not provide an absentee rate.

"USAir is pleased that the court rejected the AFA leadership's misguided policy of obstructing the company's contingency plans," the airline said.

Union and airline negotiators were unable to agree on a new contract after lengthy weekend talks that lasted into Monday

National Mediation Board spokesman Lew Townsend said early Monday no other talks were scheduled.

USAir is asking all employees for wage, benefit and work-rule concessions, so it can cut costs by about $400 million this year. Pilots agreed to salary concessions in June.

Chairman Seth Schofield accused the Machinists of being "unwilling to make the same contribution and sacrifices as other USAir employee groups during this difficult economic period."

He said striking aircraft maintenance and repair workers will be replaced temporarily with management employees trained and qualified for aircraft maintenance.

The Machinists said they have worked without a contract for 2 1/2 years, and a main sticking point in the talks has been work-rule changes USAir wants to use lower-paid workers to push jets to and from

The union fears those workers eventually could replace the Machinists

System needs to be overhauled, Marable says

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

government and the politicians, the courts and the police, the corporations and the media — have largely written them off," Marable

He said although being "written off' in 1992 isn't as blatant as it was in the past, it exists.

"We don't have the 'whites' and

'colored' signs in restrooms," he said. "Today it is more subtle."

The rules of the political game need changing, he said.

Changing methods of registering to vote and the role of the electoral college were two suggestions he said would give all people a larger voice in the political system.

The electoral college should be abandoned, Marable said, to give the popular vote the power to elect the president. With the current system, the popular vote may be overridden by the votes of the electoral college.

"The issue is empowering the people to change structures. This means empowering the people to empower themselves," he said.

Meier dies of leukemia

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Society of Professional Surveyors. Meier is survived by his parents, Sid and Barbara Cordry Meier, Manhattan; a brother, Mark Meier, Gulfport, Miss.; and his grandmother, Ferne Cordry, Manhattan. Services will be Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Sedalia

Community Church. Burial will be in Sunrise Cemetery. Holmes-Pfeifley Funeral Home in Riley is in charge of arrangements.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Heart of America Bone Marrow Donor Program or to the K-State Center for Basic Cancer Research.

Tonya Foster contributed to this

37

BF GOODRICH Lifesaver GT4

P155/80RI3 STARTING AT 27.96

P165/80R13	. 32	96
P175/80R13		96
P185/80R13		96
P185/75R14		96
P195/75A14		96
P205/75R14		96
P205-75R15		96
P215/75A15	46	96
P225/75A15	47	96
P235/75R15		96
P235/75R15XL		96
1100		-

DOUGLAS

Xtra Trac A/W

35,000 Miles Tred Warranty

All weather design
 Excellent traction for all conditions

P155/80R13 19.96

Double steel belted

P185/75R 14

P195/75R 14

P16580R13 42.96 P20575R15 P17580R13 45.96 P21575R15 P18580R13 47.96 P22575R15 P18575R14 49.96 P23575R15SL 59.96 P19575R14 51.96 P23575R15XL 74.96 P20575R14 53.96

General Ameri-Plus Tires

50,000 Mile Tread Wear out Warranty

EVERY DAY

All Weather Tread Mud/Snow rating

DOUGLAS Performance 600/700 S Speed Rated to 112 Mile Per Hour Raised White Letter

+60 & 70 Series for n	nost applications
	20 00
700GT185/70R13	39.96
	47.06
600GT195/60R14 600GT195/60R15	49 96
600G1305/60R15	52.96
600GT215/60R 14	54.96
600GT215/65R 15	52.90
600GT235/60R 14	.58.96
600GT235/60R15	59.91
600G1275/60R15	69.90
700GT195/70R14	40.90
700G1205/70R14	50.94
700GT215/70R14 700GT225/70R15	57.96
700G122S/70R15	58.96

DOUGLAS Ranger Rider Light Truck

GENERAL

Light Truck Tires

Radial and bias ply construction available Quiet tread design with staggered tread sined for reduced noise

103.96 108.96 118.96

139.46

30x9 50 STARTING AT 96.96

31x10.50 31x10.50

LT215/85R 16 LT245/75R 16 8.75R 16.5LT

9 50A 16 5LT

Sturdy truck tires
Tread designed for maximum traction
Aggressive tread design for quiet ride

P205/75R14 RWL STARTING AT	45.96
P215/75R15 RWL	49.96
P235/75R15 RWL
30 X 9.50R15	72.96
31 X 10.50R15	79.96
LT215/85R16 OBI	72.96
LT225/75R16	74.96
LT235/75R15 OW
LT235/75R16
LT245/75R16

0

CHAMPION 500 BATTERY

 500 Cold Cranking Amps 4 Year Warranty

· Free Installaion

WITH THIS COUPON ---

----- WITH THIS COUPON -

LUBE, OIL AND FILTER CHANGE

FRONT END ALIGNMENT

Please Recycle "Recycling makes a powerful flerence. By bringing back your roll intersystem as not a 55 exchange fre-on your new battery parchase and help to protect the environment. All returned batteries will be recycled into new ones."

Battery Condition Checked FREE

Let us check the condition of the battery in your car.

WITH THIS COUPON --4 WHEEL COMPUTER BALANCE

Off

WITH THIS COUPON RADIATOR FLUSH & FILI

Coupon Good Sun. Sept. 27 Only

Manhattan 628 Tuttle Creek Blvd. 776-4897

Regular Price

AUTO CENTER SERVICE HOURS Mon-Fri 8:00 A.M.-8:00 P.M. Saturday 8:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M. Sunday 11:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M.

THE STATE

We Take Tips

At Your Service

from our basic $3.50 car wash and dry to our complete in and out, top to bottom detailed cleaning, waxing and polishing . . . We do it all at the best prices in town.

Automatic car wash

& DETAIL SHOP

Junction City: 432 Grant Ave. -238-3487 n: In Village Plaza (Alco) ·776-3026

GOODSON AUTO TRIM

Headlining Tonneau Covers Boat Covers Seat Covers Window Tinting Convertible Tops Complete Auto, Truck & Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane (between Wal-Mart and K-Mart)

Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Phone 776-7679 Res. 776-7614

MUSIC REVIEWS AND MORE

Get your car ready for winter

IMPORT CAR PARTS & SERVICE

"We Stock Parts for all Imports"

 EXPERT MECHANICS ON DUTY •COMPLETE LINE OF FOREIGN PARTS

CALL 539-0577

315 S. 3rd • M-F 8-5:30 SAT. 9-1

ROSE MUFFLER HOUSE

"Our Business is Exhausting"

•GLASS TINTING SERVICES AVAILABLE MUFFLERS-TAILPIPES DUAL SYSTEMS AUTO (AMERICAN & FOREIGN) •RVs•LIGHT & HEAVY DUTY TRUCKS CUSTOM PIPE BENDING •WINDSHIELD REPAIR SERVICE available by The Glass Mechaniks

FREE ESTIMATES

2049 Ft. Riley Blvd. 1-800-439-8956 776-8955

Tragic lesson: Standard radar failed in Florida

ASSOCIATED PRESS

PINELLAS PARK, Fla. -Outdated weather equipment is to blame for the lack of an early warning before killer tornados hit the Tampa Bay area, the region's chief meteorologist said Monday.

"The current technology is definitely archaic," said Robert Balfour, chief meteorologist at the National Weather Service office in Ruskin, on the east side of Tampa

"The best we can do with this radar is detect it as it's happening. It wasn't designed to detect tornados. It was designed to detect rainfall," he said. "There was no indication of a tornado."

Tornados swooped across Pinellas County Saturday, killing three women and leaving a path of wreckage through residential neighborhoods in Pinellas Park and the Largo area. One woman was

The storm injured 53 people, leaving six hospitalized. It also destroyed 125 homes and damaged 350 others, mainly mobile homes.

Balfour and his boss, Paul Hebert, the service's Florida manager in Miami, found no fault with the way forecasters did their

"In my opinion, they did as well as they could with the information and equipment they had," Hebert

The Rushkin office put out warnings after receiving two calls reporting a tornado on the ground.

Weather service offices are getting new radar units that measure air movement inside clouds and can give up to a 40minute warning of tornados. Two have been installed in Florida at Melbourne, on the state's east coast, and Eglin Air Force Base, in the panhandle. The 35-year-old system at Ruskin isn't scheduled to be replaced until 1995.

Meanwhile, continued to search Monday for 80year-old Amelia "Millie" Riehl, who disappeared during Saturday's Police used dogs and bulldozers to search the wreckage of the mobile home where Riehl and her husband, William, lived since moving from Massapeaqua, N.Y., in 1977.

Their home was thrown 300 feet, and William Riehl, 84, was found in a ditch. He remained hospitalized in stable condition with cuts and

The couple had been playing cards when Amelia Riehl walked over by the stove and said "My God, the wind is really picking up,' said her son, Ken Riehl, of Stony Brook, N.Y. Then the tornado hit.

Federal, state and local damageassessment teams began surveying neighborhoods Monday to estimate losses and determine what financial help victims could get. Pinellas Park city officials estimated damage at about $20 million.

Singing student irks administrator

Berkeley's own 'Starr' shoots for the elusive limelight ASSOCIATED PRESS

BERKELEY, Calif. - Add one more name to the list of Berkeley characters: Rick Starr, a campus crooner with a song in his heart and a summons in his pocket.

The charge: disturbing the

His somewhat off-key serenades at the University of California, at Berkeley, are anything but music to Thomas Ventresco. The campus administrator filed a complaint saying the stress of working 50 yards from Starr's lunchtime performances is causing him to lose sleep at night. That's a review that might have some performers singing the blues, but Starr struck a philosophical note: "You're not going to please everybody.

Starr, 46, contends he is protected by the First Amendment - the campus, after all, was the birthplace of the 1960s Free-Speech Movement.

In any case, the bust may turn out to be a boost, Starr said. After pleading innocent last week in Berkeley Municipal Court, he treated court employees and reporters to such Frank Sinatra standards as "Strangers in the Night" and "My Way."

"I want to get to Nob Hill. I declined to be interviewed.

want to get to the Fairmont," he said, referring to one of San Francisco's ritzier hotels. "That's my goal. People are laughing at me, but I've got to go for something."

Starr is a familiar figure on campus. He is 6-feet-plus, wears well-worn suits, vividly patterned ties and a battered fedora.

He sings for donations. It's a familiar gig. As a child, Starr said he'd sing for "nickels pennies, dimes" on the streets of His leap onto a bigger stage came in the 1960s when he moved to Los Angeles with his mother,

Flora Elstein, who says she's "his former Hollywood manager and presently his publicist-mother." In an interview, mother and son proudly produced vintage publicity stills and an old 45-rpm record Starr recorded for a small company, with "Mr. Astrologer" on one side and "Treat Her Like an Angel" on the Elstein bristled at suggestions her son sings off-key. Starr, whose real name is Richard Frankel, describes his singing as "kind of

And croon he does, although Old Blue Eyes doesn't have to worry.

Once heard, Starr's voice is hard to forget, in part because the notes aren't always recognizable. In his complaint, Ventresco cited a carrying quality that can pierce closed windows. The administrator

MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

Marching to a cultural drum

Michael Kemeh (left), graduate student in theater, gives a lesson in African drumming Wednesday to Manhattan residents Ron Marstall and Roger Gibson at the Roundhouse in Manhattan City Park. Kemeh teaches the class from 4 to 5 p.m. every Wednesday.

Class offers chance for students to learn African percussion beats

ERIN BURKE

The Kpanlogo. A drumbeat, a dance, an entertainment symbol of African heritage and Four students sit in a circle listening intently as Michael Kemeh, graduate student in theater, explains the technique of learning to play various African drums.

He taps his foot to the Kpanlogo beat he is creating with maracas, one of many rhythms that originated from his West African home country, Ghana.

"I can't teach you anything but my own country's music," Kemeh says.

A cassette player reverberates with the African music Kemeh plays as an example. A lively mixture of singing and drum rhythms fills the small classroom with the authentic

The African drumming class, sponsored by Manhattan Park and Recreations and Manhattan Civic Theatre, is from 4 to 5 p.m.

Wednesdays at Theodore Roosevelt Elementary "Music plays an important part in the community life for Africans," Kemeh said. Drumming groups in Africa form a solidarity, Kemeh said. When one person in the group is going through a sad and sorrowful time, other members will join together to play music and sing. "The words of the songs are very comforting," Kemeh said Drumming groups also play for naming ceremonies, when a newborn child is introduced into the community and named that day, Kemeh said. Dancers and singers perform on the drums to invite the child to the outside Several of the African beats taught in the class emerged in the 1960s. The drumming became a form of entertainment for young boys and girls during social occasions, Kemeh said.

The eight-week class will focus mainly on the Kpanlogo beat, but other rhythms, such as the Gahu, Agbadza and Adowa, will be taught as the students improve, Kemeh said.

African drums such as the sogo, kagen and gongon aren't available, so the class improvises "I want to teach them how to play some

When students master the drumming, then dancing and singing will be introduced, Kemeh said. Students will have a public performance when the class ends to display the skills they traditional African music," Kemeh said.

"In a small way we are enriching the kids of color, and they can explore their roots," said Linda Uthoff, theater coordinator for Manhattan Parks and Recreation.

People are becoming more aware of the need for diversity, she said, and that is where classes should have their focus.

The interest in the drumming class is broadening. People are still enrolling, Uthoff said, and the feedback from the participants in the first class was positive.

The African drumming class is a way to increase musical ability and expand on the knowledge of another culture, said Ron Marstall, art teacher at Thebdore Roosevelt and drumming student.

"It was something I've never done before, so I thought, 'What the heck?' " Marstall said.

Anyone interested in enrolling in the African drumming class can contact Uthoff at 587-

Korean cult says doomsday close

Officials fear missed Oct. 28 deadline may result in mass suicide ASSOCIATED PRESS

SEOUL, South Korea - Kwon Tae-young, seated cross-legged on the white linoleum floor, gestured excitedly as he explained: At midnight Oct. 28, trumpets will blare, and white-robed angels will carry him, his wife and three sons to heaven.

The only earthly remains of the Kwon family, he said, will be the clothes they were wearing, their dental fillings and their ID tags from the Mission for the Coming Days Church.

Kwon said he's never been One group says the Rapture could about 20,000 other church followers has South Korean officials worried. They wonder how believers will react if doomsday doesn't arrive on schedule.

Some experts are even raising fears of mass suicides if the date passes uneventfully.

Church members believe the faithful worldwide will be lifted into heaven in a phenomenon called the Rapture. The church says the event will trigger seven years of war, flood and famine that will annihilate the earth and set the stage for the second coming of Christ.

of Koreans who believe the beginning of the end of the world is at hand reportedly have sold property, abandoned their families, quit schools and jobs, deserted military posts and even had abortions. At least three have already committed suicide.

In an effort to counter the doomsday movement, some parents have committed children to psychiatric hospitals. Counselors are swamped. Traditional churches have issued appeals, and plainclothes police have been assigned to monitor church activity. "It's a potential social disaster," says cult expert Tahk Myeongwhan, director of the International Religions Research Institute.

Lee Seung-eun, who heads a victims' association, claims her college-age son was kidnapped by church members. Her hand shook as she held a list of 21 church "martyrs" expected to die — including her son.

"What can we do?" she said, wringing her hands.

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

and manufacturing technology. An example of these new soft lenses is DuraSoft OptiFit, which correct astigmatism. Former lens wearers are invited to try these or other extremely comfortable soft contact lenses. If they don't work out, you owe nothing (except for the examination fee).

This is a Free lens trial — you pay for the lenses only if you decide to keep them after a 30-day trial period. Our office specializes in fitting former contact lens wearers, and we offer all of the newest and most advanced lens types, including soft lenses for people with astigmatism. Call our Refit Program Coordinator today for more information.

537-1118 3012 Anderson

Guaranteed Refit Program

College cowboys

Dan Suderman, sophomore in agricultural economics, attempts to lasso the foot of Ben McClure, sophomore in feed science, Monday afternoon outside the Mont Blue Apartment complex. The two KSU Rodeo Club members were practicing on foot, because Suderman doesn't have a horse in Manhattan.

Philadelphia workers may strike

Trash piles up outside homes as city, union representatives stall in negotiations

ASSOCIATED PRESS

PHILADELPHIA - A union leader abruptly walked out of negotiations with the city Monday, saying further talks were a waste of time as a midnight strike deadline 'loomed for 15,000 municipal workers.

Bags and boxes of trash already had started piling up outside homes.

District Councils 33 and 47 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees had been working under contracts that expired July 1. The members include trash collectors, building inspectors, social workers, clerks, water and sewage plant workers and operators who answer 911 emergency calls.

Thomas Paine Cronin, president of the 3,000-member white-collar workers' union, District Council 47, walked out of the talks less than an hour after telling reporters both sides were still talking and prepared to stay "to the last possible moment."

Cronin hinted that union workers might act during Monday night's National Football League game between the Dallas Cowboys and the Philadelphia Eagles at Veterans Stadium. But he would not divulge plans. "I'm a great football fan," he said before leaving the negotiations. Leaders of the 12,000-member immediately leave the talks.

Alan Davis, the city's chief negotiator, shed no light on Cronin's départure.

"All of the elements of a fair settlement are on the table," he said during a break. "They've been on the table for over a week. There's no reason in the world why there should be anything but an agreement."The dispute does not affect police and firefighters. Their contracts are in arbitration and are barred by law from striking.

Streets Commissioner Alexander Hoskins said trash collectors were staging a slowdown, but that was denied by James Sutton, president of the blue-collar union.

Mayor Ed Rendell imposed a four-year contract two weeks ago, blue-collar union did not saying the city needs to save $99 million in labor costs to stave off a $250 million budget deficit. A court hearing on the union's request for an injunction blocking the new contract is scheduled for Thursday.

The contract includes a two-year wage freeze followed by a 2 percent raise in the third year and 3 percent in the fourth. It strips the unions of control of their health plans, reduces sick days and holidays and does away with a no-layoff clause.

Philadelphia's last municipal walkout was in July 1986; the white-collar union settled after two weeks. Blue-collar workers remained on strike until a week later when a judge declared a health emergency and ordered all employees back to work.

OBITUARY riginal Temptations member dies

Eddie Kendricks helped found '60s Motown sensation ASSOCIATED PRESS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Eddie Kendricks, a founding member and lead singer of the Temptations, died Monday night, a hospital spokeswoman said. He was 52

Kendricks died of lung cancer, said Betty Ingram, a spokeswoman for Baptist Medical Center-Princeton. The Birmingham native had been hospitalized since Sept. 25.

Video features parallel lives

Singer Stevie Wonder had visited Kendricks Saturday.

When the Temptations were formed in Detroit in 1961, the group consisted of Kendricks, Otis Williams, Melvin Franklin, Paul Williams and Elbridge Bryant. David Ruffin replaced Bryant in 1964, and the group signed with the Motown label.

The group had its first No. 1 hit with "My Girl" in 1965, followed by "It's Growing" and "Since I Lost My Baby" that same year.

The Temptations went on to become Motown's most successful male group, notching more than a dozen hit singles and trailing only the Supremes for supremacy on the

"While the Four Tops covered the frenetic side of the Motown sound, and the Miracles monopolized its romantic side, the Temptations quite simply stood as the finest vocal group in '60s soul," Joe McEwen and Jim Miller wrote in the Rolling Stone Illustrated History of Rock and Roll. "They could outdress, outdance and outsing any competition in sight."

Kendricks began a solo career in 1971, but rejoined the group in 1982 for a "Reunion" tour. He was reunited with the band again in 1989 as it was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Williams killed himself in 1973, two years after he was asked to leave the group because of alcoholism and related health problems. Ruffin died last year from a drug Kendricks underwent surgery in Atlanta last year to have a lung removed. He later said the disease was caused by 30 years of smoking, and he urged children not to smoke.

"A lot of people were saying it was HIV ... or drugs," Kendricks said. "It was just from smoking."

Perot people piqued

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7 unwittingly takes Veronika's picture.

At the moment Veronika dies, Veronique feels a grave sorrow. She also knows that she must give up her singing career because her heart is too weak. Like Veronika, she, too, always has felt she was not alone — that she was in two places at the same time.

Veronique meets a puppeteer, Alexandre (Philippe Volter), at the school where she teaches music. He is entranced by her and sets about with a game to lure her to him. He mails her clues that, once unraveled, will lead her to his identity.

She eventually solves the riddles and comes to him. He makes two puppets that résemble her and tells her he is writing a story about two women, born on the same day but in different cities. He will call his story "The Double Life of ...

This is a worthy video to rent or to add to one's video collection. And you might want to record parts of the beautiful musical score by Zbigniew Preisner.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

disseminating information," she said. "We were trying to help, but we treaded on her turf."

When they learned that office Stevenson's overwhelmed by the requests for voter registration packets, they offered to help process them but Stevenson turned them down,

"We finally have the elections commissioner understanding they need to get out where the people are," she said. "The city halls and the banks (traditionally, the most common voter registration sites) are closed by the time most people get off work.

"They say we have 70 registration sites in Johnson County, but if those sites don't serve the people, what's the point?"

Grant to benefit football program

Members of the K-State football program will have a chance to pursue teaching because of a grant announced at the Sept. 26 game.

K-State and Hitachi Ltd. announced a $5,000 teaching scholarship during the halftime

The scholarship will be awarded in December to a K-State senior or graduate student involved in the football program as a player, trainer or manager. It will provide the means to continue post-graduate studies or to meet certification requirements to teach.

'We are extremely pleased that Hitachi has made a commitment to America Ltd., in a press release.

help education," Athletic Director Milt Richards said. "This will be a big boost to the young people studying education in our football program.

K-State is one of 67 members of the College Football Association participating in the "Hitachi Promise of Tomorrow." Hitachi will donate a total of $335,000 to CFA members, making this the largest corporate-funded scholarship program in college football.

This is a unique program that instills pride in education and in the profession of teaching. At Hitachi, we believe that young people are the promise of tomorrow," said Keishi Toda, president of Hitachi

Lacrosse goes 1-3 in weekend tourney at St. Louis

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6 scored the first goal of his threeyear career.

Despite the two losses, Thurman said the tournament was a success.

"It was a real good weekend," he said. "We played to our potential, and I'm real optimistic. It was a really good gut-check."

Especially considering that the Cats were playing with a new goalie. Doug Stoltz, one of the team's top defenders, stepped into the position because the team's top two goalies couldn't make the trip.

He had never played the position in a game before Saturday.

'We just threw him in the goal because there was really no one else to play," Thurman said. "He played a great tournament and made some great saves:"

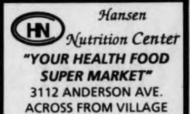

Indeed, the tournament was even good enough for "Dad."

"It was definitely a positive note for this team," Irrig said. "The experience and the knowledge that we gained will take us into the spring season.'

Food For Your Brain.

(Min. Order $9).

PLAZA 537-4571 "DIET CURES WHAT DIET CAUSES"

HUNDE Chinese Restaurant & Lounge 539-0888 539-8888 Dining-in Coupon 10% Off hen you present coups Not valid with Buffet

HARRISON FORD BLADE

THE DIRECTOR'S CUT

OF THE FUTURISTIC ADVENTURE

Settl Chilles 6 Starts Friday, October 9th Children Beresu M. 776-9845

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

The Muslim Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Fourth Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM:

PART IV: Pillars of Islam (2)

Presented by Hisham Hidmi President of MCA.

Tuesday, October 6, 7:30-8:30 p.m.; at Kansas State Union, Big 8 Room.

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

FOUND IT.

NO! NO HAMSTER HUEY

TONIGHT! WE'VE READ THAT

Hal put me to work with some.

one reorganizing

boxes of paper.

WANT

HAMSTER

HUEY!

BOOK A MILLION TIMES!

ESSENTIALS

THE STRIP

WHAT IF

WAS PLAYED

WITH

WHAT STORY WOULD YOU LIKE

TONIGHT? WE CAN READ

ANYTHING EXCEPT.

CALVIN AND HOBBES

HAMSTER HUEY

AND THE

S JOURNAL

I worked at the copy store today.

DAVID SWEARINGEN

BILL WATTERSON

DO YOU THINK

THE TOWNSFOLK

WILL EVER FIND

HAMSTER HUEY'S

HEAD?

IIM DIKKERS

I suppose you could

SAY I'M NEW BYEN

there almost a

though I've worked

WOW, THE STORY WAS

DIFFERENT

THAT TIME!

We started stack. I told her that

LOOK, YOU KNOW HOW THE

ing boxes and she said, You're new

HUEY!

STORY GOES! YOU'VE

MEMORIZED THE WHOLE

THING! IT'S THE SAME

STORY EVERY DAY!

HERE IT 15 ... NO, WAIT-IT'S JUST AN ICE CUBE.

CROSSWORD

among les 13 Kurosawa

movie 48 Dis-15 Exces-49 Grecian sively

22 Greek X

23 In any vessel distrustful 50 Boleyn or 17 Inces-Bancroft 51 "How santly 18 Before the little 19 Cabusy bee..." boose's 52 Actor place 20 Directly

Beatty 53 Act like a 21 Gluttonize rodent

Vincent

speare's

theater

41 Weekend

abbr.

45 Like an

uncon-

Bible

vincing mounted lead-in:

42 Uno + uno

38 Shake-

way 26 Searched 30 Bamako's country 31 Ump's cry 32 Golfer Bob Infant in a 1987 film 35 Inclined

36 Reverential fear Yesterday's answer 10-6 37 Baseball's

DOWN grandmum 22 Emulate 1 Part of a Batman

Edward costume Scissor-2 Actor Sharif 23 Docs' org 3 Telegram

4 Actress 25 Erstwhile Salonga of "Miss ring king 26 Sine non 27 Love seat

28 Name-to-6 Deposited adjective suffix 7 As well as 8 Rapport 9 Stromboli 29 Go red spilth 10 Guinness 31 "A Chorus Line" show-cards on a receipt composer

daughter

44 Distort

37 Fern leaf

39 French stamped stopper of screen 11 Drudgery 16 "Hud" 34 Use credit Oscar 35 Notation winner

20 That girl 21 Harry and

Solution time: 27 mins. OSEIBIS AHAB ANN NORA DORA TAJ NYET SASSY GOBI EEK YONDER

46 Magazine

EUGENE SHEFFER

STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873!99¢ per minute, touchtone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

CRYPTOQUIP

RGU

41 Links warning 42 Astronaut RGU Eisele 43 Eugene's

YVWP JB AQU CXJTY. Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OUR MOST FAMOUS PAINT-ERS ARE DISPLAYED IN THE HALL OF FRAME.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: D equals G

FOR ENTERTAINMENT COLLEGI

10-6

Textbook case of sexual harassment elicits reader response

You ran a letter Thursday from J.R., who sought help with what appeared to be a textbook case of quid pro quo sexual harassment: the woman's instructor, a GTA, had made sexual advances to her in a social setting, threatened her when she rejected those advances and subsequently "punished" her in class by giving her a poor grade. The proper advice to J.R. is this: seek assistance immediately in bringing a sexual harassment complaint against your teacher. Initiating the complaint assures that University officials will take great care to protect you from any retaliatory actions through and beyond the investigation and resolution of the complaint. Call the Affirmative Action Office, 6220, the Dean of Student Life Office, 6432, or the Women's Resource Center, 6444,

Judy Davis, Director of Women's Resource Center, K-State

DEAR Ms. DAVIS, Thank you for lending your professional assistance to a very serious problem.

DEAR CASSANDRA.

You printed letters Thursday from students regarding sexual harassment, however, you didn't even acknowledge the problems for what they were. Sexual harassment is a serious problem and should not be taken lightly or dubbed "a classroom antic." Sexual harassment is strictly against K-State policy which defines it as "... any behavior which, through inappropriate sexual content or disparagement of one sex, interferes with an individual's work or learning environment." The policy lists a number of behaviors that constitute sexual harassment, including overt or implicit threats that an educational decision (such as a student's grade) may be affected by unwillingness to accept or tolerate sexual attentions. When J.R.'s GTA told her she would regret it for not indulging him, this was clearly a threat, regardless of whether the "D" on her speech was deserved or not. Also, according to the K-

State definition of sexual harassment, students from the anonymous class with the unprofessional instructor who shows favoritism to the male students are also being harassed because she is creating an offensive learning environment. Students should not be forced to endure any form of sexual harassment as a condition of obtaining an education. I agree that students who feel they are being harassed should confront the instructor and express their discomfort as well as notify the head of the department. However, there are more definitive measures that can be taken. Students should report complaints of sexual harassment to the University administrator responsible for the department in which it is occurring or they can report it to the Affirmative Action Office. Students should also keep a written account of the offensive behaviors or comments to present as evidence of harassment. For more information on sexual harassment and a free copy of the KSU policy prohibiting sexual harassment, contact the Affirmative Action Office in Anderson 214.

K-State graduate student

DEAR STUDENT. Thank you for adding some good advice on a sensitive issue.

Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan., the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o

The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State..

publication" will be maintained in the strictest

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 1 DAY each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

Il classifieds must be paid in advant res you have an established account 1 Student Publications. The check, MesterCard or Visa are paid. There is a $10 service charge il returned checks. reserve the right to edit, reject or ty classify any ad.

Classified ads must be placed by non the day before the date you want our ad to run. Classified display ads ust be placed by 4 p.m. two working ye prior to the date you want your ad

CANCELLATIONS
If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.
You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS
If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

532-7309

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

BOARD

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from sourc-es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881, 1-800-879-7485.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

EATING DISORDERS Therapy Group: Discuss the thoughts, feelings and behaviors associated with this problem.

Common concerns in-clude difficulties with depression, self-es-teem, body image, fam-ily and relationships. Call University Coun-seling Services, 532-

IF ANYONE witnessed an accident involving a car and a pedestrian on May 13, 1992 at approximately 2:30p.m.

the intersection of Man-hattan and Lovers Lane. PLEASE contact Lisa at

STUDENTS WITH Disabilities Workshop, Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1:30-2:30, Lafene 231. Call University Counseling Services, 532-6927.

WE SENT a reminder card what, more can we do? Did you forget? Pick up your 1992 Royal Purple Itoday in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an appoint-

6106 for an appoint-

You'll never know unless you try...advertising.

KSU Ambassador Applications

COLLEGIAN

are available at the Alumni Assn., 2323 Anderson Ave., 4th Floor

(Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.) Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23 nd ads can be placed free for three

FOUND- KEY, possibly computer, between Thompson and McCain. Call 532-6296.

FOUND LADIES watch by Continuing Education building. Call Connie 532-6308.

FOUND: A set of keys in Seaton computer lab Saturday, Oct. 3 at noon. Call 776-4722 to identify.

LOST IN Aggieville, Fri. Sept. 25: Black, Olympus IS-1 camera in soft case. PLEASE call if you have knowledge of it; believe it or not, but it has strong sentimental value. Large reward-without questions. Please call 539-4247,

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

AGR ROULETTER Studs-Mike, Douglas, Jared: Your flashy smiles and nice pressed jeansmade us realize what really means- to be an

AGR woman and have an AGR man- to have more fun at Rouletter than anyone can- We kicked up our heels and you swung us around-we're just the luckiest girls in town! Becky, Maggie, Karen.

BABY ANDREA, Mom/ Dot we soon will be, for all the world to see- what a pair we will be! Love

BABY CHRISTY T .- I'll be by CHRISTY 1.- I'll be your mommy, you'll be my dot, we'll have fun and go out a lot. You only have a week to wait and then it will finally be your birthdate. See you then. Sigma love, Mommy.

BABY HEATHER M, It's almost time when you will be mine. Mom and dot soon we will be, happy together at Sigma 3.

BABY SARAH M. Soon we will be mom an dot can't wait till Oct. 11 when you become mine because from there on it will be good

BABY SIGMAS Carrie, Erin P., Lori- Your moms have family ties. Nu-merous is our clan. No one can beat you baby Sigma- Tri's. Your moms are your biggest fans. Sigma love, Your

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

BABY SOPHIE- Mom and Dot is drawing near, you clues all over the place and on Sunday you'll see my face. Sigma love, Mommy

JEN B. Christy M. and Katie W.- There's so much we can see and do; we'll all be one big family and that's true; so keep on trying to guess who. Here for you is one more clue: Your Tri-Sig Moms are RACHEL-I'M really excited for Sunday! I can't wait to have you as my Dot. Sigma Love, Mom.

SIGMA AMY H. Soon Little one, family we will be, Mom and Dot together, at Sigma three. Sigma Love Mom.

SIGMA BA; Friends may come and go, but fami-ly lasts forever. Sigma ove and all of mine

SIGMA BABY Ame, A won derful Mom and Dot I know we'll make, because as my baby know you'll be great Sigma love, Mommy.

SIGMA BABY Denise times and plenty more to come. And as you will soon see, I can't wait to be your Mom Sigma love, Mommy

SIGMA BABY Greta You're my first baby, love you much and don't mean maybe! To morrow, you'll get another clue- then you can guess who! Love, Mom

SIGMA BABY Heather D. The day will finally come when you wil be my special dot that is hen I'll say I love you

SIGMA ERIN F .- I am so happy you are going be my dot. I can't wait until Sunday! Sigma SIGMA HEIDI- I'm so ex cited to be your Mom!

Sigma Love, Mom SIGMAS SARAH R. and

Dana, Now the time cover, what we have tried to keep under-cover. We are your Moms, happy as can be. Come Sunday you will know- at long last TRI SIGMA Baby Gerree, Mmmm my sister, couldn't get along with-out you now. Got along without you before met you, but I sure couldn't do it now!" favorite guy has brown love, your Moms!

TRI SIGMA Baby Jen you'll never know how happy I am to have you as my baby! Love, Mom

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

105 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

COUNTRY LIVING rent free. But must prepare evening and weekend meals for invalid land-lady. No house work personal care. Singles preferred. Call Frankie 494-8201 or 889-4495.

FURNISHED ONE-BED-

532-6556

cated at 1024 Sunset #12. Available imme-diately. Close to cam-pus, with coin operated laundry facilities, cen-tral air and heat $320 in-cludes water, trash and cludes water, trash and pest control. Call for appointment, 776-3804

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

ROOMMATE WANTED $200/ month, includes utilities, washer and dryer, must love pets. Call 537-0635.

TWO- BEDROOM apartment located at 412 N. 11th St. $350. Most utilities paid. No pets. 539-4374.

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue Apartments, one block from campus. Call 539

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms, Apartment com-plexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will for appointments 776–3804.

FOUR-BEDROOM, TWO bath, central air, laundry, near campus, $180 each, 537-8800.

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395, includes water, trash and pest control. Call for appointment 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Pets. 776-3 Available Oct. 1.

QUALITY TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Quiet neigh-borhood. Large yard. Refrigerator/ range fur nished. Paid utilities ex cept electric. $350/ month. Available Nov. 1. Pets negotiable. 539-7185 M-Th after

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed-room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet surroundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087

THREE-BEDROOM MOST utilities paid. No waterbeds. No pets. 539-6058 or 1-494-2449. HREE-BEDROOM, 800 block Moro, landlord pays heat. $340/ month. 776-8628. 115 Rooms

TWO ROOMS available in town home for now or

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539–3672.

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine month lease available. month lease availal No pets. 539-4087.

1992 14X70 three-bed-room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

WHY RENT? Purchase mobile home with Countryside's fantastic financing. Example #368 Redbud. 12x64 Skyline central air newly remodeled, very spacious, more to choose from. Call Mike at Countryside Broker-age 539-2325.

AWESOME TWO-YEAR old apartment next to campus and Aggieville. Everything is brand new. Off-street parking.

FEMALE ROOMMATE share trailer house Completely furnished. Private. Own room. Washer/ dryer. Pets allowed. 537-4279.

ed for furnished trailer. Full- sized bedroom. $175/ month, 776-5362.

ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large twobedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laun dry facilities and central air and heat. For more information 776-3804.

WANTED NON-SMOKING female share two-bed-room, spacious, newly remodeled house. Two from campus. $150 per

150°

QUIET, CLEAN, large two bedroom/ one bath apartment, central air, $425/ month plus utilities. January- August. 539-0996

Not enough time on your hands to get everything done? Check the

Classifieds service directory COLLEGIAN

Kedzie 103 532-655

next semester. Very nice. Call 539-6684.

SERVICE DIRECTORY

$10 AND up: professiona resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experience. 539-5998 after

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in tables, equations, and overheads. Professional results guaran tees. Please call Sandy

A B C typing service. You do the studying, let me do the typing. Reports, charts, Reports, cha graphs, resumes more. Overnight re-Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after 5p.m. ask for

A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double spaced. Please call Melia 776-1534.

ALL TYPING needs done with laser printing please call Janet at 537-0599.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

240

FOR SALE Washburn Flattop six-string, Ovation 12, 532-5145. GUITAR LESSONS. Ex- perienced teacher. All styles 776-0685.

NISSAN- DATSUN Renai Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also, Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

The Collegian cannot verify the financial po-tential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap proach any such employment oppo with reasonable ca The Collegian The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

FISCAL CLERK, part-time (18 hours per week). High school graduate with bookkeeping/bank reconciliation course work and/ or experi 10-key and spreadshee required. Quattro Pro and word processing skills preferred. Ability to work fast and accu rately on a variety of $5.00 per hour. Submi cover letter, resume, and three references to: Finance Manager, NC-FH AAA, 437 Houston Street, Manhattan, KS 66502, before 3p.m. on October 8, 1992.

NANNIES NEEDED nea NYC/ NJ. We offer ence, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-(Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

STUDENT WITH excellent computer skills needed General microcomp literacy and experience with Wordperfect a must. Apply at Department of Physics of High basketball coach. Teaching certificate preferred but not neces-sary. Deadline Oct. 9. Apply at 306 S. Julie WANTED: DOG lover with

CAN YOU MANAGE ON AN EXTRA $2,500?

Business/Marketing Majors: Manage credi card promotions or campus for a Nationa Marketing Firm. Hours flexible. Earn up to $2,500/term. CALL 1-800-950-8472

Ext. 17.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertiseurges our readers to contact the Better Busi-

$200-$500 weekly. Assemble products home. Easy! No sellin You're paid di - 24 hour hotline 801-379-2900 Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial (800) 733-3265.

ommended. 1-(800)874-7697.

Make music

Want to learn to play the

guitar? Check the Collegian

classifieds to find someone to give you lessons. Only $5 for up to 20 words. You'll make

KANSAS STATE

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

OLLEGIAN

music in no time.

RAISE A COOL $1000 WANTED GIRLS Junior

fenced yard to keep Tricia, 532-6786 extension 36.

Practical experience for

ments in the Employ-ment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such em-ployment opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/ larger quantities available. For more information call

NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now! No will power needed, brand new, just patent-ed 100 percent natural, 100 percent guaranteed. Doctor recGREEKS & CLUBS

IN JUST ONE WEEK! PLUS $1000 FOR THE MEMBER WHO CALLS! No obligation. No cost. You also get a FREE HEADPHONE RADIO just for calling 1-800-932-0528, Ext. 65

FOR SALE

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

NEED CASH? Sell you denim! We're always buying Levi-501 jeans,

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per cent ribbon discount er AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville, 539-1413. FOR SALE: two aquariums plus stand. One, fifty five and one thirty gal LOSE WEIGHT. Gain en ergy. 100 percent moneyback guaran-tee. 539-1252.

MILITARY LC-1 medium backpacks with frames good to excellent con-dition, $40. 539-3947, ask for Mike.

NIKES/ BASKETBALL new, Ohio State colors size 14; way awesome negotiable; 776-8402.

MAC CLASSIC, four meg ram, 40 meg hard drive. Stylewriter printer, software, 537-8990.

532-6555

KENWOOD, KGC- 4030 car equalizer with built- in amplifier, 40- watts pe channel. Good condi tion and works perfect

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

532-6556

FOR SALE: Ovation Ultra

GUITAR LESSONS: Metal

Acoustic and Peavy

Vortex Electric Guitars

lent condition, reason

Rock, Blues, Contemporary, Rick's Music Shop, 314 Tuttle Creek, 539-5900.

feet long, $110, or best offer. Includes: Aquar

ium, rocks for bottom and lid. Call 532-2830

wormer. Eight weeks old. Call 1-494-8458, can leave message.

460 Equi

TWO KITTENS- free to good home(s), already have first shots and de-ly. Must sell! $100 price negotiable. Call 776-4950 and ask for Shawn.

TRANS-PORTATION

510

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8 stereo, tinted windows navy blue, power ster-ring/ brakes, sharp, 1981 HONDA Accord four door Sedan. Runs good, air condition, au-tomatic, $700. Call Tom, 539-8897. Please leave message. 1981 MUSTANG. Good Condition, air condi-tioning, and sunroof. $800, or best offer. 537-

1985 TOYOTA Corolla GTS, red/ gray. Looks/ runs/ drives great! High mileage. Retail $3650, $2150 firm! 776-4018 anytime (keep trying). CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

2. Then call us

520 Bicycles

ridden, 537-2085

1991 TREK 830 mountain bike. DX levers, DX top mount shifters. Hardly ridden. Beautiful blue Mr. Tuffy flat protectors. 539-0816

1992 CANNONDALE R600 road/racing, 56 cm alu-minum frame, 105 Groupo, Avocet computer and seatbag, low miles $700 or best offer 776-3057

530 Motorcycles

Hurricane, 6800 miles Excellent condition, 1-273-3313.

FOR SALE: 1984 Kawasaki excellent condition, call Pat 539-7561

YAMAHA MAXIM- 650 1982, 18K, very good

TRIPS

LONDON. PARIS. Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5. Room for a few more. Contact Diane Dollar. 532-6605 or 539-8401

*Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kansas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

SPRING BREAK

$259 for transportation § and one week of fun and sun. $50 deposit due by Oct. 30.

Cruises and Travel 715 N. 12th St. 776-2217

CHRISTMAS BREAK STEAMBOAT DECEMBER 13-19 - 1 & OR 7 MIGHTS - 4166 VAIL/BEAVER CREEK DECEMBER N-21 + S. A. OR 7 HIGHTS |- $181 BRECKENRIPCE JAMAN 24-5 (ORTHERTS / 202 11th Ammual Collegiante Winter Ski 1-800-321-5911

What do you do if you see a fire? 1. Call 911

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

210 Resume/Typing

030 Personals 040 Meetings/Events 115 Rooms Available

130 For Rent — Mobile Homes 135 For Sale — Mobile Homes

150 Sublease

160 Office Space 165 Land for Sale

200 SERVICE DIRECTORY

215 Desktop Publishin 220 Sewing/Alterations

> 230 Lawn Care 235 Child Care

245 Pet Services

225 Pregnancy Testing

255 Other Services 300 EMPLOYMENT/

MARKET 405 Waged to Buy 410 Herris for Sale 415 Furniture to Buy/Sell 420 Garage/Yard Sales

W

430 Antiques 435 Computers 440 Food Specials 445 Music Instruments

455 Sporting Equipment 460 Stareo Equipment 465 Tickets to Buy/Sell

500 TRANS-PORTATION 510 Automobiles

> 520 Bicycles 530 Motorcycles 540 Car Pool

TRAVEL

620 Airplane Tickets 630 Train Tickets

have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads

WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

010 Announcements 020 Lost and Found

050 Parties-n-More 100 REAL ESTATE

Apt. Furnished

120 For Rent - Hour 125 For Sale - House

140 For Rent - Garage 145 Roommale Wanted

155 Stable/Pasture

320 Volunteers Neede

240 Musicians/DJs 250 Automotive Repair

310 Help Wanted

425 Auction

450 Pets and Supplies

610 Tour Packages 640 Bus Tickets preceded by a number designation. TIPS FOR what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by

Today, Finding Your Bank Just Got Easier.

At First National Bank and Trust, we listened when you told us that you were often confused about which "first" bank was your bank. So to help avoid the confusion, we are changing our name to Sunflower Bank.

Why Sunflower Bank? In this era of rapidly changing bank ownership and takeovers by out-of-state banks, it seemed important to us that we select a name that says we are a Kansas bank, owned by Kansas residents, and that we intend to tie our banking future to the future of Kansas. Sunflower Bank was the result.

Nothing else has changed. Our biggest concern in changing our name was that some might think our ownership has changed. It has not. We are exactly the same bank, with the same dedicated employees, the same locations, the same owners, and the same Board of Directors.

A century of service. This year marks our 100th year in banking. To help us celebrate, please stop by one of our locations October 5th - 10th during lobby hours and join us for a slice of birthday cake. We'll be happy to answer any questions you may have about our name change.

Proudly Serving Kansas For Over 100 Years!

2090 South Ohio / Salina, KS 67401 / (913) 827-5564 2070 South Ohio / Salina, KS 67401 / (913) 827-5564 176 North Santa Fe / Salina, KS 67401 / (913) 827-5564 2450 South Ninth / Salina, KS 67401 / (913) 827-5564 2710 Anderson / Manhattan, KS 66502 / (913) 537-0550

203 West Main / Osborne, KS 67473 / (913) 346-2044
740 Main / Russell, KS 67665 / (913) 483-6322
1010 East 27th Street / Hays, KS 67601 / (913) 625-8888
401 Main / Victoria, KS 67671 / (913) 735-2201
500 North Franklin / Colby, KS 67701 / (913) 462-3313

Member FDIC

KANSAS STATE

INSIDE CONGRESSIONAL ROUND-UP

OCTOBER 7, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 32

Exchanges on multiculturalism

Will Roscoe of Stanford University addresses a question about homosexuals and society during a forum Tuesday in the K-State Union.

Sexuality also part of diversity

LANE ALLISON

Students and faculty discussed homosexual and bisexual concerns at an open forum Tuesday in the K-State Union as part of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week.

The audience included members of the KSU Task Force on Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Concerns. Susan Scott, associate dean of student life, led the

One of the goals of the forum was to discuss some of the task forcegenerated ideas, Scott said. But the force did not make recommendations about particular issues at the forum.

"We feel we need to be persuasive, expressed concerns about funding for of the building itself.

not necessarily heavy handed," Scott homosexual groups and programing said. "We do want feedback and discussion about our ideas. But we want the recommendations to be made in an appropriate way, not in a group like this.

The featured speaker was Will Roscoe, associate in the Institute of Research on Women and Gender at Stanford University.

Roscoe said the problem of selfdefinition holds back homosexuals as much as homophobia does.

Where do gays, lesbians and bisexuals fit into multiculturalism?" Roscoe asked. "We know we want something, but what do we want?"

Other participants in the forum resources for groups. One audience member was concerned with apathy at K-State Whenever the topic of gays comes up, it seems like no one wants to deal with it," he said.

One idea was to have a "safe" place on campus for homosexual and bisexual students, faculty and staff. This place would provide an ongoing body to monitor needs and act as a support group for those members of the campus community.

However, other audience members said they were concerned about the physical safety of the people who used any such building as well as the safety

Marable: Racism can, should be unlearned

MEE SUN LEE Collegian

Racism can be defined as prejudice plus the power of institutions.

"All of us have a responsibility, not just to ourselves," Manning Marable said at his workshop, "Unlearning Prejudice."

Marable, professor in political science and sociology at the University of Colorado, spoke in a room filled to capacity at the K-State Union Tuesday, the third day of Racial/Ethnic Harmony

Marable told students and faculty that prejudice was not inborn in a person. It is learned and can be unlearned, he said.

"We bear the weight of our ancestors in everything that we do," Marable said, talking about an incident during the year he spent as an exchange student in Nairobi, Kenya.

"But we do not have to be women to understand sexism," he said. "We do not have to be black or Hispanic or Asian-American to be sensitive to racism."

It was important, Marable said, that schools and colleges made a conscious attempt to include minorities in their programs to counter decades of discrimination that became both better and worse with the Civil Rights Act of

He said the situation improved, because the act expanded access of African-Americans to higher education, but it changed the manifestations of racism in the process.

Citing the Harvard experience of legacies, whereby successful enrollment was based on whether an applicant had family previously enrolled in the college, Marable talked about affirmative action toward elites as one reason for the decline in nonwhite enrollment in colleges 1976-92.

He described affirmative action toward minorities as helping a man wearing shackles run a race against a man who was not.

create a community of tolerance, so that we are not cheated," Marable said, and leadership begins at the top.

"Colleges must actively seek to "Meeting people of different cultures creates a full range of human opportunity."

He suggested workshops, minority scholar visits, a Scholars of Color

■ See RACISM Page 8

Education reform plan

Secretary advocating America 2000

TODD FERTIG

The program advocated by Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander to bring radical change to the education system is meeting opposition for increasing the involvement of government in the family.

With the goal of improving the U.S. education system, the America 2000 strategy plans to establish universal competency testing standards, to promote awareness of global citizenship and to more actively involve parents in the education process.

The increase in government involvement in families and the value-based testing included in the America 2000 program, however, have brought disapproval from citizen awareness organizations such as Citizens for Excellence in Education and the Family Research Council ■ ASSESSMENT TESTING: In a 1991 review of the program "A Critique of America 2000," CEE expressed concern that attitudinal-based testing could facilitate the monitoring of social values.

A system of testing called for in America 2000, known as American Achievement Tests, will be the anchor of a national examination

Until such tests are compiled, America 2000 suggests Congress "authorize the rapid deployment of an individual version of tests used by the National Assessment of Education

NAEP exams and tests based on their model are opposed on some fronts for their use of subjective questioning that may test values and psychological differences. America 2000 states its tests will seek responses that are not only accurate, but comparable, appropriate and constructive.

Jay Diskey, a spokesman for the Department of Education, said the aim of America 2000 is to produce a system by which the quality of education can be assessed by schools and students alike. He said the tests are intended only for accountability in the areas of study emphasized by the strategy.

In his book on movements in education called "Educating for the 'New World Order," B.K. Eakman wrote that such attitudinal-based tests demonstrate values taught by parents and Eakman contends such testing could be used to mold the values of students. He cites a particular examination based upon NAEP methods in the book.

"This manual left little doubt that children were being scored for 'preferred' attitudes that is, each child, unbeknownst to his parents or himself, was being judged on opinions and

See EDUCATION Page 8

getting flak

WHAT: The first Landon Lecture of 1992-93

WHO: U.S. Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander

WHERE AND WHEN: 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in McCain

Auditorium

TOPIC: America 2000, a new education plan

Alexander was appointed by President Bush in 1991. He has also been the governor of Tennessee and the president of the University of Tennessee.

NEWS DIGEST

▶U.N. TO INVESTIGATE WAR CRIMES "ethnic cleansing" and other

UNITED NATIONS (AP) -Outraged over atrocities in Bosnia's civil war, the Security Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to set up an investigative commission whose findings could lead to war crimes trials.

The commission would look into reports of massacres, crimes in all former Yugoslav republics. U.N. reports say individuals in every group involved -Serbs, Croats and Muslims have been accused of savagery outlawed by the articles of war under the 1949 Geneva Convention on military conduct.

ABORTION BACK IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Bush administration urged the Supreme Court Tuesday to keep federal judges from stopping abortion clinic blockades.

Justice Department lawyer John Roberts Jr. said the administration does not defend the tactics of anti-abortion protesters like those in Operation Rescue. But he argued they should be held accountable in state courts.

Deborah Ellis, a lawyer for Virginia abortion clinics, said keeping federal courts from issuing injunctions against blockades would leave women inadequately protected.

Yeltsin sends troops to Georgia

Russia taking control of railway, coast during unrest ASSOCIATED PRESS

MOSCOW - President Boris Yeltsin said Tuesday that Russian troops were taking control of the railway and the coast in Georgia's separatist region of Abkhazia, deepening Moscow's involvement in the troubled area.

Yeltsin told lawmakers that Russia was not involved in offensive military actions in Abkhazia, disputing accusations by Georgia's Defense Ministry that Kremlin forces were aiding the separatists. Both former Soviet republics have engaged in an increasingly sharp war of words over the 6week-old conflict. Georgia sent troops to Abkhazia to root out supporters of ousted Georgian President Zviad Gamsakhurdia during the turmoil. Abkhazia claims they were sent to crush its independence drive. The move by Yeltsin appeared aimed at protecting the railway and Black Sea coast, rather than an attempt to seize territory. The north-south railroad, Russia's main land link with Georgia and Armenia, has come under attack during the unrest in the Caucasus Mountains nation.

However, Georgia was likely to regard the move as an infringement on its territory.

All the principal cities of Abkhazia, including its capital of Sukhumi, are along the coast.

Along with their ports, they represent the richest part of the western region of Georgia.

Georgian leader Eduard Shevardnadze, while not responding directly to the announced seizure of the railway, criticized a statement Yeltsin had made earlier in the day.

"Russia will not stand aloof when human rights are violated, the interests of people of Russian origin are trampled," Yeltsin had said.

At a news conference in Tbilisi, Shevardnadze said all Russians including its military - have enjoyed full legal rights in Georgia and were safe from harm.

ON THE AGENDA

United Way campaign on campus until Oct. 22

"Our goal this year is $1 per student. That's not much, considering a single beer in Aggieville costs

SHANE ISAACSON

$1.25."

KIM MCNITT Collegian

Volunteers on campus have the "will" to raise funds for the "way."

A United Way campaign is on campus through Oct. 22. The campaign is a friendly competition between students, faculty and staff, and K-State retirees. The progress of the groups is being charted on a participation gauge at the northeast corner of the K-State Union.

Volunteers will be visiting residence halls and Greek houses to pass out contribution envelopes.

The Bakery Science and Management Club donated cookies that are being handed out at a second-floor Union table. Monetary donations are also being accepted by volunteers at the table.

In addition, part of the proceeds from Midnight Madness, an annual event later in October, will be contributed to the United Way effort.

A university student campaign is not a new idea, said Shane Isaacson, junior in journalism and mass communications and special projects director for the student body president's council.

"KU has an organized United Way drive. Last year, they raised over $30,000," Isaacson said.

He said the K-State drive organizers would like to make the fundraising a competition between the two universities next year.

■ See UNITED WAY Page 8

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5

At 3:15 p.m., a hit-and-run were two textbooks. Loss was accident was reported behind the $107.25. Military Science Hall. The victim's vehicle was a 1989 black Pontiac LeMans. Damage was $500.

At 4:02 p.m., Lynn McAllister reported a theft from King 103. Taken

At 9:15 p.m., criminal damage was reported on the west side of Willard Hall. The pointer to the sundial was broken off.

injury accident occurred between a bicyclist and a vehicle. The bicyclist

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

At 10:05 a.m., Eldon Hyle reported a theft in the west parking lot of KSU Stadium. Taken was a hood ornament was injured. Damage to the vehicle from his Lincoln. Loss was $50. fender was $500. At 5:08 p.m., a minor-damage,

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

was filed by Don Cukjati. Taken from City Park was two electro-voice speakers and two 50-foot connector cords. Loss was $1,930.

At 12:28 p.m., Steven D. Bell was

At 12:27 p.m., a burglary report arrested for criminal trespass, disorderly conduct and criminal damage to property and released on $1,000 bond. Damage to a screen door, inside door and door frame was

CORRECTION

In Tuesday's Collegian, Sig Meier was incorrectly identified as Sid Meier in a Page 1 story. The photo caption in the same story package incorrectly said Mike Meier was diagnosed with leukemia two years ago. The accurate figure is two months.

The Collegian regrets the errors and any misunderstanding.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Friday in the Union K, S and U rooms on the second

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7

■ University Activities Board will meet at 4 p.m. in Union 204.
 ■ National Society of Black Engineers will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Durland 163. Topic will be fall regional conference. ■ Gymnastics Club will meet from 8 to 10 p.m. in the Manhattan

Gymnastics Center. ■ Gay, lesbian and bisexual support groups will meet from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in Lafene 238.

Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie.

■ Local chapter of American Horticultural Therapy Association will meet at 6 p.m. in Waters 018.

■ University Counseling Services will sponsor an informal discussion on dysfunctional families at noon in Union 205. Bring a University Counseling Services will sponsor a workshop on students with disabilities from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Lafene 231.

■ Society for Creative Anachronism will have fighter practice at 7 p.m. at Aheam Field House.

■ Metaforum will meet for a poetry reading at 7:30 p.m. at the ■ United Black Voices Gospel Choir will meet at 7:15 p.m. in the Multicultural Student Center.

■ United Nations Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 206. ■ Manhattan Sognahm Taw Kwon Do Club will meet from 4:45 to

6:15 p.m. in Nichols 007. ■ Society for the Advancement of Management deadline for Denver field trip monies is Friday in the management office.

■ Career Planning and Placement will conduct a résumé critique session from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in Holtz 107B.

■ Honors Student Organization will meet at 8:30 p.m. in Union 208 for bowling night.

Have a question about today's Collegian?

Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

WEEK

200000 200000

WEDNESDAYI

NOFICSHOP: Tom Murray, "Linguistic Harmony and Its Relationship to Racial Harmony," Union 212.

3:30 PM

LECTURE: Veryl Switzer, "Changes in Diversity at KSU Over the Don Fallon will present "South Africa/Namibia and Liberation Theology," Union Big 8 Room.

FILM: 7-9:30 PM

"DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST," Union Forum Hall.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is ublished by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is ublished weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class ostage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, lanhattan, Kan., 66506-7167.

ntributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian new

Kedzie Hall 116. erning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Cloudy with a 60-percent chance for showers and thunderstorms. High in the mid-60s. Tonight, cloudy and cold with a 40-percent chance for rain. Low 35 to 40.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Decreasing cloudiness. High 55 to 60.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Friday, very cool. High in the upper 50s to lower 60s. Low in the mid-30s to low 40s. Saturday, cool again. High in the 60s. Low in the 30s. Sunday, dry and turning warmer. High in the upper 60s to mid-70s. Low in the mid-30s to low 40s.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	73/52	cloudy
Bermuda	82/73	cloudy	Rome	73/64	rain
Helsinki	50/46	cloudy	Stockholm	59/32	cloudy
London	57/52	cloudy	Vancouver	55/39	clear

We've got your numbers!

Friends	Ads	Faculty
Advisers	GTA's	Offices
Clubs	Tutors	Coupons
*	Housing	#

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

Campus race relations a concern

Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, speaks with students about K-State's racial and ethnic tensions and inadequacies during an open forum Monday in the K-State Union. Franklin helped relax the atmosphere by seating everyone in a large circle.

Hiring more blacks, requiring history classes discussed at forum

Assistant Dean of Student Life Bernard Franklin called for immediate action to improve race relations on campus at an open forum Tuesday.

"People are put out with time and discussion mentality — that it takes 20 years to change K-State into a place that's comfortable. We need to focus on how to make K-State a place conducive for all the people that are here," he said.

Franklin lead the discussion on what has happened at K-State since the verdict in the Rodney King case and what needs to be done to make the campus environment more comfortable between races. About 70 people attended the forum.

What the King verdict did for a lot of people in this country was it helped solidify emotions and feelings people have about the state of race relations, the state of culture and the state of socioeconomic relations," he said.

Franklin listed several things already being done to improve race relations. He cited the list the Black Student Union submitted for consideration by the administration.

"A discussion has started about hiring 10 faculty members of color," he said. "Curriculum changes requiring African-American history is also being discussed. You have to understand that not everyone buys into the concept that history is slanted."

Diversity training is continuing as an on-going process. In response it BSU's request's, KSDB-FM 91.9 is devoting more time to ethnic music, and the Collegian staff has had some diversity training, Franklin said. Thurman Williams, junior in anthropology, said, "The Collegian had a sports headline saying 'Indians scalp.' I know letters to the editor were

■ See FRANKLIN Page 8

Election ends family's rule in Kuwait

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KUWAIT - Government critics woke up to something of a shock Tuesday - a landslide victory in Kuwait's first parliamentary elections in seven years.

Seven loosely allied opposition groups and independent candidates captured 35 of the 50 Parliament seats. Most of the 15 solid seats for the government came from the ruling al-Sabah family's traditional supporters in tribal areas.

Ward politicians who tried to trade on their influence with the bureaucracy lost nearly everywhere in Monday's vote.

"I think the Iraqi invasion was a shock to the Kuwaitis," said Abdul Rahman al-Najjar, a columnist for the government-backed newspaper Sawt Al-Kuwait.

"They did not want to give any chance to someone interested in dilly-dallying," he said. "They want strong representatives."

But it was unclear how much power the opposition will be allowed to wield. The ruling family ignored previous parliaments in choosing a Cabinet to run government agencies and dissolved the previous Parliament in 1986.

Throughout the 18 months since Iraqi occupiers were driven from Kuwait in the Persian Gulf War, opposition speeches calling for a strong Parliament to supervise the government seemed to draw only small knots of committed followers in this emirate of 650,000 people.

But the election indicated that the country, or at least the male elite allowed to vote, agreed. Only about 81,500 first-class citizens who can trace Kuwaiti ancestry to 1921 could vote.

KSU's Boyer chosen to be visiting professor

Multicultural education focus of trips to Texas

JENNIFER SHANK

A K-State professor has been selected as a visiting distinguished professor at East Texas State University.

James Boyer, professor of curriculum and American-ethnic studies, said, "The faculty of East Texas State University was interested in my research and had observed my presentations at national conferences.'

After he was nominated, Boyer sent a resumé to the faculty, and in mid-July, after about eight months of waiting, his position was confirmed.

Boyer said he was honored to have been chosen.

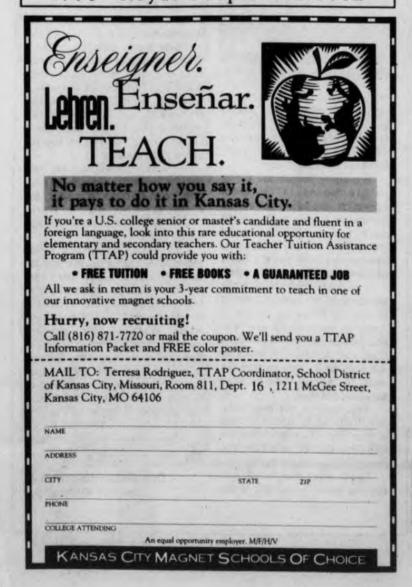

"It feels especially exciting to have my work recognized by other universities," Boyer said. "The hospitality at East Texas State was

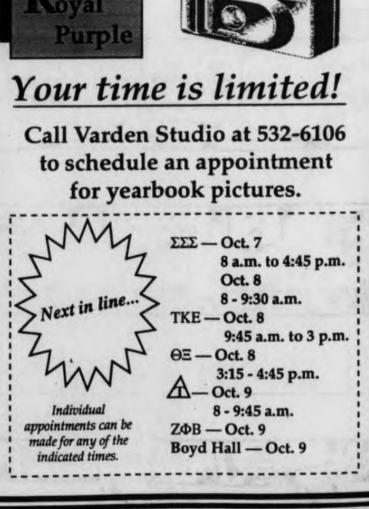

■ See PROFESSOR Page 8

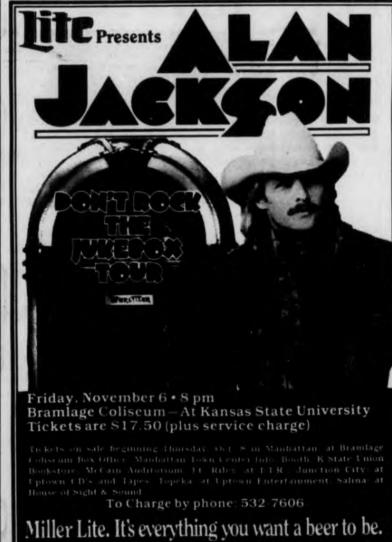

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Let us help YOU prepare for the journey

Next

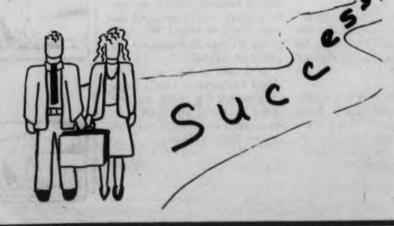

Meeting:

Join the BAPP Club NOW

> Beginning Promising Profession

Increase your awareness of the College of Business and Career Opportunities Thursday, October 8

4:30 P.M. Calvin Room 18 Speaker: Jay Laughlin

OCTOBER 7, 1992

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Week should last all year long

A year of world ethnic strife cial/Ethnic Harmony Week all the more mportant.

WE SUGGEST

Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week activities need to be extended, to truly bring to the forefront. It's time again to ring the bell.

It's time to remind people that the United States is a multicultural country.

This time, it's Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week at K-State that should provide students with understanding about living in such a diverse environment.

More than two dozen lectures and forums this week will hopefully help us to realize that humans are one race of many different cultures.

With the proliferation of racist attitudes and incidents in our society, dedicating a full week of a college student's life to racial and ethnic issues is a necessary, welcomed act.

On the other hand, it's sad that it is necessary. Because we already live among people of different racial and ethnic backgrounds, we shouldn't have to be taught how to get along. We should just be able to do it.

His supporters must have known something was not quite out. Some still haven't.

'American people want."

Perot has used the media, the major political parties and

American people to stroke his ego from the start.

His whole enter-leave-release-a-book

reentry thing is a calculated move of

h e

But you just have to walk around a little and look with open eyes to see racist behaviors and attacks on America's streets.

Young people — the leaders of a future that will see an even wider race distribution in this country - must be aware of racial diversity all year long, not just for one week.

Spreading out the activities during all 52 weeks of the year would help open the eyes of even the most narrow-minded people on racial issues. It would keep the problem alive during the entire year, hopefully, until the situation

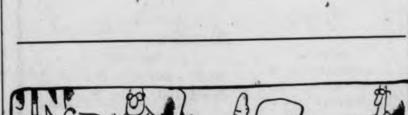

Students have to become more active in ethnic diversity than just wearing rainbow ribbons one week a year.

TOLES

WILL NEVER The debates. SAIN BREAK MY A series. PROMISE NOT 1 Bush TO RAISE TAXES LIKE I DID LAST TIME. Bush

highest order. Like the Rubik's cube, rollerskates and the Brady Bunch, Ross Perot is yet another cog in the world of pop culture.

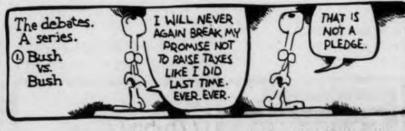

KELLY

KLAWONN

After the initial success wore off, he was taken off the shelf. Now equipped with either a new twist, improvement, or no change at all - just the same groovy look that some initially fell in love with - he is back in the political marketplace.

Ross Perot is yet another impulse Americans have been persuaded to purchase. In my closet tucked deep down under years worth of clothing is a orange shaker sweater. I bought it in ninth-grade and wore it once. I hoped that nobody would find it, because there is no way to explain what prompted the sale. Was I on drugs? Was there some strange message in the muzak at the mall?

It is hard to say. As for the Perot supporters, I only hope they have a big closet, because Ross is back and can't be explained any easier than an orange shaker sweater.

READERS WRITE

MASCOT NICKNAMES

Using names just plain disrespectful

It is entirely appropriate that the issue of Native Americans being used as mascots is getting much attention during Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week.

The purpose of this week is to promote harmony, sensitivity and understanding between the many races that make the United States a wonderfully diverse nation. The issue of Native American mascots is a perfect example of why we need such a week

The problem is one of sensitivity and understanding. It is very easy to tell someone else to "relax a little" when it is not your culture and your sacred objects being blasphemed.

Using Native American people and their symbols as mascots is the equivalent of what a team called "The Catholics" would have to endure if there were such a mascot. It is a very good example of the type of disrespect being shown toward Native Americans themselves and the objects they hold sacred. The fact that Alan Grant and Matt Walters do not find the use of Native American mascots offensive is completely irrelevant. The Native Americans who are being dehumanized and degraded do find it offensive. This is what matters.

I, as a white male, also find it highly offensive and an act of arrogance when the white majority tells any minority, in this case American Indians, how they should perceive our actions and how they should feel about us using them and their culture for our own interests and pleasures.

Native Americans are not mascots to be used for our sports teams. The inability of some white people to understand that Native Americans are human beings entitled to the same rights as any human being has been the cause of 500 years of dehumanizing, exploitive and genocidal policies toward those who were here first. Some of us are glad to see Native American issues getting the attention they

> Chris McNabb Graduate student/Modern languages

VOTE

Youth need to voice concerns Nov. 3

Editor,

Oct. 20 is the Kansas deadline to register to vote in the general election Nov. 3. If you are not registered to vote, please do so before it is too late.

The SGA office is able to register voters. Once you are registered, please vote in the general election. The political system only listens to groups that have the power to kick them out of office.

We know people are going to say money is the most important motivator, but all the campaign money in the world doesn't mean a hill of beans if the candidate isn't elected. Money can help make a point of view heard, but it can't vote.

It is vital that all eligible members of this campus vote. It is time for the young people of America to stand up and take the power of the ballot into their own hands. The youth of America have been getting the shaft for a long time because they will not vote.

This letter is not espousing which candidate to vote for, but if you want change, vote for change, and if you like the incumbents, vote for them.

Look what happened last month when students were upset because they had fewer opportunities than other members of the community to register for the "privilege" of voting — a registration drive was held on campus! Voices can be heard.

When Nov. 3 rolls around, we would be ecstatic to see the young people of this nation take a prominent role in the decision-making processes of government. Make an informed decision on election day. Vote for the candidates whom you think will represent your views

This year in particular is your chance to decide the economic, social and political future of this country for many years to come. Go for it, take your future in your own hands, and vote!

Carrick Williams Junior/Political science and psychology Paul Hough Senior/Architectural engineering Camilla Forshay Junior/Psychology and French

MASCOT NICKNAMES

Chop usage makes others look ignorant

Editor,

First, why doesn't the Collegian print the Native American's point of view on the "unique and fun" Tomahawk chop? I have submitted my point of view twice. Maybe the editorial editor has been too busy chopping air. Who knows?

I am writing regarding the oh-so-fun"harmless" tomahawk chop and the issue of using ethnic/minority groups as team names and mascots being demeaning and offensive. I agree with Matt Walters. You are unable to grasp the concept.

During the sloppy win over the Montana Grizzlies, a few spirited K-State fans did indeed sing the psuedo-war song and do the chop. This 45-degreeangle chopping motion worked! We won! And it even rained!

Double whammy on those pesky soon-to-be-extinct animals that are no longer roaming, free critters. Sorry, animal activists, I guess some feel you're making a stink over nothing, too. Maybe we should name more teams after ethnic/minority groups. Why, hell, boy, it's all in fun!

What's wrong with this picture? Nothing, according to Matt "go white trash" Walters. Having fun at the expense of others is apple pie, dude. Racism disguised as team spirit in another sacred American institution.

Same topic, different verse. Why do people wait until now to raise a stink? Why not ask the black populace in Los Angeles. why they waited until now to riot? Why is South Africa erupting now? Does 500 years of oppression and racism sound like a good excuse? Or maybe it's because the time is drawing close to honor and hold tribute to a certain explorer who didn't even "discover" - he became lost by 8,000 miles. I'd like to thank the individuals sitting around me at the Montana game for not harmlessly chopping. Maybe it's because they're more sensitive to other people's feelings than Matt Walters. Or maybe because they weren't quite sure how 265 pounds of pure Kiowa Indian would feel about their "paying homage" to my people in that fashion. It's like the way certain people never tell racist jokes in front of a black man.

Makes sense, right Matt? Can you say "xenophobic," Matt?

> Darren Geimausaddle Senior/Anthropology

THE ISSUE

ethnic diversity

Ego-stroking is what keeps

Perot in race

New and better candidate really same old Ross

knew the moment I let go of the door. Peering through the window, I could see the keys jingling as they hung from the ignition.

I imagine it is what Ross Perot must have felt like when he got out of the presidential race last July.

He had the vehicle. He even had the keys. But damn if he couldn't get his hands on them.

The Perot volunteers, on the other hand, must have felt like they were 5-year-olds and having one of those pee dreams. While sleeping, you dreamt of going to the bathroom, but swirling around in your head was a feeling that something didn't quite feel right. Falling deeper and deeper into the dream, you literally begin to go pee in your pajamas.

When you wake up, the pajamas are wet, and the realization hits. You're left to wonder why you couldn't figure it out sooner.

Perot volunteers must have been thinking the same thing last July when he so abruptly left the presidential race. After manipulating millions of people into the campaign, Perot left just when it was getting interesting.

We had a president telling frustrated mothers, sisters and daughters, to just "sit down and There was also shut up." Gov. Bill Clinton belting out tunes on his saxophone during the Arsenio Hall Show. And yes, there was Ross Perot.

Speaking at a National for Association Advancement of Colored People conference, Perot tried to give a nudge that would hopefully arouse his cohorts from their liquid sleep.

The whole "you people," "your people" fiasco. Later that month, he went on to say he would not have any homosexual appointments if elected president. No longer in the friendly confines of the "Larry King

Live" show, or "CBS This Morning," Perot was left to defend his every move. Shortly thereafter, he was gone.

Football pays off for local groups

GREAT

ATTENTION

ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from

6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today

Country, western swing, rockabilly, and rock and roll

Opened for Garth Brooks and Travis Tritt, among others

October 9 & 10 Live Popular Country Bands

from four-state region every weekend.

because a limited number of times are available.

•12 years of performing together.

MEMORIES

START HERE

Parking lots, cleanup help them raise money

Organizations on campus and from the Manhattan community sacrifice their time and effort in hopes of making a profit and to make K-State football games more enjoyable for those who cheer on Jobs range from parking cars to cleaning up the stadium.

The Agronomy Club has parked cars in the lot at the Agronomy Farm north of Wagner Field for several years, said Jason Kelley, junior in agronomy and Agronomy Club president.

It costs fans $2 to park in the lot. The money from this fundraiser goes to help pay for the club's Kelley said the average number of cars parked at games this year has been 250-300. The most the club has parked in recent years was during last year's K-State-KU game when they packed 500 in the lot.

"About a half hour or hour before the game, we're just swamped," Kelley said.

The College Avenue United Methodist Church Youth Fellowship has a similar service at 1609 College Ave.

According to Cris Riebel, director of youth ministries, the lot, which has a capacity of 96 auto-mobiles, has been filled for two of this year's three home games.

The $2 parking fee covers operating expenses of the youth program, Riebel said.

He said the youth fellowship hopes to expand and park cars during basketball games and concerts at Bramlage Coliseum.

Men's Glee Club runs a con-

8 oz. Ribeye

Every Tues. & Wed. 5-8 p.m.

2315 Tuttle Creek

This Friday Is Going To Be A

Magic Night

BOBBY

ag'in

BAR & DEL

cession stand during home games at the stadium. Members of Mens' Glee work in the stand.

"Halftime is a mad house," said Jeff Heinrichs, junior in pre-med and Men's Glee member. "It seems like everyone is there at once."

Heinrichs said customers of the concession stands sometimes get special service. Last year, Glee members working in the stands sang "Happy Birthday" to a customer. The money raised helps to pay for trips taken by Men's Glee and other club expenses service honorary sponsored by Air Force ROTC, raises funds by cleaning up the stadium after each football game. Members not only clean the stands, but also the two after the game. He said they usually that needs to be done.

"Even though the clean-up is a large parking lots and area around

ROYAL

PURPLE

Capt. Jim Royer said the group starts cleaning at 7 the morning finish around 1 p.m., depending on the weather conditions and work and working with the Boy Scouts.

Flour Sales

Noon-4 p.m. We will be selling

The Arnold Air Society, a lot of hard work, there are so many of us there that we usually make a good time out of it," said Cadet Michelle McCreary.

The money raised from this project goes to service projects and expenses for national and area conferences. Service projects include tutoring

Grain Science Club Every Wednesday

> Shellenberger 220 (while supplies last).

THURSDAY

Ladies Night No Cover for the ladies $1 bottles

MONDAY & TUESDAY 5150 Wells

> WEDNESDAY 50¢ Draws

50¢ Tacos 4-9 p.m.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY DeLisa Dawn Jones with Route 66 Band Call us to find out how you can make money by spending it.

COLLEGIAN Display Advertising 532-6560

KSU Ambassador Applications

are available at the Alumni Association Office. 2323 Anderson Ave., 4th Floor (Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.) Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23, 1992

If you need money for a college education, we can help

Our government student loan program offers a complete range of options including the Stafford loan, SLS, or PLUS student loan. Whichever loan you choose, you may get up to ten years to pay and an interest rate lower than most conventional loans. In addition, with our electronic transmittal service. you'll receive overnight turnaround on your student loan application. For complete information on government student loans, contact your Financial Aid Office or visit with us today. EMPRISE BANK &

104 East Grand / P.O. Box M / Hillsboro. Equal Opportunity Lender - Member FDIC

776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHU'

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings $8.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

ROYAL PURPLE

Pi Beta Phi-Sept. 29-30 Pi Kappa Alpha-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Phi-Sept. 30 Pi Kappa Theta-Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Oct. 1 Sigma Chi-Oct. 1 Sigma Gamma Rho-Oct. 1-2 Sigma Kappa-Oct. 5-6 Sigma Nu-Oct. 6 Sigma Phi Epsilon-Oct. 6 Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9

Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13 Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Just a phone call away!

Alibi Country Club

1322 Grant Ave.

Junction City

Friends	Ads	Faculty
Advisers	GTA's	Offices
Clubs	Tutors	Coupons
*	Housing	#

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

My voting booth is in Arkansas

"I am, outside. Incredible panic rules." -John Berryman

I'll be in Arkansas on 'Lection Day, trout fishing. Not down south, not anywhere near Hope or Texarkana or Little Rock. Not a chance. No trout down there.

Up on X Shoals, a stretch of the White River, is where I'll be voting from.

So what's the fishing like? Confident. Assuring, like finding a book in a library without any fanfare.

All the water around there is dammed, the ancient catfish and turtle streams turned into cold trout rivers. And there are more trout than people in northern Arkansas (I could tell an inbreeding joke at this point, but I don't think I will. Well OK, I will: If an Arkansas couple gets divorced, are they still cousins?) X Shoals (this column is about X Shoals) is clear. You can see the gravel beds and the rocky bottom, not to mention all the fish, which are lowered each spring into the river from modified dump trucks.

SKOOG

My grand-uncle tells about watching them dump the trout over at Bull Shoals. They just crank the truck back, and minnow-sized prehistoric fish gush out, like blood from a head wound.

Much like the election coverage in newspapers this time of year. Blood everywhere. See, it's even spilling over onto the sports page.

For example, Election night maybe we'll drive upriver to Gaston's for dinner and news. But maybe not. It's just not important, but the election draws all thoughts to it like a magnet.

But I have faith in fishing. Especially in trout fishing. I think they have a film on their scales which erases memory. Not certain. I'll check with the biology department on that. We fish with a guide in Arkansas, which doesn't seem particularly survivalist, but this column's about full disclosure, and those are the facts. We will fish with a guide, and he'll offer to bait our hooks, and sometimes, later in the day, we ask him to. The trout in Arkansas are lucky. Fly-fishing is not prevalent there, since it's in a twilight limbo between the Midwest and the south.

Our party, made of uncles and brothers, will be bait fishing. Yes. Worms. I'll bring my flyrod, but I'll also be the damn college kid. Worth

What's the point here? Oh yes.

I encourage the entire campus to take the first couple weeks in November off. Jump in the car and proceed directly to the nearest trout stream, as long as you don't go to X Shoals.

I got dibs.

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Hoola-hoop-la

Two students battle each other for a rebound during a pick-up basketball game Tuesday night at the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex.

Wildcats hyped to face Hawks

"Emotions for this game will certainly come and hopefully reach the peak at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon." BILL SNYDER Emotions, anticipation rise in the week before showdown with Jayhawks

Not only does this represent the score of last ear's Wildcat victory over intrastate rival Kansas, but it's also what the Jayhawk football players have been wearing on their jerseys for inspiration during their week of preparation for Saturday's game.

Indeed, the game of the year is just around the corner. And the Wildcats know it.

"I think each day of the week, the emotion of the ball game begins to take over," Coach Bill Snyder said. "But you have to be careful the emotion doesn't get in the way of the mental preparation.

The emotion for this game will certainly come and will grow throughout the course of the week," he said, "and hopefully reach the peak at 1 p.m. Saturday afternoon."

And for some Cats, the game has personal

"This is something I've been waiting for," said quarterback Jason Smargiasso, who replaced Paul Watson in the fourth quarter of last year's game, only to be pulled later in the

"This is definitely one of the biggest games on our schedule," he said. "When I first came here, this was the Toilet Bowl.

"But now, I would definitely say that this a game we can look back to at the end of the season and say it was the game that either made us or broke us." A year ago, the victory over the Hawks propelled the Cats to what was perhaps their best game of the season, a 38-31 loss to Nebraska, K-State finished the season with three wins in its last four games.

But the Wildcats haven't beaten KU in Lawrence since 1969, and they haven't won back-to-back games against the Hawks since a three-game stretch from 1953 to 1955.

"The game itself means a lot to a lot of guys here," wide receiver Gerald Benton said. "If we come out and beat them again this year, it will put K-State on the map."

And even though the rivalry between the two schools isn't widely known outside of Kansas, center Quentin Neujahr said it didn't take long for the outsiders to become familiar with it.

"I never knew it existed," the Nebraska native said of the rivalry. "I didn't even know where K-State and KU were. But it's a big game for the team and a big game for the state,

"We're going to have to play the game of our lives.

K-State, which ranks second in the nation in rushing defense, cracked the Associated Press top 40 with five votes in this week's poll.

But that doesn't mean the Cats are playing to their potential, both Benton and Neujahr said.

"We haven't been playing like we're supposed to play," Benton said. "We're capable of being a top-20 team, but we haven't been playing like that."

Neujahr agreed. 'We still haven't put together four quarters," he said. "So we really haven't proven anything

"But we still have a lot of season ahead of

SPORTS DIGEST

BRAVES BEAT PIRATES 5-1 IN NL PLAYOFFS

ATLANTA (AP) - Atlanta's gamble with John Smoltz wasn't so risky after all.

Smoltz, a right-hander who struggled through September, added to Pittsburgh's October woes Tuesday night, pitching the Braves to a 5-1 victory over the Pirates in the first game of the National League playoffs

Smoltz held the heavy-hitting Pirate lineup scoreless until Jose Lind led off the eighth with a home run to left field. That ended Pittsburgh's postseason scoreless streak at 29 innings, one shy of the majorleague record.

Now the Pirates must come from a game down if they are to avoid becoming the first team since the Philadelphia Phillies of the late 1970s to win three consecutive National League East titles without advancing to the World Series.

Braves manager Bobby Cox gambled perhaps the whole series by starting Smoltz against the predominantly left-handedhitting Pirates, and he was rewarded. Smoltz gave up just four hits before Mike Stanton took over in the ninth and gave up a two-out double to Jeff King before striking out Orlando Merced.

HENSON SIGNS WITH GOLDEN STATE WARRIORS

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - The Golden State Warriors signed free-agent guard and former Wildcat Steve Henson to a one-year contract Monday. Terms of the deal were

The 6-foot-1 Henson spent two seasons with the Milwaukee Bucks, playing in 50 games last season and averaging 3.1 points and 1.8 assists. He became an unrestricted free agent when Milwaukee did round pick in 1990. He is the all-time leader in assists (582) and steals (186) at K-State.

MANAGER PINIELLA TO LEAVE CINCINNATI REDS

CINCINNATI (AP) - Lou Piniella said Tuesday he will not return as manager of Piniella said he rejected an extension of this three-year contract because it was time

"I've got nothing bad to say about anything - the city, the fans, the organization, the owner," Piniella said.

"It was a good three years, it was a good experience, I made some friends, I enjoyed not offer him a new contract. Henson, 24, was the Bucks' second-the town, I enjoyed the players I managed. And I learned a hell of a lot," the Cincinnati Reds next season. Piniella, who had been evasive about whether he wanted to return to the Reds, said he met with owner Marge Schott for several hours Monday to discuss his future. The Reds won the World Series in 1990, Piniella's first year with team.

Cincinnati had 90 victories this season and finished second in the National League

Spikers hoping to hit strong against Big Eight foe Missouri

Hagemeyer's team looks to improve in second half of season, starting tonight

BRIAN ANDERSON Collegian

The K-State spikers reach the midpoint of their schedule this year with a 5-8 record and will try to avoid last year's downfall.

Halfway through the 1991 volleyball season, K-State had a 5-9 record. The Cats eventually finished the year at 10-19. K-State takes on the Missouri Lady Tigers at 7:30 tonight at Hearnes Center in Columbia. Both teams tied for last in the Big Eight conference for the '91 campaign. But Missouri has gotten out to a fast start this year, winning 10 of its 11 non-conference games. Since then, the Tigers are 0-3 in the conference with losses to

Colorado twice and Oklahoma. "By winning, they are playing with a lot of confidence," Cats coach Patti Hagemeyer said of the 11-4 Tigers. "They feel much more confident when they walk on the floor."

Missouri is led by Shannon Brown, an all-Big Eight honorable mention winner last year. Currently, Brown tops the conference in hitting Another weapon for the Tigers is Yvette Buhlig, who is second in kills and aces per game. She also ranks third in hitting percentage and eighth in blocking average.

Meanwhile, K-State dropped its second consecutive Big Eight match to Iowa State Saturday in three games.

Hagemeyer said she feels her team is stepping up as they get into the Big Eight play.

"We're starting to take our play to a different level," Hagemeyer said. "We need to be able to be more consistent.

"We need our personalities and emotions to play more of a role in how excited we get in playing.

Senior Kathy Saxton continues to lead the league in kills with 5.44 kills a game. Saxton is sixth in aces per game as well and 11th in hitting

Against the Cyclones, she broke two school records with her 25 kills and 51 attacks for a three-game match.

Setter Chi Dau is second in the Big Eight in assists per game. If she continues her 11.42 average for the rest of the season, she will break the single-season assist mark of 1,156 held by Renee Whitney at K-State. At the moment, Dau Other Cats who rank individually in the conference are Stephanie Liester, who is second in digs per game, and Jill Dugan, ranked sixth in blocks per game. The Tigers lead the series 21-14. K-State has won six of the last seven matches. Three of the seven games at Hearnes Center have gone at least

"We split with them last season and it was their only win in the conference season," Hagemeyer said as her squad won in Missouri, "So, I think they will be excited to play us."

"We're starting to take our play to a different level. We need our emotions to play more of a role in how excited we get in playing."

PATTI HAGEMEYER

Film gives insight on Gullah people

Director spends 10 years exploring black culture for film

CHRISTINA CARBAJAL

"Daughters of the Dust" traces an African American family who is struggling between living in the past and moving toward the future.

The family has to decide about moving from its safe-haven of Sea Island, off the Georgia coast, and whether the family memberswill stick to their ancient African traditions and beliefs when they live on the mainland.

The film especially focuses on how the move affects the women in the family. Nana Peazant, the matriarch, doesn't want the family to move, because she thinks they will lose all they have learned in their culture.

The pros and cons of the movie are discussed on the beach during a family picnic, the last time the entire family will be together.

Nana also conflicts with Yellow Mary, who is clearly an example of what could happen to the family if they move to the mainland. She worked as a wet nurse and prostitute while living in Cuba, but now she returns home and wants to find her place in the family again.

Eula, Nana's granddaughter, also has her own problems to solve before they move. She was raped by a landowner and is now pregnant. Her husband, Eli, cannot deal with the possibility that her baby might be the landowner's and not his. There is constant tension between the couple as Nana gives advice to support them both.

The film's director, Julie Dash,

We Take Tips

532-6556 Collegian

LIBERATION THEOLOGY

Colored Slide Presentation • Don Fallon

Tonight • 7 p.m.

Union 213

A Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week Presentation

This Week's Specials

Taco Burgers 2 for $1.45 rag. $1.15 each

Burrito Dinner $2.77 reg. $3.70

Good through 10-10-92

GREAT

START

HERE

ATTENTION

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

ROYAL

PURPLE

MEMORIES

SOUTH AFRICAN/ NAMIBIA AND

"Daughters of the Dust" will show at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday in K-State Union Forum Hall and at 7 p.m. Friday in the LittleTheatre. Admission is $1.75

is a descendant of this fiercely independent African American culture, Gullah. She conducted many interviews and collected stories from her relatives about the Gullah traditions, and her hard work is apparent from the cast's authentic performances.

The movie's setting is also eyecatching. It was filmed on location on beautiful white beaches of the Sea Islands of the South

Dash spent ten years researching for this movie, and elements such as the Gullah rituals, cooking, dialect and overall atmosphere of the movie reflect the research

The biggest problem with the film, however, is the speech. All the actors spoke in the Gullah or Geechee dialect and, unfortunately, its authenticity made the dialogue difficult to understand in key parts of the movie.

Because the actors were more emotional and tended to talk faster, words ran together. It is commendable that Dash preserved the Gullah culture with this accuracy, but it is questionable whether it is worth it when it comes at the viewer's

But the movie is well worth watching just to experience the Gullah culture, probably for the first time for most viewers.

LADIES NITE BOBBY

1/2 Price Foo Foos

BAR & DELI

(Pina Colodas, Strawberry Margaritas, Fuzzy Navels)

Candlewood Shopping Center

Open daily for lunch at 11 a.m.

OCTOBER SPECIAL

10 off Perms • 18 off Colors • 15 off Haircuts with Brenda or Erika

10% off any professional products Must present or mention this ad Expires Oct. 17, 1992

PAUL MITCHELL *BIOLAGE

Lend Me a Tenor Friday, October 23, 8 p.m.*1

Sneak behind the scenes of a gala opera for an evening of Marx Brothers-style shenanigans. The laughter is nonstop in this outrageous Tony Award-winning farce.

Tickets: $7-$18.

The Waverly Consort The Year 1492: Spanish Music in the Age of Columbus Saturday, October 31, 8 p.m.†

Ten brilliant singers and players trace the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim threads that form the fascinating fabric of Spanish culture. An illustrated pre-concert lecture at 6:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, K-State Union, is free and open to the public. Tickets: $7.50-$15.

Sergio and Odair Assad

Duo guitarists Sunday, November 8, 3p.m.*

These Brazilian brothers dazzle audiences with their breathtaking virtuosity and stylistic perfection. Hear for yourself as they explore the classics and sample the wealth of South American music

Tickets: $6-$12

Fiddler on the Roof Sunday, November 22, 7:30 p.m.§ Songs like "If I Were a Rich Man," "Matchmaker" and

'Sunrise, Sunset" makes this 1991 Tony Awardwinning Best Revival Musical "one of the most glowing creations in the history of musical theatre. (New York Times)

Tickets: $10-$25

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office on the Kansas State University campus, Manhattan.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays; from 1 p.m. before weekend matinees; from 3 p.m. before weekend evenings. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, and ITR (Fort Riley). Persons with disabilities call 532-6428. Transportation for Senior Citizens is available through Kansas State Bank. For information and reservations, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

* Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

† Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

† A Mid-A morion Arts Alliano

† A Mid-America Arts Alliance program. § Corporate support by Kansas Farm Bureau and Affiliated Companies. All performances are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

four sour

FOR FEATURES COLLEGIAN

Wed., Oct. 7-Sat., Oct. 10 Drink, Food & Beer Specials

5th Year Birthday Give-A-Ways T-shirts · Hats · Beer Memorabilia

> Sweatshirts • Mugs Drawings & Giveaways

Every Night at 8:00

Featuring: The Brewery Peps From Miller Lite - Wed. · Coors - Thurs. O'Milwaukee - Fri. · Budweiser - Sat.

GRAND PRIZE DRAWING Kansas City Weekend For Two At The Embassy Suites Plus $50 Spending Money

103 N. 3rd•MANHATTAN

The Saint Mary 6th Annual Scrub Shirt Run & Walk

Saturday, October 10th, 1992 Sign Up Now!

Packet pickup begins at 7:30 a.m. in The Saint Mary Hospital parking lot. The two-mile run kicks off at 8:30. The three-mile walk kicks in at 9:00. The entry fee is only $10 ($5 for kids under 12) if received by October 5th and $12 ($7 for kids under 12) thereafter. Your donation will help support R.C.P.D. and the D.A.R.E. program. Hope to see you there.

Please mail form below to: Bob Nordby, The Saint Mary Hospital, P.O. Box 1047, Manhattan, KS 66502-1047

Name Address_ Phone City State Zip Age (as of 10/10/92) Entry Fee Event Sex Scrub Shirt: S M L XL Kid's T-Shirt S

Please read waiver below, sign and return with coupon In consideration of your acceptance of this entry, I hereby, for myself, my heirs, my executors and administrators, waive any and all rights and claims for damages I may have against the sponsors, coordinations groups and any individuals and assigns for any and all injuries suffered by me in connection with said event. Also none of the above are responsible for the loss of personal items. I further certify that I am in good condition to finish the race. I further acknowledge that the wear-

Signature _ (Parent's if under 18)

For more info or a race brochure, call 776-2840 or 776-3322.

We're here when you need us. the saint mary hospital

1823 College Ave. • Manhattan, KS • (913) 776-3322

October 7, 1992

McCain Auditorium

10:30 a.m.

Wednesday,

Education plan radical, critics say

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

personality traits. 'Unacceptable' and 'nonproductive' attitudes, stated the manual, would be changed through remediation."

Dean of the College of Education Michael Holen said, "It is always possible to misuse a test." Holèn served as chairman of the committee for steering Manhattan/Ogden 2000 during the program's first phase.

"Parents always need to stay on guard to the type of testing that is being done, to watch for any misuse," Holen said. "But the fact that someone misuses a test doesn't make the test itself bad."

Psychological-oriented testing is unlawful without parental consent under the Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment, and schools can not be forced by the government to use a particular battery of tests.

Under the recommendations of America 2000, however, there is significant incentive to use the recommended tests from CEE.

President Bush has already encouraged businesses and colleges to make the recommended tests the basis for employment and admissions qualifications. CEE claims this would indirectly force schools to conform and could lead indirectly to federal curriculum setting, which is also forbidden by

E PARENTS AS TEACH-ERS: Fear of government intervention in the home has also prompted opposition to another America 2000 component, the Parents As Teachers program.

Participating families are visited by federal parent educators and advised on creating a stable learning atmosphere in the home. This in-home analysis could supplant, rather than strengthen, parental influence, according to the FRC publication "Insight."

PAT has been tested in Missouri during the last 10 years. The success of its efforts to improve the effectiveness of parents' roles in education is questioned.

"Insight" cited a 1991 study that showed PAT participants scored lower than other Missouri students in school-related success tests.

Child-development expert Burton White helped establish PAT, only to abandon the program later because of dissatisfaction with its White wrote in a newsletter for the Center for Parent Education that government proponents of PAT are misled to believe PAT is a proven program for dealing with high-risk families.

Would that it were," White said. "From the beginning, I made it clear to the folks in Missouri that I had no notion of how to help highrisk families.

"Given what I know about families where both parents are alcoholics, or where there are other equally powerful stresses on the family, I could not see how the results of our research could make a difference of consequence."

An enhanced potential for the government to assume custody of children also concerns groups such

By designating each child enrolled in the program "at risk," the government automatically assumes the power to remove any child from the home.

"I suppose if the program were actually used to increase governmental influence, it would be a violation of the parents' rights," Holen said in explaining the reason for designating all participants "at-

"Rather than have any negative influence," he said, "it's meant to open up a range of opportunities to

Racism can be fought with education

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

lecture series and fostering links with historically black and Hispanic colleges. He also suggested including required courses on diversity as first steps in overcoming and eliminating prejudice.

"People respond best to their best hopes and dreams, rather than fears and doubts," he said, "and public schools and colleges are one of the best places to give them that opportunity.'

After the lecture, Michong Kim, sophomore undecided, said, "All his ideas are great, but how do we get it together?"

Kim, a Korean who has been in the United States for 13 years, said she thought Marable's programs could be applied to minimize racism in Korea as well, where marrying a white is not seen to be as bad as marrying a black.

"But we don't have him to do it," she said.

She shared this view with Marable, who replied, "I'm not that special. Anyone who is sympathetic and committed can help make it a

United Way looks to students

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 2

"Our goal this year is $1 per student. That's not much, considering a single beer in Aggieville costs $1.25," Isaacson

This is the first year the project has targeted K-State students, instead of only faculty and retirees.

"There are 13 agencies that we support through the United Way," said Thomas Schellhardt, associate vice president for administration and finance and volunteer campaign co-chairman.

More than one-third of those who are helped by the Manhattan Crisis Center, a United Way agency, are students, Isaacson said.

One-third of those served by the Flint Hills Breadbasket are also students

"You could be helping a friend or a brother or sister in your house and not even know it," Isaacson said. "Thousands of K-State students are helped."

The goal is $100,000 overall on campus. Last year, the campaign raised $93,000. With more awareness and participation of the students, Schellhardt said he thinks the goal is within reach.

Schellhardt said only one-half cent of each dollar contributed went to the national organization last year. The other 99 and a half cents stayed within the local community.

Franklin discusses prejudice

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

written about that. In response, we got a letter to the editor telling us how stupid we are for being offended.'

Also addressed was prejudice and racism in the classroom.

Elsa Diaz, senior in industrial engineering and physical science, said a student came to her about a problem with a professor.

"She had an assignment asking her questions about where she went to high school, how much money her parents make and all these things that had nothing to do with the class," Diaz said. "A lot of students lie about their background just because they know they'll get a better grade."

Students can report problems to the Office of Affirmative Action.

Professor to visit Texas

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3 great."

Serving as visiting distinguished professor entails three one-week visits to East Texas State University to teach multicultural education and attending research conferences. His first visit was in September, and others will be in November and March.

Boyer will be on sabbatical from Jan. 1 to June 1. During this time, he will be in Los Angeles studying African-American males in the classroom. He will present his findings when he goes back to East Texas State in Boyer came to K-State in 1971 and has been teaching for 21 years.

ESSENTIALS

Reader sees Cassandra as confused, ignorant male-basher

I have been reading your column for a couple of weeks now, and I have never met a person who was as consistently sexist or as rude as

You continually amaze me with your ignorant male-bashing and your even more confusing misrepresentation of the female population.

It is my estimation that you have never had a brother, and if you did, never spoke to him.

Yes, I will agree that quite often there is a lack of communication between men and women. But there is also a lack of communication between many college students DEAR C.E., and their parents, and a lack of communication between friends (male or female).

as an excuse to hate all men, especially if you there are always exceptions to everything. aren't trying to communicate. It works both

How can you say that all men are visually orientated when it comes to sex? You are not a man, and therefore, have no grounds by which to make such a statement.

Then you go on to say that women are aroused verbally and through physical contact. Is that it? I don't think so. Women are just as visually orientated as men are. There is nothing wrong with it.

I would also like to add that unless you want to make all women sound like teases, you had better change your "yes" means "maybe" to "yes" means "yes," "no" means "no," and "maybe" means "maybe."

You will never see maybe as a definition of "yes" in the dictionary, nor will you see it in the minds of women.

C.E., K-State freshman

"All men" was a poor choice of words -You cannot use the lack of communication "most men" is what I should have said, since

I make the amended statement that most men are more visually responsive when it comes to sex, because studies have shown this to be true. That does not mean to exclude visual stimuli as a source of sexual response in women.

This answer is based upon information found in "Psychology," by David Myers, and also from an excellent documentary called "Brain Sex," which was recently aired on the Discovery Channel. This documentary can be purchased on video cassette by calling 1-800-345-4700 or writing, "Brain Sex," P.O. Box 68618, Indianapolis, Ind., 46209-6692.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

I like this guy who I had a class with last year. I don't know him very well, but we usually run into each other at least once a week.

I never have time to talk to him, and when I do, I am too nervous to say much, so I try to get away as soon as possible.

I ran into him last week, and we talked for about three minutes. Before I left, though, he said, "Hey, we'll have to go out some time."

How do I know if he really meant it, or if he even likes me at all? How do I let him know I like him without just coming out and telling

Z.Z., K-State junior

Sometimes, we are so close to the answer

Simply give him a call, dear, and ask him to go for a walk, or something similar. Keep it simple, but it needs to be something that involves the two of you without distractions. If he accepts the one-on-one invitation, then I would say he is interested.

When you finally get together, relax and just be yourself. Don't worry about silence. Sometimes, it is the best way to enjoy someone's company.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence.

The advice presented in this column is solely the nion of the columnist and does not reflect the opini of the Collegian or K-State.

JIM'S JOURNAL

IIM DIKKERS

Today I was sitting around nibbling on some potato chips.

@1990 DIKKEPS

THE STRIP

FOOTBALL IS A GAME OF SKILL,

STRENGTH, 4

STRATEGY

SIMPLY PUTS

THE STRATEGY

IS TO GET THE BALL, FOCUS,

AND.

DAVID SWEARINGEN

BILL WATTERSON

CROSSWORD

ACROSS 1 Pickle flavor 5 -- your old man!" 40 Prized

36 U.S. voter

38 Hunt for buried

47 Turn -

American

treasure

8 Cross, in Colima 12 Exchange premium 13 Jay Leno's 43 Barracks sine qua item 45 Claim 14 Tortoise's 15 Competi-(capsize) 51 Destruction 52 North tionless

tion result: abbr. 26 Saint Bernard's burden 28 Gerontologist's 31 PDQ, on a memo 33 Calendar abbr. 35 Choreog-

55 Bottom 8 "That toddlin' Year-end Solution time: 21 mins Yesterday's answer

1 Not fully dry 2 Dr. since 1920 16 Mountain-Frankenstein's 23 Margery of rhyme 24 Equal: 3 Kitchen 41 Ayatollah's flooring, for short vers compose

FOR ENTERTAINMENT

25 Cozy, in 4 Aerobatic a way maneu-27 George 5 Bulging 6 Word before slick or Burns role 29 22 1/2 degrees, on a compass 30 School of 7 Broadway 32 You've been had 34 Practical jokers' 42 Full of option 45 Saroyan's "My Name Is —" 46 Garage job 48 "So much 49 Indolent 50 Gets by.

53 Color

eer's goal STUMPED? For answers to today's crossword, call tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

EUGENE SHEFFER

CRYPTOQUIP information 44 Halloween H I I C O I KPZN

PGGSCT YHKOGWA GGT Yesterday's Cryptoquip: BABY GOATS THAT ARE GOING TO BE SOLD ANY DAY NOW ARE THE NEW

Today's Cryptoquip clue: N equals P

KIDS ON THE BLOCK.

CALVIN AND HOBBES I WISH I

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 — $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 — $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 — $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

Please call 539-4247, and leave a message.

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

CHI-O PLEDGE Shannon-

You are my adorable DOT, and I love you alot! Come to the house for your clues, I'm your mom and you'll soon know who!

you can also laugh at life. I wrote the personal to a girl in my apart-ment complex. Sorry her license plate match es yours. If you still want to meet- Strickly as friends- that's all right. Dreaming.

ny: I'm so happy that I got to adopt you! I love my baby! Mom.

SIGMA SIGMA Sigma Jen-

SIGMA SIGMA Sigma Stephanie, Mommie

THANKS AGAIN to every

TO MY favorite umpire,

The cute button is on overdrive today. Happy love you! Love, Jay.

HAPPY

BIRTHDAY

GUY!!

"26

ROM: Your

60 year

woman

LOOKING FOR a fun new organization to become involved with at K State? Join KSU Stud ent Foundation Asso ciation! Informationa meeting Sunday, October 11, 8:00p.m. on the third floor of the

KSU Foundation Build-ing, 2323 Anderson

(backside). Call 532-7075 for more information.

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

105 For Rent-

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two three and four

bedrooms. Apartment

com-plexes and houses with

great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

Allow us to raise your budget.

Advertise in the Classifieds. It's only $5 for 20 words!

COLLEGIAN

$

040 Meetings

one that helped us put the AS&I departments Ag Careers Day in or-der. You did a great

ETY618/ *DAVID*- I hope

030

eck. MasterCard or Visa are d. There is a $10 service charge n all returned checks.
We reserve the right to edit, reject or reperty classify any ad.

EADLI

DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

FREE FOUND ADS
As a service to you, we run found ads
for three days free of charge.

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ed has expired, we will refund you for the remaining days.

You must call us before noon the day the ad is to be published.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after

A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double

ALL TYPING needs done

UTILIZE MY B.S. in Eng-

personnel manag

RILEY COUNTY

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

2030 Tecumseh

776-4779

FREE PREGNANCY TESTS

FREE COUNSELING

ALL OPTIONS

DISCUSSED

Early Detection is Important CONFIDENTIAL

(Ad by Friends of Women)

Pregnancy

Testing Center

539-3338

·Totally confidentia

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

FOR SALE Washburn Flat-

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex

250 Automotive

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair

Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas,

also. Auto Craft. 2612

Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049.

8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday.

EMPLOYMENT

CAREERS

top six-string, Ovation 12, 532-5145.

perienced teacher. All styles 776–0685.

240

·Free pregnancy

spaced. Please call Melia 776–1534.

expensively and quick with laser printing please call Janet at 537-

lish/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years

for resumes. $1.25 dou-ble; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

ask

GET THE WORD OUT PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

OR WRITE COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS ledzie Hall 103

OFFICE HOURS MONDAY-FRIDAY 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

532-6555 FAX

532-7309

Manhattan, Kan. 66506

MUST SELL this week: Queenbed (mattress and boxsprings) file desk. 537-1890.

ridden. 537-2085.

BALL PYTHON for sale, two feet long, $110, or best offer. Includes: Aquarium, rocks for bottom, and lid. Call 532-2830 ask for Aaron. RED-TAILED BOA, five foot female. Must sell! Best offer. 587-0348, Pat.

450 Pets and Supplies

TWO KITTENS- free to good home(s), already have first shots and de-wormer. Eight weeks old. Call 1-494-8458,

can leave message

PETSON STUPE M-F 9 a.m.-8 p.m. Sat. 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sun. Noon-5 p.m.

1105 Waters 539-9494

lose weight now! No will power needed. brand new, just patent-ed 100 percent natural, 100 percent guar anteed. Doctor rec ommended. Call valid driver's license. Apply to Rob Nixon, Duplicating Center, 13 College Court Bldg., 532-5988

NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experi-ence, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

three-bedroom house every two weeks. $36/ month. 537-8543 ings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the origin or disability PART-TIME LABORER for local home builder Some construction ex perience preferred. Cal between 11:30a.m. Mon.- Fri. 539-6640. WANTED: DOG lover with fenced yard to keep friendly, neutered dog while owner out of town for four days. Call Tricia, 532-6786 exten-sion 36.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertise-

(913)232-0454

$200- $500 weekly The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling. in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to ap-proach any such Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454. ssss, FREE travel and resume experience!! Individuals and student organizations wanted to promote Spring Break, call the nation's leader, Inter-Campus Programs 1-800-327-FISCAL CLERK, part-time (18 hours per week). High school graduate with bookkeeping/bank reconciliation course work and/ or experi ence; proficiency with 10-key and spreadsheet required. Quattro Pro and word processing skills preferred. Ability to work fast and accurately on a variety of projects necessary. $5.00 per hour. Submit cover letter, resume and three references to: Finance Manager, NC-FH AAA, 437 Hous-ton Street, Manhattan, KS 66502, before 3p.m. on October 8, 1992.

310 Help Wanted

MAILROOM/ DUPLICAT-ING Center work study student needed. Duties include: campus delivery route, preparation and handling of mail and operation of dupli cating equipment. Some heavy lifting is required. Must have a

NANNIES NEEDED

NEED CLEANING lady for

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national

leave message

330 Business Opportunities

ments in the Employ-ment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such em-ployment opportunity with reasonable cau-

urges our readers to contact the Better Busi-ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190.

You're paid di-rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900. Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk- free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from 18 Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available. For more information call (800) 733-3265

INTERNATIONAL EM PLOYMENTmoney teaching English abroad. Japan and Taiwan. Make $2,000-$4,000+ per month Many provide room and board plus other benefits! Financially and culturally reward-ing! For International Employment program and application, call the International Employ ment Group: (206) 632

MAKE $1000 stuffing en-velopes. Send self ad-dressed stamped en-velope to J. C. Inc., P.O. Box 864, Manhattan, KS 66502-0008.

NEEDED 100 people to 1-(800)874-7697.

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776–7472.

410 tems for Sale

ALMOST NEW diamond sapphire ring originally $330, now $180, or best offer. Call 537-0382,

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business

Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville. 539-1413. LOSE WEIGHT. Gain energy. 100 percent moneyback guarantee. 539–1252.

MILITARY LC-1 medium backpacks with frames good to excellent condition, $40. 539-3947, ask for Mike.

BIG THREE foot by five foot metal office desk.

Six drawers with one file drawer. Reason-24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC. 379-2929 able! Call Jon 776-3829

1991 FISHER AL-1, rarely

1992 CANNONDALE R600 road/racing, 56 cm alu-minum frame, 105 Groupo, Avocet com-puter and seatbag, low miles $700 or best offer

Motorcycles 530

1982 YAMAHA 650 Maxim, 15,000 miles, $650. Also, compact discs $7 and under. Call Kevin at 776-1651.

1988 RED/ Honda CBR 600

Hurricane, 6800 miles. Excellent condition, 1-273-3313. FOR SALE; 1984 Kawasaki GPZ 750, 7000 miles, cellent condition $1500, call Pat 539-7561. SUZUKI DIRTBIKES- 1972 TS400, 1972 TM250.

Both run, $75 each, 776-3757, ask for Larry.

YAMAHA MAXIM- 650 1982, 18K, very good condition, many extras. $900 776-7432.

460 Stereo

KENWOOD, KGC-4030 car stereo equalizer/ampli-fier. 7- band graphic equalizer with built- in amplifier, 40- watts per channel. Good condi tion and works perfect ly. Must sell! $100 price negotiable. Call 776-4950 and ask for

TRANS-

PORTATION

510 Automobiles

1978 CHEVETTE 87,000

evenings 532-3041.

1981 HONDA Accord four

leave message.

1985 TOYOTA Corolla

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized

GTS, red/ gray. Looks/ runs/ drives great! High mileage. Retail $3650, $2150 firm! 776–4018 anytime (keep trying).

1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes

$100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information

door Sedan. Runs

LONDON,

Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5. Room for a few more Contact Diane Dollar 532-6605 or 539-8401 SAN JUAN Students

610 Tour Package

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

**Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

What do you do if you see a fire? Call 911

2. Then call us

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

BULLETIN BOARD

010

*HEY, GIRLS, the Aggies are comin'. McCain Au-ditorium, Oct. 15, 16, 17. Call 532-6428. $COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

IF ANYONE witnessed an accident involving a car and a pedestrian on May 13, 1992 at approximately 2:30p.m.

the intersection of Man-hattan and Lovers Lane. PLEASE contact Lisa at 587-0562

Applications are available at the Alumni Assn.,

2323 Anderson

KSU Ambassador

Ave., 4th Floor (Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.)

Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23

MEN SEXUALLY Abused As Boys; A series of four presentations sponsored by University Counseling Services. The series will ex emotional impact of sexual abuse on men, and identify factors involved in adult recov ery. Open to men and women. Meets Tues. evenings, 6:30-7:30p.m. beginning Oct.

20, Lafene 231. WE SENT a reminder card what, more can we do? Did you forget? Pick ir 1992 Royal Purple!today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an appoint

020 Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

$100 REWARD- Please keep looking, lost white cat. Last seen 927 Can-dlewood Drive and Kimble Avenue. 537-0537 days; 539-3644 even-

FOUND- KEY, possibly computer, between Thompson and McCain. Call 532-6296.

FOUND BALL Python at Kimball and College Ave. four feet long call Kelli at 539–5741. FOUND LADIES watch by Continuing Education building. Call Connie 532-6308. LOST IN Aggieville, Fri. Sept. 25: Black, Olym-pus IS-1 camera in soft case. PLEASE call if you have knowledge of it; believe it or not, but it has strong sentimental value. Large rewardwithout questions.

HOW TO PAY

For an extra charge, we'll put a eadline above your ad to catch the

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT. Partially furnished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/dryer use. Leave message at 539-4674.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT. Partially fur-nished. $300 per month includes utilities, cable and washer/ dryer use. Leave message at

TWO- BEDROOM apartment located at 412 N. 11th St. $350. Most utilities paid. No pets. 539-

TWO-BEDROOM DUPLEX available, partially fur-nished, Mont Blue Apartments, one block from campus. Call 539-

CLOSE TO campus very three and fourbedrooms. Apartment

lexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666. FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776–3804. NICE STUDIO apartment, 1019 Houston. Near City Park. Utilities paid, except water. $295, 1-800-593-0519.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395 includes water, trash for appointment 776-3804. and pest control. Call

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO air and heat, laundry

borhood. Large yard. Refrigerator/ range fur-nished. Paid utilities except electric. $350/ month. Available Nov 1. Pets negotiable. 539-7185 M-Th after town home for now or next semester. Very nice. Call 539-6684.

TWO-BEDROOM $300 per month, landlord pays heat, 776-8628.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

month lease available. No pets. 539–4087.

WHY RENT? Purchase mobile home with Countryside's fantastic financing. Example #368 Redbud. 12x64 spacious, more to choose from. Call Mike at Countryside Brokerage 539-2325.

Skyline central air,

newly remodeled, very

AWESOME TWO-YEAR old apartment next to campus and Aggieville. Everything is brand new. Off-street parking. 776-7240.

FEMALE ROOMMATE needed immediately to share trailer house. Completely furnished. Private. Own room. Washer/ dryer. Pets al-lowed. 537-4279.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share four-bedroom house two and one-half blocks from campus. $125 plus utili-

MALE ROOMMATE wanted for furnished trailer. Full- sized bedroom. $175/month. 776-5362.

ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large two-bedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more information

150

QUIET, CLEAN, large two-bedroom/ one bath apartment, central air, $425/ month plus utilities. January- August. WANTED FEMALE to sublease one bedroom of two-bedroom apartment. $195 a month rent plus half utilities and deposit. Available December 1. For information call 776-5608.

SERVICE

205™

DIRECTORY

Phys. II, 537-0603

$10 AND up: professional

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re-

bles, equations,

A B C typing service. You do the studying, let me do the typing. Reports, charts, 539-3229.

sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in taoverheads. Professional results guarantees. Please call Sandy graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary.

term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539-5998 after

210 Resume

facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1. QUALITY TWO-BEDROOM apartment. Quiet neigh

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bedroom. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur-roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

15 Rooms

TWO ROOMS available in

120 For Rent.

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes. Quiet surroundings for serious students. Campus one mile. Nine

1992 14X70 three-bed-room, two bath. Must sell. 537-0678.

100 HOUSING REAL ESTATE

200 SERVICE DIRECT-

300 EMPLOY. MENT/ CAREERS 400 OPEN MARKET

TRANS-PORTATION

TRIPS

600 TRAVEL

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

Congress tries to adjourn

THE WRAP-UP SESSION

Here's a look at some action taken by Congress as they prepare to end the current session.

KANSAS MILITARY CONSTRUCTION

President Bush signed a bill passed earlier by Congress that will provide $20.6 million for military construction projects in Kansas.

- $13.2 million for modernizing a rail yard at Fort Riley because outdated rail equipment slowed deployment for Operation Desert Storm.
- $960,000 for a fire training facility at McConnell Air Force Base in Wichita.
- $1.6 million for an Army National Guard armory at Great Bend.
- $397,000 for a maintenance shop for the Army National Guard at Ottawa.
- $4.5 million for a jet fuel storage complex for the Air National Guard at McConnell.

NATIONAL PARK IN TOPEKA

The House has approved a bill that would create a national park in Topeka to commemorate the Brown v. Topeka Board of Education ruling. But the House added four provisions that put the bill in jeopardy when it gets to the Senate. SEE STORY RIGHT

- The new provisions: Rename a park system site in Florida from the Jefferson National Monument to the Dry Tortugas National Park.
- Change operation of advisory commissions for park service sites.
- Require the park service to study the New River in Virginia and West Virginia to determine whether it should be designated a national wild or scenic
- Require the park service to the Boston Harbor Islands in Massachusetts to determine how conservation and public use can be improved.

Fiee Delivery (Min. Order 89) HINAM Chinese Restaurant & Lounge 1304 Westloop 539-0888 539-8888 Dining-in Coupon 10% Off

When you present coupon Not valid with Buffet

Open 7 days a week

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180

> 722 N. Manhattan Ave. • Aggieville 537-5111

House finished; Senate stays

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — The 102nd Congress stumbled toward adjournment Tuesday. The House went home, but the Senate stayed on to face a $27-billion tax bill and stubborn stalling by dissenting lawmakers.

Representatives approved the disputed tax bill on a 208-202 vote and left shortly after noon, presumably for the year - though they could return to session, if House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt said although the members have gone home the House's adjournment would take effect officially once the Senate concludes.

But no one was sure when that would be.

The Senate remained in session Tuesday evening, despite the approaching sundown start of the Jewish Yom Kippur holy day. Clerks laboriously read aloud the text of a long, detailed water-projects bill — the result of stalling tactics by Sen. John Seymour, R-Calif.

Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell said the Senate may drag on until Saturday or even into next

The uncertainty in the Senate threw into doubt not just the tax bill. Passed by the House but left in limbo by Senate inaction were an anti-carjacking bill, a housing bill that would raise the limits on FHA home loans and an energy bill.

Republicans said even if Democrats manage to dislodge the tax bill, Bush might veto it.

Lawmakers in both parties were in a rush to return home to campaign for re-election.

But adjournment, already put off by one day, became elusive when Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, a New York Republican battling for re-election, snarled the Senate in a 15-hour filibuster over the tax bill after it cleared the House early Tuesday morning.

When he finally gave up, Seymour, another vulnerable Republican, enmeshed the Senate in delay by invoking rules to demand the reading of the waterprojects bill.

D'Amato's filibuster was unconventional. He wasn't so much seeking to obstruct the bill as to demand that a deleted provision be restored - one designed to provide relief for New York state typewriter-factory workers who may lose their jobs.

Memorial to Brown case in limbo

Kansas judicial nomination also awaiting action

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - A lastminute snag in Congress Tuesday threatened to scuttle a proposal for a national park site in Kansas to honor the Supreme Court's Brown v. Board of Education ruling.

The House, only hours before adjourning, passed legislation to create the park site in Topeka. However, the House added new provisions that raised doubts whether the Senate would give final approval to the measure.

Also in limbo was a judicial nomination for Kansas.

Lawmakers still hoped the Senate would confirm Kathryn Vratil, of Prairie Village, as a judge on the U.S. District Court in Kansas. If confirmed, Vratil would become the first woman to serve on the federal district court in the state. The Senate was expected to be in session later in the week.

The Brown legislation, which was sponsored by Kansans in the House and Senate, would designate Monroe Elementary School in Topeka as a national historic site. The school would honor the 1954 court decision that struck down racial segregation in public schools.

Under the measure, the National Park Service would buy the school, which is now closed, and operate it as a tourist attraction.

Monroe was an all-black school in Topeka's segregated school system. It is also one of two elementary schools in the city associated with the Kansas lawsuit that led to the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

The Senate passed the Brown school measure last weekend and sent it to the House.

With Congress wanting to adjourn, the House took up the Senate-passed bill and added four other measures involving the National Park Service.

The extra provisions on the Brown measure put the bill at risk in the Senate, said Walt Riker, a spokesman for Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole, one of the sponsors of the original legislation.

TBS: Cable bill unconstitutional

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - One of the largest providers of cable TV programs sued to block part of a cable regulation bill less than 24 hours after it was enacted by Congress over President Bush's Turner Broadcasting System Inc. said Tuesday a requirement that cable companies carry local affiliates of ABC, CBS, NBC, Fox and other over-the-air broadcasters is unconstitutional. The suit was filed in federal court here.

Courts have ruled twice before that the so-called mustcarry provision violates the First Amendment by giving broadcast stations and broadcast networks unfair advantages over cable networks, said Bert Carp, TBS vice president for government affairs.

"There are a great many places in the country where the channels are full. Broadcasters will come in and want carriage, and cable will be bumped," Carp

Edward Fritts, president and chief executive officer of the National of Association Broadcasters, said he wasn't surprised by the court challenge.

'We expect to participate fully in the proceeding and will do all we can to help ensure that Congress' action is upheld," he

Turner Broadcasting owns four cable networks, including the popular CNN and TNT.

We compete every day with these free networks," Carp said. The four Turner networks all taken together have about a third (as much) to spend on programming as the broadcast networks, because we are smaller."

The new law was written initially as a response to consumer complaints about skyrocketing cable TV rates. It requires the Federal Communications Commission to develop a rate

Another provision of the new law requires cable companies to negotiate with the broadcasters for use of their programming, but the law also requires the cable operators to carry a certain number of broadcast stations from their local areas.

The requirement to negotiate was a response to the broadcasting industry's complaint that cable companies had enriched themselves by transmitting for free the programming that broadcasters developed.

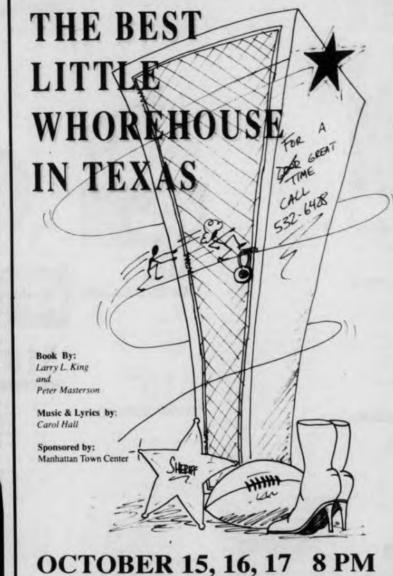

THE DIRECTOR'S CUT

THE ORIGINAL CUT FUTURISTIC ADVENTURE

Starts Friday, October 9th

Thanks, Boss!

On Oct. 16, you can say Happy Boss's Day with a personal from you or the whole group.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Boss a special day. Plus, use this form and take 25% off your ad cost. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Your I.D. number Your name Telephone number Address Message

KANSAS STATE OLLE()

OCTOBER 8, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

STUDENT

VOLUME 99. NUMBER 33

A demand for school reform

"We will be fortunate if, between now and the time our fifth graders are members of the class of 2000, our schools change as much as the children do."

LAMAR ALEXANDER

President Jon Wefald speaks to U.S. Secretary of Education Lamar Alexander on the way to McCain Auditorium Wednesday.

Education secretary gives Landon Lecture

REBECCA OLIVAS

"Education is not usually on the front page or on the top of the evening news, but increasingly in America it is seen as the solution to what is on the front page or on the evening news," said Lamar Alexander, the U.S. Secretary of Education, at the 92nd Landon

Lecture Wednesday. He spoke about the America 2000 program - a set of national goals to improve the United States' educational system - and differently. Of the babies born in creating new types of schools in America.

Alexander cited two reasons Americans want to create the best schools in the world.

"Standards are very different today. You have to know a lot of things that you might not have needed to know 10 to 15 years ago to work in an automobile plant,' Alexander said.

The second change is that students are growing up

California, 25 percent have something toxic in them, Alexander said.

"We will be fortunate if. between now and the time our fifth graders are members of the class 2000, our schools change as much as the children do," Alexander

A design team has come up with possible changes to make to schools. One such change President Bush wants to implement is the GI Bill for Children.

The program would give scholarships to middle- to lowincome families. The parents would then be able to choose which school their child would

"Giving parents consumer power, dollars to spend at the elementary and high schools of their choice, will help change the

■ See EDUCATION Page 12

Largest free-trade zone set up

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SAN ANTONIO, Texas — President Bush participated in a high-profile ceremony in a must-win state Wednesday to highlight the successful negotiation of an agreement creating the world's largest free trade zone.

With Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney and Mexican President Carlos Salinas de Gortari looking on, Bush hailed the 2,000page North American Free Trade Agreement that was negotiated last August.

"This meeting marks a turning point in the history of our three countries," Bush told a crowd of dignitaries in the courtyard of a local hotel. We are creating the largest, richest and most productive market in the entire world."

Bush defended the pact against criticism that it will result in the loss of U.S. jobs from companies being lured across the border to lower wages in Mexico. Instead, Bush said the removal of trade barriers would expand U.S. exports to Mexico, which is already America's third largest

"If anyone doubts the importance of trade for creating jobs, they should come to this great state," Bush told the crowd, saying that exports

See BUSH Page 10

NEWS DIGEST

STUDENT CHARGED

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) - A Michigan State University student was charged Wednesday in the alleged sexual assaults of two of his former fraternity

Russell A. Ford, 21, of Grand Rapids, was arraigned in East Lansing District Court on four counts of criminal sexual conduct. He faces up to 17 years in prison if convicted of all counts.

Delta Upsilon members told police they were sexually assaulted while too drunk to defend themselves.

2ND USE FOR RU486

BOSTON (AP) - A controversial French-made abortion drug is also an effective morning-after pill, preventing all pregnancies in women who have unprotected sex, a study found.

RU486 has not been approved for use in the United States. A study published in Thursday's New England Journal of Medicine said making the drug available for use after intercourse could reduce the need for

MULTICULTURAL AFFAIRS

Minority numbers hit all-time high

Minority student enrollment is at its highest level in K-State's

The registrar's office reported 1,447 minority students enrolled for fall 1992, which is up 8.5 percent from last fall. Now that the students are enrolled, Pat Bosco, associate vice president for institutional advancement, said the most important issue is to retain these students through graduation.

"The key is maintaining this momentum of satisfied students," Bosco said.

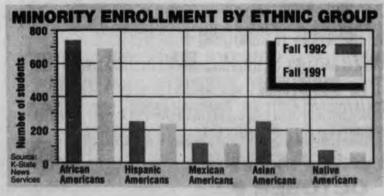

President Jon Wefald said

several reasons account for the increase. He first credited the newly developed recruiting policy, in which K-State's overall aggressiveness in seeking out minority students has been enhanced.

More money for minority scholarships and a more caring and comfortable campus are two other aspects related to the increase, Wefald said.

A group was formed about two years ago as a Task Force on Minority Student Retention, Bosco said. Staff and students worked

See MINORITY Page 10

Car rear-ends school bus; 2 injured

A rear-end accident Wednesday on Highway 24 injured the driver of the car, Mary E. Colvin, and a student in the school bus.

ROY GRABER

two-vehicle accident involving a school bus occurred near the intersection of McCall Road and Highway 24 about 4 p.m. Wednesday. Steve Kellett was driving a Unified School District 383 bus eastbound on Highway 24. He was stopped for a railroad crossing when he was rear-ended by Mary E. Colvin driving a 1988

Plymouth Reliant. "I don't think that she realized the bus was stopping for the railroad," said an eyewitness who would not give his name. "She was probably driving 55, and she didn't slow down too much."

See CAR Page 10

BUS SAFETY FEATURES

A school bus is designed to take the kind of impact that happened during Wednesday's accident. HIGH-BACK CHAIRS The interior of the bus is compart-mentalized by the seats. The back of each seat acts as a cushion for the pple in the seat behind. DUAL TIRES

Dual tires help the driver control the bus in case one of the tires Under the bus, two steel rails that are 1/4 inch thick and 18 inches wide create the strength

The bumper is attached to the chassis and will fold under the bus in the event of an accident. This prevents damage to the passenger compartment.

PEOPLE

Brill endowment funds K-State research center

LEIGH NEVANS

The estate of Martha Brill, a 1940 K-State graduate, has given more than $100,000 to the KSU Center for Basic Cancer Research.

Brill. who died in January, reated a trust in 1987 with the KSU Foundation to help support the center's outreach program.

The endowment works as a continuous investment in departments or scholarships specified by the donor.

The initial donation remains the same. Only money from the earnings of the donation goes toward scholarships.

The money for the outreach program goes to different educational activities.

The center's staff gives presentations about cancer and cancer research.

"People need information and inspiration," center director Terry Johnson said. "It is for public education.

HARMONY

WEEK

telling donors what's going on," he

Brill earned a degree in human ecology from K-State and then received a nursing degree from the University of Kansas.

After serving as a nurse in World War II, she became a healthcare specialist with the KSU Cooperative Extension.

The center also produces a coloring book featuring a duck named Dr. Waddle for elementaryschool children affected by cancer.

The book helps them understand their feelings and what's happening to their families, Johnson said. Teachers in elementary schools use it in classes to help these children deal with their problems.

from California to Connecticut. It can be purchased at the center.

Nation," based on the display in the Union Gallery, I Born Again in America, Union Little

LECTURE: Don Stull, "Observations on a More Diverse 2:30 PM Nation." based on the display in the Union

LECTURE: The above will be repeated in Union 212.

7/9:30 PM DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST, Union Forum Hall

Westwood Road, was arrested for "It's been working as a vehicle misdemeanor checks in both Riley to initiate conversation," Johnson and Pottawatomie counties. Jones is The coloring book has been used lieu of $599 bail for Riley County and

At 1:40 p.m., Julie Albrecht, 475

Ratone St., reported a hit-and-run

At 3:25 p.m., Charles D. Hall, 717 Humboldt St., No. 5 was arrested for misdemeanor checks and confined in lieu of $200 bond.

Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing

Chester E. Peters Recreation

At 1:50 p.m., Yonghong Guo, Y-4

Jardine Terrace, reported a stolen three-speed bicycle.

reported stolen from the International Complex. Loss was $136.

Student Center lounge.

confined at the Riley County Jail in $127.43 bail for Pottawatomie County.

Maple Alley, Ogden, reported a theft of miscellaneous household items. At 2:01 p.m., Dan Neal, 1204

At 6:14 p.m., a Food-4-Less employee, 222 N. 6th St., reported a theft of a box of tampons. A juvenile was released to parents.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so

WEATHER

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Friday in the Union K, S and U rooms on the second floor of the Union. ■ Applications for cancer research awards by the Center for Basic Cancer Research are available in Ackert 234 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Deadline is Dec.

■ Intramural entry deadline for cross country is today at 5 p.m. in the Rec Services office in the Rec Complex.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8

■ BAPP will meet at 4:30 p.m. in Calvin 018.
■ Phi Kappa Phi will meet at 4 p.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

■ Native American Student Body will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Union 204. ■ Table Tennis Club will meet from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. in the Ecumenical

BSU Salt Company will meet at 7 p.m. in the Campus Baptist Center. Aikido Club will sponsor a free self defense class for women from 7 to 8 p.m. at 1108 Laramie.

■ Pre-physical Therapy Club will meet at 6:45 p.m. in McCain 324 for Royal Purple pictures. A meeting will follow at 7:30 p.m. in Boyd lounge.

■ ICTHUS will meet at 8 p.m. in Union Little Theatre.

■ Pre-Vet Club will have mock vet school interviews at 7 p.m. in Trotter

SAVE will meet at 7 p.m. in the UFM building.

■ The Graduate School has scheduled the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Shun-Lung Su for 8 a.m. in Durland 306.

■ The Graduate School has scheduled the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Busie Maziya for 8:30 a.m. in Shellenberger 204.

■ Wildlife Society will meet at 7 p.m. in Ackert 120. ■ Parachute Club will meet at 7:45 p.m. in Union 202.

■ ROTARACT will meet at 8 p.m. in Carlos O' Kelly's. ■ Sigma Delta Pi will meet at 7 p.m. in Eisenhower 016. Free Spanish

Alpha Kappa Psi will have a pledge meeting at 6 p.m. in Union 203.

■ Engineering ambassadors executives will meet at 6:30 p.m. Members-large will meet at 7 p.m.

ASIA will meet at 6 p.m. in Union 204. Microbiology Club will meet at 4 p.m. in Ackert seminar room, first floor.

■ American Institute of Chemical Engineers will meet at 1:30 p.m. in

■ Campus Crusade for Christ will meet at 7 p.m. in Justin 109. ■ Career Planning and Placement will conduct a workshop on securing federal employment from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. in Union 212.

Have a question about today's Collegian? Give us a call, and we'll try to help you out. 532-6556

we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIE 116

POLICE REPORTS

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County

K-STATE POLICE

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7

At 9:56 a.m., by Kimball Avenue near the overpass, a horse was reported stuck in a barbed-wire fence. The wire was cut, and the animal was

At 1:30 p.m., Janet Seltz and Amy Hulsing reported a backpack stolen from their vehicle, parked at the

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7

15th St., Junction City, was arrested

Humboldt St., reported a possum stuck in his backyard fence. At 8:55 a.m., Rod Klinkner, 4340 S.

Dam Road, reported the theft of a stainless-steel, three-blade boat

Frey Drive, reported damage to his vehicle. Damage was $600. At 10:50 a.m., Ala Mia Jones, 246

At 10:06 a.m., Johnnie Daniels, 724

At 12:48 a.m., Lisa K. Kelly, 339 W.

At 8:05 a.m., Curt Steelsmith, 1819

RILEY COUNTY POLICE

in the log are published.

for failure to appear

TODAY'S FORECAST

Mostly cloudy, windy and cold with rain likely. High 45 to 50. Northwest wind 15 to 25 mph and gusty. Chance for rain, 60 percent. Thursday night, decreasing cloudiness.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST Mostly sunny and warmer. High around 70.

EXTENDED FORECAST Saturday through Monday: Saturday, very cool. Lows in the 30s. Highs in upper 50s to lower 60s. Sunday, turning east and 70s west. Monday, mild. Lows in 40s. Highs in 70s.

warmer. Lows in upper 30s to lower 40s. Highs in the 60s

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

68/61	cloudy
n 55/45	clear er 59/39	cloudy
ä	55/45

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103, shattan, Kan., 66506-7167.

THURSDAY

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsroom ies concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

Thanks

On Oct. 16, you can say Happy Boss's Day with a personal from you or the whole group.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Boss a special day. Plus, use this form and take 25% off your ad cost. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Your I.D. number Your name Telephone number Address

Blood drive thirsts for more

The KSU Bloodmobile barely reached its goal of 250 units of blood per day Tuesday - the first day of the drive.

Donors gave 253 units of blood. The blood drive will continue through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the K-State Union.

'We can do a lot better than that," KSU Bloodmobile coordinator Reita Currie said. "K-State has donated up to 450 units per day

The goal for the entire drive is 1,000 units of blood.

The KSU Bloodmobile is one of the largest drives in Kansas, Currie

Currie encouraged everyone to donate and said donors can come in without an appointment.

Blood is always in demand, Currie said. Manhattan hospitals, for instance, depend upon the Red Cross to provide their supply of necessary blood and blood

STUDENT SENATE

Delta Tau Delta fraternity helps coordinate the Bloodmobile visit. Jason Jenn, sophomore in psychology, said it's one of the Delts' philanthropies.

"A lot of people wait until Thursday or Friday to donate," Jenn said. "It gets pretty jammed up, since there are so many people to get through. We encourage everyone to come early in the Living groups, fraternities and sororities compete to see who can get the most volunteers and people to donate. The winners receive a party paid for by the Delts.

"I wanted to help out the house as well as others," said Chad Lechtenberger, Phi Gamma Delta

Vet med senator may face impeachment

Unexcused absences reason for hearing

AMY WRIGHT

Student Senate will hear the first reading of a bill to impeach Veterinary Medicine Sen. Jerry Busselman Thursday night.

Senate Chairman Ian Bautista said the proceedings were being brought against Busselman because of unexcused absences.

"I keep track of attendance, and I have talked to him and asked him to let me know when he can't be there, and he has not done that,"

Bautista said it is unfortunate the impeachment proceedings are being brought against the senator, since it is difficult to get representation from students in the College of Veterinary Medicine.

"In all honesty, I hope he is not impeached, because it will be hard to replace him," Bautista said.

Busselman was not available for

■ See SENATE Page 12

Switzer speaks of diversity, change

Despite improvements, University still has long way to go to promote harmony

HNIC WEEK Daily calendar - Page 2 JILL SCHRAG

Veryl Switzer spoke about K-State diversity Wednesday as part of Racial/Ethnic Harmony

Switzer, associate director of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, was hired to K-State's faculty staff in 1969 as a "change agent," he said, to develop programs for black people at K-State.

From 1969 to 1982, K-State's minority population increased from 137 to 951 students largely due to Switzer's influence, said Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life.

Switzer, speaking in the K-State Union Little Theatre, said white students have shown interest in Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week for the first time in its four-year history.

K-State has had many firsts in its past, Switzer

In 1948, K-State was the first school in what was then the Big Seven Conference to integrate intercollegiate sports. In 1950, Switzer was the third black athlete to play football at K-State.

The University also was the first to integrate its band and the first to elect a black Homecoming queen. It also established the first Minority Affairs Office, where Switzer took his faculty position in

However, Switzer said, this progress took place during a period of great social unrest.

When I came on staff at K-State, there was not one black faculty member on campus," he said. There was no housing for blacks on or off campus.

"Blacks were not allowed to eat in restaurants, and they were denied voting rights and overnight accommodations in some Kansas towns."

Switzer told the audience about an incident that occurred when he was traveling with K-State's

"I could have been arrested for staying in a hotel with my team," he said.

He was forced to take the freight elevator, he said, and to deny he had stayed in the hotel the next day, because a city ordinance prohibited blacks from staying overnight in the town.

Today, there are still great barriers to black students gaining access to higher education,"

■ See SWITZER Page 12

CARY CONOVER/Collegian

Veryl Switzer, Department of Intercollegiate Athletics associate director, speaks about K-State diversity Wednesday.

Union TV is more than meets the eye

LANA SCHRATER

Bautista said.

The K-State Union is now capable of displaying closed caption on all three of its televisions.

Closed caption is converting spoken text into visual text seen on the television screen, said Dave Deitch, associate director for operations at the Educational Communications Center.

"I think by 1994 or 1995, all TVs will have to have a built-in decoder, and with the switch of a button, the system can be turned on or off," Deitch said.

The Union Station television has been capable of displaying closed caption since January 1991, and now the two recently purchased television sets offer closed caption

One television set is located in the television room by the Union Copy Center, and the second one is in the basement recreation area. The new television sets have been in use since the end of August, said Jack Connaughton, associate director of the Union.

'The TVs we had were about eight-years-old," Connaughton said. "The picture was really starting to deteriorate on the ones we've had because they're basically going seven days a week, 12-to-14-to-16 hours a day." For the television set to display the closed caption, the TV station must first broadcast the signal, Deitch said Many of the sets Connaughton looked at before buying have the closed caption built-in the television. It was an added feature that did not cost any additional money.

"I think that's almost a standard ticular units," he said. The American Disability Association is requiring that buildings become more user friendly, and closed caption is one of the require-nowadays, and we were fortunate enough to have it on those par-ments, Connaughton said. The closed caption for the Union Station television can be turned on by flipping a switch, he

THE LARGEST SELECTION IN

52 STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM MAKE THESE ROPERS PROVEN WINNERS

Handcrafted from premium Kipskin leather! You'll find their softness unbelieve able! Along with their handcrafted finish, each roper gives you a glove like fit conforming easily to the shape of your foot the instant you pull them on. Full leather from 10" shaft to foot, leather lining, semi-round toe, Wellington heel. Leather sole Available in your choice of pull-on roper or lace-r. 1st Quality. Handcrafted in USA.

COMPARE ANYWHERE!

12-5 Sunday

Produces the cream of the crop in family entertainment

Union Program Council provides top-notch campus programming events for K-State students and the entire family. A sampling of the more than 500 programs include current films, trips, entertainment and special seasonal events. Children can participate in safe holiday activities with UPC Special Events Committee or use their creative skills to make innovative holiday crafts through UPC Arts Committee. Adults can shop in Kansas City or see affordable musical entertainment. There's something for everyone!

Pumpkin Carving Contest

Bring a pumpkin and dig into the traditional Halloween custom with UPC Arts Committee's annual pumpkin fixin' event. Entries accepted 6 p.m. - 9 p.m., Thursday, October 29, Union Station, K-State Union. Wining entries will be displayed 11 a.m. - 4 p.m., Friday, October 30 in Union Station.

Children's Carnival

5:30 p.m. - 8:30 p.m., Thursday, October 29, K-State Union Grand Ballroom. Children in grade school can attend this gala with favorite carnival games including "Go Fish!" "Ring Toss," "Musical Chairs," and cookie decorating. Don't forget to wear your favorite costume. Free admission with a donation of a canned food item for the Flint Hills Breadbasket.

Kansas City Holiday Excursion

Let the festive mood of Kansas City brighten your holiday spirit, while getting a jump on your holiday planning. Travel to Oak Park Mall, Crown Center and Country Club Plaza. Join UPC Travel for an exciting holiday getaway on Saturday, December 5. Exact itinerary will be announced November 2. Informational meeting is 7 p.m., Monday, November 16, K-State Union Room 213, Sign-up begins Tuesday, November 17, UPC Office, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Children's Holiday Craft Workshop

Fast and easy holiday craft ideas, just for children on December 5. Sign up begins Monday, November 16 through Wednesday, December 2, 8 a.m. - 4 p.m., UPC Office. A nominal registration fee is required at sign-up.

Holiday Ranch-Acoustic Duo

Eclectic Entertainment Committee presents the duo of Karen Paurus and Erik Newman performing folk, pop and rock music, Thursday, November 5 in Union Station, K-State Union, 7:30 p.m. Admission $2. The duo is noted for Karen's pure vocals, Erik's smooth guitar skills and together, their casual yet professional stage presence.

Weekend Family Films

The Land Before Time This enchanting animated adventure follows the journey of five young dinosaurs and their quest to reach "The Great Valley." Rated G. Saturday, October 10 and Sunday, October 11 at 2 p.m., Forum Hall, K-State Union.

Sister Act Whoopi Goldberg stars as a lounge singer who accidentally witnesses a gangland murder, prays for a miracle and ends up in an orthodox convent of nuns. Rated PG. 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., Friday, October 30 and Saturday, October 31. 7 p.m., Sunday, November 1, Forum Hall, K-State Union.

Join the Moooo-vement!

Stop by the UPC Office, Third Floor, K-State Union or call 532-6571.

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Topeka memorial needed now

THE ISSUE

The House will decide today whether to make Monroe Elementary School in Topeka a national landmark.

WE SUGGEST

Considering its importance in Brown v. the. Board of Education, the House should pass this bill as quickly as possible.

Today, the House of Representatives has a fine opportunity to enact legislation that directly pertains to Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week.

In a "pro forma" session, where representatives use a voice vote on noncontroversial legislation, they will decide whether Monroe Elementary School in Topeka should be designated a national landmark.

This building was the locus for the historic Brown v. Board of Education case, the 1954 Supreme Court decision that struck down segregation in public schools.

Now vacant, the building has waited until recently, when Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., pushed a . bill through the Senate that would allow the National Park Service to purchase the building and turn it into a museum. Here tourists would learn of the significance of the Brown case.

It's about time.

Converting the old school would do more than just add another landmark to a state list already replete with them. It would give true significance to a place where the American people took one step out of bigotry and one into acceptance.

It's a place signifying that children could learn to grow in a society where the idea of "separate but equal" was merely the narrow view of narrow people, to be pushed aside and

And perhaps more than this, it was a key component of the Civil Rights movement, where minorities began to achieve a level of equality with the white majority.

"The Monroe School has earned a special place in American history. This legislation will move us closer to the national recognition this Kansas landmark deserves," Dole said. He couldn't be any closer to the truth.

As Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week continues, it's good to see positive steps being taken to preserve one of the places were this week can find its roots.

One place with which we can all identify.

READERS WRITE

ATHLETICS

Success in sports due to student support

Editor,

When I came to Manhattan last year, one of the first problems we faced was how to get our students back to our events. To solve the problem, we appointed a student committee consisting of Jackie McClaskey, student body president; Heather Smith, student athletic council rep; Derek Nelson, student athletic council rep; and other athletic department staff members.

The committee recommended we bring back the campout, reduce ticket prices, offer a combination football and basketball ticket, bring back the ICAT group and allow students to bill their tickets to their tuition and fee charges.

The response has been overwhelming. More than 5,600 students purchased season football tickets, more than 2,400 students have purchased the combined ticket and more than 500 students have joined ICAT.

On behalf of our 281 student athletes, coaches and administrators, let me personally thank each and every one of you for your outstanding support of intercollegiate athletics. Student involvement at K-State athletics is crucial to our future success.

I look forward to hearing from any of you should you have any concerns or thoughts on how to improve our overall program. I can be reached at 532-6910.

> Milt Richards Athletic Director

MAYONNAISE

Choices needed for sandwich ingredient

Editor,

Webster's defines (all the really good letters to the editor begin with "Webster defines") mayonnaise as a "creamy salad dressing or sauce made of salad oil, yolks of eggs, vinegar, lemon juice, etc., beaten together to a thick consistency."

I like mayonnaise, especially when it's in the middle of the tuna-salad sandwiches. I buy almost every day at the K-State Union. The Union makes great tuna-salad sandwiches — just the right amount of celery and onion and the option of white or wheat bread. Some might say they are a little expensive at $1.20, but I buy them anyway. You only live once, I say.

But alas, mayonnaise, probably the second-most important ingredient in a tunasalad sandwich, is high in fat. In fact, recent research shows that the average adult male has 15 to 20 pounds of undigested mayonnaise in his belly. Think

It was with this concern that I recently called the Union on two separate occasions to ask if any consideration had been given to using the new kind of fat-free mayonnaise that I see in most grocery stores. On both occasions I was politely given the brush-off. I was told to use the Union suggestion box and that the person in charge of the tuna-salad sandwiches was "on another line."

Obviously, there is something about mayonnaise someone at the Union doesn't want us to know.

I'd bet other students would relish the opportunity of being able to choose between low-fat and high-fat tuna-salad sandwiches. The Union offers non-fat frozen chocolate yogurt; perhaps this could be substituted for mayonnaise.

If you also suffer from this mayonnaise malaise, call the Union, write the Collegian or your congressman. It's time for a change!

Graduate student/Journalism and mass communications

RAPE STATUTE

Attorney says there is no excuse for rape

ditor.

The Sept. 3 Collegian presented a strong editorial about the current Kansas rape statute. The article moved for changes in the statute.

I agree the statute must be changed.

I do not agree that in Kansas if a woman becomes intoxicated by her own free will, she gives consent to be raped.

Several factors aside from intoxication led to my decision not to prosecute in the recent situation. To list these would violate ethical and privacy considerations. However, my comments about the situation have caused confusion. I would like to try and clear some of the confusion with the following statement.

Intoxication is not a license to do anything. Each case has variables. Each case is reviewed for prosecution by my office. It would be foolish indeed for someone to assume that because charges were not filed in one matter, they won't be brought in the next.

William Kennedy Riley County Attorney

CATS AND HAWKS

It's almost open season on Lawrence

Editor,

I was thinking about applying for a Hawk-hunting license. I read the letter to the editor from the "Dana Altman Fan Club, KU Chapter," and now I badly need that license. Hawk-hunting season is just knocking at the door. Good luck, Cats!

A.H. Kahn Graduate student/Agronomy

Despite letter, Hawks still in for a shock

Editor

I have never liked KU. And the letter submitted to the Collegian by the so-called "Dana Altman fan club" only reinforces my view that some (not all) KU backers represent the epitome of poor taste and bad sportsmanship.

K-State and KU should beproud of their new-found gridiron success. The Wildcat/Jayhawk turf war is no longer the "toilet bowl" of years past. I would go so far as to say it is about the best matchup in the Big Eight.

Concerning last year, these Catbashers submitted their view that KU lost, but K-State did not win. Come on! Where did they grow these jokers?

The Cats showed last year that they had the drive, determination and character to win a game that we wanted more than they did. Indeed, this Saturday, not a single yard will be given up without a fight from either team.

To coach Bill Snyder, his staff and all the Wildcats in uniform: All of us Catbackers know you will all do your best, and a lot of us will be at the "flaw on the Kaw" to root you on to victory.

To Biff, Tad, Muffy, or whoever concocted that idiot letter: Beware all who enter Memorial Stadium Saturday — The Wildcats cometh!

Scott Thomas Senior/Secondary education

TOLES

Team names used only for profit

The false view of American Indians portrays them as mindless warriors, stealthy and bloodthirsty.

The beginning of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week left me feeling ambivalent about our chances for the future. The purpose of the week is to foster an atmosphere of learning, of understanding, for the cultures with which we share the world.

Alongside genuine efforts to learn, however, appeared testaments to ignorance and an unwillingness to understand. This ignorance was clearly demonstrated in editorials and letters printed in this paper concerning the use of American Indian symbols in sports.

I use the term "American Indian" as my preference, realizing fully the inadequacy of any generalized term for the many peoples indigenous to the Americas. In point of fact, any reference to an individual should include the name of his or her tribe or group, the origin from which his or her heritage is traced.

American Indian symbols are often used today as sports mascots or totems. Sports fans use these mascots as a way to cheer on their team. Indian mascots, like the Braves, Chiefs, Redskins and Indians, are seen as representatives of "noble" warriors, an ideal to which the team, hopefully, will conform.

Particularly loyal fans may don the regalia of the totemic symbol of his or her team. While attending a game, fans have the opportunity to participate in ritualistic cheers, like the tomahawk chop, to feel like they are part of the action and to support the players on the field.

the players on the field.

At least, that's the rationale of the fans. Many of these fans cannot understand how being associated with a sports team could be at all offensive. After all, they may claim, sports are the closest thing our society has to the ideals of nobility and courage that the Indian cultures exemplified.

Unfortunately, the image of American Indians to which sports teams pay homage is the bastardized image made popular by dime-store novels and TV westerns. The use of this caricature of the American Indian as a mascot is dehumanizing, denying cultural realities of which most sports fans are destined to remain ignorant.

The false view of American Indians portrays them as mindless warriors, stealthy and bloodthirst.

stealthy and bloodthirsty.
Their headdresses and body painting are "war bonnets" and "war paint."
Their rituals, including dances and chants, are debased as silly, animist

JOHN

HAWKS

In reality, the ceremonial bonnets and painting of the Indians, as well as their sophisticated dances and chants, are integral parts of their religion. Their use by "yahoos" at a sports event perverts their ceremonial fans. Many of these fans cannot understand how being associated with a sports team could be at all offensive.

significance in an unforgivable display of ignorance.

The lack of empowerment that

Indian groups have today is the direct result of past exploitation, economic and political. That exploitation continues today in the form of professional sports enterprises. These enterprises appropriated American Indian symbols during their formation more than 50 years ago and continue to use them in nearly the same form today.

Many sports fans forget that sports teams are an economic enterprise. In order to make money through promotional materials and ticket sales, they trick millions of fans into feeling like they are a part of the action. Sports fans identify with what they like about the athletes and the team of their choice. Indian symbolism, as a particularly effective way to make fans band together, has become an intricate part of this money-making process. It may be fun, but it is serious business.

Thus, through a veil of ignorance, exploitation of the American Indian continues. These peoples do not profit from the enterprises that degrade their cultures. To bring about ethnic harmony, we must strive to eliminate these injustices, not implore the victims to "lighten up." It is not the mascots themselves that are truly dangerous, but the ignorance they represent.

If we can eliminate that ignorance, then perhaps there is hope for the future

uik Cats teaches business skills

Convenience store in Van Zile Hall serves K-State students, faculty

A convenience store on campus means more than sodas and junk food. It is also a learning tool for students in the College of Human Quik Cats, located in the lower level of Van Zile Hall, serves as a laboratory for these students, said John Pence, associate director of Housing and Dining Services.

'Kids like to work there," Pence said. "And the students like the convenience of it."

Student employees work one to two hours a week in an eight-week rotation, learning skills, such as customer relations and business operations, to take to the working world. Other students are on the payroll, working four- to five-hour shifts, manager Greg Mayer said.

Chris Eberwein, sophomore in dietetics, said working at Quik Cats has helped her learn more about business operations.

"I've learned how to clean the machines, and I've watched Greg order things," Eberwein said.

Although billed as a service to K-State's students and staff, accusations of unfair competition came from other convenience store

Housing and Dining Services pays the state and federal taxes on all items sold by the store. However, in order to keep competition fair, Ouik Cats does not advertise, and the store targets only K-State students, faculty and staff.

"We don't rip off students, but we can't price things considerably lower than the competition, because that is not fair," Pence said.

Mick Wunder, operations manager of Shop Quik convenience stores, said Quik Cats has not affected business in any of his

"I feel that we get the same business that we always have," Wunder said. "In the area that it's at, it hasn't hurt our business.'

Pence said Quik Cats is paying off financially as well as educationally

Robin Boyd, freshman in occupational therapy, said she liked having Quik Cats in the area.

"It's really convenient and has everything I need," Boyd said. Pence said having a convenience store incorporated into the residence halls is a useful recruiting tool for new students, because they don't have to go out of their way for basic supplies.

Flight data recorder may provide answers

ASSOCIATED PRESS

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands -Investigators found the charred and dented flight data recorder of an El Al Boeing 747 Wednesday, saying the "black box" could provide clues to why the jet slammed into a suburban apartment block.

The briefcase-sized box was found as hundreds of searchers, sifting carefully through an unstable mountain of rubble and wreckage, pulled more bodies from the apartment building destroyed in Sunday's crash.

By Wednesday night, 40 corpses had been removed from the smoldering rubble. But 250 people were still unaccounted for, according to City Hall spokesman Robert Kaercher. He said the missing were presumed dead.

If confirmed, the toll would make it the world's deadliest air disaster in terms of deaths on the

The recovery was slowed because searchers were finding scattered remains in the rubble, charred by the intense heat from the fuel-laden jumbo jet that exploded

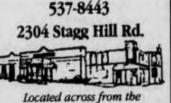

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste treat that won't bust you wallets.

All-You-Can-Eat For Only $4.95

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet omelets or skillet breakfasts.

Holiday Inn-Holidome

GREAT

MEMORIES

START HERE

PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available

WHICH DPECIALS

INCLUDES DRINK AND REFILLS (POP, TEA, LEMONADE AND WATER) (MOH. - FRI) CARRY DIET AVAILABLE

FRIDAY

MUNCHIES"

BUFFET 3-5

TACO/TOSTADO

Buffet 6-8 Rorry $4.99

41.49

WEDNESDAY TUESDAY RGS EYE BEER THEIR PROMON FOOTBALL TAGE TO TATROES /2 SLAB RIES POCE NACHOS HOT WINES $349 Buscer 250 50 $ EACH W/FLES $5.95 Tyunua Bueser HAR AND SWISS $ 2.99 or Hause RUSH 1/4 OR CHE MACHO PRIES $ 2.99 NACHOS + 547 EVERY DAY SCHNAPPS SHOTS Mry $100 OR WELLS SWI., MOH., THES

PLANNING A PARTY OR GET TOCETHER? CALL OUR CHEF RAGUL MARTINEZ 6FT. X8FT. SCREEN T NEVER A ROOM CHARGE WITH PURCHASE OF FOW AND BEVERAGE. 537-1484

523 S. 17백

THURSDAY

TIMPBET

BEER NITE

PIZZA$3.99

SANTA FE $ Z.25

BANDITO $3.99

FROZEN

MARGARITAS

AND KANSAS TORET * ID TOTAL TVS * SATELLITE * 9 POOLTABLES

* 7 DARTBOARDS

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

STEAK SPECIALS

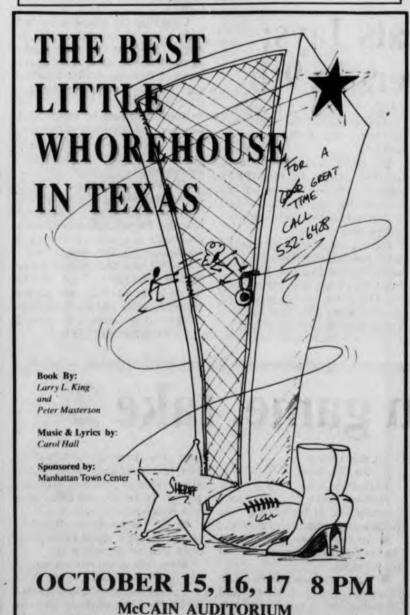

BOZ. 6.95 WITH SALAD,

SATURDAY

GAME DAY:

GREAT ALLDAYS

AND DRINK

TICKETS: McCAIN BOX OFFICE 532-6428

SPORTS

Women's soccer kicks

For Leslie Foreman, soccer is an escape.

"I've played soccer since I was seven, and I love it," said the forward and fifth-year senior. "It's been an outlet for me from school, from studying, from work.

"I'd rather go to Colorado for the weekend to play soccer instead of go to a bar anyday."

Foreman and a cast of largely new teammates will play the home debut of the K-State women's soccer team at 11 a.m. Sunday at the Frank Anneberg Sports

"Almost everybody graduated from last year," co-captain Lori Smith said. "We're a real young team this year."

The Wildcats are 1-1 this season, with their next game against Kansas, a team they defeated 3-2 earlier this year.

"I think we'll beat them," halfback Niki Redfern said. "The first time we played, KU came out with big attitudes, like they were going to kill us.

"I was scared at first, but the team stuck it through and won."

The match will be the team's final match before two straight weekends of tournament play.

On Oct. 17, the Wildcats play at the University of Missouri and then at the Colorado State tournament Oct. 24. The tournaments, Smith said, will tell how good the team will be.

"We scrimmage well, and we practice well, but we'll see how good we are after the tournament games," she said.

Besides allocations from Student Senate, the team also collects dues and has fund raisers during the season to pay for tournament entry fees.

Amy Voorhes, right, looks for a path around Lee Moritz during the women's soccer team practice Tuesday at Memorial Stadium. The team will take on KU at 11 a.m. Saturday at Frank Anneberg Park.

The team is seeking a sponsor to help finance their trip to the Big Eight tournament in the spring.

The Cats practice at Memorial Stadium three days a week but play home games at Frank Anneberg Park because the campus goals are in bad condition.

The goals had to be duct-taped together to make them usable during scrimmages.

"The goals are awful," Foreman said. "They were ancient when I was a freshman. A referee refused to call a game there because they're so dangerous."

The squad has 16 players, but Smith said more would be welcome.

"We have people we had to explain the rules to. We have people at all skill levels," she said.

'We'll take whoever we can get to play with us."

The time is right for Cats to growl

pressure. It's time for Snob Hill.

The K-State football squad finally gets a chance to measure its real potential against the Big Eight. First up: the Bowl-To-See-Who-Might-Go-To-A-Bowl-Game.

It's time for Kansas.

KU started out the season by leading the universe in offense and climbed into the spotlight of the national polls for a week. They've now had 16 days off to prepare after their last game - a home loss to California on ESPN

ABEL

Coach Bill Snyder said he thinks that this is by far the best Kansas squad he's lined up against.

"Kansas might be as wellbalanced a football program as there is right now," Snyder said.

All-America kicker Dan Eichloff makes it particularly hard for the K-State defense. He has already hit a 61-yard field goal this season and is 7 for 8 on the year. "The problem with Eichloff is he makes the field so darn short. The offense doesn't have to move the ball very far to get in field-goal range," Snyder said.

Even though K-State comes into the game 3-0, it is the last Big Eight team to compete against a wellregarded opponent. Even though the Wildcats are one of only 11 undefeated teams left in the nation, they swim a couple feet below the surface of the national polls. The

The rivalry. The emotion. The betting line also demonstrates the national perception of K-State's schedule so far. Kansas is favored by 12 1/2 points.

Disappointing so far this year to K-State fans and coaches has been the play of the offensive line. Although the unit is almost completely intact from last year, they've seemed flat emotionally at times, and opening holes for the running game and downfield blocking has been a problem early.

Quarterback Jason Smargiasso has also had to do more scrambling from the pocket than he should against K-State's opponents. He has been sacked nine times this season. Four of them were against New Mexico State, not exactly a defensive powerhouse. Did the offensive line get a wakeup call?

"They'd better," Snyder said.
"This is an awfully fine defensive front they're playing against."

Smargiasso also knows he needs to improve his performance. "I came out well in some ways and put some points on the board, but I've tripped up in other areas. I need to pick it up now," he said. The defensive line has bent most of the year, but not broken, and, despite some big plays, has also been fairly inconsistent. Now they will play quarterback

Chip Hilleary, who after four games this year has passed for 762 yards.

Along with the KU game comes bowl pressure. Scouts for several bowls will be attending Saturday, and this weekend will almost certainly decide the difference between another winning season and K-State's second bowl appearance in history.

Last year, K-State's comeback win destroyed the Jayhawks' season. This year, they want to destroy ours.

It's game time. Rock the Hawks.

SPORTS DIGEST

TORONTO'S CARTER SEES SPARKS

▶ELWAY AMONG PLAYERS OF WEEK

TORONTO (AP) — A freak accident from a fireworks show sent Joe Carter, Toronto's leading home run hitter, to the hospital with an eye injury on the eve of Wednesday night's playoff opener against Oakland.

Carter caught a stinging cinder in his left eye from the fireworks before a Toronto

NEW YORK (AP) - Louis

John Elway of Denver won

Oliver of Miami and Robert named the NFL's defensive

AFC offensive honors for his Chiefs, and Herschel Walker of comeback victory over the Philadelphia was the NFC's offensive player of the week.

Massey of Phoenix were players of the week

efforts in the Broncos'

Maple Leafs game Tuesday night as he watched at rinkside. It took a doctor more than two hours to remove the debris.

Though he downplayed the incident, Carter's brush with danger could have meant real trouble for the Jays.

His 34 homers were a big factor in Toronto's success.

interceptions in the Dolphins'

37-10 win over Buffalo. Massey returned two interceptions for touchdowns as the Cardinals

Elway threw two touchdown passes in the final two minutes

as Denver rallied from a 19-6

19 carries and scored twice.

deficit to beat the Chiefs 20-19.

Walker gained 86 yards in rallied to upset Washington.

Oliver had three

MLB playoffs in full swing Braves pummel Pirates, 13-5, to take 2-0 series lead

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ATLANTA - Oh, what pitching. Atlanta has it all. Oh, what hitting. The Braves own that, too. The only 'oh' for the Pittsburgh Pirates — 0 and 2.

Steve Avery on the left, John Smoltz on the right, 20-game winner Tom Glavine ahead of them. Everywhere the Pirates look, they see trouble.

They're playing the best team in baseball, and they certainly look second-best to the Braves in the National League playoffs.

Pittsburgh finally ended 13 years without a big inning in postseason play. But the four meaningless runs in the seventh came after Atlanta was well on its way to a 13-5 victory Wednesday and a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 series.

"We were embarrassed. We're in an uphill climb, and it's not a good situation to be in," Pirates manager Jim Leyland said. "What we need are some hits. And soon. Only two of the 10 teams to trail 2-0 in the NL playoffs have rallied to win the series. And if they don't, they'll be the first team since the 1976-78 Phillies to lose three straight playoffs.

"We've been getting our heads

Andy Van Slyke said. "We're in the emergency room, and we hope we're not in intensive care by Friday.

The cure?

"We've got to score some runs, get out in front and win a game, there's no secret to that," Leyland

The Pirates have been outscored

18-6 in the series, and they've now got to face Glavine - he's 4-0 against them this season — in Game 3 Friday in Pittsburgh.

"The pressure's on them now," said Avery, whose major-leaguerecord streak of 22 1-3 seoreless playoff innings was stopped.

The game was long since over by then, thanks to a four-run Braves' second and a four-run fifth that featured Ron Gant's first grand slam in the majors. The tail end of Atlanta's lineup continued to torment Pittsburgh, with eight hits; Gant finished 2 for 4 with three runs and four RBIs; Mark Lemke had three hits, and Damon Berryhill had two.

The bottom of the order had five hits - two each by Sid Bream and Lemke - in Atlanta's 5-1 win in Game 1.

Counting the playoffs - and right now, it's all that counts -Avery is 6-0 the last two seasons against the Pirates, who again received little production from big guns Van Slyke and Barry Bonds, a combined 1 for 8.

Those two may be stars in the summer, but they fail in the fall. Bonds is 8 for 51, a .157 average, and Van Slyke 11 for 68, .162, in the playoffs.

The Pirates scored four runs in the seventh inning. It was the first time since the 1979 World Series that the Pirates had scored more than twice in a postseason inning, a stretch covering 149 innings.

The 13 runs tied the record total by the Chicago Cubs over San Diego in the opening game of the 1984 NL series and the New York Yankees over Oakland in Game 2 of the AL playoffs in 1981.

VOLLEYBALL

Spikers lose to MU, continue to slump and play against the 8-6 Oklahoma

Squad drops 3rd consecutive match in conference

BRIAN ANDERSON

The K-State volleyball team dropped its third consecutive Big Eight match Wednesday, losing to the Missouri Lady Tigers in Columbia.

Missouri swept all three games

15-5, 15-12 and 15-12. K-State is now 5-9 overall and 0-3 in the conference, taking last place, while the Tigers go to 12-4 overall and 1-3 in the Big Eight. Missouri has won two of the last eight matches with the Cats.

The Cats have not won a match since beating Rice Sept. 21 nor a Big Eight contest since getting by Missouri on Oct, 24 of last year.

They will have to bounce back

Sooners at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Ahearn Field House

Missouri had 49 kills on 127 attempts in the match. Nearly half of those kills came from Yvette Buhlig, with 22 kills. Shannon Brown, the Big Eight's top hitter, had 10 kills.

The Tigers outblocked the Cats by a margin of 12-7. K-State had 39 cills on 118 attempts

Kathy Saxton led K-State in kills with 16 and attacks with 42. Saxton also tied with Heather

Zoerner for most digs on the squad Another contributor was Jill Dugan, who had her best hitting night as a Cat with eight kills and two errors in 15 attempts. Dugan was in on 1 1/2 blocks, tying her with Suzanne Hagge on the team, and she tied for third in digs with Angie McKee at nine.

Oakland beats Jays; Baines homers in 9th

TORONTO - Even without Jose Canseco hitting rocket shots, the Oakland Athletics still won with plenty of power Wednesday

Mark McGwire and new Bash Brother Terry Steinbach hit consecutive home runs in the second inning. And Harold Baines led off the ninth with a drive into the second deck in right that gave the A's a 4-3 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays in Game 1 of the American League playoffs.

Jack Morris and Dave

Wipfield, the two free agents Toronto signed in the winter to help them win in October, did Winfield, hounded by his horrible slump in the 1981 postseason, hit a solo home run in the sixth that made it 3-2, and he doubled and scored the tying run in the eighth.

Morris, whose last appearance in the postseason produced a 10-inning shutout in Game 7 of the World Series last year and earned him the MVP award, had not allowed a hit since the fourth inning before Baines connected.

BIG EIGHT FOOTBALL

Famous 5th-down game, take 2

ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBIA, Mo. - It's time to return to the scene of the crime.

Two years have passed since the infamous fifth-down controversy that handed Colorado a 33-31 victory over Missouri, and eventually, a national championship. Apparently there's no statute of limitations on such a gaffe, because no one's forgotten. "I don't think people are going to let it die for a while," said Colorado coach Bill McCartney, whose ninth-ranked Buffaloes play at Missouri tonight.

The game will be nationally televised by ESPN, and not because it's an attractive Big Eight Conference matchup. Colorado is 4-0 and had a week off. And Missouri is 1-3 and had only five days to prepare after ending an eight-game losing streak with a 44-21 victory over Division

I-AA Marshall on Saturday. Not only that, but Colorado has beaten Missouri seven straight times. The Buffaloes manhandled the Tigers 55-7 last year in Boulder.

No, that's not it. It's the fifth down.

To reset the scene:

Missouri held a 31-27 lead over Colorado with 31 seconds left. The Buffaloes had a first down at the 3.

On first down, quarterback Charles Johnson spiked the ball to stop the clock. On second down, Eric Bienemy gained 2 yards, and Colorado called its last timeout with 18 seconds to go. Officials forgot to move the down marker to third down for the next play. Bienemy went up the middle for no gain, after which officials ruled Missouri was late getting off the pile and called time with eight seconds to go.

On fourth down, Johnson spiked the ball again to stop the clock with two seconds to go.

On fifth down, Johnson scored on a quarterback sneak.

Colorado went on to win the Big Eight, the Orange Bowl and the national championship while Missouri won just two of its last six

Nails' EP a dose of adrenalin

MEGANNE MOORE

Nine Inch Nails has gone to hell. "Broken," the band's latest EP since the debut album, "Pretty Hate Machine," was released in 1989. This long-awaited offering of six songs is Trent Reznor's next phase.

Listening to the first couple of minutes of this EP you get one thing for sure: Reznor is pretty pissed off, at the world and everything involved.

REVIEW

He said in a press release that "Broken" was a "hard recording to make, an ugly record made during an ugly time in my life." This is apparent. But enough of Reznor's obvious disturbed mentality.

"Broken" is a fierce statement of religion, life and your basic aggression with some depression screamed in between.

Don't get the wrong impression, I really do like this EP. It's a massive dose of adrenalin on Reznor's behalf and a touch of Nitzer Ebb appeal.

In "Happiness is Slavery," Reznor explores the emotions of humans caught up in the routine of daily life. The lyrics, "I have found/you can find/happiness in slavery/I don't know what I am. I don't know where I've been/human junk just words and so much skin/stick my hands thru the cage of this endless routine/just some flesh caught in this big broken machine," illustrate a small portion of Reznor's frustration.

Compared to NIN's debut album, "Broken" doesn't pave much room for variety in the band's sound.

HARRISON FORD.

THE DIRECTOR'S CUT

THE ORIGINAL CUT

SETH CHILDS 6

Gals

Quantum $28

Attractions $30

Nine Inch The Cages provide harmony

Don't buy this album if you're wanting to rock, because "Hometown" doesn't.

Rather, this album could quite literally be called New Country Pop or, perhaps, New Folk.

REVIEW ***

A duo armed with acoustic guitar and a harmonica, the Cages

■ The Cages will play at noon today in Kedzie 116.

are a 1990s version of Simon and Garfunkel, but with better harmonies. The Cages produce layers of harmonies that make this album resonate with feeling.

The acoustic guitar sound adds a unique dimension to the ballads on this album. It gives the work a certain folk/country sound.

Songs about love, bad love and keeping the faith are what this album is all about. But beware, you should be in a good mood for listening. Otherwise, it is possible to be dragged down into the depths of despair.

Some of the stand-out tracks on this album include "Better Live," "Too Tired," "The Raven" and the more upbeat "Jeannie Brown."

Branson may be next Disneyworld

Mickey Mouse company considers

Missouri investment

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. - The town of Branson's sudden status as a country music mecca has caught the eye of the Walt Disney Co., which is considering a new development there, according to a copyright newspaper story.

"Branson is certainly a phenomenon. It may have some applications for us that we just don't know about yet. ... Branson might be the kind of thing we could do," Roy Disney, nephew of Walt Disney, told the Springfield News-Leader.

Michael Eisner, Disney chief executive officer, and Roy Disney, who is vice chairman, confirmed that company officials visited the Branson area in late September.

They were interested in the recreational potential of the area around Branson, which in recent years has seen an explosion of theaters, featuring star headliners and hotels to accommodate millions of country music fans.

"I'm trying to get there myself one of these days," Roy Disney said. "Certainly Branson is something that sprung up out of nowhere for a lot of us, and I think

Starts Friday, October 9th

$25- $30 partial or full

it's a question of, 'So, what is this? How did it happen?"

However, Disney's geographic interest in the southwest Missouri Ozarks provides few hints of what the company would build.

Among Disney's worldwide holdings are theme parks in California, Florida, Tokyo and Europe, clothing and record stores, and eight television and film

"We're looking for opportunities to move into areas other than theme parks," Eisner said.

Two weeks ago, a Disney spokesman strongly denied rumors of the company's interest in Branson. But developers and consultants agreed the company would gain little by publicizing its plans to landowners who want to sell.

ISAVE 50%

ON FILM DEVELOPING WHILE YOU SHOP!

One-Hour Service · In The Mall

Each Picture Is The Best It Can Be Or We

Reprint It Free...Now!

Offer applies to regular one-hour prices. No limit on number of rolls ounted with this coupon. 4x6 colo prints (print length varies with film size). Offer applies to first set of prints only. C41 in lab process Cannot be combined with other film reloping offers. Coupon good through Dec. 5, 1992.

CPI photo finish -

One Hour Services film developing enlargements reprints • double prints

Also Available vallet photos • film

instant color passport photos video transfer copies from prints albums, frames and accessories

Manhattan Town Center

main entrance by food court

75¢ Draws

Claflin & Denison (Down Under)

776-1515

10% off storewide

OCT. 8, 9,10 (Thurs - Sat)

10am - 6pm GLASS IMPRESSIONS 329 POYNTZ AVE.

- Refreshments
- · New gift ideas
- New surroundings

Come See What's New!

Your time is limited!

Perm Specials

Warm and Gentle $43 Kids 10 and under $28

Haircuts

All Haircuts includ shampoo & Styling

Gals- $12.50 Guys- $8.50 Kids 10 and under $6.50

All Perms include Cut & Style GUVS

Call Varden Studio at 532-6106 to schedule an appointment for yearbook pictures.

appointments can be made for any of the indicated times.

 $\Sigma\Sigma\Sigma$  — Oct. 7 8 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Oct. 8 8 - 9:30 a.m.

TKE - Oct. 8 · 9:45 a.m. to 3 p.m.

 $\Theta\Xi$  — Oct. 8 3:15 - 4:45 p.m.

Oct. 9 8 - 9:45 a.m.

ZФВ — Oct. 9 Boyd Hall - Oct. 9

K.S.U. at K.U.

Your party weekend in Lawrence begins Friday with the Country/Rock sound of:

SUNDOWN

Free DANCE LESSONS before the show & during band breaks. And Tickets to the CLINT BLACK Concert will be given away.

SATURDAY . . GAME DAY

"THE HAWK" will open at 10:30 a.m. Be there before & after THE GAME!

It Could Only Happen at . . .

1340 OHIO 843-9273

2 blks. East of Campus at 14th & Ohio

A K.U. Campus Tradition Since 1919

DB92

- Luna Park Luna<sup>2</sup> (Electra)
- Hey, Babe Juliana Hatfield (Mammoth)
- Dirty Sonic Youth (DGC)
- In the Meantime Helmet (Interscope)
- Sweet Oblivion Screaming Trees (Columbia)
- Fog Grey Matter (Dischord)
- Topeka Oratorio the Leatherwoods (Twin/Tone)
- Stull EP Urge Overkill (Touch & Go)
- Angel Dust Faith No More (Reprise)
- Copper Blue Sugar (Rykodisc)

Mancinelli's

Ristorante Italiano OPEN 5-10 DAILY

All you can eat Spaghetti Dinner $3.95 with Meatballs Bread sticks Salad

This Week's Specials

* Steak & Pasta

6oz. Sirloin Steak served with Breadsticks, Salad and your choice of pasta.

Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

Been There, Done Try This

Guatemala Auckland Madrid Buenos Aires Bangkok

Council Travel

1-800-475-5070

$498*

$379*

$519*

$475*

Party starts at 8:30

Give Blood Delta Tau Delta Blood Mobile This Weel 619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville 537-2100

SATURDAY 7 & 9:30 P.M. SUNDAY 7 P.M. FORUM HALL K-State Union

SATURDAY & SUNDAY 2:00 P.M. FORUM HALL

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY 7 & 9:30 P.M. FORUM HALL FRIDAY 7 P.M.

LITTLE THEATRE

"SPELLBINDING!" DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST A FILM BY JULIE DASH

ALL MOVIES $1.75 WITH I.D.

TIL THE COWS COME HOME

Time to break a leg, gentlemen

Dress rehearsals help candidates prepare for debate ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - President Bush studied at the White House Tuesday for Sunday's leadoff debate, while Bill Clinton summoned stand-ins for mock go-rounds in Kansas City.

They included a Washington lawyer to play Bush and an Oklahoma congressman to play Ross Perot.

With the approach of the nationally televised debate, which the Bush forces hope will shake up the final few weeks of Campaign '92, full-tilt preparation was beginning.

of the week, practicing and trying to figure out Bush attack avenues in advance of the real show, set for Sunday in St. Louis.

Bush, meanwhile, charted his own debate tactics Tuesday from the White House, setting aside three hours for a session with chief of staff James Baker, budget director Richard Darman and other top policy aides.

If and when Bush moves on to rehearsal debates - aides said there could be one Saturday at the White House - Darman would play dual roles, jumping back and forth between portrayals of Clinton and Perot, a Republican source said.

The budget director, who played

Clinton planned to hole up in Democrat Michael Dukakis in Bush's battleground Missouri for the latter part mock debates in 1988, has been mock debates in 1988, has been carrying around debate briefing books for weeks.

> Robert Barnett, a Democratic attorney who played Bush in mock debates for Geraldine Ferraro and Dukakis in the past two elections, was heading to Kansas City with his 12year Bush file in tow.

> "The goal is not to imitate George Bush; that's Dana Carvey," said Barnett, referring to the Saturday Night Live actor. He said of Bush: "My goal is to state his positions, his attacks, his punch lines."

> Perot's staff said the independent candidate hasn't done any debate rehearsals and doesn't plan any.

■ These are the networks that will air the 90-minute presidential debate at 6 p.m. CST Sunday:

ABC, CBS, NBC, PBS, CNN and Fox.

NATION I

Minority hiring a problem for police

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK - In spite of affirmative-action programs, New York ranks last in a 50-city survey that measures how closely police forces reflect the cities' black populations.

Los Angeles, where allegations of brutality by white officers touched off riots earlier this year, was ranked near the top, along with San Francisco; Miami; San Jose, Calif.; Omaha, Neb.; and Toledo,

The survey, released Wednesday, found that the percentage of black officers in the New York Police Department has not increased in nine years.

"The lack of progress is absolutely astonishing for black police officers in New York City," said Sam Walker, professor of criminal justice at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, who conducted

In contrast, Chicago boosted its number of black officers by 23.5 percent, and Houston's rose by 48.5 percent since 1983, he said.

New York's police force, with 27,154 officers, has 3,121 black officers or 11.4 percent, the same percentage it had in 1983. The city's population was 28.7 percent black in the 1990 census.

New York is the worst because of the high volume of hiring they've done," Walker said. "They had an opportunity, and it failed."

FARRELL LIBRARY

Lynx update to speed search for materials

Farrell Library is updating its Lynx computer search system.

Lynx provides information such as call numbers and stack location on books and journals.

'We're working on a database where indexes to journal literature will be available on the same system with Lynx," Dean of Libraries Brice Hobrock said.

Lynx does not provide information about articles in periodicals. The advantage of adding such a capability, Hobrock said, would be to tell whether certain articles were available at Farrell.

"It's more efficient than coming to the library, thumbing through a periodical guide, then wasting time looking through the stacks," he

Deficiencies in the University's hardware and software resources will delay the update for about 18 months, he said. "We haven't worked out all the inter-networking problems to link it with the mainframe," said David

Allen, director of the library's network services. "It will possibly be available next fall, but it's pretty early to claim that."

Hobrock said instead of expanding the mainframe, the library plans to add smaller computers to work with it.

"It's hard to put a price on the hardware. We hope to buy a University machine," Hobrock said. "The software costs under $50,000. which is fairly common. Lynx cost us about $100,000.

"We can't jump quickly with this. We have to make a careful investment that will add to the University strategy.'

Allen said once technology is in place, the next step will be improving access to the articles. A courier makes daily trips to libraries as part of the inter-library loan, but in the future that will all be done on computer.

"It will happen when demand justifies it," Hobrock said. "We don't have the cash in our budget, and users don't really demand it right now."

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Perot buys TV time to sell himself

Slick salesman or would-be leader. Perot ranks second in Nielsen ratings

WASHINGTON - Political operatives may scoff at Ross Perot's campaign methods, but marketing experts say the Texas billionaire is using classic business sales techniques - the same ones that helped make him rich. "The first step of persuasion is making people painfully aware of how much they need what you are selling," said Tom Reilly, a suburban St. Louis consultant who

THURSDAY

Ladies Night

No Cover

for the ladies

$1 bottles

MONDAY & TUESDAY 5150 Wells

WEDNESDAY

50¢ Draws

50¢ Tacos 4-9 p.m.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

DeLisa Dawn Jones

advises companies on how to improve marketing techniques.

In his 30-minute ad Tuesday night, Perot delivered a scathing critique of the economy and President Bush's handling of it.

In so doing, "he paved the way for selling the solution" during a second 30-minute spot Friday night on ABC, Reilly said.

That could be a tough sell, since Perot's recommendations include higher taxes and deep cuts in popular government programs.

But Jack Trout, a Greenwich, Conn., advertising consultant, said Perot has cleverly sugarcoated the bitter pill he is asking Americans to swallow by calling his program

"That does a good a job with some bad news," said Trout, coauthor with his business partner Al Ries of the book "Marketing Warfare."

The experts said Perot brings to the political stump the same skills that made him a legend at IBM, where he once took only a month to fill a sales quota for an entire year.

ROYAL PURPLE

Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12

Goodnow-Oct. 13

Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

We Take Tips

with Route 66 Band.

TIL THE COWS COME HOME

SEEDS OF CHANGE

Showing in the Union Gallery from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. these two exhibits are presented by UPC and the Art Department in recognition of Racial and Ethnic Harmony Week. Seeds of Change appears Mon. - Fri.

CHIEFS vs.

PITTSBURGH

Oct. 25 Don't miss your chance to see the Chiefs take on the Pittsburgh Steelers. Trip includes round-trip transportation and reserved tickets. K-State Union

SURVIVAL GAMES

Experience for yourself the thrill of devising team Oct. 8 Union Rm. 206 7 p.m.

to Milford Lake, through historic Ft Riley Spend the night, and enjoy all the take has to offer! Meals and a sag wagon to carry your gear will be provided. Sign up in the UPC office.

The month of October is AIDS Awareness Month. In recognition of this disease local and nationally recognized speakers will lecture in an effort to increase awareness about the effects of AIDS on the K-State campus and surrounding community. K-State Union
UPC Issues & Ideas

INFORMATION and SIGN-UP available at the UPC office, 3rd floor of K-State Union or call 532-6571.

ORGANIZATIONS

Writers read own, favorite poetry

A small crowd escaped Manhattan's first dose of fall weather at a poetry reading sponsored by Metaforum Wed-nesday night at the Dusty Book-shelf.

The atmosphere behind the foggy windows was warm and casual as participants read their own work as well as some of their favorite poems.

The content of the pieces took the audience through a spectrum of emotions. Taylor Mali, graduate student in English, brought laughter and applause with a poem mocking the way poets read.

Erin Smith, senior in English and senior adviser of Metaforum, read her poem about a friend with HIV, which left members of the audience silent and reflec-tive.

There were 16 readers throughout the evening. For some it was the first time reading their own poetry in front of an audience.

Jennifer Bame, sophomore in English, said this was the first time she had read her poems for this kind of audience.

"I was nervous at first. I think I could have read better," Bame said. "It was a relief though, to hear what other people my age are writing. It made me feel confident in my own writing. I'll read again at the next reading."

Bame's roommate, Lucinda Zimmerman, sophomore in social work, was there for moral support. Though she did not read, she said she enjoyed the readings.

"It's inspirational. It gets you in the poetry mindset. It inspires me to try writing my own poetry," Zimmerman said.

Metaforum is an undergraduate club open to all majors.

"Metaforum is an undergraduate alternative style writing club," said President Laura McGill, sophomore in English, "for people who enjoy alternative literature.

Adviser Elizabeth Dodd, assistant professor of English, said the club tries to sponsor one or two readings each semester.

Military presence threatens peace

Tension increases between Georgia, Abkhazia in conflict over town of Sukhumi ASSOCIATED PRESS

TBILISI, Georgia - The Georgian

intelligence chief accused Russia Wednesday of giving battle tanks to Abkhazian separatists in Georgia's Black Sea coastal region. The Russians have denied the

In an effort to stop their slide toward war, Russian President Boris Yeltsin and Georgian leader Eduard Shevardnadze talked by telephone

Wednesday, news agencies reported. Details were not released, but the ITAR-Tass news agency called the talk "sharp and principled."

The two leaders discussed holding a top-level meeting on resolving the conflict, Interfax reported, and they touched on Yeltsin's announcement Tuesday that Russian troops were taking control of the railway and a narrow strip of Abkhazian coastline.

The conflict, in which hundreds have died over the past few months, threatened to worsen as opposing forces concentrated around the Abkhazian capital of Sukhumi, a coastal resort town of 150,000.

It was captured by Georgian troops in August and is the northernmost Georgian stronghold in Abkhazia.

Georgian and Abkhazian officials both said the opposing side was preparing to assault Sukhumi within

Shevardnadze sanctioned Georgian military occupation of Abkhazia Aug. 13, allegedly to protect Abkhazia from attacks by supporters of ousted President Gamsakhurdia.

But the Abkhazians, Muslims who form an ethnic minority in their own region, said the Georgians Christians - intervened to block Abkhazia's quest for greater independence. Under Soviet rule, Abkhazia was an autonomous republic within Georgia with limited self-rule.

The tide of battle has been running against the Georgians over the last five days, as Abkhazian forces drove them from the sliver of coastline between Sukhumi and the Russian border, 50 miles to the north.

■ Georgian and Abkhazian officials both said the other side would assault Sukhumi within days.

UMass subject of investigation

School of physical education charged with wrongdoing ASSOCIATED PRESS

- A House BOSTON committee referred its investigation into wrongdoing at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst's School of Physical Education to the state attorney general Wednesday, citing potential criminal wrong-

Oversight Committee members refused to discuss details of the allegations or to say who is involved, saying they do not want to compromise any potential criminal investigation.

The probe involves several people and could go beyond the university, they said.

Thomas Hammond, who directs investigations for the committee, said the potential allegations could include many things, even potential tax problems.

Hammond's inquiry involved The House Post Audit and interviews with more than 70 people and an evaluation of more than 50,000 documents received in response to subpoenas and letters of request. But Hammond said the investigation ran into some stumbling blocks.

"There were a number of subpoenas that did not get responded to in the spirit of cooperation that they were issued," he

The difficulty in getting some people to comply with subpoenas combined with questions about the statute of limitations on some matters prompted Hammond to recommend that the committee turn over the inquiry to Attorney General Scott Harshbarger's office.

The alleged spending abuses in the university sports program have also been probed by university Provost Glen Gordon. Gordon failed to respond to requests for Legislators began their inquiry after football and other alumni, angered by the resignation of football coach Jim Reid in January, demanded an accounting of funds. Reid quit over cuts in his scholarship program.

Picture your ad here. (only bigger) Then call us.

COLLEGIAN

Display Advertising 532-6560

Live from-

Wichita

Under the Gun

Fri. & Sat. Night

Military plane crashes into house; 6-member crew dead

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. Milton Barnhart was sitting at his kitchen table Wednesday morning when an Air National Guard transport plane crashed into his house in a huge fireball, killing all six people on board.

Barnhart's house was destroyed, but he escaped serious injury, with only his hair singed.

Witnesses said one wing or engine on the four-engine plane. which was on a routine training flight, appeared to be on fire before

The turboprop C-130E was part of the 167th Tactical Airlift Group based at the Eastern West Virginia Regional Airport at Martinsburg, 20 miles east of Berkeley Springs in the state's Eastern Panhandle. The unit's 12 aircraft were used to ferry troops and supplies during the Persian Gulf War.

Air National Guard Maj. Edward Dockeney Jr. said an Air Force investigation board will convene to determine the cause of the crash. He would not discuss possible causes.

A flight data recorder was

Great

recovered from the wreckage, said Brig. Gen. Jack Koch, assistant to the Air Guard's adjutant general. He said the aircraft had been in flight less than an hour.

Barnhart, 77, a retired railroad worker who lives alone, said the plane slammed into his two-story, frame farmhouse outside Berkeley Springs about 9:30 a.m.

"I ran out and got out of there," he said. "It was a fire inside and outside. It took the whole roof off the house and half of the first floor. The whole porch was on fire. The yard was on fire."

urple

Portraits

taken for...

99€ Margaritas 50¢ Draws 99€ Tacos

Candlewood Shopping Center

Open daily for lunch at 11 a.m

Grille & Saloon Hog Roast Sat. 6-9 $6.50 all you can eat

2315 Tuttle Creek 539-KICK

XPRE55 1116 Moro 537-0886

11 a.m.-1 a.m. 7 days a week

inis coupon good for Pepper Steak $3.75

Dine-in & carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries.

FREE DELIVERY MENU (Minimum order $9) Expires 10/15/92

Cupid's Wedding Rental & Sales

Come in and see our collection of wedding accessories. We're sure you'll like our quality, elegance and low prices. Cupid's has the largest selection of accessories available anywhere, featuring bridal garters, ring bearer pillows, toasting glasses. We also carry cake tops, prom dresses, bridal gowns, tuxedos and much more. Come visit us today!

Hours: 11a.m.-6p.m. (closed Thurs. & Sun.) 1014 W. 6th, Junction City 1-762-7788

Friday, Oct. 16 9 a.m.-9 p.m. 1323 Anderson

Cuts $12 (reg. $25)

All Proceeds Go To Big Lakes Developmental Center

Volunteer Help Provided By: ΚΔ, ΠΒΦ, ΧΟ, ΣΦΕ, ΣΣΣ and 🛆

Aggieville • 776-4455

************

COMPUTERS

- COMPUTERS FOR STUDENTS
- * STUDENT PRICES
- * STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE
- * PROFESSIONAL SERVICE
- * 1-800 SUPPORT SERVICE * 1 YEAR WARRANTY
- CALL CHRIS CORNETT AT 776-4220 AFTER 3:00

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

776-5577

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

1800 Claffin Rd. FirstBank Center

776-5577

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

Minority numbers growing at K-State

"I think it's an ongoing problem. We're making progress, but we're not where we want to be yet."

> MORDEAN TAYLOR-ARCHER

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

together on a report on minority student issues and goals for the future.
"It was established specifically to be a pro-active group, to take a snap shot of the University community and to regain faculty and students of color," Bosco said.

"The group specializes in the retention of students. The task force also gave an impressive list of recommendations, many of which have been implemented."

The report was finished in 1989 and contained 26 recommendations to help the University become aware of problems in minority retention.

Bosco said response to the report's requests has been good.

Some requests that have been honored include creating the position of assistant provost for multicultural affairs, office space for multicultural groups, a student center for multicultural students and a change in the way financial aid is packaged for minority students.

Susan Scott, associate dean of student life and co-chairwoman of the other said force, recommendations are still being considered.

'Some of the requests were not able to be looked at immediately. Some are an on-going process, and others were modified and implemented in a different way," Scott said.

In the report issued by the task force, a written survey was sent to 250 randomly selected students, and 36 percent responded. The group also interviewed 105 minority students about the environment at K-State. The report showed black students were less positive on many issues investigated. According to the report, 60 percent of the students questioned said they faced more difficulties than other students in meeting their social and cultural needs

Only 34 percent of the sample listed K-State as their first choice in

The satisfaction rating of K-State programs and service ranged from 52 percent to 100 percent.

The lowest ratings were for student financial assistance, residence halls, greek affairs and Universitysponsored social activities.

And only 19 percent said they would "definitely" select K-State if they were to start college again, while 38 percent would "probably" select it. The general analysis of the task force's data on academic performances was that graduation rates of most minority groups were significantly lower than those of the majority group.

The study also found that after two semesters, 47 percent of the minority groups ended the year in academic difficulty — a 2.0 GPA or below. And 50 percent of black students did not return for their sophomore year.

Mordean Taylor-Archer, assistant provost for multicultural affairs, said K-State still has a long way to go.

"I think it's an ongoing problem," Taylor-Archer said. "We're making progress, but we're not where we want to be yet."

Taylor-Archer said it was hard to say whether the study would produce a much more positive outcome if done today, but the only way to find out how students feel is to ask them.

"There are so many individual students," Taylor-Archer said.

"It's hard to 'guesstimate.' I'd like to think that many of our multicultural students are not thinking this is their University, but that they are thinking this is our University.'

Car driver, school bus passenger injured

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The witness said he was waiting at the median, ready to cross into the eastbound lane.

John Maberry, school district director of transportation, said 51 students were aboard the bus, but only one was injured.

A female student was taken to Memorial Hospital for examination for a head injury.

Maberry said she was sitting in one of the middle rows and hit her head on a window

Colvin, who was the only passenger in her vehicle, was also taken to Memorial Hospital.

Bush negotiates trade zone

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

from Texas alone totaled $47 billion last year with $15 billion of that amount going to Mexico.

Salinas told the crowd that "we can all win with this agreement" while Mulroney called free trade

"the pathway to prosperity."

As leaders of the three nations looked on, their trade ministers initialed the completed text in what was largely a symbolic ceremony.

Under U.S. law, Bush cannot actually sign the agreement before

Critics said there was not a similar initialing ceremony when the United States negotiated an agreement with Canada in 1988.

Calling the event pure political theater, Sen. Max Baucus, D-Mont., a key congressional critic of the accord, said, "If the Bush administration spent as much time and energy negotiating the NAFTA as it spends holding campaign trade zone, covering 360 million events built around it, we would have a far better NAFTA."

If approved by lawmakers in all three countries, the trade agreement is scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 1, 1994, beginning a process of removing all tariffs and other barriers to trade, services and investment between the three countries over a 15-year period. The pact is designed to create the world's largest and richest free people.

American labor unions and many environmentalists strongly oppose the pact, charging that it will cost up to a half-million American jobs as more companies move their operations to Mexico to take advantage of low wages and lax enforcement of environmental laws.

"This is a very positive issue for us and the president," said Bush campaign spokeswoman Torie

Kedzie Hall 103 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday

ESSENTIALS

Happy together, but feeling like an 'old married couple'

I have a question that I was hoping you might be able to shed some light on. Where is a nice, quiet girl supposed to meet a nice guy?

I have lived in Manhattan for a number of years and still find it difficult to meet people. I agreed with a lot of what Liconus (Sept. 29) said, but it is just as difficult for nice girls to

I know there are nice guys out there, with those good, down-home values. I just don't know how (or where) to meet them. Any ideas? J.C., K-State student

First, you need to be active. Get involved with the many clubs and organizations at K-

State and in the community. Second, if you stop and think about it, we unconsciously ignore more than 90 percent of the opportunities we have each day to meet or introduce ourselves to someone new.

It is natural to shy away from people, and it probably comes even more natural to a "quiet" girl such as yourself. Look for opportunities and Third, don't limit your search to Manhattan, Kan. Get out and travel a little.

And finally, don't go fishing for trout in the toilet bowl. If you are looking for a "downhome" guy, then maybe "down home" is where you ought to be looking.

DEAR CASSANDRA.

My husband and I have been happily married for almost three years now.

We are in our late 20s and are full-time K-State students. We enjoy each other's company and have always spent most of our free time

We are deeply committed to each other and to our marriage. My concern is that we are having sex less than we used to.

We have always enjoyed sex together and or energy much anymore.

Is this normal for married students? Should we be concerned about this, or should we chalk it up to what happens when both partners are in

K., K-State student

There is such a wide range of sexual activity among humans that it is difficult - no, dangerous - to say what is and is not "normal."

However, if you will allow me to use the term loosely, it is indeed "normal" for most marriages, and even more so for married students or similarly active people, to experience a somewhat less active sex life.

Although your husband is still young, he will eventually, with age, experience a decreased sex drive due to a normal and gradual lowering of your sex drive increase with age as your estrogen level decreases and testosterone level increases.

You, on the other hand, will probably see

Barring any physiological problem with either of you, my advice would be to relax and settle yourself in to a long and happy sex life.

As long as you both are satisfied with the current frequency of sex, then I would not worry. I have said it before - think "quality," not "quantity."

CONFIDENTIAL TO A CONCERNED FRIEND:

I need more information to verify your story. If you want my cooperation, and if you really want to help set things straight, then I need proof that what you say is true.

Leave me your name and phone number in a sealed envelope. All information will be kept confidential.

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest

The advice presented in this column is solely the inion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State...

EUGENE SHEFFER

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

OH, NOTHING. I WAS JUST THINKING, MAYBE, IF YOU HAD THE TIME, YOU AND I COULD DO A FATHER-SON KIND OF PROJECT. YOU KNOW, JUST THE TWO OF US.

part 9 Glad-Buddies' stone, e.g. 12 Met 43 Church chief 47 Lennon's melody 13 Therefore 48 It'll let 14 Grape 15 Hunting you down dog 17 Sauce easy 51 Flightless source 18 Market 52 Noah's place 19 Dussel dorf's rive Logo:

54 On

24 A big fish story? 27 Clampet patriarch 28 One of a daily trio 31 "Born in 32 I strain?

22 Senior

33 Hot tub 34 Quarterpint 36 Listening device? 37 Previously owned What some people play for

Cesar 4 Gold units

6 Sports caster Cross 7 Get on in years 8 Truck, on 9 Line of enger list award pension: abbr. Marvin 55 Evergreens 56 Job

Solution time: 22 mins.

hear me 1 Fishhook

od for your brai KANSAS STATE

CROSSWORD

feature 2 Carpet-installer's concern 3 Hotelier

5 Moose's cousin

> 10 Shake 11 Singer

39 Vacant 40 Singer Davis woman,

42 "This Time the Dream's 43 Bridge

boose

wheel-drive vehicle 29 Mimic

30 Young

35 Zodiac

fellow

27 Four-

22 "Prima 23 Skunk's protection 24 Cala-25 -- was saying, 26 Leaves 37 Conclu-PED? For answers to today's crossword, call 1-900-454-6873 | 99¢ per minute, touch-41 Afrikane phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC. CRYPTOQUIP

GBSHUUXKG' D HEP ATPXK D KTTYXQ

GSHPX ESPIUDIYXU Yesterday's Cryptoquip: ASSETS OF MY CLIP-MAKING FACTORY LOOKED GOOD ON PAPER.

Today's Cryptoquip clue: S equals U

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word 2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25

each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25 each word over 20 - $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8 each word over 20 - $.35 per word 5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.50

each word over 20 - $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

classifieds must be paid in adva. as you have an established accordingly. nt Publications. eck, MasterCard or Visa are There is a $10 service charge

EADLINES For an extra charge, we'll put a eadline above your ad to catch the parker's attention.

FREE FOUND ADS

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classifed display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your a

DEADLINES

CANCELLATIONS

If you sell your item before your ad has expired, we will refund you for the maining days.
You must call us before noon the day.

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

KEDZIE HALL ROOM 103 PARKING

GET THE WORD O

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

OR WRITE 532-6555

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS K-State Collegian Kedzie Hall 103 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

OFFICE HOURS 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays)

K-STATE UNION

BULLETIN BOARD

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981. You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of nancia aid from sources es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

IF ANYONE witnessed an accident involving a car and a pedestrian on May 13, 1992 at ap-the intersection of Manan and Lovers Lane. PLEASE contact Lisa at

MEN SEXUALLY Abused As Boys; A series of four presentations sponsored by University Counseling Services. The series will examine the physical and emotional impact of sexual abuse on men, and identify factors in-volved in adult recovery. Open to men and women. Meets Tues. evenings, 6:30-7:30p.m. beginning Oct. 20, Lafene 231.

WE SENT a reminder card Did you forget? Pick your 1992 Royal Purple today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an appoint-

KSU Ambassador Applications

are available at the Alumni Assn., 2323 Anderson Ave., 4th Floor (Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.) Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23

020 Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

$100 REWARD-- Please keep looking, lost white cat. Last seen 927 Can-dlewood Drive and Kim-ble Avenue. 537-0537 days; 539-3644 even-ing.

FOUND- KEY, possibly computer, between Thompson and McCain. Call 532-6296.

FOUND BALL Python at Kimball and College Ave. four feet long call Kelli at 539-5741

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

MARCIA- WHERE was it we met again? Hey, Happy B-Day!! We'll look for ya' at 'Horns tonight! Howdy. MEAT- HAPPY TI double GER birthday! You made the calendar, so don't jump off a cliff! Love Nay and Kelly.

Kedzie 116 532-655

LOOKING FOR a fun new involved with at K-State? Join KSU Student Foundation Asso-ciation! Informational meeting Sunday, October 11, 8:00p.m. on the third floor of the KSU Foundation Building, 2323 Anderson kside). Call 532 7570 for more infor

HOUSING/ REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two bedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices 537-2919, 537-1666. TWO- BEDROOM apartment located at 412 N 11th St. $350. Most utilities paid. No pets. 539-4374.

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, bedrooms. Apartme complexes and houses with great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

LARGE BEDROOM in a three-bedroom apart-ment complex. For a serious male student phone 537-7087, $185.

NICE STUDIO apartment, 1019 Houston. Near City Park. Utilities paid, except water. $295, 1-800-593-0519. Open this Saturday.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395 includes water, trash and pest control. Call for appointment 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central air and heat, laundry facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed-room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087. TWO-BEDROOM $300 per

DIRECTORY month, landlord pays heat, 776-8628. 210 Typing

TWO ROOMS available in town home for now or next semester. Very Call 539-6684.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes Quiet surroundings for serious students. Camserious students. pus one mile. Nine

FEMALE NEEDED to share Nov. 1, 537-2334.

one-half blocks from campus. $125 plus utilities 776-3815.

ed for furnished trailer. Full- sized bedroom. $175/ month. 776-5362.

mate(s) three blocks from campus, trash/ water paid, garage available, laundry facili-ties, reasonable. 315 Denison 776-2100

ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large twobedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more information 776-3804.

150°ublease

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM with option for one year lease beginning Jan. Water and trash paid. 539–3238.

ties. January- August.

two-bedroom apart-ment. $195 a month rent plus half utilities and deposit. Available December 1. For in-formation call 776-5608.

SERVICE

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539-5998 after $1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in ta-bles, equations, and overheads. Profes sional results guar-anteed. Please call Sandy 539-3229.

A B C typing service. You do studying let me do the typing. Reports, charts graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary

Go ahead, give me a call, 537-9480 after

CONVENIENT

PREGNANCY

TESTING

Lafene Health

Center

Women's Clinic

532-6554

Pregnancy Testing

by Professionals

No Appointment

-Confidential

Necessary

-Professional

Counseling

on all options

-Birth Control

and Education

Pregnancy

Testing Center

539-3338

·Same day results

Anderson Village

Mon.-Fri.

9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Counseling

Available

ask

for

month lease available No pets. 539-4087.

room in two-bedroom apartment. $180 deposit and rent. All bills and cable included. Great

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share four-bed-room house two and

MALE ROOMMATE want-

ONE OR two male room-duplex $260/ month. Sublease Nov.- Dec.

QUIET, CLEAN, large two-bedroom/ one bath apartment, central air, $425/ month plus utili-

WANTED FEMALE to sub-lease one bedroom of

FOR SALE Washburn Flattop six-string, Ovation 12, 532-5145.

BULLETIN

BOARD

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex-perienced teacher. All styles 776-0685.

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair

Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhat spaced. Please.call n, Kansas. 537-5049 Melia 776-1534. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday. UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 double; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

CAN YOU MANAGE ON AN EXTRA

$2,500? Practical experience for Business/Marketing Majors: Manage credit card promotions on campus for a National Marketing Firm. Hours flexible. Earn up $2,500/term.

CALL 1-800-950-8472,

Ext. 17

$$$$, FREE travel and resume experience!! In-dividuals and student organizations wanted to promote Spring Break, call the nation's leader. Inter-Campus

Programs 1-800-327-6013. MAILROOM/ DUPLICAT ING Center work study student needed. Duties include: campus deliv ery route, preparation and handling of mail and operation of duplicating equipment. Some heavy lifting is required. Must have a valid driver's license. Apply to Rob Nixon, Duplicating Center, 13 College Court Bldg., 532-5988 NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer

SERVICE

DIRECT-

ORY

great families, experience, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NEED CLEANING lady for three-bedroom house every two weeks. $36/ month. 537-8543

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of/race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability.

PART-TIME LABORER for between 8:30-11:30a.m. Mon.- Fri. 539-6640.

hours per week. Previous experience pre-ferred. Computer ferred. Computer knowledge helpful. Must be dependable and have an eye for detail. Bring resume to Aggie Ski and Sport 1214 Moro.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employ-ment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such em-ployment opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE fferson, Topeka, KS 5607-1190.

(913)232-0454 $200- $500 weekly. Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling. You're paid di-rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-- 24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900.

Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial 3252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4-6 hours. Choose 'from 18 designs. Smaller/ larger quantities available. For more information call 1900, 173, 2365

(800) 733-3265. 40 PEOPLE to lose weight and make money. 100 percent money back guaran-tee. 539-1252.

INTERNATIONAL PLOYMENT- Make money teaching Eng-lish abroad. Japan and Taiwan. Make $2,000 $4,000+ per month Many provide room and board plus other benefits! Financially and culturally reward ingl For Internationa Employment program and application, call the International Employ-ment Group: (206) 632-1146 extension J5768.

MAKE $1000 stuffing envelopes. Send self addressed stamped envelope to J. C. Inc., P.O. Box 864, Manhattan, KS 66502-0008.

532-7309

NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now! No will power needed brand new, just patent ed 100 percent natural 100 percent governmented. Doctor recommended. 1-(800)874-7697. OVERSEAS JOBS, $900 2000 month Summer year round, All Counformation. Write IJC PO Box 52-KS02 C na Del Mar, CA 92625

OPEN

MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

local home builder. Some construction ex-perience preferred. Call

SCREEN PRINTER 30- 40

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776-7472.

> $330, now $180, or best offer. Call 537-0382, leave message. COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten percent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Broth-er AX. Hull Business

ALMOST NEW diamond

Supplies, 715 N. 12, Ag-gieville, 539-1413. LEATHER: JACKETS, portfolios, fanny packs, car ry-ons, purses, skirts and dresses. Limited quantities. Clearance prices. Call 776-0477.

MILITARY LC-1 medium backpacks with frames good to excellent con-dition, $40. 539-3947, ask for Mike. 415 Furniture to

BIG THREE foot by fiv

Six drawers with one file drawer. Reason-able! Call Jon 776-3829. MUST SELL this week: Queenbed (mattress and boxsprings) file cabinet, table, lamp, desk. 537-1890.

foot metal office desk

510

1976 GRAND Prix, auto power/ tilt steering Runs good. $500 or best offer. 539-5794, leave message.

1978 CHEVETTE 87,000 miles reliable transpor-tation, 30 miles per gal-lon. $700 or best offer evenings 532–3041. 1979 CAMARO, V-8, power steering. New brakes, new exhaust system, new carpet, no rust $1500 or best offer. 776-8701.

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8, stereo, tinted windows, navy blue, power ster-ring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch. 1981 HONDA Accord four door Sedan. Runs good, air condition, automatic, $700. Call Tom, 539-8897. Please leave message.

1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes $100, 1965 Mustang

1. Call 911

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized

$50. Choose from thousands starting $25. information Free 24 hour hotline (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC. FOR SALE 1987 Dodge Charger, five-speed, AM/FM cassette, air condition, $3600, 58K 776-0774.

1991 FISHER AL-1, rarely

WHITE CANNONDALE SR400. Ex-

1982 YAMAHA 650 Maxim

15,000 miles, $650

Also, compact discs $7 and under. Call Kevin at 776-1651.

Hurricane, 6800 miles. Excellent condition,

Both run, $75 each, 776-3757, ask for Larry.

1982, 18K, very good condition, many extras.

1988 RED/ Honda CBR 600

SUZUKI DIRTBIKES- 1972 TS400, 1972 TM250.

YAMAHA MAXIM- 650

$900 776-7432.

1-273-3313.

530

cellent condition. $400. Price negotiable. 539-7982.

ridden. 537-2085.

SOUTH OF THE

sound, speech. $40 each, 776-3708. QUALITY PRINTER, Epson 520 LX-810 new. Comes with cable adapter. For more information call 55 GALLON, oceanic stand lights, hood, UG, powerheads, trickle, back side filter. And other supplies. 776-7388.

435 Computers

IBM ROLE Playing Games for sale. Ultima Underworld, Might and Magic Clouds of Xeen. VGA

BEAGLE- AKC registered, six months old, shots, supplies. Best offer. Ask for Matt 539-1163. BALL PYTHON for sale, two feet long, $110, or best offer. Includes: Aquar-ium, rocks for bottom, and lid. Call 532-2830 ask for Aaron. TWO KITTENS- free to good home(s), already have first shots and de-

can leave message

KENWOOD, KGC-4030 car stereo equalizer/ ampli-fier. 7- band graphic equalizer with built- in amplifier, 40- watts per channel. Good condi tion and works perfectly. Must sell! $100, price negotiable. Call 776-4950 and ask for

610 Tour Package TRANS-

PORTATION

TRIPS

NDON, PARIS, Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5. Room for a few more. LONDON,

Contact Diane Dollar 532-6605 or 539-8401 SAN JUAN Students **Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to

2. Then call us

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY 600 400 000 100 300 200 500

EMPLOY-

CAREERS

MENT/

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD Always put what item or service you

HOUSING

REAL

ESTATE

are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. ·Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in their price range.

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads

CATEGORIES

OPEN

MARKET

have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

WE DO NOT

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

TRANS-

PORTATION

Sky jump

Mindi Gibbs, sophomore in exercise science, does a toe-touch during Pridettes rehearsal Tuesday at Memorial Stadium. The drill team practices in the stadium regularly.

Kansas has one last chance for park

"I hope the House will stop making this bill a last-minute grab bag."

BOB DOLE

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - A compromise in the Senate has created one last chance for Congress this year to establish a new national park site in Kansas honoring the Supreme Court's Brown v. Board of Education ruling.

The Senate, on a voice vote Wednesday night, passed legislation to create the park site in Topeka.

The measure also contained an unrelated provision to rename a park site in Florida from the Jefferson National Monument to the Dry Tortugas National Park.

The compromise bill was negotiated by Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole in an attempt to save the Brown school proposal.

The Senate vote forwarded the

These

Switzer said.

graduation rates.

legislation to the House, where Kansas lawmakers hope it can be passed later today and sent to President Bush for his signature.

The House is scheduled to meet in "pro forma" session, which would allow passage of noncontroversial legislation on a voice vote if there are no objections.

The Senate passed a stripped-down version of legislation the House endorsed earlier this week.

The new Senate bill dropped three provisions that were unrelated to the Brown school proposal. These provisions had been added to the legislation by the House earlier this provisions generally provided for National Park Service studies of sites in Massachusetts, Virginia and West Virginia.

I hope the House will stop making this bill a last-minute grab bag. I urge my colleagues not to let this historic opportunity pass," Dole said in a statement after the Senate vote.

Dole was forced to negotiate a compromise after the House-added provisions drew objections in the

The Brown legislation, which was sponsored by Kansans in the House and Senate, would designate Monroe Elementary School in Topeka as a national historic site to tell the story of the 1954 court decision that struck down racial segregation in public

Under the measure, the Park Service would buy the school, which is now closed, and operate it as a tourist attraction to interpret the national significance of the Brown

Monroe was an all-black school in Topeka's segregated school system and is one of two elementary schools in the city associated with the Kansas lawsuit that led to the Supreme Court's desegregation decision.

The Senate initially passed the Brown school measure last weekend and sent it to the House.

The House approved the Senatepassed bill Tuesday after adding the other Park Service measures.

The House has wrapped up for the year, and most members have returned to their districts, although formal adjournment of Congress won't occur until the Senate finishes its business.

politician who ran for president this opportunity," Alexander said.

"I've been looking forward to "Let me say right up front that one of the major reasons is because work with Nancy Landon against Franklin Roosevelt.

Kassebaum

Senate to discuss Madness shuttle

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3 comment.

In other business, ICAT representative Phil Diller, senior in human resource management, will address Senate during open period Thursday night. Diller said he will be asking senators for their support in sponsoring a bus that will shuttle students from Aggieville to Bramlage Coliseum Oct. 31 for Midnight Madness.

Larry "Bud" Melman from "Late Night with David Letterman" will appear at Midnight Madness, Diller said. The event is being sponsored by ICAT.

Melman is scheduled to appear at 8 p.m. at Kite's Bar & Grille for dinner and pictures with the crowd, Diller said. He will also introduce the basketball team at Bramlage.

Diller said there will be three buses. One will be sponsored by Rep. Kent Glasscock, R-Kan., who is currently running for re-election.

If Senate approves funding for the second bus, a third bus may be considered, Diller said. The shuttle buses will begin leaving for Bramlage at 9:30 p.m.,

Diller said. Student Body President Jackie McClaskey said she doesn't think it is beyond the rights of Senate to fund the project out of special activity fees. The purpose of sponsoring a bus is to cut down on drunk driving, not to show support of drinking. McClaskey said.

"I can see Senate members doing it right out of their own pockets," she said. "I will support Senate's sponsoring a bus, whether personally or through Senate funding."

In other Senate business, guests from the theater and music departments will appear before Senate during open period to perform a few numbers from their production of "The Best Little Whore House in Texas. Senate Faculty Rep. Phil

Anderson said the performance is to advertise the upcoming musical, to show Senate how the money is being spent and to raffle tickets to Senate members.

"The Best Little Whore House in Texas" will run at 8 p.m. Oct. 15, 16 and 17 in McCain Auditorium.

Senate will also hear from representatives from the speech pathology and audiology department during open period.

Thursday night's meeting will be the start of first readings for the 1993 fiscal year final allocations of the student activity fee, allocation to legal services for students, and a special allocation to SGA for computer links.

Education system needs reform, secretary says CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 inadequately addressed the problem local levels, freeing schools of the be difficult to implement in the her father, Alf Landon, a Kansas

Alexander said. "It will also give the schools new federal dollars to help make those changes.'

A few members of the audience questioned the goals of America 2000, saying they sounded lofty. One woman said she thought they

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3

Switzer said, "and little or nothing better intellectual development at universities," he said, "students tend to feel ignored by their peers, and they don't feel a warm invitation to participate in campus and eventually lose connection with the campus and resign themselves

'They feel ignored by teachers

Switzer said these experiences cause despair, frustration and isolation that detract from learning.

predominantly black universities.

He said black students show

'In predominantly white is being done about it."

to an all-black corner.'

goings-on expressed concern over the tendency to teach to "middle-of-therange" students.

Alexander's advice was to get involved at the local level, to run for the school board.

He suggested most problems should be solved at the state and Switzer's focus diversity conditions

"At least half of the minority

"I hope the diversity overlay

He said implementing such a requirement will depend on student support.

"You have to be willing to stand up and be counted, to stand up for what you believe is right, in order

There is institutional racism at K-State against both faculty and to bring about change," he said.

students who leave K-State are in good academic standing, which requirement comes to fruition, because we desperately need that.'

means they left for other reasons.

schools and improve them," of incompetent teachers. Another federal "recipe book," or set of schools.

Wendy Devault, senior in secondary education, attended the

"I was disappointed, but I don't know if it was the lecture or America 2000," she said. "It seems like a lot of rhetoric and like it will

There are double standards in hiring faculty, because a black candidate must have a doctorate and be qualified, whereas a white candidate can get in on the "good ol' boy" system and gain qualifications on the job, he said.

we've got a long way to go."

Switzer said. "It's going to take a lot more work, and we should be

'We've come a long way, but students, Switzer said.

gearing up for that."

He should work with the state and local levels. Instead, he seemed rather dismissive of the questions presented today.'

Alexander was encouraged to come to the Landon Lecture by Sen. Nancy Kassebaum.

The lecture series is named for

Books & Copies

So many books ... so little time!

Open every day

1814 Claflin (corner Denison & Claflin) 776-3771

Kansas Sunflower literary T-Shirts

Full Service Copy Center

Great Memories Start

Tau Kappa Epsilon Oct. 8

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

Today- 50¢ Tacos & $1.49 18 oz Margarita Fishbowls Friday- 10" 24 oz. Cheeseburgers (serves four) with fries for $6.49& $1 Beers Saturday - Steak & Shrimp for $4.89 & $1 Budweiser Fishbowls

5th Year Birthday Give-A-Ways T-shirts · Hats · Beer Memorabilia Sweatshirts . Mugs Drawings & Giveaways Every Night at 8:00

Featuring: The Brewery Peps From Miller Lite - Wed. · Coors - Thurs. O'Milwaukee - Fri. · Budweiser - Sat

GRAND PRIZE DRAWING Kansas City Weekend For Two At The Embassy Suites Plus $50 Spending Money

103 N. 3rd·MANHATTAN

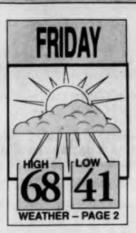

LAFENE HEALTH CENTER would like to congratulate Sheila Lyons Brigitta Bruehl

Cliff Conners Ann Decker Sarah Robinson Amy Vaughan CARNIVAL OF HEALTH Drawing Winners

Thanks to everyone who participated.

KANSAS STATE I.F.G.IA

OCTOBER 9, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 34

Blurry cold A passerby walks in the rain along the light posts north of Anderson Hall Thursday morning. Though the official low was 35 degrees, a few snow flurries dusted the area early in the morning, and the high reached only 44.

Former student

kills self

Former K-State student Patricia Shippy died Tuesday of an apparent self-inflicted gunshot wound at her home in Woodbine. Shippy was 19.

Born April 5, 1973, Shippy was a 1991 graduate of Hope High School in Hope, Kan. She attended K-State from the fall of 1991 until last September as a freshman in horticulture. She lived in the Clovia 4-H House last fall.

"Patricia was a very sweet, very beautiful person who loved children and helping other people," said Shippy's friend Jamie Musselman, sophomore in horticulture and Clovia member.

Shippy played volleyball and basketball in high school and was a cheerleader. Her other high school activities included girls' choir, Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America.

She was a member of Methodist Youth Fellowship at the Woodbine Methodist Church, a

■ See SERVICES Page14

Students missed meetings

■ Two student representatives to the Arts and Sciences College Core Committee said they did not attend meetings this summer because they did not know about them.

While decisions within the College of Arts and Sciences were being made this summer, two student representatives were not present at many of the meetings.

Robert Rawlings, arts and sciences senator, volunteered, and Heather Riley, arts and sciences senator, was asked to represent the college on the College Core Committee.

This group eventually made the controversial recommendations to cut the programs of social work, and speech pathology and audiology.

However, the students only attended a few meetings in May

"I attended three meetings in May," Riley said. "The only meetings I was aware of were those scheduled through June. I had no idea of when the other meetings were taking place until September. I never knew about the meetings which took place after Aug. 19.

"Even if I would have found out and attended those meetings, it would have been too late to help make an educated decision, because so much had happened," Riley said.

Rawlings also said he had not been

"I attended a few meetings in May, but I couldn't attend some of the meetings, because I had work and had other things to do," Rawlings said. "I was not contacted about later meetings.

I did not receive any phone calls for the Core

Riley and Rawlings said they thought there was miscommunication between them and committee chairman George Keiser.

"I sent a notice of the June meetings in May to all the members of the Core Committee, Keiser said. "Riley and Rawlings would show up every now and then."

Keiser said that during July he was away, but nothing of much importance was discussed. However, he said that when he came back, he tried notifying Rawlings and Riley a number of

"I talked to Riley once, and she told me she would notify Rawlings," Keiser said. "After this, I never heard from either one of them.'

He said he tried to call Riley and left messages for her.

"However, the only time I heard from her was through a message left on my answering machine in which she said she would not be able to attend a meeting because of work,"

Keiser said. Though he left message for Rawlings, Keiser said, he never heard from him.

The Core Committee had more than 100 meetings during the summer. There were five to six meetings each week in August, and each meeting was about three to four hours long.

■ See SENATORS Page 14

Impeachment effort fails

MATTHEW CUNNINGHAM

Student Senate failed to pass an impeachment bill Thursday night.

By calling special order, Student Senate brought the bill to impeach Jerry Busselman, veterinary medicine senator, up for a final vote last night.

This call for special order was done so he could be present for his defense, because the vet-med students do not have classes

Senate considered Busselman's impeachment because he had four unexcused absences from Senate meetings.

The debate was whether Busselman was fulfilling his obligations to Senate, as well his obligations to his constituents in the College of Veterinary Medicine.

"When you break the rules, you break the rules," Grant Janke, business senator,

■ See SENATE Page 12

NEWS DIGEST

▶ 102nd CONGRESS FINALLY ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON (AP) - The contentious 102nd Congress wrapped up Thursday, sending President Bush a $27-billion tax bill with urban aid and expanded Individual Retirement Accounts, and setting up a likely preelection veto.

The Senate also gave final approval to a wide-ranging energy bill and a separate measure to impose federal penalties for carjackings.

The tax bill cleared the Senate on a vote of 67-22, after passing the House on Tuesday, 208-202. Fina adjournment is scheduled for Friday.

KANSAS CITY KILLER BERDELLA DIES

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) -- Bob Berdella, who was serving a life sentence without parole for the murders of six young men in Kansas City, died Thursday. He was 43.

Berdella died of a heart attack in Still Regional Medical Center, said Gail Hughes, deputy director of the Missouri Department of Corrections. He had been at the Jefferson City Correctional Center. Berdella pleaded guilty in 1988 to torturing and murdering six men and dismembering their remains.

Yeltsin shuts out Gorbachev

Former Soviet president says he's treated like spy ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mikhail MOSCOW Gorbachev, who once led a superpower, was locked out of his own office Thursday and reduced to standing on the steps outside, shaking his fists in anger and frustration.

He accused President Boris Yeltsin of treating him like a spy and evicting him, out of political spite, from the offices of the Gorbachev Fund, his think tank.

When he ran the Soviet Union as the Communist Party's general secretary, Gorbachev once fired Yeltsin as Moscow party boss.

Since the former Soviet Union collapsed and Yeltsin became president of Russia, Gorbachev has been humbled by a series of blows.

Yeltsin has stripped Gorbachev of his luxury apartment, his limousine and his black Sea Dacha, and his passport has been lifted.

Wednesday, Yeltsin ordered all property of the Gorbachev Fund taken over by a new government academy that will train specialists in banking and finance.

"He has sealed off the building and locked out its employees in a country that the leaders say is democratic," Gorbachev said as he stood in front of a police cordon, shaking his fists in the air.

He called the eviction pressure to make sure he knows his place.

The loss of the think-tank offices was the latest development in an increasingly personal feud that has humiliated the former leader, who presided over the breakup of the Soviet empire and quit when the country collapsed last December.

The two men began butting heads in 1987, when Gorbachev bounced Yeltsin from his job as Moscow party boss. In 1988, Yeltsin was removed from the Communist Party's ruling Politburo for criticizing the pace of reform.

■ See GORBACHEV Page 12

Gearing up for 'The Game'

Fans on both sides psyched for state football showdown

MEGANNE MOORE

Collegian Road trippin' to KU.

K-Staters are packing the roads to Lawrence this weekend for the most exciting football game in a long

K-State vs. KU. The rivalry is alive this year. K-State even had Sports Illustrated talking. With record attendance at K-State's last three games, students are trekking to the Hawks' Memorial Stadium, where a sellout is predicted before Saturday. Tickets for the game are $20 a piece, a price which has prompted many K-Staters and KU students alike to take to the infamous Campanile Hill in the southeast corner of Memorial Stadium. 'We're caravaning up with about three or four other cars and sitting on the Hill, because that's where the action is," said Parker Fairbanks, senior in environmental geography There will be about 2,000 extra seats set up in the stadium. Bleachers will also be set up at the bottom of the Hill because of limited sight distance for the

Since the game will be attended by many fans not from Lawrence, many people may not be aware of the changes in the alcohol and cereal malt beverage laws.

As of last year, it is illegal to have an open container or to consume either alcoholic liquor or cereal malt beverages (3.2 beer) on university property.

"Since the Hill is closed to drinking, everyone went to bars and drank, but this game is in the early afternoon, so we usually go to a house and drink, said Kirk Burns, KU senior in communications.

KMKF-FM 101.5 sponsored a $25 game package that included a ticket to the game (worth $20), a caravan to Lawrence, a free T-shirt, free lunch in Lawrence and a shuttle to and from the game.

'We got tickets to the game early, so we won't have to sit on the Hill, which is good just in case the weather is bad," said Kristi Walczak, junior in

"We sit in these secret seats in the student section that no one knows about. It's a great view of the field," said Jeff Hamilton, KU senior in economics.

After the K-State victory, where will the students "Well, I guess I'll go home and cry, but that won't happen," Hamilton said. "We're pre-partying as soon as we wake up that morning. And after K-State wins, I'm going to let my KU friends have it, since they used to beat us in basketball," said Frank Weeks, junior in geography. "I got complementary tickets to the game," said Ramin Cherafat, sophomore in construction science. "We'll pre-party with a lot of beer and either party in Lawrence that night, or come back to Manhattan, because it'd be more fun to party here."

Former K-Stater Katy Olson, KU junior in pre-pharmacy, said she is rooting for both sides

"A lot of my friends are football players, and I want them to do well. But, I really want K-State to

PREPARING FOR THE GAME

▶ K-State vs. Kansas 1 p.m. Memorial Stadium Lawrence

PAGES 6 AND 7

Looking forward to Saturday's game.

A comparison of the two

COMMENTS

"We don't have the 'whites' and 'colored' signs in restrooms. Today it is more subtle.

Manning Marable, University of Colorado professor, on racism in today's society during Monday night's keynote address for Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week.

"No matter how thick you try to make your skin, it's a hurtful thing."

Donna Davis, director of the International Student Center, on the destructiveness of stereotypes.

"Whenever the topic of gays comes up, it seems like no one wants to deal with it."

 An audience member on the apathy of group funding during Tuesday's open forum on homosexual issues in the K-State Union.

"I learned we're not nearly as good as we need to be."

- Football coach Bill Snyder on the Wildcats' performance Saturday against New Mexico State.

"I think the Iraqi invasion was a shock to the Kuwaitis. They did not want to give any chance to someone interested in dillydallying. They want strong representatives.

— Abdul Rahman al-Najjar, columnist for the government-backed newspaper Sawt Al-Kuwait, on the opposition's landslide victory in Kuwait's first parliamentary elections in seven years.

FRIDAY

CONVOCATION: H.J. DeBlij, "The Breakdown fo the 10:30 AM Nation-State," McCain Auditorium.

Begins and ends at Vietnam Memorial near All Faiths Chapel.

"DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST," Union Little Theater.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is blished by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

Manhattan, Kan., 66506-7167.

tions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian newsro Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising should be directed to (913)

532-6555

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus crimes are listed here.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8

At 1:58 a.m., Colby Hess, 1015 Denison Ave., called for assistance in a kitchen fire at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house. The Manhattan Fire Department was

At 9:12 a.m., a non-injury accident between Everett Peshek and Matthew Everhart south of the K-State Union was reported.

At 11:51 a.m., Ron Sauer, 704 RILEY COUNTY POLICE

Haymaker Hall, reported the theft of a 3 1/2-foot python from his room. Loss was $110.

At 3:41 p.m., Jason Newton, 713 Haymaker Hall, requested a jump start in Lot B-3W.

At 1609 p.m., Alisa Whetstone, 1412 Cambridge Place, No. 22, requested aid in unlocking her vehicle on the east side of the Veterinary Medicine Building.

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8

At 12:20 a.m., Kirby Barrett, 3705 Chris Court, was given a notice to appear for disorderly conduct at Charlie's Neighborhood Bar, 1800 Claflin Road.

At 2:30 a.m., Cody Krainbill, 1517 McCain Lane, was arrested for DUI and released on $1,000 bond. At 3:23 a.m., FarmHouse fraternity, 1830 College Heights Road, reported a small gray or silver truck driving through their yard. Damage is estimated at $100. At 8:10 a.m., a hit-and-run accident occurred involving Randolph Reardon, 1604 Fairchild Ave., and a parked and unattended vehicle owned by Gary Wilson, 1511 Sunvale Terrace, Olathe.

At 8:35 a.m., Blue Hills Dutch Maid, 2309 Tuttle Creek Blvd., reported the theft of a Nintendo game. Loss was $25.

At 10:57 a.m., Richard Clark, 2104

Essex Square, reported a burglary at Manhattan Airport. Taken from a plane were flight manuals. Loss was $126. Damage to the plane was $25.

At 11:31 a.m., Beth Simpson, 1920 Poyntz Ave., and Darin Clifton, 1019 Fremont St., No. 1, were involved in a non-injury accident at the intersection of 11th and Fremont streets.

At 11:45 a.m., Vonnie Geist, 2625 E. Trail Road, Dodge City, was arrested for misdemeanor checks and released on $150 bond.

At 1:18 p.m., Daniel Scott, 363 N. 14th St., No. 2, and James Dinkel, 505 Denison Ave., were involved in a major-damage, non-injury accident at Denison Avenue and Laramie Street.

At 1:25 p.m., Nancy Knupfer, 2804 Nevada St., and Janice Joseph, 1501 Oxford Place, No. 1, were involved in a major-damage, non-injury accident at Dickens and Browning avenues.

CAMPUS BULLETIN

■ Golden Key National Honor Society membership deadline is Saturday. Current member scholarship applications are due today.

■ American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today in the Union K, S and U rooms on the second floor of the K-State Union.

■ Applications for cancer research awards from the Center for Basic Cancer Research are available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Ackert 234. Deadline is Dec. 4.

■ Intramural entry deadline for cross country is 5 p.m. today in the Recreational Services Office in the Chester E. Peters Recreation Complex. ■ KSU student ambassador applications are available at the Alumni Association office, fourth floor. They are due Oct. 23.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-6448. ■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are due by Oct. 15.

■ Applications for Community Service Program International Summer Teams are available in Eisenhower 014A. Spanish required.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie.

■ Gymnastics Club will meet from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Manhattan Gymnastics Center

■ Provost's Role and Aspiration Committee will meet from 1:30 to 3:30 in Union 206.

■ ECM will meet at 8 p.m. in the ECM campus center for the free movie "My Cousin Vinnie." All welcome.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10

■ The reporting site for PPST has been changed from Bluemont to Cardwell.

■ World Christian Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m. at 1644 Fairview Ave.

■ Collegiate 4-H will meet at 7 p.m. in Union 208.

■ ECM will meet at 6 p.m. in the ECM campus center to watch the presidential debates. All welcome.

■ Student Foundation Association will meet at 8 p.m. in the Foundation Building, third floor.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will have an executive meeting at 9 p.m. in Union 202.

■ Intramural cross country meet registration begins at 1:15 p.m. The first race begins at 2 p.m. in Warner Park.

■ Campus Girl Scouts will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 203. Everyone welcome to help plan campout.

WEATHER

TODAY'S FORECAST

Partly sunny and warmer. High around 70. Friday night, partly cloudy. Low around 40.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Partly sunny and cooler. High 60 to 65.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Sunday, dry. Lows in the 30s. Highs in the 60s. Monday, dry and a little warmer. Lows in the 40s. Highs in the 70s. Tuesday, warm and dry. Lows 45 to 50. Highs 75 to 80.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

CITY	TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	77/46	clear
Bermuda	78/71	cloudy	Rome	70/52	cloudy
Helsinki	46/48	rain	Stockholm	55/34	cloudy
London	57/50	cloudy	Vancouver	58/46	cloudy

Thanks,

On Oct. 16, you can say Happy Boss's Day with a personal from you or the whole group.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Boss a special day. Plus, use this form and take 25% off your ad cost. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Your I.D. number Your name Telephone number Address Message.

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

SUNDAY —THURSDAY DURING SCHOOL SESSION 3¢ SELF SERVE

1227 MORO, AGGIEVILLE

Small town works toward racial harmony

Peaceful co-existence, regardless of race, language or religion, is not just an American dream.

It is approaching reality in small-town America, and the small town in question is Garden City.

Don Stull, professor of anthropology and research associate at the University of Kansas, presented results of a two-year research on the Changing Relations Project at a lecture and workshop Thursday with Janet Benson, K-State associate professor of anthropology.

Garden City was one of six rural Midwestern locations chosen for the national project financed by the Ford Foundation.

Stull and Benson showed how Garden City has overcome fear that "has often shaped immigration policy." They said the residents have managed to build a "pluralistic and tolerant Stull said public willingness to welcome refugees was waning because many people believed immigrants had overrun the United States. There was also a misconception that the government had lost control of immigration.

He spoke about the contributions of Garden City immigrants to their adopted home.

Categorizing immigrants into refugees, migrants who have family in the States, alien workers and asylum seekers, Stull gave examples of Cuban and Southeast Asian immigrants who made their marks working at the then-new Iowa Beef Processing plant in Garden City.

An audience member asked about response to immigration after the Vietnam War.

"There was a real phobia of the Vietnamese," Stull said. "But the Garden City leadership made

■ See HARMONY Page 14

Jennifer Pitzer, senior in accounting, awaits the needle while Red Cross volunteer Eve Wenman, of Derby, prepares her arm with a cotton swab Thursday afternoon in the K-State Union Ballroom. The campus blood drive ends today.

Geographer to speak on nation-states

Geographer Harm Jan de Blij will deliver the Convocation Lecture at 10:30 a.m. today in McCain Auditorium on "The Nation State in Retreat: Options for

In 1959, de Blij received his doctorate from Northwestern University in geomorphology of Southern Africa. He received a master's degree in the geography of Africa there also. He received a bachelor of science degree in geography and geology from the University of the Witwatersrand.

"De Blij will be an excellent speaker," said David Kromm, gifted speaker. I think a lot can be learned from him. It will be one of your best spent hours."

De Blij is a joint professor at Georgetown University and the University of Miami.

He has written several textbooks, including "Africa in the 1990's," "Human Geography: Culture, Society and Space," "Physical Geography of the Global Environment" and "Geography: Regions and Concepts.'

In 1991, he received an honorary doctorate of science from Marshall University and an honors award from the Association of American Geographers.

De Blij was born in Schiedam, Netherlands.

Just a phone call away!

Friends	Ads	Faculty
Advisers	GTA's	Offices
Clubs	Tutors	Coupons
*	Housing	#

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Children not living billboards

THE ISSUE

Children of to carry signs

WE SUGGEST

tf children are too young to understand the issue, they shouldn't be made to participate, especially when it threatens their health.

Walking billboards. An example to all women who might consider having an abortion. Apparently, that is what younger children have become these days.

Last Sunday, several people used their children as billboards. Billboards that said "Abortion Kills Children."

Some parents claimed their 2-year-olds understood abortion. One told a story of watching a video of an abortion being performed. The child asked, "Mommy, why is that baby getting killed?"

Sometimes, parents hear what they want to Whether you believe abortion is right or wrong is not the issue.

How can a 2-year-old understand abortion when 20- and 30-year-olds can't?

It's a complex subject that includes economics, politics, and social and personal morality.

supposed to mean unborn children? Some

That's a lot for a 2-year-old to handle. The slogan says, "Abortion Kills Children." What child really comprehends the slogan is children may be scared abortion might happen to them, because abortion "kills children."

The purpose of the slogan is to put a face to the fetus. It ends up scaring the dickens out of

When Operation Rescue staged its abortion - protests in Wichita one year ago, children were taken to those protests.

The theory was if young women saw the babies and children, it would make them think twice about having an abortion.

Babies were sunburned by the hot July sun, and by the end of the day, some of them had beet-red faces.

These are not examples of responsible parenting. Children shouldn't be used as displays or as "abortion examples."

Expose children to the complexities of abortion when they are able to handle it, and they can make up their own minds about what they Let kids be kids while they can. They have to grow up too fast as it is.

Bush should call it quits right now

its way, and the decision is Lcrystal clear: Your country doesn't want you in charge

Your only conceivable course of action is to get out of the race before you get run out of town. Yep, I'll be blunt. With the election less than a month away, I believe the only wise electoral decision that could be made by President Bush would be to concede the election to Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton. Today.

Instead of rambling off biased sets of party-researched facts or reiterating platform positions, the time has come for a shift in the commentary surrounding the presidential campaign. Knowing that Bush is far behind, a more insightful analysis must examine what Bush might be forced to do to make up the difference.

Why this perspective? Because Bush has had four years to win over the American public, and Clinton has been hot on the campaign trail

r. Bush, the verdict is on for 10 months. With what lies ahead, there are a number of good reasons for Bush to cash in his campaign chips now.

First and foremost, Bush is so far down in the polls, why delay the tip his hat to the Democratic contender, Clinton could begin directing his energies to the country's future, rather than devoting time and resources to further burying Bush.

Moreover, Bush is getting desperate, and it looks like he might stop at nothing in his gamble to win back the election. Two examples buttress this claim.

There's the sudden policy reversal allowing the sale of arms to Taiwan last month. Undercutting the assumptions of a 1982 agreement, Bush opened the door for General Dynamics to sell 150 F-16 fighter jets to Taiwan, thereby creating the artificial demand necessary to sustain an overextended defense industry.

The key motivation behind the move was to prevent 5,800 jobs from being lost in the state of Texas, a region critical to Bush's re-election bid.

Even Bush touted the sale as raising voter support during the next week on the campaign trail. Never mind that tensions between

FILIPPI

Taiwan and China since have been heightened.

Another campaignrelated move was Bush's proclamation to put forth $1 billion to subsidize U.S. wheat farmers. Coming upon the eve the election, Bush

squirming to gain agricultural support, while usurping his longstanding philosophical stance for open trade. These decisions only typify the president's temperament of becoming more and more preoccupied with mustering electoral support. Even if the reversal of some of his long-standing policies were sensible,

Bush would only be crushing his own credibility

What will Bush do next? It's hard to tell. A good bet involves Saddam Hussein, as he sits atop the powder keg in the Middle East. For the Iraqi president, there would be no sweeter revenge than having a hand in Bush's campaign defeat.

If Bush believes shifting attention from the domestic to the foreign scene would benefit his campaign, he might attempt to capitalize on Hussein's shallow threats with a second invasion.

The consequence of another attempt at maintaining our hegemonic position in the world could be disastrous.

Aside from evaluating campaign strategy, there is one final reason Bush ought to throw in the towel to save the American taxpayers some cash.

Instead of spending millions of dollars and dedicating thousands of volunteer hours during the next three weeks to an electoral race that is pretty much over, why not spend the money on the deficit, the poor, job training, women's shelters, or homelessness?

If Bush really cared about the people of this country, or even about his own political credibility, he'd just concede.

Do it, George. You owe it to us.

READERS WRITE

ABORTION

No enlightenment comes from column

My interest having been piqued by the title, I read Scott Spradlin's column about abortion protest.

I expected to be enlightened as to why the pro-choice camp is a voice for "ignorance and anger."

Instead, I was only amused by his pitiful ranting.

I respect Spradlin's right to religious belief.

However, he should not tell me my political ideas are wrong because they conflict with his faith.

If Spradlin claims the religious right is so concerned with the protection of life at all costs, perhaps he should explain why it is quite acceptable to kill and starve thousands in Iraq.

Maybe because they are heathens and don't deserve to

He should explain why it is acceptable to threaten the life of the entire planet for the shortterm profit of big business. Oh, I forgot. The hole in the ozone layer is an atheist myth.

Though I'm not personally big on abortion, I don't know that it is my right to dictate to others about what I believe to be a moral issue.

Perhaps if Spradlin put forth reasons for his belief, instead of slinging hallow zealot rhetoric, I could take his writing seriously

And Scott, there are those who would say you give long hair a bad name. Also, try to use singular pronouns where they should be used.

> Trevor Hartman Junior/French

SOCIAL WORK

Reorganization only brings frustration

I am just one of many social work students who want to be

The reorganization of social work and the dissolving of speech pathology and audiology seem to once again reflect that the University administration does not understand the importance of its established programs.

It reminds me of the reorganization proposal two years ago to slash architecture and human ecology.

Unfortunately, social work does not have the sheer numbers to effectively fight the proposal.

This does not inherently mean that social work is not worth keeping because its graduating class is not in the triple digits.

Social work is a very effective program that utilizes many disciplines. It applies these disciplines to real life.

This really cannot be said for some aspects of our higher education.

It doesn't help much when Dean Peter Nicholls takes the attitude that K-State is not interested in jobs, but in education.Education education's sake?

Social work, does, however, have the strength of the students and faculty of K-State.

Indiscriminate tree trimming will cut K-State's diversity to the level of a junior college. K-State should have the best social work program around. For crying out loud, we are a grassroots, agricultural, land-grant school. By the people, for the people.

Social work in the Midwest had its start in agricultural county extensions. The thing that troubles me the most is that the administration is not trying to save money, they are trying to focus it on geography and statistics. This tells me that some people's views of the University's "role and aspiration" is to educate people to record the problems of society, not help cure them.

Provost Coffman, I don't want to be a statistic. I want to make a difference.

Alex Kice Junior/Human development and family studies with social

STUDENT SUICIDE

Letter about dean's response incorrect

As friends of Kent Leslie, we would like to address Robert Burns' letter response in the Oct. 5 Collegian, and the way the Collegian handled our friend's suicide.

First of all, Robert Burns had no right to use Kent's suicide as an example of the University's so-called "bean-counting

If Robert Burns is upset about University policies, then he should not take it out on personal bystanders.

If Burns had researched a little more in-depth, he would have found out that Bernard Franklin responded to the situation in a very caring and sensitive manner.

From the moment the police informed his office of Kent's suicide. Franklin was in Van Zile Hall assisting housing personnel.

well as Bernard. as representatives of the counseling center and campus ministries, attended an all-hall meeting where the news of Kent's death was shared with

We were offered the chance to have a campus memorial service, but we chose to accept Bernard's offer for the University to provide a van for a group of us to attend the funeral in Hutchinson.

The family really appreciated our presence at the funeral. Plus, they were happy to have K-State represented there.

Secondly, the article written about Kent's suicide did not warrant such explicit and graphic detail as was written. Exploiting Kent's suicide as you did could have the ramifications of a "copy-cat" Perhaps the Collegian staff needs to put more thought into what possible ramifications could evolve, as well as what it intends to publish. On behalf of Kent's family, they wish to thank everyone on the K-State staff and the students for the wonderful support they have received during these trying times. They have been generous enough to start a scholarship fund in Kent's name for the computer science program.

We would hope that if any of you could find it in your hearts, please donate to this scholarship through a memorial fund set up by the residents of Van Zile

> Annette Weilert David Guilfoyle And Van Zile Hall residents

Come October, it's sink or swim It's that time again. When the first of only get caught up, but you want to try and

October rolls around, school gets serious. Serious as a heart attack, like we say back in the Palmetto State. Sure, there is a lot of work to be done during those first few weeks of school. But when you've got 16, then 15, then even 14 weeks ahead of you, it seems as if you have a lifetime to kick back and other big projects. Next month becomes next week, and then suddenly, the deadline becomes immediate. October thunders in, and you're pulling your first all-nighter of the semester.

and relax before starting

all those term papers

Dosed Marlboros, Jolt cola and industrial-strength coffee, coupled with the first levels of sleep deprivation and either total starvation (or chocolate gluttony for some folks), you begin to get a little weird. With all this work accumulating, you decide to buckle down for a few days and not work a few weeks ahead to give yourself some breathing room. So, you lock yourself away in your apartment - not even trusting the social pitfalls of the library or Espresso, where you never seem to get quite enough studying done and decide to hit the books. The first night, you're lucky if you get an hour of studying done, because after six or eight weeks of all play and no work, it just seems so hard to focus on the task at hand. You alphabetize your videotape collection and watch "Mary Tyler Moore" and "Dragnet" reruns on Nickelodeon. You read an old magazine, or you spend an hour finding and sharpening every pencil in the house.

EDMUNDS

"I'm working," you kid yourself as you decide to shampoo the dog and start a load of laundry. Proud of your accomplishments for the evening, you venture out for a beer. You'll get no work done tonight. Of course, that one beer becomes six, but you're still convinced you have earned them.

The second evening, still feeling a little shaky from all that beer and lack of sleep, you take a nap to refresh yourself. Just a short one. When you finally awake from your 'catnap" at 2:30 a.m., you decide it's too late to order pizza, and it really would be smarter to start fresh on your studies tomorrow.

By the third day, you are so far behind on your work that you stay home from class all day to do the work you meant to do the last two nights. You work like hell for about four hours, and then you get distracted by "As the World Turns" and "Donahue." Refreshed after your reality break, you dive watch the clock for a change, studying well into the night By midnight, you're actually ahead of the game. Papers are typed, chapters are read, and notes are copied and filed color-coordinated. Your life hasn't been this organized since back when you were carrying a Brady Bunch back into your studies by nightfall, so high on the energy of productivity that you don't even lunchbox to school. You begin to hallucinate. You write letters to all your friends from high school, as well as to all your elderly relatives. By 2 a.m., you have writer's cramp, but you are too stressed out to sleep. You decide it would be even better to type out your psychology notes and work ahead another 50 swearing, "Never again." But you know you will. And that, my friends, tells you what kind of week I've had.

mumbling, "Why do I do this to myself?" and

You finally doze off around sunrise,

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK

Letters to the Editor- c/o Jared Savage Kansas State Collegian Kedzie Hall 116 Manhattan, Kan. 66506

UNDERWATER SEARCH AND

olic safety divers have been rticipating in the Dive cue 2 course presented by Rescue International and Riley County Emergency dical Service this week.

Thirteen participants from Colorado, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas attended the five-day intensive course in dive-rescue skills. It began Monday and ends today.

The course is taught by Dive Rescue International's professional training staff, who have participated in hundreds of water-rescue including operations investigating underwater crime scenes and coordinating body recovery and identification in a flood

"Manhattan has had a dive team for three years," said Eric Ward, Riley County EMS supervisor. "This summer we had seven callouts, but only one involved a drowning."

This is the first year a Dive Rescue course has been taught in Manhattan. The course allows participants to use specialized technical equipment, apply advanced rescue and recovery techniques and identify problems, hazards, options and appropriate solutions.

The first day of the course involved team-building exercises and scuba review at the Natatorium. The class spent the next two days near the Rocky Ford Fishing Area demonstrating river rescue, physiology of moving water, survival techniques, river diving and running search patterns in a current.

Thursday's class involved recovering two sunken vehicles from the pond. Teams of three to four people floated the cars by using two inflatable floats strapped to

"It is very important for the ABOVE: Jim Gronewald, of Beatrice, Neb., helps Jim Livengood of the Lee's Summit, Mo., Fire Department suit up before the dive to locate and float one of the two submerged cars. BOTTOM LEFT: Bill Peterson prepares a lift bag that will float the submerged car.

car to be in balance to get it to float," said Scott Romme, Dive Rescue International instructor. "The divers hook the floats either from end to end or side to side, depending on where the center of balance is in the car.

"This is the perfect scenario," Romme said Thursday morning at the boat ramp into the Tuttle Creek River Pond. "Most incidents involving vehicles in water occur when boats are being unloaded into water."

"This training allows an organized safe approach to rescue," Ward said. "When we come out of the water during a search, we should be thorough enough to say 'There's no one down there,' instead of 'We didn't find anything.'

Thursday morning's cold and rainy weather was not ideal, but since divers must work in all conditions during emergency everything went as scheduled.

The final day of the course will involve dive rescues at Rocky Ford. The participants will have to rescue mannequins tied into the river.

"The exact locations of the mannequins will be unknown to the divers, and they will have to interview witnesses to aid in their rescues," Ward

■ BOTTOM RIGHT:

One of the two teams of diverescue specialists adjusts equipment used in floating the car so it can be towed ashore.

PHOTOS BY CRAIG HACKER STORY BY DIANE DENISON

ite

friday october 9 6pm - 1am

union station

50's - 60's christian rock & roll nite

> saturday october 10 9pm - 1am union station

HARRISON FORD BLADE RUNNER THE DIRECTOR'S CUT

SETH CHILDS 6

R

Fri. at 7:20 & 9:50 Sat. & Sun. at 1:40 & 4:40 ($3.50) 7:20 & 9:50

MONEY DOESN'T GROW ON TREES YOU KNOW!

BUT YOU CAN MAKE EXTRA MONEY BY DONATING!

This coupon is worth $15 for new donors on your first or second donation within six days or if you have not returned within two months. Present this coupon and earn extra cash. For more information call the friendliest staff in town at 776-9177!

MANHATTAN DONOR CENTER

1130 Gardenway •Mon.-Thurs. 9-6, Fri. 9-4:30, Sat. 9-1

ROYAL PURPLE

Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13

Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

DELTS WANT YOU!

The KSU Blood Drive Ends TODAY!

All students, faculty and staff are reminded to donate blood from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. in the K, S & U rooms on the second floor of the union.

YOUR HELP SAVES LIVES!

Co-sponsored by Patricia's Undercover and Delta Tau Delta.

K-STATE VS. KANSAS

READY FOR THE BIG ONE

Hawks seeking revenge

The inside track to an upper-division Big Eight finish and a possible bowl bid take a back seat this weekend.

For now, state bragging rights are the only thing to be clinched when K-State plays Kansas at 1 p.m. Saturday in Lawrence.

The Wildcats take a six-game winning streak and a 3-0 record into the contest with the 3-1 Jayhawks. Kansas hasn't played since a 27-23 loss to California Sept. 24.

The Jayhawks have rolled up impressive numbers through four games. Kansas ranks second in the country in points per game, averaging just over 43.

The Hawks are led on offense by senior quarterback Chip Hilleary. The 6-1, 180-pounder connected on more than 50 percent of his passes while compiling more than 700 yards. He also leads the team in rushing. "He can hurt you in a lot of different ways," K-State coach Bill Snyder said. "He's throwing the ball very well right now, and he has a lot of receivers he goes to.

"Hilleary got his yards against us last year. I think we were able to temper him a little bit. He got loose a couple times on the option. I think that we definitely have to be able to control him as much as we possibly can.' Defensively; the Jayhawks rank eighth nationally, yielding 244 yards per contest. Kansas ranks first in the conference and fourth in the nation in defending the pass. Led by Dana Stubblefield, the America right tackle, Kansas has given up just seven touchdowns this season.

"Stubblefield knows one speed, and that's fast," K-State center Quentin Neujahr said. "We're definitely going to have to play the best game of our lives.

Kansas junior Dan Eichloff is one of the best place kickers in the country. He hit on seven of eight attempts with the only miss coming in a block against California.

Eichloff hit the two longest field goals in the conference this season — 61 and 55 yards.

"The thing that concerns you about Dan is that he can hit them from so far away," Snyder said. "He puts the ball down on his side of the 50-yard line and hits them through the goalpost. Normally, they're not going to have to go very far to get in field-goal range, and that's what's so scary about it."

Kansas is ranked in the top 20 of several statistically based polls, and the Jayhawks were ranked No. 24 by the Associated Press prior to the loss to the Golden Bears.

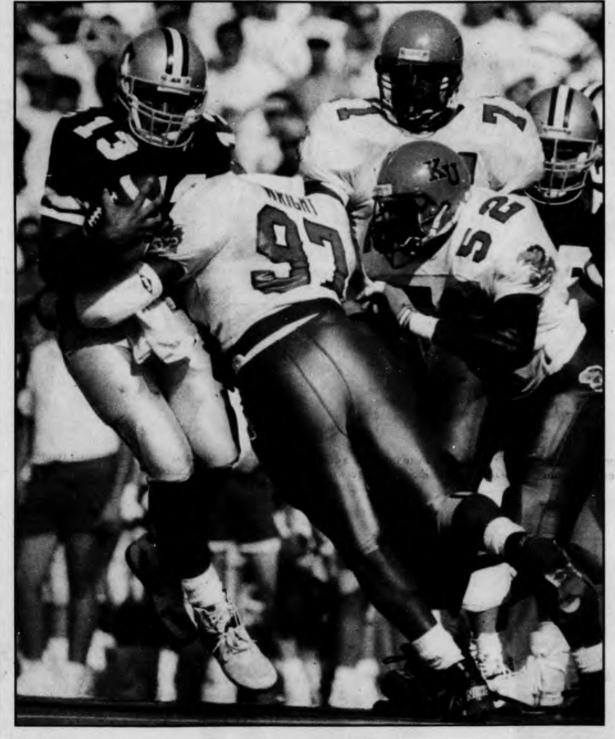

"I think Kansas might be as well-balanced a football program as there is anywhere right now," Snyder said. "Defensively, I think their statistics speak for themselves.'

Although Snyder is focusing on this week alone, he does not deny the effect the result will have on postseason play.

"To be a strong bowl contender, this ball game becomes prominent," Snyder said. "The important thing is to be able to focus on those things that allow you to do it. When you start' talking about bowl games, then you're obviously talking about the result.

"That's the icing on the cake."

Remembering a year ago

Jason Smargiasso, K-State quarterback, takes a hit during last year's win over the University of Kansas.

Watson sparked Cats in thrilling '91 comeback

The Wildcats rallied for 13 unanswered points in the fourth quarter of the 1991 contest, finally claiming a 16-12 victory in front of 40,856 fans at KSU Stadium.

Senior quarterback Paul Watson was pulled in the fourth quarter - and replaced by this year's starter, Jason Smargiasso only to be reinserted in the same period.

He responded by engineering touchdown drives of 94 and 66 yards to stun the favored Jayhawks.

From the Kansas 34-yard line, Watson scrambled out of the pocket and threw a strike to receiver Andre Coleman with 1:58

An earlier 94-yard drive was capped by an Eric Gallon 10-yard touchdown run with less than four minutes to play.

Chip Hilleary, University of Kansas quarterback, rests on the bench during K-State's win over KU last year in KSU Stadium.

OKLAHOMA ST. at NEBRASKA

FAST FACTS: 1 p.m., Memorial Stadium, Lincoln, Neb. RECORDS: Oklahoma State (2-2) and Nebraska (3-1). LINE: Nebraska by 30.
ABOUT THE COWBOYS: Oklahoma

State was had just 29 yards rushing last week against Texas Christian University. The Cowboys are averaging less than 100 yards per game on the ground, good for last in the Big Eight and 103rd in the nation. They are averaging just more than 18 points per game, which also ranks last in the conference. The Cowboys were sacked 10 times last week.

ABOUT THE HUSKERS: The 14thranked Cornhuskers lead the conference, as well the nation, in rushing offense, gaining 346 yards on the ground a game. Their 448 yards per game is tops in the Big Eight, 14th in the country. Running back Calvin Jones is third in the Big Eight, gaining just more than 100 yards a game. He's averaging more than 8 yards every time

THE SKINNY: Other than a 17-17 tie in 1973, the Huskers have won every meeting between the two squads since 1962. Although Nebraska ranks seventh in the conference in defense, the Cowboys shouldn't pose a threat. Oklahoma State hasn't won in Lincoln in 32 years, and that's not likely to change. Look for the streak to reach 33 after Saturday's game.

OKLAHOMA vs. TEXAS

FAST FACTS: 2:30 p.m., Cotton Bowl,

RECORDS: Oklahoma (3-1) and Texas LINE: Oklahoma by 10 1/2.

ABOUT THE SOONERS: The Oklahoma defense has surrendered just 32 points in four games thus far this season, good for first in the Big Eight and third in the country. Quarterback Cale Gundy threw for 333 yards in last week's victory over lowa State, but was held to just 69 passing yards in last year's contest between the two squads. The No. 16 Sooners rank third in the Big Eight in passing, averaging more than 251 yards per game.

ABOUT THE LONGHORNS: Texas is riding a two-game winning streak with victories over Rice and North Texas. The Longhorns have won the last three meetings between the two squads by a total of 8 points, including a fourthquarter victory last year on a late 30yard fumble recovery that went for a game-winning touchdown.

THE SKINNY: Texas has never lost to a Gary Gibbs-coached Sooner team. But in each of the last three years, the Sooners have outgained Texas in total yardage. The Sooners are coming off a too close 17-3 victory over Iowa State, a game in which the Sooners were expected to win without incident. Oklahoma is now on a mission to prove its worth. Look for Gibbs to change his luck and keep OU happy by winning really don't know. Last season we saw how far K-State was from the "Big Three." And yet at the same time, we saw how close the Wildcats were to utter disaster against has targeted this game long ago as the big one. Note that in this season's spring game, the Jayhawks sported shirts with last season's 16-12 score. Kansas didn't wear 41-3

IDLE BIG EIGHT TEAMS

A loss in a game in which Mason and his staff have put that much emphasis in could cause a catastrophic turn. A loss would give the crimson and blue two losses

Wildcat loss means little. A road loss to a team to which

K-State is a 12 1/2-point underdog hardly turns the season upside down. There would be a nasty gut check in one week at Utah State, but following that, K-State

Question: Who has more to gain by a victory? Answer: Probably KU. Jayhawk coach Glen Mason

I suspect that, once again, this season K-State will Division I-AA Indiana State.

look five times better in the big games.

for Oklahoma or 59-23 for Nebraska.

in two outings heading into Ames next week.

lowa State next week vs. Kansas in

- Compiled by Steve Rock

COLUMN

Read my lips: we might win against Jayhawks

s unlikely as it might seem now, the following events will come to pass:

The Democratic party will regain the White House. The Boston Bruins won't make the Stanley Cup

And the Kansas City Royals will win the American League West title.

They may not come to pass today or tomorrow or the next day. But suffice it to say, they will occur. While you're at it, count on one more event - K-

State will beat Kansas in Lawrence, and Saturday is as good a day as any. The last time the Wildcats came away from Lawrence with a football victory was 1969, long before 1-900 phone services inundated the phone lines. Ten consecutive trips to Lawrence, 10 consecutive Jayhawk victories spanning last 23 years. The law of averages says K-State is bound to win one of these games at KU sooner or later. The phone lines are open at Big Game Central, as are many of the minds of the area media which give the Wildcats a fair shot at winning this season's contest.

Why shouldn't Saturday be the day? The Wildcats are on the verge of their first 4-0 start since 1931.

Question: Does that mean you're predicting a victory? Answer: Yes, but Saturday may not be the day. We at Big Game Central believe that, with 16 days to prepare, KU will focusing on a single task. Likewise, with 16 days off, the Jayhawks may not be executing on have the added advantage of all cylinders early on. In the end, it's not enough. The Jayhawks win a close one. Question: Does K-State have a Answer: Yes, and a good one. Question: Since K-State is 3-0 and KU is 3-1, shouldn't the Wildcats be the favorite?

Answer: No. Although the Wildcats are undefeated heading into the contest, the Jayhawks have looked better against tougher competition. The Jayhawks are a solid team which can play a top 25 opponent, at home, tough. As for the Wildcats, we would likely recover and go on. Question: Why has K-State had such a difficult time kicking extra points this season?

MAY

Answer: Please hang up the phone and call again.

Colorado squeaks by Missouri

■ The No. 9 Buffaloes scored just 6 points in a rain-soaked win over Missouri.

COLUMBIA, Mo. - Pat Blottiaux kicked two field goals as ninth-ranked Colorado overcame a cold drizzle and stubborn Missouri 6-0 in a mistakefilled Big Eight Conference opener Thursday night.

Colorado (5-0) extended its undefeated streak against Big Eight teams to 23 games and also made it 12 straight wins on the road against conference opponents.

Although the Buffaloes' first game at Missouri since the infamous fifthdown game of 1990 produced an eighth-straight victory over the Tigers (1-4), it didn't come easily.

The first-ever night game at Missouri was played in a steady rain, gusting winds and 46-degree temperature that likely contributed to the problems of both teams.

The Buffaloes committed four turnovers and were far off their season average of 36 points.

Colorado quarterback Kordell Stewart was intercepted twice, once in the end zone. And the Buffaloes also failed on a fourth-and-1 play at the The Tigers have scored only seven Missouri 21 on the first play of the fourth quarter.

Colorado entered the game having outscored Missouri 264-78 during the seven-game streak, the notable exception being the tainted 33-31 fifthdown victory that led to a national championship.

Despite the scoring problems, Stewart completed 24 of 45 passes for 335 yards and went the distance for the first time in three games. Stewart had been hampered by a sprained foot.

Charles Johnson caught 11 passes for 167 yards, and Michael Westbrook caught eight for 129, giving him 36 in five games in Colorado's new oneback, pass-oriented offense.

In the first half, the Buffaloes lost two fumbles, and Blottiaux missed two field-goal attempts, hitting the right upright on a 48-yard try before finally connecting on a 52-yarder with 1:10 to

Missouri, which lost nine of its last 10, was held to 187 yards and didn't have a first down in the second quarter. points in the last two meetings with Colorado, including a 55-7 loss at Boulder, Colo., last season.

Blottiaux, who entered the game having connected on five of six attempts, also was wide right on a 32yard try with 2:55 to go in the second Missouri's only turnover of the first half set up the only score of the half. Freshman Steve Rosga grabbed the ball out of Ronnell Kayhill's hands after a 10-yard run at the Missouri 30, and Blottiaux connected four plays later.

Missouri's Kevin McIntosh stopped Colorado's best drive of the second half when he intercepted Stewart's pass in the end zone with 4:43 left in the third quarter.

Darryl Major gave Missouri a scoring chance when he intercepted Stewart's pass and returned it 24 yards to the Colorado 33 with 4:06

But quarterback Phil Johnson fumbled the snap on the next play, and Greg Biekert recovered.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Undefeated Eagles up next for 3-2 Chiefs

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Give the Kansas City Chiefs the ball inside the Philadelphia 20-yard line this Sunday, and they probably won't score a touchdown.

Field goals from the reliable leg of Nick Lowery are most likely to result from such advantageous field position, a big reason the Chiefs are -2 — with both losses by a total of four points - going into Sunday's game against the unbeaten Eagles.

"We work on it all the time," Coach Marty Schottenheimer said. "One of the things that got us into trouble in the ball game at Houston and also (against Denver) is we couldn't hear.

Despite a big, veteran offensive line and huge running backs in Barry Word and Christian Okoye, the Chiefs have scored six touchdowns and kicked eight field goals in the 15 times they've had the ball inside the 20.

Some fans have gone so far as to suggest the presence of Lowery is a hindrance, causing coaches to lapse into a conservative mode in the scoring zone because they know they're assured of three points.

"I don't think we have been conservative at all down there,' Schottenheimer said. "How can anybody say we would be better off not having one of the greatest kickers in the league?"

The Chiefs might do well just getting inside the 20-yard line against a Philadelphia team that's off to its best start since beginning 1981 at 6-0. The Eagles rank No. 1 in the NFL in scoring defense, allowing only four touchdowns, and have beaten their last two opponents, Denver and Dallas, a combined 61-7.

The Eagles are coming off a 31-7 trouncing of NFC East rival Dallas, while the Chiefs must recover from the psychological battering of yet another last-minute loss to John Elway and the

The game is at 12 p.m. Sunday at Arrowhead Stadium.

VOLLEYBALL III

Spikers' task to overcome tall Sooners

BRIAN ANDERSON

If everything goes as planned, K-State will end its three-game losing streak 7:30 Saturday night at Ahearn Field House against the tallest and hardest-hitting team in the Big Eight, the Oklahoma Sooners.

"When they come out for warm-ups, they take the top prize," Coach Patti Hagemeyer said, referring to the players spiking and serving before a match. "We need to focus on the match, not on them warming up.'

The Sooners have eight players at 6 feet or taller, with the shortest at 5-foot-8. In contrast, K-State has only four spikers of 6 feet or taller.

"We need to keep the ball in play," Hagemeyer said. "Plus, they are weak on their transition. With their tall players, it's hard for them to play in the back court on defense."

game road trip by playing the Cats. Oklahoma went to 2-1 at the Syracuse Invitational last week and played at Baylor Thursday.

The Sooners are the spikers' first of three opponents at home, followed by Northeastern Illinois Sunday and Iowa State Wednesday. Hagemeyer said the stretch will be positive for the 5-9 Cats. "It gives us a chance to regroup," she said. "They can go to class, not eat out and focus on the game. There is not a lot to do on the road except study.' The Cats' last two road games brough mixed reviews from Hagemeyer. "I was happier with the Iowa State match," Hagemeyer said, who saw her team drop three games to the Cyclones. "They played solid like they did in the first game against Kansas.

Hagemeyer said the game against Missouri was a pretty bad night.

"It was due to a poor level of

The Sooners are finishing a five- concentration we had, but Missouri came out with more confidence than they had last year."

Against the Sooners Saturday, Hagemeyer said, she hopes K-State can improve in this area.

"We need to execute this weekend," she said. "Execution is our key word this weekend."

One Cat who performed well on the road was freshman Jill Dugan.

"I expected that out of her," Hagemeyer said of Dugan, who had her best match of the season with eight kills on 15 attempts.

She said she expected a lot from all the freshmen. They have adapted well to college ball," she said. Northeastern Illinois comes to Manhattan Sunday with an 8-15 record.

"It gives us a chance to get more people, more time and a chance to take more risks," Hagemeyer said.

SPORTS DIGEST

CONE STIFLES A'S TO EVEN PLAYOFFS

TORONTO (AP) - Now everyone knows why the Toronto Blue Jays wanted David Cone so much this season.

Cone, acquired cheaply from the New York Mets in late August, paid off in a big way Thursday night. He shut down Oakland for eight innings and pitched the Blue Jays to a 3-1 victory that evened the AL playoffs at one game each.

Cone stopped Oakland's seven-game winning streak in the playoffs and also ended a slump of six straight playoff losses at the SkyDome for Toronto.

The series now shifts to Oakland, where Juan Guzman will start for Toronto against another ex-Met, Ron Darling, Saturday.

Cone was not perfect. The A's exploited his inability to hold on runners by stealing six bases, tying the AL playoff record Oakland set in 1989 against Toronto.

▶GOING TO KU GAME? BETTER LEAVE EARLY

The K-State Department of Intercollegiate Athletics has announced that fans attending Saturday's game with the University of Kansas should depart from Manhattan no later than 10 a.m.

KU officials said due to the near sellout, they expect Interstate 70 and both Lawrence exits to be crowded near game time. Early departure should assure that fans arrive for the 1 p.m. kickoff.

▶ COACH ORDERED NOT TO PRAY, RESIGNS

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP) - The coach of an unbeaten high-school football team has resigned because the principal ordered him to stop leading his team in prayer.

Tom Shoemake said he has prayed with his teams without incident for 20 years.

yet to be tested by a quality passing opponent. OFFENSE POSITION The Wildcat offensive line has given up nine quarterback sacks and K-State's running backs are gaining just 3.5 yards per rush. Coach Bill Snyder has expressed his concern with the effectiveness of his O-line. The line for Kansas has helped the Hawks post large numbers, as KU ranks second in the country in scoring with 43.5 points per game while piling up 444 yards of The speedy Gerald Benton and Andre Coleman give the Wildcats big-play potential they haven't had in recent years. Tight end Brian Rees is a big target with soft hands, though he hasn't been utilized as of yet. Despite talented wideouts for the Hawks, like RECEIVERS/ TIGHT ENDS Matt Gay, K-State holds the edge. RUNNING BACKS The return of Eric Gallon continues to anchor the Wildcat running game. He's averaging 105 yards per game, good for tops in the erence and 16th in the nation. Despite rushing for just over 100 yards, sophomore Rod Schiller already has three touchdowns in 22 carries. For KU, guarterback Chip Hilleary leads the rushing attack that is averaging over 200 yards per contest. No one player averages more than 65 yards per game. ill ary is an athletic QB whose versatility shines through when s forced out of the pocket and required to improvise. And QUARTERBACKS aough Hilleary's confidence was shaken following a 9 for 25, two-interception performance against California, the Jayhawks found a way to utilize his athleticism, as he ran for a season-high 113 yards in just 13 carries. K-State's Jason Smargiasso has a tendency to tuck the ball away and run. And despite his trouble to spot the open receiver, he has thrown just one interception.

leading the nation in interceptions per game. The Cats are operienced at strong safety with C.J. Masters and Thomas Randolph at cornerback. Through four games, KU's secondary is

School newspaper criticized for naming rape victim

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. Marshall University's president criticized the journalism school for the student newspaper's new policy of publishing rape victims' names.

President J. Wade Gilley said the Parthenon displayed a smutmagazine mentality by publishing raped Sept. 13 and the details of the

"I'm not upset with the student journalists," Gilley said Wednesday. "The core of this problem goes beyond the student editor. I'm concerned about the department."

The Parthenon decided last month to begin publishing the names of rape victims as well as rape suspects in an effort to remove the stigma attached to the crime's

The paper's editorial board said it wants to give fair coverage to the accused and the accuser, something it said it cannot do without publishing both names.

Police, prosecutors, women's groups and students have said victims are less likely to report rapes if their names are published.

The Marshall Women's Center planned a candlelight vigil Thursday night at the student union to show support for a rape victim's right to privacy.

"We want people to recognize that this is a multifaceted issue and cannot be dealt with in such a simplistic way," said Dee Cockrille, director of women's programs at Marshall. "There are many ways stigma, but naming names isn't one of them.

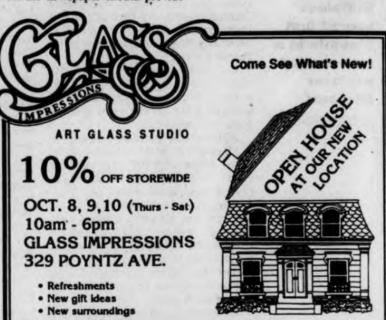

Gilley said the newspaper's story on the Sept. 13 rape report was crude and vulgar. He said journalism faculty members who work with the newspaper should provide you could approach the issue of better advice to the student editors. "I think I have an obligation as an educator to make the students know this is not an academic question," he said. "This is real life, and people are being hurt."

THE MEN OF SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Have a date Sunday night and short some money?

1/2 Price Night

Buy any sandwich and get another at 1/2 price! 6-9 p.m.

BOBBY

537-8383 Candlewood Center Open Sundays at noon.

度视中華民國八十一年國度

HADDY BIRTHDAY Republic of China

電影報常 Free Movies

地點 Place: UNION LITTLE THEATER

時間 Time : OCTBOR 10, 92.

1:30 -我們都是這樣長大的 The Memories of Childhood

3:30 -辛亥雙十 Shin-Hay Revolution

6:30 -桂花苓 Osmanthus Alley

中國同學會指導教授 黃蘇為

Director of Chinese Student Association Huanj, C.L. and 74 others from Taiwan.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO A BOUNCING BABY BOY! Lori

First Christian Church

(Disciples of Christ)

—College and Young Single Fellowship—

Sunday, Oct. 11, 4-6 p.m. at City Park Pavilion & volleyball court.

Come and bring a friend for a cookout and a volleyball game!

The Muslin Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Fifth Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM:

Part V: Social Life in Islam Presented by Hisham Hidmu President of MCA

Tuesday, Oct. 13, 7:30-8:30 p.m. Kansas State Union, Room 205

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

MAJIC NIGHT

GRAND OPENING!

*Majic 108 Personalities

Hooker & Rose

*Complimentary Nachos and Cheese

*$1.08 Miller Lite and Genuine Draft bottles

*$5.99 Shrimp and Beer Special

*Prizes, Giveaways and lots of fun.

537-8383 Candlewood Shopping Center

FEATURING

LAWRENCE, KS - 841-9111

517 N. 12th AGGIEVILLE, USA

NOBODY KNOWS LIKE DOMINO'S<sub>SM</sub>

DOMINO'S PIZZA COUNTDOWN SPECIALS FOR THE GAME! KSU vs. K-WHO?

ONE DAY TO GOT TO

FRIDAY

2- Small pizzas with one topping only $7

KICKOFF!!

SATURDAY

2 FREE COKES with purchase of large pizza.

Lana Schrater

Chad Brown (left) and Lance Ayers, both seniors in animal sciences and industry, take their turn shaping horseshoes in Farrier's Science class Thursday afternoon.

Great

K-State center gives hands-on training to students

he K-State Horse Teaching and with the animals, classes are limited. Research Center is an educational xperience.

The center, part of the Department of Animal Sciences and Industry, is used by students, the horse judging team and Extension to give people hands-on experience and education about the training of horses, research and management.

Kevin Pool, graduate student and assistant instructor in animal sciences, is the fulltime manager of the

He said the training consists of working basic skills with newborns and yearlings, breaking 2- and 3-yearolds to ride, artificial insemination, horseshoeing, management, safety and handling.

There is also research on nutritional feeding, exercise physiology, and breeding of the mares and stallions, he said.

"Most of our classes have a hands-on component. So, I'd say six out of the seven classes we offer will utilize the horse unit and the of the horse teaching and research program. "So, it's vital to our teaching program.

been demonstrating to students how to hammer a shoe. horses that are out there," said Randel Raub, head

Randel Raub, assistant professor of animal

Research Center north of campus. Raub had order to enable the students to have adequate time Raub said. 1800 Claffin Rd.

Margaret Clarkin Although Pool is the only paid graduate student Story by working at the center, other graduate students and the K-State judging team also use the center. "We use all the horses out here to actually practice judging horses on confirmation and things like that," said Pool, who coaches the team. "We go to five or six contests a year, and K-State usually is very competitive.'

The Cooperative Extension Service also uses the center to teach about management of the horse for education about horse training, gives demonstrations and seminars and has a breeder's school workshop.

Pool said the students are able to do things students at other schools and programs do not have the opportunity to do.

Ultra-sounds and artificial insemination on mares are hands-on experiences the center offers that are rarely offered elsewhere.

"It's not just watchsciences and industry, inspects a horseshoe Thursday afternoon at the Horse Teaching and ing someone doing it," Pool said. "It's all hands-on training."

Raub said he hopes to continue to improve the quarter horse and thoroughbred brood mare

The brood mares are primarily obtained Interest in these classes is high, Pool said, so in through donations from producers in the state,

776-5577

FirstBank Center

776-5577

PIZZA SHUTTLE

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

THURSDAY Ladies Night

No Cover for the ladies

SALOON

50¢ Draws oug Tacos 4-9 p.m.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY DeLisa Dawn Jones with Route 66 Band

Memories Start Here. Portraits taken for...

Zeta Phi Beta Oct. 9

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

A free educational forum

Depression is as common as the common cold.

Like the common cold, depression can strike anyone at any time. But, unlike the common cold, depression can be cured.

We all experience depression over the course of a lifetime, and one fourth of us experience a depression that warrants treatment. Only a third of us who could benefit from professional help seek it. For those who don't, the symptoms may fade away but are likely to recur. The sooner depression is detected and treated, the more effective the results.

As part of National Mental Illness Awareness Week, The Menninger Clinic will present a free public Depression Education Forum that features

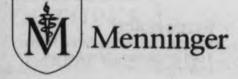

- A presentation on depression by the Menninger professional staff
- The 30-minute film Depression: The Storm Within
- A question and answer period coordinated by Menninger mental health professionals A voluntary, self-administered questionnaire, and

■ An opportunity, if you choose, to meet privately with a Menninger mental health professional. (This five-minute screening is designed to be informational and will provide free professional guidance, but it is not a substitute for a detailed, psychiatric evaluation.)

At Menninger we've been helping people with depression for more than 65 years. We invite you to learn more about this widely misunderstood and very treatable illness. This is an opportunity for you to help yourself or someone you know. No reservations are required.

Tuesday, October 13 7-9 pm

Seeley Conference Center 5800 SW Sixth Avenue Topeka, KS

From any city in Missouri or Kansas, please call for further information 1 800 351 9058, ext. 555.

To reach Menninger from westbound 1-70, exit I-70 at Wanamaker Road and turn north onto Wanamaker. Eastbound traffic on I-70 should exit onto I-470 East and exit again onto SW Huntoon St./Wanamaker Rd. Turn east onto Huntoon St. and then turn north onto Wanamaker.

Wanamaker will curve right onto Sixth Avenue. Turn left at the light, the main campus entrance.

Something To Believe In...

United Way of Riley County

Last Year... children were served by United Way Agencies!

Here are facts on just a couple of local agencies supported by your United Way of Riley County...

The United Way serves people of all kinds...yet, there is a special need and recognition for the children in our community. There are many locally supported agencies and programs that figure prominently in the well-being of our area youth.

Fact File: lig Brothers/Big Sisters

Phone: 776-9575
Contact Person: Gwyn Crumpler
Provides mature volunteers to serve as friends and role models for youths who need the attention and commitment of another adult. 421 B. Houston, Manhattan Phone: 776-9575

Local Agency Fact File: anhattan Youth Center

Community Building, 4th and Humboldt, Manhattan Phone: 539-7954

Contact Person: Dan Schirer

Provides youths with a supervised drop-in recreational center on Friday and Saturday evenings 6-10 p.m. Adults are available for counseling, turtoring and

"It Works"

United Way

of Riley County

Please make your pledge today. Ask your employer for a pledge card or call the United Way office at 776-3779.

Fresh Apple

Yee Samples!

~ From Peter's Orchard, Waverly, Mo.~

Jonathan Apples $10.99

3 All Pumpkins! Largest display

East Hwy. 24 by AmPride. West-K-18

Ed Irvine's Homegrown

Wichita TV station sponsors internship

Broadcast students to gain practical experience SHEDERA BAUSCH

KAKE-TV Channel 10 in Wichita will be the new internship site for K-State broadcasting students.

Tom Grimes, Ross Beach professor of journalism and mass communications, has been working to get more paid internships for radio-television students.

One of Grimes' responsibilities as Ross Beach professor is to enhance students' understanding of broadcast news sequence and viewer comprehension.

In cooperation with KAKE station manager Jan McDaniel, Grimes set up the year-round, paid internship. The internship will start in summer 1993, with one student working each semester. The intern, who will most likely be an undergraduate student, will work 40 hours a week.

According to Grimes the student will have a choice of three jobs on-air personality, news photographer, or news producer.

"This internship puts K-State in an elite category," Grimes said. "Very few schools have internships of this authority."

KAKE, an ABC-affiliated station, is the 60th largest market in the United States.

KAKE has a very long reputation of being a top news station," Grimes said.

Criteria for choosing an intern have not yet been determined. Grimes and McDaniel will be meeting in late October to discuss the particulars.

"We are very excited about the internship," McDaniel said.

The internship will help identify students who show promise in broadcasting, help the intern gain hands-on experience, and maybe even a job further down the road.

office 1310 Westloop · 776-6864

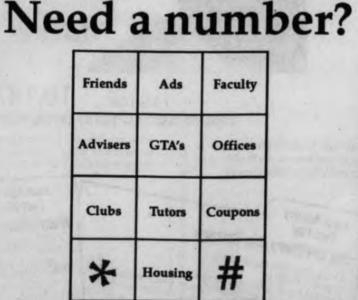

Specializing in Office Supplies and Furniture

desks · chairs · computer

furniture • portfolios • brief cases • organizers • desk accessories · paper products ## number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available

Campus Telephone Books will be on sale from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Oct. 7-9 at the Student Union.

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

Pupils pick Bush for president

WEEKLY READER

ELECTION POLL

Weekly Reader poll has been correct since 1956 ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIDDLETOWN, Conn.

Wednesday with good news for percent of the more than 600,000

students surveyed in the Weekly

Reader, drawing especially heavy support among those in kindergarten through fourth grade, said

The results came as something

Editor in Chief Sandra Maccarone.

of a surprise, given that three adult polls released Wednesday showed the Democratic challenger with

WASHINGTON — Ross Perot

told a Senate panel that the FBI warned him of an assassination plot against him by North Vietnam in 1970 involving Black Panther hitmen because of his efforts on behalf of POWs, according to Perot also said that in 1986,

then-Vice President Bush asked him to pay $4.2 million for a videotape purporting to show live

POWs and promised that the federal government would reimburse drew the promise to pay Perot back.

page transcript of Perot's deposition last July to the Senate Select Com-before the committee. But his deposition testimony, given July 1 in Dallas, was withheld until now,

GREAT

ATTENTION

ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from

6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum

MEMORIES

START HERE

Perot later testified in public mittee on POW-MIA Affairs.

Perot said a Bush aide later with-

The testimony was part of a 300-testimony released Wednesday.

Perot: FBI told him about plot

Bush was the choice of 55

President Bush.

double-digit leads.

606,696 of Weekly Reader's estimat 8 million student Forget the polls showing Bill Clinton ahead in the race for the White House. A student newspaper that has picked the winner in every election since 1956 weighed in

GEORGE BUSH BILL CLINTON

The Weekly Reader poll was not a random sample and does not have a margin of error.

The poll has accurately forecast the winner of the last nine presidential elections.

year-old weekly's perfect record. going to be perfect," she said.

But Maccarone stood by the 64-"We're going to assume it's still because Perot wanted his comments

legal counsel William Codinha asked Perot whether he had ever been warned of an assassination that," Perot said. "They basically told me that they had sent a team of people or sent representatives into Canada with people from the United States, and the FBI had

"And they just wanted me to

The group included members of

FBI spokeswoman Sharon Smith

infiltrated the group and had a list.

know that my family and I were on the radical Black Panthers organ-said Wednesday she knew nothing about such a warning from the agency to Perot. She said information that old would be accessible only through a formal, written

PURPLE

"As I recall, the FBI told me

In the deposition, committee screened for sensitive material.

"We're not going to apologize for

The Weekly Reader ballots, distributed in a special presidential issue Sept. 18, had photos of each candidate and asked students to mark their choice.

The poll was not a random sample and does not have a margin of error, Maccarone said.

Still, it has accurately forecast the winner of the last nine elections, beginning with Dwight D. Eisenhower's re-election.

This year, 606,696 of the student readers in grades kindergarten through 10th grade voted. Bush got 337,079 votes, or 55.56 percent, while Clinton trailed with national paper's estimated 8 million

237,441, or 39.14 percent. Independent candidate Ross Perot was out of the race when the poll was issued, but the "other" category drew votes from 32,176 students or 5.3 percent.

Mancinelli's Ristorante Italiano

OPEN 5-10 DAILY

All you can eat Spaghetti Dinner $3.95 with Meatballs Bread sticks Salad

This Week's Specials

★ Steak & Pasta 6oz. Sirloin Steak served with Breadsticks, Salad and your choice of pasta.

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd. Next to Clyde's in Manhattan

Westloop Shopping Center Near Hunam's Restaurant 776-6864

$1.00 Off any Typewriter/ Printer Ribbon

WHISKEY RIVER BA

12 years of performing together.

 Country, western swing, rockabilly, and rock and roll Opened for Garth Brooks and Travis Tritt, among others

October 9 & 10

Live Popular Country Bands from four-state region every weekend.

Alibi Country Club 1322 Grant Ave. Junction City

Laser Karaoke All Night Wednesday

TICKETS NOW ON SALE FOR LEEROY PARNELI WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 28 $1.00 LONGNECKS

Old Milwaukee and Old Milwaukee Light

$22.95

The Purple Pride Sale

Walkers, Joggers Tennis Players, Aerobic Dancers and Wildcat Fans, We Have Good News For You! Certain overseas factories that make name-brand shoes made these classic, 100% full-grain, glove-soft leather sports shoes in plain. By not being a walking advertisement to anybody, you have this rare chance to buy these shoes directly from the manufacturers and save up to 250%. Shoes come in Grade-A leather with purple trims and inlays. Other colors are also available. If you are a wildcat fan, we have the right color for you. All shoes come with removable nitrogen-filled insoles, heel counters, front lockers, velvet inlays, eva insertion, shock-proof mid-soles, front-and-back stitches. ventilation holes and much much more. They look beautiful, last long, stretch better, and shape into the contours for your feet as you wear them. In addition, we extend a one-full year, defect warranty Women's

Men's $24.95 was ($69.95)

SALES DATE: Friday, Oct. 9 & Sat., Oct. 10 We accept cash or check only SALES PLACE: Ramada Inn • The State Room 1641 Anderson, Manhattan

Movie falls short of novel's intrigue

Strong acting team helps drama, makes up for inconsistent, vague plot

ANDY WOODWARD

As usual, the book is better than the movie.

Many of the nuances and subtleties of international spying and Irish factional-sparring are lost in the transition from Tom Clancy's book to the screen version of "Patriot Games."

REVIEW

Consequently, the somewhat intricate plot, explained more

Great

Memories

Start

Triangle Oct. 9

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

1993 Royal Purple Yearbook

Curious about law school?

Pre-law Club presents

Washburn University

School of Law

Professor Allen Easley

and K-State graduates

in Law School

Oct. 12, 1992

Monday 7 p.m.

K-State Union

Room 212

532-6428

THE BEST

IN TEXAS

Larry L. King

Carol Hall

Peter Masterson

Music & Lyrics by

WHOREHOUSE

LITTLE

Here.

adequately in the book, may lose the movie viewer every once in a while. This, however, is where the drawbacks end.

Ford plays a more brooding, older and thoughtful Jack Ryan than did Alec Baldwin (Ryan in "The Hunt for Red October").

Anne Archer is beautiful as Catherine Ryan, Jack's wife. And James Earl Jones is sterling, once again, as Rear Adm. Greer. Cinema veteran Richard Harris plays the harried Irish Republican Army public relations man.

Noyal

Portraits

taken for...

"Patriot Games" shows at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 7 p.m. Sunday in the K-State Union Forum Hall. Admission is $1.75.

As is usual with Clancy, technology plays a large part in the plot.

One impressive scene involves watching the decimation of a guerrilla training camp in North Africa over a real-time satellite transmitting to CIA headquarters. The original ending of the film,

COMPUTERS

* COMPUTERS FOR STUDENTS

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE

* PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

* 1-800 SUPPORT SERVICE

CALL CHRIS CORNETT AT

776-4220 AFTER 3:00

* 1 YEAR WARRANTY

* STUDENT PRICES

which was more true to the book, was scrapped after test audiences said they didn't like the way the movie ended. A new ending was penned to please the masses.

Planning has already begun for the filming of "Clear and Present Danger," the next Clancy book to be brought to the screen.

Don't worry if you haven't seen The Hunt for Red October." There is nothing in the two plots that necessarily intermingles, and they are understood independently of each other.

One more note - it's a boy.

Makin'it great!

CALL THE LOCATION NEAREST YOU.

AGGIEVILLE 539-7666

•WESTLOOP 539-7447

•3RD & MORO 776-4334

Great Memories

Start

Here..

taken for...

apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

pointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

First International WESTLOOP CINEMA 6 SETH CHILDS 6 Friday at 7:20 & 9:5 PG-13 Friday at 7:20 & 9:50

Your time is limited!

Call Varden Studio at 532-6106 to schedule an appointment for yearbook pictures.

A-Oct. 9 8 - 9:45 a.m. ZФB — Oct. 9 Boyd Hall - Oct. 9 Alpha of Clovia - Oct. 12 Edwards Hall - Oct. 12 appointments can be made for any of the indicated times.

Ford Hall - Oct. 12 11:30 a.m. - 4:45 p.m.

LIVE MUSIC CALENDAR

FRIDAY, OCT. 9

DeLISA JONES & ROUTE 66 9:30 p.m. at Silverado Saloon

9:30 p.m. at Silverado Saloon

ROUTE 66

RAZOR CAGE

10 p.m. at Boulevard's 11th St.

SATURDAY, OCT. 10 DeLISA JONES &

RAZOR CAGE

10 p.m. at Boulevard's 11th St. Bar & Grill

COMING EVENTS

Friday, October 23, 8 p.m.*¶

Sneak behind the scenes of a gala opera for an evening of Marx Brothers-style shenanigans. The laughter is nonstop in this outrageous Tony Award-winning farce.

Tickets: $7-$18.

The Waverly Consort The Year 1492: Spanish Music in the Age of Columbus Saturday, October 31, 8 p.m.+

Ten brilliant singers and players trace the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim threads that form the fascinating-fabric of Spanish culture. An illustrated pre-concert lecture at 6:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, K-State Union, is free and open to the public. Tickets: $7.50-$15.

Sergio and Odair Assad Duo guitarists

Sunday, November 8, 3p.m.*

These Brazilian brothers dazzle audiences with their breathtaking virtuosity and stylistic perfection. Hear for yourself as they explore the classics and sample the wealth of South American music.

Tickets: $6-$12

Fiddler on the Roof

Sunday, November 22, 7:30 p.m.§ Songs like "If I Were a Rich Man," "Matchmaker" and "Sunrise, Sunset" makes this 1991 Tony Awardwinning Best Revival Musical "one of the most glowing creations in the history of musical theatre. (New York Times)

Tickets: $10-$25

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office on the Kansas State University campus, Manhattan.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays; from 1 p.m. before weekend matinees; from 3 p.m. before weekend evenings. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, and ITR (Fort Riley). Persons with disabilities call 532-6428. Transportation for Senior Citizens is available through Kansas State Bank. For information and reservations, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

1 Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

† A Mid-America Arts Alliance program.

§ Corporate support by Kansas Farm Bureau and Affiliated Companies All performances are supported by the K-State Fine Arts Fee.

2 MEDIUM PIZZAS

LOADED EXTRA CHEESE AND 3 TOPPINGS Plus FREE Crazy Bread

Little Caesars Pizza! Pizza! Two great pizzas! One low price: Always! Always! abil for a limited time only at participating stores. No coupon necessary, Free Crazy Bread" offer is a four-piece order ©1992 Little Coesor Enterprises, Inc.

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MENDAY MADNESS

2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

s unity with coupon at participating Little Conners. negligible of patitional cost. "Facilities with channe Expires 10/25/92

ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND!

Lavale Chamas

OCTOBER 15, 16, 17 8 PM McCAIN AUDITORIUM TICKETS: McCAIN BOX OFFICE 532-6428

Financier says charges against him are false

"I am innocent of any wrongdoing."

FRANK MORGAN

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - Federal charges of bid-rigging on office space sought by the government are utterly false, financier Frank Morgan said. He, along with three associates, was indicted by a grand jury Thursday.
"I have never, ever attempted to defraud the federal government or anyone else, and I intend to fight these allegations through every means our legal system affords me," Morgan said.

Morgan said there would be no additional comment from his uncle, Sherman Dreiseszun, Leawood, and developer I.I. Ozar, Kansas City, who were named as co-conspirators in the 10count indictment.

The fourth defendant, Larry Bridges, a developer from Overland Park, said the charges were completely false, and he accused the government of trying to destroy his personal and business life.

"I am innocent of any wrongdoing,"

The indictment names Morgan, 65, of Prairie Village, a banker and commercial real-estate developer; Ozar, 66, board chairman of Merchants Bank and a commercial real-estate developer; Bridges, 40, chief executive officer and president of Executive Hills Inc. and a real-estate developer; and Dreiseszun, 70, who has been involved with Morgan in banking and commercial real-estate

The defendants will be turning themselves in the next several weeks,' U.S. Attorney Jean Paul Bradshaw said.

He said his office had been in contact with attorneys for the four men prior to the indictment.

Each man was indicted on one count of conspiracy to defraud the government and three counts of major federal

Gorbachev evicted because of his refusal to testify

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

The eviction came days after Yeltsin criticized Gorbachev for refusing to testify in a trial on the fate of the Communist Party.

"They've sent the police and surrounded us as if the fund were a spy nest," Gorbachev said.

Even the storage and accounting rooms were occupied, he said, "as if they're going to find gold bullion and discover millions of dollars and caches of weapons there."

Gorbachev took over as head of the fund this year. Under his leadership, the fund continued to work out of the five-building complex in northern Moscow where its operations began.

The offices were formally Communist Party property and became government property with the collapse of the Communist regime. The complex was transferred to Gorbachev with Gorbachev will be allowed to rent about 3,300 square feet at a former Communist Party country estate the fund used for guest housing.

Yeltsin and Gorbachev apparently reached a truce after the Soviet Union collapsed and Gorbachev resigned as Soviet president. But they fell out again when Gorbachev began criticizing Yeltsin's policies.

Last week, the government denied Gorbachev permission to leave the country because he has refused to testify in the trial weighing the legality of Yeltsin's ban of the Communist Party.

"I would not say anything even if I were led there in handcuffs," Gorbachev said in August.

Reports that the travel ban violated human and civil rights were groundless, according to a release from Yeltsin's press service.

It quoted a Russian law stating that citizens are not to be allowed out of the country if they haven't fulfilled obligations to the state. The fund responded to the ban stating the first president of the U.S.S.R. had become the "first political refusenik of Russia." The term refusenik was applied to Soviet Jews denied permission by the Kremlin to emigrate.

The foundation was implying that the same repressive methods were being used against Gorbachev.

Although Gorbachev remains prominent in the West, he is unpopular and plays little role in his homeland.

He is blamed by hard-liners for the fall of the Soviet Union, by democrats for not pushing reforms hard and fast enough, and by millions for ethnic violence throughout the former republics.

Senate fails to impeach senator

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Other senators voiced opposition to impeachment because of the traditionally low representation in Senate for the college.

"The general intent of Student Senate, and the rules, is for the betterment of the students," Heather Riley, arts and sciences senator,

Senate also approved new appointments from the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration and Education.

Jennifer Arnett, sophomore in Spanish, international studies and political science; Mike Munson, senior in finance and management; and Andrew Tomb, junior in secondary education and political science, were appointed to be new

In other business, Steffany

Carrel, arts and sciences senator, reported that the second draft for the undergraduate academic minors bill was in Faculty Senate.

She said she is encouraged by the progress of the bill.

For so long, there has been something stopping it," Carrel said. "The light is at the end of the

She said she has set a goal for passing the bill.

"There is a good feeling this is going somewhere," she said. "My personal goal is to have this policy in place by the end of this year."

First readings of other bills were brought up by Senate, including a special allocation to the Student Governing Association to set up a computer link.

This allocation will allow SGA to use any computer in the office to access information.

When people want to party, shouldn't they know how to contact your band? Advertise in the Classifieds.

It's only $5 for 20 words.

ESSENTIALS

K-State student: Watch out for the soap at this University

After reading the Oct. 2 article, "Hopelessly in love ... ," I wanted to say I had the same situation with my girlfriend.

She had a bad emotional past due to family problems. After a series of bad relationships, she spent time in the hospital for mental

I have known her for five years, during two of which I have been a good friend. And for the last three years, we have had a close and loving relationship. We talk of marriage, and she will wait as long as it takes.

It took five years and lots of "blood, sweat and tears" to get to the point of total loyalty. trust, honor, etc. Even though I now hardly see her, we talk on the phone and write each other each week.

All it took, and takes, is time, patience and a lot of loving care.

What a great story! People — the best investment of time, patience and love that one can make. Donald Trump, eat your heart out.

DEAR CASSANDRA,

This is probably no big deal for most people, but it's one of my personal quirks. The idea of washing my hands in someone else's bodily excretions makes me want to cringe. Do I stand

I've noticed in virtually every men's bathroom across campus there is a bar of soap on every sink. Is the University too cheap to buy soap dispensers, or what?

When I wrestled in high school, we were told not to share soap for the fear of contracting a staph infection (which is acquired by coming into contact with someone else's urine or other bodily fluids).

I don't know how to make a statement on this without disgusting someone. So, I'll just say there should be health codes against this. (Maybe there already are.)

Numerous bacteria and sometimes deadly infectious toxins can be passed on by using the same soap, not to mention the outside chance of contracting a sexually transmitted disease. So, my question is why the University can't acquire 1920s technology and purchase soap dispensers? D.S., K-State student DEAR D.S.,

I think maybe you are going a little overboard. Your extreme reaction to using a "community" bar of soap is unnecessary, because the odds are with us where germs are concerned. Most of them are harmless, and the dangerous ones seldom live very long under ordinary conditions.

They soon die without the proper "food," sufficient moisture, the right temperature and air and sunlight. Soap and water kill or remove Extreme methods of precautions are, as a rule, useless, as well as unnecessary.

Germicides, sprays and disinfectants either (a) don't reach the germs they are intended for or provide protection for only the few minutes

1 NYC

Joseph 2 North Carolina

4 Obeys the

6 Actress

Hagen 7 "Lakme" compose 8 Pointer

they are actually in use, or (b) they are too weak to kill germs or so strong they injure the skin and other tissues. If acquiring a staph infection were truly the problem you suggest, then it would have reached epidemic proportions long ago.

I personally can't see that the danger justifies the expense.

However, I sympathize with your aversion and have a reasonable solution to the problem. Carry your own soap.

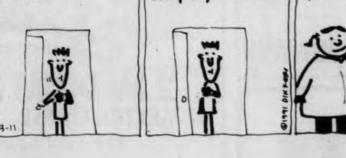

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

a reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" or "not for publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence. The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State.

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

we said we just To what do I owe Today Ruth and I He was eating an apple when we stopped by-no the pleasure of your went over to see particular reason. company?" he asked. came in. Steve.

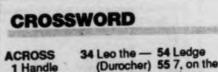

J.S., K-State student

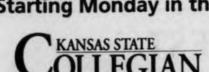

1 Handle 35 Wiretap 36 Shows up 37 Mortar-39 Posed 40 Moray 41 Believes

Olivia Newton-John hit 17 "Monopoly 18 Mortar's partner 19 Chill fields we 22 Freight train component 26 Less 29 Non-Gentile 30 Actress MacGraw 23 Tranquil Keep an eye out for a new cartoon! Starting Monday in the 24 Sunburn

42 Tend the

43 Lacrima

flyers, for short

46 Schlepp

47 Guitar's cousin

drop 44 Fast

hungry hogs

EUGENE SHEFFER

board

dangle

45 Continu-

ment 48 Models 50 "Star

Wars*

51 Mah-

characte

ous move

THE STRIP

DAVID SWEARINGEN

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BILL WATTERSON

I WONDER WHICH MUSCLES CONTROL THAT. I CAN SORT OF CLENCH MY BUTT, BUT I DON'T THINK IT COULD WIGGLE A TAIL HMM, HOW STRANGE!

remedy 25 Sartorial embarrassments 26 Succumb, a la the Wicked Witch? 27 Corn lily 28 Pinches 29 Moonshine containe 39 Play for

CRYPTOQUIP

VFWVJWZ JUW

45 Peninsula U Yesterday's Cryptoquip: AT THE SQUIRRELS' QUAINT HOTEL, I LOOKED AT THE NUTCRACKER

Today's Cryptoquip clue: A equals F

KEDZIE

HALL ROOM 103

LASSIFIEDS

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

1 DAY 20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less - $6.25 each word over 20 — $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less - $7.25

each word over 20 - $.30 per word 4 DAYS 20 words or less - $8

each word over 20 - $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less - $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

Cash, check, MasterCard or Vise are d. There is a $10 service charge sturned checks. We reserve the right to edit, reject or roperly classify any ad.

EADLINES For an extra charge, we'll put a readline above your ad to catch the DEADLINES

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad

ree found ads

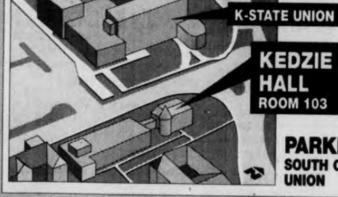

CANCELLATIONS If you sell your item before your ad as expired, we will refund you for the maining days.

You must call us before noon the day
You must call us before noon the day

CORRECTIONS

if you find an error in your ad, please call us. We accept responsibility only for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

OR WRITE
COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS K-State Colle Kedzie Hall 103

GET THE WORD

PLACE YOUR CLASSIFIED AD IN KEDZIE 103

OFFICE HOURS 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

PARKING

SOUTH OF THE

BULLETIN BOARD

010

"I AIN'T had so much fun since the hawgs ate my brother." Join in the fun at the Best Little Whorehouse in Texas. Oct. 15, 16, 17,

SCOLLEGE MONEY. Privat Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981 You're guaranteed min-imum of $250 worth of financial aid from source nnancial aid from sources provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholar-ship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

COME FLY with us, K-State Flying Club has five airplanes. For best prices call nipp, 539-6193 after

GAY AND Lesbian Nationa Coming Out Day, Oct. 11. Start the process, call BAGALS for help information 532-6927 IF ANYONE witnessed an accident involving a car and a pedestrian on May 13, 1992 at ap-proximately 2:30p.m.

the intersection of Man hattan and Lovers Lane PLEASE contact Lisa at 587-0562. KSU OFFICES may purchase KSU CAMPUS DIRECTORIES through the KSU Office Supplies Store in the Union.

MEN SEXUALLY Abused As Boys; A series of four presentations sponsored by Univers ity Counseling Services. The series will examine the physical and emotional impact of sexual abuse on men volved in adult recov ery. Open to men and women. Meets Tues. evenings, 6:30-7:30p.m. beginning Oct. 20, Lafene 231.

what, more can we do Did you forget? Pick our 1992 Royal Pur ple!today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait Union 209 or call 532 6106 for an appoint

KSU Ambassador Applications

are available at the Alumni Assn., 2323 Anderson Ave., 4th Floor (Ask for Jeanine Lake, 532-6260.)

Applications are due by 5 p.m., Friday, Oct. 23

Lost and Found

Found ads can be placed free for three

$100 REWARD- Please keep looking, lost white cat. Last seen 927 Can-dlewood Drive and Kim-ble Avenue. 537-0537 days; 539-3644 even-

A BLACK colored umbrella with a brown handle found in Dickens 122 after Stat 510 class lost and found counter

FOUND BALL Python at Kimball and College Ave. four feet long call Kelli at 539–5741.

FOUND KEYS, south of Jardine Apartments. Four keys total, one is to dorm room type door, 532-5798.

FOUND: A set of keys in Seaton computer lab Saturday, Oct. 3 at noon. Call 776-4722 to identify.

030 Personals

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a personal.

AGR'S- WALLY, Merc, Shane, Scott, Andy, Joe, Byron, Randy, Eric, and Lance: You had fun at Rouletter, but to-night will be even bet-ter. Rollin' in the hay with the Sigma's three, a better place- there couldn't be. So polish those boots, starch them jeans, and put that hat on your head, 'cause tonight is Rou-letter Revisited! Loveyour Sigma Dates.

KSU DRUMLINE/ Pitwe've busted our butts and now it's time. We just have one thing to say... "FOR UNLAWFUL CARNAL KNOWLEDGE KATZENJAMMER UN-RELENTING." Leave no doubt!! Rob, Jen and

KSU NOVICE Crews: The Kansas River waits for you. The novice rowers' big debut. You've got exactly what it takes. The other tean will eat our wakes! Go get 'em guys! Traci

TRI- SIGMA Barn Party Dates: Oct. 9th is finally here. We're all feelin' lucky to have you near. Hope your heart ain't busy tonight 'cause baby Sigmas party right. This will be the night the lights went out in Manhattan. We'll grab our boots and hats, and the fun won't be lackin'. Rumor has it, there'll be twosteppin', swing dancin' and a hay rack ride for a little romancin! We'll be rockin' the juke box all night long with Garth, Reba and Vince singin' a love song. So men get excited, don't miss the chance for Tri Sigmas wouldn't miss the dance. Forever an' ever, your Tri Sigma Gals.

050 Parties

Warm It Up! Turn up the heat at your next party with Wet'n Wild Hot Tubs •FREE Delivery •FREE Set Up ·CALL TODAY! 537-1821

watn Wild

HOUSING/

REAL ESTATE

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and four-bedrooms. Apartment great prices. 537-2919, 537-1666.

TWO- BEDROOM apart-ment located at 412 N. 11th St. $350. Most utilities paid. No pets. 539-4374.

CLOSE TO campus very nice, one, two, three and fourbedrooms. Apartment plexes and houses with great prices 537-2919, 537-1666.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brit-tnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

LARGE BEDROOM in three-bedroom apart-ment complex. For a serious male student phone 537-7087, $185.

NICE STUDIO apartment 1019 Houston. Near City Park. Utilities paid, except water. $295, 1-800-593-0519. Open this

ONE-BEDROOM APART MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395 includes water, trash 776-3804. and pest control. Cal

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE-two-bedroom. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur-roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath, 539–4087.

TWO-BEDROOM $300 per month, landlord pays heat, 776-8628.

TWO ROOMS available in town home for now or next semester. Very nice. Call 539-6684.

AVAILABLE NOW four bedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

FURNISHED OR unfur nished mobile homes. Quiet surroundings for serious students. Cam-pus one mile. Nine month lease available. No pets. 539-4087.

145 Roomma

FEMALE NEEDED to share room in two-bedroom apartment. $180 deposit and rent. All bills and cable included. Great roommates! Available Nov. 1, 537-2334.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted to share four-bed-room house two and one-half blocks from campus. $125 plus utili-ties 776–3815.

MALE ROOMMATE wanted for furnished trailer. Full- sized bedroom. $175/ month. 587-0409.

ONE OR two male room-mate(s) three blocks from campus, trash/ water paid, garage available, laundry facili-ties, reasonable. 315 Denison 776-2100

ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large two-bedroom. Located at

> THE WORD OUT.

1825 College Heights. Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more information

150

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM duplex $260/ month. Sublease Nov.- Dec. with option for one year lease beginning Jan. Water and trash paid. 539-3238. QUIET, CLEAN, large twobedroom/ one bath sapartment, central air, $425/ month plus utilities. January- August.

WANTED FEMALE to sublease one bedroom of rent plus half utilities and deposit. Available December 1. For information call 776-5608

SERVICE DIRECTORY

210 Typing

$10 AND up: professional resumes, cover letters, term papers, etc. Free editing, laser printing. 25 plus years experi-ence. 539-5998 after

5p.m. $1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ re sume. Laser printer. Also specializing in ta-bles, equations, and overheads. Profes sional results guar-anteed. Please call

Sandy 539-3229. let me do the typing. Reports, charts studying graphs, resumes and more. Overnight re sults when necessary Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after

A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double spaced. Please call Melia 776-1534:

UTILIZE MY B.S. in Eng lish/ Speech for papers editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 dou ble; letter quality. Cal Janice 537–2203.

Musicians/DJs

FOR SALE Washburn Flattop six-string, Ovation 12, 532-5145.

GUITAR LESSONS. Ex perienced teacher. All styles 776–0685.

250 Automo

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manha n, Kansas. 537-5049. 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

310

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to appare the collegiant of the collegian cannot be considered to appare the collegiant cannot be considered to appare the colle proach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE

Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190. $$$$, FREE travel and re-sume experience!! Individuals and studen to promote Spring Break, call the nation's leader. Inter-Campus Programs 1-800-327-

HELP WANTED: roof truss manufacturer 5107 Murray Road, 776-5081

MAILROOM/ DUPLICAT-ING Center work study student needed. Duties include: campus deliv ery route, preparation and handling of mail and operation of duplicating equipment. Some heavy lifting is Some heavy lifting is required. Must have a valid driver's license. Apply to Rob Nixon, Duplicating Center, 13

You'll never know unless you try...advertising. OLLEGIAN

GET

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

College Court Bldg. 532-5988

NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experience, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 openings. Evening shifts and other hours available No experience, no sel ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are an equal opportunity employer and we do not discriminate on the basis of race, religion color, sex, age, national origin or disability PART-TIME LABORER for local home builder Some construction ex between 8:30 11:30a.m. Mon.- Fri. 539-6640.

SCREEN PRINTER 30- 40 hours per week. Previous experience preferred. Compute knowledge helpful. Must be dependable and have an eye for de-tail. Bring resume to Aggie Ski and Sport 1214 Moro.

330 Business Opportunities

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisement classification. Readers are advised to approach any such employment opportunity with reasonable caution. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Burgers 501 SE ness Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454

$200- $500 weekly. Assemble products at home. Easyl No selling. You're paid di rect. Fully guaranteed Free into tion—24 hour hotline. tion-24 hou 801-379-2900

Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny col-lege T-shirts and make obligation. A risk-free program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/ larger quantities available Call (800) 733-3265. weight and make money. 100 percent

532-6555

532-7309

40 PEOPLE to lose

PLOYMENT- Make money teaching Eng-lish abroad. Japan and Taiwan, Make $2,000 $4,000+ per month. Many provide room and board plus other benefits! Financially and culturally reward-ing! For International Employment program and application, call the International Employment Group: (206) 632-1146 extension J5768.

MAKE $1000 stuffing envelopes. Send self addressed stamped en-velope to J. C. Inc., P.O. Box 864, Manhattan, KS 66502-0008

NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now! No will power needed, brand new, just patent ed 100 percent natural 100 percent guaranteed. Doctor rec-ommended. Call

1-(800)874-7697. OVERSEAS JOBS. $900-2000 month Summer, year round, All Coun-tries, All fields. Free in-formation. Write IJC, PO Box 52-KS02 C na Del Mar, CA 92625

MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy

NEED CASH? Sell your denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans, Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776-7472.

ALMOST NEW diamond $330, now $180, or best offer. Call 537-0382, leave message. COMPACT DISCS $7 and under. Call Kevin at 776-1651.

COMPUTER PAPER: one cent per sheet. Ten per-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville. 539–1413.

600

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

$1500 or best offer, 776-8701. LEATHER: JACKETS, port-folios, fanny packs, carry-ons, purses, skirts and dresses. Limited quantities. Clearance prices. Call 776-0477.

MILITARY LC-1 medium 1981 HONDA Accord four backpacks with frames good to excellent con-dition, $40. 539-3947, ask for Mike.

BIG THREE foot by five foot metal office desk Six drawers with one file drawer. Reasonable! Call Jon 776-3829. MUST SELL this week Queenbed (mattress and boxsprings) file cabinet, table, lamp, desk. 537-1890.

IBM ROLE Playing Games for sale. Ultima Un-derworld, Might and Magic Clouds of Xeen VGA, sound, speech $40 each. 776-3708.

QUALITY PRINTER, Epson LX-810 new. Comes with cable adapter. For more information call 776-7388 TRS-80, DUAL disk drives, printer, modem phone, tape backup. Call Kevin at 537-4090, or leave 450 Pets and Supplies

55 GALLON, oceanic stand, lights, hood, UG, pow-erheads, trickle, back-side filter. And other supplies. 776-7388.

BEAGLE- AKC registered. for Matt 539-1163. BLUE-CROWNED CON

URES, hand raised and completely tame. $175 call 776-1183 after 5. BALL PYTHON for sale, two feet long, $110, or best offer. Includes: Aquar-ium, rocks for bottom, and fid. Call 532-2830 ask for Aaron. HELPI NEED new home. 10 weeks old, friendly very lovable, red chow Must sell, 537-0650. TWO KITTENS- free to good home(s), already have first shots and dewormer. Eight weeks old. Call 1-494-8458, can leave message

460 Stereo

KENWOOD, KGC- 4030 car stereo equalizer/ampli-fier. 7- band graphic equalizer with built- in amplifier, 40- watts per channel. Good condi-tion and works perfect-ly. Must sell! $100, price negotiable. Call 776-4950 and ask for

TRANS-PORTATION

510 1976 GRAND Prix, auto

power/ tilt steering.

1978 CHEVETTE 87,000 miles reliable transpor-tation, 30 miles per gal-ion. $700 or best offer evenings 532–3041.

1979 CAMARO, V-8, power steering. New brakes, new exhaust system, new carpet, no rust 1980 MONTE Carlo, V8, stereo, tinted windows, navy blue, power ster-ring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch.

good, air condition, au tomatic, $700. Call Tom, 539-8897. Please leave message. CHEAPI FBI/ U.S. seized 1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50, 1987 Mercedes

$100, 1965 Mustang $50. Choose from thousands starting $25. Free information 24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC. FOR SALE 1987 Dodge

Charger, five-speed, AM/FM cassette, air condition, $3600, 58K 776-0774. 520

TECHNIUM 440 Road Bike, commuting and tour ing. Reasonable price 537-0186 after 6p.m.

WHITE CANNONDALE

SR400. Excellent condi-tion. $400. Price negotiable, 537-7982.

1988 RED/ Honda CBR 600

Excellent condition.

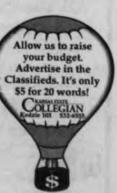

TRAVEL/ TRIPS

610 Tour Package LONDON. PARIS. Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5. Room for a few more Contact Diane Dollar 532-6605 or 539-8401 **Xmas Break** San Juan Students we can save you $200 on your round trip airfare from Kansas City. Call Kan-sas State Travel 537-2451 before it's to late.

400 300 000 200 100 BULLETIN HOUSING SERVICE EMPLOY-OPEN TRANS-BOARD REAL DIRECT-MENT/ MARKET PORTATION

ORY

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

CAREERS

TIPS FOR WRITING A CLASSIFIED AD

ESTATE

Always put what item or service you are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations.

Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN SERSONALS.

Harmony among races possible, speaker says

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3 special efforts towards accommodating them. "They did not make special efforts toward the Latinos, however," Stull said.

"And that was because the authorities thought that the Latinos had access to present resources, whereas the Vietnamese and Laotians did not."

Benson, who conducted her part of the project on several Laotian and Vietnamese families, said she was amazed by the resilience of human nature.

"They brought with them many creative solutions to solve the problems of the United States," Benson said.

"And they showed that the resources that people possess are not only material ones.

Benson said she was particularly impressed by the strong ties in the extended Laotian families.

"They would take them in," Benson said, referring to Laotian and Vietnamese immigrants who would house and clothe new arrivals if they needed time to settle "The only people who were homeless were the Anglo-

> Come and See Our Flowers in the K-STATE UNION BOOKSTORE

$200 EACH Roses $100 EACH Carnations Mixed Cut Flower Bunches

KISTNER'S FLOWERS AND GREENHOUSE

Highway 177 South 776-7989 776-7044

YOUR LOWDOWN AND DIRTY COWBOY BOOTS!

BRING YOUR OLD BOOTS TO OUR BOOT SHINE & YOU CAN WIN A NEW PAIR!

2 CONVENIENT LOCATIONS: K-STATE UNION COURTYARD & WEBER HALL FRONT LAWN sponsored by: AG ED CLUB

Don't miss Clyde's Sunday

BREAKFAST BUFFET

for a satisfying taste treat that won't bust you wallets.

All-You-Can-Eat For Only $4.95

Buffet: 9:30 a.m. till 1 p.m. Or order one of our famous gourmet omelets or skillet breakfasts.

537-8443 2304 Stagg Hill Rd.

Located across from the Holiday Inn-Holidome

Americans," Benson said. "There are really lots of things we could learn from the new immigrants." Benson said she has worked in

Although her personal experience was in a different part of Asia, she said she felt similarly enriched by this project.

"Garden City is a good example of what is happening in America in the late 20th century," Stull said after the presentation.

"It is a good example of how people can live together peacefully and pursue the American Dream."

- Live from-Wichita Under the Gun Fri. & Sat. Night Grille

Hog Roast Sat. 6-9 $6.50 all you can eat Bar Hrs. 11 a.m.-2 a.m.

& Saloon

2315 Tuttle Creek

Senators questioned about absences from meetings

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Ann Smit, director of speech pathology and audiology, said Keiser announced at a Faculty Senate meeting that the students were not being represented.

Student Body President Jackie McClaskey said she was not aware

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

member of the Jolly Jayhawker 4-H Club and was a queen candidate at Shippy is survived by her arents, John and Nora Shippy, of Woodbine; a sister, Charlotte

Barten, of Cheney; and three brothers: Kevin Shippy, of the Central Kansas Free Fair.

Services today in Woodbine

students were not being represented by the students, faculty or dean.

"L did not find out until Sept. 2," McClaskey said. "From my knowledge, I heard the decisions were not that close as to where two votes would have made a difference. But having a voice

Manhattan; Darrell Shippy, of

Hays; and Brian Shippy, of

The funeral service will be at 2

Burial will be at Lions Creek

p.m. today at the Woodbine

Methodist Church in Woodbine.

Southern Baptist Cemetery.

SATURDAY.

OCT. 10

9 p.m.

Woodbine.

LOOKING FOR A CHANGE OF PACE!?!

Try: DEVON ANDERSON

$2.50 PITCHERS

would have broadened the issues." Greg Brown, graduate student in physics, did attend the meetings.

"Being the only student was at the forefront of my mind at all times," Brown said. "The faculty and committee were good about keeping the students in their minds.

"I feel that if the students would have been there, they would have been heard, and the committee would have been receptive," Rawlings said. "If the committee members were so concerned about the students, they should have found someone else."

Watch for the Cat Coupon Clipper Every Monday in the

> GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

Boiled Shrimp Buffet starts at 5:00

$4.00 All you can eat with beverage purchase GIVE BLOOD! DELTA TAU DELTA BLOOD MOBILE

619 N. 12th Street; Aggieville

537-2100

GREAT ACOUSTIC

MUSIC!

Now Going On...

Suggested Dept. Store Retail Prices Liquidation Clothing Sale!

Men's, Women's, & Children's Famous Name Brand Clothing Housewares

Anne Klein • Liz Claiborne • Guess • Ralph Lauren • Esprit Coach • Oshkosh • Levi • Bugle Boy and more...

Truckloads of merchandise from East & West Coast Major Dept. Stores will be on sale at our special sale location: Downtown Manhattan, 109 Poyntz Avenue

ADDITIONAL 10% OFF

Men's Dress Shirts and

Women's Purses (except Coach, Fendi, and Dooney & Burke)

Good only Saturday through Monday, Oct. 10-12 Must present coupon.

Hours: M-F 9:30 a.m.-9 p.m. Sat. 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Sun. Noon-5 p.m.

ylvester

Downtown Manhattan 409 Poyntz Avenue

Fashion Outlet

Church Directory

First Congregational Church

Sunday School: 9:30

Worship: 10:45

Poyntz and Juliette

Unitarian-Universalist Fellowship of Manhattan

776-1515

481 Zeandale Rd. (Hwy. 18) *An old church with a liberal and open-minded tradition." Sunday School and Regular Services at 10:45 a.m.

FOR INFORMATION CALL 539-9369 or 537-9816

Morning Worship 8:30 & 10:45

Collegiate Bible Study &

Students Welcome!

Evangelical

Free Church

of Manhattan

MCC Chapel S.W. corner 14th & Anderson

Steve Ratliff, Pastor

Sunday School 9:30 a.m.

Worship 11 a.m.

776-2086

Nursery Provided

2901 Dickens

GRACE BAPTIST CHURCH Manhattan Seventh-day

International Bible Study Sun. 9:30 a.m. Sabbath School Sunday Evening Fellowship 9:30 a.m. Sat. or Caring Cells 6 p.m. Worship Service 11 a.m. Sat. Family Night Wed. 7 p.m.

600 Laramie 776-0424 (at 6th St.)

2800 Claffin 8:30 & 11 a.m. Worship

9:45 a.m. Sunday School 6:30 p.m. Sun. Eve. Service

776-5440

Church of Christ Campus Ministry Bible Study 9:30 a.m. Sunday Worship 10:30 a.m. Evening Service 6 p.m. 2510 Dickens Ave. 539-6581

Welcome Back, Students Worship 10 a.m. Sunday School 9 a.m. 1st, 3rd, & 5th Sundays

Sunday Evening Worship 6 p.m. CARE CELLS (Small Groups) 6 p.m. 2nd & 4th Sundays 3001 Ft. Riley Blvd. 537-7173 Manhattan Mennonite

Fellowship

Church School 9:30 a.m. Worship 10:45 a.m. St. Isidore's Catholic Student Center

Masses: Sat. 5 p.m. Sun. 9:30, 11 a.m. & 5 p.m. LUTHERAN Craig Sommer,

MINISTRY 539-4451 SUNDAY WORSHIP

11 a.m. Danforth Chape (on campus behind McCain Aud.

Rev. Donald Longbottom

Adventist Church

776-5533

UNIVERSITY CHRISTIAN

Handicapped Accessible

CRESTVIEW

English Worship 10:30 a.m./6:30 p.m. Sunday School 9:15 a.m. Chinese Worship 1 p.m. 4761 Tuttle Creek Blvd.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

(3 miles north of Kimball Ave.)

776-3798

MEETING Visitors welcome Silent Worship 10 a.m.

Discussion 11 a.m. 1801 Anderson Ave. (Baptist Christian Center) For more information call 539-2978 or 539-2636.

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Sunday School 9:40 a.m. (for all ages) 537-8532 10th & Poyntz

Christian Science Church 511 Westview Drive

10 a.m. Morning Service 10 a.m. Sunday School Wednesday 7:30 p.m. Testimony Meeting Reading Room-105 N. 4th EVERYONE WELCOME Mon. Noon-2; Tues., Thurs. 11-1; Wed., Fri. 1-3 776-9146

Campus Pastor. Rev. Robert Schaedel Sat. Worship 6 p.m.

Sun. 8 and 10:45 a.m. Bible Class Sunday 9:30 a.m. 330 N. Sunset Ave.....539-2604 FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

ST. LUKE

LUTHERAN CHURCH

(LCMS)

Lutheran Student Fellowship

(LSF)

CHURCH 801 Leavenworth 537-0518

Worship 8:30 & 11 a.m. Church School 9:30 a.m. Weekday Programs for Youth Nursery Available

> Pastor Rev. Warren Rutledge

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

8:45 a.m. Communion (first Sunday of the month) 9:45 a.m. Church School 8:45 & 11 a.m. Worship Nursery provided for all services Omer G. Tittle, Pastor

612 Poyntz 776-882

First Bap list Church

Sunday Worship 11 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m.

2121 Blue Hills Rd. 539-8691

The Episcopal Church Welcomes You.

Saint Paul's Episcopal Church and Saint Francis Episcopal Fellowship at KSU (Worldwide Anglican Communion)

Sixth & Poyntz 776-9427

- Sunday Services -8 A.M. Holy Eucharist Rite I 9:30 A.M. Christian Education Class (for all ages) 10:30 A.M. Choral Eucharist Rite II (Nursery available at 10:30 service)

- Tuesday Services -10:00 P.M. Informal Holy Eucharist KSU Danforth Chapel

- Wednesday Services -12:15 P.M. Holy Eucharist

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH Worship 8:30 a.m. and 10:55 a.m. Church School 9:45 a.m. Disciples of Christ

Handicap Accessibl 115 Courthouse Plaza 776-879

KANSAS STATE

DUCH!

OCTOBER 12, 1992

KANSAS STATE UNIVERSITY, MANHATTAN, KANSAS 66506

VOLUME 99, NUMBER 35

Candidates go head to head

DEBATE AT A GLANCE

Here is a quick look at the candidates' answers at the presidential debate as compiled by the Associated Press.

WHAT DISTINGUISHES EACH CANDIDATE Bush said his experience distinguished him from his opponents. Clinton said he represented the best hope for change, and Perot cited his independence from the political parties and special interest groups.

JOBS

Bush said he would assign James Baker to do for domestic policy "what he's done in foreign affairs," through his job retraining program and his America 2000 education program. Perot said he would improve the nation's industrial base and move to 21st-century capitalism." Clinton pushed his plan to move the nation from a defense to a domestic economy through his jobs and health-care reform programs.

Clinton pushed his tax plan, which he said would raise taxes on families with incomes over $200,000 and give "modest" tax relief to middle-class families. Income from those taxes would be used for economic growth. Bush likened Clinton's plan to traditional Democratic "tax-and-spend" policies and urged controlling the growth of mandatory spending without raising taxes. Perot said the country would have to endure a period of "shared sacrifice."

Bush, Clinton spar while Perot offers occasional levity

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. LOUIS - Bill Clinton and President Bush clashed over character and the economy Sunday night in a three-way debate with Ross Perot.

"I was opposed to the war, but I love my country," Clinton said in reply to Bush's criticism of his anti-war activities in the

From taxes to crime to AIDS to foreign policy, the three men grappling for the White House outlined differing visions in a 90-minute, nationally televised debate.

In his first major campaign appearance, Perot was flamboyant, providing a series of one-liners and offering himself as an outsider who can shake up the system.

Clinton said he was neither a trickle-down Republican nor a "tax-and-spend" Democrat. He said he represents hope for real change in a country beset by economic woes. To Bush, he said: "For 12 years you've had it your way, you've had your chance, and it didn't work."

Bush cast himself as the experienced hand who can be trusted in the Oval Office on all issues or crises.

Perot said the first priority should be to rebuild the nation's job base and offered his experience as a business leader.

There were no obvious gaffes or breakthroughs in the debate played out before an audience estimated at 70 million. Bush bluntly criticized Clinton in the debate's opening moments for anti-war activities while studying overseas at Oxford University during the Vietnam War. Clinton responded to Bush in strong, personal remarks.

"When Joe McCarthy went around this country attacking people's patriotism, he was wrong," Clinton said. "Your father (Sen. Prescott Bush) was right to stand up to Joe McCarthy.

There were relatively few light moments during the evening, a reflection of the political stakes involved. Perot provided one when he said, "We've got to collect the taxes" to solve the nation's problems. "If there's a fairer way, I'm all ears," said the man whose ears have been immortalized by newspaper cartoonists.

Political scientist Tom Cronin at Colorado College predicted a "bounce (in support) for Perot ... some bounce for Clinton, and no gain for Bush."

Privately, several Bush aides conceded that the president had not helped himself.

On taxes, Clinton said his economic proposals would shield all households with income of less than $200,000 from tax increases and restore some fairness to the tax code.

"We've got to have no more trickle down," he said, claiming that under the Republicans, those with incomes of $52,000 and less saw their incomes go down and taxes go up. Bush said, "You end up socking it to the working man."

Perot said his own economic plan included a period for

K-State rates the debate

ASSOCIATED PRESS

ST. LOUIS - Bill Clinton looked presidential and prepared, while President Bush appeared tense and shot down some of his own arguments Sunday night, last year's national college debate champions said.

Independent Ross Perot got laughter but little respect from members of K-State's team, which analyzed this election's first debate for The Associated Press.

Clinton got all A's "because he had the most to lose and he didn't lose it," said Doug Hennessee, graduate student in

All said they support Clinton and felt reinforced in that decision after the debate.

Bush got no better than a B-minus because, while he stressed his foreign-policy achievements, he inadvertently made the case for turning White House attention to the economy, team members said.

'Clinton was far better at backing up what he wanted to do on the economy with facts," said Coach Susan Stanfield.

Perot, who got not better than a B-minus, probably helped Clinton by pointing to alleged Bush administration shortcomings and dismissing Clinton's anti-war activities, team members said.

String breeze

Rick Smith, junior in graphic design, and Jennifer Montgomery, sophomore in journalism and political science, enjoy a cool, yet sunny, October Saturday together flying a kite at the L.P. Washburn Recreational Area.

RACIAL/ETHNIC HARMONY WEEK

Walk stresses harmony

LIANA RIESINGER

"Red, yellow, black, brown and white - if we work together, we'll win the fight!" was the chant echoing across campus Friday night. Participants in the Harmony Walk marched to carry their message of unity. Although Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week officially ended Friday, many participants stressed that the Harmony Walk symbolizes the continuation of harmony among all.

'Racial/ethnic harmony should be a daily effort, and it will only continue if we realize this," said Shirlyn Henry Brown, student activities assistant for

J. KYLE WYATT/Collegian

Students and faculty walk up Manhattan Avenue Friday night during the Harmony Walk that capped off Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week. Student Governing Association.

'It shouldn't die out after two weeks, continue for a while, and die out again. Harmony should be continual," Brown

Marchers gathered at the Vietnam Veterans Memorial to listen to United Black Voices gospel choir before

See HARMONY Page 12

REDEFINING K-STATE ACADEMICS

Political science facing cuts Sciences Role and Aspiration

Master of Public Administration program could be eliminated

JANET SATTERLEE

The Department of Political Science is the latest to face possible program cutbacks.

The Arts and Sciences College Core Group has recommended eliminating the Master of Public Administration program.

with Dean Peter Nicholls to discuss the program's centrality to the mission of the college. They also discussed the low

Political science faculty met research productivity of faculty within the political science department.

According to the Sept. 25 draft of the College of Arts and

Report, "The number of faculty in the department engaged in sustained scholarly activity is small, (and) the level of research productivity and extramural funding is insufficient to support two quality master's programs."

In response, the Department of Political Science published a dissenting report.

See PLANS Page 12

NEWS DIGEST

TRAIN NEW LISKEARD, Ontario (AP) — At least DERAILS, 40 people were injured, INJURES one seriously, when a train

40 Sunday and six cars derailed, police said.

Hillary Clinton will CLINTON visit the University of CLINTON Kansas Tuesday. At 2 COMING p.m. in front of the Campanile, the presi-TO KU dential nominee's wife will speak about voting.

FOLLOW UP

Companies like student quality

Despite cutbacks. campus interviews show slight increase

JULIE WHITE

Companies hiring K-State students said they continue to interview here because they are happy with the quality of applicants from K-State.

Jim Akin, director of the Career Planning and Placement Center, said the job market for prospective employees is much more competitive than it was five years

But Akin said employers like to hire at K-State.

"We feel very fortunate that many of the companies continue to come here," Akin said. "I think that shows the quality of our students and faculty at K-State."

Compared to other universities, K-State is successful in placing graduates in jobs, he said.

This fall, interviews on campus have taken a slight upturn, Akin said, indicating there are more jobs available this year than at this time last year.

Akin said companies have cut back on the number of institutions at which they interview. Employers who used to interview at 25 universities now only visit four to seven campuses a year.

name is William Shippy.

The Collegian regrets the error.

POSTMASTER'S NOTICE

John Riley, assistant director of academic programs in the College of Agriculture, said the college is optimistic about opportunities for its graduates.

Riley said several large companies that interview at K-State are selective about which universities they go. They also have a limited number of positions to fill,

"The fact that these companies are coming back to K-State means we are giving them what they want," Riley said.

Akin said employers are looking for good, quality people at a minimum level of education. The trend is to hire graduates at the bachelor's-degree level and train them on the job.

Graduates with technical and professional skills are more highly demanded, Akin said.

Michael Perl, director of student and professional services in the College of Education, said education graduates are getting jobs, but with difficulty.

Many of the jobs are in Texas, California, Florida, New Mexico and in inner-city areas, Perl said. Some graduates are not willing to move to these areas or are unable to because of commitments in another part of the country.

"Nearly every one of our students able to go where the jobs are is able to get a job," Perl said.

In the Oct. 9 Collegian obituary of former student Patricia Shippy, her father was incorrectly identified as John Shippy. His

The Kansas State Collegian (USPS 291 020), a student newspaper at Kansas State University, is published by Student Publications Inc., Kedzie Hall 103, Manhattan, Kan., 66506. The Collegian is published weekdays during the school year and once a week through the summer. Second class postage is paid at Manhattan, Kan., 66502.

News contributions will be accepted by telephone, (913) 532-6556, or at the Collegian new Inquiries concerning local, national and classified display advertising shoeld be directed to (913) 532-6555.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Kansas State Collegian, Circulation desk, Kedzie 103,

POLICE REPORTS

K-STATE POLICE.

These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the KSU Police Department. Because of incomplete information in the log, not all campus

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9

At 2:08 p.m., Spence Wallace, 1516 locked storage room at Moore Hall. N. Manhattan Ave., reported a hit-and-At 2:50 p.m., Jennifer Birch, 1500 run accident in Lot A-29. Damage was Manhattan Ave., reported the theft of a student parking permit. Loss was

At 2:50 p.m., an unknown subject used a lock-picking device to enter a

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10

At 9:09 a.m., suspicious activity was reported around Dickens Hall. At 6:54 p.m., an ambulance was called to Derby Food Center for an individual who cut his or her hand or #### subjects damaged a bush on the west side of College Court. Loss was $50.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 11

At 12:45 a.m., a skunk was reported seen at Boyd Hall.

At 1:02 a.m., two unknown RILEY COUNTY POLICE These reports are taken directly from the daily log of the Riley County

Police Department. Because of space constraints, not all crimes appearing in the log are published. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 10

At 1:30 a.m., Craig Mancin, 1518

College Ave., E-1, was hit by a car driven by Elton Darrah Jr., 3107 Heritage Ridge, No. 52. Mancin was taken to the Saint Mary Hospital. At 8:25 p.m., Corey Henry and Stanley Haug, 821 Vattler St., reported an aggravated burglary. Taken were a cordless phone, a television, five Nintendo games, a gold ring and a bracelet. Loss was $731.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 11

At 2 a.m., Marvin Lee McCormick, 415 N. 17th St., No. 3, was issued a notice to appear for urinating in

At 2:11 a.m., Zdenek Musil, 2109 Spain Drive, was arrested for DUI. Bond was set at $500.

At 9:38 a.m., Carlos O'Kelly's, Town Center Mall, reported the theft

At 10:54 a.m., Reginold Coolter, 125 Messenger St., No. 7, reported a burglary. Taken was a television and a VCR. Loss was $650.

At 5:14 p.m., Robert Ritzert, 824 S. Rosencutter Road, was issued a notice to appear for battery.

At 2:20 a.m., Maurice Brown, 2017 Beck St., was arrested for domestic battery and released on $300 bond.

At 2:26 a.m., Robert Godottle, HHC 121 Sig BN, Fort Riley, was arrested for aggravated battery. Bond was set

POLICE REPORTS

■ Applications for cancer research awards from the Center for Basic Cancer Research are available from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Ackert 234. Deadline is Dec. 4.

■ KSU student ambassador applications are available at the KSU Alumni Association office, fourth floor. They are due Oct. 23.

■ Help an international student with spoken English and learn firsthand about a different culture. Contact Motaz Hourani, 532-6448. ■ University Activities Board organization registration renewal forms are

■ Applications for Community Service Program international summer teams are available in Eisenhower 14A. Spanish required.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12

■ Pre-Law Club will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. in Union 212.

■ Pi Sigma Epsilon will meet at 5:30 p.m. in Calvin 211.

■ Students for Disability Awareness will meet at 3:30 p.m. in Holton 207. Topics will be the Rec Complex and ADA issues.

■ Marketing Club will sponsor "Payless Shoe Source" at 7 p.m. in Union Little Theatre.

■ Aikido Club will meet from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at 1108 Laramie St.

■ Engineering Student Council will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Durland 173.

■ Collegiate FFA will meet at 8 p.m. in Union 208. Pictures will follow.

■ Chimes will meet at 9 p.m. in McCain 324. Pictures will be taken. Wear uniforms.

■ Career Planning and Placement will sponsor a workshop on filling out government application forms from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. in Union 207. ■ Star Trek Watchers will meet 9 p.m. in the ECM building.

■ College Republicans will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Union 213. Former Gov. Bill Avery will speak.

■ The Graduate School has scheduled the final oral defense of the doctoral dissertation of Sungae Hong for 1:30 p.m. in Seaton 64. Topic will be "A Data Base for Determining the Effect of Walking on Clothing

■ Just Guys will meet at 7:05 p.m. in Union 207.

■ NTSA will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in Union Stateroom 3.

■ American Indian Science and Engineering Society will meet at 6:30 p.m. in Union 204

■ Human Ecology Council will meet at 6 p.m. in Justin 115.

DID WE MAKE A MISTAKE?

We do not claim to be perfect, so help us out. If you find an inaccuracy in the paper, give us a call or drop by the office so we can make a correction. 532-6556 • KEDZIE 116

WEATHER CORRECTION

TODAY'S FORECAST

Partly cloudy and cooler. High in the upper 60s. Northeast wind 10 to 15 mph. Tonight, partly cloudy. Low around 40.

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

Mostly sunny, windy and warmer. High around 75.

EXTENDED FORECAST

Wednesday, dry and mild. Lows 45 to 50. Highs in the 70s to lower 80s. Thursday, dry but turning colder. Friday, a chance of showers. Colder with lows in the 40s. Highs in the mid-50s to lower 60s.

YESTERDAY'S HIGHS AND LOWS

WORLD TEMPERATURES

TEMPS	SKY	Nairobi	77/54	cloudy
82/75	cloudy	Rome	79/66 41/32
inki 39/32 clou	9/32 cloudy Stockholm	Stockholm
London 55/46 cloudy		Vancouver	61/50	cloudy
	82/75 39/32	82/75 cloudy 39/32 cloudy	82/75 cloudy Rome 39/32 cloudy Stockholm	82/75 cloudy Rome 79/66 39/32 cloudy Stockholm 41/32

776-5577

Dean Liquor is proud to serve

these fine establishments

APPLEBEES

CARLOS O'KELLYS

BOULEVARDS BROTHERS TAVERN

KITE'S BAR and GRILL

AUNTIE MAES PARLOR

CHARLIES NEIGHBORHOOD BAR

LAST CHANCE SALOON SCOREBOARD

T.W. LONGHORNS RUSTY'S OUTBACK

CHE STOPHER O'BE AN

Come check out northeast Kansas's largest wholesaler

12th & Laramie; Aggieville 539-5269 776-5577

1800 Claffin Rd.

FirstBank Center

"NO COUPON SPECIALS"

Prime Time Special 3 - 10 in. Pizzas 1 - Topping 4 - Cokes $10.50

Everyday Two-Fers 2 - 10 in. Pizzas 2 - Toppings 2 - Cokes $8.50

Fast Delivery...Anywhere in Manhattan

TIL THE COWS COME HOME

Student Art Show

IQUOR

COLLEGE BOW

Campus College Bowl Informational Meeting and Sign-up

The Varsity Sport of the MInd Info meeting for the campus tournament will be Thursday, October 15, K-State Union Room 206, 7 p.m. Sign-up begins Friday, October 16 UPC Office, 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Entries for the competition must be received by Friday, October 16, 4:00 p.m. in the UPC Office

Display of winners: Monday, October 26 through Friday, November 6 K-State Union Gallery

Opening Reception: Monday, October 26 7 p.m.-8 p.m. K-State Union Art Gallery

Thursday, October 15 Nic Cosmos Union Station, 7:30 p.m. Admission $2

This band hooks a wide array of people instantaneously with their fresh, original sound that combines acoustic elements, funk-like rhythms, and crisp guitar sound with sometimes off-the-wall lyrics.

INFORMATION and SIGN-UP available at the UPC Office, 3rd floor of K-State Union or call 532-6571.

CAMPILE

Professor wins research award

Richard Consigli honored for work on cancer virus

KIM MCNITT

Richard Consigli, distinguished professor of biology, received the 1992 Olin Petefish Award in the Basic Sciences from the University of Kansas.

The $10,000 award is one of four Higuchi/Endowment Research

Achievement Awards given each year, and it was awarded during the KU faculty convocation Sept. 15.

Consigli is an expert on the cancercausing polyoma virus. He has received funding from the National Cancer Institute for 29 consecutive years for his studies of a virus that transforms normal cells into cancer cells.

His project is titled "Studies in Polyoma Transformed Cells: Virion Proteins."

The Higuchi/Endowment Research Achievement awards were established in 1981 through the KU Endowment Association by the late Takeru Higuchi, regents distinguished professor of pharmaceutical chemistry at KU.

Faculty of all Kansas Board of Regents institutions are eligible to be nominated for the Higuchi/Endowment Research Achievement Awards. Nominations are solicited and selections are made by the KU chancellor and vice chancellor.

Three other K-State professors have been Higuchi recipients.

Consigli said he does not know who nominated him for the award. Graduate School Dean Timothy Donoghue told Consigli that he had

"I don't know much about it, other than it's pretty nice," Consigli

Consigli said when he started the study, little was known about the polyoma virus. He said it was exciting to be one of the first to work with it.

"A lot of knowledge could be acquired from the study," he said.

Consigli said polyoma was the first virus isolated that induces tumors not only in its natural host, the mouse, but also in hamsters and other rodents.

The small mammalian DNA tumor virus can be grown in huge quantities in cell cultures, he said, so it has become valuable for fundamental cancer research. Scientists can study the biochemistry of cells as they become cancerous.

Consigli's studies will help researchers better understand the structure of the virus and how to intervene or prevent polyoma virus and other infections.

Polyoma has been used in Consigli's laboratory to train graduate students for careers in science.

CONVOCATION LECTURE

Geographer sees potential problems

De Blij says China may collapse like Soviet Union did

KARREY BRITT

The international breakdown of the nation-state could have farreaching implications, said geographer Harm Jan de Blij at the first

Convocation Lecture Friday in

McCain Auditorium.

"Empires are breaking down today, as well as nation-states," he

De Blij said he predicted a fall of the governing structure in China, which he called the last great empire. He compared this to the recent collapse of the Soviet Union.

"China has an empire which is located amongst other empires which are growing readily," he said. "I expect a regional separation of China in the West before 1995."

He used Yugoslavia as an example of this breakdown and said he predicts more trouble there.

"In the case of Yugoslavia, the question you often get is, 'Are there any opportunities left to act there?" he said. "It seems to be too late for Bosnia, but we can expect even bigger problems in an area farther south called Kosovo."

The large concentration of Muslims in Yugoslavia is the problem with Kosovo, de Blij said.

"Muslim countries in the Middle East and elsewhere are getting restive about what is happening in Yugoslavia," he said. "If the conflict spreads to Kosovo, populated by ethnic Albanian Muslims, what has happened so far will seem like a

Geographer Harm Jan de Blij, joint professor at Georgetown University and the University of Miami, gives the Convocation Lecture Friday morning in McCain Auditorium.

minor problem, and when that happens Macedonia will be involved. In turn, this could involve Greece."

After researching for 10 years in South Africa, de Blij said there could be potential problems there as well.

"This is a case, not of a state that is already fragmented, but a state that is likely to be fragmented," he said. "My feeling is that the chances of a peaceful transition are very remote. It seems they are on a verge of collapse."

If the problems can be solved in South Africa, the problems of the world can be solved, de Blij said.

"These three countries in South Africa are like the world in microcosm," he said.

De Blij said one problem that has led to the breakdown has been a reliance on boundaries.

"We need to be prepared to have boundaries moved," he said. "Boundaries ought to be changeable, like pipelines or like highways. People need to anticipate the boundary change and associate themselves with the thought of it. This way they will have grown accustomed to it, and the changes will not be such an abrupt change."

INTERNATIONAL I

Your name

Iraqi police hand over American prisoner

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KUWAIT — An American bomb-disposal expert, free in Kuwait after Iraqi police seized him in a border dispute, blinked back tears Sunday as he described a terrifying ordeal.

prisoner

But he said he was not harmed.
Chad Hall, released Saturday after two days in Iraq, said his hopes for a quick and peaceful resolution of the conflict withered as he was led away at gunpoint, then taken to Baghdad and issued a prison uniform.

Hall's seizure Thursday afternoon in a disputed section of the Iraq-Kuwait border had raised tensions ahead of the U.S. presidential election in November.

There had been speculation that Baghdad was trying to provoke President Bush, who is trailing Democrat Bill Clinton in the polls. But Iraq blamed the incident on confusion along the unmarked frontier.

The United Nations took custody of him Saturday in Baghdad and flew him to their border headquarters at Um Qasr for a medical examination Sunday before flying

Mon.-Fri.

10 a.m.-8 p.m.

Sat. 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Sunday

Noon-5 p.m.

him to Kuwait.

Hall was taken to the American Embassy after U.N. officials, who escorted him from Iraq, turned him over to Ambassador Edward Gnehm Jr. at Kuwait International Airport.

Pale and weary, Hall described how an Iraqi colonel had threatened to shoot him at the border, and security forces in Baghdad had interrogated him about his family.
Still, he said, he was not mis-

"I am probably the only guy in captivity who gained weight," quipped the 50-year-old Hall, who carries about 220 pounds on a 6foot-1 frame.

Hall said he saw no other prisoners while in captivity.

407 Poyntz

Downtown

Manhattan

(913) 776-4704

Thanks, Boss!

On Oct. 16, you can say Happy Boss's Day with a personal from you or the whole group.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can place a personal to wish your Boss a special day. Plus, use this form and take 25% off your ad cost. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Address______Telephone number_____

Your I.D. number_

COLLEGIAN
Kedzie 103 (east of the Union) 532-6555

CONDE'S

Audio & Video

See store for all financing details

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

IN OUR OPINION

OCTOBER 12, 1992

By the Collegian Editorial Board

Cats still have rest of season

THE ISSUE

The Wildcat football team suffered a heavy loss at the hands of KU last Saturday.

WE SUGGEST

K-State still has a number of games left to redeem themselves. We as fans need to support them no matter the K-State vs. KU.

It was called the game of the year. It certainly was the game of the year for the Jayhawks. It was more like the nightmare of the year for the Wildcats.

K-State coach Bill Snyder proved once again that he is the man with the best knowledge about football around Manhattan. He said, despite a 3-0 season start, that the Cats aren't playing their best football.

But Snyder probably didn't figure on KU dominating the Cats like they did, either.

Neither did the fans.

After cheering K-State after KU's first turnover in the opening quarter, Cats fans didn't have much to applaud about up to the first K-State first down, in the third quarter.

Most of the fans realized that this game was just one in an entire season. So did the players. So did Snyder.

No doubt, it was a traumatic experience for the K-State team. But KU was having its day. Many in the media said the Hawks played like a top-10 team Saturday.

It was just that simple: KU played well; K-State played poorly.

However, on the bottom line, it was only the first conference game for the Cats. A loss to KU doesn't have to be followed by a losing season.

We have confidence in the team. Students will still support Snyder's organization, and they will still cheer for them. You can't evaluate a team on just a single loss.

There are enough matches left for the Cats to prove how good they really are. Colorado is two weeks away. Oklahoma is three weeks off, and Nebraska isn't for nearly two months. There is plenty of time for K-State to show its real guts.

Just listen to the man who has already proven he knows this business: Snyder.

"I told the team that there is no football game that we ever have or ever will play that is going to make the difference in the direction this football program goes," he said.

Enough said.

Racism needs to be fought at the roots

tree of discrimination, but the roots remain

- Arthur Fletcher, chairman of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights

Tot only are the roots of racism and discrimination still intact, but the tree is returning as well. Now our generation has the task of confronting a new era of racial and ethnic injustice.

The resiliency of racist and intolerant attitudes demonstrates that there is something fundamentally wrong with the way our society has chosen to deal with the problem.

The real problem is the attitude or root that invariably leads to discriminatory behavior. Government can only legislate behavior, not the attitudes in a person's heart that lead to behavior. Affirmative action laws demonstrate this. Until that root is destroyed, our children and grandchildren will discuss the same issues we're

That situation can only be avoided if we wake up and start dealing with the problem at its root. Too many people rely on the government to solve racial problems.

When Los Angeles erupted in riots after the Rodney King verdict, liberals blamed 12 years of Republican administration. Our country must realize that the problem is between individuals, not the government, and it can only be solved when individuals deal with individuals.

The solution to racial injustice is to fight

"Affirmative action laws chopped down the racist attitudes with moral values. By claiming there is racial injustice in our society, a claim most people believe, it must follow that there are values that compose a just response.

Further, in speaking of racial injustice, society is appealing to a common standard of morality beyond individual choice The claim that moral values are necessary to fight racism raises the question of whose values we use.

Martin Luther King Jr. brought about more progress in race relations than anyone in history. All of his teachings were based on religion mainly Christianity and one simple idea: Love your neighbor as you love yourself. A person who demonstrates a mature grasp on diversity issues shows love, concern, compassion and respect for all péople regardless of their racial, ethnic or religious label. Also, a truly tolerant person seeks to understand different perspectives through

HART

Effectively and peacefully co-existing in a diverse multicultural environment need not involve pandering to liberal "politically correct"

Loving others does not necessitate agreeing with every culture's belief system or regarding all sexual lifestyles as morally acceptable.

The degree to which I can separate the beliefs or lifestyle from the individual, who has a tremendous amount of intrinsic worth, signifies my level of maturity in dealing with diversity issues. I can treat a racist with love and respect, while despising his or her racist attitudes at the same time. Our battle is not against people; it is against destructive and immoral ideas.

Two years ago, I had the opportunity to colead a workshop on justice at the Martin Luther King Jr. Federal Holiday Commission's annual "I Have a Dream" national youth assembly in

At the conference, I realized how crucial honest communication is in dealing with injustice. Different races and cultures seldom socialize in informal settings; that lack of contact

I also learned how important reconciliation is between conflicting individuals. Revenge through violence, or anything else, is wholly unproductive.

The only way to break the cycle of hatred and iolence we saw in Los Angeles — and continue to see - is to project the ethic of love to the center of our lives.

For many, this solution seems idealistic. Yet, it is in the pursuit of ideals when man comes closest to the ideal.

READERS WRITE

POLITICS

Reader wants choice come election time

This is in response to David Filippi's article in which he called for President Bush to "throw in the towel."

Hey, David, speak for yourself. I would like a choice when the elections come around, and I don't consider a choice between Perot and Clinton a real choice. Bush may not be the best candidate the Republican party could have nominated, but he is a better choice than the "lack-ofcharacter" candidate, Clinton. So be realistic, Dave. Let the people of the United States decide who should throw in the towel when the elections are held, and spare us your campaigning rhetoric.

Michael Thieme Junior/Computer engineering ego and tell us the truth? The economy is not recuperating like you have been promising it would for the past year.

On the question of whether government should fund education at public colleges and universities the same way as K-12 is, Bush answered with an unequivocal "no." He further went on to say, "I think that there ought to be competition in education, just like there is in private work." What kind of competition do you mean, Mr. President? Do you mean that the one with the largest pocketbook should get the best education? Does this mean that people who can't even spell "potato" correctly should get a better education just because daddy owns the local newspaper? Is this so-called "land of opportunity" an exclusive club created only for the wealthy? I certainly hope not.

This interview helped further my belief that the only way to get real change is to vote Democratic in '92.

> Chad House Sophomore/Pre-law

▶ MORALS

Nobody is forcing morals on others

I've never written a letter to a newspaper. I always figured I'd end up looking as stupid as half the other people who write opinion letters. Who knows, maybe I still will.

I'm writing in response to Trevor Hartman's letter to Scott Spradlin in the Oct. 9 Collegian. I quote Trevor: "I don't know that is my right to dictate to others about what I believe to be a moral issue."

Well, I start getting real tired of people complaining about others "pushing" their beliefs on people. Are they so insecure in their own beliefs that they have to throw a fit when another expresses an opinion about how he or she thinks things should be?

But, I'm straying from my point. You see, Trevor, it is Scott Spradlin's right to dictate his beliefs to others on Page 4 of the Collegian. That's why it's called the Opinion Page.

This page was set aside for letters and columns through which people like Scott could express their views and dictate their beliefs. Nobody said you had to read it. I'd also like to say that, though I may not agree with everything Scott Spradlin writes, this long-haired Christian would like to compliment his efforts.

Tim Boknecht Sophomore/Music composition

MAYONNAISE

Concerned students want data on spread

We would like to thank Eric Henry for his enlightened Oct. 8 letter about mayonnaise. He gave us a good topic for discussion in our microanatomy lab. But as much as we enjoyed it, we had a few questions:

1) Where did he get his data? We would love to read the research that has been done on this important topic.

2) If every man quit eating mayonnaise, how long would it take for him to lose 20 pounds?

3) How is that men who eat other items with salad oil, egg yolks, etc., don't have 20 pounds of undigested material in their bellies? 4) If women eat mayonnaise, do they gain a proportionate amount of weight?

5) Does belly mean stomach, or just the abdomen? 6) If this data is true, does that explain why some people have "outie" belly buttons, or a spare tire? 7) We know fat is stored in fat cells. Does that mean mayonnaise is stored in mayonnaise cells throughout the

8) Was Miracle Whip included with mayonnaise in this study? Thank you so much for printing such an informative letter. We would appreciate a response from Mr. Henry about our questions.

Laura Armbrust Marjory Artzer First-year student/Veterinary medicine

Julie Arens

Page is agent for change in world that is intolerant

That originally began as a concerning people's seeming lack of tolerance quickly grew into something more. It grew into me questioning, as editor of the opinion page, what the entire purpose of my page was.

Could it be an outlet for those oppressed by someone or something to vent their frustration? Or perhaps a magnifying glass, focusing the views and opinions of the campus into a singularity that was readily accessible to all. To arrive at this answer, I looked over what I've managed to accomplish thus far this semester. Of all the letters to the editor,

I've squeezed seventy percent on that part of the page reserved for them. At the first of the semester, they trickled in, as though people were reluctant to speak their minds. But then, my box letter to my father seemingly exploded in a paper nova, awash with views from every corner of

> JARED viewpoint SAVAGE spectrum. No longer did I have deal with figuring out how to fill the dreaded white space in the "Readers Write" area.

OP/ED EDITOR

So what does this mean? It means that more letters to the editor already have run this semester than ran all of last year. It means that the student's voice is the most important voice on the page. And it means a further diversity of perspectives have come to light.

Not all letters submitted have been printed, to be sure. And guest columns are an even rarer beast. But this does not mean that they lacked in quality, or that their viewpoints did not concur with mine. It means that space on the page was lacking, or perhaps they lacked a timeliness. I can only hope that this doesn't prevent those who have written and not seen their work from writing in again.

Today marks the end of Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week. I made every attempt last week to run material that was pertinent to this celebration, in the hopes of spreading a message of tolerance.

Obviously, the message of Racial/Ethnic Week and the purpose of any decent opinion page share a common bond. This bond is to make people aware of all the diversity, that we are a race of individuals, that we can be made stronger by our differences instead of being separated by

These are not lofty ambitions. They have been accomplished many times, even here on this page. To say that there are bad opinions or good opinions is to remove the entire purpose of having this page. No one here is shoving viewpoints or making overt personal attacks. This is a public forum, where you can either listen and think about what is being written, or you can ignore it and move on.

Every columnist came in knowing that they were putting their personal viewpoints under public scrutiny. They knew that not everyone was going to agree with them. But that's exactly the point, isn't it? To learn and grow by seeing what others are saying, to add or subtract to your own viewpoint how you see fit.

To react personally to some viewpoints is quite human, and we all do it. But here, on this page, we allow our intelligence to overcome our emotions. And in doing so, we all make real progress towards realistic goals. We focus our diversity and derive energy from it, not yell and pout and accuse and regress to a point we had hopefully surpassed long

The opinion page can be a tool of positive change if used properly. It can bring a group of people together and compare viewpoints. But more than anything, it displays the diversity of humanity, and that we are capable of overcoming our bigotry and hatred in favor of growth and acceptance. Please, keep the letters and columns coming.

ELECTION

Bush shoveling same line again and again

Last week's issue of U. magazine had interviews with both Bill Clinton and President Bush. As I was reading Bush's interview, I became perturbed at the prevarication of the questions by our president. Nonetheless, I could not help noticing the fallacies in the answers he gave.

First of all, when Bush was asked about what he planned to do about the economy, he answered that the economy was already poised for recovery. Like all we have to do is sit back and watch the unemployment figures drop. So, if he is so content with the way things are turning around, why is he hounding the Federal Reserve Board to further lower interest rates? Why do I keep reading of how major companies are laying off more workers? Mr. President, why don't you get off your big fat

Health concerns prompt response

Editor,

After reading a recent letter mayonnaise undigestibility ("Choices needed ," Oct. 8), I became extremely concerned.

I am a wife and mother, and, as much as I hate to admit it, I feed my family mayonnaise.

The letter indicated recent research that has taken place. I really need to get this data in order to put my concerns to rest. I hope the data includes methods to help reduce the amount of mayonnaise already there. I hope Eric Henry will respond and release his sources. Thank you very much for your

Kristi Bane First-year student/Veterinary medicine

Columbus Day observed throughout nation

ACIAL/ THNIC

WEEK

"This is not a day of celebration. This is a day of mourning." BAIRD-OLSEN

500th anniversary creates mixed emotions about holiday

COLLEGIAN STAFF

While some call today the 500th anniversary of the discovery of a new world, others call it the marking of five centuries of tragedy.

The question of who Christopher Columbus was and what he accomplished is evident in Hollywood's timely spotlight of Columbus' journey in "1492."

Karren Baird-Olsen, instructor of sociology, anthropology and social work, is also a member of the American Indian Movement. She said the celebration of Columbus Day is foolish.

"Columbus did not discover America. This day of celebration is glorifying a violent man, who created a genocide with a very peaceful people," Baird-Olsen said. "This is not a day of celebration. This is a day of mourning.'

Olsen said that Native American people are still trying to recover from the effect of Columbus on their culture.

"The Native American people were held hostage then and are still being held hostage today, economically and in many ways," Baird-Olsen said.

Native "The American cultures were overwhelmed. Their social systems were very vulnerable," history department head Donald Mrozek said.

Mrozek said people are fascinated with historical events of such magnitude.

'Columbus had an idea. He was an explorer. Desire is a very powerful force, and exploration in Europe was very distinctive for that time period," he said. Mrozek said that although some may romanticize this time, it is important to understand the arrival of the Europeans. The quincentennial is helpful to show a lighter rediscovery of the Americas and the beneficial development that resulted," he said. Erin Hensley, junior in anthropology, said she believes Columbus Day should be observed for the discovery's negative and positive aspects. "Columbus needs to be remembered

1116 Moro

537-0886

7 days a week

a.m.-1 a.m.

TODAY

There will be a panel discussion about "The Legacy of Christopher Columbus" at 3:30 p.m. in Union 212.

The Hispanic American Leadership Organization, American Ethnic Studies, the Black Student Union and the Native American Student Body are sponsoring the discussion.

from both sides," Hensley said.

She said many experts believe Columbus was an inept navigator who invaded a new area.

"We should remember him for the 'discovery', but also for the death toll that resulted," Hensley said.

Tom Donnelly, senior in biology, said he takes a middle-of-the-road approach to the anniversary.

"The day does need to be acknowledged. Columbus knew what he wanted, to sail across the ocean and explore new lands, and he did just that," Donnelly said. "What resulted had an enormous effect on the world then and Pope has Mass to recognize 1st Christian missionaries to New World

ASSOCIATED PRESS

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic - Pope John Paul II paid tribute Sunday to Christopher Columbus for helping plant the seeds of Christianity in the New World.

The homage, at a Mass beside a controversial lighthouse dedicated to the explorer, contrasted with protests in parts of Latin America. Protesters said the arrival of Columbus 500 years ago marked the start of European conquest and the abuse of native peoples.

The Vatican had said the pope would not take part in any official commemoration of Columbus' explorations but would be marking the arrival of the first Christian missionaries.

The pope, on his flight from Rome, acknowledged abuses by some of the early missionaries but said these were denounced by other Christians at the time.

"We are gathered in front of this

Columbus Lighthouse, built in the form of a cross to symbolize the cross of Christ planted on this earth in 1492," the pope said Sunday.

Tens of thousands of people waved red, white and blue Dominican flags and yellow and white Vatican flags as the glassedin popemobile passed by the grassy stretch beside the lighthouse.

Police and soldiers closed off the main bridge connecting the monument to downtown Santo Domingo, allowing only those with Mass tickets to pass.

A concrete-and-stone wall blocked nearby slums from the pope's view. People living in the shanties behind the barrier refer to it as the "Wall of Shame" representing President Joaquin Balaguer's efforts to hide his nation's problems, including chronic high unemployment.

Opponents of the lighthouse have accused the president of wasting millions of dollars on the

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE

ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ORGANIZATIONS:

Get your group signed up and lined up for Organization photographs. Portraits will be taken in McCain Room 324 from 6:00 to 9:40 p.m. Sept. 9 through Oct. 29.

Bring $10.00 to the Student Publications, Inc. Office, Kedzie Hall 103, to schedule a sitting time from now until Oct. 29. The maximum number of persons per photograph is 30. Groups with larger amounts must get additional photos taken on the same day. The minimum number of persons per photograph is 10 unless proof of a smaller membership is shown. Schedule your groups portrait today because a limited number of times are available.

Curious about law school?

Pre-law Club presents Washburn University School of Law

Professor Allen Easley and K-State graduates in Law School

> Oct. 12, 1992 Monday 7 p.m. K-State Union Room 212

Great Memories Start

should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority.

for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

Do You Have a Chilly Dog? Keep your pup warm this winter with

$2 OFF Doggie Sweaters

STOFF 539-9494

1105 Waters

This coupon good for Chung King Pork $3.75 Dine-in & carryout Not valid with any other specials, coupons, or on deliveries. FREE DELIVERY MENU

(Minimum order $9) Expires 10/19/92

LOADED EXTRA CHEESE AND 3 TOPPINGS

PREE Crazy Bread

volid for a limited time only of participating stores. No coupon necessary, Free Crazy Bread after is a four-piece order

O 1997 Little Coesar Enterprises, Inc.

Westloop Center • 539-3333

MENDAY MADNESS 2 PEPPERONI PIZZAS

ONE OF EACH PANIPAN!

ye enly with couplest at participating Little Cresars available at additional cost "Excludes exits chies Expires 10/25/92

4 PIZZAS ANY COMBINATION PAN OR ROUND!

10% Discount Remnants Remnants Expires Oct. 12, 1992 Remnants Remnants Nu-Design Remnants

Decorating Center Complete Line of Decorating Products

See us for all your decorating needs (913) 762-2634

1-800-377-9309 (913) 762-6643

Remnants

Remnants

Remnants

Remnants

Junction City

Makin'itgreat!

CALL THE LOCATION NEAREST YOU.

 AGGIEVILLE 539-7666 •WESTLOOP 539-7447 •3RD & MORO 776-4334

$200 Any Delivery Order

Not valid with any other pecial offer 1/20 cent cash edemption value Good only on delivery orders in Manhattan, KS ©1992 Pizza

Advertise with coupons? YOU BET!

Wall Paper Vertical Blinds

Ceramic Tile Mini-Blinds

Cabinets |

Drapes

Carpet | Vinyl

Paint |

KANSAS STATE OLLEGIAN Advertising 532-6560

Free Delivery (Min. Order $9)

BUNKE Chinese Restaurant & Lounge

> Dining-in Coupon 10% Off hen you present coup Not valid with Buffet

THE SODA FOUNTAIN

1/4 Hamburger Chips Side Salad Sundae 16oz. Drink (+1 refill) For Only $2.85

Village Plaza (Behind Alco)

THE DELI WORKS

6" Deli Sandwich (Turkey, Ham, Roast Beef) Side Salad Sundae 16oz. Drink (+1 Refill)

For Only $3.25

539-8282

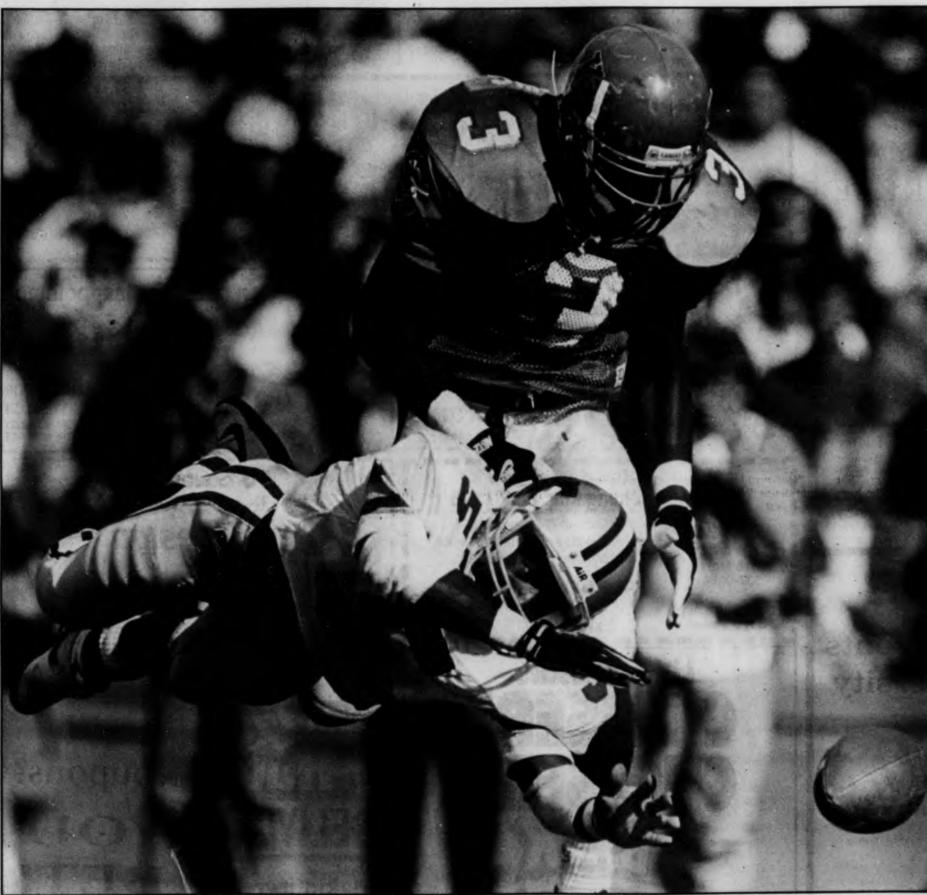

K-STATE VS. KANSAS

OUCH!

Hawks overpower Cats in 31-7 drubbing

CRAIG HACKER/Collegian

Gerald Benton, K-State wide receiver, makes a diving attempt for a low pass around KU cornerback Gerald McBurrows during Saturday's game in Lawrence.

Cat offensive line dominated by KU

"We just didn't have a good day at

MIKE ORR

Twenty of K-State's 54 offensive plays in Saturday's 31-7 loss to the Jayhawks went for

KU, in essence, won the game at the line. "We just didn't have a good day at all,"

Wildcat offensive tackle Mike Orr said. What exactly did the Jayhawk defensive linemen accomplish by dominating K-State's offensive line?

They sacked quarterback Jason Smargiasso nine times. Smargiasso had been sacked just nine times the entire season prior to the KU game. He was forced to make a decision within seconds, or less, after receiving the snap, resulting in several plays for negative yardage and a pair of interceptions.

His statistics for the afternoon? Fourteen rushing attempts for a total of minus 77 yards. The Jayhawks held Eric Gallon, the Big Eight's rushing leader going into the weekend, to 11 yards on nine carries. Five of those nine carries went for negative yardage, and his 11-yard run in the third quarter kept him from finishing in the minus column, He had been averaging better than 100 yards per game prior to Saturday.

The Hawk line contained the entire Wildcat

Jason Smarglasso, K-State quarterback, gets tackled by KU linebacker Sylvester Wright.

running game, which had been gaining nearly 125 yards per contest, to a total of minus 56 yards on the ground.

And they held the Wildcats to zero first downs through the entire first half. In that first half, K-State had a total of minus 32 yards. The Wildcat offense was kept scoreless by that Jayhawk defensive line. K-State was in KU territory just four times Saturday afternoon,

■ See OFFENSIVE LINE Page 8

K-State gains 69 total yards, minus 56 rushing

MIKE MAY

NFL WEEK 6

Houston

LAWRENCE —The highly anticipated battle between the two up-and-coming Kansas programs never materialized Saturday.

The game was over early in the first half of the Jayhawks' 31-7 victory.

Kansas dominated K-State in all phases of the game, as the Jayhawks claimed their 11th straight series victory in Lawrence.

The difference in the game was the play of K-State's offensive line against the Hawks' defensive line. KU racked up nine sacks. The Wildcat offense never got on track.

And the game wasn't as close as the 24-point margin might indicate.

"I think Kansas proved to us what we had been saying the last two to three weeks - that we haven't quite gotten it together yet," K-State coach Bill Snyder said. "I just did a poor job getting our football team ready collectively, and that's where the fault lies.'

After the last of the Jayhawk scores at the 4:22 mark of the third period a check of two key statistics told the story — first downs: KU 19, K-State 1; total offense: KU 345, K-State (-43).

"The University of Kansas was excellent today," Snyder said. "I was impressed by their defense. It's the best defensive football team that we've played against since I've been at K-State."

Kansas cashed in on good field position for its first score. After forcing K-State to punt from its own 8-yard line, the Jayhawks started on the Wildcat 41.

Kansas then drove the distance in seven plays, capped by Maurice Douglas' 10-yard touchdown run, to put the Hawks up 7-0. Douglas rushed for 127 yards on 26 carries on the day.

Early in the second quarter, Kansas' Monte Cozzens scored on a two-yard run to give Kansas a 14-0 lead.

After a Dan Eichloff field goal and Sean Snyder's fifth punt of the first half, Kansas was back in Wildcat territory.

But Wildcat C.J. Masters intercepted a Chip Hilleary pass and raced 80 yards, untouched, down the sideline for a touchdown. The score pulled K-State to 17-7, though the Wildcats had no first downs and negative 32 yards of offense in the first half. "I thought our defense played well for as long as they could play well," Snyder said. "After a period of time, you can only do so much.

Eventually, they got worn down."

The second half was no better for K-State. Following the Wildcats' eighth consecutive drive without a first down, the Jayhawks marched 53 yards. The drive was capped by Cozzens' second touchdown, a 4-yard run to put KU up 24-7.

KU finished the scoring on its next possession with Douglas' second touchdown.

Despite the loss, Snyder said he was confident the loss won't break the season for the Cats.

"I told the team that there is no football game that we ever have or ever will play that is going to make the difference in the direction this football program goes," he said.

"I reminded them about the very first home football game we ever played four years ago. It was against Northern Iowa. And there is no way in the world that this football team should have lost to Northern Iowa, and we did. I remember how dejected and heartfelt of a loss that was.

That was a loss that gutted me, and this one has the same feeling and the same impact." Even some of the players came out of the game with optimism. "This game doesn't hurt our confidence,"

Brooks Barta said. "But it wasn't a good day for K-State."

beddesibedischem lieseld reledentill
K-State	Kansas
8	26
-56	289
125	162
14-27-	13-22-
96	83
69	457
1-1	3-3
10-61	8-54
	8 -56 125 14-27-1 96 69 1-1

Kansas 7 | 10 | 14 | 0 - 31 K-State 0 7 | 0 | 0 - 7

INDIVIDUAL STATS

Rushing — K. State, Gallon 9-11, Garber 1-5, Edwards 1-4, Smith 2-1, Smargasso-14-(-77), KL), Douglass 25-127, Cozzers 16-83, White 11-30, Hilleary 8-19, Thomas 2-13, Levines 3-10, Johnson 4-5, Possell 1-2.
Receiving — K. State, Benton 6-55, Schiller 2-16, Gallon 2-1, Coleman 1-15
Running 1-14, Smith 1-13, Smalls 1-11, KU, Gay 6-73, Douglas 3-26, Chandler 2-37, Varg 1-23, Harris 1-3.
Passaling — K. State, Smangiasso 10-13-2-68, Garber 4-13-0-57, Gallon 0-1-0-0, KU, Hilleary 13-20-1-162, Thomas 0-2-0-0.
Tackles — K. State, Berta 16, Masters 13, Venables 11, Rawlings 10, C. Patterson 7, KU, Moore 6, McSurrows 6, Wright 4, Thiel 4, Lassiter 4.
Sacks/Yards Lost — K. State, None, KU, Moore 3-25, Howard 1,5-20, Wright 1,5/14, Thiel 1,5/14, Brown 1/9, Maumalangs. 5-8.

Spikers too slow for tall Sooners

K-State loses to Oklahoma. Northern Illinois in weekend plays

BRIAN ANDERSON Collegian

K-State's volleyball team fell to 0-4 in the Big Eight Saturday when the Cats lost to Oklahoma in Ahearn Field House.

Then Sunday, the Cats fell to the 9-15 Northeastern Illinois. Sunday's loss was K-State's fifth consecutive, as it went to 5-11 for the season.

K-State extended its winless streak to 12 games when the Sooners swept the Cats 15-7, 15-14 and 15-8

"We need to make faster adjustments," Coach Patti Hagemeyer said after the loss to Oklahoma. "We have to contact our feet to what our brains know."

The Cats couldn't move fast enough against the hard-hitting Sooners, who had 52 kills, 23 of which came from last season's all-Big Eight performer, Gloria Holcomb.

Oklahoma dominated most of the first game. The Sooners jumped to a 6-0 lead until the Cats cut that margin to two points, 9-7, on one of Kathy Saxton's team-leading 22 kills.

The Sooners shut out the Cats the rest of the way.

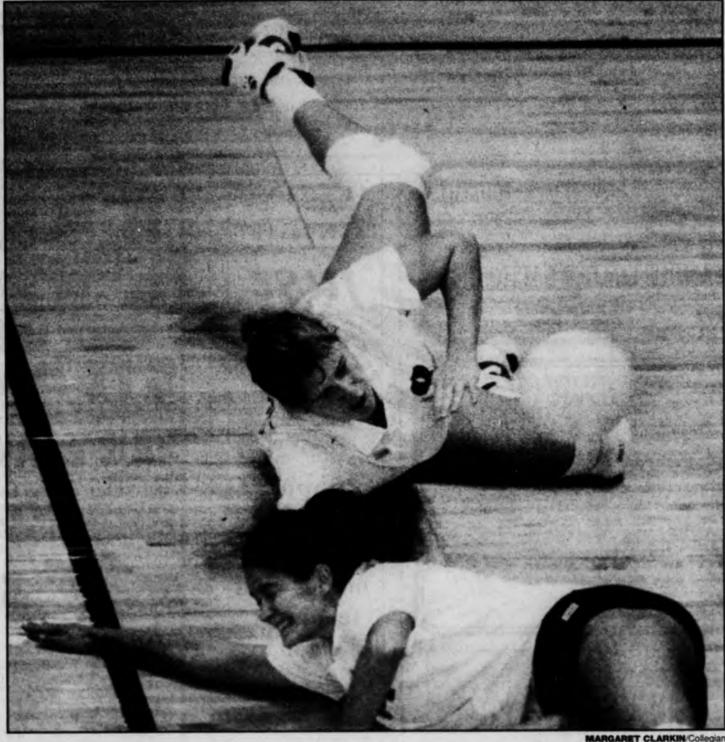

In the second game, it was K-State that got out of the gates with an 8-3 start. The lead didn't last, though, as Oklahoma went on top 12-9.

K-State tied the game at 13 on a Saxton kill. But it didn't get any further, as the Sooners took the game on a kill by Heidi Luehmann and a hitting error by Jill Dugan.

Both squads matched each other early in the third game. Oklahoma went on a 9-3 run to clinch the match and go 9-7 for the year and 2-1 in the conference. One bright note for Hagemeyer was the jump serve of Stephanie Liester, who got a season-high four aces for a three-game match. "We shoot an ace for an 10, 17-15 and 15-13.

Angle McKee (front) and Kathy Saxton miss digging a spike during K-State's game against Northeastern Illinois Sunday.

error," said Hagemeyer. "She concentrates more on the jump serve than she does standing on her serve."

On Sunday, K-State lost to Northeastern Illinois 11-15, 15-

"Our problem is a lack of confidence," Hagemeyer said. "We fail to remember our physical talents. We don't have the desire, focus or the right chemistry.'

eight times. With the score at 11, K-State went on a 4-0 run, two points from Eagle turnovers and two Cat kills, to end their 12-game winless streak.

But K-State couldn't win any The two teams were tied of the remaining games. The Eagles took the next three games after fighting off early leads by the spikers in each of

Chi Dau served six aces against the Eagles to set a new

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE #

Chiefs air it out, hand Eagles 1st loss

CHIEFS ROUNDUP

Quarterback Dave Krieg threw for 272 yards against the Eagles, who had been the No. 3-ranked team in the NFC against the pass.

Wide receiver Willie Davis caught five passes for 167

Philadelphia had been giving up 8.5 points per game and was the last undefeated team in the NFC.

Krieg, who threw three touchdown passes, became the 15th quarterback in league history to throw 200 scoring passes.

The women's golf team will

K-State has won the tournament

"With this being the last

"They started the season good,

Throughout the season, the Cats tournament of the fall for the women, they really want to do but it's been rocky since then, and have been inconsistent with their final placings. Their best match was a second place at Iowa State's tourney Sept. 17.

And their lowest was a seventh-place tie with Kansas at New tourney of the season.

they need to end on a good note."

defend its title in the Shocker Fall

Classic at Wichita State University

before and hopes to do it again.

well," Coach Mark Elliott said.

WOMEN'S GOLF

KRISTEEN YOUNG

today and Tuesday.

ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. -Football became a thinking man's game Sunday in Kansas City when the last thing Philadelphia expected turned out to be the first thing the Chiefs did - time after time.

"They fooled us," Eagles safety Andre Waters said Sunday after Dave Krieg scorched a confused secondary for 272 yards and three touchdowns in a 24-17 victory over the NFC's last unbeaten team. "I don't mind getting beaten physically, but when I get beat mentally, it really hurts."

Capitalizing on their reputation as a grind-it-out, runoriented bunch, the Chiefs (4-2) passed on every down of their first possession and spent much

Team at Wichita

"They were biting on playaction," said J.J. Birden, who caught a 43-yard touchdown pass on the Chiefs' first possession. "In certain situations where we usually run, we threw it and they jumped on the run. They did exactly what we thought they would do."
Willie Davis caught five passes for 167 yards against a defense which came in No. 3 against the pass, giving up just 143.8 yards per game. He got 20 yards behind two defenders on a 74-yard pass-run play for a touchdown in the third period. Earlier, Birden found himself alone in the end zone and took a 24-yard scoring pass. There was not a defender within 30 yards.

"We figured they'd pass," of the day throwing to receivers. Waters said. "But not that much.'

The Eagles also had been leading the NFL in scoring defense with 8.5 points per game and total defense with an average yield of 208.5 yards.

But the Chiefs (4-2) led throughout the afternoon and seemed on their way to an easy before Randall Cunningham, who was sacked six times and intercepted twice, hit two quick scoring passes in the fourth period.

The Chiefs, who blew a 19-6 lead at Denver in the last two minutes the week before, were leading 24-3 with 12:47 remaining. But Cunningham hit Pat Beach with touchdown strikes of 10 and 3 yards.

"I think everybody in this stadium was thinking, 'Oh, no, not again,' after what happened in Denver," said offensive tackle John Alt.

Junking the Chiefs' usual conservative approach, Krieg passed on his first five plays and gave them a 7-0 lead when Birden beat Izel Jenkins on a 43vard touchdown. Then, in the final seconds of the first half, Birden's 24-yard TD catch made it 14-3.

That touchdown made Krieg, a 13-year veteran, the 15th quarterback in league history to throw 200 scoring passes.

The Chiefs had only 19 rushing plays, their lowest in two years.

"We were biting on the play-action too much," Eagle Reggie White said. "It killed us."

SPORTS DIGEST

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - Never let it be

Pat Borders' sacrifice fly in the 11th was

But this one will forever be remembered the official game-winner that gave Toronto a said again that the Toronto Blue Jays are

The Blue Jays matched the biggest comeback in playoff history Sunday, stunning Oakland 7-6 in 11 innings.

3-1 edge in the AL series.

DAYS OVERCOME 6-1 DEFICIT; PIRATES ALSO WIN

Colorado State. Last year, the Wildcats defeated

Wichita State, Kansas, Baylor and second-place Baylor by six strokes and WSU by eight.

One of the golfers representing K-State is senior Valerie Hahn. Elliott said she has the ability to place high.

"I think Val has a chance to win this tournament if she really plays well," Elliott said. "Holly Reynolds from Kansas, who is perhaps the best player in the area, will be there, and she'll be a tough

The last time the Wildcats faced off against Reynolds and the Jayhawks was Sept. 17 in Ames, Iowa. In that tournament, Reynolds placed first, and Wildcats Hahn and sophomore Jacque Wright placed second, five strokes higher than the

Mexico State in their second KU golfer. Competitors at the 11-team Other golfers to compete for ■ See GOLFERS Page 12 Shocker Classic will include

The Chiefs took out a full-page newspaper advertisement in the Kansas City homer off Dennis Eckersley in the ninth that tied it and completed a sensational, five-run rally against the A's and perhaps the most dominant reliever of all-time "I wasn't here when they didn't win in the for Roberto Alomar's shocking, two-run past," Alomar said.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Atlanta Braves 7-1 and now trail in the series three games to two.

▶ CHIEFS BRING BACK THE CONTROVERSIAL CHOP

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) - The tomahawk chop was back in vogue at Arrowhead Stadium Sunday, and just about all of the more than 76,000 fans took part."

The Chiefs had said before the season they would discourage the chop, bowing to protests of Native American groups.

Star Saturday to say they were bringing back the chop in response to demands from fans

Kansas City officials said in the ad the chop was not meant to be insulting - that it was a way for the fans to express their support for the team.

With the encouragement of the band and the cheerleaders, the ninth-largest crowd in Arrowhead Stadium history commenced chopping.

TEXAS 34 OKLAHOMA 24

DALLAS - No. 16 Oklahoma lost to the Texas Longhorns for the fourth consecutive year.

Texas quarterback Peter Gardere completed 20 of 32 passes, good for 271 yards. He also threw a pair of touchdown passes

Sooner coach Gary Gibbs continued his losing streak against Texas, despite the fact that, for the fourth straight year, the Sooners gained more total yards than the Longhorns. Gibbs is 0-4 against Texas

Texas back Phil Brown scored on rushing touchdowns of 13 and 3 yards, the first time a Longhorn team has scored a touchdown on the ground against Oklahoma since 1983.

Oklahoma quarterback Cale Gundy threw for 276 yards, but he also tossed three interceptions.

NEBRASKA 55 OKLAHOMA ST. 0

LINCOLN, Neb. - Nebraska tailback Calvin Jones, who entered the game averaging more than 8 yards per carry, gained 176 yards on just seven carries and scored on runs of 90 and 48

Jones led the No. 14 Huskers to the 55-0 drubbing of the Cowboys.

How bad was the game for Oklahoma State? Nebraska's sixthstring quarterback, John McMillen, scored the final touchdown on an 11-

The Huskers entered the game leading the nation in rushing, averaging 346 yards per game. They gained 366 yards on 51 carries.

The Cowboys, on the other hand, entered the game as the worst rushing team in the Big Eight. Nebraska held them to 2.7 yards per rush.

The Cowboys threw the ball just three times all day, completing no passes for zero yards.

Nebraska coach Tom Osborne is undefeated in 20 games against Oklahoma State. The Cowboys haven't won in Lincoln since 1960.

COLORADO 6 MISSOURI 0

COLUMBIA, Mo. - The No. 6 Buffaloes defeated the Tigers with two Pat Blottiaux field goals in a game played in a cold drizzle Thursday night.

The 6-0 victory extended Colorado's winning streak against Big Eight teams to 23.

The Buffaloes committed four turnovers in the contest, and the 6 points were well below their average of Missouri was held to 187 total yards in the first-ever night game played at

The Tigers had a chance to take the lead in the fourth quarter, but a fourthand-one play on the Missouri 21 came up short on the first play of the final period.

outscored Missouri 264-78 in the teams' previous seven contests, all of which Colorado won.

Colorado entered the game having

IDLE BIG EIGHT TEAMS

■ Iowa State next week vs. Kansas in

- compiled by Steve Rock

L PCT.

1.000

0

BIG EIGHT STANDINGS

CONFERENCE Colorado

Kansas	1	0	1.000
Nebraska	1	0	1.000
Oklahoma	1	0	1.000
K-STATE	0	1	.000
Iowa State	0	1	.000
Oklahoma State	0	1	.000
Missouri	0	1	.000
OVERALL	w	L	PCT.
Colorado	5	0	1.000
Kansas	4	1	.800
Nebraska	4	1	.800
K-STATE	3	1	.750
Oklahoma	3	2	.600
Iowa State	2	3	.400
Oklahoma State	2	3	.400
Missouri	1	4	.250

Faculty to view draft of minors proposal

Senate hopes to implement program by fall semester

JILL SCHRAG

A minors program at K-State is one step closer to becoming reality.

As of now, students cannot major in one subject and minor in another. There are only majors and secondary majors.

A minors proposal was drafted last spring by Student Body President Jackie McClaskey and members of student government. It was amended twice this summer after they talked to faculty members and advisers in the secondary majors program, McClaskey said.

"We edited and clarified the proposal on Wednesday. This is the first actual draft to go out to faculty," said Nancy McFarlin, chairwoman of the Faculty Senate academic affairs committee.

She said the proposal will be circulated to faculty members, administrators and Student Senate to get feedback. It will be presented to Faculty Senate for debate and approval and needs approval from the Board of Regents.

"We are still very confident that it can be through Faculty Senate by the end of this semester, and we'd like to see it implemented by next fall," McClaskey said.

McClaskey said some faculty doubt if this is possible.

The proposal states that the development of academic minors will be up to the individual departments, but there will be a minimum requirement of 18 credit hours for all minors.

"There were strong feelings among the faculty that 15 hours was not enough to be a credible program," McClaskey said. "We've been careful to look at other schools' minors programs to see what works and what doesn't."

The minors subcommittee has been working out the details of the proposed minors program since spring. Some of these are establishing when certification occurs and setting up checks to make sure students complete the required courses, McClaskey said.

'People didn't want to see this ted so fast that there v lots of mistakes," she said.

McFarlin said there may be an open meeting for students to make suggestions and give their opinions about the proposal.

Offensive line has bad day against Jayhawks

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 6

twice after recovering fumbles in Jayhawk territory and twice in the final quarter after the game had been sealed.

The Hawks held K-State to 69 yards of total offense, most of which came in the fourth quarter when the KU regulars were on the bench. The total yardage is the fewest the Hawks have given up since 1961 when KU held the Cats to 35 yards.

And, in essence, the Hawks' defensive line single-handedly defeated the Wildcats.

C.J. Masters' 80-yard interception return late in the first half provided the sole Wildcat touchdown. The offense was struggling so bad, in fact, that coach Bill Snyder told the defensive players at halftime that they may have to score again to get K-State back in the game.

"Their front four gave us no opportunities whatsoever," he said. "We couldn't get it inside. We couldn't get it outside. And we certainly couldn't throw it. This is as fine a defensive front as we've Indeed, the K-State offensive line was put to its first true test of the season.

"We just couldn't get it done," Orr said. "We just couldn't do anything to keep them on the other side of the line of scrimmage. That's the first time I've ever been through a game like that.

"And hopefully the last."

COLLEGE OF ARCHITECTURE AND DESIGN

Group to study European architecture

Faculty, students to travel to Italy, Germany in spring semester

LIANA RIESINGER

International programs in Italy and Germany work to give K-State architecture students a broader background.

Students in architecture and landscape architecture will study at the Santa Chiara Study Center in Castiglion Fiorentino, Italy.

The interior architecture students will go to Trier, Germany, through an exchange program. Both programs begin in January 1993.

Rick Forsyth, professor of landscape architecture and director of study for the Italy program, said Italy makes sense as a study site.

"Italy is the birth place of archi-tecture," Forsyth said. "Examples of classic history are close at hand, and some of the greatest diversity in architecture exists in Italy."

Forsyth said that by the time the students are finished with their travels, they have built extensive sketch books and receive 15 hours of credit.

The studio set up in Italy is similar to K-State, said Sean Zaudke, senior in architecture, who went on the Italian program last

"It was like K-State in Italy," Zaudke said.

Forsyth said the difference between a K-State semester for program is that students spend fewer hours in class in Italy than at

"The emphasis is to get out and see things locally, regionally and internationally, and use their sketch books and journals to record what they see," Forsyth said.

Zaudke said Italy's artistic excellence is ripe for creativity.

'In Italy, more than in any other country, you get to see the evolution of architecture," Zaudke said.

Three K-State faculty members architecture students and this and 33 students will stay in a refurbished convent in Santa

Students pay their own way in the Italian program. They have three ways of obtaining monetary

The dean's office in the College of Architecture and Design has allocated scholarship money to foreign-study programs. The awards range from $400 to $800.

The second source is financial

■ See STUDENTS Page 10

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL

DENVER BRONCOS

vs.
WASHINGTON REDSKINS

KITE'S FAMOUS LOADED NACHOS $2 75¢ draws

619 N. 12th Street; Aggleville

AIR FORCE ROTC UNITS FILLED TO CAPACITY

HOT!

Don't believe everything you hear. The air force continues to seek outstanding students to fill future officer requirements. See your self becoming a leader, graduating from college as an Air Force officer with fully developed qualities of character and managerial ability. Notice, too, the opportunities. Like eligibility for scholarship programs that can pay tuition, textbooks, fees... even a $100 in tax-free income each academic month. Visualize a crisp uniform that reflects pride in your self and your ability to accept challenge. Get the picture? Now make a call!

CAPT ROYER CAPT BARHAM 532-6600 AIM HIGH--AIR FORCE Great Memories' Start

Edwards Oct. 12

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

MEETING TONIGHT

Union Room 207 7:05 p.m.

TOPIC: What (if anything) makes you feel most like a man?

sponsored by the Dean of Student Life Office for more information call Taylor Mali at 537-7412

Picture your ad here. Then call us. COLLEGIAN Display Advertising 5 3 2 - 6 5 6

11th ANNIVERSARY CHRISTMAS BREAK PARTY - LODGING - LIFTS Taxes and welcome Goodie

11th ANNUAL COLLEGIATE WINTER SKI BREAKS

1-800-321-5911

BOWL BOUND CATS DREAM PACKAGE

Coca-Cola Bowl Tokyo, Japan, Dec. 3-8 Game Dec. 6, 1:00 pm $1,695. double occupancy

Package Includes...

* RT Airfare from KCI to Tokyo

Personal Travel Escort from KCI

* Transfers to and from Airport to Hotel

Lodging at the Hotel Imperial in Tokyo

* Transfers to and from Hotel to Game

Gold Seat Game Ticket (VIP) to see K-State vs. Nebraska

Lunch At Game

American Breakfast each morning in Tokyo

Certified Souvenir from Coca-Cola Bowl

All Hotel & Airfare taxes

Free Passport Photos

* Optional Sight Seeing Tours available

Hurry Make Reservations Now!

957 Seth Child • Village Plaza Shopping Center 539-0531

or 1-800-748-7820

1212 Moro • Aggieville 537-7546 or 1-800-842-1570

bike use during awareness week

Collegian

A campus organization has designated Oct. 12-16 as Bike Awareness Week to promote the use of bicycles as transportation for K-State students.

"It's a lot better on the environment for people to walk to campus or ride their bikes," said Jennifer DeLuca, executive board member of Students Acting to save a Vulnerable Environment.

SAVE has designated Wednesday as "No Drive Day" to promote this idea.

"We would really like to encourage people to not drive their cars on Wednesday, and if they must drive, to carpool," DeLuca

She said the goals of SAVE during Bike Awareness Week are to make people aware of the benefits of biking, to push for more bike racks and bike paths on campus, and to alert people about the rules.

SAVE will have an information

table in the K-State Union Tuesday through Thursday to promote biking. A student survey will be conducted at the table to get input on where students want more bike racks and bike paths.

The group will also collect students' ideas on the best designs for bike racks. A petition will be available at the table to sign for students who want more bike racks on campus, DeLuca said.

The survey and petition will be combined by SAVE members to create a proposal for the Division of

White House building celebrates birthday

ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON - George Washington wanted America's presidents to live in a building that would suit the new nation.

In later years, as the country grew, the "President's House" could grow with it, he wrote.

The history of the White House officially began 200 years ago this week, when the cornerstone was laid Oct. 13, 1792.

Since then, the number of rooms at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. has more than doubled - from 60 to more than 130. It's been built, rebuilt and redecorated many times.

But despite the wear and tear of 39 presidents, millions of visitors and a fire set by the British Aug. 24, 1814, the essence of the house remains the same. Irish-born architect James Hoban won a national contest to design the house, and built it out of off-white sandstone from Virginia.

Workers whitewashed the stone to protect it before the building was finished. By the 1820s most people knew it as the White House. Theodore Roosevelt made the name official in 1901.

Washington is the only president who never lived there.

RETAIL FLORICULTURE CLUB

features: Guest Designer Mr. GIB CUNNINGHAM Door prizes will be given away!!

Tuesday, Oct. 13 at 8 p.m. in 244 Waters Hall Everyone welcome!!

ATTENTION:

Students enrolled in the previous 1991-92 Kansas State Student Health Program have until Oct. 20, 1992 to remit application and appropriate premium to continue coverage on an uninterrupted basis for the 1992-93 policy year.

For further information, please contact the administrator of the program, G-M Underwriters Agency, Inc., 1-800-521-2623.

SAVE promotes Biology plans 4-part use of grant

"Nontraditional students have problems other students don't." TERRY JOHNSON

Funds to benefit programs, groups in science, health fields

K-State's Division of Biology has big plans for a $1.2-million grant it will receive in May 1992.

The five-year grant was awarded by the Howard Hughes Medical Institute to strengthen undergraduate education in biological and health-related sciences at

The program has four parts aimed at this goal, said Terry Johnson, professor

Johnson said one part of the program will create a support system for nontraditional students in health-related fields, especially single parents and underrepresented minorities.

"Non-traditional students have problems other students don't," Johnson

"If you are over 25, not only do you not identify, it's a little intimidating," Johnson said

There will be regular meetings for non-traditional and minority students to help them overcome these difficulties, Johnson said.

Karen Currey, K-State program coordinator of the 1992 HHMI undergraduate biological sciences education initiative, said the goal of the meetings will be to provide role models.

Another part of the program will be a curriculum development plan that involves purchasing new equipment for teaching Human Body, General Microbiology and Immunology.

A new method of teaching math to non-traditional and minority students will also be involved in the curriculum development plan, Johnson said. He said special recitations in algebra, trigonometry, and calculus will be set up for non-traditional and minority students in health-related areas.

The third part of the program will be two new courses in biology: Molecular Genetics and Molecular Virology. Johnson said the equipment for these courses is so expensive that they would not be possible without the grant money.

In connection with the two new courses, several undergraduate students will be hired to test experiments for the new courses. The students will receive a summer research stipend, and they may be asked to come back as teaching

The fourth part of the program will be an outreach program aimed at community college and secondary school science teachers, Johnson said.

This will be an extension of the Genetics Education Networking and Enhancement program, said Thomas Manney, professor of physics.

Manney said GENE is a four-year program funded by the National Science Foundation to train and support highschool and middle-school teachers in teaching about the organisms commonly used in genetics research.

We Take Tips

INTRODUCING S' 587-0597

> Manhattan Town Center

Street Corner News Carries Newspapers from all over the world and specialty magazines in the areas of:

Advertising & Marketing

Newage

 Art & Design Environment & Conservation

 Photography Science

•Ethnic

·Social Issues

·Literary

As well as

·Music Foreign Language Publications

The Muslin Community Association

Invites You to Attend the Fifth Lecture on:

THE BASICS OF ISLAM: Part V: Social Life in Islam

Presented by Hisham Hidmu President of MCA

Tuesday, Oct. 13, 7:30-8:30 p.m. Kansas State Union, Room 205

(Refreshments will be served)

For More Information Please Call: 537-1791

Your time is limited!

Call Varden Studio at 532-6106 to schedule an appointment for yearbook pictures.

Alpha of Clovia - Oct. 12 Edwards Hall - Oct. 12 Ford Hall - Oct. 12

11:30 a.m. - 4:45 p.m. Goodnow Hall - Oct. 13 Haymaker Hall - Oct. 13 Marlatt Hall — Oct. 13 Moore Hall - Oct. 14

8 a.m. - 1 p.m. Putnam Hall - Oct. 14

Individual appointments can be made for any of the indicated times.

1:15 - 4:45 p.m. Smith Scholarship House — Oct. 15 Smurthwaite House - Oct. 15 Van Zile Hall - Oct. 15 West Hall - Oct. 15

Great Memories Start

Clovia Oct. 12

Varden Studio Inc. is the official photographic portrait service for the 1993 Royal Purple. Members of fraternities or sororities who live in a residence hall or apartment should get their pictures taken with their fraternity or sorority. Appointments for off-campus students can be made in Union 209 or by calling 532-6106, 8a.m. - noon and 1p.m. - 5p.m.

Royal Purple Yearbook

MARKETING CLUB PRESENTS PAYLESS SHOE

Monday, Oct. 12, 7 p.m.

(Tonight)

UNION LITTLE THEATER

MEETING FOLLOWING PRESENTATION

ORGANIZATIONS K-Staters

saddle up for regional conference

K-State will send a delegation of 30 Block & Bridle members to its annual regional conference.

North Dakota State University at Fargo will be the site of the North Central District Block & Bridle Regional Conference, Oct. 16-18.

Schools in the North Central District are from Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa and Missouri.

Brian Dunn, senior in animal sciences and industry and Block & Bridle president, said the conference serves as a social and educational event.

"It is a chance to meet with other chapters and see what they do," Dunn said.

He said students will also be able to meet with professors and discuss animal-science issues.

The annual event serves several purposes, said Bob Brandt, associate professor of animal sciences and industry and club adviser.

"The conference will get students from different chapters together so they can discuss ideas," Brandt said. "Also, we get to visit other universities, see new facilities and visit with new students."

At the conference, members from the schools in the region will elect new regional officers. The current regional president is Jennifer Swanson, K-State junior in agricultural journalism.

Swanson said the conference is a good opportunity to get to know other people.

Each school will have two voting delegates. K-State's club plans to have two candidates for regional office, Dunn said.

K-State will host the regional conference in 1993 and will co-host the national conference with the University of Missouri and Iowa State University in 1994.

"K-State was one of three charter clubs in the national Block & Bridle organization," Brandt said. "Missouri and Iowa State were the other two. So, we will cohost the conference with them on the club's 75th anniversary.'

On the way to Fargo, the K-State chapter will stop in Brookings, S.D., to visit the South Dakota State University campus. There, the members will tour the SDSU agriculture research facilities. Dunn said.

Brandt said the conference is an important event for the students.

"These are people they'll be interacting with in the future," he

Students get chance to study abroad

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 8

"Student financial assistance has bent over backwards in working with the students to find ways of getting low-interest loans," Forsyth

The third form of aid is through the program staff in Italy, which awards a work-study position for one student. Service hours in the kitchen or dining hall enable a student to earn $1,000.

Students attend classes Monday through Wednesday, and take trips on Thursdays and Fridays.

"We're going to Italy to experience the culture of Italy and the history of architecture," Karl Krewenka, senior in architecture, said. "We're going there to study, but they're influencing travel much more this year than in the past."

Interior architecture students will be going to Trier, Germany.

Stephen Murphy, head of the Department of Interior Architecture, said Trier was chosen because it only interior architecture is taught there. Because it is an exchange program, K-State and German students pay their own university fees to go abroad. "It's been a very economical and productive program," Murphy said. "Additionally, we wanted to get into global affairs so students could have an experience of another culture." So far, 70 American and German students have participated in the exchange program. Five K-State students will spend the spring semester in Trier.

Bosnian leaders pull out of talks

For the first time since the U.N. banned military flights over Bosnia, no Serb air raids were reported.

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina - Bosnian military leaders said Sunday they would pull out of U.N.-backed talks on ending the siege of Sarajevo because Serb rebels were preventing crews from restoring water and power to

Intense fighting was reported overnight around the beleaguered Bosnian capital, and Sunday, government troops pounded an arc of land linking rebel Serb territories in the Military officials of the Muslim-led Bosnian government, Bosnian Croats and insurgent Bosnian Serbs had agreed to meet Monday in Sarajevo to discuss the section-by-section demilitarization

The meeting was to have been the first tripartite talks since June, and it was viewed as a last-ditch effort to end fighting in the Bosnian capital before the arrival of brutal winter weather.

But Sarajevo radio quoted Stjepan Siber, deputy chief of staff of the side would not attend the meeting because the Serbs have refused to allow U.N.-protected crews to restore vital services to the city.

Croatian radio also quoted Bosnian officials as saying Serb air raids which violate a U.N. ban on military flights - also were a factor in the decision to boycott the talks. Serb rebels have denied the raids.

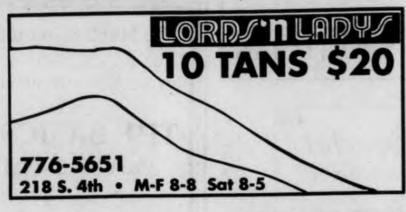

A government withdrawal from the demilitarization talks would cripple chances for peace in the devastated city.

Bosnian army, as saying the government International mediators have insisted an agreement would have to be approved by all three of the warring sides.

In Geneva, U.N. spokesman Fred Eckhard said he had not heard that the Bosnians would stay away from the Mustaf Bijedic, a Bosnian government representative, also could not confirm the pullout, but he said he was aware of difficulties in the talks including the Serbs' insistence on retaining sections of Sarajevo from which they had expelled non-Serbs.

Watch for a special section about the election, coming Oct. 22 in the

GREAT MEMORIES START HERE ROYAL PURPLE

ATTENTION ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS:

Get your group signed up for a Departmental photograph. Portraits will be taken through Oct. 29.

Call 532-6557 to schedule a time.

A Collegian personal can say it all!

Ghosts and goblins, witches and brooms, Owls and pumpkins, bats and tombs. Halloween is a great time to say,

"You're my favorite person today!"

Say it with a Collegian personal in the Classifieds.

For only $5 for up to 20 words, you can get your Halloween message in the Collegian. Just fill out this form and take it to Kedzie 103. Ads will run Oct. 30. Deadline is noon Wednesday, Oct. 28.

YOUR NAME

YOUR ID NUMBER

ADDRESS

PHONE NUMBER

MESSAGE (No last names or phone numbers accepted in personals.)

KANSAS STATE

Kedzie 103 (east of the Union)

Guatemala Auckland Madrid Buenos Aires

$519* Bangkok

$498*

$379*

Council Travel 1-800-475-5070

Monday Night Football Denver vs. Washington BIG SCREEN 6 ft. x 8 ft.

23 oz. BIG BEER S | 50 Sun., Mon., Tues.

Macho Nachos Hot Wings

Monday Night Football Contest!

523 S. 17th 537-1484

COMING E V E N T S

Lend Me a Tenor

Friday, October 23, 8 p.m.*1 Sneak behind the scenes of a gala opera for an evening of Marx Brothers-style shenanigans. The laughter is nonstop in this outrageous Tony Award-winning farce.

Tickets: $7-$18.

The Waverly Consort The Year 1492: Spanish Music in the Age of Columbus Saturday, October 31, 8 p.m.+

Ten brilliant singers and players trace the Christian, Jewish, and Muslim threads that form the fascinating fabric of Spanish culture. An illustrated pre-concert lecture at 6:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre, K-State Union, is free and open to the public. Tickets: $7.50-$15.

Sergio and Odair Assad

Sunday, November 8, 3p.m.* These Brazilian brothers dazzle audiences with their breathtaking virtuosity and stylistic perfection. Hear for yourself as they explore the classics and sample the wealth of South American music.

Tickets: $6-$12

Fiddler on the Roof

Sunday, November 22, 7:30 p.m.§ Songs like "If I Were a Rich Man," "Matchmaker" and "Sunrise, Sunset" makes this 1991 Tony Awardwinning Best Revival Musical "one of the most glowing creations in the history of musical theatre.'
(New York Times)

Tickets: $10-$25

Call 532-6428 or come to the McCain box office on the Kansas State University campus, Manhattan.

Box office hours: noon to 5 p.m. weekdays; from 1 p.m. before weekend matinees; from 3 p.m. before weekend evenings. Tickets also available (with service charge) at Manhattan Town Center Customer Service Desk, K-State Union Bookstore, and ITR (Fort Riley). Persons with disabilities call 532-6428. Transportation for Senior Citizens is available through Kansas State Bank. For information and reservations, call Marie Dellen at 587-4000, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

* Presented in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency. ¶ Corporate support by Manhattan Medical Center.

A Mid-America Arts Alliance program.

A free educational forum

Depression is as common as the common cold.

Like the common cold, depression can strike anyone at any time. But, unlike the common cold, depression can be cured.

We all experience depression over the course of a lifetime, and one fourth of us experience a depression that warrants treatment. Only a third of us who could benefit from professional help seek it. For those who don't, the symptoms may fade away but are likely to recur. The sooner depression is detected and treated, the more effective the results.

As part of National Mental Illness Awareness Week, The Menninger Clinic will present a free public Depression Education Forum that features

■ A presentation on depression by the Menninger professional staff

■ The 30-minute film Depression: The Storm Within

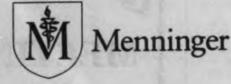

■ A question and answer period coordinated by Menninger mental health professionals ■ A voluntary, self-administered questionnaire, and

■ An opportunity, if you choose, to meet privately with a Menninger mental health professional. (This five-minute screening is designed to be informational and will provide free professional guidance, but it is not a substitute for a detailed, psychiatric evaluation.)

At Menninger we've been helping people with depression for more than 65 years. We invite you to learn more about this widely misunderstood and very treatable illness. This is an opportunity for you to help yourself or someone you know. No reservations are required.

Tuesday, October 13 7-9 pm

Seeley Conference Center 5800 SW Sixth Avenue Topeka, KS

From any city in Missouri or Kansas, please call for further information 1 800 351 9058, ext. 555.

Directions

To reach Menninger from westbound I-70, exit I-70 at Wanamaker Road and turn north onto Wanamaker. Eastbound traffic on I-70 should exit onto I-470
East and exit again onto SW Huntoon St./Wanamaker Rd. Turn east onto Huntoon St. and then turn north onto Wanamaker.

Wanamaker will curve right onto Sixth Avenue. Turn left at the light, the main campus entrance.

Fact, fiction combine for 'Whorehouse' script

"We also give awards to the outstanding freshman, sophomore and junior. Rather than cash prizes, we give them music reference books," Parker said.

Miss Mona, played by Lisa Nanni, graduate student in speech, sings about the rules of the chicken ranch Sunday during a dress rehearsal for "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas" in McCain Auditorium. The musical runs Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Musical provides variety of characters, challenges cast

LANE ALLISON

KSU Theatre and the Department of Music will present "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas" Thursday, Friday and Saturday in McCain Auditorium.

Director Luke Kahlich, associate professor of speech, said the play is based on an article that appeared in Playboy in the 1970s about a Texas

Kahlich said the chicken ranch had been a whorehouse for more than 100 years until a Houston TV reporter decided to shut it down.

"A lot of people think that someone made up the story," said Texas-native Kahlich. "But it is an actual, historical fact. The musical is basically about what happened when the reporter decided to shut down the whorehouse."

Kahlich said characters in the story include politicians, Aggie football players, the women in the house and the local sheriff.

Sheriff Ed Earl Dodd is played by Paul Raehpour, senior in theater. He said the sheriff, a strong-willed, confident man who uses swear words as part of his vernacular, is completely different from Raehpour's personality.

This character was a struggle at first, because it is the furthest from my own personality that I've ever done." Raehpour said.

He said he had his eye on this role all through

"I'm a little nervous, but I'm really excited. My parents will be in the audience Saturday. They're proud that I got the lead, but my mother doesn't like my character," Raehpour said about his first

"It's fun though, to be able to swear like that and get away with it. It's going to be a fun show."

Marci Maullar, assistant professor of speech and general manager of productions, was in the original company's production of the musical.

"I couldn't even watch the movie," she said. "The musical is very different from the movie in the feeling of the production. It's a play about politics. It's very much a human play - it's warm at times and very funny."

Kahlich said there will be an onstage country band, which the audience will relate to.

■ Tickets are on sale at the McCain Box Office for $7 for students and $8 for the general public. Shows are at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in McCain Auditorium.

Faculty spoofs classical music for fun

LIANA RIESINGER

An atypical music concert combining humor and talent will spice up All Faiths Chapel.

The Department of Music will present "Faculty Follies - A Salute to P.D.Q. Bach" at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The concert is sponsored by Phi Kappa Lambda, a national music

"The concert is a light program contains mostly humorous performances " said Jennifer Edwards assistant professor of music.

One piece will have two people playing the viola at the same time.

"We end with a choral cantata, 'Knock-Knock,' based on a bunch of knock-knock jokes," said Craig Parker, associate professor of music and concert coordinator.

Composed by Peter Schickele, the program is a spoof on classical music, Parker said.

"Our shows are unique, unusual that the faculty puts on, and it and a lot of fun," Jean Sloop, professor of music, said. "We have

Schickele, a graduate of the Julliard School of Music, has performed at McCain Auditorium

Sloop said Schickele is talented, brilliant and combines great humor

Parker said Schickele is the oddest of composers and is referred to as "a pimple on the face of

At one performance in McCain, Schickele swung onstage on a rope.

The proceeds from the concert toward the Phi Kappa Lambda Picture your ad here. (only bigger) Then call us.

COLLEGIAN

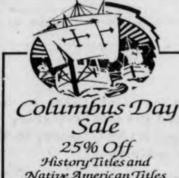

Display Advertising

Pregnant? Need help? For confidential help call irthright Free pregnancy test 537-9180 523 s. 17th st. 800-848-LOVE (568

Picture your ad here. (only bigger) Then call us. COLLEGIAN Display Advertising

3 2 - 6 5 6 0

Native American Titles October 12th - 25th K-State Union Bookstore

K-State Union

Seat Covers Headlining Boat Covers Tonneau Covers Window Tinting Convertible Tops Complete Auto, Truck & Boat Upholstery

201 Sarber Lane

(between Wal-Mart and K-Mart) Manhattan, Kansas 66502 Phone 776-7679 Res. 776-7614

Lots of Features, Low Price!

Panasonic PV-M1321 Combination VCR/13" diag. Color TV

Quick Play

OSD Programming

 Full-CH Dig. Quartz Tuning 30/60/90 min. Sleep Timer

Dig. Auto Tracking

Auto Repeat

Book Mark Search

Real Time Counter

•Time Search

20 Minutes West

Through Ft. Riley

 Monitor/Channel Search Perfect for Dorm or Apartment!

• High-Speed Omnisearch (27x in SLP) 1-Mo/4-Prog. Calendar/Timer

• Frame-Still/Variable Slow/Double-Speed Playback/Frame-

Advance in SLP Skip-Search/Search Lock

• 53-Function Remote

Auto Op. Functions

Stand-by OTR

• TV Mute

1-762-4447

630 Grant Ave.

Junction City M-F 10-7 Sat. 10-5

JUNCTION, INC.

ROYAL PURPLE

Sigma Sigma Sigma-Oct. 7-8 Tau Kappa Epsilon-Oct. 8 Theta Xi-Oct. 8 Triangle-Oct. 9 Zeta Phi Beta-Oct. 9 Boyd-Oct. 9 Clovia-Oct. 12 Edwards-Oct. 12 Ford-Oct. 12 Goodnow-Oct. 13

Haymaker-Oct. 13 Marlatt-Oct. 13 Moore-Oct. 14 Putnam-Oct. 14 Smith-Oct. 15 Smurthwaite-Oct. 15 Van Zile-Oct. 15 West-Oct. 15 Off Campus-Oct. 16-30

PICTURE YOURSELF IN THE 1993 ROYAL PURPLE YEARBOOK.

Photos will be taken from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. in the K-State Union Room 209.

Call 532-6106 for an appointment.

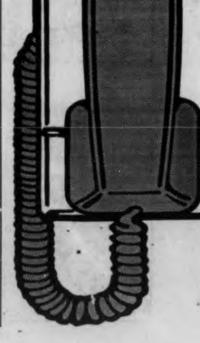

If you are a greek member, but live in a residence hall or off campus, please have your photo taken with your fraternity or sorority.

Need a number?

Campus Telephone Books are available in Kedzie 103 (east of the Union).

$2 Students, limit 2 Identification required $3.25 Faculty/Staff $4 All others

Harmony Walk promotes unity

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

beginning the walk around campus. "I did the walk last year, and it was a great experience. That's why I'm back this year," said Michelle Ryan, senior in journalism and mass communications.

Phil Anderson, instructor of speech, said unity among all is vital.

"We are taught to hate and fear that which we don't know," Anderson said. "Bigotry and hatred are happening all over the world."

Anderson said change obviously needs to occur, but it is a slow

"Change in human beings goes slowly," he said. "Before changing one's opinion, they must deal with fact, logic, reason and emotion."

Anderson said he believes we are taught many of our prejudices at a young age. Therefore, we grow up not knowing any differently.

Amy Miller, co-coordinator of the Harmony Walk and senior in management, said the week had much faculty support.

Professors have encouraged their students to get involved with Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week by having them attend and write about the events," Miller said.

"Racial/ethnic harmony isn't just one week, and we need to carry on the harmony," Miller said. "There isn't just one week in the year, but 52, for harmony."

Andy Cordero, director of the minority engineering program, said many events are planned to help racial/ethnic harmony to continue.

Today, a panel including members of Hispanic, black, Latin American and Native American student groups will be moderated by the Department of Ethnic

A Bigots Anonymous panel portraying prejudices toward different groups is another upcoming event.

'This week has heightened awareness in hopes to get students involved in something multicultural," Cordero said.

After the Harmony Walk, Bernard Franklin, assistant dean of student life, expressed his concerns about the urgency of harmony.

What people don't realize is that we are more alike than different," Franklin said. "We allow differences in skin color to separate Differences in humans should not create strife, Miller said.

"We are all different, but can get along," Miller said.

symbolic because members of come," Franklin said.

many groups came together, fulfilling the Racial/Ethnic Harmony Week goal.

"All of us have dreams, all of us want to live in a peaceful world, but we've allowed the exterior of man to separate the interior of man," Franklin said.

Franklin said he believes the college generation is the one that needs to begin making the changes.

"We all need to understand that college students now can be the ones capable of bringing mankind together more than we've ever known," Franklin said.

Franklin quoted poet Langston Hughes: "A world I dream where black or white, whatever race you be, will share the bounties of the earth and every man is free."

"We have to make America a Franklin said the walk was place to live peacefully for years to

Plans for cuts continue

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

"We find it difficult to understand why our program is being sacrificed, when other programs, which have not demonstrated levels of scholarly productivity superior to ours, are being enhanced," the report said.

"We hope that our evidence and arguments on this point are persuasive and that they're coming to understand the centrality of the program," said William Richter. head of the political science department.

MPA program director Krishna Tummala said the data originally given to the core group was faulty, and then correct data was provided.

The Department of Political Science is uncertain that the correct data was taken into account or made a difference in the decisionmaking process, Tummala said.

Richter said a central objective of the College of Arts and Sciences' mission is to train civic leaders.

"We are fulfilling that part of the mission," Richter said. Two other important objectives of the University are to increase diversity on campus and strengthen the perspective of its national roles. Tummala said the MPA program is making a significant contribution to those objectives. "This is why it's puzzling that a recommendation should come out to throw all of this to the wind." Richter said.

Margery Ambrosius, associate professor of political science, said K-State's program does not duplicate any other program in Kansas. It emphasizes program administration at the local, state, national and international levels. The program is one of two in Kansas that is nationally accredited, Tummala said

Richter said, "The program gives a broad-based liberal education. People are able to see things in a broader perspective."

He said the presidential management internship program is one successful part of the MPA program. In the last several years, eight students from K-State have been selected.

The internship program allows graduate students to complete a two-year internship in a national government position with a high level of responsibility.

Tummala said this program is comparable to the Truman Scholarship program at the undergraduate level.

In the last 10 years, the number of students in the MPA program has doubled, he said. An average of 35 enter the program each year, even though the admissions standards have been raised.

"Almost 100 percent of graduates in the program are placed in a position for which they've already been trained," Tummala

Golfers to defend title in Wichita

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 7 K-State are Wright, Denise Pottle, Debbie Crystal and Dallas Cox.

The women's last tournament was Oct. 2-3 at Northern Illinois, where the Wildcats placed fourth in a 10-team field.

After returning from Illinois,

Hahn said she was a little apprehensive about the Shocker Classic.

"We won it last year, but the way we played at Northern Illinois, I'm really nervous," she said of the tournament in which they had hoped for a higher placing.

"The only thing I know about were able to place higher. this course is that if you hit it off the fairway, you don't have a prayer," Hahn said.

The Wildcats haven't played against the Shockers yet this season. They have competed against the Jayhawks, though, and

Their last competition was more than a week ago, and Elliott said he has confidence in his team.

"I know that this team can do it," he said. "They just need to get it done, and now is the time to start getting results."

ESSENTIALS

Reader worries about an argument over pantyhose

My girlfriend and I just had our usual argument concerning her appearance. It usually starts by her asking me, "How do I

I always respond by saying "beautiful."

She will then say, "No, really, I mean it. How do I look?"

She is a very attractive woman, always wearing the latest fashions. But she does have a bit of a problem. Her panty lines always show through her dresses. Yeah, no joke. Men notice these things, too, especially after watching as much television as I have watched.

As usual, I told her she should buy those pantyhose they offer on television that get rid of panty lines. It works on television.

She argues with me every time on this point. She said women always wear panties underneath their pantyhose. I point out that they are panty and hose in one. Therefore, the term "pantyhose."

She refuses to wear just her pantyhose. Her job requires that she wears skirts and dresses. So, she will always have this problem. I will always point it out to her.

Cassandra, can you help out? How do women feel on this issue of pantyhose? Is my girlfriend just too conservative?

As a woman, I am sure you and your readers have an opinion on this issue. I personally think she has nothing to be worried about. Wasn't that the whole point of inventing pantyhose in the Women no longer have to wear both panties and hose. Heck, I don't know, and she isn't

Seriously Confused DEAR SERIOUSLY CONFUSED,

There is some question here as to what, exactly, your girlfriend is wearing. There are many different product styles on the market.

For instance, if she is wearing pantyhose without the absorbent cotton crotch, then she may be wearing panties underneath her hose to help absorb moisture and prevent the possible occurrence of a yeast infection. This is something many mothers will tell a girl when she first starts to wear hose.

She could be wearing a cotton panty underneath her hose for comfort. Nylon hose I have a small penis and haven't felt are warm and can be uncomfortable in hot

She may simply be self-conscious and worried about accidentally exposing herself in public, which is a reasonable concern if she wears totally sheer pantyhose.

However, you are correct in pointing out that the reason "pantyhose" were developed in the first place was to allow women to wear hose without the need to wear panties also.

If your girlfriend buys a style that is not sheer, or "see-through," in the upper panty portion of the hose, and a style that also contains a cotton crotch, then she should be able to go without wearing panties underneath, thus avoiding the dreaded panty line.

Most women, I believe, do not wear panties under their pantyhose.

In a recent letter, you commented that the size of the penis has no bearing on the woman who a man is with, and that the preoccupation with penis size is only a myth.

Well, I think that is great, for I, too, feel that comfortable with women because of it. I am so grateful for your section of the Collegian. Tell me, are you seeing anyone? A devoted fan.

DEAR LITTLE JOHN,

Without making a "big" issue out of such a 'small" facet of the overall requirements for enjoying a sexual relationship, let me reiterate that the issue of genital size is blown way out of proportion by both men and women. Enough

Sorry, but I am currently (and permanently)

Letters to Cassandra Duveaux may be submitted in person or by mail to the Kansas State Collegian, c/o Cassandra Duveaux, Kedzie 116, Manhattan, Kan.,

Cassandra reserves the right to edit the content for the purpose of conserving space. Unless otherwise specified, all letters will be open to the public. Correspondence designated as "private" of publication" will be maintained in the strictest confidence. The advice presented in this column is solely the opinion of the columnist and does not reflect the opinion of the Collegian or K-State...

SUPER HERO U

KANESHIRO

JIM'S JOURNAL

JIM DIKKERS

while.

CROSSWORD

I watched a

today for a street juggler

he juggled five balls and flipped his hat out for a finish.

when he was done

gen, for one

22 Actor

26 Occult

29 Solidify

30 Scratch

27 Went

Burton

Then he asked

EUGENE SHEFFER

THE STRIP

AN

DAVID SWEARINGEN

BILL WATTERSON

ACROSS 1 Alencon, 41 Freeway

5 Flushed 8 Go cold turkey 12 Unrelent stuff

20 Lord

Wimsey's

creator

49 Bribe of a sort 13 Overseas 51 Je ne sais 14 Golden 52 Stressful Rule word type:

53 Color 16 Summer 54 Condo cottage minium, 8 Soak up e.g. 55 Staminate 56 Opened the trick

57 Congers 21 Haven DOWN 1 Singer for the seasick 23 1974 kidnap org

24 Wouldn't leave 28 Advantage 31 Food for little lambs 32 Cousteau, e. g. 34 "A mouse!"

Are a Girl's - Friend" 37 Lot 39 Spotted.

35 "Diamonds

field to Tweety 2 Sheik, for access example 42 Kitchen 3 Cell rackful occupants 45 Dominions

Samantha's mom 5 Regarding Talmudic teachers 6 Ostrich's cousin 7 Cacopho> leaguer? 9 Gasoline option 10 "Take leave it" 11 Does an AAA

8 Bush

17 Hydro-Solution time: 24 mins SORRY, unable to provide answers.

36 Stop the ballcarrier 38 Not transpar-40 Charlotte's creation cursorily

43 Gyro bread 44 Humorist Mort 46 Debussy's "Clair de

47 Drudge 48 Takes a

Yesterday's answer 10-12 50 Prompt

19 Cry heard in a speak God used ...to create (out)-33 New York For answers to today's crossword, 1-900-454-6873 ! 99¢ per minute, to tone / rotary phones. (18+ only.) A King Features service, NYC.

10-12 CRYPTOQUIP

ASYD DXGK DLXGGXHR UKND QJL

> LJNKUZNSKN Y D S J L H M X N N Z K .
> Yesterday's Cryptoquip: OTIS INVENTED THE > ELEVATOR, GIVING ALL HIS FRIENDS A LIFT.

> > Today's Cryptoquip ciue: M equals Y

CALVIN AND HOBBES

AND NOW LOOK! HERE'S A PIECE OF CHALK FLOATING AROUND! PRETTY WEIRD, HUH? YES, FOR SHOW AND TELL TODAY, I. CALVIN, HAVE TURNED MYSELF INVISIBLE!

HA HA! NOW I'LL TAKE OFF THESE CLOTHES AND THE NEXT SOUND YOU HEAR WILL BE MY FEET HEADING FOR THE DOOR! ADIOS, AMIGOS!

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

20 words or less - $5 each word over 20 - $.20 per word

2 DAYS 20 words or less — $6.25 each word over 20 - $.25 per word 3 DAYS 20 words or less — $7.25 each word over 20 — $.30 per word

4 DAYS 20 words or less — $8 . each word over 20 — $.35 per word

5 DAYS 20 words or less — $8.50 each word over 20 — $.40 per word (consecutive day rate)

1. There is a $10 service charge

As a service to you, we run found ad-r three days free of charge. For an extra charge, we'll put a seddine above your ad to cetch the seder's attention.

CANCELLATIONS

Classified ads must be placed by noon the day before the date you want your ad to run. Classified display ads must be placed by 4 p.m. two working days prior to the date you want your ad the ad is to be pu

CORRECTIONS

If you find an error in your ad, pl call us. We accept responsibility o for the first wrong insertion.

Call 532-6555 to place your classified.

GET THE WORD

532-6555

532-7309

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS Kedzie Hall 103

OFFICE HOURS 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (Except holidays

539-7130, Mon.- Fri.

1989 Mercedes $200, 1986 VW $50,

$100, 1965 Mustang

$50. Choose from

24 hour hotline. (801) 379-2929. Copy-right number KS13KJC.

Charger, five-speed, AM/FM cassette, air

FOR SALE 1987 Dodge

520 Bicycles

TECHNIUM 440 Road Bike,

WHITE CANNONDALE SR400. Excellent condi-tion. $400. Price negotiable. 537-7982.

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

610

Rome. $1532 K.C. to K.C. Dec. 27- Jan. 5.

Room for a few more.

Contact Diane Dollar 532-6605 or 539-8401

CHRISTMAS BREAK

STEAMBOAT

DECEMBER 12-5 - 1 & OR 7 MG/TS - $166

VAIL/BEAVER CREEK

BRECKENRIDGE

1-800-321-5911

1000

** 27000 T RO 3 2 - 14-5 TRAUM.

WINTER SKI BREAKS

14-speed. Good for commuting and touring. Reasonable price 537-0186 after 6p.m.

Mercedes

information

5p.m.- 6p.m.

1987

Free

CHEAP! FBI/ U.S. seized

BULLETIN BOARD

010

"A ROUSING musical with a great deal to hoot about! Y'all go heah!' The Best Little Whore house in Texas. Oct. 15, 16, 17.

$COLLEGE MONEY. Private Scholarships and Grants. America's finest. Since 1981 es provided, or we'll send you $250 U.S. Bond. College Scholarship Locators, Box 1881, Joplin, MO 64802-1881. 1-800-879-7485.

AVAILABLE NOW!! KSU Campus Directories. Purchase in Kedzie 103 Students; $2 each (limitwo with KSU ID), facul ty/staff $3.25 with KSU ID, others $4 each. KSU Offices need to make purchases through KSU OFFICE SUPPLIES STORE in COME FLY with us, K-State has five airplanes. For bes prices call Sam Knipp, 539-6193 after 5:30p.m.

As Boys; A series of four presentations sponsored by University Counseling Services. The series will examine the physical and emotional impact of sexual abuse on men. and identify factors in-volved in adult recovery. Open to men and women. Meets Tues. evenings, 6:30-7:30p.m. beginning Oct. 20, Lafene 231.

STAINED GLASS Crafters of stained glass at Wholesale Prices thru Oct. 15. Weekdays 4-6, Sat. 12- 4 or appointment. Glass Impressions 329 Poyntz 539-4610. Tell your friends! VISA, MC.

WE SENT a reminder card what more can we do? Did you forget? Pick your 1992 Royal Pur-ple!today in Kedzie 103. Also, the 1993 Royal Purple portrait studio is open, stop by Union 209 or call 532-6106 for an appoint

Lost and Found

, $100 REWARD -- Please keep looking, lost white cat. Last seen 927 Can-dlewood Drive and Kim-ble Avenue. 537-0537 days; 539-3644 even-

A BLACK colored umbrella with a brown handle found in Dickens 122 after Stat 510 class. Contact K-State Union ost and found counter.

FOUND KEYS, south of Jardine Apartments. Four keys total, one is to rm room type door. FOUND: A set of keys in Seaton computer lab Saturday, Oct. 3 at noon. Call 776-4722 to FOUND: JACKET in Den son Hall 113A on Oct. 2, 1992. Call 532-3533 to

We require a form of picture ID (KSU or driver's license or other) when placing a

BELINDA P. the new one, for RP. We are wish-

Warm It Up! Turn up the heat at your next party with Wet'n Wild Hot Tubs •FREE Delivery FREE Set Up ·CALL TODAY!

110 For Ren

ASSUME LEASE for single bedroom apartment, between Jan. 1 and July 31. Call 537-9643 before 8p.m.

FOUR-BEDROOM TOWN homes located in Brittnay Ridge Estates. Cen-tral air, heat, washer/ dryer and dishwasher. $230 per person will match roommates. Call for appointments 776-3804.

LARGE BEDROOM in a three-bedroom apart-ment complex. For a serious male student phone 537-7087, $185.

NICE STUDIO apartment, 1019 Houston. Near City Park. Utilities paid, except water. $295, 1-800-593-0519. Open this Saturday.

ONE-BEDROOM APART-MENT located at 1960 Hunting #16. Available immediately. Close to campus. Central air/ heat and coin operated laundry facilities. $395, includes water, trash and pest control. Call for appointment 776-3804.

ONE-BEDROOM, CLOSE TO campus, central facilities.. $340. No Pets. 776-3804. Available Oct. 1.

SPACIOUS ONE- two-bed-room. Beautiful hard wood floors. Quiet sur roundings. Option to rent basement with laundry hook-ups and shower bath. 539-4087.

TWO-BEDROOM APART-MENT located at 914 Moro #1, $410. Washer and dryer, pets allowed, rent from Jan. – Aug. 539–2019.

TWO ROOMS available in town home for now or next semester. Very nice. Call 539-6684.

AVAILABLE NOW four hedroom. Located 1715 Poyntz. Two bath, fireplace, washer/ dryer, yard. $620 plus utilities, lease plus deposit 539-3672.

> GET THE NORD OUT.

FURNISHED OR unfurnished mobile homes. Quiet surroundings for serious students. Cammonth lease available

45 Wanted

FEMALE NEEDED to share room in two-bedroom apartment. $180 deposit and rent. All bills and cable included. Great Nov. 1, 537-2334.

FEMALE ROOMMATE wanted. Large house, own bedroom, washer, dryer, all utilities paid. $212.50/ month. Must like dogs. 776-1861, Car-

MALE ROOMMATE want ed to share four-bedroom house two and one-half blocks from campus. $125 plus utili-ties 776-3815.

ONE OR two male roommate(s) three blocks from campus, trash/ water paid, garage available, laundry facilities, reasonable, 315 ROOMMATES WANTED:

Brittnay Ridge Town-home. Completely furbedroom. Located at 1825 College Heights.

150

information

LARGE ONE-BEDROOM duplex $260/ month. Sublease Nov.- Dec. with option for one

155 Stable/

stalls with lot. Close to town. Call Gene 587-0222.

overheads. Profes sional results guar anteed. Please call

Reports.

No pets. 539-4087.

nished except bedrooms. Lease from time signed to Aug. 1, 1993. 776-0589. ONE FEMALE roommate needed for large two-

Close to campus, laundry facilities and central air and heat. For more year lease beginning Jan. Water and trash paid. 539–3238.

QUIET, CLEAN, large two-bedroom/ one bath apartment, central air, $425/ month plus utili-ties language. Assist ties. January- August.

WANTED FEMALE to sub-lease one bedroom of two-bedroom apart-ment. $195 a month rent plus half utilities and deposit. Available December 1. For information call 776-5608

HORSE BOARDING, nice

A B C typing service. You do studying let me do the typing. graphs, resumes and more. Overnight results when necessary Go ahead, give me a call. 537-9480 after

A FIVE minute walk from Aggieville. Resumes, letters, papers typed as low as $1.25 double spaced. Please call Melia 776-1534.

A QUALITY resume is vital in today's competitive iob market. Contact the courteous staff at Re sume Service for your resume, cover letter and form typing needs. Serving KSU students and staff for over a dec-ade 343 Colorado St.

UTILIZE MY B.S. in English/ Speech for papers/ editing; my ten years personnel management for resumes. $1.25 dou ble; letter quality. Call Janice 537-2203.

225 Pregnant Testing

Pregnancy Testing Center 539-3338

Free pregnancy

Same day results

·Call for appointment

Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

GUITAR LESSONS. Experienced teacher. All styles 776-0685.

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS 532-6556

000

BULLETIN

their price range.

BOARD

255° ther Services

Tattoo Fine Line Tattoo

hospital sterilization Junction City 238-8238

EMPLOYMENT CAREERS

Collegian urges our reader MI. 501 SE Jefferson, Tope-ka, KS 66607-1190.

APPLICATIONS ARE being ing and scheduling of volunteers and assisting in the overall oper ations of FONE. Appli cations are available in the SGS office and are due at 5p.m. Monday,

HELP WANTED: roof truss manufacturer 5107

250 Repair

NISSAN- DATSUN Repair Service. 20 years ex-perience in Mazdas, Hondas and Toyotas also. Auto Craft, 2612 Dipper Lane, Manhattan, Kansas. 537-5049 8a.m.- 5p.m. Monday through Friday

Quality work, reasonably priced, 1028 W. 6th 29th Massachusett 233-8288

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification. Readers are advised to approach any such contact the Better (913)232-0454 $$$$, FREE travel and re sume experience!! In dividuals and studen organizations wanted to promote Spring Break, call the nation's leader. Inter-Campus Programs 1-800-327-6013.

accepted for Assistant Coordinator of FONE Crisis Center. Duties in-clude recruitment, train-

Murray Road, 776-5081.

NANNIES NEEDED near NYC/ NJ. We offer great families, experience, $$$, and more. Nanny Funders, Inc. 800-858-1701 anytime.

NOW HIRING: Telephone interviewers. 50 open-ings. Evening shifts and other hours available. No experience, no sell-ing involved. Apply R.L. Polk & Co., 3003 An-derson Ave. Suite 913 (Village Plaza). We are employer and we do basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin or disability. WEEKEND, PART-TIME help for grain, livestock farm. Experience nec-essary. Call before 8a.m. or after 7p.m (913)456-7215.

The Collegian cannot verify the financial potential of advertisements in the Employment classification Readers are advised to approach any such em-ployment opportunity with reasonable cau-tion. The Collegian urges our readers to contact the Better Business Bureau, 501 SE Jefferson, Topeka, KS 66607-1190. (913)232-0454.

$200- $500 weekly. Assemble products at home. Easy! No selling paid di rect. Fully guaranteed. Free informa-tion—24 hour hotline. 801-379-2900

Copyright #KS13KDH $252.50Sell 50 funny college T-shirts and make $252.50. No financial obligation. A risk-free COMPUTER PAPER: one program. Average sales time equals 4–6 hours. cent per sheet. Ten per Choose from 18 designs. Smaller/larger quantities available Call (800) 733-3265. 40 PEOPLE to lose weight and make money. 100 percent money back guaran-tee. 539-1252. and dresses. Limited quantities. Clearance

ATTENTION STUDENTS: Earn extra cash stuffing envelopes in your own home. All materials provided. Send SASE to P.O. Box 9643 Springfield, MO 65801 Immediate Response.

PLOYMENT Make money teaching Eng-lish abroad. Japan and Taiwan. Make $2,000-WEDDING DRESS. Size 7-$4,000+ per month Many provide room and board plus other benefits! Financially and culturally reward-ing! For International Employment program and application, call the International Employ-ment Group: (206) 632-FOR SALE: Used furniture

MAKE $1000 stuffing envelopes. Send self addressed stamped envelope to J. C. Inc., P.O. Box 864, Manhattan, KS 66502-0008.

NEEDED 100 people to lose weight now! No will power needed, brand new, just patent ed 100 percent natural, 100 percent guaranteed. Doctor recommended. 1-(800)874-7697.

OVERSEAS JOBS. $900-2000 month Summer, year round, All Coun-tries, All fields. Free information. Write IJC, PO Box 52-KS02 Corona Del Mar, CA 92625

OPEN MARKET

405 Wanted to Buy NEED CASH? Sell your

Levi jackets, mens over alls. 776-7472.

denim! We're always buying Levi 501 jeans,

10- GALLON aquarium with all accessories and fish, $50; Queen size mattress, $40 or best offer; student desk,

COMPACT DISCS $7 and under. Call Kevin at 776-cent ribbon discount-Panasonic KXP; Brother AX. Hull Business Supplies, 715 N. 12, Aggieville, 539-1413. LEATHER: JACKETS, portfolios, fanny packs, carry-ons, purses, skirts prices. Call 776-0477 T-SHIRTS -SWEATSHIRTS. First Quality- Advertising specialties -Party favors, first quality -low price to your specifications. 539-6655.

539-3294. Leave mes sage.

8. Paid $750 asking $450. Or best offer.

living room sets available December. Call 537-9643 before 8p.m. LEAVING MANHATTAN-For sale cheap: desk, chair, lamp, etc. Good condition. Call 776-1989.

Bedroom, dining and

QUALITY PRINTER, Epson LX-810 new. Comes with cable adapter. For more information call 776-7388. TRS-80, DUAL disk drives, printer, modem phone, tape backup. Call Kevin at 537-4090, or leave message.

PEARL DRUM set, black Zildian cymbals. $1800 new, will sacrifice for $800 or best offer.

55 GALLON, oceanic stand lights, hood, UG, pow-erheads, trickle, back-

450 Pets and Supplies

supplies, 776-7388 BEAGLE- AKC registered, six months old, shots, supplies. Best offer. Ask Matt 539-1163.

HELPI NEED new home, 10 weeks old, friendly, very lovable, red chov Must sell, 537-0650. 465 Tickets to

U2 TICKETS for October 18 in Kansas City. Two tick-ets in FRONT ROW, sec-

TRANS-PORTATION

510

1976 GRAND Prix, auto electric windows/ locks power/ tilt steering. Runs good. $500 or best offer. 539-5794, 1978 CHEVETTE 87,000

1979 CAMARÔ, V-8, power steering. New brakes, new exhaust system, carpet, no rust $1500 or best offer,

1980 MONTE Carlo, V8, miles reliable transpor-tation, 30 miles per gal-lon. $700 or best offer evenings 532-3041.

stereo, tinted windows navy blue, power ster ring/ brakes, sharp, 537-2896, ask for Mitch. 1981 HONDA Accord four door Sedan. Runs good, air condition, au tomatic, $700. Call Tom, 539-8897. Please leave message. 1983 DODGE, full-size van air condition, automat ic, power steering, V8, very good condition, self converted for trav

2. Then call us

When you're ready to advertise, tune in with the Classifieds. OLLEGIAN Kedzie 116 532-655 4444444444444 el, reconvertable, $3100 What do you do if you see a fire? 1. Call 911

News Tips 532-6556

KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

CLASSIFIED DIRECTORY

DIRECTORY 205™

SERVICE

SPANISH TUTORING, by native speaker. Call 776-0477.

$1.25/ DOUBLE, $10/ resume. Laser printer. Also specializing in ta-bles, equations, and

REAL

ESTATE

ORY

are advertising first. This helps potential buyers find what they are looking for. Don't use abbreviations. Many buyers are confused by abbreviations. Consider including the price. This tells buyers if they are looking at something in have been arranged by category and sub-category. All categories are marked by one of the large images, and sub-categories are preceded by a number designation.

CATEGORIES

To help you find what you are looking for, the classified ads

WE DO NOT USE PHONE NUMBERS OR LAST NAMES IN PERSONALS.

TRAVEL/

TRIPS

CAREERS

Moyal Purple

In 10 years,
will you remember
the athletic victories,
all-night study sessions
and terrific friendships you
swore would last a lifetime?
The Royal Purple will.

To order your 1992-93 Royal Purple, come to Kedzie 103 (east of the Union). Total price is $21 - which includes yearbook and sitting fee.

